WARTIME WASHINGTON

By Congressman Eugene Worley

News of the invasion has overshadowed everything else in Washington. Official ears were glued to late radio bulletins, and the latest communiques were scanned with anxious eyes. Pressing matters on the homefront were temporarily forgotten. While nearly everyone in Washington expected this greatest of all military operations to begin in June, the secret was so well kept that but a handful of men knew exactly when D-Day would actually begin. Needless to say, interest in the success of the operations was intense. For the past two years, Congress has appropriated multiplied billions of dollars for the express purpose of guaranteeing our men the best training and the best equipment in the world. The wisdom of this policy is reflected when we examine invasion figures. More than eleven thousand planes provided an unbeatable air umbrella for the invasion forces. At least four thousand warships of all kinds were used in the operation. The landing barges, the tanks, the guns and bullets used were the best that could be supplied by the brains and genius of a mighty nation. The equipment lost or destroyed can be replaced—but the lives of the men which would be lost without superior equipment would be gone forever.

At least half the members of Congress have sons and daughters on active duty with the armed forces. Many members have already received grim messages from the War Department or Navy that one or more sons have been lost in the current conflict. The most recent was the son of Paul Brown, member from Georgia, who has been reported missing in action when his submarine failed to return after operations against the Japanese in the South Pacific.

Everyone has confidence in Texas-born General Eisenhower and is gratified over the immediate success. Many fear, however, that the Germans are in the process of bringing up heavy reinforcements to fling at the relatively small Allied force now in France.

Next week an additional appropriation for members of the armed forces for war operations will be acted on. Congress will undoubtedly continue to follow the policy of "To much and on time" rather than the fatal policy followed by France of "Too little—too late."

Price Control Act

This week both Houses of Congress are debating continuation of the OPA (Price Control Act). Democrats and Republicans are agreed that the fundamental principles of price control are absolutely essential to maintain a stable economy and to prevent the creation of a crop of war millionaires. Congress is determined however, to make improvements in the bill which will make the operation of the act as fair and equitable as possible and to prevent inequities which the administration of the act has disclosed.

One such improvement is a restriction of the power to hold "star chamber" proceedings or "kangaroo courts." This amendment has tremendous support.

Another improvement which has very active support from Congressmen from agricultural sections is to permit the farmer to include the cost of his labor in determining the selling price of farm products. Such a measure was passed by the House last year but was never acted on by the Senate.

Efforts have also been made to keep the administration of all rationing as closely in the hands of the County Boards and local people as humanly possible. It is also hoped that ways and means can be found to reduce the terrific number of rules, regulations and directives, and in addition to make them as clear and understandable as possible.

No one in Congress wants any more regulation, directives, regimentation, etc., than war conditions absolutely demand and Congress is determined to make the whole program as simple and workable as it can be made.

Women Workers Who Marry Should Tell Social Security Board At Once

Women workers should notify the Social Security Board when they marry so their names can be changed on the Board's records at Baltimore.

If they do this they will make it easier for themselves and the Board when the time comes to file claims for old-age and survivors insurance benefits.

For the woman who marries and wants to change her name, the Board has provided a special form, which may be obtained at the local field office of the Board. She should fill it out, attach the social security card bearing her maiden name and send the form to the Board.

The Board does not assign her a new number, but issues a new card bearing her present name and the number that was originally assigned to her. She thus will have only one social security number during her entire lifetime. If she had more than one number, she might stand to lose her benefits.

The Board keeps all information it receives from the worker strictly confidential.

The worker may obtain further information from the field office of the Social Security Board, Room 324 New Post Office Building, Amarillo, Texas.

LIBERATION OF EUROPE BEGINS

The historic news flash, "First Allied landings in Western Europe have started," sent over the teletypes of the overseas branch of the Office of War Information, at 3:45 a. m., Tuesday, June 6, was part of the second, or actual combat phase of psychological warfare being waged directly under Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Forces. The first phase of psychological warfare was the strategic or preparatory phase—the softening up—during which the Americans and the British bombarded the enemy and occupied countries with leaflets designed to undermine enemy morale and bolster the morale of the enslaved peoples. Germany, France, Belgium, Holland and Norway have been receiving miniature newspapers with a combined circulation of almost 16 million. Part of the present combat phase will be carried on by psychological warfare branch combat teams who will be equipped with portable printing presses and radio equipment to keep the

JOIN GULF'S "Anti-Breakdown" CLUB TODAY!

BEFORE THIS WAR is over, there may be only two kinds of people in America...

1. those who can still get to work in automobiles,
2. those who are forced to walk.

If you want to be in the fortunate group who will still be riding to work in automobiles, join Gulf's "Anti-Breakdown" Club today. How do you do it? Just come in for Gulf's Protective Maintenance Plan!

This plan was conceived by experts in car care. Gulf developed it because car maintenance is a most important civilian job. (8 out of 10 war workers use automobiles to get to work.)

Here's Gulf's Protective Maintenance Plan..

1 It protects your car at 39 danger points!

GULF's Protective Maintenance Plan includes Gulfex Registered Lubrication which reaches up to 39 vital engine, body, and chassis points. Six different Gulfex Lubricants are used to reduce wear.

2 It helps keep your motor in "A-1" shape!

It's IMPORTANT to change your oil regularly... and to give your car a really good motor oil like Gulfpride, "The World's Finest Motor Oil," or Gulfube, an extra-quality oil that costs a few cents less.

3 It helps stretch your gas coupons!

ASK YOUR GULF DEALER to clean your spark plugs, clean your air filter, and flush out your radiator, to help give you as much as 10% more mileage per gallon of gas!

Get an appointment at your Gulf station

TO HELP YOUR Gulf Dealer do a thorough job on your car—and to save your time—make an appointment. Phone or speak to him at the station. Then you should encounter no delay when you get Gulf's Protective Maintenance Plan... 15 services in all!

INVASION CUTS DOWN CIVILIAN SUPPLIES

Recent shortage of many civilian supplies may be attributed to military demands of the forces of liberation. Examples are radio tubes and parts, gasoline and oil. In spite of a radio manufacturing output over 10 times as great as pre-war, military demands for radio tubes and repair parts have increased. This explains why civilians are finding it hard to get these items, the War Production Board says. Every military plane has radio equipment, some as much as $100,000 worth each. Ships, tanks and other mobile equipment also use radio equipment. A five-month supply of 100-### octane aviation gasoline is required for each of the 11,000 planes beaking up Allied liberation forces, the Petroleum Administration for War reports. Heavy and imperative demands for oil by General Eisenhower as early as last winter almost made New York,

Boston, and Philadelphia the first indirect invasion casualties. Increased production by East Coast refineries, the "big inch" and "little big inch" pipelines, and emergency deliveries helped avert civilian shortages of oil and gas in the East.

BUY THAT INVASION BOND TODAY!

Can we take it? The men running this war have told us again and again that Victory is likely to come slowly, at bitter cost, and attended by heart-breaks all the way. We must take bad news with good—we must never let up—we must keep doing our job and buying more and more Bonds 'till the day when the last enemy lays down his gun. Let's do just that!

SHOE RATIONING TO CONTINUE

There is no indication that any increase in shoe supplies will be available for civilians during the remainder of the year, according to a joint statement from the War Production Board and the Office of Price Administration.

Shoe rationing will continue in this country until there is a marked improvement in the supply situation, the officials stated in response to reports that shoes would be lifted from rationing on September 1st.

Officials stated that inventories declined more than 53 million pairs in 1943 and that a further decline up to 25 million pairs is expected for this year.

An Advertisement Addressed to Buyers of BLACK MARKET Gasoline

Phillips production of 100-octane gasoline could fuel enough Flying Forts to drop 3,000 tons of bombs on the "Invasion Coast" every day!

Gasoline shortage on the home front is a grim reality, and gasoline rationing is our American system of sharing the available supplies fairly, in accordance with car-owners' essential needs.

Why is gasoline short? . . . Re-read the headline above. It is presented not in boastful spirit, but in explanation of one of the vital military uses of the gasoline which you cannot purchase.

Remember, Phillips is only one of many producers of 100-octane aviation gasoline, of butadiene for synthetic rubber, of various fuels for ships and tanks and combat cars. The petroleum raw materials which go into the literally oceans of these military fuels are obviously not available for the manufacture of civilian supplies of gasoline.

Every Black Market purchase reduces the already greatly diminished pool of gasoline which must suffice for our country's essential transportation needs. That is why no thinking, patriotic American will be a Black Buyer. And without Black Buyers there can be no Black Markets.

So do your patriotic part to break the Black Market in gasoline: Endorse every gasoline ration coupon in your possession. Don't accept any gasoline at any price without giving up coupons. And most important of all, use the legal gasoline you buy for essential driving only.

RAW MILK PRODUCTION REACHES PEAK IN APRIL

Farmers of Texas carried 119,889,000 pounds of raw milk to dairy products plants for conversion into butter, cheese, ice cream and other products during April, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

While cheese was the only product turned out in larger quantities than in April, 1943, all three major types of products reached their peak output for 1941 in April—creamery butter, 3,535,000 lbs.; ice cream 1,687,000 gallons; and American cheese 1,884,000 lbs.

Care For The Fruit Trees

The blame isn't on the tree if fruit killed the buds while it was trying to make a fruit crop last spring. It will bear next year if given the care a good fruit tree deserves, says J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist for the A&M College Extension Service.

Cultivation throughout the summer is basic because weeds rob a tree of plant food and moisture. The growth made this year will store up the plant food from which early sprouts and blooms originate next spring. Systematic care will assure vigorous blooming and quick setting of fruit next season. On the other hand a tree receiving indifferent care will produce weak blooms which often shed without developing into fruit.

A fruit tree not only responds to good care but helps the orchardist practice it. If the foliage is slightly yellow the tree is telling him that it needs nitrogen or plant food in general. A tree should receive one pound of nitrate of soda or ammonium phosphate during the first half of June. If the soil is generally run down two or three pounds of 5-10-5 commercial fertilizer will restore a tree to a healthy, green color. Scatter the fertilizer over the surface to the ends of the branches. It can be mixed into the soil in cultivation.

Looking to better returns from the growing crop, Rosborough suggests that owners may profit by thinning fruit on the branches to four to six inches spacing. Since over-loaded trees never produce large fruit thinning increases the size. Many experienced orchardists claim that about the same poundage of peaches, for instance, will be produced per tree whether there is a large number of small ones or a smaller number of large ones.

The berries should not be forgotten in the overall care of the orchard. After the blackberries are picked cut off the old growth at the ground line leaving only three of the best shoots of new growth. The tops of these should be pinched at a height of two and one-half feet to encourage growth of side branches. This also is a good time to clear out weeds from around the plants and give them a handful of 5-10-5 fertilizer.

LIVESTOCK SHIPMENTS DECLINE IN TEXAS

Shipments of livestock from Texas during April declined to 10,628 cars, compared to 14,245 in April a year ago, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

This movement represented shipments to out-of-state points and to the Fort Worth stockyards.

Shipments of hogs rose slightly and those of sheep remained about the same, while movement of cattle and calves dropped drastically, due primarily to the fact that floods in Kansas and Oklahoma rendered it impracticable to ship cattle to those feeding areas during April, the bureau report said.

MOOS OF THE MOMENT
BY UNCLE BOB
of the Kraft Dairy Farm Service

With the coming of hot summer weather, every dairyman faces the attack of one of our most dangerous enemies—the insect. It's a merciless war and if the insect pests win it means irritated cattle and lowered milk production. The loss that insect pests inflict upon dairymen runs into the scores of millions of dollars every year.

There's no time like the present to open up a "second front" upon these allies of the Axis and we've prepared a handy guide to help you win the fight. It is called "Your Handy Guide for your War on Insects". It contains a brief description of the principal insect pests, where they are found, what they do, and what you can do in the way of control and treatment.

This guide may be tacked to the wall of your barn for ready reference. I am giving this guide away free. There is no charge or obligation of any kind. You may get the guide from your Kraft fieldman or by writing to me in care of the Kraft Cheese Company, 500 Peshtigo Court, Chicago, Illinois.

If we give our insects here at home the kind of a beating that the Allies are handing the "insects" in Asia and Europe, we'll be doing all right.

A few weeks ago I mentioned the studies made at the University of Minnesota which showed how much faster milk could be cooled with water than with air. Since then, I have had several requests for information on how to build a good emergency water cooler. A bulletin from Tennessee illustrates how one may be made from a barrel with a minimum of expense.

The diagram at the left is taken directly from this bulletin. This, of course, is an emergency device. The best cooling system is the milk house tank. If you can use one of the barrel coolers in the meantime, I suggest you write for Dairy Letter No. 4, Department of Agricultural Extension, University of Tennessee, Knoxville, Tenn.*

Now if I could just figure out some way of walking around in one of those barrel coolers during hot weather, I'd be mighty happy.

Of course, every dairyman who wants to do the best kind of a job should be thinking right now about the kind of a milk house he intends to have sooner or later.

Your county agent probably has plans for different types of milk houses which have been made up by the state agricultural extension service. Your Kraft fieldman or the manager of your nearest Kraft plant will be glad to co-operate in any way he can.

The fellow who wants to go to the city and make hay—hey, would be a lot better off if he would go to the field and make hay—hay for his cows.

Which brings up the subject of the right time for cutting hay. All of the extension services agree that hay has different food values at different stages of maturity. They also agree that it should be cut early for highest food values.

For example, in Bulletin 218, Minnesota advises that clover hay will be much higher in food value if cut when the first heads begin to ripen. They also recommend that all grass hays be cut before they come into bloom to get the maximum protein content. Sweet clover, too, should be cut before the first blossoms appear because the stems rapidly grow woody.

In Bulletin 242, Purdue University recommends that alfalfa be cut after the one-tenth bloom stage and before full bloom. In Bulletin 346 on soybeans, Purdue describes a series of chemical analyses to determine the food content of soybean leaves, pods and stems during the later stages of the growing period.

As a result of these analyses, Purdue recommends that soybean hay be cut when the pods are completely formed, the beans practically fully developed in the pods with the lower leaves turning yellow. This stage is superior to earlier ones for both milk and butter-fat production. If you do not have Minnesota's Bulletin 218, write the Extension Service, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, Minnesota.* For the Purdue Bulletins, write the Extension Service, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.*

*NOTE: There usually is a 5c charge for pamphlets mailed to non-residents of a state, but possibly your own state has a free pamphlet on the same subject. Ask your county agent.

Used Fats Needed More Than Ever

With the long-awaited invasion of Europe now in full swing the national salvage effort takes on greater significance—becomes, in fact, almost as important as each mile gained by our fighting men across the seas. Without the salvage effort those men would be denied essential materials and the miles infinitely harder to gain.

Complaints of patriotic Texas housewives that they could not dispose of Used Household Fats after they had labored over the distasteful task of salvaging kitchen grease have been received by the Salvage Division of the War Production Board, according to A. Patrick Flood, State Salvage Chairman.

In all thickly populated areas of Texas there is a regular pickup service whereby rucks collect the used fats accepted by butchers and storekeepers.

In outlying and rural communities the storekeeper can ship his collected fats to the nearest tenderer by American Railway Express. There is no charge to the merchant for availing himself of this system. He merely puts his fats in a container, addresses it and calls the nearest express office. They will pick it up and ship it collect, says Mr. Flood, and the container will be returned.

Any complaints of housewives who save their grease and have their local merchant refuse to accept them should be sent to the Salvage Division, War Production Board, Room 801 Scarbrough Building, Austin. The complaints will give the Government a chance to iron out the collection difficulty in each community.

Meanwhile, each and every Texas housewife is urged to continue the good work she has done in the past and save each and every drop of kitchen grease not necessary for her own needs.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas were business visitors in Amarillo over the week-end.

Mrs. Harry Tyler of Ft. Worth is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Speed.

The War Department pre-embarkation furlough policy is that furloughs will be granted unless urgent military necessity prevents, to the following prior to departure for a port of embarkation or a replacement depot, subject to overseas shipment: Enlisted men regardless of length of service, who have had no furlough since ordered to active duty; and enlisted men who have had no furlough in the past six months.

Separation Centers are War Department installations established to effect discharge or release from active duty of personnel who are transferred thereto. The initial installation was activated March 30, 1944, at Fort Dix, New Jersey. It is designated Fort Dix Separation Center.

The Army Specialized Training Program which provides training in Colleges and Universities of young men suitable for specialized technical duties in the Army, has been greatly reduced. The number of soldiers taking this training has been brought down from 145,000 to 35,000. This measure has been rendered necessary by the imperative need at this time for men who have had basic training and a certain amount of specialized training. Training will be for pre-medicine, pre-dentistry, advanced engineering and certain language studies. Priority is given on the basis of proved abilities and academic background. The men in the ASTP are on active duty, in uniform, and under military discipline. The program is subject to continued modification.

The Army Specialized Training Reserve Program is being expanded to replace some of the loss in college men because of return to active duty of some of ASTP trainees. All must be less than 18 years old. These men do not receive Army pay, but receive free tuition, messing and housing.

No. 3 barley f.o.b. the track, at any Texas common point where produced shall be $1.15 per bushel. The delivered price for both No. 2 and No. 3 barley shall be arrived at by adding to the prices above the actual cost of carlot transportation.

GARDENS GALORE IN DONLEY ONCE MORE

Yes sir, garden time is back again, and besides the good eats, much canning is being done. Were you to visit the average home in old Donley county today, you would find Victory Garden products being canned in large quantities.

Right now the close of the asparagus canning is at hand. Spinach, rape, English peas, beets, beans and many other luscious vegetables are being stored away for winter use.

High prices cannot bother the thrifty folks who have garden space and the time to devote to garden production. Last year more than forty thousand cans of vegetables alone were stored from Donley county gardens. This year, from best authentic records, will almost double that of 1943.
