W.B. WIGGINS (left) manager of West Texas Gin, Hedley with Alvie Clay, brother-in-law of Delbert White who pulled first bale of cotton September 15, but was unable to gin it until this week.

Cotton harvest has started

Extreme heat, dry conditions and some other factors have resulted in an early opening date for some cotton with at least two bales already ginned in Donley County by September 22.

First in the county was a bale belonging to Delbert White, ginned on September 15, at West Texas Gin in Hedley. This is the bale of cotton which will be given away at the Hedley Cotton Festival next month.

Larry Watson brought in the first bale at Clarendon with a bale on September 18, ginned at Donley County Farmers Cooperative in Clarendon on September 22.

First cotton ginned at Paymaster Gin in Lelia Lake was for Larry Shields. It had been estimated at five bales when it came into the yard but was ginned to produce seven bales. That cotton was ginned on Friday, September 26.

Rain which began in Clarendon Friday morning brought a halt to any more harvesting of the 1980 cotton crop for the time being.

Most fields have fully opened bolls and enough green but maturing ones to delay the pulling of much of the crop at this time.

Some Texas farmers, year, at least those with harvestable acreage of good quality. Agriculture Commissioners Reagan V. Brown has reported.

Spot market prices for certain grades of Upland cotton have hit 92.29 cents a pound this month "the highest price anyone in the industry can remember," Brown said. Economists are predicting the futures market will soon be at $1.00 with further increases ahead.

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service's September estimate for cotton production was for a harvest of 3.6 million bales. "That could mean a potential value of nearly $1 billion for cotton this year," Brown said.

"Some of our cotton was forward contracted this year at specific rates below current levels, but many farmers will be in the position to receive these better prices," Brown said.

Drought reduced the 1980 crop significantly from the 5.5 million bales last year, and prices started rising in mid-summer.

Cottonseed prices have not risen at the same rate as those for lint. Seed for oil processing is in competition with other vegetable oils. Currently prices are at an average of $110 a ton, which is lower than the average price in 1979 of $117 per ton.

Texas is the leading exporter in the U.S. of cotton seed.

"While it is great to see rising prices for cotton, we have to realize that if prices get too high, the mills will substitute synthetics," Brown said.

West Texas Utility ask for rate increase

West Texas Utilities Company has filed application for a general rate increase, Allen Estlack, local manager announced.

The official filing was made Tuesday, September 30, with incorporated towns for retail customers within their jurisdiction and with the Public Utility Commission of Texas for an increase to customers outside incorporated towns.

The proposed rates would produce an increase in total revenue of $12,729,619. This amounts to 8.27 per cent based on revenues of $153,914,156 for the test period ending this past June 30.

The company requested that the new rates become effective November 4.

One of the basic reasons for the increase was cited as inflation.

"The cost of providing electric service continues to increase more rapidly than revenue," the manager said.

This rate adjustment would be only the second general retail rate increase in the company's entire history, which goes back more than 50 years. The other increase was in 1973 and amounted to about six per cent across the board.

"We've managed to make that six per cent go a long way," the WTU manager said, noting that every other utility company in the state, and probably in the nation, has had at least one increase since then and most of them have had several.

Several reasons were given as to how WTU has been able to manage without a rate increase during the past several years of double-digit inflation. Chief among these was the timing of WTU's power plant construction. Its newest and largest station was completed in the mid-1970s and provided generation reserves sufficient not only to last for several years but to allow profitable energy sales to other companies.

The Company also cited its reputation as a conservative company with firm control of its expenditures.

However, the WTU manager said, ager said, the company can no longer absorb the effects of inflation without risking a dangerous decline in its financial condition. Of necessity, the company is entering into a multi-year construction program which will include a new coal-fired power plant and several high voltage transmission line projects.

The proposed rates were based on detailed analyses of each customer rate class, including studies of their energy usage patterns, the investment required to serve them, and the cost of operation applicable to those customers.

The Company's rate structure, which now has over 125 rates for many types and classes, would be reduced to less than 30 rates. The effect of the increase on the different customer classes would vary according to present relative rates of return from each class.

For example, the typical residential electric bill would increase by about 10 per cent.

Although customer bills have risen substantially in the past few years, the increases have been the result of more usage and higher fuel costs. The average residential customer's electric usage in the WTU system increased from 6,363 kilowatt-hours in 1972 to 8,270 kilowatt-hours this past year.

The cost of fuel has risen from 23 cents per million BTU last summer. Generally, this fuel cost is the only increased expense that has been shared by the customer under WTU's recent rate schedule.

The city has several options in responding to WTU's rate request. It may approve the increase, deny the increase, or suspend the rates for a certain period of time. The city has the option of denying the request and ceding future jurisdiction to the Public Utility Commission.

Rains benefit county

Rains which fell through the weekend were beneficial to our area and will bring up the wheat already sown or enable the fields to be planted for winter pasture.

Some defoliated cotton did not need the moisture but for the most part everything did receive beneficial rainfall. The slow soaker was more welcome to ranges which had suffered badly with the extreme summer heat. No near areas got large amounts of rain, most of it ranged from 1.20 up, and no excess moisture was a problem as it was in the Wichita Falls area and in other sections.

By Tuesday sunny skies and warm temperatures had returned and were received with pleasure.

Home box office may be available

As a result of inquiries, information has been received from Clarendon Cable T.V. in Granite, Okla. regarding Home Box Office for Clarendon viewers.

When 100 customers have signed up for the HBO service it will be added to the system, according to J.R. Willis, spokesman for Clarendon Cable T.V.

Cost of HBO, if and when added, will be $8.95 per month and the connection charge will probably be $19.95.

Several channels have been added to the original system in the past few years. Although the system has tried to add Lubbock stations which they receive off the air, their reception was not good enough to warrant adding them. With the number of customers which the system has there is not enough money to pay the Micro-wave people to bring in Dallas. With a limited number of channels available Clarendon Cable T.V. is trying to be careful of their added channels by giving the most pleasure to the most persons.

To sign up for HBO on cable T.V. call 874-3570 between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m. and Rick Rattan or Tex Naylor will give you what information is needed. If they are not in follow instructions as given on the answering service tape.

Social Security Q & A

"I plan to retire at the end of the year. I was going to take a day off from work to apply for my Social Security benefits, but my daughter told me I could apply by phone. Is this true?"

A-Social Security may not be able to complete your claim by phone, but they can start it for you. Almost all Social Security business -- from applying for benefits to reporting a lost or stolen check -- can be handled by telephone. This special telephone service is called teleservice. To fine your Social Security Teleservice phone number, look in your local telephone directory under Social Security Administration.

Q-I've been reading news stories about Social Security facing financial trouble in the next year or two. What about the future? Retirement is a long way off for me. Will Social Security be able to pay me when I retire?

A-After the current financing problem is solved, projections show Social Security to be adequately financed for about 50 years.

But, it is impossible to predict exactly the many developments affecting Social Security financing. Future income and outgo will depend on rates of inflation, unemployment, mortality, fertility, marriage, disability, retirement, and other measures of economic and demographic activity. The 1980 report of the Board of Trustees of the Social Security Funds recommends continued extensive study of the program.

Lettuce for Texas gardens

Lettuce is a top choice for Texas gardeners because it's easy to grow, it can be planted almost anywhere, and there are plenty of different varieties to choose from.

There are really three types of lettuce -- head, leaf and romaine. If you really want to live up a salad bowl plant some of all three at different times and stretch the harvest season throughout most of the year, suggests Ronald Gooch, Donley County Extension Agent.

Lettuce plants fit almost anywhere, such as odd corners, along walks, in flower beds, window boxes and even in container gardens. Many gardeners have learned to interplant lettuce between other slower growing crops.

Seed lettuce for fall gardens from mid-August through September. Later plantings can provide lettuce well into the fall and in many areas, right on through winter. Like many other leafy vegetables, young plants can be thinned out and thinnings either eaten or transplanted to another area in the garden.

Plant lettuce seed about one-fourth inch deep in rows 14 to 24 inches apart. Space head lettuce plants about 8 inches apart in the row and leaf and romaine types about 3 to 4 inches apart. When harvesting, either pull up the whole plant or pick and eat the outer leaves as they mature.

Lettuce does best on good, well-drained garden soil in a sunny location. However, Gooch recommends a partially shaded area for early season planting when temperatures are still high.

While lettuce does not need heavy fertilization, it does respond to light side-dressings during the growing season. Generous and regular watering is essential for high quality, tasty garden lettuce.

Home-grown lettuce is a sure fire way to perk up tasty salads during the fall and winter months, adds Gooch.

attitude and I wouldn't hesitate to say that we stress these two qualities as much or more than anyone in the nation.

To me the most important thing we can do is recruit players who are good citizens and have a strong desire to be successful in school, basketball and life in general. It is also highly important to me to recruit the caliber of player that can help us compete as best we can in the conference.

If we can find this type of players in the panhandle we will do everything possible to recruit them. If we have to go anywhere in the country to find this type of players we will do that.

The key is getting "good kids" and if we can consistently do that and keep them disciplined, I feel we are running a successful basketball program.

Good kids that can play at this level are hard to come by wherever you look.

Mrs. Delaney gave a very favorable report on the summer breakfast held at Hazel Brandon's home in June. It was very well attended.

It was announced that our member Susie Shields gave birth to a boy, Derek Earl. Congratulations to the Earl Shields.

Each member gave a brief synopsis of what they did over the summer months. Billie Clinton gave an "Anatomy of a boring summer." (How many hours doing a specific thing and why-very humorous.)

The next meeting will be October 7 with guest review-

The compost pile..the original recycling center

Gardeners can get-back-to-basics and save money too by developing an old standby--the compost pile. And with fall approaching, plenty of leaves will soon be available for composting. With most Texas soils lacking in organic matter, composting is an excellent way to add humus to the soil while at the same time disposing of unwanted plant material from the yard and garden. Leaves, straw, lawn clippings, sawdust, garden debris and even shredded newspapers can be converted into usable humus through the decomposing process, notes Gooch. These composted materials will make both clay and sandy soils more suitable for growing vegetables and ornamentals. Gooch says it is usually best to have three compost bins--one being filled, one in the process of decomposing, and another ready for use. The most workable size for most gardeners is a 4 feet by 6 feet bin, with one side hinged or removable for easy access. Gooch advises gardeners to select a convenient site near a source of water, yet out of sight of the outdoor living area. Start the compost pile by spreading a 6-to-8-inch layer of debris. Top this with a 1-to-2-inch layer of soil or finished compost. Sprinkle about two cups of a complete fertilizer over each layer of soil and organic matter to encourage bacterial action and hasten decomposition. Manure or blood meal may be used instead of fertilizer. Water thoroughly; then add the next layer as material becomes available. Repeat the layering process until the pile is 4 to 5 feet high, advises Gooch. Keep the center slightly lower than the sides to aid in retaining water. Keep the pile moist for rapid decomposition; however, avoid saturation or bad odors may develop. To speed up decomposition and insure that wastes on the outer edge of the bin have a chance to break down, turn or mix and restack the pile every 60 to 90 days. Do not add new material once the pile is turned; rather start a new pile in a nearby location. For better aeration and faster decomposition, spread fresh lawn clippings and shredded green materials into thin layers. When adding dry leaves to the compost pile, wet them thoroughly before adding soil. A shredder will convert twigs and small branches into smaller particles for faster decomposition, adds Gooch.

Shadow Play Can you have beautiful eyes if you weren't born with them? Or correct extremes like too-prominent or deep-set eyes?

With skill and dexterity, you can make too-recessed eyes look giant size and eyes that look too big seem tricks:

1. For dominant eyes, apply a dark, flat tone on the lid and the contour crease to make eyes appear less prominent. Then highlight in a frosted or flat, pastel shade like Revlon's Professional Eye Coloring Stick in RoseGold Lustre.

Start brows slightly closer to the nose. The arch should be well defined and peak just beyond the center of the eye. Elongate the brow line but do not tilt it upward.

2. For deep-set eyes or those with little lid space, apply a light color on the lid and highlight area under the brow to make eyes seem more prominent. Then apply a subdued, medium-to-dark shade in the contour crease. The light color on the lid and in the highlight area opens the eye.

Estlacks show at Tri-State Fair

Allen, Roger, and Russell Estlack showed their Bantams at the Tri-State Fair on September 19 and 20.

Roger's eleven entries earned three championship trophies, six first place ribbons, and one third place ribbon. His black Rosecombs were named the Champion Old Trio, and his Plymouth Rock pullet was named the Champion Single Comb Clean Leg Bantam. His black Rosecomb hen was named the Champion Rosecomb Clean Leg Bantam.

Pathfinder Club begins 69th year

The Pathfinder Club began their 69th year Friday, September 26th with a brunch, catered by Brenda Ward, at the Patching Memorial Club House. Hostesses were Mrs. Heckle Stark, Mrs. Dick Delandy and Miss Mabel Mongole.

The serving table was covered with a beige linen cloth embroidered by Miss Edgar Mae Mongole. A silver and crystal epergne held fruits of the season. Quiche, ham, sweet biscuits and nut bread were served by Mrs. S.W. Lowe, a member of the club since 1917. The members and guests were seated at quartet tables covered with embroidered white linen cloths - an attractive Hallmark day book at each place.

During the business meeting with president Mrs. C.J. VanZandt in the chair, resignations from Mrs. Morgan Cox and Mrs. Cecil Matthews were regrettably accepted.

Mrs. Joe Wells gave an interesting history of last years programs. Miss Mabel Mongole stated she has written the history of the Gable Betts Burton Memorial Library and it is at the library for anyone interested in reading it.

On the 14th anniversary of the library, Mrs. Burton wrote in her column "Library Notes", which appeared each week in the local paper, "If I were asked to name the institution of most value to all people of a community, leaving out church and school of course, I should answer a library. Nothing else contributes to the happiness and well being of as many individuals, both old Russell's black Cochin cock bird earned a second place ribbon while his black Cochin hen earned a first place ribbon as well as a rosette for the Best Opposite Sex of the Breed.

Allen's five Rhode Island Red and Sebright entries received two first places, a second place, and two fourth places. His Rhode Island Red cock bird also received Best Opposite Sex of Breed.

Lowe, Brumlev, Deck VanZandt, White, Delandy, Stark, Watson, Wells, Robinson, Green, Kunz, Redell Henson, and Miss Mabel Mongole. At the next meeting October 10th, Mr. Clarence Hamilton will give an account of Donley County history.

Japanese Trade Offers Potential Super Sales

AUSTIN--When a Texas Honeydew melon sells in Japan for $20, Texas producers have a great potential in widening the range of Texas agricultural products now exported to that country," Commissioner Reagan V. Brown announced recently.

Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) marketing personnel recently visited the Orient on a promotional tour, and reported Texas food product sales in Japan have a tremendous opportunity, Brown said.

"(In Japan) A typical person will spend one month's salary on gift items. A tradition in that country, gift exchanges are often food items. It can be a fancy pack of cookies or grapefruit. With nice elaborate packaging, a melon can go for as much as $20," Brown explained.

"We need to work on efficient packaging techniques and iron out any transportation and quarantine problems to get in on the export sales race," Brown said.

Japan is already our largest single-country market for agricultural exports. That country also buys more grain from us than any other and is one of the top three markets for Texas cotton, Brown continued.

A three-day food exhibition in Tokyo allowed the introduction of Texas products such as fruits, candies and nuts as possible gift packs and an opportunity to explain the diversity of Texas agricultural products, Brown said.

Brown emphasized TDA personnel do not act as salesmen for private companies but refer product information requests to the proper producers. This type of promotion definitely helps future sales."

EAR WAX EXCESS

Many people associate excessive amounts of ear wax with "poor hygiene". Consequently they often may poke around in their ears with hair pins, cotton tipped applicators, and other pointed objects in an attempt to remove what looks like dirt. The yellow to deep amber colored material is actually a protective coating for the ear canal.

Use of instruments is dangerous for a least two reasons. First, even careful individuals may place the instrument too far into the ear and thus damage the ear drum. This can result in extreme pain and even hearing loss. Second, when wax is removed from the ear canal, the tender surface of the canal is scratched. This scratching, no matter how gentle, can lead to both inflammation and infection of the outer ear.

The expert physician may remove ear wax with a pointed instrument when examining the ear. For home removal of excessive amounts of wax, a softening agent is recommended by the Food and Drug Administration. The softening agent in many products is glycerin and is available without the prescription of a physician.

Ear wax is normal and helpful. When excessive wax is present, a softening agent is much preferred over dangerous cotton tipped applicators, hair pins, and similar objects.

Stepp-Possi vows exchanged

Wedding vows were read for Denise Ann Stepp, of Port Lavaca and Randy Ray Pozzi, of Victoria in a 2 p.m. Saturday ceremony at the First United Methodist Church in Victoria. Rev. Bob Allen officiated at the wedding.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wayne Stepp of Port Lavaca. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Pozzi of Victoria.

Ruth Williams, organist, played traditional wedding selections and accompanied Janie Gamblin and Cindy McClellan, soloists, as they sang "Annie's Song," "The Wedding Song," "Evergreen" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal designer gown fashioned of white silk organza and Venice lace. The fitted bodice held a Queen Anne neckline and full sheer bishop sleeves. Appliques of lace and pearls overlaid the bodice and sleeves of the gown. The bouffant skirt fell in tiers, banded with Cluny lace and tiny satin ribbon. The gown cascaded into a cathedral length train.

The bride carried a cascade of pink and red roses, accented with baby's breath and satin streamers.

A Juliet cap of matching lace held the bride's veil of imported silk illusion, which was encircled with Cluny lace.

Carrie Stepp attended her sister as maid of honor. The matron of honor was Mrs. Micheal Smith. Bridesmaids included Mrs. Johnny Askew, Mrs. Darrell Matejek and Debra Pozzi, sister of the groom.

Kristy Pozzi attended as flower girl. The ring bearers were Arron Pozzi and Paul Barter.

The attendants wore formal gowns fashioned of pink crepe. The sleeveless gowns were styled with boat necklines, fitted bodices and full, gored skirts. Wide ties wrapped to cummerbund effects, defining the waistlines. Each gown was enhanced by an elbow length sheer cape.

The attendants wore baby's breath in their hair and each carried a fan, accented with pink and white carnations and baby's breath.

The mother of the bride chose a formal pink polyester gown styled with a draped boat neckline, opera length sleeves and a tie belt.

The groom's mother selected a formal gown fashioned of mauve polyester. The gown was styled with a V-neckline and highlighted by a matching jacket with opera length sleeves. A corsage of orchids completed her attire.

Ralph Martignoni served the groom as best man. Groomsmen included Ricci and Wayne Pozzi, both brothers of the groom; Darrell Matejek and Glenn Brannan.

Ushers included Johnny Askew and Micheal Smith.

A reception was hosted at the Tanglewood House following the wedding. Members of the house party included Janice Butler, Connie Naiser, Karen Ryan, Carolyn Smalley and Deanna Heidmen.

Lori Tucker presided over the bride's book.

Tomlinson-Bell nuptials read

Nuptial vows were read at mass in the historic St. Mary's Catholic Church at 4:30 in the afternoon on Saturday, September 27, 1980 for Carol Ann Hansen Tomlinson and Jack Lynn Bell, of Clarendon.

Decorations were two large bouquets of spider mums and yellow gladioli. Music was favorite religious selections with Miss Horner, of Groom at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by Peter Hansen, of Brooklyn, N.Y. was lovely in a white sheer dress of silk organza fashioned with princess lines, scooped neckline and short cape. She wore elbow length gloves, complimenting the sleeveless bodice. An elbow length veil with lace and embroidered detailing was attached to a Juliet cap of lace and embroidery. Her bridal bouquet was of lemon yellow carnations and white daisies, the brides chosen colors.

As the recessional ended the bride and groom were presented a pair of silver horseshoes, one single and one double, which were brought from Scotland. Little Jennifer Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bell, made the presentation for good luck, a tradition in Scotland.

Following the wedding mass a reception was held in the home of the groom's parents. Covering the brides table was a satin striped white linen cloth with underlay of lemon yellow silk organza. The serving table was centered with an arrangement of yellow carnations and white daisies interspersed with greenery in a crystal and silver vase flanked with tall white tapers in silver candle holders. The wedding cake was three tiered with white columns separating the tiers. Decorations were lemon yellow roses and a miniature bride and groom topped the beautiful creation. A crystal punch bowl and silver and crystal appointments completed the table decor. Arrangement of spider lilies and roses decorated the receiving rooms.

Presiding at the serving table were Lana Bel, Mrs. Richard Bell, who served cake and Andrea Bell, Mrs. Shelby Bell, poured punch. The Guest register was presided over by Sharon Bell, Mrs. Robert Bell.

The bride attended St. Joseph's Primary and St.

Mary's Secondary schools and The Witt College I, Greenock, Scotland. The bridegroom attended Clarendon public schools, graduated from Clarendon High school and attended Community College of the Air Force.

For a short wedding trip to Amarillo the bride chose a black dress and accessories. The couple will be at home in Lubbock.

MANAGING MONEY

Investment Ideas

As inflation gnaws at the purchasing power of the dollar, people are beginning to look for different ways to make their savings earn more.

An interesting opportunity for the average investor is the chance to receive nearly the same yields in the money market that larger investors have enjoyed for so long.

Money market instruments are short-term obligations of banks, corporations and the U.S. Government. They are usually sold only in large denominations—sometimes $100,000, but more often in $1,000,000 units.

Now, however, the smaller investor can participate in special funds, such as Dreyfus Liquid Assets, which, by combining your money with that of others, give you access to these money market opportunities.

An initial investment of $2,500 or more may be followed by subsequent investments in amounts as little as $100. There is never a sales charge or penalty for withdrawal.

For free information or a prospectus, write Dreyfus Liquid Assets, Inc., Dept. MM, 767 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10153. Read them carefully before you invest. Or call 800-345-8501, ext. 701; in Penn. 1-800-662-5180, ext. 701.

University. Carol is a graduate of Moore High School and College of Coiffure Art, Billings, Mont. The bridegroom is employed as a sales representative for Elanco Products, a division of Ely Lilly Co.

After a honeymoon trip to Matzulan, Mexico, the couple will be at home in Billings, Mont.

Plants can enrich the appearance of any room. To keep them fuller and greener, feed them with an unflavored gelatine and water mixture about once a month as part of your normal watering/feeding pattern.

Sandra Wallace selected to serve area advisory council at WTSU

Sandra Keel Wallace of Clarendon has been selected to serve as one of 10 members of the second Area Advisory Council at West Texas State University.

Members of the Area Advisory Council, chosen through the WTSU Office of Programs for Women, will serve as a liaison between WTSU and the community, said Jane Kerr, director of the Office of Programs for Women.

Council members have chosen to meet on the third Thursday of each month at WTSU to discuss the interests and to assess the educational needs of Panhandle women, said Kerr.

In addition to being wives and mothers, women on the council represent the WTSU student, a variety of careers and professions and volunteer work in several civic and community organizations. Members will serve for two years.

Wallace is a full-time WTSU junior majoring in elementary education. She has served as president of the Donley County Unit of the American Cancer Society for two years and is a past president of the Clarendon Country Club Ladies Golf Association.

She is a past board member of the Donley Unit of the American Heart Association and has volunteered for many neighborhood charity drives during the past 10 years. She is a member of the United Methodist Church.

Wallace, a graduate of Childress High School and Clarendon College, and her husband, Glenn, have one son and one daughter.

The Bookworm

The Gabie Bettes Burton Memorial Library, the one in the old courthouse, has received a Federal Land State Fund for $1500.00 to be used for the purchase of new books. The Burton Memorial Library plans to use some of that money for the purchase of reference books and other sorely needed types of study books.

There is no lack of best seller books, however. In fact, the shelves near the door as you come into the library are loaded with the most current best sellers. If, however, you don't find the book you want simply request it from the librarians. It helps speed things up tremendously if you can supply four things to the librarian: The title; the author; the publisher; and the date of publication. With this information, a phone call will get your special book speeding on its way from which ever library has it.

There are still several lovely prints available to check out for your home. The Bull Fight and Boon Companions are still available. Blue Plums by Shardan and Tahitian Landscape by Gogan are new additions. A lovely still life of blue flowers is also waiting to grace someones wall.

Cassette tapes are costly and a luxury seldom indulged in. The library has 100 cassette tapes available to check out for your enjoyment. Some of them are for children such as Dr. Seuss's "The Cat in the Hat" and "Aesop's Fables" as well as "The Story of Ferdinand the Bull". A large assortment of country western singers such as Johnny Cash, Loretta Lynn, Jerry Jeff Walker, Conway Twitty, Red Foley and Ray Price are on hand. Classical and semi-classical tapes as well as contemporary music are on file.

The library is there for you to use and it offers a wide variety of things to do, as well as simply checking out a book. Since this library is a member of the Texas Panhandle Library System, they are able to offer these various things. Because they are members of the TPLS, the library has been granted this $1500.00 funding. But, to keep its standing, the library needs to show use. Utilize your card, your privileges and your rights today. Take a book to bed with you.

The sport of skating is at least 1,000 years old.

Children learn stereotypes early, says child expert

STEPHENVILLE — Using "non-sexist" story books with preschool youngsters apparently changes the teachers' attitudes toward stereotypes faster than the kids', says a Tarleton State University child development expert.

"Teacher attitudes changed significantly with training, but children's did not in the four-week observation period," said Dr. Dolly Thiem, head of home economics at Tarleton State, part of the Texas A&M University System.

The study underscored the theory "that" prekindergarten children had already developed ideas of roles based on gender.

Thiem said they probably received these much earlier from family attitudes, other story books, television and perhaps even from images in the news media.

MRS. CANNON AT HER surprise birthday party, celebrated at the Martin Baptist Church. Mrs. Cannon is a charter member of the church and the only school she ever attended was at Martin. When she received a call from Mack White, a church officer she was worried all day before the party for fear she had done something wrong and was in trouble. Trouble was a Happy Birthday with members to help celebrate it.

Q: Is there anything I can do to assure me that my ex-husband spends my child support money on the children? Can I make him send me an itemized statement to prove where the money is going?

A: As a general rule, the person who has custody of the child is not required to account for the money given to him for child support. However, if there is a motion pending before the Court for either an increase or decrease in child support, or if there is an allegation that the custodian of the child has neglected the child's needs, the Court might require an accounting. The law, however, presumes child support is being used for the child's rent, food, clothing and other essentials.

Q: Can you tell me the duties of a person assigned as an Executor of an estate in Texas? Also, is there a form available that lists the steps one should take to execute a will?

A: Article 230 of the Texas Probate Code states that an Executor or Administrator shall take care of the property of the deceased as a prudent person would care for his own property. This broad duty includes, but is not limited to, the following: Collecting estate assets and insuring them; collecting money due the estate; listing and valuing the estate to file the Inventory, Appraisal, and List of Claims. In addition, the Executor prepares tax returns, pays tax due, and pays debts of the deceased. Finally, he delivers the remaining assets to the heirs or the beneficiaries.

Q: What does the judge's signature mean on divorce papers? Does his responsibility in the case end with presiding in court and seeing that the papers are drawn up?

A: State law requires that a written document be signed by a District Judge to dissolve a marriage by divorce. It will be entitled either a Decree or a Judgment of Divorce. In divorce cases involving children, although the divorce and the property settlement are final after 30 days, the Court will continue to hear a case until a child's 18th birthday. The Judge may modify prior orders of support, custody or visitation if such changes are shown to be in the best interest of the child.

Q: My husband had an accident at work 12 years ago and lost one of his eyes. The insurance company gave us a mere $3,000. The company is now out of business. Is there any way we can get further assistance? He is very limited now in the work he can do and the money he can earn.

A: Unfortunately, there is no way that you can get further assistance. The Worker's Compensation laws of the state of Texas allow very small recovery for injuries to the eyes. Because the employer was covered by Worker's Compensation Insurance, you may not sue the company for any additional damages. Also, even if the accident was caused by a third party, too many years have passed, and you can no longer file a suit for damages.

Q: My husband's company is transferring us from Texas to Oklahoma. If my son attends a Texas college, will he be charged out-of-state tuition? I understand Texas schools participate in an agreement with some other states where the tuition is not charged if the student had prior residence in that state.

A: If your son has been attending a state university, he could enroll on a resident basis as long as he attends continuously. There are, in addition, other provisions which may provide tuition adjustments. The registrar's office at his state university will supply the tuition policy information you need.

Q: I retained a lawyer to represent me in a personal injury case resulting from an automobile accident. We reached a settlement with the insurance company representing the other person. How will I know when my lawyer receives the check from the insurance company?

A: The Attorney's Code of Ethics which is called the Code of Professional Responsibility, requires lawyers to protect their client's funds by placing them in a bank trust account separate from the law firm's general operating account. When the insurance company sends your lawyer the check in payment of your claim, your lawyer must place that check in this separate bank account and promptly notify you that the check has arrived. Your lawyer also must promptly pay you the proceeds remaining from the check following deduction for his fee if that is the arrangement for the payment of his fee or must send you a check for the full amount if some other fee arrangement has been reached.

Q: A tenant in my rent house signed a one-year lease, but she moved after five months when she decided she could no longer afford the rent. I spent more than twice the amount of her security deposit on repairs. Am I obligated to return her deposit or provide her with an itemized accounting of my cost?

A: State law requires you to return your tenant's security deposit after subtracting for unpaid rent, repairs or other deductions allowed under the lease within 30 days. However, if your tenant owed rent when she moved, an itemized accounting of deductions is not required. The tenant also remains liable for the rent due for the remainder of the lease. This liability is reduced by the amount of any rent collected if the property is leased again.

National 4-H Club week

Donley County 4-H members will be joining some 140,000 boys and girls in Texas and more than five million across the nation in celebrating National 4-H Club Week October 5-11.

Theme of this year's observance will be "Expanding Horizons." The theme challenges 4-H youth to seek new knowledge and skills and to build on personal strengths to become better citizens and leaders, points out Lesli Garnett county 4-H program leader with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. The Extension Service is the parent organization of 4-H.

According to Garnett, 4-H is the nation's largest out-of-school educational youth organization which offers unique learning experiences for youth through its time-tested "learning-by-doing" approach. 4-H'ers become involved in a variety of practical, real-life activities that range from agriculture and clothing to health and wood science. Programs vary according to youth needs and community resources.

4-H involves youth from all social and economic backgrounds and gives them an opportunity to key in on such vital issues as energy conservation, better human nutrition, wise use of natural resources, and combating inflation. Furthermore, 4-H helps boys and girls gain knowledge and skills for their future careers, points out Miss Garnett.

In addition to recognizing the 4-H program and the many opportunities it offers out nation's youth, National AUSTIN—A constitutional amendment dealing with property taxation will be found on November's ballot. Amendment 3 is a proposal to require a single appraisal district and a single board of equalization within each county for ad valorem tax purposes.

This amendment was adopted by the Legislature to fulfill the intent of the Property Tax Code which was enacted last year. The Code establishes single appraisal districts and boards of equalization within counties for all taxing jurisdictions except county governments. Counties currently have constitutional authority to handle their own property tax matters, and the amendment was designed to include this 4-H Week is also a time for recognizing the work of the many volunteer leaders who give unselfishly of their time and resources to help youth grow and develop, adds Garnett. 4-H boasts more than half a million volunteer leaders across the nation; 22,000 of those are in Texas and 23 are in Donley County.

What is a Navy

There have been several articles and references to the Navy Reserve or Armed Forces Reserve in the Clarendon Press lately. Perhaps you might wonder why the sudden interest in something as alien as the Reserve program. The main reason, of course, is because the reporter is a member of the Navy Reserve and that means it is interesting to at least two people in town.

The Navy Reserve is of local interest this year because the National Naval Enlisted Reserve Association convention will be held in Amarillo October 8-12. That is of interest to people in Clarendon because there will be traffic through town going to Amarillo to that convention. There could be tours to Greenbelt lake and there could be business in town as a result of the Navy Reserve.

The Navy Reserve is offering several things to people now days that is new and innovating. If you have had prior military service, if you are currently in a civilian occupation that could be correlated to a Navy job, you could be a member of the Navy Reserve in Amarillo. This means money, training, travel, opportunity and benefits to you and your family that would pay off in the long term like no other job you could do one weekend a month could pay.

If you are married, the wife and husband could join and do their weekend duty together once a month. If you are married and want to spend two weeks vacation, paid by the government, alone, the Reserves is a great place to get that opportunity. If you are a young person, unsure of what you want and doubtful of the draft, the Navy Reserve is just the place to find out where your goals might lead. If you are a young lady and wonder about the military and wonder about the draft, join the Navy Reserves and find out while safe and sound at home, ashore.

For more information, contact Jack Barnes, 2309 Line Ave. Amarillo 79106 or call collect 806 374-3541 and tell him Katie Dvorak sent you, you'll be glad you did.

Judy Garrison - Skinner's employee of the week

September 19, just a few weeks ago was the first anniversary for Judy Garrison's employment at Texas Saddlery. She began work at Skinners on September 19, 1979.

Variety is the description of the jobs Judy does for her skills range over a number of jobs.

She sews on the electric sewing machines on chaps, breast collars etc. She does hand sewing and puts head stalls together and works on bridles.

Various tasks require different handling and even different needles to do the job. Needles are specifically designed for each of the jobs, either on the machine or by hand. Some needles are round and make a round puncture, others are fashioned to make an angled puncture while another makes a slanted stitch.

Judy also does some stripping, (cutting leather in strips for bridles and reins etc.). Another job is the work of thinning the leather if it is thicker in one place than another and a large section is needed for particular work. She points and slots the strips by hand, another step in the custom made articles which set Texas Saddlery apart from run-of-the-mill wholesale manufacturers.

Of particular interest and pleasure to Judy is the fact that she has become aware of the time and effort that goes into a fine finished product. She has a deep sense of pride to have had a part in the process, much of which she learned in the reverse process as she was trained for various jobs.

Her job at Texas Saddlery is both interesting and enjoyable with persons who add to the appreciation of the association.

than the growth rate in the five years 1968 to 1973; but the growth rate in real disposable personal income—at least after taxes and inflation—was 38 percent worse. In 1972, the median income for a family of four was $11,152. That was $9,699 in real, after-tax income. In 1979, median income rose to $18,467—but the real, after-tax income measured in 1972 dollars was only $8,904: actually a drop in real income of 8.2 percent!

According to the Internal Revenue Service, 91.8 percent of the income and 82.2 percent of taxes are found at or below the 36 percent tax rate.

And if the maximum tax rate is reduced from 70 to 36 percent, Grace says, a mere 3.1 percent increase in national income would offset the effect on government revenues.

What do you think of these suggested tax reforms? Should investors be penalized for their hard-earned savings and investments? Should high tax rates reduce our disposable income and standard of living? Washington wants to know.

Washington

How would you like to tell the people in Washington how to run the country? You can. In fact, you should.

In a democracy it's your right and duty to write to your congressman and senator and let them know your opinion of a law—or lack of law—in any area that concerns you. You can reach your congressman at the House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515 and your senators at the U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510.

One issue many Americans are concerned and communicating to their representatives about is taxation.

The president and chief executive officer of a major American company recently had some things to say on that subject that many voters—and taxpayers—have found interesting. The executive was J. Peter Grace, head of W.R. Grace & Co., an international chemical company with growing interests in related natural resources and selected consumer products and services. With operations in 40 countries and 45 states, Grace ranks among the world's largest industrial organizations.

Grace suggested we ask the government to cut the personal tax rate to 36 percent, adjust all personal and corporate profits for inflation before taxing and eliminate the capital gains tax. This, he said, could help increase productivity, savings and investment in America, fight inflation and make our economic lives a little easier.

He points out that the higher taxes are, the less people save, and Americans save a smaller percentage of their disposable personal income than any other major industrial country.

Between our inflation rate of 13% and a capital gains tax of 28 percent, $10,000 wisely invested to yield a 50 percent profit results, after about seven years, in a 100 percent loss of your principal in real terms! If you make a 100 percent profit, you lose 70 percent of your principal, and a 150 percent profit means a 33 percent loss of principal.

The growth in personal income between 1973 and 1978 was 14 percent better

Judy is married to Mack Garrison, a City of Clarendon employee and they have one daughter, Freedom, two years old.

We become what we desire

By REV. WAYNE NAYLOR

Most people can be evaluated by the type reading material which finds its way into their homes. If we major on pornography, we will lust after the flesh. If our total ambition is to become the sole owner of all this world's goods or a great portion of it our major ambition might be the pride of life and its accomplishments. There have been some that have been evaluated to me as, "If you could dissect their eyes you would find them made up of dollar marks". Our conclusion is that man becomes what he desires. In I John 2:15-17 we are told, "Do not love the world, nor the things in the world. If any man loves the world, the love of the father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh and the lust of the eye and the boastful pride of life, is not of the father, but is from the world. And the world passes away, and also its lust; and the one who does the will of God abides forever."

There is a real sense in which there must be another world ideal or desire in order that even the things of this world fit properly into their places. Joy and peace of heart with God is a one on one relationship with God. To have it we must find the God of the universe who made this world and all other worlds and is now in His place with His Son getting ready for all who believe in Him.

Let us look for just a moment at the encouragement to lust that jumps at us from the shelves of many of our stores in our land. Some say let's keep it off the shelves for our children's sakes, but it needs to be kept off for everybody's sake. It is an enticement to lust, even to the best of those fortified against it else the preacher to preachers would not mention the idea that the man of God should not browse the pornography section of the magazine racks. Thanks be unto God for those stores and managers of those stores with courage to keep it out of the reach of everybody by not placing it on their shelves.

Brother Claude Cone, Pastor of First Baptist Church, Pampa, suggested that there might be a relationship between the number of rapes on the streets and in the stores of our towns. If a man's desire is built to a fever pitch by someone he sees then he might go after what he desires and become a rapist.

If your desire is to do the will of God then it will not be hard to find a way to become what you desire. The one who does His will abides forever.

Bronchos tie river road 12 - 12

The Clarendon Broncos plagued by a wet night, found themselves lucky to escape with their skin in playing to a 12-12 tie with the River Road Wildcats on a cold, rainy homecoming night last Friday.

The Broncos opened up early with a quick offensive explosion as Bobby Weatheron took the pitch from Lance Thornberry and galloped 54 yards for a touchdown. Weatheron's kick was wide, but the Broncos had an early 6-0 advantage. Two series of plays later, Thornberry kept the ball and raced 49 yards for a score. His pass to Hosea Hearn was incomplete, which gave Clarendon a 12-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The Bronco defense, led by linebackers Randy White and Barry Hasty, and the entire forward wall, held the Wildcats in check until an interception return on a fake punt attempt gave River Road the ball deep in Bronco territory. Catching Clarendon off guard, running back Dwight King rolled 13 yards for the Wildcats first score. The extra point was blocked by Alton Gaines, one of many Broncos who surged through the line. The offense was feeling the effects of the rain, however. When the Broncos would start to move the ball, it would slip from their grasp. In the second quarter, Bronco yards were hard to come by. The Wildcat defense held them to only 21 total yards that quarter. River Road seized the momentum in the second quarter. After their first score, they seemed to be going for a second when a halfback pass was intercepted by Gaines.

In the second half, Clarendon took the momentum back early but lost it on a fumble. The whole third period was a defensive struggle. Neither team could move the ball on the other. It was this way until mid-way in the 4th quarter. The Wildcats drove to the Clarendon 20 and were moving well, but then Steve Nance stepped in front of a River Road pass and halted that drive. The only problem with the Broncos having the ball was that they were on their own three yard line.

Clarendon then met fate again as the offense coughed up the slick football inside their own 10 yard line. But fate was against both teams as River Road fumbled and the Broncos recovered. After the Wildcats held Clarendon's offense three plays, Weatheron tried to boot the Broncos out of trouble. That gave River Road the ball with good field position and about 5:00 left in the game. The Wildcats then drove the ball in and finally scored on the defense. Hasty then blocked what would have been the winning point, giving the Bronco new incentive. The offense took the ball, and after a completion of 12 yards to Drew Thornberry from Lance Thornberry, the Broncos were on the 50 with about 2:00 left. But the next play was called back on a holding penalty after two quarterback sacks, Clarendon sat deep in their own territory with nothing to do but punt. Weatheron's kick was blocked, and it looked good for River Road. Then the Bronco defense dug in tight. They forced a fumble near the goal line, giving Clarendon the ball with only seconds to play. But as luck would have it, Clarendon fumbled the next play, and River Road had the ball on the Clarendon one-foot line with 10 seconds and no time outs. The Bronco defense held them, however, as they had done all night. There was no time for another play, and the game ended 12-12.

The Broncos edged out River Road in total yardage 262-230 as Weatheron picked up 122 yards on only 8 carries. Hosea Hearn had 67 yards on 15 carries and Lance Thornberry had 51 yards on 15 carries. Thornberry hit three passes for 22 yards.

River Road now has a record of 0-3-1 and the Broncos are 2-1-1.

This week, Clarendon closes out their non-district against probably their toughest foe yet: the Childress Bobcats. Childress is undefeated on the year and ranked 2nd in the state by the AP in conference AAA. It will be a tough challenge for Clarendon. They will want to bounce back strong against the Bobcats Friday in Clarendon at 8:00.
