President Preaches Federal Control.

In his Cairo speech President Roosevelt had considerable to say of corporate control and wound up his speech by saying:

The national government alone has sufficiently extensive power and jurisdiction to exercise adequate control over the great interstate corporations. While this thorough supervision and control by the national government is desired primarily in the interest of the people, it will also, I firmly believe, be to the benefit of those corporations themselves which desire to be honest and law-abiding. Only thus can we put over these corporations one competent and efficient sovereign—the nation—able both to exact justice from them and to secure justice for them, so that they may not be alternately pampered and oppressed. The proposal need be dreaded only by those corporations which do not wish to obey the law or to be controlled in just fashion, but prefer to take their chances under the present lack of all system and to court the chance of getting improper favors as offsetting the chance of being blackmailed—an attitude rendered familiar in the past by those corporations which had thriven under certain corrupt and lawless city governments.

RAILROADS NEED FIRST ATTENTION.

The first need is to exercise this federal control in thoroughgoing and efficient fashion over the railroads, which, because of their peculiar position, offer the most immediate and urgent problem. The American people abhor a vacuum, and it is determined that this control shall be exercised somewhere; it is most unwise for the railroads not to recognize this and to submit it as the first requisite of the situation. When this control is exercised in some such fashion as it is now exercised over the national banks, there will be no falling off in business prosperity. On the contrary, the chances for the average man to do better will be increased. Undoubtedly there will be much less opportunity than at present for a very few individuals—not of the most scrupulous type to amass great fortunes by speculating in and manipulating securities which are issued without any kind of control or supervision. But there will be plenty of room left for ample legitimate reward for business genius, while the chance for the man who is not a business genius, but who is a good, thrifty, hard-working citizen will be better. I do not believe that our efforts will have anything but a beneficial effect upon the permanent prosperity of the country, and as a matter of fact, even as regards any temporary effect, I think that any trouble is due fundamentally not to the fact that the natural authorities have discovered. I think that the excellent people who have complained of our policy as hurting business have shown much the same spirit as the child who regards the dentist and not the ulcerated tooth as the real source of his woe. I am as certain as I can be of anything that the course we are pursuing will ultimately help business, for the corrupt man of business is as great a foe to this country as the corrupt politician. Both stand on the same eminence of infamy. Against both it is necessary to war, and if, unfortunately, in either type of warfare, a few innocent people are hurt, the responsibility lies not with us, but with those who have misled them to their hurt.

A coal mine on Paint creek, near Charleston, W. Va., has been burning for 45 years.

Bryan's Yes or No Comes Dec. 7.

William Jennings Bryan has given himself just two months to decide whether or not he will again be a candidate for President, and he will make his formal "bid" for support, either for his favorite candidate, at a big banquet which his friend, Mayor J. C. Dahlgren of Omaha, has announced for Dec. 7, at the Auditorium in Omaha, when 1,000 prominent Democrats from all portions of the country will be present. By that time Bryan expects to know positively whether he will ask for the nomination for himself or for another. If the trend of events between now and Dec. 7 is such that Bryan is convinced that he can be elected, he will announce his candidacy and his platform at the big banquet. If he concludes there is not a first-class chance of his election, he will announce, at that time, that he is not a candidate and does not want the nomination. At the same time he will make a plea for his personal choice.

While eastern Democrats have been declaring that the South is not for Bryan, Bryan and his friends have quietly gone about disproving this statement, not by the words but by the actions of the southern leaders. Among the leading Democrats who will take part in the great Bryan banquet are the following governors of southern states: Comer of Alabama, Glenn of North Carolina, Campbell of Texas, Hoke Smith of Georgia, Broward of Florida and Folk of Missouri. Beckham of Kentucky and several others have been invited and are expected to accept, but have not yet done so. The sight of the governors of so many southern states taking part in a pro-Bryan banquet, and one at which Bryan is expected to make the most important political announcement of the year, is calculated by the Bryan people to show the country that Bryan is yet solid with the real leaders and the actual voters of the southern states, despite the circulated reports that such is not the case. It is expected that Governor Johnson of Minnesota will also be one of the galaxy of Democratic governors who will surround Bryan on the night when he will either announce his candidacy or "sing his swan song." Governor Johnson has not yet replied to the invitation, but from the answer given by him to an invitation to a Bryan banquet worked up in Lincoln and then abandoned, it is believed he will accept and will be with Bryan if Bryan decides to be a candidate.

Kirby Denies.

John Henry Kirby made himself solid white in the east with anti-Bryanists by stating to a St. Louis Republic reporter that he would rather see a republican elected than Bryan, at least a reporter said so in the Republic. But Mr. Kirby seeks to make himself solid with Texas democrats by a denial, as follows: "I am not in politics, nor talking politics. I was not interviewed on this trip in St. Louis or elsewhere on the subject of politics, nor did I give out or make any statement in St. Louis or elsewhere in reference to Mr. Bryan or any probable candidate for the presidency."

At Bois, Idaho, last week United States Senator Borah was declared not guilty of conspiring to defraud the United States government. Senator Borah, together with the late Governor Steunenberg and a number of others, was accused of fraudulent transactions in the public domain.

Miss Top Crop has eloped with Jack Frost.

President of Santa Fe Sore.

"Under existing conditions I could not, as president of the Santa Fe road, advise any one to invest a dollar in any of the Western States through which our railroad extends," said E. P. Ripley, president of the Santa Fe, Saturday. Mr. Ripley was replying to a question regarding the reported acquisition of the Gulf Coast line by his road, "I take a very gloomy view of the future," he said. "I can not see how we can escape hard times. The country has been worked into a terrible hysteria over railroads and corporations until the people are likely to do most anything so long as a railroad or a corporation is hit hard."

"As for railway buying or railway building, I could not recommend to our directors to build another foot of road in Texas with the laws they have passed there, nor in one or two other States I could mention."

STATE NEWS

Pascal Johnson was killed by lightning while picking cotton near Whit Thursday.

The Farmers' Gin at Chatfield, together with 100 bales of cotton burned Saturday.

James Cagle, a young white man belonging to a prominent family at Tyler, was given two years in the penitentiary Thursday on a charge of theft of cattle.

William Renfro, a young man recently from Clifton, suffered the loss of a hand in gin saws at Temple Friday. While cleaning the machinery adjacent to the saws his sleeve was caught and the hand drawn into the saws.

W. T. McCarty, a farmer west of Paris, lost two fine Jersey cows Tuesday under peculiar circumstances. He had done some painting on his house and the cows, which were in the yard, licked off a considerable surface before they were noticed. They soon died. Mr. McCarty had refused $125 for one of the cows.

At Georgetown last week Mrs. Linnie Campbell took the oath of office as deputy tax collector of Williamson county. She will have charge of the office in Georgetown, while Collector W. H. Eanes is making his annual collection tour over the county. Mrs. Campbell held the office of collector of taxes in Lee county for two years and is familiar with all details of the business.

The agitation of a prohibition election in Cooke county has again been revived by the prohibition forces since the prohibitionists won in Grayson county, and signatures asking for an election will be presented to the commissioners' court at its first meeting. Steps were taken a few weeks ago to have an election called, but it was decided to await the result of Grayson county, which joins Cooke on the east.

The women of the Ft. Worth Benevolent Home association are considering plans for the erection of a building to cost $15,000, $12,000 of which has already been raised. The building committee hope to raise the necessary $3,000 during this week, and will let the contract for a three-story red brick building about Oct. 15. The first floor will be used for the kitchen and dining room, the second for the kindergarten and reception hall and the third for a dormitory.

School Room Sanitation.

As many are not familiar with the new school sanitary law, we give the gist of it.

- It prohibits:
1. The use of the common feather duster.
 2. The employment of any person suffering from tuberculosis or other contagious or infectious disease as a teacher or janitor.
 3. The attendance of all pupils coming from a house where such diseases exist.

- It requires:
1. All floors to be swept daily after the pupils and teachers have left the building.
 2. The floor to be sprinkled with saw dust moistened with a solution of formaldehyde.
 3. All desks, wainscoting, window sills and baseboards to be wiped off daily with a cloth moistened with a disinfectant.
 4. The school premises must have trash cans.

Had to Catch the Train.

"Excuse me, sir," said the man in the row behind, "but would you mind asking your wife to remove her hat? I assure you that I cannot see a thing on the stage."

"I'd like to oblige you, sir, but it is impossible," said the man addressed. "We live out of town, and we must get home tonight."

"What has that to do with it?" "What has that to do with it?" "Why, our train goes twenty minutes after the end of the performance, and it takes an hour to put that hat on."

CLARENDON, TEX., OCT. 9, 1907.

President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America, is critically ill.

It is easy to advertise the fact that you are a fool. All you have to do is boast publicly of your wisdom.

The general foreman of the car shops at Childress has a Stork employed in his office. How often he gets in his work a la Roosevelt, we are not told.

Biscuit will likely prove dear eating before another harvest. Wheat on the Chicago Board of Trade Monday went up to 109 3/4. Corn and oats also advanced.

The Childress Index has enlarged to a six-column quarto and put on a new dress of type and is quite a prosperous looking paper. There is no other line in the Panhandle where the proprietors expend so large a part of their earnings to keep at the head of the procession of advancement as do the Panhandle publishers.

It comes from official sources that the government has been eured out of $425,000 by a Hartford firm on envelopes and newspaper wrappers by furnishing a cheaper grade of paper than contracted for. This firm has been furnishing such material for the government for thirty years, no doubt through an official pull, and no doubt its graft amounts to a great sum.

Everybody who writes letters of any consequence should use printed stationery, then if the letter is improperly addressed or the person addressed is not reached, it is returned at once to the writer. In the month of September alone, cash in the letters which reached the dead letter office reached a total of $5,351.74. Of this amount $4,371.64 was returned to the senders, and the balance, unless identified by those entitled to it, will be sent finally to the United States treasury. During the month 1,005,990 pieces of mail matter were received at the dead letter office and only 335,981 pieces were returned to the senders.

Lad Fascinated With Pawnee Bill.

Claiming that Pawnee Bill had promised him a job in the circus, Roger Buck, 8 years old and a perfect midget, came all the way from Dalhart to Fort Worth, where he expects to see that Pawnee Bill keeps his word. The lad was picked up on the streets of the city yesterday by the police, and because of his extreme youthfulness he was sent to the Rescue home. He gave the address of his mother as Mrs. Myrtle Buck of Tyrone, Ok., and she will be notified of her son's whereabouts.—Ft. Worth Record.

At a meeting of the Methodist ministers of Fort Worth held Monday morning a resolution was adopted condemning the proposed engine collision which is to be a part of the Fort Worth Fair and they are determined to take the matter up with the county attorney as a violation of the Sunday laws. The resolutions adopted not only condemned the holding of the exhibition on Sunday, but declared it dangerous and generally demoralizing.

Mrs. H. C. Francis was run down and seriously injured by an automobile in Dallas Sunday night. The auto containing several persons did not stop to see how badly the woman was injured.

"I suppose you go to the city at least once a year," said the summer boarder. "I used to," replied the old farmer, "but ain't been thar fer nigh onto three years now. Sense we got rural free delivery I kin git bunked jist as well by mail, b'gosh."—Chicago News.

Insurance Officials to Fight Cases.

The trial of five former life insurance company officials who were indicted as a result of the recent insurance investigation was temporarily postponed when the cases were called in the New York supreme court Monday. In each instance motion for the dismissal of the indictments were made and arguments on the motions will be made next week.

The counsel for John Hegman, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company asked for delay of two or three weeks. The district attorney opposed the granting of the request and the case was set for next Monday. When the case of George W. Perkins, former vice president of the New York Life is called a plea of not guilty, which had been entered, was withdrawn and arguments on the motion that indictments be withdrawn will be heard Oct. 16 as will also arguments on the similar motion made in behalf of Charles S. Fairchild, a former official of the New York Life. Walter R. Gillette, former vice president of the Mutual Life pleaded not guilty of perjury and his hearing set for Oct. 17.

National Bank Figures.

At the close of business on Sept. 30, there were in operation in Texas 520 national banks having an aggregate capital of $39,679,900. Two hundred and seventy-five of these banks have each a capital of $25,000 and under $50,000.

During September 46 national banks, aggregating capital of $1,957,000, were added to the system of which 30, with total capital $782,000, were with individual capital of less than $50,000, and 16 aggregating capital of $1,175,000, banks with individual capital of $50,000 or over. In the year ended Sept. 30, charters were granted to 519 associations, but there was a loss to the system of 87 banks by voluntary liquidation and three by failure. From the date of organization of the first association in 1863 to Sept. 30, 1907, charters were granted to 8,899 banks, of which 6,620 are in existence.

The 6,620 associations now in existence have an authorized capital of $906,704,775; circulation outstanding, $603,987,114, of which $556,101,329 is covered by bonds and $47,885,785 by lawful money deposited with the treasurer by banks in liquidation, and on account of insolvent associations. The amount of bonds on deposit to secure circulation is $559,624,760.

High Prices for Horses.

Bids were received at Kansas City and St. Louis yesterday for horses and mules for the army. Kansas City dealers will not give out their bids, but when Capt. J. M. Baker opened and read the figures submitted by dealers at various markets in St. Louis yesterday he thought they were high enough. Bids for saddle mules ranged from $161 to $174.50 each, and for pack mules from $155 to $169.50.

Uncle Sam asked for bids on little mules, but received big bids. In proportion, a big mule would be worth a fortune. Ninety saddle mules were wanted, each big enough to carry one private soldier without epaulettes.

The pack mules are only to be large enough to carry cannon. The government wants 484 of them. Most are for the mountain battery service and will be sent to Fort Russell, near Cheyenne, for training. The remainder will be sent to Fort Sheridan, near Chicago.

Only one bid was made on horses, $162.50 each for saddle horses and $205 each for artillery horses. The bids are to be sent to the quartermaster general's office in Washington, D. C., where the award will be made.—Kansas City Drivers' Journal.

STATE NEWS.

Dalhart and Texline had snow Monday.

Eugene M. Born, 30 years old died at Salt Lake City from a blow on the head received in a football game.

The Rockport hotel, occupied by Dr. J. W. Davidson, burned Sunday night. Insurance on furniture $3,000, but none on building.

Three spurs of trestle on the Mangum branch of the Rock Island were washed out last Wednesday night, and no trains were running farther than Hobart for several days.

Jerold, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bedwell, of Amarillo, was scalded to death Saturday, caused by falling in a tub of hot water. The little boy was playing about the house and fell backward into the tub. His flesh was literally cooked. He suffered intense agony.

A barn of J. N. K. Adams of Hobart was burned by his 6-year-old son Lee last week. The child had gotten hold of matches and was playing in the barn by himself, when the fire was started, and the boy would have burned to death if he had not been rescued by a neighbor.

August Ludwig was killed outright and William Miller fatally wounded by an accident on a rice farm near Eagle Lake. In attempting to make a short turn with a binder two of the horses tripped and fell, and in trying to release them the men were caught under the binder by a sudden forward leap of the horses. Mr. Ludwig's body was horribly mutilated.

Heart in Danger.

An old negro who lives in the country came into town and saw an electric fan for the first time in his life says Harper's Magazine. The whirling object at once attracted his attention and, after intently gazing at it for several minutes, showing all the while the greatest astonishment and curiosity, he turned to the proprietor of the shop and said: "Say, boss, dat suttunen is a lively squirrel you got in dis yeah cage.—But he is shorely goin' to bus' his heart if he keeps on makin' resolutions so fas'."

A new typewriter will soon be put on the market which will write a complete word at one stroke. This does not mean that every word in the language will be printed so easily. Only 22 short words, most commonly used in correspondence, have been chosen, and they will be indicated in keyboard like individual letters.

A man down in the sap-oaks picked up the following note in the road: "Dear H.:—I seen you in church Sunday and I laffed at you, but you never laffed back. Why not, I would like to know? I still luv you and if you tirm me down for High-Pockets I will hog-tie him and bete his face up mean, so you better laff at me when I laff at you. The Badge of Honesty

Is on every wrapper of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because a full list of the ingredients composing it is printed there in plain English. Forty years of experience has proven its superior worth as a blood purifier and invigorating tonic for the cure of stomach disorders and all liver ills. It builds up the run-down system as no other tonic can in which alcohol is used. The active medicinal principles of native roots such as Golden Seal and Queen's root, Stone and Mandrako root, Bloodroot and Black Cherrybark are extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet which quotes extracts from well-recognized medical authorities such as Drs. Bartholow, King, Scudder, Coe, Ellingwood and a host of others, showing that these roots can be depended upon for their curative action in all weak states of the stomach, accompanied by indigestion or dyspepsia as well as in all bilious or liver complaints and in "wasting diseases" where there is loss of flesh and gradual running down of strength and system. "The Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, pure blood and so invigorates and regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, and through them the whole system. Thus all skin affections, blotches, pimples and eruptions, all scrofulous swellings and old open running sores or ulcers are cured and healed. In treating old running sores, or ulcers, it is well to insure their healing to apply to them Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve. If your druggist don't happen to have this Salve in stock, send fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and a large box of the "All-Healing Salve" will reach you by return post. You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

Women's Home Lost by 2,600 Votes.

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 5.—It has been ascertained that the proposed amendment to the Constitution to permit the establishment of a Confederate women's home is lost by approximately 2,600 votes, with six counties to hear from. It is not believed that they can change the result, and the conclusion is that the amendment has gone down with the other five amendments, which were snuffed under at the recent election. Six delinquent counties are expected to send in their official returns not later than Monday, and then the total official vote on all of the amendments will be made public. The governor desires the complete vote on the women's home before giving the result to the public. However, it will probably be lost by about 2,600 votes, the number it is now behind.

More About Alfalfa.

The remarkable rapidity with which the cultivation of alfalfa in America has spread during recent years has been a subject of frequent comment. It is today the principal forage crop in many western states, and is grown in nearly every state in the Union. Alfalfa is a native of Asia, the soil of the high, dry plateaus of that country being especially adapted to its growth. It has been used as a forage crop in Egypt, Greece and other Eastern countries for over 2,000 years. About 400 years ago it was brought to Mexico by the Spaniards, and from there was soon afterward taken to South America. A little over a century ago it was brought to the United States from Central Europe under the name of lucerne and grown on a small scale in several localities. It attracted almost no attention in this country until after its introduction in California from Chile in 1854, which practically marked the beginning of its cultivation in the United States.—Dallas News.

Newspapers would be able to work more reforms if their readers would lend a helping hand. Suppose that whenever a newspaper proposed something for the public welfare, a number of influential citizens would write a short letter expressing their approval, and the next week a number of others would write and keep up the bombardment for a few weeks. There would be no such thing as resisting a force like that and that is one of the chief functions of a newspaper—to crystallize and focalize public sentiment. It should be a channel of communication for all the people—the medium through which citizens speak to each other and speak as one man. If the people would use their newspaper in this way they could have a massmeeting and adopt resolutions every week in the year without going to the town hall.—McLean News.

A Matador item says: "Lightning rod wagons from Clarendon directed by Mr. Woodward have visited our town the past week for the third time this year. They have done a good business each time for individuals and the public also. Our court house, church house and school house all have rods on them now. Can any sister village beat that we wonder?"

An exchange remarks that a man can start out any day, and inside of an hour and thirty minutes he can engage a woman to work for him for life at nothing per week, while it will take two weeks of solid search to get one to work at fair wages and board.

"Jesus, It's Me."

A pleasing little story is that of a timid little girl at a religious meeting in the south of London, who had a longing desire to come to Jesus. She said to the gentleman conducting the service, "Will you pray for me in the meeting, please? But do not mention my name."

In the meeting which followed, when every head was bowed and there was a perfect silence, the gentleman prayed for the little girl who wanted to come to Jesus, and he said: "Oh, Lord, there is a little girl who does not want her name known, but Thou dost know her; save her precious soul!" There was a perfect silence, and away in the back of the meeting a little girl arose, and in a little voice said, "Please, it's me, Jesus; it's me." She did not want to have a doubt. She meant it. She wanted to be saved, and she was not ashamed to rise in that meeting, little girl as she was, and say, "Jesus, it's me."

The kickers on the farm are by no means as hard to get along with as the kickers in a town. On the farm there is the kicking cow and our long eared friend, the mule, while in town there is the old moss-back who wants all the municipal improvements without paying for them. The cow may be sold for beef, the mule traded for a shot gun, but nothing but a funeral will get rid of the town kicker, and then when this event comes the editor is duty bound to tell how sorry all were that he was called away, when just in the prime of life.—Ex.

"Spoofing" the Landlord.
"Have you any children?" demanded the landlord.

"Yes," replied the would-be tenant solemnly, "six—all in the cemetery."

"Better there than here," said the landlord, consolingly; and proceeded to execute the desired lease.

In due time the children returned from the cemetery, whither they had been sent to play, but it was too late to annul the contract.—Tit Bits.

Immigration of Japanese into America is increasing at so alarming a rate that it has been determined by the government to adopt extraordinary measures to prevent the introduction into the United States not only of Japanese, but of other Asiatic coolie laborers. The official figures of the immigration of Japanese into America are not available, because Secretary Straus declines at this time to make them public; but it is known that more than double the number of Japanese have come into the United States thus far in the year 1907 than came here during the same period last year. Naturally the figures of the government do not include the hundreds of Japanese who have come into the country surreptitiously.
