National Buffalo Park and Game Preserve.

LAWTON, Ok., Sept. 27.—The high wire fence now being built around the buffalo park in the Wichita national game reserve, at a cost of $35,000, is nearing completion and the herd of 27 buffalo donated to the government by the American Bisou society will be placed in the park some time next month. The animals are now at the New York Zoological garden, but it is thought that the climate of southern Oklahoma and the freedom allowed by the big park are better adapted to their propagation and longevity. Several buffalo have also been given to the government by Pawnee Bill and the Miller Brothers, owners of the "101" ranch, and these will be placed in the park. If the experiment proves successful the herd of buffalo now in Yellowstone park and national park will be transferred to Oklahoma, as the climate there is thought to be too severe for their best development.

The The Wichita national game preserve contains over 60,000 acres and is located in the mountainous district of southwestern Oklahoma, where it is believed the rapidly vanishing buffalo will thrive to the best advantage. Supt. Frank Rush will go to New York next month for the zoo herd, and in the meantime conditions will be made as nearly as possible like those under which the king of American beasts thrived on the prairies in the unsettled southwest and west. The spot chosen for the buffalo park is one of the most rugged in the Wichita mountains. Many species of small game will be sent here by the government with the introduction of the buffalo.

For 2-Cent Fare.

Railroad Commissioner Colquitt says the majority of Texans are in favor of reducing railway fare and predicts that the next legislature will give them a chance to vote on the question. He says: "If it is ever given to the people to vote upon, it will be carried by 200,000. The railroad commission does not take very seriously the statement made by the four officers of the Farmers' union that the membership of the Farmers' union do not favor a 2-cent fare law. The officers of the Farmers' union may be opposed to the 2-cent fare rate, but I believe the larger majority of the organization favor the 2-cent fare rate."

President Roosevelt has announced that he would approve the Oklahoma constitution. He said he had examined the document with Attorney General Bonaparte and that he felt that the question of his approval ought not to be based on his personal opinion of the document, but upon whether it came within the terms of the enabling act. His personal opinion of the document, the president laughingly said, was "not fit for publication." The promulgation of his approval will be made later.

The farmer who hires his help by the year escapes the troubles that beset the man who waits until the rush and then probably can't get hands enough. In the first case, the only problem is to find work to keep them busy and those who understand the conditions usually prevailing on farms will agree that this is not difficult, as there is always something to be done.

Take it the country over, the crops of all kinds are smaller than last year, yet more money will be realized for them than in 1906. This, of course, is merely because the demand is greater than the supply, a very simple proposition in economics.

Why Taft is the Administration Candidate.

Since Secretary Taft has been talking it is apparent why he has been selected by the present government to become the government candidate that is to be.

If Mr. Taft has any original ideas or sentiments he keeps them carefully to himself. His speeches all say in effect:

"If you like what I say, reserve your applause. I'm only the humble phonograph which delivers to the Great Voice. If you want me for president, you won't get me; you will get the owner of the Voice, of which I am the meek and lowly echo."

A candidate for the higher office in the land who will thus demean himself is not the sort of candidate that the people want.

The president of the United States ought to represent the people, not any individual; and an aspirant for that office must make his canvass as a man, not as a phonograph.

If Taft is willing to be Mr. Roosevelt's man before the people, he would never be his own man or the people's man in the White House.—N. Y. American.

Where They Finally Land.

One day recently a lady reader of the Messenger asked the writer to publish his views regarding a family that made sport of religion; of a mother that taught her daughters that the best in life was a "good time" in the social whirl; and that all the teachings and talk about card playing, dancing and wine drinking were untrue. That the main object in the run from the cradle to the grave was to live rapidly and when the effects of the pace began to tell, lay hold of some unsuspecting he fool with a good family name and fat purse and proceed on the journey. The writer declined to grant the good lady's request to devote space to a real lively article on the subject. But this, we say, all those attending the family reunion of these people after the final summons are urgently requested to garb in the coolest apparel and take palm leaf fans.—Decatur Messenger.

Emmett Powell Loses a Foot.

Emmett Powell, a brakeman on train No. 91, while setting out a car at Guymon, Ok., on Wednesday at about 6:30, was so seriously injured that it was found necessary to amputate his foot at the instep.

The explanation of the conductor, Jack White, was that Powell was making a coupling and was afraid that the knuckles of the draw-bar were going to hit and went to kick the bar over but missed it and his foot caught between both draw bars. He was immediately taken to medical treatment and was later brought to Dalhart where Drs. Hedrick and Thornton performed the operation. The accident was extremely sad as the young man was only 17 years old.—Dalhart Texan.

Those who profess to see that there is a drifting away from Bryan in the democratic sentiment of the South perhaps let the wish become the father of the thought. A number of big dallies have always been hostile to Bryan and that they continue so is no sign that the masses of the people are changing in their sentiment toward the peerless Nebraskan. Bryan is still overwhelmingly the choice of the South for the presidential nomination.—Decatur Messenger.

The Christian church people have got busy again this week and expect to let a contract inside the next few days for their new church.—Memphis Herald.

Amarillo to Protect Negroes.

The people of Amarillo seem to have reached a stage where they think negroes a necessity. In a set of resolutions condemning attacks on law-abiding negro citizens the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce has made a standing offer of $100 reward for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons guilty of such attacks, $100 reward for evidence that will lead to the impeachment of any officer who countenances such acts.

The Chamber of Commerce will employ special attorneys to submit the facts to a federal grand jury to secure indictments.

To Hold Wheat for $1.25.

The Minnesota union of the American Society of Equity, which claims the allegiance of 35,000 farmers in the northwest, passed a resolution at its convention at St. Paul Saturday calling on its members to hold their wheat this fall until the price is $1.25. It was decided to hold flax for $1.30 at Minneapolis, oats for 70 cents; rye for 41 cents, timothy seed for $5.50 a hundred and hay for $20 a ton.

STATE NEWS.

The new dormitory for girls at Baylor University has been named the S. P. Brooks hall, in honor of President S. P. Brooks of Baylor. The new building is already filled.

Leslie Brisson, of Arlington, employed in the Fort Worth post office, was arrested Friday, charged with opening letters and stealing money from them. He was caught with five letters in his possession, two of which were decoys.

The Farmers' Union gin at Bruceville was burned to the ground Friday, partially insured. The gin cost $8,000 complete and was one of the best equipped in the country. It is not known whether the gin will be rebuilt.

The largest contribution by one person to the fund for the prevention and relief of consumption in this country was made by a woman. Mrs. Grace Leattie, said to be the richest woman in Missouri, has just given $200,000 to the St. Louis society that devotes its energies to the prevention and cure of the white plague.—Ex.

A good pasture is as essential to success in hog raising as it is in cattle raising. Pasture grown pigs are thriftier, less subject to disease, heavier boned, better meated and require less corn to finish them out than pen grown pigs. By all means invest a few dollars in fencing and provide a pasture for your hogs.

The American Bankers' association has asked the secretary of the treasury to issue bank notes of different colors, as follows: One dollar notes, slate; twos, brown; fives, green; tens, blue; twenties, yellow; fifties, pink, and one hundred and over, white.

The value of the peanut crop in the United States exceed $15,000,000. It reaches about 400,000,000 pounds and nearly half a million persons are employed in its cultivation. Some 400,000 acres of land is devoted to its culture for market purposes.

Today President Roosevelt will arrive in St. Louis and tomorrow he will go by steamboat down the Mississippi to Memphis to attend the great water ways convention. The governors of 21 states will be present.

Most men are happiest while hustling! The rush of idleness is what breeds the microbe of misery in a man's mind, but a busy man even forgets his dyspepsia and his debts.—Master Printer.

At the next trial of Harry K. Thaw to take place in January, John D. Rockefeller will, at the request of defendant's mother, finance the case.

A dollar dinner, to which 1,000 democrats will be invited, when Bryan's boom is to be launched, is to be given at Omaha Dec. 7. The Lincoln, Neb., dinner has been declared off.

We have received two copies of Mose Harris' new republican paper, the Texas Republic, issued from San Antonio. It is filled with interesting reading and is a fine paper, barring the efforts to belittle the cause of prohibition.

The meanest and most injurious man in any community is the one who tries to build up his business and social interests by trying to injure the reputation of others. As contemptible as this is, some do it and at the same time meet the ones they seek to injure with the blandest smile and professed friendship.

The Dallas Democrat, a weekly paper, has been bought by Geo. A. Carlen, chairman of the state democratic executive, C. L. Wakefield and Tom Gooch. Mr. Gooch, for several years city editor of the Dallas Times Herald, resigned from that position, and is to take charge of the Democrat as manager. Mr. Gooch is a dyed-in-the-wool republican, but a newspaper man of experience and good capacity.

We note that Sloan Simpson, of Dallas, has been appointed postmaster at that place by President Roosevelt. Mr. Simpson is well known here having large cattle interests in the Panhandle, and he attended the republican congressional convention here two years ago. Mr. Roosevelt seems to have a warm spot in his makeup for Texas cattlemen. Postmaster Barkley, of Ft. Worth, and Postmaster Stevens, of San Antonio, are cattle men.

Ed Skinner of Pawnee county, Ok., has lost 29 head of hogs from his herd with quinsy fever, caused by eating new corn.

A wireless message has been transmitted from Savannah, Ga., to the cruiser Pennsylvania in San Francisco bay, 2,400 miles.

One of the Frisco fast passenger trains was wrecked near Dixon Mo., Monday and Engineer Chambers and Mail Clerk F. Crissy were killed and the train partly burned.

Iowa had a vegetation-killing frost a few days ago. The Panhandle country is still garbed in green. Even Jack Frost is the friend of this country and deters his visits until such time as he is assured of welcome.—Panhandle.

Fred Robertson, son of Wm. Robertson, was bitten on the foot by a rattlesnake one day last week. His brother corded the toe above the bite and made an incision with his knife, after which coal oil was applied, which brought him thru with but little suffering, and the foot did not swell above the ankle.—Emma News.

J. E. Crisp last week made a deal for a third interest in the Palo Pinto Well and bath house at Mineral Wells with Dr. Shook. We are told that the bath house has since burned and the loss is almost complete, there only being $2,000 insurance and the property was worth $8,000 or $10,000.

In Amarillo last week Eberstadt & Bynum paid $15,000 for a 30x140-foot corner of Taylor and Fifth streets, and C. E. Oakes paid $28,000 for the 60x140 foot lot on the corner of Fifth and Polk streets. Making allowance for the buildings on the property this is about $450 a front foot.

Belittle Bryan, Champions Saloons.

John H. Kirby, according to his statements in an interview given in the St. Louis Republic Saturday, has turned knocker against Bryan and is out of sympathy in respect to nine-tenths of Texas democrats, besides taking a stand on the wrong side of the moral question of prohibition in Oklahoma. According to the Republic he said:

"I would rather see the state of Texas go Republican than see William J. Bryan elected president.

"There are thousands of democrats in my state who believe as I do," he continued. "Because Bryan does not represent true democracy as we Texans see it. His views border too much on Socialism."

Discussing the adoption of the prohibition plank of the Oklahoma Constitution, Mr. Kirby predicted that it would result in driving many of the citizens of the new State to Texas, whose citizens were characterized by their breadth of views and cosmopolitan spirit.

Our Home Circle.

We this week introduce to our readers a new feature, "The Home Circle Column." We are undecided whether or not to make this a regular feature in our paper. This paper is issued for the pleasure and usefulness of our subscribers, and not for our gratification, and as far as possible we desire to give our subscribers the kind of reading they desire. It occurs to us that a column each week of the nature of the same appearing in this issue might prove interesting to our readers in general and the mother, the queen of our home, in particular. Now, readers, it is up to you. If you would enjoy such a column each week just drop us a postal card or in any manner that suits your convenience let us know your verdict. We believe such a department would not only prove interesting but that its moral tone would be such as to make an impression for good in the community. We are willing to do the extra work necessary if convinced our readers would appreciate the same. We hope you will at once, in some manner communicate to us your desire in the matter. We are here to please you.

Great West Virginia Marksmen.

Old, staid Virginia editors should have, and probably do, have a strict regard for the truth. The Stanton Spectator says there is an old Confederate soldier now visiting some friends in Greenbrier county, W. Va., who was a terror in battle. He was a shot from way-back. He came to the reunion at Richmond and stopped off. Among his feats of marksmanship the following simple exploits, we are told, are performed. He can suspend a bottle by a string, shoot and cut the string, and then break the bottle before it hits the ground. With a small caliber gun and a large lead pencil he can knock the lead out when the pencil is thrown into the air and not injure the wood covering. A favorite pastime with him is to start a barrel rolling down hill and put a bullet through the bung-hole every time the barrel turns over. We call this good shooting. For all this, we doubt there being many West Virginians who would relish a gun duel with a Texan.

Seek to Evade Prohibition.

After consulting with attorneys the Oklahoma saloon men believe they have found a way in which they can avoid prohibition the clause in the constitution by the voters of the state last week, for at least a year. At Shawnee two saloons in the last two days have taken out Pottawatomie county licenses for a year. They claim that these license which are paid for a year in advance amounts to a legal contract under the Oklahoma statutes with Pottawatomie county guaranteeing them the right to run their saloons until the license expires. Other saloons will follow their lead.

Many of the farmers have the ground plowed and ready for their fall crop of wheat. Farmers tell us that the acreage will exceed that of any previous year in the history of this country. Wheat threshing is still going on in our midst, and the yield in some instances is nearly double what was expected. 20 bushels per acre is the way it talks in many neighborhoods.—Pampa Crony.

The Modesty of Women

Naturally makes them shrink from the indelicate questions, the obnoxious examinations, and unpleasant local treatments, which some physicians consider essential in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman undergoes all the annoyance and shame for nothing. Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription write in appreciation of the cure which dispensed with the examinations and local treatments. There is no other medicine so sure and safe for delicate women as "Favorite Prescription." It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures. It is strictly non-alcoholic, non-secret, all its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrappers; contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every native medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of medical practice. Some of these numerous and strongest of professional endorsements of its ingredients, will be found in a pamphlet wrapped around the bottle, also in a booklet mailed free on request, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay, or non-professional testimonials.

The most intelligent women now-a-days insist on knowing what they take as medicine instead of opening their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulping down whatever is offered them. "Favorite Prescription" is of known composition. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. If sick consult the Doctor, free of charge by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate and regulate stomach, liver and bowels.

A Bad Wreck.

Sunday night about 10:30 a freight train from the north pulled by engine 309, one of the best on the road, came into the station at a pretty fast speed and ran into a lone engine, also one of the road's largest, about ten steps east of the depot, sending it bounding down the track, but the pilot of 309 was broken off, doubled back under the engine, completely blocking it.

The force of the long train behind jammed the tender against the firebox, and wrecked the cab just as Engineer Sam Lewis and Fireman Owens jumped. Lewis cleared the wreck and was not much hurt. Owens was caught and his right arm was badly broken and he was otherwise cut and bruised. Lewis went to Amarillo on first train and Owens was sent to Fort Worth next morning.

Four cars were completely smashed, one car containing horses turned almost bottom upwards, but 22 head escaped without being very badly hurt, but two were so badly mashed and cut that they were shot by Sheriff Patman. Three refrigerator cars of vegetables were mashed up, one of them into kindling wood. It took all next day to clear the wreck, while trains passed on the siding.

The men who left their engine on the main track without an attendant were new men, on their first trip. There was carelessness on part of both engineers.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Reported for THE CHRONICLE

The reception was enjoyed last Friday night. There was a large crowd out and everybody enjoyed themselves and had all the watermelon they could eat.

Luther Grible says he wouldn't care if there would be a reception every week so he could get to talk to his "little Ruby."

Miss Neil must have found her idea the night of the reception from all appearance.

Mrs. Adams came in Friday morning. She has recovered from a spell of illness. She will be with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Burkhead.

School is moving along nicely. Several of the dormitory girls have been on the sick list for several days. We are glad to say they are able to attend school again.

The girls have the study hall every evening from 7 to 9:30. Wonder why the boys wait for study hall to meet to get their water?

Miss Myrtle Cowert came in Wednesday night. She is from Oklahoma and is now a dormitory girl.

Mrs. Johnston came in Saturday to see her little daughter, Elizabeth.

Misses Edna Harrington and Zella Jackson went home Friday night.

HOME CIRCLE DEPARTMENT

Thoughts and pleasant evening receries for the fireside by UNCLE GEORGE

SWIFT DESTRUCTION.

We have sat upon the sea shore and waited for its gradual approaches, and have seen its dancing waves and white surf, and admired that He who measured it with His hand had given it motion; and we lingered till its gentle waters grew into mighty billows, and had well-nigh swept from our firm footing. So we have seen some of the heedless youth of our town gazing with curious spirit upon sweet motions and gentle approaches of inviting pleasures and sins, till they have detained their eyes and imprisoned their feet and they have been swept to swift destruction.

BE KIND IN LITTLE THINGS.

The sunshine in life is made up of very little beams that are bright all the time. In the nursery, on the playground and in the school room, there is room all the time for little acts of kindness that cost nothing but are worth more than gold and silver. To give up something when giving up will prevent unhappiness; to yield when persisting will chafe and fret others; to go a little way around rather than come against another; to take an ill word or a cross look rather than to resent it; these are the ways in which clouds and storms are kept off and a pleasant, smiling sunshine secured even in a humble home, among very poor people, as well as in families in higher station. Much that we term the miseries of life would be avoided by adopting this rule of conduct.

THE BEAUTIFUL LESSON.

If you love, love more. If you hate, hate less. Life is too short to spend in hating any one. Why war against a mortal who is going the same road with us? Why not expand the flower of life and happiness by learning to love, by teaching those who are near and dear the beautiful lesson? Your hands may be hard, but your heart need not be. Your form may be bent or ugly, but do you not know that the most beautiful flowers grow in the most rugged, unsheltered places? The place for care, the cottage for love. Not that there is no love in a mansion; but somehow if we are not very cheerful, business will crowd all there is of beauty out of the heart. This is why God has given the Sabbaths and Saturday nights, that we may leave business and have a little heart cleaning.

SATURDAY NIGHT REVERIES.

Saturday night seems to have the happy faculty of making people human; set their hearts to beating softly as they used to do before the world turned them into war drums and jarred them to pieces with tattoos. On Saturday night the ledger closes with a clash, the iron-doored vault comes to with a bang, click, goes the key in the lock. It is Saturday night and business men breath free again. Homeward, ho! The door that has been ajar all the week gently closes behind him, the world is shut out. Shut out? Shut in, rather. At home are his treasures after all, and not in the vault and not in the bank—save the record in the old family Bible—and not in the bank. Maybe you are a bachelor, frosty and forty. Then, poor fellow, Saturday night is nothing to you, just as you are nothing to anybody. Get a wife, blue eyed or black-eyed, but above all, true-eyed. Get a little home—no matter how little—a sofa, just to hold two, or two and a half, in it, on a Saturday night, and then read this paragraph by the light in your wife's eyes, and thank God and take courage.

THE ELDER SISTER.

There is no character in the home circle more useful and beautiful than a devoted elder sister who stands side by side with the toiling mother, lightening all her cares and burdens. How beautiful the household machinery moves on with such help! Now she presides at the table in her mother's absence, always so neatly attired that it is with pride that her father introduces her to his guest as 'our oldest daughter.' Now she takes a little troop into the garden with her and amuses them so mother may not be disturbed in her work or her rest. Now she helps the boys with their hard lessons or reads father's paper aloud to rest his eyes. If mother can run away for a few days' recreation she leaves home without any anxiety, for Mary will guide her house wisely and happily in her absence. But in the sick room her presence is an especial blessing. Her hand is next to mother's own in gentleness and skill. Her sweet music can charm any pain, and brighten the weariest hour. There are elder sisters whose presence is not such a blessing in the home. Their own selfish ends and aims are the main pursuits in life, and anything that stands in the way of these is regarded with great impatience. Such daughters are no comfort to a mother's heart. Which kind of an elder sister are you in the household?

OLD-FASHIONED MOTHER.

Thank God, some of us have, and others have had, an old-fashioned mother. Not a woman of the period, enameled and painted, with her great chignon, her curls and bustle; whose white, jeweled hands never have felt the clasp of baby fingers; but a dear old-fashioned, sweet-voiced mother, with eyes in which the love light shone, and brown hair threatened with silver, lying smooth upon her faded cheek. Those dear hands worn with toil, gently guided our tottering steps in childhood, and smoothed our pillow in sickness; even reaching out to us in yearning tenderness, when her sweet spirit was baptized in the pearly spray of the river. Blessed is the memory of an old-fashioned mother. It floats to us now, like the beautiful perfume of some woodland blossoms. The music of other voices may be lost but the entrancing memory of her's will echo in our souls forever. Other places may fade away and be forgotten, but her's will shine on until the light from heaven's portals shall glorify our own.

When in the fitful pauses of busy life our feet wander back to the old homestead, and crossing the well-worn threshold, standing once more in the low, quiet room, as hallowed by her presence, how the feeling of childish innocence and dependence comes over us, and we kneel down in the mottled sunshine streaming through the western window—just where, long years ago, we knelt by our mother's knee, lisping, "Our Father." How many times when the tempter lured us on has the memory of those sacred hours, that mother's words, her faith and prayers, saved us from sin. Years have filled great drifts over between her and us, but they have not hidden from our sight the glory of her pure, unselfish love.

A Denver paper tells about two neighbors in the divided country, in Colorado, who each sold a carload of steers to the same buyer on the Denver market. The first carload were grade Shorthorns, and the get of good dams and registered bulls. They were long yearlings and netted $36.65 per head. The other carload belonging to the neighbor living across the way were long two year-olds, and were the progeny of just cows and most any kind of bulls that were cheap and had horns. They netted $19.85 per head.

Peanut meal, wholly unknown in this country, has long been a staple article of diet among the poorer classes of Spain. Bread made from pure peanut meal is light and porous, but it is better if mixed with rye in proportion of four to one of the former. This mixture cannot be distinguished from pure rye bread, while it is far more nutritious. It contains a high percent of nitrogenous matter, being only surpassed in this respect by skim milk cheese. Some of our readers ought to try this for an experiment and novelty.—Ex.

Exclusive rights bestowed upon the only institution fitted above all competitors in enterprise, energy, experience and resource to adequately do it justice. Staged by Arthur Voegtlin, of the New York Hippodrome, its originator and owner of copyright. A fortune spent in its preparation. A revolution in moving amusements. Two acts introducing a Western mining camp, with streets, hotels, houses, dance halls, and the concomitants of early Western civilization; and a mountain fastness in which Jim Dalton and his fellow outlaws hold up and plunder the passengers and the treasure car of the Grey Mountain Express. Depleting the inception of the plot and the turbulent scenes of the town, its grim execution and the battle between vigilantes and desperadoes, which ended in the extermination of the most lawless set of knaves the West has ever known.
