A LONDON paper with desire to poke its nose into American affairs says Roosevelt's remedy for the trusts is worse than the disease. This is the first intimation that we have had that Mr. Roosevelt, in his great multiplicity of words, has proposed a remedy.

WHEN the people ask for some relief from the trusts the answer comes back that it has no right to interfere, but when Wall street speculators begin to get pinched by plunging into debt the United States treasury comes to the rescue as though they were the special wards of the government.

THE voters of Donley county should make the public road issue paramount in the coming election and see that there is a court put in power who will see that plenty of county roads are opened. We do not believe there is a county in the whole panhandle that cannot surpass us on the road question, and it portrays an indifference or selfishness that is inexcusable and a shameful reflection on the county. What will you do about it.

THE Rev. P. J. Hennessy at the Iowa conference of the M. E. church handed in his resignation as a minister of that faith in order to avoid a trial for unclerical conduct in not living with his wife. He turned and pointed to his wife while addressing the conference and exclaimed, "Woman, behold the wreck of a man you have made." He showed very poor judgment, to say the least. When a man is in trouble with his family he had better keep the skeleton securely locked in its closet. In this case, no doubt, he rather incurred the contempt than the sympathy of his hearers. He had better have went quietly along in some other calling away from his unpleasant surroundings.

TEACHERS and others interested have begun a discussion of the school text book question, as the term for which the present books are to be used will soon expire. There is no doubt but what the books now in use could be improved upon, but the uniform system in public schools has come to stay. It proves to be a great saving to the public and a proper committee or board can select a set of books that will prove to be more satisfactory, as a whole, than would be selected by the average teacher, should each one be unrestricted in the adoption for his school. Nearly every teacher that comes along would select different books from the ones used by his predecessor, for the reason that he is paid a good commission by the publishers to do so, and this makes it very expensive for the patrons of the school.

Harry Stratton, of Pasadena, Cal., is contesting the will of his father, Winfield S. Stratton, which left the bulk of his estate, estimated to be worth more than 12 million dollars, for the establishment of a home for poor sick people at Colorado Springs. Under the provisions of the will young Mr. Stratton forfeits the $50,000 which his father bequeathed to him by making a contest. It is to be hoped he will lose the whole of it. It has become so that it is about impossible for a man to have his will carried out as he provides. Besides the $50,000 this son is to receive the personal effects of his father, worth $40,000 more. Stratton was a carpenter before he went into the mining business and his life had not been along paths of ease. He and his wife separated a few years ago while he was a poor man. The son had never lived at home. No doubt he had been obstinate and disobedient, and Stratton no doubt had strong and sufficient reasons for not giving him more. He was an appreciative man, as was indicated by his liberal gifts to persons who had been kind to him in his adversity. None of his relatives showed any interest in him until he became suddenly rich, and this is too often the case with others. They may have never extended the smallest of favors nor helped to earn a dollar of the estate involved, but on the other hand might have been a heavy expense and a source of vexation and shown even less courtesy than to people not related, but as soon as there is spoils to divide they are ready to resort to any tricks of the law to defeat the will of the deceased because they are "heirs by kinship." We began to lose respect for the judiciary when the will of Samuel J. Tilden was broken, now if the will of a public-spirited, sound-minded man like Stratton can be broken by a boy who had been alienated from his childhood we will have still less. There is little incentive to accumulate property if you cannot dispose of it as you see fit, and not have it divided up between scheming lawyers and unworthy heirs.

How many people who complain of the high prices of commodities, stop to consider that the tariff makes high prices because it shuts out competition.—The Brand.

And, how many people who claim that the tariff is the only great cause of high prices and the foundation upon which trusts are built, stop to consider that the biggest trusts in the country are on products that are on the free list? We are no believer in a tariff for any purpose, but as for the statement that to abolish the tariff will kill the trusts, it is not true. The binding twine trust, which skinned the farmers throughout the land has no tariff protection. Coal oil is on the free list, yet Rockefeller can extort millions from the public in a single day. He gets most any concession from the railroads he wants in the way of freights and numbers of other companies have been froze out, the wells plugged up so he could go on with his monopoly. And it is only a question of a short time until he will have entire control of the Texas oil field. Anthracite coal is on the free list, yet it is $20 per ton and the trust is so powerful that they pay their miners just what they please and when the latter strike the trust forbids the railroads to haul them supplies and the order is obeyed. We agree that the country is trust ridden, but don't lay it on the scape-goat, tariff, which the two old parties have been holding a sham battle over for four score years.

After trying prohibition for about a year, Dallam county voted the saloons in again last Saturday.—Canadian Record.

The county outside of Dalhart voted 37 pro to 10 anti, hence it is somewhat of a reflection on the good people of Dallam county to say the "county voted them in." In Dalhart, however, where there is such a floating element with nothing at stake, the vote was 92 for the saloons to 48 against.

Larger Appropriations Needed.
The superintendents of the various state institutions are asking for larger appropriations than ever before. In their reports, there is asked for the maintenance of the penitentiaries for the fiscal years commencing September 1, 1903, and September 1, 1904, the usual appropriation of the proceeds of all convict labor and in addition $50,000 per annum to supply any deficiency that might arise in the purchase of material for the various industries, $20,000 each year to cover the expense in conveying prisoners to the penitentiaries and reformatory, $250 for the Rusk library and $500 for the Huntsville library and outside camps, $500 for traveling expenses of the superintendent, and in addition thereto a special appropriation of $100,000 to aid in the payment of the modern sugar mill in Brazoria county, $50,000 to become available at once, the balance to become available in regular appropriation year, making a total appropriation of $171,250.

To beautify the capitol grounds, keeping cemetery and state sewer, $7,500 each year; water, fuel and light, $12,000 each year. Mr. Harlan recommends the idea of the capitol grounds having a water system and asks for $12,000 to do the work with.

Fort Worth has been banking high on a visit from Admiral Schley, but Monday a letter from the admiral notified the board of trade of his inability to include Fort Worth on his Texas trip.

THE INDUSTRIAL WEST made a good fight for prohibition in Donley county and Bro. Blake should feel proud over the result. The total vote was: prohibition, 225; anti, 133; prohibition majority, 92. Clarendon gave a pro majority of 60. Is Carson going to join the band?—Claude News.

She—You old bachelors seem to know a lot about women.
He—Of course. If we didn't we would probably not be old bachelors.

Political Bargains with Wall Street.

A Washington special to the Dallas News says: There is ample—almost official—authority for the assertion that the settlement of the coal strike will be the result of a political and financial deal in which the republican administration is to be the beneficiary of the first part and the Wall Street bankers the parties of the second part. The deal, in brief, is that J. P. Morgan is to settle the strike in a manner which is to give President Roosevelt the credit for it, while, on the other hand, something like $80,000,000 of government funds will be released from the sub-treasury to tide over a threatened panic on Wall Street, with the Morgan stocks as the object of the raid.

Antis Get Black Eye in Ellis Again.

An application for an injunction restraining the publication of the prohibition order in Ellis county was argued before District Judge Dillard at McKinney Tuesday. The chief ground for asking the writ was that the law provides that liquor dealers shall be reimbursed for their unexpired licenses, and since there is no money in the treasury to appropriate for this purpose, the saloons cannot legally be closed until the proprietors have been reimbursed. Judge Dillard held that the liquor dealers' licenses were privileges extended, not rights granted, and the holders cannot claim a right in them as in other property. He therefore refused the writ.

Hillsboro Pros Win.

HILLSBORO, Tex., Oct. 1.—The local option injunction case came up before Judge Poindexter and was dissolved and dismissed. The motion to dissolve was argued before him in vacation, August 23. He took the case under advisement and has been so busy since that he did not have opportunity to fully investigate the points raised, and hence did not pass upon it. The result is that the pros win in the first step of the legal contention.

Packing House Trust.

Cattlemen may be given a taste of what a combine can do soon. A statement in the Texas Stock Journal, though guarded in expression, says: "Cattlemen in all the southwestern states and territories are disturbed over the action of Swift & Company in buying up several oil mills. They would not be surprised to see the big packers engage in cattle feeding on a large scale and anticipate that the combine may attempt to dictate prices, terms of purchase and the number of head which may be marketed at one time from any given locality. All this may be a nightmare which fevered imagination has conjured up, and then, again, it may not. What use have the packers for oil mills, anyway, if it is not for the purpose of engaging in business on their own hook or attempting to control the operations of others? It is almost impossible to obtain meal at less than $20 per ton and $5 and $6 is asked for hulls. This makes it difficult to extract any profit from the feeding proposition. The mill men explain that the seed is costing them from $15 per ton up and while this may be so many shrewd stockmen are of the opinion that other "bull" influences are at work. Official announcements, however, are to the effect that the output will be used at a refinery to be run in connection with the Swift packing plant. Combines have their advantages and disadvantages. Contemplation of continued high prices for beef is decidedly agreeable to the producers, but when threatened with competition from the packers in their own chosen field the prospect is not so pleasing."

Morgan's steamship trust with a capital of $125,000,000 has been chartered.

On account of scarcity of water and grass more than 350 car loads of cattle will be shipped from Alice, Texas, to avoid death by starvation. A large portion of southwest Texas is in a similar condition. A special to the Houston Post says that the many wagon loads of hides being hauled to the railway stations prove that the movement of cattle was not commenced soon enough.—Farm and Ranch.

No Hope in the Old Parties.

Mr. Roosevelt is on safe ground so long as he advocates the passage of a constitutional amendment to cure the trust evil. To begin with, not a democrat can be found who will vote for such an amendment on doctrinal grounds. To follow up with, but very few republicans would vote for it because its passage might harm the trusts. To end with, there is not the least likelihood of such an amendment being passed.—Fort Worth Register.

Startling Official Extravagance.

The office material used in the executive departments at Washington is sufficient to keep thousands of operatives busy the year round and foots up surprising aggregates. Rivers of ink, forests of cedar and mines of graphite are reasonably mild exaggerations when applied to the total of clerical supplies for the government service.

The war department annually uses 861,408 pens, 32,500 pencils, 1,927 quarts of mullage, 4,634 quarts of black ink, 3,167 bottles of red ink and 7,000 gross of rubber bands of different sizes. There are used annually by the postoffice department 8,250 pounds of rubber bands, 300,000,000 facing slips, 3,500 dozen indelible pencils, 240,000 black and colored pencils and 13,225 gross of pens. There are 300,000 penholders used annually. Each of these is inscribed "Property of the United States Postoffice Department." The headquarters of the postal service uses each year 12,000 quarts of black ink, 1,300,000 pounds of small jute twine, put up in half-pound balls, 9,500 steel erasers and more than 2,228,000 black carbon sheets.

The interior department uses annually 146,000 lead pencils, 6,925 gross of steel pens, 5,000 quarts of black ink and 2,500 quarts of mullage.

Unestimated millions of pins and uncomputed reams of paper, with millions of envelopes are used each year in the governmental service. The treasury department and other branches of the public service use supplies in proportion to the figures given for the war, postoffice and interior departments.

Bitters and Perina Under the Ban.

In answer to an inquiry, the state comptroller writes: "In reply to yours of the 20th instant you are advised that, in local option districts, it is no violation of the local option law for a druggist to sell, on the prescription of a physician or otherwise, tinctures and compounds in the preparation of which liquors or medicated bitters and compounds are not intoxicating beverages prepared in the evasion of the local option law. In local option districts spirits or medicated bitters of any kind capable of producing intoxication can not be sold in any quantity alone without the payment of the tax prescribed for such districts, and when sold must be upon the prescription of a physician. Perina is capable of producing intoxication and can not be sold in local option districts, except upon the prescription of a physician and after payment of the tax required by law. See the case of McDaniel vs. the State of Texas, Court Reporter, volume 3, page 785. The same rule applies to any other bitters capable of producing intoxication."

If congress could tax the manufacturers of healthful food of existence as it did oleomargarine, it can certainly tax the trusts out of existence. A graduated tax on all combinations which are engaged in agreements to control prices and cost of transportation of commodities would simply be exercising the taxing power and has no relation to the other power of congress to regulate commerce between the states and with foreign countries. Senator Morgan and several other constitutional lawyers have called attention to this. It requires no constitutional amendment, simply an act of congress levying an internal revenue tax. Such a law will never be passed while the republican party is in power. The party exists by the contributions of the trusts. Without the millions placed at the disposal of Mark Hanna by the trusts, the republican party would be out of power today.—Nebraska Independent.

In a shooting scrape at Bowie Wednesday between Marshal Jarrett and Luther Raines, Jarrett was badly wounded and Pat Magnus, a restaurant man in no way connected with it, was killed.

Mexico Buys a Railroad.

The Mexican government thinks enough of itself to step in and prevent a railroad trust from holding up its citizenship for extortionate rates. The government has bought the controlling interest in the Inter-oceanic railway by purchasing the majority of the newly created bonds, whose holders by virtue of an arrangement creating them is vested the administration of the property. The government bought these bonds at a fraction over 90, securing the majority in competition with a well known firm of New York bankers who some months ago acquired control in this purchase a portion of the reserve funds of the Nation and as the purchase was made at 90 and the bonds bear 4 1/2 per cent. interest, the transaction is as a business proposition, a sound and profitable one. The guiding idea in this purchase was in reality the purpose of the government to secure control of an independent railway to the Gulf of Mexico as a means of defense against any possible combination of railway interests that might tend to affect injuriously the rate situation and commerce of the country in general. The government has headed off the New York bankers who sought to secure the Inter-oceanic railway, practically merging it with the Mexican National railroad. There was also a motive for the purchase the rumored consolidation of the Northern Trunk line after its absorption of the two roads from this city to Vera Cruz, which would have held the country commercially in a close monopoly.

With the government in control of a direct and independent line between the capital and Vera Cruz the situation changes materially. Vera Cruz, commercially speaking, is the key to the gulf, and rates between that port and Mexico must govern rates by other export and import routes. In this way the government will be in a position to defeat any possible rate combination detrimental to the trade interests of the country that might be attempted as a result of the consolidation of more railway systems with prejudice, of course, to the government's right under any circumstances, by virtue of the general railway law and terms of individual concessions to supervise rates with certain limits.

The latest move of the government will not fail to enhance the respect felt abroad for the alertness and far-sightedness of Mexico's financial administration.

How is This for a Party That "Opposes Trusts?"

It is reported that the ex-Tammany leader, Lewis Nixon, whose guest Mr. Bryan was when on a recent visit to the east, is in a forty-five million dollar shipping trust, and has secured liberal contributions to the democratic campaign fund. This report was published in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, a republican paper. We don't know how well founded the statement is. But here in Missouri there is sworn testimony of high-up democrats to the fact that the St. Louis street railway trust contributed six thousand dollars and the Missouri Pacific railway two thousand dollars to the state democratic campaign fund, these contributions having been made and received since the party purged itself of the sinful element at Chicago in 1896.—Mo. The plans and specifications for the structural steel work on the government building are ready for bidders. The plans of the steel work show that the great building is to be spanned at a single leap by the big steel trusses. The trusses will spring from the floor line and in a continuous elliptical curve will form walls and roof. The radius of the ellipse will be 162 feet. The foundations of the government building shown are of concrete and of piling. One end of the gigantic trusses will be fixed. The other end will rest upon rollers and be movable to provide for temperature strains. There are to be 22 big trusses besides purlin trusses, sway trusses and lattice struts.

The repudiation of the Kansas City platform makes it impossible for the Bryan wing to remain longer in the party. As a matter of self-respect Mr. Bryan and his branch of democracy must either herd by themselves or form an alliance with the populist party.—Madison (Neb.) Mail, edited by ex-senator W. V. Allen.

The democratic party is so in charge of politicians that there is no Bryan branch of the party organization. There are probably over a million democrats who believe in people's party principles so strongly that they are ready to join the peoples party under encouraging circumstances. When the fusion populists come out for a straight fight we believe the democrats of populist belief will join the peoples party.—Mo. World.

SITE IS SELECTED

The Lone Star State Secures a Desirable Location

FOR EXHIBIT AT WORLD'S FAIR

Gov. Sayers, in the Course of His Speech, Made the Promise that State Would Be Creditably Represented.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 1.—During the allotting of sites here Tuesday on which to locate state buildings for the Louisiana Purchase exposition no speech was listened to with more profound attention nor received with greater evidences of appreciation than that of Gov. Sayers of Texas. Everybody up here seems to consider it settled that Texas will have one of the biggest and finest exhibits at the World's fair, and when Gov. Sayers made declarations to that effect and enumerated a partial list of the things which Texas would show, there were expressions of approval and exclamations, "She can do it!"

"Texas will be here more than 100,000 strong," said he. "She will be here with representative exhibits of her various resources and with her stalwart men and beautiful women. She will be here to challenge the other states to contest."

In closing, the governor, referring to the small United States flag and the banner bearing the seal of Texas, which evidenced the allotment of the Texas building site, said: "I pledge the people of Texas that beside the 'Lone Star' flag you will not have to hide your folds in shame. We will be here in 1904 with every resource of the state represented."

Col. L. J. Polk of Galveston was chairman of the Texas delegation for the ceremonies. Judge E. B. Perkins of Dallas received the flag and banner from the exposition authorities and introduced Gov. Sayers.

The following sites were allotted Tuesday: Government building, Missouri, Louisiana, Texas, Illinois, Ohio, New Jersey, Kentucky, Arkansas and Wisconsin. The Texas site is splendidly located. It is directly back of the government building site in the front tier of state exhibits.

The President and Three Cabinet Officers Hold a Conference.

Washington: The president Tuesday took initiative steps to ascertain what, if anything, could be done by Federal authorities to settle the coal strike.

The result was a rather general expression of opinion by the advisers of the president who were parties to conference to the effect that in Federal laws and constitution did not afford means of Federal interference to end the strike.

At the temporary white house a conference was held with three cabinet officers, Attorney General Knox, Secretary Moody and Postmaster General Payne, Gov. Crane of Massachusetts also being present.

Grave Robbery Charged.
Indianapolis, Ind.: The wholesale robbery of graves in the cemeteries about Indianapolis was brought to a close by the arrest of seven negroes. Warrants also were issued for a prominent physician, the demonstrator of anatomy in a local medical college, where two stolen bodies were found ten days ago; Dr. Wilson and George Haymaker, the white janitor.

Rufus Cantrell, one of the negroes, made a complete confession.

The Terrible Scourge.
Manila: It is announced that 5124 cases of cholera and 2740 deaths from that disease were reported in the province of Iloilo Monday. This is the highest record for any district since the outbreak of the disease and exceeds the total of Manila and many of the provinces. The people are fleeing to the mountains, leaving the dead unburied and the dying uncared for. The government has ordered additional doctors and medicine to be sent.

Cause of Zola's Death.
Paris: The autopsy on the remains of Emile Zola resulted in an official declaration that he died from asphyxiation, caused by carbonic oxide fumes. A crowd of people drawn there by curiosity had remained in front of Zola's house since morning and his tragic death continues to be the chief topic of conversation here. The funeral has been fixed for Monday, and interest is shown in the question whether Dreyfus will attend.

The Noted French Novelist the Victim of a Defective Stove.

Paris: Emile Zola, the novelist who gained additional prominence in recent years because of his defense of the Jews and of former Capt. Dreyfus, was found dead in his Paris home Monday morning. Asphyxiation resulting from the fumes from a stove in his bedroom is given as the cause of death.

M. Zola and his wife retired at 10 o'clock Sunday night. Mme. Zola was seriously ill when the room was broken into this morning. At about noon she was removed to a private hospital, where she recovered consciousness for a short time and was able to explain to a magistrate what had happened.

M. and Mme. Zola returned to Paris from their country house at Medan Sunday. Owing to a sudden spell of cold weather the heating stove in their bedroom was ordered to be lighted.

MYSTERIOUS CASE.
Stranger Found Dying Was a Mason and Financially Well Off.

Orange, Tex.: Upon the arrival of the eastbound train over the Southern Pacific railroad Tuesday morning a stranger took a cab and drove to the home of Sheriff Robertson, where he handed that officer a warrant issued at Lake Charles, La., authorizing the arrest of a party that the stranger claimed had assaulted him Sept. 28, at Lafayette, La. The sheriff fled the paper and the cab took the man to the McDonell hotel, where he registered at Ludwig Braun.

Nothing more was heard of him until about 11 o'clock, when he was found in the throes of a convulsion on the lawn in front of the courthouse, and when Mr. Robertson looked at him at once recognized him as the man who left the warrant with him a few hours earlier. He died from poison self-administered.

SON AND DAUGHTERS

Of the Republic of Texas Form an Organization at Dallas.

Dallas: Tuesday morning in the auditorium at the fair grounds nearly 100 daughters and sons of the Texas met to organize an association. Nearly all were born under the Lone Star flag and were from every part of the state. No persons but those born in Texas before the annexation to the United States are allowed to belong to the organization. However, provision will be made that all those persons whose ancestors fought for Texas as independence will be allowed to participate in the pleasures of the association and the benefits derived from the association.

Col. T. L. Stanfield of Terrell, who has been the most tireless worker in organizing the association, was made temporary chairman. His address, the only one of the meeting, was listened to attentively and frequently applauded.

C. A. Hotchkiss of Dallas was chosen temporary secretary. The name of the association, as suggested by C. L. Martin of Dallas, was adopted, and is the "Association of Natives and Pioneers of the Republic of Texas." Every white native and pioneer of the republic of Texas prior to the establishment of the republic are eligible to membership in the association.

The following gentlemen were chosen officers of the association: Thomas L. Stanfield, Terrell, president; John W. Stevens, Hillsboro, first vice president; Sam J. Wright, Paris, second vice president; Ben McCullough, Austin, third vice president; Charles L. Hotchkiss, Dallas, secretary and treasurer.

A committee of three, to consist of Chas. L. Martin, James B. Simpson and Chas. A. Hotchkiss, were recommended to draft a constitution and by-laws for the association and to report on April 21, 1903, at an adjourned meeting of the association to be held on the battlefield of San Jacinto.

The secretary was instructed to publish the full list of natives who have sent in their names and request each one to send him 25c as initiation fee. The secretary was also instructed to correspond with certain gentlemen to request them to speak at the meeting on the San Jacinto battlefield.

Serious Situation.
New York: The coal situation in New York Tuesday was more serious than at any time since the strike began. Instead of 150,000 tons, usually in stock at this time of the year, there are but 2000 tons of hard coal. In tenement districts the price is 75c a bushel which is at the rate of $25 a ton.

Death was due to strangulation. Miss Helen Robertson, her niece, and her three-year-old son, Albert, were in the bed with her at the time. The murderer climbed in a window.

Ravages of Cholera.
Manila: Cholera threatens to depopulate the island of Samar. The populations of many of the towns have been heavily reduced through death and the flight of panic-stricken people. It is said the total for the islands is 48,402 deaths.

Cards Required.

LONGVIEW ROMANCE.
It Culminated in an Elopement and Marriage on Monday.

Longview, Tex.: A love affair of several months' duration between two young people ended unexpectedly but none the less romantically. The groom left for Marshall Sunday night and secured a marriage license and returning Monday was at Longview Junction to meet his prospective bride, who left home hurriedly at noon, saying she had to prepare some lessons at school.

The couple boarded the eastbound Texas and Pacific passenger train and went to Hallville, where a justice of the peace met them at the train and pronounced them man and wife. They again got on the train and went to Marshall, where they telegraphed their parents of their marriage.

The bride is 15 years old, very good looking and popular. The groom is about 21, and comes of one of the best families of Longview.

NO MORE RESERVE

Move of Great Importance to the Financial Interests

BY SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY

Shaw is to Release Thirty Millions and He Will Also Accept Other Securities Besides Government Bonds.

New York, Sept. 30.—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, who was in New York Monday night, has issued a statement that the banks will hereafter not be required to carry a reserve against government deposits secured by government bonds. This will make available over $30,000,000.

Secretary Shaw declined to discuss the financial situation further than to say that the treasury would co-operate as far as possible with the banks, both east and west, in their effort to supply the necessary credit to do the unprecedented amount of business that is taxing railroads and steamship lines as well as banks to the utmost.

Mr. Shaw said he had never seen any good reason why banks holding a government deposit, secured by government bonds should be required to carry a reserve against it. First, it is a deposit not likely to be called in a time of stringency, and, second, if called, the collateral will always sell for cash and in excess of the deposits. He has, since he took control of the treasury, contemplated relieving the banks of this burden.

One Participant Killed.
Paris: A fatal duel with pistols was fought at Viroflay, near Versailles, between two Poles named Niorgiewicz and Betkiewicz. They were both 20 years of age.

At the first fire the latter was shot through the head. He was removed to a hospital, where he died. Both duelists were sons of wealthy merchants in Warsaw and came to Paris to study French. The cause of the duel was trivial, one of the young men having refused to shake hands with the other after a quarrel.

TERMED TEN-STRIKE.
Operators, However, Claim it is Made Up of Generalities.

Wilkesbarre, Pa.: Some of the local coal operators, after being shown a copy of the statement issued by President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers Sunday, say it would probably be the last he will give to the public before the ending of the strike. They claim his appeal is made up of generalities and that he endeavors to win public sympathy by making a plea for child labor. One operator said the condition of child labor in the coal regions is much better than it is in the manufacturing districts of the country; that the wages paid are better and the working hours shorter, and other conditions better in every respect.

At strike headquarters Mr. Mitchell's last deliverance is termed a "ten strike" and it is asserted that the figures and facts are irrefutable.

BURNED AT STAKE

A Foul Crime Avenge Sunday at Corinth, Miss.

NEGRO CONFESSED HIS MISDEED

Tom Clark Roasted to Death, the Husband and Brother of His Assaulted and Murdered Victim Applying Torch.

Corinth, Miss., Sept. 29.—On Aug. 19 last Mrs. Carey Whitfield, wife of a well known citizen, was found dead in her home. Investigation showed that the lady had been assaulted and her head was practically severed from her body, a razor having been used in the bloody work. Both Whitfield and his wife were related to several of the most prominent families in the south and the indignation of the people knew no bounds.

A committee of twelve citizens were named to continue the search for the murderer, and these men have been very active in their work.

On Monday last it became known that Tom Clark, a negro living near here, had had trouble with his wife and the latter threatened to disclose the secret of a crime. Officers apprehended the woman and she told enough to warrant the belief that Clark had murdered Mrs. Whitfield. Clark was arrested and was brought before the committee of twelve in Corinth. The negro finally confessed to the murder and also told of other crimes that he had committed. He said that several years ago he killed two men on an excursion train in Mississippi. He told of an outrage perpetrated by himself upon a negro woman and also of the theft of $1500 from a physician at French Camp.

At 3 o'clock Sunday the prisoner, heavily manacled, was taken from the jail by a posse of armed men and, followed by a large and excited crowd of men and boys, he was led to the east gate of the negro cemetery, which is situated in the western part of the city. Fagots of wood had been piled high around the stake and the negro was securely fastened to an iron rod.

The husband and brother of Clark's victim stepped forward and applied torches and in a moment the flames leaped upward, enveloping the trembling negro in smoke and fire. The clothing of the doomed man was soon ignited and as the flames grew hotter the skin began to parch. The negro moaned piteously at this juncture and the agonizing look upon his face told of the awful torture he was undergoing. Finally his head fell forward upon his breast and in a few minutes all was over. The flames were fed by the crowd until the body was burned to a crisp. Then the gathering dispersed in an orderly manner and the town soon assumed its normal condition.

More than 5000 people witnessed the gruesome tragedy, among them being many women and children.

The price at which the Welsh coal is quoted could not be learned.

Another Operation.
Washington: Another operation was performed Sunday on the abscess on the left leg of President Roosevelt. In the former operation a simple needle was used, but this time the surgeons with a knife made an incision into the small cavity, exposing the bone, which was found to be slightly affected. The president's case has been progressing satisfactorily, but it is believed by the physicians that the further operation made Sunday will hasten his complete recovery.

Our announcement column, which has been blank so far as a name for county judge is concerned, this week has the name of J. H. O'Neill, a rising young lawyer who has been solicited by a large number of friends in both town and country to make the race for the place.

He came from Kentucky at the age of six years, hence he might be called a Texan. He lived in Tarrant county since 1871 until he came further west, and he might be termed a "self-made" man, as he has relied on his own resources, read law at night after putting in the day at hard labor in the field, passed a fine examination and was admitted to the bar, since which time he has had a very successful practice. He is open and frank, and his moral conduct is beyond reproach. He is just at the right age to prosecute his duties with energy, and with the laudable ambition to prove to the people his fitness for the place. He has the ability, the courage and the high sense of justice to make Donley county a good officer and he will fully appreciate your votes.

The Claude News pays the following compliment to Lee Anderson: "Lee Anderson, who has spent most of the summer with uncle Jerry Cavanaugh on his ranch north of town, returned this week to his home at Clarendon where he will enter college. Last year Clarendon College offered a free scholarship to the student in the graduating class of the Clarendon public schools who should win first honors, and as Lee was the fortunate one he concluded to avail himself of his good fortune and reap the benefits of another year's schooling. The News congratulates the young gentleman on securing so rich a prize."

A limit to land ownership would not only benefit the individual who would thus find it easier to acquire a home of his own but the benefit accruing to the community would be invaluable. Thicker settlements would mean more schools, more churches, more libraries, better mail facilities and a higher order of society generally. The settlement of Texas has been retarded unexpectably by reason of large land holdings and although no reasonable man would urge the forced sale of land, still reasonable men believe that it would be a wholesome policy in the future to put a reasonable limit of the acquirement of land.—Home Advocate.

The Tarrant county assessor has completed the tax rolls of the county for 1902 and they show an increase of about $1,340,000 over the rendition of 1901. The total shows a valuation of $22,085,180.

John Lindly Dead. Notwithstanding the INDUSTRIAL WEST mentioned last week that John Lindly was able to sit up some, his physicians have known for some days that before he could possibly recover another operation was necessary. There was a rib under the shoulder blade lacerated by the bullet and in such a necrotic condition that it had to be gotten at to relieve the condition which if not relieved could only end in lingering death. Fighting manfully against death he consented to be taken to the St. Josephs Infirmary in Fort Worth. Accordingly we took him there Tuesday where after due consideration it was decided to remove the shoulder blade and also the arm which was helplessly paralyzed. He was placed upon the table and chloroform administered and Dr. Saunders proceeded with the operation but before its completion the spirit of the patient sufferer had taken its immortal flight. Thus closes what we hope will be the last tragedy in the reign of King Alcohol in Clarendon. In behalf of the poor boy that is gone, his attentive brother who nursed him so carefully and his heart broken-parents and sorrowing brothers, sisters and relatives we thank the many kind friends and especially the good women who have done so much to make his sad suffering more tolerable to bear. May the blessing of Heaven rest upon and abide with them forever. J. D. STOCKING.

There is a good natured fight going on between Panhandle towns as to which shall be first in becoming a city. And while all cannot succeed, the result will be a substantial growth and building up of these towns and a corresponding growth and prosperity for this section. Vernon, Quanah, Childress, Clarendon and Amarillo are all up and doing, and there is no room for croakers and kickers in any of these towns. Push and progress is the watchword, and so determined is the movement, and so irresistible the onward rush that mossbacks must join the procession or get run over. The Panhandle has "arrived." We are getting railroads, oil mills, factories, colleges, and we have always had the best country on earth, and now that the country is aroused to its possibilities, we are going to rise and shine.—Vernon Sun.
