LIBRARY NOTES

By Mrs. C. A. Burton

Our friends do not forget us. Every few days some of them bring us a book or books. The other day Mrs. Rayburn Smith came with an armful—a general collection. And we often find from these general collections just the book which some one needs—a theme for the school folks, a bit of information for the club women. And always, everyday, we realize the power of books—how they influence our lives.

The autograph manuscript of Mark Twain's "The Stolen White Elephant" brought $2,500 at a recent auction in New York. It was one of the many rarities from the library of the late Dr. James B. Clements.

It is reported that the Allied Commission in Italy has printed a million textbooks for a re-education campaign to remove fascist doctrines from the minds of Italian children. A series once in use in the elementary schools has been completely rewritten and 759 books used in the secondary schools have been eliminated or amended.

The daily press carries the announcement that the Ziff Davis Publishing Company is offering ten thousand dollars in prizes for ideas on peace after the war—the contest to be opened by a radio dramatization of the "The Gentlemen Talk of Peace" by William B. Ziff. Deadline for entry is April 5, just before the San Francisco Conference of the Allied powers.

Ernest Hemingway has returned from Europe and will go to Cuba to finish his new novel. Of course it will be a war story—one wonders if it may be on the pattern of his "For Whom the Bell Tolls."

A biography of Lewis Carroll, author of the perennial favorite, "Alice in Wonderland," is to be published the last of this month. It is "Victoria Through the Looking Glass," by Florence Becker Lennon, and shows how a lecturer on Geometry at Oxford became the author of this treasure of folklore and mythology.

Louis Bromfield has already sold the picture rights to his forthcoming novel, "Colorado." Practically always he has sold his stories, both the serial rights and the picture rights before the story is completed. That was true of "Mrs. Parkington," and also of this new story.

Harley C. Longan Writes Mother From Pacific

EDITORS NOTE—The following letter was written by S 1/c Harley C. Longan to his mother, Mrs. Edith Longan of the Midway community. Harley is with the fleet in the Pacific area, and the letter is very interesting.

Dearest Mother,
I know you will be interested in a brief account of some of the San Diego's experiences in the last few months. Our ship has been in the "thick of things" for so long now that one hardly knows where to begin to tell of our engagements. For example, just look at these "firsts" to our credit; we were a part of the first Task Force to strike each of the following places: Rabaul (Nov. 1943); Gilbert Islands (Nov. 1943); Marshall Islands (Dec. 1943); Truk (Feb. 1944) Philippines (Sept. 1944); Formosa (Oct. 1944); Okinawa and Ryukyu Islands (Oct. 1944); and the China Coast (Jan. 1945). These are, by no means, all of our engagements but just those where we were a part of the first attacking force. In the past six months we have seen a great deal of the enemy. No doubt you have read of the First Battle of the Philippine Sea (June 19, 1944). We were in the midst of that battle. Off the coast of Saipan, along with other ships of our Force, we encountered heavy attacks from Jap carrier planes. The skies were black with aerial dogfights all around us. The American pilots did a great job. From the deck of our ship nine enemy planes were seen at one time falling in flames. That will give you some idea of the intensity of the battle. Our ship was credited with one "probable" during the day when a low flying plane on which we had opened fire was seen falling as it reached the horizon.

During September we engaged in strikes against Peleliu and Angaur in the Caroline Islands and against Mindanao, Manila, Samar and Leyte in the Philippines. September 21st was the day our planes made their attack on Manila. In our ship we were all listening to a radio broadcast in English (phonograph records etc.) from Manila when suddenly the announcer began to say in an excited voice: "Manila is under air attack! All civilians take cover!" It was our first announcement that our planes had found their targets; we surely got a big kick out of the way that announcer changed his tune! On our way south our ship took part in attacks against the Central Philippines.

October was a very busy month indeed. During this time we assisted in strikes against Okinawa, Formosa and Leyte. October 12, 13 and 14 were days to be remembered! On the 12th we closed in for an air attack on the island of Formosa. All that day enemy planes were spotted but they kept well out of gun range. However, at about 7 o'clock in the evening a large number of them made a real run on us. Along with several other ships we opened fire on them. Almost immediately, three Jap planes crashed into the ocean. A few minutes later another came rushing straight for our ship and although we did not bring him down he was forced to turn back. In all the confusion of firing it is hard to say just which ships brought down which Jap plane but the San Diego definitely "splashed" one Betty. We assisted in several more.

That night we provided a colorful spectacle because the Jap planes dropped flares around us which lit us up like broad daylight. We could have read a newspaper on the main deck at midnight. Strangely enough, the Japs did not follow up this illumination with an attack. We did see plenty of them for the next two days, however, but we took care of them before they could do any serious damage. During these three days (Oct. 12, 13 and 14) carriers sent their planes in repeated sweeps against Formosa. About the time of these raids on Formosa we heard a lot of ridiculous broadcasts from our "friend" "Tokyo Rose". She reported so many American ships sunk that it became a huge joke with us. We wondered if you folks back home were enjoying her fantastic remarks as much as we were here. We listen to her out here because she does broadcast some good phonograph records, but believe me, when she starts talking she surely "murders" the truth!

The remainder of October and most of November were spent in several strikes against Manila, Luzon and Leyte keeping Jap planes "salted down." We not only covered for the carriers as they launched raids over Jap-held areas of the Philippines but along with other ships our job was to prevent re-enforcement of enemy garrisons by Jap transports and supply ships.

The biggest thing I have to report in December was the typhoon, about which you have already heard something. This terrific storm occurred on December 17 and 18 while we were operating off the Luzon coast. The weather began to thicken and grow progressively worse on the 17th and we received word that a typhoon was heading our way. It was coming so fast that we could not escape it. The next day it struck in all its fury. The seas reached mountainous heights with accompanying high winds and heavy rain squalls. Our ship was rolling heavily and at one time we took a terrific lurch as if King Neptune were really cracking his whip, and we were it! We could do nothing but hold on and ride out the storm. About three o'clock in the afternoon the storm began to moderate and by evening the ship was riding much easier. We had seen the sea at its worst and you can be sure that it was an experience we do not care to repeat.

Even foreigners visiting our shores for the first time respond to the friendliness in the phrase Have a Coke. Why is it that the fellow who is smart enough to get out of a tight place, isn't clever enough to keep out of it in the first place?

MYSTERY IS OUT.
Those of us who have been wondering for some time just why the English persist in placing "Sir" before the names of some of their fellows, now have an explanation. It is said to be done purposely to distinguish the men from the women when dress and manner cannot.

Housewives Must Get Canning Sugar Allotment From Ration Boards

The Office of Price Administration says there will be enough sugar to preserve as much fruit as was actually "put up" in our homes last year. The same amount of sugar (700,000 tons) has been set aside this year for home canning as was set aside last year. Last year, however, 300,000 tons more sugar than the total amount allocated for home canning was bought by housewives. A large part of this sugar was bought with stamp 40, the home canning stamp, and much of it was used for ordinary household purposes. This year's total sugar supply is smaller than it was in 1944. If any over-issuance of canning sugar were allowed, it would have to come out of the amount allowed for other home use. In 1945 no stamps will be validated for canning sugar. Housewives will be given sugar coupons for home canning by their local boards. Each housewife's home canning sugar allotment will be based on the amount of canning she did last year and the amount she plans to do this year. She will be allowed up to a maximum of 20 pounds per person, or 160 pounds to a single family, even though the family may contain more than eight persons.

Why I Am Proud to Be An American

By Mary Lucile James
Granddaughter of Mrs. Van Eaton

I am proud to be an American! I am proud to lift up my head and say that I am one of 130,000,000 persons endowed with the right to freedom. Freedom to live, freedom of happiness, freedom of education, freedom of thought and freedom of action. I am proud that I am a fellow countryman of Washington and Lee, Lincoln and Jackson, Boone and Crockett. I have every thing of which to be proud. But when I consider me—unworthy that I should have such freedom, realizing what price men paid that I should be free, I feel humble and ashamed. Men suffered cold and died of shock that horrible winter in Valley Forge—for me. Men fell with aching sides and bleeding hearts at the Battle of Seven Pines—for me. Men left their homes to fight in musty trenches and never returned—for me. Men are spread now throughout the face of the earth suffering incurable wounds and at this very moment some person, with ambition, strength and love of life is breathing his last breath for me. I am proud of America, but is America proud of me?

What difference do I make among 130,000,000 persons? But I am one and America wouldn't be America without people. As one of its masses I am an individual. Each person is an individual—not machines moving without thought. As an individual I have the freedom of thought—the freedom to live as I think Americans should live, not swayed by one man to move in a great herd, at his command, so is each person free to live. This freedom to live is the influence that made men in every generation willing to die. I am proud to live. With the sacrifice of these men before them, each American should really live.

Mrs. Millard Word and her mother, Mrs. Ingham returned from their ranch Wednesday. Mrs. Ingham has been quite ill and will return to her home at Canyon Thursday (today).

Mr. and Mrs. Scoggins of Amarillo visited in the W. H. Strawn home Sunday.

RED CROSS VOLUNTEER SERVICE

HOME SERVICE
By Mrs. C. A. Burton

On January 29, the first batch of collect telegrams from American prisoners of war in the Far East reached Washington, D. C. There were 41 messages and all came from prisoners in the Tokyo group of camps.

From the International Committee of the Red Cross at Geneva comes the statement that every day they are called on to give to prisoners of war news of the birth of a son or daughter. "Baby statistics" show that during 1944, the arrival of more than 400 youngsters was announced to prisoners through the agency.

Contrary to the theory that during wartime birth statistics show a majority of boys, it has been observed that in the U.S.A. there are more girls. The boys are usually given the father's name.

The Swedish ship "Gripsholm," which is under charter to the U.S. government is still busy bringing home our sick and wounded, and taking back the sick and wounded German prisoners. On the exchange last fall, 234 American prisoners were returned, and from the daily press we know a large number came last month. Fifteen of the more seriously wounded were brought back by air, to the Walter Reed General Hospital in Washington in January and we know that many have been brought to McCloskey General Hospital at Temple — including two Clarendon boys. There have been four exchanges with Germans by the Gripsholm, the first having been in March 1944, and plans are underway to make it a continuous process.

Besides clothing and other supplies sent by the Red Cross for the American repatriates, the Jr. Red Cross provided toys for the children of the civilian internees on the Gripsholm.

Letters from prisoner of war camps carry often very cheerful messages; for instance this from a captain at Luft III—"It is a good, healthy life and there are many sports to participate in, as well as classes in languages, math, dramatics, music, and even philosophy. Our food is sufficient but not fancy." And another letter from a lieutenant in Japan—"Your letters are coming through. I am well. This is my 155th Sunday without a funny paper. Keep the home fires burning." Wonderful the cheerfulness and courage with which they write from behind those tall wire fences!

The International Red Cross Committee has organized a Prisoners of War Handicrafts Exhibition which will be opened at Geneva in April and later make a tour of Swiss cities. Prisoners of War of all nationalities have sent camp-made articles, which will remain their property. A first shipment of ten cases of articles, comprising 145 different items, made by German prisoners of war in the U. S. went to Geneva in December. Other shipments on Red Cross vessels have gone since.

RATIONING AT A GLANCE

Phoebe Ann Buntin

A new price regulation covering apparel, dry goods and house furnishings was announced by the Office of Price Administration on Tuesday of this week. C. B. Morris, Chairman of the local War Price and Rationing Board, stated today that the principal provision of the regulation is that each retailer must prepare a pricing chart showing the costs and selling prices of the goods he offered for sale on March 19, 1945. The job of calculating ceiling prices for apparel, dry goods, and house furnishings will be greatly simplified by these pricing charts, he said.

Copies of the regulation which explain how to prepare these charts have been sent to all local retailers of clothing and house furnishings. Additional copies are available at the local board for all merchants who desire them, Mr. Morris stated.

"The new regulation is a follow-up on the OPA-WPB clothing program announced in January, he explained, "and should mean that more of the clothing appearing in stores this summer will be in the low and medium-price ranges."

Again let us remind you that applications for canning sugar will be at the grocery stores by April 1st. When you have filled these out, send them by mail to the local board. It will not speed matters any to bring these applications in person, as they have to be passed by the board before any canning sugar can be issued.

SALE OF GRASS SEEDS IS PROMISING INDUSTRY

The door to a new industry, production of grass seeds under cultivation—is opening to Texas farmers and others in Southwest. Grass seeds are assuming greater importance as a cash crop in the Southwest, and greater returns are expected in the post-war era as impoverished land is returned to grasses and range-management becomes more efficient.

Fortunately for farmers, production of grass seed is a relatively simple operation, says R. R. Lancaster pasture specialist for the A&M College Extension Service. Bunch grasses should be grown in cultivated rows on good, fertile, level land. Solid stands yield less than rows, and little cultivation is required after a vigorous stand is obtained. Cleaning between rows with a large sweep is about the only attention needed.

Among grasses which are adapted and seem likely to offer good returns from seed are weeping love grass, varieties of blue stem introduced from southwest Asia, buffalo grass, blue grama, side-oats grama, and lovegrass, Western wheatgrass, crested wheatgrass, switch grass, and Indian grass.

Improved strains of these grasses are being developed and made available to certified seed growers but not to the public for spring planting. Some are being developed at the Southern Great Plains Field Station at Woodward, Okla., and others, including Rhodes grass and rescue by the Agricultural Experiment Station at College Station. Weeping lovegrass, certified in Oklahoma, is commercially available at $4.50 per pound, but the supply is not expected to meet the demand.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

A superb Junior-Senior Banquet was enjoyed by 80 guests last Friday night at the Methodist Church, thanks to Mrs. White and Miss Berry, the Junior Class Sponsors and to the Methodist women who prepared the dinner. The program, decorations, and menu carried out the airplane motif, and the color scheme of red, white and blue. The tables were put together in the shape of a huge airplane, and gaily-colored model airplanes were suspended on cords from the ceiling. Huge bouquets of peach blossoms filled the room with their fresh, dainty scent. The many beautiful evening gowns of the girls and the gaily decorated banquet hall created a scene of colorful splendor.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

doilies. The place cards were decorated with the picture of a trainer plane, and the napkins were red, white, and blue, with a small gold soldier, who was standing at attention, in the corner. The water glasses stood on blue and white coasters with the letters, "C.H.S." imprinted in various colored plastic airplanes made excellent favors.

The Sophomore girls who served the dinner were: Delene Blair, Nell Drake, Naoma Mooring, Faye Phillips, Wanda Rose Cornell, Ruth Roberts, Sue Smith, Louise Underdown, and Ardith Warren. Each girl wore a dainty little red, white, or blue crepe paper apron and cap.

The menu consisted of:
Wings O' Plane (Baked Turkey)
Valves (Giblet Gravy)
Bolts and Nuts (Peas in Timballe)
Propeller (Cream Potatoes)
Wires (Glazed Carrots)
Hangar (Hot Rolls)
Wheels (Filled apple salad)
Cylinders and Pistons (Cylinders and Pistons)
Lemon Bisque-Cookies (Lemon Bisque-Cookies)
Motor Oil (Coffee)
Tea (Tea)

A very interesting program followed the delicious dinner. It was as follows:
Invocation by Mr. R. E. Drennan, Pilot (Toast Master) Billy Roy Blackman, Drone of Motors (song, "Wait 'Till You Get Them up in the Air, Boys.") by Lovey Stanley, Frances Peabody, Alma Jo Mosely, and Melba Ruth Grady.

Trusty Instrument Board (toast to Faculty) by Elise Norwood.
Our Hangars (Toast to Students) by R. E. Drennan.
Tail Spins and Nose Dives (a humorous reading) by Billie Jean Knox.

After the banquet was over, everyone adjourned to the Legion Canteen, where a pleasant two hours was spent in dancing and playing games.

BOXING MATCHES
Last Monday night the Clarendon and Wellington boxing teams staged boxing matches in the gym. The Clarendon team came out victorious with a score of five bouts won, two tied and two lost. The bouts were held in a very nice ring lately constructed in the gym. During the next matches we hope the gym will be provided with even better seats than were used Monday. We would also like to thank the Clarendon business men for their kind support of the matches.

The Clarendon Band played a short concert for the War Dad's program Wednesday night. Concert marches and some semi-classical numbers were played.

Sunday evening at the Methodist Church the Band played about twenty five minutes. They played "Evening Star," "Serenade," "Star Spangled Banner," and at the close of the sermon, which was about Texas, "The Eyes of Texas" was played.
Mr. Stanley stated that he started six of the best beginners he has ever started. They are all in Jr. High. Four of them are on clarinets, one on alto clarinet, and one on cornet. The Chamber of Commerce purchased five B flat clarinets this week.

The "C" Club had their first regular meeting Thursday evening, March 15. Plans were made for a Box Supper at the College Auditorium, March 22 at 8:15 p.m. The money taken in will be used in the purchasing of football award jackets. Suggestions were made also for sponsoring a dance sometime in the near future. Money taken in on this will be used for the same purpose. Everyone is cordially invited to attend the Box Supper.

January found us again striking Formosa and Luzon but the most interesting event of the month was our voyage into the China Sea. We launched air raids on the coast of French Indo-China, Hong-Kong, and Swatow. During this operation we were deep in enemy territory but we must have caught the Japs completely by surprise for there were no attacks upon us. On our way back we struck again at Okinawa and Formosa. Here the Japs did show themselves with an aerial attack but were shot down in great numbers.

Well, this is about all that I can tell you just now. You can see that we have not been idle out here. Still, I do not want to give the impression that all we do is stay in battle day after day. There are "recesses" when we are in port and can relax a bit with fishing, trips to the beach, baseball games, etc. Some of the ports we have made recently are Majuro, Eniwetok and Saipan. So the next time you start worrying about me just remember that I may be in one of these ports, or some other one, with a fishing line over the side!

Yours
S 1/c Harley C. Longan

MOOS OF THE MOMENT

BY UNCLE BOB
of the Kraft Dairy Farm Service

If your pasture came through the winter with a sort of run down and sagging-in-the-middle look, now is the time to give it a "shot in the arm" . . . a good dose of fertilizer.

I told you about a farmer who spent $36.00 on ammonium nitrate and who got back more than $270 in increased milk volume. Now I want to give some other examples of what fertilizing has done.

The extension departments have proved conclusively the value of using lime, phosphate and nitrogen on pastures. Their tests leave no room for argument as to why it is worthwhile.

In Minnesota, an unimproved bluegrass pasture was giving 75 to 80 pasture days. It was limed, fertilized, renovated and seeded. The first year after this treatment it gave 138 pasture days. The next year it provided 217 pasture days.

Missouri found that application of lime and phosphate to a lespedeza plot increased the amount of protein 144.6 pounds per acre. The protein in alfalfa went up 60 per cent after lime and phosphate were put into the soil.

Use of phosphate on a pasture in Mississippi virtually doubled the amount of feed value contained in the grass, compared to the amount of actual food before it was treated.

I rather imagine that somewhere in or near your own county there is a good example of how sharply the value of the land and the crop on it was increased when plant food was put back into the soil.

This year when human food goals again have been raised, use of fertilizer is one of the simplest and best ways to increase your production.

You can imagine how out of place one of those bathing beauty gals would look posing alongside a mud puddle. At that, she would not be as much out of place as a mud puddle intended for drinking water for cows.

Clean, fresh water is just as important in your cows' diet as it is in your own. Lack of plenty of fresh water can reduce your milk volume. Stagnant water has been known to make milk ropey.

Cows will produce more milk if they have free access to good water at all times, according to Farmers' Bulletin 1470 from the USDA. Tests showed that cows which could drink whenever they wanted to, produced more milk than when they were given water only once or twice a day.

If you do not have a fresh stream or clear pond, a tank into which fresh water can be pumped is the best means of supply.

I believe farmers are a couple of jumps ahead of scientists. The scientist takes soybeans and makes them into plastics, synthetic rubber and other things. A farmer, without laboratory equipment, takes soybean hay and makes it into milk. He just feeds it to his cows.

Soybeans have become popular in many states as a hay crop. Feeding trials show that good quality soybean hay is nearly equal in food value to good quality alfalfa.

Soybeans will grow on land not suitable to alfalfa or clover, because of lack of lime, poor drainage or some other reason. Dairy men who cannot grow alfalfa have found soybeans an answer to their need for a hay crop rich in food value.

A soy variety which will reach the hay stage in late summer, before the fall rains start, is best for hay purposes, Purdue says. You'll find a variety recommended for your area, which your county agent can tell you about.

It would be a good idea to get copies of Bulletins 231 and 346 from the Extension Service, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.† for some interesting information on soybeans.

†NOTE: There usually is a 5c charge for pamphlets mailed to non-residents of a state, but possibly your own state has a free pamphlet on the same subject. Ask your county agent.

50 Farm Applications Needed to Make Crop Insurance Available

Applications from at least 50 farms in the county will be required to make Federal Crop Insurance available to Donley county growers, according to Mr. Simmons, chairman of the county AAA committee.

"In the interest of sound program administration," Mr. Simmons said, "Congress has required that crop insurance be limited to those counties in which a minimum participation is obtained.

"I am confident," he added, "that Donley county cotton growers will more than meet this requirement. After all, crop insurance is the only protection available to farmers against the many production risks over which they have no control."

Under the crop insurance program, growers may insure their cotton crops, and cottonseed if desired up to 75 percent of their average yields, or up to 50 percent if less protection is desired. Applications can be made in the county AAA office, or may be filed with local authorized agents.

Applications must be made prior to planting the crop, but in no case later than April 25th. All cotton producers—whether sharecroppers, tenants, or owners may apply for crop insurance on their interest in the crop.

According to Mr. Simmons, the federal insurance program is written on a commodity rather than cash basis. Coverage, premiums and indemnities are all calculated in terms of pounds of cotton. Transactions, however, may be simplified by translating the commodity amounts into cash equivalents.

The payment of indemnities on crop losses will vary with the growing season under the new cotton insurance program. For instance, if loss occurs after it is too late to reseed to cotton, but prior to the first cultivation, the indemnity will be 40 percent of the maximum coverage. The land, of course, may be put to another use by the farmer. If loss occurs between the first cultivation and the end of harvest, the indemnity will be 75 percent of the maximum coverage. Under this adjustment method, the Corporation deducts for harvesting costs which are not incurred. Protection will be for the full 100 percent of the maximum coverage between harvest and delivery to the gin.

Indemnities are paid by means of certificates, Mr. Simmons said, which may be translated into their cash equivalents, or may be used as collateral for Government-sponsored commodity loans.

SPECIAL SERVICE TO BE HELD AT ASSEMBLY OF GOD CHURCH

A special Service will be held at the Assembly of God Church Thursday night, March 29th, according to Rev. A. W. Harris, the pastor. By way of information, Rev. Harris states to the public: "Lois L. Cox, a representative of our Servicemen's Department of Springfield, Mo. will be in charge of services. We urge each one attending this service to bring a snap-shot or photo of their loved one or friend in the Armed Services of our nation. Also, please bring the written name, rank, serial number, and full military address of those who are in uniform. An effort will be made to contact each one, telling him that his name was mentioned in prayer, and his picture was honored in the Patriotic Rally.

"Lois Cox will tell you of the good work done in Victory Service Centers and of other ways in which our servicemen and women are being helped spiritually. She will tell you how you can help win the war and bring our boys home again.

"Don't fail to attend this Patriotic Rally."
