ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATED BY SHORT PROGRAM ON MAIN STREET. SITE USED HALLOWED IN 1918

SEVENTH ANNIVERSARY OF ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATED IN CLARENDON WITH PROGRAM HELD ON SPOT HALLOWED BY FIRST CELEBRATION OF ARMISTICE SIGNING IN 1918. MERCHANTS CLOSE HOUSES FOR HALF DAY IN COMMEMORATION.

The seventh anniversary of the signing of the armistice which ended the world's greatest war was celebrated in Clarendon Wednesday of this week. A short program was arranged on short notice and the entire cooperation of the city was secured for the event.

The same spot was used that was hallowed by the celebration of the beginning of the peace that is now in effect. The program was opened with two short numbers from the Clarendon band and by the singing of "America" by the assembly, led by the band. Rev. A. B. Crocker of the First Christian Church led the invocation. Rev. Crocker was followed on the program by Nat S. Perrine, who told the assembly something of the standpoint of a Legionnaire on Armistice Day. Peace was stressed and the keeping of peace for the entire world. The plans for the organization of the Legion were shown and the purposes of the organization were stressed.

W. T. Hayter then gave the meaning of Armistice Day as seen from the viewpoint of a citizen. The city was taken to task for not celebrating the day in a more fitting manner than the celebration held this year. Statements were made that will lead to the biggest celebration of any sort that has ever been held in Clarendon for this day. The same spot on the streets of the city will be used and the program for the day will be much more complete than was the program which was given Wednesday. The day will be turned to this purpose and the people were urged to do all they could to help make the day a success.

The speaking of the day was concluded by Judge A. T. Cole, who made the appeal for the 1925 drive of the American Red Cross, telling of some of the work of that body. The appeal was made on the grounds that this country has met with unusual success during this past year, but that it might need the assistance of the Red Cross without a minute of warning. The appeal was made to everyone and it is felt certain that the drive in the county will be helped to a successful end by this address given by Judge Cole.

The program was concluded by "The Star Spangled Banner" played by the band. The gathering quickly dispersed to their various pleasures after the benediction had been pronounced by O. C. Watson.

Programs of a similar nature were held in the High School and College auditoriums. The program was held Tuesday of this week in the High School with Major E. A. Simpson as the speaker of the day. It was the intention of this body to gather some firsthand information on the reasons for the day being celebrated and Major Simpson filled the program with a nicety that could not have been secured at any other place.

The College program that was held Wednesday morning had various speakers who told the students the reasons for the day and the significance of the celebration. The result of the programs given on this day will be a deeper feeling for the boys who paid the great price and who have gone on West to await the coming of their buddies who were more fortunate in being allowed to live to see the fruits of their victory.

Plans will be made at once for the celebration of the affair for next year. The permission of the Mayor has already been received and a committee will be named at once to start proceedings that will again place Clarendon at the head of the list in the Panhandle for towns that remember and stop to think of what was done for this great country during the greatest war that has ever been heard of in the history of the civilized world.

NEWS EDITOR PRESENTED TWO WASHINGTON APPLES

John Fleming called at the News office Tuesday and presented the editor with two remarkable specimens of delicious apples grown by Mrs. Fleming's brother, a Mr. Traylor, on the Pacific slope in the state of Washington. Mr. Traylor sends Mrs. Fleming a crate of fine apples every year and a number of the friends of Mr. Fleming have been given a sample, and believe us, one apple as large as they are a sample, too.

The apples left at this office are larger than the select delicious fancy on sale during the holidays, and the flavor is even better. Thank's Bro. Fleming, we're mighty glad you hooked up with the Traylor family, anyway.

SHAVER AND PARSONS IN- STALL NEW SYSTEM PLANT

Shaver & Parsons completed the installation of the most modern and up-to-date system for cleaning clothes in this section of the state the latter part of last week. Two factory representatives were here from the branch office to supervise the work and to see that everything was placed according to specifications. In addition to helping with the installation of the machinery, they put on a demonstration of the safety and ease of cleaning the most delicate fabrics as well as those that are heavier and more bundlesome. The cleaner installed will contain a maximum of fifty pieces at one time and will clean them so that no particle of dirt or grease remains. A soapy mixture added to the gasoline removes all the objectionable matter that formerly remained after the gasoline had been used. The system recently completed is called the Shearer's Continuous flow system. The gasoline passes through the cleaner, is passed by a pump through a settling tank and back into the cleaner by way of a filter. After the clothes remain in the cleaner for fifteen minutes, the gasoline passing through them will become perfectly clear, signifying that the clothes are clean. They are dried in the usual manner, the drying unit not being added since it increases the fire risk in the cleaning plant. They extend a hearty welcome to all visitors who wish to see the new machine in operation and ask that all interested persons come and look over the plant.

Major E. A. Simpson spoke in Panhandle Wednesday morning before the folk of that city, returned to Amarillo and spoke in that city, attended a trial before the court of appeal in Amarillo and stayed over for the banquet at the Amarillo Hotel on the same day.

FRIDAY GAME IS MUDDY BATTLE

WILDCATS AND BULLDOGS PLAY SCORELESS TIE ON SLICK, MUDDY FIELD.

Played for a part of the game in a slow drizzling rain, the Bulldog-Wildcat game Friday of last week ended in a scoreless tie with the odds strongly favoring the Abilene Christian College team from Abilene, Texas. The Abilene team arrived in Clarendon late Thursday evening and were a little hampered on account of not being given an opportunity to practice on the Clarendon field, the long ride in a bus from Abilene also added to the disadvantage of the Abilene team.

Abilene received the ball from the kick off and from that time to the close of the game, there was a constant game of exchanging punts with the odds favoring Abilene in the first half with Clarendon leading with a small margin in the second half.

The Clarendon goal was severely threatened in the last quarter when the Wildcats broke through the Bulldog line and blocked a punt. Ebej Stocking covered his head with glory when he broke up the two plays that held the Wildcats for downs and turned the ball again into Clarendon hands where it was soon put down the field with another punt.

On account of the extremely muddy condition of the field very little open play was available, the major portion of the game being given over to line plunges and other plays against the opposing line. The Abilene representation was considerably stronger than the Clarendon team and according to local fans, would have beaten the local team by two goals had the field been dry.

Stocking and Parks at the ends, Corbin and Crow in the backfield and Dyer and Bulls in the line showed their stuff in an unusual manner. Stocking should receive especial credit for the work done in Friday's game, playing stellar ball from the first whistle until the game was ended.

The greater part of the game was played on Clarendon territory and the score would have been different had the field been dry.

COUNTY COURT CALLS JURY FOR MONDAY WORK

The County Court of Donley County will meet in session next Monday with one of the heaviest dockets seen for several weeks. There is a possibility that some changes will be made in the time of the meeting of the court since there are so many cases that come to trial and wish to plead guilty and pay their fines after the pleading. The jury called for Monday of next week is as follows: R. H. Alexander, C. E. Killough, J. J. Alexander, W. A. Walters, A. E. Benson, C. L. Benson, R. C. Weatherly, Elmo Shoffitt, Frank L. Bourlanti, Sam M. Braswell, Homer Mulkey, G. S. Patterson, J. O. Quattlebaum, G. F. Mullino, E. F. Bryan, A. H. Baker, C. F. Bogard, Carl Boston, M. E. Bell, F. E. Buntin and W. P. Cagle.

THIRD RUMMAGE SALE IS PROFITABLE

The Parent-Teachers' Association of the High School held a third rummage or second hand sale last Saturday, in the entrance of "The Queen" Theater. While the profits from this third sale were not so great as those of the first and second, yet they were most satisfactory and the results were gratifying. Even after selling second hand clothing and house hold goods on two successive Saturdays, the Association sold sixty dollars worth of goods Saturday. The benefits of the sales are not limited to dollars and cents, for through them many people are enabled to obtain clothing that they will use and which would otherwise be wasted.

The next rummage sale will be held in the Y. M. C. A. Building next Saturday; and the Association urges that everyone who has clean clothing or house-hold goods that are not being used to bring them to the Y. sometime during the week. They will be sold next Saturday and put into use, and the money gained will be used for the benefit of the schools.

During the past three weeks the Parent-Teachers' Association of the High School has made something over three hundred dollars, all of which will be used toward improving the schools of the city. They earned fifty dollars through getting subscribers for the "Hollands Magazine" on the percentage basis. The rest of the money was obtained through the rummage sales.

Mrs. J. W. Johnson of Clovis, New Mexico spent the week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Bennett.

SHRINE CLUB TO POSTPONE FEED

LOCAL SHRINERS WILL HOLD BANQUET, THURSDAY EVEN- ING, NOV. 19TH

Pres. Homer Mulkey of the Clarendon Shrine Club announces that the banquet scheduled for tonight has been postponed until Thursday evening, Nov. 19th. It was found that it was impractical to hold the "feed" this week, hence the change in dates.

It is expected that illustrious Potentate Caldwell of the Klhiva Shrine Temple of Amarillo, under whose jurisdiction this club holds its charter, will be in attendance accompanied by other temple officers. For some months the local club has been inactive but since the announcement of the Fall Ceremonial to be held in Amarillo on Tuesday, Nov. 24th, interest has been accelerated in Donley County, and it is the purpose of the local Shriners to make the banquet next Thursday night a very snappy event.

A good program is being arranged and with the fraternal addresses of the visiting Nobles a most interesting and instructive evening is promised. The affair is scheduled to begin at seven-thirty o'clock and a small plate charge will be levied.

Dr. F. N. Reynolds returned Saturday evening from Amarillo, where he had been in attendance on a meeting of the Panhandle Dentists who were entertained by the Amarillo Dental Society.

Miss Eula Haley returned to her home in the Sunview community Tuesday, after an illness in the Adair Hospital. Her health was much improved at the time she left here.

Nat S. Perrine went to Amarillo Wednesday afternoon of this week to attend the celebration of Armistice Day and to attend the Legion Banquet held in the Amarillo Hotel Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Lane and son, Matthew, Jr., and Mrs. Lane's mother, Mrs. Durham, all of Memphis, are the guests of Mr. Lane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lane.

DISTRICT COURT TO HAVE BUSY TIME NEXT WEEK

The District Court for Donley County will finish the fifth week of court her next week with one of the busiest times they have had since the organization of the new district. A case has been brought here from Memphis for trial and a special venire of sixty men has been called to fill the jury for this time.

The past week was comparatively quiet, the court meeting Friday and adjourning until this morning, when the court was called to open. Last week one case was tried and Noah Gonzales was given a sentence of one year on a charge of bootlegging. A case is in progress in the court house today but had not reached a decision.

The jury for the fifth week is called to meet on Monday, November 16th and will be composed of the following men: W. A. Riddle, J. C. Perdue, G. P. Foley, F. L. Naylor, Rolly Brumley, J. H. Clark, Jess Shannon, J. M. Potter, C. R. Titsworth, C. N. Peabody, Frank Whitlock, Lee Morrison, J. W. Mounty, E. A. Thompson, C. Y. Johnson, R. W. Talley, Tom Kid, Elmer Ashmead, W. L. Crane, M. L. Bunn, E. L. Speed, C. O. Thaxton, E. M. Tucker, R. O. Shannon, R. C. French, J. W. DeBord, W. M. Bell, P. V. Dishman, T. J. Cheney, C. R. Meyers, Will McDonald, M. L. Monroe, R. O. Thomas, O. D. Meader, W. C. Scott, T. F. Connally, Tom Tate and Lee Holland.

ORPHANAGE AT WACO TO RECEIVE CARLOAD FEED

B. F. Veazey of the Goldston community is again working for the best interests of the Methodist Orphanage at Waco and is planning to ship a car of feed stuff to them on the first Thursday, Friday and Saturday in December, which will be December 3, 4 and 5. He is working on a list and already has a great part of the first car located. The custom is holding over from last year when the community near Clarendon sends this institution several cars of this sort of stuff each year. The cooperation of the entire community is asked that the record of past years for Donley may not be let down.

Hon. J. R. Porter and family left Monday for Tulla and Amarillo, where they will visit and attend to some business matters. He will return to Canyon the latter part of this week to attend the session of the Northwest Texas Conference.

SECOND CONCERT WELL RECEIVED

BAND IS SHOWING RESULTS OF TRAINING AND DISPLAYS GOOD TALENT.

The second of a series of band concerts for the city of Clarendon, staged by the Clarendon Municipal band, was held in the First Christian Church Sunday afternoon, November 8th before a very appreciative audience. The program at this time was considerably heavier than the one put on at the Baptist Church two weeks before and the audience was quite a bit larger than that one at the other church.

Two especially enjoyed parts of the program were the violin solo by Mrs. G. L. Boykin and the vocal duet by Mrs. Roscoe Stapp and Rolle Brumley. Mrs. Boykin played the Mazurka by Mlynarski with a finish that is seldom seen in a city the size of Clarendon and demonstrated that she has complete control of her chosen instrument. The duet by Mrs. Stapp and Brumley, "Home to our Mountains" by Verdi was especially liked by the appreciative audience.

The News is authorized to announce that the third of the series of band concerts will be held Sunday afternoon, November 22 in the auditorium of the First Methodist Church. Special numbers will also add to the attractions of the program of that evening and the band is expected to show that they have done a great bit of work at that time. Two nights each week are devoted to the practice of the organization and director Raymond Riggs is demonstrating that he knows just how to handle the band to secure the best possible effects from the members of the organization. Tuesday and Friday evening at 8 o'clock is the time set for the rehearsals of the band.

The program rendered at the First Christian Church is as follows: March, Broadway One-Step—King Saeved selection, Billy Sunday's Successful Songs, arranged by Fillmore.

Violin Solo, "Mazurka", Mlynarski—Mrs. G. L. Boykin.
Song of Love from "Blossom Time"—Franz Schubert.
Serenade, Cupid's Charms—Miller
Vocal Duet, Home to Our Mountains, Verdi—Mmes. Rolle Brumley, Roscoe Stapp.
"Glow Worm"—Lencke.
March, Huntress—King.

BRONCHOS HOLD HOLLIS TO TIE

HEAVIER HOLLIS TEAM UN- ABLE TO SCORE ON BRON- CHOS IN MUD.

The Clarendon High School team has recovered the poise and fight of 1924 and is entering the latter half of the 1925 season with the old fighting team that was undefeated through a year of hard battles. The game of Hollis, played in mud and against a team that was far heavier proved beyond any question that the old fight had returned and that the remainder of the Clarendon schedule would be well worth seeing.

The game was scheduled to be played Friday, November 6, but the roads were so muddy that the team did not succeed in reaching Hollis until after the hour set for the game and discovered that the game had been postponed until the following day, which made it much better for the Clarendon boys, giving them an opportunity to recuperate from the ill effects of the long trip to Hollis.

The greater part of the game was played on Clarendon territory, with the Clarendon goal threatened at two separate times with the ball not more than six inches from the Clarendon line. At one time, the ball was in the possession of Hollis on the one and one-half yard line with four downs to make the desired score. At the end of the four downs, the ball had been pushed back to the Clarendon ten yard line by the Bronchos. Another time, the ball was on the six inch line with four downs to go. The ball went over to Clarendon with a margin of safety of about four inches.

From first to last the game was hard fought and was a battle which has not been equalled by the Clarendon team at any time this year. The Hollis team was heavier by eighteen pounds per man than the Clarendon team and were playing on their own ground. Before the game the Hollis team had thought they would defeat the Clarendon team by three touchdowns. Coach Boykin was glad to state after the game that Clarendon had only done her best and that he was well pleased with the score as finally secured. The final score was 0 to 0.

FATHER AND SON AFFAIR PLANNED

FOURTH AFFAIR PLANNED TO BE LARGEST YET HELD IN CLARENDON.

The Father and Son banquet that is to be held in the basement of the First Christian Church on Wednesday evening, November 18, is to be the largest affair that has ever been staged in the city, according to the plans of the committees that are now at work on the matter. The ladies have been notified that their services will be required at that time and they are now securing the turkeys, dressing and other necessities that will grace the tables on the occasion.

Plans call for seating three hundred boys and their dads on this occasion and the persons who expect to attend the meeting without tickets will be indeed out of luck when they try to get into the banquet room without the necessary tickets to secure their admission to the banquet hall.

Tickets for the banquet may be obtained either at the Ball Drug Company or at the Rexall Store, two centrally located points that are of easy access to all men of the city of Clarendon and there need be no man who can say that he had no opportunity to purchase the needed tickets for the affair.

The program for the banquet is being arranged by Messrs. Watson and Taylor and they state that it will be the best that has ever been had in the history of the movement in Clarendon. The toastmaster has not yet been announced, but it is possible that one of the leading sons of the city will be placed in charge of affairs and that the party will be one that is of immense enjoyment to all concerned.

The churches of the city will not have their usual prayer meeting services on the evening of the banquet that all who might wish to attend will be given an opportunity. Last year, the attendance reached nearly 275 and this year the people who expect to attend the affair are expected to number 300 or more. Prediction has it last year that the next affair would be held in a pasture as that would be the only place in Clarendon or the surrounding neighborhood that would allow all the visitors to be seated at one time.

Get your tickets early and avoid the rush that will be certain to come about at the last minute. Tickets at the Ball Drug Co., and The Rexall Store. Get them now!

SITNER MOVES TO NEW LOCATION AT RALEIGH, N. C.

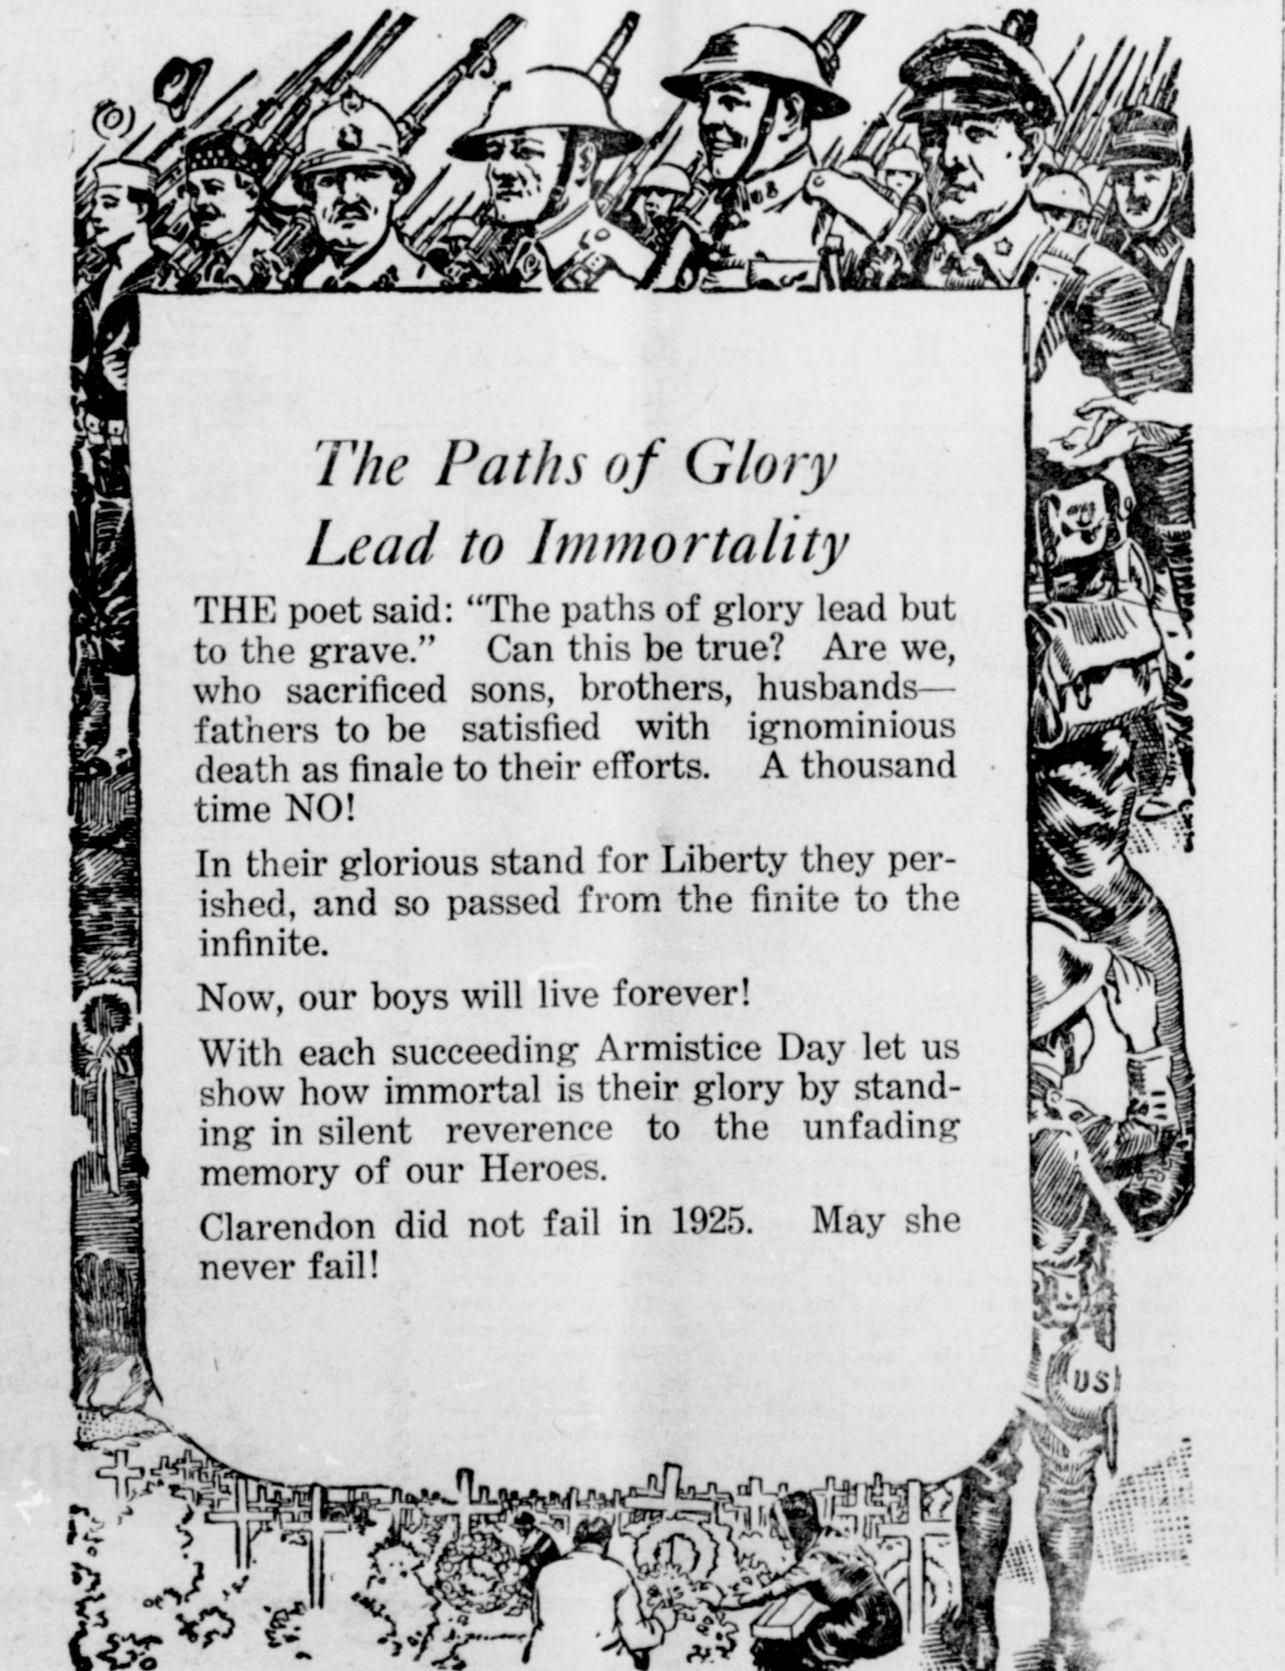

The News is in receipt of a letter from Harry Sitner, former resident of the city who states that he moved from Pine Bluff, Arkansas, where he has been since he left here some years ago, to Raleigh, North Carolina, where he is to be the head of the Ready-to-Wear Department of the largest store in that city. He is to be associated with his brother Louie who is advertising manager of the same establishment. He states in his letter that the city is only eighteen hours from New York and that he expects to make the trip at least one time each month. He sent regards to all the old bunch in Clarendon and stated that he was still interested in Clarendon and Donley County as in years past. He is connected with the Boylan-Pearce Co.

HIGH LINE REACHES MEM- PHIS WITH CONSTRUCTION

The High Line that is approaching Clarendon from the city of Childress has at last reached the city of Memphis with their construction gang. The line is not in operation up to the city of Memphis, but will be put to use as soon as some of the minor arrangements can be completed to good advantage. At last report, the line was building at the rate of one mile per day and was approaching Clarendon steadily. The right of way had all the restrictions removed from their procedure and the work is going along at a splendid rate. With the present sort of weather, the line may be expected to reach Clarendon the early part of the month of December.

The sale of 320 acres of land near Ashtola for Mrs. Mary M. Herzinger of Loveland, Colorado, is announced by D. W. Clamplitt. Will McDonald of this city is the purchaser of the tract of land. This sale closes the interest of Mrs. Herzinger in this section. The other of her properties, 210 acres was recently sold to a Mr. Payne of Dallas.

Mrs. A. Y. Ingham and daughter Miss Margery Ingham, of Texhoma, Oklahoma, visited Miss Evelyn Ingham and Miss Mildred Martin last week. Miss Evelyn Ingham, the daughter of Mrs. A. Y. Ingham, is a student in Clarendon College and is spending the year in the home of her uncle, Mr. John Martin.

The Paths of Glory Lead to Immortality

THE poet said: "The paths of glory lead but to the grave." Can this be true? Are we, who sacrificed sons, brothers, husbands—fathers to be satisfied with ignominious death as finale to their efforts. A thousand time NO!

In their glorious stand for Liberty they perished, and so passed from the finite to the infinite.

Now, our boys will live forever!

With each succeeding Armistice Day let us show how immortal is their glory by standing in silent reverence to the unfading memory of our Heroes.

Clarendon did not fail in 1925. May she never fail!

Just a few weeks now until the annual drive for the Good-fellows Fund. Those who have this work in hand say that the fund wasn't large enough to really handle the needs of the past year, so an effort is going to be made to get our big-hearted people to add a little to their usual contributions this fall. Right.

"Did you know that the number of prisoners confined in the Harris County jail does not average any more than it did ten years ago? In the meantime our population has increased more than 50 per cent. How do you account for it? Why not give prohibition and the absence of the corner saloon some of the credit?"—Houston Chronicle.

"There is only one institution large enough to embrace all the diverse elements of our civilization. The home can't do it for the home divides us; the church separates us and the courts of law drive us asunder. The one big thing in our American life than stands for democracy is the public school."—Dallas Lore Sharp.

Beginning with Armistice Day, Wednesday, Donley County people are being given another opportunity to enroll as members of the American Red Cross for the coming year. This is a matter that our people are glad to respond to, as there exists not a single doubt in the public mind as to the practical efficiency of this high-minded philanthropic organization. Then, too, it is ours. Join today—if you haven't already done so.

One of our readers said the other day that she considered it silly for anyone to object to the placing of Lincoln's bust in the halls of the Texas Technological College. This seems also to be the opinion of the Abilene Reporter when it declared as follows:

"Three of the men honored by Tech were all Southern men—Washington, Lee and Wilson, Lincoln himself a Southerner by blood and birth—born in Kentucky of Virginia parentage. The fifth member of the Tech's gallery of the great is Columbus, who never saw America and who died in ignorance of its existence. There might be some grounds for criticism in Tech in placing Columbus among the American great but it is not worth while to deny greatness to the man who in his second inaugural address used these immortal words: "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow, and for his orphans—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves, and with all nations."

"Greatness of that sort doesn't need a marble bust to perpetuate it."

Over in England some scientific person has announced that Adam died of gout. Seems to the News that 1925 is a little late to hold the inquest.

And now it is said that there has been organized a League against prohibition. The truth of the matter is that it isn't the organized efforts against prohibition and sobriety that are vexing the nation, but the careless attitude of thousands who wink at the law and patronize the bootlegger. We have believed for a long time that the law should be amended to include the buyer of illicit liquor in the same crime with the seller. When we do that we shall get results.

Thursday, Dec. 17th, is the date for the appearance of the Annual Home Town Edition of the Clarendon News. Preparations are going forward satisfactorily toward making this one of the most interesting editions ever published in the Panhandle. Quite a number of special feature stories are being prepared that will be worth keeping among the family records and the management fully expects to see every business concern in Clarendon represented in its advertising columns. Every family in Clarendon and vicinity will receive a copy and it is our purpose to make it worth many thousands of dollars to this city and county in constructive publicity.

The officials of the Texas Interscholastic League are outlandising, Judge Landis, this year when it comes to enforcing the law of eligibility of players representing the high schools in the League. Last year there was a great hue and cry against certain flagrant violation of the rules and it began to look like "professionalism" would invade even the small-town schools. In the early years of any organized effort of statewide import abuses are certain to occur, but be it to the everlasting credit of Texas school men and the officials of the League, prompt and efficient action is now being had and schools that permit violations are certain to receive the penalties specified and at the same time gather to themselves the odium of public censure. Clean athletics have a place in the training of the youth of this nation and are worthy the respect and support of every citizen. The other sort is a stench in the nostrils of modern civilization and merits the swift resentment of every fair-minded person. Give us clean athletics in school, in college, in professional circles.

OUR "PERSONAL LIBERTIES"

"No man liveth unto himself."

Human experience proves and approves this scriptural law.

There is no such thing, there can be no such thing as this "personal liberty" we talk about in established government and orderly society. If everybody could live and do as he pleased, that would be anarchy, not government; barbarism, not society. Now, we are not using this term "personal liberty", merely in the narrow sense usually given to it regarding individual appetite; we are discussing its broader, its real implications.

Our own government is built on the principle of individual initiative. That is the principle that has made and must preserve us as a nation. It is the very genius of Americanism. At the same time, our government and our society rest on the accepted principle that the welfare of all is above that of the individual. And there is not the slightest conflict between these two principles. They reconcile themselves.

Just at present we are suffering from the effects of too much personal liberty. Certain members of society, assuming that they might do as they pleased, have gone out to make the most of their assumption and as a result crime becomes a highly organized and profitable industry, property and life the pawns of the outlaw. A murder a day is a reality in one city. Yet people, many of whom would not deliberately violate a law, certainly not to the extent of robbery or murder, demand more than personal liberty—their rights. Many of our troubles would end if we thought less of our rights and more of our obligations. Our rights somehow seem to take care of themselves, while often obligations go unperformed and government and society suffer.

"No man liveth unto himself" is the cornerstone of every law-abiding community, the very heart of human society—Public Service Magazine.

More per Cow Rather than More Cows Says U. S. Bureau Chief

In a Chicago address, recently, Dr. C. W. Larson, Chief of the United States Bureau of Dairying, made a plea for greater production per cow rather than an increase in the number of cows.

The average cow in the United States yields annually only about 4,000 pounds of milk of which 2.7% is butterfat.

Careful breeding and elimination by test in the milk herd makes an increase to 8,000 pounds of milk annually per cow not impossible with the average dairyman. This would net the milk producer $75.00 above feed cost per cow as compared with the present average of only $26.00.

Membership in a cow-testing association and the maintenance of herd records are extremely desirable. The system of records should at least include an identification record, an account of production for each cow—the amount of feed given and breeding dates. For a grade dairy herd, the record system may be quite simple.

Cow-testing associations promote a more faithful follow-through of the rudiments of dairying. Among them are intelligent feeding, proper stabling, regular milking, thorough grooming, periodical clipping of the long hair from flanks, udder and underline and other attendant precautions against the presence of bacteria in the milk.

In cow-testing associations, records of the milk and butterfat production of pure bred cows are made under the supervision of the association and are given official recognition.

A FEW HINTS ON SELECTING COTTON SEED

"When selecting cotton seed from the field, be sure to choose seed from low, short, jointed stalks loaded with cotton," recommends A. K. Short, of Dallas. Mr. Short recently broadcasted the first demonstration of cotton seed selection ever given over radio, on the R. F. D. program over Station WFAA, the Dallas News and the Dallas Journal.

"The low, short, jointed cotton stalk is the same type as the corn stalk that produces the first roasters in the spring," he declares. "It is the same type as the pig that gets fat quickest; the horse or mule that can do the most work; the boy who plays foot-ball at college."

Cotton farmers are warned by this crop authority to avoid selecting seed from cotton stalks that "all went to hay"—the long jointed late maturing. He also points out that the stalks with few bolls and limbs and with few feeder roots are undesirable as seed-producers.

"The yielding capacity of any plant depends upon its feeding area," the director states. "Look for many feeder roots on the heavy-producing cotton plant. Notice also that the plant from which you should select seed has produced bolls at every joint."

From such stalks, select your seed from those with the highest percentage of five-lock bolls. You can use every boll, because four lock bolls will produce as many five-lock bolls as will the five-lock bolls from the same plant.

"A stalk of the type that has bolls at every joint will produce cotton in spite of boll weevil, army worm or drought."

Back of Civilization--- The Magic of Electricity!

ELECTRICITY is, indeed, the fore-runner of civilization. It has made possible hundreds of ways of lightening toil, of speeding up production, of lowering living costs.

In your own home, you will find scores of uses for Electricity. There's the vacuum cleaner, electric stoves, electric waffle irons, electric washing machines, electric percolators—not to mention the greatest use of all—that of light.

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

Cisco—The most unique fish hatchery in the world is to be built at Lake Cisco by the State Game Fish and Oyster Commission. Contract has been let for the first unit and when complete the hatchery will represent an investment of $30,000. The unusual feature rests in the fact that the hatchery is to be built inside the biggest dam in the world and it will enable the plant to turn out millions of fish. Rainbow trout, yellow cat, bass, beam and crappie will be propagated.

Aspermont. The Stone-wall County Chamber of Commerce held a business and social meeting here. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce was represented by E. H. Whitehead, publicity manager who made an address. J. H. Squires special agent for the Westchester Insurance Co., of Dallas also spoke. H. F. Grindstaff is president and Bob Robertson is secretary of the Stone-wall County organization.

Plainview—The highway from Lubbock to Canyon, a distance of 115 miles, is to be oiled by the State Highway Department. The entire road will be graded and rolled and treated with special asphalt oil by a method similar to that employed in Illinois. Cost of the work is estimated at $1,000 per mile and will be paid for with road maintenance funds. If this proves successful a number of Panhandle highways will receive similar treatment.

Robert Lee—Preliminary steps looking toward the great Colorado River irrigation project in this county were taken at a meeting here. Porter A. Whaley, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Gib Gilchrist and J. Nagel prominent engineers and a committee of Coke County citizens spoke on the project. An extended discussion was held and another meeting to be held here Nov. 14, when Frank Keel, C. M. Caldwell, A. Lincoln Fellowes, Porter Whaley and R. Q. Lee with other prominent builders will discuss the project thoroughly with Coke County property owners and a definite decision will be reached as to whether the project will be pushed.

Littlefield—Lamb County has been granted three hundred thousand dollars for highway construction on Highways No. 7 and No. 28. This sum must be matched with county funds. Agitation is under way for a bond issue for highway construction in the county and it is likely that an election will be held soon.

Quannah—A solid train load of cement plaster was shipped from a local plaster mill this week. The commodity will be sent via train to Savannah, Georgia from whence it will go via steamship to Florida. Florida is at present buying enormous quantities of cement plaster and West Texas gyp mills are reaping great benefits from the building boom in Florida.

Lubbock—A whirl wind campaign for six thousand dollars is being waged by the local chamber of commerce. This money is needed to pay off outstanding debts and continue operations to January 1st. An election will be held before Jan. 1st to vote an amendment to the city charter providing for a board of city development.

Abilene—The Abilene Chamber of Commerce is preparing a booklet giving the names of all contributing members of the organization and naming those citizens who have been active in putting over civic programs. This is intended to stimulate Chamber of Commerce activities and support as well as give proper credit to the workers.

Sweetwater—The Texas Hereford Association held its annual auction sale of registered Herefords here. A total of 28 head were sold at an average price per head of $293.64. Top was $725 for a bull consigned by D. L. McDonald of Hereford and bought by Mrs. H. C. Meriwether of Alpine. All cattle offered were entered in the Nolan County Fair.

MAY BE ONLY TWO IN RACE FOR GOVERNOR

POLITICAL WISEACRES PREDICT "MA"—Managed by Jim—AND LYNCH DAVIDSON WILL BE ONLY GUBERNATORIAL ENTRIES FOR 1926.

Aus. in. Sept. 26.—A two-handed battle royal for the gubernatorial honors in 1926, with Lynch Davidson of Houston and Jim Ferguson knight errant for Mrs. Ferguson, the two contestants, seems in the offing. With Lee Satterwhite, Whit Davidson, Eugene Blount and half a dozen other possible candidates out of the way and with the announcement of Wizard Evans that the clan will not take part in the race the field rapidly is being narrowed down to only two candidates.

The Fewer, the Hotter. Should there be only two in the race it would be for the first time in several years that the gubernatorial sweepstakes had such a small field, but the race probably would be hotter than when there are a number of entries.

There would be but one issue in the race—Fergusonism. All of Texas would be lined up in two camps—for and against Ferguson.

A general realization that such will be the issue seems largely the deterrent force that is keeping the other possible candidates out of the race. They know that the more in the field the better it will be for Ferguson and the less chance each individual will have. They know that Lynch Davidson has been a candidate since he was barely nosed out last year and that he has the determination and the means to stay in the race as well as the demonstrated strength to justify his making the race. Consequently the others feel that to get in at this time would but reduce Davidson's chances of beating Ferguson and would not help their own cause.

There is only one other possible candidate who might develop any strength at all and he is Dan Moody, the attorney general. But several forces are at work against Moody's favorable entry into the race.

First of these is the fact that he has just been elected to state office, has had less than a year to prove his ability, and has had no executive or economic training to fit him for the governorship.

Should Moody make the race for governor without resigning from his present office he would be assailed for neglecting his duties while campaigning, for drawing the taxpayers' money while engaged in seeking another job at the hands of the taxpayers. Should he resign to make the race he would have to see his office filled by an appointee of the Fergusonists, and Jim Ferguson would be certain to use this in the campaign as a demonstration of Moody's faith in the administration. It is a well known political circle that Moody is being urged by his closest friends to keep out of the race and give the anti-Ferguson forces an opportunity to center their strength behind one candidate. Ferguson has repeatedly tried to bait Moody into the race and his followers are subtly trying to get him in, hoping to split the strength of the opposition.

As between Davidson and the Fergusonists the former has much the easier position. The withdrawal of Whit Davidson from the possibility of making the race assures the Houston man many thousands of votes of "either Davidson" people who would have supported either had the other not been in the race last year. Davidson probably has not lost any of his 1924 supporters, and the combined vote of Whit Davidson with his own, plus the general anti-Ferguson vote, gives him a solid position.

The Case of Lynch. The Houston man has no major problems of any sort confronting him. He has no apology to make for offering for the office. He is known to be rapidly as possible retiring from all business connections, following the policy of the president's cabinet members in that respect. He has the means to make the campaign and to live as governor without having to go in debt to supplement the $4,000 a year paid as a salary by the state—while several former governors have left the office heavily in debt. In fact, his only problem is to get enough votes to win.

The Fergusonists are not fortunately situated. In the first place, there stands them in the face the promise which Mrs. Ferguson made last year that if elected, so that the family name could be vindicated, she would not seek office again. That promise more than offsets any value to her of the two term tradition of the democratic party. Besides, it would not be, in fact, her second, but the fourth term of the Fergusonists should she be re-elected.

It seems the plan of the Fergusonists is to overcome their promise by announcing that if their administration is assailed they will seek vindication of the acts of the administration by carrying the campaign to the people for reelection. Jim Ferguson having virtually so said in a recent interview in North Texas. When saying that, Jim Ferguson knew that his wife's administration, as that of any governor, certainly would be assailed by its enemies, and therefore it was a virtual announcement that she would be a candidate. This is further strengthened by letters which have been mailed out by Ferguson asking for poll tax lists and the names of one supporter for every 25 votes in each precinct.

The 1924 Verdict. When Mrs. Ferguson overwhelmingly defeated Felix Robertson last year, it was generally agreed among the political wiseacres at the time that it was not a victory for Ferguson but a defeat for the clan, and there seems no reason to change that view now. With the issue solely that of Fergusonism next year a hot and bitter campaign is in sight with the odds considerably in favor of Lynch Davidson.—Wichita Falls Record News.

BUICK GIVES NEWS-PAPERS CREDIT FOR GROWTH

A. Brown Batferson, Director of Advertising for the Buick Motor Company of Flint, Michigan gives newspaper space the greater part of the credit for the great growth of their business in the past few years. In spite of the fact that the Buick Company spent a large sum for this purpose in 1925, the budget for the 1926 advertising will be still larger and the newspaper will receive the greater part of this money that is to spent.

For the past several years, the Buick Motor Company has carried an advertisement in the News through the local dealer, Odos Caraway. The popularity of this car may be seen in the numbers of this automobile that may be seen on the Clarendon streets at any time. The Dallas News of Sunday, November 8 carried quite an extensive article on the proposed advertising schedule of the Buick people and this will be of interest to the readers of the News. The article follows:

"The success which the Buick Motor Company has enjoyed in recent years with the assistance of newspaper advertising columns throughout the country is best evidenced by the fact that this company will use more space in 1926 than in any previous year.

"Since the inauguration of a national newspaper advertising campaign several years ago, the Buick Motor Company has achieved a volume of business which has steadily become greater, until this year it will be necessary to run the factory at capacity through the winter months.

"This activity through what is usually considered a slack season, is due largely to the campaign announcing the 1926 Buicks, which was carried on in 7,000 American newspapers in August. The public response was remarkable. In two days 1,018,000 interested people visited Buick show rooms everywhere, and at the end of the campaign six days later, thousands of cars had been sold. Many dealers sold more Buicks than they usually sold in a year, in the first month after the new models were introduced.

"This public interest is attributed to the effect which years of consistent newspaper advertising has had. The Buick Motor Company had always built a quality product, and with the assistance of the newspapers it has succeeded in persuading people to find out for themselves if the many claims of excellence are really true. Buick's sales record of being first in volume of sales among all the automobiles of America for eight consecutive years is a good indication of how well this end has been accomplished.

"About 4,400 dailies and weeklies are used in normal advertising of the year, each being used weekly, semi-monthly or monthly, according to circumstances. In addition there

PREDICTS 25c COTTON SOON

EXPERIENCED BROKER EXPLAINS COTTON SITUATION AND GIVES OPINION.

A. W. Moser, experienced cotton broker and official of the Staley's Exchange, readily predicts 25 cent cotton in a short time and says that 30 cent cotton may be possible.

In a letter to The Record, Mr. Moser well explains the cotton situation and gives his opinion of the outcome of the 1925 crop and conditions which justify his predictions.

Following is Mr. Moser's letter: "Editor Vernon Record.

"In as much as there has been so much controversy in the press relative to the government crop guesses, I would be pleased to furnish the following ginning records for the consideration of the subscribers of your enterprising paper:

1924	1925	Inc.	Per Ct.
September 1	September 1	935,000	99
958,000	1,893,000
September 16	September 16	1,612,000	60
2,663,000	4,275,000
October 1	October 1	2,576,000	57
4,525,000	7,101,000
October 18	October 18	1,919,000	25
7,600,000	9,519,000
November 1	November 1
9,694,000
November 14	November 14

"For the sake of comparisons and crop estimates, we all know that this crop has been picked and ginned faster than any crop on record. This statement is based on the fact that the first bales in every state in the Union were from two or three weeks earlier this season than last year, and in some cases the earliest on record. Second, we who are from the drouth stricken territory know that the pickers left that territory early in the season going to East Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi, and this gave them more labor to harvest their crops than they have ever had before, some of them going as far away as Georgia. In as much as the crop matured two weeks earlier, and with the assistance of the labor from south Texas and Mexico, then it would not seem presumptuous to estimate that the crop has been harvested two weeks earlier, therefore, for comparisons, we should take ginning figures this season and compare with like figures two weeks later last season. You will note that our heavy ginnings last year were the period during the month of October, this season they were the last week in September and the first week in October. From October 1, 1924 to October 18, fourteen days, they were 3,075,000 bales or 219,821 bales per day; October 1 to 18, 1925, ginnings were 2,418,000 bales or 172,714 bales per day or a falling off in that period of 47,107 bales per day. This is an extra heavy decline in ginning figures at this season of the year, and goes to prove that the foregoing statement is based on facts and not on presumption.

"Analysis of the above figures would indicate a crop this season not larger than last year, which was 33,630,000 bales, with 1,000,000 added for linters and city crop. Presuming that this crop is 15,000,000 bales linters and city included, with a carry-over of 2,880,000 bales, we would then have a total supply to draw from of 17,880,000 bales. With Europe getting in better financial condition and with Russia who is now coming back in the markets, our consumption would be around 15,500,000 bales. We would then only carry over next August into the new crop 2,380,000 bales or about the same carry-over we had on August 1, 1924. "Should these figures prove correct, we can very readily predict 25 cent cotton later on. Should the

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN NOW ON

CITY TO BE DIVIDED INTO DISTRICTS AND THOROUGHLY CANVASSED.

The selection of Mrs. A. T. Jeffries to direct the annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross, which opened Armistice Day and continues through Thanksgiving, brought the Chapter's plans for a thorough and systematic canvass of the entire residential and business section of the city nearer to completion.

After accepting the office, Mrs. Jeffries stated that the details of the campaign had not been completed, but that the entire community would be divided into districts, each district to be thoroughly covered by teams of workers who will personally visit the business houses in their areas to solicit members.

A goal of 800 members this year has been set by the local Chapter. Last year 300 people were enrolled. "If everyone could know intimately the work that the Red Cross is carrying on," Mrs. Jeffries stated, "there would be no trouble in enrolling twice that number. Into communities devastated by tornadoes, floods, fires, and other disasters, the Red Cross carries our message of mercy. Into our Government hospitals it goes to brighten the long days of our wounded soldiers. Day in and day out its Public Health nurses are caring for the sick, protecting the well, and teaching the principles of good health to all. And in countless other fields it is proving itself worthy of the recognition it has gained as the official relief agency of the American people."

NEWS RECEIVES LETTERS INTENDED FOR SANTA CLAUS

The News will print as usual, the letters of the small folk of the city and county that are mailed to Santa Claus. Two letters have already been received and the News has filed them away for the big special edition that will appear in December. This is customary with the News and we will print the letters as usual. The kiddies will do well to get their letters in ahead of time that the patron saint of all the youngsters of the county and city may know their wants and needs far ahead of time and be ready for the long looked for event.

crop only gin out the same as last year, which is not at all unlikely, in as much as the freezes have east Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri and Tennessee, at least 700,000 bales, with the loss always occasioned by wet weather of 500,000 to 1,000,000 bales during rainy seasons. In which case we could easily look for 30 cents and above, as it would be no hardship on the spinning industry, as they have bought and hedged on the board their requirements for a long period ahead at very low levels. Lokey Burr Extractor Best by Test

We are installing at our Clarendon plant two new Lokey Burr Extractors which we have found to be the best machine for Boley ginning in 25 years ginning experience.

The Lokey leaves a clean burr pile, improves the turnout, saves the extra labor of frequent dumping of the burrs, enables the ginner to keep a tight roll and makes a great difference in the sample.

This is a great Boley year. This new machinery will make money for you. No extra charge. We installed this new machine for your satisfaction and profit.

CLARENDON, TEXAS

OLD-TIME RESIDENT BURIED HERE SUNDAY AFTERNOON

John Nelson Eddins, old time resident of the city of Clarendon was buried in the Clarendon Citizen's cemetery Sunday afternoon November 8th. The funeral rites were held from the home of the deceased in the south part of the city by Rev. J. H. Hamblen, pastor of the Methodist Church in the city, assisted by Rev. Roscoe Stapp, pastor of the First Baptist Church and Dr. G. S. Slower.

John Nelson Eddins was born December 21, 1851 near Greensboro, Alabama. At the age of four he came with his parents to Washington County, Texas and later settled at Brenham with his father, who was a physician. Following in the footsteps of his father he first entered Baylor University, where the school was located at Independence, Texas. Finishing his course there, he studied medicine at Tulane University and completed his course there as an M. D. Returning to his old home he practiced medicine for a short time and moved to San Saba, where he entered the drug business. He was married to Miss Lizzie Eddins in San Saba on October 12, 1882.

Failing health forced a move and he and his family removed to Clarendon in 1891, where he has lived ever since.

At the age of seventeen years he united with the Baptist Church under the ministry of Rev. Martin V. Smith. He was a refined southern gentleman of the old school, the soul of honor and one of the most gentlemanly men who has ever been in the city. Considerate of all others he was well liked and loved by all who knew him.

He leaves his wife and two children, Mrs. Cullom H. Booth of Waco and William Nelson Eddins of Tamico, Mexico to mourn his going. Out of a family of ten children he is survived by one brother, O. L. Eddins of Brenham, Texas and one sister, Mrs. Emma Spencer of Pous-ton.

At the time of his death, he was 74 years and 14 days of age.

The one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence will be observed by the Sesquicentennial International Exposition, which opens at Philadelphia, June 1, 1926.

EIGHTEENTH CENTURY CUSTOMS

Social life in Philadelphia in the years immediately before the Revolution and the adoption of the Declaration of Independence occupied much of the time of the inhabitants. Afternoon tea parties were much in vogue, and the popularity of those who attended these was gauged by their ability to make puns during the course of conversation. The punster of the eighteenth century was the equivalent of the "wise cracker" of today.

In the latter half of the century the socially prominent residents began to give greater attention to their personal appearance than before. The use of tooth brushes became rather widespread, and the almost equally popular custom among the women of today, the arching of eyebrows was given its first trial. "Mrs. Holliday, wife of Joseph Holliday, tailor, in Arch street," reads an advertisement in a newspaper of this time, "offers her new-invented curious compound, which will, in half a minute, take out by the roots the hair that grows too low on the forehead, etc., or around the mouth; it forms the eyebrows that are too large into a curious arch. This compound is perfectly innocent and may be used on children under twenty months old."

In reading the old advertisement one cannot help but wonder what advantage it would have been to a child twenty months old to have its brows permanently arched into a "curious" look, or if it was a common thing at that time for a child of such tender months to "sport" superfluous hair about the mouth.

In 1769 there came to Philadelphia, according to another old advertisement, a Dr. LeMayeur, a dentist, who proposed to transplant teeth.

"Several respectable ladies had them implanted," wrote Watson in his "Annals of Philadelphia." "I remember some curious anecdotes of some cases. They were often two months before they could eat with them."

The next Sketch will be "Valley Forge."

MRS. HOMER GLASCOE GIVES ART EXHIBIT AND TEAS

Art lovers of Clarendon were exceedingly fortunate in seeing, Monday and Tuesday afternoons, at the home of Mrs. Homer Glascoe, an exhibit of original etchings by the foremost etchers of the European Continent. In the collection exhibited was a variety of technique with a pleasing diversity of subject matter. Most of the work shown was by Austrian artists. Among the examples most admired were those of Fritz Loch, an etcher of Vienna who is also a famous water colorist. Several of his things were done in aqua tint, a rare treatment in which the color is applied to the steel by hand before the etching is transferred to paper. However, the work of that one artist offered opportunity for an interesting study in the several techniques of the art. Other artists whose work stood out in the exhibit were Kasimir, also of Vienna, and Emil Steiner, Austrian, scenery and Austrian architecture were the principal subjects of the work of these three artists. Colorful scenes of the Balkans attracted favorable attention, also, and two baby portraits in the plain etching stood out.

The arrangement of the studies, was particularly pleasing to every one who saw the exhibit. The lighting, an all important matter in the hanging of pictures, was good; and the truly artistic rooms of Mrs. Glascoe's home made a harmonious background for this exquisite form of art.

Mrs. Glascoe was a most charming hostess to the hundred and fifty or more guests who called during the two afternoons of the exhibit. She obtained the exhibit from the private collection of her friend, Miss Caroline Schoch of Greensboro, North Carolina. Miss Schoch is a teacher in North Carolina College for Women, at Greensboro, North Carolina. She is a collector of all kinds of pictures and she owns an especially fine collection of etchings, which she has gathered entirely in Europe. She is an enthusiast on the subject of art appreciation and sends exhibits from her private collections to her friends in the different parts of the States, in order that they may show them to their friends.

Mrs. Glascoe offered to Clarendon perhaps the first exhibit of original etchings; and there is no doubt that when another such exhibit of the kind is held here, there will be an equally enthusiastic response. Mrs. Glascoe says that the interest shown by the visitors was great, and that her friend, Miss Schoch, will send another collection later.

Besides the many other friends of Mrs. Glascoe who were invited to see the etchings, every member of the Pathfinders Club was invited to attend and bring her friends. Mrs. Glascoe was assisted, Monday, in receiving the visitors by Mrs. W. E. Sims, Miss Nora Headrick, Mrs. C. Powell, Mrs. James McMurtry, Mrs. M. M. Noble, and Mrs. G. W. Kirkland. Mrs. Noble and Miss Headrick poured tea. On Tuesday Mrs. T. H. Ellis and Mrs. J. S. Perrine of Hedley poured tea; and Mrs. A. L. Chase, Miss Mary Howren, and Miss Nora Headrick assisted Mrs. Glascoe.

Little Miss Westmoreland Has Birthday Party

Many of the very youngest set in Clarendon gathered at the home of Mrs. T. F. Connally last Saturday afternoon, to help celebrate the fifth birthday of their little friend, Flora Catherine Westmoreland of Amarillo. Games and contests kept the little guests entertained through the afternoon; but the climax of the day was reached when a beautiful birthday cake topped with five lighted candles, was brought before the little honoree. While the others held their breath, she blew the five candles. The cake was then cut and favors were given to all the guests. Refreshments were served to the following: Flora Catherine Westmoreland, Josephine, Evelyn, and Charlie Murphy, Cecil Ricavis, Jr., Dorothy Kerbow, Margaret Taylor, Lallor Belle, Margaret, and Drew Wilkerson, Ceola D. Reynolds, Jo Ellen Kennedy, Maxine Ellis, A. J. Smith, Jewell Little, Wesley Powell, and Donley Darnell. They made the affair a very pleasant one for little Miss Flora Catherine by presenting her with little gifts.

New Christian Pastor and Wife Introduced to Officials of All Churches in Charming Reception

One of the most outstanding social events of the week, and of the season for that matter, was the reception given in honor of the Reverend and Mrs. A. B. Crocker, last Friday evening. The reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hayter and was given by the officers of the First Christian Church and their wives, inviting the pastor and officers of every church in the city to meet the new pastor of the First Christian Church, the Reverend A. B. Crocker and Mrs. Crocker. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Hayter, the Reverend and Mrs. Crocker, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Mulkey, Mr. and Mrs. John Beverly, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Tucker, Mr. B. W. Moreman, and Mr. Emanuel Dubbs. A delightful program of readings and music had been arranged for the evening. Mrs. Joe Goldston, Miss Mary Jo Chamberlain, and Little Miss Margery White gave readings. Miss Angeline Dubbs played a piano solo; and Mr. Charles Dean, accompanied on the piano by Miss Julia Dean, played a cornet solo. The contest in quotation that followed brought a more informal note into the affair, and it too was enjoyed.

A buffet supper was served from a table of pretty appointments, over which Mrs. Homer Mulkey and Mrs. G. A. Anderson presided, assisted by Miss Mary Lou Jenkins and Miss Angeline Dubbs.

To the ladies and the officers of the First Christian Church go the distinction and the credit for having been the first to formally introduce their pastor to the pastors and the leading workers in the other churches of the city. They are to be congratulated also, upon the wholly admirable way in which the reception was carried out, for the honorees and all other guests greatly enjoyed the affair.

Those who attended the reception were as follows: the honorees of the occasion, the Reverend and Mrs. Crocker of the First Christian Church, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hayter, the Reverend and Mrs. L. L. Swan of the Episcopal Church, the Reverend and Mrs. Roscoe Stapp of the First Baptist Church, Mrs. G. A. Anderson, Mrs. D. W. Clappitt, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Mrs. F. E. Atteberry Has Birthday Dinner

A particularly happy affair of the week was the family reunion and the dinner party held at the Atteberry Hotel Sunday evening, in celebration of Mrs. F. E. Atteberry's sixty-ninth birthday anniversary. Mrs. Atteberry's children and all her grandchildren were present. Those who attended the reunion and the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Atteberry; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Atteberry and children, Adeline, Cecelia and Claudia; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Atteberry and their children, Pauline, Merritt, and Mildred; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Langer; little Misses Willie Maude and Geradine Pratt; and Bill Hilliard, the nephew of Mr. Atteberry.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Hamblen Entertain

The Reverend and Mrs. J. H. Hamblen were host and hostess to the stewards of the First Methodist Church and their wives and a few other guests, Thursday evening, at their fourth quarterly conference. Their guests were Mrs. G. M. Richards, Mrs. D. P. Ross, Mrs. Fred Buntin, the Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Griswold, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shelton, Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. In an amusing contest, games and conversation the guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Hamblen spent a delightful evening. Refreshments were served late in the evening, and the guests said goodnight to their host and hostess.

Mrs. Gentry Entertains Club

Mrs. Sella Gentry was hostess Monday afternoon to the members of her bridge club and two guests. Mrs. E. A. Simpson made high score. Mrs. R. L. Bigger was presented with guest favor, and Mrs. L. L. Swan was fortunate in the cut. Dainty refreshments were served to Mrs. R. L. Bigger and Mrs. A. L. Chase, guests, and to Mrs. Charles Bugbee, Mrs. E. A. Chamberlain, Mrs. G. B. Bagby, Mrs. W. H. Martin, Mrs. J. Y. Sims, Mrs. E. A. Simpson, Mrs. L. L. Swan, Mrs. W. H. Cooke, and the hostess.

RESPECT FOR MY MONEY

"Never mind, sonny, all those figures on how much this business and that business have made. When I part with my money in investing, what I want to know is whether the man into whose hands it goes will have a much respect for it as I have. Who are the men running this concern whose securities you wish to buy?"

There is the whole, simple, practical philosophy of safe investing and the avoiding of fakes and gamblers. It was spoken by an old Scotchman, a farmer in western New York, to a young man who was trying to sell him securities. Gamblers and fakes have no respect for money, either their own chance gains or the hard savings of others. Dabblers, dreamers, incompetents, ne'er-do-wells, no matter how honest, have no respect for money. Only experienced men of proved ability and honesty have that respect for other people's money. It is that kind of respect that justifies other people in trusting their savings in investments.

M. E. CHURCH HAS SPLENDID REPORT

YEAR OF WORK SHOWS TO BE LARGEST IN HISTORY OF CHURCH.

The close of the year 1925 for the Methodist Church of Clarendon has brought the largest year, financially speaking, to an end that has ever been enjoyed by the Methodists of this city. The total moneys raised for all purposes by the Methodists of the city for the past year amounts to more than $31,023. This includes the $21,000 that was raised for the College last Fall and Winter. In the amount mentioned above, there is $1,500 that was raised as a free-will offering for Rev. Burke Culpepper after the close of the revival here this fall. $900 of the amount is for the incidental expenses of the revival meeting and includes the money spent for the lumber used in the erection of the tabernacle and the room rent and board of the evangelistic party while they were in the city.

Rev. J. H. Hamblen's salary is included in the amount raised, and conference claims to the amount of $1,900 are incorporated in the amount. The money raised by the Sunday School, amounting to approximately $1,000, used to pay for the literature and for all the necessities of the Sunday School. This does not include the money raised by the classes of the school as individuals, nor does it include the money raised for other purposes in the Sunday School.

The finances turned into the church through the Missionary Society of the Church and the Ladies of the Golden Cross are all included in the above named amount as are the incidental expenses of the church, the money raised by the Leagues of the church and all other agencies that are a part of the church. A more detailed account of the expenditure of the funds of the church would be burdensome and would interest a very few people. Possibly the most interesting feature would be that connected with the keeping of two missionaryes in the field and the assistance rendered the Methodist orphanage at Waco.

Aside from the monetary account of the church, a great deal of good has been done. 210 accessions to the church are mentioned in this important part of the church, these being gathered by means of baptism, and by the other means of access to the church. The great part of the accession was had after the revival closed the fore part of September. The Sunday School has shown a steady growth during the past year and has recorded the largest average attendance over a period of one year in the history of that organization. The average attendance for the year was 525. The enrollment has increased and the four departments of the school have shown a remarkable increase in interest. The newly organized Home Department is fast gaining in interest and will in a short time be one of the most liked parts of the school.

Other gains have been shown, but this short report will give the people of the city some idea of the work that has been done by the Methodist Church in the past year.

COMPETITION HAMPERS PUBLIC SERVICE

"There is a general movement throughout the country to place all public utilities into the hands of a few great strong groups or corporations. And there is no need to get alarmed over it in the least. It simply means a better service and greater development. The time has gone by when corporations assume the public be damned attitude. No corporation expects to succeed that does not cooperate with the people. Men are appointed to the higher offices in these great companies because of their known fairness, and any official who fails to convince the people his company serves, of that fairness, has a short-lived official career.

"Small, inadequate, struggling public service companies are being bought up all over the country by these strong financial concerns, and in place of poor service the community is which they operate are given as good service as that enjoyed by the largest cities. And instead of a rise in price, it is a rare thing that a decrease rate is not given. But possibly the greatest advantage is that these big corporations take the front in the development of the resources of the section they serve.

"No claim is made by them that they put their money into these development plans from any altruistic motives. They are strictly business concerns that expect to make money from their stockholders. But being farsighted, they put large sums into enterprises that build the country and, of course, as the country progresses and prospers the companies that furnish power and lights and transportation and ice and gas, also prosper.

"All of these public needs are natural monopolies. Competition keeps down investment and improvements, and hamper in every way. Men with money will not invest unless they are assured of a reasonable return. There should, of course, be the power left with the people to regulate and control all public service companies, but the good sense of most such corporations make little regulation necessary."—Marshall News.

J. L. Reid of Lelia Lake was in Clarendon this morning and while here dropped into the News office and pushed his paper up another notch.

OUR SEC. SAYS

The loyalty exhibited Wednesday by the majority of the business houses closing is to be commended in the greatest degree. Heretofore, it has been utterly impossible to get the cooperation of the business in the degree that they should Wednesday. Plans are being arranged to set at the beginning of next year the holidays that will be rigidly observed and these days will be published by the newspaper and handbill in plenty of time to notify a business man's customers wherever they are that all the places of business will be closed on those days and in that way there will be no ill feeling either way and both parties will have a full opportunity to show patriotism in a full hearted manner.

The secretary has had visitors in the office that were interested in the matter of natural gas for Clarendon. Anyone who has studied the probability of getting anything in the way of industries here will see at a glance the great need of natural gas for this town. If you are interested in this project and would like to see it succeed, the secretary would like to have your support and assistance in getting such an undertaking under way.

The office of the secretary has for the past four weeks been a kind of employment office for those seeking work. A real service may be rendered the people of Clarendon by the secretary would be glad to have openings for all the different kinds of employment call this office and give this information as he will do his utmost to fill the vacancy in a most satisfactory manner. This will be a favor to the Chamber of Commerce as well as helping the employer as so many people who are looking for work always come to the Chamber of Commerce office to get correct information and the best places to work.

HIGH SCHOOL PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

The Parent-Teachers Association of the High School met Thursday in regular session. Mrs. Atteberry, the president of the Association, and Miss Temple Harris, the secretary, read letters from the State President and other State officials urging the Clarendon Association to send representatives to the State meeting to be held soon at El Paso. The Rev. A. B. Crocker, pastor of the First Christian Church, and A. T. Holcomb, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, made short talks. Dr. Piele of the West Texas State Teachers' College and J. C. Eslack were elected honorary members of the Association for services rendered the Association.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Marriage licenses have been issued to the following couples: H. L. Sullivan and Miss Lillie Thompson, both of the Taylor community. Carl H. Stone and Miss Naomi Johnson, both of Thrift, Texas. Herman Hearne and Miss Bertie Gwynan, both of Brice. W. A. Helton and Miss Ora Lee Slaughter, both of Brice.

Matt Noble of Lockney spent Saturday in Clarendon attending to business affairs and visiting with old friends.

Sales of cake and pastry, commercial catering, and, as a climax, the making of an entire trousseau for a June bride are examples of practical vocational work which has financially helped students in Technical High School, Buffalo, N. Y. The several departments have cooperated in opening a tea room where afternoon tea is served and special luncheons may be arranged. The class in trade dressmaking during the year turned out 200 gowns, blouses, and skirts for the girls.

No tricky talk--for these are not tricky shoes

We could say something tricky, like "Plain talk about fancy shoes." We won't. Here's the flat fact. Walk-Over shoes are the best shoes made at the price. Your two eyes can see Walk-Over style. Your two feet can feel Walk-Over comfort. Now, if you don't believe that this shoe will outwear any other shoe you ever wore, try to wear it out.

THE SIMPLICITY OF A GOOD TOWN TO LIVE IN

Put a peg of prosperity in your community by staying with it. Always greet your neighbors with a grasp of confidence. Criticize in the spirit of God speed. Say a good word even if it hurts. Remember that those who insist on hanging themselves will do so if given enough rope. Give your neighbors a right to an opinion as long as he keeps it to himself. Discuss questions involving your better welfare instead of arguing with them. Apply the golden rule regardless of consequences. Welcome every new enterprise with a glad hand even if it is opening up in competition with you. Your success depends on you and not on the other fellow's coming in. He must look out for his own success. You are doing your part if you treat him with courtesy and consideration. If he succeeds better than you he had something you didn't. Find out what it was and apply it with a little added. Back up your churches and relative affiliations. You will feel better and besides are setting a good example for the young people. Let's have more handshaking and arm-in-arm conferences with a good-will parting. It adds to that day's events. Trade at home.—Ex.

SPORTSMANSHIP

The greatest athlete is not always the best sportsman. Sportsmanship is like many other things worth while in this life—it is often found in the most unexpected places.

Only the other day we saw one of the finest examples of sportsmanship that has ever come to our attention. It was only an incident in a football game, the winning or loss of which bears but little importance. It was one of those football games between fellows of prep or high school age, staged in the hour before a great grid classic such as at least make college history.

The little fellows, grim warriors of the gridiron, were in their fighting as though their very souls depended upon winning. One team was perceptibly lighter than the other, and the empty substitute's bench on their side of the field indicated that the school was a small one.

The score was tied, 6 and 6. The little fellows (and you will pardon us for sympathizing with them, but we always have a kindly feeling for the under dog), had made a touchdown early in the game through sheer fight, and their opponents had rallied long enough to run the ball down the field twice to within striking distance, where they tied the score with a couple of field goals.

After that, neither side had been able to gain much ground, and it was possibly the middle of the fourth quarter when the ball was being played for an advantage backward and forward on the gridiron, one of the backs fumbled, and quicker than it can be told the ball was downed behind the goal line of the little fellows who had been getting no moral support.

Out of the crush of the tackle that failed to down the runner until he had succeeded came a lad of few years and little of the brawn that is the protection of most youths who play football. The stands, which had by that time almost filled with the throng waiting for the start of one of the greatest games of the season, were rearing in applause. The little player who had carried the ball was raised from mediocrity to become an idol of his fellows. He was that sort of little fellow, you could tell by a glance, that doesn't really make a big hit with his classmates, and this must have been the greatest accomplishment of his lifetime.

In the meantime, the captain of the opposing team was urgently talking with the officials. Something seemed wrong, and he was protesting.

After talking among themselves and with various players, including the youth, that had made the sensation, carried back to where the play was begun and the score was denied. Nothing happened of particular interest after that before the time-keeper fired his gun for the end of the last quarter. The teams dispersed and the impatient varsity squads took the field.

The following day, while looking over the sports sheet, we chanced upon a small writing of the game. It told of the small local school holding the strong visiting team to a tie score, and of the sensational run that netted on score because the player was offside.

That play was still fresh in our mind, and so was the little player. It was not until we had read the article that we realized what had happened. That little fellow, in all his eagerness, had been off-side, and had admitted his guilt. It was clear at the time that they had not observed the infringement of the football rule, and it had rested with his power to say yes or no.

Doubtless, his laurels of the moment have withered, his brief popularity is gone and he has sunk back to mediocrity, but no one can question his brand of sportsmanship and say, "he has it not!"

BRONCHOS HUMBLE TULIA HORNETS

LOCAL ELEVEN SMEARS VISITING TEAM AND PILES UP HUGE SCORE.

With the odds strongly favoring the visiting team as they took their places on the field Wednesday afternoon, the Clarendon High School Bronchos put their famed tactics to work and piled up the largest score of the year against Tulia. All dope was fairly upset when the first score was made against the visitor early in the first quarter. To be exact, only four minutes were required for the Bronchos to put the first score over the Hornet's goal line.

Scores followed in quick succession for the Bronchos until it took the services of an expert mathematician to keep pace with the Bronchos as they marched from one end of the field to the other adding tallies as they marched. The Tulia team was hampered in the first part of the game by the lack of some of their main players but when they rallied, it was too late for the visitors to make up for the lead of the Bronchos and the confidence the Bronchos had in themselves.

Whitlock played a master game at the position of quarterback and Smith and Johnson added further laurels to their crowns in their places at halfback. Emmons at fullback helped in the game with his consistent line plugging and off-tackle plays. Brasswell and White on the end position played splendid game and were always on the job on the defense and proved excellent timber on the offensive side of the game. Captain Ingram played his usual consistent game and was always to be found at the bottom of the pile when the play was completed.

There were three men on the Tulia team who played stellar all and who made the most consistent gains for the visiting team. Short basket passes coupled with long passes made for the greater part of the Tulia gains but these were not sufficient to keep the Bronchos from winning by a large majority.

The rodeo preceding the game added much to the interest of the day and the stunts of the boys and their ponies made the day quite complete. This feature of the day was held for the purpose of determining the best rider of the High School that his picture might be used in the annual Goat roping, calf riding and stunt riding took the major part of the time.

An added feature of the game was the largest recorded this year and the results will be very much appreciated by the athletic association of the High School. The final score of the game was 47 to 0, favoring the Bronchos.

An added feature of the game was the broadcasting of the plays of the game by Logan Naylor. He kept the grandstand informed of the exact play and the man and amount made on each play. His cryptic statement "Clarendon gains five yards through the weak side" came at just regular intervals that it was expected at almost any minute of the entire game.

Elephant's Cold Cured with Bag over Trunk

When circus elephants catch a cold, inhaling boiling vinegar sometimes proves effective as a cure. The "medicine" is administered by placing it in a canvas container, shaped like a feedbag and tied securely to the animal's trunk. Whether the elephant wants it or not, it must inhale the beneficial fumes.

Mystery in Butterflies' Trek From Tropics to Arctic

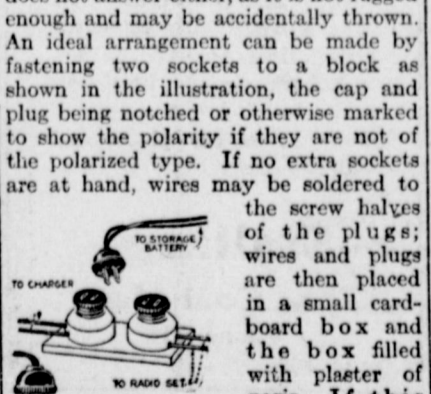

Each year swarms of butterflies, known as "painted ladies," are seen crossing the sea from France to England on a 4,000-mile journey from northern Africa to Iceland. How they find their way and how fresh broods appear yearly, although the butterflies never have been seen traveling back from the north, are mysteries. It has been suggested that they return in swarms at night or fly back alone as individuals, thus escaping notice, but there is no evidence of this. Another curious feature of the migration is that the butterflies which begin the flight probably are not the same that reach the northern destination for eggs are laid on the way, these hatch into caterpillars and become butterflies that move on toward the north, maintaining a sort of relay race. They arrive in France in May, then cross the channel into England, and, still heading northward, reach Iceland in July.

Speeding Up Patents

Although 1900 more applications and 30,000 more amendments were received at the patent office during the last fiscal year as compared to the year before, 16,000 fewer cases were awaiting action at the close of the period, according to the patent commissioner's report.

Switching Battery from Set to Charger

Everyone knows that a storage battery should be kept as completely charged as possible; to make sure this is done, it is necessary that some simple and convenient means be used to change the battery from the set to the charger and back again. A simple double-throw, double-pole switch is commonly used for this purpose, but is not altogether satisfactory, as it is unsightly, and unsafe on account of shorts. A closed snap switch does not answer either, as it is not rugged enough and may be accidentally thrown. An ideal arrangement can be made by fastening two sockets to a block as shown in the illustration, the cap and plug being notched or otherwise marked to show the polarity if they are not of the polarized type. If no extra sockets are at hand, wires may be soldered to the screw halves of the plugs; wires and plugs are then placed in a small cardboard box and the box filled with plaster of paris. If this method is used, the polarity of the wires must be determined and marked on the outside of the box before the plaster. A switching device of this type has none of the objectionable features of the knife switch, and makes a neat assembly.

Lime Keeps Dirt Roads Firm

Experiments of engineers have developed, it is claimed, that mixture of two to five per cent of hydrated lime with the top surfacing of country dirt roads has ended excessive rutting and clinging of the clay to feet of animals and tires of autos, after rainfalls. The clay and lime mixture does not stick. Instead it tends to smooth out and pack down more quickly than does untreated surfacing. The roads also respond more readily to dragging.

Conserving Furnace Heat

Considerable heat is radiated from the furnace in the basement where it is not needed so much as in the rooms above.

A simple method of turning this waste to account is shown in the illustration. Walls are built around the furnace forming a small room and two registers are provided in the floor above, as indicated. One of these has a length of galvanized-iron pipe extending under it nearly to the basement floor. All steam or hot-water pipes running along the ceiling in the basement are packed in sawdust as in the lower left-hand detail, if they are not already wrapped with asbestos. The heat given off by the furnace passes up through one register and the colder air in the room above returns into the furnace room through the other register.

RED CROSS WORK DID NOT END WITH ARMISTICE

With the close of the World War Red Cross responsibility to Uncle Sam's fighters did not end, but on the contrary increased. The Ninth Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross will be held again this year from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving. Its purpose is the enrollment of members through whose interest and support the great work of adjusting our country's defenders to a normal life can be carried on, together with the other peace time activities of the Red Cross. Many returned from the war broken in body and spirit. Through the assistance of the Red Cross, thousands of ex-service men in need of medical attention are being cared for and their home difficulties adjusted.

Formerly Red Cross activities in Army hospitals were confined to recreational work and an informational and more or less routine service in connection with various government claims. This program, having been carried over from the old war organization. However, with the filling up of Army hospitals by Veterans' Bureau patients, professional hospitals social work became necessary. In consequence, during the past local year the Red Cross work at the four Army hospitals of Fort Bliss at El Paso, Texas; Fort Sam Houston at San Antonio, Texas; the Army and Navy Hospital at Hot Springs, Arkansas; and Fitzsimons General Hospital at Denver, Colorado, has been thoroughly reorganized and trained hospital social workers put in charge of the case work program. This service now compares favorably with the Red Cross program which is also being carried on at Veterans' Bureau hospitals. The percentage of Veterans' Bureau patients in Army hospitals is still steadily increasing.

A growing appreciation of the importance of social work on the part of doctors in Government hospitals and of its value as a medical aid has been observed with satisfaction. In the old days a doctor did his own social work knowing the intimate histories of his clientele and administering personally to their social as well as medical needs. However, in this later more scientific age when a doctor only sees, as it were, a cross-section of his patient, medical men are more and more of the opinion that the social worker is indispensable as a supplement of their professional technique.

When the Red Cross first inaugurated trained social work in Government hospitals it was met with the indifference that naturally arose from a lack of understanding. However, the results of this educational process have convinced doctors of the importance and value of the case worker and are most gratifying.

In its work for service and ex-service men the Red Cross is trying to develop recreation of therapeutic value rather than to limit it merely to a form of entertainment. During the past year there has been evidence of more improvement in the work and a rapidly increasing appreciation on the part of hospital authorities of what the Red Cross is trying to do through this phase of its program. Instead of placing so much importance upon motion pictures and entertainments given by outside groups, the Red Cross is now trying to emphasize informal parties, amateur theatricals, orchestra work, community singing, et cetera, in which the patients themselves take an active part. Recreation is furthermore being adapted to the special disabilities and therefore the particular needs of the patients.

For infirm patients in general hospitals and patients in tuberculosis hospitals a passive form of recreation is necessary and therefore a modified type of recreation has developed for those who are shut away from the outside world. Among neuro-psychiatric patients amateur theatricals and music are found to have a most curative effect of N. P. patients. In many hospitals of these forms of recreation is recognized and it is particularly true of N. P. patients. In many hospitals an orchestra made up of patients goes from tennis to ward playing for the other patients with splendid results. Often patients who are in coma when they enter the hospital respond first only to music.

An example of what recreation will do for a psychiatric is the story of a patient who entered an N. P. hospital seemingly without interest in anything. No suggestion whatever could arouse a spark of understanding or sympathy. From the social history of the patient it was learned that he had formerly played tennis to a great deal and the worker asked him if he would not care to play a game of tennis he responded immediately. From that time on he has played enthusiastically and his condition shows great improvement. This also demonstrated the value of the social history as without it the worker might never have chanced upon the interest of tennis with which she aroused him from his lethargy.

One form of constructive recreation is the making of posters and cartoons by patients as announcements of weekly activities. This method of directing life force of men into a constructive normal channel is often the means of freeing whatever obstacle exists in the consciousness of the patient and result in the absorption and complete eradication of the difficulty.

A growing interest in Junior Red Cross activities has developed in Government hospitals through the gifts of Juniors at Christmas time and at other holiday seasons. Last Christmas the members of the Junior Red Cross furnished a large proportion of the Christmas greens used at a number of Government hospitals. In many chapters it was a definite Junior project to have trees cut down and then made by hand into wreaths. These artistic and beautiful decorations contributed greatly to the holiday cheer at the hospitals which received them.

Three "opportunity" rooms where individual instruction is given to retarded pupils are maintained at Webster School, Dayton, Ohio. The average girls, in addition to regular branches, are given home-making courses. The boys are trained in handwork and fitted to enter the regular trade school. This special work is correlated in a practical way with academic studies, and all bills, receipts, and letters must be carefully typewritten. Music is emphasized. Since these rooms have been established no case of truancy or discipline has occurred.

Dollars Can't Work For Low Wages Any Better Than Men

The time has come when a dollar must have wages commensurate with the service rendered by this medium of exchange.

The workings of a dollar may well be compared to the working of a man. A man will work and do well only so long as he is receiving a fair wage in return for the work done.

A dollar is the same way in that it may be withdrawn from the business in which it is invested unless a fair return is made on the dollar invested.

This condition is existing in the Clarendon Telephone Company today. For the past three years the service and equipment of the company has been bettered and no increase has been made in the revenue received.

We are asking for only a small increase in the rate per telephone to allow us to receive more revenue from the dollars invested. Unless this is received, the service rendered may perforce be cut and the record of Clarendon as a Telephone center will be reduced.

ARE YOU WILLING TO HAVE A REDUCTION IN SERVICE?

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The High School Parent-Teachers Association met Thursday, Nov. 5, for the second time during this school year. A good program was rendered and several new members enrolled. The enrollment this year is good, but a better attendance is desired. The rummage sale, which is held each Saturday, has proved very profitable and plans are well under way for the interior decoration of the High School.

Rev. Crocker spoke at the Chapel exercises Friday morning on "Taking Advantage of the Opportunity." The various clubs of the High School met Monday afternoon, when a very interesting program was rendered in each. After the programs were given some of the clubs adjourned while others remained for a social meeting.

The Bronchos, with Coach Boykin, left Friday morning for Hollis, Okla., where they were to have played a game Friday afternoon, but due to the weather and bad roads they did not get there until nearly time for the game, so it was postponed until Saturday. Real spirit was aroused in the team toward the last of the game, when a small but lively pep squad from Clarendon went on the field. The game ended nothing to nothing.

The Bronchos will meet Tulla here Wednesday, Nov. 11. Tickets are being sold now and we are looking forward to a good game and a large crowd as it is Armistice Day and there is a double feature to it—a fast ball game and a rodeo. There will be some ranchmen to judge the rodeo and the high point man will have the picture in the Hall of Fame in the Annual.

The Hi-Y Club met Monday night in a regular meeting. An interesting program was rendered and there was a good attendance.

The editorial and business staffs of the Annual are continuing their work and are doing nicely. The business men are giving good support and the Annual is sure to be a success.

Major Simpson gave an unusually interesting talk at the chapel exercises Tuesday morning. He pictured the World War as it really was, the way Armistice Day was spent in Paris, the life of the French people, and closed his talk by explaining how to be loyal to the Flag.

The High School is observing this week as National Book week.

Next week is Education week and plans are being made to observe it in the proper way.

Irl Smith has been elected as the best all-around boy in the High School.

A High School Band has been organized under the direction of Mr. Riggs. The band has started doing good work already and it is evident that it will be a benefit to the High School.

LIONS DISCUSS ARMISTICE DAY

DISCUSS POSSIBILITY OF CLOSING FOR ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATION.

The attendance of the Clarendon Lions Tuesday of this week was more nearly perfect than for several weeks past. The "Buddy" plan for securing one-hundred per cent attendance is working wonders with the membership and the members are coming to the club in increasing numbers each week. Four visitors, Messrs R. O. Thomas, C. L. Benson, Superintendent Paul Morgan and Warren Lott, were present and added to those in attendance on the meeting.

Two Lion cubs of the city were present at the meeting but time was not available for their initial addresses and they will be held over to another meeting of the club. Lion Homer Mulkey acted in the place of Boss Lion Porter and made things hum with the snap put into the presiding chair. Lions Haynes and Morris, two members of the College faculty were the two new members of the College faculty who were present at the meeting of the club.

The major part of the hour was taken up in a discussion of the probability of closing for an Armistice Day celebration. Warren Lott of the High School took the initiative and first asked the greater part of the merchants of the city to close for the ball game that was to be played on that date. Some of the merchants of the city refused to close merely for that and especially on the date in question. After the matter had been thoroughly threshed out and a decision made to hold a short program before the ball game and rodeo, the merchants gladly consented to close for the latter half of the day for Armistice Day, but not merely for a ball game as had been first proposed.

Lion Morris asked the Club to furnish a speaker for five minutes at the chapel services at the College and Lion Holcomb was appointed by Boss Lion Mulkey to fill that place. A speaker was also appointed by Lion Mulkey to fill a place on the program at the celebration on Wednesday, the other of the speakers to be selected by the American Legion of the city.

The commendation of the club was placed on Warren Lott for starting a movement that was so worthy of Armistice Day. The work was done voluntarily and without urging from any of the business men of the city or faculty members of the High School.

Lion W. T. Hayter was appointed by the club to appear on the Armistice Day program as a representative of the organization.

Lion Burton announced the game Friday of this week between the Pull Pups and the team from the Oklahoma A. & M. College at Goodwell. A fine game is reported to be in prospect. The attendance of the club was urged.

Superintendent Morgan spoke of the reasons for their plans for Wednesday of this week and stated that the High School was ready and willing at all times to co-operate in whatever manner they could to help the city at any time.

The business of the Club coming to a close, the usual manner of adjournment was followed.

KEARNEY STREET PICK-UPS

S. A. Pierce—"Reckon I'll stay in Clarendon now. Been away a few times but always come back. The people here are above the average in other sections. Clarendon is hard to beat."

Matt E. Noble—"A druggist at Lockney says he did $75 worth of business after supper the other night and did it without selling any 'jake', either. He admitted later that he ran out earlier in the week."

Dick Chunn—"Flowers and brickbats for the living. I like the way the News mentioned Armistice Day in last week's issue. (Sarcastic stuff, for we didn't mention it). We fellows that were over on the front line will never forget Nov. 11th. To me it is almost as great a day as Christmas." Clarendon has so woefully fallen down on celebrating national holidays, that the News has adopted a policy, here of late, of not prophesying anything, but waiting for developments, and then writing the news. Glad to say that we can write a nice self-respecting story on the 1925 Armistice Day.

There is a certain Clarendon young lady who cannot bear to hear a person with adenoids speak at any length. The candidate with adenoids had better have his removed if he expects to enjoy her vote and favor.

D. O. Stallings—"Winter is coming and I must get busy on my new residence if it is to do me much good this winter." Attaboy.

"My estimate of Donley County's cotton crop for this year is around eighteen thousand bales. If the freeze hasn't hit us, we would have gone over the twenty thousand mark easily." We're picking up every year.

"I will give the News the detailed report of the district work for the past conference year when I return from the Canyon conference. I'm too busy getting the details rounded up, to do it this week."—Presiding Elder J. T. Griswold.

Mayor Taylor—"Clarendon business men ought to get together on this holiday closing business. It should be decided the first of the year just what holidays will be observed, and ample notice given all country and town people." Hizzoner sure rang the bell, that time. Here's to 1926!

Rev. J. H. Hamblen—"In many respects the Methodist Church broke records the past year. The membership deserve the greatest praise for their liberality."

T. M. Little—"Any business worth being in is worth talking about. Yes, I believe in advertising." Amen, says we.

FOUND—In the Pastime Theatre, a small Testament. The person who has been missing his daily Bible reading for the lack of his Testament will now remember where he left it. Don't miss another day, brother (or sister).

Clyde Douglas—"I positively will not close my business for a ball game, although I often attend, but when the business men of Clarendon want to close to celebrate a national holiday like Armistice Day, I am willing to close all day long." Clyde is right about it, too.

R. S. Heiser—"Seems to me that many of our leading churchmen have been so bitter and too personal in their arguments pro and con on the unification of the northern and southern branches of the Methodist Church. It isn't good for us."

Supt. Paul Morgan—"Major Simpson gave us a very vivid and enlightening address on the events leading up to the World War, and very cogent reasons why we celebrate Nov. 11th as Armistice Day at our chapel hour devoted to Armistice celebration. Tuesday of this week."

A Clarendon Gumbo says he wishes the Clarendon merchants would say what they are going to do about closing up on Thanksgiving Day. He frowns as how he wants to know whether to lay in this stock of Star Navy and wool socks, the day before, if the stores are all going to be closed. We hope to tell you later, Clarendon.

Every day some soul is made happy by coming by the News office and buying his Christmas cards for delivery the middle of December or a little later. Don't wait—do it now, etc.

COLLEGE PUPS TO MEET GOODWELL

FAST GAME EXPECTED WHEN COLLEGE PUPS MEET GOODWELL FRIDAY.

Burton's men of the college team will meet some of the strongest and fastest playing of the year Friday of this week when the Pups of the college will meet the Goodwell, Oklahoma Indians on the College gridiron Friday evening of this week.

Coach Burton states that the Goodwell team will not be heavy enough to handle the regular team of the college and that he will play the Pups against the visitors and guarantee the fans of the city a real treat when they see these two teams go into action.

The proposed line-up as outlined by Burton will give the Pups a team that is hard to beat. In fact, Coach Burton stated that it was hard to draw the line between the two teams when they met on the local field for scrimmage and other practice work.

Orbin Turner will fill the pivot position. The guards will be filled by Jones and Hayes. Tackle position will be held by Noble and Darnell, the end places will be filled by Taylor and Terrell. Hayden will direct the team from the position of quarter, the halves will be T. White and B. White and the Fullback position will be held by Gordon Vaughter.

From the above outlined squad, the observer may see that the Pup team at the college stands near the regular team when it comes to pluck, fight and management. The only reason that can be given for these men not appearing on the Bulldog line-up is that there are some more men in the college who have had a little more experience and who are more able to out general and out play the Pups.

Goodwell is coming to Clarendon with a splendid line-up of men and the Pups will be forced to do their very best to hold the visitors to a small score. This is the very first time the Pups have been displayed on the local field and the football fans of the city will be given an opportunity to see what the coming teams of the college look like when they come on the field. The Pups will form the backbone of the team for next year and some of the men who hold a berth on the Bulldog team will have to work harder than ever before to keep their places.

Friday, November 13, will be a good day for the Pups to prove that this is an unlucky day for visitors on the College Park. Help them do it by attending the boosting for the home team.
