The Veterinarian.

Stock Journal.
 In the South, particularly, the "horse doctor," as he is called, is classed with the corn doctor and other similar characters. But in Europe veterinary surgery is distinctively a recognized accomplishment, and the really learned and skillful veterinary surgeon is a much sought after and much respected man.

This is as it ought to be, and we trust that ere long we will see such men accorded the place in this country to which their professional attainments entitle them.
 Considered purely from a mono-tary standpoint, the man who is able to save from death a $1,000 horse, or a $250 dollar cow, by the exercise of professional skill, is not a man to be despised. And when we view the matter from a humanitarian standpoint, we are apt to agree that he is even of a brute that has been faithful in its discharge of duty to us, is a man who is entitled to no small consideration.

In some of the Eastern medical schools we notice that veterinary surgery is a distinctive branch of study, and that no mean place is given to the professors who are in charge of this department. We are glad to see it, and we trust that in time Texas stockmen will give substantial encouragement to men learned in this particular branch of science.
 By so doing they will induce such men to offer their professional services, which they will never secure as long as they insist in classing "horse doctors" with the "corn doctors."

The Oldest Newspaper.

Youth's Companion.
 The first regular newspaper in England was published in 1622, and the first daily in 1709, the latter consisting of but one page of two columns. The first American newspaper was issued at Boston, Sept. 25, 1690. It was intended to be issued once a month, but was immediately suppressed by the authorities, for what reason we do not know. It was a queer little sheet called Public Occurrences both Foreign and Domestic, and only one copy of it is known to be in existence.

Out of these very small beginnings the great newspaper press of Great Britain and the United States has grown to a position of power unexampled in other countries. But the credit of "inventing" the newspaper belongs not to the English, or the Americans, but to the Chinese.
 Seven hundred years before the first English newspaper appeared, a newspaper was published in Peking, and it is still in existence.

It appears in three editions daily.
 The first issued early in the morning and printed on yellow paper, is called Rising-Pan (Business-Sheet), and contains trade prices, exchange quotations and all manner of commercial intelligence. Its circulation is a little over 9,000.

The second edition, which comes out in the forenoon, also printed on yellow paper, is devoted to official announcements, fashionable intelligence and general news.

The third edition appears late in the afternoon, printed on red paper, and bears the name of Titan-Pan (Country Sheet). It consists of extracts from the earlier editions, and is largely subscribed for in the provinces. All three issues of King-Pan are edited by six members of the Han-Lin Academy of Sciences, appointed and salaried by Chinese State, and the total number of copies printed daily varies between 13,000 and 14,000.

The End of Life.

David Swing.
 The most thrilling quality of life lies in the fact that it must soon end.
 You are strangely fashioned if you have never been filled with the thought that "I too must die." All hope of escaping death is taken away by the whole history of man and of the animal kingdom, for in the long record of thousands of years no one has escaped the icy messenger.
 All the millions who once peopled old Egypt and old Greece and old Syria and Arabia and even old England are gone from this existence.
 No law is more universal than that of death. It omits no bird or beast or insect or man. The most minute creature which only the microscope can detect is seen by the eye of the destroyer, and to the same Destroyer the loftiest king must bend. When an ancient tyrant condemned a certain philosopher and said "I sentence you to death," the doomed man smiled and replied, "Nature has said the same to thee." It is a strange feature of this world that we must leave it. All hope is cut off for a man, rich or poor, high or low, great or humble, he must lay down his life and give back his body to the dust. Society is perpetual but each member of it is temporary and perishable. Man is a river which goes on forever, but you and I are the creatures of a day and are crowded aside by the now inflowing crowd. Individual souls are only the leaves with which the living forest clothes itself for only one summer time.

When any of the sacred writers says, "We do all fade as a leaf," he offers us a close simile, for what are we all but the leaves which humanity puts forth to do duty and be the decoration of a single season? In the autumn the individual falls, but behold the great forest stands with its youth, its buds—for another revelation of its inner genius. What a sublime world will that be where the individual shall be as deathless as the society of which he shall be a part! All its joy and wisdom and years shall be his.

The establishment of slaughter houses in Texas and shipment by rail to Galveston in refrigerator cars, thence by steamers fitted with cold storage, would set at defiance all the opposition of the Eastern trunk lines, and while the company operating this way must have command of immense capital, the business that can be done will justify any outlay.
 With agencies at all the coast markets and foreign ports to choose from, no competition could break it down, and no other company would have the same facilities. The Seaboard and Western Transportation, owners of the latest improved system of refrigeration, have laid out this programme, have surveyed this field of operation, and any decisive movement made by them will be watched with interest by every stockman in the state.

The grangers of Kansas want the office of secretary of agriculture created. This is a very sensible idea, and no doubt some well known politician, appointed to the office, could materially improve the growth of cabbages and cause the silken corn-stocks to lift its tasseled top and nod with increased gracefulness.—Arkansaw Traveller

Mr. Browning's bill to provide for the sale of the public school lands, requires the purchaser to live on and occupy the land for two years, and a failure to do so works a forfeiture of the purchase, and the money paid.—

Aid of Machinery to Labor.

Labor is a natural burden upon humanity; yet it is the key which unlocks the storehouse of wealth, convenience, and luxury. By the use of invented and applied machinery muscular work is greatly relieved, and results cheaply and extensively obtained. In all this, however, intelligent skill is not supplanted; but rather there is a wider field created for the same, and more and more does it come into demand as the facilities for production multiply.
 Man, of course, may exist as our forefathers did, living in a rude and limited way on the necessities of life, and even these secured only made, and varied and enlarged benefits flow therefrom, he rises in the scale of being, and the sphere of life is extended. The easy supply of want in any direction only begets efforts in others; and as matters thus progress, instead of the demand for useful industry being diminished, there is more and more inducement to laborers to employ themselves with the exercise of every faculty.

It is a mistaken view, therefore, to imagine that there is the least tendency in the use of machinery to supersede the necessity of workmen, and take from them all opportunity to labor. Their skillful hands, discerning eyes, and intelligent brains are surely destined to find an ever-widening field. Of course, the worker must not remain stationary, content to live and die an antiquated fossil, while all the world about him is changing and progressing. What he once did painfully and slowly with the hands alone he must now more abundantly accomplish through the agency of labor-saving machines and tools. Society has need of more production, and will only be satisfied with even more and more. With its prosperity and progress the laborer shares—and to-day he has more of the comforts and luxuries of life than were enjoyed by kings a hundred years ago. The prejudice against improvement, and the jealousy against capital and associations in their efforts to manage and direct production into more efficient and beneficial channels should disappear.
 As changes occur, old ruts should be promptly abandoned. By adapting himself to circumstances as they are thrust upon him, there is not a man who cannot succeed and find a market for his labor far beyond his ability to supply.—Dubuque Trade Journal.

When the governor looks "away down the corridors of time" and views a scene of devastation and woe, in this "territory teeming with millions," he cautions, as we think, unnecessary solicitude for posterity.
 When there are no more "cheap homes" there must not necessarily ensue "poverty and squalled want gathering thick around the inhabitants," but there must in the day and time to which he refers be more independence and greater plenty.
 It will be the time when a man and woman and a half dozen flaxen headed children, candaverous and of the hue of a pumpkin, will not labor to get a bare subsistence out of a cheap thousand acres of soil, with the "mast" thrown in, but when a burly fellow and his wife and children, with dimples on their chins and roses in their cheeks, will have a competence, and to spare, from forty acres, worth more, in all respects, than the thousand, Texas will not then be country and air, but it will be a "territory teeming with millions" of the most independent, contented, healthy and happy people on the face of the globe.—Statesman.

The Steam Engine and the Telegraph.

Scientific American.
 Mr. Courtney, in presiding at the annual meeting of the Royal Cornwall Geological Society at Penzance recently, referred to the introduction of the electric telegraph and the invention of the steam engine, by which electricity and steam had been made our slaves in almost all the operations of life. No doubt, these were most remarkable applications, and we in the present day were greatly indebted to them, but at the same time he was bound to say that in his opinion we might overrate the debt. The conveyance of news by the telegraph was insignificant if the news itself were not of importance. As to the diminution of toil which steam effected in supplying our wants, it depended very much on the use we made of it, and how far that did or did not confer a benefit on mankind. Was it a fact that owing to the introduction of steam the labor which was necessary for the subsistence of the multitude had been in any sense diminished, and the ragged edge of pauperism which surrounded the borders of society had in any sense disappeared? We might derive either of two advantages from the introduction of steam—we might either make life less toilsome while maintaining the mass of it as it was, or keep up the toil of life while increasing the mass, and he was afraid the result of the discovery of steam power had been an increase in the number of human beings rather than an improvement in the quality of life. He was, indeed, more disposed to reverence science for its educational than for what he might call its economic advantages, for the way in which it elevated the mind of man rather than for its ability to enable more men to live on the same low level on which men lived before, and it was because he believed in geology, and its kindred science, astronomy, as most powerful helps to the elevation of the mind of man that he was willing to pay his humble respects to those who prosecuted those particular sciences and conveyed to others their blessings.

Importance of Small Industries.

Speaking in Congress the other day of the need of encouraging certain relatively small industries, Senator Miller referred to the city of New York, the greatest manufacturing city in America—he might have said in the world—and "yet she has not a cotton mill, a blast furnace, or a rolling mill within her borders. Her manufactories are small," he said, "but they employ more than a quarter of a million people." It is worthy of notice in this connection that while recent patents have much to do with the means and methods of the great staple industries, such as steel and iron production, iron milling, cotton and woolen manufacture, and the like, the smaller yet in the aggregate immensely important industries are almost wholly based upon and due to the development of recently patented inventions.

Mrs. Wood, of Hartford, has performed the remarkable feat of writing the whole chapter of Genesis within a space the size of a quarter of a silver dollar. It has been calculated that in the same space of time that it took her to write the first chapter of Genesis she could have made seventeen pies, darned thirteen pair of socks, and washed the dishes eleven times, but then making pies and washing dishes are not remarkable feats, and would not have given her fame, although indulgence in those pursuits would probably have given more satisfaction to her family.—*Staf-

The End of the Carnival Season. The Liederkranz Fancy Dress Ball. Lenten Music—Making the Road to Heaven Easy—Hard Times For The Artists—Practical Sympathy Among the School Teachers—Women Sense Among Farmers.

New York, February 6th, 1883. To-morrow the Lenten season begins, and for that matter everybody I suppose is pleased that a period of rest for the weary pleasure seeker and ball goer has set in.

Still harping on the tariff is what may be said of both the House and the Senate. They are near the end of the session, but it cannot be said they are any nearer the solution of this vexed question than they were one week ago.

Government clerks are still much agitated over Representative Cannon's bill to make them do a fair days work of eight hours. Notwithstanding the too large number of clerks employed, government work is so much behindhand that a number of the chiefs of the different offices have asked Congress to increase the force of clerks.

Up to three or four years ago the theatres used to be very subdued during Lent. True, they all kept open, but the plays were familiar "old timers" and the attendance used to be very poor. Now, perhaps more care is taken to provide dramatic pabulum during the Lenten season than for any other term, and as a result, the theatres do a better business these forty days than perhaps during the preceding four months.

I recently called on an artist who during the past year or two has earned quite a reputation as a portrait painter. His price was $200 a picture, and he had all the work he could do. His studio when I called was filled with canvases of all sizes, "but" said he, "there are no buyers. Times are very hard for us poor knights of the brush. Very rich people go abroad and buy Bougeraus, Markarts, Meissoniers, and such like works, and pay all the way from two to twenty thousand dollars for them.

The Public School question which has been agitating the city for months has at last assumed a shape which is anything but pleasing to a large number of the teachers employed. The Commissioners of Education have decided to cut off the special teachers; the instructors in French, German, Music, Drawing etc., and to reduce the salaries of the regular teachers. Then occurred a remarkable thing. The regular teachers had a meeting and decided to petition the Board to retain the special teachers, and to further reduce their own salaries so as to make up the requisite fund. Sympathy is generally extended to sufferers, but practical sympathy like this is indeed rare in these days.

Washington Letter.

From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, February 12, 1883. In spite of the inclemency of the weather, it being according to the oldest inhabitant, the worst winter known at the Capital, Congress is in remarkably good health. This seems all the more remarkable when it is known that both houses have been holding night sessions which are not unusually protracted until eleven o'clock. But, herein lies the secret of the robust health of Congress. While winter rages without in east wind, snow and sleet, the vast capitol of the United States has the climate of Florida, and Members and Senators, cut off from their accustomed saturnalia of late suppers and drinking bouts are enjoying the good health which hours, abstemiousness, and temperance bring.

Chicago has only four thousand saloons. Out of the total number of convicts in her penitentiaries sixty per cent are drunkards. From 75 to 90 per cent of the crime, casualty, pauperism and insanity of the city are traced to this excess of drink, and it costs her only thirty million of dollars annually to purchase the same.

The United States man-of-war Alaska off Panama, recently came near being struck by a large meteor, which fell in uncomfortably close quarters to the vessel and was large enough to have sunk it had it struck it. The President as a watchman.—President Arthur performed duty as a watchman at the Treasury Department in Washington for a short time on Tuesday afternoon. He called at the west door about 2 o'clock. The watchman did not recognize him and was about to inform him that the department was closed to visitors when the President remarked that he would like to have the messenger see if Secretary Folger was in his office. Still in ignorance of the identity of his visitor, but believing him to be some high official, the messenger volunteered to go to the Secretary's office if the stranger would stand watch for him at the door and see that no one got in while he was gone up stairs. The President complied and took the watchman's station. He did not keep it long, as the watchman soon returned with the information that the Secretary had gone to Colonel Irish's funeral.—Inter Ocean

Another item of manufacture comes in for a share of the praise belonging to the new things being made in town. Our able townsman and tinsman has "struck it rich" in the manufacture of tin rattle-boxes. One feature of these tin rattles in which it is an improvement over all others is that it answers the purpose equally well for all classes of individuals, men women and children, bachelors and maids and widows.—Send in your orders.

Another supposed clew to the Phoenix Park murderers has been discovered.

A German Correspondent of the World to-day emphasizes the results of protection very strongly and very justly by referring to the painful change which has come over the appearance of the people in the streets of New York since Jenny Lind, landing here thirty years ago, was astonished by the well-clad and well-fed-looking crowds which greeted her. Thirty years ago the working-men of New York were not only better clad and better fed but better housed than the workmen of London. What honest observer will say this of them to-day.—World.

FOUND!!! Two hair-pins. One, a meek, mild, stay-at-home sort of hair-pin, with long legs and a decided bald head. Looks as if it might have been trouble.

The other an aesthetic, Oscar Wild sort of pin, just simply too utterly too, for anything in this cold cruel world. Supposed to have been left by the surprise party at the Court House last week. Owners can have them by calling, no agents need apply.

Clarendon has enjoyed in the past week a season of entertainment that, probably, has not been surpassed since the foundation of the Colony.

The first on the list was the surprise on Messrs. Gentry and Stauton at the store Monday night. The battery was successfully stormed and the victory in the way of a surprise was complete. The way in which the much surprised gentlemen came out and entertained their guests deserves commendation.

On Tuesday Mr. Hartman gave a party for his numerous friends in the village at the new store building. He entertained his guests in the most gentlemanly manner the programme consisted of games and amusements of all kinds and refreshments. Everybody in attendance enjoyed themselves to their fullest extent.

Thursday a "quilting party" was instituted among the ladies, in the vacant house formerly occupied by the News office, and apparently, the ladies and gentlemen, who were so fortunate as to get there, enjoyed mightily. In the evening the quilting party and invited guests assembled at the house of Mr. Trumble and partook of an elegant and tastefully arranged repast, the company in meantime were entertained with musical selections by Mr. McCurry.

In the evening the young people secured possession of the store building and tripped the light fantastic for a few hours.

Among the numerous recent arrivals it is pleasing to notice Mr. F. G. Copeland, recently of Tascosa, who is now off duty and looking up a location for business in this direction. He is one of the old townspeople and is enjoying his visit. The News acknowledges an appreciative call as a member of the typo fraternity, from him. We understand he was the original type sticker on the Panhandle force in its palmerer days.

We are pleased to note the arrival of Mr. Wm. Koogle this week. He has just returned from Fredricksburg Md. at which place he has been visiting relatives and numerous friends. He is accompanied by Mr. Pettingall also of Fredricksburg and Mr. Mc Curry, from Tennessee. Both these gentlemen are in the Panhandle for the purpose of seeing the country and engaging in some business. All hands pulled out this morning for the cedar breaks.

LABOR AND MONEY.—Have been for many years spent in trying to compound a medicine that would cure the sickness of this country. Swayne's Pills are the result. The necessity of the generation is now furnished, and clerks, ministers, lawyers, merchants and mechanics have an unfailing assistant. They make the mind clear, quicken perception, invigorate the body fit you for business. They awake the torpid liver to healthy action, and expel by the bowels and kidneys the matter that poisons the foundation of life. They are carefully and accurately made and compounded with one aim—to cure.

The North American Review for March opens with an article on "Money in Elections," by Henry George who brings to the discussion of that hackney subject a contribution full of originality, freshness and keen insight; he points out with admirable clearness one source of our political ills, and proposes a remedy that seems both eminently practicable and efficient. Robert S. Taylor writes of the "Subjugation of the Mississippi." Monroe D. Conway contributes a very striking study of Gladstone as a man and a statesman. Hon. George W. Julian's "Railway Influence in the Land Office" is a grave, judicial exposure of the practices which, against the manifest intent of the law and the determinations of the highest courts, have won for corporations millions upon millions of acres of the public domain. Richard A. Proctor writes of the "Pyramid of Cheops"; Prof. Wm. G. Sumner of "Protective Taxes and wages"; Elizer Wright of "Some Aspects of Life Insurance"; and finally there is a symposium on "Educational Needs," by Prof. G. Stanley Hall, Prof. Felix Adler, President Thomas Hunter, and Dr. Mary Putnam Jacobi. Published at 30 Lafayette Place, New York, and for sale by booksellers generally.

DIPHTHERIA. JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT. MAKE HENS LAY. The American jury system is again awakening discussion in the magazines. The system is full of faults and should be greatly amended or entirely abolished. The jury system has a way of bringing unlettered men to the surface. If there be a man in the community who is unable to read the jury hunter will find him. If ignorance is bliss, the jurymen is happy. All he wants is to sit on a bench, listen to the public addresses of men who would not recognize him on the street, and be marched around town and fed. The professional jurymen is the man to exterminate. His life is devoted to the acquisition of county scrip. When competent men are shunning the jury hunter, he is throwing himself in the way. He pretends to be a farmer but he isn't anything.—Arkansaw Traveler.

Texas Cattle.

Emporia News.

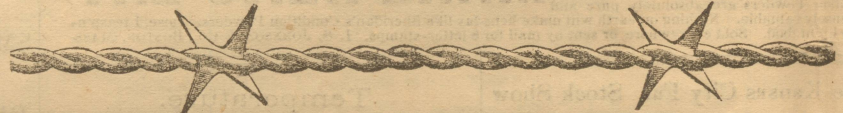

The advance in the price of Texas cattle has been noticed by all dealers. In the five years past the increase has been one hundred and forty per cent. The advance cannot be attributed, as the casual observer might imagine, to speculation or to bulging the markets by moneyed operators but to far more satisfactory causes. Increased market facilities, occasioned by the building of new railroad lines and the development of the country, have added forty per cent to the value of cattle since 1878. The improvement in handling cattle has added ten per cent, and still another fifteen per cent has been added to the quality of the stock by the improvement of native ranges. Native grasses are not only better, but water facilities are improved. In the old free ranges, good grass and good water were frequently far apart, but now by a system of tanks, the cattle may eat drink and lie down to rest all in the same neighborhood. The infusion of good blood by the use of thoroughbred males, has increased the value of cattle forty per cent over the old type of Texas longhorns. There has also been a demand for twenty-five per cent more cattle caused by the increased population and the increase of beef consumption of the country has been five per cent per capita.

Captain Payne and party have been arrested and taken to Fort Reno. The party was on their way to Oklahoma with an outfit of 100 wagons. It is to be hoped this adventurer will be punished severely and deterred from further molesting the peace of the Indians in the "Nation." The Oklahomites have no more right in the territory than in Mexico or Canada. It is only because the occupants of the country are less capable of taking care of themselves than the Mexicans and Canadians that these sinister raids are made into their country. The Indians have paid well, yea dearly, for every foot of land that they hold and they should be protected in their property by the general government. If they choose to hold their lands in common instead of separate farms, it is no one's business but their own. They have as much right to keep their whole land in grass and intruders off as farmers in the states have to keep a portion of their lands in pasturage. We regret that there is no way in reaching the speculators that are behind Payne and furnishing the "sinews of war," as we feel that they are as much more guilty than the Justice dictates that the lands in the "Nation" should be allotted among the Indians and they secure in their titles and the property made non-transferable for a term of years, but as long as this is not done the country should be protected from intruders as a whole.—*Kan.
