New President Is Given Ovation

President Harry S. Truman was back among his Capitol colleagues Monday, but as president of the United States rather than as a United States senator. At 12:02 he entered the House for his most historic address, and the first of the kind since he became president.

A hush fell over the assembly as the President entered the well of the House. Dignitaries of the supreme court, and the diplomatic corps were present.

He paused as he reached the battery of microphones, wiped his mouth with his handkerchief, drew a small black book from his pocket and without further formalities, began his address. Speaker Rayburn remarked to the President: "Let me introduce you first!" A formal introduction did not appear to produce any "nerves or jitters" upon the part of the President who never has been much for formalities, having been reared on a Missouri farm.

He opened his black book at his first page of a written speech and began with solemn dignity in a clear tone to outline his position on matters of national and world-wide importance. The President:

1. Pledged the United States to continue the "fight for freedom" until the unconditional surrender of Germany and Japan.

2. Declared the grand strategy of the war must continue "unchanged and unhampered" under the military commanders now in charge.

3. Promised punishment for war criminals "even though we must pursue them to the ends of the earth."

4. Pledged his personal support to the ideals of peace, and progress by Franklin Roosevelt, and called upon the nation to unite in this defense.

5. Declared that the great nations which mustered the force to defeat the fascist conspiracy must continue to co-operate in peace—"the responsibility of the great states is to serve and not dominate the people of the world."

6. Appealed for support in building "a strong and lasting United Nations organization" at the San Francisco conference for mastering the problems of peace through the triumph of justice.

7. Promised continued efforts toward a better social order "to improve the lot of the common people."

RADIO SERVICE MAN VISITS HERE

Radio technician I/c Clarence Pipes, Jr. left Monday to continue his studies in a Chicago institution. He was accompanied as far as Amarillo by his mother and sister, Mary Ellen.

"My Wife's Family" To Be Presented By Senior Class Friday Night

Every married man has a mother-in-law and a herd he refers to as, "my wife's family," unless he's lucky enough to have married an orphan. Of course, all mothers-in-law are not of the "deadly" species. Some are very congenial and nice, but alas! there's the other kind; the kind who insists on not only ruling her own roost, but forcibly managing the martial affairs of her daughter. Heaven help the poor husband who is unlucky enough to have drawn such a terror in the lottery of wedlock! It's screamingly funny to the bystander, but it's no joke to the suffering husband. There's an old saying to the effect that the course of true love never ran smooth, and there are mothers-in-law who are determined to prove it to be a fact. They dictate; they nag; they intrude at the most inopportune times. They look upon their daughter as a poor martyr who has sacrificed her entire life by marrying the man of her choice; who, obviously, was not "mother's" choice.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

President Roosevelt passed away at Warm Springs, Georgia at 3:35 p. m., April 12, 1945.

His passing is made doubly tragic by the fact that he did not live to see the victory for which he had done perhaps more than any other man to achieve.

All civilized nations of the Globe pay his memory solemn tribute in designating a period of national mourning.

Peoples of all nations, all colors and all creeds pay him tribute; from the highest to the lowest, are outstanding. The king of England said: "In him humanity has lost a great figure, and we have lost a true and honored friend." A man mixing concrete on our own street the same day said: "The laboring class of people have lost the best friend and the best president our nation has ever had."

Chiang Ksie-shek, leading man of the Chinese government said: "His name and his ideals will be a beacon light to humanity for centuries to come."

Thousands of similar tributes were paid by national leaders from every country—save two.

The German radio asserted the President "will go down in history as the man upon whose instigation the present war turned into the second world war."

From radio Tokyo, came: "We consider Roosevelt a very fortunate person indeed to have died

Cap Morris Takes Over Duties As New Mayor

Without pomp or blast of trumpets, Cap B. Morris was duly installed in the office of mayor of Clarendon Tuesday. Mayor Tom Connally administered the official oath to his successor.

Mr. Morris has served as chairman of the War Price and Ration Board here since its inception. This fact, coupled with the further fact that he defeated an ex-mayor and popular business man in the person of Mr. O. C. Watson, is a record of which any man may well be proud.

Mr. Morris, with his estimable family, has resided in Clarendon for some twenty years. He has always been most ready and willing to help in every good cause in which an active man was needed. He has given freely of his time and means in aiding this city, and has acquitted himself nobly as chairman in many hard drives when the going was rough.

The good citizens of this town, divided on the election, now do as they have always done—get behind the winner and forget political differences that the town may progress to the betterment of all of the citizens who make their home in Clarendon, the popular educational center of the Panhandle.

Return From Sunny Arizona City

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McMurtry returned Saturday from their annual stay of three of the winter months in Tucson, Arizona. The trip is primarily for the benefit of Mr. McMurtry's health, and he returns feeling much better than last fall.

Clothes Drive To End 25th

The old clothes drive, a movement of national scope and sponsored locally by the Lions Club, will close Wednesday, April 25. The people of this district are urged to bring any old wearable clothes or shoes to the local Red Cross room on or before that date. The clothes must be clean, mended and in fairly good condition.

The liberated countries in Europe are in critical need of these vital necessities. It is only a small favor to ask the people of a nation that has had plenty of food, clothing and shelter and the luxuries of life, while it also fights a war, to contribute articles of clothing that they have no use for or will never use again. The thousands of men, women and children to whom this clothing will go will certainly not forget it.

C. M. Lowry, local chairman, states that the drive has been fairly successful so far, but urges the citizens of Donley County to make a special effort to contribute all they can, and more, to the drive.

All Banks Closed Saturday

Saturday, April 21st is San Jacinto Day, and since it is a legal holiday, all banks will be closed. The local banks ask that you keep this in mind and do your banking business before that date to prevent inconveniences on your part.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Bourland of McLean spent Friday here in the F. L. Bourland home.

Goldston Rites Held Tuesday

Funeral services for John Homer Goldston were conducted at the Methodist church here Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock. Rev. John S. Ellis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church conducted the services, assisted by Rev. Hal Upchurch, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Attending the casket were Bert Smith, Clyde J. Douglas, Leroy Luttrell, Lloyd Moreland, Everett Stevenson and Bill C. Bromley. Honorary pallbearers were H. T. Burton, Tom Connally, Walter Taylor, W. M. Pickering, Walter Morrow and G. A. Anderson. Surviving are Mrs. John H. Goldston and daughters, Mrs. Gene Chamberlain, Mrs. Dan A. Keller, Miss Betty John Goldston. The sons are LaVerne and Vernon Dennis Goldston.

Mr. Goldston is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Richard Thomas of Olton, Texas and Miss Eva Goldston of Clarendon. The brothers are Joe and Leck Goldston of Clarendon, Walter of the Goldston community, and Leonard J. Goldston of Clearwater, California.

Mr. Goldston, aged 55, had been a resident of Donley county for the past 43 years. For several years the family home had been on the farm near Midway, one of the show places of that section. His one big regret as failing health overtook him was that he could not beautify his farm.

He was of the quiet, inoffensive type of citizen, ever ready to help his neighbor and any one in distress. The Midway school benefited from his long service on the school board. He was numbered among the honored citizens of Donley county where his influence will be sadly missed. He was a christian gentleman whose daily life bespoke the real manhood that was his.

Committees Announced For July Celebration Here

Ernie Pyle Killed On Battle Front

America's most beloved and noted columnist died on the battle front on "Ie", a small island just off Okinawa Tuesday when he was machine gunned by Japs while talking to the commanding officer, according to radio reports Wednesday.

Mr. Pyle recently covered the front lines through France with our troops, and into Belgium. He asked to return to the states when the gore of war got on his nerves after several months on the front lines.

He spent a few days with his wife at their home in Albuquerque, then felt the call to be with his "foxhole fraternity", as he termed the service men on foot. He went to the southwest Pacific, reported the news from the front lines in Okinawa and had just gone to the small island nearby to see how matters were progressing when killed.

A Prayer

FOR THE UNITED NATIONS CONFERENCE
SAN FRANCISCO, APRIL 25, 1945

Almighty God, Father of all mankind, grant to us and to Thy children everywhere a new vision of Thy world made one. Forgive us our sins of separateness which have kept us from Thee and from one another. Guide with a sense of justice and humility those who will meet together. Make them instruments of Thy peace—that even in this day Thy Kingdom may come. Thy Power may prevail and Thy Glory be made manifest in all the world. Grant us our prayer. Amen.

LIBRARY NOTES

By Mrs. C. A. Burton

A rather special gift to the library recently is "Charles Schreiner - General Merchandiser, 1869-1944" by J. Everts Haley, and illustrated by Harold Bugbee. Our copy is autographed by the illustrator, and that gives it its special value to us. It is Harold at his best—he has caught the real spirit of the West, of the old-time country store, and this statement is made by one who knows from having seen the "originals." The book was published by the Texas State Historical Association at Austin. In February St. Christopher Kilmer, 27-year old son of the poet Joyce Kilmer, turned up on the Alsace front, some 200 miles from the spot where his father was killed in World War I. He has been in the Pacific and Italian campaigns, and he, too, has written some poetry, but it is doubtful if he writes anything equal to "Trees," a poem known and loved by thousands of school children. Jimmy Cagney paid the highest price ever offered for the screen rights to a book in his acquisition of "A Lion In the Street," and yet this was the novel which was turned down by MGM's prize novel contest judges because they felt it had no screen possibilities.

Ernest Hemingway's best-sellers will be available in Italy for the first time. He has recently sold the Italian rights to five of his books, and most of his royalties will be given to relief organizations in Italy.

The death of Baron Charnwood, an 80-yr.-old member of the English Parliament was of special interest to us because of his biography of Lincoln, published in 1916. He was fascinated by the character of the great American, and visited the U. S. several times in research work for the same. He later wrote a biography of Theodore Roosevelt, published in 1923.

War has prevented observance of the 500th anniversary of the Laurentian Library of Florence, Italy. One of the outstanding monuments of the Renaissance, it was the inspiration for the Vatican City.

VOLUNTEER SERVICE

HOME SERVICE

By Mrs. C. A. Burton

Increasing apprehension is being felt about prisoners of war in Germany as news comes of transfers from POW camps to the interior. It is known that great suffering is resulting. In order to keep relief supplies moving to them, 200 trucks are operating from Switzerland and 50 from Sweden. An additional 100 trucks have been allocated by the Army, which the American Red Cross is buying and these are being shipped from Philadelphia to Sweden. Gasoline is being sent and the Foreign Economic Administration has agreed to allocate 100 tires to Red Cross from their own allotment, to be used as spares.

From 50 to 60 tons of coal is needed for each trip of the shuttle ships operating between Goteberg and Lubeck, carrying relief supplies. This coal has been furnished by the Germans but the situation is such that they cannot get cars to move the coal into Lubeck. Therefore the coal which is being shipped from this country to Goteberg on Swedish ships is to fuel the small Swedish ships carrying supplies.

At the request of War and Navy Departments, the Office of War Information is releasing to nationwide newspapers and radio stations, all casualty information immediately following official notification to next of kin. The states have been divided into 18 groups and lists for each section are furnished to the newspapers and radios for that section.

The U.S. Army Typhus Commission recently furnished the American Red Cross with sufficient typhus vaccine to inoculate every American prisoner of war in Germany.

From many of the POW camps come complaints that men do not receive their mail, and two reasons are given, besides transportation difficulties incorrect and illegible addresses and too long letters. From one camp in October came the report that the camp mail officer and his assistant counted and sorted 53,310 pieces of incoming mail.

Practically every extract from letters quoted in POW Bulletin from our boys gives unlimited praise to Red Cross for the various kinds of help given to make life bearable. Yet even Red Cross is helpless to meet some existing conditions.

RATION BANK ACCOUNT - USERS WARNED

Institutional and industrial users of rationed foods who enjoy the privilege of a ration bank account and who abuse this privilege by overdrawing their various accounts will soon find themselves in trouble, according to Ely E. Fonville, district rationing executive of the Office of Price Administration.

A program is to be launched soon which will close out the accounts of violators of rationing regulations and they will be required to pay back the amount of their overdraft before being issued any further rationing currency, it was announced.

This is a serious situation for some business men and will put a few out of business, Fonville said. Those who have overdrawn their ration bank accounts are urged to "get their house in order before it is too late," he added.

People overseas are impressed by the American fighting man's friendliness among his fellows. They see his home-ways and customs—his good humor. Have a Coke they hear him say to his buddies, and they begin to understand America. So the city folks have done it!
Well, WATCH OUR SPEED!

WORD comes from Washington that the fat-salvage problem has got to be licked in the small cities, the towns and on the farms.

We women have to save enough used fats in our kitchens to help make munitions, medicines, fabrics, soap for military and civilian use, and many other essentials.

The job, to date, has been done largely by city people, because arrangements for collecting the fats were made in the cities first. And these city folks are turning in more than twelve million pounds a month!

Now we're called on. And will the women on the farms and in the towns and small cities break that record?

Don't worry—just watch our speed!

HOW TO DO IT: Save all used fats in a tin can. Keep it handy to the stove. Scrape your broilers and roasting pans, skim soups and gravies, for every drop counts. Keep solid pieces of fat, as meat trimmings and table scraps, in a bowl.

Melt down once a week when your oven's going, add the liquid fat to the salvage can.

Take the can to your butcher as soon as it's full. He will give you two red points and up to four cents for every pound. If you have any difficulty, call your County Agent or Home Demonstration Agent. This message is approved by WFA and OPA, and paid for by Industry

THE TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

HARD PENALTY.
History records that during the Revolutionary war of 1775, an effort was made to discourage profanity in the volunteer army during the winter months when clothing and food were very scarce, and tempers wandered at will. Washington suggested that a wooden collar be placed around the neck of every soldier who so much as said "dam" in public. Within a week, they ran out of firewood and destroyed most of the timber along the Potomac and were forced to abandon the rule or method of punishment. It is further written that Col. Geo. Washington gave Gen. Cornwallis of the English army a chunk of a cussin' when old Corny surrendered to George, and thus ended the war of that day.

SCIENCE.
The triumph of mind over clutter is abundantly proven when a housewife can get her work done and listen to the blaring soap operas all day.

SORRY IDEAS.
Apparently, from the destruction our boys are making in Japan with their bombers, the crooked

Japs made their houses about as flimsy as the ten-cent toys they shipped over here to be sold for fifty cents. (P.S. That could include electric light globes, too)

BIOLOGICALLY.
About that time of life when a boy's voice turns from screeches to base, the girls change from pig-tails to permanents at about the same age.

THE EXIT.
Being more or less emotional, the feminine world looks to fashions for an outlet to that pent up form of energy. That's why feminine hats are such a scream, maybe.

GOOD OLE DAYS.
Everything may have a hidden meaning. Even the little red school house may have had something behind it.

WAR GARDEN.
Well the radishes of the old Apostle's garden connected with the table Monday. The peas and beets look great. The spinach, mustard and lettuce are growing as well as a lot of other things good to eat that you can't buy fresh when you want them. Just a few folks in this section do not grow a garden every year. Old Donley is a choice garden spot most every season. If you have never tried to have plenty to can, do so this year for your own sake. Canned foods will be higher than a cat's back come November.

FLABBERGAST.
It may be a little hard to get sugar, butter and shoes, but it would be a derved sight harder to think of all of us having to learn to speak German or Japanese.

Most of the shadows of this life are caused by standing in our own sunshine.

"We'll build a house on a hilltop"

OR BY A BROOK—or near a lake... It's great to be young and dream and plan.

The dream-homes being planned today call for frozen food cabinets and automatic washers and electric blankets and air conditioning and lots more electric conveniences.

They'll have them, too. And the electric service that keeps them running will continue to be both cheap and friendly. That's one way we can help make dreams come true!

CHAPEL

The opening of chapel was a tribute to President Roosevelt. Mr. Drennan made a short talk which was followed by a prayer. Then the band played. The program had been planned before the death of our great president, so there were no changes in it. The band played football music to everyone's pleasure.

MOOS OF THE MOMENT

BY UNCLE BOB
of the Kraft Dairy Farm Service

I met a friend recently coming out of a post office with a big grin on his face. "Just sent another batch of ammunition to that boy of mine, and made the last payment on the new milking unit I'll need in a few years," he explained. He had just bought another War Bond.

Figures show how actively farmers are backing up our fighting men by buying bonds. And dairy farmers are smart people. They know that every time they invest $3.00 in a War Bond, they get back $4.00 when they cash in the bond at its maturity.

Many dairymen buy bonds with the idea that these bonds will pay for a new milkhouse; a fine heifer; a better herd sire or something of the sort. I could fill my whole column with examples of what dairymen are planning to do with their bonds.

The Seventh War Loan starts in a few weeks so I just wanted to drop a reminder that when you buy a bond, you buy another slice of freedom, slap the Japs, and make sure that when more equipment becomes available you'll have bonds at hand to make your purchases.

KEEP ON BUYING 'EM AND BUY 'EM FOR KEEPS.

If a fellow stopped right in the middle of his work every day and climbed to the top of his windmill, his neighbors would think he had slipped a cog in his thinking machinery.

The University of Minnesota started out to find ways to save labor on a dairy farm. One place was found where a piece of equipment used at each milking stood on an old concrete base six inches high.

Workers stepped up on the block 85 times daily. In doing so they used the same amount of energy it would take for a man to climb 42 feet. The block was removed, and a lot of energy saved.

You may uncover a number of ways of saving time and energy, simply by laying things out more conveniently. Putting equipment where it will be handier, making a sloping incline out of a step-up and, of course, the use of the correct milking routine, are among things which will save labor.

A Minnesota farmer cut his milking time from 55 minutes to 10 minutes, saving 50 minutes each day or 100 hours per year—more than 12 whole days. Another farmer was carrying feed in a 6-peck basket, making four trips at each milking.

He built a feed cart, mounted on old bicycle wheels, and now a 12-year old boy handles the feed for each milking, in one trip. I think if you study each step in your daily work you may find ways to save minutes in time and plenty of energy.

Out in the Western Pacific the Japs are finding out just how much trouble an airplane carrier can be. Another type of carrier can get into a dairy herd and create trouble of its own kind, too.

At an Eight Point milk meeting I attended in Idaho recently, it was pointed out that cows can have what is called a "mild chronic" case of mastitis which is hard to detect but which makes it possible for the disease to be passed to other cows.

A cow with such a case is called a "carrier." The infection the animal passes on may become serious in other cows. So Idaho suggests a test by a veterinarian to locate such carriers, in addition to your regular mastitis control work such as correct milking routine, sanitation measures and the other things I've talked about recently.

It is best to test the milk from each quarter of the udder separately in making this check. One test may be infected but not all of them. This will help in treating the disease.

Idaho recommends testing every heifer or cow brought into the herd and stresses guarding against injuring teats as such injury in many cases is a direct cause of mastitis.

DEAR KNOW-IT-ALL

Why, oh, why, do the boys of C.H.S. insist on getting those horrible old "G.I." haircuts? We are sure that if a visitor came to our school, he would think the student body was mostly made up of ex-convicts. It's an outrage, that's what it is. What have we girls done to deserve it, but don't think we are going to take it lying down. Do you have any suggestions as to how we can retaliate?

Signed—
Some indignant females.

Dear "Indignants,"
I'll admit those haircuts are pretty gruesome. The boys complain, however, that the weather has got too hot for them, and the "G.I." is cooler. They'd better be glad they didn't live back in the Restoration Period in the days of Charles II. They would have suffered with those feminine wigs. But as for retaliation measures, why don't you all "forget" to roll your hair for a week, or maybe all take a notion to wear some Ben Hur perfume to school. You could eat some onions before going out on your next date.

Signed—Know-It-All.

ASHTOLA SCHOOL NEWS

Oh-h-La-la

Whistles from the younger wolves of Ashtola were heard last Wednesday. All of the seventh grade and the teachers had their pictures made. The girls swooned when the boys came to school with their "Sunday-go-to meet'n" clothes on. The masculine side of the class discovered new loves and hidden beauty when the girls came to school with their hair all combed and their faces "calumined."

The proofs were received in time Friday for comments from the student body. It seems that the shock came to all when they discovered the teachers had a pleasant look on their faces and even tried to smile.

Bad Language

The teacher asked Royce Morris if he would object to anyone calling him a pedestrian. The reply was: "Well, I guess not as long as they didn't say, 'You little pedestrian.'"

Landed Safely

Sgt. Don Hickey, Mrs. Hickey's better half, has landed in England. He reported that he was in a place with 20,000 population, so maybe he won't get lonesome!

Big Time Together

Theron and Bobby Holland visited in the home of Royce Morris.

Book Reports

You have missed a part of the fun in our school by not being able to hear some of the book reports the seventh graders have been telling.

THE BRIDGE NOBODY CROSSES

When the pipe line builders come to a river, they have two ways to cross it. One is by laying pipe on the bottom . . . the other, by bridging the stream.

Over this particular bridge, which is one of the Company's many river crossings, no traveler has ever crossed. There is passageway here for only Natural Gas, on its way to war industries, factories homes, and business establishments of the Gulf South . . . a vital, dependable fuel service in war as well as in normal times.

This represents only a small part of the large investment necessary to deliver gas from the well to you.

Large Vote Cast In Mayor Election Saturday

Some 390 voters turned out last Saturday to vote in the Special Election called by the City Commission to decide which of the two candidates, Cap Morris and O. C. Watson, should occupy the office of Mayor of our fair city. The first election, you will recall, held April 3rd, culminated in a tie between Mr. Watson, whose name appeared on the ballot, and Mr. Morris who was a write-in candidate. However, in the run-off election, as it might be called, both names appeared on the ballot and Mr. Morris was elected to the Office of Mayor by a majority of 238 votes to Mr. Watson's 152.

The Special Election created a maximum of interest among the voters of this city as was attested by the number of voters to go to the polls to decide which way the tie would go. As stated above, they numbered 390, whereby only 222 turned out for the election of April 3rd.

Morris is fully worthy and capable of carrying out the various duties and responsibilities of his newly acquired office, and promises to do so to the utmost of his ability and according to the will of the people of Clarendon.

Rayburn Smith served as election judge and was assisted in holding the election by R. E. Drennan, O. D. Lowry, and C. M. Lowry.

Frank Norfleet Visits Here

No man in all Texas is better known to the evil-doers than is Frank Norfleet of Hale Center, Texas. No man has more friends than he and a welcome hangs out wherever he goes.

Mr. Norfleet was in Clarendon Tuesday for a short time. He spent some time with Mr. W. H. Patrick and the First National bank force. Bill Word, manager of the JA ranch knew of his coming, and came in for him just about noon.

It will be recalled that Mr. Norfleet was fleeced out of thousands of dollars in a Dallas hotel some thirty years ago. He spent four years tracking those four fellows down. He saw every one of them behind the bars except one. That one suicided in Florida rather than come back and face the penalty.

Finding his special and natural talents in mature years, the owner of those talents then put them to good use in helping the law to track down other noted crooks of national reputation.

He wrote a book about his experiences, many of those books are right here in Donley county. Others are scattered over the state and the nation. It is said to be the most interesting book of the experiences of a man-tracker ever put into print.
