COW-BOYS COLUMN.

"Is anybody waiting on you?" said a polite dry goods clerk to a young lady from the country. "Yes, sir," replied the blushing damsel; "that's my fellow outside; he wouldn't come in the store."

A New York man was so enraptured with a lady at a fancy ball that he offered her one hundred dollars to unmask. She accepted the money saying "Now your wife can pay the servant girl's back wages." It was his mother-in-law.

VULGAR HABITS.—Asking questions, private and personal, is a vulgar habit, and telling your own business, which no one wants to know, is another. Asking the cost of a present that has been made to you, loud talking in public, hard staring at table, insolent disrespect to husband, wife, sister and brother, showing temper in trifles, and making scenes, in public, showing an embarrassing amount of fondness, and making love in public, covert sneers, of which people can see the animus, if they do not always understand the drift; persistent egotism, which talks forever of itself, and cannot even feign the most passing interest in another detraction of friends, and it may be, of relatives, a husband telling of his unpleasantness, a wife complaining of her husband's faults, the bold assumption of superiority, and the servile confession of infinite unworthiness—all these are signs and evidences of vulgarity—vulgarity of a far worse type than that which eats its fish with a steel knife, and says, "You was," and "Each of the men were."

He Wanted to be Kind.

His wife kept complaining about having too much work to do, and one day when he came home at noon and found dinner was not quite ready and he fussed about it, she quickly replied:

"Well, get a girl to help do the work and then I will guarantee your meals ready for you when you happen to come home on time."

"That's all right!" says he; "I'll do so. Now there's Mollie O'Rearn, she is out of employment now, and I believe we could get her."

"Indeed and you'll not get her. You are a little too well acquainted with her already, I'm thinking."

"Well, how would Jennie Friel do? She's a nice, well-behaved girl and a splendid cook."

"Splendid cook, eh? and how do you know that she's a fine cook pray? Where have you been to see her cook?"

"Never saw her cook; just heard of her cooking, that's all."

"No, sir, I'll have none of your Mollies and James about me. I do not want any girl. If I get any help I'll do the selecting, and you can bet all you are worth it won't be any girl."

"Not any girl, eh! Oh I see! You want a man servant?"

"No, I will get no man servant; but if I get any, I will get some dried-up snaggy-toothed old woman, with a breath that will knock you back like a shock of electricity should you go near her. I've got no time to waste watching you and the hired girl of your own selection. You can't get ahead of me."

"He smiled a disappointed smile and walked out of the kitchen into the sitting room feeling that he only held a second place in that house.

Training Vicious Horses.

Inland Farmer. A very simple method and an improvement upon the Rary system of training vicious horses was exhibited at West Philadelphia recently, and the manner in which some of the wildest horses were subdued was astonishing. The first trial was that of a kicking or "balking" mare, which her owner said had allowed no rider on her back for a period at least of five years. She became tame in about as many minutes, and allowed herself to be ridden about without a sign of her former wildness. The means by which the result was accomplished was a piece of light rope, which was passed around the front jaw of the mare just above the upper teeth, crossed in her mouth, thence secured back of the neck. It was claimed that no horse will kick or jump thus secured, and that a horse after receiving the treatment a few times, will abandon his vicious ways forever. A very simple method was also shown by which a kicking horse could be shod. It consisted in connecting the animal's head and tail by means of a rope fastened to the tail and then to the bit, and then drawn tightly enough to incline the animal's head to one side. This, it is claimed, makes it absolutely impossible for a horse to kick on the side of the rope. At the same exhibition a horse, which for many years had to be bound on the ground to be shod, suffered the blacksmith to operate on him without attempting to kick while secured in the manner described.

FATAL ASSAULT ON STRIKERS.—Springfield, Ill., April 13.—The situation at the rolling mill is becoming very serious. The mill has been filling with non-union men. Assaults on them are of daily occurrence. Yesterday a party of two or three were followed by strikers, and when about two miles distant from the mill they were beaten and thrown off a bridge. Two of the number have not returned, and are said to be very seriously injured, and two or three physicians left last night to attend them, but, becoming alarmed, returned without reaching the spot. Last night a party of the workmen was leaving the mill about 7.30 o'clock. They had hardly got outside the enclosure when a gang of the strikers opened fire on them, with rifles, shot-guns and pistols, and fifty shots were fired. John Waldron, a young man who recently arrived from Pittsburg, fell dead, and it was subsequently found that thirty-four buckshot had penetrated his side, breast, throat and face. Brainard Mulkern was shot in the chest and arm. His wounds are serious, but it is thought he will survive. Samuel Britton received a slight wound in the lip.

Great excitement prevails. No arrests have yet been made, as the murderers, who fired from an ambush, are unknown. The workmen are unawed and express their determination to run the mill.—[N. Y. World.]

Silver City, N. M., March 29th.—Yesterday, while Judge H. C. McComas with his wife and child was traveling in a buckboard between Pashal and Lordburg, they were attacked by a band of hostile Indians, just as they arrived in Thompson's canyon. There are more reports of depredations, and the red devils have begun their spring deviltry in earnest again. Upon the arrival of the news at Silver City a company of citizens was at once organized and left immediately to rescue the bodies. The wildest excitement prevails not being exceeded by the excitement over the massacre of Geo. Daly, in Galvaland canon near Lake Valley two years ago this coming season.—Red River Chronicle.

J. T. Tucker lately from the Pan Handle was shot and killed by constable Rase in Van Zant county. He had resisted arrest for shooting a farmer's dog.—[Semour Weekly Crescent]

Evicted Irish Families.

N. Y. World. Boston, April 15.—The British steamer Nestorian arrived here last night with 650 passengers, most of them impoverished Irish people sent over at the expense of the English Government. The greater part are families, some of which number eight or ten members, while the average is about five. The majority came from Galway County, the others from Mayo, Derry and Donegal. Most of those from Galway have been evicted and during the past winter lived as best they could, finding shelter in tents. Porridge, made of Indian meal, was their principal article of food. The agent of the Government furnished money to those who desired to go to places beyond Boston, the amount depending upon the size of the family, some receiving a few shillings, others £2, £3, £5 or £6. A great many of the men were farmers, but seem undecided as to what they shall do here. Some are going to New York, others to Pittsburg, Portland, Chicago, Canada and other places, while some remain in Boston and vicinity. Several paid their own passage, but brought little with them in the way of money or household goods. They will be sent to their various destinations by the steamship company.

The steamer Parthia, from Liverpool, which arrived this morning, also brought a large number of the same class of immigrants.

Des Moines, Ia., April 15.—Friday night's storm was very violent here, and at Adair, west of here, a hotel addition was demolished and the roof of Meyer's block was blown off. Maran & McManis's new building was demolished and twenty stables were moved from their foundations. Some damage was also done at Anita. The people fled to caves for protection. A large barn South of Anita was blown down and a house was struck by lightning and burned.

Chicago, April, 15.—Reports from various points throughout the Northwest are to the effect that heavy wind-storms were experienced yesterday and last night in many places, accompanied by a driving rain. The disturbances covered parts of the States of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska, in addition to those in Kansas and Missouri already given. Much damage was done to houses, barns and fences, but no loss of life is reported. In Chicago and through Northern Illinois a stiff, gusty gale prevailed, accompanied by heavy rain. The telegraph wires were greatly obstructed.

BROKEN UP.—How a small convention was broken up in a hurry is told by a down east exchange as follows: "Oh," said Daisy to her mamma, "I was in the parlor last night behind the sofa, when the preacher came in to see sister Katie, and they did sit up too close for anything; an' the preacher said: 'Katie, dear, I luv you,' an' Katie said: 'Oo, oo; an' then the preacher kissed her right smack in the mouth, an' said: 'Dear Katie, how good the Lord is to us poor sinners; an' Katie said: 'Oo, oo; an' then— an' then—' "Well," said her mamma, "you wicked child, you wicked child, what did you do?" "W'y, mamma, I felt so good, I blurted right out: 'Let us pray, an' you ought to have seen em' jump.'"

"I am going to quit railroading very shortly," said one engineer to another recently. "Why, Bill, I thought you were perfectly infatuated with your life?" said the other. "So I am," said Bill, "but I can't live on wind." That's funny, I thought you were getting the best wages of any man on the road." "Well the sum is pretty large, but the truth is I don't like any job where I am compelled to keep up steam all the time and then to whistle for my pay."—National Weekly.

Dr. Jones' Mistake.

[Lancet.] Old Noxon used to have a row with his wife about three times a week. He got cranky and made up his mind to shuffle off; so he filled up with laudanum, and went to bed. The old lady went to screaming, and as fast as the neighbors came in, sent them off after a doctor. Some of them went in one direction, and some in another, and it wasn't long before the doctors began to congregate. Smith got there first, and looked the old man over. "Dead," says he, and he went away. Then Brown came in. "Dead," says he. Jones was the third one in, and he rammed a stomach-pump down the old man's throat and pumped up the drug-store. Then he reversed the action of the pump, and flooded the old man with water, and after sloshing him around for awhile—same as he was rising out a cider-barrel—he pumped out the water, and then flooded him again. Noxon wasn't in the habit of taking so much water in his life, and pretty soon he began to gasp and kick. Before morning Jones had him all right, and went away feeling dead sure that there was but one first-class doctor in the world. A few days afterward he presented his bill. "What's this for?" says old Noxon. "For saving your life, the other night," says Jones. "Well, I didn't ask you to. I never employed you, and I won't pay it. You'd no business coming in here and jamming your old pump down my neck. Brown is my family physician, and I'll not pay anybody else," says Noxon. So away went Jones to Brown's office, and tried to get him to induce old Noxon to pay the bill. "Jones," says Brown, looking out over the top of his spectacles, "I never thought you was a bed sort of a fellow, but you've done a very foolish thing, and it serves you right to lose your bill. It's a good lesson to you and I hope you'll profit by it. Didn't I say he was dead?" "Yes," says Jones. "Well, that settles it. The man was dead, and you had no right to say he wasn't. When two old, experienced doctors, like Smith and I, say a man is dead, it's unprofessional and discourteous for a young man, a beginner in practice, to dispute their word. We'll forgive you this time, because of your inexperience, and will hush the matter up for you; but be very careful in the future, and make no more such mistakes."

Prohibition.

An old negro, not knowing the prohibition law in force here, called at Zack Snow's Monday morning and walking up to the bar, said: "Say, boss, I jes got ten cents, and I reckon I'd better take a little drink."

"Got a prescription?"

"A who?"

"A prescription; can't give it to you without one."

"Look a heah, boss, yer's jokin' Ise bou' to have a dram dis mo'nin Ain't yer gwine to gib it to me? Dis dime ain't got no hole in it."

"Can't sell any unless you have a prescription from a doctor. A man has got to be sick now brfore he can get any whiskey in Benton." The darkey went out, and after about an hour returned. "Look heah, boss, I done went out, and tried to get a description from dem doctors and couldn't. But I mus' have a drink. Oh, I'm sick for a fact. Ef yer don't believe me I'll make my disposition to not effect befo' a Notorious Republican.—Dese doctors can't tell when a nigger's got the bellyache by lookin' at his pulse or feelin' of his tongue. Dis yer 'hibition law's gwine ter raise h— I wid sick niggahs 'less dey 'mend it so a feller can get fo' drinks a day."

He didn't get his "licker," and is looking for a 'Notorious Republican' to help him out of his dilemma.—[Little Rock Gazette.]

Greenville.

Details of the Greenville Holocaust.

Sherman Democrat.

Greenville, Texas, April 7.—This morning our town was horrified beyond measure by the most dreadful calamity ever known in Texas. The Ende hotel, a three-story brick hotel, fell with a terrible crash, that fairly shook the earth. As the multitude of people rushed around it, they were terrified to hear the shrieks and cries of the inmates who were crushed beneath the mass of ruins, with the mad flames rolling above them and coming nearer, till all sounds were hushed in the seal of fire. The killed and burned victims are as follows: Mrs. N. E. Pruitt, proprietress, whose pleadings for relief from the prison in the ruins melted the hardest; Geo. Pruitt, a crippled son of the proprietress, was burned while begging for relief, which no mortal could give; Louis Albert, jeweler, burned alive; F. D. N. Riley, contractor, crushed to death; Frank West, a railroad freight clerk, crushed to death; R. R. Neal, cotton-buyer, manner of death unknown; Miss. Lou Davis, chambermaid, burned to death; J. E. Ford, telegraph line repairs, crushed to death; Hill, a mattress maker, manner of death unknown; and four negro servants crushed to death. All the above victims were buried beneath the ruins beyond human aid, some being killed instantly and others being cremated in the surging flames. Up to this hour 11 p. m. a few lumps of charred flesh and bones have been removed from the ruins, representing the remains of six human beings. Of some just a skull remains, of others the body with all the limbs burned off, making a sight horrible beyond description. The inmates of the house who escaped were W. D. Pruitt, son of the proprietress, badly mangled; Dr. T. R. Turner, horribly burned and terribly crushed and who may die; M. G. Mars, of Daingerfield, badly burned. The slightly injured are the following: D. C. Bell, painter; K. N. Deaton, carpenter; Tom Victors, butcher; Lewis Morris, Charles Brownel, railroad conductor; Percy Cox, of Honey Grove; W. T. McClure, a stranger from Tennessee; Fred Ende, owner of the building, and his wife and two daughters and a negro girl employe. The stories told by the survivors beggar description. Dr. Turner lay beneath the timbers till they burned in twain and released him, but not until he was badly burned and mangled. Mr. Denton was imprisoned, and would have killed himself to escape burning to death, but a second crash of falling walls released him. One man cut his throat when he found that the flames were consuming him. W. D. Pruitt raved like a mad man when he knew of his mother's horrible death, and it required several strong men to save him from plunging headlong into the flames.

A telegram was sent to Sherman for a fire engine, which came at the speed of a mile a minute, arriving here at daylight. For 6 hours it poured a stream of water into the flames, but too late to save any lives. The cause of the calamity is uncertain. It is thought an explosion of powder in a hardware store, which had caught fire in the first story, blew out the west wall, causing the entire building to come down with a crash of death. The stores of Jas. Ormstead, hardware; Geed Wilson and K. L. Lowenstein, agricultural implements, with some minor buildings, were burned. All are partially insured. Business houses all closed today and gloom hangs deep and dark over our city. The excavations still go on. The railroads acted nobly in clearing their roads for the trains bearing the fire engine. They also offer other relief. Telegraph offices

School Lands.

The price fixed upon the School Lands of Texas by the last Legislature, will stop the sale of these lands for some time to come.

Another effect will be to give to the cattle men of the State the free use of a large portion of the school lands, as they will not be sold at present prices.

Another effect will be to put up the price of lands held for sale by large capitalists and monopolists.

Lands here have been sold too low, but they are now too high.

Scotch Capital Invested in Cattle Ranches in Wyoming.

The largest sale of American cattle and rancho property on record was completed at Edinburgh, Scotland, Apr. 2. Last summer Mr James Wilson, of Edinburgh, came to this country to look at the Western cattle business, and perhaps invest for himself and friends.

A new company has been organized, known as the Swan Land and Cattle Company, with a capital of $3,000,000.

Parties who are acquainted with this property say the herd could not have been purchased this spring for less than $500,000 more than the price agreed upon with Mr. Wilson last fall.

Several of the Carrollton Range boys left for the "round-ups" this week. There will have to be some tail rustling done to get the cattle back on the range this spring.

THOUSANDS DO IT.—Men will spend mints of money for tobacco, rum and fast horses, but if their wives get feeble, need a little toning up and ask for twenty five cents to purchase a box of Swayne's Pills, which are entirely vegetable, why—they "haven't got the change."

SLEEP THE STRONGEST OF MEDICINES.—It is reported of Lord Brougham that when he returned home, after his brilliant and exhausting defense of Queen Caroline, he went at once to bed, with orders not to be disturbed, however long he might sleep—orders which his household obeyed, though with astonishment.

One of the many enjoyable events that have happened in our quiet town was, the Birth-day party of our little friend, Tommy White. At 2 o'clock on Thursday the little folks were invited to tea.

H. L. Wright rolled into town, on Friday of this week, with two loads of freight. Quite a large number of our citizens were made happy by his appearance, as they were anxiously awaiting supplies which he had on board.

Intimidation will amount to nothing, if attempted.

In the investigation of the Towksbury Alms House, it appears that the skin of a negro from that institution was tanned. A piece of the tanned skin was given by Governor Butler to one of the Counsel for a keepsake.

An instrument has been invented by Josef Teiter of Vienna for the purpose of illuminating, by electricity, any interior portion of the human body, thus adding another important step in the advance of surgical science.

REVIVING AN ANCIENT MAXIM.—"Till the earth grows old, and the leaves of the Judgment Book unfold, forever in this world will man suffer ills untold." The truth of these lines cannot be impeached, yet much human misery and physical suffering could be obviated if the people would only accept practical advice. Probably no complaints are more frequent than indigestion, headache, languor and liver and kidney complaint, especially at this season of the year, yet mankind will suffer or be doled with-out relief, when a box of Swayne's Pills would effect a thorough cure.

Mr. F. G. Copeland, the genial type, "pulled his freight" on Thursday for his homestead on the hill side. He proposes to fence up his land and put in some crops.

Dyspepsia, the insidious foe to health, disappears by using Dr. Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. At druggists.

Chicago's Golgotha.

Chicago, April 16.—Various journals here are discussing the methods employed in burying the pauper dead, and the Warden of the County Hospital is made to say that one Chaffee, the county undertaker, sells 75 per cent, of the bodies to medical colleges in this and other cities and $6,000 annually. It is also charged by those who have visited the Potter's Field, that the bodies of babes have been interred by simply throwing a few shovelfuls of earth upon them, and that the evidence of this revolting usage is disclosed by skulls and bones being found in various portions of the field with no earth covering them.—World.

It is a fact that, one of the seven Medical Colleges of Chicago got a "corner" on the "stiffs" at the County Hospital, last winter, and it took considerable diplomacy on the part of the other Colleges to break the corner.

The grass is growing rapidly and cattle are improving very fast.

Frank Hasser is in town. Frik has gone into the gardening business and can look out for moonlight fishing parties when water melons are ripe.

The Case Cattle Company purchased ten horses last week, which give them an outfit of twenty six horses in all. It is proposed that all the horses on the Carrollton Range shall be owned by the Carrollton Stock Association.

Mr. Bartlett's back from the South, rolled into town on Tuesday noon, with Rev. L. H. Carhart and John Shurtzer on board. They were dust-covered, travel-stained, sun-burned wind-chapped and hungry and yet they were not happy, until after a good hand-shaking by their numerous friends.

Mr. Carhart is expected to remain at Clarendon for two or three months.

During the past week we have experienced the heaviest winds known to the oldest inhabitant. It just got up and dusted. Some of our nervous inhabitants, accustomed to "high living," came down to ground floors, for safety; while the call for gargles and Arnica Jelly on the part of those exposed, suddenly increased. All is serene again, however, as a May morning, and house-wives are happy.

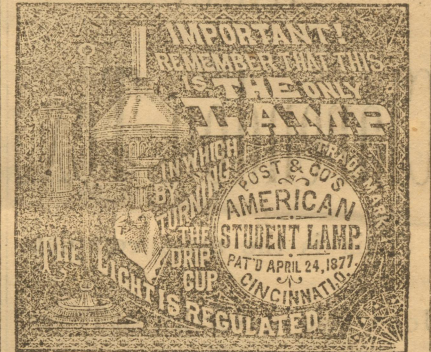

Mr. Timothy Case left for home in Green Bay, Wisconsin, with the Mobeetie stage, on Wednesday morning. He was decidedly improved in health after the much needed rest, and goes back to his duties with renewed zest.

Mr. Case made hosts of friends here, who hope to see him in the Panhandle again soon. He expressed himself as highly pleased with Clarendon the climate and the cattle business.

Mr. Y. Rowe is in town this week; also Mr. John Petre, foreman of the RO ranch.

We are frequently in receipt of letters of inquiry about the coming of the Rail Road to Clarendon. We can only say now that it is confidently expected the route will be fixed upon and the right of way through this County secured in a few weeks, when full statements will be made.

The latest departure in first-class Journalism has come under our notice is The Illustrated World, published and edited by James Alverson, of Philadelphia, and of which sample copy of its first issue is on our table. After a careful inspection of its contents the least that can be said of it must be in highest praise and commendation of its make-up. Its editorials are remarkable for clearness and soundness, its selections tasteful and illustrations perfect. As a journal of its class the World merits unbounded eulogues.

A COMMON-SENSE REMEDY. SALICYLICA.

No More Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia. IMMEDIATE RELIEF WARRANTED. PERMANENT CURE GUARANTEED. Five years established and never known to fail in a single case, acute or chronic. Refer to all prominent physicians and druggists for the standing of Salicylica. SECRET! THE ONLY DISSOLVER OF THE POISONOUS URIC ACID WHICH EXISTS IN THE BLOOD OF RHEUMATIC AND GOUTY PATIENTS. SALICYLICA is known as a common-sense remedy because it strikes directly at the cause of Rheumatism, Gout, and Neuralgia, while so many so-called specifics and supposed panaceas only treat locally the effects. It has been conceded by eminent scientists that outward applications, such as rubbing with oils of menthol, liniments, and soothing lotions will not eradicate these diseases which are the result of the poisoning of the blood with Uric Acid. SALICYLICA works with marvelous effect on this acid, and so removes the disorder. It is now extensively used by all celebrated physicians of America and Europe. Highest Medical Academy of Paris reports 95 per cent cures in three days.

REMEMBER that SALICYLICA is a certain cure for RHEUMATISM, GOUT and NEURALGIA. The most humane means are combined almost instantly. Give it a trial. Relief guaranteed or money refunded. Thousands of testimonials sent on application. $1 a BOX. 6 BOXES for $5. Sent free by mail on receipt of money. ASK YOUR DRUGGIST FOR IT. But do not be deceived into taking imitations or substitutes, or something recommended as "just as good." Insist on the genuine with the name of WASHINGTON & CO. on each box, which is guaranteed chemically pure under our signature, an indispensable requisite to insure success in the treatment. Take no other, or send to us. WASHINGTON & CO., Proprietors, 287 Broadway, cor. Reade St., NEW YORK.

Stock Notes.

The Cattle Trade.

Although great efforts have been made during the past few years to increase the supply of cattle for market, and large amounts of capital have been invested in ranches, and stock cattle in the Southwest, Northwest, and far West, extending from Texas to Oregon, from which we are already receiving liberal returns in the shape of fat beef cattle, many of which compare well with the grain fed stock of the older States, the demand has responded so closely to the increased supply, that there is often cause for complaint in regard to the scarcity of desirable stock with which to supply the demand. This scarcity of fat cattle is largely attributed to the rapid growth of the population of the country, in connection with the wonderful development of our foreign export trade in dressed beef and live cattle during the past few years. The business of canning fresh beef, which was scarcely known a decade since, is now a prominent factor in the cattle market, the takings by Chicago canners being estimated at 4,000 to 5,000 head per week. The goods thus put up find their way to all the leading countries of Europe. They also constitute the chief article of meat used in the far Western and Southwestern mining camps, where it would be impracticable to handle fresh beef, even if it could be had, and in many localities it would be impossible to obtain it. The mining camps of old Mexico are also largely supplied with canned meats from Chicago and other cities. Canned beef is rapidly superseding the salt junk which for ages has been a leading factor in vessel supplies, and the advent of the former and exit of the latter, in the sailors' bill of fare, will be hailed with delight, both by the "jolly tars" and every friend of human comfort and sanitary improvement. It will therefore be seen that the steadily increasing outlets for fresh beef promise to keep pace with the production, hence there is little cause to fear that the efforts that are now being made to increase the supply of beef will, in the near future, over-stock the market to such an extent as to cause prices to drop to figures that will not only, as some predict, render the business of raising beef cattle unprofitable, but involve those who engage in it in financial ruin.

The Round-up too Early.

As may be seen by a notice of the Stockmen of the Panhandle of Texas, the boys from down there want to commence the round-up at La Cinto on the 5th of next month. In the name of the cattle men of this Red River region the CHRONICLE protests against the advertised round-up at such early date. The grass is not high enough to be of any account; the rains are backward in their action to give the grass a good start; the animals on the range are not in a condition to be disturbed as yet and the Statutes of New Mexico forbid round-ups to take place so early.

Section 2, of Chapter LXVI of the law on round-ups, approved March 2, 1882, says: "The time to have said two annual roundings shall be in the months of June and September."

We therefore give warning that, if the Panhandle boys come up here before June we shall make application for the strong arm of justice to interfere. As long as we have a law on the subject we shall insist on its enforcement.—Red River Chronicle.

Governor Sheldon, of New Mexico, received at Santa Fe, a telegram, from the citizens of Shakespeare, stating that they were utterly defenseless in case of an attack by Indians, and asking for arms. Adjutant General Bartlett will ship fifteen carbines and a thousand rounds of ammunition by express to day.

The Governor leaves this afternoon for the south on a general business trip, and to learn the true state of affairs regarding the Indians.
