Bronchos play at Memphis Friday

The Clarendon Bronchos hope to cap their championship season with a win over old rival Memphis, Friday night. Kick-off is 7:30 at Memphis. The Bronchos have clinched at least a tie for the District Championship and can win it outright with a victory over Memphis. But the Bronchos have the play-off berth wrapped up. The Bronchos and Cyclones usually throw out all previous won-lost records when they meet. The Bronchos come in at 6-2-1 while the Cyclones stand at 1-8. Their lone win came over Crowell 54-0. Clarendon will be looking for a win to continue their momentum while the Cyclones will be after a good game to end the season on. Coach Allens comments on Memphis: Memphis has had a tough year. They have had some injuries to key personnel which probably hindered their program. Memphis is 1-8 and have nothing to lose by playing us to the top. We do want to be ready to play a sound game against Memphis. We don't want to share the District title with anyone. They will use a pro-set type offense with #35 Randy Bice and QB #15 Terry Foster doing most of the ball handling. Foster a Jr. replaced Scott Lockhart after Lockhart went down with an injury early in the season. On defense they will use a basic 4-3. We expect a tough defensive game from them. Games this week are 7th vs. Memphis 4:30 here; 8th vs. Memphis 6:00 here and JV vs. Memphis 7:30 here. Play-off site set for Bi-District: Clarendon Bronchos (2-AA) vs. Panhandle Panthers (1-AA) 7:30 p.m. Friday, November 21, 1980, Harvester Stadium, Pampa, Texas. Clarendon - Visitors (east side stands). Admission - Adults $3.00 and students $2.00.

If a red check appears by your name your paper has expired. Subscription rates for Donley County $8.00 outside of County $10.00. Mail Box 1110 Clarendon, Texas 79226.

Ministerial Alliance to have Thanksgiving service

Wednesday evening, November 19th at 7:00 p.m. the Ministerial Alliance will have their annual Thanksgiving Service at the First Baptist Church. Rev. Bill Watson, minister of the First United Methodist Church, will bring the evening message and Rev. Bill Hodges, President of the Ministerial Alliance, cordially invites our community to this combined service. One of the functions of the Ministerial Alliance is to be of service to those in our community and those travelers passing through our community who need financial help. The following is a brief description of some ways we have attempted to help.

A few years ago, a gift of $1,000.00 was given to the Alliance with the stipulation that it be used for people living in Donley County. At the beginning of 1980 we had $900.00 remaining in that fund. As of this month we have $75.00 remaining. The money was used to help with utilities, rent, medical expenses, prescription drugs, groceries and those who had lost their homes due to fire. Our other expenditures were for those who needed assistance as they passed through Clarendon. We had received into this fund about $1,000.00 this year through private donations and from the member churches in our Alliance. We have $200.00 remaining in this fund. With the cost of gas, lodging and groceries it does not take long to deplete these funds. This year has been one of the more difficult years due to the number we have helped and the increase in the cost of services.

We of the Ministerial Alliance have tried to use these funds entrusted to us in the most economical way possible. We want to thank each of you for your financial help and each church for their contribution to these two Alliance Funds.

Over $3,000⁰⁰ raised Sunday for Library

The Burton Memorial Library Board and interested patrons raised over $3,000.00 in a telephone Blitz conducted Sunday afternoon November 9. The workers met at the Farmers State Bank and Chamberlain Motor Co. to use telephone facilities kindly loaned by the two businesses. Texas Nurses week

On October 18, Governor Williams Clements proclaimed the week of November 9-15, 1980, as Texas Nurses Week.

The Texas Hospital Association (THA) and its member institutions recognize the vital role nurses play in providing care to the sick and injured in communities throughout Texas.

Their importance is felt now, more than ever, due to the critical shortage of nurses in our state and nation. Over 9,000 currently vacant nursing positions in Texas hospitals illustrate the magnitude of the problem. The long-term solution rests with the youth of our state and with those we honor during this special week.

Nurses deserve the sincere gratitude of all Texans and of the Texas Hospital Association during Texas Nurses Week and throughout the year.

THA is the Austin-based trade association for hospitals in Texas with over 750 institutional and 4,300 personal members.

Bronchos beat Wellington 30-8

By SPENCER HAYES

Hosea Hearn rushed for 253 yards and Bobby Weatherton added 101 as the Clarendon Bronchos clinched the District 2-AA championship for the first time in 8 years with a convincing 30-8 whalloping of the Wellington Skyrockets in Friday's last home game.

The spectacular backfield tandem led a 501-yard offensive explosion by the Bronchos, while the visiting Rockets could manage only 131 yards, and only 12 in the fourth quarter. Hearn dashed for touchdown runs of 95, 75 and 2, while Weatherton's longest run was 54 yards to the Wellington 2 yard line in the second quarter. Lance Thornberry also added to the offensive excitement, rolling up 77 yards, including a 36 yard scoring jaunt. Weatherton added all the PAT's. The only other Clarendon score was by the defense, which recorded a safety on Scott Newland's smothering of helpless Rocket quarterback Jody Coleman in the end zone.

The Bronchos jumped to a 14-0 lead on Hearn's TD's before the Broncos fumbled and allowed Wellington a short drive. The Bronchos nearly held their opponents from scoring, but Kenneth Warren finally punched the pigskin over on 4th down from the two yardline. That

Urinalysis screening slated for schools

On November 17, 1980, the National Kidney Foundation of West Texas will sponsor a urinalysis screening project in the Clarendon Elementary Schools for grades Kindergarten through K-8th. This program is designed to detect kidney disease early among school age children at no charge to the student or the school.

Kidney and urinary tract diseases affect more than 13 million American men, women, and children and continues to be one of the major causes of work loss and school absenteeism. Of these people, 43,000 need an artificial kidney just to stay alive, some of these are children. The mortality rate due to kidney disease is 54,000 annually, more people than are killed in traffic made the score 14-8 and gave Wellington a new chance as the two teams retired for the halftime intermission.

But the Bronchos proved to be too powerful, as they stopped their mistakes and Wellington, as well, refusing a point the rest of the game. Clarendon intercepted a season-high 4 passes in the game: one each by Weatherton and Drew Thornberry, and two by Alton Gaines, who also caught two Brad Thompson passes in the game. Each interception stopped a possible Rocket threat. In fact, the closest Wellington came to scoring in the second half was on a 98 yard kick-off return by Tim Anderson that was nullified by a clip at midfield.

Special services at Assembly of God Church

The Assembly of God Church will be conducting special services November 16th. The church will be honoring Mr. Jake Holman who has served 40 years as church Sunday School Superintendent.

Alice Wireman, of Pampa will be singing and sharing in the morning service, with a noon church fellowship dinner in honor of Mr. Holman, following. You are invited to attend.

There are currently more than 200 people in our area who must sustain life on an artificial kidney machine because of renal failure. Dr. Miguel Rios, Chief Nephrologist at the Amarillo High Plains Dialysis Center, and President of the National Kidney Foundation of West Texas Board of Directors, states that fifty percent of all patients presently on dialysis could have avoided this costly, time-consuming treatment if they had been diagnosed during childhood. Some kidney diseases can be present for 20 years before any symptoms are present, by then 85 to 90 percent of the kidney functions can be lost.

Clarendon football fans are super

There are few chances to complement a large percentage of residents of a town and this is so nice a compliment all of you should know about it.

On Friday evening November 7, at the great game with Wellington, when the Bronchos won district, a visitor from out of town told this story.

The visitor had cut out a poem from their hometown paper thinking the Clarendon Press might like to run it also. Instead this is what the visitor had to say about Clarendon residents and football fans.

"There is no need for that kind of poem in Clarendon. How nice to be with wonderful persons who cheer their players on with a lusty 'That's all right Bronchos' if a play fails, they are intercepted or if they fumble; instead of booing or berating the team."

"How wonderful to be in a crowd where you don't wince at the cursing from too many of the crowd, and must move to keep your children from having to listen to vulgar language."

"What a pleasure to see fans that are also concerned with the well being of the players of the opposing team as was the Clarendon crowd Friday night."

"What a wonderful way to win district with pride in the team, the school and the town, when sheer exuberance was spread through out the crowd of very nice people at a happy and clean event—a high school football game."

Finest paid to Donley County $3,195.80, fines paid to City $214.20, fines paid to Parks and Wildlife $42.50, State Tax $380.00, Law Enforcement Officers Fund $152.00, and total October collection $3,984.50.

Daze of our Lives

By JEAN BURCHETT

Like other wives, I feel the least I can do is to try to fit hubby into the social mold. I feel guilty if he doesn't attend every party we're invited to, if he misses church on Sunday, or even if he doesn't hit all the school functions other daddies do. And just between us gals, I'm about to give up.

For instance, it seemed only proper to me that hubby should go to basketball games because the kids like them. If they did hand-springs on the sidelines why shouldn't he do hand-springs on the sidelines?

"I didn't like basketball at 20, or at 30," hubby says, "and at 40 I still don't like it."

"Well yeah," I cajole, "but this is THE game. If you'd go once it might sort of grab you. Get in the old Bloodstream." Seeing that he was leaning, okay, sighing, I push a little. "You can wear your new sportcoat. The kids will be so proud of you!"

The game is in full swing and we cat-walk toward the only two empty spaces on the bottom row of the pull-down seats at the other end of the court.

"Sorry, sir," No. 10 breathes on the run as he jabs hubby in the kidney with his elbow.

Hubby holds his side, sits down on the bench, but can't seem to get settled. "What do I do with my legs?" he asks.

"Pull them up!" I yell above the crowd noise.

"Sorry, sir," No. 12 grunts when the ball knock's hubby's wad of hat from between his knees.

"Now, you sit still and eat your sucker," a young mother squashes her little girl into a mini-space beside hubby.

I never remembered it smelling this bad in the gym before. So hot!

Swak...swak, the sucker flops back and forth against the new sport coat. "Sorry about your coat," I murmur.

"Forget it," he says numbly. "It's the little piece of my leg she keeps stomping that's killing me."

"FOUL!" the referee shrills.

"Praise God," Hubby groans and stretches his legs. "They've got to group up."

By halftime his eyes have set. "By gory!" a husky man shouts to his friend on the seat above us. "I haven't seen you in a coon's age." And he throws out his hand and plows his little fingernail right through hubby's wide expanse of forehead. I patted a sliver of Kleenex over it to stop the blood.

"Look!" the young mother beams. "Daddy brought you a Coke."

I'm enjoying myself about like a snake at a cotton chopping. "Would you like to go?" I ask hubby.

"WHA--AT?" he howls as a short, heavy cager leaps for a pass and brings a shoe heel down on his left foot. "And miss all this fun? Houdini couldn't move me through this mob."

The crowd went wild when we tied the game. Everybody but hubby, who just gulped, "Slis-sh" when the Coke went down his neck.

Our team won, but my side was defeated when one of the kids saw hubby in the lobby after the game. "Why, Daddy," she said, "I didn't know that was you with Mama. I just thought somebody threw a coat like yours over the bicycle rack."

being provided by a private grant and various donations by individuals.

The urinalysis screening consists of a very simple procedure. The child will be asked to go into the restroom and give a sample in a paper cup, the child will then give the cup to the nurse who is doing the testing. A dip stick, which works on the same principle as litmus paper, is dipped into the sample and the color will tell if the child could have any abnormal kidney function. This test checks PH, Glucose, Protein, and Blood in the urine. If a child shows some tendencies towards kidney disease, the parents will be notified informing them that the child should be seen by their family physician.

If your child has not brought his/her parental consent form home, please contact the school so that your child may be tested. You can prevent serious complications which could lead to eventual kidney failure by participating in this program. Your children need our help!

The South Amarillo Kiwanis Club, which is sponsoring the marathon, is now signing up volunteer readers from throughout the community. Persons interested may contact Scott C. Smith, 3502 Hawthorne, 352-5887.

Bob Watson, general chairman of the Amarillo marathon, said that men and women of all faiths, both laymen and clergy, are being sought as readers.

Watson said. The reading will be conducted in the studio of Total Television of Amarillo and will be televised on cable channel 6. The marathon will begin at 10 a.m. on November 21.

"We expect the complete reading of the Bible to take about 90 hours," Watson said, "which means that we will cover portions of four days and will conclude on the morning of November 25."

Smith said that Amarillo members of Gideons International have offered to conduct the reading during the hours from midnight until 8 a.m. each day. The sponsors hope to have a number of Amarillo celebrities as readers each evening, from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Watson said that a selection of Bibles will be available to readers at the television studio or volunteers may use their own Bibles, if they prefer.

The marathon in Amarillo is one of two such readings being conducted in the United States this year to mark National Bible Week. The other reading is planned in Boston. In recent years, the Laymen's National Bible Committee has organized similar events in a number of American cities.

Watson said the marathon is intended to draw attention to the variety of people who value the teachings of the Bible, to encourage oral Bible reading, and to provide an opportunity for Amarillo area people to hear the Bible read aloud.

A Moment for Meditation

By INEZ G. LAWRENCE

"That prayers be made for all that are in authority," I Tim. 2:1-2

The election of the president of the United States is history now. Those who failed to vote really have no right to complain about what they do not like the next four years in our country. Those who did vote and are disappointed, or those who are happy because of the outcome still have a powerful influence to exert. The Bible says that prayer is to be made for all those in authority regardless of whether our party won or not. Of course it is much easier to criticize than it is to pray, for you see, prayer demands humility. Prayer requires laying aside our pride and arrogance before a Holy God. It means we recognize that God's purpose is constantly being worked out. He uses men and nations to accomplish His will whether they know it or not. Now this does not negate a person's ability to choose to be a part of God's purpose. If he does refuse, someone else will get the opportunity. Not only is this true of individuals but of nations also. They have a right to chart their own course outside of God's plan if they so choose. However, Christians are told to pray for their leaders. The reason is, "that we may live a peaceable life." Prayer is such a powerful influence that its effect is felt even in non christian lives. So, our responsibility does not end at the voting booth-it begins there. We are one nation under God only because of God's mercy and blessing upon us. In light of this we owe our leaders the kind of support that comes from intercessory prayer for them. The problems of our country are too complex for easy solutions. Only wisdom from God will enable the President and the Congress to cope with them in any satisfactory manner. We are a part of the solution only if we pray for them. Freedom in this country is too precious a commodity to be taken lightly. Sincere prayer will safeguard its future.

Tom Harper speaks at College auditorium

On Tuesday, November 4th, at 1:00 p.m., Tom Harper of Dallas, a recovered cancer patient, spoke at the College Fine Arts Auditorium to a large audience comprised of grades 5 through the college and many adult Clarendon residents. He was sponsored by the Donley Unit of the American Cancer Society and the YAC Group (Youth Against Cancer) of that unit.

Genevieve Caldwell, president of the Donley Unit, welcomed the audience then introduced Ernie McAnally of Amarillo, state president of YAC, who in turn introduced the speaker. "Cancer Can Be Beat" was the theme of Tom Harper's thrilling talk after showing a film produced by the ACS of his fight against cancer. Tom was nineteen and an outstanding athlete at Annapolis when he was told he had three months to live. That was five years ago and Tom has been pronounced well. Along with giving credit to new medical treatments, he stressed the great importance of mental attitude in his battle. He much doubted that he would win. It was a most inspirational, informative talk which everyone felt privileged to hear. He travels all over the country making talks for the ACS.

Rape Crisis Seminar held

Entitled WE CARE AMERICA the seminar held Saturday, November 8, at the Clarendon College auditorium under the auspices of the Amarillo Rape Crisis Center was most instructive to the persons who attended.

Attorney, Kathy Brown Dodson, of Amarillo was the featured speaker and she stressed the important factors for the victim to insure conviction when the rapist is caught.

Other points were the fact that 90% of all rapes are planned and the victims range in age from a 97 year old invalid to a four month old baby.

Also speaking was Rosie Brogdon of Irving representing WE CARE AMERICA and the work she is doing to aid the victims of this crime, some of whom cannot bring themselves to report the incident to police.

Funding problems have been a problem for Rape Crisis who have been helped by grants from Potter and Randall counties, the Junior League, and Levi Strauss.

There are 36 volunteers trained for the work at the center. This group of workers are available to the area, not

Texas Community College week

Nov. 17-21 at CC

The State of Texas has long recognized the growing and important need for Community College education to prepare individuals in Academic and Vocational education which will eventually lead to satisfying careers for the students of Texas.

November 17-21 has been set aside by proclamation of the Governor of Texas as Texas Community College Week. Clarendon College has been actively involved in Post Secondary education since 1898 and will continue to be in the future. Community College education serves secondary, post-secondary school youth, as well as adults, in preparing them for the future.

Clarendon College offers a wide range of Academic Courses leading to an Associate in Arts or Associate in Science Degrees. The college also offers the following Vocational Professions which a student may earn an Associate Degree or a State License:

Automobile Mechanics-Associate Applied Science; Cosmetology-State License; Electronics-Associate Applied Science; licensed Vocational Nursing-State Certificate; and Ranch and Feedlot Operations-Associate Applied Science.

Dr. Bob E. Riley, Dean of Instruction at Clarendon College stated, "We plan to have an informal open house during the week of November 17-21 to show interested students and the general public, the facilities and resources for instruction we have at Clarendon College. Everyone is welcome to visit our campus during this time."

participate in the Western Oklahoma State Tournament and must play one of the tournament favorites in Weatherford College at 2:00 p.m. Thursday. We would really like to get a win or two in this tournament.

Our next home game is Wednesday, November 19, as we host Seward Community College from Liberal, Kansas. We play at their place on Monday and host them here Wednesday.

By the way the Jog-A-Thon is next Thursday, November 20. Let's get those request forms sent out and be ready to make as many laps as possible.

Doghouse Review

By MARK NIXON

The season opened on a positive note here last Thursday. By winning the game 53-40 over the LCC junior varsity we broke a two year home losing streak. Also we had a record in gate receipts which really makes me happy.

Our team did not play anywhere close to its capabilities in the game but at least they played well enough to win. They played extremely tight which has got to be somewhat expected when there are eleven freshmen on the roster.

Social Security Admin. news

Social Security benefits were being paid to residents of Donley County at the rate of $240,134 a month at the start of 1980, Jim Talbot, social security manager in Amarillo said today.

Social Security benefits can be paid to retired persons age 62 and over, to workers who become severely disabled before age 65, and to survivors of deceased workers.

Monthly social security checks are also paid to certain dependents of a worker who has retired, become disabled or died.

Of the 1,058 social security beneficiaries living in Donley County, 603 are retired workers and 67 are disabled workers. Another 57 persons are receiving benefits as the wives or husbands of retired or disabled workers. Widows, widowers and dependent parents of deceased workers number 249.

In Donley County, 240 people under the age 65 and 818 people age 65 and older are receiving monthly social security benefits. Of total beneficiaries, 433 are men, 543 are women and 82 are children.

The outstanding performances in the game were turned in by George Milhouse, a 6'4 1/2" freshman from Selma, Alabama, as he tossed in 14 points and pulled down 12 rebounds and Barry Kirk, a 6'2" sophomore who is the team captain. Barry scored 10 points and just pulled the team together down the stretch of the game. Also, Jerry Isler, a 5'8" guard came off the bench to play a very good floor game.

At halftime of that game Carin Nestle, a CC student, was selected to shoot five free throws. She made four out of five and won a $25.00 gift certificate from Gibson's.

Saturday night was not so much fun. We opened our road season at Altus, Oklahoma against Western Oklahoma State College and lost the game 67-62. It was not a case of getting beat, but more a case of losing by not being mentally prepared to play the game. That was evidenced by the fact that all of our frontline players combined to score a measly 24 points.

Always rinse silver and silverplate utensils after using if they won't be washed right away, advises Nancy Granovsky, a family resource management specialist.

There is always an amazing amount of cooking going on in kitchens where young adults and kids reside. It amazes me that men can take such an active part in the kitchen, too. But, remembering some of the horrible tasting recipes we had from our 8 and 9 year old cooks, these are some really delicious ideas from our older kids in high school. Try some, the kids tell me they either discovered the recipe or it is one of their favorites.

The most competitive box was Melody Moreman's and Susan Thompson's which finally ended up as Terry Cole's.

Greenbelt lake is such a pretty place with different kinds of foliage. The early morning seen rise makes a beautiful picture from my front door.

Melville Mills has been on our sick list since Thursday, hope he is up and about soon.

Mrs. Prickett is still improving but has a long way to go yet.

Lena Howard and Norma Corgill were in Childress Thursday on business. Leon and Mabel May spent last week visiting their daughter in Dallas.

Al and Evelyn Bursleson have returned home from two weeks deer hunting trip in Colorado. They had good luck, instead of bringing home the bacon they brought home the deer meat. We are glad to have everyone home safe.

Louise Garvin, Bo and Rieta of Turkey visited with her mother Norma Corgill Sunday and attended church at Howardwick Baptist Church.

There has been some good fishing going on at the lake. I know of one 15 lb cat that was caught last week. The three or four pounders don't count, when it comes to catches like that.

The Lakers Homemakers Club met Monday. There were fourteen present including one visitor. Lesli Garnett met with us and demonstrated some good eats that would be good for Christmas gifts. Others brought items they had made, crocheted pictures, dolls, butterflies, many interesting items.

We also elected new officers Lois McVickers president, Lela Whitehead secretary. Our next meeting will be December 8.

Foods such as eggs, mayonnaise and seafood contain sulfide which may cause silver and silverplate to tarnish with prolonged contact, she says.

In view of emerging statistics, it may clarify perspectives to note that most adults still marry, most still have children and most children are still raised in families, reminds Diane Welch, a family life education specialist.

Mrs. Welch is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Mechanical methods for fall, winter brush control

Chaining, root plowing and grubbing are all effective mechanical methods for controlling brush during fall and winter months, says a range brush and weed control specialist.

Chaining involves using a heavy anchor chain (weighing 40 to 90 pounds per foot) 150 to 300 feet long and drawn between two crawler type tractors, points out Dr. Tommy Welch with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Chaining uproots or breaks off brush. Chaining of live brush species that have the capability of sprouting from a bud zone beneath the soil will provide only temporary control. However, chaining following a herbicide treatment provides effective and economical brush control, particularly of mesquite.

Chaining of mesquite is most effective about three years after a herbicide has been used, says Welch. Chaining during late fall and winter is best because the dormant and brittle mesquite plants break up easily, inflicting maximum damage. Soil moisture should be high so that the mesquite will be uprooted, thus removing the bud zone from the soil so that the tree cannot resprout.

Chaining is effective on areas supporting mesquite trees 4 to 5 inches or more in diameter. Chaining of sprayed areas uproots most large trees, increasing the duration of control over that obtained from herbicide control alone. Dead or partially dead mesquite trees are easier to uproot than unsprayed, live plants.

Root plowing is also effective in controlling brush but it's expensive. Therefore, it's best suited for sites with high production potential, points out Welch.

Root plowing is also effective in controlling brush but it's expensive. Therefore, it's best suited for sites with high production potential, points out Welch.

Grubbing works well on thin stands of brush and is also useful as a maintenance control measure. Use of a small crawler tractor to grub thin stands of small brush species is a good practice, believes Welch. Plans are available from the Extension Service for a grubber developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station for use on small crawler tractors.

A grubbing unit may be placed on rubber-tired farm tractors and may be rear-mounted or attached to a front-end bucket loader. The tractor should be equipped with puncture resistant tires such as steel-belted logging tires, recapped aircraft tires, or foam-filled tires.

Rubber-tired wheel loaders may also be equipped with a grubbing unit, says Welch. Rubber-tired vehicles are useful for maintenance control of small brush plants. More small brush plants may be missed when grubbing during the winter because of difficulty in seeing the leafless plants.

Welch advises ranchers to select the brush control method that best fits their operations and needs.

90% of Quail Adult size by November 1

By DAVE DVORAK Wildlife Biologist

There have been many comments this year on the early opening of the quail season. Specifically, some folks are concerned that the season was too early with too many small birds turning up in the hunter's bag. Why was the season set to open this early by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department?

For years hunters have argued the question of when to open the quail season. Early, when there might be a few young birds, or late, after nature has had a chance to reduce the population? In the 1950's wildlife biologists here in the panhandle began gathering information to answer this question.

Early investigations conducted on the Gene Howe Wildlife Management Area near Canadian and the Matador Area near Paducah found that at 90 days of age a quail is large enough to satisfy 98% of the quail hunters. The average weight of a 90 day old bird is 5.5 oz while an adult bird will average 6.3 oz. Quail 100 days old are accepted as fully grown by all hunters.

When does a quail reach 90 days of age? As most hunters know, the age of a quail can be determined by inspecting the primary wing feathers. During the years 1950 through 1959 wings were collected from 33,724 Panhandle quail. Ages taken from these wings showed that by November 1, over 90% of the birds were over 90 days old and acceptable to most hunters.

BETTY VEACH

September teacher of month

Betty Veach was selected "FTA Teacher of the Month" for September by the Clarendon FTA Chapter of CHA.

She teaches Typing I, Typing II, and Bookkeeping. She is sponsor of Annual Staff and FTA at CHS. She is a District XVI FTA advisor for Dist. XVI FTA Parliamentarian Rick Hayes, 1980-81.

On the Gene Howe Area quail hatching dates were plotted for the years 1965 through 1977 to determine the optimum dates for opening the season. Over this 13 year period the dates when 90% of the birds reached 90 days of age varied from October 26 for the earliest to November 6 for the latest. Quail trapped and aged on the Matador Area yielded virtually the same information. Blue quail trapped throughout the Panhandle in 1979 indicated that the optimum date for the season opening was October 21!

Every quail hunter knows that a quail population begins to decline the day they are hatched. Quail cannot be stockpiled for future use and, hunted or not, at least 80% of this year's birds will be gone by next breeding season. The early season allows the Texas hunter to harvest the birds when their numbers are at their highest for the rest of the year.

So, if a young covey should happen to get up under your gun, just pass them by. There should be at least 9 other coveys out there that are adult sized by the opening of the quail season.

4-H members attend field trip to Canyon

Sixteen 4-H members and three leaders attended a field trip to Canyon Saturday, says Lesli Garnett, Donley County Extension Agent.

Mr. Joe Wise of West Texas State University conducted a tour through the dairy explaining use of the milking machines, milk distribution, and their breeding program.

The youth visited the West Texas State Museum, viewing the old kitchen, antique cars, a special fashion exhibit, and the old masters art exhibition featuring paintings from as early as 1290.

Jeannie Formway talked to the group at the Eat-Rite Health Food Store explaining how herbs may be used in the diet and pointing out several healthy and unusual products.

Leaders sponsoring the trip included Jeannie Formway, Aileen Leathers and Henrietta Richardson. Karen Alderson served as a junior leader to 4-H members attending which included: Jennifer McAnear, Denice Richardson, Marcy Helms, Debra Slavin, Selena Kennedy, Christina Leathers, Craig Wright, Emily Courtney, Christie McAnear, Christie Knorrp, Twanna Garland, Gina Smith and Pee Wee Katrina Leathers. Gene and Tiny Alderson donated a station wagon for the trip.

1926 Book Club meets

The 1926 Book Club met in regular session Tuesday, November 4, 1980, at the Patching Clubhouse at 4:00 p.m.

Members and guests were served delicious cake with a lemon sauce over it, hot spiced tea, and nuts by hostesses-Mary Thornberry and Janice Johnston. The serving table was decorated with Thanksgiving decorations with pilgrims and turkeys that were made by Mrs. Thornberry. They were lovely.

The meeting was brought to order by President Oressa Delaney.

She introduced Diane Chamberlain, who in turn gave a brief report on what is happening with the city library, what is being done in the way of construction, etc.

Mrs. Delaney then introduced Mr. Mike McQueen of Amarillo who spoke to us on the services available to senior citizens. He made us aware of the fact that our society is being faced with a condition-more people living to be older-that scientists are not sure yet how this will effect our society. Will retirement become a thing of the past. Our fastest growing population is the 75 years

Bookworm

Sometimes there is nothing more relaxing than to read a very light science fiction book, something posterous such as "Doctor Who" by Terrance Dicks, published by Doubleday. This novel contains only three of the more than 40 adventures of Doctor Who written by this British author. In fact, many of the adventures have been converted into a series on BBC. If you are on cable TV you might have seen some of the episodes on Sunday evening.

For those of you who have read any science fiction and might be familiar with Harlan Ellison, a very notable award winning science fiction author in his own right, you will be pleased to know how highly Ellison places the Who series in his catalog of good science fiction. In fact, Doctor Who would classify itself closer to science fantasy than to science fiction, except that it does need the rigid criteria laid down by the SF Conventions held annually in the world to label this genre.

Doctor Who is a Time Lord who has played hooky from his planet for thousands of years and interfered with the goings on in the Universe to better things and be a champion for good against the evil lurking in the galaxy in the form of ridiculous, sinister life forms.

He has two English human companions, Harry Sullivan and Sarah Jane Smith. The one very interesting thing about Sarah Jane Smith is that, while she can faint and scream like any pretty woman in any novel written by a man, she is also capable of leading rebellions, of finding heroic deeds the same as any man, all with the lady-like grace of a blue blooded Englishwoman. It is refreshing to find a woman heroine that isn't built like a man, talk like a ruffian and dress like a radical. It's nice to find a woman who can act like a woman and also have a brain.

If you like to read a higher genre of literature but like mystery and romance, I suggest that you get hold of "My Cousin Rachel" by Daphne du Maurier, also published by Doubleday.

This is an English setting again, and contains two main characters of strength and note; Phillip and Rachel. Phillip has been orphaned and raised by his cousin Ambrose. They are lords and landed people in a pre-war England. Ambrose has married a lovely girl in a foreign country. He dies and the widow is coming to visit the home estate. There is a great deal of animosity at first from Phillip towards this usurper, but when he discovers her to be young, beautiful and gracious, he quickly falls in love with her.

Rachel, however, is not your shallow English woman, nor is she your single minded novel heroine. Rachel is one of the most clever, diabolical ladies in any story, she is worthy of study and can have the most knowledgeable reader confused and convinced that she is exactly what Rachel wants the world to believe her to be.

The twists and turns to this novel will keep you guessing and wondering. It will also delight you with it's ending.

Minutes City

Board of Aldermen

The Board of Aldermen of the City of Clarendon met in regular session on October 28, 1980, in the Clarendon College Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Members present were Mayor Leonard Selvidge, Aldermen B.L. Graham, Shirley Clifford, Lloyd McCord, and W.W. Lovelady.

Members absent were Alderman James Kuhn. The meeting opened with Mayor Selvidge welcoming the gathering and explaining the purpose of the meeting. He then turned the floor over to a representative of Merriman & Barber Engineers, Inc.

Using a projector, Barber showed, on screen, a plan of the proposed new large line around Clarendon.

During a question and answer session, he discussed low pressure and volume with persons present who had that problem.

He also gave approximate raises of $2.00 and $3.00 per water meter for 40 years as a way to repay the $500,000.00 cost of the proposed project, if the City passed bonds for a loan from FmHA.

DRUG INTERACTIONS

When two or more medicines are taken at the same time, the effect of any one medicine may be changed. Although some of these changes, termed drug interactions, may be beneficial, many are potentially dangerous. The interaction of diuretics (water pills) and digoxin illustrates a situation that could possibly result in death.

Diuretics cause the body to lose excess water through the urine. The medicines are frequently used in heart failure. Diuretics may cause the body to lose an excessive amount of the mineral potassium. When potassium levels are low, people may have muscle cramps or become fatigued.

Digoxin is also used in heart failure. It causes the heart to pump blood in a more efficient manner. When the body's potassium level is low, digoxin becomes very poisonous. In this way, digoxin and diuretics interact in a potentially lethal manner. Postassium supplements (liquids, powders, or tablets) can help avoid this serious problem.

To help avoid dangerous drug interactions, the physician and pharmacist should be told of all medicines being taken before a new medicine is prescribed or dispensed.
