Volume 12 Number 21

CLARENDON, DONLEY COUNTY, TEXAS, JULY 17, 1941

A Common Paper for Common People

WRITE A SIMPLE STORY OF YOUR VACATION TRIP AND GET YOUR LEADER A WHOLE YEAR

Want the Donley County Leader a full year free? Sure you do! Write a story of your vacation trip telling in simple language what you saw and where you saw it. Tell the story of the entire trip from the time you left home until your return.

For instance, here is the Elmer G. Hayes family just back from a trip to Buffalo, N. Y. He says Niagara Falls was the most interesting thing he saw on all the trip. He wonders why they let so much water go to waste.

Then Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hart toured the west and arrived at the Douglas Aircraft Corporation airplane factory in time to see the largest plane ever made, the B-19, make its trial flight. Mr. Hart says it was a great sight to see that big thing with a wing spread of 212 feet take off. They were greatly interested in Boulder dam and the wonderful lot of machinery making power and light as the water slips through the turbine engines.

You have seen some wonderful things on your trip, too. Tell us about them. Bring or mail it to the Leader office. The writers of the three most interesting stories will receive the Leader a whole year free.

Use your own words. Tell it just like you were talking, but include the details. Express your personal opinions as you like about what you saw. But get the story into headquarters right away. The offer expires August 15th.

SOLDIER LETTERS WANTED

Your Donley County Leader wants soldier letters for publication. Every man in the service writing a letter to the Leader direct, will receive the Leader six months without charge.

Those who receive letters from men in the service will do their relatives and friends a distinct service by bringing or sending letters of this nature to the Leader office.

For the present, at least, the metal will be deposited at the office of the County Agent.

O'Daniel Wins By 1311 Votes

It's all over, even to the shouting, since the official canvass of the votes cast in the senatorial race in Austin Monday.

Twice chosen governor by overwhelming majorities, Gov. O'Daniel nosed out in the lead with a bare 1,311 votes out of a total of more than a half million votes cast for some twenty-odd candidates.

The final vote tally is as follows:

O'Daniel 175,590.
Johnson 174,279.
Mann 140,807.
Dies 80,653.
Others combined 4,550.

In the tabulation, the Governor gained 254 votes over the tabulations of newspapers of some two weeks ago.

The Governor has intimated that he will not resign as governor until he is sworn in as senator in Washington. Coke R. Stevenson will automatically become governor of Texas since he is lieutenant governor.

The only interesting angle to the entire race so far as politicians can see, is the fact that Lyndon Johnson did not win after receiving the blessings of the President, and with the help of a number from Washington who are said to have taken an active part in the campaign in behalf of Johnson. It is claimed that the results show that Texans still continue to prefer to do their own selecting without outside suggestions.

Work Is Rushed On School Building

Work is being rushed on the Administration building of the College to place it in readiness for school opening in early September. The building was practically wrecked by the tornado of June 9th.

"I'll have that building ready for occupancy in 25 days or buy the dinners for every member of the School Board," contractor Neil Singleton of Amarillo stated when asked when he could have the building ready.

Mr. Singleton took the job of superintending the reconstruction of both the Administration and Dormitory buildings on a fixed fee basis of $2500. No turnkey contract was possible since so much material can be salvaged from the wreck that will be used in the new building.

Odos Caraway, member of the School Board, is of the opinion that the Administration building can be placed back in first-class condition for approximately $15,000. Portions of the walls have been torn down and are being rebuilt.

Local labor is being used on the job so far as possible. Some few skilled men were imported for the technical part of the work, the Leader was informed.

MURDER SUSPECT FOUND AFTER 8-MONTH SEARCH

PLAINVIEW, July 15.—Sought for eight months in connection with the disappearance of W. B. Munger, Hale County farmer, last October, Jess Long, 43, was held in the county jail here Tuesday.

Long was indicted on a murder charge several weeks ago by the Hale County grand jury. He had been an employee of Munger.

Long was arrested Monday on another charge at El Reno, Okla., where he had been employed at a creamery for eight months under the name of Jack Moore. He was identified as Long by officers who had seen his picture in a detective magazine, and the suspect was held for Hale County.

Long confessed the murder of Munger at Plainview Wednesday, stating that he used a shotgun in self defense. He informed the officers where they could find the body in an abandoned irrigation well. The body was removed from the well a few hours later.

HORNED LIZARD INCORPORATED

Some two years ago a lad of twelve years, came down from Nebraska to visit his grandmother. His name is Phillip Harvey, and the grandmother is Mrs. Monica Marvey. The lad found much of interest on his first trip, and he found possibilities for earning money on the raw prairie.

Phillip found two curiosities. The terrapin and the horned lizard, neither of which abound in his native Nebraska. His father, E. W. Harvey, who accompanied Phillip, drew the line on terrapins, but did permit the lad to take some forty-odd lizards home with him. These he sold to other boys at 25 to 50 cents each.

The past week E. W. Harvey was down to visit his mother, and brought two of his sons with him—Phillip and Kenneth, aged 14 and 10. The lads have diligently collected more than a hundred of the horned lizards, and started for home today. They expect to pay all expenses of their trip and have money left, all of which is not so bad for the idea of a mere lad in capitalizing on a natural asset on a raw Texas prairie. They reside in Ogallala, Nebraska.

FROM VERNON

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cannon of Vernon, and their children Hulda, Bettie and Wilma Jo are spending the week with his father, J. F. Cannon here. Mrs. J. F. Cannon continues as a patient in a Memphis hospital, but is said to show some improvement.

Paul Greene To Asia Station

It was in September of 1939 that a Clarendon youth of fine physique decided to cast his lot with Uncle Sam, and took off for his initial training in his Uncle's flying school at San Diego, California. That young man is Paul Greene, a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. "Bill" Greene here.

Paul completed the prescribed course on the coast and was transferred back to the West Point of the Air, Randolph Field near San Antonio in January of 1940. Because of his intense interest and excellent scholarship, he next became a student at Kelly Field where he graduated in June of 1940, became Lieutenant Paul Greene and became a flying instructor in Uncle Sam's air corps.

By this time Lt. Greene had become accustomed to all kinds of "sky hawks" and their manipulation. He proved an excellent instructor with plenty of zeal and precision, rating among the Uncle's topmost men of his class.

A few days ago he returned home. He left here Wednesday to take a plane at Amarillo with San Francisco as his destination. From there he will join the Central Aircraft Corporation crew that will go to Rangoon, Burma where he will be instructor in a flying corps.

He was released from his obligations to Uncle Sam to permit him to accept the new position that will pay him six hundred dollars a month. His room mate and buddy since he began study at San Diego, Lt. Smith, will accompany him to the Asiatic station.

Donley county is proud of the excellent record of Lt. Greene, and wish him all the luck in the world in his new field of usefulness.

LIKES GIRL DRESSED IN BLUE BETTER AFTER 40 YEARS

As the pioneer picnic period of August 15th draws nearer, more people of the older type, discuss the long ago when the country was wide open, and few people lived in old Donley county.

Among these old-timers is W. I. "Uncle Bill" Rains who resides on the old homestead some three miles northwest of Hedley. He came to this county in April of 1891.

"I was just an ignorant, pudden-footed country boy back in 1891, with only two aims in life—eat and sleep," he told the Leader man Tuesday.

As time went on he grew up, and in 1898 when he showed up at a dance at Giles, he was interested in three things—eating, sleeping and the women. In looking over the crowd, he saw for the first time a very handsome young lady dressed in blue silk or velvet, he has forgotten which.

Mr. Kavanaugh, with his family, left here in the fall of 1939, resigning his office to accept the position of Supt. of the Spade school on the Plains. He had served two terms as county school Supt.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Todd and Misses Johnnie Rhodes and Mildred Pittman attended the funeral rites which were held at Bonham Monday, with interment in the Dodd City cemetery. Mr. Kavanaugh is said to have been on his way to Austin on school business, but was going by Bonham to visit a brother.

Mrs. Lowe had an attack of appendicitis, though 76 years of age. She submitted to an operation, and is getting along nicely according to latest information. Their many friends here will regret that anything marred the pleasant journey that has been such an enjoyable affair.

AUSTIN, July 14.—While the eyes of America are focused on the tense situation in Europe, Texas is bending every effort to aid in National Defense.

Daily this state becomes of greater importance to the whole National Defense Program.

Bombers, of the type most needed by England, are being built at Dallas and Fort Worth. Ammunition will soon be turned out in large volume by the plant now under construction at Texarkana; other articles of vital importance are being turned out daily by Texas industries. Large numbers of ships will soon be constructed in the new yards at Orange and Houston. American soldiers are being trained in modern warfare at Brownwood, Abilene, Mineral Wells, Palacios, San Antonio, El Paso and other cities. American Air Corps pilots are being taught flying, bombing, and aerial warfare at Randolph Field, the huge Naval Air Base at Corpus Christi, Victoria, Cuero, Brady, Corsicana and Stamford. Soon new air school will be completed at Lubbock, Midland, Coleman, Grayson County, and several other points in our state. Mechanics to service American planes will be trained in large numbers at Wichita Falls within the very near future.

Citizens of Texas are thinking in terms of Defense Bonds and Savings Stamps. They are anxious to help. They know that the Canadian people were asked recently to subscribe $600,000,000 to put over Canada's Victory loan and that these friends on our North went over the top by buying $710,958,950 of these securities.

The Secretary of the Treasury, Henry Morgenthau, Jr., said: "Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps give us all a way to take a direct part in building the defense of our Country—an American way to find the billions needed for National Defense."

"The United States is today, as it has always been, the best investment in the world. This is an opportunity for each citizen to buy a share in America."

Drug Store Liquor Law Is Enjoined

A temporary injunction restraining enforcement of the new Texas law limiting the number of liquor prescriptions physicians may write and the quantity of liquor druggists may keep in stock was granted yesterday by the first court of civil appeals.

The case was that of T. V. Ellison, et al, vs. The Texas Liquor Control Board, on appeal from the Walker County District Court which had sustained the act's constitutionality. The injunction was to remain in force until the appeal court's decision on the law's constitutionality.

State Liquor Administrator Bert Ford said at Austin the order meant the control board could issue no more drug store liquor permits, and take no action toward enforcing the law until the court passed on the issue.

A hearing was set for July 24 after an agreed motion to advance the case was granted.

Baker To Teach Giles School

When a man can teach a public school for ten years in the rural belt he is 'going some.' When he can teach in practically the same community for that length of time and get along with the folks, he is an exceptional character.

Right here in Donley county lives just such a man. He is none other than J. E. Baker of Giles.

Beginning with the Giles school in 1931, he closed his work there in 1936 thinking the folks might want a change. He became a teacher of the Smith school, an adjoining community, where he has taught the past five years.

Now Mr. Baker is going back to Giles. When school opens there the folks know they will have a fine instructor, a fine citizen and a most estimable family will continue to make their home in Giles.

Lawmaker Back Home Again

State Representative Ennis Favors has returned from a historic session of the Legislature. The session was considered outstanding because it was the longest in the history, and because it passed more far reaching bills than any on record.

Rep. Favors says that all he's got to worry about is making a living. His pay as a legislator stopped when the session ended, because legislators are paid only for the time the legislature is in session. Unless there is a special session, which lasts only thirty days, the legislature will not meet again until January, 1943.

Mr. Favors was active in passing numerous bills that benefitted the Panhandle, and was one of the sponsors of the Omnibus Tax Bill, known as H. B. No. 8, taxing Oil, Gas, Sulphur, Cement, Transfer of Corporation Stock, etc., which was the largest tax bill ever to pass in the history of Texas, taking care of the entire Social Security Program, including old age pensions, teachers retirement fund, the blind and dependent children. In addition to this placing Six Million dollars per year in the debt ridden general revenue fund. This bill culminated a long and bitter fight, lasting over a period of years.

This legislature raised the 7,000 pound net truck load limit to 38,000 pound gross over all load, and passed the drivers license law which was sorely needed to curb drunken driving in Texas. Also made provision for enlarging the State institutions sufficient to take care of all the insane now in the jails of Texas.

The legislature passed the anti-violence bill to curb strikes in defense plants in Texas, and passed a constitutional amendment prohibiting future legislatures from appropriating out of any fund unless certified by the comptroller that such fund has sufficient cash to cover the appropriation.

THE TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

SKETCH OF LIFE.

In writing a thumbnail sketch of the average life, I would simply say, "champ one day and chump the next." The higher we get our heroes, the harder they fall. That applies to politics, too.

ENLIGHTENMENT.

As a country hick the old Apostle recently stalled around in a real fancy dump that was designated as the "finest" hotel in town. It might have been pure ignorance, but a craving to know what really great men dressed in modern fashion talk about has always been an obsession with the old Apostle. Two such fellows were standing to one side of the crowd and that was an opportunity.

They appeared to be deeply engrossed. Edging up closer to hear every word, the old Apostle got a jolt. They were talking about "how to make skin you like to feel," and (oh! horrors) body odor under the arms! Any one but a hick might have known all that from reading the magazines.

PECULIARITIES.

"Fatal Car Collision," read the headline. And the driver who would not believe that until he tried colliding probably had been vaccinated for smallpox, had taken the cold serum, and had his teeth examined every six months, and was careful of what "he et."

SUGGESTION.

Why not a National Husband's Hour? Fifteen minutes of the time should be observed in absolute silence. Whatta you henpecked guys say to that?

MENTAL GYMNASTICS.

Every time Uncle Sam rants around we get into deep water and mysterious land. Is there no way to change the names of the towns in Iceland where our soldiers are stationed? Hornafjordur, Djupivogur or Berufjordur? Perhaps it is Seydisfjordur where they are stopping on the first leap. A volcano, of which they have many, is named Mt. Heckla. It presumably got its name from heckling a politician's address when it suddenly blew up or out during a hot air race between politics and subterranean tummy-ache. The country was first discovered in 450 B. C., and has been a Danish republic for 1,001 years giving the folks up that way plenty of time to think up hard names.

WOOLY LABELS.

No longer may mothers bent upon the purchase of son's new Sunday suit with long pants dread the ordeal of being hornswaggled into buying cotton under the delusion that she is getting woolen cloth. The new law passed nine months ago requiring that woolen cloth and clothing be labeled, went into effect Monday. The law will bring that calm and quiet through which the winds of worry cannot penetrate, and which the storms of discontent cannot shake. There won't be any of either. Merely look at the label. It tells the whole story. Those who have been in the habit of pulling and burning threads of warp and woof, twisting the corner of the cloth or spitting on it to see if the color will slip, may now merely read the simple facts on a label. Thanks for this goes to the Wool & Mohair Association of Texas. The Federal Trade Commission in Washington will have charge of the law enforcement end of the deal.

WEAKLY POME.

Old Mother Hubbard Hasn't any cubbard. It's been made into a plane. The kids are not there— They're up in the air, And M. H. is a happy Jane.

ODDITIES.

It looks real odd to see an old man walking along the sidewalk homeward bound carrying a handled paper sack with the daily ration of groceries in it. Odd because there was a time when he hauled his chuck home in a wagon pulled by four head of good mules or horses. But that supply had to last his family a whole year because they lived many miles from a store or railroad. Time has caused him to change from chuck to food, and the streamline method of delivery.

NOTORIETY.

This column has advance notice from a lady in a plains town relative to a lady who is to move here right soon. "You won't need to boost her up as she once won a beauty prize here, and she always wants to hang around the men to do her talking. She never belongs to any ladies clubs. She is so egotistical that she can't pray without bragging on herself to the Lord," according to the small hint in the letter just received. Curiosity? Yep, we got plumb plenty of it.

MUFFLED TEETH.

A certain preacher prefers the "debtor" form of Lord's prayer rather than use the "trespass" form. His idea is that so many wear false teeth, and when a flock of these false teeth folk attempt a "trespasses" in union, the whistling sound is something akin to escaping steam from a boiler.

HIGHBROW STUFF.

Achievement and culture are fine, but when things become super-saturated with it to the extent of inflicting uneasiness and discomfort upon others, perhaps it has lost some of its flavor.

LORD HELP US.

Fighting on the earth, above the earth, on the sea and under the sea. We only hope that no evil genius will discover any further methods for destroying the simple-minded human animal.

AMBITIOUS.

Uncle Bill, the bachelor, celebrates each holiday by getting drunk. He says he always wanted to work in a bank so he could celebrate oftener.

SOLILOQUY.

Up to the present, a lot of us haven't worried a darn bit over either Russia or Germany. Our only hope is that they may keep up the fight indefinitely. In other words, a lot of us are easy goin' folks.

THE EXPLORER.

Remember Henry Ford's peace ship? Curious history event, wasn't it. Many people thought it absurd, but he tried to do something. With that pack of wolves on his back in his Ford factory set-up, we wonder if he didn't need several peace ships right at his very door, much less go across the ocean to help a bunch of heathens in another land.

ADVICE.

Nothing is stationary, so don't wear yourself out trying to push a thing forward; just keep it from rolling back on you.

INFORMATION.

The three English generals captured in Africa by the Italian-German army some weeks ago, are said to be entirely out of tea, though they have plenty of garlic and cat meat at their villa in Italy where they are being guarded by a wop who picks a guitar and sings love songs to add to their disgust.

QUESTION.

Jevver steal eggs and roast them on the creek? Silly ain't it—now.

HOLY SMOKE!

The most disastrous thing that could happen to a man financially, is to lose control of his wife's money.

RETROSPECTION.

There was a time when families with dogs could rent an apartment. Then it got to where the families with kids had to take to the brush. No place for kids in the modern apartment. With dogs constantly climbing the social scale, it won't be many years until a sign in front of an apartment will read: Dogs only!

There was a time when the male was supposed to walk next the curb to protect the female. From what? Horse slobber! The "hosses" were tied along the sidewalk and a lot of them slobbered something awful in the fresh grass period. It's all nonsense in this day of parking meters. Just don't let 'em step on you.

Wish I could see a runaway, or fight out a batch of bumble bees, or go barefooted. It just seems like the lives of other folks has been filled with interest from many angles, while mine has been made up of mere days, weeks and years. And a lot of depression years, too, and plenty of dry ones. All along I have noticed that no work and all pay has made many a hornswaggler.

The "Old Faithful" GEYSER

Called by this name because it never misses. Every 60 minutes crowds in Yellowstone Park watch "Old Faithful" perform. The cause is easy to understand. It only demonstrates the old axiom that every effect must have a cause. Smoke moves up. Water flows down. Things don't just happen in our world without adequate causes.

Church News

ASSEMBLY OF GOD CHURCH

Alma Wisdom, Pastor.
Church services every Thursday, Saturday and Sunday night. Sunday school, 10 a. m.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Cecil E. Harvey, Minister.
9:45 a. m. Bible School.
10:45 a. m. Morning Worship.

The Christian Church offers no religion. It is founded upon the teachings of Christ and thus offers Christianity. There is a vast difference between religion and Christianity. (Europe is suffering to-day from religion.) In order to justify their beliefs, some churches have written a new bible, others, articles of faith and others, man-made creeds. All of these are unscriptural. We accept the Bible and where it speaks we speak and where it is silent we are silent.

We will close our church any day and unite with any group of people who will accept the Bible only as the standard for the church.

Don't fail to hear this sermon Sunday morning, "The Church That Christ Died to Establish."

(Special seats reserved for Jehovah's Witnesses.)
7 p. m. The Christian Endeavor will meet.

8:15 p. m. Evening Service.
Subject—"Love on $20 a week."

Sunday evening, July 27, will close this special series on Happy Homes and Successful Marriages. The topic will be The Challenge of the Cradle. A pageant will be presented preceding the sermon. Every one will want to be present for this outstanding service. Something you will never forget.

"Keep your head up, but don't forget to keep your nose on a friendly level."

Flickers or "yellow hammers" are large destroyers of ants. Cocks and "rain crows" feed largely on grasshoppers and caterpillars.

SEQUENCE NUMBERS FOR JULY REGISTRANTS TO BE DRAWN JULY 17

Sequence numbers for the 34,126 21-year-olds who registered in Texas on July 1 will be drawn in the Second National Selective Service Lottery to be held in Washington, D. C., Thursday evening, General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director announced today.

The sequence numbers will determine the order in which these new registrants will be integrated among the old registrants who have order numbers larger than the last selectee of their local board who was involuntarily inducted before Midnight, June 30, 1941, General Page stated.

"For an example," he said, "if a local board should happen to have 10 new registrants and 100 old registrants on its list whose order numbers follow that of the last involuntary inductee as of midnight June 30, then one new registrant would be placed after each group of 10 old registrants."

Any induction made after midnight June 30, will be ignored in the integration of new registrants among old ones, General Page stated.

The lottery, which will determine the sequence in which new registrants will be integrated among old ones, will be held in Departmental Auditorium, Washington, D. C., at 7 p. m. (E.S.T.) Thursday, July 17.

A set of serial numbers, each preceded by the letter "S", from "S-1" to include the largest number used by any local board in the country in assigning serial numbers to July 1st registrants, will be drawn by lots. Approximately 800 numbers will be drawn, General Page said.

The serial numbers in the order they are drawn in the lottery will constitute a master list to be used by local boards in assigning "Sequence Numbers" to their July 1st registrants, in this manner:

The registrant in each local board area whose serial number first appears on this second master list will be given "Sequence

Number 1" in his area; the registrant whose serial number is next closest to the top will receive "Sequence Number 2", and so on until each July 1st registrant has a sequence number.

As was the procedure in connection with the previous national lottery in October, 1940, local boards will cross off on the second master list and ignore those serial numbers that are not held by any registrant in their areas.

When sequence numbers have been assigned to all new registrants, the local boards will assign each of these registrants an order number to be determined by integrating them among the old registrants. This means that the new registrant with Sequence No. 1 in his local board area will receive the lowest order number assigned to his group, and the registrant with the largest sequence number will receive the highest order number for the same group.

He cited a recent amendment to the Selective Training and Service Act, which also exempts, under certain conditions, men who have satisfactorily served in reserve components of these branches of the Nation's armed forces.

The original Selective Training and Service Act provided such exemption only for men who had served in the Regular Army, National Guard or Reserve Army, General Page explained, and a number of registrants who are now exempted by the amendment have been inducted into the Army. These men, he said, may be discharged upon application made through their company commanders to the Adjutant General's Office of the War Department.

The amendment extends relief from liability for Selective Service training to the following former members of the Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard Reserves.

Arizona's Petrified Forest

The most spectacular manifestations of petrified wood known in the world, as well as the most colorful, are to be found in the Petrified Forest National Monument, 20 miles east of Holbrook. Accessible from either U. S. Highway 66 or State Highway 260, six separate "forests" are included within the boundaries of the monument which annually attract many thousands of visitors. According to geologists the trees which now are petrified were living over 160 millions of years ago. Buried for millions of years following vast upheavals the logs were saturated with water in which silica was dissolved which replaced the original wood cells.

It's like the salesmen who go from house to house looking for customers. Advertising does the same job on a larger scale.

It's quicker—reaches more people—at a lower cost per call.

Big Opportunity Given College Men In Navy

NEW ORLEANS, July 17.—One of the finest opportunities offered any young man desiring to serve his country in the present national peril is afforded by the United States Navy in its recently instituted V-7 class of volunteer reserve commissioned officers.

The Navy, expanding at the rate of one-man-of-war a week, is moving rapidly toward its goal of a two-ocean fleet by 1945. There is a desperate need for junior officers to man these ships—from the "battle wagon" down to the small inshore patrol craft. To obtain these officers, the United States Naval Reserve has opened its ranks to unmarried, able-bodied men between 20 and 28 years of age, holding a degree from an accredited university.

These young men enlist as seamen in Class V-7 and are sent either to Northwestern University in Chicago, to the old battleship "Prairie State" moored in the Hudson River, or to the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis. After one month of indoctrination and physical training, the recruit is appointed a midshipman and embarks on a highly intensive course of training in naval science—seamanship, navigation and engineering. Three months later he is commissioned an ensign in the United States Naval Reserve.

After ten days shore leave with his family, the new Naval officer is sent to a battle station with the fleet, or to some important Naval shore establishment. Thus he takes his place alongside the regular Naval officers graduated from the United States Naval Academy.

The pay of an ensign is $125 per month, with additional allowances for food, quarters and uniforms. A policy has been established by the Secretary of the Navy which guarantees that all men in the Naval Reserve will be retained on active duty only so long as their services are required, and they shall be returned to private life as soon after the emergency as they can be spared.

Fall classes are being filled now and anyone desiring to enlist should inquire either at his local Naval Recruiting Office, through his Postmaster or write direct to the Commandant, Eighth Naval District Headquarters, at New Orleans. Truly this is one of the finest opportunities offered any young man wishing to serve his country.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN AMERICAN BUSINESS
By John Craddock

Over The Hill

NEW YORK, July 14.— Well, we finally made it. After 12 long years it is now possible to say that the people of the United States are earning more money than ever before in history. Income payments to individuals reached a record high during May, equal to an annual rate of $86,000,000,000. This compares with total income payments last year just under $76,000,000,000 and a peak figure in 1929 of just over $82,000,000,000. Let's take a quick look at some of the places this earning power is coming from. Railroads, for example. Every day nearly 130,000 freight cars are being loaded with commodities and merchandise of all kinds. Down at the shipyards the Navy's construction program involves more ships than have been turned out in the last 25 years. In the construction industries business is humming. Residential building alone is at the best pace since 1928, when 750,000 new dwelling units went up. The steel industry in the first half of 1941 produced a record-breaking total of 41,000,000 tons. That's within 20 per cent of steel output in all 1917, peak year of World War I. And so it goes throughout the warp and woof of our present national defense economy.

Upward Bound

Despite record earning power in the U. S., that old maxim about more guns meaning less butter is coming true once more as America edges nearer a wartime economy. According to the national bureau of labor statistics, the folks in New Jersey paid 31 per cent more for pork during June than they paid a year ago. Eggs were up 37 per cent. Butter, which cost 32 cents a pound in June, 1940, was up to 41 cents. Although statisticians cannot place their fingers on a single reason for such increases, they're due in part to the hearty appetite of Uncle Sam's draftee army and also—in certain cases—to purchases by Britain. So-called "luxury" items are going up, too, of course. For example, a 20 per cent increase in the retail cost of liquor can be expected, what with the projected $1-per-gallon federal tax boost, higher operating expense and rising cost of practically every raw material used in the product. So that's the other side of the story, and it does cast a sobering shadow over the optimistic tidings of industrial output and wage increases.

Contrary to popular notion, it is perfectly safe to eat acid fruits and drink milk at the same time, University of Texas home economists declare. Milk curdles as soon as it reached the acid gastric juices in the stomach anyway, and to combine fruit and milk forms a more easily digested curd.

Chiropractic
RADIOCLAST EXAMINATION (Radio Diagnosis)

Do Poisons Cause Rheumatism?

In addition to the direct involvement of the nerve fibers which supply the joints, there is usually an accumulation of poison which serves to increase the already latent inflammation. This is evidenced by the prevalence of rheumatic attacks following the production of poison in remote parts of the body. Such an example is that if tonsillitis which is so often followed by rheumatism. It is also found that infected teeth and sinuses which produce pus are often followed by rheumatism. The reason lies in the absorption of toxins from these infected parts and their distribution through the entire system. When this occurs, they naturally have the most profound effect on the already weakened tissues. In this case the weakened tissues are in the joints and hence rheumatism develops. It is necessary then that we not lose sight of the secondary factor which is in part responsible for the acute attacks of rheumatism. Every case should be examined thoroughly to discover the source of infection and to correct the condition which provides it. This also, the Chiropractor is trained to do and having found that source, he removes its cause by correcting abnormal conditions in the spine.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

Clarendon Independent School District

No. 76, passed by the State Legislature, wherein all penalty and interest, except 6%, is remitted on tax due and delinquent prior to July 31st, 1940; providing all tax due is paid before November 1st, 1941.

The provisions of this remission bill were adopted by the Board in order to encourage payment of delinquent tax due the District at this time and to help relieve the financial problems caused by recent storm damage to school property.

Property owners, owing delinquent tax, can make a substantial saving in interest and penalty charges and at the same time materially aid their schools in this emergency. The provisions of the Act expire November 1st, 1941.

NOT ALL PIONEERS RODE IN COVERED WAGONS...

- Establishing and maintaining a Dependable Natural Gas Service requires years of pioneering—in exploring for Gas fields, drilling and producing Gas, and bringing it to market—often under the most difficult working conditions.
- The covered wagon pioneers were famed for their resourcefulness, their pluck and determination to succeed. The story of the development of Natural Gas Service is likewise one of courage, persistence, and accomplishment in the face of odds.
- And the pioneering is not ended. The employes of this Company and associated Companies are constantly at it . . . exploring new fields, far from home and comfort . . . "roughnecking" on drilling location . . . building pipe lines through forest and swamp . . . all to help perfect and preserve the reliability of our service and make it available to still wider markets.
- Not all pioneers rode in covered wagons. Our drilling crews and pipe liners can testify to that!

COTTON STAMP PLAN APPLIES TO NEAR CROP FAILURE

It is permissible for Donley County cotton producers to dispose of cotton to comply with the supplementary cotton program to bring their acreage reduction in line with the reduction indicated on their intention sheets, Walter J. Flynt, Secretary of the Donley County AAA committee, has announced.

This is made possible, Flynt explained, by the recent amendment to the 1941 Agricultural Conservation program which provides that acreage will not be considered as planted to cotton if the cotton is disposed of before reaching the boiling stage or within 10 days after the notice of the seeded acreage is given, whichever is later.

"Under no circumstances, however, may a cotton producer receive cotton stamps for reducing more acreage than he signed on his original intention sheet on the cotton stamp program," Flynt said.

"To make this ruling clearer," Flynt said, "assume, just for illustration to bring out my point, that a cotton producer has a 1941 cotton allotment of 50 acres, planted 50 acres in 1940, and to receive cotton stamps, indicated a reduction of 2 acres. This would permit 48 acres to be planted to cotton for this year. However, when the cotton acreage was measured, he showed 49 acres planted. He would be allowed to dispose of 1 acre to come within his intended 48 acres but he would not receive cotton stamps on more than 2 acres since this was the amount signed on his original intention sheet."

Under the original definition of cotton, the acreage of cotton disposed of below the acreage allotment would still be classified as acreage planted to cotton.

The amendment also provides that if cotton is seeded but does not reach maturity, the smaller of (1) the acreage seeded to cotton, (2) 3 acres, or (3) 3 percent of the 1941 cotton allotment will be considered as having been planted to cotton. This provision was made, the AAA official pointed out, so that farms will not show zero acres of cotton when cotton was actually seeded.

The new amendment also permits producers to dispose of cotton acreage to come within total-soil-depleting acreage. By this method, deductions for over-planting total soil-depleting allotments will be avoided.

Mrs. Truett Behrens and children spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. H. L. Pierce, in Hedley.

SIDE GLANCES ON TEXAS HISTORY

By Charles O. Hucker
University of Texas Library

The Famous Fight at The Council House
Long after the Battle of San Jacinto supposedly had decided once and for all the question of Anglo-American settlers' rights to their new homes in Texas, blood still was spilt for those rights, torture was undergone, suffering was borne. For even after the Mexican Republic for all practical purposes had relinquished its claim to its old province, the settlers had yet to cope with another hostile nation—a nation in one sense even more menacing and more terrifying — which fought long and savagely to hold what once had been its homeland.

This other conflict was with the Comanche Indian nation. And when a Comanche warrior—daring, strong, courageous and imbued with a holy zeal for what he considered a holy cause—met face to face with an old-time Texan, fireworks could be expected. Such was the case at the famous peace conference in the San Antonio Council House. Its story is one of the most ironic to be found in the voluminous Texas Collection of the University of Texas Library, for this "peace" conference precipitated one of the most bloody episodes in the history of the state.

A Peace Pact?
That the hard-headed Comanches would ask for peace was strange in itself; so when, early in 1840, their envoys arranged for a talk with Texas commissioners, the Texans began to prepare themselves for any emergency. And on March 19, when sixty-five Indians, women and children among them, rode into San Antonio for the conference a troop of Texas soldiers was on hand as well.

Now the original arrangement had called upon the Comanches to bring in all of the white prisoners they had taken—thirteen, it was believed—before the Texans would consider any sort of a peace at all. But when the two parties met over their talk only one captive was produced, Miss Matilda Lockhart; and Mukwarrah, one of several chiefs in the Comanche party, denied any knowledge of others supposedly in their hands.

The Texas commissioners found Mukwarrah's stand a hard one to accept, particularly after speaking with Miss Lockhart, who had seen others in camp only the day before. And Mukwarrah, in his turn, was in no mood to be doubted. After watching the commissioners discuss the problem among themselves for a few minutes, he broke in with a defiant "How did you like the answer?"

An Ultimatum Rejected
To this there came no reply; instead, the troop of soldiers marched into the conference room stationing themselves solemnly about its walls. And then—stepping into the doorway and bolting out of sight the moment he had said his say—the official interpreter gave Mukwarrah the Texas ultimatum: that all of the Comanches must stay in San Antonio as hostages until their remaining captives were brought in.

Well, the interpreter bolted just in time, for it became evident immediately that the Comanches had no intention of staying. In a few seconds the battle of the Council House was on, hand to hand; and when at last it was ended, both inside and outside the place, thirty-seven Indians lay dead and twenty-seven women and children were captives, one Mexican renegade having escaped. Of the Texans, seven were dead and eight were wounded.

This loss of its chiefs at San Antonio was a supreme crisis in the history of the Comanche nation, and from that bloody March day on everyone must have realized that the Indians would not rest until their revenge had fallen upon the white man. In August it did fall: it was the long-remembered Comanche invasion of 1840, the most terrible Indian uprising

Price Control Means Self Denial

Enough controls are available to check inflation in this country during development of the armament program, but the vigor of their application will be limited within the boundaries set by public opinion, according to W. E. Morgan, economist of the Texas A&M College Extension Service.

Inflation means a rise in the general price level. If enough of the increased consumer buying power, entailed by expanding employment and rising wages, could be siphoned off so that the amount left for spending stays in line with the supply of consumer goods, there would be no reason for prices to get out of hand. To do this the government could take the surplus buying power in the form of taxes, or it could be saved and loaned to the government. Alternate methods are direct price controls and rationing of consumption.

"While public opinion now seems to favor government action to prevent inflation," Morgan explains, "such action will require individual sacrifices which many persons have not considered. When some of the more stringent controls are applied, with consequent reduction in consumer buying power, many persons will prefer to take chances with inflation rather than undergo the immediate cost of preventing it."

It is not likely people of this country would adjust themselves easily to the burden of diverting one half or more of the national income, as in Britain and Germany, to the war effort, Morgan says. To the public's unwillingness to assume the full burden of maintaining an elaborate military machine without a few years to think it over add the fact that it is humanly impossible to foresee all the changes in fiscal policy which future events will prove to have been desirable.

"This leads to the conclusion that a certain amount of price inflation in the United States is inevitable, but it should not be too difficult to hold it far below the limits to which it went in the first world war. If the current defense effort can be managed in such a way as to hold the price level fairly close to its present position the dislocations in economic activity which will occur in any event, will be greatly minimized."

Mrs. Tom Coke Connolly stopped here Saturday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williams while on her way to Dallas, and to Houston for a house party.

Trees Govern Temperature

COLLEGE STATION, July 16.

—On hot, sunny days following rainy spells the interior of a green shelterbelt may vary as much as 20 degrees from a thermometer reading in the sun several hundred yards away, says W. E. Webb, state director of the Prairie States Forestry Project, whose headquarters are in Northwest Texas.

"When the thermometer reads 90 degrees in the sun, the green canopy often cools the temperature to 70 degrees under the trees," he explains. Many of the belts planted in 1936, 1937 and 1938 make ideal picnic spots. Cottonwoods and some Chinese elms are now 15 to 30 feet high and provide excellent shade, while the green protective walls of shrubs and field rows keep the hot wind out.

Benefit From Cotton Loss

"It might be advisable", Walter J. Flynt, Secretary of the Donley AAA committee has announced, "that in cases where Donley county cotton producers will suffer total or partial loss of their 1941 cotton crops because of excessive rains, insects or abandonment, to dispose of the acreage on which cotton will not be harvested."

In explaining this point, Flynt said that a high acreage of cotton with a low lint yield per acre because of factors such as these, will, in all probability, affect cotton yields on individual farms under the 1940 agricultural conservation program and probably will have a direct effect on cotton insurance since an extremely low yield might affect premium rates.

Producers should remember, however, that acreage will be considered as planted to cotton this year if the cotton is not disposed of before it reaches the boiling stage or within 10 days after notice of the seeded acreage is given, whichever is later. This would not change the basis for cotton stamps to be issued on a farm since cotton stamps cannot be obtained on more acres than was shown on the original intention sheet.

COTTON HIGHEST SINCE 1930

The cotton exchange in New York chalked up the price of cotton to 16 cents Tuesday, the highest price since April 1930.

Cotton sold for 4.91 in 1932 when the depression was at its peak, the lowest price since November, 1898.

Model Home Now Under Construction

Work has been started on the Cameron-Built "TEXAN" model lowcost home at 400 Taylor St., and will be open for inspection the entire week of August 24, 1941.

"The purpose of this home," declared Roy C. Wyatt, manager of the local Cameron building material store, "is to demonstrate by practical example that a modern home of real beauty and livability can be built today with good quality materials and paid for with monthly payments of less than one dollar per day. It is our aim to encourage the building and owning of small homes of sound value and quality in the popular-priced field. This will supply a real demand for quality homes at low cost."

This home was designed by the Home Planning Department of Wm. Cameron & Co., Inc. and is one of more than fifty attractive home designs created especially for the Southwest and offered exclusively to Cameron customers.

The general construction work is being done by John M. Bass. Sub-contractors are: Speed Bros. concrete installations and Ralph Decker, painting, decorating and paperhanging. Furniture and furnishings for the open-house week will be provided by Clarendon Furniture Company.

In keeping with Cameron's long-established policy of providing good-quality materials at the lowest possible cost, a policy based on seventy-three years of home-building service in the Southwest, the "TEXAN" will be built of materials equaling, and in most instances exceeding, the quality standards set up by the Federal Housing Administration.

The FHA has already issued a commitment to insure the mortgage upon completion of construction, and FHA inspectors will be on hand to inspect and approve the construction as it proceeds.

The materials, in addition to FHA - approved sound-quality lumber, include the famous Step-Saving IDEAL Flawless Kitchen and other IDEAL Built-in Cabinets and Woodwork, IDEAL Windows, Doors, Screens, and other items of IDEAL Standardized Millwork. Minnesota brand paint was selected because of its exceptional ability to withstand the strong sunlight and other severe weather conditions of the Southwest. Choice selections of Cameron's "1941 Smash Hit" wallpapers will be used. Effective termite shields will be built into the foundation to exclude termites and all other crawling insects. This house will contain six rooms and will be of frame construction. Floors will be of oak. The roof will be Red Cedar Shingles.

ICED DRINKS POSSIBLE FOR EVERY MEAL

The custom of having iced tea and iced coffee with meals through the summer is rapidly becoming a universal custom, we are told. The Duncan Coffee Company of Houston is making a specialty of particular brands for both.

You can get Admiration coffee and Admiration tea from advertising grocers in your Donley County Leader. Try them. We confidently believe that you will like either or both, as you choose to serve at meal time during the summer.

The producers have great faith in their products. They advertise them and make every effort to acquaint you with the merits of Admiration coffee and Admiration tea. Though the quality is high, the price is no higher than some of the common grades you have been buying.

The demand for Admiration is increasing daily. There is a reason. Try Admiration next.
