Oil Industry Greatest Aid In National Defense

Successful carrying on of the nation's war effort will require maximum production of all grades of aviation fuel and synthetic rubber and all owners of plants producing products vital to their manufacture have been requested to give information as to the largest quantities of these products they can produce. N. C. McGowen, chairman of the Natural Gas and Natural Gasoline committee for Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Alabama and New Mexico said following a meeting of this committee in Houston.

"In order to assure the greatest possible production of all grades of aviation gasoline, and also for production of synthetic rubber, it is essential that there be maximum production of those products which are necessary in their manufacture such as butane, isobutane, and isopentane," Mr. McGowen stated.

"Existing and proposed natural gasoline extraction plants, cycling, pressure maintenance and repressing plants are prime sources of butane, isobutane and isopentane and should be so constructed and operated as to facilitate the recovery of these elements in as large quantities as possible."

Owners of plants manufacturing these three components of aviation gasoline and synthetic rubber, whether as products or by-products, are being requested to increase their production to the maximum quantity economically possible. Persons or companies planning new plants have been requested to design and construct these plants so as to make the greatest use of scarce materials and to provide for the most efficient extraction of these vital elements.

Butane, isobutane, and isopentanes are produced in liquid form and shipped to refineries making aviation gasoline where they are blended with gasoline refined from oil, the resulting product having an octane rating far above that of average motor fuel.

The committee has established offices at 801 Mellie Esperson Building, Houston, Texas, and has mailed questionnaires to all owners of plants in this district. It is expected that these questionnaires will be filled out and returned immediately so that the committee may have this information available for the office of Petroleum Coordinator for National Defense.

ALL-IMPORTANT

This War is going to be won on the Home Front. The Home Front is all-important in total war. The Home Front saved Britain after Dunkerque. It was to the Home Front—to the betrayed and deluded people of Germany—that Hitler addressed himself with his between-the-lines hysteria last week end.

We Americans are all-out for Victory on this front. We're all of us determined to keep the raw materials for Victory flowing in to our industrial plants and the finished weapons of war streaming from those plants to the fighting zones, until Adolf is in the ash can and Japan is on the junk heap, until the poor, misguided Italians are ready to dunk II Duce in the Tiber.

The country's entire supply of aluminum has now been marshalled for war!

The WPB won't grant priorities for steel to be used in air raid shelters. Steel offers better protection when it's in guns or ships.

Having cut the output of radios and radio-phonographs by more than 40 per cent—and there probably are still more cuts ahead—the WPB has moved to reduce the production of "non-essential" incandescent lamps by 50 per cent. The Price Administrator's office has asked makers of electric hearing aids not to raise prices, too.

DEAVER ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY

To: The Citizenship of the 100th. Judicial District:

In submitting my candidacy for reelection, I want first to thank each of you for the privilege of having served you as District Attorney. I am grateful for the sincere service you have rendered law enforcement while serving on the petit and grand juries. This service on your part, together with the full cooperation of all other officers serving on the side of law enforcement, has materially strengthened any efforts of my own.

It has been my sincere desire, at all times, to discharge your trust fairly and without fear or favor, without friends to serve or enemies to punish. You are the sole judges of the success of my efforts.

Should you desire, I would be glad that you inquire as to the record made while serving you, the convictions obtained in contested cases and whether my efforts have tended toward an enforcement of the laws with firmness, but where justice has been tempered with fairness, consideration, mercy and understanding.

If the manner in which I have handled your office meets with your approval, I shall gratefully appreciate your consideration in the next primary election.

Respectfully submitted,
 John Deaver. (Advt.)

Importance of High Germ Test Seed

County Agent H. M. Breedlove today issued a warning to all farmers to be cautious in purchasing planting seed this season because of unusually low germination percentage due to poor growing conditions last year.

Mr. Breedlove said that State Commissioner of Agriculture, J. E. McDonald, had informed him that the State Seed Laboratory is finding germination of cotton and other seed consistently lower this year than in previous years, germination of many samples running as low as 20 to 30 per cent, and numerous samples showing zero.

A careful examination of the tag on seed bought by the farmer will help to insure the success of his year's work, the county agent stated. All seed sold by dealers must be tagged according to the Texas Seed Law, and the official tag must show the germination, purity and noxious and other weed seed content. The dealer who sell untagged seed is not only breaking the law, but is endangering the farmer's crop by selling seed which may be worthless trash.

The State Seed Laboratory reports that cotton seed is showing an unusually low germination as compared to other seed, and ginners are cautioned not to sell untagged and untagged seed to the farmers.

PRICE OF VICTORY

Of course, every Victory has its price. Right now, we can begin to see clearly what Victory is going to cost the Home Front—and it's plenty, although it is a small sum to pay for such values as liberty and the right to pursue happiness and work for a decent sort of world.

Victory is going to cost some manufacturers their business for the duration, as metals are diverted from such things as new pots and pans to guns and tanks. Victory is going to mean virtual conscription of hundreds of industries, grief to management, and distress to workers, as they shift from the uses of peace to the uses of war.

More than 15,000 retail merchants throughout the country are aiding the drive to salvage materials for war, and the WPB is receiving new pledges at the rate of thousands each day.

Donley County Leader, $2 a year.

Inflation Danger Stressed Most

DALLAS — Patriotic citizens were called to aid the Price Control Administration today in guarding against unreasonable price increases in all lines.

Max L. McCullough, regional director of the Office of Price Administration for the states of Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana, warned that price inflation might be as serious an enemy on the "home front" as tanks on the battlefield, or submarines in the ocean.

"In World War Number One," he said, "the United States allowed inflation to get out of control. By that one defeat on the economic front, we might have lost that war if Germany had been a little stronger then. We must not make that mistake now." And he emphasized the word "must."

Mr. McCullough's office is now set up to receive complaints from citizens of the three states in this region under the new price control law enacted a few days ago by Congress.

Price ceilings already have been established on many manufactured articles, commodities and raw materials.

The broad authority granted by the new price control law permits Leon Henderson, the national administrator, to expand the list of price ceilings to many other commodities.

Mr. McCullough made it clear that "every patriotic citizen and merchant is invited to keep in close touch with this office, and to see that prices are held within the bounds to be set by the Office of Price Administration."

"Direct price control," he explained, "is an essential part of the war program. The problem must be handled promptly and boldly, if our victory is to be assured."

"The majority of the American people recognize the danger that faces this country and most of them, we know, will cooperate in the price control program. But there are always a few 'chislers' and it is our business in this office to see that those 'chislers' are compelled to abide by the new law."

And he added: "Al of us know that if prices on commodities and rents began skyrocketing as they did twenty-five years ago, during the first World War and 'in the post-war period, a severe hardship would result to the public. And more than that—the huge sums appropriated by the Government for our war effort would lose in value and would purchase much less. Thus, our democratic plans for prosecuting the war would be nullified. We must not allow that to happen. We must win this battle on the home front—against inflation."

TIN CANS TO BATTLE

We're going to see a lot less of the tin can, which is going thru this war primarily as a container of meat and vegetables. Already, WPB has halved the amount of tin which may be used in cans for baking powder, beer, biscuits, candy, cereals, flour, chocolate and cocoa, dog food, spices, condiments, petroleum products and tobacco.

There has been a lot of beer poured into tins. In 1941, for instance, beer cans consumed 1,600 tons of scarce tin—more than was used to can any vegetable except tomatoes.

Now, along with the tin cans, WPB is drafting a part of their contents. It plans an order withholding a percentage of the 1942 fruit and vegetable pack, as a reserve for the armed forces and lend-lease. Sales of sugar may be limited to three-quarters of a pound per person per week—which is enough.

There probably will be enough of the commoner spices, too, except cinnamon. We've more than two years' supply of East Indian pepper in the warehouses. WPB has found it possible to relax the restrictions on fats and oils—a break for makers and users of salad oils, shortening, lard, soaps and paint.

CHANGES FORESHADOWED

Almost all of the trends developed during the last week have direct bearing on the home. There is a War Production Board survey now going on which, taken with WPB's warning of stringent rationing to come, points the direction in which we're headed. WPB is questioning 10,000 manufacturers to find out just how much minimum civilian production they must maintain, along with maximum military production.

Such things foreshadow change, and change we will have—change in the familiar contents of the kitchen shelves, in the contents of our closets and bureau drawers, in our living rooms.

THE OPENING!
When America really "opens up" on the Japs, it will be just like pouring scalding water on the little yellowish kitchen ants of questionable designation.

IT'S FREE NOW.
Our money lords sold shipments of millions of tons of scrap iron to Japan the past three years. Let's do the fair thing before it is too late. Let's give them the next shipment FREE. Let's GIVE till it HURTS -- the Japs.
DICTATION.
Lots of women are eager to work in munition factories. The only requirement they propose, is that they be supplied with uniforms bearing brass buttons. Why not? Don't the men have buttons?

HISTORY.
Don't let anyone fool you. It was Joshua who originated the daylight savings idea.
OH! MY GOSH!
Think what we may, we will never fully realize what the rubber shortage really means until we run out of bath tub stoppers.

PARTIALITY.
It takes an income of six figures to get a man's picture in the rotogravure section, but one figure will get a girl there.
POOR DEVIL.
While faith is said to move mountains, it doesn't have any effect on furniture in a dark room.

TIRE PROGRESS.
One thing sure, if this tire rationing keeps up, it will put the nation on its feet. Why over in Australia, they have turned the garages into munitions factories. We need some of that system here to help the garages.
MORE WAR DOPE.
The Limies had the Fatheads and Wops on the run down in Africa until they had to go back after tea. That is the third time they have run out of tea after they passed Ben Gassi's place. One side is out of tea, or the other side is out of beer or garlic half the time. Ben often gets amused.
On the Malay peninsula the Limies made a wonderful retreat of 475 miles with the Yellow-Bellies close at their heels. Even at that the Limies lost only 13 men—they missed the bridge as they got to the strait of Johore on the retreat to Singapore. Australians and Americans have been imported to defend Singapore to give the "retreating" army a rest.
Had the Allied armies of May-lay fought like Gen. MacArthur's little army in the Philippines, they would have scraped the Yellows off the map.

ASHTOLA
Mrs. W. B. Miller

Rev. Vernon Willard, the Methodist pastor, filled his regular appointment Sunday morning and evening.
Miss Helena Poovey from W.T. S.C. at Canyon spent the weekend in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Poovey.
We are glad to welcome Rev. R. L. Self and family as citizens of Ashtola. They have recently moved to the Van Knox farm.
Miss Nancy Miller was able to resume her school work Monday after an absence of several days, due to an attack of mumps.
Mr. and Mrs. Odos Speir and family from Goldston community visited in the Henry Wilson home Sunday.
Miss Mary Charlotte Word, who is a Senior at W.T.S.C. spent the week end with her parents on the S. J. ranch.
Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Tomlinson Jr. from Borger were visitors at Ashtola Sunday.
Shirley Faye Wilson is absent from school this week, due to an attack of mumps.
Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hunsucker from Washburn spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Allen.
Mr. and Mrs. Hunsucker accompanied by Mrs. Allen visited Mr. Hunsucker's sister, Mrs. Elzey Kidd who is a patient in a Clarendon hospital, Sunday morning.

DRASTIC RATIONING
In the home itself, the price of Victory will include increasingly drastic rationing. Sugar and tires were just starters. We can look forward to a time when a new radio may be just as hard to acquire as a new car.
The scarcity of materials needed for the Army and Navy and Lend-Lease is going to combine with a scarcity of industrial facilities, as more and more factories are drafted into the war effort, to change our lives tremendously.
The needs of the Army and Navy are going to affect the styling of our clothes as well as our diets. We know we may count on the new Price Control Act to operate, along with rationing, in the direction of fair prices; but we also know that the farm price provisions of the act may lead to an increase in the cost of food-stuffs.
Mrs. Lalar Wilkerson of Silverton visited in Clarendon Sat.

SUGGESTION.
Last summer when the English peas were going strong on the Apostle's poor farm, a number of folks asked to be reminded of planting time in the 1942 season. The first good planting date is Saturday, February 7th. Plant in tight ground in a furrow at least eight inches deep. Cover the seed to a depth of three inches. Use plenty of seed. After the plants come up, gradually pull the dirt into the furrow until it is level. That gives the plants a fine root system. Peas planted early come up at the right time. If planted late and shallow, they may bear one light crop and the vines die because of a lack of a root system. Try it and see. Use any variety you like. All-Season, Marrowfat and Telephone are my choices, in the order named.

FASHION PREVIEW

Because a suit is more expensive than a dress, use care in your selection. Choose a well-tailored model like the one seen above. It comes in brown or blue and yellow wool.

Preserve Clothing Expert Says

COLLEGE STATION — With many kinds of clothing and textiles becoming limited or unobtainable because of war demands, taking care of clothing grows more necessary every day.

The first step in taking care of clothing intelligently is knowing fabrics and their proper treatment, says Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist for the Extension Service of A&M College. It will help to study labels and consult clerks and store buyers about materials — whether the color is fast to light and washing, and how much a garment is likely to shrink. The specialist adds that there's nothing to the old custom of soaking materials in a solution of salt and water to "set" the color. It doesn't work.

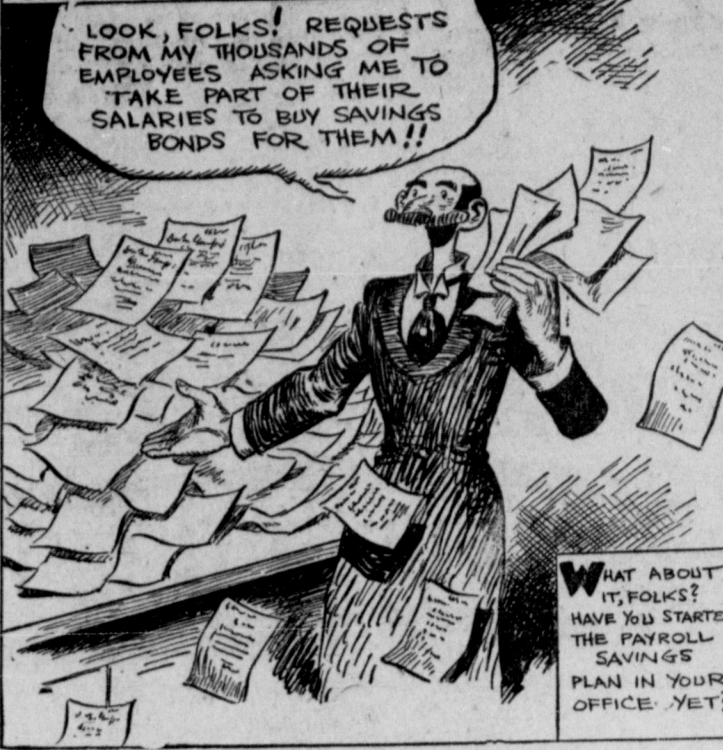

The right way to wash wool is to use warm, soft water and neutral soap. Squeeze the suds thru the cloth—don't rub it—and rinse in water the same temperature as first used. Dry wool in a warm place, but not in the sunlight. Wool garments should be pressed while they're still damp with a medium-hot iron. A pressing cloth should be used, too.

Washable rayons require heavy, lukewarm suds of neutral soaps, the specialist says. These should not be rubbed and they should be handled with particular care while they are wet. It's also important to rinse rayons in water the same temperature as that in which they were washed. Ordinary rayons may be ironed with a moderately warm iron, but acetate rayons require temperature even lower.

The sensible way to clean most cottons is to wash them. If colored cottons are colorfast both to washing and light and if they won't shrink more than two percent, there's little to worry about.

Basketball Players See Naval Station

CORPUS CHRISTI—An inside view of active flying operations at Corpus Christi Naval Air Station, the largest of its kind in the world, was recently given the basketball players of Southwestern University of Georgetown, Texas.

The Southwestern cagers had come to the "University of the Air" for a game with the station team which is now undergoing intensive training for its Feb. 14 encounter with Pensacola Naval Air Station at the Navy Relief Benefit in New Orleans, and during the afternoon were shown the characteristics of Navy flying.

Marine Cadet L. Sparrow took them through a fighter plane squadron where they saw the powerful Grumman fighters and the Curtis scouting planes. He gave them an account of their missions and maneuvers, of gunnery, bombing, "dog-fighting," and cross-country flights; and when the Marine cadet had finished his gesture-filled account, the Southwestern "Pirates" knew the basis of "the Wake way."

At the visitors' request, most of the tour time was spent examining the different types of sea-planes, so truly typical of naval aviation. When they saw the Navy's own devices for target-towing, target gunnery, and for dropping miniature smoke bombs from wing racks of dive-bombers, the Pirates were ready to sign up for naval aviation immediately.

Next they watched the large patrol boats land and taxi across the protected waters of Corpus Christi Bay to be beached and washed down by a crew clad only in bathing trunks. Thus concluding their tour of the flying activities at this largest naval air station in the world they went on a general trip around the station and finished up with Navy chow. "We're always ready for that," they grinned.

Mrs. Glen Casey of Amarillo visited her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bryan, Sun.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Oswalt and small daughter of Vernon visited the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buel Sanford.

Cotton to Play Important Part In War Role

AUSTIN—Cotton is going to play an increasingly important role in the war economy of the United States during the year ahead, in the opinion of Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the University of Texas' Bureau of Business Research.

Declaring that present prices of cotton are high enough to stimulate a substantial increase in cotton acreage under favorable weather conditions, Dr. Cox points out reasons for his belief in the greater role of cotton.

In the first place, he points out that cotton "can be and should be" a strong brake against runaway inflation, since it has a wide range of civilian and war uses and may be substituted for many other commodities of which there is a shortage.

"There is a burdensome surplus of cotton in the United States that has been a threat to the cotton growers for years," Dr. Cox says, in the second place. "This can and should be fed into the market to supply a large quantity of goods as reasonable prices and at the same time relieving the surplus."

In the South, Dr. Cox declares, where small enterprises are being closed because they are unable to handle war contracts, the high rate of employment in the cotton textile and clothing industries offers a stabilizing influence.

"The use of a substantial portion of the government-owned cotton on lease-lend to our allies in the war will be an important factor in winning the war by supplying them with essential materials, civilian employment and goods," the cotton authority concluded.

Produce and The Farm Income

COLLEGE STATION—If Texas farm families supply much of the farm produce needed in nearby towns and cities, this will release large shipments to local dealers for use by the growing number of army camps and defense areas.

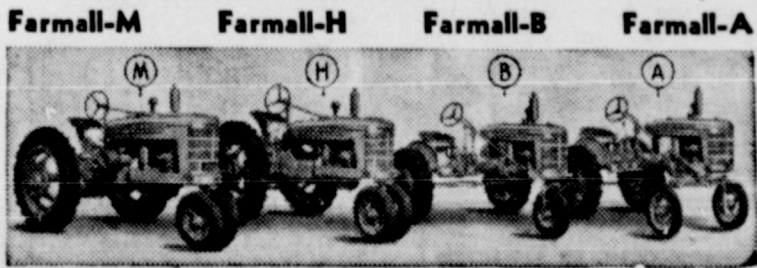

families will need to consider: Varieties of fruit and vegetables best suited to their section of the state, cultural methods, the amount to plant, availability of farm labor for harvesting, proper preparation for market, and means of transportation.

Persons producing poultry for market will need to study proper methods of feeding and dressing, the specialist points out, and consideration should be given also to grading and packaging of eggs.

Insurance Takes Guess Out Of Farming

College Station, Feb. 5.—The guess has been taken out of cotton farming this year, according to Frank B. Seale, state AAA committeeman and Robertson County cotton farmer.

"Heretofore, we've planted cotton and hoped to see it through to harvest, but with insurance it'll be a different story this year," Seale said in pointing out that Federal Crop Insurance protects the potential crop against insect infestation, flood, drought, storms and all other unavoidable hazards. Insurance does not mean that farmers can plant cotton, let the grass and weeds take it, and sit back and wait to collect, the committeeman said, since insurance does not protect crops against losses caused from poor farming practices or use of inferior seeds.

Landlords, tenants and sharecroppers having an interest in a 1942 cotton crop may insure either 50 or 75 percent of their average production. Each interest may be insured independently of the other, the committeeman said. Amounts of premiums will vary since they are based on actual risks of growing cotton on individual farms.

"Insurance is money in the pocket whether a boll is picked or not. It's just another method Texas farmers are using to get their financial house in good shape," the AAA official said.

Premiums for insurance are due at approximate ginning time and may be paid for in cash, cash equivalent, loss payments, if any are made, cotton loans, if available, or from AAA checks.

"Farmers who need cash to start cotton crops can use their insurance contracts as collateral because 50 or 75 percent of normal production is already on the dotted line," Seale said.

Careless habits contribute to destruction of materials and property as well as the possible loss of life by fire.

Speaking before a University of Texas audience, Dr. Jan Masaryk, foreign minister of the exiled Czechoslovakian government, predicted a federated Europe, growing out of an Allied victory, and a long-range Allied economic and political plan.

BOMB CURES A PARALYTIC BEDRIDDEN FOR 10 YEARS

Felt "Tapping" Down Spine When Raid Shook House

Bombs bring destruction of life to most, but to this man, it gave life and hope, as described in the Herald Tribune of January 4:

WINGHAM, England, January 3, (UP).—Paralyzed and bedridden for ten years, William Albert Bowden, fifty-four years old, is up and about again, and once more looking for a job—thanks to a bomb.

Bowden became paralyzed after a long illness. Then, for the rest of his ten years' martyrdom, it was only in fine weather that he could sit in a bathchair outside his home or be wheeled about the village. Embroidering birds or flowers on linen was his only recreation.

Doctors held out no hope that he would ever be able to return to his work as an engineer at the salt works.

Then came the air raids. As Bowden lay in bed, the house was shaken by a bomb. All of a sudden he felt what he described as a "tap" down his spine, and in a moment he was bathed in perspiration.

"I did not say anything about it to my wife," he said, "but the next afternoon I had another experience of this tapping at my spine. It became more frequent and finally felt like pins and needles in my back."

"Then came the most wonderful moment of all—I could feel movement in my legs. In ten days I was able to use my feet and legs again."

This is what one could call the "bomb cure." What occurred, was that the shock of the explosion must have caused a spinal vertebrae, which was out of place and pinching on nerves, causing the paralysis, to go back into place. The feeling of "tapping" in his back was caused by the movement of the vertebrae and the pins and needles feeling was caused by the rush of nerve energy back to the legs from which they had been withheld for ten years. How much more pleasant it would have been, if this man had seen a chiropractor years ago instead of waiting for a bomb to cure him.

America's electric companies have been able to accomplish this by good business management—by producing over 90 per cent of the nation's electric power and making it available almost anywhere, over carefully interconnected systems.

Offer Trucks Free To Uncle Sam

SAN ANTONIO—"We want you to know that our trucks and everything we have we are willing to let the Government use free. With all our hearts we want to cooperate as much as we can with everything we have with the Government. It will be a big honor to us if we can do anything to help."

Thus did two Latin-American truck owners in a Texas border town respond this week to the War Department's request as to whether or not their equipment would be available for lease by the Government should it be needed.

This reply and many hundreds like it are typical of the patriotic attitude displayed by many of the Texas truck and bus owners whose replies to truck inventory requests for information are pouring into the traffic advisory committee headquarters at 1223 Commerce Street where 288 WPA workers are tabulating the returns.

Although approximately 100,000 truck and bus owners thus far have not returned questionnaires needed to complete the War Department inventory, project officials were hopeful that follow-up requests for information sent out this week would obtain the desired response.

Farm Cash Income On Increase

AUSTIN—Larger marketing of livestock and livestock products, at least an equal yield of cotton and wheat and higher prices for these and other agricultural products were the optimistic prediction this week of Dr. Fred A. Buechel, assistant director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Pointing out that the Bureau's predictions of 1941 farm cash income were exact—$655,000,000, exclusive of governmental subsidies, Dr. Buechel reported 1941 cash income exceeded 1940 by about $170,000,000. December receipts of $68,000,000 were almost three times that of December, 1940.

A year-end report of the Bureau showed recorded receipts from farm products of $595,859,000—equivalent to $655,000,000 when account is taken for the under defense work, having served in the World War.

Income from cattle and calves was almost doubled on December comparisons, and on eggs shipped out of the state was 17 times as large as December, 1940.

Copeland, chief, dairy husbandry, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, will talk on "Care of dry and fresh cows" on January 29, and on "Supplying minerals and vitamins" on January 30. G. G. Gibson, assistant extension dairyman will discuss "Clearing the decks of our dairy herds for action" on January 28, and will close the series on January 31 with a paper on "Looking ahead with your dairy herd."

"As never before, Texas farmers need information on dairy feeding and management problems," Eudaly said. "In the proposed talks we will endeavor to present material which will be of immediate use to dairymen."

A mid-winter check-up of home heating systems, flues and connections may prevent a serious fire.

BOARD OF CONTROL WON'T WORRY ABOUT TIRES YET

The tire shortage is not going to hit State Eleemosynary Institutions for a couple of years, it was disclosed last week by Board of Control member Harry Knox.

Knox explained that for the past several years, the cast-off tires of the Department of Public Safety had been given to the Board and assigned to the Austin State School where inmates cut them into strips and made rain door mats out of them.

Because of high speeds at which Public Safety cars are driven, tires are discarded when they still have a relatively large amount of good rubber. When the ration program was imposed, the Board had approximately 400 such tires on hand, and Knox said they would be distributed among the institutions as replacements for tires on vehicles as long as they last.

POSTAL RECEIPTS INCREASE DURING LAST DECEMBER

It must have been a good Christmas, when gift mailings boosted postal receipts in 41 major Texas cities past the $2,000,000 mark.

Chamber of Commerce reports to the University of Texas Bureau of Business research showed $2,313,503 passed over post office counters in December, up 55.4 per cent over the preceding month and 16.6 per cent higher than in December, 1940.

Soldier mail may account for the gain in postal receipts during the last year—$18,444,357 for 1941 as compared to $16,775,406 for 1940.

DONLEY LAND OWNERS KNOW VALUE OF SOIL SAVING

According to county agent H. M. Breedlove, terracing is in full swing in the county at the present time. Up to the present date there has been over one thousand acres of terrace and contour lines run on farm land in Donley county by the county agent.

Breedlove states that he has arrangements ahead for the next ten days and more are coming in all the time.

Farmers of Donley county have learned that it pays to contour their land and preserve all of the moisture possible Breedlove said. "We are also recommending that farmers strip crop in connection with contouring and this helps to hold the soil from blowing in the spring. The two together, contouring and strip cropping, makes a good practice for this section of the state."

NEGRO DRAWS TWO FINES

About 9:30 Sunday morning a car was being driven across East First street near the Gulf station. Allen Martin was taking his children to Sunday school. Nearing the center of the street, his car was struck by an old model sedan driven by James Bell, colored, of near Lakeview.

No personal injuries of note resulted, but both cars were damaged.

Bell was found to have car tags inside his car but none on the outside. He was arrested by local highway patrolmen. At his trial in Judge R. C. Weatherly's court Monday morning, he was given a penalty of fine and costs totaling $23 on a speeding charge by a jury hearing the evidence.

Tuesday, the colored man was tried on the "no display tag" charge. He was convicted and given a minimum fine again, the total fine and cost amounting to $12. At last accounts he was in jail awaiting some fellow to come up from Lakeview and pay him out.

PROMOTED

The Leader has been informed that J. D. Goin has been promoted on his ship from chief cook to first fireman which is the same as corporal in the army. According to latest reports he is still going strong and getting along nicely.

Every person can become an active defense worker by constantly practicing fire prevention.

WHAT'LL THEY THINK UP NEXT?

Success in shipping "self-refrigerated" meat from the United States to England in ordinary ship space puts the finger on the adage that need is the mother of invention.

The meat, boxed and frozen to a very low temperature, goes to sea flanked bottom, sides and top with lard which also is boxed and frozen. As lard also is urgently needed in Britain it thus goes in service as soon as put aboard ship, paying its way as the preservative of the meat during the voyage then taking its place along side the meat as a food item across the sea.

Insurance To Protect Cotton Growers

COLLEGE STATION — Boll weevils and weather will be out of luck this year as far as insured cotton farmers are concerned, according to Donald L. Cothran, state cotton insurance supervisor.

All-risk insurance, being offered Texas cotton farmers for the first time, also protects the crop from other unavoidable hazards, such as drought, fire, flood, plant diseases, storms, hail and wind he said.

"Risk on seed before planting is not so great; cotton in the bale is so much water under the bridge," Cothran said in explaining that insurance takes cotton through the roughest period, when it is growing in the field.

Under the Federal Crop Insurance program, either 50 or 75 percent of the normal production may be covered by insurance. Cost of insurance will vary by farms since yields are figured from production records, and premiums are based on past crop losses on individual farms, the supervisor said.

"This simply means low-loss farms will have smaller premiums than high-loss farms," Cothran explained.

When producers take out insurance, they sign a commodity note, which is part of the contract and guarantees the premium will be paid either in cash or cash equivalent before maturity date. Premiums may also be deducted from future AAA payments, indemnity payments, if any, or from cotton loans, if available, Cothran said.

First closing date on insurance in the state is January 31, for Willacy, Starr, Hidalgo and Cameron counties. Other closing dates are March 1, March 15, and March 31.

Fire prevention is an individual responsibility.

Stamp Program Aids Farm Market

The creation of additional farm markets in the amount of $2,251.00 as a result of the food stamp program in Donley County during January was announced today by L. J. Cappleman, Dallas, Regional Director, Surplus Marketing Administration. This amount represents blue food stamps issued to needy families of the county.

Orange food stamps clients were required to purchase at the local issuing office during the month amounted to $2,936.00, bringing the total of food purchases under the program to $5,187.00.

Participating in the program last month were 230 cases representing 937 persons.

"The food stamp program of the Surplus Marketing Administration is a part of the United States Department of Agriculture's broad program to assure American farmers a ready market for their full production," Cappleman said. "The school lunch program and Direct Distribution program also create additional markets for American farm products. At the same time, all of these programs are helping to build the health defense of America by making more nutritious foods available to needy families."

Lend-Lease purchasing, also under the Surplus Marketing Administration, represents another huge outlet for farm commodities and helps to stabilize market prices, it was pointed out.

State Fire Insurance Commissioner Urges Fire Prevention

AUSTIN—Reports of fires during January to Texas Fire Insurance Department, described as revealing a serious increase in the number of fires, prompted Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner to issue an appeal for greater individual effort in fire prevention.

"Fires constitute one of our most serious threats to national defense and our nation's all-out war production," he asserted. "As an individual contribution to our own welfare, as well as the welfare of our country, it behooves each of us to assume more personal responsibility in fire prevention now."

"At a time when all material resources are so vital to our nation's industrial production, we can ill afford to allow any of it to be destroyed by fire because of carelessness. Any destruction of our resources, whether it be food, clothing, raw or manufactured materials, homes or other property, places an additional handicap on wartime effort. We must curb the economic toll exacted by fire."

Hall, who is also Fire Defense Coordinator of the National Defense Committee of Texas, added, "there is no better fire defense at home than the constant practice of fire prevention."

Citing indiscriminate storage of waste paper as creating an ex### treme fire menace to almost every home and place of business in Texas, the Commissioner recommended immediate removal of accumulated paper to places where the hazard will be lessened.

It is suggested that individuals or local groups sponsoring the collection of waste paper remove it to buildings isolated from the business section and residential areas of the city to avoid fire spreading to adjacent property should it break out in the stored paper.

"Above all," Hall cautioned, "avoid accumulation of waste paper in the house. The application of a few simple rules of fire prevention will add to our safety and safety of our property at a time when it is most needed."

Navy Needs More Enlistments

High school and college students between the ages of 17 and 20 may now enlist in the naval service and finish the current term of school unless military situation necessitates the Navy Department calling them to active duty, recruiting officers at Amarillo announced today.

Navy recruiting is expected to continue on a strictly volunteer basis and many students may volunteer immediately under this order without fear of losing scholastic credits for the current year by enlisting in Class V-1 of the Naval Reserve, Navy recruiting officials said.

Enlistment for immediate active service are also being accepted in the regular Navy and other classes of the Naval Reserve. Age limits are from 17 to 36 for unskilled men, and to 50 for skilled men. The Navy is now operating 72 trade schools in which thousands of recruits are being trained to become highly skilled mechanics.
