Medical Center Nursing home gets superior rating

In a letter received earlier this week, Billy Ray Johnston Administrator, was informed that Medical Center Nursing Home, in Clarendon had been given a superior rating by the Texas Department of Health.

To qualify under the rating system, an exceptional effort must be made by a facility to exceed minimum standards in services and personnel, according to Commissioner of Health Dr. Raymond T. Moore.

The Superior Certificate came as a result of a recent inspection of the Intermediate Care facility III here in Clarendon. The present Superior rating will be effective until a re-determination is made pursuant to rules and procedures governing grading.

Dr. Cesar M. Elizondo expressed his congratulations on behalf of the Texas Department of Health, to Johnston for the maintaining of this superior level of care by his staff.

Bronchos-Skyrockets clash

The Clarendon Bronchos and Wellington Skyrockets meet in an important district game Friday night here at 7:30. Both teams come into this game at 1-1. Wellington gave the Bronchos a boost with a 6-0 victory over Shamrock last Friday night. The Irish had defeated the Bronchos the previous week.

Coach Allen's comments on Wellington:

The Skyrockets hit hard by graduation last year have struggled at times this year. Despite their 2-5 record they are still a very tough, physical team. That is the type of game we are expecting from them. They have beaten Hollie, Okla. and Shamrock with losses to Elk City, Okla. Childress, Electra, Floydada, and Panhandle. It is an important game for both of us and I'm sure the Bronchos will "Rise to the occasion".

The Rockets returned only one offensive and two defensive starters from their championship team of last year. Danny Wischkaemper (6-0, 200) All District Defensive End, Robert Powell (6-1, 180) Running back (tight end last year), and Fullback Tim Anderson (5-11, 175) are important parts of their offense. They also do have some size even though they are small in numbers. Alvin Pennon (6-3, 200), Kirk Patterson (6-0, 200), Joe Saldana (5-11, 200) and Haskell Bonadarte (5-11, 190) all are pretty good linemen.

Last weeks district results: Clarendon 63, White Deer 10; Panhandle 42, Memphis 0; and Wellington 6, Shamrock 0.

This Friday's schedule: Wellington at Clarendon, White Deer at Panhandle and Shamrock at Memphis.

Bronchos spank White Deer 63-10

By RICK HAYES

Before the Clarendon Bronchos trotted onto Buck Stadium in White Deer, each of the Buck players were introduced with their parents to the crowd. On this special night, each player walked with his parents onto the field, to the 50 yard line, and to the sidelines. It was a very dignified ceremony for fans, parents, and sons alike.

When parent night was over, the Bucks were like beaten step-children, courtesy of the visiting Bronchos. Indeed, it was not a pretty sight for White Deer. But it was a beautiful game for Clarendon. The maroon and white rolled up a season high 690 yards total offense, including 51 yards through the air, and an astonishing 639 yards overland. When asked why, Coach Ted Allen responded paternally, "That's the type of kids they are. They were mad, embarrassed. They had something to prove to themselves."

The Bronco defense, better known as Doomsday III, was like a brick wall. Everything the Bucks tried to do, they would find themselves thwarted. They posed absolutely no offensive threat provided by their own skill. They could only try to capitalize on a Bronco mistake. All of their points were set up by Clarendon turnovers.

From the very first offensive series right to the last, the Broncos dominated play. The first time the Bucks had the ball, following the opening kickoff, they gained 2 yards on 4 plays. Then they punted. The Broncos first play yielded a 63 yard gain by Lynn Thompson for a first down at the 10 yard line. It also yielded the first of 9 fifteen yard penalties stepped off against Clarendon, this one for clipping.

The play brought on a Mark Jack fumble. The Bucks recovered. It took six plays, a penalty (15 yards no less) and a three yard run by tailback Ricky Swaney to give White Deer the first score of the night. David Gallett's extra point split the uprights and the Bucks led 7-0.

The Broncos stormed back to take the lead when Bobby Weatheron (who gained 223 yards on 8 carries for a 28 yard average) ripped 56 yards un-molested for the touchdown. Thompson found fullback Mark Jack at the flag for 2 points, and Clarendon led 8-7. The Broncos played "Steel Curtain" on White Deer again, forcing a Buck punt. Lynn Thompson weaved in and out of the Bucks' for a 47 yard touchdown return. Clarendon led 14-7. But the Bucks were totally ineffective. They not only were shut down completely by the tough Bronco defense, but they made extremely hard for themselves with their bumbling, raggedly run offense. "It's hard to do anything," remarked Allen, "when you build your offense around halfback passes."

Broncos got the ball back, and immediately opened up, with Lynn Thompson connecting with Tim Brown for a 29 yard touchdown pass. Thompson bottled the extra point, and the Broncos led 21-7 at that point. A 37 yard field goal by the Bucks' David Gallett made it 21-10 at the half.

The Broncos really took control in the second half. On the second play from scrimmage, Bobby Weatheron cut loose for a 43 yard jaunt through the heart of the Buck defense. Hosea Hearn ran it to paydirt from the three. A try for 2 failed, and the score stood 27-10. This is where Doomsday III began to show its colors. The Bucks lost 10 yards on 2 plays and quick kicked on third down. It traveled 15 yards where the Broncos took over. Alternating offenses (platooning 11 men in and out), the Broncos ground to the three where Jeff Topper caught a Brad Thompson pass in the end zone. Thompson's point good, it was 34-10.

The Bucks' next series produced a familiar result: nothing. In fact, for the rest of the night White Deer's "tango offense" (one, two, three, kick) produced

GENE AND BOBBIE MOORE will be the musical part of the revival of the First United Methodist Church.

Gene and Bobbie Moore to bring music at United Methodist Church

Former residents of Clarendon, Bobbie and Gene Moore will bring their music to the Methodist revival November 11-14. They are a familiar pair to many residents. Bobbie grew up in the Lelia Lake community and attended local schools before her marriage to Gene Moore.

Gene and Bobbie Moore, a husband and wife musical team from Waco, Texas, have been in full time musical and preaching evangelism since 1962. Gene is an ordained United Methodist Minister, under appointment from Bishop Alsie Carleton of the Northwest Texas Conference. Before entering the field of full time evangelism, Gene held several pastoral appointments in the Northwest Texas Conference.

Gene and Bobbie have been asked many times why they have chosen evangelism as their Christian Vocation. Gene says, "Where our talents and abilities meet the needs of the World, there we find God's will for our lives. We like to think of our ministry as one of sharing. The sharing of talents, the sharing of heartaches and triumphants of a child with leukemia, the sharing of joys to answered prayer, the sharing of God's love for all regardless of age, race or creed, and the sharing of God's Word."

The Moores have shared in Music and Word in hundreds of churches and camps throughout the United States. They have done special work for the National Board of Evangelism of the United Methodist Church, the United Christian Ashrams, Jurisdictional and Annual Conferences. They have sung for meetings in Japan, Indonesia and India. They have appeared as guests on several television and radio programs.

A part of their ministry has been the recording of six long play albums of music, which they make available to the persons who hear them. Their latest albums, "O Glorious Love" and "He Touched Me", were released at the first of the year.

A ministry that is next to their heart is the building of a church in India in memory of their son Timothy who died of leukemia. "We have finished one village church and are now saving for the second one. We thank God that in this way a little boy continues to live not only in our hearts but in the hearts of other children in India."

Gene and Bobbie are deeply grateful to Bobbie's mother, Gladys Seago, who stays at home with the children to keep them in school. Susan 19, is a freshman in college in Waco. Laurie 13 a niece and foster child is in 7th grade. Jonathan 6, is in kindergarten. In the summers, the children are a part of the team, singing and helping any way they can.

absolutely nothing. Clarendon took over and drove like wildmen. From the 3 again, Hearn scored. Lance Thornberry hit Tim Brown with a wide screen pass for 2, to lead 41-10. The Bucks did not respond with anything but a turnover. However, the Broncs did no better, and punted. It traveled a measly 15 yards out-of-bounds. The Bucks tried a field goal by Gallert on fourth down, but it was blocked and recovered by Terry Cole.

shot the works. Reserve fullback Terry Putman and tailback Alvin Reese exploded for huge gains. Lance Thornberry hit Tim Brown with a 6 yard TD pass. The floodgates were open, and the White Deer Bucks were being swept away like driftwood.

Next Buck drive did nothing (sound familiar?). Lance Thornberry scooted loose for 35 yards, where Lynn Thompson hit a 41 yard field goal, which would have probably cleared from well over 50 yards out. The Broncs held a 48-10 edge.

On the first White Deer play, quarterback Darin Skaggs threw an interception to linebacker Barry Haste. Haste returned it to the 16 where Lynn Thompson hit flanker Drew Thornberry on a slant-in for a touchdown.

Again, the Bucks threw an interception. This time to cornerback Bill Cornell. An end-around to Alpo Gaines netted 18 yards. Reserve back Tommy Lane went in from four yards out for the score.

Another White Deer turnover, a fumble recovered by Mark White, proved to be the final blow to a withering White Deer team. Lance Thornberry capped the scoring with a 3 yard touchdown run.

"It's worked well for us," conceded Allen, "It's good to have that kind of depth."

White Deer is a forgotten game now, as all eyes focus on the Rockets of Wellington, who are in town Friday night. The Broncs and Rockets love each other not. It is a bitter rivalry, with the flames fanned by the departure of the Rocket JV during the fourth quarter of a game here. The feeling was best summed up by Coach Allen when he remarked, "I detest those people. If we block their multi-facet defense right, we'll whip them. They'll be as tough a team as we've faced...but if we block'em, we'll beat'em."

I'll take the Broncs one more week, this time by 4. I have a good feeling about this game, and the Broncs will come through again, I'm sure, in a tough defensive battle.

Outstanding Broncs
Offense-Bobby Weatherton, Brian Murray, Mickey McGuire, Lance Thornberry, Brad Thompson
Defense-Bill Cornell, Jon Nichols, Randy White
Special Teams-Dean Hawkins, Barry Haste, Alpo Gaines, Lynn Thompson.

Before I go on I must say that one key player was not mentioned often because of film problems. Bill Cornell had three interceptions with long runs, on all of them. They were all called back for penalties. He tipped away several more passes and made many key plays. Sorry for this omission, but large splices in the film cut out several of these plays making it difficult to place them in the game account.

A Rout. Total domination. In a word, this game was a runaway. It is somewhat tragic that White Deer, once knee deep in football tradition has fallen this far. Why have the Bucks floundered so? Coach Allen explains, "They've star-given up the ghost. They're through. They started 9 seniors this year, they'll probably start that many next year. They need somebody to turn the program around." Every Bronco saw playing time. Was this 11-for-11 your idea, Coach? "Well we were going to do that a month ago, but we backed out," Allen explained. "It's not much trouble. Coach Smith (line coach Boe Smith) had said that he wanted to rotate his line that way, so we just added backs and receivers to it. We didn't have any mixups."

The Broncs also two-platoon-ed completely on offense and defense, something quite unusual in a Class A school.

FIGHTING INFLATION

According to the Federal Highway Administration, there are some 144 million registered motor vehicles in the United States, using up an average of 800 gallons of gasoline each and every year. With gas prices up around a dollar a gallon or more in many places, a lot of Americans are looking for new ways of getting around.

As gasoline costs rise in many places, so does bicycle ridership.

One way that's growing in popularity all over the world is bicycling. In West Germany, where gasoline costs about $2 a gallon, bicycling has become so popular the city-state of Bremen, for the second time, is offering its citizens 250 bikes for free use within its 1,100-mile system of bicycle paths. This is to be expanded by another 40 miles this year. At several railway stations, too, a total of more than 100 bicycles, as well as guides to the most beautiful routes in the area are provided by the railroad.

Long a part of the northern German tradition, bicycling may be becoming a way of life in the United States, too.

Turning "Problem Children" Into Productive Adults
Some 300 young people with reduced learning abilities will be learning to earn a living at a special school being built at a cost of more than $12 million.

Intensive and individual attention by experts will help these youngsters obtain vocational qualifications fully acceptable by industry. Each master tradesman will pass his craft on to no more than eight youths at a time. Classes are never bigger than 16 pupils, and when necessary, they can be separated into two working groups.

This youth center in West Germany will not continue itself to teach vocational skills, however. The program will also include rehabilitation schemes. Two doctors will look to the physical well-being of the young students, while four psychologists will endeavor to track down the factors leading to their youngsters' problems. Their findings will be used to help the teenagers.

At present, West Germany has 34 vocational training centers of this kind either in operation or nearing completion. The centers offer equality of opportunity for both sexes, and the boys and girls get to work and learn on the most modern machines.

During their three-year training period, the youngsters are paid wages scaled to family income, and when the young people leave the school, two social workers are assigned to help them continue to become contributing adults.

Hints For Homeowners

SAVE ENERGY AND DOLLARS

Home heating fuel will certainly cost more this winter—and it could be less available—so smart Americans will give a warm welcome to inexpensive energy savers which help keep their homes cozy when the winter winds blow.

You could stay warmer by keeping your home wetter during the cold months. Heating systems often reduce humidity levels below the 30 to 50 percent range which most people find comfortable. If you raise the moisture level—with an inexpensive humidifier for instance—you may be able to lower your thermostat and still stay comfortable.

Don't heat the great outdoors this winter! Heat loss through and around windows and doors can account for an astounding 30 to 40 percent of home heating bills, engineers report. Energy Saver, a wire-mesh reinforced plastic material from G&B, is an inexpensive, easy-to-install alternative to costly storm windows (or, used with existing storm windows, a super energy saver).

Available at most hardware stores at about ten cents a square foot (this works out to an average $1 per window), G&B's Energy Saver, which comes in 36" x 25" rolls, can be taped, stapled or tacked to the inside or outside of window and door frames to form a barrier against winter chills. Celler windows, unused entrances or porches and other drafty areas which receive this energy saving treatment will also help keep comfort high and fuel costs low when the cold winds blow this winter.

Every Watch Has Its Day

How many women can say they have too many watches? For the one who has none, as well as the one who has several, a Marathon L.C.D. can be a super convenience, and an important fashion accessory. Made by Timex, it gives complete information anytime at the press of a button: constant digital readout of the hours, minutes, seconds, months, and the date—with a back light for night viewing.

Deluxe gifts usually put a big dent in the pocketbook.

but not this reasonably priced 6 Digit Nite Lite Marathon L.C.D. Chronograph. Its soft blue mask and chrome-plated band give it a sophisticated look designed to please anybody. It's from Timex and a sportsman can really enjoy its stopwatch modes that not only time the single event but clock time segments and the lap times of cumulative segments. Another mode freezes for time-outs and then resumes counting.

FAVORITE FIGURES ENCOURAGE GOOD HABITS

Many parents have found it's easier to get youngsters to do what they should, if they're not told, too often.

Routine activities such as getting home on time for meals, getting to school when it starts, doing chores and homework promptly, are more likely to be done experts say, if instead of nagging a child, you tell him once when to do them. Little Known Facts

When the song "Good Morning to You" was published in 1893, it gained no popularity. But a two-word change turned it into one of the most-sung songs in the world. You know it as "Happy Birthday to You."

Music lovers know that for the best recording quality open-reel tape decks such as Radio Shack's new Realistic TR-3000, are unsurpassed in providing music with wide response, low noise and low distortion. Open-reel also gives you professional recording versatility, easiest editing and the longest recording time.

Perhaps the all-time favorite song, as far as sales are concerned, is "White Christmas" by Irving Berlin. At last count, it had a sheet-music sale of about four million. Its recording sales have already gone over the 100 million mark.

One of the beauties of America you can help build is this magnificent church.

One of the most beautiful manmade sights in America for many is this tribute to God, the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception. The seventh largest church in the world and the largest Catholic church in the United States, it's a Byzantine fantasy of blue and gold domes and slim white towers rising above sober Washington, D.C., and echoing the Capitol dome and Washington Monument. Dedicated to Mary, protector of the United States, the shrine is being built with the financial help of many Americans, individuals and organizations of a variety of faiths.

The shrine's architecture, sculpture, windows, inscriptions, mosaics and decorations are the fruit of American imagination, skill and devotion. Gifts from fraternal organizations include eight large and four small marble columns from the Catholic Order of Foresters. The tower, its carillon of 56 bells and the campanile to hold the bells came from the Knights of Columbus. The shrine has no steel skeleton. Fashioned by craftsmen fitting together mortar, stone, brick and tile, the building relies on the laws of physics to "defy" gravity—that is, forces pushing upward and inward balance forces pushing downward and outward. The stones that keep up the semicircular arches inside are all wedge shaped, each one held in place by its neighbors.

The great dome is covered with blue and gold tiles forming the Fleur-de-Lys, the Tower of Ivory and other symbols of Mary. The shrine offers a one-day, two-day or five-day pilgrimage program, including catechetical talks, prayer services, Sacrament of Reconciliation and Sunday liturgy. Tours of the city are also included, and the longer programs offer visits to places associated with the two newest American Saints, St. John Neumann and St. Elizabeth Seton.

For more information, write Rev. Msgr. John J. Murphy, Director, National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, Fourth and Michigan Avenues N.E., Washington, D.C. 20017.

This quarter-inch-square silicon chip contains 68,000 transistors that could help improve your life and health.

The day may be coming when, if you get into medical troubles, your physician will be able to "punch" your symptoms into a desktop computer and get back an immediate generation of diagnostic alternatives.

We may also be getting closer to immediate calculation of the quantity of gasoline in an oil company's pumps on a national basis.

One of the biggest reasons for these advances is also one of the smallest inventions. It is the world's most powerful microprocessor in the view of Motorola experts. Called a "16-bit" microprocessor, it has 68,000 transistors on a silicon chip one-quarter-inch square.

The microprocessor is called the MC 68000 and was developed by Motorola, Inc., to respond to a program containing instructions in ordinary English instead of in language created for the computer and understood only by specialists.

The microprocessor performs calculations ("number crunching" in computer terms) with increased speed at reduced cost, and, while capable of accommodating programs currently using the 8-bit microprocessor, it anticipates the advent of the 32-bit microprocessor, which allows computing capability to grow without becoming obsolete. It costs under $500.

The people who've developed it are proud of its accomplishments: "It looks like a 16-bit microprocessor," says John R. Welty, senior vice president and general manager of the Semiconductor Group, "but it thinks like a 32-bit microprocessor!"

Clarendon, Texas, October 26, 1979 -- Lone Star Gas Company's local manager, Robert Erdmann, today filed an application to change the service charges and revise the gas cost adjustment clause in Clarendon.

Erdmann emphasized the base rate being charged for gas consumed by residential and commercial customers will not be increased under the proposal.

The new service charges being requested by Lone Star are $20 for a reconnection; $18 per hour for appliance service; $20 per hour for air conditioning service; $5 for a returned check; and $40 to disconnect and reconnect a customer's yard line for repair.

"These charges are designed to recover Lone Star's expenses for these services," says Erdmann. "A relatively small portion of Lone Star's customers require these special services, and these charges put the cost of the work on those who use the service."

The gas cost adjustment requested in the application would allow Lone Star to recover distribution operating expenses that increase with the city gate cost of gas.

The estimated total increase in annual revenue for Lone Star's Clarendon distribution system under the proposed change is $7,491.00 or 2.10 percent.

Mrs. Pearl Allison and her two brothers Verlin Martin and Don Martin & wife Jewel met their sister Mrs. Bessie Fletcher in Lubbock over the week-end. Mrs. Fletcher's daughter, son and husband met them also.

Mrs. Fletcher lives in the Valley, they all met at Don's sons home in Lubbock. Everyone enjoyed being together even for a short visit.

Ints For Homeowners

PROTECTING YOUR PROPERTY

According to F.B.I. statistics, a burglary is committed every 10 seconds in this country. And of the goods stolen during these crimes, less than five per cent are ever returned to their owner. What can you do to help protect your family and your property? Many law enforcement professionals suggest the installation of home security devices. A recent National Burglar and Fire Alarm Association report, for example, found that 25,000 burglars and arsonists were apprehended during 1977 because of home alarms.

The portable burglar alarm is one such device you may want to consider because it requires no actual installation and most of these alarms are affordable.

Zonar, new from General Electric, is a portable alarm, unobtrusively styled to look like a small radio. It is battery powered, so there's no need to fear cut wires or power failures. This small alarm works on the principle of ultrasonic sound. If an intruder should cross its sound waves—which extend up to 30 feet to guard doors and windows—a loud, pulsating alarm is set off. Portable alarms such as this can guard more than a single entryway at one time.

But there are other valuable aids to foil would-be intruders. A U.S. News & World Report finding indicates that most residential burglaries are committed by youngsters who live within six to 12 blocks of the house being robbed, rather than by professionals. Whether the intruder is a neighborhood youth or a pro, a twenty-four hour timer can help discourage potential entries by giving your home that "occupied" look.

Similarly, smoke alarms, which sound a piercing horn when smoke enters the sensing chamber, can protect your family against the tragedy of fire.

You also might consider equipping your home with a security light for home power failures. If your power goes out for any reason, a portable security-evacuation light will help lead your family out of darkness and into safety.

Do yourself and your family a favor say the safety experts at General Electric. In the long run, it pays to be prepared.

The Texas Sun Works! That's both a fact and the name for a conference. Texas Railroad Commissioner candidate Jim Hightower, Congressman Jake Pickle, State Rep. Bill Keese and many other important figures in solar energy development will be among the highlights at "Sun Works Seventy-nine": a conference on Renewable Resources and Community Values.

"Sun Works '79" will show the people of Texas that the sun works now and can do much more for them in the future.

People from all over the state will gather in Austin on November 8, 9, and 10 at St. Edward's University to learn about model solar and conservation programs and projects that are going on now in Texas communities, to participate in workshops and to lay plans for extending and enlarging the conversion to solar, wind, biomass and other renewable, abundant resources.

Children are invited to a parallel Sun Fest, an Appropriate Technology Festival to run simultaneously. A Catalog, detailing the model programs and projects, will be presented at the conference. Both the conference and catalog are sponsored by the national Center for Renewable Resources and Texas Solar Action Coalition. HOME BUYER CLINIC

By Robert C. Bates, President American Land Title Association

DITCH DILEMMA

Not all problems of land title will be disclosed in the search of public records that precedes completion of a home-buying transaction. So-called hidden hazards also exist and are especially troublesome because they can bring expensive claim and loss without prior warning.

In one subdivision, the developer decided to relocate an irrigation system from a ditch under a street. His plan called for filling in the original ditch and constructing houses on the site. Before starting the relocation, the developer contacted all known users of the ditch and obtained their consent. Unfortunately, he missed one party.

After the houses had been built and sold, the buyers were startled when this non-consenting party obtained a court order requiring that the ditch be re-opened in its original location and the homes removed.

The buyers were each protected by an owner's policy of title insurance, obligating the title insurance company to defend the title and in-dennify the owners for such a loss. A settlement was reached under which the homes and lots of the insured buyers remained undisturbed.

The fact that the specific lot on which a new subdivision home has been built does not have a separate chain of prior ownership presents no assurance that title problems will not arise to impair the title to the real estate. There are many kinds of defects and encumbrances which can seriously impair the title to the large tract of land which later is subdivided for single family homes. The filing of a subdivision map or plat does not in itself extinguish such defects and encumbrances. A new house built on a newly-subdivided lot can be subject to the same problems that existed prior to the development of the subdivision. Home buyer protection is available through owner's title insurance. The best time to buy owner's title insurance is at the time the real estate is acquired and the purchase price paid.

For free information on things to know in home buying, write American Land Title Association, Box 566, Washington, D.C. 20044.

COMMON FIRST AID RECOMMENDATIONS

Cuts [lacerations]

Cleanse wound with soap and water and/or hydrogen peroxide [39%]. Remove all dirt, glass, and other foreign materials. Apply sterile dressing. Stitches are recommended if edges of wound cannot be held together.

Puncture wounds

If child has not had a tetanus shot within past 10 years, see physician immediately. Let wound bleed to carry out foreign materials. Wash thoroughly with soap and warm water and/or hydrogen peroxide. Soak wound in warm water several times a day for four or five days.

Poison ivy, oak

Wash exposed area[s] immediately after exposure with soap; apply nonprescription lotions and ointments containing calamine and zinc oxide. A hot bath or shower also may give symptomatic relief.

Insect bites or stings

Remove stinger with tweezers if still in skin. Apply ice or cold pack immediately, followed by baking soda or calamine lotion. With severe itching, antihistamines may be required.

Minor burns

Apply cold water or ice immediately until pain is relieved [approximately one hour]. Cover with sterile gauze or clean cloth. Use aspirin or acetaminophen for pain. If pain persists for more than 48 hours, consult physician.

Sunburn

Apply cool compresses or cool baths with colloidal oatmeal [one cup to a tub full of water] or baking soda [one-half cup to a tub]. After first day petroleum jelly can be rubbed on burn.

Electric shock

Do not touch child while in contact with current. Turn off current by removing fuse or unplugging electrical cord, or pull child away with dry rope looped over foot. Begin artificial respiration immediately.

Foreign bodies in eye

If foreign body is on surface of eyeball or inner surface of eyelid, lift object off with corner of clean handkerchief or paper tissue. If object is not visible, grasp lashes of upper lid and pull forward and down over lower lid.

Nosebleeds

Sit child upright and leaning forward. Press bleeding nostril toward center. Apply cold dressings to nose and face. If bleeding continues, place small, clean gauze pad on one or both nostrils and apply pressure.

Head injuries

Apply ice to minimize swelling. Pay attention to mental state: signs of drowsiness and persistent vomiting may indicate intracranial bleeding. See physician immediately.

PSYCHOLOGY

Even little children often have big worries in their relations with their parents. A child may get extremely upset about breaking the news of a "bad" report card, or arriving home with friends at a time when mother wants only "peace and quiet."

To help children with their problems, the Children's Protection Society of West Germany suggests an intriguing resource: a "worry telephone." Children can call without telling their names. A supportive adult is there to listen, make suggestions, offer comfort, or even approach parents if the child asks her to.

C. C. has athletic news conference

Mark Nixon, Athletic Director for Clarendon College had a scheduled news conference for Tuesday afternoon, October 30, at 2:30 p.m. Due to an abrupt end to warm weather and a snowstorm in Amarillo, no T.V. coverage was possible at this time. However with fewer news media representatives, a more intimate look at the college players was possible.

Plainly evident was that quality of comradery between the members of the mens and womens teams as they were introduced individually to those attending the news conference. This elusive spark which athletes have is the difference between members playing together on a team and the team playing a game.

Most of the members of the teams are freshmen, new to each other and to the school. Only one Clarendon player is a team member, sophomore Pearly Butler. Players come from Detroit, Chicago, Virginia, Indiana, New Mexico, Kentucky and from all corners of Texas.

Speaking for assistant coach,

Joe Mondragon, as well as himself, Mark Nixon said these players came to Clarendon College for two reasons: first to receive an education, which is stressed with regular checks on grade standing and; second to play basketball.

When asked for his goals, both short term and long term, Nixon said naturally the goal was to win, but the policy is 'play as hard as you can every game'. This means give your best effort-win or lose.

Before each game the teams sing "We are Family", a motto for them because they mean it.

Six cheerleaders take their responsibility of providing encouragement and playing hostess for the teams seriously. As they were introduced during the news conference it might have been a mini-style show with college fashions in fall shades for skirts, dresses, boots and accessories. These young women are ladies. They invited the visitors for cake and coffee and made pleasant conversation.

Halloween party at Country Club

Forty children of country club members and their guests partied Saturday afternoon at the country club to celebrate Halloween. The young people paraded their costumes and four youngsters won best costume prizes, receiving gift certificates for hamburger suppers at the club. After relay games the children divided into groups so that the little ones could play pin the tail on Big Bird while the older children hunted for hidden pumpkins. Then while the little ones were hunting pumpkins, the junior group bobbed for apples. Despite wet heads all managed to surface with an apple in his or her mouth. Each child then took a turn at swatting the pinado which, of course, was filled with candy. The nicest witch present-manager Billie Johnson, served Halloween cookies and treats to all guests who were quite famished after an active afternoon. (Hope they left some room for Wednesday nights candy collection!)

Pathfinder Club guest day

Miss Mable Mongole, president of Pathfinder welcomed guests at the guest day meeting and turned the program over to Mrs. Goodwin Bray, who in turn introduced her friend Mrs. R.L. Robertson (Pauline) the speaker for the afternoon.

Mrs. Robertson gave excerpts from "Panhandle Pilgrimage" the book she and her husband authored.

The area covered in their book is the top 26 counties of Texas, generally referred to as the panhandle. She touched on the Ice Age aborigines, and showed beautiful pieces of polished flint from the Alibates Flint Quarries, the three eras of cattle ranchers and the establishment of Old Clarendon.

Following the program guest and members were invited into the dining room where the autumn theme was carried out in the lovely table decorations. Autumn flowers centered the table covered with an acru cloth and other appointments were brass.

Mrs. Goodwin Bray poured hot apple cider and Mrs. Tommie Saye served cake. Thirty-eight members and guests were present. Hostesses were Mrs. Rolle Brumley, Mrs. Redell Henson, Verdie Herrington and Mrs. Joe Wells.

IT'S A FACT!

The outstanding runner who does a four-minute mile is achieving a speed of 15 miles an hour!

A train that reaches speeds of 220 miles an hour will soon be tested in West Germany. The new technologies being tested are expected to demonstrate the substantial innovations that may be in store for long-distance railroad traffic.

Sixty to 63 miles an hour is probably the maximum speed even the fastest land animal, the cheetah, can reach. By comparison, the fastest race horse may run at 43 mph.

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

A new consumer complaint handling procedure was instituted by the Consumer Protection and Antitrust Division on August 1, 1979. During the first eight weeks of this new program, the Division has filed more lawsuits against businesses that violate the Consumer Protection Act, collected more money in civil penalties and restitution in court and returned more money and property to Texas consumers through the Division's revised complaint procedures than during any similar eight week period in the history of the Division.

Since the Division was formed in 1973 a considerable amount of its time was spent handling consumer complaints over which the Division had no jurisdiction. Examples of such complaints are breaches of contract, breaches of warranty and pricing disputes. Because of the time spent on these complaints, less time was available to investigate and prosecute actual violations of the laws enforced by the Division which are the Consumer Protection Act, the Home Solicitation Transactions Act and the Debt Collection Practices Act.

A previous column explained the new complaint handling procedures in detail. In a nutshell, the procedures call for the referral of complaints beyond the Division's jurisdiction to other agencies that have jurisdiction or to organizations that have an established track record of resolving the type of consumer complaint in question. In this way, the Division is now able to devote all of its time to processing complaints, investigating and prosecuting matters that fall within its jurisdiction.

How has the program worked? Let's begin with litigation. During the reporting period

Howardwick Partyline

BY NORMA CORGILL

Sonny Blevins of Amarillo, visited his mother, Mrs. Troy Moore this weekend.

Glen and Lorane Heldton, Troy and Willie Moore attended a Lion's Cabinet meeting at Girls Town, in Borger, Saturday. The visiting Lion's Ladies were entertained first by slides and account of their trip to Canada which was very interesting. The florist came out and gave a demonstration on flower arrangements. Lunch was at Suphens in Borger, with door prizes, Lorane and Willie were not on the receiving end of those. In the afternoon they were taken to the museum at Fritch which was very interesting. Anyone who has not been should make an effort to go.

The Howardwick Lions met Saturday night with a good menu of barbecue beef and all that goes with it. Troy Moore gave a report on the meeting at Girls Town.

Visiting in the home of Norma Corgill over the weekend was her son Jerry Corgill of Levelland, Texas, a grand daughter and family, Paul and Patricia Cook, Jeremy, Stacy and Bryan of Dallas. Paul's brother and family Pat, Eddie and children Danny and Shad of Dallas. The boys were out for quail hunting and had pretty good luck.

A letter from the Jim Corgills saying it sure is hot at Zapata the first Sunday they were there. It was 110 degrees in the shade. They and the Mitchells were doing quite a bit of fishing but no big ones yet.

Our sympathy goes to the Walden Moores in the passing away of his father last Thursday.

Sylvia and Pete Harkins of Amarillo visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. Keith over the weekend.

Book Worm

We wish to continue calling attention to the advantages of Gabie Betts Burton Library being a member of the Texas Panhandle Library System. It is the Library's privilege to receive from the MRC (Amarillo Public Library) a group of 50 books which are loaned to us for a period of 6 months. These area loan books add to the volumes available for local readers at no cost. Remember it is cheaper to borrow than buy.

This same arrangement applies to cassette tapes. We receive 50 tapes for 6 months, then return those for 50 different tapes.

Another advantage of system membership is the Inter Library Loan service. Books may be borrowed by requesting specific volumes by title, author, etc.; or by subject in the event you do not know who wrote about your topic of interest. These ILL requests are fed into a computer terminal in The Amarillo Library. The material may arrive from any number of places inside or outside of Texas. This saves money, for all libraries, because everyone cannot buy and house all books. However, through this wonderful system so many more books are available to more patrons.

The community libraries in the Panhandle Library System also have a reciprocal borrowing program. This means that your Gabie Betts Burton Library card is good in almost all libraries in the top of Texas counties. This privilege is used and appreciated by many persons in Clarendon.

In fairness to all, a few rules and limitations are necessary. 1. Materials must be returned to the library to be renewed. 2. Recharging by telephone. 3. Renewals will be for 1 time unless the book is very very long. 4. A person may put a hold on a book. 5. Fines are 10 cents per day per item. 6. Children are limited to 3 hardbacks, 3 paperbacks, and 3 each of tapes, magazines, etc. 7. Adults are limited to 5 hardbacks, 5 each, magazines, tapes, etc. no limit on paperbacks. Hours of Service 9:00-12:00 and 1:00-5:00 Mon-Fri. Sat 1:00 to 5:00 only.

Hedley, October 25, 1979-- Lone Star Gas Company's local manager, Robert Erdmann, today filed an application to change the service charges and revise the gas cost adjustment clause in Hedley, Texas.

The new service charges being requested by Lone Star are $20 for a reconnection; $18 per hour for appliance service; $20 per hour for air conditioning service; $5 for a returned check; and $40 to disconnect, and reconnect a customer's yard line for repair.

"These charges are designed to recover Lone Star's expenses for these services," says Erdmann. "A relatively small portion of Lone Star's customers require these special services, and these charges put the cost of the work on those who use the

Bullock says cities should collect extra taxes

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Friday that if Texas cities want to increase the city sales tax, the cities should have to collect it.

In a telegram to Texas Municipal League President Robert S. Folsom, Mayor of Dallas, Bullock said that the tax would be wagging the dog if the state had to administer increased local sales taxes equal to the state sales tax.

The Municipal League at its yearly meeting in Houston next week is expected to consider asking the Legislature to increase the city sales tax by as much as two cents, an idea recently backed by Governor Clements' Mayor's Advisory Committee.

The Comptroller now takes care of the city tax-along with transit authority sales taxes-in the same collection system as the state sales tax.

"For the past five years this department has done everything possible to speed up and upgrade every phase of administration of the city sales tax," Bullock said.

He pointed out that in his administration the Comptroller's office has increased city tax collections beyond the national average, stepped up payments from quarterly to monthly and cut the handling fee charged the cities by more than half.

"If the cities of Texas embark on a course of total local freedom in sales tax matters," Bullock said, "then I pledge the fullest cooperation of my department in an orderly transition of the collection system from permits to court suits--from the state to city hall."

"All the cities have their own tax offices now," Bullock said. "It would be appropriate for the burden of the collection and the benefit of the income to rest in the same place."

Bullock opposes any city sales tax increase, saying that the sales tax has historically been reserved for the state and that

Bullock against value-added tax

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Tuesday said the adoption of a 10 percent, federal value-added tax would be the sneaking blow to the American public since Pearl Harbor.

"It's the income tax wolf in sales tax sheep's clothing," Bullock said, saying, "it has the complexities of the income tax system and the regressiveness of a high sales tax."

Bullock said the proposal by U. S. Representative Al Ullman, House Ways and Means Committee Chairman, borders on tinkering and financial experimentation that could result in a tax Frankenstein.

The tax would be 10 percent of the value each manufacturer or distributor adds to a product or service in each stage before it reaches the marketplace.

The tax would finally be included in the sales price and as a result consumers would never know what part of the price covers the tax.

"Consumers will absorb the tax and it will fall hardest on lower and middle income groups. Business will absorb a new set of federal tax filings and paperwork. And the economy will absorb a little more disruption."

"The only winner," he said, "seems to be the federal treasury which will be raking in 10 cents on the dollar for every product and service in the country."

Bullock said he did not think the offset measures-- tax cuts for businesses-- would be a good trade-off for a national sales tax. "If Congress wants to cut taxes, they don't need to link it to a value-added tax," he said.

"Let's face it, they want a new tax to pay off the billions of dollars we now owe as the result of deficit spending," Bullock said.

He said the cost of products sold in Texas would be dependent on the "Value-added" by out-of-state manufacturers and distributors.

Everything is going to cost a heck of a lot more if this new federal tax passes, he said.
