

COUNTY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ARRANGES BALLOT FOR COUNTY PRIMARY, SATURDAY JULY 24TH

ASSESSMENT MADE AGAINST CANDIDATES AND PLACES DRAWN ON THE COUNTY TICKET—JUDGES FOR THE ELECTION WILL BE ARRANGED FOR IN THE NEXT FEW DAYS—NEAR 2,000 VOTES WILL BE POLLED IN DONLEY COUNTY

The preliminary work of the Donley County Democratic Executive Committee is practically completed and in their session of Friday last finished up that part of the work that related to the local ticket. The filings of candidates for places on the ticket were canvassed and upon the number found was based the prorata cost of the election. It was estimated that the probably cost of the July primary would run around $650, which covers the cost of paying the judges and clerks in the various voting boxes of the county, making election returns, stationery, ballots, election supplies, etc.

The highest assessment made against local candidates was against the sheriff and clerk, as these offices are the most lucrative of all. Candidates in these faces were assessed $65. County Judge and Assessor candidates were placed at $60, Treasurer $55, Commissioners $30, Weighers $30, Justice of the Peace $10. The law provides that state and district candidates may be assessed a maximum of $100 each. This law is not equitable and should be changed, according to most every committee man, who is familiar with the work of the executive committee.

The county chairman is already at work on securing judges of election in every voting box of the county and hopes to have this work completed in the course of the next week.

The ballots will be printed shortly and The News gives herewith a replica of the ticket as it will be printed:

The ticket is headed by the usual Democratic pledge, "I am a Democrat and pledge myself to support all the nominees of the Democratic party at the November election, both State and National."

"For submitting an amendment to the constitution providing for home ownership."

"Against submitting an amendment to the constitution providing for home ownership."

FARMERS BANK IDENTIFIED WITH FEDERAL RESERVE

Arrangements have been consummated whereby the Farmers' State Bank of this city has become identified with the Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas. Originally the state banks were not allowed the privilege of allying themselves with the Federal Reserve Banks as that was given only to national banks. But owing to changes taking place some months ago, the state banks may now enjoy this benefit. This is particularly advantageous to the state banks as they are allowed all the benefits of both the state and of the national banks. Friends of the local bank will be glad to hear this news as the management of the bank is wide-awake and aggressive.

MARSHMALLOW TOAST TUESDAY EVENING

In the true style of the outdoors recreation, a number of the young folks of the city spent a most enjoyable evening on Troublesome Canyon Tuesday evening. About five thirty they met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Stallings, thence they proceeded with sufficient marshmallows and toasting hooks to furnish cats if not amusement for the evening, to the canyon.

Upon arrival at the canyon many of them tried their marksmanship in Natures' shooting gallery of the rock walls along the canyon. After they had explored the more inaccessible places of the canyon, they tried their luck at toasting marshmallows, the young ladies being designated as judges of the roasting ability of the various young men. Following this they took healthful exercise at such games as Three Deep. Considerable amusement was caused by the seeming inability of a part of the players to stand up. When flying clouds began to obscure the moon, the party began to move home. Those present were Misses: Alpha Kemp, Oressa Teague, Mary Gordon, Fray Stallings, Thelma Allen, Delta Kemp, L. V. Herndon, Evangeline Loeffler, Orene Hudgens, Lizzie Martin, Ethel Hudgens, and Dorothy Smith; Messrs: Harold Smith, James Miller, Loyd Stallings, Joe Gordon, Charles Ferguson and Charles Dean. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. Stallings, Mrs. Teague, and Miss Marquis.

SHOOTING SCRAPE RESULTS IN A SLIGHT INJURY

In a gun duel recalling the old days at the JA ranch Tuesday, Henry Rowen is alleged to have been shot by Jack Woods. Rowden was behind his horse his head being near the horn of his saddle. The bullet struck the horn of the saddle, splitting, two pieces going in his face and one small piece in his arm. He was brought to town for medical attention. Jack Woods was not injured, the shot fired by the other party is said to have gone wild.

Henry Rowden will have a preliminary hearing Saturday at this place. Jack Woods waived a hearing pending the action of the grand jury. Both men are under fifteen hundred dollar bonds. The cause of the affray could not be learned.

MOONLIGHT PICNIC TUESDAY EVENING

A number of young couples spent a most enjoyable time with a moonlight picnic on the river Tuesday evening. All the elements of a successful picnic were at hand; a beautiful evening, pleasurable scenery, and a merry crowd. Eats appropriate to the occasion were in abundance and at the proper time the party was refreshed by them. Those enjoying the occasion were Misses: Marjorie Turner, Ethel Gentry, Annie Muir, Laura Muir, and Elizabeth Dyer. Mesdames: A. N. McCardle, B. Younger, J. R. Calhoun; Messrs: A. N. McCardle, B. Younger, J. R. Calhoun, Earnest Pope, Lee Pope, Curtis Keen, Edgar Burtons, T. H. Ellis and Parks Chamberlain.

GOLDSTON CANNING CLUB

The Goldston Canning Club girls met at the home of Miss Mabel Eichelberger the 29th of June to see that the girls were all prepared for the parade. All members are very interested. Our plans are being laid for the Fourth. We'll have another meeting to complete our plans. Mrs. Odos Caraway and Miss Cassandra Sims are assisting us.

AMARILLO TO WELCOME WINNING SHRINE CLUB

Amarillo, July 1.—Panhandle citizens, especially members of the Masonic fraternity, have won a victory that will prove in future years to be one of the greatest in the history of the country. Khiva Shrine Club has been granted a dispensation for a temple, and after Saturday of this week the Shrine Club will cease to function and members will actually have the benefits and honor of having a temple. A large amount of money has been collected for the purpose of building a temple and actual work will begin, it is thought in the near future.

WILLIAMS-HODGES

Miss Grace Hodges, of Clarendon, Texas, and A. Irving Williams formerly of Oklahoma City and at present a resident of Washington, D. C. were married at 10 o'clock yesterday morning at the home of the brides' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wilson, in North Rosemont, the Rev. M. Leo Rippey, assistant pastor of the Mount Vernon Place Methodist Episcopal Church, Washington, and a former resident of the bride's home town, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Williams will make their home in Washington.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION IN SESSION THIS WEEK

VARIOUS COMMITTEES ARE HARD WORK FRAMING PLATFORM—LEAGUE OF NATIONS ACCEPTED WITH RESERVATIONS—BALLOTING FRIDAY

NUMBER OF VOTES NECESSARY FOR CHOICE

San Francisco, July 1.—The number of delegates entitled to vote on the presidential nomination is 1,096, two delegates from the canal zone having been seated by resolutions in the convention.

The number necessary for a nomination is two-thirds of those actually voting, so the nominating total may chance on each ballot.

Should all delegates vote, the number necessary to nominate would be 731.

The resolutions committee of the Democratic National Convention today adopted a League of Nations plank, putting the party on record as favoring ratification of the treaty without reservations that would impair its essential integrity, with an amendment by Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, stating that the party does not oppose reservations that would make the pact clearer and more specific as to American obligations and sovereignty under the League.

They said Senator Glass and Secretary Colby, representing President Wilson directly, had insisted on a plank which was to all intents and purposes an endorsement of the covenant exactly as Wilson brought it back. The plank as adopted, according to their view, gives Democratic Senators a right to vote for the League reservations on article ten, or on any of the League reservations, if they think them necessary to clarify the treaty and to make plain that the United States does not surrender any of its sovereignty.

That is what Democrats who supported the League reservations, particularly the one to Article Ten, said these reservations did.

Walsh first urged adoption of a complete substitute for the so-called Virginia or administration-Logeue plank. The vital portion of his substitute was as follows:

"We denounce any movement of any political party seeking to make the ratification of the Versailles treaty a political issue in the coming election. The drafting and ratification of international agreements and treaties should never be subjected to partisan or political consideration."

"The Democratic party desires the ratification of the peace treaty of Versailles without nullification or changes, but it favors the acceptance of any reservations making clearer and more specific the obligations of the United States to its League associates or which will make it more easily apparent to doubtful elements of our people that the covenant in nowise impairs or destroys the sovereignty of the United States."

The latter portion of this proposed plank, in slightly different phraseology, is what the committee adopted as an amendment to the League plank.

Supporters of the Walsh proposal declared that the acceptance of the amendment by the sub-committee was a defeat for the administration forces.

While Wilson insisted that Article Ten must stand exactly as written, being the heart of the covenant, the Democrats who opposed his reservation held that Article Ten without reservations might cause the United States to lose its sovereign right to declare war when it saw fit.

The fact that the resolutions committee, by so decisive a vote, made a change in the language of a plank personally approved by the President and reported on good authority to have been written by him, was construed by anti-administration committee men as a defeat for the administration. They pointed out that the members of the committee were told by the President's spokesmen here that he desired his League plank adopted without the dotting of an "i" or the crossing of a "t."

The session at which the fight over the League occurred was marked by unusual efforts by Senator Glass, chairman of the resolutions committee, to keep secret everything concerning the deliberations and action of the committee. All persons not members of the committee were ordered to remain fifty feet away from the committee room doors.

Glass pledged the committee to absolute secrecy until the platform was ready for presentation to the convention.

When the committee met again at 10 a. m. today, the liquor and Irish questions remained to be decided. Some minor planks were adopted.

FOUND SKELETON IN FIELD LONG CULTIVATED

Joe H. Hurn and family returned Monday from a short stay on their stock farm near Mobeetie. The farm is four miles west of that place. While there the skeleton of a man was unearthed in the field that had been in cultivation for fourteen years. Mr. Hurn has owned the place nineteen years. No one has been missed in that section during this time and it is supposed that the remains are those of some one connected with the old fort at Mobeetie which was among the very first in this western country. The remains were in a good state of preservation and appeared to be that of a man of about forty years judging from the teeth. The idea of the remains being that of an Indian is doubted because the remains were found in a low place or sag in the sand when the red man always chose a high place, hill or knoll for his burial place. If the remains are those of an Indian, he evidently was made a "good" one thru the unerring aim of a frontiersman in the early days of settling the Panhandle.

Mrs. George Kemp's sister and husband left for home the first of the week, after a few days' visit.

Our Sunday School is improving and doing nicely. Everybody is invited.

A good singing was enjoyed at Mr. Oren Hott's Sunday night.

Henry Doshier and mother spent last Sunday with his brother, Charley Dozier.

There is going to be a revival meeting start at Chamberlain the first Sunday in August. Everybody come.

LUNCHEON TUESDAY FOLLOWED BY BIG MEETING

REGULAR TUESDAY LUNCHEON WAS SERVED BY PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION—LARGER ATTENDANCE THAN USUAL DESPITE THE HEAT

Besides a number of visitors the Tuesday Luncheon attendance of local business men was larger than on any other event this summer. Every attendant was in high spirits and the occasion was marked by splendid fellowship. The menu of fried chicken, creamed potatoes, peas, sliced tomatoes, pie a la mode, was served by the Parent-Teachers' Association and proved one of the most delightful lunch courses that the membership has enjoyed.

After a short speech by an insurance man of Omaha, Neb., Capt. E. A. Simpson of Amarillo, formerly of this city made a laudatory address concerning Clarendon and Donley County.

The question of having electric power two mornings a week in the residence district instead of one full day was discussed and recommended to the city commission and light company. It is very probable that the power will be on in the residence district every Monday and Tuesday mornings until the new equipment for the plant arrives.

It was voted to dispense with next Tuesday's luncheon as it comes immediately on the heels of Monday, July 5th, the big day in Clarendon.

Mrs. A. A. Tufts, of Camden, Arkansas, is here visiting her sister, Mrs. I. W. Carhart.

and the labor plank containing strong declarations in favor of collective bargaining and better conditions for workers, was accepted in the all night session, committee members said.

As submitted to the full committee by the sub-committee on drafting, the platform was silent upon prohibition. The sub-committee preferred to let the full committee decide for itself whether it wanted to heed the pleas of the drys for a plank endorsing the eighteenth amendment and enforcement of the Volstead law or accept those of the wets who demand a pledge to modify and make less stringent the Volstead law, and to give the separate states the right to decide what shall be the alcoholic content of beverages sold.

W. J. Bryan was prepared to deliver a strong personal appeal for a dry plank, or at least, for silence on the question. Congressman Sabath of Illinois and James R. Nugent of New Jersey were to argue the wet case.

Clarendon High School and Goldston Club Girls on the East side of the square; Grammar School and Lelia Lake Club Girls on the West side of square; Martin and Naylor Clubs on North side; Hedley and Windy Valley on South side and Giles and Ashtola Club Girls on East side of Methodist church lawn. 10. All trucks, delivery cars, express cars, motorcycles, etc., will line up West on Front street past Watson and Antrobus Hardware store.

The Canning Club Girls will lead the parade and the rest will fall in on signal in order named. Photographers will be stationed at various vantage points to get pictures of the parade which it is believed will be the Biggest Motor Parade ever staged in a Panhandle city. The Parade will take less than an hour and it is hoped that every motor vehicle in the country will take part in the parade. It will be an advertising feature each dealer can well afford to take time and trouble to work up.

After the parade there will be a Ball Game at the Collège Ball Park, Political Speaking at the Court House and Flying at the landing field, lasting until noon. In the afternoon there will be another ball game, more political speaking and flying.

At 4 o'clock the races, bronc busting and goat roping will be staged on Fair Park grounds. The admission will be four bits and entries are open for ambitious brethren. There will be a strong line of pure old hand down pitching ponies. $60 in prizes will be given for best riders entering and enough horses for all concerned. If you have any nasty horse flesh that you want ridden, or want to sell because he can't be ridden bring him in. There is no fee on riding contests.

If as many as three relay teams can be found, $20 will be paid in addition to pot resulting from $5 entrance fee on relay race for the winning team.

The old familiar Cigar race will pay as prize money a Ten Spot William. Entrance fee of $1 will be charged in this event. It is open to every man and horse in the county.

Throughout the entire day the Automotive Exhibition will be open at the New Buick Garage on First Street and there are a number of interesting entries in this show along in Buicks, Dodges, Studebakers, Paiges, and the rest will be shown in this spacious new building; and it will be interesting and instructive to look thru the building day or night. A number of the dealers are planning special features and the retail stores will decorate their windows especially for the day.

The Y building will be open and fitted with chairs and plenty of water for the ladies to rest and rock their small children to sleep. Make yourselves at home here and enjoy the day to the fullest.

There will be no dinner served. The great number that are expected make this impossible. Bring your own lunches and spread them under any of the shade, at the Y or at any place that you desire.

The annual dance at the Opera House will be staged at 8:30 with Jessie's Orchestra providing special music.

At 7 o'clock if there are five or more entries there will be staged a SLOW RACE—Running in high gear the last car to cover a certain distance to win—not touching the clutch and handbrakes as to number of cylinders in motor. Entrance fee of $5 will be charged in this event to go to the winners in basis of 60 per cent. first place and 40 per cent. for second place.

The whole day will be just what you make it. It is impossible to entertain a crowd that don't want to be entertained. It is easy to provide a BIG DAY for the crowd that is looking for a Big Day when they come—even if a lot of things do go wrong. So it is really up to each of you just how much fun you have on this day. Come with the idea that you are going to meet everybody you ever did know and take part in everything that is to be found and with a grin as long as your arm smeared right square across your mug and you will have a good time. Come with an ingrowing grouch, a critical mind and a sour disposition and you will find plenty of things to make you miserable. And worse than that you will make a lot of other folks likewise miserable.

The provisions have been made for a Big Day and it only remains for the folks that come to make it so or ruin it. But believe me, a lot of us are going to have a lot of fun. Throw away your troubles and get in the game—there's a Big Time going on in Clarendon the 5th. Come Out.

POULTRY BREEDERS MEETING

The Donley County Poultry Breeders Association will hold the regular monthly meeting at the Courthouse Saturday, July 3rd. Doors open to everyone interested in the poultry industry of this county, as we are expecting this to be one of the most interesting meetings that has ever been held.

Remember we will have representatives from every community in the county, where community organizations have been established. We are getting ready to do things in the right way.

We realize the facts that Donley county is beginning to be recognized as a producer of honest-to-goodness standard bred poultry. Mrs. Chitwood says that immediately after Rev. C. N. N. Ferguson, Fred Story, Mrs. L. L. Naylor, Willie Moreland, T. H. Peebles and several other producers of standard bred poultry of Donley County, takes off first prize on their particular breed at the State Fair this fall, which they are sure to do if they exhibit—the Association will put out a Donley County Poultry Journal.

All matters of importance will be discussed at this meeting. Everybody come.

NOTICE—Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of The News will be gladly corrected upon its being brought to the attention of the publisher.

According to Geo. Bailey of the Houston Post, when you meet a stylishly attired young lady never use the hackneyed expression "I hope to see more of you"—don't be unreasonable.

With the July primary only a few weeks off The News is still unable to get up much enthusiasm on behalf of any candidate, especially in the governor's race. The day of political shirt tearing is becoming as remote as the days of cheap shirting.

Editor Milton Moody of the McLean News was married recently to Miss Tackitt of Denton. Editor Moody is a former employee of The News, has a dandy business over at McLean. He recently announced the purchase of a model five linotype. Now what we have to say is just this—when a newspaper man sports a new wife and a new machine all in the same summer—well business is certain to pick up. Luck to you Milton and as you lock your forms and go to press may no corrections ever be necessary.

The News compliments Editor Ralph Shuffler of the Olney Enterprise on the acquisition of a fine boy at his home. If the youngster combines the pep of his father with the grace of his mother he will be the Beau Brummel of the Texas Press.

The News is in receipt of an announcement of the marriage of Miss Alma Ray Johnson, daughter of Lieut. Gov. and Mrs. W. A. Johnson of Memphis to a Mr. Bass, connected with one of the banks of that neighboring city. The wedding occurred at Fort Worth, Sunday, June 13th. The News family offers congratulations on this happy event and wishes for the young couple a long life of unalloyed happiness.

The Panhandle Bankers Association in their session last week at Clovis, New Mexico, elected Fred E. Chamberlain of this city 1st vice-president of the organization, even though sickness kept him from being in attendance. Mr. Chamberlain is recognized as one of the most capable bankers of this section and his bank is known over the state for its strength and liberal accommodations. The News predicts that next year Mr. Chamberlain will be elected president of the Panhandle Bankers and right now we entertain the hope that our city will have a new hotel and be ready to entertain the bankers in 1921 when Mr. Chamberlain will wield the gavel. Clarendon men are leaders in all lines.

Monday next is Clarendon's great Automotive Style Show occasion. On that day this city will be host to thousands from this and neighboring counties. Secretary Keen has been working relentlessly on the entertainment features of the program and no effort is being spared to make this the greatest event ever staged in this section of the Panhandle. Clarendon is happy to be your host on this occasion and every farmer and stockman who is interested in the motorization of the farm—and the modern farm will be motorized in every particular—will find that the day will prove of great educational value and worth much in practical ways besides the entertainment. Come one, and come all—you are welcome and will be well entertained.

While The News does not question the personal patriotism of many union laborers before the war, during the war and after the war, yet the fact that union leaders called and put into effect six thousand strikes during the progress of the war is conclusive evidence to the unbiased student of economic conditions that the present regime of labor leaders is in the majority disloyal to this government and therefore untrue to the men whose leaders they claim to be. The present open shop movement that is covering the entire nation is but the revolt of the public mind against the "unionism" displayed in the past three years. In history no organization has ever been able to play an unfair game without reaping the natural results of their unfairness. The labor leaders have been unfair to their employers and unfair to the public, and although their employers have been as yet unable to resent the meddling of the leaders, the public has at last risen in their might and is proceeding in a forceful manner to give Sam Gompers and Co., some very pointed lessons in a little drama entitled "The Worm Has Turned." Gompers and his followers received cold comfort at the Chicago convention of the Republican party and the rank and file of the Democratic party are hoping that their reception at San Francisco will hold no better welcome. The men who compose the unions are in the main citizens who are willing to give a day's work for a day's pay and have very little inclination to strike. Their unrest is almost entirely chargeable to their crack-brained leaders and the public is finding out where the trouble lies. For many years the legislators of this country gave most of their time in regulating capital. Now a much larger but not more needful task faces the public of regulating the unions. The safety of the nation demands it.

Hell is considered a very "dry" place. One morning recently in San Francisco, Senator Robt. L. Owen of Oklahoma was invited to a breakfast given by the Democratic women of California. He was asked if he favored light wines and beer. His most emphatic statement was "Hell, no". That was a "dry" answer, alright, even if it was a little rough before ladies. News readers will remember what we have repeatedly said about the undesirability of women having to listen to the usual round of political talk. "Equality" means lots of things. The News applauds Senator Owen's "dry" stand, even if it cannot endorse the coarse language.

The Thomason-for-governor headquarters give out the following straw vote results which we present to the News readers for what it may be worth. A straw vote taken on the special train to San Francisco bearing the Texas Democratic delegation resulted as follows: Thomason, 84; Neff, 32; Looney, 23; Bailey, 4. A similar vote taken on board the Rotary Special from Texas to Atlantic City showed Thomason, 68; Neff, 59; Bailey, 16; Looney, 4. Is a straw vote worth anything, anyhow?

Our good friend Loomis of the Canadian Record has outgrown his model five linotype and announces the purchase of a new model fourteen. This later machine is the sort of machine that enables The News to get by in these days of few printers and we congratulate the Record on doing the right thing at the right time.

WILL ADVANCE MONEY ON MOTOR-IMPLEMENTS
At a recent meeting of the Tractor and Implement Club at Dallas Judge Ramsey and Cashier Talley of the Federal Reserve Bank, made talks about the present money conditions. Mr. Talley stated frankly that they considered a farmer's note secured by a tractor or other labor saving implements, the best notes they had, and that they encouraged their banks to loan money to the farmers to buy tractors as well as other implements. This goes to show that there is no ban on advancing money to further the cause of agriculture, and every bank can loan money for this purpose and be assured that the paper will be taken care of by the Federal Reserve Bank without discrimination.

NO WONDER THINGS DON'T GO RIGHT WITH US

An old-fashioned philosopher, after meditating earnestly on what ails the world today, recently gave vent to the following list of ills, which was printed in the Shop Mark, house organ of Berkey & Gay, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Too many diamonds and not enough alarm clocks.
Too many silk shirts and not enough blue flannel ones.
Too many pointed-toed shoes and not enough square toed ones.
Too many serge suits and not enough overalls.
Too much decollette and not enough aprons.
Too many satin-upholstered limousines and not enough cows.
Too many customers and not enough producers.
Too much oil stock and not enough savings accounts.
Too much envy of the results of hard work and too little desire to emulate it.
Too many desiring short cuts to wealth and too few willing to pay the price.
Too much of the spirit of "get while the getting is good" and not enough of old-fashioned Christianity.
Too much discontent that vents itself in mere complaining and too little real effort to remedy conditions.
Too much class consciousness and too little common democracy and love of humanity.—Literary Digest.

DO YOU KNOW THAT—

No president or ex-president has died out of the United States.
The first "dark horse" candidate elected to the presidency was James K. Polk.
John Adams was the longest lived of the presidents, dying in his ninety-first year.
New York has furnished more than one-third of all the vice-presidents of the United States.
No senator holding office was ever elected to the presidency, but Garfield was Senator-elect when he was nominated.
The first five presidents of the United States ended their terms of service each in the sixty-sixth year of his age.
No naval man has ever held the presidency, while 14 of the presidents were at one time or another connected with the army.
Excepting Van Buren, Buchanan and Cleveland—during his first term—all the presidents were married at the time of their election.
At the time of the first inauguration of President Lincoln there were five former presidents living—more than at any other period in the history of the nation.

THE DIVORCE EVIL

Judge W. S. Anderson, of the 37th Judicial District of Bexar county, Texas, has granted 7000 divorces during the last seven years, an average of 1000 a year. In speaking of this record recently Judge Anderson gave some interesting statistics and opinions on the subject.

He says: "There is no State in the Union as easy to obtain a divorce in as Texas. The law here does not require that the plaintiff shall be corroborated in his or her testimony in order to procure a divorce and the court can make no order compelling the husband and father to support his children except during the time that the suit is pending. . . . Two-thirds of all the divorces granted are to persons under thirty years of age and nine-tenths of them have the idea of re-marriage in their minds when they apply for divorce". Discussing the causes of divorce he says that in many cases the causes of estrangement can be traced back to the fact that the wife worked in the business world. "This is not always true," he says "but in most cases when the woman becomes independent and goes outside the home every day they both become interested in other people and are soon wholly uncongenial. . . . Few divorces ever occur where the wife stays at home strictly attending to the duties of home and motherhood and the couple who live as they should, where the husband goes home at night and finds his wife there waiting for him, never appear in the court room."

The divorce history we are making these days is such as to make the people of this country feel very uncomfortable. That our divorce laws should be radically amended no thoughtful student will deny, and yet the remedy to be effective must go beyond the enactment of more stringent laws. Laws and rules governing marriage must be carefully thought out and worked out, but even then it will be found that laws will not cure the evil. The whole social organization must be worked over and a new emphasis put upon the sacredness of the marriage relation. Marriages are frequently too hasty and too easily consummated. Men and women quite naturally argue that if they prove unsatisfactory their annulment will not be difficult. Too many schemes for the entertainment of men and women outside their own homes have been devised. These are supposed to be cultural, but their cultural value is often outweighed by the damage they do to the home life. If people stayed at home more they might have less polish, but they would be more decent. In these modern days it is a rare thing for the father and mother and children to spend their evenings at home, shut in from the influences all about them that distract and disrupt, in that sweet fellowship that is typical of the social life of the upper country. Children who have been deprived of such a life have been bequeathed a lifelong poverty that no material success can counterbalance.—Texas Christian Advocate.

A BUSINESS MAN'S DYING CONFESSION

On a recent Sunday morning Mr. O. K. Houck, one of the leading business men of Memphis, Tennessee, died. The local papers speak in the highest terms of him as a generous hearted and public-spirited citizen. A few hours before his death he dictated the following statement:

A Message To My Friends

I have been brought face to face with the supreme issue of life—my preparation for the great summons. My physician has advised me to put my house in order, and just as it would be with you, I have been spending much of the time in retrospection.

My moral code has always called for a square deal in every sort of relationship. Just the common call of humanity demanding relief to the distressed and a helping hand to the weak and overburdened. Meeting in a small way these obligations has contributed most of the pleasure I have had in living. I have been trying to work at what I liked to call practical Christianity.

Along with most folks, I believed in the existence of a Supreme Being and had recognized, in an impersonal sort of way, the importance of getting in closer touch sometime with Jesus Christ. I have had friends to say: "O. K., you have tried to do all the good you could; what else is expected of a man?"

In searching for an answer to this greatest problem of my life, I have been driven to the conviction that no man has ever been saved by works alone. I had never been able to make the surrender and forego some of the liberties which seemed so necessary to my happiness, and with this notion was coupled a belief that if I tried to make a stand I would probably stumble and be made ridiculous.

But it is all right now. All of my doubts are over. I have no fear for the future. I have turned the whole record over to Jesus, and while I have missed the joy of working in His name, while I have missed the happiness and thrill of an extensive Christian experience, yet I love to go back along the road with Him and watch Him transform my humble acts into deeds of Christian citizenship and Christian charity.

It is never easy to separate from friends, but the sorrow is greatly lessened when you are certain you will see them again.

There is a distinct note of triumph in this statement, but there is a note of sadness no less distinct as he admits with sorrow that while he rests in the assurance of salvation in Jesus Christ, he has "missed the joy of working in His name" and "the happiness and thrill of an extensive Christian experience." We give this statement here as an exhortation to other busy men that they make sure of the happiness that comes from service with Jesus Christ in healing the sorrows of the world.

THE MAN OF MANY FACES EUGENE KNOX—CHAUTAQUA

Laughs predominate in Eugene Knox's program. Knox is a humorist. He tells stories, one after the other, as fast as you can assimilate them. No wigs or makeup are necessary for Knox. His face, hair and hands are all the "fixin'" needed.

There is nothing of the clown in Knox. His work, funny or serious, all has a purpose and is done with a high degree of artistry and finesse. No entertainer on the platform today is more versatile or able to effect changes of facial expression and character more rapidly.

Character representation of types you know are ludicrous in the extreme as Knox makes them live. A deep student of character, Knox displays an almost uncanny ability to depict peculiar human quirks. You will be delightfully and helpfully entertained. At the Chautauque in Clarendon, beginning July 8th.

MOODY-TACKITT

Newspaper editors seldom find it necessary to write up their own weddings. This seems to be because most of them marry before they go into business for themselves, and also for the reason that editors do not marry often, and when they do the majority of them stay married. But this week it happens to be the News editor's good fortune to be a married man, and his misfortune to have to write in the public school last year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tackitt of Denton and is niece of Mrs. T. N. Childress and Mrs. C. T. Tipton of McLean. Just why this excellent young woman considered the News man a desirable person for a life partner puzzles the News as much as it does you, gentle reader, and we give up any attempt to explain it as a hopeless job.

The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, in the presence of the immediate family and a few relatives and friends of the bride. Rev. J. L. Morris, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiated.—McLean News.

WARNING!

Citizens who must be out after 12 o'clock at night are warned, for their own safety, to carry large electric flashlights or lanterns for it is easy for robbers and hold-up men to hide in the jungles of weeds that it is really unsafe to be on the streets after that hour without light. Besides, all weed patches look alike and you might mistake your neighbor's patch for your own and get into the wrong house.—Wellington Leader.

TRAPPING THE ICE TRUST

It is related that suspicion against the ice trust for short weights arose in the following manner:

One morning the president of the trust arrived at his office wreathed in smiles. Cigars were passed around. It was a baby boy. "Twenty-five pounds," proudly replied the executive.

There was much good-natured joshing; so much, in fact, that the father suddenly began to realize that twenty-five pounds was an extravagant weight for the finest youngster in the world. Finally one fellow, bolder than the rest, inquired: "Well, sir, can you get the doctor to prove that this baby weighs as much as twenty-five pounds?"

"Yes," replied the ice executive, "but the doctor forgot his scales, so we had to use the old ice company scales."—Boston Globe.

"The reforms and regulations enforced by The Comptroller's office have not only increased the safety of the Banks and promoted their earnings and prosperity but they have remedied some very serious abuses from which the public, in some localities especially, have suffered grievously in times past. For example, the war which the Comptroller's office carried on against usury, especially in some of its most aggravated forms, have brought relief and happiness to thousands of borrowers who in former years had suffered seriously from the exactions of unscrupulous lenders and as a result, interest rates—which in hundreds of cases run as high as 10 per cent a month, or 120 per cent a year and often higher—have been brought down generally to the rates fixed by law. It is with pleasure that I record the fact that in the great majority of the banks of the country the laws regulating rates of interest which may be charged are now being closely observed."

HENRY EXALL LOAN FUND

A farm loan fund of $100,000 or more is being created by the Texas Industrial Congress to assist the farmers of the State in increasing agricultural production.

Mr. Sam P. Cochran, of Dallas, has consented to act as Trustee of the Fund, which will be loaned to the men, women, boys and girls now engaged in farming, who are good moral risks, and yet who lack the necessary collateral to secure financial assistance for their farming operations through the ordinary channels of business.

Loans will be made to individuals who are not in position to borrow money from the banks, at a very low rate of interest, and on terms long enough to permit repayment without embarrassment. A competent committee of business men will pass upon all applications for loans, and as most people are inherently honest, and only need to be trusted to prove themselves worthy, any loss to the Fund that may be sustained will be reduced to a minimum. As the loans are paid, the money will be returned to the Fund to be again used in assisting others.

Lessened agricultural production is the chief factor in the higher cost of living. Within the last five years food prices have doubled while the food producing labor of the country has decreased from thirty-five to forty per cent. Commercial and manufacturing industries are bidding against the farmer for labor, resulting in an exodus of the rural population to cities.

HAVE INTERESTING MEET

The Naylor branch of the Donley County Poultry Association held its regular semi-monthly meeting at Mrs. P. H. Longan's home last Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. A large crowd attended. There were some new members to "Ride the Goat" besides other business to be talked over. After business, pleasure you know, and our hostess showed she knew how to entertain in the best way, by serving delicious refreshments mixed music.

Everyone who desires to have pay for their work with poultry is invited to join our Association either at Clarendon at the regular First Saturday monthly meeting places. Will it pay to have better eggs and more money for same? The writer thinks so, for we've tried part of it at least. We have been raising infertile eggs for some time, though we don't get any more money for them, when we sell on the home market. We think we have been paid twice over, in the ones we use at home, and let me add that that is what the Association is working for, more and better poultry and eggs and a better price for same. I am sure our home merchants as well as our producers will work together for the good of our poultry and old Donley county. Remember our next meeting at the Court House in Clarendon, Saturday afternoon, July 3 at 2:30 o'clock. Everyone invited.

DRILLING FOR LIQUID GOLD
SETTLES DOWN TO EVEN GAIT

After a delay of a few days the last of the week due to a broken cable leaving a string of tools in the Lelia Lake well, drilling was resumed Tuesday. The formation is blue lime and owing to the extreme hardness, progress is very slow. The depth is near thirty-five hundred feet with better indications for oil every foot. Prominent oil men and scouts for the larger companies are watching operations closely.

While the greatest interest is centered in the Lelia well, Goodnight came in for a considerable flurry the first of the week when it became orated around that a good showing of oil had been encountered. This proved to be untrue. The well is now at a depth of about twenty-six hundred in a hard gray limestone formation. The water has been cased off successfully giving much less trouble than last week.

The Bugbee well crew is having no little trouble casing off the water supply that seems to be inexhaustible at 225 feet. The hole is down to a depth of about six hundred feet, being a twenty-two inch hole, progress is necessarily slow.

Drilling was started at the Home People's Deeplake test last Friday morning, but little has been accomplished toward testing out the sand owing to difficulty in clearing the casing of the wood plug at the bottom. When the small casing was put down a wood plug was put into the bottom of the lower joint of the casing, as is customary to prevent the casing collapsing or being crushed. Up to Thursday morning it had been found impossible to drill this wood plug out. Thursday the casing was pulled up from the bottom of the hole several feet and the plug was finally knocked out by the tools and is now being drilled up. As soon as the plug is drilled up and out of the way, the bit will be sent on down into the sand, and a few days should tell whether the oil is there in paying quantities or not. A large crowd has been at the well each day, including many out of town people, and interest in the well is running high.

Work on the Virginia-Texas Company's test south of the river is being held up awaiting the arrival of a casing nipple from Wichita Falls. The big twenty-inch casing parted twice last week under the pull of the hydraulic jacks being used to pull it. Mr. Worth went to Wichita Falls to have a nipple made to recover the casing. As soon as it arrives, which will probably be today, efforts will be made to grapple the casing. This test is down around a thousand feet.

The Estelline Red River Company is placing machinery this week for their test south of Estelline and work on this well will probably be begun within the next two weeks.

Burk Harlin Hilton, east of Newlin is still having casing trouble and not drilling, but hope to resume work next week.

The Coble Petroleum Company is still pounding away on the remains of the bailer lost some weeks ago. The crew is confident of being able to remove this obstacle with a little more work.—Hall County Herald.

HAUL MORE IN LESS TIME

TO ACCOMPLISH more in less time is the ambition of every man just now, no matter what business he is in. Rapid and economical transportation of all commodities is a business necessity. To get a load to its destination in good condition with the least expense and in the shortest time possible is the job that has been put up to the International Motor Truck by thousands of business men—and the International has made good.

From the men using a single truck to the big corporation using over 600 Internationals, our truck has made good in a big way—from the standpoint of low operating cost as well as steady service.

You will be interested in the sturdy, powerful engine, the simple, efficient internal gear drive, and the drop-forged rear axle. An inspection will convince you that the is built to last, and built to give service under the trying conditions encountered in everyday work.

A REAL "SERVICE TO THE OWNER" ORGANIZATION—There is an International Motor Truck of a size to meet almost every hauling requirement. We have a service and selling organization without an equal in this section of the country. Think what this means to you after you have become an owner. We are strong and the International organization is strong on "Service to the Owner" after the sale is made.

We are glad to explain the mechanical features of our truck and present evidence that the International Motor Truck is built to last and give the kind of service business men want and appreciate. Come in to our salesroom and see what we have to offer in trucks and service.

Repair service should be considered by every prospect or purchaser of a motor truck. Being a direct branch of the International Harvester Company, Chicago, we are better prepared to give this service, as we carry a stock of motor truck parts at Amarillo in the neighborhood of $100,000.00.

IS HONORED ON HIS
COMPLETION OF 20 YEARS

President Clyce has just completed his twentieth year of service for Austin College. Perhaps no educational institution has ever had as its head a man who has so thoroughly thrown himself and his tremendous ability and energy into the task of building up the institution and of advancing its interests along broad and enduring lines. To the president's unselfish devotion to his work is due very largely the wonderful growth and development during the past score of years. A dreamer who has made many dreams come true for Austin College, his work is not yet done. In recognition of the service which Dr. Clyce has rendered during the twenty years he has been president of the institution, the alumni association at their recent meeting drew up resolutions expressing to him their appreciation for his work and their unswerving confidence in and devotion to him in his future efforts for the advancement of the interests of Austin College, and the president of the alumni association presented to Dr. Clyce the handsome gold watch which was the gift of the alumni to the college president.—Alumni Monthly of Austin College.

The manner in which one single ray of light, one single precious hint, will clarify and energize the whole mental life of him who receives it, is among the most wonderful and heavenly of intellectual phenomena.—Arnold Bennett.

BANKER IS BUILDING HOMES FOR FAMILIES WITH CHILDREN

St. Joseph, Mo., June 26.—Walter P. Fulkerson, St. Joseph banker, is building a row of houses for rent to families in which there are children.

Newly married couples also will be allowed to occupy the houses, with the provision that if there are no children in their families at the end of one year's residence they will be asked to vacate. Whenever a child is born in one of his houses, Mr. Fulkerson announced, the rent for that month will be returned to the tenant.

The houses are in one of St. Joseph's most desirable residence districts.

The decision to adopt this method of tenancy was reached, Mr. Fulkerson said, because of reading the number of advertisements in the daily papers which carried the line, "No one with children need apply."

"It's all wrong," the banker said. "There should be every incentive for rearing children, instead of trying to force families into race suicide."

MORE PREHISTORIC BONES UNEARTHED NORTH OF TOWN

While inspecting the new oil derrick on the Harrington place north of town Sunday, Frank Harrington, Dick Shaffer and H. G. McCluskey of Wichita Falls took occasion to visit the marl beds on the place. In making an inspection among bones, petrified trees, etc., they discovered the head of some species of prehistoric animal. The head was dug out and brought to town. Some were of the opinion that the head was that of an elephant, while others were just as certain it was a rhinoceros. At any rate it was a big animal in its day, the head weighed about two hundred pounds in the semi-petrified state. The head will be taken to Wichita Falls by Mr. McCluskey.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Scoggins returned the last of the week from a delightful visit to many places of interest in east Texas, Arkansas and Missouri. They made the journey in a car without accident or mishap.

J. W. Talley was here the first of the week from Wichita Falls visiting with his family. He returned to his business this morning.

I Searched For a Boar

As the living of Mc's Big Chief passed into history. I turned to my fellow breeders in search of a young boar to take the place of the old hero. I met a large number of breeders making plans for ever increasing efforts for the betterment of the breed, and saw the undisputed great boars of the Nation. I saw many errors of judgment, I am resolved to take such action as would make those same mistakes impossible. One of the never-to-be-forgotten pleasures that came to me in my search was my inspection of THE JAYHAWKER, and many of his sons and daughters. It is needless to say, that my inspection was critical to a degree. It, of course, included, first of all, individuality in all its phases. I took into account, "Poland China type," as exemplified by the greatest judges of the Nation as standards of excellence.

I took into account the promise held out through the channel of productive inheritance. It was such an inspection as tolerated no excuse, or permitted of any apologies. I measured him by the cold, calculating standard of

REAL WORTH

I had exerted every method to find a flaw in him. When the day was done, I took ample time to reflect, carefully, I was firmly convinced as so oft expressed through the columns of the Poland China press that

The Jayhawker was, in fact, the Greatest Boar in the Nation.

But, Frank Caldwell said, "He's not for sale—I can't sell him." He priced him. I took him.

There will be bred not over 10 sows to him, 10 to Mc's Big Chief and 10 to Bob Big Jones, for our first semi-annual Sale, Sept. 10th.

CROP PROSPECTS IN DON-LEY, WERE NEVER BETTER

In some sections of West Texas rain so seldom falls that a good rain calls for a round of general celebration. Not so in Donley county, located as it is in the Green Belt of the north Panhandle.

Right at this time crops in general were never better at any time since the first settlement by the white race. Harvesting of wheat, rye, oats and barley is in progress up on the higher land that is more suited for small grain—Donley has a diversified variety of land. Wheat is being threshed at the rate of 18 to 25 bushels per acre and finds a ready market at $2.50 per bushel. Other small grains are making the money come this way in the same ratio.

Not being in the boll worm or boll weevil cursed section of the big cotton growing country, the farmers are overjoyed with the fine prospects now looming up. The plant is showing a dark healthy color and "shanking" right along to the tune of the warm days we are now having. The cotton stand this season is said to be the best and cover the largest territory ever before known. The acreage is also larger than that of any previous year.

Corn, maize, kafir, begaria, and other feed stuff is a good stand and coming right along. Alfalfa—very few grow it and we wonder why—is making first cutting. There will be one more cutting and a light crop of hay for the third cutting or it may be let ripen and a seed crop harvested as seed is selling at the highest price now ever known since the introduction of the plant from Turkey.

Peanuts and sweet potatoes play an important part in the money crop of Donley county. Popcorn is also raised in considerable quantity. The fruit crop is light though some peaches escaped the late freeze. Cherries landed with a big crop and are now in their prime. The pear and apple crop will be up to the standard. Currents, goose-berries, raspberries, strawberries, blackberries and grapes have a big crop. Some of the berries enumerated here are not grown extensively, but do well and there is no reason why they should not be on every place.

In connection with the above, we might say that the farmers of Donley county are a progressive set of folks and use all the latest machinery that can be devised to save both labor and money time. Combined harvesters that reap and thresh at one operation are being used for the first time in the grain fields this year.

Ray Ferguson, of Vernon, was through here the first of the week, enroute home from Canyon where he had visited friends. While here he visited with his friend and former classmate, Chas. Dean.

SITNER STYLE SHOP BUILDING TO BE BUILT BACK TO THE ALLEY

Harry H. Sitner, proprietor of Sitner's Style Shop, Clarendon's exclusive ladies ready-to-wear store, announces to The News arrangements with his landlord which call for the extension of his building back to the alley. Mr. Sitner came to Clarendon three years ago at which time his present building was plenty large for his needs but his energetic methods of advertising and store service have proven so satisfactory that his stock increased with his business with the result that now he is crowded for room. This extension of the building was made necessary by the arrangement whereby Mrs. Davis has moved her millinery business, The Vogue, in the rear of the Sitner Style Shop and efforts will be made to get the building enlarged in time for fall occupancy.

Mr. Sitner leaves next week for New York and other eastern markets where he will buy the largest and best assorted stock of ladies and misses wearables and conceals he has ever brought to Clarendon. While away he expects to visit in Athens and Atlanta, Georgia, where he was formerly connected with a department store.

Since the Sitner Style Shop owner has bought a new home and a new model six-cylinder automobile besides increasing his business Clarendon people are of the opinion that he has made money since coming to Clarendon. But then, all Clarendon merchants make profits in accord with the efforts and publicity given their business—and nothing less is expected.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE COMES TO THE FRONT

The papers of the different towns of the Panhandle are full of the actions of the local Chamber of Commerce in those towns. The organizations at Clarendon, Crowell and Electra seem particularly active. Clarendon has taken steps to regulate indiscriminate begging in that city, similar to the action of the Vernon Chamber of Commerce. And indeed our neighbors can get several good suggestions by watching the enterprising Vernon Chamber.

The Chamber of Commerce, as no other organization could do, serves the interests of a town. Without organization there is no progress. In the Chamber of Commerce the business interests of a town unite for the common good of their municipality, and voice their sentiments not only locally, but also to the outside world.—Vernon Times.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

The undersigned understand that for lack of something else to say against Mr. Alex M. Mood in his race for district attorney, it is being urged against him in Union Circles in Amarillo that he has used a campaign card with the union label on it in Amarillo and in Clarendon he has handed out a card without such label.

This is probably true, and the following are the facts: Mr. Mood came into our printing shop in Clarendon several days ago while campaigning in Donley county, and stated that he had run out of campaign cards and desired us to print him some, asking that we put the union label thereon, and handing us a union label card for copy. We told Mr. Mood that we would gladly print him all the cards desired but that there was no union shop in Clarendon and we could not use such label. Mr. Mood was out of campaign cards and we insisted on accommodating him; Mood's necessity for the cards was urgent and immediate, and he passed out among the voters of Donley County the cards we printed for him, and possibly used them elsewhere.

We do not want the facts distorted against Mood.

The account of the party announcing the marriage of Miss Edith Duke to Mr. George R. Beverley to take place July 14th appeared in the Tulsa Herald last week. Many friends will remember the Duke family as honored residents of this city in the past years and Miss Edith was educated in Clarendon College afterwards doing special work in the musical line in Chicago. The past year she was the teacher of violin in Wayland College at Plainview. She was one of the most popular young ladies reared to young womanhood in this city and her friends are limited only by her acquaintances. Miss Duke is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Connally of this city. Mr. Beverley is known to be a young man of sterling qualities. He was an aviator during the war and since then has been connected with private aviation companies. The News extends congratulations and best wishes to the young couple.

—You have heard of the Chevrolet. And you have seen plenty of them. You have seen more of them this last year than ever before. And you will see more next year. Wherever automobiles are to be seen—and that is everywhere—the Chevrolet is a familiar sight.

—This should mean something to you. The public does not buy a car in ever increasing numbers unless it meets with popular approval.

—The Chevrolet has popular approval. We would like you to know why it has. It would be easy for us to tell you the reasons for Chevrolet popularity. But before you come to us, learn them from other sources. Watch for the Chevrolet. Judge its appearance. See the number of passengers it will seat and carry comfortably. Watch for it on the roads. See how it throttles down and picks up in traffic. Above all watch the next Chevrolet you see take a hill. That is proof of the pudding.

—And as soon as you get a chance ask the driver of a Chevrolet what he thinks of it. Get him to show you its equipment. Ask him how many miles he gets on a gallon of gasoline—on tires. And while your own eyes and ears are finding out about Chevrolet performance, keep in mind the prices. There won't be much left for us to tell you. But we'll take you for a ride in one whenever you like.

FOR A BETTER SYSTEM OF FARM CREDIT IN TEXAS

Dallas, Texas, June 28.—The Texas Chamber of Commerce is planning to mobilize public sentiment for a better system of farm credit in Texas and has announced the following rural credit committee, which will formulate policies along this line: J. D. Stephenson, farmer, Dallas; S. A. Lindsley, Federal Land Bank, Houston; Joe Hirsch, chairman agricultural commission of American Bankers Association, Corpus Christi; Clarence Ousley, Fort Worth; W. M. Splawn, professor of economics of University of Texas, Austin; F. M.

Law Texas Bankers Association, Houston; B. F. Brown, A. & M. College Station.

Decreasing man power on the farms must be supplanted with horse and motor power and with improved labor-saving implements and devices, according to the policy of the Texas Chamber of Commerce. The purchase of these implements will mean credit for a longer period than one year and to this end a special effort will be made to interest bankers and other business men in providing this credit and also to the working out of a permanent system of "middle-term" credit based on personal security.

MUCH MONEY IS WASTED IN IMPLEMENTS

As we go around the country we see that thousands of dollars invested in wagons, plows, harrows, rakes mowing machines, binders and other farm implements and machinery are absolutely wasted by not taking care of these investments, says the Field and Farm. What would be thought of a merchant who bought goods and then put them in a fence corner, exposed to the weather? Some dealers are doing this by leaving implements out exposed to all weather, with no protection. The farmers are doing as bad, or worse, by leaving implements and farm tools exposed to weather, often in the field where last used. Much time is lost when time is very valuable to the farmer by having to repair such implements when needed for work. The rust and rot wears out the wood and metal far more than does the using of it. There is an enormous waste from this source which can be easily and inexpensively avoided. By spraying or painting the implements with any heavy oil once every two months this enormous loss could be largely avoided and by all means get everything under cover.

SOME SIMPLE REMEDIES WHEN THE BRAKES FAIL

Motorists probably have noticed that at times their brakes don't hold. This condition is not only annoying, but is often the cause of serious accidents. Yet this condition can usually be corrected with very little difficulty. Very likely the brake lining has become coated with oil or grease which naturally acts as a lubricant. This condition is dangerous for it may cause the brakes to slip when applied. To rectify this condition the brake linings and drums should be cleaned with kerosene.

Perhaps the brake lining has become worn so that insufficient pressure is brought to bear against the revolving metal drum and the car can not be stopped quickly. A few adjustments, which any mechanic can make while you wait, will often compensate for the reduced thickness of the worn lining. If the lining has become worn beyond the margin of safety, it is best to take no chances with safety, but to have the brakes relined.

A TRACTOR TO THE RESCUE!

When Dallas was in the throes of winter's blasts and the gas supply was about as beneficial to the Dallasite as a linen duster in the arctic regions, every conceivable means of transportation for wood was being pressed into service. The city administration was exerting every effort to obtain for the people of this city the scant supply of wood which was being ferreted out by men sent in the many directions in search of fuel.

A call was made upon the business men, the financier and all those who had at their disposal means of transportation. This call was answered by many who were in a position to be of service to the people. With the aid given by these, the administration was able to secure, bring in to the city and deliver a sufficient supply of wood to keep Dallas warm.

The two weeks through which the city officials and employees labored day and night to secure a supply of wood will long be remembered by those who were benefited, and there are very few in this city who were not benefitted by the efforts of those in charge of the city wood supply.

When the sun smiled upon the city and relieved the suffering there was in plenty—in spite of the efforts of those attempting to get wood—the city took stock of the situation and found that a wonderful job had been accomplished.

Among the shining lights of the many who loaned their efforts to defeat the winter's blast, none shone more brightly than E. M. Belk, chief clerk in the city engineer's office. His work was paralleled by none save that of the never tiring mayor who remained on the job until the crisis was past.

To Mr. Belk was assigned the job of securing transportation facilities for the wood. That he made a success of the undertaking is evident from the hundreds of testimonials which are pouring into the city hall today. With what was only a drop in the bucket in comparison with what was actually needed, Mr. Belk started in to bring the fuel into Dallas and after it was cut to see that it went to those who were shivering with cold.

Every available conveyance to be had was placed into service and the battle against the elements began. Hundreds of cords of wood were hauled into Dallas from all directions and to do this trucks, autos, wagons of every description, and last, but not by a long shot the least, a tractor with trailers was put into service.

A big tractor belonging to a local tractor dealer was loaned the city. This machine was the medium thru which hundreds of people were able to secure a supply of wood. Snaking across the roads, pulling behind it as many trailers as could be attached, this machine came into Dallas with eleven and twelve cords of wood at a time. Figuring that only an eighth of a cord would be delivered to any one customer, each time this giant conveyance wormed its way into the city, ninety-six families were furnished with wood enough to tide them over the cold spell.

WHY MEN ABANDON THE FARM

The farmer and his family naturally and rightly desire some of the economic, social and educational advantages of those who live in the cities. They are justified in wanting more of the conveniences and comforts of life. If the farmer must labor unceasingly from twelve to fourteen hours daily the year round, as many of them do now, for a bare living, denying himself and his family many of the actual necessities and most of the comforts of life, it is not surprising that he should be dissatisfied and seize upon the first opportunity that apparently offers a better living.

To change these conditions, farm life must be made more attractive and those who are now on the farms must be encouraged to remain there. Many of the hardships of life in the country may be remedied by properly extending financial assistance.

A Message of Great Importance!

—Nothing is so important to you as a conscientious endeavor on the part of your home merchant to reduce the cost of Living by Driving Down Prices. This movement was started by John Wannamaker—the greatest retail merchant in the world. In this movement he startled the world by announcing a Downward Price Movement, to lower the Cost of Living, giving up his profit for a period of time, on everything in order to force a Downward Price Movement. All the leading retail dry goods stores everywhere, are aiding in this Movement. On June the first, this Store made a decisive price cut. We lead in the way of the Downward Price Movement by giving up profit. And we strongly advocated every merchant to follow by cutting off profit for the benefit of customers. This store has cut prices on everything. You can buy everything you want in the dry goods line under one roof, for less money. Everything goes at cut prices—nothing reserved.

At this store you can buy standard gingham, just such as others sell for 50 cents a yard at 29c
 36 inch Percale, 50c value at 31c
 27 inch Percale and Gingham at 22c
 36 inch Bleaching, about 40c value at 24c
 Men's heavy Khaki pants at $3.39
 Boy's Shoes at $2.98
 Men's Shoes at $3.49

—We are delighted with the values we have to offer you and our customers are delighted with their saving.

—This store takes a firm stand against Clean-up Sales, giving one-fourth and one-third off on out of season merchandise. Such sales are either a disposal of undesirable merchandise, or else the price was marked too high at first, so as to stand a mark down at the end of the season.

—This Store always carries the Best Quality of Merchandise at the Lowest Possible Price. That is why this Store occupies the commanding position of Clarendon's Leading Dry Goods Store.

—At no time are better values to be found than here.

—All High Class Merchandise—Not a Sale of Undesirable Goods.

—Come to the Fourth of July Celebration, July 5th.

—We extend to you Fourth of July Greetings—Glad Tidings. We trust that this Holiday will hold for you a real share of good cheer and happiness and that this Prosperous Year will bring to you and yours, all the many good things of life.

A TOAST TO TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

(At their banquet, Rice Hotel, Friday evening, June 11, by Edgar Lovett, President of Rice Institute.)

The compliment you pay the Rice Institute in inviting a representative of that institution to this board is most warmly appreciated. In your association are pooled the interests of public opinion of Texas. We, in turn, as an educational agency for the enlightenment of public opinion, should like to have you feel some sense of proprietorship in the Rice Institute, a university of liberal and technical learning, dedicated to the advancement of letters, science and art.

Now a university is simply a community of men and women in search of knowledge, and to that end living a common life. It takes its name from the mother and model of all such modern institutions, namely, the University of Paris, which was originally a group of cathedral schools. And in Latin, the standard language of the time, the word "universities" meant precisely what we now mean when we use the word "corporation." The university was a corporation, existing under several different forms, as, for example, a corporation of schools or colleges, a corporation of masters and teachers, or a corporation of students and scholars. The business of such a corporation as a university is to think and to teach, to transform mind into a higher order of mind—the mind of man, the mind of the community, the mind of the state, the mind of the nation, the mind of the world, the mind of men—into a higher order of mind and to train men and women of thought and men and women of action. Its raw materials are the children, all the children of all the people, and the problems of the civilization in which they live. Its processes are those of instruction and inquiry. Its products are citizens and scholars, science and learning. Its dividends are paid in the discipline of soul that exalteth a nation.

The particular corporation of this kind with which I have to do is a new university whose star of science is already shining in the sky, in a constellation of contributions to scholarship, in a living galaxy that reaches down to the horizon of human welfare. Now the clearest of all the calls from the horizon of human welfare is the call to scholarship in the South. The clearest, the most insistent, the most weariless of all the calls to the South is the call to her sons and daughters to the unique and comprehensive service of science and scholarship to human society in all various relationships—individual, family, community, state, nation, league, world. To answer this clarion call should be the high aim of every university in the South. Nor can any university in the South achieve so high an aim without the sympathy and support of public opinion in the South. Neither can public opinion be stimulated and sustained in these high purposes without patient and persistent prodding from the press. It is not a question of climate, but of atmosphere; it is not a question of temperature and rainfall, but of temper and standards; it is not a question of searching tropical sun, but of sympathy and appreciation; it is not a problem of inertia in environment; but one of intense determination in education. We may reasonably entertain high hopes for the practical resolution of this problem and the realization of the prestige entailed in its wake, for we live in the latitude of learning. Of the three ancient capitals of Western civilization, Rome is approximately in the latitude of New York, Athens is south of Washington, and Jerusalem just slightly north of Houston.

Furthermore, with considerable confidence we may assure ourselves that so long as men love learning, so long will the university flourish. So long as men seek truth with the spirit and service of science endure. And in beauty and holiness religion and art will outlast them all. These are the elements of a civilization that traces its origins to Palestine and Greece and finds its sources in the mingling of streams from Athens and Sion through Rome. Three main currents of that civilization, the rise of modern science, each in its turn the new knowledge in conflict temporarily with the old, have borne to us our argosies of truth and justice and freedom.

These currents flow on. They gain in volume and in value to mankind as they flow. In their waters are reflected many views of the universe. One of these views reveals observation, experiment and knowledge in science; another relates duty and deity and destiny in religion. Each of these—the religious and the scientific aspects of the universe—has its own beauty, power of inspiration and truth. Each shines with a light the more wonderful, the more resolutely we set ourselves to study it. Each is a kindly, leading light, each beckons to a better life; each fades away imperceptibly into the other, as multitudines of men and women have found to the illumination of their own souls.

For the spread of this illumination I raise my glass confidently to the press of Texas to preserve these streams strong and fresh and pure for the enlightenment of public opinion. The light in the soul can not be hid; day after tomorrow it flashes forth to illumine the community. The light in the community can not be hid; day after tomorrow it flashes forth to illumine the state. The light in the state can not be hid; day after tomorrow it flashes forth to illumine the nation. The light in the nation can not be hid; day after tomorrow it flashes forth to illumine the world. And I boldly venture to think of this simple toast as a singularly appropriate tribute to our time, for whether we will it not, public opinion in Houston today may be the public opinion of the hemisphere tomorrow; whether we will it not, public opinion of the West today may be the public opinion of the world tomorrow. Whether we will it not, we are living in the day of international mind under a cosmopolitan spirit, melting and molding of world opinion. The world over, government through public opinion is a form of democracy that is fast enveloping the planet. Of such international mind the religion of Christendom was a pioneer; to its cosmopolitan spirit science and art have made universal appeal; toward its cosmopolitan polity trade in goods and commerce in ideas have contributed; toward its international comity the higher patriotism has always pointed. This planetary aspect of public opinion doubly enhances the power of the press, not only to educate the public opinion of a people but to enlighten the public opinion of a planet on which no people longer lives alone.

THE CASE AGAINST THE FLY

The case has been made against the common house fly. There is not an intelligent man, woman or child in the country who does not know what a dangerous, disease-bearing, death-bringing summer boarder he is. It is time now to take the most thorough precautions against having any breeding places for flies, whose large families thrive only in filth and decay, about the premises. It is time to put up the screens in windows and doors. It is time to prepare to swat. It seems hopeless, sometimes, when one reflects that a pair of flies are capable of producing millions of their kind in a single season, to take the pains to remove one fly from this scene of activity. But the death of one fly breaks up one pair and prevents the production of millions.

Our memory goes back to the time when screens were of the most primitive sort, made of mosquito netting, ill fitting in their frames and affording easy ingress into the house for any wide-awake fly. We used to have a sort of cat-o-nine tails, a length of broom stick with strips of tough paper cut from flour sacks attached thereto for lashes, and when the flies became unbearably thick on the dinner table, one of the children would jump up and swish them away with this temporarily effective instrument. And O they were thick! The human race survived, but in those days the death rate from typhoid fever was ten times what it is now and three little babies died where two do now.—Ohio State Journal.

ANNUAL ENCAMPMENT OF THE BAPTIST ASSEMBLY

The second annual encampment of the Texas Baptist Assembly, July 7 to 15 is to be even larger than last year. Many reservations have been made ahead. A tent city, similar to the tent cities on the California Coast last year, is being laid out in streets among the trees in the thirty acre Municipal Park at Teague, Texas. Mr. J. Wedd Davis, President of the Commercial Club, working with the Assembly Grounds Committee under Rev. L. B. Jenkins of Forney, Texas, has announced that the Cafeteria, Athletic Field, Lecture Auditorium and Tent Accommodations are believed to be now enlarged sufficient to guarantee convenience to all.

One of the feature speakers of the Texas Baptist Assembly at Teague this year is S. M. Brown, D. D. of Kansas City, Missouri. Dr. Brown for years has been Editor in Chief of the "Word and Way," one of the oldest and strongest Baptist papers in the world. His Chautauqua, Lecture and Pulpit ability is recognized internationally. The first half of each day is divided into study periods. The afternoons are filled with items of recreation and athletics, such as Tennis, Volley ball, Kodaking, etc. All young men and women are asked to bring every Kodak and piece of athletic equipment possible. A strong address and a musical program each evening closes each day's full program.

Systematic courses in Sunday School, B. Y. P. U. Work and other church activities cover the study periods. In the forenoons the hundreds present are divided for this purpose in classes or small congregations, several running at the same time. Twelve prominent Baptists will conduct these courses. Diplomas from the Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention are to be awarded to all who successfully pass the examinations on the last day of the Assembly. Rev. B. O. Harrell of Dallas is Dean of the Assembly in charge of the courses and lectures.

Rev. W. B. Bagby from Brazil, a foreign Missionary and a Texan, is another of the feature speakers. Dr. Bagby, with his grown daughter who was born in Brazil, is now touring the South before returning to South America. He will arrive in Teague, Texas, in time for the formal opening of the Assembly July 7th. Singer Virgil O. Stamps of Timpson, Texas, has charge of organizing the entire musical program. Miss Alma Cameron of Jacksonville, Texas, is the Chief Pianist. "Music again this year is being made a great feature of the program," says the State President, C. C. Hawley, of Dallas.

Rev. H. F. Aulick, the State Field Secretary of the B. Y. P. U. and Sunday School Work under the Board of the Texas Baptist Missionary Association, has been designated as the Railroad Certificate Agent at the Assembly. He calls for all who do their tickets one-way to Teague on July 5th, 6th or 7th. He adds that the purchasers be sure to secure the necessary certificate from the Ticket Agent to be O. K.'d at Teague by him in order to secure the reduced rate on the return. All who come to the Texas Baptist Assembly, whether by rail or automobile, are to bring their own bedding. It is optional whether those who come bring their own cooking utensils. Anyone, regardless of Baptists or not, will be welcome to participate with Baptists in all the benefits the same as last year.

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the sheriff or any constable of Donley County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon the unknown heirs of J. B. Williams, deceased, to be and appear before the Honorable District Court of Donley County, Texas, at the July Term thereof, 1920 on the Third Monday, being the 19th day of said Month, then and there to answer the petition of Odos Caraway filed in said Court on the 16th day of June, 1920 where in the unknown heirs of J. B. Williams, deceased, are defendant. The said cause being numbered 1085 on the Civil Docket of said Court by causing a copy hereof to be published in some newspaper in Donley County, Texas, for 4 consecutive weeks, the first issue of which shall be twenty eight days or more before the return day hereof.

Plaintiff says that prior to 1905 J. B. Williams and Fay Erwin Williams were husband and wife; that thereafter J. B. Williams acquired all of Lot Nos. 9, 10, 11 and 12 in Block No. 89 in the original town of Clarendon, that about the year of 1909 J. B. Williams died in the last said County and State, intestate, and that no disposition of his interest in said premises has been made in the Probate Court of last said County and that none can now be made; that J. B. Williams left four or five heirs other than his wife: Fay surviving him; that after said date Fay intermarried with Henry G. Southgate; that the said Fay was the owner of and undivided one half interest in said premises; that by a deed properly executed and delivered plaintiff has purchased and become owner of the said Fay's community interest in said premises; that no tax has been paid on said premises for about ten years; that are about to be foreclosed and to be sold for taxes; that the heirs of J. B. Williams are unknown to the plaintiff and their residents is unknown the heirs of J. B. Williams deceased and plaintiff own said premises in common, the plaintiff owning one half; that said premises are not partitionable in kind and praying that said premises be sold, the taxes paid, out of the proceeds of such sale and that the costs be equitably divided between the parties hereto as the law provides, and that one half of the remaining proceeds be delivered over to the plaintiff and that the other half of such proceeds be deposited in this court for the benefit of the defendant, and for general relief.

Herein fail not but have you this writ before said court on the third of the next term thereof with your return thereon in writing showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said court at office in Clarendon this 16th day of June 1920
 W. E. Bray, Clerk of the District Court of Donley County, Texas.
 By S. Hightower, Deputy.

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Donley County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon A. L. Gibson to be and appear before the Honorable District Court of Donley County, Texas, on the third Monday in July, the same being the 19th day of said month, in the year 1920, then and there to answer a petition of Rosa Rodinus filed in said court on the 12th day of June, 1920, by causing a true copy hereof to be published for four (4) successive weeks in some newspaper published in Donley County, Texas, the first of which publications shall be not less than twenty-eight (28) days before the return day hereof, exclusive of the day of publication. The file number of said cause being No. 1083 on the civil docket of said court.

The nature of plaintiff's demand is to cancel a certain warranty deed which appears of record in Volume 35, at page 178, deed records of Donley County, Texas, wherein it is reported that the plaintiff, for a consideration of $2,000, did on or about the 3rd day of January, 1917, convey to the defendant Gibson all of Lot No. Four (4) in block No. Ninety (90) in the original town of Clarendon in Donley County, Texas, alleging no consideration and undue influence upon the part of the defendant; that the plaintiff cannot read or write the English language, and cannot well understand same when spoken to her; that such instrument so executed by plaintiff she believed to be a temporary mortgage and was so led to believe by the defendant, and was not apprised of the fact that it was a warranty deed until about the date of the filing hereof; that said premises is her home—stead, and that she and Clara, the wife of the defendant, are the sole owners of said premises, with a life's estate therein accruing to the plaintiff; that said instrument so recorded constitutes a cloud upon her title so that she may not hypothecate the same for necessary improvements thereon.

Herein fail not, but have you this writ before said court, with your return thereon in writing, on the first day of the next term hereof, showing how you have executed the same.
 Given under my hand and seal of office in the court house, in Clarendon, Texas, this 12th day of June, A. D., 1920.
 W. E. Bray, Clerk of said Court.

Gasolene Pumps Tested

—The Government Pump inspector was here this week to see if the people of Donley County were getting a gallon of gasolene when they bought one. Ours were both absolutely correct. You are assured of getting FULL measure when you trade here, not only in buying gasolene, but any article we handle.

LOCAL BASEBALL TEAM DEFEATS ESTELLINE, 12 TO 4

In a swift game with few errors the local baseball nine trimmed Estelline's team 12 to 4. The game was played clean and both sides showed good tact. The game was played on the local diamond yesterday afternoon at four o'clock under the management of the Legion post at this place. Clarendon has some good material about which to build a team and with proper encouragement can put out one of the swiftest teams in the Panhandle.

The ladies of the Baptist church entertained the members of that congregation recently with a church social. An enjoyable program consisting of talks, music, and children's speeches was rendered after which a general get-acquainted hour with especial emphasis on the reception for the pastor followed. Then all the guests repaired to the church parlors where a surprise awaited in the form of an abundance of ice cream and plenty of cake to go therewith. The evening was a most enjoyable one for all those present.
