A new business

Clarendon has a home town carterer

Clarendon residents are being offered a home town catering service by two young women who have the enthusiasm and expertise to cater a banquet, tea, luncheon or quest day refreshments for a club meeting or party. Brenda Ward and Maurine Butts have combined forces to offer Clarendon and area town residents the advantage of nearby service, choice menu selection and specialty attention.

Brenda and Maurine offer a flexible service which will enable them to cater for a few as ten persons and as many as 125 with the usual time advance notice. With extended notice the number they can handle is 250 persons.

For wedding activities their service will be available from rehearsal dinner to the wedding reception. Call them for specific brunch, dinner or luncheon accommodations.

In addition to complete catering services, patrons may order entrees such as roast turkeys, beef and pork roast, hams, fried chicken, Swedish meatballs or whatever other choice the customer desires. Also orders may include a wide variety of salads, desserts and an assortment of finger foods. Changing during the year will be in season specialty items such as fruit cups in summer.

Occasions which caterers handle to free the hosts for other duties might include family reunions, Scout Banquets, Shriners banquets, business parties, school functions and an assortment of other get-togethers.

These young women are qualified professionals with impressive credits to bring to their business. Maurine Butts is a Home Economist, having received her training at Southwestern Oklahoma University in Weatherford. She is a demonstrator of Hardwick microwave ovens in an area bounded by Liberal, Clovis and Childress. She covers the territory encompassed with in this triangle. She does not however limit herself to microwave recipes, as her column WHATS BURNING IN MAURINES KITCHEN which runs in the Clarendon Press shows.

Maurine began her cooking career at an unusually early age as a help for her mother who was away from home during the day. This may explain her diversified recipes. Left to her own devices a very personal handling of cooking methods and recipes evolved. Today she is a professional.

Brenda Ward may very well be the one who is responsible for the clever and beautifully decorated cake which was the center of attraction at a recent social gathering for she is in demand for her delectable and lovely-to-look-at party cakes. Brenda has to her credit that rare gift of being a born cook. Also she too likes to cook and decided to give up her work outside her home to go into the cooking business and share her culinary efforts with the residents of Clarendon and the area.

Some of the high request items are cakes, decorated and plain, cookies, tens of dozens, and pound cakes made with real butter. Maurine and Brenda will prepare food orders for pick-up, to go out of town, for organizations and individuals in town.

For catering with YOU in mind call Maurine and Brenda at 874-3829 or 874-3904

Soil Stewardship Week May 11-18

The Donley County Soil and Water Conservation District will join in the nationwide celebration of Soil Stewardship Week to take place on May 11-18, according to an announcement by Glen Watley Board president.

The theme of this year's celebration is "The Judgment of Nature". It's focus is especially appropriate as the United States considers the current condition of its soil, water and related resources, said Watley.

"Through nature, we are linked with the past and committed to the future," it is said in the 16-page "Judgment of Nature" reference booklet, which presents thoughts for consideration not only during Soil Stewardship Week, but throughout the year. Nature is defined in the publication as the continuing system of life created by God.

"Nature is neither fixed nor static; it is a continuing process and inherently dynamic...it rewards care and constructive attention, even as it penalizes negligence and deliberate damage," the booklet states.

"The loss of some 3 million acres of productive agricultural land each year through urbanization and other uses, the decline in productivity of the topsoil as the result of destructive erosion, and continuing pollution of the nation's waters is serious cause for everyone's concern," the sponsors believe. Participation in Soil Stewardship Week activities offers an opportunity to reflect on the nation's natural resource problems and consider actions to resolve them or reduce their impact.

The National Association of Conservation Districts has sponsored Soil Stewardship Week in the United States since 1955, in cooperation with the nation's nearly 3,000 soil and water conservation districts. Informative material on the Soil Stewardship Week theme each year is distributed through local conservation districts to clergy-men, law leaders, civic and

Junior-Senior Prom held May 2

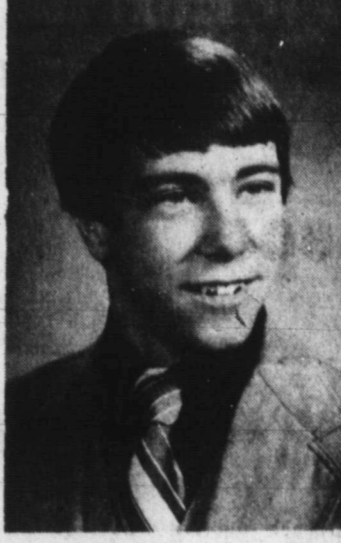

Friday, May 2, 1980 at 1:00 a.m. at Clarendon High School, the Jr. class started decorating for the Jr.-Sr. Prom on May 3, 1980 at the high school cafeteria. They worked till 12:30 that night getting the decorations and tables set up. They put the finishing touches on the banquet Saturday morning, May 3.

The theme was "We've Got Tonight". The walls were decorated with disco-murals, silver and black. A silver-glitter gazebo made a perfect place for pictures. Silver balloons floated around. It reminded you of Studio 54 in New York (the disco place). The juniors did a good job decorating.

Steve Nance, president of Junior class, was master of ceremonies. Steve gave the Junior welcome. Bill Cornell gave the senior response. Terry Cole gave the invocation. Jim Shadle provided the entertainment before the meal. The meal (steak, baked potato, salad, rolls, iced tea, cobbler) was served quite adequately by 7 sophomores-Rhonda Butler, Sulynn Ariola, Sala Lefew, Spencer Hayes, Brad Thompson, Shannon Hall and Junior Crump.

Following the delicious meal, Dan Hansen presented a poem by Robert Frost, appropriate for the occasion. Steve Nance provided the closing remarks.

The DJ Amachron provided the music for the dance.

WILLIAM THOMPSON will return to state competition this Saturday.

CC gets its first recruit for 1980-81 season

Clarendon College men's basketball coach, Mark Nixon has announced the signing of his first recruit for the 1980-81 basketball season.

Constine McCarty, a 6'11" guard from Jackson, Mississippi inked a letter-of-intent to further his education and play basketball for the Bulldogs next year.

McCarty, who will be a point guard candidate for Clarendon College, played at Provine High School in Jackson where he averaged 11 points, 9 rebounds and 6 assists for Coach Grady Dotson. He connected on an amazing 75% of his field goal attempts and 85% of his free throw tries.

Bulldog Coach Mark Nixon had this to say about McCarty's signing. "Constine is definitely the kind of person we want in our program and I'm elated that he chose our school."

"He has extremely good quickness and handles the ball well which is the things we look for in a point guard. With his quickness he can develop into an outstanding defensive player."

When Coach Nixon took over the reins of the CC basketball program almost a year ago, he vowed that he would rebuild the program with quality citizens as well as quality players.

"Constine comes from an outstanding family and is one of the most mannerly young men I've ever been around. He is just a super young person and one that our entire school and community will be proud of," said Nixon.

"Plus he wants to major in agriculture and where could he get a better start? I don't know of any place," he continued.

The announcement of other players that have signed to attend Clarendon College are expected to be released soon.

City sponsors rabies vaccination clinic

Rabies is a viral disease of the central nervous system. It can be transmitted only by the bite of a rabid animal, or by the saliva of a rabid animal being introduced into a fresh scratch or similar skin break.

Dogs and cats that are bitten by another animal known to have rabies should be destroyed immediately if they have not been previously vaccinated for rabies. Dogs and cats that have been previously vaccinated should be revaccinated immediately and restrained (leashing and confinement) for 90 days.

Most cases of rabies in Texas occur in winter and early spring. This is probably due to the fact that animals must roam farther to feed and there is more likelihood they would come in contact with an animal infected with rabies. Also animals are more prone to wander during their spring mating season.

All warmblooded animals, including humans, are subject to rabies. The most common animals that contract rabies in Texas are dogs, foxes, bats, and skunks.

The incubation period for rabies is from 14 days to six months. The course of the disease from the time of exposure to death is divided into three stages: (1) a pre-symptomatic stage; (2) a stage of excitement; and (3) a paralytic stage which terminates in death.

A point which cannot be overemphasized is that rabies is nearly 100% fatal if actually contracted. In other words, there is NO CURE. So the only defense against rabies is to prevent it through effective community control.

The City of Clarendon will be sponsoring a vaccination clinic on May 15, 1980, from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m. at the City Hall. City and County residents are urged to bring their pets to have them vaccinated if they have not done so within the last year. Cost for the vaccine will be $7.00 per animal.

In Response - - -

There is no room in Scripture for a new modern-day revelation of God's Word, to any man, group, or for any reason.

The Holy Scriptures stand in spite of challenges thrown by cultists, new scholarship, or other mystical influences.

While it is true that our world, in its surging unrest seems to be returning to religion, it is also true that the only successful changes come when man returns to the Bible as his authority.

On December 4-7, 1973, Mr.
Marvin Hicks, representing the United Pentecostal Church International, Inc. entered debate with Johnny Ramsey, speaking for churches of Christ. Mr.
Hicks had signed propositions that began, "The Scriptures teach..." and yet we have already shown from their own written materials that they set aside Scripture to suit themselves. Then, before we can draw a breath, they try a comeback, quoting a passage.

A long tirade of double-tall issued forth in this debate as i:
characteristic of the article:
coming forth from this group locally. This debate was published by Star Bible Publication,
P.O. Box 13125, Ft. Worth, Texas, 76118. In the book, and on the tapes of the debate were irreverent, disrespectful, and even blasphemous statements, blended with personal attacks, all coming from one who signed the proposition, "The Scriptures teach..."

The Scriptures teach the existence of God as the Father who sent His Son to die as a man for man's sins, yet Arthur Clanton, on pp. 142, 143 of "United We Stand" says, "We deny that God the Father sent God the Son to earth to die for the sins of the world." A favorite verse of Scripture is offered in answer to this: John 3:16, "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son..." add to this another verse from 1 John 4:14,

"And we have seen and do testify that the Father sent the Son to be the Savior of the World." Then, as if to tie the knot to counter that arrogant denial, we offer 2 Corinthians 13:14, "The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the Love of God and the communion of the Holy Spirit..."

One doesn't have to have special glasses or divine insight to see the predicament that such doctrines of men bring and expect to gather a following.

"This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoreth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me. But in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men."

—Jesus, speaking in in Matthew 15:8, 9

DAVIS SIBLINGS, [l to r] Jettie, Lonnie and Belle

Mrs. D.T. Smallwood-- memories of her life

This is the second of weekly stories to appear each week in May-Senior Citizens Month
By JEANICE WEATHERLY

Catherine Belle Davis was born October 18, 1890 near Comanche the fourth of 13 children, and she spent her growing-up years in the large wood siding house in which she was born. Today Belle Davis Smallwood, and a sister, Essie Dunlap of Comanche are the only children left.

At that time a wood siding house was an unusual one, for most homes in the area were of logs or stone. The lumber for the Davis home was hauled from Fort Worth.

Belle and the other Davis children attended school at the Board Church Community in a one room school house. With a chuckle Mrs. Smallwood recalls the school building with two doors-- one used by the boys and one by the girls. No self respecting pupil would ever enter the wrong door for the dreaded punishment of all who attended the classes was a boy having to sit with a girl. This was bad enough to make a boy and girl think seriously of playing hooky.

Lunches were carried from home in a tin bucket, a lard bucket most likely, explained Mrs. Smallwood. The lids on the lard buckets fitted so tightly this preventing spills, the invasion of ants and other accidents. The noonday meal was eaten out in the open in good weather, under the shelter of the big trees. The nearby creek was the source of entertainment for the youngsters who played games hopping from one stone to another back and forth across Indian Creek.

A distinct disadvantage for the students was the abundance of switches so easily brought into the school room if the need was there. These switches enforced discipline quite well in the school.

One favorite pastime at noon and after school was the gathering of the pecans which settled down under the layer of leaves underneath the trees. Pecans to be had just for the effort of picking them up and shelling them seems a luxury to most persons today.

Belle remembers the large numbers of family and visitors who filled the house to capacity. Two of the 13 Davis children didn't live past infancy. Her parents took another girl into their home in addition to their own youngsters. However she was there for a short time.

Chores were delegated to each of the children who took care of their appointed tasks before school. Milking and feeding the stock were jobs Belle Smallwood remembers helping with as a child.

Providing food for a large family and the steady flow of extras at the Davis home was no small undertaking. Gardening was the source of food other than meat. To keep the garden harvest for the winter months part of the produce was dried such as beans and peas. Other items were stored in a kiln made by layering root vegetables, straw and earth to form a mound. As needed the food was dug. To keep collard green through the winter straw and earth was heaped about the plant. When the growing season arrived the cover came off and there was instant collard plants green and healthy.

Fruit was dried to be used out of season. Mrs. Smallwood recalls the wonderful new process, canning for peaches particularly.

The family ate well and a typical breakfast might have been included bisquits, ham and red gravy, or bacon and sausage jellies, jams, honey, sorgham and ribbon can syrup and occasionally eggs. For a family the size of the Davis family it would take a big flock of hens.

At harvest time the apples were picked and packed in barrels, at least two and they were stored in the cellar to eat at Christmas time.

Mr. Davis was a cotton farmer and at that time all work was done by hand or with a plow and horse or mule. To make the crop the combined forces of the family were needed. The Davis children usually attended 4 and half or at most five months of school each year. The work was hard but every one did his part and after the work was done for the season there was time for fun and games.

Laundry was done at the nearby pond in the summertime for it was easier to take the clothes to the pond than to bring water to the house. In the winter time Mr. Davis had made a sled to haul the water barrels up to the house. In the part of the country where they lived water, or the lack of it was not a problem.

Happy memories of her childhood are of the baked sweet potatoes, roasting in one of the two large fireplaces, fragrant and steaming, the pecans and the popcorn which made home entertainment such as games of dominoes, and ring games such a wonderful time. Belle recounts how with such a large family there was always a shortage of sets of dominoes and how this obstacle was solved by making sets out of heavy cardboard. They were able to shuffle them without much trouble she remembers.

Sadie and Tom Davis, Mrs. Smallwood parents, took their family on an annual vacation to the Colorado River for a fishing trip. The trip took two days but the fishing was worth it with some of the catch weighing 35 to 40 pounds. It was a popular vacation spot and each year they saw families with whom they had become acquainted in previous years.

Another bonus of this trip was the honey the family was sure to bring back from a honey tree. Some of the members of the party would sight the bees and were knowledgeable enough in bee lore to track the honey makers back to the bee trees. The trees were then marked so they could be found easily on the return trip. Everyone brought five gallon cans to get honey in and each family returned home with a fresh supply of more of nature's bounty.

Mrs. Smallwood has a vivid memory of seeing her first train. "It was a frightening sight", she recalls, "everyone was so excited". She only remembers that she was very small.

The train changed the country side and the store which had sold tobacco, school supplies kerosene and horehound candy became another type of store. The train was responsible for a lumberyard, hotel and other businesses. This was the small town of Hasse, Hasse was about six miles from the Davis home and with the millinery shop and the bank added to the other businesses it became forever changed. Hasse was on the Leon River, and was where the present Lake Proctor is located.

In 1909 Catherine Belle Davis married D.T. Smallwood, of Erath County and they became a young farming couple in the area where they had grown up. In 1924 they made the decision to move to Brice, south of Clarendon in Hall County, after the boll weevil had made cotton farming near Comanche impossible for a livelihood.

The move was made in November, after harvest. Mr. Smallwood sold most of his livestock such as hogs, turkeys, cows etc., chartered a railroad car and brought their old dog, Bulger, Jim and Dick, the gray horses, and the team of huge mules, farming machinery and household possessions to the panhandle. The family, Belle, D.T., and children, Claudine, Frankie and Mamie made the trip in the family automobile, a Model T Ford.

A good deal of merriment was created in the discussion of the cars appearance, with various pieces of luggage and items not trusted to the mercies of the railroad hanging about where ever fastening could be found. Mrs. Smallwood and her daughters, Claudine and Frankie took part in relating the trip.

Three days travel on muddy roads (none of them were paved) in pouring rain, brought the Smallwood family to Memphis late in the day. The trip on to Brice on the soggy roads was out of the question and Mr. Smallwood stopped at the hotel to get rooms for his family for the night. This would be their second night on the trip with the first spent at Haskell, with relatives. There were no accommodations left at the hotel, Mr. Smallwood was told all the rooms were filled. After he explained that he had three little girls and his wife and must have some place for them, the hotel manager made room for them to sleep on the hotel dining room floor. Since meals were served the hotel guests in the dining room the Smallwood family rose very early in the morning.

In 1952 Mr. and Mrs. Smallwood moved to the Hudgins Community in Donley County, in 1959 the Smallwoods celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary. A year later they moved to Clarendon. Mrs. Smallwood still owns her farm land in Donley County and one of her grandsons, Ronnie McAnear has farmed it since 1966 after he received his College Ag degree.

During the years of their married life and active farm years the transition was made from the one horse and Georgia Stock plow to the latest innovation, the tractor (which they bought in 1937) which revolutionized the farm. Gathering the cotton changed from handpicking to the boll pulling and later the mechanized boll puller.

The Smallwood family may be the only Donley County family who moved and had their church follow them. In this instance the Sardis Baptist Church of Hasse, in Comanche County was made up mostly of the Davis and Smallwood family members. As happens frequently other family members chose to move to Donley County and the church was moved. It is a Missionary Baptist Church and services are conducted there once a month. Dr. Jack Green is the minister.

One incident stands out in the events of her childhood with absolute clarity, recounts Mrs. Smallwood. That was the amputation of her five year old brothers leg. The surgery was performed by four doctors, trained nurses were not available, in the family dining room on the big diningroom table. The little boy had been treated for a spreading infection in his foot, ankle, shin and upper leg without any success. The condition was diagnosed as bone erysipelas and to save his life an amputation had to be done.

With remarkable stamina of body and mind the child made a full recovery and lived a long full and happy life with his own family. Such hardships were at that time a reality of everyday life. At about age 15 he was fitted with a wooden leg which made him mobil without crutches for the rest of his life.

Many wonderful, happy and poignant memories accompany the long and full life Mrs. Smallwood has spent among loving members of her family. Among the members are her daughters; Claudine Todd, Frankie McAnear, Mamie Cross; six grandchildren (four boys and two girls) and 10 great grandchildren.

TEN REASONS FOR BAPTISM IN THE NAME OF JESUS

Can't from last week

Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost." Matthew 28:19

United Pentecostal Church, Mrs. N.W. Thompson-reporter

BELLE AT seven years of age.

BELLE DAVIS, growing up with her hair in a bun

Reason No. 8: Not only is salvation an identification with Christ in death, burial, and resurrection, but it is also a betrothal. We are betrothed to Jesus. He becomes our heavenly bridegroom and we are the bride. Whose name does the bride take upon her at marriage? Is it not that of her lover, her husband? If we love Jesus Christ as we profess to do, it will be a joy to take upon us the wonderful name of Jesus in water baptism.

Back in the summer of 1936 a beautiful young lady stood by my side and became my bride. At that moment she took upon her my name. Her maiden name was Welsh, and it was just as good as my name, Reynolds. Suppose she had said to me, "Sweetheart, I love you, I will share my life with you, I will keep house for you, I will bear and raise your children, I will be faithful. But there is one thing I will not do, I do not want to bear your name. Instead of being Mrs. Reynolds, let me be called Mrs. Welsh." You know what would have happened, she would have remained Miss Welsh."

Now there are thousands of people who say, I love Jesus, I will serve Him, I will be faithful, but there is one thing I will not do, I will not take His name upon me in water baptism. Friend, do you really love Jesus? Search your heart, do you? I doubt it. You love yourself, you love church tradition, you love to be identified with the church world around you; but you do not love Jesus. Otherwise it would be your joy, your privilege to take the name of Jesus Christ upon you in water baptism.

Reason No. 9: In Ephesians 3:15 we read that Jesus is the family name. "Of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named." If we are children of God should we not take on us the family name? Jesus said He had come in His Father's name. Now if you are a son or daughter of God you will take on you the family name which is Jesus.

Reason No. 10: Let us read from Acts 4:12, "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." Is it possible to find another name that can save us? There is none! Jesus is the saving name of God. The name means Jehovah-Saviour or Jehovah has become our Saviour. Then what is the name you should take upon you in water baptism? Again there can be only one answer-- JESUS.

Pony Express Stewardship Campaign a big success

You First United Methodist Church route riders and trail bosses can hang up your spurs with pride -- our Pony Express stewardship campaign has gone over the top!

"We trusted our members to act responsibly, and they did," Rev. Bill Watson said. "In these times of economic uncertainty, our members showed they have a great deal of faith and willingness to share generously what they have."

It is clear that the Pony Express program sparked considerable enthusiasm among our members. Everyone worked together -- just like the Pony Express riders of old.

Flip Breedlove, general manager, praised the dedication of the station agents, trail bosses and route riders, whose cooperative efforts enabled the "church mail" to be carried in saddlebags across the community. Certificates of appreciation will be mailed next week to each person who filled in an estimate of giving card. Similar certificates were presented to key leaders in the worship service last Sunday morning. Willard Skelton is shown here receiving his award from Pastor Bill Watson.

Wayne Naylor is mental health contact person for Hedley

"There is a large, metal bell, at our national office, which was cast from the shackles and handcuffs that once bound mentally and emotionally disturbed people," said John Stevens, President of the Mental Health Association in Texas.

"This bell is now a symbol for the Mental Health Association, ringing out hope for the mentally ill and victory over mental illness," he said.

During May, Mental Health Month, Bellringers will be collecting to help the association continue their work.

The Bell ringers are the Lionesses under the able direction of Mary Ruth White. Their appeal is for the cancer, heart, Salvation Army, and Mental Health funds.

Wayne Naylor is the Mental Health Contact person for Hedley, and if you would like to contribute and they don't ring your bell get in touch.

The Association's logo, used in conjunction with the slogan "Citizens Who Do Make A Difference" stresses strength through unity, while making full allowance for individual differences.

The logo depicts a group of people standing with hands joined, forming an unbroken circle. In the center is the Mental Health Bell.

The changing shades of people, overlaid on the changing shades of the world in which they live, suggests the power of different individuals united to change conditions. The unbroken circle of people suggests togetherness and unity of organization.

The circle of people with hands towards the bell suggests the many heads concentrating together through an organization trying to find solutions to problems.

That mental health is a full-time, year-round activity is suggested by the fact that there are 12 people forming the circle.

During May citizens here can "make a difference" by contributing to the Mental Health Association.

Three of the newest books we have in the library include the following:

EARL CAMPBELL, HOUSTON OILER SUPERSTAR by Betty Lou Phillips.
This is the inspiring story of the soft spoken man who grew up with his four sisters and six brothers in a weather beaten house in east Texas. It is also the story of the people who helped Earl become the outstanding person he is today - an athlete most sports writers and fans think may be the greatest running back in NFL history.

Spraying Pecan trees

Pecan growers over the state need to keep a close check on possible disease and insect problems and to apply zinc on a regular basis.

These management tips come from John N. Cooper, pest management agent for pecans with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

According to Cooper, pecan scab disease is now showing up in South and East Texas on susceptible varieties. Although weather forecasts indicate increased possibility of rainfall, normal 10-14 day intervals between fungicide applications should control scab. Growers in other areas and with less susceptible varieties should apply fungicides at lower dosages.

Cooper also advises growers to watch their groves closely for such insect pests as fall webworms, sawflies, caterpillars, leaf casebearers and other foliage feeders. Control measures should be taken if leaf damage is heavy.

Cooper points out that pecan trees are now going through a critical growth phase and that zinc should be applied on a regular basis—a minimum of three applications through the casebearer stage.

Reports from various reporting locations show these conditions:

Gainesville: Light damage from phylloxera and cankerworms. Apply fungicide and zinc about May 2-6, using a lower fungicide rate due to low disease presence.

Weatherford: Apply fungicide and zinc about May 1-6, using a lower fungicide rate due to low disease presence.

Georgetown: Some slight scab infections on susceptible varieties. Use fungicide and zinc as a pre-pollination spray.

Palestine: Nutlets starting to form. Some early scab infections on leaves. Apply zinc and fungicide as a pre-pollination spray, using fungicide at the maximum rate due to the potential for scab buildup.

Luling: Some yellow aphids and casebearers on foliage, and pecan scab damaging some new foliage. Apply zinc and fungicide, using fungicide at the maximum rate to head off scab buildup.

Richmond: Early nutlets forming. Apply another zinc-fungicide spray.

San Angelo: Early nutlets forming. Apply only zinc as a pre-pollination spray April 27 through May 2.

San Angelo: Early nutlets forming. Apply only zinc as a pre-pollination spray April 27 through May 2.

News from Senator Jack Hightower office

During opening day testimony of hearings of the House Committee on Agriculture, Congressman Jack Hightower called for the Administration and the Congress to come to the aid of the farmer by increasing commodity loan levels as soon as possible. Hightower also expressed support for H.R. 6815, recently reported by the House Committee on Agriculture and the subcommittee on Agriculture of the House Committee on Appropriations, that would tie commodity loans to 65 percent of parity.

In commenting on efforts to lessen the impact of the suspension of Russian grain sales, Hightower commented, "if we could have had two billion plus dollars that has been spent on grain buying and contract purchases over the past months, to use on price support programs, in my opinion a lot more good would have been accomplished."

The House Committee on Agriculture hearings, called by Committee Chairman Tom Foley of Washington, were called to review the entire Agriculture situation, including the embargo of Russian grain sales. Hightower, recognizing the need for long term solutions, told the Committee, "I hope these hearings will reflect and develop a consensus as to the long term direction of farm policy that will take us out of a perpetual crisis situation."

Medical Center news

There is a lot of activity going on at Medical Center. One of the most enjoyable activities is the church service and Sunday school which is held each Sunday. A special Thank You goes out to all the churches for these services for the residents of Medical Center.

Mary Myers, is a faithful Bible teacher who comes each Thursday for classes. Every other Wednesday there is singing, thanks to Mrs. Addie Moss and her group of singers. Twice a month there is an ice cream supper and a movie is shown each Friday afternoon. The local library deserves the credit for the films and books which are enjoyed at Medical Center.

A Parents Day is being planned for June 6, 1980 and everyone is thinking of ways to raise money for the activity fund. Plans include a place to sell the products. Anyone wishing to contribute items for the Medical Center residents to sell, such as arts and crafts etc. will be most heartily thanked.

Memorials for loved ones who have been residents at Medical Center are certainly appreciated. All gifts of any kind are such a big help. Thanks to the generosity of friends Medical Center receives money and other gifts.

Any items at Medical Center that are having chances sold for a drawing will be given away to the person whose name is drawn on the Fourth of July.

Information from Medical Center comes from Vera Johnson, Activity Director.

For centuries, men and women have offered humble thanks to God for the priceless gifts of soil, water, air and sunshine which make all living things possible. This gratitude by religious people has been expressed in many ways over the years but in all its forms there has been a continuing thread of emphasis on the wondrous powers of the Almighty to create and to heal.

There has been stress, too, on the universal dependence on His grace for salvation and for all good things.

The world as we know it could not exist without a fruitful agriculture. A regular harvest is a critical matter. But nature, like man, is erratic. There are times when the very elements seem to conspire against a yield.

When the rains cease and the earth cracks, when storms and pestilence wreak their havoc, fields become barren and livestock grow gaunt in search of grass. It is then, and particularly in times of prolonged hardship, that the call goes out for divine intervention to ease the suffering and restore the bounty of the soil.

That is what happened in France more than 1,500 years ago in the city of Vienne and its surrounding countryside. Bad weather, fires and earthquakes had brought crop failures and widespread hunger. The Bishop of Vienne, Saint Mamertus, called for prayer and penance on the three days preceding Ascension Day.

The people responded and implored God for help in their suffering and privation.

Word of what happened in Vienne spread throughout France and then to other countries beyond the Alps. The supplication filled a need in the hearts and minds of the people and, as the years went by, the practice of setting aside these special days - Rogation Days - was widely established on an annual basis. By the end of the eighth century, the Church formally adopted the custom.

In our own country, the decision to set aside a week each year to acknowledge before God our gratitude for His gifts of soil and all the bountiful resources associated with it has met an evident need of a great many people.

The week - now known as Soil Stewardship Week - has become a special time to remind all people that these gifts of the Creator warrant their best in creative conservation and considerate management.

In parts of the South earlier in this century, a few churches and their congregations began to set aside the fifth Sunday after Easter as Soil and Soul Sunday. Subsequently, this designation was changed to Soil Stewardship Sunday when, in 1946, the publishers of Farm and Ranch magazine took an initiative. They suggested to religious leaders in a number of southern states that one Sunday be set aside each year as time for a special reminder to the men and women of their congregations about the ethical obligations of all people to serve as responsible stewards of the land.

The response of clergymen and laymen was so warm and widespread that observance of Soil Stewardship Sunday spread steadily to additional churches and additional states. In 1954, the publishers of the magazine (circulated primarily in the South) suggested to the officers of the National Association of Conservation Districts that a still wider observance of Soil Stewardship Sunday could aid significantly in bringing about a national awakening and recognition of man's duties as stewards of the Lord's earth.

To help achieve this goal, the publishers offered to transfer their limited sponsorship of Soil Stewardship Sunday to the Association, which represents some 3,000 local conservation district organizations in all the states and territories of the nation. The NACD accepted and, beginning in 1955, undertook to foster the observance on a nationwide basis.

A year later, recognizing possible conflicts with Rural Life Sunday and other events often observed on church calendars, Soil Stewardship Sunday was changed to Soil Stewardship Week - beginning always with the fifth Sunday after Easter and continuing through the sixth. The change provided a helpful latitude in church timing for the observance.

In its stewardship efforts, the association has been guided by a Soil Stewardship Advisory Committee of clergymen representing a number of the nation's major religious denominations. Many other church leaders have provided notable assistance. Officers and members of the NACD Ladies Auxiliary have been particularly helpful, as have members of several cooperating farm and conservation organizations.

The Soil Stewardship Week observance, by its very nature, is one to be joined in by everyone who shares a sense of personal responsibility under God for the care of soil, water and the other vital elements making up our environment. The prime concern of conservation districts, along with thousands of involved clergymen and laymen, is to encourage an ever-growing participation by Americans in this annual recognition of the continuing importance of thoughtful stewardship.

David Davidson named Aggie Muster Chairman

By KATIE DVORAK

At the annual Aggie Muster in April, David Davidson was elected the 1981 Aggie Muster Chairman. David also received the honor of becoming the first President of the newly organized Association of Former Students Aggie Club for the quad-county area of Collingsworth, Donley, Hall and Wheeler Counties. David graduated from Texas A&M University in 1967 with a degree in Range Science. He works for the Donley County Soil and Water Conservation District in Clarendon. His enthusiasm and energy landed him the job as President of the Aggie Club.

His plans for the Club include a picnic this summer and a gathering for the televised A&M games this fall. Members of the Aggie Club also plan a football trip to the nearest game. With such enthusiasm for his alma mater, this year will be the most productive in the history of the area.

Besides holding the two important elected positions, David has another unusual and onsuming position. He is married to an Aggie!

Gayla Davidson graduated in 1977 with her degree in Education. She gives the name of A&M a grace and beauty as well as intellectual name. Gayla graduated cum laude, and was president of the Student Education Society at A&M. Gayla teaches mathematics at Memphis High School. She is eager to talk to any and all classes interested in going to the formerly all male school of Texas A&M. Looking at Gayla, you can easily understand why the Aggie enrollment jumped from 14,000 in 1967 to 32,000 today. 12,000 of that number are of the "female persuasion".

Congratulations to David and Gayla! Aggies, it would pay for you to contact the Davidsons and join your Aggie Club today!

GAYLA AND DAVID DAVIDSON - two proud Aggies

Thank you for your support in the Saturday election. I will continue to do my best to serve the people in Donley County.

Collective Farming Israeli Experts to help start U.S. Kibbutzim

WASHINGTON--The Carter administration is planning to import Israeli agricultural experts to set up kibbutz-like farms in the rural South. Agriculture Department sources said Thursday.

It is an effort to stop the growth of large corporate farms and retain land for the rural poor, the sources said. The chief beneficiaries of the experimental program would be black sharecroppers and tenant farmers in Florida, Louisiana and Alabama.

Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland soon will call together officials from four federal agencies and two private foundations to sign the necessary contracts to launch the program, sources said. That ceremony is expected within the next few days.

Known as the "Family Farm Cooperative," the program would establish an unspecified number of farm collectives similar to the Israeli kibbutz. The Israeli government and a farm trade association plan to send experts to train the farmers in cooperative management practices, the sources said.

In addition to the federal agencies, the Ford Foundation, the Israeli Center for International Cooperation and the Southern (U.S.) Development Foundation will participate in the experimental project.

About 40 farmers will be selected to raise fruit and vegetable crops on these cooperative farms. Each farm will include about 1,200 acres of land.

A new federal corporation, the Small Farm Development Corporation, will use federal money to purchase the land in Macon and Bullock counties in Alabama, Manatee County in Florida and in St. Landry and Evangeline parishes in Louisiana.

The Farmers Home Administration will create the new corporation. It also will provide money to launch the program and offer low-interest loans to help the cooperative farmers buy their land from the corporation. (CONGRESSIONAL RECORD, Sept. 5, 1979, p. E 4255)

THANK YOU
I want to thank the Donley County voters for their support in the May 3 election. I will work for you.

Youth in transition

By REV. WAYNE NAYLOR

"Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them;" Ecc. 12:1. These are the words of the son of David who we believe to be Solomon as he gave good advice to young people. Graduation day has come or will come this month to many and it is our prayer that the admonition of Solomon has been and will be heeded.

"The teenage years are perhaps the most traumatic years of a persons life. Youth face three important choices during these turbulent years. They must choose their life's work, their life's partner, and their life's philosophy. Because of the rapid change in the structure of society, they need someone to give them a focus on the stable elements of life to which they can relate."

"Youth want to relate their religious experiences to the world in which they live. Therefore, the Biblical message must be related to issues that meet youth daily - drugs, sexual promiscuity, family problems, social pressures, family problems, world peace, and academic problems." ("Search", Spring 1980)

As graduation day comes we will lay aside high school books, some college books, but if the Lord remains in our memories we can not lay aside the Bible. As Young People choose their life's work it may be that God has something He is calling you to do and you will never be happy doing otherwise. Seeking guidance for life's work through the pages of God's Book will bring you face to face with such thoughts; is this honest? can I give my best to this? and will I be satisfied with being dishonest in whatever vocation I choose. A man had worked to a pretty good job as service manager in a truck firm and was getting along well with his job until he rededicated his life to the Lord and started serving Him. He could no longer justify his wage by adding ten or fifteen minutes to the time required to overhaul or some other job on a truck. He resigned; was out of work a short time and found another job that he was not ashamed of doing while he served the Lord.

In the matter of the choice of a life's mate some do not really consider the vow they will be asked to make at the wedding "until death do us part". "For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they two shall be one flesh." Eph. 5:31

May God Bless you Young People as you make transition from school to school or whatever and give you strength, but do not forget His guide He has left for you the Bible.

Artists in the schools

Interested in your child having an arts experience? School districts throughout Texas may soon provide these activities, if they apply for financial assistance to bring professional artists into their schools.

"The Artists-in-Schools program will place professional performing, visual and literary artists in accredited school districts to bring an enriching arts experience to children of all ages," today announced Allan K. Longacre II, Executive Director for the Texas Commission on the Arts (TCA).

Deadline for applications is July 1. Assistance awards will be announced in August for the 1980-81 school year.

"Although the creative activities are aimed primarily at school children, teachers as well as the entire community take part too," Mr. Longacre explained.

Eligible sponsors may be any accredited school district, local government group, or a non-profit tax-exempt organization such as a museum or an arts council. Organizations may pool their financial resources and then apply to TCA for matching funds for the program.

"Artist residencies may range from one week to a full school year," Longacre said. "For the short or long term, those involved learn much about self-expression and communicating creatively." For applications and further information, contact TCA's Education Division, toll free 1-800-252-9415, P.O. Box 13406, Capitol Station, Austin, TX 78711.

PHYSICAL FITNESS

By Bill Toomey, Executive Director, AAU-Penn Mutual Masters Sports

All This Talk Of Exercise; What Does It Really Do? That's a good question. We don't know — exactly. But we do have some pretty good ideas.

The effects of exercise are difficult to measure because they are progressive. And not many people are willing to devote their lives to being guinea pigs.

According to the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports, aerobic exercise—the kind that sustains an elevated heart rate for a period of at least 15 minutes—can improve one's physical health by:

1. Improving circulation.
2. Strengthening blood vessels, reducing the possibility of a stroke.
3. Increasing the efficiency of the heart.
4. Increasing tolerance to stress.
5. Decreasing cholesterol and sugar levels in the blood.

So—before you go reupholstering that easy chair—you might want to give exercise a second chance.

For information on Masters Sports programs in your community, write: AAU-Penn Mutual Masters Sports, P.O. Box 1982, Philadelphia, PA 19107.

What's Burning in Maurine's Kitchen

By MAURINE BUTTS

For our main dish, how about something quick, super easy and so tasty that you'll get great reviews and, probably, an encore request! This is a recipe taken from the Hardwick Microwave Cookbook.

Chicken Breasts Royale
6 slices bacon
3 whole chicken breasts, split and skinned

1 jar (2½ oz) dried beef, chopped
1 can (10¼ oz) condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 c sour cream
1 pkg. (3 oz) cream cheese, softened Wrap one slice bacon around each chicken breast. Place a layer of chopped beef in bottom of a 13x9x2 inch glass baking dish. Arrange chicken breasts over top of beef. Cover with plastic wrap.

Microwave 12 to 14 minutes, giving dish a ¼ turn during cooking. Mix together soup, sour cream and cream cheese. Pour over chicken. Replace plastic wrap and microwave 4 to 5 minutes (roast-8, 5 to 7 minutes for ovens with variable power). Let stand 5 minutes and serve. Makes 6 servings.

Remember, when cooking chicken pieces, as in the beginning of this recipe, to use the full or high power setting and when microwaving a whole chicken, as in a baked chicken, use a lower setting.

Chicken is a very good buy now. When baking a whole chicken, brush the surface of the poultry with a mixture of 1 tablespoon bottled brown sauce and 1 tablespoon water. Some foods may stick to the plastic cooking bags so lightly brush the surface of the poultry with vegetable oil.

To insure tenderness when cooking a roast conventionally, add 4 oz of beer to the roast at the beginning of the cooking time just as if one was adding any liquid to a roast. Cook the roast very slowly—a crock pot is

A Moment for Meditation

By INEZ G. LAWRENCE
"He that handleth a matter wisely shall find good." Prov. 16:20

The old saying "Wisdom is the better part of valor" is as true today as when it was first spoken. Especially is it applicable when problems arise in our homes, communities or the nation. It is so much easier to react than to think. Our emotions are so explosive that when something riles us we boil over. Then we say things that are no credit to the problem or to our own credibility as a Christian.

Our world today is an abrasive place to live in. We find our ideas and principles challenged at every turn. Usually the challengers are quite vocal and their loudness raises our blood pressure. An example is the amount of television coverage given recently on Talk shows presenting couples living together without marriage. According to census figures only three percent of American couples are involved in this type arrangement. Yet the amount of coverage inferred this had become average procedure among American couples. It is wise to know statistics.

Likewise tension within a family is often fueled by the emotional reaction of the members. We want to express ourselves and the easiest way is verbally. So we explode like a volcano and the fall-out is usually devastating. It is wiser to consider a few seconds before speaking. Similar things happen within a community and battle lines are drawn which may take years to erase. Hurt feelings smolder and misunderstandings mount. Such confrontations do not solve problems; they only aggravate them.

We hear many criticisms of our country especially in an election year. But the stream of Cubans to our shores points up that something is right with our country. I have been in a number of countries and have read critical statements about the United States, but I have never met a person who did not want to come here either to visit or to live. To handle a matter wisely takes time and energy, but it usually means a solution. Too, friendships are saved. We cannot improve on the Bible in any area of life. It is absolutely reliable as a guide for living.

Get most from cooling dollar

Consumers can get more from their "beat-the-summer-heat" dollar, says Dr. Jane Berry, a housing and home furnishings specialist.

Dr. Berry is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

She suggests some simple, no-cost steps consumers can take immediately to maximize cooling.

Raise Thermostat

Raise the air conditioner thermostat to the highest comfort level possible. This will reduce energy consumption from three to 10 percent for each degree the thermostat is raised.

When it's excessively hot outdoors, turn the thermostat up even higher to keep from overworking the air conditioner.

Greatest efficiency results when a difference of no more than 15 to 20 degrees is maintained between inside and outside temperature.

Use Fans

Fans, used either by themselves or with air conditioning, can enhance summer comfort while saving energy.

While a one-ton air conditioner costs around seven cents an hour to operate a fan costs less than one cent an hour to run.

Fans won't make any change in the room's actual temperature, but the constant breeze they provide will make you "feel much cooler."

In fact, set the air conditioner at 82 degrees F., use a fan to circulate the air, and experience the same comfort as if the air conditioner were set at 74 degrees F.

Draw Shades

Windows and glass areas transmit most of the radiant heat they are exposed to.

So, block out heat on those sides of the house that get direct sun exposure.

Draw shades or draperies on the east side in the morning and on the west side in the afternoon to reduce the heat load the air conditioner must remove.

Change Filter

Since a dust-clogged filter restricts air flow and makes the machine work harder, change it frequently.

Remove Obstructions

Overgrown shrubs, weeds and grass growing close to the air conditioner's condensing unit can restrict the flow of air and seriously impair the unit's efficiency.

However, shrubs and trees that shade the unit from direct sunlight help keep it from getting too hot.

Wear Light Clothing

Comfortable, light-weight clothing can enhance summer comfort both inside and outside the home.

Anticipate higher thermostats in stores and offices, and dress accordingly.

Well-Spent Investments

Dr. Berry advises that the following investments can result in sizeable long-term energy benefits:

- 1) adequately insulated floors, walls and attic space,
- 2) weatherstripped doors and windows and caulked cracks to reduce air infiltration,
- 3) exterior sun-control devices to protect window and glass areas,
- 4) properly sized air-conditioning equipment with a high-efficiency rating, and
- 5) one or more fans to use along or in conjunction with heating and air conditioning to maximize benefits of conditioned air.
