New Business Houses

Preparations were begun first of the week for the addition of two substantial brick business houses to Clarendon's "retail district."

E. C. Britain has sold an interest in the two lots just south of T. M. Little's store to S. C. Davis, and we understand they will begin immediately the erection of two modern brick structures. This will add much to this section of Kearney street, filling up one of the few remaining gaps along the thoroughfare.

Contractor Cooper, who is building the new public school, has the work in charge.

Mr. Britain is having the frame building that occupied one of these lots removed to his home place, where it will be used as a feed house.

Clarendon is not on a boom, and hasn't been for a number of years, but her business growth is steady and substantial.

Here Tuesday's.

Dr. Wolcott Specialist of Amarillo will be in his Clarendon office every Tuesday. Practice limited to Eye, Ear, Nose, Throat and Dental Glasses.

Prof. Wesley Peacock, of Peacock's Literary Institute, San Antonio, and Denny of Chicago and Donahoe of Greeley, Colo., were in Clarendon Wednesday, and were at the News office. The gentlemen are en route to San Antonio to Denver, in an automobile, picking out the route between the two cities.

McGee was here from Amarillo Saturday and Sunday.

Pioneer Lady Dies

The News was grieved to learn of the death last Monday of Mrs. R. Y. Mangum of Alanreed, wife of Postmaster Mangum, and one of the genuinely good old ladies of the Panhandle. She and her husband were among the pioneer settlers of the Alanreed country, and were both much loved by a large circle of friends on account of their untiring energy, rugged honesty and sterling worth. We extend our sympathy to the surviving husband and other members of the family.

Mrs. W. A. Porter and daughter, Vera, were here from Tulia to attend the college commencement exercises. They are the mother and sister of Ralph Porter of the class of '13, and one of the most popular young men who ever attended Clarendon College.

E. J. Stanford attended the singing convention at Bray last Sunday, and we are told that he rendered valuable assistance with that splendid bass voice of his.

Notice

The ordinance relative to the obstruction of streets and alleys, whether by buildings, fences or other obstructions, which was passed in April, went into effect May 15th, and every day that the street is obstructed stands as a separate offense, yet no charges have been filed against any one for the reason that many have taken down and removed their obstructions, others have asked for more time, while others have asked for a survey to be made in order that they would know just where their property line is. Hence we have been disposed to go along as easily as possible in order to get the work done and all obstructions removed and streets made uniform.

However, there are a number of people in town who, either by neglect or purposely, have not taken down their fences, have not asked for more time, neither have they asked that their property line be located. So we will suppose that it is not your purpose to comply with the ordinance as passed, in which event we shall take such steps as we deem proper to have same complied with.

We will be in session next Monday night, and if you have any reason why you should not, as others are doing, comply with the requirements of the ordinance, kindly come before us and state your objections.

Honoring Miss Thompson

A very pleasant time was had with Mrs. John Beverly Monday evening, when she asked a number of young ladies to her home for a farewell meeting with Miss Thompson, who left Tuesday for her home at Wellington.

After all had arrived, Mrs. Beverly passed a slip of paper to each one, on which was to be written a verse rhyming with "heart." In this contest much merriment was had, as some of the girls proved to be real poets. Miss Ruby Lee Sparks had the most original verse, and was given a beautiful kerchief.

Excellent music was rendered throughout the evening by Misses Greenwade, Sparks, Stanton and Gatlin. Miss May Belle Tisdale also delighted all present with a beautiful vocal solo.

Unusual enthusiasm was in evidence when Mrs. Beverly invited the guests into the dining room, where a delicious ice course was served.

At a late hour the guests bade their hostess and the honoree goodnight, each one declaring it to have been a most joyous occasion.

Those present were: Misses Thompson, Alma Ayers, Zarado Sparks, Ruby Lee Sparks, Ina Martin, Grace Greenwade, Tisdale, Stanton, Little, Gatlin, McAdams, McCulloch, McLean, Ola Martin.

Visit Clarendon and Vicinity

A writer in last week's Herald tells the readers of families to Clarendon and Troublesome canyon the Sunday preceding.

The party included Joe Merrick and family, M. S. Smith and family, D. H. Davenport and family and Miss Lillie Hazier.

The first stop in Clarendon was at the home of J. W. Morrison, and after enjoying a short stay here, they were shown over the city by the Morrisons, finally alighting at Geo. Bugbee's where Misses Lou Cope and Grace Bugbee became members of the excursion.

After annexing Mr. and Mrs. John Sims, the party left for Troublesome canyon, and enjoyed a day of picnicking and feasting that will long be remembered by all of them.

Returning to town they were served with another feast at the Sims home, leaving late in the evening for their homes.

In commenting upon the trip, the writer of the articles made the statement that Clarendon was the prettiest stop on the Fort Worth & Denver this side of Fort Worth, in which statement we heartily concur.

The Teacher

The following paper was read by Prof. Silvey, superintendent of Clarendon Public Schools at the Methodist church, on the occasion of the high school graduating exercises:

Some one has said there are four men who administer to the wants of every person: The minister who cares for the spiritual man, the lawyer who protects his rights, the physician who administers to his physical needs, and the teacher who develops his intellectual powers. It is not of the first three that we wish to speak on this occasion, but the work of the last mentioned, the teacher.

While the teacher as a professional man is not classed with the first three mentioned, there can be but little doubt that his work is equally important in shaping the destiny of an individual. It is impossible to estimate the worth of a skilled conscientious teacher in the up-building of character; it is equally difficult to measure the damage that may be done by one who is not professionally competent to direct the perfect or symmetrical development of the intellectual man.

We have mentioned these matters to you in order that we may be able to present to you some of the difficulties as well as some of the pleasures that every teacher meets.

We will first mention some of the difficulties that confront the teacher. In the first place, he toils from day to day without being able to measure the results of his work as other professional people are. No period or date can be counted upon to develop or bring out a certain mental or moral trait of character. He may never be able to see completely the fruits of his labors in the intellectual and moral field. It is this intangible quality of the work of the teacher that makes his task so difficult.

Again, his aims in his work are not always well understood by pupils, and often not understood by parents. Hence it is impossible to so direct school forces at all times that definite aims and results can be reached without much difficulty and many obstructing influences. His plans and purposes for individual pupils, as well as classes, are often frustrated. He sees the high ideals he has dreamed of brought low, by an unappreciative public. So unless he is by nature both a philosopher and an optimist, his pride is humbled and his work seems all in vain.

Again the public generally, instead of passing judgment upon a teacher by the efficiency of his work, too often judge him by the law standards of personal preferences. When a parent has a child dangerously ill, not personalities, but skill in treating the disease, is the prompting motive in securing the services of a physician. Again, ability and skill in the practice of the profession of law prompts the client to secure the services of the most distinguished jurist that can be obtained. The same kind of care should actuate parents in securing the services of the very best teacher they can possibly secure for their child. As long as the profession of teaching is placed upon this low plane, the teacher with vision and ability sees much to mar his work.

These, my friends, are a few of the difficulties that confront the teacher; his work often seems barren of results, his ideals not appreciated, and his professionalism ignored.

But the true teacher is not so blinded by these clouds of trouble that he does not realize the joys that come from the consciousness of services well rendered. The possibilities of young manhood and womanhood offer a great deal of opportunity for study and development. The real teacher looks beyond the mere exterior of childhood to the glory of well rounded manhood and womanhood; and what could offer a more inviting field for study and investigation? The teacher is sometimes permitted to get a glimpse of the fruits of his labor, as we are on this occasion.

Graduating classes like this really mean more than the average adult imagines. It means that these pupils, as one has said, have accomplished in learning much more than the average person. It means that as a class they have gotten a slight view of the vast field of learning, and as teachers we have striven to make this view so enticing to them as to lure them on in the great highway of learning and culture.

Turning to the efforts of Clarendon public school, we can truly say the year has been a pleasant and profitable one. The trustees have, in every manner possible to them, provided for the needs of the school. There have been no quarrels nor bickerings among the members of the faculty. The teachers the superintendent and each other. The spirit of intelligent endeavor to accomplish much for the pupils has been the dominant factor in the conduct of our teachers.

The school has grown in size and improved in the quality of work. Its recognition as an affiliated school with the University of Texas, the greatest school of learning in the South, should be sufficient rebuke to adverse criticism along this line. The school has felt the pulsating influence of the onward march of progress along all lines.

And a still brighter day seems to be dawning. The splendid new high school building, now in process of erection in our little city, gives evidence of this fact: The citizens of Clarendon have in the past stood by this school of all the people. They will continue to do so in the future. They will not allow the unscrupulous politician nor the carping critic to assail this work so nobly begun. Its possibilities seem wonderful and boundless. We can not forfeit the glorious outcome. As Father Bryan has said:

For out on the sea there are billows
That never will break on the beach
And I have heard songs in the silence
That never will break into speech
And I have dreamed dreams in the valley
Too lofty for language to reach.

College Commencement Exercises

The Commencement exercises of Clarendon College begun last Thursday afternoon and closed Monday morning, May 26.

The first exercise was the annual Art Exhibit which, not unusual, was given the entire afternoon. The history of this department has been one of progress since Miss Ross has been in charge, and this progress is certainly noticeable from one year's exhibit to another. Miss Nell Williams, the only graduate in art, deserves much credit for her splendid work.

Thursday evening one of the largest crowds of commencement gathered to the "Graduating Exercises" of the Primary department. An excellent program was rendered, in which a great number of very small folks performed in a manner which some grown up folks might well envy. Readings, solos, choruses, etc., with a snappy little play were produced. This is certainly one of the vital departments of Clarendon College.

Friday morning Society spoke was in the atmosphere as the time for the Annual Oratory Contest drew nigh. Under the direction of Miss M. L. B. Cave this department is fast becoming one of the most popular schools of the College. Miss Cave arouses interest among the pupils. Everyone wished to enter the contest. Where the entered last year, nine appeared this year. Speeches that would grace the halls of Congress were heard, and when the decision was rendered, three young men stood close for first. Owen T. Smith was given the medal. His subject was "Universal Peace." Educators realize the importance of this branch of work, with the present instruction Clarendon College may well be of first rank in this line.

mentation, Oratory, and all kinds of Platform work than under Miss Cave. People of the neighborhood are watching this Department with pride. All will remember that one of the students of this School won medals over three standard Colleges in a recent State Contest.

On Friday afternoon a large crowd gathered to hear the Alumni Address which was delivered by W. E. Garrison, an "Old timer" of Clarendon College. This was a splendid address, and reflects honor upon Clarendon College for having turned out such a princely man. Following this the Association held their annual reception in the Society Halls of the College building. Mr. R. H. Beville was elected President for the ensuing term.

Friday night came the Grand Concert, which also drew a large and appreciative audience. While the program was a little long, the many splendid productions on it drove away all thoughts of weariness, and brought applause and honor to the Music Department. Violin Music has become one of the salient features of the department, under the instruction of Miss Marquis. At the grand concert, her leading pupil, Mr. A. L. Larsen, received two medals for his excellent work.

Saturday morning, Dr. Bradfield, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Austin, delivered the Literary address. This was a treat indeed, and those who missed it may well regret that such occurred, for we seldom hear its equal.

The double Declaration Contest on Saturday afternoon again brought applause to the Oratory department. Excellent training and weeks of hard work could be seen in every speaker. Indeed one of the smartest men of the entire state, who acted as judge, gave voice to the high grade of work being turned out by the school of Expression.

Saturday evening the auditorium echoed and echoed again against the wind-splitting yells of the Add and Pans. The fierce 1912 test was on, and was hotter than ever before, owing to the score of the debates. Of the sixteen previous debates, each society had been victorious in the light, therefore the winner of this debate would launch out ahead. The Copyright question was discussed from Adam and Eve to Woodrow Wilson by H. L. Sone and George Montgomery for the Add and J. Ralph Porter and C. Q. Smith for the Pans. The issue became a technical one during the Negative's reply, but H. L. Sone very successfully and tactfully evaded the dilemma set by the negative, winning the decision three to two, and placing the Adkissonian Literary Society one debate ahead. Society yells broke the silent air until two o'clock, but no violence, save to a few throats, was committed.

Sunday at eleven o'clock Dr. Bradfield preached the Commencement sermon to one of the largest audiences ever gathered at the Methodist Church. Sunday afternoon, Rev. O. P. Kiker, former pastor and builder of the Clarendon Church, conducted a Grand Rally for the young people of the town. The sermon to undergraduates was preached Sunday evening by Dr. Bradfield.

Monday morning came the delivery of the Diplomas to the Senior Class and their graduating exercises. All parts on this program were certainly Senior work. Dr. Bradfield's address was one of the best ever heard in Clarendon. After all announcements were made, the crowd stood and sang "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name," and were then dismissed by Dr. Bradfield. Thus ends one of Clarendon's greatest commencements.

OLIVER

The No. 1 Cultivator may be fitted with many different styles of gangs. No question about exactly suiting you.

EASIEST of all cultivators to guide, raise and lower—that's saying a good deal, but it's true.

The Olivers now make a Riding Cultivator. When you see it you will say they should have done it before.

It was used two years in all the big corn states before they said much about it.

Now they say—and it's a fact—that this new OLIVER implement absolutely guides, raises and lowers easier than any other cultivator on earth.

That it does better, easier, slicker work in all soils and conditions—

That it comes nearer making a day's cultivating seem like a picnic than any other cultivator.

Come and see it, and also take a look at Oliver Plows of various kinds—extra good this year.

The Cultivator With a Reputation

Take on of these cultivators to your field and try it out, and if you don't say it is the best one you ever tried, bring it back and you won't be out one cent.

A Miraculous Escape.

Judge J. H. O'Neill, Gene Noland, H. D. Ramsey, E. W. Bromley, M. E. Bell and Leonard O'Neill went to Dallas last Thursday to receive some cars which the two first-named gentlemen had sold to Messrs. Ramsey, Bell and Bromley. Mr. Bromley bought a six cylinder Jackson, the other two buying Olympics.

On the return trip an incident occurred that put some "ginger" in the trip, and called for more strenuousness, by a considerable amount, than the party had figured on.

Judge O'Neill and Mr. Ramsey were in the lead, followed by Mr. Bell next, with Gene and Mr. Bromley bringing up the rear in the big Jackson. E. W. was at the wheel, having driven about a quarter of a mile and just learning his car when, while noting the working of the foot accelerator and not watching the road, the car encountered a bridge at a very improper angle and before their minds could realize just what was taking place the car and its occupants were precipitated about seven or eight feet to the bottom of a ditch and found themselves imbedded in a mass of water, mud and rocks. The accident happened about eight miles below Electra, at 2:30 o'clock last Saturday afternoon.

The entire party, with the addition of two other men, worked like beavers for twelve of the longest hours any of them have had dealings with up to date, before the car could be rescued. The bridge had to be torn away, the creek banks dug down and a road built for travel, settle the car back on its wheels, and use a house-moving block and tackle to pull it to the bank. At 2:30 a. m. Sunday the journey was resumed, they pulled out for Electra and got to bed at 3 o'clock.

But the miraculous part was this: When the car was finally hauled to the bank, inventory was taken to ascertain the amount of damages sustained. Not only did the occupants escape without a "blemish," but the only relic of the mix-up that was visible on the car was a bent axle on the wheel that the whole weight of the machine had fallen on. The axle was straightened. Gene Noland put his foot on the self-starter, and the machine moved off as if nothing whatever had happened. A close examination of the car by the News man and others, after its arrival at Clarendon, failed to reveal even a pin scratch on the car, not the tiniest bit of paint being missing. It runs beautifully and without a particle of noise.

Incidentally, we find that this is the first Jackson Six, '14 model, to be shipped by the factory to Texas, and half a dozen men were waiting for it on its arrival from the factory to the distributing house in Fort Worth. That O'Neill & Noland were successful in securing it for their customer proves conclusively that they are not only willing but capable of supplying patrons with the speediest and most efficient service.

Anyone interested may see Jackson Six, as well as many makes and models at the place where either of the proprietors will take pleasure in demonstrating them and giving any desired information.

We will sell you a buggy that you will get your money's worth out of before it wears out. Besides, you have the satisfaction of having the easiest running and best looking rig in the county.

Trip to Brice

Tuesday morning this editor, Prof. Silvey, and S. B. Kimberlin accompanied Col. Kimberlin to the Brice community.

We were delighted with the beauty of this section; everywhere we looked there were large stretches of farms, beautiful farm houses and the mark of progress and substantiality was seen from every point of the compass. But if one will only stop to consider, there is a reason, as the land in this community is as rich as any in the state. The farmers, most of them, have good stands of corn and cotton, some of the cotton being nearly ready to bloom, while some is just up.

The first stop was at Col. Kimberlin's big farm, just this side of Brice, where he has about 500 or 600 acres in cultivation, the most of which is planted in cotton and all looking fine. At his eight tenant houses he has looked after the comfort and convenience of his renters; each place has a small pasture, with water in each for stock and a good cistern at each house for the family use.

From here we went to his other farm just beyond Brice, where he has 200 acres in cultivation, and the same conditions were found here as at the first place.

The Colonel is proud of his holdings in this community and well he may be, as it is fine as anything in Texas, the black land belt not excepted. There are other farms, however, just as good as this in the Brice community, and it would take up too much space to write them all up individually, but no community in the Panhandle has a better and more producing soil.

We stopped at the store and had a little talk with N. L. Murff, the mayor of that thriving community; found him in a good humor, feeling fine, and he tells us that he is doing a good business. One surprising thing we noticed and one which you do not see in every small community, while at the store there were five automobiles driven up, owned by the farmers of the community, who came for their mail. They have one of the best schools in this part of Texas, plenty of money, and look well after the employment of capable and experienced teachers.

The News has a big mailing list, larger than that of any two other papers published at this place. Space will not permit us saying all we wish to about this prosperous, intelligent and happy community.

Recital.

Miss Lila McClelland will give a recital at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McClelland on June 12th, at 8:15 p. m., for benefit of Guild, to which you are cordially invited. Admission 50c. The vocal selections have been rendered by such opera singers as Madam Schuman, Heine, Maggie Leyle and Sembrich, while among the pianists are Ganz Bunsoni, Paderewski and others.

Four Weeks is a Newspaper Month.

After June 1st, the Hale County Herald will appear as a semi-weekly, published on Tuesday and Friday. Here's hoping the Herald's success will keep pace with the efforts of its owners

The Randall county grand jury, recently adjourned, was able to return only one indictment, and that for a misdemeanor. At that rate it will only be a short time until nobody but the ultra-rich can afford to act as peace officers in that county.

Canadian citizens are preparing to put on a big show at the Fourth of July celebration in that city, and their reputation for doing things leads us to believe that the affair will be well worth seeing. Next to the Clarendon celebration on the above date, we expect this Canadian stunt to excel most anything in the Panhandle.

Hansford county is building a new jail. The Headlight says the home citizens have no need for a jail, and the fact that there has not been an arrest made in the county for two or three years seems to bear witness to Editor Buchanan's statement, but they just want to prepare themselves for any "furriner" who may

A few private citizens of Childress recently took it upon themselves to pave a portion of the city's streets adjacent to their residences, with such good results and such small cost that the matter will be taken up on a large scale by the authorities. Just a little energy and progressiveness often result in big accomplishments.

It is our belief that Mayor Connally will have to issue a second clean-up proclamation in order to finish putting Clarendon in apple-pie order. These clean up days would be a failure as a steady diet, because people would get out of the habit of trying to keep clean at other times. But of course, since things have been allowed to get into a bad state, strenuous and concerted action must be taken to rid ourselves of the obnoxious matter. Then, when cleanliness is restored, receptacles should be kept at hand to hold all trash and rubbish until hauled away—at frequent intervals. By all means, let's not procrastinate any longer; clean up; stay clean—and healthy.

Swat the fly—and come to Clarendon the 4th of July.

PREACHING VS. PRACTICE

The News has always been kept fairly busy getting out the best paper in the Panhandle, and trying to keep its personal imperfections down to the minimum, or as near that mark as possible, but occasionally we just must make a remark or two or rupture a blood vessel, after perusing a certain exchange that reaches our desk from a nearby town. In the last number of said sheet an editorial runs something like this: "Point out the good there is in one—see only that which is good. The surest way to make a bad boy worse is to keep everlastingly telling him of his faults." All of which is "good dope," calling forth a hearty "amen" from the News office's board of deacons. But on the same page of the exchange that we notice this excellent sermonette, may be also noticed a dozen or so "roasts" in which pastors, politicians, prize fighters, and the Patterson strike—everything from grasshoppers to Governor Colquitt—are ripped up one side and down the other in a most ferocious manner. Keep on dishing out the dope, brother, but get an office dictionary that contains that very nice word, "consistency," secure a little of the "tolerant spirit" and apply it several times a week to that ingrowing grouch you're troubled with; it's all right to criticize or advise in the right spirit, but substitute a liberal portion of the milk of human kindness and a sympathy for human frailty in place of those hair-tearing "bawlings-out" that serve no purpose but to taint the pure Western ozone and disgust everybody, yourself included; it might be that you could finally get your dope into such shape that you wouldn't mind taking an occasional dose of it yourself.

No doubt the young ladies over the country are heaving sighs of relief. Jack Johnson is in the penitentiary, and Nat Goodwin is safely married—for a month or two, probably.

Governor Johnson of California, in speaking of the passage of the alien land law, says: "The state is entirely within its rights and is simply attending to its own affairs." This editor has had no occasion to make a study of the law referred to, and therefore has no opinion to offer; but lots of things come up every day that call for a memorizing of the last five or six words of the Governor's remarks quoted above.

Grasshoppers are said to be ruining the country over in eastern New Mexico, and parts of the Panhandle are being infested by them, according to recent report. Government experts have been sent out from Washington to try to relieve the situation, and here's hoping they will have better and quicker success than the ordinary government expert has attained in matters of this sort.

Swat the fly.

If the Floyd county woman is innocent of killing her husband, we hope it won't take more than a few days to prove it and gain her release. On the other hand, if she is guilty, we hope there are not enough lawyers in America to keep her from getting the full amount of punishment the crime calls for. We are not at all prejudiced in this case, and know absolutely nothing of the particulars or circumstances, hence have no opinion of "trying the defendant in our paper," but surely by this time the fact has imbedded itself into the minds of the people that a precedent must be established in the disposition of killers unless we intend to simply sit by and watch the murderously inclined element depopulate the country. And women folks seem to need the restraining influence of such a precedent almost as much as those of the male persuasion. Something must be done. We hope the courts will be able to figure out what that "something" is, and then put it into action.

City Building Notes

No one can ever accuse the fly family of race suicide. Swat the fly.

"Build while you boost" is the motto of the ideal booster.

Sticking together is better than sticking the other fellow.

Paix and prosperity are synonymous in city building.

Encourage the young man and the small merchant—either may become master of industry in a day. Remember the adage of the little horn.

It is the height of folly to seek immigration unless your town can make good on its promises when the prospective investor arrives.

Modern progressive towns all have appropriate slogans. A little dose of "acting" then at intervals is a mighty good tonic to go along with the "talking."

It will pay the bankers, the merchants and mechanics to assist the farmer in solving his problems by lending their hearty cooperation.

Invite the farmers to participate in the activities of your commercial organization. You will find them substantial business men.

Wage your publicity campaign along lines based upon facts. The truth in city building is stronger than fiction.

Make your town a magnet that not merely attracts the business of the surrounding territory but is strong enough to hold it.

Adequate transportation facilities are necessary adjuncts to the successful growth of every town and city.

Don't forget that the acorn adage applies to the small town.

The "knights of the grip" are among the liveliest wires that visit your city. Get acquainted with the traveling men that make your town.

Don't You Owe Yourself Something?

For beautifully illustrated literature descriptive of the numerous splendid, home-like and not unreasonably expensive resorts throughout Wonderful Colorado and along the Pacific Coast, including the Great Colorado Chautauqua at 'Boulder Beautiful,' address A. Our Appreciation

We wish to thank the good people of Clarendon for the many favors received and the deeds of kindness shown us during the terrible ordeal through which we have passed in your midst. We feel so grateful for your hospitality, your kindness and generosity.

Were we to live to a ripe old age, and drift far away from the scenes of dear old Clarendon, be assured we can never forget all this. Our vision can never lose in the darkness of distance the many sympathizing faces; our feelings the words, acts and expressions of kindness; our hearts the consoling caresses which are so appealing, so healing to broken hearts in such trials of sadness which so nearly exhaust one's power of willingness to become submissive to the call of Jesus.

No, indeed, we can never forget these. We owe you a debt of gratitude, and can never forget the town of Clarendon and its dear people.

Sincerely,

Mrs. E. W. Doss and family.

GROCERIES AND FEED

Farm Facts

(By Peter Radford.)

The wages of farming are small.

Co-operation is the force that keeps the wolf from the door.

Is your farm declaring dividends, or are you in the tenant class?

A farm is a business establishment and should be so operated.

A farm should be operated for gross results.

The net results of good farming are profit, success, a growing business and a good living.

Opportunities sometime come to those who wait, but the man who is always on the job does not wait, he creates his opportunity.

No farmer, unless compelled by financial necessity or forced by lack of facilities to hold his crop, will sell for less than it cost to produce it.

Any marketing plan adequate to meet the situation must give the producer the full benefits of its advantages.

The real problem of the farmer is how to sell his products.

The farmer should take all uncertainty out of securities before applying for a loan.

The city men can render us the greatest service by helping find new markets and in regulating the present ones.

It is only in extending, enlarging and creating avenues of distribution and co-ordinating supply with demand that we can build up the farm.

Behind all successful farming lies, not only a fundamental philosophy, but an undeviating routine of system.

The savage had no sense of ownership, and today some of the traits of primitive man are reflected in our rural population.

Two good jacks and a fine horse will make this season at our stable, and those who are interested in the very best stock should come and see these animals before making other arrangements. E. C. Brumley & Son's Livery Stable.

Entered as second-class matter November 3, 1909, at the post office at Clarendon, Texas, under the act of March 3, 1879.

Four Weeks is a Newspaper Month.

After June 1st, the Hale County Herald will appear as a semi-weekly, published on Tuesday and Friday. Here's hoping the Herald's success will keep pace with the efforts of its owners

The Randall county grand jury, recently adjourned, was able to return only one indictment, and that for a misdemeanor. At that rate it will only be a short time until nobody but the ultra-rich can afford to act as peace officers in that county.

Canadian citizens are preparing to put on a big show at the Fourth of July celebration in that city, and their reputation for doing things leads us to believe that the affair will be well worth seeing. Next to the Clarendon celebration on the above date, we expect this Canadian stunt to excel most anything in the Panhandle.

Hansford county is building a new jail. The Headlight says the home citizens have no need for a jail, and the fact that there has not been an arrest made in the county for two or three years seems to bear witness to Editor Buchanan's statement, but they just want to prepare themselves for any "furriner" who may come.

A few private citizens of Childress recently took it upon themselves to pave a portion of the city's streets adjacent to their residences, with such good results and such small cost that the matter will be taken up on a large scale by the authorities. Just a little energy and progressiveness often result in big accomplishments.

It is our belief that Mayor Connolly will have to issue a second clean-up proclamation in order to finish putting Clarendon in apple-pie order. These clean up days would be a failure as a steady diet, because people would get out of the habit of trying to keep clean at other times. But of course, since things have been allowed to get into a bad state, strenuous and concerted action must be taken to rid ourselves of the obnoxious matter. Then, when cleanliness is restored, receptacles should be kept at hand to hold all trash and rubbish until hauled away—at frequent intervals. By all means, let's not procrastinate any longer; clean up; stay clean—and healthy.

Swat the fly—and come to Clarendon the 4th of July.

PREACHING VS. PRACTICE

The News has always been kept fairly busy getting out the best paper in the Panhandle, and trying to keep its personal imperfections down to the minimum, or as near that mark as possible, but occasionally we just must make a remark or two or rupture a blood vessel, after perusing a certain exchange that reaches our desk from a nearby town. In the last number of said sheet an editorial runs something like this: "Point out the good there is in one—see only that which is good. The surest way to make a bad boy worse is to keep everlastingly telling him of his faults." All of which is "good dope," calling forth a hearty "amen" from the News office's board of deacons. But on the same page of the exchange that we notice this excellent sermonette, may be also noticed a dozen or so "roasts" in which pastors, politicians, prize fighters, and the Patterson strike—everything from grasshoppers to Governor Colquhoun—are ripped up one side and down the other in a most fee-ri-cious manner. Keep on dishing out the dope, brother, but get an office dictionary that contains that very nice word, "consistency," secure a little of the "tolerant spirit" and apply it several times a week to that ingrowing grouch you're troubled with; it's all right to criticize or advise in the right spirit, but substitute a liberal portion of the milk of human kindness and a sympathy for human frailty in place of those hair tearing "bawlings-out" that serve no purpose but to taint the pure Western ozone and disgust everybody, yourself included; it might be that you could finally get your dope into such shape that you wouldn't mind taking an occasional dose of it.

No doubt the young ladies over the country are heaving sighs of relief. Jack Johnson is in the penitentiary, and Nat Goodwin is safely married—for a month or two, probably.

Governor Johnson of California, in speaking of the passage of the alien land law, says: "The state is entirely within its rights and is simply attending to its own affairs." This editor has had no occasion to make a study of the law referred to, and therefore has no opinion to offer; but lots of things come up every day that call for a memorizing of the last five or six words of the Governor's remarks quoted above.

Grasshoppers are said to be ruining the country over in eastern New Mexico, and parts of the Panhandle are being infested by them, according to recent report. Government experts have been sent out from Washington to try to relieve the situation, and here's hoping they will have better and quicker success than the ordinary government expert has attained in matters of this sort.

Swat the fly.

If the Floyd county woman innocent of killing her husband, we hope it won't take more than a few days to prove her innocent, and gain her release. On the other hand, if she is guilty, we hope there are not enough lawyers in America to keep her from getting the full amount of punishment the crime calls for. We are not at all prejudiced in case, and know absolutely nothing of the particulars or circumstances, hence have no opinion of "trying the defendant on a paper," but surely by the fact has imbedded in the minds of the people precedent must be established to the disposition of killing a business man. We intend to simply watch the murder of the element depopulate the state. And women folks in Clarendon, the restraining influence of a precedent is already there. Something must be done. We hope the courts will figure out what that "dope" is, and then put it into effect.

the Way Down

It is the height of folly to seek immigration unless your town can make good on its promises when the prospective investor arrives.

Modern progressive towns all have appropriate slogans. A little dose of "acting" then at intervals is a mighty good tonic to go along with the "talking."

It will pay the bankers, the merchants and mechanics to assist the farmer in solving his problems by lending their hearty co operation.

Invite the farmers to participate in the activities of your commercial organization. You will find them substantial business men.

Wage your publicity campaign along lines based upon facts. The truth in city building is stronger than fiction.

Make your town a magnet that not merely attracts the business of the surrounding territory but is strong enough to hold it.

Adequate transportation facilities are necessary adjuncts to the successful growth of every town and city.

Don't forget that the acorn adage applies to the small town. The "knights of the grip" are among the liveliest wires that visit your city. Get acquainted with the traveling men that make your town.

The net results of good farming are profit, success, a growing business and a good living.

Opportunities sometime come to those who wait, but the man who is always on the job does not wait, he creates his opportunity.

No farmer, unless compelled by financial necessity or forced by lack of facilities to hold his crop, will sell for less than it cost to produce it.

Any marketing plan adequate to meet the situation must give the producer the full benefits of its advantages.

Behind all successful farming lies, not only a fundamental philosophy, but an undeviating routine of system.

The savage had no sense of ownership, and today some of the traits of primitive man are reflected in our rural population.

Tried for Lunacy

Thursday last Wm. F. Rainey walked into town and called on R. B. Robinson at the Palace Hotel and asked if he could get room No. 14, saying he had an appointment to meet Jesus Christ in that room, and wanting to know if he had arrived.

Mr. Robinson informed the gentleman that there was no such person in the building.

Rainey then called at Hotel Claude and made similar inquiry, receiving practically the same reply. Later Deputy Sheriff Clark swore out a warrant charging Rainey with lunacy and locked him up for the night. Friday the man was taken before Judge Mobley and a jury to pass on the question. After the examination of a number of witnesses the case was given to the following jury of experts: Tom Davis, C. Wolf, Joe Dorsey, John Pafford, Otto Grumke and Jeff Campbell, who decided that Rainey's mind was not altogether sound, but that he was not dangerous.

Rainey was given his liberty and went on his way rejoicing. —Claude News.

the intention of the Live Stock Sanitary Commission of Texas to impose any unnecessary burdens upon the cattlemen of the State, but it is the intention of the Live Stock Sanitary Commission of Texas to rid the State of Texas of the disease known as scabies in cattle, and those unfortunate enough to have this disease among their cattle will be held to a rigid observance of the law. The custom heretofore prevailing in the scab infected territory of Texas has been to allow cattle to be driven from one pasture for the purpose of dipping; this custom, in the main, will be abrogated and except in isolated places will a man be allowed to drive his cattle to his neighbors vat for dipping. Therefore, it behooves every cowman in the scab infected area of Texas to build him a vat on his own ranch and have it ready by the time this law goes into effect, as he will not be allowed after this law goes into effect to move any cattle off of his ranch, if infected, for any purpose whatever, until they have been dipped under supervision of an inspector of this Commission or of the Bureau of Animal Industry, and a certificate issued stating that the owner of the cattle has complied with the law and that his cattle are free of scabies infection.

Another section of the above referred to law, provides that any person, company or corporation found moving any animal or animals, which are quarantined without a certificate from the Live Stock Sanitary Commission, the Inspector of the Commission shall have authority and it is his duty to call to his aid the sheriff of the county, in which the cattle are so found and it shall be the duty of the sheriff to return the cattle to the place of origination. From the above you will readily see, from and after the taking effect of this law, the Live Stock Sanitary Commission of Texas will be in control of the situation. And while we desire and must have the co operation of the cattlemen of the state in this work, we are going to undertake where parties refuse to give us their co operation voluntarily to force them by law to free their ranges of such infection. This letter is not intended as a threat, but as a friendly warning. And the hope of this Commission is, that the cattlemen of the Panhandle, will take this letter in the spirit in which it is intended and will avail themselves with the time that will elapse between now and July 1st, to make arrangements to free their ranges of scab.

Yours very respectfully,
W. N. Waddell,
Chairman Live Stock Sanitary Commission of Texas.

Kaffir and Milo Hogs

R. E. Williams, well known hog man of Donley county, was on Monday's market with a consignment of choice kaffir and milo hogs. He had only fed these a short time and they put on weight wonderfully well, he said.

Mr. Williams stated that the Panhandle farmers are awake to the possibilities in kaffir and milo and have been taking up with the silo as a means of getting cheaper feed for the cattle. He is optimistic over a good year, declaring that crops are good and livestock is doing well.

C. L. Irby of Armstrong county was on the Fort Worth hog market Monday with a load of straight maize hogs. They were a well-rounded bunch of porkers and were touted on the early market to bring a good price.

Mr. Irby didn't keep a close tab on their gains but he was confident that they had put on great weight during the past sixty days, in which time they had been confined to a diet of soaked kaffir.

"They have gained as fast as any hogs I have ever seen," he declared proudly. "We raise a great deal of kaffir and milo in our section and we are becoming a better hog country all the time."

"Our original hog crop was short this year but large numbers have been brought from other sections of the State and Louisiana and have been fed and fattened on our milo and kaffir. The results in nearly all instances have been excellent."

"Our people are also taking up with the silo. Some few already have been built and the farmers and stockmen now using them report flattering results. Many others are contemplating putting them up during the summer months."

"We people who have been studying the situation believe that silage is a good feed for hogs. We have had good reports from points where it is being used in the industry and I wouldn't be surprised to see it tried in Armstrong county."

Insurance Notice.

A new schedule of fire insurance rates has been promulgated for Clarendon under the 1911 General Basis Schedules of the Texas Insurance Board.

There are many changes in business risks and most of them are raised—only a few of them have been decreased—and dwellings remain the same where situated within 500 feet of a fire hydrant and all such have a substantial reduction—so much so that the citizenship ought to insist on the extension of fire protection into the residence districts. I will gladly show and explain the printed rates covering the business district to all who desire to look them over.

A Family Reunion.

All of the Bugbee family, including sons, daughters, sons-in-law, daughters-in-law and grandchildren, participated in a big picnic and family reunion on Wednesday of this week.

Preparations for a good time have been under way for many weeks, and the highest expectations along this line were fully realized, which fact will be certified to by everyone present.

A big beef was killed and prepared, and every imaginable kind of good things to eat was there in abundance.

Among those who attended from a distance were Mr. and Geo. C. Cook of Kansas City and Mrs. Dr. Hearne of Seattle, Wash.

The News hopes each member of this good family may live to enjoy many more reunions.

The Christian church is to be congratulated on securing the services of Evangelist S. R. Hawkins of Greenville, Texas, and of Professor Altheide of Dallas to lead in the big revival which will begin on the first Lord's day in August. The first service will be held on Thursday night August 1st for the purpose of organizing for the song services. Prof. Altheide will be present and effective work is expected. On Friday night August 2nd there will be a reception, and on Saturday night following Mr. Hawkins will preach. We learn that the meeting will be continued for four weeks.

Our Tailor Shop is still doing the very best work at the right prices, and nobody will appreciate your work more than we will.

Missionary Note.

Although the third of July is a very busy day, it did not prevent about thirty of our women from assembling at the church parlors for the business meeting of the Auxiliary. The 1st Vice, Mrs. Johnson had a splendid report. She had organized a junior division of ten members.

Sister Long, as 2nd Vice, had an encouraging report as regarded her Young People's Society. The 3rd and 4th Vice were both absent, also the foreign treasurer. The other officers had good reports regarding their especial work.

Considering that this is the "good old summer time," although it is customary for most societies to go into summer quarters, the officers have decided to work harder than ever, especially as regards the local work. This portion of our work needs to be pushed as the demands upon us are many.

The delegates to the North-west Texas Conference, Mrs. Kelley and Mrs. Burton, gave splendid reports and each one felt as if she had been present at that meeting. They both became expert speakers while away and sang, for the benefit of the society, a song they learned while away. There were three verses to it and consisted of the three words "Report, Reply, and Prompt."

Clarendon is 5th on the Honor Roll both as to district and Auxiliary and is the banner society for subscribers to the King's Messenger.

Clarendon was especially honored in having the women of her town selected for conference officers for the ensuing year:

Keep Beautiful.

Ill Health, the Great Destroyer of Beauty.

A Talk to Women

To keep beautiful, keep well. Don't neglect any symptom of ill health. Hot weather brings extra work on the blood and kidneys—on all organs. One of the weaker ones begins to falter. It needs attention, that it may be healed and that its influence may not spread to other organs.

A loss of appetite, sleeplessness, becoming too easily tired, nervousness, dizziness, a blotchy or sallow complexion, indigestion, losing weight—you know the symptoms. The trouble is, you are too liable to neglect when one appears. Get it at once. Health and beauty are worth preserving. Neglect may ruin both. Lose health and beauty goes with it. Cosmetics will not bring it back. The only way to get beauty and keep it is to get and keep health.

Every woman should know about Rexall Celery and Iron Tonic. It contains celery, famous as a nerve food, and iron, needed by the blood. In addition there are other ingredients that act on the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys.

Rexall Celery and Iron Tonic is intended to aid in bringing all the organs of the body into healthy, active, harmonious action, toning up, refreshing and invigorating the entire system, giving energy to the spirits and new life to the muscles.

Rexall Celery and Iron Tonic is good for you, whether you are strong, "merely ailing," or weak. Its tonic and strength building properties have been proven time and time again. If we did not know it to be valuable, we could not risk our reputation by recommending and guaranteeing it to you. We are right here at home, and if Rexall Celery and Iron Tonic does not help you, you can come to us and get your money back. There is no risk for you to take. A big bottle, enough for a whole month's treatment, costs only a dollar. Sold in this community only at our store. The Rexall Store. J. A. McKillop.

Commercial Club Meeting.

At a meeting of the directors Tuesday night, it was decided to change the name of the Clarendon Commercial Club to the Donley County Commercial Club. The following committees were named:

An constitution and by-laws. R. L. Chase, chairman; Rev. H. B. Fadyen and Fred Chamberlain.

Advertising: J. M. Warren, Manan; C. H. Wisdom and A. Beville.

Walter Taylor and W. P. Ray resigned as directors, and in part Sawyer and H. S. Swearlin were named in their stead.

The secretary's salary is to be taken up by the committee on titution and by-laws. The initiation fee was placed at $1.00, and dues 50c per month.

Every person in Donley county has the interest of the town at heart, is urged to join the club and help boost.

Call on W. P. Welty, secretary, the Retail Merchants Association offices in the Commercial building, and give him your name for membership, together with $1.50 for initiation fees and one month's dues.

You now have an opportunity to show your colors. Do it!

Bugbee Land and Cattle Co.

The various members of the Bugbee family, with headquarters in this city, have incorporated themselves under the laws of the State, the organization capitalized at $300,000.

T. S. Bugbee is the president; T. Bugbee, vice president; general manager; Wesley Ferguson, secretary and treasurer.

Among other things, the corporation consists of 50,000 acres of land and 30,000 head of cattle. The Bugbee family is one of the most prominent in the whole country. Its members are leaders in the stockraising industry and in financial, professional and industrial circles, in agricultural pursuits, and in almost every line of commercial activity.

Socially speaking, they are the top notch. Hospitable, big hearted, generous—their society is sought after and enjoyed by the best people in the land.

The Bugbees are old timers in the Clarendon country, and have played a big part in the development of town and county.

Fair Items.

If you have any doubt as to our confidence in our farmers and stockmen, just watch us swing our heavy guns into place at Dallas and bombard the State.

Donley county has some of the most accomplished farmers in the State. We will make many sections think we have the only ones before we get through this fall.

Bray should have a nice string of colts at the Fair as well as some superb agricultural products. If we are not badly mistaken, some people will have good reason to remember Bray after the County Fair.

Either get into the County Fair with your exhibit or be prepared to take the skim milk of the market. The wise men and the energetic, willing worker skims off the cream and he is entitled to it.

Many a man who complains of his crop hasn't action enough to get out of the way of the crop and give it a chance and room to grow.

The farmer who does his heaviest labor up and down the main street of some town, is not the one that puts away blue ribbons when the leaves begin to fall.

Alanreed will not allow any other part of the county to take "snap judgment." She will be right on the nut-ground when the doin's begin.

Get right—the name and reputation of Donley county will be placed in the balance this fall at the State Fair. Have the personal pride to raise some superior product and the courage to exhibit.

Trip to Hedley.

The editor made a business trip to the thriving little city of Hedley one day this week, and found one of the cleverest and best lot of folks it has been our pleasure to meet. They all seem to be happy and prosperous and one thing sure, they are a bunch of "boosters" right off the bat. We were glad to meet so many of the business men. We are especially under obligations to Editor Claude Wells for favors and courtesies shown us while there. That prince of good fellows, Frank Kendall, fed us while there, and he having been in the printing business at one time himself knows that an editor enjoys a square meal once in a while, and his good wife certainly did prepare us a good substantial breakfast. Clarendon will have to get busy, or that thriving burg is going to take some of our trade; they're right square at the bat when it comes to doing things. The Methodist folks are constructing a handsome brick church there now.

Dr. Story Enroute.

Rev. J. W. Story, presiding elder of the Clarendon district for the Methodist Episcopal church, was in Amarillo yesterday enroute to McLean, where the third quarterly conference begins today. From McLean Dr. Story goes to Wheeler, and will return to Clarendon Monday night via Amarillo.

Few men are more thoroughly in touch with general conditions over this part of the country than is Dr. Story, and he states that there is little of which real complaint should be made. He declares that grain has proved good, and he finds the crops putting on a most excellent growth. Dr. Story sees nothing alarming in the fact that some localities are getting rather dry. He is optimistic.

The observations as to farm conditions are with Dr. Story only casual, as he is specializing his attention to church matters. Dr. Story states that great progress is being made in the various parts of his work, and the outlook could not be better.

It is the request of the Democratic Executive Committee that everybody bring their poll tax receipts with them when they come to vote, as this is the law. Don't fail to bring them, and thus save the trouble and expense of making affidavit. Come and vote July 27.

Tom F. Connally has had business in the Pampa and Miami districts during the past week. He says the wheat crop is good, and each of the above towns claim that they will receive half a million bushels of wheat this year. That amount of wheat, together with our enormous crops of kafir, maize, and other grains, would make Clarendon the largest grain market in the country.

For Sale.

Four hundred and forty five acres of land, five miles Southeast of Lelia Lake, Texas. Two sets of improvements consisting of one three room, frame house, one large barn, 32x48, one two room frame house and small barn, good well and tanks at each house. Twenty-five acres in alfalfa, hog fenced; three hundred in cultivation and planted; crops in fine shape. This is one of the best farms on the market at anything like the price. Part cash, part time. Address, R. L. Bigger, 25-tf Amarillo, Texas.

Lancaster Criticises Course of Opponent

Says Judge Browning Draws His Salary but Does Not Render Any Service to the State

Tolar, July 4.—In a speech here Judge Joe E. Lancaster, candidate for congressman-at-large, criticised one of his opponents, Judge J. N. Browning, for drawing salary as a district judge and putting the state to the expense of paying special judges to do his work. He said:

"We have in the race for congressman-at-large twenty-two candidates, and among them is a distinguished gentleman who has been lieutenant governor of Texas, and who is now holding the position of district judge at Amarillo. From the official acts of our public servants we determine their faithfulness and fidelity in the discharge of their duties to the people.

"It is with reluctance and a measure of regret that I call attention to some of the acts of Judge Browning, but I feel it a duty I owe to the taxpayers of Texas to call their attention to the same, and in the light of the facts, let them say whether or not they approve of his conduct in the matters mentioned.

"Under the law a district judge's salary is fixed at $250 per month. The law further provides when a district judge fails or refuses to attend a session of his court, the attorneys present at that court have authority to elect from their number a special judge who shall proceed to dispose of the business of the court. It is a fact known to many citizens of Texas that Judge Browning entered the race for congressman-at-large in January, and that he left the bench in February and has been spending his time campaigning the state for the office of congressman-at-large.

"I here present to the voters and taxpayers of Texas for their consideration two certificates under seal from the comptroller and state treasurer, dated June 21, 1912, which show that the state of Texas has paid Judge J. N. Browning salary for February, March, April and May, $1,000. These certificates also show that the state of Texas has paid John W. Veale, as special judge in Browning's district during the same months $559.54, and also to A. S. Rawlins, as special judge, during the same time, $90.31. From these certificates, it appears that Special Judges Veale and Rawlins have been holding the terms of the court and discharging the official duties of Judge Browning while he has been out of his district campaigning over the state, and have been paid for their services, and it further appears from said certificates that Judge Browning has drawn from the state of Texas the sum of $1,000 for which he has rendered no services to either the state of Texas or the people of his district, but the truth is the taxpayers of Texas have been paying $250 per month for campaign expenses of Judge Browning.

"In this connection, I deem it not improper to further state that the court of civil appeals at Amarillo, in the case of Arch Winn vs. R. E. Edmondson Land & Cattle company, decided that injunctions issued by the special judges in that district returnable to other counties in the district were void. This case is cited simply to show how the litigants in that district have been mulcted in costs and other useless expense, due to the absence of their regularly elected district judge.

"The above is a recital of the facts as shown by the record, and I submit them to the voters of Texas for their thoughtful consideration."

The Amarillo Browning "answer" (and it knows it could not) brought its "answer" to a Sunday's Amarillo News, with close by deploring and condemning the "unworthy and unmanly" attempt to "traduce" Judge Browning and "besmirch his good name."

Is that an unworthy and unmanly attempt to "besmirch" or "traduce"? Is not Judge Browning in the employ of the people of the State, and hasn't an employer a right to know, or even to criticize, the acts of an employee?

Again, if a recital of his actions tend to "traduce" him and "besmirch his good name," shouldn't he have been more careful of his actions?

Think about it and decide the matter for yourself.

City Building Notes.

Cold cash always receives a warm reception in a live town. An improved highway is the road to health, wealth and happiness.

It's not so hard to travel the straight path providing its a good road.

Factories favor shipping facilities—boost the right of way proposition.

A city is sometimes judged by the agricultural possibilities of the surrounding country—increased the efficiency of the soil.

Greet the stranger with the smile that won't come off.

Commercial failures like matrimonial failures are largely due to non support.

Invest your money in every project that makes for the progress of your community.

There should be no place in a live town for a demagogue, it would even pay to get him a ticket one way.

When internal strife sets in capital usually steps out.

The most popular spot in town at this time of the year is the down town breathing spot where the weary populace can find rest and recreation close at hand.

A vote against a good roads bond issue is a vote against prosperity, progress and personal pride.

The most convincing way to promote the advantages of your city and county is by a permanent display of the farm and factory products.

Wise men say that a commercial organization is the star of destiny that will shape the size and future of any city.

The county that can boast of good roads has taken the first step to becoming an empire within itself.

Home industry like charity should begin at home.

A More Excellent Way

Better Than Prohibition

By L. H. Carhart

Our viewpoint has been limited by social and moral considerations mainly.

Persuasion and argument, with plenty of cash and reasonable concession will constitute a basis broad enough for efficient action and settlement. Money, and money alone, will make a just, fair and permanent adjustment possible. We have played the fool,—let us pay.

The conservative opposition, who have always thought and acted from a very different point of view, will never offer insuperable opposition to a fair and equitable compromise with adequate compensation, where the social, physical well-being of the entire public is so manifestly concerned.

HEROIC.

This remedy for our national wrong and drunkenness may appear to some drastic and even impracticable. But is it really so?

It is comprehensive, rational, equitable and just, and will triumph one hundred years (with our immense and half assimilated foreign population) before universal Prohibition on present lines, can be established.

Our weapons may not be carnal and there will be small use for the militant and dramatic. "Hot air," will be discontinued; "Carrie Nation's Hatchet" will be discarded; the church will be filled with the Spirit; the Men's Forward Movement will be at the fore; the army of enfranchised women will hold the rear and prevent the retreat; the invincible Press, the logical Rostrum and all that is most noble and worthy in humanity will hail the conflict with a shout!

"Thrice is he armed who hath his quarrel just."

We will fight with the old assertion that the public must have its grog: "Personal Freedom must be recognized," etc., etc.

We respond: the "right" of debauch, personal or national, is denied! The hour has struck for personal restraint and national control. The barbaric customs of half civilized ages must not, and shall not, prevail forever! The higher civilization of coming generations will review many of our legalized atrocities and social customs with surprise.

Laws prohibiting, under heavy penalty, murder, robbery, counterfeiting, illicit distilling, are deemed right and proper and are relentlessly enforced. Why not include alcoholism? Reduce the demand by education. Cut off the supply by national law.

Who so considerate of a dangerous, destructive and abnormal appetite? Why should restrictive law make this class of irresponsible undesirables immune from legal interference on the score of that over-worked idea of "Personal liberty?"

The root of evils so apparent and so universal, is in alcoholic stimulation and attendant environment. Apply the law! Pay for and remove the occasion and inspiration.

O, the narrow, selfish and sensuous conditions of the prehistoric that still dominates and debases poor, weak, half-developed, half-evolved humanity? Man's inhumanity. Man's worst enemy is man!

Here we have a national tumor, alcoholism, well located and diagnosed. It spells race degeneration, with perils and burdens, private and public. Cut it out!

Restore the unfortunate to usefulness.

Let the unfit, from degeneracy and heredity, die, as painlessly as possible. Listen to the bitter cry of the children! Make reproduction and posterity impossible!

Sooner or later this will be more a burning necessity than now.

Good blood as well as free schools and pure environment, is essential to the making of a nation.

We are reaching the level where awakened and intelligent public thought can be heard. We are ready for the whole truth. The scope of our arguments must be broad, temperate, reasonable and just. The best way to correct error is to teach the truth, and face all the facts and conditions squarely.

Let us make this altruistic, Christian century, one of righteous advancement from which there shall be no reversion or retreat. Sane, strong, abiding, a century of genuine evolution; not of destructive revolution.

Can You Vote?

The following letters are self explanatory, and we publish them for the general information they contain.

Clarendon, Tex., June 17, 1912.
Hon. Jewel P. Lightfoot, Atty. Genl., Austin, Texas.

Dear Sir:

I wish to beg your leave to submit three questions for your opinion in regard to the law governing the voting in primary election.

1st. One H. Jones from Cook County started to Donley County to make his home on the 29th day of January 1912, he was two days getting loaded to start which began 27th of January. Of course all necessary arrangements for moving were made prior to the time he began loading his car for shipment which was also prior to the date of January 27th. Can he vote in the primary election, legally, July 27th 1912?

Robt. Boydston had a claim in New Mexico; he last went to it April 1911 returning home a few days later, this was his former home, however, he had six months in which to make his claim and claim his home, to hold, but he never returned, his time had expired, he has paid no poll tax, as he was a citizen of New Mexico January 1st 1911, therefore owed no poll tax here, but now he has been in Texas more than twelve months since he came back the last time, but has not been here twelve months since his right expired to retain his claim in Mexico. Though virtually he had abandoned his claim when he left there in April 1911.

Is he a legal voter under the law?

Has a man who has lived in the State twelve months, in the county six months prior to the time of an election a legal voter without a poll tax receipt, provided he was not, resident citizen of the State January 1st 1911?

Please give me your opinion on the above questions. Thanks for your courtesy,

J. J. Alexander.

Austin, Texas, June 22, 1912.
Mr. J. J. Alexander,
Clarendon, Texas.

Dear Sir:

In reply to your favor of the 17 inst, I beg to state:

1st. That no person is entitled to vote in an election unless he has been a bona fide resident of the County in which he offers to vote for at least six months next preceeding the date of the election at which he offers to vote. The question of residence is largely a question of intention and depends upon the facts surrounding the particular case. If the party referred to by you had selected his home in Donley county and began to move his effects to that County prior to January 27th, he would have a right to claim Donley County as his home from that date, although he may have been delayed in actually reaching Donley county with his effects until after the 27th of January. 2nd. We cannot answer your inquiry as to the party who held a home stead claim in New Mexico. If he has been a bona fide resident of Texas for twelve months with the intention all that time to permanently reside in the State, he will be a legal voter here; but if he was claiming New Mexico as his home to within less than twelve months before the July primary, he will not be entitled to vote. In his case it is purely a question of intention which would be determined by his conduct and by his statements in reference to what his intentions were with regard to his place of residence. He cannot claim two states for his place of residence at the same time.

3rd. If a person has lived in this State twelve months and in the County six months prior to the time of the election and was not a resident of the State of Texas on January 1st 1911 and is otherwise a qualified voter, he will be entitled to vote without the payment of a poll tax and without a certificate of exemption in the coming election or any other election held during this year.

Yours very truly,
C. E. Mead, Asst. Atty. Genl.

Sugar

We have the sweetest Sugar in town for sweetening your tea. We have been very badly fooled as to the sugar market. We predicted a very high sugar market for July 1st and many of our customers will recall the fact that we talked high sugar, and we believed so strongly that it would be much higher that we purchased a solid car, and since our purchase there have been two declines.

We will always follow the market up, and likewise down. Our first drop on sugar was from $7.25 to $6.75 and today's market is $6.50 per 100 pounds. According to our thinking we can't expect to maintain this price long. We hope our customers will take advantage of this very low market and let our loss be their gain.

Fruit Jars.

As the canning season is here you will want fruit jars and jelly glasses. We have the nicest stock of pints, quarts, and half gallon fruit jars, and fine lot of half pint jelly glasses. is like this. In last week's issue of our great and nearly always reliable journal, we boldly and openly asserted that Floyd Howard and wife were entertaining a new girl at their home. We have since enclosed the article with our application for membership in the Ananias Club.

ordinarily an innocent mistake like this wouldn't cause any hard feelings and war-talk, and such, but you must remember Floyd is "daddy" for the very first time—and you have to humor him. Besides, he's backed up everything he says by Doc Howard and H. A. Smith; they're both appearing in their initial "grandpa" performance and it won't do to "sass" them a minute.

We've had a close call, and only hope we can keep on dodging them until this correction appears in print.

We publish in this issue of the which is probably the longest ticket ever voted in Texas. It would be a good idea for the people to read and study the ticket so that they may be inhis neighbors and friends made fun of him planting so early, but he says that early planting is the thing, as he now has a

All Work and No Play Makes Jack a Dull Boy

No matter what your occupation is, you are bound to have some recreation. Your brain, as well as your body, must have rest—rest that it cannot get if you allow it to remain 'chock' full of business cares and different sorts of worries all the time.

You need some clean, healthy pastime, something that will rid your mind of all troublesome thoughts and unpleasantness. Then you can retire and REST, and awaken next morning refreshed and ready for the day's duties. It's a good investment, not considering the pleasure. Try it.

Interesting News Items from Some of Our Neighbors Borrowed from the Exchanges

Texhoma suffered a $30,000 fire loss last week, the business section being the part affected.

The residence of Jeff Campbell at Claude burned one day last week, the house and contents being a total loss. Mr. Campbell's face, hands and feet were badly burned.

W. L. Garner brought to the News office Wednesday morning one bunch of wheat containing 119 stalks which had germinated from one grain of wheat. The stalks were all long, the heads of good length and well filled with exceptionally fine grains. Mr. Garner says that he sows his wheat thinly and believes that many of the wheat raisers of the Plains made a mistake by sowing their wheat so thick. Mr. Garner reports that wheat cutting is going on rapidly west of the city. He says that the stacks are getting very thick and that there will be a good yield.—Randall County News.

Booker McGraw has entered suit against the Fort Worth & Denver railroad company for damages in the sum of $20,000 for the loss of an eye. He was working as helper to a boiler maker, and while at work on an engine tank a piece of iron struck him in the eye, causing him to lose it. He was taken to Fort Worth where the eye was removed by the physicians. The accident happened some time ago. Hugh Spencer, district attorney, is representing McGraw.—Childress Index.

The Amarillo court of appeals has affirmed the case of the city of Childress vs. Southwestern Telephone Co., in which the city asked for damages against the company for not making connections with the Paducah Telephone company at Childress.—Childress Index.

Canadian, Tex., July 3.—Wheat harvesting is in full blast all over this section of the Panhandle. The yield will be much better than many expected. Victor Smith's wheat in this county is averaging 33 bushels per acre, and there are many fields that will do quite as well. The Smith wheat was produced from seed furnished by the Santa Fe railroad. He planted five bushels on ten acres and threshed 337 bushels. The Santa Fe only asked a return of the seed wheat.

Cleophas Shellenberger of Olton was dragged from a horse while roping a cow Monday and both ankles fractured.

Last Thursday at 2 p. m. electricity furnished by the new power plant, began revolving two large electrical fans in the Joe Hardy Drug Store. This is the first high voltage current ever generated in Wellington.—Wellington Leader.

Friday night there was a wrestling match at the Majestic between "Alabama Dink," a professional, and Frank Hill, a local boy. It was a lively set too, the professional winning two throws in 15 and 10 minutes respectively.—Plainview News.

It is claimed the wheat around the Miami country will make about thirty bushels to the acre.

A representative of The Texan asked Col. Sharman, chief engineer of the E. O. & W., this morning, "how soon?" "That's up to the people here," he replied. This means, of course, everything hinges on how soon the bonus is raised. Attorney Cureton did not reach here this week but is expected to arrive at once and then the campaign for raising the bonus starts in and it will "up to the people" to get the $125,000 signed up so that construction work can commence.—Dalhart Texan.

The county poultry association met Monday and decided to hold the next annual show at Plainview Jan. 2 to 9. Hale Center withdrew its application, and promised to do everything in its power to make the show a success. Plainview has raised a donation of about $300 for the show, and the greatest show ever held on the Plains is in prospect. The cash premiums offered are larger than those offered by the Dallas fair.—Plainview News.

Cass Tarver of Anson, the Texas "white hope," accompanied by his trainer, Frank Mayo, the Australian, and his physician, Dr. Jack Pratt, enroute to the Flynn-Johnson prize fight at Las Vegas, N. M., stopped over in Silverton Monday night and gave a boxing exhibition at the school auditorium. The attendance was large and great enthusiasm manifested in the display of the manly art.—Silverton Mirror.

The first sergeant of the Amarillo troop of cavalry of the Texas National Guards was in the city Sunday and enlisted 15 men. The equipment was sent down this week and one of the officers or non-commissioned officers will make weekly trips to drill the boys. The Amarillo officers are trying to greatly increase their troops and want two or three squads from Canyon. Two corporals and possibly one sergeant will be appointed by the captain from the Canyon squads. The Texas guards camp this year at Austin, beginning the 5th of August and the boys are planning to have a fine time.—Randall County News.

Johnnie Payne and Hughel Wilkins, two of our enterprising young men, are having a swimming pool constructed on the block just east of where the new bank is going up. The dimensions of the pool are 8x22 and from 3 to 6 feet deep. It is being covered by a building of substantial construction. The building is 16x30 and affords adequate room for shower baths and dressing booths. The structure was designed by Dr. J. S. Wilkins, and the features looking toward the sanitation of the place carefully thought out. Running water will be furnished by the City Water Company. The boys are going to operate an orderly sort of business and afford the public an excellent place to go for a plunge during the warm weather.—Wellington Leader.

Last night (Thursday) at about 8 o'clock, a car driven by Buck Sams was turned over on Wayland Boulevard near the draw, and Mrs. Sams was instantly killed and several others seriously injured. Those in the car were Mr. and Mrs. Buck Sams, Mr. and Mrs. Flake Garner, Miss Artie Moreland, Mr. Garner, a brother of Flake Garner, and Mr. Roy Moreland. Mrs. Garner, Miss Moreland and Buck Sams are dangerously injured, but it is thought they will recover. Details of the accident are hard to obtain, as several theories are put forward as the probable cause. The driver is not able to talk of the affair as yet. It is generally supposed that the Sams car was attempting to pass another car at the time. Dalton's car, McGlasson's car and another car were all near at the time of the accident. Mrs. Sams was the only daughter of Mr. Robt. Mitchell.—Hale County Herald.

A State Geologist has been in Spur throughout the week for the purpose of making an analysis of the contents of the deep well. Potash has been found in the well and since it is very only in Germany to great extent, the geologist here to determine if the potash is there in sufficient quantities to pay to work.

On last Wednesday evening an auto carrying two men was seen to pass through Quilley going east at a high speed. They seemed to be in a special hurry as they neared town they threw their engine wide open and were fairly splitting the breeze. This occurred just after dark. In the afternoon this same party was seen on the Silverton and Quitaque road just over the first rise after descending caprock by the Messers Hoover. The men were digging with all their might in a hole they had excavated just in the edge of the road. As the young ladies approached, one of the men jumped into the car and ran off down a road leading off from the main road while the other man told the ladies to hurry by that he was going to run the car back in a minute. The ladies were a little frightened at the unusual conduct of the men. They gave out the report when they got home of what they had seen and on the next day when the spot was visited a hole had been dug about four feet deep and a granite ware kettle cracked up on one side and with the bottom out was lying by the hole. When these men were and what their mission was and what they accomplished is an unknown quantity in that part of the county.—Silverton Herald.

Canadian citizens are now using home made ice, their factory having begun operations last week.

PANHANDLE STOCK NEWS

Being a Condensed Account of the Doings of Our Stockmen, and Conditions Along this Line.

Frank Harris has sold his ranch near Hartley to northern parties. Mr. Harris will continue to manage the affairs of the ranch.

Panhandle hogs continue to top the Ft. Worth market. A load from Floyd county brought $8.10 one day last week, and a Hall county shipment another day reached the fancy figure of $8.25.

B. T. Kingsley shipped in hogs from Donley county and sold 48 of 193 pounds at $7.80 and 44 pigs of 83 pounds at $5.25.—Live Stock Reporter.

Cashier J. P. Winder says that he took a trip out into the country the other evening and was pleased to find everything looking fine. He went out to see a bunch of cattle that were brought to the county this spring and says he never saw any stock fatter as they have. He feels confident that the owner will double his money by fall. Mr. Winder came to the Plains a few years ago from "down in Texas" and says he never saw grass grow as it does here and have such fattening qualities.—Randall County News.

Childress county has one stock farmer that raises cattle for money, and when he sells he gets the money, not in small denominations, but in great chunks. Many people do not know that it is almost as cheap to raise cattle worth $100 a head as it is to raise the long horn kind worth probably $25, but J. W. Johnson of the Peach Grove stock farm can tell them how it is done. For some time he has kept a small ad running in The Post, and every few weeks he makes a good sale that amply repays him for all expense and trouble, for he has the kind of cattle others want and are willing to pay for. Last week he sold to J. H. Johnson, of Canadian, through Hunt & Williams, a bunch of 20 cows and calves at the handsome figure of $100 per pair, making a net sum of $2,000. The Canadian stock man is an extensive cattle dealer who wanted some of the best stuff in Texas and he decided that the best place to get it was the Peach Grove stock farm. Almost any farmer in this country can raise a few such cattle if he will only try, and it looks a lot better than low grade prices on cotton. Mr. Johnson started with only a few head and built up. The cows he had just sold are all registered stock.—Childress Post.

News of the death of Horace G. French of San Antonio was received here today by his brother, C. C. French, who left at once for that city. Horace G. French was one of the old timers in the cattle annals of Texas. He drove the second herd of cattle ever driven from Texas to Kansas City, when that town was beginning to be a market, and railroads were so scarce that cattle had to be driven north. He was for many years a regular drover from Texas to the Northwest at a time when hundreds of thousands of Texas cattle went to pasturage in Montana, Wyoming and Colorado every year. Of late, however he had dropped out of the cattle business and was confining his operations to the horse trade.—Live Stock Reporter.

Chas. Divilbiss, and wife, of Dumas were in town Saturday, Mr. Divilbiss going with cattle to Kansas City, and Mrs. Divilbiss going east for a visit.—Dalhart Texan.

man went up to Alanreed Monday to receive a bunch of fifty cows, which the former had just purchased from S. R. Kennedy of that place. The bunch included also a fine bull and about twenty calves. We did not learn the consideration, but it was an extra large figure as all of the cattle were registered Herefords and in excellent condition.—McLean News.

Several people from this city, including the News man, went out to the Scurlock place north of town Wednesday to witness the branding of about two hundred calves belonging to John Carpenter. The cattle were rounded up on the prairie after the fashion which prevailed here years ago, and the calves were roped and "bull-dogged." At the noon hour the crew, which numbered about twenty, enjoyed a pre-arranged dinner sent out by Mrs. Carpenter, which was a treat well worth the trip. Carpenter has one of the best bunches of graded cattle in this section and on many occasions he tops the market with his fall calves.—McLean News.

Last Monday between show-ers we jumped into a buggy with Marshall Miller and went out to the Smith ranch three miles south of town to salt Mr. Miller's cattle. He had between three and four hundred calves there, and some fine Hereford and Durham bulls. The grass and cattle were looking fine, and the stock doing well with plenty of grass and water. On the prairie east we could see ten big wheat stacks where the farmers were harvesting, and just west of the road Messrs. Shields and McNabb were cutting 300 acres for themselves and Mr. Robertson had 75 acres ready to cut. The wheat all looked good, and speaks well for our country as a farming section as well as for cattle raising.—Vega Sentinel.

Amarillo, July 4th.—Mrs. Ellen M. Sanborn transferred title to the celebrated Bravo ranch, consisting of 120,000 acres lying in Oldham and Hartley counties yesterday afternoon to Col. C. T. Herring and Landerger Brothers, for a consideration of approximately $450,000 through a local commission man. This deal includes ranch improvements and work animals but not the cattle with which it was stocked. For years the Bravo ranch was the property of the late lamented Col. H. B. Sanborn and attracted wide attention by reason of its worth and beauty. It is doubtless one of the most valuable ranch estates in the southwest.

Cattle Shipments.

A trainload of 1000 head of cattle, known as the McAdams cattle were expected in from Swearingen last night to be branded and dehorned today. Another 1,000 head of the same cattle are expected in from Swearingen tonight to be branded and dehorned by the Western Stock Yards people tomorrow. About July 16th, two train loads of some 2,000 head are expected in from Abernathy to be branded and dehorned here along with about 1,100 head which are being bought at Amarillo. All these shipments are part of about 9,000 head of Texas cattle, which are being bought by the Prairie Cattle Co., known as the "J. J." ranch people. These cattle will all be unloaded at Texline and driven to their ranch in

One of the most startling changes ever seen in any man, according to W. B. Holsclaw, Clarendon, Tex., was effected years ago in his brother.
