BRYAN ADDRESSED LARGE AUDIENCE HERE SATURDAY

One of the most successful financial ventures ever attempted was the bringing of Hon. Wm. J. Bryan here last Saturday for a lecture, by the Lyceum directors of Clarendon College. This was Mr. Bryan's first visit to Clarendon and hundreds of people had the opportunity of hearing him for their first time. The coming of the great Nebraskan had been well advertised and one of the largest crowds ever gathered in Clarendon were present, many coming from points sixty and seventy-five miles away.

The reception committee, composed of Dr. B. L. Jenkins, Mayor SoRelle, Dr. G. S. Slover, Tom F. Connally and Editor Braswell met Mr. Bryan at the west bound Denver train which arrived here shortly before noon. The passengers had been apprised of the presence on the train of the distinguished passenger, and when he came out of the Pullman the cars almost emptied to catch a glimpse of the man thrice candidate for the presidency.

The auditorium of the Methodist Church was crowded to capacity by the time set for the opening of the address and after liberal applause had been accorded the appearance of the speaker, the audience stood and sang "America," after which Dr. Jenkins called on Rev. Story to deliver the invocation. Tom F. Connally then presented Dr. Slover, Pres. of Clarendon Collge who, with glowing words of praise introduced Hon. William Jennings Bryan, "citizen, patriot and most of all, a Christian character." Mr. Bryan in his usual conversational style acknowledged the fulsome praise of the introduction with some pleasantries and after announcing a change in his advertised subject he devoted a few minutes to the matter of food conservation and other matters pertaining to the winning of the war.

His speech proper, however, was given over to arguments which seem satisfactory to him, for woman suffrage, and a masterly arraignment of the liquor traffic.

Those who expected to hear flights of eloquence for which Mr. Bryan won fame in his early career, were disappointed for he discarded that manner of speech years ago and is now the greatest master of conversational address, perhaps, in the world. He is a fine judge of the acoustics of every auditorium and automatically adjusts his voice so that it may be heard easily at the remotest point in the house.

After having received congratulations from the many who endorsed this or that phase of his address Mr. Bryan was met by a committee of Amarillo citizens who had motored here to convey him to their city, where he made a similar address in the evening.

FIRST ANNUAL SALE OF SWINE BREEDERS A BIG SUCCESS

The crowning event in the three-days convention of the Panhandle Swine Breeders Association, which met in Clarendon last week, came Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock when the first annual sale of registered hogs of all breeds was held at the wagon yard. The McNeal Bros., of Canyon auctioned the sale assisted by Col. McCreary, of Wayside, Tex., and Col. Holomon of Artesia, N. M. A large crowd was present and the fine specimens of hog culture offered brought remarkable prices.

The meeting as a whole was a most successful one and its success is to be attributed to the skill and energy of President R. E. Prewitt, of Happy and to the clever work of Secretary Bobbitt, of Panhandle. These men deserve much for their work in making the Panhandle Association what it is and its future prosperity will be a tribute to their faithful services.

After a pressing invitation from Childress the convention voted unanimously to hold their 1919 meeting in that city, and they are assured of a hearty welcome in that county which has already gained fame as the home of pure bred cattle and hogs.

Following is a list of the highest prices paid at the auction: Twilight, Duroc gilt, first at the Panhandle State Fair, sired by Prairie View Champion, consigned by R. E. Prewitt; went to H. C. McNeal of Canyon at $300.00.

Graham's Orion Boy, junior yearling boar, sired by Orion Cherry King Friend, consigned by Joe Graham of Quitaque; went to Prewitt & Armstrong Happy, Texas, for $205.00.

Miss Orange, a tried Poland China sow, by Big Orange, consigned by C. E. Alexander, of Childress; went for $210.00 to J. L. Orr, of Margaret, Texas.

Lady Longfellow, tried Poland China sow, consigned by Lon Alexander; went for $155.00 to J. T. Bain of Hedley, Texas.

The News presents in this issue the address of Pres. Prewitt before the convention which is indicative of the high ideals and patriotism of the man.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED FOR THE RED CROSS.

The Washington headquarters have asked the Southwestern Division of the Red Cross to furnish its share of volunteers for Red Cross work abroad. Men of business experience are needed to take charge of Red Cross work in both France and Italy. We have been asked as our quota to supply 8 men of executive ability who will be assigned on arrival abroad to one of the following positions:

Field Chiefs of Military Relief. These special positions require men of general ability, tact, imagination and ability to direct a large personnel and the supervision of the supply service. Knowledge of French is desirable but not absolutely necessary.

Assistant Field Chiefs of Military Relief must be men capable of filling the position of their chiefs if called upon. Knowledge of French desirable.

Assistant Zone Commanders, who should be men of the highest executive ability and imagination and capable of handling the situation in the zones in the absence of their superiors. These men will have to be in the closest touch with all of the activities in the zones in which they are located, will have to foresee the needs in connection with these activities and will have to possess great tact and initiative. French not necessary.

Field Representatives attached to the various army divisions of the American Red Cross, who will be the medium of contact with the Army and the chief source of information and guidance as to its requirements which must be supplied by the Red Cross. These men will be in direct contact with army commanders and heads of large hospitals. They must command the respect of, and be fully fitted to mingle, on a basis of intimacy, with such men. They must have tact, imagination, discretion and initiative. French requirements not given.

Canteen Workers at the Front. The work of these men will take them to canteens serving the French troops at the front, and will be trying and often dangerous. It is a most attractive position for those wishing to participate in actual war activities. Allowance for living expenses will be made by the French Government. Outside expenses will not exceed $40 per month. The work should appeal to men of independent means and volunteers will be much better than men receiving pay from the Red Cross. A knowledge of French is absolutely essential.

Office Managers. These men should have executive ability, and be capable of running an office organization in Paris or elsewhere, where they may be sent. French requirements not given.

Chief Section of Insurance. This man should have experience in insurance work and be able to undertake the proper placing of insurance on all Red Cross property and personnel, as this is of large proportions and widely scattered, and needs an active man who will give it constant attention. Insurance problems differ slightly in France from those in America, but the men experienced in fire and other branches of insurance here can easily handle the position. French is not required.

District Delegates. These men will work amongst the civil population and should be the type of men who were connected with the Commission for relief in Belgium. They must have a good speaking knowledge of French. Their duties include calling upon officials, both civil and military, the establishing of friendly relations with them, the studying and reporting on the work done by other agencies in the field, co-operating with these agencies and in every way furthering the relief work in the district in which they are located. French required.

Executives for Transportation Department. These men should have had general executive and business experience with motor and rail transportation. They will be located in Paris in charge of transportation depots in connection with Red Cross activities. French not required.

Ambulance Drivers for Italy who should be over draft age, as should men for Rolling Canteen Work in Italy.

SEARS, ROEBUCK CHARGED WITH UNFAIR METHODS.

Washington, March 6.—Complaint was issued today against Sears, Roebuck & Co. of Chicago, by the Federal Trade Commission, charging unfair methods of competition in the conduct of its business.

The complaint summons the firm to answer a charge that it has advertised sugar for sale at 3 to 4 cents a pound, actually at a loss, but only upon condition that certain amounts of other groceries be purchased, for which a sufficient price is charged to make a profit on the combined sale.

The complaint further charges that Sears, Roebuck & Co., with the purpose of injury to competitors, have circulated catalogues representing the quality of merchandise sold by its competitors as inferior.

The complaint charged that the low price on sugar was made for the purpose of lessening competition and creating a monopoly. A hearing has been set for April 11.

DELCO-LIGHT

Attracts "Hired Labor" to the Farm

INCREASES FARM EFFICIENCY

Most men who work for wages prefer the city shops—a definite number of working hours. On the farm there can be no fixed working schedule. At the end of a hard day's work there are always the "chores" to be done.

But where DELCO-LIGHT is used there is plenty of bright, safe electric light. "Chores" can be done with half the time and effort. The water may be pumped electrically, and there is also electric power for operating machines that must otherwise be turned by hand.

And then, after the day's work is finished, the "hired man" may share the comfort and contentment of a well-lighted, modern home, or he can retire to a private, cheerful room of his own.

DELCO-LIGHT is a complete electric light and power plant. DELCO-LIGHT runs on kerosene, and soon PAYS FOR ITSELF IN TIME AND LABOR SAVED.

The P. & O. No. 111 Lister

This lister is known to farmers wherever sold as P. & O. No. 11, but the improved type is called No. 111 on account of important improvements.

There are more of them in the hands of farmers than all other makes combined,—over 2,000 sold by one dealer in one county in West Texas. The special features on this Lister made it deserving of its immense sale. Its use is not confined to preparing for row crops; it is now almost universally used for plowing for small grain crops by listing and re-listing, leaving the ground in oval waves, which not only catches and holds the moisture but prevents the loose soils of the West from blowing away.

The adjusting link on front end of beam is an important exclusive feature on the No. 111, absolutely preventing the point from running below the desired depth. The wheels are provided with dust-proof boxes, an immense help in the sandy loam lands of the West. The feeding device absolutely deposits one seed at a time of any of the row crops, besides can be equipped for both corn and cotton. You will have to see this wonderful improvement to appreciate it. The tilting hoppers allow change of plates without emptying them. Furnished with either disc or shovel covers. This Lister embodies many other important features that will convince you that it is the best on the market.

The P. & O. No. 123 4-Wheel Lister

This lister has all the advantage of the No. 111 and in addition has rear wheels. This is desired in many localities as it enables the operator to see the seed as planted. The rear wheels have cushion springs to hold them in line with the row and following the unevenness of the ground and conform to the ridge without straining the rear frame, compelling also, the Lister to remain in proper working position at all times. The friction lock disengages automatically, allowing the wheels to castor and turn round in a very small space.

WHAT THE RED CROSS IS DOING AND WHAT YOU CAN DO

WOMEN'S WORK DEPARTMENT.

One of the most important branches of Red Cross work which has been undertaken by the Woman's Department is that of providing clothing for the hundreds of thousands of refugees in the districts that have been devastated by the war. At present it is the French and Belgian refugees for whom the appeal is being made. The various pattern companies have published patterns of the garments, and many of our Red Cross Chapters have taken up the work of making the clothing.

This is work that can be done in the central sewing rooms of the Chapters, or it can be done at home, as the garments made must above all else be durable. It is useless to send over articles made from flimsy materials that cannot stand the very hard wear they will get. For this reason we are not asking for secondhand clothing. Partially worn garments should be kept for the poor in this country, and we should send abroad only things made of new strong materials.

Materials for outer garments should be of dark colors. They may be figured, striped or plain colors, preferably black, gray or navy blue—never red and very little green. The French people have a dislike of bright colors in clothing, and at this time, when every family is in mourning, they seem particularly inappropriate. Even the clothing for the little children should be dark, excepting, of course, that for the babies. It is almost impossible to get laundry work done properly. There is no soap to be had, and little hot water. All these conditions must be considered in selecting the materials for the clothing.

There is need for about twice as much underwear as outer garments, and this holds true in all ages. There is a special need for clothing for the children from 1 to 3 years of age. If your local stores do not have the Red Cross patterns they may be ordered, through your Red Cross chapter, of our supply service at 817 North Broadway, St. Louis.

Among the most wanted articles are the following:

Girls' petticoats, made with a waist attached. McCall pattern 103-A is the size for a year-old child, 103-B is for a 2-year-old, 103-C for 4 years old, and so on up to 103-H for a girl of 14. The central sewing rooms of the Chapters, or it can be done at home, as the material should be flannel, outing flannel or flannelette, and the color preferably gray.

Boys' blouse suits, made of serge or any very strong warm material, in gray, black, brown or navy blue. McCall pattern 105-A is for a 4-year-old boy, and the sizes run up to 105-E for a 12-year-old.

Pinafores, McCall pattern size 99-A for a 4-year-old child and 99-B for a 6-year-old. Material black sateen or checked blue and white gingham.

Girls' chemise, McCall pattern 110-A for a 6-year-old, size running up to 110-G for an 18-year-old. Women's chemise, McCall pattern 152-A for a 36-inch bust and 152-B for a 38-inch bust. The materials should be heavy unbleached muslin.

LOCAL RED CROSS NEWS.

(Held From Last Week.)

Two call meetings of the Executive Committee were held last week to consider matters of importance to the work.

There will be in May a Second Red Cross War Fund Campaign for one hundred million dollars. This campaign begins on May 6th continuing till the 13th. We can all point with pride to the fact that for every dollar turned over to the War Council, $1.02 has been used for relief work. This, of course, is accounted for by the fact that all expenses were taken care of out of other funds and therefore, every dollar with the interest on it, could be used for relief.

We all realize the necessity of continuing this work and all agree that when we do anything that makes it possible for the Red Cross to continue the work "over there" or "over here" we are not only relieving suffering humanity, but we are effectively helping in the one great thing that any of us has the right to think of now—that is, "winning this war."

When we read of the magnificent work the Red Cross is accomplishing everywhere especially in France just now, and know we have our part in it we are spurred on to greater efforts, greater sacrifices realizing, in the words of vice-admiral Beason of the French Navy, "that if this war has shown us barbarity in its most horrible form, it has also shown us charity in its greatest beauty."

The following is an extract from an address by Major Grayson M. P. Murphy in Washington the latter part of last January:

Boxes from Everywhere I doubt whether I was ever more touched in my life than I was when I went, after my first trip to Italy, into our greatest Paris warehouse. It was rather late in the afternoon and getting dark as I came up on one of our floors in that tremendous building. I saw there piles and piles of boxes. I asked what was in them. They told me they were chapter boxes. And I went up and examined them, and saw the names on the boxes—the chapters that had sent them. There were little towns from all over the country—New York, the Middle West, the West and the South. They told me that they had 15,000 to 20,000 boxes there, and that there were over 100,000 more on the way from the Chapters.

Women's Work

When I looked at those boxes and thought of what filled them, the moment was a very serious one for me. To know that all over our country the women who are sending their boys and their husbands into that hell—and a great many of them will never come back—were working by the fire at home, at night; in railroad cars, in theatres, at their different meetings afternoons and mornings, working, working, working, to do what they could in this war to help care for those they loved and for those over there fighting for their country; that they had consigned to our care all of the product of their labor and that they were depending on us to see that those for whom they worked were cared for—was one of the most wonderful thoughts that I have ever had in my life.

If it had not been for the feeling of pride that came to me in the thought of the splendid support that meant at home, I doubt very much whether I should have been able to carry on under the load of responsibility that had been placed on me. We are the active agency for the people of our country over there. The responsibility and opportunity that go with that position are very wonderful and very beautiful.

We are now in our new building and ready to do your grinding. Bring your corn and get some good meal. J. M. Bozeman & Son. Lelia Lake, Texas.

LEARN THE DANGER SIGNALS OF CANCER.

Do you know that Cancer is a very common, as well as a very serious disease. In some Texas cities Cancer kills nearly twice as many people as typhoid fever and malaria combined.

But with early detection and operation, the chances of cure are very good. They decrease with every day of delay. Remember that the early and hopeful stages of this disease are usually painless. If you suspect Cancer, don't wait until there is pain, be examined at once.

Cancer is at first a local disease.

In external Cancer,—for example, on the face, lip or tongue—there is usually something to be seen or felt, such as a lump or scab, or an unhealed wound or sore. Lumps in the breast may be of special significance. Cancer inside the body is often recognized by symptoms before a lump can be seen or felt. Persistent indigestion with loss of weight and change of color, as well as other abnormal body conditions, should be thoroughly investigated.

Beware of advertised 'Cancer Cures.' Do not waste time and money by using valueless medicines.

The best preventive is a thorough

SOME SAND-STORM, WHAT?

One of the smartest things Mr. Bryan ever said was when he had been approached on the doctrine of "election" of the saints. He said "I believe in the doctrine of election. I believe that God votes for you, the devil votes against you, and you cast the deciding ballot."

The News returns thanks to Mr. Ben W. Waid for assistance rendered last week when our linotype machine suffered a breakdown. Mr. Waid, with his wife, is a visitor in our community, is a former editor and a good mechanic. Such friendly assistance refutes the statement that the milk of human kindness has all soured. Tisn't true.

Some of the mail order houses are getting into trouble over their failure to conform to the rules and regulations of the Hoover Food Conservation bureau. It is claimed that their methods have been very unfair to competition and worse, still positively unpatriotic. It is unpatriotic to buy away from home what you can get at home, and more so than ever if you spend your money with a concern which refuses to abide by the regulation of the government.

The News feels that the citizenship of Clarendon failed to give the visiting Swine Breeders the proper recognition during their meeting here last week. The absence of the business men from the sessions was very noticeable, and except for the personal efforts of a very few, there were no courtesies extended to the Association. This is not a fair estimate of our splendid citizenship, to be scattered broad-cast over the Panhandle, but unless we shake off a little of our self-centered engrossment, we shall get a name not to be desired among our neighbors. Our failure is directly traceable to our lack of a Commercial Club or other business men's organization, and The News hopes this fundamental error will be remedied in the near future.

There is a harmony prevailing between the governor and the two branches of the legislature at Austin that has not been witnessed in many long years. Such an improvement is being remarked all over the state and there is a general feeling that the sound policies of Gov. Hobby have become so evident that it has had the effect of eliminating from serious consideration the candidacy of any other man for the office of governor. Give us more results and less politics.

Clarendon citizens should begin to think over the responsibilities that come with the city election to be held April 3rd, for the purpose of electing two commissioners. It is a very important office and the very best men for the places should be accorded majorities. Personalities should be left out of the matter and prejudices should hold no place in the selection of men whose duty it will be to guide the fortunes of our city for the next two years. The News knows no reason why the present incumbents should be displaced, but a sincere ballot is a greater safeguard than a column of advice.

A man was convicted in New York state for forcible kissing his wife and charged with aggravated assault. Its a pretty come off when a man can't force his wife to kiss him occasionally but this must be indeed a peculiar woman who drags her better half in to court for kissing her. As a rule a woman complains of too little kissing, and now since the courts have stepped in and made it a crime to take what rightfully belongs to hubby in the way of kisses, we are fearful that the practice will cease altogether.—Lockney Beacon.

We join with you in your fears, Bro. Smith, but wish to point out that this happened in the brag suffrage state, New York. God save Texas.

The views of The News on the woman suffrage question are well known having been oft expressed. Since Mr. Bryan's speech here last Saturday, in which he devoted considerable time to his arguments in favor of the granting of the ballot to the women, we have been asked several times what we thought now. We have known for years that Mr. Bryan had become an advocate of woman suffrage, just like he has advocated so many will-of-the-wisp doctrines that time has exploded and will explode. We reverence Mr. Bryan for his clean, christian character and we believe that he is sincere in all he says, but he has thrice been judged unsound as a statesman by increasing majorities of the American people, and we feel no hesitation in differing with him on matters of political import. He is sound on moral questions and we have often said had he been a Methodist preacher, we would have made a bishop of him. We like Mr. Bryan but his being on the other side of the suffrage question rather confirms the soundness of our position. There isn't a single argument which he advances for his position but if carried on out will be untenable. For instance he argues that since man has such confidence in woman that he puts enough trust in her to marry her, he should be willing to trust her with the ballot. That sounds nice, but it isn't amplified. Every man trusts the woman of his choice, certainly, but on the other hand, speaking of trust: a woman who gives herself to the man of her choice, trusting her hopes and future to his protection and guidance, must have had a little in him to start on or else she could not have married him. If she gives her honor and her future physical, moral and mental well-being into his hands, she must have enough confidence in him to risk the lesser matter of her economic and political future to his judgement, which is in accord with Divine teaching. Any other course is out of harmony, Wm. J. Bryan, Pres. Wilson and idle women of wealth to the contrary, notwithstanding. Every student of politics can see that many politicians have been cajoled into advocacy of this iniquitous fad, but come what may we shall not desert the cause of home, family, love, right and justice and forty years from now the states who have made the mis-step will reverse the fallacy into which they have been led or else the nation will speedily whirl into the vortex of ruin, inevitable to all nations who have allowed the home to disintegrate.

ADDRESS OF PRES. PREWITT BEFORE THE SWINE MEN IN SESSION HERE LAST WEEK

There are a good many of the standard breeds of hogs, each possessing good qualities peculiar to themselves, and particularly adapted to certain localities of our great country. Some are foragers and are able to gather most of their feed from a wide range, this type are best for bacon.

Then there are others that stand confinement well, and lay on fat at any age; this is called the lard hog, while there is the general purpose hog that combines as near as possible the qualities of both the former breeds and all are championed by scores of loyal breeders.

But the one best breed to my notion has not been placed in the standard, never been advertised, nor sold at the public sales, and to get it is by a cross on any of the standard breeds, and its name is good care. Good care coupled with a man that really likes to go out and see the hogs eat and grow, and has a kind word for the old sow as he passes, and he can select any one of the standard breeds that he likes, and it will prove to him the one best breed—for a man does well that which he likes, and whatever breed that he likes best, he will make the best success with. I believe the day of petty jealousies between the breeders has past, with few exceptions, there are still a few that are narrow minded they can only see the good points of their own breed. But thank God they are few and getting scarcer all the time, for such a person never gets very far up in the breeding world, and they soon drop out for they never make a success.

Last fall while attending the fairs, I could not help but notice the good fellowship among the breeders of the different breeds, in going down the aisles at the fair you would find a breeder pointing out the good qualities of a breed to a visitor, that had some other breed in exhibit. Now when we get such men in our association as that we are going to get some where, for it shows that they are not only interested in some breed alone but in the greater production of swine in our great plains country, and we will go forward until we take the place in our state where we rightfully belong, for by natural environments we are destined to be the greatest pork producing section of the State.

I want to call special attention to the Childress County Live Stock Association. They are one of the most progressive in the South, and Childress County can boast of being the banner County of the state when it comes to pure bred live stock, and I believe their success is due to the utter unselfishness and good feeling that exists among its members.

Let us put all breed difference aside and all pull together for a greater production of pork on the farms of the great Panhandle, and if we find a man that does not like the breed that we are breeding, lets point him to some neighbor that breeds the kind he wants and tell him to go there, for if we should persuade him to buy a breed that he did not like he would make a failure of it and hurt the breed that much.

Our nation is in the greatest struggle in the history of the world, and no one can foresee how long it will last, and we are facing the greatest shortage of the meat bearing animals that ever was. France has only forty per cent of the meat animals she had at the beginning of the war. England is still shorter, while the smaller countries that have been overrun by the enemy are practically speaking bare of cattle and swine, and they are looking to us to feed them and we are far short of the meat production of last year, and should the war continue for several years yet, and we are short now, what will the consequences be? It is a serious matter and the country should consider it well before it is too late. In the last two weeks

Hayter Brothers

The Home of Good Clothes for Men and Boys—Nothing Else

I have had several letters from the officials at Washington urging me as president of the Panhandle Swine Breeders to lay the situation before you at this meeting, for your consideration. They insist that we must raise more food crops and more meat if we are to win this war, and while the flower of our manhood is gone to fight and to protect us against autocracy, it behooves us to supply them with good and abundant food, and those of us that can't put a gun on our shoulder can at least put a pig in the pen.

Our government has asked us to increase our pork production ten million head this year, and has undertaken to maintain a price for the 1918 crop of pigs at thirteen times the price of one bushel of corn for one hundred pounds of meat on foot. This ought to appeal to the farmers from the financial standpoint, if not from the patriotic, for it has been demonstrated that pork can be produced with ten bushels to the one hundred pounds of pork, which leaves a wide margin for profit, and by the judicious use of pasture, in the growing of hogs this can even be made wider. The farmer who raises hogs for the next few years is bound to reap a golden harvest at such prices, and the old sow will indeed prove a mortgage lifter on the farm. The quickest way to overcome this great meat shortage is by the old sow route, as the cow can only raise a calf in a year that will only average about one-third of her weight in the fall, while the sow will farrow from six to twelve pigs twice each year, that if fed out will weigh more than eight times her weight, counting only six pigs to the litter and only two hundred lbs. to the pig, and with good care this estimate can be doubled.

In the great drives they are making for the different conservations, they are hanging a card in every window, a tag on the coal shovels, but if the farmers would launch a great drive to put a brood sow in the pen on every farm of our great country, we would come forth next fall with an array of pork that would make porkless days a thing of the past, and we could feed our allied armies until victory perched on their standard, and the mighty human hog that occupies the throne of the Hohenzollerns be conquered. Let us adopt this as our slogan, "A Sow in Every Pen." The great question that confronts us today is the production of more feed.

KANSAS CITY STOCK MARKET.

Kansas City Stock Yards, March 11 1918.—Another liberal run of cattle, hogs and sheep; at Kansas City 16,000 cattle, 14,000 hogs and 10,000 sheep, a gain of 5,000 hogs over last Monday. Western and pulped cattle from Colorado and Northwest predominated, upwards 200 cars, heaviest this season. Weakness prevailed all around; cattle steady to 16 cents lower; hogs, 15 to 35 off and sheep slow and steady. Train service is improving, nearly everything in before noon.

Beef Cattle.
Fat steer supply increased over last Monday, mostly westerns and rangers. Trade slow at barely steady to 10 lower, closed weak. Prime natives, scarce, top $13. Colorado pulp ers mostly $11.50 to $12.75; Idahos $10 to $12.25; plain Arizona stockers $8.50, cows $7.40. Butcher classes steady. Colorado and Idaho cows and heifers $9.35 to $9.75. Native mixed yearlings up to $10.40. Bulls and stags mostly steady. Iowa stags $10.85. Calves, slow and unchanged. Veals $12.50 top.

Stockers and Feeders.
Thin cattle not plentiful as on last Monday with early trade irregular.

and more food products. Are we going to produce them or are we going to be slackers? Texans have never been found wanting. The flower of her manhood is in the trenches, and I believe that every farmer at home will be on the firing line.

Fleshy feeders favored, mostly steady selling from $11 to $12.40. Colorado feelers $12.20; stockers $10.25 to $11.35. Stockers, slow to 15 lower, best $10.50 to $11.40. Stock cows, heifers and breeders, about steady, mostly ranging from $8.00 to $8.75.

Hogs.
An increase of 25,000 hogs at Western markets, 5,000 more at Kansas City than last Monday, had a depressing influence here. Trade opened slow at 15 to 25 lower and closed dull at 25 to 35 off. Top was $17.50 and bulk $16.85 to $17.15 against $16.65 top and $16.30 to $16 bulk, last Monday. Quality fairly good, mostly medium weights, Pigs ruled unevenly lower.

Sheep and Lambs.
Liberal local receipts, around 10,000; over 54,000 at Western markets, an increase of 3,000 over last Monday. Trade opened slow, but prices averaged steady. Fat sheep scarce, goats scarce. Fat lambs $17.25, Western breeding ewes up to $17.50. Feeding and breeding stock in strong request.

AT REST.

Little Frankie Isaac Rape youngest daughter of W. D. Rape and wife, of Goodnight, was claimed by death's angel last Saturday at 1:15 after only six days illness. Little Frankie was born December 31, 1913 and died March 9, 1918, was four years two months and nine days old.

Through her playing on Saturday before her death she hurt her arm not thinking it very serious the family gave her medical attention. Until it grew worse they called the doctor and he pronounced it as pneumonia and the arm made it very bad. Every assistance and medical attention was given, but to no avail.

God saw fit to take the little one home, where its suffering and pains were ended. She was conscious up to five minutes before her death and took her medicine. She was a beautiful little child while the writer only knew her a short time she was a lovable little one and her vacancy in her home is so missed. But we all know she has gone to a more beautiful home and is at rest.

During her sickness she was so patient and took every thing that was given her with out a word.

Funeral services were conducted by Bro. Reed and Bro. Warren at the house and the remains was laid away at 6:00 o'clock Sunday eve, after it was discovered the body could be held no longer, awaiting relatives. The family has the sympathy of the community in their sad hour. May they so live as to meet little Frankie in the Great Beyond, where there is no more sadness, no more partings. A Friend.

LET HIM LIVE

As long as flowers their perfume give,
So long I'd let the Kaiser live—
Live and live for a million years,
With nothing to drink but Belgian tears,
With nothing to quench his awful
thirst,
But the salted brine of a Scotchman's curse.

I would let him live on a dinner each day,
Served from silver on a golden tray,— Served with things both dainty and sweet—
Served with everything but things to eat.

And I'd make him a bed of silken
sheen,
With costly linens to lie between,
With covers of down and fillets of lace
And downy pillows piled in place;
Yet when to its comfort he would yield,
It should stink with the rot of the battlefield,

And blood and bones and brains of men Should cover him, smother him—and then

His pillows should cling with the rotten cloy—
Cloy from the grave of a soldier boy.
And while God's stars their virgils keep,
And while the waves the white sands
sweep,
He should never, never, never sleep.

And through all the days, through all the years,
There should be an anthem in his ears,
Ringing and singing and never done
From the edge of light to the set of sun,

Meaning and moaning and moaning wild—
A ravaged French girl's bastard child.

And I would build him a castle by
the sea,
As lovely a castle as ever could be;
Then I'd show him a ship from over
the sea,

As fine a ship as ever could be,
Laden with everything good to eat;
Yet scarce does she touch the silvered sands;

Scarce may he reach his eager hands,
Then a hot and hellish molten shell
Should change his heaven into hell,
And though he'd watch on the wave-swept shore,
Our Luisitania would rise no more!

In "No Man's Land," where the Irish fell,

I'd start the Kaiser a private hell,
I'd jab him, stab him, give him gar;
In every wound I'd pour ground glass;
I'd march him out where the brave
boys died—

Out past the lads they crucified.
In the fearful gloom of his living tomb
There is one thing I'd do before I was through,
I'd make him sing, in a stirring manner,

The wonderful words of the "The Star Spangled Banner."

This bit of verse originally appeared in the November number of the Silent Partner. So many requests have been received for permission to Amburgh has decided to waive the copyright. Anyone, anywhere, can pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrah. Catarrah being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrah Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative power of Hall's

TROUBLE COST HER A THOUSAND DOLLARS

Was Confined to Her Home For Four Years—Goes to Movies Now And Enjoys Life.

"When my friends and neighbors see me going out to the movies with my daughters and enjoying life once more they tell me they can hardly believe I am the same bed-ridden woman they have known me to be for the last four years," said Mrs. G. A. Andrews, of 6007 Missouri Street, El Paso, Texas, the other day.

"I was laid up for more than four years with rheumatism so I was unable to leave my house, and fully half the time I lay flat of my back in bed unable to move. My body and limbs were so swollen they seemed to be twice their natural size and my face was puffed up so I could hardly see. My back hurt all the time and I could lie on neither side with comfort. My kidneys gave me no end of trouble, my head ached all the time like it would burst and my feet and finger tips tingled like they were asleep.

My nerves were all on edge so I would go all to pieces at any little noise and what little sleep I got didn't do me any good. My appetite failed and I got so I had to force myself to eat enough to keep me alive.

"I had spent all of a thousand dollars trying to get well, but nothing did me any good and I was about to give up hope when I heard of Tanlac. I was actually amazed to find I was getting better from the first few doses. I have taken three bottles so far and the swelling has entirely disappeared. My nerves are all right and I can sleep all night with comfort. I am so hungry I can hardly eat enough to satisfy my appetite and I have so much life and energy I want to keep on the go all the time. I help with the housework and the sewing and I signed my name today for the first time in four years. I could not have believed it possible for any medicine to do so much good in so short a time as Tanlac has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Clarendon by Dr. J. D. Stocking, in Hedley by J. F. Tomlinson Drug Co., and in Jericho by O. C. Brown.

Bring your watch and clock troubles to Stanley at Stocking's Store.

MRS. J. M. PEABODY.

The funeral of Mrs. J. M. Peabody was held in the Methodist Church, Sunday the 10th, inst., at 3:00 p. m., by the pastor Rev. J. W. Story. A large audience of sorrowing friends and relatives were present showing the high esteem in which this good woman was held by her neighbors and the people of Clarendon.

Her maiden name was Emma Alice McGee. She was born in Quincy, Missouri, August 26, 1857, and departed this life in Clarendon, Texas, March 9, 1918. She made profession of faith in Christ and united with the Methodist Church at the early age of thirteen years, at Valley View, Texas. From that time to the day of her death, she lived faithfully, always exemplifying the highest and truest christian virtues. She was married to J. M. Peabody in the year 1873. To this union was born twelve children, four of whom preceded her to the better world. Her husband, three sons and five daughters survive her. Her surviving sons are, W. D. Peabody, Gainesville, Texas; A. M. Peabody, Pilot Point, Texas and C. M. Peabody, Clarendon, Texas. The daughters Mrs. Allen Hopper, Aubrey, Texas; Mrs. Cora Hall, Pilot Point, Texas; Mrs. H. M. Underwood, Tucumcari, N. M.; Mrs. Joe Sloan, Hereford, Texas and Miss Edyth Peabody of Clarendon. Other relatives present at the funeral were Mr. J. H. McGee of Ft. Worth, a brother, and Mrs. E. J. Smith, of Happy, Texas, a sister, of the deceased. Also, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith, of Amarillo.

Mrs. Peabody was a woman of sterling virtues. She was a devoted wife, a painstaking, and loving mother, a good neighbor, and a true friend.

Her husband, and children mourn her loss, and her friends are sad at her taking away; but we weep not as those with out hope. We are sure that she has gone to reward of the just and expect to meet her in the better land.

SENIOR RECITAL.

Next Monday night the Misses Lucy Story, voice, Beatrice Story, violin, Manley, piano, and Hurn, piano. Every one is given a hearty welcome at the College Auditorium. Dispense with your cares and troubles, leave them under your pillow with your purse and enjoy an evening of refreshing music. We shall try to make you feel at home. COME.

The Vogue has a beautiful showing of New Spring Hats. You will find smart models to bring out the best points of every type of face.

Mrs. H. R. McFadyen and little daughter, Miriam, returned to their home in Clinton, Okla., Thursday morning.

COLLEGE SCHOOL OF MUSIC NOTES.

The College Orchestra gave its annual recital on Monday night to a very large and enthusiastic assembly.

This capable body of musicians has had a steady growth, both in numbers and efficiency, until today it stands a remarkably complete institution for a town the size of Clarendon.

There are now four distinct sections, comprising the strings (including first and second violins, cello and double bass) wind (including flute, clarinet and cornets) and the percussion section (including the usual drums, etc.)

The usual high standard of excellence was maintained on Monday night and they played with perfect ensemble a very exacting and difficult program made up from works of the masters.

Miss Loeffler, the director, contributed a violin solo and was so warmly received that an encore was demanded and then the audience did not appear to have had enough, so generous was the applause.

The Orchestra will be heard again during commencement and will play the accompaniment for The Creation which will be given at that time by the choir.

The very handsome invitations for the senior class are out and they are certainly an artistic piece of work. The first of these recitals will occur on next Monday night when the Misses Story (voice) Manley (piano) Beatrice Story (violin) and Hurn (piano) will appear.

This promises to be a very interesting recital, especially because of the variety, as will be noticed; numbers for piano, voice and violin will be offered.

MRS. KNORPP HOSTESS TO FORTY-TWO CLUB.

Mrs. Wesley Knorpp was hostess to the forty-two club Tuesday afternoon, March 12, 1918.

At the conclusion of a number of interesting games, Mrs. C. W. Bennett received first prize and Mrs. T. W. Carroll drew consolation.

Mmes. T. W. Carroll and W. H. Patrick were guests of the club.

A delicious salad course was served to twelve guests.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank the people of Goodnight and vicinity for their kindness and assistance to us during the sickness and death of our little darling daughter and sister of which will never be forgotten.

MAGIC MESSAGE SENT BY RED CROSS WORKER BRINGS SOLDIER CHEER

A striking example of the mingled pathos and service of the American Red Cross for soldiers in the camps is related in a letter from T. T. Flagler, field director of the Southern Division, Atlanta, Ga., to Henry S. Thompson, director of the Bureau of Camp Service, Washington.

An extract from Flagler's letter follows: "I was alone in the office one afternoon, trying to burn anthracite coal in a wood stove, when there was a knock on the door and out of the rain, sleet and snow came one of the best-looking types of American manhood I have seen in some time. He was of striking appearance and a bad cough which he had and the paleness of his face showed that he was convalescent. He brought a note from his commanding officer stating that the bearer was a motorcycle rider and was just getting over the grip and was very much in need of knitted articles.

"I took the man down to the warehouse, and on the way down he mentioned that several sweaters he had seen had cards on them giving the name of the woman who had knitted them, and asked me if I couldn't get him a sweater with such a card on it, as he wanted to write a letter of thanks.

"On entering the warehouse I chanced that the first sweater I picked up had stitched to it a little black-bordered card bearing the name and address of the woman and in a little, thin, shaky hand the following words:

"I am 71 years old, and God bless you, boy."

"When the soldier saw the little card he gathered up his helmet, wristlets, muffler and sweater, and his eyes were actually filled with tears as he turned to me and said, 'Isn't that splendid? That is just what I wanted!'"

SAM J. LITTLE WRITES INTERESTING LETTER FROM FRANCE

Below we reproduce a letter written by Sam J. Little, a relative of T. M. Little of this city, and who will be remembered by Clarendon people as a young man who lived in and around our town several years ago. He was a teacher before entering the army and writes a most interesting letter:

American Expeditionary Forces, in France. A. P. O. 703, February 17, 1918.

Mr. T. M. Little, Sr., Clarendon.

Dear Mr. Little:—One letter written you several weeks ago by me has up to this time brought no reply. It is possible and highly probable it was lost at sea on the ill-fated Antilles. At any rate, here starts another.

Circumstances considered, suppose I am getting along about as well as could be expected, and as well as is deserved. My health is good; have a plenty of good wholesome food, and my appetite has shown no signs of failing me, and have fairly comfortable quarters to live in. So long as all this comes up to the present standard, personally I will have little room for complaint. Like a bashful boy, as he goes walking with his first sweetheart, I shall first mention something about the weather.

Since something like a month before last Thanksgiving Day, it began raining, accompanied by frequent cold winds blowing. The ground stayed very muddy as a consequence and we were forced to wear rubber boots, or else become "oriented" as some of the boys did, and adopt the French wooden shoe. (The wooden shoe is worn quite a lot by the peasant classes.) Owing to the narrowness of the side-walks in the typical French town, pedestrian's are compelled to walk in the middle of the streets, which are, as a rule, unpaved, and are themselves about as wide as our own side-walks. And in such rainy seasons, it is everything but pleasant. But as time went on, the weather changed. It grew colder, and the snow began to fall about the middle of November, until the ground became covered in places varying in depths of from one to three feet. The top soon became frozen with a crust, slick as glass, thick enough to support a person's weight without sinking down. This kept up for a period of two months, the next change being a January thaw. The sun came out beautifully some three weeks ago, causing the elements to moderate considerably, and the snow disappeared. Recently, it has been very pleasant, and the belief is that most of the winter has passed for the present season. Present indications point to the near approach of spring.

Speaking of the towns in France, the plan upon which they seem to have been built is very much the same as a Chinese puzzle. They are, of course, ancient with many quaint old-fashioned buildings, which, no doubt, have been standing since the Middle Ages. The streets wind about in every direction, and are usually very crowded with traffic, due to their narrowness. Horse-drawn vehicles, such as heavy-wheeled wagons, (a great number of them are only two-wheeled), go rumbling along with the horses driven in tandem, never abreast and the driver afoot in nearly every instance, guiding his team with lines attached to the lead animal. The roads and highways through the rural districts are very good for motoring, however. The little business establishments, or "shops" is a better name for them, are quite quaint and old-fashioned. The most trouble a stranger has in going shopping is finding the entrance to them. They are stuck here and there in the old buildings, which are, in most cases one-story, are very obscure, indicating that the native shop-keeper is not very strong on advertising. Merchants have no delivery system for the accommodation of their residential customers. Native women can be seen in great number every day going shopping carrying an arm-basket and returning from the market places with baskets well filled with food-stuffs, usually with one arm thrust through one or several loaves of bread. The bread is baked at the shop in the shape of a huge doughnut, probably for the reason it is made more convenient for carrying, rather than for any mechanical reason. In every little town there is a public place for washing clothing, which is usually situated under a low awning on a side street. There is such a place just across the street from my sleeping quarters, and every morning when I first arise, there can be seen through my window several women washing clothes in an old rock trough. The water is supplied by an attached hand-pump. They seem to have a great time out there working and chattering away all at the same time, discussing neighborhood gossip.

The time of the day here is about seven hours different than it is where you are. For instance, when it is 7:00 o'clock, A. M. here; it is midnight there. While this is being written (7:00 P. M. Sunday), you are enjoying your 12:00 o'clock Sunday dinner. The sun is away south of us, owing to our great distance above the Equator. The days are short; the nights long. At this time of the year, however, the sun is getting farther north, causing the days to lengthen.

The attitude of the individual Frenchman toward the American is great. We find him to be very courteous always, and highly appreciative. While I was at my former station, I lived in the home of a well-to-do family of the middle class for about two months. They were at all times kind, generous and hospitable. Upon my leaving their home, some six weeks ago, they seemed to be very sorry. At present, am occupying a room in another private house, the home of an old man and an old lady. They have three boys in the French army, one of whom is a prisoner in Germany. These two old people never tire in their efforts to make things as pleasant and comfortable as possible.

well liked by all the different nationalities. The American soldier is pretty alities represented in the entente. Good humor is common to all classes, and genteel manners are practiced by everyone, besides they are very obliging and hospitable.

We have seen soldiers from all parts of the world. The whole world is in arms, as though it seems. It is difficult to determine, in all these different types of soldiers, who the best fighters are. The Canadians are a fine lot of fighters. The English "Tommy" is also very fine. The blood-thirsty Australian is not to be overlooked as a "scraper." The little Frenchman is far from being a joke, and all those, but when it comes to an everlasting "sticker" and "stayer" and never a "quitter" all hats are taken off to the "she-devil" Scotchman. The Scotchman is often referred to as "she-devil." The latter part of the nickname comes from his ferocious, bulldog tenacity in combat, while the feminine prefix comes from his manner of dress. He wears the "kilts" which are simply little short, khaki-colored skirts, similar to those worn by girls while playing basketball or riding horseback. The little skirt does not extend downward far enough to unite with or overlap the sock, and part of the lower leg is left exposed to the weather at all seasons of the year. And a peculiar thing about it is this part of the limb always appears to be clean. It is washed as often as the face, ordinarily three times a day. Every soldier is a fatalist, and looks upon the dangerous side of the conflict, as respects himself, individually, with very little concern.

Everything considered, I would say that the most enjoyable thing experienced by the American soldier serving in Europe, is getting letters and remembrances from home. This seems to be looked forward to by every khaki-clad lad over here with the greatest anticipation. Individual discontent is rampant when the mail arrives without bringing us anything from "the folks back home." We love France,—but oh, you old U. S. of A.

Every move puts me nearer the front, and would it surprise you, if you were told that I use hand and rifle grenades on my desk as paper-weights? And as this letter is being written I can hear the report of big guns discharging on the front line, despite the noise made by my typewriter.

Probably by the next writing, there will be more to write about. I could write an interesting letter, but they won't permit me. Of course, everyone understands the purpose of mail censoring, and everyone should write in a way consistent to their patriotism and common sense.

Please let me hear from you real soon with a long written out letter. Would be delighted to hear from you every week or so. Hope you are well and getting along nicely. Give my best regards to my friends there.

With the usual good feeling, I am as ever
Your Friend,
Sam J. Little
Army Field Clerk.

DOUBLE KAFFIR PRODUCTION TO KEEP OLD GLORY HIGH.

One of the most important movements that has ever come to this country is the launching of the Panhandle Food and Feed Production Campaign that will have its origin in tangible form, in Amarillo next Monday, March 18th. This movement is the result of a well directed effort at the recent Buyers' & Sellers' convention in Amarillo and was referred to the following committees: Messrs. Landerger, Masterson and Avery of Amarillo, Thos. F. Moody and Thos. V. Ellzey of Canadian, the last named gentlemen being president and secretary of the committee.

Forty-four counties of the Panhandle are called upon to meet, by a representative, in Amarillo next Monday to lay the plans for greater intensity in the cultivation of milk, maize, kaffir corn, feterita and sorghum. You can scarcely buy wheat flour today. Suppose we develop the natural products of this country into a commodity that is as essential as wheat? Say, wouldn't the Panhandle blossom like the rose then? But there is a greater reason than that: Our boys at the front must be fed and clothed and outfitted and our allied armies must be sustained.

Food will win the war. Let every county in the Panhandle send her representative to the meeting at the City Hall in Amarillo next Monday at two o'clock. Some interesting revelations will be made. Kill the Kaiser with Kaffir Corn.
