MUSIC DAY AT CLARENDON COLLEGE MOST SUCCESSFUL IN THE HISTORY OF INSTITUTION—ARTISTS PLEASE

For a number of years the citizens of Clarendon and neighboring counties have looked forward with a great amount of anticipation to the annual Music Day at Clarendon College. During these years the event has grown steadily in favor and in attendance and when May 16th arrived last Friday the crowning event of all the years was enjoyed.

Last September the choir, under the direction of R. Deane Shure, music director of Clarendon College, began the study of "Samson" one of the sprightliest of all standard oratorios. In spite of the many hapless events that hindered the work and the loss of many rehearsals the serious work of mastering the ensemble numbers of the master-piece was carried forward and Friday night at the Methodist church the organization was at high tide. The additional accompaniment of the big pipe organ added much to the merit of the production and much credit is to be given Miss Mable Betts for her handling of the same. The violin work of Miss Loeffler and Averyt and the piano accompaniment of Miss Faun Crane was up to their usual standard of excellence.

Those who had heard the recital given in the afternoon by the visiting artists, Mess. Sam S. Losh, baritone; and Jas. Woods, tenor, both of Fort Worth, were prepared in a measure for the unprecedented solo work of these gentlemen, but their rendition of the difficult solo numbers was so above the high order that the audience had been accustomed to in former years that their enthusiasm over the work of the artists is not at all to be wondered at. There are few oratorios with such long passages of vocalization as those of "Samson" and the interpretation and execution of Mess. Losh and Wood will remain the standard by which to measure others for many years.

As in recent years the soprano solos were sung by Mesdames Adams and Ulm of our own city, neither of whom need any praise from The News as to their splendid work. In "Samson" they surpassed their former year's work and their many friends are congratulating them over their Friday night's success. No Texas city may boast of two more finished artists than these charming ladies.

By request the program was begun with the rendition of Director Shure's setting of the Twenty-Third Psalm, and those who are familiar with this most worthy anthem are frank to say that they never heard it rendered better than on this occasion. Its success seemed to be a happy omen for the work of the evening and Director Shure is fully satisfied with this crowning work of his ten year's career as musical director in Clarendon. One thing that no doubt caused the choir to extend itself was the fact that Mr. Shure is soon to leave the city for the north and east, and after vacation will be in charge of the conservatory of music of the big state normal at Indiana, Pa. No choir ever had a director for whom they held so high a regard and whose going caused so universal regret.

The News gives prominence to the evening performance as it was of somewhat more general interest than the other events of the day, but the other three programs maintained the high standard of the day. The morning concert at the College was of unusual merit and the young ladies who participated gave ample evidence of their training. In the afternoon the pupils of Miss Betts' gave a program at 2:30 which was pleasing when it was understood that Mr. Losh is at the head of all community music for Fort Worth and Camp Bowie and is a critic upon this work, for which words of commendation our citizenship is duly thankful.

Expressing himself personally to The News man Mr. Losh said that he had not expected to find such musical talent and discrimination in a town no larger than our own, that the disparity in the size of the town and the ability of its chorus was such that it was almost incongruous—the setting was too small for such high character of work.

These gentlemen returned to Fort Worth Saturday night seemingly wonderfully impressed with our city.

CLARENDON COLLEGE CLOSED HER TWENTIETH SESSION MONDAY

CLARENDON PUBLIC SCHOOL CLOSES

The Clarendon public school closed Friday, May 16, after a very successful year, considering the conditions brought about by having to close several weeks during the winter months.

The members of the senior class, upon invitation from Clarendon College, decided to have their commencement sermon with the members of the senior class of the College. A very able and instructive sermon by Dr. Dobbs from Southern Methodist University was delivered to the classes at eleven o'clock Sunday morning.

At 2:30 Monday evening the children of the Central Ward school gave a very interesting and instructive program to a crowded house at the High School auditorium. The program exemplified the work of the children during the year and was a pleasure to those who heard it.

On Monday night at eight o'clock commencement proper was held in the high school auditorium. The graduating class was composed of twenty-one members, eighteen in literary and three in expression. A very interesting program by members of the class, consisting of; the Salutatory Address by Irma Lewis, the Valedictory by Erma Russel. Readings and musical selections were followed by the Class Address by Prof. S. H. Condon of Clarendon College. The program was concluded by a short talk and presentation of Diplomas and awarding of scholarships by the superintendent.

First honor scholarships for the girls went to Miss Erma Russel and for the boys to Mr. Harry Weatherly. Second honor scholarships for the girls went to Irma Lewis and for the boys to Mr. Leon O. Lewis, Jr. At the same time fifty-six certificates of promotion to the High School were presented to the members of the seventh grade and a medal of honor for the Grammar schools was awarded to Mattie Ruth Dean from the seventh grade.

At 10:00 Tuesday morning contests were held in the High School Auditorium between members of Miss Houk's class and medals were awarded the following, best reader, senior division, Muffet Sims; best reader, junior division, Ida Benson.

Cleo Andis visited in Memphis this week.

Clarendon College has successfully closed its twentieth session with a commencement that would do justice to any school in the state. The commencement began with the Art Reception by the Art, Domestic Science and Domestic Art departments Thursday evening at six o'clock; then followed the senior play at eight o'clock. Friday was annual Music Day, an account of which appears elsewhere in this edition. Saturday was a day of contests for oratorical, reading and debating honors, while Sunday was an ideal day for the baccalaureate sermon. The school year was formally ended with the graduating exercises and the baccalaureate address by Dr. Hoyt M. Dobbs of Dallas Monday morning.

The graduating class was composed of twenty-four members. The first honor was captured by Mr. Truly Carpenter with an average of more than 92 percent for two years, while Miss Ethel Riley followed with a not far off second of 90 percent. The class went through with their part of the exercises in a most pleasing and creditable manner. Then followed the address by Dr. Dobbs in which he chose for his theme "Spiritual Forces at Work in a Democracy." It was in his treatment of this profound subject that we really got a glimpse of the ability of the man addressing us. If his subject was lofty, he most certainly did it justice. He vividly showed how that after our nation arrived at a period of self-consciousness, a period of Nationalism naturally followed; then we merged into a period of industrialism, and today we stand on the threshold of our greatest opportunity.

To the class he addressed his final remarks, reminding them that it was better to go back and pick up a lost opportunity than never to grasp an opportunity, declaring that the "Mount of exultation is reached through the valley of humiliation."

Then Dr. Slover as president of the College made his last remarks to the class, especially pleading with them to hold up the ideals for which the institution stands; then he took opportunity to tell of what Clarendon College, by pledges already received, will be able to do in the near future in the way of enlargement and improvement, even prior to the drive to make it a senior college. Upon presentation of diplomas, the benediction was given by Dr. Dobbs and all went home feeling that they had seen in concrete the abstract statement that the wisest investment is in mind and soul.

well attended and highly enjoyed. The work of the children affords conclusive though needless proof of the excellence of Miss Betts' tutelage.

At 3:30 Mess. Losh and Woods gave a recital that shall ever stand long in the memory of the people of our city. These gentlemen came to us well recommended by report and known to a few but their technique, finish and training as artists was beyond what had been expected. The music loving people of Clarendon have long ago become competent critics of artistry and their loud and continued applause after each number rendered by these gentlemen spoke eloquently of regard in which they were instantly held. Mr. Losh's most pleasing numbers were his own "La Texanna," a very brilliant piano number, Rubenstein's "Longing" and "The Asra." His dialect songs were also graciously received by the au-dienced. Mr. Woods, who has a wonderfully rich tenor voice of timbre par excellence sang the "Celeste Aida", Tosti's "Resignation" and The program was closed with a duet, Gitz-Rice's "Dear Old Pal of Mine," "Ah, Mimi False" from the opera La Boheme, in which the vibrant baritone of Mr. Losh and the tenor of Mr. Woods blended into the most appealing number of the entire program. Shortly before the close of the program Mr. Losh made a short talk dwelling upon his surprise to find such an appreciative and discriminating audience in our city, congratulating its citizenship upon its achievements as a music center and giving bold praise to the work of Mr. Shure. This was especially

D. C. P. C. RESTRICTS WORK TO CLARENDON AND VICINITY

At a meeting of the directors of the D. C. P. C. Monday night of this week it was decided to restrict the work of the organization to the needs of Clarendon and surrounding territory and solicit funds on that basis solely. This step was made necessary by the failure of the other portions of the county to raise their quotas of the budget assessed. Several weeks of additional time was granted but as some in Hedley and other points seemed to think that the cost was greater than the resultant good, no work had been done and the local organization had no other course to pursue except to let them drop out of their own accord.

The meeting was attended by a number of farmers of our trade territory who were present to register their plea for better gin facilities for Clarendon and after listening to their requests a committee was appointed to look into the matter and see what could be done to better the conditions. It is said that the gin now in Clarendon will be overhauled and put in first class shape for the opening of the cotton season, but if this cannot be done efforts will be made by the farmers to secure a new gin.

There has been few organizations in Texas having had such phenomenal success as the D. C. P. C. since its organization and it is felt that besides the splendid work it will be able to do for Clarendon and her own territory and it will also be able to do much for the general advancement and advertisement of the entire county.

$4000 will be raised to secure a live secretary and furnish the signs to conduct the publicity campaign for the year, as well as keep the D. C. P. C. Band in running order.

Miss Annie Lou Richards attended commencement of the College this week. She was accompanied by Clarendon by the Misses Grant.

There has been a concerted effort all over Texas to divert the mind of the people from the prohibition election to be held next Saturday. The anti's have known for several years that in a straight election they would have no sort of chance to win, therefore they have sought to put the prohibition election in with other elections and having succeeded in doing that they are now doing everything in their power to make other things the issue and not one speaker in this state is championing the cause of anti-prohibition. There are, however, a number of anti-prohibition speakers who are speaking every day for woman suffrage and the amendment which will loan the state's credit to those who wish to acquire homes. We must be careful of these "blinders". As a matter of fact there are those who consider the suffrage matter important in spite of what The News thinks of it, and there are those who oppose the state credit loan measure when we are strongly for its adoption, as we are the raise of the governor's salary, but the point The News wishes to bring out is this—let us not become so interested in these other side issues that we neglect to do our whole duty in driving the accursed liquor traffic forever from the borders of our state, regardless of the action of the rest of the nation. It appears that we are to have national prohibition, and The News hopes we may, but there are being powerful influences exerted to defeat or at least modify the national measure and it falls upon us with increasing responsibility to roll up such an overwhelming majority next Saturday for a "dry" state that never shall the record of Texas be used in an effort to defeat the cause of righteousness and good government. The manhood of Texas must do its duty Saturday, May 24th. The News feels that Donley County will not fail.

The News editor is in receipt of a letter of thanks from the publicity department of the Victory Liberty Loan for this Federal Reserve District, enclosing a medal made from captured German cannon and certifying that it is "awarded by the U. S. Treasury Department for patriotic service in behalf of the liberty loan." Next to the Distinguished Service Medal or the Croix de Guerre we had rather have this little decoration from the government of the United States than any other honor we can think of. There is a wonderful satisfaction in the thought that one has done his share in "standing behind the boys" during the bitter months of the past two years—a satisfaction that will broaden as the years go by and will gladden in the silvery years of old age.

State Press of the Dallas News personated this editor in a recent issue of that paper and in castigating those who are opposed to his pink-tea ideas of politics insinuated that The Clarendon News editor was opposed to woman suffrage because he held to some dark or sinister evils of government and dared not give the ladies a chance at the polls to oppose his views. Well, let's look at that charge a minute. Never during our dozen or more years of newspaper work has this editor ever championed any cause which the best people of his community did not endorse. Never has he worked for any measure that did not contribute to the welfare of his family and his friends' families. We have fought the liquor business to the triumphant end, we have opposed the pool room all along the line and now its days are numbered. We have stood for the highest type of men for public office, like other good people have done. During all these years we have seen the respected Dallas News wobble on both sides of the fence. We have seen it support the cause of anti-prohibition, seen it fall gradually away from that side of the question and have finally seen it become a nominal supporter of prohibition. No, no, dear S. P., you are without argument when you attempt to throw asparagus on the political affiliations of The Clarendon News editor. He does not fear the ballots of women, because they vote consistently with the men, statistics which all suffragists abhor prove this without the shadow of contradiction. The good women stand for the same measures we stand for, our difference is one of the methods. We contend that they can do their most efficient work for good with their benign influence which crowns the life of every modest mother, sister and wife in the land. Some of them think otherwise—that's all.

We met a traveling man the other day who said he was worth $3,000,000. Of course all who heard him thought he was telling something that was not true, but he was right. He said: "My wife is worth a million dollars, my daughter is worth a million dollars and I have a son worth equally as much." He placed a great value upon his loved ones, but that man had a true conception of what a home was really worth in dollars and cents. If every head of a family possessed that much admiration for his wife and children there would be less heart-aches and less divorce cases in the courts. The trouble is too many wives have brutes for husbands, instead of decent human beings. The husbands if he can be rightly called such, fails to place a value upon his companion whom he promised at the marriage altar to love and protect. Every good wife is worth a million dollars to any man, but do all of them receive the proper valuation.—Ex.

Commencements of the College and the high school have come and gone. This writer never attends the closing exercises of any school but what there comes into his being a melancholy that isn't eradicated for a day or two afterwards. It must be that the breaking up of the ties of the school year effects one with a sort of sadness in spite of the natural joy of the occasion. Fourteen years ago we knew what it meant to finish the course and leave the affiliations of the school to face the responsibilities of life. The remembrance of the old days always heartens one to greater efforts and sterner performance of duty. Commencement is always what the word implies—it is the commencement of a new phase of life for the young, whether they continue their studies elsewhere or enter the practical fields of commerce.

Now they are selling us bananas by the pound. We raise our voice in protest. If this thing keeps up soon they will want to charge us for our shirts by the length of the tail.

It is amusing to see some people try to link prohibition continually with woman suffrage. Take an object lesson—the daily papers in Texas who stood for the liquor machine for a decade and only appeared to turn after the war began, every one of them are supporting woman suffrage. The Houston Post, the Fort Worth Record, the Waco Times-Herald, the Houston Chronicle, the Galveston News, the Dallas News and the Austin and San Antonio papers, every one of them opposed prohibition are doing their best to saddle double suffrage upon Texas. Take another lesson—when the votes are counted the cities in which are the largest anti majorities will give the largest vote for suffrage. If the good old prohibition vote of the small towns and country turns out to the polls they will lay low this modern heresy. Men of Texas will give this state prohibition and every other good thing if left to their own work, and ably assisted as in the past by the good mothers and wives—left to their own work.

Clarendon's Fourth of July Celebration is little more than a month off. Soon the committees who have this work in charge will be around to get your financial assistance and enlist your efforts to make it the greatest celebration in the history of our city. Every letter written ought to mention something about our Celebration and there ought to be no person in the radius of two hundred miles who does not know that Clarendon is again preparing to pull off one of those famous events. Barbecue, red lemonade, cream cones, balloons and whips—oh boy.

The Plainview News has passed its thirteenth birthday and Editor Adams is rejoicing over the fact that he don't owe a dollar on his plant, that he owns a brick home without indebtedness and that he is soon to build a brick office building for The News. Congratulations Bro. Adams, but how in the Sam Hill do you do it?

The 1919 Chautauqua is with us this week and large crowds of our people are enjoying the splendid programs under the big tent at the head of Kearney street. A splendid citizenship like our own cannot but enjoy such inspiring attractions and the Clarendon Chautauqua grows in popularity and power every year.

The News has been promised an article on the sanitary condition of our city; an article that will urge strongly such a thorough clean-up day that our city will again take her place as the cleanest city in this section. We ought not to let summer come upon us without having our city clean from alley to main street.

DELCO DEALERS ATTEND SCHOOL

Mr. Kemp, the local Delco-Light dealer, who has been in Fort Worth the past week, has just returned to Clarendon. While in Fort Worth Mr. Kemp was in attendance at a Delco-Light convention and Sales School held there by P. M. Bratten & Company, the Delco-Light distributors for this part of the country.

At this school and convention, said Mr. Kemp, considerable attention was paid to the different purposes for which electricity is coming to be used in country homes, and the advantages of electricity for people in the country were studied thoroughly.

The hot weather uses of electricity received special emphasis, it was stated, that is, the use of electricity for running fans, for heating electric flat irons and of course, for the always important matter of lighting the home and surrounding buildings.

The matter of protection from fires through the adoption of electricity instead of the coal oil lamp or other open flame means of lighting was also given considerable attention and emphasis, said Mr. Kemp. In this connection, he said, special consideration was given to the distinctive features of the Delco-Light pump and water system, an electric water system which the Delco-Light Company lately put on the market. This Delco Light pump has a pumping capacity of 350 gallons per hour and furnishes water under pressure for kitchen, bathroom, for stock troughs and maintains a pressure that will force water over any of the farm buildings in case of fire.

The chief theme of this convention or sales school, said Mr. Kemp was, first, the necessity for an aid of some sort on the farms and ranches, where help is going to be scarce this season as it was last, and the application of electricity to the labor problem.

Second, was the need for the comforts and conveniences in farm homes, conveniences which electricity will provide, conveniences which will make life easier for the women-folks and more enjoyable for the whole family.

Third, was the study of the various ways in which Delco-Light could be made to fit into the daily life and activities of the farm and ranch families in this part of our state. Mr. Kemp declares that he has brought back with him many new ideas of the possibilities of electricity, features that are possible of enjoyment by country folks anywhere and that it is his ambition to see a great number of the folks in this vicinity familiar with the advantages and benefits of this modern force—electricity, before many months shall have passed away.

PRINCIPAL NELSON GOES TO CLARENDON

It will be a matter of congratulation and at the same time the occasion for expressions of regret for the many friends of Principal J. E. Nelson to know that one day this week he was elected superintendent of schools at Clarendon, Texas, at a handsome increase of salary, congratulation because of the distinct promotion which this brings to him and regret because in his going our schools and especially the high school will sustain an irreparable loss. The fact that this splendid offer came to Mr. Nelson unsolicited furnishes great cause for congratulation. But this is not the first opportunity he has had, as many of his friends will recall. He has been offered within the last few years a place in the Dallas high school, the superintendency of the Pecos public schools and the principalship of the Abilene high school, each at a substantial increase in salary. The wonder is that Midland has been able to retain at the head of our high school a man of his ability, training and experience. His going will mean a distinct loss.

J. E. Nelson came to us as principal of the high school eight years ago, and no one has contributed more to maintaining its high standard of excellence than he has. A true man, a high toned gentleman, every inch a man, a university graduate with virtually two degrees, a thorough scholar, a true teacher, strong in discipline, strong in management and executive ability, sound in judgment brilliant in intellect, and efficient in everything he does, he is in many respects an ideal school man. He commands the respect and admiration of all who know him, whether pupils, teachers, board members, or citizens of the town. His influence for good among the faculty and students of our school can never be estimated. A modest man, quiet, unassuming, attending to his own business but doing that well, he has shown like a bright star in the firmament. In addition to all this, he is a good singer, a good ball player, an expert in Swedish gymnastics and physical training and takes an active part in the uplifting, edifying activities of the town. As a man, as a citizen, as a teacher, as an expert in science, in mathematics and physical culture, as president of the town choral society and one of its principal singers, and as a faithful and efficient member of the choirs of the city, he will be greatly missed. Clarendon has acted wisely in calling him to the head of her schools and is to be congratulated.

Not only will Mr. Nelson be missed but his estimable family as well have won enviable places in the hearts and lives of our people. Mrs. Nelson is a brilliant woman, is a graduate of two universities, and is one of the strongest teachers we have ever had. As a strong and efficient teacher in the public schools, as a Sunday-school teacher of ability and usefulness, as president of the ladies' auxiliary of one of our largest churches, and as a lady of the finest christian character and unusual social gifts, she has been invaluable to our town and will be greatly missed. Mrs. M. L. Martin, Mrs. Nelson's mother, who lives with them, and little Gail Harper, have both won enduring places in the affections of our people and should be reckoned in the distinct loss sustained in the going of the splendid family.—Midland Reporter.

CHAUTAQUA PROGRAMS PLEASE COMMUNITY

After having had the Redpath-Horner Chautauquas for a few years a town doesn't expect anything ordinary in their annual chautauqua programs, therefore it is no surprise to our people that the 1919 chautauqua should contain such a variety of programs and such a high average of entertainments. The weather has been ideal and from the very first program Tuesday afternoon the tent has been well filled with eager critics all of whom have been delighted in every number of every program. Mr. Ferris, superintendent of the chautauqua for this place is a most affable and accomplished gentleman, as are his helpers, and they with the local committee of guarantors are happy over the fact that from the very first day the guarantee has been met and the over-plus coming into the fund will be donated by the local committee to the Y. M. C. A. equipment fund for the benefit of our own city.

AN APPEAL TO THE METH- ODISTS OF CLARENDON

The result will be announced next Sunday and the report wired to Nashville, Tenn. Monday morning. See me or phone the Methodist parsonage or call at the Strickland-Story Dry Goods store and make your contribution and sign your pledge card. Don't be a slacker. "Every man a beam."

Comfort and Luxury For Rural Homes

Whether your summer home is by the lake or the seashore, in the pine woods or the mountains, whether it is a cottage, lodge, camp, houseboat or yacht.

You can have all the conveniences there—electric lights, electric fans, hot and cold water, refrigerating system—that you now enjoy in your city home.

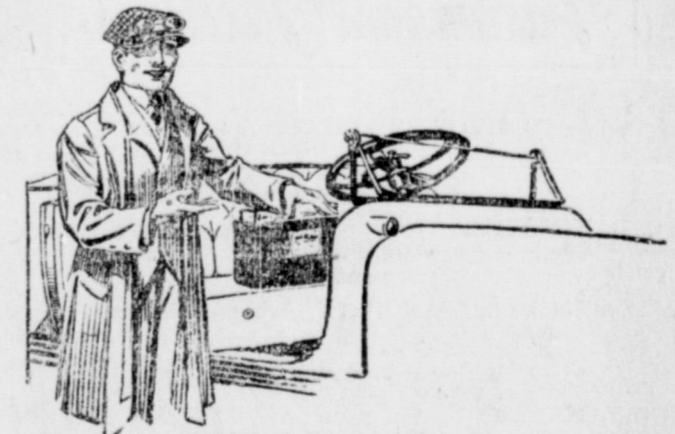

The comfort and luxury that electricity affords may be had for homes anywhere, through the aid of Delco-Light, an independent electric light and power plant developed by the same people who made the famous Delco starters and other equipment for automobiles.

By means of Delco-Light, untold enjoyment may be added to the recreation time spent in summer homes. We shall be glad to explain how easily you can have electricity provided for your own comfort next summer.

Write us that you want to investigate this matter in plenty of time for the coming outdoor season.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. ### Y. M. C. A. DRIVE

The drive is well on for sufficient funds to complete the Y. M. C. A. building, equip with all modern furniture and fixtures, and the dedication of a memorial room for the Donley county Soldiers and Sailors. We are glad to announce the drive is proceeding nicely and Clarendon's splendid citizenship is rising to the occasion and responding to the call. It is the plan of the committee, having this matter in charge, to raise $6000.00 or more and to meet this amount it has been decided to ask no one for more than $100.00, and on down to $2.50 or whatever amount as in your judgment, would be a fair proportion for you to pay, based on the amount to be raised.

One splendid citizen, however has promised the Committee $500.00 for the completion of this work, because of the interest he has in the young men of the County, and the special interest he has in building a memorial to the boys who went to war and have returned, and above all, a suitable place in the building to memorialize those heroes from Donley County, who gave their lives for religious and political liberty.

The boys express themselves as much preferring the well finished building, properly equipped with an adequate swimming pool, comfortable reading room, gymnasium, and other healthful and amusing sport, than to have a cold marble shaft standing in one of the streets. Friends, think this matter over and if you have not been solicited, hunt up a worker and ask for the amount requested of you, or tell him just what you will do.

This is a local affair, and is in no way connected with any errors that might have been done by the "Y" workers overseas, but is just our home institution and will be worth to Clarendon and her young people just what the citizenship wants to make it.

Mrs. Adair has spent $13,500.00 on the building, but owing to the high cost of building material and labor, the building could not be finished with this amount. Let the good people of Clarendon and Donley county finish this work, so when she returns, as we are told she will in the summer, find the building

GOOD NEWS

MANY CLARENDON READERS HAVE HEARD IT AND PROFIT THEREBY.

"Good news travels fast," and the thousands of bad back sufferers in Clarendon are glad to learn where relief may be found. Many a lame, weak and aching back is bad no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Our citizens are telling the good news of their experience with this tested remedy. Here is an example worth reading:

Mrs. S. H. Lovell, Fourth St., Clarendon, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills several times in the past few years with the best of results and I am only too glad to recommend them to anyone. Whenever my back gets weak or my kidneys act irregularly, I use Doan's, getting them at the McDonald Drug Co., and they never fail to relieve me."

ATTENTION PUPILS

Beginning Monday, May 26th, I will begin classes in piano, expression and stringed instruments for a short summer course, teaching at my home. Phone or see me if you care to enroll.

Miss Myrta Houk.

One Lubbock mother asked us a few days ago why the officers in Lubbock did not break up this wholesale gambling among the boys. Well, we don't know, but possibly it is because they are a little timid about starting a crusade against gambling for fear that it might wind up with the arrest and conviction of a number of the society women playing cards and winning the "pot" in the game.—Lubbock Avalanche.

PATHFINDER CLUB

The Pathfinder Club met at the home of Mrs. Nobles, May 9th. Study for the afternoon, The Life and Compositions of Greig, led by Mrs. McKillop. Mrs. Braswell read a very interesting paper on the life of Greig. Mrs. Shure and Miss Betts gave two piano selections from "Pier Gynt Suite," Miss Ottolee Raymond sang "I Love Thee," also Blackbird song by Scott. The club appreciated the numbers very much indeed.

Miss Mamie McLean gave a good report of the District meeting, which was held at Stamford, May 2, 3, and 4. Mrs. Eddins led the round table on current events.

The hostess assisted by Mrs. Braswell served delicious strawberry ice cream and cake.

This was the last club meeting of the year. As there are now 40 club books out, the President requests every one who has books belonging to the club, to return them as soon as possible, either to the librarian, Miss Bobo, or take them to the home of Mrs. Bennett, and she will return them to the librarian.

As it is very important that this be attended to soon, will every club member please look carefully thru her library, and see if there is a book that has been laid back and forgotten. We are very anxious to have them all in.
