Residents presented petition to change policy on county roads

Residents of Donley County circulated and presented a petition to the Donley County Judge's for Commissioners Court office on February 8, 1980 at 2:30 p.m. asking for a change of policy regarding county roads. The petition read as follows:

"We, the undersigned qualified voters of Donley County, Texas Petition the Commissioner's Court of Donley County, Texas to call an election for the purpose of consolidating all road equipment, materials and supplies on the basis of the County as a whole without regard to commissioner precincts."

When a petition of this nature is presented, the Commissioners Court shall call such election.

The petition bore the signatures of 170 persons. As required by law a petition of this kind must have a designated percentage of signatures. In the election for Governor in 1978 1,232 votes were cast and 10% of that number, 123, signatures were needed for the petition. The number of signers exceeded the necessary number.

With the required conditions having been met the Donley County Commissioners Court, on February 11, 1980, called for an election to determine the will of the voters regarding this matter. Said election is to be held April 5, 1980.

Art. 6716-1. The Optional County Road Law of 1947, is the law regarding a county road supervisor. With-in its provisions are those that state that members of the county road department, are the Commissioners Court for policy determining, the County Road Administrator (supervisor) as chief executive officer and other administrative personnel and road employees.

The county road department will operate on a county wide basis without regard to the commissioners precincts with equipment, materials and supplies used in county construction and maintenance rather than that precinct maintenance.

The salary of the road supervisor shall not exceed $12,000 a year, is to be paid in 12 monthly installments of equal amount and must be paid out of the Road and Bridge Fund of the county. Exact amount of salary is to be determined by the Commissioner's Court.

The County Road Supervisor is to be responsible to the Commissioner's Court for the efficient and economical construction and maintenance of county roads. He will have power to appoint for an indefinite term and to remove all county road department personnel, with the approval of the Commissioners Court. He will have additional authority regarding employment and removal of subordinate employees.

The county road supervisor will deal with the Commissioners Court for the county road department, except for the purpose of inquiry, representing the employees.

The county road supervisor will attend all meetings of the Commissioners Court, to participate or recommend; see that the policies of the court relating to county roads are carried out; supervise the administration of the department and prepare detailed annual budget estimates for construction, maintenance and operation of the department. Other duties will be to prepare estimates and specifications for all equipment, materials, supplies, of the department and prepare plans and maintain records for department expenditures and keep a perpetual inventory of all department equipment, material and supplies. In addition duties will include other items as the Commissioners Court may feel necessary to this position.

All expenditures for the operation and cost of the department shall be paid out of the Road and Bridge Fund in strict accordance with annual budgeted appropriations. Bond shall be given by the County Road Supervisor in the amount approved by the Commissioners Court.

The County Road Supervisor will hold his term for an indefinite time, and may be removed by a majority vote of the Commissioners Court. Removal will come not less than 30 days after notification in writing of the Commissioners Court intention to remove him. If requested, the County Road Supervisor may have a public hearing on the question of his removal, provided his request is made in written form to the Commissioners Court.

No elections on the questions of adopting or abandoning the provisions of this Act shall be held oftener than every two (2) years.

To vote for the road supervisor residents in Donley County precinct 1 will have voting boxes in Ashtola at the Community Center, at the Howard City Hall, and at the grain elevator at Jericho. Precinct 1 residents in the city of Clarendon will vote at the old Courthouse, with precinct 2 voters.

Precinct 2 voters will vote as usual at the old Courthouse. Precinct 3 voters will vote at the Lions Club Hall in Hedley.

In precinct 4 residents of Clarendon will vote at the old courthouse and other precinct 4 residents will vote at Skillet, at the McClellan's home.

This is a countywide election and if it is more convenient for a voter to cast his vote in the old Donley County courthouse, in this election to be held on April 5, than his residence, it is legal to do so.

Whatever your conviction on the creating of a position of a road supervisor, be sure you vote.

Public Health official warns about dump

Michael Edmiston P.E. from the Texas Department of Health Resources, made an inspection of the city-county dump ground late last week and pointed out some violations of its use.

Rural users, those who take their own trash to the dump are requested to wet down all cinders, partially burned refuse or trash contained where there has been trashed burned. In this way no spark can be present to start a fire.

There is much evidence of illegal dumping on county roads near the dump ground, an offense for which the guilty person can be fined up to $400.00. Edmiston, stressed the fact that the same law applies to putting trash on a county road, as it does to a state and U.S. highway.

Dead animals have been dumped on the roads and this creates a health hazard for the area. Anyone who sees another dumping on the road is requested to take the license number of the vehicle and report the violation to county officers. The dumping of dead animals in any place other than the dead pit is looked upon with great disfavor by the state authorities.

Everyone who takes their own trash to the dump is asked to put trees with the limbs and trees, household trash where it goes etc. to enable dump personnel to attend to their duties as need be.

Election nears for city-county

Deadline for filing as a candidate for positions on the city board of aldermen, school board of trustees, county board of regents and college board of regents was Wednesday, March 5, 1980. Deadline for filing for the hospital board of directors will be March 14.

Absentee voting for school boards, college board of regents, and city alderman positions will begin March 17, and for the hospital posts March 25. April 1, will be the last day for all personal absentee voting, including the hospital positions.

At noon on Tuesday, March 4, 1980 the following names had been listed as candidates for positions to be voted upon in the April 5, election. Two places on the Donley County School Board of Trustees expire and incumbents Geo. Wayne Estlack and Billy Ray Johnston have filed for another term. Hedley Board of School Trustees have Donald Langley, Benny Carson, Carrie Don Neeley, Martha Hill and Billy Clubb who filed. Clarendon ISD board of trustee candidates are Earl Shields, Darrell Leffew, Mike Spier, James Alvin McAnear, Bill Hodges and Cheryl Burch.

For City of Clarendon alderman, Lloyd McCord has filed for a second term and two other terms are expiring. Clarendon College Board of Regents candidates are; James McAnear Sr., Bob McCombs, M.L. Todd and Leo Smith.

All four Donley County Hospital Board of Directors places which are expiring have been filed for by the incumbents; Bud Hermesmeier, place 4; Albert Burleson, place 5; C.C. Ayers, place 6; and R.D. Castner place 7.

Several things are unique about the election this April 5, 1980. One of them is the fact that this is the last time the county residents will be voting for Donley County Trustees. Effective January 1, 1981 the board will be non-existent. The two persons Billy Ray Johnston and George Wayne Estlack are the last candidates to be elected to the positions.

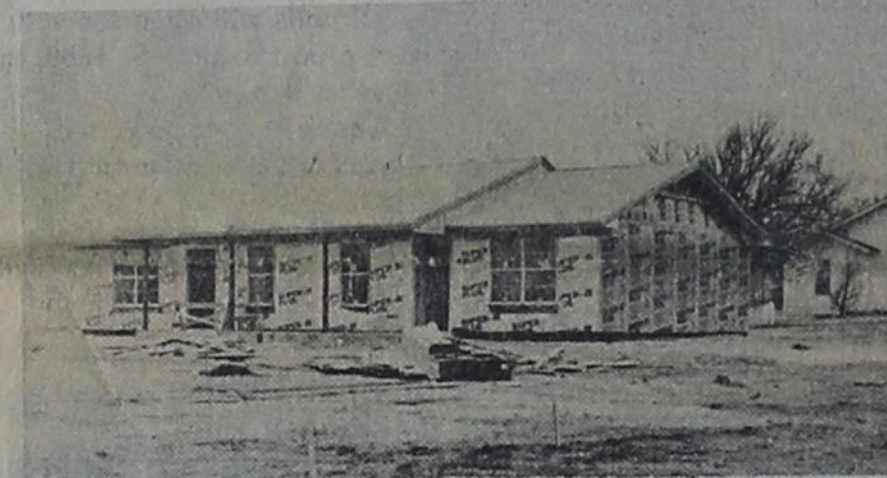

Another difference is the vote for the County Road Supervisor position. Places for precinct residents to vote have been listed in the article.

Voters for the Donley County Hospital District Board of Directors will vote at the Clarendon school administration office, in Clarendon, and at the Lions Club Halls in Howardwick and Hedley for those residents.

In Hedley voters will vote at the Hedley School for school trustees, in Clarendon they will vote at the School administration office for the trustees. In Clarendon voting for the Clarendon College Board of Regents and the Donley County Board of

Hedley 1919 Club meets

The 1919 Club met on February 27th at the Lion's Den. Mrs. John Hinds, president, was out of town on a business trip. The vice-president, Mrs. Cullen Taylor, presided. A letter of resignation from Mrs. Harry Boatright was read. Mrs. Boatright's health is the reason for her resignation.

Mrs. Omie Simmons gave the devotional. She stressed service of others; the saddest person in the world is the person who thinks only of himself. Her seven rules for a happy life are:

1. Take time to work. It is the price of success. 2. Take time to think. It is the source of power.
3. Take time to play. It is the secret of youth. 4. Take time to read. It is the foundation of Knowledge. 5. Take time to laugh. It is the music of the soul.
6. Take time to be courteous. It is the mark of a gentleman (or lady).
7. Take time to pray. It is the Christian's vital breath.

The program was a report on Boys Ranch by Mrs. Harry Boatright, who spent twenty-three years as teacher and principal in the Boys' Ranch School. She was unable to attend in person. Mrs. Royce Williams read her report. Mrs. Boatright dealt with religion, school, athletic program, agricultural program and dormitories.

She said religion was stressed and church attendance compulsory. The church is served by a chaplain and is non-denominational. The boys take part each Sunday one boy is selected to give a sermonette before the chaplain speaks. There are beautiful voices in the choir and the robes are handsome.

In the school discipline is strong but not harsh. Many of the boys are tough and need correction, of course; but it is surprising how soon they adjust.

The school is rated AA and many boys go on to college. The athletic program includes all phases, football, basketball, track, and baseball. It is designed to teach sportsmanship and fair play. Lapses in these areas are punished by loss of privileges. Dormitory life is the back bone of character building. The boys need love and it is freely given by the dorm parents.

The agricultural program, under Mr. Guy Finstad, is very good. The boys take prizes each year.

In the past the 1919 Club has made a field trip to Boys' Ranch Mrs. Boatright's paper was enjoyed especially because of that.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses; Mrs. Clifford Johnson and Mrs. Omie Simmons.

Members present were: Mrs. Dannie Bernardin, Mrs. Myr-

Staff Sgt. Glenn D. Judd, whose wife, Claudette Judd, lives in McComb, Miss., recently was assigned as an instructor with the U.S. Army Training Center, Engineer at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Bookworm

"The Teamsters" written by Steven Brill, tells as much as anyone will ever know about the murder of Jimmy Hoffa.

Brill tells the teamsters story by relating the intense personal stories of real people - nine men who together represent all that is good and bad about the giant union.

Brazil nuts grow in clusters of from 14 to 28.

Jimmy Hoffa Jr., son of the mission union boss is a soft spoken young lawyer tormented in the aftermath of his father's probable murder.

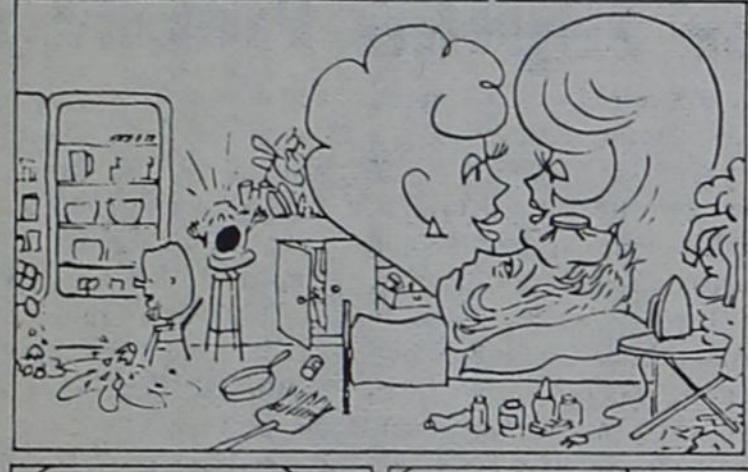

Frank Fitzsimmons, the man who was Hoffa's standin during his stay in prison, Tony Provenzano, the mobster, Ron Cary, honest president of the teamsters, local in New York, Allen Dorfman, kickback artist, and several members of the union, some for some against it, all these cast of character contribute to an accurate picture of the teamsters. This book is a true account of this giant union powerful enough to paralyze the nation. If you're a person who likes to go all the way with your fantasies "What If Costs", is the book you've been waiting for. What would it cost me to: Ski a weekend with Jean Claude Kelly; take a motorcycle ride with Evel Knievel; buy a yacht, a Rolls-Royce, a cargo ship; hire a ghost hunter, a chauffeur, a press agent; get a new nose, facelift, smaller ears; go to a nudist colony, paris, a plush spa.

"What If Costs" written by Barry Tarshis, is the most practical guide to impractical living ever written.

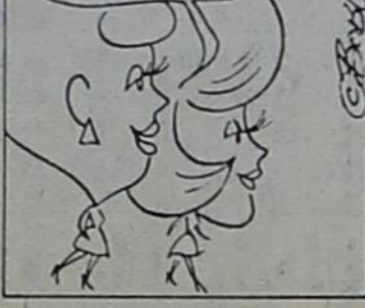

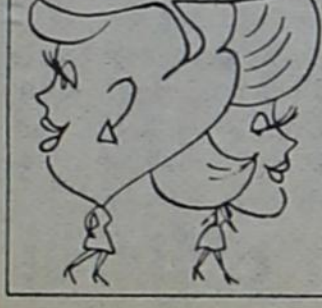

Traffic through the Library was a bit slow last week because of the weather. This is to be expected of course and will pick up as warm weather approaches. Don't forget to pick up cassette tapes for an evening of entertainment for you or your children. We have a nice selection to choose from.

General Telephone Files For First Statewide Rate Changes Since 1976; New Rates Should Be More Equitable

For the first time since the Public Utility Commission of Texas began regulation of Texas telephone companies, General Telephone Company of the Southwest is asking for rate changes designed to produce about $58 million in additional annual local revenues. Because this case is being filed on a statewide basis, adhering to statewide rate making principles, there is no "average" increase we can quote for an "average" customer. Increases will vary from community to community. Rates for all General Telephone customers in Texas will be affected, but there will be no changes in long distance rates. Here is our case:

Phone service is a good buy
You don't need us to tell you prices have gone up. But the price for phone service hasn't gone up as much as you may think. In fact, you may easily spend more on coffee for coffee breaks than you do for a month of basic local service. Contrast that with the prices you pay for shoes and sugar or gasoline and hamburger. Or contrast it with what we pay for poles, wires, cables, etc. We can't sell 1980 service at 1976 prices...and stay in business.

We're facing facts
America's investor-owned utilities are fighting to stay financially sound and we're in the middle of that fight. As part of on-going good management, we constantly work to improve the efficiency of our operations. We've even gone to the length of redesigning truck bodies ourselves because we needed a less expensive, lighter weight, more fuel efficient model and automotive engineers weren't interested in the small (to them) number we'd purchase. We've managed to avoid the rate increase arena for nearly four years through efforts like these but they aren't enough any more. We don't intend to become a financial burden to anyone...and we can face facts. So, let's face this one: it's either a rate increase or some other alternative.

- What alternatives?
1. Downgrade customer service.
 2. Defer plant and equipment additions.
 3. Let our shareowners' investment deteriorate.
 4. Ask our employees to give up justified wage increases.

Alternative 1: Downgrade customer service
You expect phones to work as close to 100 percent of the time as is possible and when phone service is out, you want it fixed. Fast. We agree. And you don't want to wait to get service to begin with, no matter how fast Texas grows. We also agree. Therefore, we can't let service deteriorate simply because costs of providing it increase. In fact, from our point of view, service in some spots could stand improving...and we ought to know; we've been in this business a long time. But improvements cost money.

Alternative 2: Defer plant and equipment additions

We've already done that...or as much as we possibly could. Texas has been experiencing unprecedented growth and that's nice, because growth is healthy. The trouble is we have had to spend (and borrow) unprecedented amounts of money (at unprecedented interest rates) to provide the facilities to meet that growth. And the dollars we spent in 1979 and will spend in 1980 don't buy as much as they used to. They don't even buy as much as they did the last time we had increases in rates - 1976. We've had customers tell us, "Look, my service is fine. Let it stay the same until 1999, just leave the rates alone." Sounds great, but it's not that simple. Even if it were possible, we'd still be spending millions each year just to maintain what's out there now. Practically speaking, however, we can't stand still. The rules under which we operate say we must meet all reasonable service requests in a timely manner. Telephone equipment is complex and it can't be put in overnight. With the way Texas has been growing and the way inflation is rampaging, some days it seems as though it will take all the running we can do and all the dollars we have just to stay in the same place. The engineering and construction work we do (and pay for) today determines the quality and quantity of service tomorrow.

Alternative 3: Let our shareowners' investment deteriorate
Everyone loves this answer...except the shareowners...and they may be you directly, or indirectly, if you have a pension plan, life insurance or own mutual fund shares. Realistically, however, shareowners have to earn a reasonable return on their investment. Otherwise, they don't invest. Would you? It was yesterday's investment money which bought the equipment serving you today and today's investment money is needed to buy the equipment to serve you tomorrow.

Alternative 4: Ask our employees to give up justified wage increases
Our employees are skilled and dedicated and we need them. To cut costs by denying them justified increases would be counterproductive. We must pay competitive wages and benefits to attract and hold employees with the skills and productivity we need. As Texas grows, we'll need even more. If we lose or can't find quality employees, your service could suffer.

So what's left?
That's pretty obvious: a rate increase. But it won't happen right away. It's not that simple and it isn't automatic. Most businesses, if their costs go up, simply raise their prices or drop the service. We are a regulated utility and even when we aren't receiving enough money for service, we must continue providing it and keep on doing so until we can prove to the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC) that we're in financial need. Only then can we plead our case for a rate increase. What's more, it takes time before we receive authority to increase rates. By then, inflation may have lowered the buying power of the dollar enough so we're right back where we started or worse.

The tax collector wins
We're asking for about $58 million in additional annual local revenues, half of which will go to increased taxes. Just about half of any increase we ever get goes to increased taxes.

About those varied increases
We can't give you an "average" increase for an "average" customer. Increases are going to vary, literally, all over the map of Texas. The chief reason is a shift from city-by-city rate-making to statewide rate-making. When this shift is completed, you will be paying rates based on the number of telephone numbers you can call without a long distance charge. We think you'll find this system fairer to all.

No increase is popular
We know you aren't going to like an increase in phone rates. In today's economic climate, we don't blame you. We don't like it, either. We also didn't like the astounding increases in electricity, gasoline, telephone equipment, taxes, interest rates, etc., we've faced over the last few years...but we've had to pay them.

We're consumers ourselves
We're trying to be as open and aboveboard as we can. There's nothing hidden about our operations and we aren't some giant out to gouge the consumer. We're consumers ourselves and we're doing our best to protect you and your phone service...and to keep the rates for it within everyone's reach.

We'll talk and listen
So, there it is. We've got to earn more money and raising rates is our only choice. If you have questions about your individual service rate, call your local business office or your division manager. What's burning in Maurine's Kitchen

By MAURINE BUTTS

If you have not tried to cook meats in the microwave oven because of the horror stories being told of a beautiful young 3 pound rump roast being savagely cooked beyond recognition with its edges being toughened to shoe leather and its juices being evaporated, here are some tips and suggestions to come to your rescue.

1. If a recipe calls for meat cut in strips or cubes, be sure to cut into uniform size pieces for even cooking results.

2. Cut less tender pieces of meat into serving size pieces. Smaller pieces will cook and tenderize faster than larger pieces of meat. For best results, microwave this type of meat in a liquid. Plastic cooking bags are especially convenient when microwaving less tender cuts of meat.

3. If meat is cooked in a sauce or liquid, be sure it is completely immersed in the liquid. This prevents meat from over cooking.

4. If desired, meat can be browned conventionally or in a microwave browning skillet. Thus continue cooking in the microwave oven.

5. Cover meats during cooking with the utensil lid, plastic wrap or paper toweling to help reduce cooking time and prevent spattering.

6. Drain partially cooked meat before adding remaining ingredient.

7. Stir, turn or rearrange meat once or twice during cooking.

8. Microwave to the desired degree of doneness or until fork tender. Let stand 5 to 15 minutes before serving. Use the standing time to microwave other foods to be served with the meat.

The above hints are from the Hardwick Microwave Cookbook.

9. Microwave meats at a medium setting—rather than full power. For ovens with the variable power feature use Reheat-6 for tender cuts and Simmer 4 or Slow Cook-3 for less tender.

10. For darker appearance use soy sauce, Worcestershire sauce or Teriyaki sauce.

Beef and Peppers
1 lb boneless sirloin steak
1 pkg (1.6 oz) Teriyaki sauce mix
1/2 cup water
1 T dry sherry
2 c green pepper, cut in thin strips
Hot cooked rice
4 cherry tomatoes

Cut meat across grain into thin strips. Combine Teriyaki sauce mix, water and sherry. Stir in meat. Cover and marinate in the refrigerator 1 or 2 hours. Drain and reserve liquid. Add green peppers to liquid and marinate while meat is cooking.

Place meat in a 2 qt glass casserole dish. Cover and microwave 4 minutes, stirring once during cooking. Drain green peppers. Add peppers to meat. Cover and microwave 4 to 5 minutes or until meat is cooked. Serve over hot rice and garnish with cherry tomatoes. If desired, add 1 T cornstarch to liquid. Microwave 2 to 3 minutes or until thickened. Stir every minute during cooking. Pour thickened sauce over beef and peppers before serving.

Makes 4 servings.

The above recipe is from the aforementioned cookbook.

With the ease that microwave cooking offers us, convenience foods have more adaptability to our fast paced lives. The frozen dinners, when popped from the metal trays onto a regular paper plate, take from 3 to 5 minutes to cook.

Many of the frozen food manufacturers have begun marketing their products with microwave instructions, such as Patio and Banquet. Some of these products are in cooking bags and some are not, so be sure to follow the easy directions.

Many of the cake mixes now offer suggestions for microwave cooking and/or additional ways to use the mix in microwave cooking. For instance, notice the back panel of the Duncan Hines Blueberry muffin mix for directions in preparing a delicious coffee cake with crunchy topping that takes only 5 minutes to prepare and cook.

Let your convenience appliance be more convenient.

General Telephone Co. filed Request for rate increase

General Telephone Company of the Southwest filed its first statewide request for new revenues with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC), February 25, seeking $58.3 million of which the company would receive $29.7 million after taxes.

General Telephone, the largest independent (non-Bell) telephone company in Texas, serves over 1.2 million telephones in 291 exchanges across the state. Major cities served include Garland, Irving and Plano in the Dallas/Fort Worth area, Baytown and Dickinson in the Houston area, Texarkana, San Angelo, and Bryan-College Station.

F.E. Hightower, vice president—revenue requirements in the company's four-state headquarters in San Angelo, said: "Continued erosion of earnings through customer growth and requirements for services, rapidly changing technology, the need to improve and expand service and services, and unprecedented high levels of inflation make our request necessary.

"We have been able to defer a request for new revenues through programs to improve efficiency, to reduce expenses, and intensified marketing efforts," he said.

"Rates now in effect were established on a city-by-city basis prior to the establishment of the PUC in September 1976. As a result, rates vary greatly. Our filing seeks to make rates for services and 'bands' uniform."

The filing seeks to equalize local monthly basic service rates by grouping cities by bands based on the number of primary telephones that can be called without a long distance charge, and to apply charges for all services more nearly relating to the cost of providing those services, according to Hightower.

Hightower said the company proposes 10 rate bands similar to those already approved by the commission for other telephone companies. Rates would increase from band to band in proportion to the increase in primary telephones which can be called in each band.

"While the proposed rates are uniform within the respective bands, present rates vary so widely that it is impossible to project a meaningful average percent change," he explained.

The proposed new rate for Clarendon is as shown. Present one-party $8.85; proposed one-party $9.21; present one-party business $18.75, proposed one-party business $21.37.

Young Homemakers Club meet

The Young Homemakers, edition of the Donley County Extension Homemakers, started out 1980 with election of officers. Representing the club this year will be Terri Floyd, president; Shirley Riley, vice president and program chairman; Denise Grady, secretary; Darla Putman, treasurer; Missy Kidd, reporter; and Tonya Owens, council delegate.

The purpose of the club is to study homemaking and to develop and put into practice the best methods involved in successful homemaking; to offer to women an opportunity for self improvements and to advance community interests and life.

Our club is proud to have as a member, Tonya Owens, who was chosen as Woman of the Year from the nominees of the four extension homemakers clubs.

Our club's activities for the start of this year included a Valentine supper in honor of our husbands on February 11. Each member brought a covered dish to complete the main course. A boutonniere was presented to each husband by the wife.

A bean guessing contest was held among the husbands for the prize of a two pound box of candy. The winner was David Hardin. All members and their husbands enjoyed the food and relaxation.

Our regular February meeting was held in the home of Shirley Riley. The general business meeting was held, followed by a program on making crepes, presented by Shirley Riley with other members pitching in. To complete crepe making we enjoyed eating the program as refreshments.

The young homemakers club meets every fourth Monday of each month at members homes. Anyone interested in joining the club can contact Terri Floyd at 874-2653. Everyone welcome.

Cross compliance between soil conservation and USDA

Cross compliance between soil conservation and USDA's other farm programs... one of seven strategies that USDA is considering in an effort to develop a new and more effective approach to helping people use and conserve soil and water resources.

This strategy is one that would require a farmer to be carrying out a program of soil and water conservation that is acceptable to USDA before he could get help from any of the other USDA programs. Before a person could get a commodity loan, crop insurance, a low-interest loan, or assistance from any of the other farm programs, he first would have to apply any needed conservation measures to his land. He would have to apply these measures in a manner that is acceptable to the department. In other words, conservation or at least protecting land from soil erosion, would be a prerequisite to a farmer's participation in other USDA programs.

This strategy could mean higher price support payments to producers who are also carrying out a plan to conserve soil and water. Farmers who are not conservation farmers would receive lower payments, or it could require that all of the conservation practices that are needed on a farm be installed before the farmer could receive any price support payment or participate in any other USDA program.

The most obvious cross compliance link would be between soil and water conservation and commodity programs. USDA commodity programs provide the farmer with income and market protection while ensuring that consumers can purchase the food they need at reasonable prices. This means that farm production must be flexible and stable. The commodity program provides that stability.

It is important that farmers participate in the commodity programs. USDA does not want this cross compliance strategy to deter them from doing that. So, commodity programs, target prices, and loan levels given to farmers would have to include the added cost of complying with the conservation requirements.

Of the seven strategies affecting farmers, this particular one would apparently be easier on farmers who till level land that requires little or no erosion control. They would have to make only a small investment in conservation in order to qualify for other help from USDA.

On the other hand, farmers who have eroding land would have to make a considerably higher investment in conservation before they could qualify for other help from USDA.

This strategy would reduce the amount of soil erosion in the country. There would be a stronger incentive for farmers to carry out the measures needed to reduce erosion. Or if they could not afford to do that, or did not want to do it, they might be better off just taking that severely eroding land out of production. It would be an even bigger hindrance to their operation than it is now because it would keep them out of other farm programs. USDA estimates, though, that a program like this would have an effect on only about 25 percent of the land that has an erosion problem. So other strategies would be needed to protect the other land.

The period for public comment on any of this information is open until March 28. Send your comments to: RCA Response Analysis Center, Box 888, Athens, Georgia 30603.

Land - McKinney exchange wedding vows

Gina Kay Land and Lyn McKinney were united in marriage Saturday, February 9, at 5:30 p.m. in Anna Moores Chapel of the First Baptist Church of Clarendon.

Brother Roger Gray of the Assembly of God Church performed the double ring ceremony before a background of candelabra intertwined with greenery with light blue ribbon bows in the center.

The kneeling benches were white with blue ribbons bows on each side and the pews were marked with intertwined greenery and light blue ribbon bows.

Parents of the bride and groom are Mr. and Mrs. Jiggs Land of Lelia Lake and Mr. and Mrs. James McKinney of Clarendon.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was lovely in a chapel length gown of white with alencon lace detailed with tiny pearls, a V. neckline, fitted bodice and long sheer sleeves with lace tapering to the wrist. The full skirt of silk oranza extended into a chapel train.

The bride carried out the tradition. She wore a strain of pearls which was old and borrowed from a friend, something blue was her blue garter. Something new was a penny in her shoe for good luck.

The bride's finger tip veil of white illusion was applied with alencon lace matching her dress. She carried a cascade bouquet of blue and white carnations with feathered babys breathe tied with light blue streamers.

The matron of honor was Adenia Mills of Clarendon a friend of the bride. She wore a floor length light blue lace dress and hat to match. She carried a bouquet of tiny daisys and blue carnations with blue streamers. Bobby Ellerbrook of Old Bridge, New Jersey was best man and a friend of the groom.

Music was provided by Mrs. Raleigh Adams at the organ. Singer Shirley McKenney, aunt of the groom, sang "We've only Just Begun".

Guests were registered by Debbie Johnston.

Xi Lambda Xi has meeting

On Monday night, February 25, the Xi Lambda Xi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met at Beth Walker's home in regular session. The 11 members present opened the meeting by repeating the "Opening Ritual" in unison. President Susan Henson brought the meeting to order.

The Charity Ball was reported on. President Susan Henson stated that each Chapter (Xi Lambda Xi, Mu Gamma, and Epsilon Upsilon) would have about $250 profit. Our chapter has voted to put our share of the profit into the fund for a community center. The Founders' Day Program was thought of and plans are now being made.

The Miss Irish Rose Contest at Shamrock was discussed. It was voted that our chapter will sponsor Kimbra Anderson as our queen representative in the contest.

The subject of nominating a woman for the "Woman of the Year" award to be announced April 19 at a luncheon at WTSU was brought up. Members are to think about it until the next meeting. Our business meeting was adjourned.

Beth Walker presented the program on "The Face of the Earth" and "The Polar Region." The program concerned maps, the only way we can see the earth as a whole. Beth showed us different kinds of maps, general maps and thematic maps, etc. Maps are used in every facet of life. She also gave some interesting facts on the North and South Polar Regions, Antarctica, Greenland, and Iceland in keeping with the grand tour. She presented an excellent program.

After the program, all members repeated the "Closing Ritual" in unison. Beth, our hostess, served hot tea, iced tea, coffee, and different breads (very delicious) and nuts. The raffle was won by Peggy Anderson.

Fellowship was enjoyed by all present: Susan Henson, Gloria Gage, Francis Johnston, Beth Walker, Charlene Mays, Donna Mann, Genella Eads, Peggy Anderson, Sandra Mooring, and Betty Veach.

Ford has the best Corporate Average Fuel Economy of any major U.S. car maker. C.A.F.E. is the government's measure of auto companies' progress in gas mileage each year. It is an average using the EPA rating system and projected 1980 total model year car sales mix as submitted to the U.S. government in December, 1979.

Only Ford among the major U.S. companies ranks first on this basis.

Remember, C.A.F.E. is an average, so consult EPA ratings for individual car's mileage.

Rodney McAnear Calf Scramble winner

Rodney McAnear of Clarendon, Texas wrestled a calf over the finish line at the 3-23-Matt performance of the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo to earn a $400 calf purchase certificate.

The certificate, donated by Mr. and Mrs. Hal Allen, will enable Rodney to purchase a beef or dairy heifer which he will feed and groom during the coming year under the direction of Ronald Gooch. At next year's Livestock Show the youngster will return with his calf to compete in special show ring competition.

The rough and tumble calf scramble takes place at each of the 15 Rodeo performances. Twelve calves and 24 youngsters are turned loose. Each contestant who manages to halter a calf and drag it across the finish line receives a purchase certificate donated by Houston-area businesses and individuals.

While the viewing public sees only the scramble and judging events, the heart of the Calf Scramble program is the knowledge the scramble winners gain in the intervening year. Closely supervised by a Vocational Agricultural Teacher or County Extension Agent, each youth keeps accurate records and performs other obligations designed to underscore the responsibilities involved in raising a calf.

The Calf Scramble is only one example of the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo's commitment to the youth of Texas, and the benefits of this one event alone are considerable. Many heifers purchased with these certificates form the basis for future cattle herds. Since the calf scramble program began, more than 7900 animals valued at more than $1.5 million have been donated to Texas youngsters. Each year the show awards some 260 purchase certificates worth more than $100.00 to scramble winners.

The popular Calf Scramble event is only one of many exciting events which take place during the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo. The show, which runs February 22 through March 2, draws first-rate professional cowboys who compete for one of rodeo's richest purses and features top names in entertainment.

1926 Book Club meets

On Tuesday, February 19, 1980, the 1926 Book Club met in regular session at the Patching Clubhouse at 4:00 p.m.

Refreshments were being served by the hostesses: Claudine Todd and Frieda Tucker. Delicious cake with a whipped fruit topping, nuts, coffee and hot tea.

President Oressa Delaney brought the meeting to order. She gave a short report on the Gentlemen's Party held at Mrs. Bromley's Restaurant. The members read the club "Collect" in unison. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Mary Hazel VanZandt gave a treasurer's report of finances.

A letter from the Wichita Falls State Hospital was read by Secretary Betty Veach in which they were thanking us for our contribution during the Christmas holiday.

President Delaney reported on Molly Ritter, her having eye surgery—we hope she is doing well. Two other members—Thelma Bairfield and Hazel Brandon are expected back from their trips the last of March or first of April.

President Delaney introduced Carolyn Hamilton who in turn introduced our speaker for the day. She introduced Nelda Nance, the head librarian at the Clarendon College Library. She talked about her duties as librarian in the college library. The college library has over 20,000 books. Nelda went through a stack of book jackets, which represented the new books in the library. The program was very interesting.

In attendance were: Claudine Todd, Frieda Tucker, Dorothy White, Norma Jones, Mary

A worldwide assault on cancer is necessary because of the wide range in the incidence and deaths from certain forms of the disease in different nations. Why these rates differ has not been determined. When we know why, we will be well on the way to unlocking other mysteries of cancer. Temperature, diet, smoking habits, environment, occupational hazards—there are literally hundreds of reasons advanced for the variance in the rates.

Research is a three-sided effort. There is basic research in cell biology as to why normal cells go wild, reproducing endlessly, destroying the body housing them. There are scientists seeking better prevention, diagnosis and management of cancer in man. And finally, there are epidemiologists using computers, maps and interviews in studying huge segments of the population to locate high risk groups of people who can be checked in the hope of finding cancer in the early stage when it is most curable.

This April the American Cancer Society is bringing a message about cancer's seven warning signals to more than forty million homes. The Society's leadership role in the International, National and Local fight against cancer is broad-based and increasingly successful. You can personally join in this fight through your own cooperation, support and knowledge of cancer's seven warning signals.

New type program aids students

Pilot programs in four Texas cities have been successful enough for authorities to encourage juvenile liaison programs involving police and schools in other programs statewide.

These juvenile diversion programs are an attempt by agencies to divert troubled youth away from the juvenile criminal justice system by means of alternative measures. In the liaison programs an effort is made to improve relations between the police and a city's youth under favorable circumstances. In on liaison program peer pressure was used by linking solid students from senior high with junior high pre-delinquent students. In some instances the junior high students were at the time just having trouble adjusting to junior high.

At the end of the year theft arrests were down 53% and drug arrests were down by 45%. Most in-school problems evolve from one of these two prime trouble areas.

The program works by taking troubled junior high students who have been recommended by principals and teachers and pairing the student with a volunteer high school student. The senior high student is responsible for contacting his partner once a week. Once a month student pairs meet with the liaison officer. At this group session the officer gives a public service presentation on such topics as shoplifting, drugs, or coping with parents.

The group also plans such activities as skating parties etc. in most instances.

Such a program would need the approval of the local school board and some cities where it is used has received funds from the Criminal Justice Division.

A Moment

Meditation

By INEZ G. LAWRENCE
"HE LEADETH ME BESIDE STILL WATERS" Psa. 23:2b

A man told me this week he has had a terrible time sleeping lately. There was no apparent reason for his insomnia. He simply could not sleep. Since we were not in a counseling situation I did not offer any solution, but I thought of the phrase "still waters". Perhaps this best known Psalm offers more mind images than any other of equal length and one of those is "still waters".

There is quietness in the thought. A motionless pool reminds us of peace and serenity. So does a placid lake hidden in the mountains. An easing of tension flows through our being as we think of our favorite secluded spot. The irritations which have built up during the day melt away before the picture of a glassy lake as it mirrors the nearby trees in detail. We savor the silence which is broken only by the rustling of leaves or perhaps the soft steps of an animal as he comes to slake his thirst.

In the Psalm the shepherd knows when the sheep are weary, so he plans a stop beside the still waters in order that the animals may refresh themselves before moving ahead. Even so does our Great Shepherd provide rest and refreshing times for us. Sleep is a physical aid in rebuilding our sagging energy but if we are unable to sleep our bodies are hampered in the rebuilding process. So then, a turning of our thoughts to God's providence both in the physical and spiritual matters is helpful. The quiet beauty of still waters is only a symbol of God's care for us in every area of life. Perhaps the phrase in the psalm "He leadeh me" is even more important than the rest of the verse, "beside still waters." Assurance and confidence surge through us as we think of God's care for us.
