MRS. HARDIE SHOWS LITTLE PROGRESS

Ill at her home in the Cottage hotel for several months, Mrs. F. H. Hardie shows little improvement, the Leader was informed. Her condition is somewhat improved over that of early August, it was stated.

BREEDLOVE LEAVES WITH EXHIBIT

Donley county's exhibit at the State Fair in Dallas that opens Saturday, will be most creditable, stated county agent H. M. Breedlove as he completed his collection here today and took the truck load of material down to be placed.

Some of the prize-winning material at the Tri-State fair was taken to the Dallas fair.

LADIES OF ASHTOLA HELP BOYS RANCH

Running back through the years, our readers will recall the many kind deeds done by the Ashiola Quilting Club. They have helped the Red Cross by making quilts on several occasions. They have helped many times when misfortune overtook some of the neighbors.

At this time, they packed a large box with canned fruit and vegetables and sent it up to the Boys Ranch near Tascosa. Modestly, these fine women will be surprised to see this good deed mentioned here. They never asked for it. The act is too worthy to let go by without honorable mention in your Donley County Leader where all the folks may profit from the precedent.

HERE FROM SEYMOUR

Mrs. B. J. Drew and son of Seymour are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Griggs this week, while Mr. Drew is visiting the fair and looking after his exhibit.

Worley Speaks Sentiments

Cong. Eugene Worley made his first address in his home section at Pampa Friday since going to Washington to represent this district. He spoke freely to the large crowd that had gathered to welcome Gov. Coke R. Stevenson, giving his opinion regarding national affairs in general, and reported by Arch Fullingim of the Pampa News.

The congressman made one of those speeches that holds the audience in such rapt attention that you could well-night hear a pin drop during any part of it.

The main subject of his address which was broadcast over KPDM, was a man who was born into the world with the name Schilklegger, but whom we know today as the ambitious, inhuman Adolf Hitler, who, Congressman Worley said, has darkly plotted and evilly planned for years to crush the democracy for which he has the most hate and contempt—the United States of America.

The crowded banquet hall listened and applauded as if they liked everything the congressman said, but they applauded the loudest and the most spontaneously when Congressman Gene ex-coriated "the Nazis, Communists, criminals in the CIO and the labor unions."

"I am not referring to the great rank and file of labor which wants to do the right thing and is patriotically lending its efforts to furtherance of the defense program. But," the congressman emphasized, "there are criminals in the labor unions who are there for the sole purpose of fattening their purses and who attempted to keep a man from working when he wants to. I believe in the right of every man to work as long and for whom he pleases."

Mr. Worley said that Texas, and the Panhandle in particular, had the most conscientious, most patriotic labor class in America. "I wish the east had the kind of laboring class we have in the Panhandle—I would like to fill the eastern defense plants with our kind of labor. I would like to take them back to the east just to show

GONE TO PANAMA

Mrs. V. F. Lyle left Tuesday by airplane from Amarillo to join her husband at Aruba Island. Mrs. Lyle has been visiting here for some time. Mr. Lyle is with an oil company there.

PICTURE SHOW UP ON PRICES

The new federal tax issue that took effect all over the nation Wednesday, also affected the picture show, manager Lee Bell informed the Leader today.

The law raises admission tickets 10% when above nine cents. Mr. Bell has the entire schedule in an advertisement in this issue of the Leader. Read it. The increase in cost is a very small sum, but in the aggregate, would amount to a large amount to the picture show people in the course of a year.

Wheeler Mustangs Next On Broncho Grid Schedule

This Friday night on Broncho Field, the Wheeler Mustangs will engage the Clarendon Bronchos in a conference engagement which will go far in settling the question as to which team will top the lower bracket in District 3-A. Both teams were weakened by graduation, having only four lettermen each to return this year. Both teams are classed in the lower bracket of the conference and are given very little chance by the critics to steal the show from their more powerful opponents.

As it will be recalled, last year saw the Mustangs take a thorough lacing by the Bronchos, 34-0. However, this year pits the two teams together on more equal terms, since both teams will be composed mostly of boys who are playing their first year.

Each team has lost a conference starter. Last week Wellington defeated the Mustangs 18-0, while the Bronchos were losing to Le-fors 26-6. From all indications this should be a good game.

Bank Reports Show Better Conditions

Statements of our three local banks printed in this issue of the Leader in response to a call of the Banking Commissioner, indicate a healthy condition of the financial status of this trade territory.

Though at the peak of the lending load of the season, the combined loans of the three banks totals $693,670.05 as compared with total loans of June 30th of $660,918.33. This would indicate more money in general circulation and less need for borrowing, one banker stated.

The deposit total at the time of this call is $1,137,552.14 as compared with deposits of $1,173,762.72 June 30th.

One of the leading merchants gave it as his opinion that much of the parity check money was being banked, further indicating that the farmers and ranchers of the trade territory have more money right now for buying their needs than for the past ten years.

THE TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

COMMON SENSE.
Opening a letter from my youngish friend, Harry Ross out near Springer, there is surprise. Harry has been in school for some sixteen years. The past five years he has sat at the feet of masters in philosophy, geology and great students of the "inner-nerds" of man. Harry, married and the father of two kiddies, has quit a good job in the east and returned to New Mexico in the mountains where the pines kiss the stars and tickle the angels' feet. He sums life up thusly: "Without regret for the time spent in study, I return with my young family to pure water, fresh air and a quiet life. No city for us. I think this is worth more than any material fortune we can gather back east. We have a modest home and plenty of acreage all paid for and are contented with it. If we slave to accumulate houses, farms, stocks or bonds, the changing values will often see them depreciated to half their value. The sense of security we now have is worth far more than my earning capacity in a position of trust where the responsibility kept me in a nervous strain from year to year. We have fruit, flowers, water with which to irrigate, telephone, radio, daily mail and yet are far removed from the pell-mell life of those who are constantly coming away from some place. I no longer live by the clock. I live with and for those who mean more to me than life, and I'm happy for once in life after trying it out my first year." Harry worked his way through more than one large school. He, at least, found life and happiness, and that is more than many of us can say.

HUMAN VALUES.
An act of true friendship is unsolicited loyalty, free from the thought of remuneration, but one who is worthy of such friendship instinctively feels an obligation.

SAVAGERY.
We have known men who proposed themselves to be worse than they were, and others who tried to persuade you that they were saints when the devil would not have taken them on a bad debt.

SUGGESTION.
In rearing a boy, keep the home well sprinkled with perfume, so he won't go out and marry the first sweet odor he meets.

CALAMITY.
Many a man has been his own boss so long and has been so easy upon himself that he has never accomplished anything.

HAVE FITS FIRST.
Did you know that under laws of this state that men may get out of jail within three to ten days after they have committed the most dastardly crime known? Did you know at the same time that an insane person can be kept in jail as much as two years because the insane asylums are full to overflowing? Did you know that an insane person over 60 years of age is not eligible to be admitted to either of our many insane hospitals? Did you know that an insane invalid under sixty years of age will not be accepted in any insane hospitals? Did you know that an insane person who has fits, and can walk, may be admitted to the epileptic state hospital at Abilene regardless of age? All of which is proof that if you intend to go crazy, you had better begin by having fits!

WEAKLY POME.
Your God may smite and vex, As your long face discloses; But mine created sex, Full moon, wine and roses.

UNUSUAL.
Digging a well is the only job we know of that you begin at the top. And digging wells has long been out of date.

CHARITY.
Many a man has fooled himself through a long life, and the minister sided with the editor in handing out a bunch of white lies for the benefit of the mourners.

SUGGESTION.
At any rate, the armament race should do a lot to solve the world's unemployment problems. And to make the world safe against "rotocracy."

TRIBUTE.
Yes, grandmother was the sweetest old soul you ever met. And she passed out of this mean old world by being run over by one of the swellest looking Cadillacs you ever saw. Grandpa wasn't so lucky. He was killed by a darned old jalopy.

REVENGE.
I have lived to rejoice in the passing of the old-time minister who seemed to be glad that the people who disagreed with him were going to hell.

The socially prominent right now, are those who took the advice of this column some days ago, and planted a large patch of turnips, and another patch of greens.

Pork and pot likker. Corn and clabber. Homely? Yep, but ain't it good!

Father (facetiously): "Don't you think our son gets his intelligence from me?"

Mother (likewise): "He must. I've still got mine."

Chiropractic

Discussion of Diet in Obesity
Starvation will reduce any person's weight. Simply to remain alive, a person must use up a certain amount of energy daily—energy to operate the heart, the respiratory muscles, and many other constantly functioning tissues. To move about and perform work requires still more energy above this living level. If no food whatever is taken to supply the living and working energy, the body will draw on its own stores of carbohydrate, fat and protein. As these are used for energy, they break down into water, carbon dioxide and other products, the loss of these products from the body lightens its process, but is designed to make the "starvation" as easy as possible for the patient and entirely harmless to health.

SIDE GLANCES ON TEXAS HISTORY

By Charles O. Hucker University of Texas Library

Texas Reaches Out For New Mexico

One hundred years ago this month public interest in Texas was centered upon a group of some 300 men who were wandering somewhere out in the West on an ambitious diplomatic mission which, if successful, would have extended the boundaries of Texas beyond Santa Fe, New Mexico—but which, unsuccessful, ended in one of the major public disasters in the history of the Republic.

These men were the now-famous Santa Fe Pioneers, who on June 20, 1841, had set out with President Lamar's personal blessing to take civilization to New Mexico—that is, to bring the far-northern Mexican province peacefully into their own Republic. With them went three representatives of the President and a host of merchants seeking to open up the rich old province to Texas trade. And for seven months no one in Texas knew what had become of them.

For three of those months, actually, according to records in the University of Texas library's Texas Collection, the Pioneers plodded across northwest Texas, most of the time on half rations and seldom if ever knowing precisely where they were. They were harassed by Indians. Their provisions ran out. Their scouts failed to return. But at last, early in September, a passing traveler told them they were only 80 or 90 miles from the New Mexico town of San Miguel.

Lewis' Adventures

Thus finding that they had somehow got onto the right track, the Pioneers sent a party under Captain William P. Lewis ahead to the town to bring back supplies. On September 15, however, Lewis' men were surrounded and disarmed by a Mexican army and politely escorted into town, where Lewis learned that the Texas scouts were prisoners and that Mexican officials had aroused the entire province to repel the "invaders."

The Mexican commandant, one Don Salezar, with Lewis as his interpreter, now set out to intercept the main Texas force and soon came upon its advance guard, which numbered about 100. Lewis told the Texans that they could enter Santa Fe for a week's peaceful trading, after which they would be allowed to return home safely; but that they must come disarmed. He pledged his own personal word to their safety, and the Texans agreed to the conditions.

Betrayal and Disaster

The following day, however, the provincial governor, Armijo, arrived. At his order, all the Texans were bound and marched off toward the Mexican interior, and he hastened on to meet the main body under Brigadier-General Hugh McLeod, which had suffered greatly from fatigue and lack of provisions. To McLeod the same promises were made; he, too, believed them, was betrayed, and was taken prisoner with all his men. Thus by the middle of October the entire expedition had been lost. Its purpose had been defeated, and not a single shot had been fired in its defense.

The march into the interior was long and marked by ill-treatment and suffering; and in February, 1842, the Texans were locked up in the prisons of Santiago, Puebla, and Perote. But in the meantime, on January 18, news of the disaster had reached the settlements of the Republic, and, after the first shock of national disgrace had passed, work was begun to free the Pioneers. Primarily because of the intercession of the United States, where popular opinion quickly rose in behalf of the betrayed Texans, this task was successful in April except in the case of one man, Jose Antonio Navarro, one of the President's commissioners, who was not released until two more years had passed.

OLD TIMER: One who can remember when the politician said, "Elect me and I will reduce your taxes."—EX.

Donley County Leader, $2 a year.

the nation how quickly we could get this defense production into high gear."

That is the reason, Mr. Worley said, why the Panhandle of Texas should be allocated defense plants. "We have the fuel, the water, and all the facilities, including a laboring class that is without parallel."

He emphasized that the allocation of defense projects is strictly a business proposition. "I think that every member of congress would resolve himself into a one-man uprising if he thought for a moment that the projects were awarded on a political basis, or any other basis except business."

Mr. Worley pointed out that he is working for the interests of the entire Panhandle and not any one section. He recounted his efforts to bring defense or industrial projects to the Panhandle, and stated his belief that in time his efforts and the efforts of the many people who are taking the lead in this would be rewarded.

There was rapt attention as Mr. Worley read quotations of Hitler and leading Nazis. "If Hitler conquers England and Russia he will try to enslave Americans just as he has the Nazi-occupied lands of Europe."

Congress has only one goal at the present time—to furnish the allied governments with the tools to win the war, the congressman said.

"One of the greatest fears in Washington is that Russia may make a separate peace with Germany if the Red armies are defeated," he said.

The congressman's address served as a report on his year in Washington. He did not mention in his address: the thousands of duties and matters that take up his time, but he devoted it to discussing the national emergency, a problem which demands nearly all the talents of the real Washington statesmen whose business it is to insure the safety and welfare of America.

Mr. Worley spoke extemporaneously, but his sentences were carefully worded, spoken impressively and with a statesman-like caliber that suggested the development Pampans has witnessed since he first campaigned for the state legislature in a Model "T" seven years ago when he was a law student at the University of Texas.

GARDEN GLANCES

"America beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners."

"Trees are always dressing up. They are loveliest in the Fall. Wearing red and yellow leaves Like a lady's Spanish shawl!" —Patricia Hays.

The garden is a shaggy tangle now. Not many blossoms, but berries everywhere—like gypsy tribes that come when tamer things are gone.

Some are deep maroon, some are light dull coral. A touch of frost will make them shine like flame.

Against their round pale leaves, snowberries gleam in globes of waxy light.

For lovely effects in the garden no plant can excel the beauty berry with its violet colored fruit.

There are many berry bearers which are easily transplanted.

Study the plant habits and supply them as nearly as possible, remembering that in the bright fruits you have something beautiful and something to attract the birds—two in one.

MEMORY LANE

(10 years ago in Donley county.)

While the young couple was in the field picking cotton, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Slater was destroyed by fire Saturday a mile and a half north of Ashtola.

Household effects were a total loss. They had just installed their household effects that morning, including a new oil stove. The latter is thought to have started the blaze. The loss was lessened by the actions of Tom Shadle who came to town and secured a liberal amount of contributions to start the newly married couple out again.

The Bronchos held the Floydada team to a 0-0 score in a tight game here Friday.

Mrs. W. H. Corbin won five places in the Tri-State fair culinary contests at Amarillo, setting a new individual record for Donley county.

Can, jars, bottles and buckets of food were brought to the Leader office Saturday on the "pay your subscription with canned goods drive" put on by your Donley

County Leader to enable the Leader family to keep even thru this, the worst year of the depression.

W. H. Patrick was elected president of the Old Settlers Association in their meeting at the Tri-State fair in Amarillo Wednesday.

The Hess Tyler case from Hall county in which he is charged with the murder of Bryan Nall, will come to Donley county on a change of venue. He was given the death penalty at Memphis in a trial in the district court Feb. 24, 1930.

Lee Casey and A. L. Chase recently toured Colorado. They were accompanied by Rhodin Chase who stopped off at Boulder where he will attend the State University this winter.

FOOTBALL SIDELIGHTS

By A. D. Estlack

No complaints in this corner. Although our ears hang down a bit, by no means are we down hearted. We knew the going was a lot too tough, but still we had hopes of an up-set. But since the old dope bucket still hangs high, we are not going to offer any alibis. Fact is, there just simply isn't any to offer. A bigger, more experienced team handed us a defeat, and we want to congratulate the local boys on playing a bang-up game. They fought hardest when the going was toughest, and that's what I admire in a football team.

This week we take new hopes. The Wheeler Mustangs will be the visiting team. Although this game is doped to be a toss-up, a surprise either way must be taken into consideration. Wheeler has practically a new team and so does Clarendon. Come on out, folks, and let's back the Bronchos.

Is There a Doctor in the House?
There seems to be an opening for a bright young medico up on the Plains. A doctor who catches on quickly, as it were. This item, penned by Ann Claitor in the Petersburg Journal is the tipoff!

Disappointment reigned supreme in the heart of a local citizen last week when, seeking a prescription from the doctor, he was given a prescription—for medicine—with an order to drink milk. He's still looking for a doctor.

ROMANS DID IT

It seems that Julius Caesar was making a speech one day before a great multitude of half-civilized people. Suddenly the wind changed and began blowing from the direction of a mosquito-infested swamp. Mr. Bartlett's story goes, "The mosquitoes became so dense that the speaker could hardly be seen. To get a better view, the people began to kill the 'skeeters by slapping hands together and Julius, thinking he had said something funny, joined in to make it unanimous."

Donley County Leader, $2 a year.

PEOPLE LIKED HIM

People liked him, not because He was rich or known to fame; He had never won applause As a star in any game. His was not a brilliant style, His was not a forceful way, But he had a gentle smile And a kindly word to say.

Never arrogant or proud, On he went with manner mild; Never quarrelsome or loud, Just as simple as a child; Honest, patient, brave and true: Thus he lived from day to day, Doing what he found to do In a cheerful sort of way.

Wasn't one to boast of gold Or belittle it with sneers, Didn't change from hot to cold, Kept his friends throughout the years, Sort of man you like to meet Any time or any place. There was always something sweet And refreshing in his face.

Sort of man you'd like to be: Balanced well and truly square; Patient in adversity, Generous when his skies were fair, Never lied to friend or foe, Never rash in word or deed, Quick to come and slow to go In a neighbor's time of need.

Never rose to wealth or fame, Simply lived, and simply died, But the passing of his name Left a sorrow far and wide.

Groom Pioneer Dies Tuesday

John Fraser, Sr., prominent stock raiser, grainman and pioneer of Gray county, died suddenly at his home five miles east of groom at Boydston switch early Tuesday afternoon. He was 75 years old.

Mr. Fraser died suddenly while working at his home. A pioneer of Gray county, he moved to Marlin, from Scotland in 1886 and moved to the Panhandle where he filed on the original homestead in 1889. He was postmaster at Boydston before the coming of the railroad, serving in that position from 1891 to 1941. In point of service (49 years) he was the third oldest postmaster in the United States.

Since coming to the Panhandle Mr. Fraser had been active in religious and lodge activities, business circles and public enterprises. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church at Groom, a past master of the Masonic Lodge, and a member of the Khiva Temple in Amarillo. He was one of the first good roads advocates in the Panhandle.

No financial wizard would look so much like a wizard if all the suckers didn't look so much like suckers.

"What happens when a body is immersed in water?" asked the professor in the science class. "The telephone rings," replied the co-ed.

Definitions
"In Christianity a man can have only one wife," wrote the school boy on his examination paper. "This is called monotony." And "a monologue is a conversation between two people, such as husband and wife," wrote another bright boy.

He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Margaret K. Fraser; two sons, W. F. Fraser of Pampa and Walter K. Fraser of Groom; four daughters, Mrs. Willis Emery and Mrs. Ernest Inman, both of Groom; Mrs. Temple Slay of Wellington, and Mrs. M. N. Parker of Eagle Pass.

DALHART LADY FINDS DEFENSE ORES

Mrs. R. L. Duke of Dalhart has located rutile, ilmenite and titanium ores in that section. The ores were located in her quest for clays and sands which she employs in making Indian pottery, an art in which she is most expert.

In her communication to the Leader, Mrs. Duke stated that it was her purpose to secure development of these defense ores since each is required in furthering the defense measures in manufacturing machinery of war.

FROM OKLAHOMA

Rev. and Mrs. J. O. Quattlebaum, Jr. are enjoying a visit with their daughter, Mrs. C. R. Ringham of Bartlesville, Oklahoma. She and her son, Lee Olin, are here for an indefinite visit.

Max—No, I went to that last year.

TRADE TERRITORY SUPPORTS ITS FAVORITE NEWSPAPER

Several hundred readers of your Donley County Leader renewed subscriptions the past month. A large number of new readers were added at the same time. The names on this list will indicate further reader interest all over the Clarendon trade area.

The fact that the Leader is the most widely read newspaper in the trade territory, as well as the most widely read newspaper by those who think enough of it to pay for it, means much to advertisers who want to reach the largest number at no increased cost.

This vote of confidence is greatly appreciated. Since October 1st, your favorite weekly will cost you almost one cent more per week. The increase in price was forced upon us. News print and other items that enter into the production of the Leader have advanced in cost much more than is being added to the subscription price. We mean to keep the price at the two dollar level as long as possible. Should the cost of production get lower, the price will be reduced.

Around seventy men and women have paid their subscription the past few days. Please look at the figures following your name. If there is an error, kindly let us know about it at once, if possible.

Lefors Pirates Defeat Bronchos Here 26-6

The Clarendon Bronchos lost their first conference go here last Friday night when they were over-powered by the Lefors Pirates 26-6, after a first quarter thriller which saw the lighter Clarendon boys forge ahead 6-0. The Clarendon drive to pay dirt was set up when Taylor of the Bronchos recovered a Lefors fumble on the Pirate 20 yard line. Smith and Adams carried the ball to the 1 yard line from where Adams bucked over. The try for the extra point was no good.

The second quarter opened with the Pirates taking charge of the situation. Featuring Earhart, the Lefors aggregation pushed over two touchdowns before the half ended. Both counters were made by Earhart who sprinted better than 20 yards for each marker.

Fighting gamely, the Bronchos tried to stem the tide but were crushed by a tirade of spinners and well protected sprints. Earhart and Ammons of the Pirates each tallied during the last half. Both tries for points were good. Only during the first four minutes of the game was the Bronchos masters of the situation. From then on they were out classed and out maneuvered by a team enriched with weight and experience. The Bronchos played a good game but the odds were to great. There was no letting down—no complaining on the part of the local boys. They were soundly beaten by a superior and more experienced team. This was not their day to pull an up-set.

Outstanding for Clarendon was Smith, Allison and Adams in the backfield and Thornberry in the line. For Lefors it was Earhart, Oldham and Ammons. In first downs the Pirates made 13 to Clarendon's 5.

THE FABLE OF THE HOT DOG STAND

There was a man who lived by the side of the road, and he sold hot dogs.

He was hard of hearing, so he had no radio. He had trouble with his eyes, so he read no newspapers.

But he sold good hot dogs. He put signs up on the highway, telling how good they were. He stood on the side of the road and cried, "Buy a hot dog, mister?" and people bought.

He increased his meat and bun order. He bought a bigger stove, to take care of his trade. He finally got his son home from college to help him.

But then something happened. His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio? Haven't you been reading the newspaper? There's a big depression on. The European situation is terrible. The domestic situation is worse. Everything's going to pot." Whereupon the father thought, "Well, my son's been to college, he reads the newspapers and listens to the radio, and he ought to know."

So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders, took down his advertising signs, and no longer bothered to stand out on the highway and sell his hot dogs. And his sales fell off almost overnight.

"You're right, son," said the father to his boy. "We certainly are in the middle of a great depression."
