THREE suits have been brought against the city of Austin for interest due on bonds. Cities, as well as individuals, who go deeply into debt get their hands full of trouble.

THE Hill and Gorman tribe say they have the right-of-way in the democratic party and Bryan says he refuses to be side-tracked. Of course the usual result will follow.

THE preachers all might preach on "hats" next Sunday, as but little else than that subject can be made to penetrate the mind of the average woman on that day, even if Easter did have its origin in heathenism.

THE fact that Boston is buying cloth from Texas cotton mills shows the beginning of a new order of things. Texas is by far the leading state in cotton production, has the cheapest fuel and cheaper food supplies than New England. Why shouldn't Texas become the greatest manufacturing state?

It is announced officially by the Bureau of Navigation that all new Government vessels will be fitted with masts designed especially for transmission of wireless-telegraph messages. The Bureau is considering the enlistment and training of electricians for the operation of the wireless-telegraph apparatus, and announces that it will give preference to the enlisted men of the navy who are competent electricians.

MANY puns at the expense of women have been expressed as to their talking propensities, but it seems to have been left for a man to talk himself to death. At McKeesport, Pa., Isaac Getting, whose mind has been blank, and who had been speechless for eighteen months, died Sunday night. The Monday night before, he regained his voice and talked incessantly up to the time of his death. Physicians and nurses say he literally talked himself to death. He was 23 years old.

POWDERLY, as commissioner of immigration has been fired from office by the president. He was given this office a few years ago as a reward for his treacherous sellout of the Knights of Labor to the republican party. Now, that the republicans feel that he has held the office long enough to redeem their promise, they throw him out and he will no longer be known only in dishonor, when, with his ability, if he had really had the manhood he was once credited with, he might have made a high mark in the world.

A quarantine order has been issued by the Cherokee Nation against Texas cattle. The action of Inspector Cobb will work a hardship on the Texas stockmen who expected to graze their herds in that country. It will necessitate going elsewhere for pastures, which will be a difficult thing to do at this late hour, for it has been known some time that almost all the grazing lands in the two territories that are available have long since been leased by the larger cattlemen of this state, and of the territory of New Mexico. A great many stockmen in the Panhandle have secured lease lands in the Indian countries. They will also be compelled to look elsewhere for grazing pastures.

In the Senate, Saturday, two Republicans expressed a preference for discriminating duties to a direct subsidy as an aid to those engaged in ocean transportation under American register. Some years ago the Democrats in Congress urged a reduction of duties on goods brought by American ships. We fail to be able to observe any actual difference between the two propositions. One takes the money out of the treasury and gives it to the ship owners, while the other intercepts the money just as it is about to enter the treasury and turns it over to the ship owners. The old parties are really together on this question as they are on every other, even on the tariff, except there is a sentiment among Democrats, which crops out once in a while, in favor of abolishing the internal revenue, and collect all expenses of government by tariff levies.—Mo. The Fort Worth Packeries.

The new packeries at Fort Worth will not only be a big thing for Ft. Worth, but an enterprise that will be a great help to all Texas. A correspondent of the Texas Farmer gives the following description of it as planned:

The building of the two packing house plants will occupy about 21 acres each. The plants will be the most complete and modern in the world. A conservative estimate of the expenditures to be made puts the amount at between $1,750,000 and $2,500,000. The plants will be ready for operation by Nov. 1 next.

The daily capacity of the two new houses will be: Cattle 2000, hogs 4000 and sheep 3000, and the buildings will have the largest live stock country tributary to it in the world. It will draw from Texas, the Indian Territory, Oklahoma, New Mexico and the entire Southwest.

The contracts for the brick for the buildings are the largest ever given in the state by about eight fold. The contracts for the entire improvements call for 16,000,000 pressed brick. An equal number of feet of lumber will be necessary. There will be a large number of railroad tracks. Swift & Co. will use probably twelve tracks. This company's improvements will be on one side of the track, whereas Armour & Co.'s buildings will be on two sides, and a large number of tracks will be required.

The Armour & Co. improvement will include sixteen buildings, as follows:

Hog-killing building, 64x114 feet, five stories high, with basement.

Cattle-killing building, 96x82 feet, five stories high and basement.

Oleomargarine building, 64x82 feet, three stories and basement.

Cooperage shops, 64x114 feet, four stories.

Soap factory, 64x114 feet, four stories and basement.

Lard refinery, 114x114 feet, four stories and basement.

Beef coolers, 118x114 feet, five stories and basement.

Freezer, 64x116 feet, five stories and basement.

Hog coolers, 140x116 feet, six stories and basement.

Hamhouse, 98x116 feet, six stories and basement.

Office buildings, 75x100 feet, two stories in height.

Air sheds, 25x75 feet, one story.

Car shops and sheds, 40x300 feet, one story.

Blacksmith shop and workshop, 30x50 feet, one story.

Paint shops, 40x160 feet, one story.

Swift & Co.'s improvements will include a combination slaughterhouse, 360x220 feet in dimensions, eight stories high, and will take in the beef cooler, hog cooler, oleomargarine house and cold storage plant.

A lard refinery, 80x200 feet, five stories in height.

A smokehouse, 62x132 feet, five stories.

Boiler room, 170x80 feet, one story.

Power house, 80x120 feet, two stories.

One-half million-gallon water reservoir.

Machine shops, 80x160 feet, two stories.

Car repair sheds, 80x130 feet, one story.

Blacksmith shop, 40x80 feet, one story.

This company will have a good fire equipment for the plant. It will have a number of men in the operating department drilled for a fire corps. There will be a regular fire hall, with full equipment of hose, carts, etc.

While definite plans have not been agreed on for the live stock exchange building, it is said that the structure will be a model in arrangement and construction. The office and equipment will be strictly up-to-date, and it is intended that it shall be the center for all livestock transactions in the Southwest. It is expected that all livestock men in the city will be located in this building.

It is the opinion of the cattlemen that Ft. Worth within a few years will be the greatest stockers' and feeder's market in the world.

Trusts On Top.

AUSTIN, Tex., March 25.—The case of the state against the Kirby Lumber company was dismissed finally today by Judge Morris in the Fifty-third district court. As reported in last night's dispatches that part of the suit relating to the defendant as a corporation was dismissed yesterday, as the attorney-general had indicated that he did not desire to prosecute it, and today the suit against the defendants as individuals was dismissed. The court held that it had no jurisdiction to try the case, as the anti-trust acts of 1889 and 1895 giving said court jurisdiction are unconstitutional under the recent decision of the United States supreme court. The court did not pass upon the anti-trust act of 1899, which the court says may be valid, but it does not give the Travis county court jurisdiction. The court in its order dismissing the case sustained the plea of defendants as to jurisdiction, as the defendants are not residents of Travis county.

District attorney Moore filed the following instrument: "State of Texas vs Kirby Lumber company; now comes the state by its district attorney, Warren W. Moore and asks leave to state after full investigation of the facts, he does not believe the state can make out a case herein of a violation of the anti-trust law, and that he fully concurs in the rulings of the court in dismissing above case and therefore will not appeal from said ruling."

In speaking of the dismissal of the case, District Attorney Moore said that he would not appeal from the ruling of the court because under the law and the facts he did not believe the state had a justifiable cause of action, and that he was opposed to any persecution of parties doing business in the state merely because they had or represented capital. When the suits were instituted it was believed, as alleged, that the law had been violated, but subsequent investigations, and in the light of a recent decision of the highest court in the land, made it very improbable that any overt act had been committed, and any further prosecution of the case would be not only useless but unwarranted.

Postal Currency System.

A bill providing for a postal currency has recently been introduced into both branches of Congress. Its advantages are so obvious that the only wonder is that some similar scheme was not devised years ago. Almost everyone has occasion to send small sums of money through the mails. People constantly want to purchase something advertised in the newspapers, or to subscribe to some periodical, or to send money to a friend. The postage money order is the medium most frequently used. But to secure an order one must make a trip to the postoffice or sub-station, fill out a blank application and then wait for the document to be made out. Undoubtedly the difficulty of securing a money order prevents the transfer of many small sums. Stamps are an inconvenient medium of exchange, risk always attaches to the sending of a coin, while bills are liable to be stolen.

The postal currency measure makes every man's pocket his own money order office. It provides that hereafter all one, two and five dollar bills be printed with blank spaces on their face. These bills are to pass as ordinary currency. When it is desired to send one in the mails the blanks are filled in with the name of the payee, his city and state, a two-cent stamp is affixed and canceled with the sender's initials, and the sender's name is signed on the back. By this simple process the bill ceases to be currency and becomes a check on the United States government. When the payee receives it he indorses it and cashes it at the nearest bank or postoffice. The paid check is sent to the Treasury department, where it is replaced by a new one. The bill provides further for the issue of 75 million dollars in fractional currency of the same sort, on each piece of which the government fee is to be one cent.

The adoption of this scheme would be simply a development of the present money order system. It is to the general interest that the exchange of money be made as easy as possible. The postal currency measure seems to provide the greatest convenience with minimum cost and risk.—Kansas City Star.

The Scramble for Office.

The early primaries put on foot this year by the democrats in the lower counties elicits much adverse criticism from all quarters. After keeping his optics constantly upon its workings in Clay county, Bill Edwards of the Peoples Review says of the scramble there:

"There be even those among us who are ready to aver that worse things might be than an early primary; and the balance of mankind and the women also will agree insofar as goes the early passing of it once the stress is on. Possibly you hadn't noticed it; but from under Bills hat there is that about a campaign which brings to the surface of our poor humanity strife, contention, envy, malice, backbiting, slander, lying and all the more pitiable characteristics of our kind of an animal. And, what is vastly worse and unspeakably more pitiable than these, there is brought into evidence in the great unwashed a firm, unalterable determination to see wrong, hear crooked, reason not at all and believe nothing. The spectacle is not at all happy. And we notice also that these most regrettable conditions seem no whit the less, if they are not even augmented, when all the contestants are democrats. In cases there seems to be a lack of that reserved dignity observed toward people of another family. Ah, yes, Colunkus; from at least any superficial point of view politics resolves itself into a poor, mean, hateful scramble for the boue. But we must have 'em, and until we arrive at some rational manner of selecting servants they must continue to enter the arena of their own motion and without regard to fitness, exhibit their meaner points while they tussle—and allow us to select the wrong one out of the unwashed sympathy or because of some trait in the proposed servant that should have condemned him out of society. Ten or twelve thousand years hence people may do these things in a more satisfactory way; but perhaps then, Colunkus, you and I will have lost interest in the whole shootin'-match."

Cholera in Manila.

Asiatic cholera has broken out in Manila. On the 20th there were sixteen cases and fifteen deaths reported among the natives. It is believed that the disease was introduced there through vegetables brought from Hong-Kong.

Wednesday at noon the health authorities reported a total of forty-nine cases of cholera and thirty-nine deaths.

The London newspapers report that when Kruger was informed of Rhodes's death he merely said, "The Lord giveth, and the Lord taketh away. Blessed be the name of the Lord."

The last words of John P. Altgeld should provide great encouragement to those who battle for right principals. Governor Altgeld's last words were: "I am not discouraged. Things will right themselves. A pendulum swings one way and then another, but the steady pull of gravitation is toward the center of the earth. Any structure must be plumb if it is to endure. So it is with nations. Wrong may seem to triumph; right may seem to be defeated; but the gravitation of eternal justice is upward toward the throne of God. Any political institution, if it is to endure, must be plumb with that line of justice."—Commoner.

Backbone and Sinew in the West.

Whether he is too hard on the Eastern people or not, a writer in Coming Events gets after them in the following style:

"The backbone and sinew of the United States is located west of the Allegheny mountains. The population east of that is taking on all the evidence of being pandering sops, imitators, cringers, fawners, worshipers of the crumbling idols and institutions of the old world, and of being truculent, sentimental whimperers—beggars of the crumbs that fall from the cheese-laden tables of so-called 'Royalty.' The easterners are the weak portions of the American family, and as the weak member of any family is always petted and humored, it is probably necessary that the bulkwork of Americans take a compassionate view of the infirmities and weakness of the east. Harsh treatment is not necessary, for the weak minded individual should not be censured for his weakness—he can't help it. But it is saddening to see how bug housey eastern society is becoming, and their plaintive voice and watery constitution reminds us that we may be called upon some day to give them scientific electric treatment for their ailments. But the question is, will the treatment avail? If it will not, we may have to load them on transports and ship them to the moss-covered lands across the sea, then repopulate the east with men and women."

Rhodes is No More.

Cecil Rhodes died at Cape Town, South Africa, Wednesday evening. Since he took to his bed three weeks ago, his friends had been most anxious that he should recover sufficiently to be taken back to England. The cottage where he died was a simple seaside cabin, small and close to the railroad. It was ill-fated to be a sick chamber, although the utmost was done to improve the ventilation and make it comfortable. Oxygen practically kept him alive several days. Last Sunday he lost all interest in everything, then dozed life away. His rally from Tuesday left but the faintest hope, and this was abandoned with the renewed attack.

Though he has passed away, the war still goes on in South Africa and Kruger, though nearly one hundred years old, still lives.

The politicians of St. Louis are not a little worked up now over the indictment of the Democratic boss, known as the blacksmith statesman, Col. Ed. Butler, for attempted bribery. Not that so much is at stake in the case of the mere conviction of Butler, but others, implicated with him in the attempt to bribe members of the board of health in the award of garbage contract, are shivering in their shoes. When men forget in their struggles for gain, that the public has any rights, they are likely to land just where this statesman is headed for, if there is not some slip in the machinery of prosecution.—Okolona Messenger.

"THE LONG TRAIL"

OF The Cattle Range
has given prominence in history to the now world famous Texas Panhandle. But a few years ago the wonderful possibilities of this region as a wheat country became known, and great things were prophesied for "The Granary of the South," which subsequent harvests justified. Comparatively recent is the demand of good liver for "Vernon Cantaloupes," but it's come to stay. Those acquainted with this section and its wealth as a producer of feed stuffs, corn and cotton have long believed in it, nor have they been moving away. When Northwestern Texas remained conspicuous for its excellence in the face of almost universally discouraging crop conditions, people began to see reasons for the faith of those inviting them to enter and possess the land; and now, with farms and ranches being bought daily by new settlers coming in by wagon and rail, three new railroads now building and four more projected, seeking a share of the general prosperity, good reason is evident for the favor with which the territory along "THE DENVER ROAD" is regarded by prospectors.

ISSUE IS EVIDENT.

So Says Hon. Henry Watterson of Louisville, Ky.

Roosevelt Sharply Criticized

The Editor Says We Have the Man on Horseback in the White House and the Ambitions of Diaz.

Washington, March 25.—About 150 guests were present Monday night at the biennial banquet of the Virginia Democratic association, held in the banquet room of the Metropolitan hotel. They included Democrats of national prominence and most of the political leaders and Democrats of congress from the Old Dominion.

Col. Watterson urged on the Democrats a general union of forces in opposition to imperialism in all forms. He said in part:

"There is no drop of blood in my veins which is not Virginia blood. Although, for purposes of my own, having deep design beneath them, I chose this capital of the nation for my birthplace, my earliest vision of paradise—the very dawn of all my conceptions of honor and duty and glory—nested among yonder hills across the Potomac; and when I go hence my ashes shall repose upon the bosom of Kentucky, Virginia's first born and fairest daughter.

"We are Democrats. We love our country. We would rescue the government from the hands of those who are converting it into a government of the trusts, for the trusts and by the trusts, and restore it to the hands of those who will have some regard for the rights of the people. The Republican party is a syndicated party. Arbitrary power is its motor, the almighty dollar its trademark. If it be not checked in the gate it is going to will in the end surely Mexicanize the republic.

"Once more, in the white house we have the man on horseback. Affecting the simplicity of cowboy, he conceals beneath the self-confidence and querulousness of the broncho buster the sentiments and ambitions, if not the talents, of a Diaz. To him, a little thing like treating an admiral of the navy, wearing the laurel leaves of imperishable renown, as if he were a baby in arms, now to be dandled and now to be spanked, as merely an undress affair, begun and ended during of moments between breakfast and luncheon. To him, the reprimanding of the lieutenant general of the army, grown gray in the fighting of the battles of his country, becomes an amusing horse play, meant to relax his muscles and illustrate his high mightiness, whilst warning lesser officers of the army to obey orders and say nothing.

"But turn from the white house to the capitol and look at the Republicans in congress. The trail of the trademark is over them all. Old High Tariff dances the cancan in the house, while old Ship Steady does the regular cakewalk in the senate. Everything for the syndicates. Nothing for the people."

He closed with a plea for Democratic harmony.

Approved.

Austin, Tex., March 25.—Judge T. S. Johnson, assistant in the attorney general's department, approved an issue of $40,000 Angelina county courthouse bonds.

Congregation Rejected.

Lexington, Ky., March 25.—Dean Baker P. Lee of Christ church cathedral announced his declination of the call to Grace church, Chicago. The difference in salary in favor of the Chicago church was $500.

Religion and Trusts.

MAYOR HORSEWHIPPED.

The Executive of Topeka Coughed by an Irate Woman.

Topeka, Kan., March 25.—Miss Blanche Boise, a protegee of Mrs. Nation, horsewhipped Mayor Parker in his office at the city building Monday.

Three times she slashed the mayor, and then he sprang at her, gripped her throat, choked her, tore the rawhide out of her hand and pushed her into the hall. As Miss Boise was thrust out of the office by Mayor Parker she exclaimed:

"Thank God, I've done it. I've horsewhipped you and now I'm going to horsewhip the governor."

Before beginning her horsewhipping, Miss Boise gave the mayor a severe scolding, accused him of being responsible of the fact that the "joints" are running openly in Topeka and for a recent murder which was committed in a saloon. She then pulled the horsewhip from the folds of her dress and struck the mayor three times across the head and shoulders. Miss Boise is a nurse by profession. She is about 35 years of age.

When seen by the reporters after the affair, Mayor Parker refused to discuss it. The woman who whipped him talked freely. She said:

"I was in sympathy with Mrs. Nation, but did not take part in her raids. I have come to the conclusion that the only way to make public officers enforce the temperance laws is to horsewhip them. I have an organization behind me, and we have whips for Gov. Stanley and Judge Stanley. I will wait and see how this dose acts before I act. I think this is a good plan."

SEVEN CREMATED.

Fearful Calamity that Happened to that Number of Men.

Prisoners in Two States Scenes

Negroes on a Mississippi Plantation Took a Cooperative Chance, and a Louisiana Laniatic Does Awful Work.

New Orleans, La., March 24.—Two jails were burned down within twelve hours, one in Mississippi and the other in Louisiana. In Mississippi the prisoners fired the jail for the purpose of effecting their escape in the excitement. They were all negroes, and all perished in the flames. In Louisiana, the fire was started by a crazy German. He perished in the flames, as did the only other occupant of the building—a negro, arrested for drunk enness.

Eighteen miles west of Kosiukso, Miss., is the plantation of Robert Campbell, county contractor. Mr. Campbell employs on his place criminala under indictment and sentence. Saturday night he had imprisoned in the building constructed for the purpose five prisoners. They were: Bob Bart, a negro, accused of attempted assault; Phil Newell, a burglar; John Culbertson, an escaped convict; Amos Radford and Jim Jones, convicted of assault and battery.

Burt proposed in his desperation to fire the building and escape in the confusion. His plan was agreed upon and he touched off his bank in which he slept. The material of which the building was composed was like so much tinder, and before its flames could escape they were cremated. Their cries were terrible as they were consumed.

Sunday morning the Covington, La. jail had two inmates. One was Ernest Garfior, a German, who was awaiting indictment. He had a mania for firing buildings. The other prisoner was Frank Nicholson, a negro, who had caused trouble at a ball. The German borrowed a match from the negro. He set fire to his mattress and in a moment the entire building was wrapped in fire. Both German and negro were burned to death.

He then stooped down and patted on the dead man's forehead a card reading "Remember the fatal wedding and the mother's heart." The last three words were underscored.

The murderer claimed that the victim had broken his mother's heart. The shooting was the result of troubles resulting from the litigation of the estate of their father. WAR REVENUE TAX REDUCTION.

Measure for Protection of President One of Them.

Washington, March 22.—Two important measures were passed Friday by the senate—the bill for the repeal of the war revenue taxes, and that for the protection of the president of the United States.

The bill provides that any person within the United States who shall wilfully and maliciously kill the president, or any sovereign of a foreign country, or shall attempt to kill any of the persons named, shall suffer death; that any person who shall attempt to accomplish the death, shall be imprisoned not exceeding twenty years; that any person who shall threaten to kill, or advise or counsel another to kill, the president or any official on whom the duties of president may devolve, shall be imprisoned not exceeding ten years; that any person who shall wilfully aid in the escape of any person guilty of any of the offenses mentioned shall be deemed an accomplice and shall be punished as the principal.

So Sweet and Pleasing in Taste! Mrs. C. Peterson, 625 Lake St., Topeka, Kan., speaking of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, says: "I have never failed to give entire satisfaction, and of all cough remedies it is my favorite, and I must confess to my friends that it will do, and has done, what is claimed for it—to speedily cure a cough or cold; and it is so sweet and so pleasing in taste." 25c, 50c and $1.00 a bottle at H. Baby Brown's Wealth. Some of the papers are printing the pictures of a rather interesting baby whose name is John Nicholas Brown. Baby Brown is estimated to be worth $600,000 in his own right. The inference is that this much wealth now existing in his. But of course that is not true. He has very little existing wealth—either in money or clothes or food or other products of past labor. What he has is a collection of papers certifying that he is entitled to levy upon the future productions of other people. If other people stopped giving him portions of their earnings—stopped exporting to him except in proportion as they imported from him—he would soon be not much richer than any other baby. But at only 2 per cent his fortune of $600,000 will yield him future wealth at the rate of $120,000 a year. This is equal to the labor of some 200 men. He has $2 million of $200 million controls the equivalent of two dollar a day slaves who work all day for him and support themselves by working after hours. In consequence it is estimated that by the time he is come of age his fortune, instead of having increased to $800,000, will have increased to $200,000,000. This in twenty-one years or less, without working at all, this extraordinary baby will have earned some $240,000,000—Public.

A Selfish World. George—No matter how things go the poor always suffer.

Jack—Yes, the nabobs who own rail roads don't think anything of running over a poor man's horse.

"Yes, and the man who can afford to own a horse runs down the poor fellow on a bicycle."

"Just so. And the fellow on the bicycle runs down the poor chap who has to walk."

"That's it. And the man who walks stumbles against the poor cripple who goes on crutches."

"That's the way. And the cripple on crutches spends most of his time jamming his stick down on other people's corns. It's a sadly selfish world."

A student long ago asked the president of Oberlin college if he could not be permitted to take a shorter course of study.

"Oh, yes," replied the president, "but that depends upon what you want to make of yourself. When God wants to make an oak, he takes a hundred years, but when he wants to make a squash he takes six months."

The report which gained currency some days ago to the effect that the XIT would likely move the Headquarters to Dalhart is, we are glad to say, wholly unfounded. We have the statement from the general manager himself that he has no intention whatever of removing the company's offices away from Chaney, the prettiest and most desirable little town in the Panhandle.—Chaney Courier

TO BUSINESS MEN. If you have a sign over your door you are an advertiser. You can not carry everybody to your sign, but THE INDUSTRIAL WEST can carry your sign and your message also to the people of this and other counties. Personal publicity is the price of business prosperity. An advertisement does not sell the goods, but it puts you in touch with the buyer and helps you sell them.

"When times are dull and people are not advertising," says John Wanamaker, "is the very time that advertising should be the heaviest." Such is the advice given by America's merchant prince. Some traders say it don't pay to advertise. They think they know more than Wanamaker. That's where they make a big mistake. Wanamaker's advertising has made him rich and famous. Wanamaker's methods on a smaller scale would be as good in Clarendon as they are in New York or Philadelphia. Turn over a new leaf and advertise in THE INDUSTRIAL WEST.

Did you ever think of it? "Every newspaper reader is a buyer." If you have anything to sell, the people will not know it unless you advertise. Talk to Panhandle people through an ad in THE INDUSTRIAL WEST.

The largest and oldest established paper is always the best advertising medium. If you want results, put your ad in this—the people's paper. If you don't want any more trade, don't ask for it. The people will accommodate you by going to the man who does advertise.

Nearly 2500 people read this paper every week. Are you getting your share of their custom? People are reading it and might be induced to visit you if you saw fit to attract their attention through the paper they read. The people are here, and they are buying their supplies somewhere. If you are not getting your share it is not your fault. How is it with you? The live dealer, who keeps his name and business prominently before the public eye, is the one who attracts trade. That's natural. People don't hunt for stores in a country. Tell them where you do business and give them a reason for trading with you. Place a catchy ad in plain terms in THE INDUSTRIAL WEST, where advertising space is worth more than it costs. Every reader is a buyer.

The merchants advertising in this paper invite you to their stores. Remember this when you go to town and kindly tell them you saw their advertisement in THE INDUSTRIAL WEST.
