CISD Board of Trustee meeting

Clarendon Independent School District Board of Trustees met in a regularly scheduled meeting March 13, 1980 at 7:30 p.m. in the superintendent's office with all board members, and administrators present.

Routine business was attended and president L.A. Watson cordially recognized a large group of interested parents and Clarendon residents who had asked to meet with the board.

The group had two items which they had asked to be placed on the agenda; supervision for the 4th, 5th and 6th grade girls in the dressing rooms at P.E. classes and discussion for the organization of a Parent Teacher Organization (PTO) for Clarendon.

The Title IX Regulation concerning the physical education classes reads: an institution or agency MAY NOT provide any course or otherwise carry out any of its education program or activity separately on the basis of sex, or require or refuse participation therein by any of its students on such basis, including health, physical education, industrial, business, vocational, technical, home economics, music and adult education courses.

(a) With respect to classes and activities in physical education at the elementary school level, the recipient shall comply fully with this section as expeditiously as possible but in no event later than one year from the effective date of this regulation. With respect to physical education classes and activities at the secondary and post-secondary levels, the recipient shall comply fully with this section as expeditiously as possible but in no event later than three years from the effective date of this regulation.

Title IX further reads that: "no person shall, on the basis of sex be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance."

The implementing Regulation establishes detailed criteria for identifying and eliminating sex discrimination in education programs and activities, and set forth five major compliance requirements which must be completed by July 21, 1976.

These five requirements are (in regard to equal opportunity afforded to males and females) * admission to most education institutions; * access to and treatment in curricular and extra curricular programs and activities sponsored by education agencies and institutions; * treatment under regulations and policies governing student benefits, services, conduct and dress; * access to employment in education agencies and institutions; * terms, conditions, and benefits of such employment.

Supervision had been provided for the girls dressing rooms two weeks prior to the meeting and would continue to be provided for the remainder of the school year. The board of trustees agreed on the need and plan to budget for a permanent school employee for the position for the school supervision of the P.E. classes.

The formation of a Parent-Teacher Organization, an independent group and in no way connected with the federated Parent-Teacher Association, was discussed with the school trustees. There was no action taken on that issue.

In other business the following business was transacted:
 *Hired staff for 1980-81- Elementary teachers: B.M. Bromley, Wanda Cornell, Helen Estlack, Georgia Guinn, Pauline Heath, Norma Jones, Helen Land, Johnny Leathers, Ernestine Mooring, Freddie Moreman, Karen Simmons, Becky Smith, and Frieda Tucker. Mary Martin-Clarendon artist

MARY MARTIN

Although Mary Martin, received good grades in school from her science teachers because of above average drawings, she had not done much more than just sketches until a few short years ago.

A gift from her husband's mother, Joy Martin, actually launched her painting career. Mrs. Martin saw some of Mary's sketches and bought her a set of oil paints to develop her talent.

Since the gift set of oils Mary has changed mediums (she now uses acrylics) is enrolled in Clarendon College art classes and sells her paintings with regularity to an appreciative public.

Mary Hughes (Martin), grew up in Lakeview, graduated from High School and attended Clarendon College before she married Mike Martin, in 1970. After they married they lived in Kress for a year and that is where they were when Mary got her set of oil paints.

After some moving around Mary and her husband settled down on the Bitter Creek Ranch about six years ago with their two year old daughter. By this time Mary had begun to use acrylics, which were suggested by a landlady in Omaha, Texas when they lived there. Because of the ease of cleaning up after painting, and the speed with which a painting could progress Mary continued to use acrylics, and prefers it now to other mediums.

A real inspiration to Mary was an art exhibit which she viewed one 4th of July. She was determined that by the next July 4th she would have something to show too. One of the pictures was a pair of boots and entitled "Works Done", it sold before the show was over.

Mary has a gift for portraiture and has done several, one of her husband, which are good enough for anyone who has seen the subject to recognize with out any trouble, a rarity for most painters.

Mary worked for some time, with two years at the ASCS office, and three months at Skinnners Texas Saddlery. After a few sales and the subsequent encouragement she kept thinking more and more of painting and less about other things. She decided to quit work and spends increasingly more time painting.

For the spring term she enrolled in the art class at Clarendon College and under the instruction of James Ivey Edwards is able to see the improvement in her work herself. She has also taken the wide brush class under Rose Johnston, of Azel.

Selling her work does not appear to be a problem that Mary will have to deal with. She painted a portrait of Melton McCowen's father, and did two horse pictures for Gale Skinner while she worked at Skinnners. Most recently her husband's brother took some of her work to El Paso with him and planned to hang them in his tack shop. Some of them sold before he got them on the walls.

It is hard not to be inspired after something like that, Mary says.

Bitter Creek is the perfect place to be inspired by what you see around you, according to Mary. Proof of her assumption is the red bird picture which almost eight year old Jessica painted, under the helpful eyes of her mother. No rare sight is that of blues and bob whites at the feeder, an endless variety of changing scenes and a choice of wildlife. Inspiration comes in all shapes and sizes on a working ranch. Encouragement from husband, parents, in-laws and friends is important. It is no wonder that Mary derives a sense of achievement and personal satisfaction from her work. Her art is also an outlet for all emotions and a deterrent to loneliness and boredom.

Mary paints better when she is alone, but likes the companionship of the co-artists in her class.

Her hobbies and interests are constant with her surroundings and she enjoys fishing, picnicing and swimming in the lake at the ranch.

Her future is rosey, her outlook expectant.

Preventive Dentistry

By KATIE DVORAK, RDH

They say the Etruscans first wired teeth together to make a crude denture nearly 3000 years ago. Since then, men have suffered wooden plates, lead plates and hard rubber dental plates. George Washington owned a set made of hippopotamus ivory! No wonder he never smiled. Some people claim to have made wooden plates out of the Bois-d-arc tree during the depression.

But that was yesterday. Today, we have means to make better false teeth and we have the methods to prevent the necessity for them at all!

That is what Preventive dentistry is all about, the prevention of any dental illness of any kind in any mouth, even yours.

The first thing you have to know about Preventive Dentistry is the definition of the arch villain to your dental health, plaque. Bacteria forms an adherent layer of glue-like substance called dental plaque. It is the white scum you can scrape off of your teeth and look at on your finger nail. It smells terrible and tastes like a nightmare.

If plaque isn't cleaned off of all the surfaces of those ivory white teeth, it begins to make a toxic substance consisting of very strong acid which begins to etch away at the enamel and paves the way for those sore and bleeding gums. It is also the foundation for that hard stuff you get behind the front teeth you may call tartar but is technically called calculus. This hard substance begins to dig and scrape and irritate the tender gums, compounding your bleeding problems. These things are the sole source of tooth loss due to gum disease. Plaque is the sole cause of dental decay in a once-upon-a-time healthy mouth.

Preventive Dentistry is started in the dental office when that plaque and calculus is removed, but the real work is done in the dental office in your home; your bathroom. Equip yourself with toothbrush, dental floss and some basic instructions and begin Preventive Dentistry practices in your home today. Your teeth can last forever!

John Shields named Editor-Publisher of "The Daily Journal"

John Shields brought along more than 20 years of newspaper experience when he was named editor and publisher of The Daily Journal in April of 1978.

Shields was named to the position after Thor Ronning died. Included in Shields' experience was work at five dailies and a weekly newspaper. He first worked as a newsboy, then as a reporter, sports editor and editor of three daily newspapers.

Shields came to The Daily Journal after being editor of The Napa (Calif.) Register since 1974. The Texas native joined the Scripps League in 1965 as a reporter at the Lake Tahoe (Calif.) Tribune. He was later named to the same post at The Logan (Utah) Herald-Journal. Shields has been involved in newspapers since boyhood when he became a newspaper carrier in his hometown of Borger, Texas. He later joined the circulation department of his hometown paper and then in 1962 he started with the editorial department of the same paper.

He served the Borger paper as sports editor. He was also on the staff of the Abilene Reporter-News and the Canyon News, both in Texas, before going to the Scripps League.

During his years at the helm of the various newspapers, Shields efforts have been rewarded by his peers. While in Napa the paper won 14 awards in the California Newspaper Association contest. Ten of those awards were first-place and the remainder were second place. Under his leadership the paper won the John Swett Award in 1976 for outstanding youth coverage and a first place national award against all daily newspapers for a special editor.

While in Logan the newspaper received a Meritorious Service Award in Journalism from Brigham Young University for efforts over 18 months to keep public meetings open, for exposing corruption in city government, for fighting a district court gag order and for helping expose questionable and illegal practices in a Utah State university investment program.

The Logan paper also received the annual Public Service Award from the Utah Social Service Workers Association for its concern and coverage on the area of social issues.

During his stay in Flat River Shields has been active in three Chambers of Commerce and is currently a director of the Flat River Chamber. This continues his past efforts of civic involvement in the cities he was worked.

The Daily Journal and its employees have won several state awards since he came to St. Francois County.

He is married and he and his wife Janice make their home in Farmington. They have two children.

Shields is the brother of Helen Welch, (Mrs. C.E. Welch) of Clarendon.

Va has new director

Albert W. Glass, an 18-year employee of the Veterans Administration, is the new director of the agency's Loan Guaranty Service, replacing Robert C. Coon, who retired recently.

The announcement was made recently by Administrator of Veterans Affairs Max Cleland.

Glass, who moves up from the job of deputy director, started his VA career as a realty officer at the Montgomery, Ala., Regional Office in 1961. Prior to that he was a real estate broker in Florida.

Glass has also served at VA Regional Offices in Cincinnati and Indianapolis.

He will manage a program that was started for World War II veterans in 1944 and is still one of VA's most popular benefits. Veterans of the Korean and Vietnam wars later became eligible for home loans and eligibility was restored several years ago to all veterans who have ever qualified, except those with outstanding loans.

VA has guaranteed more than 10.3 million home loans for more than $170.1 billion since the program started.

Dorothy Starbuck, head of VA's Department of Veterans Benefits of which Glass' operation is a part, said the appointment gives continuity to the program that is important to its proper administration.

"Mr. Glass has been deputy director since 1974 and knows Zero-Bracket amount choice more about Loan Guaranty Service and how it can help veterans than anyone else who could have been appointed. He has the confidence of both industry and government associates, and certainly mine."

Loan Guaranty activities are centered in VA Regional Offices around the country. Veterans and dependents may obtain information about the program by calling toll-free VA numbers listed in local telephone directories.

IRS has new Regional Commissioner

The Internal Revenue Service today announced the appointment of James I. Owens as Regional Commissioner for the IRS Southwest Region headquartered here. He succeeds Walter T. Coppinger, who retired.

The Southwest Region is responsible for Federal tax matters in Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas, and Wyoming. In fiscal year 1979, individual, corporate, and other taxpayers in those states filed 18.2 million returns and paid $54.9 billion in Federal taxes.

Owens started his IRS career in 1959 as a revenue officer in Mobile, Alabama. After holding a series of increasingly responsible positions there and in Birmingham, Alabama, he served successively in the Augusta, Louisville, and Philadelphia IRS districts as Chief of the Collection Division.

In 1972, Owens was chosen for the IRS Executive Selection and Development Program which offers specialized training to those employees who demonstrate executive potential. Upon completing the program, he was appointed Assistant District Director in Buffalo and subsequently in St. Louis.

Owens came to the IRS National Office in 1974 and was named Director of the Collection Division. That same year, he became Deputy Assistant Commissioner and, in 1977, Assistant Commissioner for Accounts, Collection, and Taxpayer Service. Until his selection as Southwest Regional Commissioner, he served as Assistant Commissioner for Taxpayer Service and Returns Processing.

A native of Underwood, Alabama, Owens holds a bachelor's degree in Business Administration from Livingston University in Livingston, Alabama, and a Master's of Business Administration degree from Samford University in Birmingham.

He is married to Charlotte Bishop Owens of Sipsy, Alabama. They have one child.

1926 Book Club

The 1926 Book Club met in regular session Tuesday afternoon March 11, 1980 at the Patching Clubhouse. A special treat was in store for those in attendance. The piano students of Mrs. Bernabe, wife of the pastor of the First Christian Church, played their selections for us.

President Oressa Delaney brought the meeting to order. She introduced Mrs. Bernabe. Mrs. Bernabe let each one of her students introduce themselves. Each one played 1 selection. Several played duets. It was enjoyed by all present. Following their performance, they were served by our hostesses-Pauline Heath, Katherine Green, and Ethelyn Grady- delicious pineapple punch, chocolate chip cookies and nuts.

President Delaney called the meeting into a short business meeting. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. A letter was read from Lila Vars, Director of Programs for Women, at WTSU, concerning the Panhandle Distinguished Service Award. It was asked if our club wanted to nominate a candidate for this award. It was discussed and a motion was made and passed unanimously to support Oneta Thomas as a candidate for the award. It was voted on to help her with the expenses to attend the luncheon April 19, 1980.

Verdie Herrington gave a brief report from the Calendar Committee. She told a little bit about the programs coming up for next year. It sounds like the programs are going to be very interesting. Our meeting was adjourned.

The serving table was decorated so delightfully with baskets of spring flowers and candles.

Members present were: Dessa Day, Mary Thornberry, Billie Clinton, Freida Tucker, Rachael Butler, Mary Hazel VanZandt, Evelyn Mann, Norma Jones, Verdie Herrington, Helen Phelps, Susie Shields, Dorothy White, Oressa Delaney, Katherine Green, Pauline Heath, Ethelyn Grady, and Betty Veach. JIMMY THOMPSON A FULL TIME WORKING SHERIFF

I believe that there are important issues involved in this election.

- 1) A sheriff should work.
- 2) A sheriff should be a full time sheriff, not just an advisor.
- 3) A sheriff should be willing to take full responsibility for the honest and efficient operation of his office, and not pass the buck.
- 4) A sheriff should tend to the sheriff's business; not to things that are none of his business.
- 5) A sheriff should use good common sense and be fair and impartial to all persons.

If elected as your sheriff, I will give you an honest, hardworking, and effective sheriff's department.

Public Notice

City of Hedley, P.O. Box 388, Hedley, Texas 79237, has applied to the Texas Department of Water Resources for renewal of Permit No. 10709-01, which authorizes a discharge of treated domestic sewage effluent at a volume not to exceed 85,000 gallons per day average from the sewage treatment facilities located northeast of Hedley, approximately 1.2 miles north and 0.8 mile east of the intersection of U.S. Highway 287 and State Highway 203 in Donley County, Texas. The expiration of the existing permit was February 25, 1980. It is proposed that the expiration date be specified as midnight, five years after the date of Commission approval.

Since the facility regulated by the permit is an oxidation pond plant, the applicant has also requested that the permit be amended consistent with current oxidation pond effluent standards in Texas Department of Water Resources' rules 156.18.05.001-.004. The requested amendment would increase the presently authorized 30-day average total suspended solids limitations from 30 milligrams per liter to 90 milligrams per liter and would delete chlorination requirements. The currently authorized discharge volume of 85,000 gallons per day will be reduced to 55,000 gallons per day, but the pattern and place of discharge would not be changed by the amendment. The effluent is discharged into an unnamed branch of and thence into Oklahoma Draw; thence to the Salt Fork of the Red River in the Red River Basin.

LEGAL AUTHORITY: Section 26.028 of the Texas Water Code, as amended, and Chapter 25 of the Rules of the Texas Department of Water Resources.

No public hearing will be held on this application unless an affected person who has received notice of the application has requested a public hearing. Any such request for a public hearing shall be in writing and contain (1) the name, mailing address, and phone number of the person making the request; and (2) a brief description of how the requester, or persons represented by the requester, would be adversely affected by the granting of the application. If the Commission determines that the request sets out an issue which is relevant to the waste discharge permit decision, or that a public hearing would serve the public interest, the Commission shall conduct a public hearing, after the issuance of proper and timely notice of the hearing. If no sufficient request for hearing is received within 45 days of the date of publication of the notice concerning the application, the permit will be submitted to the Commission for final decision on the application.

Requests for a public hearing and/or requests for further information concerning any aspect of the application should be submitted in writing to Larry R. Soward, Assistant Chief Hearings Examiner, Texas Water Commission, P.O. Box 13087, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711, Telephone (512) 475-1311. Issued this 11th day of March, 1980.

False Security

Buyers of new subdivision homes have been known to experience a false sense of security where land title problems are concerned. Their reasoning in such instances generally holds that new homes have not had prior owners so the titles must be clear. The experience of several buyers in a southeastern state illustrates the costly nature of such assumptions. Years after purchasing their real estate, these buyers were shocked to learn that a strip of land 80 feet wide ran through their properties—and was about to be sold at public auction. Investigation disclosed that the strip was part of the bed of an old railroad, whose charter had been revoked around the turn of the century. No prior evidence of the outstanding title of the railroad had been discovered in the public records.

Fortunately, the buyer were protected by owner's title insurance issued at the time of their real estate purchases. The title company purchased that portion of the strip which passed through the properties of its insured, and paid related attorney fees and costs, to avert financial loss for the buyers.

The absence of a house or other structure on land is no assurance that all costly title problems will not emerge. Precautions are recommended for any home buyer.

Perhaps the first, if not the only, professional canine fund raiser was a small mongrel named Tim. Between 1892 and 1902, he met all incoming trains in London's Paddington Station carrying a metal cup attached to his collar. His job was to beg for coins for a widows' and orphans' fund.

VETERANS, COULD YOU USE AN EXTRA $1,200 A YEAR?

With inflation on the rise, now's a good time to get your uniform out of the closet and wear it once a month with us. By the way, your old rank pays more these days. For instance, if you're an E-4 with 3 years, you can make over $80 a weekend, over $1,200 a year for just 38 days of training. Look into it. Conservation regulations

Probably the most stringent of all the strategies that USDA is proposing for public consideration is one that would require landowners to comply with national conservation standards.

USDA would look to the state legislatures and local units of government to set criteria and enforce them. Such criteria could include limits on the amount of soil that can be allowed to erode, and reduction of agriculture's dependence on fossil fuels for energy.

USDA would provide grants and other assistance to help state and local government develop and enforce such regulations. It would also deny conservation assistance to states that failed to develop the necessary conservation standards, regulations, and enforcement procedures.

This strategy suggests that the extent of conservation regulations would vary throughout the country, depending on the seriousness of the resource problems. In those areas where resource problems are serious, where regulations would be required—USDA would be prepared to provide increased financial help to the landowners who would have to comply with the regulations. This could include higher levels of cost sharing on conservation systems and lower interest loans.

Landowners who received USDA assistance to apply conservation systems but failed to maintain them would be required to reimburse the federal government for the assistance they received.

Some states already have laws that require landowners to control erosion. USDA would prepare model legislation based on the experiences in these states, for other states to consider.

This system of regulation would recognize the importance to society of protecting soil and water resources. This strategy would require the farmer to protect society's interests in the resources at the same time that he is looking out for his own interest through agricultural production.

Toll free number for SS

New Social Security Toll-free phone service saves time for Donley County residents.

Effective March 17, 1980, there is a new toll-free telephone number for Donley County residents to call when they have social security questions, according to Jim Talbot, Social Security Manager, Amarillo, Texas. Residents of the Texas Panhandle may simply dial direct 1-800-392-1603 and reach personnel who are specially trained to accept reports and answer social security questions by telephone.

Curtis M. Watts, social security representative from the Amarillo office, will continue to visit Clarendon, TX weekly. Area residents may contact him at the Clarendon courthouse on Thursdays between the hours of 9:15 a.m. and 12 noon.

In the meantime, however, "many social security questions and reports can be handled by telephone, any weekday, at the caller's convenience," Talbot said.

"A few examples are questions about Medicare, requests for retirement benefit estimates, address changes from social security beneficiaries to insure prompt delivery of their monthly checks, beneficiaries' reports of earnings, questions about the disability provisions of the law, and inquiries about supplemental security income." The agency refers to this type of service as "Teleservice." Teleservice is available from 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday thru Friday.

The Clarendon College Bulldog's basketball season came to an end on February 28, 1980 by playing the Midland College Chapparals. The Bulldogs finished last in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference with a 0 and 18 conference record. The team won 3 and lost 26 of their overall record, under first-year Coach Mark Nixon. Clarendon will be losing three sophomores: Lindsey Lewis, the team's leading scorer, averaging 16.5 points per game, from Houston, Texas; Rydell Brooks with an average of 5.1 points per game, from Esomont, Virginia; and Redell Broxton with an average of 9 points and 6.3 assists per outing, from Chicago, Illinois. The returning freshmen are: Michael Black, Barry Kirk and Ronnie Berryman, all from Maysville, Kentucky; Albert Gomez, from Roswell, New Mexico; Javier Marquez, from El Paso, Texas; and Raphael Scott from Lubbock, Texas. With six experienced freshmen returning next year and Coach Nixon adding six or eight incoming freshmen, the 1980-81 season could be a banner year at Clarendon College for the Bulldogs.

AN ONION A DAY? Although it's probably premature to put an onion on your medicine shelf, scientists have found a substance in the humble vegetable that is known to lower blood pressure.

Onions have been found to contain a substance that lowers blood pressure.

The new findings, reported at a meeting of the American Chemical Society/Chemical Society of Japan, marked the first time that one of the compounds called prostaglandins has been found in plants. Prostaglandin A₁ lowers blood pressure when injected intravenously. Whether the onion could actually lower blood pressure would depend on its untested ability to survive the digestive process. Folklore has long held that eating onions could hold blood pressure down.

Marriage remains strong in America

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) Marriage in America is not ready for a requiem, says a University of Texas sociologist.

According to Prof. Norval Glenn, the institution of marriage remains "strong," even though many individual marriages fail. A major source of its strength, he says, is the willingness of Americans to replace unsatisfactory marriages with satisfactory ones through divorce and remarriage.

His findings reveal that attitudes about marriage remain far more stable than attitudes about other issues such as premarital sex and women's rights. Dr. Glenn says Americans "are distinctly conservative and highly committed to conventional monogamous marriage."

"...There is none other name under Heaven whereby we must be saved." Acts 4:12-13
"Whoever you do in word or in deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus." Col. 3:17
The above scriptures are not given to refute Matt. 28:19 where Jesus told Apostles to baptize in the name of the Father, & of the Son, & of the Holy Ghost. They merely show how the command was interpreted and obeyed by them.
The Apostles knew what most religious leaders of today fail to recognize. First: That the Lord Jesus Christ is the family name. Eph. 3:15 Second: That the fullness of the Godhead (Deity or God) dwelleth bodily in Christ. Col. 2:9
They knew the name of the son was Jesus. Matt. 1:21 they knew that the Son came in the Fathers name. JN 5:43 they also knew that the Holy Ghost was the Spirit of Christ and would come in Jesus name. John 14:26

FACTS & FANCIES

The first known camera was developed by Joseph Nicéphore Niépce in France in 1826. It took about eight hours to expose a picture.
One of the latest cameras is the new auto-focusing Hi-matic AF from Minolta, a 35mm camera with a professional-quality, all-glass lens and built-in exposure-metering system that automatically sets the best exposure. It has a built-in flash and an automatic device that focuses on your subject while you press the shutter release. You just point and shoot.

Les Beaux Arts Club has Gypsy party

The Les Beaux Arts Club, husbands and guests were entertained the evening of March 7th at the Patching Club House with a Gypsy Party. Many came in costume. As they arrived Virginia Browder tied a large kerchief around mens necks and Emmett Simmons served Merlino's fresh cherry beverage.

While gathering and eating, Gypsy music was played by Jessie Adams on the piano, Jimmy Adams on the Viola and Mr. Lawson on the guitar. A forest background of trees was made with a large bobcat and a campfire in its mist.

A history of the Gypsies was given by Virginia Browder. Forest Sawyer told about the Gypsies camping by his parents home outside of Clarendon. Paul Hancock sang Gypsy Love Song, The Gypsy, Dark Eyes, and Funiculi-Funicula. Polly Sarich told fortunes and read palms.

Gypsy stew and cornbread were served from a table decorated with purple, red, gold, green and blue paper and a centerpiece of an accordion and tamborines.

Tommy Saye served coffee from the campfire. Hostesses were Virginia Browder, Tommy and Lucy Saye, and Emmett and Anna Moores Simmons.

January 29, 1980

Dear Judge Christal:

I am pleased to announce on behalf of the Texas Historical Commission that a grant of $15,000 has been allocated for the the Donley County Courthouse development project.

Requests for grant assistance this year totalled nearly $15 million, far in excess of the $1.1 million awarded by the Heritage Conservation and Recreation Service, Department of Interior, to the State of Texas for all National Register programs. As a result of this limited availability of funds, only a relatively small number of applying projects could be selected for possible grant assistance and your grant amount may be at a level much lower than requested.

To remain eligible for this grant allocation, it is necessary for the project coordinator and the project professional to jointly attend a grant orientation session. These sessions will be held with the Commission staff members who will be working with you on this project and are designed to familiarize you with the continuing granting process. An extensive Project Proposal, the formulation of which will be discussed at the orientation session, will then need to be prepared and submitted to the Commission by June 18th, 1980, for final grant approval.

Grant orientation sessions will be held only in February. Failure to attend one of the sessions and to submit the Project Proposal by the above-mentioned deadline will be cause for this grant allocation to revert to the Texas Historical Commission for reallocation to another project. It is, therefore, important that upon receipt of this letter you contact the grants coordinator for your region, Barry Wagner, at (512) 475-3094 to arrange the necessary grant orientation session.

Please note that no work should commence prior to your grant orientation session and the receipt of the written approval from the Texas Historical Commission of your subsequently submitted Project Proposal.

We look forward to assisting you in this most worthwhile preservation endeavor.

Sincerely, Truett Latimer

YOUR GARDEN

Two of the biggest problems facing the home gardener, both indoors and outdoors, are waterlogged and diseased soils. If either of these situations exist, it's virtually impossible to grow the kind of plants you'd like to grow.

Professional gardeners have found the answer to these problems and you can too! Many growers use a soilless growing mix consisting of equal parts of perlite and peat moss plus plant food.

Perlite will aerate the soil and keep your plants from becoming waterlogged while still retaining the proper amount of moisture for luxuriant growth. It's also sterile and free of weeds and disease. Perlite is available under various brand names at nurseries, supermarkets, garden centers and hardware stores everywhere.

Scientists now know that microscopic forms of life swarm in the sunless depths of the ocean.

VOTE NO ON APRIL 5 FOR COUNTY ROAD SUPERVISOR
When the petition was put out for the people of Donley County to sign to combine the road equipment, they didn't mention the fact they also wanted to hire a road supervisor, so now we must face facts on this.
1. Where will they get the money to pay this supervisor?
2. Where will they get the money to buy this man a new pickup to drive?
3. Where will they get the money to buy the fuel with? Will our taxes be raised?
The Commissioners say they will not take a cut in pay. They say sell some of our road equipment and lay off some of the blade men, and combine all the county roads, to start with we barely have enough equipment to take care of our roads now, and if they combine the roads some of us will never get our roads bladed.
On March 13 in the newspaper, they said the roads are not important, Well I don't agree with that. The people of this county who have to use these roads are tax payers also, they are farmers and ranchers, they make their living this way, and they have to watch their money. So when they pay 5,000.00 to 10,000.00 for a car they will want something decent to go to church in on Sunday, they want this car to last. We can't buy one every day or every year. So I say the roads are important..
We the people of Donley County put 4 county commissioners in office, to take care of the county business and our county roads, so I say let them do the job they hired out to do.
SO VOTE NO ON APRIL 5, 1980 for hiring a road supervisor.
Thank You

Pacemakers 'Grow Up', Last Longer

During America's efforts to put a man on the moon, reliability became the watchword of the space program.

In fact, one space program official speculated that if the normal American automobile was as reliable as the Apollo space equipment, the first malfunction would take place after more than 100 years of driving.

Much the same, although to a lesser extent, can be said about the cardiac pacemakers being manufactured today. Some manufacturers are indeed saying that their pacemakers are reliable by giving lifetime warranties on them.

The cardiac pacing system is the result of an amazing blend of modern technology and the art of medicine. The pacemakers that represent the mix of 'hard' and 'soft' sciences are allowing the victims of heart disease to live relatively normal lives, whereas as little as 20 years ago, they would have been hopeless invalids or died without pacing therapy.

The condition that is most often treated with pacing is a disruption of the heart's normal electrical conduction system, called heart block. Heart block occurs when the normal conduction system of the heart becomes unable to carry the natural electrical impulses from the upper chambers of the heart to the lower chambers. This disruption may be due to normal degenerative processes associated with aging, or it may be a complication of cardiac surgery, where the conduction system is accidentally severed during the operation.

The result of heart block is a slower heart rate, which, in turn, results in less blood being pumped by the heart to the body. With less blood being pumped, someone with heart block often experiences dizzy or fainting spells, swelling of the ankles, pains in the chest and overall weakness.

At one time, people who developed heart block seldom lived more than a year.

In the early 1960's, cardiac pacing became a common way of treating such conditions. Now, instead of having a life expectancy of less than a year, people with heart block are often restored to a relatively normal life style and have almost the same life expectancy as normally healthy people in their age group.

The pacemaker performs this miracle by sending a tiny electrical stimulus to the heart, causing it to beat whenever the heart fails to beat on its own.

Even with all these benefits, the early pacemakers had a long way to go in terms of sophistication. The first pacemakers were fixed rate devices, that is, they stimulated the heart a specific number of times per minute, whether the heart needed it or not. Researchers, however, shortly developed the 'demand' pacemaker, a device that 'sensed' when the heart needed or 'demanded' stimulation and sent its electrical stimulus when required. This was a significant advance because it prevents the pacemaker from competing with the heart's own natural rhythm.

Along with the growing sophistication of the electronics, battery scientists developed power sources that provided increasingly greater longevity for pacemakers. Where the first pacemakers would last only 18 months to two years, modern pacemakers powered by lithium batteries are expected to last as long as 10 years.

Developments in pacemaker electronics have led to the manufacture and sale of pacemakers that can now be adjusted — programmed, if you will — from outside the body. Before these pacemakers were developed, whenever a pacemaker patient needed to have his pacemaker's performance adjusted, he had to undergo another operation to have the unit changed or replaced. This is no longer necessary today.

By using an external programming device, today's pacemakers can be changed at the physician's discretion simply by directing a coded burst of special energy at the implanted pacemaker. Since changes in the performance of the implanted pacemaker can now be made with relative ease, a physician can more closely match pacing therapy to the patient's needs.

The reliability of modern pacemakers is such that manufacturers are 'putting their money where their mouths are' by offering lifetime warranties for certain types of pacemakers. One such warranty, offered by Medtronic, Inc., the world's largest pacemaker manufacturer, is called "Pacing for Life". It guarantees that the patient will never have to buy another pacemaker for as long as they live, once they buy a pacemaker with the Pacing for Life warranty. If the pacemaker fails because of poor workmanship, the company will also pay some of the medical expenses.

Warranties of this type are particularly good news for younger pacemaker patients, who can expect a long life and perhaps several replacement pacemakers. When replacements under this warranty are necessary, the manufacturer picks up the cost, not the government or private insurers. And that has to be good news to the patient, his insurance company and anyone who is concerned about the rising cost of health care.

One pacemaker manufacturer (Medtronic, Inc., Minneapolis, Mn.) offers a lifetime warranty called "Pacing for Life" on a number of its pacemakers. This warranty states that if the pacemaker fails to function within specifications for any reason, including battery exhaustion, it will be replaced at no cost to the pacemaker wearer.

EASY, UNUSUAL CHINESE MEAL FOR TWO

You table-for-twoers try something new and interesting from one of the world's oldest cultures. In addition to inventing pasta, Oriental cooks have always known how to conserve fuel by cooking foods quickly. This dish cooks in just minutes and makes liberal use of vegetables and minimal use of shrimp or chicken.

An off-the-shelf canned ravioli in rich tomato sauce that the Chinese would be proud of is the base for this dish. Here's a substantial, unusual main course for two people, that's easy to prepare as well as economical.

FAR EAST RAVIOLI

- 1 cup chopped raw chicken or shrimp
- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 1/3 cup sliced celery
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/2 package (10 oz. size) frozen Chinese pea pods
- 1 cup bean sprouts, drained
- 1 jar (2 1/2 oz. size) sliced mushrooms
- Dash soy sauce
- Dash ginger
- 1 can (7 1/2 oz. size) Chef Boy-ar-dee® Mini Ravioli
- 2 tablespoons toasted almonds (optional)

Saute chicken, onion and celery quickly in butter in a medium size (8") skillet. Add remaining ingredients, except almonds. Cover; cook for 5 to 7 minutes. Garnish with almonds. Serves two.

Your prescription and you

By Sue Boe, Assistant Vice President, Consumer Affairs, Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association

Q. What questions should I ask my doctor about the medicine he prescribes for me?

A. When your doctor gives you a prescription, you'll probably be told some things without having to ask. But to be fully informed, you should know the answers to these questions:

- * What is the medicine (type and name)?
- * What results are expected from it?
- * How long should you wait before reporting if there are no changes in your symptoms?
- * What side effects are expected — if any — and what ones should you report?
- * Are there any cautions? Any foods or beverages (such as alcohol) you should avoid while taking the medicine? Other medicines you should not take? Will your ability to drive or operate machinery be affected?
- * Exactly when and how should you take the medicine?
- * How long should you continue to take it?
- * Can the prescription be refilled? If it can, should you check with the doctor before having it refilled?
- * Has a manufacturer been specified — one your doctor is confident produces a reliable quality product that may cost less?

Modern medicines can help keep you well or restore you to good health with more certainty, more safety, and more true savings than ever before — provided you know the facts about them and use them wisely.
