OFFICERS are supposed to be elected to enforce or carry out the law. See that your vote goes for a man that will do this.

The way to cultivate a contempt for law is to elect in office men too weak-kneed or who are unwilling to do their official duty. With such men in office town or county soon gets an unenviable name.

The editor of a McKinney democratic paper says a man cannot be a democrat and a prohibitionist. Judging from the anti-saloon sentiment sweeping over the state, the McKinney man's democracy must be on the wane.

PEOPLE who have been told time after time that Mr. Bryan's means were very limited will be somewhat surprised to learn that he is one of a number of capitalists who are negotiating for 3,000,000 acres of Canadian land, which is to be divided into townships and settlers from the United States will be solicited to go and settle upon it.

PANHANDLE has the name of being a pretty tough place. A citizen of Carson county told us this week that there was less attention paid to Sunday and that the saloons and gamblers had fuller sway there than any town he knew of. The principal use the court house was put to is for dances, that besides 13 chairs there are no seats in the court room except a few plank on some boxes. Harry Groom is reported to have said recently to a Kansas City reporter: "His headquarters were for a long time at Panhandle, a town which he says consists of a barroom and a court house, where every man plays poker and drank whisky but one, and they hung him for killing his wife." But he now has a brand new town of his own on the Choctaw road."

TWELVE years ago, when the writer lived on the plains in Hale county, as soon as the spring grass was of sufficient length to graze great herds of cattle were started on the trail south and southwest, headed for the great ranges of Kansas and the northwest. Tens of thousands of cattle were driven in such manner, some three months being required to make the trip. It is all different now, railroads have stretched across the vast ranges and from 48 to 60 hours are all that is required to place them on the northern ranges or on the feed lots of the agricultural states. The shipments this year have been heavy. The El Paso Herald says: "Cattlemen in El Paso claim that there has been moved from the great plains of Texas, the territories and Mexico to the pastures of Dakota, Montana, Wyoming and Kansas not less than half a million head of cattle. These cattle represent a wealth of over $11,000,000 and every animal is worth from five to nine dollars more than cattle were a few years ago. The cattle going north this year will be sold on the market next summer."

The man who dares to do his duty in the face of a howling mob is a hero—such a man is sheriff Spradley of Nacogdoches. All lovers of law and order should honor him.—St. Jo Tribune.

Before Sheriff Spradley was elected Nacogdoches county was overrun with law-breakers, who were organized and did about as pleased. Sheriff Spradley is an uncompromising populist and told the people if they would elect him he would see that the law was enforced. They did so and Spradley boldly does his duty with unflinching bravery.

The Clarendon mail carrier came in Thursday evening perched on the front running gear of the hack. He is expected in this evening riding one of the mules. The Clarendon road is death on hacks.—Silverton Enterprise.

It is evident that people will soon be compelled to take more interest in their roads. Trails that can only be traveled single file on ponies answered the purpose for Indians and pioneer cowboys, but progressive people with any degree of enterprise want roads that can be traveled with at least a two horse wagon.

That Constitutional Amendment.

All the political bosses are for the adoption of the amendment to be voted on Tuesday. Other people are divided on the question, and there are two sides to it. It provides that no man can vote who does not pay his poll tax by a certain date and can show a receipt therefor. Upon principle, we are not in favor of any property or moneyed qualification for the exercise of the franchise. When this is done it is no longer a free country. It sets a precedent, the ending of which no man can tell. Other taxes may in time be brought in. Taxes may be so increased as to be confiscatory and take from the majority the right to have any voice in the laws or men who shall govern. Who knows? The main argument of its advocates is that it will be a revenue producer by forcing men to pay their poll tax. This we do not believe. The man who is not patriotic enough now to pay his poll tax is not enough so to pay it to get to vote. Besides this there is a law on the Statute now, and a far better one, for the collection of delinquent poll taxes. You will find it on page 959, ch. 6, art. 4783. It reads as follows:

"The County Superintendent of public roads or the precinct superintendent, as the case may be, shall obtain from the tax collector of their counties so soon after the first day of January of each year as practicable and before the first day of May thereafter a full list of the delinquent poll tax-payers of such county for the previous year, and the persons so appearing on said list and who are such delinquent poll tax-payers shall be subject to road duty for a period of three days during such year, and they shall be summoned, as in other cases, to work the roads in the road district or precinct in which such person may reside; and the performance of the road service provided for in this article shall not exonerate the persons from any other road duty to which performing the same may be subject, but this shall be taken as cumulative. The persons required to do road duty under the provisions of this article shall be subject to prosecution as provided in this chapter or other law provided for in other cases for failing to appear or do good work, when summoned to do so, as provided by this chapter or other law of this state, and all such laws shall apply to parties required to work under the provisions of this article. And when they are convicted for so failing to work the roads, shall satisfy the fine and costs as in other misdemeanor convictions. But any person summoned to work on the road under the provisions of this article may satisfy such summons and be relieved from such duty by paying to the county road or precinct superintendent, as the case may be, three dollars, one-third of which sum shall go to the free school fund, and the balance to the road and bridge fund."

Now why is this law not enforced? Here is a way to get the taxes and in a way, too, that will benefit the community, besides this you get double the tax, provided the work is worth $1 per day. Go after them with this law and the school fund will be swelled and our so-called public roads will get some badly needed work.

The only argument worth mentioning in favor of the law is that it will prevent the biennial rounding up of the riff-raff and voting them for the chronic office seekers. A class of voters on whom no one would be willing to risk $1.50 nine months before the election. If this can be accomplished, and if the precedent should not be abused and the tax feature not be increased nor the paying of it brought any closer to the election, then it would be a good thing. It is for the purpose of stopping the purchase of votes, solely, that we advocate it, trusting that it will never be abused so as to disfranchise any honest voter. As a tax producer it will prove a failure.

Speaking Tonight.

Judge Webster candidate for district judge and the candidates for district attorney are in town and will present their claims at the court house tonight. We suppose county candidates will be given an opportunity to "orate," also.

The Haden-Cranfill damage suit now on trial in Dallas will last about five weeks. It is announced that C. C. Slaughter and J. C. Gentry, the latter deceased, will be released and not made parties to the suit.

The Dallas, Abilene and San Antonio fairs have at least served to reveal the fact that the Texas cowman who desires to purchase good blood to be added to his herds can find absolutely first-class accommodations at home.—West Texas Stockman.

Profligacy, Avarice, Frugality.

A mean, stingy man who skins his neighbor on every hand, that he may hoard up means, none of which go to the public good, or whose owner never does a hands turn to alleviate human suffering, is a detriment to any community in which he lives, but the industrious economical man who lays by some of his savings for future use is too often abused by the ones who "low in all they can earn, borrow or steal." The following from the Burlington Republican is applicable:

"Every man who is frugal and saves his money, thus getting ahead in the world and laying up something for a rainy day and for the benefit of his family, must submit to the abuse of loafers and deadbeats. Every day you hear some worthless fellow who doesn't pay his debts and whose note is never good at the bank, roasting some worthy citizen because he is a 'tight wad' and does not spend his money freely like the loafers and deadbeats. These people are always in this way holding their selves up as bright particular examples for the imitation of all men, and yet, if their examples were universally followed the entire commercial system would crumble into ruins and there would be no such thing as financial responsibility. Don't let them influence you. You needn't be stingy and mean, but if they say you are, that doesn't prove it. You will be nearer right if you conduct yourself in such a way as to not win their approval."

Voters of Donley County, be Careful How You Vote.

Already with only the prospect of a town freed from the blighting curse of legalized saloons we can see on every hand evidences of prosperity and a new and better life for Clarendon. With our college and excellent schools come the greater need for the effective banishment of the demon rum. There is but little doubt if we prove ourselves equal to the emergency of forever banishing the saloons and every suspicion of blind tigers, the Baptist College will also soon be one of Clarendon's new enterprises. Our noble citizenship without regard to party have by nearly one hundred majority said give us a clean county. Brothers, let us not stop here, let us say on election day with just as much emphasis give us the man for sheriff who openly not only voted for prohibition but whose heart was in it and who talked first and last and all the time against the infernal traffic. We don't want to only have the law tolerably well executed and only a few small blind tigers, we want the law as well executed as it is against cattle stealing, rape, or murder, with not even a suspicion of a blind tiger. Only last Saturday as an insult to the expressed will of the people a car load of beer was unloaded here in Clarendon only six days before in accordance with the voice of the people its sale should cease. We can only interpret this as in accord with the reported expressed determination on the part of some of our saloon men that they were not going to stop selling the accursed stuff till they were made to stop. Gentlemen the situation is before us. The intention is plainly to violate the law and disregard the will of the people. Again let me urge each voter not to be constrained by individual friendships in casting your ballot for sheriff but vote on the issue before us of making Clarendon a clean town and Donley county a clean county and demonstrating that prohibition prohibits.

A CITIZEN.

The government bought last week $15,000,000 worth of government bonds and paid therefor over twenty million dollars. For every dollar the bonds called for the government paid $1.37%. The government received for these bonds much less than it is now paying for them. The government issues bonds, fixes a distant day for their payment and then buys them back at a big premium. This has been done time and again, at a tremendous loss to the people. The government, when issuing bonds, could reserve the right to pay them at any time, but this wouldn't be piling millions of dollars of the people's money into coffers of the rich. The bond and money systems are nothing less than methods of robbing the people.—Mo. World.

Local Option.

Tomorrow local option is to take effect in Donley county and it behooves every law-abiding man who takes pride in living in a moral, law-abiding community to see that the law is rigidly enforced to the letter, not only as to "blind tigers," but as to drugstores and cold storages (so-called) as well. The attention of our officers is called to the fact that the law requires any party selling whisky in local option territory to pay in addition to the U. S. revenue tax the state and county tax of $300. The state revenue agent, Mr. Cunningham, says:

"Violators of the local option law can not pay this tax and do business, and they can not do business without paying it, if the county attorney and collector are vigilant. Article 4110 of the Penal Code says that one in possession of an internal revenue license is presumed to be selling intoxicants. "The national law requires them to keep that stamp in a public place. Article 3015 of the Revised Statutes of the state of Texas, authorizes a writ of injunction on the part of the state against any one violating a revenue law. "The state does not have to make bond. "Any district judge will issue temporary injunction against any one having in his possession an internal revenue stamp and who sells intoxicants, and by this means the tax can be collected. If this course should be pursued, thousands of dollars will be saved to the state annually that is now spent trying to enforce local option laws."

Not a Single Claim to Justify a Reform Vote.

Bulletin No. 14, issued by the democratic congressional committee at Washington, for the use of such papers as will use it, has been received. It is tariff, tariff, tariff, as the other thirteen numbers were. From reading the 84 long columns of campaign matter contained in the 14 numbers of the Bulletin, one would never guess that the democratic party ever heard of the money question. Bulletin No. 14 announces that it is the last that will be issued this campaign, and so the democratic party goes to the polls this fall, ignoring the money question and in fact every other question except the tariff, and that in a very mild form. We speak of the party nationally, as represented by its congressional committee at Washington. In some states where there are lots of populists, the democrats endorsed the Kansas City platform, but even in these states the speakers so far as we have heard, are saying nothing about the issue of '96 and 1900. And yet the money question is the greatest of all questions—greater in fact than all others combined.—Mo. World.

All this, too in the face of their platform declaration in 1896 with the following declaration: "Until the money question is settled, we are opposed to any agitation for further changes in our tariff laws, except such as are necessary to meet the deficit in revenue caused by the adverse decision of the supreme court on the income tax."

We have received from Director Wm. B. Phillips, Austin, Texas, a copy of Bulletin No. 4 of The University of Texas Mineral Survey. It deals with the quicksilver deposits in Brewster county, and forms the fourth in a series of economic publications relating to the mineral resources of the state. The editions of Bulletins Nos. 1 and 2 on Texas Petroleum and on Sulphur, Oil and Quicksilver in Trans-Pecos Texas, have been completely exhausted, but he has on hand some copies of Bulletin No. 3 on Lignite and Asphalt Rocks for distribution. During the winter, two other Bulletins, No. 5, The Minerals and Mineral Localities of Texas, and No. 6, The Report of Progress for the year 1902, will be issued. The latter will contain also a description of the southeastern part of Presidio and the southwestern part of Brewster counties, to accompany the topographic map of that area now in preparation. The Bulletins issued have met with great favor from the general and technical public.

The Texas and Pacific railway has made a rate of one cent a mile between Fort Worth, Dallas and intermediate points. The transportation is sold in $5 lots, and may be used by individuals or parties. It is expected that the Interurban will meet this rate.

The Other Side.

Nearly all the lectures to married people are to the husbands, and they are not out of place; but while wives are generally self-sacrificing and have many hardships to bear, all of them are not perfect. It is out of the usual order of lectures, but we reproduce the following from an exchange:

"Remember, that he pays the freight and is entitled to the very best that the house can give—the most comfortable chair, the things he likes to eat, the sweetest smiles and the tenderest love and consideration that his wife has in her repertoire.

"Remember, that a woman's part of a matrimonial bargain is making a comfortable home. If she fails in that she has defaulted on the contract and deserves to be sent to the penitentiary. "Remember, that when she married she did it of her own free will and accord. She knew the risks, and took them with her eyes open, and if there are trials, and if anxieties have come, she has no right to regard herself as a victim and blame her husband. She was just as anxious to marry him as he was to marry her.

"Remember, not to tell her domestic troubles to anybody, not even her mother. Until a woman gets ready to relate the story of a husband's misdeeds in the divorce court she owes it to her own dignity to keep silence.

"Remember, that a laugh is a lightning rod that will carry domestic atmospheric disturbance safely into the earth.

"Remember, that men like appreciation just as much as women do. The average American husband works like a dray horse from morning to night to support his family, and when he does not get even thanks for the sacrifice he makes he must wonder whatever made him fool enough to burden himself with a family.

"Remember, that tenderness, love, consideration, gentleness, patience and brightness are the qualities that best adorn a wife. They are old-fashioned virtues, but the world has never improved upon them. Use them every day of your life, and the coming year we will see a falling off in the divorce business."

Contracts for the Unborn.

Away back fifty years ago a Michigan legislature granted a charter to the Michigan Southern railroad, allowing it to charge 3 cents a mile for passengers. Recently the legislature reduced the fare to 2 cents. Now the road will sue the state for $10,000,000 damages and puts its plea upon the basis that the charter was a contract that was to last for all eternity and sustains it by the Dartmouth college decision in which the supreme court held that a state could not violate a contract. The idea seems to be that a legislature could bind the people of a state for a thousand generations to come, and make them pay exorbitant charges to some corporation and that there would be no way of escape. Unborn children could be bound to that corporation for all eternity, to serve it and hand over to it the fruits of their toil, if some legislature could be bought to make such a contract. If the Michigan case goes up to the supreme court, that body of plutocrats will undoubtedly sustain the claim of the corporation. It always does. That is what they were appointed for.

Now there is no way of escape from such a situation except by adopting the principles of populism. Let the state of Michigan build another road alongside of the Michigan Southern and let the Michigan Southern charge 3 cents, or 10 cents a mile for passenger fare if it wants to, while the state road is run at cost. That would be a settlement of that sort of business that would last.—Neb. Independent.

It matters not what plan is adopted in the handling of Kaffir corn, there is one principal that must not be violated, and that is, the seed must not be covered up with green fodder, otherwise heating would be induced and its vitality impaired. That Kaffir corn and sorghum seed are so frequently low in vitality is directly traceable to this very cause.—Higgins News.

DETAILS OF FIGHT
An Account of Battle With Mad Mullah and His Men.
A MAXIM GUN WAS CAPTURED
Only the Wonderfully Heroic Work of a Few British Officers Saved the Soldiers of Mig Edward.
Aden, Arabia, Oct. 27.—Details of the fighting in Somaliland Oct. 6, between the British expeditionary force and the followers of Mad Mullah, show that more serious disaster was averted only by the splendid example of the few white officers. As it was, the British lost a Maxim gun and seventy men killed, while sixty-two of their enemy's dead were counted close to the firing line.
Shortly after the British expedition left their fortified camp for Mudug, Oct. 6, the Mullah's forces were reported about a mile ahead, and within half an hour, while the British were advancing in single file through a dense jungle, the enemy charged the British right flank. The Mullah's troops were met with such a severe fire that they swung around towards the British center and left. Meanwhile the transport got mixed up with the firing line, which was thrown into confusion, and a Maxim was rushed and captured, and as many camels. Major Phillips was shot while gallantly attempting to rally his men and Lieut. Everett was wounded while attending Major Phillips.
The disorder spread to the gun teams, which were driven back. Capt. Angus was killed while serving a gun. Col. Cobbe, with a single Maxim sergeant, continued serving a Maxim, and Col. Swayne (the British commander in Somaliland and commander of the expedition) led a splendid charge, checked the Mullah's hordes and recaptured some of the transports, but he was unable to recover the Maxim.
The British then formed a zaraba (fort) and sent out parties to collect the scattered transport.
The enemy later tried to get away with the captured camels, but Col. Swayne took out three companies and after a sharp fight recovered the majority of them and picked up seventy rifles.

"But where to find that happiest spot below?"
Who can direct, when all pretend to know?
—Goussmith.
Many are satisfied to live a North-west Texas, having proved the value of the land in this region as good Crop Raiser. Not only Cotton, Wheat, Cotton, Corn, Feed Stuffs, Cattle, Horses, Garden Truck and Good Health flourish here—in a district where Malaria is impossible and very little doing for Jails and Hospitals. Land, which is being sold at really low figures—the constantly increasing demand, steadily boosting values—is still abundant; Farms and Ranches of all sizes, very happily located, are being purchased daily.
We will gladly supply all askers with a copy of a Little Book, published by the Northwest Texas Real Estate Association, which contains an interesting series of straightforward statements of what people have accomplished along the line of "THE DENVER ROAD."
N. B.—We find our passenger patronage very gratifying. It is necessary to run three trains daily each way as far as Wichita Falls, and two clear thru. We continue, the year round, the excellent Class A service that insures the preference of Colorado and California Tourists, Winter and Summer. By the way, we offer now more than half a dozen routes to California, the newest being via Del Norte (also good for Old Mexico), with first-grade Eating Cars all the way. We sell a Home Seeker's ticket, good thirty days, at one and a third fare the round trip, allowing stopover at Vernon and points beyond, both ways.
"Why don't you?" blandly inquires Mr. Reed. "Chaste did."

As. Tupman, a prominent lady of Richmond, Va., a great sufferer with woman's troubles, tells of her cure by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For some years I suffered with backache, severe bearing-down pains, leucorrhoea, and falling of the womb. I tried many remedies, but nothing gave any positive relief.

"I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in June, 1901. When I had taken the first half bottle, I felt a vast improvement, and have now taken ten bottles with the result that I feel like a new woman. When I commenced taking the Vegetable Compound I felt all worn out and was fast approaching complete nervous collapse. I weighed only 98 pounds. Now I weigh 109½ pounds and am improving every day. I gladly testify to the benefits received."—Mrs. R. C. Tupman, 423 West 30th St., Richmond, Va.

When a medicine has been successful in more than a million cases, it is justice to yourself to say, without trying it, "I do not believe it would help me?"

Surely you cannot wish to remain weak and sick and discouraged, exhausted with each day's work. You have some derangement of the feminine organism, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you just as surely as it has others.

Mrs. W. H. Peiham, Jr., 108 E. Baker St., Richmond, Va., says: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I must say that I do not believe there is any female medicine to compare with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I return to you my heartfelt thanks for what your medicine has done for me. Before taking the Vegetable Compound I was so badly off that I thought I could not live much longer. The little work I had to do was a burden to me. I suffered with irregular menstruation and leucorrhoea, which caused an irritation of the parts. I looked like one who had consumed, but I do not look like that now, and I owe it all to your wonderful medicine.

"I took only six bottles, but it has made me feel like a new person. I thank God that there is such a female helper as you."

Be it, therefore, believed by all women who are ill that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine they should take. It has stood the test of time, and it has hundreds of thousands of cures to its credit. Women should consider it unwise to use any other medicine.

Mrs. Pinkham, whose address is Lynn, Mass., will answer cheerfully and without cost all letters addressed to her by sick women. Perhaps she has just the knowledge that will help your case—try her to-day—it costs nothing.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.

Characteristic of Lincoln.
Col. Alexander of Topeka, Kan., was one of a committee of Kentuckians who went to see Abraham Lincoln in 1861 with reference to the abolition of slavery. They were anxious to remain in the Union, but they did not want to lose their bondmen. The spokesman of the party was a tall man of about Lincoln's height. He made an eloquent speech, filled with fine sentiments and flowery metaphor, and closed it with a crashing peroration. After he had finished Lincoln looked at him a moment and then said quietly: "Your legs are as long as mine."

CASE NO. 50,611.
C. E. Boles, Dealer in Grain and Feed; Address, 505 South Water Street, Akron, Ohio—Cured in 1896.
Mr. Boles says: "Ever since the Civil War I have had attacks of kidney and bladder trouble, decidedly worse during the last two or three years. Although I consulted physicians, some of whom told me I was verging on Bright's disease, and I was continually using standard remedies, the excruciating aching just across the kidneys, which radiated to the shoulder blades still existed. As might be expected, when my kidneys were in a disturbed condition there was a distressing and inconvenient difficulty with the action of the kidney secretions. A box of Dean's Kidney Pills, procured from Lamparter & Co.'s drug store, brought such a decided change within a week that I continued the treatment. The last attack, and it was particularly aggravated, disappeared."
Cure Confirmed Four Years After.
Four years later Mr. Boles says: "In the spring of 1896 I made a statement of my experience with Dean's Kidney Pills. This remedy cured me of terrible aching in the kidneys, in the small of my back, in the muscles of the shoulder blades, and in the limbs. During the years that have gone by I can conscientiously say there have been no recurrences of my old trouble. My confidence in Dean's Kidney Pills is stronger than ever, not only from my personal experience, but from the experience of many others in Akron, which have come to my notice."
A FEW TRIALS of this great Kidney medicine which cured Mr. Boles, will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists, price 50 cents per box.

Dropped the Subject.
He was talking to a pessimistic, sharp-tongued dame.
"Have you noticed," he asked, "that as a general thing, bachelors are wealthier than married men?"
"I have," she replied.
"Have you account for it?" he inquired.
"The poor man marries and the rich one doesn't," she answered quickly.
"A man is much more disposed to divide nothing with a woman than he is to divide something."
Thereupon he decided to let the subject drop.

As a Precaution.
The young author had attended a rehearsal of his tragedy.
"You look troubled," commented the manager. "Wish any changes?"
"None," replied the author.
"Is the dialogue or the stage?"
"Neither in the dialogue, it is to be killed, I believe, as 'Fate: A Tragedy.' I think it would be better to call it, 'Fate: A Farce.'"
"Is it a tragedy?"
"Of course it is," admitted the author. "But with the company you have gathered together to produce it, it will go better as a farce."

Green Several Notables.
Mr. Green of Wichita, Kan., who has just celebrated his 96th birthday and the 64th anniversary of his marriage is sketched by the Wichita Eagle in an interesting fashion. He was a neighbor of President Martin Van Buren and cordially hated him. He had seen and talked with a man who witnessed the famous ride of Gen. Putnam and who said that Putnam did not ride down the steps, but descended a hill. He knew Aaron Burr, Admiral Decatur, President Jackson and Santa Ana. His boyhood school knew Paul Jones.

ST. JACOB'S OIL.
In cases where bronchitis has become chronic from want of proper treatment in the earlier stages, there is nothing so good as Dr. August Koenig's Hamburg Breat Tea. In conjunction with which is strongly advised the use of St. Jacobs Oil as an outward application along the front of the throat, from close up under the chin to well down to the top of the chest; the one remedy assists the other and as intended, they work in complete union. The wonderful penetrating power of St. Jacobs Oil enables it to reach the adhesion of foreign matter, which lines the bronchial tubes and which makes breathing more and more difficult. As these adhesions become thicker and enlarged St. Jacobs Oil causes such adhesions to break away, making expectoration easier and more free. Dr. August Koenig's Hamburg Breat Tea, drank slowly and very hot, soothes and heals the parts, is comforting and soothing, stops the cough and relieves the breathing. This manner of treatment (and there is no other two remedies that will work together so successfully) reaches the difficulty from the outside and the inside at the same time. St. Jacobs Oil reaches the roots of the adhesion and assists Dr. August Koenig's Hamburg Breat Tea in clearing them; then both remedies act in union in healing and curing. The above remarks apply with equal force in cases of asthma, croup, whooping cough, enlarged tonsils and all bronchial affections. Every family should have St. Jacobs Oil and Dr. August Koenig's Hamburg Breat Tea always in the house in order that they may be promptly used in the first stages. Often the maladies develop with wonderful rapidity and complications take place with equal suddenness.

A Woman Coal Operator.
Perhaps the only woman coal operator in the country is Mrs. Jane Shirkle, of Clifton, Md., who is both superintendent and manager of a big mine. She holds a certificate of membership in the National Coal Operators' Association, and knows the mining industry and the coal market as well as any operator in Indiana. One hundred and fifty men are now on her pay roll. She has an office in her residence, and attends to every detail of the business, including the correspondence, pay rolls and the shipment of every ton of coal.

Called Him a "Corker."
When President Roosevelt desires to express his approbation of a man in the highest possible terms he calls him a "corker." The wife of a financier was presented to Mr. Roosevelt. "I am delighted to meet you," said the president. "I know your husband very well. He is a corker." The lady went away wondering. When she reached home she asked her husband what the president meant by calling him a "corker," and said she was worried because Mr. Roosevelt had expressed such an opinion on him. She felt better.

Mile Post All Right.
When Mayor Low was at Great Barrington last autumn, resting from the fatigue of a strenuous political life, he enjoyed several drives about the Berkshire country. On one of these he discovered a milestone indicating the distance to Stockbridge as four miles, when he knew they were within a much shorter radius of that town. Said Mr. Low to the driver:
"What's the matter with that milestone?"
"OH!" was the keen response promptly given. "The milestone's all right, only it's in the wrong place!"

Keen Retort.
Londoners are laughing over a story in which Lord Roberts, the diminutive warrior, is a central figure. It concerns a prominent man of great physical proportions who, on being introduced to Lord Roberts, shaded his eyes in a would-be funny attempt to stimulate difficulty in seeing the small person of the earl and remarked: "Ah, Lord Roberts, delighted, I have heard of you, but I have never seen you before." To which his lordship calmly replied: "And I have seen you, but I have never heard of you before."

Why They Escaped.
"Hellow, Blinks; hear you were visited by burglars last night?"
"Yep. They climbed in a back window and took every cent we had, together with all my wife's jewelry and the silverware."
"Did they awaken you?"
"Yes. Heard 'em getting in at the window."
"Didn't you try to stop them?"
"Yes. Slipped out the back door and over to Judge Thingumbob's to get an injunction against them, but they were gone when I got back with the writ." Truly a wise man.

GOVERNOR OF OREGON
Uses Pe-ru-na in His Family
For Colds and Grip.

CAPITOL BUILDING SALEM, OREGON.
A Letter from the Executive Officer of Oregon.

Pe-ru-na is known from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Letters of commendation and commendation testifying to the merits of Pe-ru-na as a cathartic remedy are pouring in from every State in the Union. Dr. Hartman is receiving hundreds of letters daily. All classes write those letters, from the highest to the lowest. The outdoor artisan, the clerk, the editor, the statesman, the preacher—all agree that Pe-ru-na is the cathartic remedy of the age. The stage and rostrum, recognizing catharsis as their greatest enemy, are especially enthusiastic in their praise and testimony.

Any man who wishes perfect health must be entirely free from catharsis. Catharsis is well-nigh universal; almost omnipresent. Pe-ru-na is the only absolute safeguard known. A cold is the beginning of catharsis. To prevent colds, to cure colds, to prevent catharsis of all its victims. Pe-ru-na not only cures catharsis, but prevents it. Every household should be supplied with this great remedy for coughs, colds and so forth.

The Governor of Oregon is an ardent admirer of Pe-ru-na. He keeps it constantly in the house. In a recent letter to Hartman he says:

STATE OF OREGON,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
SALEM, May 9, 1903.

Dear Sir:—I have had occasion to use Pe-ru-na medicine in my family for colds. It proved to be an excellent remedy. I had occasion to use it for other ailments. Yours very truly,
W. M. LOR

It will be noticed that the Governor has not had occasion to use Pe-ru-na other ailments. The reason for this is, other ailments begin with a cold. Use Pe-ru-na to promptly cure colds, he protects his family against other ailments. This is why every other family in the United States should do so. Keep Pe-ru-na in the house. Use it for coughs, colds, grip and other ailments of winter. There will be no other ailments in the household should provide themselves with a copy of Dr. Hartman's Address entitled "Winter Catharsis." Address Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.
