In a list of forty two graduates in the Fort Worth high school thirty-six are girls and six boys. We guess "Street Arabs" are pretty numerous in Fort Worth.

DEMOCRATIC papers say the populists of Nebraska have made a full surrender to the democrats, when the truth is the democrats were given three and the populists five places on the state ticket with the prospect of dissatisfaction enough for the defeat of the ticket.

GOLD standard papers were filled with statements two years ago that the continued coinage of silver would ruin the country. During last month $1,873,000, 16-to-1 silver, was coined to only $426,000 of the gold metal they worship, and that too, without a single protest. This proves their howl of threatened destruction was for campaign purposes only.

CONSIDERABLE paper money has been used in Cuba, but the bankers there have discovered that the natives use it largely in making remittances by mail, consequently three tons of silver coins were shipped from New York to Cuba last Saturday to be used in place of paper. The extra cost of sending silver by mail will force them to patronize the banks or express companies.

That we heartily endorse the cardinal and paramount principles set forth in the Chicago and Kansas City platforms. These principles we earnestly insist on being maintained.—Floyd county democratic convention.

And when "these principles" are abandoned, which they will be, what will you do about it?

Weatherford, Texas, had a serious fire Saturday night. Among the losers were Bro. Davis, publisher of the Republic, who lost his entire plant, about half covered by insurance.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the announcement of the University of Texas for the session or 1902-1903. This institution is becoming a growing power in the educational field of the country. It has more than 1,200 alumni, many of whom occupy high places of public trust and honor. Its graduates are members of the faculties of the University of Utah, Western Reserve University, Bryn Mawr College, the University of Chicago, Cornell University, Yale University and Harvard University. In every department of the public and civic life of the state, will be found the influence of this institution exerted by men and women who have studied in its halls. The student body number more than 1,100; the equipment and instruction is modern and progressive; the available resources increase year by year. The value of a home education is unquestioned. No tuition fees are charged, and the boy or girl of limited means may here find a chance to secure the best training at the lowest cost.

John D. Rockefeller, jr., in one of his public addresses said: "The man who is poor, with only just enough money for the necessities of life, may use his life for the good of others, and that man is a true success." Is it not also true that the man who is rich, having more money than a hundred men could use in a life-time, may "use his life for the good of others and may become a true success?" Would it not be well for young Rockefeller to give some of his good advice to his father? However much money a man may bestow upon universities, he does not "use his life for the good of others" if he is amassing a fortune at the expense of the public.—Commoner.

Floyd county democrats did not instruct for candidates for Lieutenant Governor, Land Commissioner, and Judge of Supreme Court. Sam Hunter was instructed for as first choice for Judge of the Court of Civil Appeals for the Second District, and for J. T. Montgomery as second choice; John H. Stephens, for Congress; Davis E. Decker, for State Senator; and Dr. W. H. Freeman, for Representative.

Happy homes are the foundation stones to a country's greatness. These kind of homes are not generally found under rented roofs.—Home Advocate.

Bryan Worthy at the Plutocrats, Headed by Grover.

Grover Cleveland comes in for severe editorial arraignment this week in the Commoner. Editor Bryan condemning the ex-president for his recent speech at the Tilden club's harmony dinner in New York, his political belief, and also his last administration. Ex-Senator Hill is also criticized.

Under the caption "At Cleveland's Feet," Editor Bryan says in part: "His administration, instead of being the foundation of democracy, sending forth pure streams, became a stagnant pool, from whose waters foul vapors arose, poisonous to those who lingered near. Having debauched his party, he was offended by its efforts to reform and gave comfort to the enemy. Virginius killed his daughter to save her chastity; Cleveland stabbed his party to prevent its return to paths of virtue. And now, still gloating over his political crimes, he invites the party to return to him and apologize for the contempt it has expressed for him. Will it? Not until the principles of Jefferson are forgotten and the works of Jackson cease to inspire.

"If we are to have reorganization, Cleveland himself should accept the presidential nomination. It would be due him. His reinstatement would be poetic justice to him and retribution to those whose democratic consciences revolted against his un-democratic conduct. Of course he would get no democratic votes, but being closer to plutocracy than any republican likely to be nominated he might divide the enemy and even the democrats would have what little consolation would come from receiving their disappointment in advance.

"Cleveland's speech should be read in full. It answers a useful purpose; it outlines a plan of campaign decided upon by the plutocrats for which the reorganizers stand. Tariff reform is to be made the chief issue, and the men who voted for McKinley, the high priest of protection, are to carry on a sham battle with their companions of 1896, while the financiers make the dollar redeemable in gold and fasten thereon an asset of currency and branch bank systems. Trusts are liberally denounced in sonorous terms, while the campaign managers donate the party to the trust magnates for campaign funds. Sometimes imperialism will be denounced, as in the Hopkinsville, Ill., convention, sometimes ignored, as in Cleveland's speech, but whether denounced or ignored, it is a secret and silent power that can compel submission to the demands of the financiers and to the demands of the trust magnates, can compel submission to the demands of exploiters and the representatives of militarism. The fight is on between democracy that means democracy and Clevelandism, which means plutocracy.

"Every speech made by Cleveland shows clearly the odiousness of the policies for which he stands. We have, however, more to fear from those who, like Hill, endorse Cleveland's views, but conceal their real purpose in ambiguous language.

"Cleveland's speech sustains the editor's contentions that the reorganizers do not want harmony, but control, and that their control means abandonment of party principles and a return to the policies and practices of Cleveland's second administration. He secured his nomination in 1892 by secret bargain with the financiers; his committee collected from corporations and spent the largest campaign fund the party ever had; he filled his cabinet with corporation agents, and placed railroad attorneys on the United States bench to look after the interests of their former clients. He turned the treasury over to a Wall street syndicate, and the financial member of his official family went from Washington to become the pet of the man who forced the treasury department to sell him government bonds at 105 and then resold them at 117. He tried to prevent the adoption of the income tax provision, vetoed the only tariff reform measure passed since the war, and while thundering against trusts in his messages, did even less than Knox has done to interfere with their high-handed methods."

Public Ownership.

Frank G. Carpenter who is touring Europe, tells of how the English people like to do their own business and are wary of granting franchises. He says: "One of the chief troubles in getting concessions for railroads and other public works is that the towns like to do their own business. They want to operate the railroads, telephones and electric lights themselves, and furnish transportation and lights at the lowest possible rates to their people.

"The London county council made a profit of about $350,000 last year off its tramways and gave the lowest rates ever known. It is estimated that the different cities who handled such things last year saved over $200,000,000, and that they have reduced their tax rates at least 10 per cent. by so doing. Leeds runs its own tramways and its profits last year were over $100,000. Manchester controls its gas works, electric lights and markets and makes money off of all of them. The same is true of Nottingham and Bolton, the two towns making a profit of something like a half million dollars a year and giving good service and a low rate for gas, electric lights, street cars and markets.

"At present the money invested in municipal undertakings amounts to more than $400,000,000, and the average annual income of these is more than $40,000,000 while as I have said, the profits approximate $20,000,000 annually. The towns are adding to their holdings from month to month. Glasgow has now municipal farms, and Colchester owns oyster fisheries. There are cities which own mineral springs. Harrogate, for instance, making $75,000 a year out of its baths. Chester has a race course, while Hull has a municipal crematory. Sheffield, Liverpool, Bourne-mouth, Leicester and Glasgow are putting up crematories for the benefit of their citizens, and a number of cities are discussing the buying of coal mines and furnishing their people coal at cost. This question arose on account of the high price of coal, and it has only abated on account of its fall. The municipal telephones are considerably cheaper than ours. Glasgow has a system which was opened last August, and which already covers about 150 square miles. The charges are $27 a year for an unlimited number of calls, or $17.50 per year and 2 cents for each call made."

Even in granting franchises, the public welfare is looked after far more than in this country. Speaking of this, he says: "Take, for instance, this Hamilton tramway which was recently built in a small city near Glasgow. The act of parliament granting it lies before me. It has all sorts of provisions as to fares. It provides that from 5 until 9 o'clock every morning and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon the company shall run cars for artisans, mechanics, daily laborers and clerks at fares not exceeding one half penny, or one cent, per mile. It requires that no baggage shall be taken into the cars that cannot be carried in the hands, and also that the company shall not use the line as a freight line, although it may carry parcels up to twenty-eight pounds. The rate for such parcels is fixed at 6 cents up to 7 pounds, 10 cents to fourteen pounds and 14 cents to twenty-eight pounds.

"There is a provision that whenever the profits of the road exceed 4 per cent. on the capital certain amounts shall be paid to the municipality and district through which the road runs corresponding with the increase of the earnings, and also a provision that after a period of twenty-five years, and at periods of seven years thereafter, the company shall sell the road to the locality at a fair market value if the municipality wishes to buy it."

Coronation Postponed.

LONDON, June 24.—All England was astounded this morning over the announcement that owing to a surgical operation performed upon King Edward the coronation ceremonies had been indefinitely postponed.

An ominous report is current tonight that it was really a cancerous growth that was removed from the king, and that while he may survive the present operation, a fatal result is postponed by only a short time, and that even if the peritoneal trouble should be overcome, pneumonia or kidney disease might bring about death. The greatest dread is of cancer, and nothing but evidence of the king's recovery will convince the public that all the conditions are being revealed to them.

The King's condition is as good as could be expected after so serious an operation. His strength is maintained and there is less pain. His majesty has taken a little nourishment. It will be several days before it will be possible to say he is out of danger.

Democrat or Republican.

At the present outlook it appears that the next president of the United States will be nominally a democrat, and that he will be either from Maryland or New York, possibly New Jersey; and that his name will be Hill, Gorman, or Cleveland. These three men have shown by their conduct and their devotion to the money power that they can be trusted to protect that element of our country, and that there is no act that they will hesitate to perform. Especially has Hill, in his opposition to the income tax, earned his laurels; so has Cleveland, in calling the special session of Congress to repeal the Sherman law; and Gorman, last but not least, has given the best part of his life to the interests of the coal barons and high protective tariff men, who set him up and made him what he is. There is a union between the wealthy democrats and republicans for commercial purposes that is well known principle of political coherence ever interferes with. It is immaterial whether a democrat or a republican be nominated or elected. There is now a feeling among the plutocrats that it would be better to have a democratic commercial man for the next president than a republican. Morgan, Rockefeller, Carnegie and other gentlemen of that caliber think that they can accomplish more by using a democrat this time than they can with a republican. They hope to secure a strong congressional delegation from the South, of men who are bitterly hostile to Mr. Bryan, and all that Mr. Bryan stands for. If these gentlemen can get democrats like Hill, Gorman or Cleveland they would be perfectly satisfied; they want no better men. They can find no better men to accomplish every purpose that they expect to carry out. By the aid of such men the Fowler Bank Bill will go through. With such men the Ship Subsidy Bill will go through. We notice from a Washington exchange that much opposition is developing to President Roosevelt. This opposition is not on account of any specific act or position he has taken, but it is a feeling of unrest that the people have in contemplating the imperialistic tendency of the chief magistrate of the nation. Whether Roosevelt will conform to the dictates of his party leaders or not remains to be seen.—Mercury.

Will You be With Us?

It is the ambition of the Home Advocate to start a campaign in Texas for home-owning that will envelope the entire state. It looks on such a work as even more important than the home industry movement which in a large measure it had the honor of starting more than a decade ago, and which it has seen grow into a mighty sentiment that has worked much good for the Lone Star State. We invoke the assistance of every man who has at heart the material as well as the moral betterment of his neighbor, and especially would we ask the co-operation of the ladies, for whom a successful campaign of the kind would mean so much.—Home Advocate, Dallas, Tex.

The University of Texas catalogue is a volume of 312 pages, full of information concerning the work and equipment of the State's great educational enterprise. With a system starting with the primary grades and extending through the intermediate, grammar, and high schools, with the University as the crowning step, Texas has an educational edifice in line with the best thought of the times and of which any state might well feel proud. The generous endowment provided for the system, if properly supplemented by appropriations from the general revenue, will ultimately put Texas to the forefront in educational affairs. Keep the boys and girls at a home school where they will not be educated out of harmony with the spirit and traditions of their fathers. BRYAN ON DINNER

Says the Feast at the Opening of the Tilden Club

WAS AN OVATION TO CLEVELAND

The Discordant Elements of the Democratic Party Can Never Meet Upon Middle Ground, Asserts Nebraskan.

Lincoln, Neb., June 21.—The absence of W. J. Bryan from the Democratic harmony dinner at New York is pretty well explained by a statement given out by Mr. Bryan commenting upon the dinner. At the outset, Mr. Bryan says there is no such thing as Democratic harmony where former President Cleveland is concerned. He says:

"The banquet given on the evening of June 19 by the Tilden club of New York city was advertised as a 'harmony meeting,' but it turned out to be what might have been expected of such a gathering, an ovation to the chief guest, former President Grover Cleveland. There can be no harmony between men like him and men who believe in Democratic principles, and he is frank enough to say so. He spent no time in looking for 'middle ground' upon which to gather together the discordant elements. He boldly called upon the members of the party to abandon their convictions and accept the construction which he placed upon Democratic principles. He even taunted the party with being a sort of prodigal son, and invited it to give up its diet of husks and return to its father's house."

"He spoke of his retirement from political activity and said: 'Perhaps there are those who would define my position as one of banishment instead of retirement. Against this I shall not enter a protest. It is sufficient for me in either case that I have followed, in the matter of difference with our party, the teachings and counsel of the great Democrat in whose name party peace and harmony are tonight invoked. No confession of party sin should therefore be expected of me. I have none to make, nor do I crave political absolution.'

"He not only boasted of his course, but put his brand upon those who sat at meat with him. Having asserted that his Democratic faith compelled him to leave the party (or resulted in his banishment) he described the banquets as sharing in that faith."

"He is not only defiant, but he insists that party success can only be secured by an open and avowed return to his ideas. Harmony is to be secured not by the suppression of differences, but by the elimination of those who differ with him."

REPLY TO MITCHELL.

Operators Say He Avoided Mention of Several Main Issues.

Wilkesbarre, Pa.: Independent operators and superintendents were interviewed on President Mitchell's statement to the public. None of the officials would permit their names to be used.

In the opinion of the officials here the address is "cleverly written," and will appeal to those persons who are not familiar with the conditions in the mining regions. One superintendent, whose views were similar to others, said:

"President Mitchell touched on only one of four demands made by his union. These are vital points on which the companies are making a strong stand. Regarding his claim that the productive capacity of the mine workers is increasing rather than decreasing, we do not know where he gets his figures. The statistics for last year have not been completed."

Captured and Murdered.

Washington: The war department is advised by Gen. Chaffee that Sgt. Lewis Stewart, Corporal William J. Black, Corporal Edmund J. Finnegan, Trumpeter C. W. Davis and Private Patrick Carr were murdered June 1 after being captured near Moring, May 30.

All the men were members of Troop M, Fifth cavalry.

Provisions for Stricken.

PRESENT FROM FILIPINOS.

Mrs. McKinley is Remembered by a Number of Them.

Canton, O.: Mrs. McKinley received from Felipe Buencamino, a former member of Aguinaldo's cabinet, and now a leader of the Federal party in the Philippines, the greetings and memorial of that party, which he was commissioned to carry her.

The Filipino was affected by his meeting with Mrs. McKinley, whom he described as a fine model for "Dolores," and tears streamed down his cheeks as he addressed her.

The address contained reference to the distress which the Federal party of the Philippines felt at the assassination of President McKinley. It stated that he was the protector of the Filipino.

Mrs. McKinley was assured of the love of the 6,000,000 Filipino Christians. Cemetery where president's remains lay was visited.

NO RECIPROcity.

It is Said There Will be Nothing Done This Session.

Washington: It has been determined that no reciprocity treaty with Cuba can be submitted at the present session of congress.

It was at first planned that in the event of the failure of the administration senators to secure favorable action on the Cuban sugar bill a treaty would be ratified at once. This was on the understanding that Senator Quesada, the Cuban minister here, had full powers and that a treaty could be drawn in Washington entirely. It is stated now, however, that this can not be done and that any draft of a treaty must go to Havana and be returned before it can be submitted to the senate. This, of course, can not be accomplished in the short space of time intervening before adjournment, if the estimate of the leaders that congress will adjourn by July 3 are correct.

No confidence is felt in administration circles as to the ability of the senate managers to secure the ratification of a treaty even if one is drawn, and while the president may feel called upon to put the matter to a test, it will be rather with the idea of demonstrating his own purpose to do everything possible for Cuban than in any expectation that a two-thirds vote for ratification could be received.

MISS TOPPAN INSANE.

Committed to the Asylum for the Remainder of Her Life.

Barnstable, Mass.: Miss Jane Toppan, who has been on trial here on the charge of poisoning Mrs. Gibbs, for whom she acted as nurse, was found not guilty by reason of insanity, and by order of the court she was committed to the Taunton insane asylum for the rest of her life.

These deaths occurred within a short time of each other. In addition, the deaths of the following persons who were nursed by Miss Toppan had been inquired into:

I. P. Dunham of Cambridge, died May 26, 1895, aged 86 years.

Mrs. Dunham, his wife, died in 1897.

Miss Connors, died in 1900.

Mrs. Alden P. Davis, died in 1901.

Mrs. Edna Banister of Turnbridge, died in 1901.

PRESIDENT TO COME.

He Assures Texas Delegation that He Will Visit State.

Washington: The Texas delegation to invite President Roosevelt to visit their state called at the white house Monday. The members were introduced by Senator Culberson. Judge McLaurin delivered the invitation.

The president's response was characteristic. Acknowledging the courtesy of the visit of the delegation and his appreciation thereof, he said he had indeed already intended to pay a visit to Texas, whether he had been invited or not. The history of Texas, in his opinion, made up one of the most valuable and romantic pages in the annals of the Nineteenth century, and it deeply impressed him long before it had been his privilege to visit the state. He said he would visit Dallas and San Antonio and the other places which were decided on later. The president paid a high compliment to the Texans with him on San Juan hill.

His captors had fastened trace chains around Rich's neck when officers arrived, and only the advice of cooler heads prevented serious trouble. Rich was brought back to this city and placed in jail on the charge of trafficking in human bodies.

BEEF TRUST RIVAL.

Retail Butchers of New York Form an Organization.

New York: The Retail Butcher's Protective association announced Monday night that a company had been formed to fight the so-called beef trust. The company has a capital stock of $1,000,000, two-thirds of which has already been subscribed, according to President Edward O'Neill of the association.

It is said that arrangements have been made with drivers and ranchmen in the west to supply 20,000 head of cattle per week, the shipments to begin in about a month. The present demand in this city is between ten and fifteen thousand head.

The company has been named "The Retail Butcher's Abolition," and it is said has already been promised the active support of the 45,000 retail butchers in Greater New York.

DESIRE TO LEARN

Member of Philippine Commission Has Arrived.

TALKS FAVORABLY OF FILIPINOS

He Says a Large Number of Adults Attend the Night Schools at Manila and Some Women Do Clerical Work.

Washington, June 23.—Hon. W. M. Pefferman, member of the Philippine commission, is in Washington, having just arrived on leave of absence from the Philippines.

Mr. Pefferman said: "The scope of the commission has been extended gradually until it now covers 6000 positions, ranging in salary from $13 per month to $7700 per year."

Mr. Pefferman says that the immediate reward of successful applicants has caused a change in the old classical system of education under the Spanish regime to one of more modern character based largely on practical business lines. So great is the interest of the Filipinos in acquiring knowledge of English that 10,000 adults are going to night school in Manila.

Before the American occupation typewriters were almost unknown in the Philippines, but now at every examination held by the commission applicants are qualifying in typewriting and stenography. Of the 6000 positions mentioned, 4000 are held by natives, the remainder by Americans. The policy of the commission, Mr. Pefferman says, has been to replace the Americans by Filipinos as rapidly as possible.

"Under Spanish rule," he continued, "women were unheard of in the government service, but just before I left Manila three Filipino young ladies had passed successful examinations and had been given good positions. The Filipino makes a splendid clerk."

MITCHELL ON STRIKE.

President of United Mine Workers of America Issues Address.

Wilkesbarre, Pa.: President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America Sunday issued an address to the public for publication in the newspapers Monday. It is partly a reply to the letter of the operators declining to accede to the demands of the union, which were published about ten days ago.

Briefly summarized the address says that every possible means was resorted to in the effort to prevent the strike, claims that the living has increased to that point where the miner was compelled to ask for higher wages, denies the allegations of the operators that the productive capacity of the mine workers has fallen off, but on the other hand, has increased; quotes official figures to substantiate the contention that the employes can pay higher wages without increasing the cost of coal to the consumer; asserts that the coal carrying railroads which control about 85 per cent of the mines, absorb profits of their coal companies by charging exorbitant rates; claims that a ton at the mines means anywhere from 2740 to 3190 pounds instead of 2240 and says that more are killed and injured in the anthracite mines of Pennsylvania annually than were killed during the Spanish-American war. The address says that in event the union is crushed, which it adds, is not likely, a new organization would rise from its ruins. It concludes with an appeal for arbitration of all questions in dispute.

The Wells company brought suit to recover from the Gastonia mills money for cotton that was sold in the past two years. The purchase of the cotton was not denied, but the Gastonia mills claimed that W. I. Wells agreed to take $50,000 stock in the million dollar Loran Cotton mills at Gastonia and further agreed that the purchase money of cotton to that amount be applied to paying for his stock in the Loran mill.

Case will be appealed.

Masonic Barbecue.

Last Tuesday was a day for both feasting and sweltering in Clarendon. Notwithstanding its being the hottest day in Clarendon for many years, the crowd seemed to enjoy themselves fairly well. The dinner was bounteous and ice-water was plenty, while the county windmill pumped from Mother Earth a continuous flow, almost ice-cold.

Mayor Carhart, in a few well-chosen remarks, welcomed the visiting masons. Judge Huff, of Vernon, and Dr. Slack, of Clayton, N. M., made speeches on masonry. After this came the installation of officers then a carriage drive and the festivities of the day closed with a reception by the Eastern Star ladies at the home of Geo. F. Morgan. All told there were some 200 visitors present, and a number of the masons were accompanied by their wives or some lady member of their families.

The city council of Amarillo has employed a special policeman at a salary of $40 per month. The marshal only gets $20 per month. Seem as though they have "kinder lifted the bottom rail to the top."

Besides building eight more stalls to their roundhouse at Dalhart, the Sun says work will soon begin on a large 2-story addition to the general office building. There are still other improvements in contemplation which it will probably mention next week.

The commissioners court has been tussling with the tax reductions for three days this week. Some parties who are pasturing cattle in the county rendered their bill at about one-third the value. The commissioners fixed that all right.—Panhandle Herald.

The official returns from the primary held in Hall county last week show that Spear defeated Hunter for the Court of Civil Appeals, and that Roberts defeated Bullock for Representative. In the sheriff's race Stephens and Arnold tied, while Bain defeated Willborn for tax assessor. The other county officers were instructed for without opposition. Only eighty-two votes were polled in the entire county, out of a possible 500.

Texas World's Fair Commission.
DALLAS, Tex., June 24.—The Texas World's Fair Commission has availed itself of a kind offer from the management of the Texas State Fair and Dallas Exposition to furnish a number of stereopticon slides for exhibition on the advertising car which will start from Dallas on July 1. The commission will send out a large number of fine views including those of nearly every important building which will be on the exposition grounds at St. Louis. It will also furnish a number of slides which will explain in terse sentences what Texas purposes doing in connection with the World's Fair and what is necessary to the accomplishment of these objects. These pictures and slides, as well as those of the Texas State Fair and Dallas Exposition, will be exhibited in every city and town in Texas which is accessible by rail. The pictures will give the people a pleasant foretaste of the big World's Fair, and, it is believed, a keener interest in the proposition to have a Texas exhibit will be aroused. The itinerary of the car will be announced in the newspapers from time to time.

It is the purpose of the Texas World's Fair Commission to raise the subscription of $300,000 by Jan. 1, 1903. Until the funds are assured no steps can be taken for the erection of a building at the St. Louis World's Fair, and until the building has been planned, it will be impossible to determine the nature and scope of the exhibit. The commission is endeavoring to impress upon the public the necessity of prompt action in order that the important work of providing exhibits can be entered upon intelligently and safely. It is not proposed to collect the $300,000 by the date mentioned, but simply to secure promises that the money will be forthcoming when needed.

A pleasant place to bring your family and your lady, to our parlor, it is always cool and clean, Simpson & Ramp.
