City thanks C.A.P.

The City of Clarendon wishes to thank the staff of Community Action Program, Robbie Hill and Eureka Mass for the great amount of time and effort they devoted to gathering data for the application for the HUD grant. Teamwork resulted in complimentary comment on the Clarendon application.

Mrs. Oran Burton, Debbie and Christie of Gruver, accompanied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Weatherly home Sunday for a visit.

Musical program by Methodist Choir will initiate centennial

In celebration of its 100th birthday, the Methodist Church of Clarendon will initiate a series of centennial observances. The first of these is a musical program by the church choir, to be held at 8 p.m. on Sunday, June 4, at the church. The program will feature a variety of songs and hymns, many of which have been written or composed by members of the church. The choir is made up of both men and women, and is led by Rev. Lewis Ellis.

June 6 local option election

With the presentation of a petition bearing 222 signatures, Donley County Commissioners Court has called a local option election for June 6 in Justice Precinct 1 in Donley County.

The petition states that for the legal sale of alcoholic beverages for off premises consumption only. In effect it would be legal if the election goes for, to operate a package store where alcoholic beverages could be purchased but could not be opened and consumed on the site of the store.

Those in favor of passage of the election for legalizing the sale of said beverages point out the dollar advantage. Tax revenue for the county, another new business with owner and employee sales benefits to Clarendon, plus the factor of additional tourist trade on business, would offset the negative effect of easily accessible intoxicants.

Boundaries for Justice Precinct 1 are south of Highway 287 west of Koogle St., south to 8th St., west to the city limits and along the city limits to Highway 287; includes all of Howardwick, Ashtola and Martin.

All registered voters in Precinct 1 are eligible to vote in this June 6 election.

substantial. For some time Howardwick has been an area where the local city option legalized, both off premises and on site consumption.

Opposed to the legalizing of the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premises consumption are those who say nothing good can come from it. These persons are concerned no amount of tax dollars, or dollars coming locally from such a business, would offset the negative effect of easily accessible intoxicants.

Storm takes one life

Violent weather in the county claimed the life of a Hedley man, damaged homes, buildings, crops, trees and shrubs before passing across and away from the area last weekend. In severe weather which began on Friday, local law enforcement personnel spent some 36 hours without sleep in an effort to keep the public informed of weather conditions.

Funnel clouds were reported dipping from heavy clouds at Silverton, Panhandle and numerous other points in the Clarendon vicinity before one touched down at Hedley. Rhuben Warren Johnson, 55, of Hedley, lost his life when a pickup truck was dropped on him by the tornado as he was making his way to a storm cellar. Mr. Johnson had formerly worked in Clarendon as a mechanic for the Ford garage.

Reports of over 10 inches of rain for this weather system have been reported across outlying areas and for Clarendon proper an official measurement of 5.75 inches for a three day period.

Heavy rains Friday night washed out streets and flooded some buildings.

Gibson's store building received more water than other buildings with two to three inches of water on the floors. The downpour was so heavy roof down spouts could not handle the water and the elevation of the site allowed water to come into the building from ground level.

James Stubblefield remarked, "With the much needed rain we are not griping about any water. Nothing was damaged, we just used a lot of brooms and mops and extra elbow grease."

High water was around Mutt's Cafe also, but years of experience and a lot of cleanup time has made the owners wise in flood prevention and they had their doors taped and got practically no water inside.

Clarendon received little hail and no damage to speak of from it, but streets are rough and muddy in places and water is still standing in low lying areas.

Hedley did receive heavy damage to roofs and other property from tornadic activity, but no dollar amount was made available.

Rhuben Johnson rites held in Hedley

Services for Rhuben Warren Johnson, 55, of Hedley, who was killed when a tornado dropped a pickup on him as he was trying to get in his storm cellar, was at 2 p.m. Sunday, May 28 at First Baptist Church of Hedley.

The Rev. Lewis Ellis, pastor, and the Rev. Bryan Knowles of Clarendon officiated. Burial was in Rowe Cemetery by Spicer Funeral Home of Memphis.

Mr. Johnson was killed about 10:30 p.m. Friday as he was trying to get into the storm cellar at his home.

He was born at Parnell and was a mechanic with Cooper-Woodruff of Amarillo. He married Marie Mendenhall in 1947 at Wellington.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Sharon Boliver of Lubbock and Miss Susan Carol Johnson of the home; two sons, Randy and Ronnie, both of Bowie; a brother, Virgil of Hedley; three sisters, Mrs. Etta Buscher of Clarendon, Mrs. Laura Brittain of Phoenix, Ariz., and Mrs. Dorothy Stephens of Liberal, Kansas; his mother, Mrs. Eva Johnson of Clarendon; and one granddaughter.

Methodist Bible School

Beginning Monday, June 5 and running through June 9, will be the Bible School for the First United Methodist Church. It will meet each morning from 9:30 until 11:30. Mrs. Shirley Clifford is director this year. The morning will consist of class time, art and a recreation period.

There will be a picnic lunch for the group on Friday, June 9.

ASCS news

New target price on wheat and cotton: Under the Emergency Agricultural Act of 1978, the established price (target price) for wheat is $3.40 per bushel, and the loan rate for cotton was increased to $4.48 per pound.

Grain reserve program: Producers with existing CCC loans, may place their 1977 corn and grain sorghum in the three year Grain Reserve Program. Storage payments will be paid one year in advance by CCC—25 cents per bushel on corn and 44.64 cents per hundred weight on grain sorghum. A change in this reserve program is the elimination of interest charges on loans in the grain reserve program, after a commodity has been in reserve for one year.

Failed acreage: If your wheat, barley, corn, milo, or cotton suffers a disaster and you choose not to harvest the acreage, you must have the crop appraised by a representative of this office before any other use is made of the land. If the crop is destroyed without an appraisal you may be ineligible for program benefits.

Frank Lyle Senior Citizen of the year

By Jeanie Weatherly

Clarendon Senior Citizen of the Year, Frank Lyle, was born in the Oklahoma area. He lived in Oklahoma for several years. He first came to Clarendon in 1901 and after he moved to Amarillo, he went into business by purchasing a pool hall. For personal reasons he moved to Clarendon and established his pool hall here. He did very well for a while until a local ordinance was passed and he was out of business. Moving to Tucuman, he again opened a pool hall and later was informed by Bascom White, his attorney, that he had won a lawsuit to operate a pool hall in Clarendon and he returned. Lyle's pool hall was in the basement of the building that stood where the Mackey Theatre is at present. The upper building was a cafe run by Nath Goldson. Again city law interfered and Frank was out of business.

This time he decided to go to California and he loaded his family into a huge 1935 passenger Buick and set off to Oklahoma to visit his brother before leaving for the west coast. He never made the trip to California and returned to Clarendon.

Becoming permanently settled in Clarendon, he bought his present property east of town and worked with Bill Miller as a windmill. He still recalls the prime beef he ate on the T.A. Ranch when they worked the windmills there.

Frank Lyle drives his own car. It does not fit so well in a garage built for a Model T, and works every day in his garden. He has fruit trees, tomato vines and flowers. He still has a windmill on his property, one of the few left around town.

It is his considered opinion that Clarendon was a better town during the time he first came, than it is now. It was larger then, too, that is a matter of record.

Lyle is an active member of the First Christian Church in Clarendon and enjoys a standing invitation to spend Sundays with his daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hearn, who farm west of town. He drives out each week to accept the invitation.

Frank Lyle and his wife had five children. Mrs. Hearn was the only daughter and there were four boys. Two of the boys are living and both live near Dallas. His wonderful family today includes his three children, 15 grandchildren, 23 great grandchildren and 7 great great grandchildren. Their family includes one wonderful father, grandfather, great grandfather and great great grandfather, who likes Donny and Marie on television and also admires Nippy Russel for his quick mind and engaging personality. Another favorite program is "Let the Truth Be Told."

This August, Frank Lyle will be 98 years old. His birthday was kind of special he explained, the first day of the month, first day of the week and another first that had just slipped his mind.

He is certainly a first rate citizen of Clarendon, and the Senior Citizens Organization of Clarendon has named him the Senior Citizen of the Year.

Calvary Baptist Bible School

The Calvary Baptist Vacation Bible School will be June 5th through the 10th. There will be classes for all age groups and fine teachers for every class. Terry Sullivan will be with us again this year, as he has for the past several years.

The Church Bus will run each morning and will pick up the children at their homes, and also return them after the school is dismissed.

Make plans now to attend age groups from three years old through high school. Refreshments will be served each morning at the close of the class session. We are making preparation for the greatest attendance this year that we have ever had. Make plans to attend.

Rebekah dinner Sat. June 3

There will be a Rebekah dinner at Odd Fellow Hall Saturday, June 3, 6 p.m. til 9:30. Ham, chicken, salads and dessert will be served. Adults $2.50 and children under twelve $1.00. Come eat with us and watch the election results.

Mrs. Don Barker, daughter Brenda and a girl friend from Amarillo visited her mother Sunday, Mrs. Leona Quattlebaum.

Vote Saturday June 3

When polls close at 7 p.m. Saturday, June 3, campaigning for county offices will be over and after ballots have been tallied the choice of majority can be made known.

Part of our democratic system of government is enacted each time an election is held. You have a choice again for an elected official to be named to represent you until the next election, for several county offices.

Candidates for County Judge, County Tax Assessor-Collector, County Treasurer and Justice of the Peace for Justice Precinct 2, have been out over the county meeting with voters to make their bid for office.

Time, effort and expense has gone into campaigning. Hard work is the fitting description for the past several months of speaking and appearances for persons whose names will appear on the ballot.

Support the candidate of your choice this Saturday.

Calvary Baptist revival

REV. TERRY SULLIVAN

Rev. Terry Sullivan will be preaching each evening at 8:00 p.m. Terry is no stranger in these parts. Terry has been with the Calvary Baptist Church each year for the past several years. He is one of the great youth Evangelists in this part of the world. You will miss a great blessing if you miss any of these services. This Revival will not only be a youth Revival, but every one is invited to attend all of these services.

The young people of the Calvary Baptist Church will have charge of the services, and will conduct the song service, also they will be presenting many special quartets, solos, and duets. We will also have visiting singers from other churches in this area.

Plan now to attend every service. You will be glad you did.

CHAMBERLAIN COMMUNITY CENTER
 Chamberlain Community Center will have its regular meeting on Friday, June 2nd, at 8 p.m. Bring a covered dish for covered dish supper. The hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. D.R. Kootz and Mr. and Mrs. D.R. Lindley.

Agricultural legislation

By Jack Hightower
President Carter signed the compromise farm bill last week and directed the Secretary of Agriculture to exercise his newly-acquired authority by increasing the target price to $3.40 per bushel for wheat. That will give wheat producers a little more price protection but not as much as is needed. Our best hope for this crop year is for the market prices to move higher. The President expressed reservations on placing a floor of 48 cents a pound for the loan on cotton. If we reach the point where the world market is below 48 cents a pound we need to cut production. Forty eight cents is well below even the Department of Agriculture's figures on cost of production. It is four cents above the formula established loan level that had previously been set for this year.

Two bills that could have a very positive effect on the agricultural economy are still in committee. Both are measures of which I am a co-sponsor.

One bill, the Agriculture Trade Act of 1978, will increase our efforts in development of overseas markets. At this time the State Department does not seem to encourage agricultural market development and the Department of Agriculture has very little budget or personnel to aid in this area.

The low commodity prices and our balance of payments problems should point to this as being a top priority for our nation. This legislation must clear both the Agriculture and Foreign Relations Committees of the House. It is going to take a real national effort from us to regain customers lost through the embargos of three and four years ago. The other bill, to limit meat imports, must go through the Ways and Means Committee. The present formula increases meat imports during times of large supplies and decreases quotas during times of low supplies in the United States. Senator Bentsen has passed a bill through the Senate. I hope that we will see these bills become law before this session is over.

Commissioners

Court met May 19

In a called session the Donley County Commissioners Court met May 19, at 10 a.m. with all commissioners and County Judge W.R. Christal present.

Business transacted was as follows:

- Appointment of Justice of the Peace motion was made by Olace Hicks to appoint Mrs. Carol (Monal) Lewis to serve the remainder of the Justice of the Peace term of Precinct 2, which will be through December 31, 1978. No second to the motion was received.

- Election Judge for Howardwick

- Motion was made by Gene White and seconded by Buford Holland to appoint Mrs. Lois McVickers to serve as Election Judge for voting box No. 1, and to appoint Mrs. Thelma Corgill to serve as Alternate Judge of election. Motion carried.

- Motion was made by Buford Holland and seconded by Jess Finley to recess until a later date. Motion carried.

Miss Hinkle enjoys tour

Miss Ivy Dea Hinkle returned home Monday from a most pleasant visit with her sister, Dr. Amy Hinkle and a friend, Dr. Alice Nichols, of Muncie, Indiana, and with a nephew James W. Hinkle and wife, and Cheryl Lynn of Florence, Alabama. She toured the eastern and southern states and visited in Matamores, Mexico.

Hail-damaged corn or sorghum must be checked closely to determine if the crop is to remain or if it is to be replanted, emphasizes an agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The most important thing to check is the condition of the growing tips of the damaged plants. Other factors include stand, reduction, leaf loss, weed and insect control, the calendar date, local growing conditions and alternative crops.

The office of tax assessor and sheriff has been separated so that both offices can be run more efficiently. I have set up a new card system and made several other changes in this office so that we can serve the taxpayers of this area quickly and efficiently when our services are needed. I would like to further improve this office in the future for your benefit. During the short time I have been your tax assessor collector we have located and added to the tax rolls 151 lots and/or tracts of land, 98 houses and house trailers that were never on the tax rolls and have collected $25,635.67 in delinquent taxes. The addition of the property and efficient handling of tax collections may prevent future tax increases. I have also been attending tax seminars, workshops and various meetings to meet the requirements set up by the State of Texas to become a certified tax assessor. The state has required that by 1982 any person serving in this capacity must be certified. Persons not completing the 7 required courses cannot hold the office of county tax assessor. I hope that you, the voter, will allow me to do this by giving me your support and vote for me in the June 3rd election. Thank you,

From Cynthia Manning

Energy Shortage: We often hear of some of the problems caused by or that will be caused by energy shortage—high utility bills, brown-outs, possible gas rationing, etc.—but petroleum shortages will also affect medical supplies. Petrochemicals are essential building blocks in thousands of drugs including aspirin, cough syrup, antibiotics, sedatives, tranquilizers and rubbing alcohol.

Plastics are also derived from petrochemicals, so a variety of disposable supplies could also be affected. These would include syringes, catheters and oxygen masks.

Ulcers Strike One in Ten: Ulcers, a by-product of modern living, torment an estimated 1 in 10 Americans one time during his or her life. Studies show that ulcers are about three times more common among close relatives of afflicted individuals than in the general population. In other words, there appears to be a genetic factor in ulcer proneness. While ulcers are commonly thought to be caused by emotional conflicts, tensions and stress, no one knows for sure what causes them.

Noise—An Environmental Hazard: We are being threatened by everyday noises that sneak up on you quietly over an extended period of time. They're the noises we have learned to live with in a civilized society—in the home, at work, on the streets. In fact, we have become so used to them we have trained ourselves to ignore them.

But these sounds are causing severe hearing problems, say the experts. And it's not only our hearing that is at stake, it is our hearts, our blood pressure, even our mental faculties. Noise has become as much an environmental hazard to humans as are air and water pollution.

According to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) there are 13 million people working in environments where noise levels are so excessive as to be dangerous to hearing and health. Charles Elkins, deputy assistant administrator for noise abatement at the EPA, also estimates there is a clear and present danger to 15 to 20 million other Americans in situations that are too noisy.

Right now the generally accepted limit on noise is 90 decibels—the equivalent of working 20 feet from a subway train or using a jackhammer or a punch press. But the EPA says 90 decibels is too loud and the acceptable noise level should be immediately dropped to 85 decibels.

The EPA suggests people buy quieter products, and the agency is beginning a program to label noise levels produced by many appliances, tools and auto parts. Here are some tips on how to help protect your home from noise:

Seal cracks around windows with caulking material. This can reduce street noises by half.

Use draperies to absorb noises. They should be thick, and full, twice the width of the wall they cover, and set back from the window but no more than eight inches.

A light pile carpet with a layer of rubberized foam is better to absorb noises than one layer of carpet three times as thick.

Acoustical ceiling tiles can help lower noise. Leaving space between the ceiling and the tiles—by creating a fake ceiling—will keep it still quieter.

Letter to the editor

It is extremely important for the people of this county to know the facts in detail of what takes place at a special called Commissioner's meeting. Your report for the paper should be taken from the Minute Book in the County Clerk's office at the Courthouse, with nothing omitted.

The report in the Clarendon Press about the May 19 called meeting to appoint a Justice of the Peace for Prec. #2 has caused me a lot of personal embarrassment because all of the facts were not included; therefore the public was not properly informed.

Olace Hicks

We don't want open bars and saloons in Clarendon. Donley County has ENOUGH of these already.

With the LEGAL sale of alcoholic beverages for off-premise consumption ONLY

1. A person cannot drink - or even open - a beverage where he buys it.
2. There can be no bars or taverns---- That is the Law.
3. Beverage will be sold by local, licensed, tax paying merchants under strict local and state control.

Let's keep the approximately $18,500 annual in tax monies at home.

- 18.3 billion dollars spent on drink last year.
  - Half of all murders; quarter of all suicides; half of each year's 55,000 auto deaths involved drinkers.
  - Third most serious health problem.

Research news report disposing of wheat straw everybody has ideas about disposing of wheat straw. Farmers disk it, shred it, plow it, burn it, cuss it; other people have great ideas about making it into fuel. Dr. Paul Unger, USDA Soil Scientist says "The best thing is leaving it on the soil surface in a no-tillage farming system". Straw mulch virtually eliminates wind erosion, controls water erosion, increases soil moisture storage, and, consequently, improves yields of subsequent crops. Dr. Unger arrived at this conclusion after 10 years of research at the USDA Southwestern Great Plains Research Center at Bushland, Texas. His mind was made up after a recent 3-year study where no mulch was compared to 0.5, 1, 2, 4, or 6 tons per acre of wheat straw mulch during a 10-month fallow from wheat harvest to sorghum planting. The mulch cover increased dryland sorghum yields 1960 pounds per acre. "Straw on the soil surface is like having money in the bank, and the more the better!", Unger said.

ALCOHOL, AMERICA'S NUMBER ONE DRUG PROBLEM
By Earl F. Dodge

While the news media confront Americans daily with some new tragedies connected with the use of marijuana, heroin, L.S.D. or other widely used harmful drugs, all too little is being said about alcohol. Alcohol is widely recognized by the government as well as by experts in many fields today as America's number one drug problem.

SCOPE OF THE PROBLEM

While addicts of other harmful drugs in America are numbered in the thousands or tens of thousands, alcohol addicts are numbered in the millions. The most conservative estimate places the number of alcoholics and problem drinkers (pre-alcoholics) at 18,000,000.

In September, 1973, Brigadier General Leslie R. Forney, Chief of the Army's Alcohol and Drug Policy division told a Congressional committee that 36% of the Army's officers and 70% of its enlisted men are considered heavy and problem drinkers.

Also alarming is the fact that the number of Alcoholics who are rehabilitated each year are far outnumbered by the number of new alcoholics. It is thus estimated that the total number of alcoholics is growing by at least 500,000 each year. This figure is somewhat reduced by the high alcoholic death rate.

Alcoholics and problem drinkers in America now outnumber the combined population of the states of Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas, Delaware, Hawaii, Idaho, Maine, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North Dakota, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Utah, Vermont, West Virginia and Wyoming.

SOCIAL EFFECTS OF THE PROBLEM

In such a brief outline we can give only the highlights of the far reaching social consequences of the use of alcoholic beverages.

The National Safety Council states that more than half the 60,000 Americans who now meet their death on America's highways each year are victims of alcohol-related accidents. In 1972 more than $25,000,000,000 was spent to purchase alcoholic beverages in America. To this figure should be added the many billions paid by taxpayers to deal with social problems such as crime, mental illness and various welfare programs which can be traced directly to the use of alcoholic beverages. These many billions are thus diverted from legitimate businesses while alcohol plays a key role in America's poverty problems.

Automobile insurance rates are skyrocketing and insurance firms place the major blame on drinking drivers. Judge Raymond Berg of the Chicago Municipal Traffic Court has found that 80% of those arrested in his jurisdiction for driving while under the influence of alcohol are social drinkers — not alcoholics.

An estimated 400,000 Americans die each year from alcoholism and other alcohol-related ailments. This is more than seven times the number of American lives lost in more than twelve years of American participation in the Vietnam War.

SOLUTION TO THE PROBLEM

Since alcohol-related problems are so numerous they can be successfully solved only by a comprehensive approach.

The first essential element in any solution is for Americans to realize that Alcohol IS America's number one drug problem. Alcohol is not some beneficial product misused by a few unthinking people. It is a habit-forming depressant drug which destroys brain cells when consumed IN ANY QUANTITY. It provides no medicinal benefits not more safely and effectively derived elsewhere.

1. An educational program to reach every child and young person in America with the truth about alcohol, its inherently harmful nature and the devastation it can bring about in the lives of millions who use it.
2. A national campaign to de-glamorize the use of alcoholic beverages similar to that now being conducted by the government and health agencies with regard to cigarette smoking. Many Americans use alcoholic beverages largely because of social and business pressures.
3. Laws to make the liquor industry responsible for the results of the use of its products. At present the hard-pressed taxpayer must foot the bill for the damaging consequences of the widespread use of beverage alcohol.
4. Legislation to remove alcoholic beverage advertising from radio and television broadcasting. Most such ads are aimed primarily at the impressionable and immature youth who do not yet fully understand the dangers of alcohol.
5. A time when public opinion will cause the government to deal with alcohol as it does with other harmful drugs. Young people have a valid point when they point to the hypocrisy of banning the sale and use of marijuana while allowing the much more dangerous drug — alcohol — to be freely made, sold and advertised indiscriminately.

Accent on annuals

By Cynthia Manning, CEA

Flowering annuals or bedding plants outshine all other landscape plants in easy and fast culture, variety and color. April is annual time. . . time to prepare soils, plant seed, or select young bedding plants. Annuals cannot be depended on for a permanent landscape item, but are instead a temporary planting used for a seasonal accent of color and delight for the garden. Annuals, if properly selected can gladden garden paths and brighten flower borders every season of the year.

No other group of ornamental garden plants has been developed and enlarged as have the annuals. The combined efforts of the plant collector, explorer, breeder, and introducer change the annual picture each year. Today's annuals are much larger, more gorgeous and varied in form and color than those of last year.

Annuals, referred to as "children of the sun" prefer a sunny, well-drained soil; however, some will brighten shaded pockets in the garden as well.

Ageratum, begonia, alyssum, vinca, balsam, impatiens, caladium and geraniums grow in a light or filtered shade. Other annuals such as cockscomb, coreopsis, cosmos, portulaca, salvia, dustymiller and verbena delight in sunny, hot locations in the landscape.

The fun and success with annuals are achieved through careful pre-planning of the annual bed prior to planting. Careful combination of annual plants, considering time of bloom, color of bloom and size of the plant, is the key to successful color display in the landscape. The wise gardener will use large areas of the same color or the same plant for unity and a dominance of color, to be accented with smaller proportions of a contrasting for interest.

A big selection of flowering bedding plants is now offered to the gardening public by local nurseries, garden shops, variety stores and seed houses. By purchasing plants which are already growing, one can have a display of flowers several weeks earlier than if seed were sown.

The three most widely used bedding plants, throughout the United States, are petunias, marigolds and zinnias. In each of these groups are several types which range widely in habit of growth, size and type of flower. For instance, there are zinnias which grow at least three feet tall with single flowers as much as six inches in diameter. There are also zinnias which grow less than a foot tall with clusters of tiny little button flowers an inch across.

Another bedding plant which is growing in popularity is the begonia. This plant is well adapted to our growing conditions and thrives in partially shaded areas. Recently introduced hybrids and improved strains have played a large part in the popularity of the begonia, not only as a bedding plant in the border but also as a pot plant.

At the time of transplanting, be careful that the roots of bedding plants are subjected to as little injury as possible. If plants are purchased in bands, trays or flats, remove them by slicing downward in the soil between the plants. Lift out each plant with a block of soil and set the block into a planting hole.

A mulch is especially beneficial for annuals. It checks the evaporation of water from the surface soil and also saves a great deal of time otherwise required to keep down weeds. Once established and growing vigorously, your annual bedding plants will provide unsurpassed enjoyment and beauty to your home grounds.

Jan Mathews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Echols, of Albany, Texas graduated from Albany High School Wednesday, May 24. Jan is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.G. Middle-age search for identity

Search for identity reaches its peak during the middle years of life.

Preparation for this period of growth will determine the grace and fulfillment enjoyed or the disorientation and misery suffered in later years.

For some, the 35 to 55 age group is the prime of life—for others, it's over the hill.

Satisfaction that middle aged adults enjoy are:

-Children are maturing and preparing for their own adulthood and careers.

-business and personal careers peak.

-More expendable money is available to the family.

-and, parental responsibilities lessen, though children still need parental support.

-Dissatisfactions with middle age seem to be:

--decline in physical appearance or beauty.

--loss of physical drive.

--less urgent sexual drive.

--appearance of chronic illness.

--more time and no selected leisure activities or interests.

--or, deciding a lifelong career is not satisfying and starting a new, different career.

For couples, the empty nest may provide an opportunity for a renewed relationship.

Couples in middle age might try the following guideposts to renew their secure, old marriage rather than going middle-age crazy trying to recoup their lost youth:

(1) Achieve a new intimacy. Openly declare and share love and devotion for your spouse.

(2) Learn to enjoy the other person's interests. Sharing roles or responsibilities of a spouse provides more time for togetherness.

(3) Seek deeper relationships with friends and family outside the normal "favorites." New friends teach new interests, as well as extending the acquaintance of their close friends.

(4) Help others. Develop or broaden avenues of service to others to fulfill the emptiness of too much leisure.

Library report

Gable Betts Burton Memorial City County Library representative, Shirley Clifford, and librarian, Ilsa Smith, went to Amarillo Monday, May 22 for a council meeting of Texas Panhandle Library Association. One representative for the council was elected. The council is made up of a seven person board who makes the policies and decides how the Panhandle part of Texas Library Association funding is to be spent. That afternoon they selected for area loan fifty-nine books which will be available for six months at no cost to our library. We also received two boxes of books for permanent loan. Some of the books borrowed are in large print. Our library already owned a few large print books. If you need books in large print these are the titles we have available: If Death Ever Slept, a mystery by Rex Stout; The Goodby Look, novel, Lew Archer; To Kill A Mocking Bird, novel, Harper Lee; The Spy Who Came In From The Cold, mystery, John le Carre; Fourth Street East, novel, Jerome Weidman; If Only They Could Talk, James Herriot; All Creatures Great and Small, All Things Wise and Wonderful combined, don't know why they changed the titles.

Green Thumb librarian Mrs. Delma Justice reports that we now have 3,575 books processed and cards filed. She wants us to express our appreciation and thanks to the following volunteers who have given time to cataloging the library. Pearl Hermesmeier, 3 hours; Florence Baker 20 hours; Mildred Hendrix 59 hours; Oressa Delaney 12 1/2 hours; Carlene Hollar 9 hours; Mrs. Morgan Cox 3 hours; Virginia Clifford 9 hours; Mable Mongole 14 hours; Mrs. Cline 10 hours. We have some recent Memorial Gifts. In memory of L.W. Stanford given by Mr. and Mrs. William Lowe two books were selected: The Alaskans and The Ranchers. In memory of L.W. Stanford given by Cathy and Jack Keene, Indian Tribes of Texas. In memory of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Greene, Sr. given by Betty and George Richey a book Frontier Facts of Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Craft and Jack have given a memorial to W.C. Thornberry with the selection pending.

ODDITIES-HELPFUL TIPS

By Joy Miller
Golf may not suit everyone to a tee, but is among the most popular outdoor activities in the world. Presidents and kings play it, comedians crack jokes about it, weekend duffers groan over it, and a small handful of professionals make a fortune from it.

Interestingly, the earliest mention of golf occurs in a prohibiting law passed by the Scottish Parliament in March 1457, under which "golfe be utterly cryed downe." Today, many a weekend golfer toasts his victory with the pride of the Scots, The Glenlivet Scotch.

A helpful tip for good putting is to remember to keep the blade of your putter square to the hole. When you're talking turkey with a businessman, you must look him squarely in the eye. It's the same in putting. When you're talking turkey on the greens, the face of your putter must look squarely at the hole throughout the stroke.

Moose antlers are shed in December, sprout again in April and reach their full size in June.

Department lists weather warning signals

With spring comes the threat of violent weather conditions again. To help alert people to potential danger from heavy weather, the Clarendon Volunteer Fire Department is listing the two signals city residents should be on the alert for during violent weather conditions.

Fire Chief Jerry Gage explained last year's use of the two blast threatening weather signal caused some confusion and led some to believe a tornado had been sighted. "When you hear two blasts of the siren it means there is threatening weather and that we've been notified of possible damaging storms by the weather bureau. People should keep an eye on the skies and watch their TVs for developing weather information. They might also make some preparations for seeking shelter should the weather worsen," explained Land.

The continuous blast of the fire siren means a tornado has actually been sighted approaching Clarendon. All persons should immediately seek shelter from the approaching funnel cloud.

Gage pointed out that persons without storm cellars or basements may come to the fire station's basement shelter. During the approaching heavy weather conditions the Sheriff's Department will have units out keeping watch and the Fire Department will likewise have one unit patrolling

Here to attend the memorial services for Millie Land were Casey Meeks and his sister, Sybil. They also visited with other friends.

Memorial services were held for Mrs. Alma L. Ellis at the Travis Baptist Church in Memphis. The pastor, Rev. V.L. Huggins, held the service. Mrs. Ellis was the wife of the late C.G. Ellis. They lived on the farm near Hedley for several years. We had a good visit with their daughter, Dorothy Montgomery. She lives in Fontana, California. Sympathy is extended to the Ellis family.

Mrs. Essie Crawford has been with her daughter and other relatives in Tyler. She is at home now. Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Clendennen went for her the past weekend.

Memorial services were held for Mr. Burt Whittington of Hereford. He formerly lived in Hedley and was a brother of Mrs. Ethel Kinslow. Mrs. Kinslow is there for a few days. Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Kinslow and other friends and relatives.

Memorial services were held at the First Baptist Church in Hedley for Rhuben Johnson. Rev. Bryan Knowles of Clarendon held the service. Rhuben was a long-time native of Donley County and Hedley. He and his wife Marie raised their family in Hedley and Clarendon. Their two daughters are Sharon Boliver of Lubbock and Susan of the home. ### "Consumer on the go"

"First the Hook and Stall find a Blue Ribbon. Then the Stall frames him and kisses him gently. That's when the Hook takes the poke." Sounds confusing, huh? Not to the V.P. of Corporate Security at American Express Jim McGrath: "This language describes the plight of many a hapless consumer who falls prey to the whims of today's criminal element—pickpockets, purse snatchers, and other assorted thieves. "Translated their lingo means: the hook is the pickpocket; the stall frames the victim (gets in his way) and kisses him gently (bumps him). That's when the hook takes the poke, or relieves the victim of his or her money." How can consumers on the go avoid becoming a blue ribbon or victim? Said Jim, "One way is to protect your money by carrying travelers cheques instead of cash. Cheques can usually be replaced. Cash is seldom retrieved. It's also important to safeguard your cheques, cash and charge cards at all times."

SIX WAYS TO AVOID A HOOK

1. Be alert at crowded places like conventions, stores and on public transportation.
2. Be on guard if you are jostled. A pickpocket may be at work.
3. Men should keep their cheques inside their coat pocket instead of their hip pocket.
4. Women should keep their purses fastened and the flap next to their bodies when carrying cheques, cash and charge cards.
5. Don't leave cheques in cars or at home where pets and children can get them.
6. Keep your cheques, cash and charge cards in a hotel safe and not in your room when traveling.

YOU DECIDE

On June 3, Texas voters will elect one of two men as the Democratic candidate for Railroad Commissioner:

Jerry Sadler, 70, is a twice-defeated former Land Commissioner. Here's what three of the state's leading newspapers have to say about him:

The Austin American-Statesman: "Voters deserve to know whom they will be choosing between in the runoff June 3. Poerner is not a household name; Sadler is. But Sadler has a sorry record in state government. He is the only person ever censured by the Texas House of Representatives (for failure to cooperate with an investigation). He became notorious for attempting to choke then-State Rep. Jake Johnson. He was defeated at the polls in 1970 and lost to Jon Newton in a race for Railroad Commissioner in 1976. And now he's back again."

The Dallas Times Herald: "Sadler has made Texas government a universal target of ridicule and derision."

The San Angelo Standard Times: "Under Sadler, the Railroad Commission just might become the laughing stock he once made of the General Land Office."

IS THERE REALLY ANY CHOICE?

The Railroad Commission regulates the oil, gas and transportation industries in Texas. Our energy and utility rate problems demand vigorous and responsible leadership. We need John Poerner to fight for Texas and protect what is rightfully ours.

John Poerner, 45, is a respected businessman and rancher. John Poerner was elected to three successive terms in the Texas House before being named Executive Director of the Governor's Committee on Aging and Director, Education Resources of Texas.

His honors include being named "Citizen of the Year" in his hometown of Hondo, receiving a "Distinguished Legislator" award from the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association, and being named to the "Agriculture Hall of Fame" at Southwest Texas State University.

He was recently appointed to the Railroad Commission by the Governor.

"Poerner is a solid, competent individual with a record of 10 years of dedicated public service," says the Houston Chronicle. "(We urge) his election."

The Scientists Tell Me...

Electrical Stimulation Increases Tenderness of Beef, Lamb and Goat Meat

By Robert L. Haney
TAES Science Writer

Consumers may soon enjoy meat of increased tenderness and palatability as a result of experiments with electrical stimulation.

Carcasses of three species of animals were divided, shortly after slaughter, at the Texas A&M University Meat Laboratory. One side of each animal, treated conventionally, was compared with the other side which was stimulated with electricity.

Use of electrical stimulation to increase meat tenderness is not a new idea; its use for this purpose was first suggested by Benjamin Franklin in 1749.

But previous studies of this technique have used electrical currents of 250-3600 volts. The present study was conducted to investigate the use of a commercially available low-voltage (uses 110 volt house current) stunning device to electrically stimulate beef, lamb and goat carcasses.

Two experiments involving carcasses from 29 forage-fed steers, 14 concentrate-fed lambs and 11 concentrate-fed goats were carried out by a research team of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. All three species showed increases of greater than 20 percent in tenderness of the longissimus muscle (the main muscle in steaks and chops).

Based on the results of these two experiments, 1) electrical stimulations can be utilized as a method for increasing the tenderness of certain muscles from beef, lamb and goat carcasses; 2) a relatively inexpensive and easily obtained commercial-stunning device can be used effectively for electrical stimulation of carcasses; and 3) electrical stimulation may increase palatability qualities other than tenderness (flavor and overall satisfaction).

Flavor scores for beef from the electrically stimulated sides were significantly higher than those from the untreated side of the same animal, according to Dr. Thayne Dutton, a member of the Experiment Station research team. Other scientists on the team were Drs. Zerle Carpenter, G. C. Smith, D. A. Suter, R. L. Hostetler and J. W. Sevell at Texas A&M.

In the experiments with lambs and goats, flavor changes were not as significantly different as with the beef. However, the process is used commercially in New Zealand abattoirs for accelerated conditioning of lambs.

The difference in results, Dutton says, may be due to intermittent pulses of stimulation at much lower voltage in current experiments compared to the continuous 3000 volts used commercially in New Zealand.

Results from these experiments indicate that electrical stimulation is of greatest benefit for use on carcasses that would produce less tender meat if untreated. Carcasses that are likely to produce inherently tender meat are improved, but to a lesser extent.

"Results of research to date have shown the feasibility of using electrical stimulation for increasing the tenderness of meat from most animals," Dutton says.

"A commercial electrical stimulation device has been produced and is being installed in a commercial packing house operation."

"Research is in progress to determine the best method of implementing electrical stimulation and at which point in the commercial process it will be most effective," Dutton concluded.

Mr. C.E. Weymouth from Amarillo visited with Mrs. Catherine Hagar, and they lunched at Ruby Bromley's for his 88th birthday.

JUNE 3rd

To the voters of Prec. 4 Donley County:
Jess Finley is a candidate in the runoff election on June 3rd for Commissioner in Prec. 4.

We are concerned as the decisions made by the Commissioners Court affect all of Donley County.

He is a person who will work for all, is capable, honest, hard working and will be fair to all.

Donley County needs people who can effectively represent them and is always there when needed.

Jess has proven his abilities during his years as your commissioner and will continue to do so. He has a quick grasp of pending issues that confront the commissioners. His experience as a commissioner gives him a broad base of experience that REALLY qualifies him for the office.

Jess needs your most active support in the June 3rd Runoff Election.

He has represented the town people in Prec. 4 as well as the country people.

VOTE SATURDAY JUNE 3rd

Farmers Should Think 'Cows Per Acre' To Protect Investment

Want to maximize your return on a big investment? Then start thinking "cows per acre" not acres per cow.

Pastures are your lowest cost feed source, so it follows that pasture improvement can be your most efficient route to increased beef or milk profits. While it won't happen by magic, a realistic pasture improvement program is relatively simple.

Start With A Good Stand

If your grass species isn't right, or if the stand is too thin to be productive, start over with a new high-producing grass recommended for your climate, soil and intended use. Interseeding or topseeding of the same species or a new one into your existing thin stand can reduce time and cost involved.

If tough perennial weeds have taken over the pasture, it's usually necessary to get them under control before attempting to establish a new seeding.

Another must when establishing a new seeding is a soil test. If your soil pH is below 6.4, start by applying any needed lime. Then apply enough fertilizer to correct any nutrient deficiencies and seed an approved species at the recommended rate.

Fertilize For Optimum Production

Again, soil pH is a vital factor in any pasture program. Correcting soil acidity levels to the 6.5 to 7.0 range is the first step in increasing pasture production.

Where lime and fertilizer have been broadcast on pastures without tillage, most of the phosphorus and much of the lime and potash remain in the top three inches. Therefore, the soil sample should be taken from the top three inches so it accurately reflects the acidity and fertility level.

Nitrogen is the lifeblood of a good grass program. However, as N use increases, the need for phosphate and potash becomes more important. Potash requirements of most grasses rise rapidly as nitrogen rates increase. So applying only nitrogen is inefficient.

Many people feel that pastures require less fertilizer than forages grown for hay or silage. This can be true if you're not using the total production of the pasture as you would be by harvesting hay or silage. But with good management and full use of the forage produced, grasses have the same nutrient requirements whether pastured or harvested.

Control Weeds

Weeds serve no useful purpose. They cause undesirable effects on your cattle: some are toxic and can cause sickness, abortion and even death; some cause undesirable flavors in milk; others can cause physical injury to cattle.

Then there are the effects on the pasture itself. Every weed uses up valuable space, moisture, sunlight and nurients that are needed by the pasture grasses. Producing a pound of some weeds requires up to ten times the moisture needed to produce a pound of most grasses.

Ignoring the pasture weeds means almost certain death to pasture grasses. When the weather turns dry, the weeds survive and the grass never comes back. Re-establishing the stand means time, expense and lost production.

Fertilizing a weedy pasture is asking for trouble. The weeds respond to fertilizer the same way grasses do, so you end up with bigger, healthier weeds that compete even more vigorously.

Controlling broadleaf weeds in pastures and grasslands is easy and inexpensive. Some easy-to-kill weeds can be controlled with 2, 4-D. Most vines, thistles and hard-to-kill perennials can be better controlled with a combination of Banvel and 2, 4-D (Weedmaster). Mature woody species may require use of 2, 3, 5-T.

For maximum control, weeds should be sprayed while they are actively growing. Consult the product labels for grazing restrictions.

And when you spray your pastures, don't neglect fence-rows and ditch banks. These can be sprayed at the same time with the same herbicides. Left untreated they will serve as weed nurseries to rapidly reinfest the adjacent fields.

Manage For Top Returns
The livestock carrying capacity of many pastures can be doubled or tripled through proper fertilization, weed control and other management practices. But your payoff is measured in meat or milk production. The tallest grass doesn't always translate into the most profit.

The nutritional value of pasture grasses varies greatly depending on time of year and stage of growth. As grasses mature, they become less palatable and less nutritious. Controlled grazing is the only way to maximize your total pasture production.

Your timetable for a rotational grazing program depends on the grass species, production level and livestock num-

It has been my privilege to serve as your County Judge for the past eight years. During this time I have learned from experience and personal study many things which will help me to better serve the people of Donley County. I have lived in this county all my life and I am familiar with its needs. I will attempt to find ways to meet these needs which will be in the interests of the majority of the people.

I have tried to be completely fair and impartial in my decisions and I will continue to do this.

The amount of time required to fulfill the duties of this office has prevented me from seeing each of you personally, as I would like to, so I am taking this means to thank you for your help in the past and to ask for your support and vote in my bid for re-election as County Judge in this Democratic Primary on Saturday, June 3rd

HELPFUL HINTS ON HAVING A Healthy Garden

YOUR VEGETABLES—DO YOU TREAT THEM WELL?

You should have little trouble turning your garden into a movable salad bowl if you sow vegetable seeds once a week over the planting period. Here are some other tips on the tender treatment of your plants.

- Be sure not to crowd your vegetables. Thin most of them while they are still seedlings to give the entire crop room to grow. Remember that radishes, lettuce and other leaf vegetables should be thinned just at the point when they are good enough to eat.
- When sowing seeds directly in the garden, mulch between all the rows, but not on top where the young plants will come up. Wait till the plants are well formed, then weed around them if necessary, and mulch again.
- Be sure to treat your vegetables for soil insect pests before planting. Use an insecticide evenly over the surface of the soil then mix it in. One insecticide is Spectracide® Crawling Insect Control Granules with Diazinon®. This all-purpose insecticide controls many harmful insects that attack onions, radishes, cabbage, carrots and many others.

- Though your vegetables are food for you, they in turn need food, too. Spectrum® Earth Care™ Professional Plant Food (20-20-20) is now available, which can be used effectively on all growing plants. Mix one tablespoon in every gallon of water for your vegetables. Feed every one to two weeks by drenching the soil thoroughly.
- Remember, too, that your garden should never be located too close to the north side of buildings or too near shade trees or tall growing hedges.

By treating your vegetables well, you'll have no trouble making a grocery list, since many of your groceries may be growing in your own garden.

When it comes to decorating, house plants are a natural. Any house can benefit from the addition of a little greenery and any healthy plant will make itself at home in your home, just as long as the lighting conditions are right for it to grow.

At the turn of the century coal supplied 90 percent of America's energy needs. It now supplies only 18 percent.

Between 1971 and 1975, 23 petroleum companies increased their research and development outlays on non-petroleum technology from $23.1 million to $120.9 million. WAS PROHIBITION ALL THAT BAD?

David Lusk recently published some very interesting information seldom revealed relative to those infamous prohibition days. Most of us have been led to believe that the 18th Amendment to the Constitution in 1919 was all bad and that we would never again try such a disastrous bit of legislation. About all anyone can remember is Al Capone and bath tub gin, etc.

What did the 18th Amendment really do? It closed 177,790 saloons and 1,755 breweries. During the next ten years look at what happened.

1. Crime decreased 54%
2. The death rate due to liquor decreased 42%
3. Ninety-seven of the ninety-eight Keely Alcoholic Clinics closed.
4. Insanity decreased 66%
5. All sixty Neel Cure Clinics closed down from lack of out patients afflicted with alcoholism.

Then in 1933, prohibition was repealed. Here is what happened.

1. Drunkenness increased 350%
2. The major St. Louis hospitals alone recorded 400% increase in alcoholic patients.

And, isn't it strange how, here 44 years later, alcohol is the 'drink of the man of distinction' and prohibition is remembered as the 'scourge of the American's liberty.' You've got to hand it to him - the devil has done a good selling job in 44 years.

By the way how do you feel about marijuana? Lot of folks argue that such should be legalized. Politicians are buying votes in large quantities by such propaganda.

Look back at the twenties and see if the arguments are not parallel.

Was prohibition all that bad? Was the repeal all that good?

NEWS OF HEALTH

Beware Of Laetrile

The United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has recently issued warnings to cancer patients and their families:

1. Laetrile is Worthless. Whether sold as a drug (amygdalin) or as a "vitamin" (B-17), Laetrile is worthless in the prevention, treatment or cure of cancer. The substance has no therapeutic or nutritional value.

2. Laetrile is Dangerous. Laetrile can be fatal for cancer patients who delay or give up regular medical treatment and take Laetrile instead.

Laetrile contains cyanide and can cause poisoning and death when taken by mouth. One infant is known dead of cyanide poisoning after swallowing fewer than five Laetrile tablets. At least 16 other deaths from ingestion of Laetrile ingredients (apricot and similar fruit pits) have been documented.

Laetrile is especially hazardous if the injection form is taken by mouth. This can cause sudden death.

3. Laetrile May Be Contaminated. Laetrile is not routinely subjected to FDA inspection for quality and purity as are all other drugs.

Analysis has shown some Laetrile to contain toxic contaminants. Amputees of Laetrile for injection have been found with mold and other adulterants which can be dangerous when injected.

The FDA suggests that those who persist in the use of Laetrile or its ingredients should be prepared to deal promptly with acute cyanide poisoning if the oral product is used. Vigorous medical treatment must be started immediately or death can result. The FDA also urges these patients to watch for early symptoms of chronic cyanide poisoning, including weakness in arms and legs and disorder of the nervous system. And they should keep the drug out of reach of children.

If you know of someone who suspects he has cancer, his best course is to see his doctor immediately. Ac-
