Summer Canning Program to Feature Testing of Pressure Cookers

The free testing of pressure cookers will be a feature of the food conservation and processing program at Lelia Lake and Clarendon this summer according to J. R. Gillham, local vocational agriculture instructor and supervisor of these projects.

Beginning about the first of June, one day each week will be set aside by the lady supervisors of these two plants to check pressure cookers, and to assist the interested ladies in planning their food conservation program for the summer.

Two maximum registering thermometers have been received by the local centers for this work, and one checking thermometer will be available for use at each of the two canning centers.

CHURCHWOMEN TO MEET WEDNESDAY, MAY 31

A covered-dish luncheon will be served at the close of the business session, followed by a program on the responsibilities of the churches in the post-war world. This will consist of five brief addresses, each concerned with some phase of the subject.

Mrs. Pete Kunz will speak on the responsibility of the churches in the social and economic readjustment required by the return of the civilian life. Mrs. Ann Johnson will speak on the responsibility to aid in reconstruction abroad; Mrs. C. A. Burton on the new missionary responsibilities the war has brought about; Mrs. H. T. Burton on the churches' educational responsibilities, and Mrs. Fred Chamberlain on the responsibility to encourage Christian legislation and Christian international relations.

WHEAT LOANS TO AVERAGE $1.28

Wheat loans that will average $1.28 a bushel at the farm will be made on the 1944 crop by the Commodity Credit Corporation of WFA. The average last year was $1.23. Loans will vary from the basic national rate of $1.28 to take into account location, grade and quality. Loans on farm-stored and warehouse-stored wheat will mature on demand, but not later than April 30, 1945. Any loan may be liquidated by payment in full, plus three per cent interest from date of note. Loans will be administered in counties by County Agricultural Adjustment Agency Committees under the supervision of the state committees.

RATIONING AT A GLANCE

By PEPPY BLOCKER

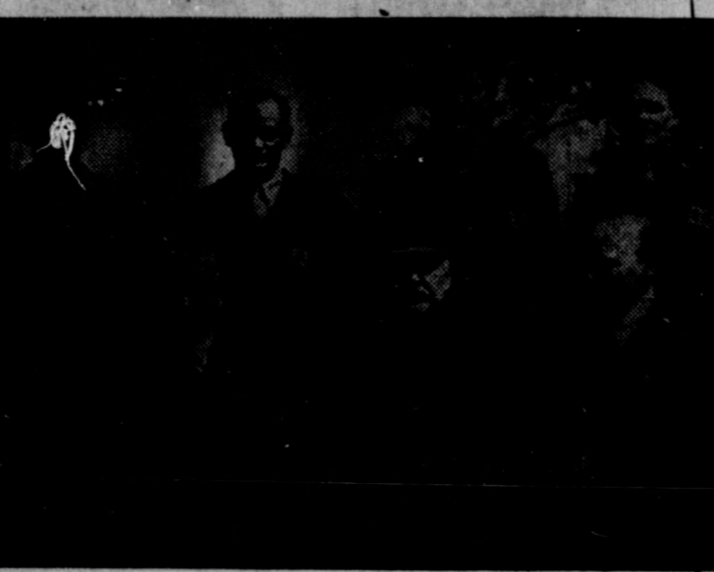

Many motorists still are confused over the tire eligibility requirements and there has developed a rather general belief that the tire problem has been solved and there are plenty of tires for all.

While synthetic rubber production is at an accelerated pace, it has been pointed out by those in charge of the rubber program, as well as larger rubber manufacturers, that it will be several months before utilization of the potential supply can be realized. At present we still are in a critical period. Indications are that the passenger car tire situation will be eased before the end of the year because of ever-increasing production facilities. The supply situation in regard to all truck tires remains critical, especially so in regard to larger sizes.

It also can be pointed out that both military and civilian tire demands have been increasing steadily, while passenger car tires on cars are becoming thinner each month. More passenger car tires will be needed as we go farther into 1944, and with estimated tire production for this year set at about three-fourths of a tire per car, there will not be enough to go around, unless every present tire capable of being recapped is recapped. Thus, even though "B" and "C" ration book holders have been brought into broader eligibility, and slight increases have been made in boards' tire quotas, all eligible applicants still cannot be taken care of. Applicants therefore still must show their essentiality.

Some people in the county are of the opinion that they must apply for canning sugar this month in order to get it for this season. You may apply for canning sugar any day except Wednesday by presenting your Book IV to the rationing office from now until February 28, 1945. According to present regulations we can issue you ten pounds per person for the first allotment. Then there will be a second allotment after July 1, 1944.

Local Nine Undefeated

The baseball efforts of the local ball team have been very gratifying to date, according to the local management of the team. Two Sundays ago the Kraft Cheese Co. of Memphis, representing that city in baseball this year, was defeated 19-7 and last Sunday in an abbreviated game called because of rain, Clarendon was leading 3-2 over Windy Valley.

TOM W. McELROY PROMOTED

The promotion of Tom W. McElroy, Paloduro, Texas, from the grade of Private, First Class to Corporal has been announced "somewhere in England" by Major General W. E. Kepner, commanding general of the Eighth AAF Fighter Command.

H. M. BREEDLOVE PROMOTED

The Tank Destroyer Replacement Training Center at North Camp Hood, Texas, announced to the grade of Private First Class.

NORTH TEXAS CAMP AND HOSPITAL COUNCIL

In accordance with the government changes, the Internment Camp at McLean has been closed. Due to dire needs in other camps, the Red Cross asked if the furniture in the day room for privates, given by Clarendon people, might be used where the need was greatest. Feeling that the people who gave to this cause would want the furnishings used, the executive committee of North Texas Camp and Hospital Council, consented to this request.

The Camp and Hospital council now has a dispersal committee with Mrs. Hugh Cypher of Borger as Chairman. She keeps written copies of requests granted, where it goes and where it comes from. Furniture is placed where the most men may be benefited. As in all Red Cross work the Camp and Hospital Council supplies the channel through which the communities may be apprised of the needs, and through which contributed articles and services can reach the posts on which they are needed.

SATURDAY IS POPPY DAY

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary will be on the street all day Saturday for the purpose of seeing that everyone who wishes to buy a poppy will have a chance to do so.

Mrs. C. Huffman, President of the Legion Auxiliary Unit 126, said today: "We hope that this year more and more people will buy the poppies and show their interest and their sympathy for the men who have fought for them and are now struggling to get back to the point where they can again become self-supporting."

The money collected for the poppies sold here Saturday goes to help the disabled veterans and their families. Children left fatherless by two world wars, are the special concern of the Legion and the Auxiliary. Their needs are often great, especially their human needs.

Eight Donley County Youths Share In Sears-Roebuck Pig Club Program

Eight Donley County youths will receive registered Poland China gilt pigs Friday, May 26th, from the Sears-Roebuck Foundation, as a portion of the Cow-Hen Program sponsored among club boys by this organization. These youths were chosen from interested club youths from over the entire county.

Youths to receive these gilts are Jackie Fowlkes, Nelson Christie, Gene Bulman, Duane Hearn, Billy Jack Jordan, Gene White, Ray Morris, and J. Warren Wynn. In addition to the eight gilts, Junior Bulman will receive a registered Poland China male pig to be used later for breeding purposes in connection with the program.

The youths will receive the gilts free of charge but each has agreed to give the top gilt pig in the first litter he raises to replace the gilt he receives. These gilts will be exhibited at Clarendon this fall during the annual fall swine show. The exhibitor of the winning gilt of the eight will take his gilt to Amarillo to compete with the winners from the other nineteen counties in this region sponsored by the Amarillo Sears & Roebuck Retail Store. This youth will have his choice of a top registered Jersey heifer from twenty according to the place his gilt wins in the regional show. The exhibitors of the 2nd, 3rd, 4th, and 5th place local gilts will receive premiums in baby chicks, turkey eggs, or turkeys. The male pig will be exhibited at both the local and the district shows this fall.

Cemetery Working Next Tuesday

A voluntary cemetery working, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, will take place at Citizens Cemetery next Tuesday, beginning at 9 a. m.

Hoes, rakes, lawn mowers and other clean-up equipment is needed along with a host of volunteers as the purpose is to get the cemetery up in as good shape as possible on Memorial day. You are also reminded to bring your lunch if you can spend the entire day.

"If a large number of volunteers turn out, it will be easily possible to clean the Cemetery up in the one day, and have it in shape to where it can be more easily kept the remainder of the year. The weed season has just begun and if we can get a good clean start, they won't have a chance to overrun the grounds so easily," Auxiliary officials stated.

Take the day off and help out—all numbers of volunteers can be used.

J. K. MORTON RESIGNS FROM MANAGERSHIP

J. K. Morton, local manager of the Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Co., after some 27 years service with this company, has resigned his position, effective June 1st. Mr. Morton stated he will look after his farm interests, and take a long deserved rest. The family will continue to reside in Clarendon.

Hit & Run Driver Bond Set at $750

H. C. Bagley, truck driver living at Chillicothe, was charged here this week for failure to stop and render aid, and his bond was set at $750 awaiting action of the Grand Jury.

The accident occurred last Friday night this side of Hedley, and it is said that Mr. Bagley sideswiped the car driven by Roy L. Vaughn and owned by W. T. Floyd of Hedley.

Green splinters from the truck bed was found by Sheriff Wright identifying the color of the truck and the man was picked up some time later between Panhandle and Borger by a patrolman. He was returned here Saturday by Sheriff Wright.

WORTH WHILE COMMENTS

BY COUNTY AGENT Charles O. Reed

On Spending Time

Right now during a war, time is often more valuable than money. So it's pretty important how a homemaker spends both.

Some time back a few farm homemakers scattered over the country cooperated in a research program on how they spent their days. They kept a record of each hour of the day for a week. On the average, they spent eight and one-half hours a day at homemaking—that is, cooking, cleaning, washing, and ironing and so on. They spent an hour doing farm chores, 45 minutes on personal care and three hours in recreation.

That was before the war, so the picture has changed some. Louise Bryant of the Texas A&M College Extension Service believes that farm women now are spending much more time doing farm and outside work and perhaps a little less on housekeeping. She believes, too, that most farm women don't get eight and a half hours rest as the guinea pig homemakers reported.

Ordinarily, most of the homemakers said they spent an hour and 15 minutes eating three meals a day. Miss Bryant says she doubts if families are spending that much time now—but they should and more, if they possibly can spare the time. Leisurely eating means better nutrition—it may mean better family relationships, too.

Next time you have a few minutes you can call your own—put your own day on paper. See if you include plenty of rest—and at least some time for community activities and for recreation or letter writing. Try to plan so you'll have time for personal grooming—doing your nails or your hair. And finally, try to save yourself. Learn to use your left hand as well as your right. Don't lift anything you can roll or slide. Budget your time and try short cuts. Remember: it takes 55 times as much energy to stoop over as it does to lie down.

Leader Plant Now In New Home

Those of you who haven't already read about our moving or heard the racket when all the shuffling took place, can now find us in our new location near the north end of main street, down where we can hear each and every train that comes through town, and incidentally those which sound like they are coming right in the same building with us. We can get used to them though if our new neighbors can put up with the racket of our big press. And the big press, by the way, seems to be our main problem. First it was moving it down here, now (this week end) we have to move it back several feet and run a concrete foundation to keep it from jumping around over the shop and playing with the Lino-type.

Regardless of the backaches and otherwise, we are getting the Leader out on time this week, and if our luck holds out and the concrete gets set, we will repeat again next week.

Arthur L. Chase
Writes Interesting
Letter From Italy

Dear folks,
April 26, 1944

As I promised in the V-Letter I wrote you yesterday, I'll try to go into some of the details of my recent visit to Naples. The trip itself was magnificent, for everything was just beginning to turn green and all the fruit orchards were in full bloom—and the grass and crops were the greenest green I have ever seen. These Italian towns are the most interesting part of the landscape (until you get within smelling distance), for practically all of them are built right on the crests of high hills—probably a holdover from Medieval days when they had to be built that way for defense. Re-

EDITORS NOTE—The following letter is so interestingly written that it merits publication that all our readers may enjoy its vivid description of a land torn by war, and of ancient places steeped in historic grandeur. The letter was written by T/Sgt. Arthur L. Chase to his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Chase. Sgt. Chase is somewhere in Italy and is connected with the 16th Machine Recording Unit, a branch of the Air Force.

gardless of the reason, they make the Italian landscape a thing of incomparable beauty, for in some places you can see five or six of them at one time.

Naples itself is everything I have ever heard said about it. It is very much like Algiers in many ways, but in comparison to Algiers it is immense and far more beautiful. As I have intimated before, most of the beauty that is in Italy is beauty only when viewed from a distance, and that holds true to some extent even in Naples, for many parts of it are filthy and some parts are (as you have no doubt read in any number of magazines) pretty well battered by the war. As a whole though it is still the beauty spot it has always been advertised as being, and the most amazing thing to me was that the people look, and walk, and dress almost like human beings, and that was a novelty to me. The city is probably still as cosmopolitan as it ever was, and walking down the Via Roma (the main shopping street) gives you almost the same feeling as walking down Fifth Avenue in New York, or Market Street in San Francisco, or even Polk Street in Amarillo!

I managed to see, at least fleetingly, most of the city and also had several trips to the outskirts in several directions and also went to Caserta and Salerno, stopping off at Pompeii for a couple of hours on the way back. The ruins were as amazing as I had expected. They made the ruins of Carthage look puny in comparison. Of course, it was evident that there had been a great deal of reconstruction when the city was unearthed, but no attempt is made to hide the fact that everything wasn't exactly in the same position as when it was unearthed. For example, you may see a standing column which had obviously been splattered all over the ground and from which large parts of the original were missing and were filled in with concrete. However, in many cases practically complete buildings were standing and in as good a condition as many of the semi-modern buildings that the Italians live in. I was surprised to find that practically the whole city was built with very peculiar thin, flat bricks—I had expected it all to be limestone or marble. Most of the buildings, of course, collapsed under the weight of the ash, so that all that is standing is part or all of the side-walls, but that which is standing is in as good condition and is as modern-looking as any modern buildings. The excavated portion of the town is far larger than I had expected, and even with a guide, we probably only hit the high spots in two hours time. Probably the most interesting thing of all was the abundance of wall paintings, all very well done, and many of them perfectly preserved. If my memory of my architecture and art courses is good, I believe that it is the only place in the world where ancient oil paintings are so well preserved. Something else interesting was the widespread use of a very distinctive shade of brownish-red wall paint over plaster, which I believe is world famous among artists because they have never been able to reproduce that exact shade. It is an unforgettably beautiful color, and you see it everywhere throughout the ruins. Mussolini evidently liked it, for practically all of the modernistic Fascist-built apartment houses and government buildings make a very dramatic use of a shade of red paint over stucco which is very similar to the "Pompei red."

Salerno took me by surprise, for I had not expected much of it as far as scenery is concerned, but it is in one of the prettiest settings for a small city that I have ever seen, and the view of it from the Naples road which is high in the hills is one I won't forget. It is situated right in the curve where the Sorrento peninsula juts out into the Mediterranean. I didn't have time to go out on the peninsula itself to Sorrento or Amalfi or any of the other famous ex-resorts located there, but the long distance view of that area from Salerno was enough to prove that the boasted beauties of the Amalfi drive are not exaggerated. The whole area south of Naples and surrounding Vesuvius is the most intensely cultivated and probably the richest land in the world and would ordinarily be very beautiful, but most of that area that I went through was still covered with coal-black volcano dust from the recent eruption of Vesuvius, and the foliage was, of course, stripped from most of the vegetation. The immediate damage to current crops was probably great, but in the long-run, the added fertility of the volcano ash is supposed to make the land even more valuable. In many places, the Italians had already plowed or hoed the dust into the soil. Vesuvius was still blowing off steam in pretty big quantities when I passed it and you could still see the hot lava smoking on the lower slopes when I was there. I snapped what should be a very remarkable picture of this from an excellent point of vantage, but I haven't had the roll developed yet. I took a whole roll of black and white pictures and most of the new roll of colored film while on the pass, but I don't know yet

We Honor the Heroes of 1944
This Memorial Day

Memorial Day comes closer home again this year. For our Nation is at War. Perhaps that neighbor boy you knew so well has just given his life, or has been seriously wounded on some far-away front. Perhaps he has been reported missing in action on land, sea or in the air.

While we pause to honor the memory of the heroes of all Wars, past and present, let's resolve to make whatever sacrifices are required to bring about the downfall of today's would-be dictators, so that we may move forward in a world of peace.

I bothered the life out of auto service men after the curtain went down on new cars. I knew I'd be in some pickle if this car wouldn't last, so I kept quizzing the fellows. Every man-jack of them had a good motor oil or some other life-saver, if I could judge. By good luck I paid real attention to one chap who had his reasons why to OIL-PLATE this engine with Conoco Nth oil. He said every explosion in your engine makes acids, which corrode bare metal. Sounds straight, eh? But with something synthetic in Conoco Nth oil keeping the metal OIL-PLATED, you'd say the fine finish receives special protection to fight the acids off. When you see you're not needing a trade-in nearly as soon as usual, you can give real credit to OIL-PLATING. New cars will be going some if they're half as far ahead as you can be right now by switching to Conoco Nth oil.

how they turned out. I'm getting pretty good with my Argus, and each roll I take turns out a little better than the previous one. I used two rolls in Africa and have used four in Italy, so I only have about four left now. These will last me a long time unless I should get another change of scenery. I'd appreciate your looking around for a few more rolls sometime before long if it isn't too hard to obtain, for I'd hate to run out at an inconvenient time. I still regret not having had my camera with me in England and in Algiers. I'm not having any of my pictures printed, for there is no enlarging apparatus available, and the natural size of the negative is too small to be of any value. I'm taking great care with the colored roll to try to snap nothing of military interest, for it is developed and censored at the film plant in the U. S. and I hate to waste film on anything that might possibly be deleted by the censor! If it's sunny this Sunday I'm going to finish the roll and mail it to the factory with instructions for them to send the finished pictures to you, for the roll is dated for development by this month. I think I messed up the other roll of colored film you sent me, but the date on it was so old that I doubt if it would have given any results. I'm going to finish taking what I believe are the remaining exposures anyway and send it along too. Maybe they can salvage something out of it.

FREE SHOW.
The biggest thing that has happened in these parts since 1934, was the meteor display in the north about 9:05 p. m. Saturday night. It really put on a show, burst in the main head into several parts, and is said to have landed all the way from Shamrock to Borger, just according to who saw it fall. Others describe it as going across New Mexico. It was about daybreak in March of 1934 that a similar meteor traveling the same course—from northeast to southwest—paid its respects to the Panhandle.

The fellow who has the cold cash, hasn't explored the area of hot times along with the other folks ganging up at the honky-tonks.

BUILDING MATERIAL.
The reason a planked steak costs you $2.85 in Amarillo is probably due to the high cost of lumber.

LIFE IN ACTION.
The Geysier interested in chicken at the age of twenty, turns to Old Crow at fifty.

WHEN WINTER COMES!
You may have read that book. This has to do with garden sass. Slapped 16 pints of English peas out of the garden into containers of a Tuesday. How's you-all's garden? These are off the Early Alaska. When the Bliss Everbearing and other big varieties come on after this week, there will be real canning up on Poverty Hill. If there is anything better than fresh English peas mingled with young spuds and smeared over with a thicknin' gravy, it hain't been discovered yet. These out of the cans next winter will taste just like fresh peas from the garden, too, thanks to the H. D. women who have spread that knowledge around. With modern knowledge and modern equipment, there is no danger of wanting for canned goods.

The church is a missionary force or it is a failure. When the disciples were scattered abroad they went every where preaching the story of the Gospel of Christ. ### Lt. Winston Wood Writes Mother From Italy

Somewhere in Italy
April 29, 1944

Dearest Mother,
Time marches on and the war continues but each day brings us one day nearer the end, which means we are that much closer to being together. It will be a great day for us all when this war ends and we resort back to living the type of life we love and are fighting for. We who have fought on foreign soil have come to know how terrible war is and we will appreciate our homeland all the more when we return. I think too many Americans will remember the war only as a time when they bought bonds, gave to various EDITORS NOTE—The following letter is typical of the thousands of letters which came from across the sea from boys who thought so tenderly of mother on Her Day. Homesick for mother, the beautiful sentiments expressed here, are worth passing on to our readers. Lieut. Wood is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Wood of near Clarendon.

funds and underwent a few sacrifices, but to we boys who have seen the sick, the hungry, the homeless and ragged people of foreign soil, war will have an entirely different meaning. I am proud to be an American and to have a part in the fight for the preservation of our way of life. It is mothers like you my dear who have made American what it is. You have worked hard and done without many things you would like to have had so that I could enjoy certain things. I love you for the type of christian example you always set in our home in your every day life. Please forgive me mother for the heartaches I have caused you and may God grant me the privilege someday of not only writing but really showing personally how much I really love you.

Mother I am enclosing a little poem that I wrote yesterday. I know it is poorly written but maybe it will at least bring to you my sentiments.

A Promise To Mother
Hitler has caused us to part,
But together we are in heart.
Mother, please, don't be blue;
Remember always, I love you.
Wipe away each little tear,
We'll soon, cause the Axis, to disappear.

Then this war, will be o'er;
And I'll be with you ever more.
Then on Mother's Day each year,
I'll be there to give you cheer.

I know this Mother's Day will be sad for you due to the recent parting of your beloved mother, but please have courage and God will continue to bless us. I know you are not the type to question God's decision and I admire you for your submission to His will.

May next Mother's Day be a happier time for us all.

I hope you received the flowers that I sent by cablegram.
Your loving son,
Winston

P.S. I am in good health and hope you and the rest of the family are the same.

Simmons Family Receives Letter From General

EDITORS NOTE—Jack is no longer at Randolph Field, having finished with flying colors and is now in training at a more advanced base. The letter was written at the time Jack entered training at Randolph Field.

Randolph Field, Texas
Feb. 16, 1944

Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Simmons,
Route 1, Hedley, Texas

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Simmons:
In a memorandum which has come to my desk this morning, I note that your boy has been classified for training as a navigator in the Army Air Forces.

In order to win this war, it is vital to have the best qualified young men in charge of navigating our bombardment airplanes—upon them will depend in large measure the success of our entire war effort.

The position of navigator calls for a high degree of intelligence, alertness and coolness. Not only the success of the mission, but the safety of his crew-mates, depends on the speed and skill with which

No patriotic American needs to be reminded that, in the Nation's interest and in his own, he must save his car.

He knows that no new cars have been made for more than two years . . . that the average car is now seven years old . . . that one out of every four cars now in use is ten years old or older!

Plainly, every single car must be kept rolling, because in a total war, every car and truck is a weapon of war.

To coax every last bit of usefulness from the aging engine, chassis, and tires of your car, you must have efficient maintenance service . . . the kind of distinguished service available at your Phillips 66 Service Station.

Phillips Tire-Saving Service includes checking air pressures at least once a week . . . inspecting for nail holes, cuts and bruises . . . examination of tire carcass to warn you when re-capping is advisable and still possible . . . and crisscrossing with the spare every 3,000 miles.

Phillips Car-Saving Service includes inspection of battery, air filter, and cooling system . . . regular lubrication of every friction point specified by the maker of your car . . . and seasonal or recommended every-sixty-day oil change.

Remember, it is your car, but it is America's mileage which you are guarding, when you drive in for Phillips wartime Car-Saving and Tire-Saving Service at the Orange and Black 66 Shield . . . the sign of famous Phillips 66 Gasoline and Phillips 66 Motor Oil.

FOR VICTORY... Buy U.S. War Bonds and Stamps

he performs his calculations. Men who will make good material for training as navigators are rare. The classification board believes that your boy has the necessary reliability, character and mathematical aptitude.

If he shows the progress we confidently expect of him, he will in all probability win his wings as a qualified navigator. Considering the rigid requirements for this training, you have every reason to be proud of your boy today. I congratulate you and him.

Sincerely yours,
G. C. Brant
Major General, U. S. Army
Commanding

German troops in Italy are so afraid of Army Ordnance "secret" weapons that German patrols along the Volturno River hastily retreated when they saw a large camera near an American artillery observation post. Some prisoners said later they thought the curious, unidentified instrument was observing and directing the very accurate American fire.

PLENTIFUL FOODS DURING JUNE

Eggs, white potatoes, canned peas and canned green and wax beans will be in plentiful supply throughout most of the country during June, the War Food Administration reports. Other plentiful foods now include—oranges; frozen vegetables; frozen baked beans; peanut butter; citrus marmalade; raisins; dried prunes; dry mix and dehydrated soups; soya flour, grits and flakes; wheat flour and bread; macaroni, spaghetti; noodles; oatmeal; and rye breakfast foods.

WE HONOR OUR DEPARTED COMRADES - - - Past and Present

Again this year, we stop to honor our departed comrades in a time of war, a time in which these men in the past as well as the present sacrificed their lives that others might live in a land of peace.

We honor these men, this Memorial Day and extend our hope that there will be fewer to join their ranks and that Peace will be known to us again within another year. They all fought for a purpose on the battlefield - - - Let us do our job here at home and help the present conflict all we can by doing all we can to help our boys come home sooner.

... a way to relax on a battleship

Wherever a U. S. battleship may be, the American way of life goes along . . . in sports, humor, customs and refreshment. So, naturally, Coca-Cola is there, too, met with frequently. Have a "Coke" is a phrase as common aboard a battle-wagon as it is ashore. It's a signal that spells out We're pals. From Atlanta to the Seven Seas, Coca-Cola is spreading the custom of the pause that refreshes,—has become a symbol of happy comradeship in many lands.

Save Vitamins In Berries

Donley County Agent, Charles Reed, believes you will be interested to know scientists have been working on berries to improve their eating qualities. And, too, they've come a long way in improving the shipping quality of berries.

It's a lot better, though, if you can eat your berries almost immediately after you've picked them—whether they're wild or were cultivated in your own garden. Hazel Phipps of the A&M College Extension Service gives the reason behind this principle: Vitamin C is easily destroyed by exposure to heat and air. So, the longer you keep berries, the less food value you'll receive. The same goes for cooking. A berry shortcake gives you more Vitamin C than a berry pie. Ripe, raw strawberries are the richest of all the berries for Vitamin C, and they also contain some Vitamin A.

Incidentally, some scientist over in North Carolina have discovered that berries ripened in the sun contain considerably more Vitamin C than those ripened in the shade. That's a good tip for gardeners to remember.

And in Montana more research workers found that one generous serving of ripe strawberries is enough to furnish a day's requirements of this vitamin. On the other hand, berries that were canned or preserved, or the unripe or bruised berries contained much less Vitamin C.

Here's one other tip from Miss Phipps. The way you wash berries may make a difference. Be sure to wash berries before you remove the stems. Removing the hull exposes the inner tissue and some of the Vitamin C can dissolve in the water. The same goes for soaking berries in water. That's a breach of nutritional etiquette.

RETURNS HOME

Mrs. Johnny Beard who has been on a 5-weeks visit with her son, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny L. Beard at San Diego, Calif., returned home this week. On her way back she visited with a sister, Mrs. V. V. Jackson at Albuquerque, N. M. Her nephew, Dick Jackson returned home with her for a visit.

Jack Pyeatt, who has been advanced to S 1/c, left Wednesday after a 4-day leave here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Pyeatt and family. He has been stationed at Norman, Okla., but says that he now has his moving orders, but when and where to, is Uncle Sam's business.

Mrs. Clyde Butler was in Amarillo Tuesday to be with her daughter Louise who had her tonsils removed at the Northwest Texas Hospital and is doing nicely.

CEILING PRICE ON GRAIN SORGHUMS

Charles Reed, Donley County Agent, has received the following information from the Office of Price Administration who has issued a ruling affecting the purchase or sale of grain sorghums produced in the state of Texas. The ruling provides that grain sorghums delivered to a railroad point or free on board track price, will be $2.08 per hundred weight. If the grain sorghums are sold at the farm the cost of transportation to the loading point shall be deducted from the ceiling price of $2.08 per hundred weight.

This ruling does not cover the sale of grain sorghums for planting seed. It should be borne in mind that the sale of grain sorghums for planting seed, when it is a known fact that the grain sorghums will not be used for planting seed, is a distinct violation of the Regulation if sold above the ceiling price.

Attends Convention

Rev. Ament returned last week from the Christian Church Convention held at Waco, Texas. There was a good attendance and splendid program was carried through. Meeting of many friends and making new acquaintances was a joy and pleasure. Rev. Ament was formerly pastor at Waco.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cottingham of Dallas visited the week end in the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Elba Ballew.

Mrs. J. H. Hurn and granddaughter Mary Ladell Cox are visiting her brother, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rush at Muskogee, Okla.

MAKE PRICE SURVEY OF LOCAL PANEL BOARD TO SERVICE FIRMS

Following up the grocery store and restaurant price surveys made recently by price panels of local boards throughout the District, this week the price panels are making a service survey, which will be a check on prices charged by automotive repair establishments, laundry and dry cleaning establishments, appliance repair shops, and shoe repair shops. This announcement came from the District Office of Price Administration in Lubbock.

These surveys are in line with the continuous program of the price panels to bring prices in line with legal ceilings. Laundry, dry cleaning and shoe repair establishments will be surveyed from May 22-29; automotive and appliance repair shops from May 29-June 3rd.

VISIT IN CLARENDON

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Graves of King County, Texas, cousin of Miss Mantie Graves, visited in Clarendon a few days last week. While here Mr. Graves had an enjoyable chat with Mr. R. C. Weatherly who he had not seen for many years. The two men have known each other for some 65 years, and were together long ago as cowboys.

Word has been received of the death of Bernard W. James, May 22nd at Richmond, Va., after a year's illness. Mr. James has visited in the Van Eaton home in Clarendon several times with his wife and their two children Mary Lucille and Van. Mrs. James will be remembered as Annie Maud Van Eaton.

Fifth War Loan Bond Drive Call To Be Sounded At Texarkana

TEXARKANA (Ark.-Texas)—Texarkana, named for three states and straddling two of them, whose fighting sons blasted their way into Salerno, Anzio and other beachheads, will be civilian America's forum on June 12 from which Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., will sound the call for D-Day on the home front.

From this comparatively small community, in reality two municipalities, Texarkana, Texas and Texarkana, Arkansas, the 5th War Loan battlecry, "Back the Attack—BUY MORE THAN BEFORE", will thunder to every hamlet and metropolis in the land.

For Bowie and Miller Counties, June 12 will be a day to be long remembered. The Governors of Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and New Mexico will be here to greet the Secretary of the Treasury. Business and industry, and civic leaders will play their important roles in a history-making program, designed to keynote the nation's effort to raise 16 billion dollars in a month, six billions of which must come from the pockets of individual Americans.

The ears of the fighting world, including millions of Americans now in life-or-death combat with the enemy, will be tuned to Texarkana, as a tiny radio station, KCMC, a Mutual affiliate, feeds the story to all America and by shortwave overseas.

For the first time, a war loan drive will be officially opened from a city other than Washington, D. C., when Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., comes here to speak on a national program beamed to overseas listeners as well. The 5th War Loan Victory-cry "Back the Attack—BUY MORE THAN BEFORE" will emanate from a town of 50,000 population which has already started on its 5th War Loan attack.

Orson Welles, of radio, stage and screen will write and produce the program which will be broadcast in connection with the War Loan opening.

Texarkana, a colorful American background for the D-Day on the home front was selected as the 5th War Loan spearhead as a result of months of planning by the Texarkana, Bowie-Miller War Finance Committee. In the fall of 1943, Willard Simmons and James R. Bryant, chairmen, suggested to Congressman Wright Patman that a war loan be opened from the border city. Congressman Patman agreed to lay the groundwork in Washington and received adequate assistance from local and district war finance committees and war finance administrators in the region.
