

The Present Problems of Clarendon Public Schools

CLARENDON HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

DISTINCTION LIST FOR THE SIXTH MONTH

The sixth month of the present session of Clarendon Public Schools closed on Friday, March 5th, 1920, with a total enrollment of 721 for the term, and a distinction list of 228 for the sixth month. These 228 were distributed as follows: In the high school 31; in the intermediate department in high school building, 60; and in Central Ward 137. The attendance was much better this month than last, more than half of the rooms averaging 95 per cent or better, one of these averaging more than 98 per cent, and another more than 96 per cent. Those averaging 95 per cent or better were as follows:

- Miss Talley's room, 98.78 per cent.
  - Miss Owen's room, 96.96 per cent.
  - Miss Lane's room, 95.90 per cent.
  - Mrs. East's room, 95.88 per cent.
  - Miss Stevens's room, 95.70 per cent.
  - Miss Stickney's room, 95.57 per cent.
  - Miss Lumpkin's room, 95.42 per cent.
  - Miss Cooke's room, 95.11 per cent.
- Below are given the names of those pupils in the city schools who averaged 85 or more in scholarship for the month. Those averaging 90 or more are recorded with highest honors (Summa Cum Laude), and those averaging 85 or more and under 90 are recorded with high honors, (Magna Cum Laude).
- The list follows:
- High School report for the sixth month, Summa Cum Laude (90 up):

A Frank Discussion Of The Financial Difficulties That Are Hampering The Progress Of The Clarendon Schools

The problems of Clarendon Public Schools are not peculiar in their nature in the least but are the natural and logical results of growth, increased cost of operation, and the necessity of paying the teachers the higher salaries necessary to meet these demands—as well as to provide the necessary supplies, coal, etc., necessary for the operation of a business of this size.

The great trouble with the American people as a whole, is that they do not consider their public affairs as matters of business in the least—but elect with little thought their officers and then promptly dismiss the matter as being completed. They are a great deal like the slow paying never-do-well around one of our small towns was about paying his doctor bill—(why do folks consider the doctor's bill as the one that can be put off longest when he is the man they want the quickest when they get sick?) The doctor in this case had been forced to dun the man time after time—always to be put off just another week or so—and months passed. One day the doctor met the man and said to him: "Now look here Mr. Spivins I want some definite settlement of this account. If you haven't the money I want a note—and make it get it into some business like man."

You are partner in a business organization with an actual plant that cost more than $100,000, whose upkeep is more than $20,000 per year, whose needed improvements at least double the initial investment, and whose product is the future manhood and destiny of this country and this nation—and yet you never go about it, do not know personally the departmental heads, or the general manager—and I doubt if three out of the entire town could name all of the Directors of the School Board. Yet you buy $10 worth of oil stock in a hole 14 miles away from nowhere and burn $40 worth of gasoline chasing down to see if oil is oozing up thru the dry dust—and know every time the tool-dresser changes his shirt—and the future growth, prosperity and position in the world of this county depends more upon the childhood now in school than upon all of the oil wells that could be located in this county were every one a gusher at 300 feet.

Public business is run too much on that basis as concerns the average citizen. A board of School Directors are elected, the job dumped onto them, without pay, and we have a great sigh and remark, "Now that is off of my hands." In 1911 we had approximately 500 pupils in the Clarendon Independent District. In 1915 we had a little less than 600—about 590 according to the records. At that time we had 14 teachers with salaries running from $41 to $65, and everything else in proportion. Our assessed taxable valuations were $1,984,934.00. In 1919-20 we have an enrollment of 724 pupils, an operating expense of more than $20,000 not including repairs, improvements, or added equipment; the same number of teachers and a valuation of $2,746,781.00. The salary to the teachers has increased less than 25 percent while the cost of every living necessity has increased from 100 to 146 percent, variously estimated and easily believed.

quainted with the conditions as they now exist, that the public schools will of necessity fall far short of the standard heretofore attained, and even more the opportunity for proper education of a vast number of our young men and young women will be jeopardized.

But with a loyalty to service entirely unrelated to the size of compensation they receive the teachers give the best that they have under the trying conditions and the children of our schools react in turn with the best that is in them—with the result that we have the finest class of students that ever made up any school. Some of you will have to take that on hearsay for you have never been in your school.

While driving near the Patrick residence about eight o'clock Saturday night, the laundry wagon driven by D. A. Wilson came in contact with a car driven at high speed. Wilson did not learn the name of the driver who apologized by saying that he did not see the wagon in time to stop and became so bamboozled that he forgot to use his brakes. The fence of the wagon penetrated the windshield barely missing a small child on the front seat. A mare hitched to the wagon was badly crippled by being thrown up on the radiator. The tongue of the wagon was broken and dashboard torn off. No damage was done to the occupants of either vehicle.

What would you think of a stockman that would crowd 85 head of cows in a car that was built to hold 40 or send out one herdman with a thousand head of steers? And yet it is universally agreed that 30 is the efficient limit to the number that can be given one teacher for anything like profitable instruction in one room. It is an injustice to the teacher to expect her to handle that number and it is a greater injustice to the child. With 40 pupils in one room taking 8 subjects, how many chances is each child going to have for individual instruction? In raising pure bred hogs and successful farmers give each pig individual attention as to the development of his muscles, his form, how he feeds, the condition of his pen and health—and produces a $1,000, $2,000 or $3,000 hog. If he didn't give the individual attention to the individual pig—he would soon have a herd of just hogs and worth just hog prices.

DONLEY COUNTY ORGANIZED FOR INTERCHURCH MOVEMENT

In pursuance of a call issued by the Interchurch World Movement of North America, a county committee meeting was called by the county convener, which meeting convened in the Presbyterian Church at Clarendon, on Friday, March 12th, 3:00 p. m. Several churches of Donley county being represented the meeting was called to order by the county convener, selected at Dallas, during the State pastors' conference February 14th to 17th.

The election of officers, W. H. Foster was elected chairman and P. R. Huckleberry was elected recording secretary. An Executive Committee was elected as follows: Ministers: Rev. C. N. N. Ferguson, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Clarendon, Rev. W. H. Foster, Presbyterian church, South, (U. S.) Clarendon, Rev. P. R. Huckleberry, Christian church, Clarendon, Rev. L. A. Reavis, M. E. church, South, Lelia Lake, Rev. S. L. Wood, Nazarene church, Hedley; Laymen: Brother L. Carlisle, Christian, Clarendon, Brother A. H. Baker, Presbyterian, Clarendon, Brother D. O. Stallings, Methodist Episcopal, South, Clarendon, Brother H. C. Akers, Christian, Hedley, Brother Frank Simmons, Christian, Hedley, Brother Mace, M. E., South, Lelia Lake; Women: Mrs. Ed Dishman, Presbyterian, Hedley, Mrs. B. W. Moreman, Christian, Hedley, Mesdames J. A. Alexander and P. H. Williams, Christian, Hedley, Mrs. Dunkle, M. E., South, Lelia Lake, Mrs. G. C. Davis, M. E., South, Clarendon, Mrs. Caba Blackwell, Christian, Clarendon, Miss Neva Tyree, Presbyterian, Clarendon.

HOW CAN THE SITUATION BE REMEDIED?

As is outlined in another article on this page the plan and the only possible way that this condition can be met is by an increased rendition of the property of the city for a school tax. Fifty cents on the hundred dollars is all the law allows to be assessed as a school tax at this time. The present bill that shall be voted upon this coming election provided for each district the right to raise this tax to $2.50 on the $100 but that will come too late for our present emergency. The assessed valuation of property in the Clarendon Independent District for last year was 2 3-4 million dollars and provided with state money, approximately $20,000. For next year we must have not less than $30,000 or an increase of approximately $10,000 and to get that the property rendition or assessment must be raised to at least four million dollars.

One of the several reasons why Clarendon is more than just a western village is her always superior public schools, attracting from all over this territory, the better class of citizens—town, state and nation builders. We cannot afford not to maintain our present high standard—even advancing with all necessary equipment and additional buildings as required.

The firm of Caraway & Chase have added a Ford truck to their special make to their equipment. The tank has two compartments, one each for oil and gas and the whole thing is a beauty equal to any found in a city. This firm has set the pace, now watch the other fellows get busy.

W. E. BRAY TO BE CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION AS CLERK

The office of county and district clerk is technical to the extent that the work requires a trained man for the job. Mr. Bray has filled the office in a creditable manner and is asking for the office again solely on his past record.

WHAT LEADING CITIZENS THINK OF SITUATION

The first consideration in making a good school is to secure the best teachers. The best teachers command the best salaries, if not at this only that it wisely spend the money that is given them and provide the best service possible with these means. Their job is a thankless one as far as financial reward is concerned but in the satisfaction of service rendered and duty done there is a gratification in being partly responsible for a good, constructive, productive school organization that is worth all the time and effort given to that work. It is an honor to be associated with the class of men fit to be members of a School Board.

MEDICOS HELD INTERESTING SESSION HERE FRIDAY

Childrens-Collingsworth-Donley and Hall County Medical Society met at Clarendon last Friday, March 12th with the following present: Dr. J. A. Odum, Memphis; J. B. Ozier, Hedley; E. W. Moss, Wellington; Cross, St. Louis; J. J. Pittman, Wellington; B. C. Hyler, Memphis; G. H. Richardson, Brierley; H. L. Wilder, Clarendon and B. L. Jenkins, Clarendon. A number of most interesting cases were reported which resulted in a most excellent meeting.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS CALL FOR BIDS ON ROAD WORK

At the meeting held by the Board of county commissioners last week, it was decided to put four men on road work to stay on the job and devote their entire time and attention to this important artery of commerce. Bids are now being asked for these jobs. Two men are needed to run the machinery, while two more men are wanted for straight road work. This is an experiment locally but has worked out fine in other sections. If there is any way to get better roads on an economic basis, the public may rest assured that we will have them from the way the board is taking hold of the work. If you are in favor of better roads, tell the Board about it. If you can save money every time you travel over a better road, what does a small tax amount to? Boost for good roads all the time. Old Donley must not get behind in the good roads procession. All the counties of west Texas will be road building this summer. Many counties have already spent thousands last summer and have good roads over some of the roughest country to be found in the state. Donley county has a good roads survey, good road material and a bunch of men to see that the roads are built.

Mrs. R. A. Chamberlain is visiting at the JA ranch with Mrs. Whitfield Carhart this week.

The Bailey men are happy over the fact that over ten thousand attended the Bailey speaking at Dallas, while only six hundred attended the Administration Rally at the same place the previous week. Bailey men must not be too sanguine, however, for it must be remembered that the machinery of the party organization is in the hands of administration supporters. She's going to be some scrap, boys.

Most everyone in this city would prefer that Mr. Herndon who owns the Denver Hotel would be the man to build and conduct just such a hostelry as Clarendon needs and must have. There is no disposition to put this new hotel in competition with the old Denver Hotel, therefore if Mr. Herndon will consent to put up the new building, he will gain the instant co-operation of the Clarendon people, he will gain a most enviable record of aggressiveness for himself, he will gain the best patronized hotel between Wichita Falls and Amarillo. But what The News means to stress is that Clarendon must have a new hotel—it must have it in 1920.

The news finds itself in no position to declare for any avowed candidate for the governorship of Texas. There are so many good points to the candidacy of Looney, Neff and Thomson, and yet so many unsatisfactory things about every one of them, that to our point of view neither is acceptable. Mr. Bailey's principles are so correct in many regards that calmly and without heat one might align with his candidacy were it not for the fact that there are some points in his platform that we cannot subscribe to. Figuratively speaking Texas is between the "devil and the deep blue sea" in 1920 and there are thousands of Democrats who will not become exercised over the issues of the present campaign, preferring to let the zealots of each camp furnish the pyrotechnics, falling back on the resort of voting for the lesser of two evils on election day.

This issue of The News carries accounts of several auto smash-ups and accidents, all chargeable to reckless driving. This is a matter that every citizen is vitally interested in. Even if you do not own a car or other vehicle to be smashed into by the joyriders, you use the streets and highways more or less frequently and are in danger of personal injury from the same source. Texas has some very excellent laws regarding too-speedy driving, which are largely ignored by the officers in the hope that every driver will exercise judgment and care that no person or the property of others shall be jeopardized. Another such disastrous week as the one just passed will force the officers to carry out the very letter of the law. Another thing in connection with some of this joyriding is that it will pay parents to know where their sons and daughters are after dusk. There is such a thing as too much complacency.

The Turkey Gobbler, a neat all-home print newspaper published at Turkey, Hall Co., is the latest acquisition to the fraternity and The News is happy to have it on the exchange list. Editor Young feels that he is able to make the Gobbler gobble fifty-two times a year, and from the first two numbers, we believe he can.

Quite a little interest is being manifested over the proposed railroad from Spur to some point on the Denver. Taking the map it can be readily seen that the most direct and economical route from Spur northward will touch Matador, Turkey, Lakeview, Brice, striking the Denver here at Clarendon. This road would open up a territory to railroad connections larger than the State of Rhode Island, and would prove of untold value to the development of the lower Panhandle. Clarendon will do her part in the way of terminals and right-of-way. She will do more—she will help put over for her smaller neighbors.

Two weeks ago The News published a poem under the title "What About The Monument," written by Mr. T. Jones of this city. This week another from the same pen appears. Mr. Jones feels like many other Clarendon and Donley County citizens, the reproach that has fallen upon us in not erecting the proposed monument for the sailor and soldier boys of this county who enlisted, fought and even died for the flag in the world war. It is a fact that when the Donley County boys in France heard of the movement here for the erection of a monument to the memory of their patriotism, that there in the midst of hardship and death, they spoke cheerfully one to another of the love and evident gratitude of their home people as expressed by the monument TO BE BUILT. Nearly every person to whom the matter has been mentioned has indorsed the plan and say they are willing to contribute to the fund. In fact, there are no citizens in our county who love this country who would not feel hurt if they could not contribute some amount, however small, to bring into realization a monument bearing the names of every Donley County lad who braved death that civilization might not be throttled—a monument which gave special place to the names of those who died that the hum might not leave his own jungle. It is true that we can do only one thing at a time, but people, surely we will not let many moons pass without causing a proud shaft to point skyward, emblematic of that high and lofty purpose to which our sons and brothers dedicated themselves.

A short time after the close of the war by the signing of the armistice, The News said in this column that the German government which accepted the terms imposed by the Allies would not long survive. This was based upon the fact that Germany had not been whipped as thoroughly as she should have been, that her pride was not broken as it should have been, that she did not recognize her defeat like she would have done if the Allies had beaten her armies from the Rhine to Berlin and marched victorious through the streets of that city. The German mind, therefore, could not be content with a government which had apparently accepted a greater defeat than it comprehended. This being the case, it is a matter of no small wonder that the news was flashed over the cables the latter part of last week announcing the success of a revolution and the crumbling of the Ebert socialist government. There is small doubt that this revolution will not be followed by other revolutions. The News believes that it will be necessary for the Allies to take charge of the situation in Germany and under the direction of Marshal Foch establish some semblance of stable government, the operation of which will penetrate the obtuse German mind until it shall realize their true defeated condition and render it capable of adapting itself to the task of reconstruction.

(Later) Advice is now that the revolution has subsided and arrangements have been made with the Ebert Government to call new elections. Events move swiftly.

BAILEY REPLIES TO SENATOR SHEPPARD

Washington, Mar. 6.—Former Senator Bailey tonight issued a statement in reply to the statement by Senator Sheppard appearing in last Sunday's News, touching on Mr. Bailey's Gainesville speech. Mr. Bailey will leave Washington Monday afternoon for Dallas where he is to speak on Thursday. His statement follows:

"In your issue of last Sunday you printed a communication from Senator Sheppard, in which he submitted some observations on my Gainesville speech. The Senator makes two objections to that speech. He objects to it, first, upon the ground that it gives aid and comfort to the common enemy, and he objects to it, also because it is a curious admixture of misrepresentation and error."

"Disposing of these objections in their order I will say that I am as much averse to helping the Republicans as Senator Sheppard or any other office-holder, but I cannot stand silently by and see the principles of the Democratic party abandoned without a protest, and if in protesting against their abandonment, I give aid and comfort to the common enemy, I have no objection to that. Upon those who are sacrificing, and not upon those who are striving to save, what we have been taught to cherish as the very essence of Democracy."

"If Senator Sheppard's doctrine that we must complain at those who betray our principles, because we might thus give aid and comfort to the common enemy, should be adopted as a rule of political conduct in this country, our free Government would not survive two generations, and parties would become aggregations of intellectual slaves, rather than organizations of free men associated for the purpose of preserving their freedom. If President Wilson has adhered with reasonable fidelity to Democratic principles, then I have made a grave mistake in criticizing his administration; but if President Wilson has radically departed from the Democratic principles, then all I have said against him was less than it was my duty, as a loyal Democrat to say."

"If the question before us were merely whether we approve or disapprove what President Wilson has done, I should not feel enough interested in it, to ask the people of Texas to lay aside their daily occupations to hear me discuss it, because that might be decided one way or the other without exerting any permanent influence over the future welfare of our country. But that is not the question which now confronts us. The parties in this country are not only ask us to approve what he has done, but they ask that we pledge ourselves before the world to continue the legislation and administration of this Government substantially as he has conducted it for the last seven years. In other words, and in plain words, we are now required to choose between this 'progressive Democracy' and that Democracy which needs no adjective to describe it."

"We know what Democracy means but nobody has yet defined this 'progressive Democracy.' We know, however, that it is practically the same set of political ideas which Theodore Roosevelt first promulgated as 'Progressive Republicanism,' and that it is certain to lead us ultimately to socialism. The people have a right to make their own choice; but I have a right to point out to them, if I can, the good and the evil between which they must choose. I was never more convinced of anything in my life than I am that we must go back and be Democrats again or we must go on and become Socialists. Between these two courses the Democrats of Texas must, in my judgment, make their choice, and when they come to understand it they will make no mistake."

"Senator Sheppard's second objection to my Gainesville speech, as stated by himself, is as follows: 'Mr. Bailey's speech at Gainesville last week is a curious admixture of misrepresentation and error. To intimate or to say that every power originally reserved to the States respectively or to the people by the Constitution as originally framed and amended over a century and a quarter ago was intended to be forever reserved regardless of conditions, that no further delegation could be made, is to betray an unfamiliarity with the nature and spirit of the Constitution little less than astounding.'"

"Having said that my speech is a 'curious admixture of misrepresentation and error,' a decent respect for the intelligence of those to whom he addressed his communication would demand that Senator Sheppard specify the misrepresentation and error. He has not done so, and he can not do so, because there is neither error nor misrepresentation in that speech. Doubtless Senator Sheppard intended to indicate the 'misrepresentation and error' (Continued on page 7)

AN ESSAY ON TEXAS

Texas is a Scandalvan word meaning "The Whole Cheese." Texas admits this. Texas is seen from Mars and looks like a battered frying pan with the handle broken off.

Texas doesn't care what she looks like.

Texas occupies all the continent of North America except a small part set aside for the United States and Canada.

Texas is nearly all land, that being the principal pursuits of her people.

Texas owns the south half of the Red River, the only dusty stream in the world, also the only stream that flows oil, which is navigable only by "wild-cats and speculators."

Texas is bound on the north by twenty-five or thirty states, on the east by fifteen or twenty more states on the South by South America and all the oceans in the world except the Pacific, on the west by the Milky Way and Sidereal Universe.

If stood on one end it would only be necessary to build a short inter-urban line from Dallas county to the moon. The line would be very popular as all the oil men want a closer acquaintance with the oil prospects in this unknown world, this being about the only prospective field where wild-cats are not being located, and some of her aviators are expected to make a report in the near future.

If Texas was chopped off at the Pan Handle and cut loose from the rest of the United States it would float into the ocean, for it rests on a vast subterranean sea of liquid gold.

Turn Texas face down it would present the most perfectly oiled surface in the world.

The people of Texas are busily engaged in punching holes through the earth to permit this liquid to gush forth.

When we build a dam across the Wichita River there will be the largest area of fertile soil put under irrigation known to civilization this only can satisfy the ambition of the Wichita people to empty the rest of the world with all its cotton, corn, alfalfa, vegetables and water-melons in fact everything that grows except sea weed, Iceland moss and edelweiss under cultivation; for instance, after Texas supplied all the world she still have a surplus sufficient to supply the Planet Jupiter and all the other unknown regions.

Texas is so big that the people in Brownsville call the people of Dallas "Yankees and the people of El Paso sneer at the citizens of Texarkana at being snobs of the effete East."

Like-wise the Texarkana man turns up his nose at the El Paso man as a "low brow" who prefers the song of "Snooky Ookums" to such classics as "Casey Jones" and "It is Cotton Time in Texas."

Texas is growing so fast it has "growing pains" and if it were a boy it would have to have a new suit three times a day to keep it from going around in "high water pants." At its present rate of growth Texas will have so many congressmen in a few more years or so that it will be an extravaganza to hold congress in Washington and the National Capitol will doubtless be moved to Austin; the traveling expenses alone would justify such a move as the representatives from all other states would be a small handful compared to the army of Texas congressmen.

Texas should be divided so that Joe Bailey and Jim Ferguson could both hold offices as there is no chance for them taking Texas as a whole.

It is 150 miles farther from El Paso, Texas to Texarkana, Texas than it is from Chicago to New York City.

Dallam County, Texas, is closer to St. Paul, Minn., than it is to Brownsville, Texas.

The United States with Texas left off would look like a three-legged Boston terrier.

Out in the western part of Texas unless your front gate is at least eighteen miles from your front door you do not belong to society as constituted in Texas.

Mr. King's gate is one hundred and fifty miles from her front door and she is thinking of having her house moved back so she won't be annoyed by passing automobiles and peddlers. Other ranchmen have whole mountain ranges and rivers on their ranches, one man has forty miles of navigable river on his ranch and since the trouble with Mexico, he takes it inside nights so the Greasers won't steal it or fall into it and contaminate the water as it is needed for the cattle and for irrigation purposes.

There are so many children born in Texas each year that it is impossible to train teachers fast enough to teach them, so they have to be divided, teaching only one-half at a time.

The chief occupation of the people of Texas is trying to keep from making all the money in the world; the chief pursuits was formerly Mexicans, but now it is lease rustling and wild-cattling.

Texas is getting rich so fast it will soon have to take in a few of the surrounding states and Mexico to store its money in.

Texans are so proud of their state they can't sleep nights.

If a Texas head should be opened a map of all the oil fields would be found photographed upon his brain, this is also true of his heart.

to march around the border five abreast.

Texas grows enough alfalfa, which if baled and built into a stairway, would reach to the Pearly Gates.

If all the hogs raised in Texas were one hog he could dig the Panama Canal with three roots.

If all the steers raised in Texas were one steer he could stand with one foot on the sands of the Gulf of Mexico, one foot in Hudson Bay, the others in the Arctic Ocean with his horns punching holes in the moon and tail brush the dust off the deserts of Asia.

If all the cotton raised in Texas each year should be made into one mattress all the people in the world could take a nap on it at one time.

Texas is the land of oil and money, of happy homes, harmony and abundance of plenty, good and beautiful women, of brave men, of flowers and perfume, of sunshine, industry, joy and gladness; it's fame is heard around the world, it is rooted and grounded in honor and courage, and in the constellation of States its lustre will continue to blaze with increasing brightness so long as there is an Old Glory to cheer the hearts of the oppressed.

Even the sun in its daily journey around the world hovers longingly over Texas, lingering longer over its mountains, hills, plains and valleys than any other state; abundant evidence that God has bestowed a special favor on Texas.—Red Seal Magazine.

NOTICE OF SALE UNDER ORDER OF SALE

THE STATE OF TEXAS, COUNTY OF POTTER, Texas, In the District Court of Potter County, Texas.

Charles Molter vs. Mary Waller Rea et al.

WHEREAS, by virtue of a certain order of sale issued out of the District Court of Potter County, Texas, on the 6th day of May, 1919, in favor of the said Charles Molter and against the said Mary Waller Rea, No. 2656 on the docket of said court, I did on the 5th day of March, 1920, at 11 o'clock a. m., levy on and take possession, the following described tracts and parcels of land situated in the County of Donley, and State of Texas, and belonging to the said Mary Waller Rea and described as follows, to-wit:

INTERESTING COLLEGE ITEMS AS GLEANED FROM THE CLARCO

The Faculty Club were hostesses to the junior and senior girls at a Saint Patrick Tea given at the home of Mrs. Edythe B. Cameron last Saturday. The spacious rooms of the Hostess House were decorated in the choice colors of the Irish Saint. White carnations and ferns added to the attractiveness of parlor and dining room, and the favors bespoke of a little bit of Heaven's own land.

The College orchestra under the direction of Miss Loeffler charmed those who came to drink tea to the extent that they were loath to leave after they had drunk. And those talented musicians who furnished the strains that rivaled those made by Orpheus in the golden days of legend, were the first to come and the last to go; so music divides the prize with Tea for honors of the afternoon. Even nature was generous in honoring to memory of the Saint, for the sunshine was a glorious asset to the occasion. The spring warmth called forth taffetas, gay and be-

BARTLETT ART STUDIO

The Photographer in Your Town
Clarendon Phone 46 Texas

Owing to the fact that our fellow-student, friend, and kinsman, Mr. Toney Pratt has departed from among us, and too, that he occupied the position as Editor-in-Chief of that which you hear so often, The Western, Mr. Glenn Lewis, who was formerly Assistant-Editor, has recently received from authorities a promotion, and shall in the hereafter, be termed "Editor-in-Chief" and regarded as the same. Because of the fact that Mr. Pratt is no longer in our midst to offer those suggestions, which every one realized, came from an intellectual source, that does not say that the quality of our book will be lessened in the least. It only means that the book will be delayed for some time.

Mr. Lewis is one among the few in Clarendon College who has access to his own originality, and he is ever capable of holding the position of which he now occupies. Mr. Lewis has had a bit of experience with journalistic work and knows "the lick it's done with." During the year he has kept himself in close touch with the work and proceedings of The Western, and he has witnessed the slow progress of the book from the beginning. Our plans have not been changed in any way and we still proclaim that the 1920 Western will be the banner annual for C. C.

At present we think probably we will be able to present to the student body of C. C. before the end of this school year with our product. So far, we have received little or no assistance out-side of the household (The Staff), but if you do not want to hear the same old line all the way thru the book, you will have to come to our rescue. Mr. Lewis will see you personally about various matters pertaining to the Western. We beg, we plead, we implore, and if necessary, we pray to you to please make these contributions not in money but in fact, when they have been assigned to you. And too consider, when you put your contribution—if you want to call it that—off one day, you are only delaying the whole "shebang" one day. It is a plain fact that we cannot stand to more delay. Do your part and help make this thing a success.

Miss Eva Lee Galey, head of the Department of Expression in C. C. presented Miss Jennie Dale Powell in a Senior Recital last Monday evening. Miss Powell was assisted by Miss Kendrick, pianist, Miss Ruth Averyt, violinist, and Miss Pearl Miller, soprano. The audience of 200 people greeted the program numbers with hearty applause, and gave each number close attention.

The first group of readings given by Miss Powell included "How Did You Die" by Edmund Vance Cooke; "As The Moon Rose", Phelps; "Da' Americana Girl", an Italian selection from T. A. Daly; "Mandalay", with piano accompaniment, Kipling; and the popular child version of "I've Got The Mumps" by Irene Franklin. This group of readings was preceded by an artistic rendition of "Valse Trieste", Sibelius, by Miss Averyt, and followed by Miss Miller in the soprano solos "Slumber Song" by Matter and "Songs My Mother Taught Me" by Dvorak.

The sympathetic interpretation of Van Dyke's "The Other Wise Man" was the closing number of the pleasing program that delighted all who attended.

We are always glad to welcome new girls to the Dump and this week we have Miss Muriel Bailey of Hale Center and Miss Ruby Reavis and her sister of Lelia Lake.

Miss Ophelia Steele spent the week end at her home in Channing. Albert Cunningham left Wednesday morning for Waxahachie, where he goes to help the Evangelist Dr. Hightower in a protracted meeting.

Mr. Heck Harris has returned after spending a few days at his home in Portales, New Mexico.

"Skinny" Wells returned Sunday night after several days visit with his home folks at Lakeview.

J. E. Eldridge spent a few days in Amarillo visiting his folks.

Dr. Burkhead writes from Houston that he has been revelling in the lectures of the Rice Institute professors. He says all of the professors at Rice are great, but some are greater than others, and Dr. Axson is the greatest of them all.

Last Tuesday evening the Alpha Sunday School class entertained at the home of Mrs. Braswell. It is needless to say that everybody had a great time, for this can be vouched for by numerous spectators.

We were not bored with the usual regime, but something new was presented. They called it a "Line Party", and it has been pronounced a grand success by everybody present.

After the preliminaries at the home, we were conducted to the show and confectionery afterwards. There the Misses Young and Weatherly added to the entertainment with some excellent readings. Mr. Braswell was heard to say that one of these readings was worth more to him than mere entertainment. It offered a "tip" that might be really worth while.

Then we disorganized, and dreamed not of what might have been, but what really was.

On March 29, the Clarendon College Fine Arts Department will present its Juniors in recital. The program for this occasion will be published later.

STRICKLAND-STORY'S

John Kendrick Bangs, prominent author, lecturer and, during the war, welfare worker in France and later on a government mission to Berlin, spoke for an hour and a half at the College auditorium Thursday night. Mr. Bangs' theme was his experiences and observations while in France and Germany, and was addressed primarily to those who would quickly forget the great struggle and the principles for which a hundred thousand young Americans sacrificed their lives. The speaker was in Paris when the Boche held Chateau Thierry and were bombarding the Capitol with their long-range cannon, and he gave numerous examples of the fine morale prevalent in Paris during the dark days of June and July, when the French regarded the bombardment as entertainment and enjoyed the air raids as sensations.

He spoke of his experiences as a Red Cross worker near the front lines and frequently digressed from his subject to pay glowing tributes to the tenacious British, the heroic French and the cheerful American soldiers who stemmed the great tide of Prussian invasion in 1918, finally regaining the initiative.

During the latter half of his speech Mr. Bangs devoted his time to a scathing refutation of the assertion that American soldiers in France led immoral lives. He gave as proof the fact that in searching among a quarter million Americans for a single case of drunkenness, he found but one such case, and in that, the soldier had just been furloughed after a long period in the trenches before St. Mihiel, and was disconsolate from having received no pay, letters, or friendly advances during his stay in France.

The speaker compared the courageous bravery of the poilu, and the bull-dog tenacity of the British Tommy with the laughing spirit of camaraderie characteristic of the American fighting man. "These," said Mr. Bangs, "are my League of Nations."

His topic was timely, in spite of the fact that the war ended a year and a half ago, for he constantly reminded his audience that no German admitted his nation's defeat, that Hindenburg was a national idol in Germany, that the bulk of the German people still believed in militarism, and that Germany today was propagating the doctrine of Bolshevism, which he characterized as a belief "antagonistic to the principles for which American soldiers made the supreme sacrifice."

Mr. Bangs is touring United States lecturing to schools and colleges, under whose auspices he appeared here. His lecture marks the end of the lyceum course here this year.

Probably as unconscious as the gentleman who invented the Sewing Machine, of the wonderful effect their blossoming young lives and soul-stirring examples would have upon the economic world and generations of men to come, three splendid young gentlemen appeared upon the scene Wednesday morning clad in cheap brown, khaki-colored trousers, and in so doing launched the greatest movement since the time of Alexander the Great.

These fair young gentlemen aroused considerable comment, or rather their trousers did, and were the butt of many taunting remarks flung by scornful individuals. Their movement has not yet been organized, but it is very probable that in the near future their common sense example will have its effect upon the lives and trousers of many of the young men of the institution.

There is no doubt but that when the clothing stores hear of this move prices will immediately begin to drop.

Perry Carroll returned Sunday night after a few days visit with his home folks.

CAR BREAKS THIGH OF SMALL SCHOOL GIRL NEAR MARTIN

A jitney said to have been driven by a son of S. J. May near the Martin school Friday ran over the seven year old daughter of Turner Nichols breaking her thigh. The little lady has been suffering intensely since the accident owing to the fact that a weak heart prevents the use of anesthetics and the fracture cannot be reduced as it should be. The driver stated that his brakes did not work and he could not stop in time to save the child after he saw her fall in the road by stepping on a stone.

THOMASON ACCEPTS GUAGE OF BATTLE

"If there be those either in or out of the party who seek to destroy it, then I accept the gage of battle. I expect to defend the party of our fathers against its enemies and the defamers. I regret that one who has occupied high station in Texas made a vicious attack here a few days ago upon the national Democratic administration and the policy of the party that once so highly honored him. It is the party that has guided the country through a great war in a successful conclusion. The leaders had the foresight and courage when entering the war to enter it with the full strength of the manhood and all the means of the country. They would not permit a handful of men to be sent across the ocean without backing and without support and gave them assurance that the enemy would have to cope with all the manhood and all the resources of the American republic. War is waste. War is inhuman. War cannot be conducted economically and the result justified the judgment of our leaders.

"I regret to think that during the coming summer when Democracy meets its ancient enemy before the public and continues the fight in behalf of equal rights that it will be met with accusations by the former senator from Texas and that his speeches made during his candidacy for governor will be used by which Republicans orators will preach. Do not be deceived by this fight. Let us accept the challenge, buckle on the armor, put on our helmets and go to digging the front line trenches. The fight is being made to put the liquor machine once again in the saddle. It is made in one form in one state and in another form in another. Today it is made in Texas under an assumed regard for the sacredness of state's rights.

"I hope the time will never come when the open saloon will dare raise its head in an American community. I hope that never again will the time come when American women's tears will be shed over the ruin wrought by rum in their homes.

"The attack made upon woman suffrage has the same purpose in view because the advocates of the saloon know that so long as the good women of America vote, they are never going to permit the saloon to exist to lure their sons to destruction. Every vote cast for these reactionaries who seek to restore the repudiated rum and who seek to repudiate the acts of the administration that has sought solely the happiness of the people is an endorsement of this attack—every vote cast for them is a vote that weakens the Democratic national party and gives encouragement to the enemy; that inspires hope in the hearts of those who would restore the saloon in your communities; that would say to the American women that they are not entitled to citizenship and that would give more strength to those who seek control of the government once again in order that they may prosper through special privilege."

NOTICE

The Commissioner's Court of Donley county request the submission of bids for road work from persons who will devote their entire time to such work. Bids to be passed upon at the regular meeting of said court to be held at the court house in Clarendon on the second Monday in April, A. D. 1920. The court reserving the right to reject any and all bids.

It is the purpose of the court to employ two men to operate the county's engine and other road machinery, who will devote their entire time to road work, and to employ two other men who will devote their entire time to road work for three months from and after such employment. Bids for the use of teams and wagons are not desired.

Witness my hand officially this 12th day of March, A. D. 1920.

W. T. Link, County Judge.

LOCAL RED CROSS NOTES

The Executive Committee of the Donley County Chapter A. R. C. held its regular meeting on Thursday the 4th inst.

The treasurer of the chapter reports a balance on hand, March 1st of $3,858.67.

The Home Service department under the able direction of the Executive secretary is rendering much assistance to returned soldiers and their families.

Application has been made by the Chapter for a public health nurse, but on account of the great demand, Division headquarters has been unable to secure one for the work here.

There is a great urgency for girls to enter training to become nurses—anyone desiring to do so will please communicate with the Chairman of the Chapter.

It is hoped that there may be many classes in Elementary Hygiene and Home Care of the Sick, and also in Dietetics as soon as a Red Cross nurse's services can be secured. These courses of instruction will be free of charge, except for the cost of the text book, which is about 50c.

It is also hoped to revive classes in First Aid under the direction of local physicians.

Renewed interest is being taken in the Junior work. The chairman of the Chapter met with the teachers on the 9th inst. and plans for the development of the Junior work were discussed and arranged.

A request has been made to Division headquarters for extended Home Service for the Juniors. This means that the same kind of work done in the past (and in the present) for the stricken countries of Europe may be carried on for the community when necessary.

The interest of the people of Donley county is asked in behalf of the Red Cross work that it may continue and be effective. Without their co-operation it can do little—but with it, the community. The peace time program of the Red Cross is for the betterment of all conditions, and to be prepared for disaster that may come.

IN MEMORY OF LITTLE ROBERTA JONES

On February 27, 1920, the Death Angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jones and took from them their darling little girl, Roberta was only 4 years old.

All was done that loving hands could do, to no avail. God needed one more little angel and he saw fit to take little Roberta from this world of trial and tribulation to a better home above. She leaves a father, mother, one sister and two brothers and many relatives and friends to mourn her loss.

We offer sympathy because we knew Roberta to have been a great joy and satisfaction to them and sunshine in the home. Yet we say grieve not, she is gone to be with her savior. While we loved her and miss her, the waiting will not be long and we can only bow to God's will. She is waiting in the glory world of happiness and peace for loved ones left behind.

We loved her, yes we loved her, But Jesus loved her more, And he has sweetly called her to yonder shining shore.

The golden gates were open, A gentle voice said come, And with farewell unspoken, She calmly entered home.

Sad are the hearts in the home today As they gaze upon the vacant chair, When only a few days ago joyous hearts,

Were gathered there. She is with you no longer now, She has gone to a bright home, whose Courts are lined with jasper and pearl.

Whose walls are precious stone. Four four summers she was given to brighten and cheer your home but she was called to join in worship around the Great White Throne. Nevermore will pain sickness or sorrow abound or dim Roberta's brow from her beautiful home in heaven she smiles down upon you.

Dear father and mother do not weep to have her back, for God has called dear Roberta home to join in eternal praise. So very hard it was to give her up, but now she is ever free from sickness and pain.

The little remains were laid to rest in the cemetery, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. V. A. Hansard.

CITY GARAGE CHANGED TO CHALMERS-MAXWELL MOTOR COMPANY

The City Garage name passed into history Monday of this week when R. S. Moss sold his stock of accessories to the Chalmers-Maxwell Motor Company owned by C. B. Williams and T. B. Meador. The new firm sold three cars the first day by way of celebration, W. H. Smith taking a Maxwell car, Mrs. D. J. Schlage purchased a Chalmers roadster, while L. J. Cox became the owner of a Chalmers touring car. The men behind the new company are well and favorably known as hustling young business men and are well able to take care of their share of the car sales in this territory. The shop end of the old firm will be in the hands of Will Riddle and C. O. McEwing, both men having been in the mechanical department of the Ford garage for some time. R. S. Moss will maintain his service car headquarters with the new firm.

and error' in the second sentence of what I have above quoted, but to accept that view of what he has said aggravates his offense, for it would convict him of misrepresenting what I had said in order to charge me with 'misrepresentation.' 'I did not intimate or say' in the Gainesville speech, nor have I ever said or intimated that no further delegation of powers could be made to the general Government by the States. I did not say at Gainesville, but I will say now, that no delegation of any power originally reserved to the States can be made without depriving the States of a right, and I will say further that for more than 100 years no proposal to transfer any of those reserved powers to the general Government was ever supported by the Democratic party, or by any respectable number of men calling themselves Democrats. During the seventy-two years which passed between the time the Republic was first organized and the war between the States, twelve amendments to the Federal Constitution were adopted. Those amendments were strongly advocated and supported by men of our political faith, but not one of them impaired a single right of any State. Democrats also advocated and supported the sixteenth and seventeenth amendments to the Federal Constitution, but neither of those transferred to the Federal Government any right which belonged to a State. Outside of the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments proposed and supported by a solid Republican party, the eighteenth amendment and the pending nineteenth amendment are the only ones abridging the right of a State which have ever been supported by Democrats."

BAILEY IS DENOUNCED BY WILSON DEMOCRATS

A State-wide mass meeting of Woodrow Wilson Democrats, enthusiastically assembled in Dallas yesterday, made answer to the challenge of those who oppose the present national administration.

The campaign for the endorsement of Woodrow Wilson's administration is on in Texas.

Speeches in praise of Wilson and his administration and in condemnation of J. W. Bailey and his present movement were made by Governor Hobbs, M. M. Crane, Cullen F. Thomas and the four candidates for Governor, R. E. Thomason, B. F. Looney, Pat M. Neff and Dwight L. Lewelling, Colonel Thomas H. Ball of Houston, chairman of the meeting, spoke to the same effect, but did not refer personally to Mr. Bailey. The meeting furthermore adopted unanimously resolutions which indorse unequivocally the national administration. It initiated the machinery for a State-wide organization and campaign to fight Mr. Bailey's movement to control the Texas delegation to the national Democratic convention. The "administration Democrats" will work to dominate the May primaries and thus send from Texas a delegation to the national convention that will stand solidly and unreservedly in approval and support of the administration of Woodrow Wilson.

Each of the four gubernatorial candidates said yesterday that he will from now until the May primaries direct his fire in support of this movement and against the Bailey movement to repudiate the national administration. After the May primaries they will turn their attention to each other. A State administration executive committee of fifteen members and a Democratic administration State central committee of thirty-one members are to be appointed soon by Colonel Ball and county and precinct chairmen named all over the State.

By voluntary subscriptions, called for by Judge Barry Miller, $8,448.75 was raised yesterday for a campaign fund.

A telegram was sent to President Wilson informing him of the endorsement given him by this State-wide meeting of Texas administration Democrats and acquainting him with the purpose of this campaign.

This meeting in the City Hall auditorium was attended by a crowd that varied from 800 to 1,200 men and women. This representation included persons from most parts of Texas. The enthusiasm was constant and often extreme. Telegrams were read from prominent men and women all over the State who expressed their sympathy with and pledged their support to this movement. Women were named on the resolutions and organization committees of the meeting and the intention was announced of sending women on the Texas delegation to the national convention. The financial contributions made in response to the invitation of Judge Barry Miller also represented many counties and sections of the State.

Mr. Bailey was "handled without gloves" by most of those who took occasion to refer to him during the speeches and particularly scathing were the observations made with regard to him and his movement by Cullen F. Thomas, Governor Hobbs, Dwight L. Lewelling, Pat M. Neff and B. F. Looney.

R. E. Thomason announced, in further reference to his challenge which Mr. Bailey declined, that he (Thomason) releases every man who is pledged to vote for him unless such man can in good conscience so vote.

Dwight L. Lewelling, who challenged Mr. Bailey, the challenge being ignored, declared that before this campaign would be well on its way to meet and answer him.

Mr. Looney spoke of the "contemptible sedition within our ranks" and asserted that the entire movement led in Texas by Mr. Bailey is simply one to destroy the prohibition amendment and bring back liquor.

Pat M. Neff spoke in strong terms of the Waters-Pierce affair and Mr. Bailey's past record.

The following resolutions were adopted unanimously at the meeting of Democrats here yesterday indorsing the administration of President Wilson:

On the eve of another presidential campaign the loyal democrats of Texas stand ready to give battle to all its foes whether those who from aforesaid have fought outside the party or those deserters inside the party who ought to be outside the party.

CHANDLER SIX

Famous For Its Marvelous Motor

Chandler Leads Because of Its Real Worth

It is easy to boast and make claims and to so magnify mere incidents that they may appear as mighty events. It is easy to paint in the colors of exaggeration.

Chandler advertising has never carried boasts or unfounded assertions to the public. It has never extolled some single performance as final evidence of superiority.

The Chandler Six is so distinctly the leader among medium-priced high-grade cars because of its own worthiness, which for sales purposes does not need the support of exaggeration.

Chandler worthiness comes primarily, of course, from its great chassis, light, strong and enduring, featured by the famous Chandler motor developed throughout seven years of constant manufacture with no change of type of design, but with refinements and developments which have kept it long strides ahead of any other six.

This isn't a claim. It's a fact, and over sixty thousand Chandler owners would tell you so if you could ask them.

Six handsome bodies, splendidly built and finished, are mounted on the one standard Chandler chassis.

Other cars of some similarity are listed at hundreds of dollars more

Clayton & Dean

Cash and Carry Grocery Store
CLARENDON, TEXAS

ministration of the affairs of this Nation under the incomparable leadership of Woodrow Wilson.

To recapitulate its achievements is to summarize the record of constructive accomplishments unsurpassed in American history.

It celebrated its taking over the reins of government by driving a bold and insolent lobby from the Nation's capitol and keeping faith with the people by revising a tariff not upward, but downward, in behalf of the consumers of the land.

It established the Federal reserve banking system, that created a flexible currency, that has decentralized the power of money and money power and robbed the panics of their terror alike in peace and war.

It has established the farm loan banking system, ennobling the power and wealth of the nation in behalf of a home-owning citizenship among the farmers and producers of the land.

It has stood for an economic policy in days of turmoil and conflict that sought to protect all property honestly acquired and invested, but more to the end that labor should be recognized and rewarded with its just share of the wealth created by the great army of toilers, whether in the field, or shop, or mine, or factory.

It has stood with courage and wisdom for a just and righteous settlement of warfare of different groups, classes and interests midway between the Bourbon and the Bolshevik; between the complacent reactionary who puts property above humanity and the blinded red, who, in his fanaticism would pull down the pillars of the Republic.

It has passed laws distributing the burdens of taxation so that in spite of imperfections and crudities that should be overhauled for the first time in our history the swollen fortunes of the rich have borne a just share of the cost of the Government.

It has passed a shipping act that restored the American merchant marine so that once more the flag of American commerce whitens the seven seas of the world.

It has enacted a child labor law to the end that no industry shall fatten on the stunted bodies and minds of little children.

It has stood for a sober soldiery in time of war and for a sober citizenship in time of peace and has given to the sovereign states the privilege of voicing under the constitution their righteous indignation against corrupt and debauchery of the liquor traffic in the social, economic and political life of the Republic.

It has thrown its weight both in the executive and legislative branches of the Government in favor of granting a franchise to woman, to the end that they may exercise their rights and assume their responsibilities in the shaping and molding of American destiny.

More splendid than concrete accomplishments written into law is the lofty spirit of patriotism and unselfish standards of public service set by the President of this Republic to all the nations of the earth.

Epoch making as are the achievements of the national administration in solving the complex and perplexing problems of peace, it safeguarded the Nation's honor in calling America to arms and won the gratitude of the world as it plotted us to victory against the mad ambition of German autocracy for world empire.

It raised and disciplined an army of 5,000,000 men; it landed the flower of youth in France with amazing energy without the loss of a man under the convoy of the American Navy it directed decisive blows on battlefields 3,000 miles from home; it marshaled the productive agencies of our country for munitions and food for the peoples of the earth; it financed our allies as they were fighting with us, for humanity and freedom of the world. These constitute the monument of Democratic administrative efficiency that shall endure to the latest generation.

It has dreamed and wrought and fought amid plots abroad and many plots at home for a counsel of the nations to the end that the tragedy of war should no longer redden the earth with blood and whiten humanity with terror and, though broken in body, we commend the heroic spirit of Woodrow Wilson as he stands today fighting against destructive amendments of a covenant of peace that shall give heart and hope to a war-torn world.

On this unexampled record of Democratic achievements in the most trying days of American history the loyal and progressive Democracy of Texas goes forth unshamed and unafraid.

Cullen F. Thomas, Chairman; Jessie Daniel Ames, Minnie Fisher Cunningham, L. A. Clark, J. W. Sullivan, Marshall Hicks, Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald, Committee on Resolutions.

LOCAL DELCO DEALERS WIN HONORS IN STATE CONTEST

T. S. Kemp, senior member of the firm of Kemp & Cope, local Delco dealers, left the first of the week for Fort Worth where he will be joined by other Delco dealers bound for Dayton, Ohio, factory town where the Delco products are manufactured. The local firm came out second in quota sales for February in a contest open to the state which speaks volumes for the ability of the local firm and the financial condition of the country and progressiveness of the citizens of their agency territory. The Delco head firm will pay all expenses of the salesmen from the time they leave home until they return. A special pullman carried the salesmen leaving Fort Worth Monday of this week. Salesmen winning highest honors were accorded lower berths. Mr. Kemp was allotted number four lower berth for the trip. The convention will not open until three days after the party arrives at Dayton in order to give each one plenty of time in which to inspect the massive factory equipment, special machinery and methods of turning out the products rapidly and economically. The local firm is to be congratulated for having won the success they deserve and for having placed Clarendon on the map so far as that firm is concerned.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Special "win one" services now going on each Lord's Day at First Christian church. We are striving to increase our membership at least ten percent by Easter Sunday. Are you a Christian? and not identified with any local church? If so we urge you especially to place your membership between now and Easter Sunday. Have you been waiting for an opportune time to confess your faith in Christ and become a follower of Him? "Behold, today is the day of Salvation; now, is the accepted time." Bible school next Sunday at 9:45 a. m. Communion at 10:45 a. m. Preaching at 11:15 a. m. Topic: "The Model Church." Special song service both morning and evening. Evening preaching topic: "The A. B. C. of Salvation." Time of service, 7:00 p. m. Miss Myrta Houk, choir leader. You are especially invited to attend these services and help us to be real "Soul Winners". Strangers and traveling men especially welcome. P. R. Huckleberry, Pastor. W. L. Glass, Superintendent.

HOMER MULKEY NOW OCCUPYING ONE OF THE CITY'S BEST HOMES

Tuesday of this week a News representative was afforded the privilege of going through the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Mulkey in southeast Clarendon. The Mulkeys moved in some few days ago and are justly proud of what is considered by many to be the most complete and modern home in this city.

The beautiful structure, occupies a northwest corner lot terraced to the proper height at which elevation a most comprehensive view of the city is obtained. The building is of the mean width and length of 35x57 feet, is built of brown mixed face brick with the entire collection of pot plants of unusual type and beauty. In the rear and reached by a drive way is a garage built of the same material and in architectural keeping having dimensions of 12x20 feet.

From the wide front veranda led up to by concrete steps, the main entrance leads into a reception room of commodious size. This room opens into the dining room, the large inside hall and a guest's bedchamber, has a most attractive grate and mantel and is floored with waxed oak flooring as is the entire building. Between the guest room and the family bed room is a well appointed bath room, one feature of which is a chest of roomy drawers made of cedar and finished in the white enamel of the room.

The bed room to the rear is of the correct proportions and is possessed of the pride of every housewife—a large roomy closet, the door of which carries a full length French beveled mirror. From the inside hall one may enter every room of the house and in the rear of which is the petite breakfast room with built-in table and convenient opening into the dining room which is most charming, is exceptionally well lighted and ventilated by a series of windows upon the west under which has been built a hot water radiator. Between the dining room and the kitchen is a large kitchen, is done in white enamel. It also opens upon the sun porch to the rear.

The large kitchen joining the hall and breakfast room caused even a mere man like The News representative to pause. The writer has no recollection of ever having seen such a convenient throne room for the housewife. The ingenuity of man must be developed to higher levels before a more complete and perfectly appointed kitchen can be designed. There are bins, drawers, lockers, a place for everything, and a good many more places than most of us have kitchen utensils and supplies to put anywhere. The ironing board has its niche in the wall, the hot water attachment to the range is modestly hid from view by an unsuspected closet opening. This room, like the bath, is done in white enamel. It also opens upon the sun porch to the rear.

The sun porch mentioned is enclosed to the south and east by a series of windows, which makes possible its utility as a sleeping porch in the summer and a sun room in winter. From its entrance to the large basement is effected by concrete stairway. The basement is 22x28 feet, is equipped with coal bins, kindling bin, built-in wash tubs with sewer connections, clothes line, etc. Here also is the hot air heating system with vaporizer opening into the hall above from which the entire building is comfortably warm in severe weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Mulkey have shown their taste especially well in their selection of the electric fixtures for the several rooms of the house. They are artistic and ornate, perfectly matching the furniture, finishing and hangings of the several apartments. The walls of the home are plastered on the inside and are tinted with paints and oil, making it possible to clean them easily with a damp rag, with no injury or stain to the plaster.

The windows and doors are equipped with metal weather strips conserving the heat in winter and defying the dust and dirt of the Panhandle.

Ed Barnes did the carpenter work, Cuba Blackwell did the painting and staining, Clarendon Hildebrand did the brick work, while Speed Bros. did the concrete work. This combination of workmen did a most creditable job of which Mr. Mulkey is not unduly proud.

Clarendon is a city of homes and the Mulkey home is one which will always command the admiration of those who see and know it. Car lot Cleveland automobiles here this week. See Motor Sales Co. Phone 342.

DONLEY COUNTY JACK GOES TO A MONTANA MAN

A fine jack with a "mealy" nose and other markings of a well bred animal began his journey from Clarendon to Dillon, Montana, by express Wednesday. The animal was bought by a prominent breeder of that state who wanted the best he could get and naturally came to Donley county to get it. The fare for his "jackship" will be somewhat past the hundred dollar mark. R. E. Williams is the man to branch out for this foreign trade territory and is naturally proud of his achievement.

Rev. J. A. Laney was over from Pampa the middle part of the week looking for a location expecting to move over here and make his home in Donley if he could find a suitable location.
