GAIN SHOWN IN COLLEGE AND HIGH SCHOOL ATTENDANCE OVER YEAR AGO

JUNIOR COLLEGE OPENS WITH TEN MORE PUPILS THAN IN 1928—NEW FACULTY MEMBERS ASSUME DUTIES—WATSON DELIVERS ADDRESS FOR BOARD OF TRUSTEES—URGES VALUE OF EDUCATION IN MODERN LIFE.

With the first breath of Fall in the air a large assembly of pupils and patrons of the city schools met this morning at the College Auditorium at nine o'clock for the joint program that formally opened the year's work in Clarendon Schools.

The program was under the direction of Dean W. A. Clark, Jr., of the Junior College and he, with Supt. H. T. Burton and members of the board of trustees were on the platform, while the faculty was seated in the front seats in the auditorium.

The program as outlined in last week's News was carried out with little variation. The Reverend L. L. Swan, rector of the Episcopal Church of Clarendon delivered the invocation, and Supt. Burton introduced the old and new members of the faculty to the student body and the audience. An exceptionally interesting feature of the introductions came about by reason of the fact that two of the popular members of last year's teaching staff, Coach Frank A. Stocking and Miss Rita Foster, have only recently married and came in for large applause and acclaim from these in attendance. It was also mentioned that two members of the faculty, a man and a woman, were celebrating their respective birthdays, the first being forty years old and the latter thirty-six years young—"identify them yourselves," as one speaker suggested.

A feature of the occasion was the address of Vice-President O. C. Watson, of the board of trustees, who represented that body in a carefully conceived message and one of the most forceful ever delivered in Clarendon on a like occasion. Mr. Watson reviewed the present-day demand for education, and quoted statistics showing that a relatively small per cent of students ever emerged into high school and a still smaller per cent ever pursued their studies further. Out of a thousand students only one hundred and eleven finish high school and still less number finish college education. According to the speaker, too few of our high school pupils have a proper conception of what their opportunities amount to, and take too lightly the efforts of parents, teachers and officials to make an adequate education possible.

Proving that the statistics quoted were correct, Mr. Watson explained a project he had in mind, to offer cash prizes to the pupils of the high schools of Don-

BAPTIST REVIVAL IS FINE MEETING

REV. MCCLUNG STATES THAT MUCH GOOD WAS DERIVED FROM MEETING.

One of the best spirits ever seen in any meeting held in the city was exhibited at the Baptist Church Sunday night in the closing service of the meeting, which had been in progress for two weeks. Rev. McClung, pastor of the local church states that never in all his experiences with meetings does he remember any time where a more constructive series of services were held or where there was a better Christian spirit shown by the congregation as a whole, as was the one just concluded by the Baptists of the city. Twenty-five additions to the church was registered during the revival and the whole Christian life of the city and surrounding country have received an uplifting benefit.

Rev. D. H. Heard, evangelist, was one of the strongest and capable preachers that has ever spoken to a Clarendon congregation and a good derived from his services can not be determined. With him praise is due to the musical director, Mr. John Marley County, for the best essay on "The Value of Education" to be closed some time in the Spring. A poll was taken of the high school pupils present and only six raised their hands as being interested—proving the decline in interest in education in the higher grades. If the contest is staged in Donley County it will be done in the hope of stimulating interest among the pupils to get the very best out of their studies and to fit themselves for the stress of modern life.

When Supt. Burton introduced the members of the school board, Fred E. Chamberlain, president of the body, took the floor and received large applause when he announced that despite rumors to the contrary, The Clarendon Junior College was larger and better this year than ever, and that the enrollment on the first day was ten more than it was a year ago. This represents an increase of about twelve per cent—and further increase is anticipated according to Dean Clark.

The fine arts department of the school represented by Miss Althea Ewers, Miss Christine Strofer, Mrs. Frank A. Stocking and Mrs. G. Lester Boykin, were presented in song, piano, reading and violin renditions much to the delight of the audience, all being recognized as masters of the arts they are to teach.

Following announcements of class meetings for the purpose of naming class sponsors for the coming year, the program came to a close and the school year of 1929-30 was duly opened.

TRAFFIC CLUB IS DOING MUCH GOOD

RESULTS SEEN LAST SATURDAY IN STRICTER OBSERVANCE OF REGULATIONS.

The organization of the American Legion Traffic Club in Clarendon is progressing to its conclusion with a very nice degree of results obtained. The first results seen were had last Saturday when the first week-end had rolled round. The usual traffic tangles that are found in this city on that date were missing—altogether and parking space on the main street of the city was not so much at a premium as has been seen in the past.

The merchants of the city are co-operating by leaving their cars at home on Saturday, or by parking them on the side streets to allow the out-of-town visitors the privilege of placing their cars where they may purchase merchandise to their best advantage. The tangle that is found near the postoffice was notably lessened as the visitors to this place learned that they could park their cars easily and allow the traffic to move it should move and cut down the congestion ordinarily found near this place of business. A long list of signatures has been secured from the business men and the drivers of the automobiles of the city. The stickers found on the windshields of many cars are becoming more and more visible as the drivers remember to obey the traffic laws of the city and assist others in the same line of endeavor.

Have you signed the pledge? Homer Mulkey returned this morning from a business trip to Dallas the fore part of the week. He shall, who brought the congregations many helpful messages in some and special numbers. Rev. McClung wishes to extend his appreciation to the other churches of the city for their co-operation and help throughout the revival. A baptismal service, Sunday night, brought to a close the revival.

PENTECOSTAL REVIVAL TO START SATURDAY EVE

Announcement has been received in the News office of the beginning of a Holiness meeting on the evening of Saturday, September 7th. A tent has been secured and is to be used as the scene of the revival services. Good preaching and singing is promised. Mrs. R. S. Roberts and daughter have a number of special songs and will accompany themselves on a special musical instrument. Rev. R. S. Roberts of Moreland, Oklahoma, will do the preaching and Rev. M. C. Shuck of Caddo, Oklahoma, will lead the singing. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

DALLAS GROUP TO GATHER IN CITY

DALLAS PRESBYTERY TO HOLD SESSIONS HERE NEXT WEEK.

The Dallas Presbytery of the organization of Presbyterians in this state will hold their sessions in the new Church in Clarendon beginning with next Tuesday evening. Rev. J. G. M. Ramsey, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Ennis, Texas, is the Moderator and will deliver the opening address Tuesday evening and will have charge of the sessions of the body.

Some thirty to forty ministers of the Presbyterian faith are expected to be here to take part in the sessions that will last for two days. The last session was held in Dallas early this year and on application of R. F. Morris, the Fall meeting was brought to Clarendon.

The Clarendon Church is one of the oldest in this section of the state, having been organized for more than a third of a century, and according to Rev. McKee, this is the third time that the Presbytery has been entertained in this church.

KNIGHT REPORTS DONLEY LOOKS GOOD TO HIM

C. L. Knight returned last Friday night from a five day trip to Sherman, where he visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Knight and looked over the country surrounding that city. He reports that things do not look so good to him in the black land section of the state since he has lived in Donley County for some years.

M. E. REVIVAL STARTS SUNDAY

TWO WEEKS SERIES BEGINS SUNDAY SEPTEMBER 8TH. TWO SERVICES DAILY.

A two weeks series of revival meetings is to be held in the Methodist Church beginning with the morning service on next Sunday. Rev. Thurston B. Price of Junaluska, North Carolina, will do the preaching and is reputed to be one of the strongest preachers in his section.

Two services will be held daily, the hours being held for announcement at a later date. Special musical features are being arranged for the series of meetings and a cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend and take some part in the meetings. Rev. Allison has made careful plans for this series of meetings and is very desirous of having the entire co-operation of the membership during the two-weeks campaign that will end on Sunday, September 22nd.

Miss Helen Martin left Sunday evening for Odessa, where she will teach Public School music in the schools of that city for the coming term.

W. B. Simms and wife, Mrs. Eva Draffen and son, Jack, and Mr. Earl Draffen motored over the Silverton scenic highway Tuesday and visited other points of interest on the South Plains.

AUGUST CREAM IN STEADY GAIN

THE FINAL WEEK OF MONTH SHOWS INCREASE OVER OTHERS IN MONTH.

Even though the month of August was one of the driest and hottest that has ever been seen in this section of the state, the cream production as shipped from Clarendon showed a gain from the first week of eighty ten gallon cans to the final week of 136 cans. The total for the month was even lower than was that for the preceding month of July, but the loss was not so pronounced as it was in the month of July compared with June.

The first week's receipts showed that 86 cans of cream were shipped. The second week, that period between August 8th and 15th, showed a gain, registering 101 cans. The third week showed another gain with 103 cans and the final week ending last Saturday night, showed a big gain and recorded 136 cans shipped.

By months, the receipt of cream shows to have gained steadily from January to June, while the past two months have dropped to some extent, January shipped 210 cans, February 214, March 354, April 409, May 564, June 587, July 487 and August 426. A total of 3242 ten gallon cans have been shipped from Clarendon since the first of the year and the county total would be more than doubled if other town shipments could be secured.

COUNTY INSTITUTE VOTED HERE AGAIN

SPLENDID ATTENDANCE AND GREAT INTEREST MARK SESSIONS OF MEET.

One of the most successful county institutes that has ever been held in Donley County was brought to a close here Tuesday afternoon of this week. The attendance on the affair was better than it has been for a number of years and the interest continued to grow until the final sessions of the meeting were held.

The speaker for the event, Warren P. Clements of Texas Technological College at Lubbock, was one of the best that has ever been heard here. Mr. Clements has made a wide study of the educational problems, facing this country and has first hand information that was of vital interest to the teachers who had gathered for the meetings.

Almost one hundred of the teachers of the county were in attendance on the meetings, which is a record for number of teachers to attend an event of this nature. Superintendent H. T. Barton of the Clarendon Public Schools is in charge of the Institute and reports that great interest was manifested throughout the sessions. County Superintendent Alexander was in attendance on the meetings and stated that all the schools of the county were represented by their faculty in the institute.

In the closing sessions of the meeting, Clarendon was again chosen for the meeting for 1930.

Mrs. Eva Draffen and son, Jack, returned Friday of last week from a five week's visit in St. Louis, and other points in Missouri. They were accompanied here by Mr. Earl Draffen, a brother, who is visiting the Panhandle for his first time.

CLAUDE DAVIS AND MOTHER RETURN FROM LONG TRIP

Mr. Claude Davis and his mother, Mrs. W. A. Davis, returned the early part of this week from a five months vacation trip that carried them into five states before they completed the trip. They were joined by Mrs. DeJarnett and daughters, the five making the trip together and were out of the city for almost two months. Claude reports that the trip was one of the most enjoyable they have ever taken and that he is much improved since his summer's vacation.

PASTORS OF DISTRICT MEET HERE NEXT MONDAY

Presiding Elder W. M. Murrell has issued call for a meeting of all pastors of the Clarendon District of the Methodist Church, here at Clarendon next Monday, Sept. 9th, at 10 o'clock. The meeting of the ministers will be held at the Methodist Church and will go at once into reports of conditions over the district, and counsel will be held on methods for the completion of the conference year's work with all reports in full.

Rev. Murrell reports the outlook encouraging all over the district and is expecting an attendance of over twenty-five here for the meeting.

PRESBYTERIANS TO OCCUPY CHURCH

ARE VACATING OLD STRUCTURE AFTER MORE THAN QUARTER CENTURY.

The Presbyterian congregation will worship in their new church building Sunday, it having progressed to the stage where it may be used without inconveniencing the workmen on the building. All that is lacking in having the building completed is the few minor items that always arise when a task of this proportion is attempted. Carpenter work is being rushed to an early completion and will be done by the time the painters are ready for their work to start in this connection. A few touches in the basement remained the middle portion of the week and the painters would have all the room needed to complete their tasks.

The old church building remains standing on its former location and will possibly be torn down in the near future to make way for the new two-story store and office building planned for that site. The footings for the walls and the basement walls have already been poured and actual brick construction is to start the early part of next week, or as soon as a sufficient supply of brick can be secured to allow the workmen to proceed with their tasks.

CLUB INTEREST IN SHOW IS GOOD

MANY BOOTHS TO BE ENTERED. OTHERS TO SHOW IN OPEN CLASS.

The attractive prize list offered the communities of Donley County for their showings at the Donley County Poultry and Club Show have stirred the interest of the clubs of the county to such an extent that nine clubs have asked for places in which to put their booths for the event. Three other clubs have stated that they will enter the open class exhibitions and one other will decide which to enter when they meet the latter part of this week.

The Lelia Lake Club Boys are entering in the open class competition and are planning to use their winnings, should they be accorded this privilege, to build up their club treasury and start a fund for the Short Course next year and for other purposes. The girls clubs have not yet made any statement as to the manner of exhibits they plan to enter in the Show.

The clubs entering the booth contests are: Giles, Hedley Rural, New Hedley, Ashtola, Martin, Chamberlain, Naylor, Goldston and Jericho-Boydston. The open class will be entered by Lelia Lake and McKnight and Clarendon will decide which class to enter when they meet Friday of this week.

BRONCHOS SHOW PEP IN WORKOUTS

COACH HUTTON SECURES GOOD SCHEDULE WITH HARD GAMES AT HOME.

Since Monday of this week the dull thud of a football and the barking command of the coach have been heard from the vicinity of the high school gridiron, as the boys have started limbering up for the strenuous campaign ahead of them. With the decision of the Jackson brothers to again attend Memphis High School the Clarendon mentor was faced with a difficult task, but such an abundance of material has been found since the beginning of the camp, it is thought that the loss of these two men will not hamper the Bronchos in the least.

Some 40 candidates for this year's team have reported and are in fine condition except for a little stiffness of the muscles which is always prevalent at the start of the training season. With this material and a nucleus of letters men to build this season's team, Coach Hutton is very optimistic over the prospects for another championship team from the local school. Another thing that makes the backers of the Bronchos optimistic is the fine spirit that the boys are exhibiting. With this attitude and determination of the high school lads coupled with plenty of hard work and the right kind of training the Bronchos are bound for their second championship in four years.

The schedule for this season is given below. Sept. 20, C. H. S. at Groom. Sept. 27, C. H. S. at Quitaque. Oct. 4, Childress at Clarendon. Oct. 11, C. H. S. at Wellington. Oct. 18, Memphis at Clarendon. Oct. 25, C. H. S. at Estelline. Nov. 1, Shamrock at Clarendon. There will be other games after those above, but they will be scheduled by the state interscholastic League officials after the district playoff.

Mr. John Bagby of Clarksville was the guest of his aunt, Mrs. L. S. Bagby, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Atteberry and daughters, Misses Adaline, Cecelia, and Claudie and Clyde Naylor spent Monday afternoon with relatives and friends in this city.

The selection of the directors for the various events. A more wide spread interest is expected to arise from the names of these heads of the various departments from the entire school system of the county.

FINAL PLANS LAID FOR GOLF TOURNEY

HILLCROFTERS MEET WEDNESDAY NIGHT—CLARIFY RULES OF PLAY.

At a called meeting of the membership of the Hillcroft Golf Club Wednesday evening at the Queen Theatre, reports of the several committees on arrangements for the 1929 Invitation Tournament which opens here Friday morning, showed almost every detail of the meet arranged and officials of the club voiced the sentiment that traditional Clarendon hospitality would be again demonstrated.

Chairman Phillip Gentry announced that all details of the swim and chicken barbecue for the visitors on the evening of Friday, the first day, were complete and that a real welcome at the Clarendon Country Club awaited.

Chairman Bennett Kerbow of the tournament committee announced the arrival of the new score cards for the meet, and some discussion of the special ground rules followed and a few moot points were cleared up. "Boney" Bonebrake, well-known professional from Borger, will be in active charge of the tournament play, and will be assisted by a local committee of two men—R. C. Weatherly and Forrest Taylor. Forrest Taylor will be the recorder and secretary of the meet, which insures the efficient handling of this detail of the three day play.

President Tom Connally announced that every member of the local club would be expected to enter the tournament and an effort will be made to have all local registrations out of the way before Friday morning. Local entrants are urged to qualify as early Friday as possible to aid in keeping the course uncrowded, and to be ready to assist in any errands necessary for the comfort and courtesy of the occasion.

Officials of the Hillcroft Club invite Clarendon citizens to greet the visitors and to offer their automobiles as "hop-in" cars during the three days.

Information received by Secretary Holman Kennedy here today indicates an attendance of from fifty to seventy-five from the neighboring clubs, running in the probable numbers listed: Shamrock, 10; Pampa, 5; Borger, 6; Panhandle, 1; Memphis, 6; Childress, 4; Floydada, 4; Hedley, 10; Amarillo, 12.

The showers of Tuesday and Wednesday nights have laid the dust on the links and have cooled the atmosphere so it is likely that the "hop-in" cars will be enjoyed for the three days' meet.

Cups and trophies to be awarded to winners in the various events are on display in a window at the News office and are attracting daily crowds.

COMMUNITIES ASK PLACE ON PROGRAM

SIX DONLEY COMMUNITIES ASK PRIVILEGE OF ENTERTAINING FOR FAIR.

Falling directly in line with the program of the Band Committee which has the matter of entertainment for the evenings of the fair in hand, six of the communities of Donley County have asked for places on the program for the two evenings. The representatives have not yet drawn for places on the program, this item to be attended after other details have been arranged and the final plans for their appearance worked out.

Prizes will be offered those communities entering, not any of them falling to win a prize for the means of entertainment offered. Miss Thompson, County Home Demonstrator, states that these communities are vastly interested in the plan as offered and that some real entertainment may be expected on the event of the appearance of these feature attractions. Hedley Rural, Ashtola, Martin, Naylor, Goldston and Jericho-Boydston are the clubs entered in the competition.

Cream receipts are climbing in Donley County. Better news could hardly be conceived.

Cotton picking is starting over the county and the shriek of the gin whistle reminds us that Fall is here. There's something exhilarating in the first breath and tang of Fall.

Congratulations are due the Presbyterian congregation of Clarendon on the occupancy Sunday of their elegant new church building just being completed. The Presbyterian church has long been a factor in the moral and religious forces of this community and their courage and vision in the erection of the new and modern church plant here is another distinct contribution to Clarendon. With these new and enlarged facilities we may expect even larger contributions to the life of our city from this congregation.

With something over a half crop of cotton in Donley County and with a better price for it than last year business is going to be very satisfactory in the county and Clarendon. Looks now like maize and kaffir is to bring a fancy price, and with the increased interest in dairying and poultry raising financial conditions over the county are most likely to exceed those of any other nearby counties in the coming twelve months. Of course there will be success for some and failure for others, just like there is every year, but at that we have much to be thankful for.

When the big German zeppelin hopped across the Pacific through California across Texas and to the Eastern states, then took-off for home via Spain and France, and all within the space of a few days, it brings again to our minds that we are just entering the era of rapid transportation. The standards we have known for the past two or three decades are doomed to oblivion in the next ten years and with the new rapidity of movement from place to place will come new conditions which as yet we can only vaguely guess. It is going to be absolutely impossible to live on the plane known to us now before another ten years has passed. We must be receptive to the change if we would stay in the list of effectives and be happy.

Recently we heard a well-to-do citizen of Donley County say that he had made up his mind unless something was done to secure paved highways in the county to move his family elsewhere. The gentleman in question is among the substantial tax payers of the county and with his family would be a distinct loss to our citizenship, should he move. The News sympathizes with his feelings and hopes that some movement can be started which will bring to us better transportation through paved highways. Frankly, the county is lagging far behind the procession here in the Panhandle and we are losing caste with our neighbors by our direktion in the matter of highways. It is costing us all money every day, too.

KINDNESS

"What is the greatest good?" I asked in musing mood. "Order," said the Law Court, "Knowledge," said the School, "Peace," said the Wise Man, "Pleasure," said the Fool, "Love," said the Maiden, "Beauty," said the Page, "Freedom," said the Dreamer, "Home," said the Sage, "Glory," said the Soldier, "Equity," said the Seer, Spake my heart full sadly, The answer is not here. Then deep in my bosom Softly this I heard: "Each heart knows the secret, KINDNESS is the word."—John Wilcher.

DON'T GIVE A RAP FOR ENEMIES

You can't make a real success without making real enemies.

You can't hold a strong position without strong opposition.

You can't seem right to any if you don't seem wrong to many.

A useful life can't be entirely peaceful and carefree. You must do your duty as you see it.

Every earnest man in every generation has paid the price of individuality.

The greater you are, the greater the penalty of your progress. The farther you go the wider your range, the more you increase the points of contact with which you must reckon, and therefore, you multiply your battle against misconception and slander and envy and malice.

In every sphere men gibe and sneer—even the peace of the ditchdigger is threatened by the unemployed laborer who covets his job.

So long as your conscience isn't ashamed to acknowledge you as a friend, don't you give a rap for your enemies.—Electric Washer Journal.

WELCOME, PANHANDLE GOLFERS!

Clarendon is host the latter part of this week to golfers from neighboring Panhandle towns, who come here to participate in the first annual Invitation Tournament to be staged by the Hillcroft Golf Club of this city.

The News joins with the citizenship of Clarendon in extending a hearty welcome to the visiting gentlemen, and assure them that it is the purpose of the community to offer every courtesy and to make their stay in our city one of pleasure and comradeship.

The Hillcroft Golf Course is one of the best in the Panhandle and it is a privilege to the club here to have representatives of the very best citizenship of this section here as its guests.

Welcome, Panhandle golfing fraternity—and come again.

The Town Doctor

(The Doctor of Towns)

WHY DOES A MULE STICK HIS HEAD THROUGH A FENCE?

You have seen many a mule reaching for grass on the other side of the fence. He gets his ears stuck, his neck scratched and his throat cut up, when there is just as much, just as green, and just as high and luxuriant grass right under his very hoofs. Did it ever occur to you to ask the question why he does that? There is a reason—it's because he's a mule.

The same logic and reasoning applies to people in many communities who insist on buying their needs in some other town, from peddlers, or from mail order houses.

Now, do not misunderstand—this is written with only the intent of placing blame where blame is due. Not now, nor at any other time, does this writer overlook your side of the question.

There are many merchants who do not deserve your consideration—but which ones do and which ones do not? There's no law of statute or reason that even implies that you should buy anything from any merchant, if that merchant is so behind the times, or is of a disposition that he does not tell you what he has to offer and how, invite you to buy it and give you a "reason why" you should buy it from him, in preference to anyone else, whether that anyone else be local, in some other town, a mail order house, or a peddler.

The only way for you to be sure of those who are deserving is to give your local merchants a chance to serve you. Then, if they do not do their part, that's different.

A merchant that does not go out of his way to get what you think you want, that does not arrange his store and his stock, train his help and create an atmosphere to please; the merchant that does not sell you the way you want to be sold, who continually cries about business and still does nothing to please, satisfy and serve you, when he has the chance—that merchant is not deserving.

You make your own money—it is yours, and you have a right to spend it where you please, with whom you please and for what you please, but stop and consider your condition, if the community was taken away from you. The community can get along without you, but if the community was completely taken away from the source of your income, then what?

It is a business proposition. Every time you buy something for the same or more money, quality considered, from anyone of any place other than from your own community, it is costing you money.

Everybody laughs at a mule. So "Try The Home Folks First."

LOCAL HUNTERS OPEN CHICKEN SEASON SUNDAY

The hunters and the prairie chickens met in their first encounter of the season Sunday and the Clarendon hunters carried off the decision and the chickens to substantiate their story.

Dr. J. G. Sherman left the city Saturday afternoon with a friend from Amabillo for the field of battle in Hemphill County. They arrived at the scene and made everything in readiness for the campaign the next morning. When it grew light enough Sunday morning to see, the hunters were in action and were in pursuit of the enemy. During the seige that followed throughout the day 21 of the birds bit the dust under the withering fire of the Clarendon and Amabillo guns. Dr. Sherman and his friend returned Monday afternoon and state that they were extremely pleased with the results of the hunt.

Sunday morning another band of hunters from the city in the persons of Bennett Kerbow, Walter Wilson and Leonard Wilson left Clarendon at 1:30 a. m. and headed for Glazier, a little place northeast of Canadian, some 150 miles from this city. The trip was negotiated by the break of daylight and the battle was on. There were hundreds already in the field from every city in the Panhandle and even those from Fort Worth and Dallas were present for the first days hunt. With this many cities represented the hunt took on the air of an inter-city contest, and when nightfall closed the day the Clarendon hunting team was the winner by a big majority. 23 chickens were bagged by the trio from this city while the average results of the other hunters were from 10 to 16 birds.

INVITATION GOLF TOURNEY AT QUANAH

FIRST ANNUAL AFFAIR NEXT MONTH WITH MANY AT-TRACTIVE PRIZES.

Quanah, Texas, Sept. 4—The Quanah Country Club is sending out this week invitations to their First Annual Invitation Tournament which will be held September 9th to 11th. The qualifying round of 18 holes will be played Monday the 9th, and match play will begin Tuesday morning. In order that all players may compete for trophies and prizes, flights will be made up of 16 players each. Handsome trophies have been purchased for the winner and runner-up of the Championship Flight and for the medalist in the qualifying round. Appropriate prizes will be given in all other flights and consolation flights.

This tournament is being held as a sort of dedication ceremony account the opening for play of the new 18 hole course which the Quanah Country Club has just completed. The length of the course is now 6344 yards and presents hazards and length of holes, calling for every kind of shot. No. 13 hole is 579 yards and is one of the few holes in the state calling for two full wood shots and an iron to reach home. No. 15 tee is 50 feet above the green which is 142 yards away and looks easy—but just try and play it. No. 9 is only 129 yards long but 100 yards of it is water. There are many tee shots requiring 125 to 150 yards carry to reach the fairway. There are short holes and long holes—dog legs and blind holes and just as you are ready to give it up you'll have a fairly easy hole, put there just to keep you going.

The Quanah Country Club was organized in 1922 and now owns 320 acres of land on which is located a splendid club house, well furnished, an 18 hole golf course and a 30 acre lake, well stocked with fish. By the way a 7-pound and a 5-pound bass were pulled out of this same lake just yesterday morning.

This Club sponsored the organization of the Green Belt Golf Association and the First Annual Tournament was held here in the spring of 1926. L. S. Walker, a member of the Quanah Country Club, won the championship in 1926 and 1927 and in a play off with Budlev Raines, champion of the West Texas Golf Association, won the unofficial championship of West Texas in 1927. The Association championship was won in 1928 by Raines West of Memphis and the 1929 championship by F. W. Foxhall of Memphis.

The course is being put in the best possible condition for the Invitation Tournament and invitations will be sent to all West Texas Clubs. It is the hope of

BORGER GOLFERS LOSE TO LOCALS

LOCAL GOLFERS SHOW USU-AL FORM AND WIN WITH LARGE MARGIN.

The Borger Golf Club members were no match for the Hillcroft players in the inter-city match played here Sunday, and the locals won in easy fashion. The score would undoubtedly have been much closer had the Borger club been here with their full strength. By virtue of the win Sunday the Clarendon team extended their winning streak to four straight matches, with the loss only a very few points. The Borger players were all good clean sports and every one was pleased with the afternoon of friendly competition. The only match lost by the locals was that played by Al Cooke and Boney Bonebrake, professional at the Borger Club. Al gave the veteran pro a hard fight for the match all the way around, but "Boney's" three under par proved too much for the local champ and Bonebrake won the match 3-

Interest is running high at this time over the prospect of a large field of entrants to compete in the First Annual Panhandle Tournament to be held on the Hillcroft Course, Sept. 6, 7, and 8. A fine list of prizes for the event have been arranged in the window of the Clarendon News and make a fine display of the gifts to be played for.

Scores and players of the Sunday match were:

- Merchant won from McClelland 7 up.
- Pennell beat E. Bonebrake 3 up.
- B. Bonebrake beat Al Cooke 3 up.
- Bill Cooke beat Hodges 1 up.
- Wilson beat Dodge 5 up.
- Meredith Gentry beat Harpole 3 up.
- Wood beat Carpenter 3 up.
- Connally won from Calmes 4 up.
- Patman defeated Drape 3 up.
- McCleskey defeated Smith 6 up.
- P. B. Gentry beat Schwago 1 up (20 holes).
- K. W. Kerbow beat Phillips 4 up.
- Casey won from Kins 1 up.

Children's largest hatchery, the Scott and Welling, has increased its capacity from 32,000 chicks to 100,000 and a building is being prepared with facilities for hatching from five to ten thousand chicks at a time. Two or three men will be employed in the plant the year round.

Big Spring city development was given a boost when more than $100,000.00 was raised in four hours by nine business men to assure the erection of a fourteen story hotel building. The building will cost approximately $425,000.

COMMUNITIES TO COMPETE AT FAIR

ENTERTAINMENT FOR TWO NIGHTS TO BE GIVEN BY LOCAL TALENT.

Something new in the manner of entertainment for the folk who attend the Fair on September 17 and 18 is promised in the community entertainments that will be had in some centrally located point here. The matter has been in the hands of the band committee of the Chamber of Commerce for some time and the band will be on hand to furnish music in the intervals between the appearance of the three competing teams.

A program not to exceed forty-five minutes in length is to be staged by three different communities each evening. Any sort of an entertainment may be staged and a competent set of judges will be retained to judge the three performances each night. The size of the prizes has not yet been determined, but three prizes will be given each night, that no community represented may be the loser although all of them are not in position to take the first prize.

The first six communities to make application for a place on the program will be the six who are to appear on the program for the two evening's entertainment. Application may be made through the office of the Chamber of Commerce, which during the absence of Secretary Bovkin, is being handled by H. J. Edington.

STATELY SIGHTS OF WASHINGTON DAZE TOURIST

It is recorded that two men, in a car bearing a New York license plate, pulled up before the great terraces of the never-to-be-forgotten dignity of the Capitol; one hailed a policeman and inquired, with a jerk of the thumb, "Hey, buddy! What's that joint?"

Washington is the mecca of tourists, but also their downfall. The city itself is a veritable museum of tradition and history. But there is too much to see.

The Lincoln Memorial, the stately dome of the Capitol, the massive pillars fronting the White House, the tall needle of the Washington monument, the grave of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington and picturesque Mount Vernon make a medley of "places of interest."

The Capitol is two miles distant from the White House, yet one woman, descending from a sightseeing bus, was heard to argue that the two were "right across the street from each other."

There is no "cure-all" for all types of worms that infest poultry and other animals. Labels on vermifuges, or "worm expellers," must state the name of the worm or worms for which the preparations are to be used, and the proper dosage (if the dosage is given) for the type, weight, size, and age of the animal for which they are recommended, according to a ruling of the Food, Drug and Insecticide Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Ballinger is making plans for the entertainment of the Heart of Texas Press Association on September 9. The program will include a luncheon, an automobile ride, golf tournament and a special program of Ballinger talent. An attendance of 150 editors, publishers, reporters, supply men and others is expected.

CHICAGOANS TO HAVE PLENTY OF CAR SPACE SOON

By E. E. Duffy

What the gas tax can do will be fully demonstrated in the near future in the Chicago metropolitan area.

A criticism of the gas tax has been that residents of large cities, where the most motoring is done, contribute the largest portion to state highway income and that in return the cities receive little more than to remote rural communities.

Although that criticism is frequently a misconception, Illinois has recognized the claims of the city motorist to the extent that a trifle less than $22,000,000 of the state gas tax income for the next two years will be spent on highways in the immediate vicinity of Chicago.

This will mean that traffic-bound Chicago, wherein there is very little of this thing called motoring comfort, will be freed of costly irritating traffic congestion.

In addition to the extensive state program, Cook County, in which Chicago is located, will receive no less than $3,000,000 as its share of the annual appropriation to counties. This sum is to be devoted to the improvement of main highways.

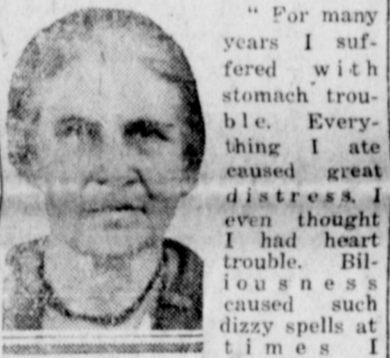

Illinois is now in a position to lead this assistance, for the simple reason that the state highway system is perhaps nearer perfection than that of any other state. State bond issue funds, totalling $160,000,000 have been wisely applied and now Illinois has nearly 8,000 miles of concrete rural roads in service.

Chicago is typical of all the motor-ridden cities of the land. With congestion as bad there as any place, the success that Chicago will have, through one of the greatest highway programs the world has known, may cause the motorist to feel that after all there is a solution to the traffic problem.

GLAD SHE HEEDED ADVICE OF FRIEND

"I am so happy over the wonderful benefits received from Sargon that I will always be grateful to my friends and relatives who insisted that I take it.

"For many years I suffered with stomach trouble. Everything I ate caused great distress. I even thought I had heart trouble. Bileousness caused such dizzy spells at times I thought I was going blind. I had awful pains in my back and legs and arms and was so nervous I hardly ever got good sound sleep. I was always taking some strong laxative for constipation, but never got any real relief.

"Finally I started Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills and my relief was almost immediate. My appetite is now splendid. I never suffer with indigestion and those terrible pains have gone. The pills regulated me perfectly and relieved my bileousness and constipation.

LIONS DISCOVER NEW WILL ROGERS

TUESDAY PROGRAM IS TAKE-OFF ON CERTAIN MEMBERS IN HUMOROUS TALK

Members of the Clarendon Lions discovered Tuesday at the regular luncheon at the Antro Hotel, that they had a Will Rogers in their ranks, when Lion Sherman, chairman of the program committee presented Lion Robert S. McKee in a twenty-minute humorous address at the expense of the said members. Lion McKee confessed he had not lived in Clarendon very long but said he had heard a lot about certain citizens in that short span of time—and then proceeded to tell what he had heard to the immense delight of everyone—except the luckless targets of his jibes.

A letter from Lions International was read complimenting the club on its splendid record of activities and financial showing as shown in a recent issue of the annual balance sheet of the club for last year. Special attention was called to the fact that the club's budget here ran almost identical with the suggested budgeting of the International office, marking this club as one of the high average clubs of the district.

Visitors for the day were J. C. Marshall of Houston, and a former member of the Houston Lions Club, who is here conducting the music in the Baptist Revival now in progress. Mr. Marshall expressed his pleasure at being present and invited the Lions to attend the meeting C. L. Johnson and C. M. Lowery of Hedley were also visitors and mentioned their happiness at being on hand and gave some information on the progress being made in the organization of a Lions Club at Hedley which they are much interested in at this time. Lion A. D. Emerson, district attorney of Waxahatchie, was a drop-in visitor, having been attracted to the luncheon by the singing at the opening of the luncheon. Lion Emerson found a former class-mate in Lion Porter, who introduced him to the club.

Supt. H. T. Burton introduced Dean W. A. Clark, Jr., of the Clarendon Junior College, as a new addition to the faculty and to the citizenship here. Dean Clark reported on the progress of the College and expressed his desire to co-operate in every way for the advancement of the community in all its interests.

Lion Odos Caraway, treasurer of the club, was called to the floor to tell his recent vacation in Colorado, but disclaimed any fish stories whatever and then ended up by telling one of the tallest of the season.

Just before adjournment Lion Pheas. Clyde Douglas called attention to the beginning of the attendance contest with the next meeting which will be Tuesday, Sept. 3rd, and urged that all Lions make a new and greater effort to raise the club average in that respect in the coming months.

Matagorda, one of the oldest towns in Texas, recently celebrated the introduction of electric lights after existing as a town 101 years without that convenience. The Central Power & Light Co. is supplying the town.

J. F. Owens, Vice President and General Manager of the Oklahoma Gas & Electric Company, Says:

That one of the greatest problems confronting the country today is the retention on the farm of the type of men, who after leaving the farm, have made successes in modern business ventures.

To keep men of this character on the farm there must be brought to the farm many of the conveniences that are commonplace in city life. These conveniences must be such as will eliminate much of the drudgery incident to farm life and bring more profits.

Men and women on the farm are entitled to leisure hours for recreation and cultural development.

Electricity has demonstrated its use where it is available in the country that most of the drudgery incident to farm work may be eliminated by taking advantage of what electricity offers.

Bringing electricity to the farms offers many intricate problems, but these problems should be studied by all of the parties interested, to the end that the greatest utilization of the modern boon to mankind may be available for the rural sections to the same extent as it is in urban localities.

Careful Study of the Problems Involved in Bringing Electric Power to the Farms Will Prove All Parties at Interest Its Feasible Application to Agriculture.

J. Lionberger Davis, Chairman of the Board of the Security National Bank of St. Louis, Says:

That the present credit situation, which is being discussed throughout this country and the rest of the world, is puzzling because the fundamental principles are not kept in mind.

Money is only a symbol. People really borrow things. If one borrows a thing which he uses productively and profitably, the use of credit is legitimate. If, however, one borrows a thing which he cannot or does not use productively and profitably, credit is abused.

Most of the present credit stringency and high rates of interest are due to the hope of speculators that they can borrow securities and sell them later at a profit which will be sufficient to pay high carrying charges and leave to the borrower riches which he has not earned.

Tulip speculators in Holland, commodity speculators in 1920, gamblers in Florida lands during the boom two or three years ago, all suffered from the safe deflation.

We are told by hopeful security salesmen that "we are living in a new era," but, whether we are or not, laws of gravity and of supply and demand still operate.

In the long run, wealth is created and riches are received by those who produce what society needs and wants. It is only by work that wealth is produced and one can consume only what he produces unless he is a parasite or a lucky gambler.

The Career of Al Rockett, General Manager of Production of the First National Pictures, Inc., of Burbank, California, Should be Inspiration to All American Boys Whose Parents Are Too Poor to Give Them All of the Modern Advantages in the Way of Education, Etc.

This fine, young man is now earning and receiving a salary of one hundred thousand dollars a year—real money, not stage money, and he is worth it to his company.

Attending high school in Cripple Creek, Colorado, Al was ambitious to pursue a musical career; upon the death of his father, he helped his mother to support his younger brothers, earning money by playing the piano in a Cripple Creek dance hall.

Moving to New York, he worked for various moving picture companies, learning all angles of the business. He conceived the idea of filming the life of Abraham Lincoln; in partnership with his brother Ray, he organized his company, investing every dollar he had saved, and made desperate efforts to raise the necessary additional capital where he could. After surmounting heart-breaking obstacles, the film was produced and secured the medal for the best picture of the year.

Appointed assistant to Richard Rowland, then Vice President and General Manager of the First National in New York, Rockett soon demonstrated unusual talent as a business executive.

In 1927, Rockett was sent to Hollywood as a supervisor in charge of one of the several First National Companies and was designated to film the war story, "The Patent Leather Kid." The picture, with Dick Barthelmess in the title role and with Al Santell directing, was made at Camp Lewis, Washington, and cost over a million dollars. It was a great success and contributed materially to Rockett's reputation in the industry.

In 1928, Al was made General Manager of Production, with a salary greater than that of the President of the United States.

SINGING SCHOOL TO DRAW GREAT CROWD TO MEMPHIS

Memphis, Texas, August 31—All preparations have been made and plans completed for entertaining the Oklahoma-Texas District Singers Association, which will convene here for two days, Saturday and Sunday, September 7 and 8, bringing to this city an estimated attendance of between 2,000 and 2,500 people, according to Wesley J. Mangum, president of the organization, who is in charge of the program during the two day meeting here. All sessions will be held in the auditorium of the First Baptist church, and the morning services of all churches in the city will be dispensed with on the Sunday the convention is in session.

There will be at least 20 good song leaders and directors from each county. Each of the seven counties that are listed in the organization will send five delegates and a large delegation of visitors, according to Mr. Mangum. The Texas Gold Medal Band has been secured to give a concert at one of the sessions of the convention.

Printed invitations have been sent out to singers throughout the section embraced by the association by the Memphis Chamber of Commerce; the Memphis Ministerial Association, the Lions Club, and the Rotary Club. The coming convention will very likely prove to be the largest this city has ever entertained, adequate provisions having been made for the entertainment of all delegates and guests.

Dublin will have the use of a large judging arena for their seventh annual fair. The fair will be held September 5th to 8th, and the 70 by 90 foot building will be finished by then.

The Big Feature Attraction of The Tri-State Fair at Amarillo

Hey! Skinny, Circus Coming.

Youngsters today were able to proclaim to their companions that within two weeks the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus, the highest class circus on earth, would make its appearance in Amarillo, Texas, giving afternoon and night performances. The exact dates will be Sept. 23 to 25, according to the highly colorful posters that will be distributed by members of the Hagenbeck-Wallace advance forces.

Circus Day is one of the events of the year for Young America, as well as the majority of their elders. It is an old saying "we are going to the circus just to take little Willie and Dorothy" but circus statisticians have discovered that practically 15 per cent of those that attend enter on adult tickets. So the circus really attracts the old folks, as well as the young.

Hagenbeck-Wallace is the only big show scheduled in this territory this coming year.

Don't fail to see this big circus at the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo. The gates to the fair will be free again this year.

Stiff Battle For Southwest Title

With every school in the conference boasting a much stronger team than last year's the Southwestern Conference is promising to give football fans in this section plenty of thrills and upsets before ringing down the curtain on the coming season. There is much speculation on the part of the fans as to just what effect the new coaching changes will produce in the conference race this year, but whether the changes hurt or help the teams that are undergoing the revolution there will be plenty of competition for everyone.

At present the race seems like it will be a three cornered fight between the University of Texas Longhorns, present champions, Southern Methodist University Mustangs and the Baylor Bears. A. & M. will likely have a fair team but will not be a contender for the title due to the fact that the team is inexperienced and not familiar with the system of coaching that will be used there this season. T. C. U. and Arkansas are unknown quantities, but will be sure to produce a team which will be hard to beat. Rice will have a stronger team than was the case last year, but even then she is not expected to give much trouble to the other teams.

Opening of fall training for the 1929 football season at the University of Texas will see Coach Clyde Littlefield with a nucleus of twelve letter men around which to build his squad. "Mac" Burnett, Curtis Beatty and Gordy Brown will report for duty on September 10; "Ox" Higgins and Henry Mills are other line veterans who will return. Tommie Birdwell, Walter Howle and Jim Underwood will come up to the Varsity team from the freshman squad of last year. "Slats" Younblood, a junior college transfer will also be on hand.

"Big" Un" Rose and "Rut" Vining will doubtless get first chance at the end positions on Littlefield's line-up, filling the places left vacant by the graduation of "Wild Bill" Ford and "Dusty" Rhoads. Frank Cheatham, Lester Peterson and Henry Easterling will also be considered.

Backfield material is plentiful. Dexter Shell, "Pap" Perkins, Nona Rees, Eddie Beular and Claude Meadows are the five outstanding candidates. In addition to these, four backfield men will come up from the fresh squad, Andy Brown, "Dutch" Baumgartner, "Shag" Lauehlin and "Ug" Hodges. "Bull" Elkins and Doell are junior college transfers who will provide additional backfield material.

Coach Littlefield will start his third year as football coach, and many are expecting him to repeat his last years record of walking off with the conference championship. He will be assisted by Line Coach Bill James and Backfield Coach Marty Karow.

Texas A. & M. under Coach Matty Bell will have several obstacles to climb before being considered in the race. The Bell system will have to be learned by the cadets, who have been familiar with the Bible system up to this year. With the loss of Burgess, Davis, Barlett, Petty, Conover, Chutrell, and possibly Zafanotis the new mentor will be faced with the task of filling the positions of the above players. But hope is being held out that the letter men of last year's team with the new additions from the 1928 Freshman team will be rounded into a smooth functioning machine.

The Aggies will be playing in their new stadium which is nearing completion, and will be fighting to keep their opponents away from their goal line, and every one knows how those Aggies can fight.

The S. M. U. Mustangs are again favored to be at the top of the heap at the close of the season. The Ponies will have an old and experienced team with plenty of material. With Ray Morrison as coach again the Methodist school will as usual show plenty of speed and flashing action with the air as their constant scoring threat, a play that is feared by all and one that the Mustangs are past masters of. If S. M. U. survives the tilt with Nebraska she will probably be the one to raise the pennant this year, but it is thought that, as last year at West Point, the Ponies will be at their height in the Nebraska game and will shoot the works, and then never be able to reach their ability again. But with this the Mustangs should be congratulated for the part they have played in placing Southwestern Conference football on the

STUCCO RESPONDS TO TREATMENT

PROPERLY USED, STUCCO PROTECTS AND BEAUTIFIES MODERN HOMES.

By Wyatt Brummitt

Because some people got the notion that stucco afforded merely a cheap and convenient medium for covering up defective and unattractive houses, stucco had to absorb a lot of punishment. It was slapped on poorly prepared bases, given insufficient care during the essential curing process and subjected to indignities which it in no way deserved.

Modern stucco comes of a distinguished family. Back in the days of the Romans a kind of stucco was frequently used, and to excellent effect. Today stucco has greater capacities for usefulness than it has ever had before—and yet some people regard it as a kind of structural camouflage.

Properly used, stucco has infinite possibilities. It can protect a home from invasion by fire or by storm. It can add to its structural strength. It can be given any color you may desire; and in the finish coat it can be made to embody any texture imaginable, from a finish as smooth and unblemished as the finest interior plaster to one that is rough and scraggy as a Scottish moor.

Stucco is a combination of portland cement—the same kind of cement that is the binding element in great buildings, dams and bridges—sand, a little hydrated lime and water. Freshly mixed, stucco is as plastic and easy to shape as potter's clay, but when it has set and cured, it has the strength of concrete.

Ordinarily, stucco is placed in three coats. The base coat is either anchored securely among the meshes of metal lath or applied directly to the face of such surfaces as a concrete or rough masonry wall. After this coat is in place, wise builders let it stand for several days, wetting it down with a hose, from time to time, to insure proper curing. The second coat adds thickness to the stucco slab and serves as a base—when it, too, has cured—for the outer, or finish coat. It is in the finish coat that color and texture may be used. Color, incidentally, is obtained by mixing mineral pigments with the cement and sand high level it holds among the other teams of the nation. They played the Army off their feet in New York, have beaten Missouri unmercifully, will play Nebraska this season, and the Navy appears on the Mustang card in 1930 and 1931. I have nothing but admiration for this courageous band of men and if all the conference schools who boast good teams would play away from their own back yard, Southwestern football would be the leader.

In Waco the Bears are roaring their challenge to the conference as a whole, and I pick them to be at the top or second in the race this year. The team is young, experienced, and has worlds of speed. The writer saw them lose a heart-breaker to the Texas Longhorns last season and knows just what a club Baylor will throw on the field this season. When one considers the fact that with a team of Sophmores the Bears finished in third place, they are bound to be at the top this year if no serious injuries hamper them. They are inspired this year and with the experience gained last year the other clubs will be watching them from the start.

"Athletic" Lingerie In Cottons

LINGERIE like other items in the wardrobe has gone "athletic" this year.

In "going athletic" it has turned overwhelmingly to cotton. Broadcloth in prints and plain colors, dimites and pastel lises have been preferred widely for sports underthings and the care with which this type of lingerie is styled is a good proof of its importance.

Hand made batiste and nainsook types, much favored by Paris, are being worn under cotton lingerie blouses.

Sleeping pajamas of striped broadcloth copy the lines of "gob" suits. The blouses have boyish necks, and tuck-in like sailor shirts.

Wide trouser bottoms and shoe-string laces further emphasize their swagger air.

before the stucco itself is made up.

The result is a slab of fine-grained concrete from 7-8 to 1 1/4 inch in thickness, reinforced with metal. It is dense and strong, impervious to the elements and as beautiful as the skill of the finishers makes possible. With stucco of this sort, architects can achieve satisfying and lasting results, confident that the effects they desire will be realized.

Modern stucco deserves intelligent treatment: and naturally enough, it gets it at the hands of the best builders and architects. For new homes or for modernized houses, it offers beauty and protection and unlimited individuality.

HELPING TO BUILD TEXAS

The United States imports 80,000,000 pounds of dates and produces 1,000,000. Mesopotamia has a dateland that is "rain-resistant" meaning thereby that the date can have any amount of rain without hurt except at the one season of the year when the fruit is maturing and the United States Department of Agriculture recently has imported 1,350 cuttings from rain-resistant trees. Most of these cuttings will go to the Weslaco Experiment Farm in an effort to develop on a commercial basis the date industry in the Rio Grande Valley. If the experiment succeeds, experts believe the Valley can produce dates profitably and on a large scale, and those interested are seeking a small appropriation to conduct the experimentation necessary.

Growing interest in the production of pecans is indicated by the number of "pecan schools" being held. Brady, county seat of McCullough, held a successful school in May, with experts giving instruction in pecan grafting and budding and putting on a demonstration of the work. J. F. Roseborough, A. & M. horticultural expert, who is devoting a lot of time to this work, was in charge.

The Williamson County Sun reports the close of a successful campaign for raising the $10,000 capital required for a cheese factory at Georgetown.

Students of the industrial education department of the Childress High School inspected the Lake Pauline plant of the West Texas

Utilities Co., spending the day on the inspection tour, which according to the Childress Index, was "in keeping with the line of work studied in their classes the past year and will give them a concrete knowledge of the working of the plant."

The Floydada Creamery, operated by the Hale County Dairy Association is shipping a car of butter a week. It is one of several owned and operated by the Association.

Preliminary plans are reported undated way for piping Texas natural gas to Chicago, indicating the belief on the part of the promoters that the Panhandle gas supply is ample for many years.

"Made in Abilene" is the inscription on an electric locomotive just put into use by the Roby &

Northern Railroad. It was built in the shops of the West Texas Utilities Co. and will make 50 miles an hour.

Wilson County expects to ship 550 carloads of watermelons before the season ends; shipments to Ju' were 474 cars.

East Texas Tomato shipments for 1929 season exceeded 2,400 carloads.

For new terminals and a new passenger station at Fort Worth, the Texas & Pacific Railroad has set aside $8,000,000, the new station getting half the appropriation.

One of the most enjoyable affairs given by the younger set was the dinner party by Miss Lucille Allen and Mr. Glenn Allen at the Clarendon Hotel the evening of August 22, honoring Misses Kathryn Kutschart of Ft. Worth, and Ethel Bugbee of Long Beach, Cal. A color scheme of orange and green was carried out in the four course dinner. Sprigs of fern and nasturtiums extending around the table formed a pretty decoration. The affair was semi-formal and

Christian Sunday School Class Holds Picnic Thursday

Thursday afternoon of last week the members of Mr. Homer Mulkey's Sunday School Class and a few invited guests boarded Mr. Vester Smith's truck and journeyed to the Troublesome canyons where they enjoyed an evening of fun. Twenty-three members and guests enjoyed the picnic to the fullest extent and all expressed their thanks to their loyal teacher for the pleasures given to them. After the evening had been spent in their chosen pleasures, a bountiful picnic lunch was spread for the merry-makers which was consumed in short order.

Mr. Mulkey has the distinction and the splendid record of missing only three meetings of his Sunday School Class in two years. One time he was out of the city, another he was prevented from attending by the death of his father-in-law, and the other time he missed because he was ill. It is thought that this record is one of the best if not the best, of any teacher in the city.

Those enjoying the picnic were: Mrs. Clark Hemminger, Miss Elma Smith, Miss Maurine Vinson, Lloyd Johnson, Miss Delphia Bones, Earl Humphrey, John Henry Crawford, Miss Gertrude Reeves, Miss Jane Killough, James Cornelius, Miss Norma Lee Kays, Carroll Hudson, Alfred Estlack, Eugene Estlack, Miss Julia Barnard, Misses Katherine and Willie Mae Ackers of Birmingham, Alabama; Miss Roxie Casey, Miss Edna Montgomery, Everett Johnson, J. STABBING CASE SET SEPT. 16TH

FURTHER CHANGE MAY BE NEEDED TO PREVENT CONFLICT IN DATES.

The following announcement of the setting of the date for the trial of C. S. (Pete) Williams will be of interest to many Clarendon people. It is clipped from the Amarillo Daily News of this morning:

The trial of C. S. (Pete) Williams on a charge of murder, in connection with the fatal stabbing of O. C. Hill, Jr., Donley County farmer, at a rodeo here on the night of July 4, was set for September 16 by Judge Henry S. Bishop yesterday. A special venire of 100 men was ordered. Williams has been held in the Potter county jail since his arrest last Saturday on a grand jury indictment. Judge Bishop reset his bond at $7,500, but bail had not been made last night.

Efforts to have the trial postponed one week will be made by E. T. Miller, defense attorney, who was absent from the court room when the case was set. Miller also represents Bert (Cowboy) Hall, who goes to trial at Memphis on September 16 for participating in the slaying of J. C. Richey, night watchman at Hedley, last December.

Since the case at Memphis was set first Miller will seek a resetting of the Williams case, Miller's being 30 minutes late in arriving in the court room yesterday was responsible for the mix-up, Judge Bishop said.

CLUB NOTES

Food Sale and Show is A Marked Success Here

The Food sale and show of canned products that was held last Saturday in the offices of the West Texas Utilities Company of this city was of such proportion that the Club women of the county are well pleased with the results obtained. It is stated that all the produce offered for sale at that time was sold long before the day was ended and that there were a great many calls for articles that were unfilled due to the lack of merchandise.

The event will be repeated this week with Mrs. Roy Beverly of Chamberlain, Mrs. Louie Merrell of Aetolia and Mrs. Sid Harris of Goldston in charge of the sale. Beet pickles, sweet peach pickles, cucumber pickles, dressed chickens and other vegetables and fruits in season will be ready for the waiting buyers.

It is the plan of these sales to encourage the standardization of articles offered for sale that these events may be of benefit to all club members.

Miss Harvey Thompson, County Home Demonstration Agent, states that she has visited clubs at Jericho-Boydston, Martin and Lelia Lake the fore part of this week. The demonstrations presented at this time will include block printing for household decoration, canning, fancy packs for the Fair and a thorough and generous discussion of the Fair at all the meetings held. Three clubs were visited at Lelia Lake, including the boys, girls and women's organizations. Attendance in general was good and interest was at its highest peak.

The poultry flock of Mr. L. W. Chase in Clarendon was culled Tuesday of this week, some 30 hens being culled out of a flock of 235. Miss Thompson states that this is a good producing flock and that there were some 75 pullets that were left for further development before being culled too closely.

SIX CLARENDON GIRLS ATTEND C. I. A. BANQUET

Six Clarendon young ladies were among those present at the Panhandle C. I. A. Banquet held at the Herrin Hotel, 12:30 o'clock Saturday, August 31. This was the annual Panhandle College of Industrial Arts Luncheon held each year for all the old students and the prospective new students of the Denton institution.

A wonderful luncheon was served the girls, and much of the time was taken up by the renewing of old friendships and the bringing to mind of the many good times and trials which were had in college. After the lunch was concluded a splendid program was rendered which pleased those in attendance very greatly.

Those in attendance from here were: Misses Lelia Mae Kerbow, Manette Chase, Beth Davis, Lois Bairfield, Mary Jo Chamberlain and Athlynn Taylor.

The Sapphire—Stone of Celestial Wisdom Guards September Folk

By PAULINE

"O, thou afflicted, tossed with tempest, and not comforted, behold, I will lay thy stones with fair colors and lay thy foundations with sapphires."

September when the first cool breath of autumn gives the sky a vivid sapphire hue.

The Hindus said that the sapphire rendered favorable to its wearer the planet Saturn, which in astrology is usually considered the chief source of affliction. It was also declared to afford protection against the Evil Eye, which in the Orient is synonymous with Envy.

"Throughout all the East people are afraid of the Evil eye," writes the eminent gem authority, Dr. Frederick G. Kunz. "They believe that when a person is envied for his wealth or any good thing, he will lose it in a short time, and it is the devil who incites the envy of some people against others." This belief is popularly expressed in the jingle:

"The Evil Eye is Envy The Devil's strongest aid. With its cooperation His fiendish plans are laid, But if you wear a sapphire, You need not be afraid."

The faith in the sapphire's ability to defeat the devil in this respect, doubtless arose from its glorious sky-blue color which caused it to be associated with all the celestial virtues—divine wisdom, chastity, high and magnanimous thoughts, beauty of soul. In many old writings it was used as the symbol of the soul. The same fancied attributes led to its choice as the chief gems for ecclesiastical rings, and curiously enough, to a vast popularity with acromancers and witches, who claimed that it enabled them to communicate with the most elusive oracles. Bartolomaeus Anglicus wrote that witches loved the sapphire, "for they were that they may werke certain wonders by virtue of this stone."

Two large sapphires, one oval and one square, constituted the chief gems in the famous talisman of Charlemagne, supposed to have exerted such a benign influence upon the fortunes of that monarch. This talisman, by the great Napoleon's order, became the property of the Empress Josephine, who bequeathed it to her daughter Hortense, who in turn gave it to her son, Napoleon III. That it brought no particular luck to these individuals was attributed to the fact that it was wrongfully in their possession, and finally the Empress Eugenie, who received it from her husband, restored it to the cathedral, 'a la Aix-la-Chapelle' where it was originally placed near Charlemagne's tomb.

Like the ruby, its close relation in the corundum family, the sapphire sometimes exhibits on its surface a star, created by three cross lines in the crystal. This variety, known as the Star Sapphire and called in the East "the Star of Destiny," is said to be so potent as a talisman that it continues to exercise its power for good over the first wearer even after it has passed into the possession of someone else.

The flower for September is the morning-glory whose lovely pastel colors blend subtly with a background of sapphire blue. The ruling planet is Mercury, except during the last week when Venus is in the ascendancy.

MARKET ADVANCES— DEMAND FOR SPOT COTTON IMPROVED

The cotton market, during the period of August 24th to 30th advanced further with quotations about 5-8c above those of August 23rd. More inquiry and a better demand were in evidence for spot cotton from both foreign and domestic buyers. Interest seemed to continue in the grades of Strict Middling and Middling in the lengths of 15-16 inches to 1 1-32 inches. The basis for almost all cottons was said to be somewhat easier than that prevailing the previous week. According to the Weather Bureau, weather conditions during the past week were unfavorable for cotton over a large part of the belt, especially in the west, where it continued hot and dry. In the eastern belt progress varied considerably. Pickin' and ginnin' made excellent advance where this work has begun, except where rains were frequent in portions of the southeast. Weevil activity was favored in these wetter sections but in most places dryness as favorable for holding them in check, especially in the western belt, where it was both dry and hot. Quotations for Middling 7-8 inch August 30th, Norfolk 19.25c, Augusta 18.31c, Savannah 18.51c, Montgomery 17.90c, New Orleans 19.10c, Memphis 18.15c, Little Rock 18.00c, Dallas 17.90c, Houston 18.00c, Galveston 18.05c. Average for these ten markets August 30th, 18.44c per pound compared with 17.89c the week before and 18.25c the same day one year ago. Sales of spot cotton reported in the ten markets amounted to 160,942 bales for the week, compared with 98,171 the week before and 110,352 for the corresponding period last season. October future contracts for the week at New York advanced 64 points to 19.06c, at New Orleans 67 points to 19.08c, and at Chicago 65 points to 19.14c. Certificated stock at New York August 30th, 68,217 bales, New Orleans 933, Houston 2,348, Galveston 2,056. Total stocks, New York 109,945, New Orleans 50,809, Houston 179,596, Galveston 86,690. Exports to August 30th this season 202,268 bales against 284,339 for corresponding period year ago.

A simple remedy for a scorch stain is to moisten the stain with water and place in the sun. For more serious cases a piece of cloth moistened with hydrogen peroxide may be placed over the stain, covered with a dry cloth, and the spot ironed with a medium hot iron. If the hydrogen peroxide soaks through, replace the upper cloth. Be careful to see that the hydrogen peroxide does not touch the iron as it will cause it to rust very rapidly. Rinse the garment thus treated before ironing. This method must be used carefully on colored fabrics as the dyes may bleach out.

marked indication of gleaming satin finished wares, not only for the evening and afternoon but for street ensembles as well. The new hats, even, that are arriving on every boat from Paris, show this use of satin. It looks as if we were in for a shining season, for the satins used invariably are of the very lustrous type. The coat costume sketched is one which makes smart use of a new favorite. It is of quite a heavy satin on the order of lunasol and is a copy of an ensemble from Yvonne Carette, one of the smaller but very successful Paris houses. The silhouette of the coat is also very new, with its circular cut and fitted line at the waist. The skirt is circular, too, with a flatness achieved at the back by means of pleatings and seamings. The blouse is of a pale rose crepe de chine and is a tuck-in to conform to the newest mode. This same ensemble has been seen with the materials reversed, that is to say, with the coat and skirt of crepe and the blouse of the satin. It is equally smart either way.

LAST RAID OF THE DALTON GANG

The cunning hand of the Dalton gang were in many a robbery and hold-up in Texas and Oklahoma in the early 90's. The very name of the outlaw gang was a terror to travelers, express messengers and trappers.

The last raid of the Daltons took place at Coffeyville, Kansas, on October 5, 1892. The gang, five in number attempted to rob two banks at the same time in this little pioneer city. The citizens armed themselves with shot-guns and rifles from a local hardware store and practically wiped out the gang, killing four and wounding and capturing one of the bandits. The story of this last raid will be published in the monthly Magazine Section of the Clarendon News, Sept. 19.

FOOTBALL TRAINING STARTED HERE

WITH LOSS OF ONLY THREE MEN BRONCHOS LOOK 'LIKE CHAMPS.

Prospects for the 1929 Broncho football team look very promising at the present time. The outlook for a winning team is better than it has been for the last four or five years. With a wealth of new material and the nucleus of last year's team back, the Bronchos look like a formidable aggregation.

Only three men were lost from last year's team. Dillard, Estlack and Smith, and although their loss will be keenly felt there will be a wealth of new material to fill their places.

With the present outlook the local mentor sees no reason whatever that another championship team cannot be produced. Active training begun Monday, when uniforms were issued to the aspirants of the team. Plenty of hard work is planned to whip the men into proper shape before the season starts, and it is thought that with the co-operation and determination of the high school lads to work and work hard Clarendon will again be in the thick of the fight for sectional honors. Clarendon will support a determined team to the limit, and it is up to the boys to show the local backers that they are interested and in there to win.

The backfield, with Noble, Nichols, Baird, Tucker, and McCrary should be as good as any in the district. To supplement these men there will be Watson, Andis, Bourland, and a number of others striving for places.

In the line there are Pete Morris, Fred and Cecil Combest, Nath Helton, Everett Johnson, Jim Cornelius, Ben Morgan, John Zeidler, and Pooze Carroll from last year's team. The addition of the two Jackson boys, Clarence and J. D. from Memphis will strengthen the team a lot. Clarence, the elder, played on the 1927 Broncho team, and both Jacksons played on the 1928 championship Memphis team. They should be a valuable addition to the Bronchos. Besides these there will be a number of others striving for positions including Adams, Gattis, Beville, Smith, Martin, Davis and Watson.

spectators at the rodeo, is said to have started when Williams stumbled over Hill's feet as he entered the rodeo grounds.

An indictment for theft was returned against Jack Greene, who is said to have stolen a truck loaded with produce from a local fruit stand several weeks ago. He and a companion were arrested just south of Clarendon the next morning. Greene also is charged with assault on a Washburn filling station proprietor. His companion was not indicted.

CIVIC NERVE IS NEEDED TO COMBAT TRAFFIC

SEATTLE SLASHES THROUGH BUILDINGS TO CREATE NEW WIDE STREET.

By E. E. Duffy

Boldness, or at least a lack of the unprogressiveness built up by habit, is necessary in outfitting the modern community to cope successfully with the automobile. Seattle, Washington, has removed a traffic barrier at what at first might seem a tremendous cost, yet the one and one-quarter million dollar expenditure is a cheap price for the traffic benefits resulting.

A quarter-mile long street has been created there, a project that required the cutting through of four blocks occupied by buildings, most of which were several stories in height. Today cars flow freely over a 54-foot width of smooth pavement, which connects nicely with other main thoroughfares.

This street, called the Second Avenue Extension, permits Second avenue to continue on through the older diagonal section of the city. Travel has been speeded up remarkably.

The cost of acquiring the needed property including property damages, consumed 77 per cent of the total money outlay. The actual paving operations and the placement of sewer and water mains absorbed but 13 per cent of the total cost.

This high cost of property condemnation and acquisition illustrates the need for regional planning work in growing cities, where through the establishment of set-back building lines, and other foresighted requirements, considerable money and difficulty in the future will be avoided.

Slashing through a street in the fashion of Seattle obviously required no little civic nerve. Yet most of the large American cities must take similar steps, for the automobile registrations are growing and half-way measures no longer bring any real relief.

Chicago is bridging the Chicago river wherever a bridge is practicable, Washington, D. C., is widening streets, New York City is building an elevated highway—and many, many other cities needing modern traffic facilities are doing nothing but planning.

There is more of the spirit of Seattle needed. The Second Avenue Extension was completed almost before the rest of the world interested in such projects knew that it was even being contemplated.

Priona's Home Beautiful Contest being staged by the Women's Club, is announced to close on August 15. Two classes of homes entered will be judged on points gained front yard and curb, back yard and alley, trees and shrubbery, flowers, lawn, painting, and general attractiveness being counted.

Oysters, clams and other sea foods are among the best known sources of iodine among the common foods.

The American Legion Traffic Pledge

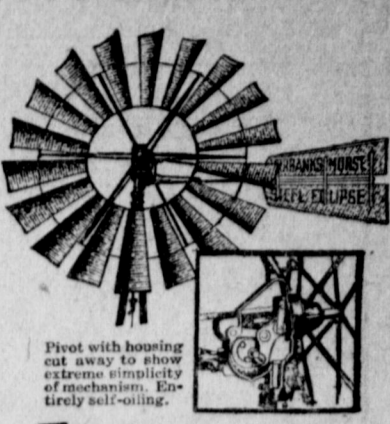

I pledge myself as a good American Citizen to obey the TRAFFIC LAWS of the CITY OF CLARENDON, in so far as possible particularly:

- In regards to the special traffic signs down town, and in regards to DOUBLE PARKING.
- To make use of any vacant parking space in preference to DOUBLE PARKING even if it necessitates my walking a bit further.
- To co-operate with the merchant in keeping his front clear so that he may serve more people with satisfaction to both parties.
- To leave all fire plugs clear at all times and in case of FIRE to pull to the curb at the sound of the FIRE SIREN and remain until all is clear.
- To drive slow around the school and on the main cross streets down town to help prevent accidents that may cost the life of a child.
- I pledge myself to observe these regulations until January 1st, 1930 believing that much good will be derived from their observance by all the people of Clarendon.

5 reasons why STEEL ECLIPSE WINDMILLS run in lightest breeze

Why does the Steel Eclipse run when other mills are motionless? The answer is, scientific design and fine workmanship. Note these five reasons—

(1) Wheel is tilted to take advantage of lightest breeze. (2) All working parts run in oil. (3) All wearing surfaces are made of the right materials and surfaces are machined. (4) Mill starts on two-thirds load—not full load; quick downstroke and slow upstroke means less effort required on the lift or pumping stroke. (5) All bearing surfaces are in line, reducing internal strain and power loss.

Know the Facts and you will choose Oakland

America's finest medium-priced automobile

Oakland supremacy in every phase of motor car quality has been proved indisputably in one of the most complete analyses of automobile values ever made. Below are some of the facts obtained in comparing today's All-American Six with 20 other medium-priced automobiles. There are dozens of other facts which we will gladly show you, pointing out their significance and explaining what they will mean to you in satisfaction with the All-American Six. Come in for this information... and while you are here we will give you a demonstration which will substantiate our most enthusiastic claims for Oakland—America's finest medium-priced car.

FACTS REVEALED BY COMPARISON

The following facts were obtained from a comparison of the Oakland All-American Six with 20 other medium-priced automobiles. All told, 878 individual comparisons were made. Of these, Oakland proved to be distinctly superior in 451 or 51.37 per cent. The 20 cars combined were at best equal to Oakland on 382 or 43.50 per cent. And 13 of the 20 were higher priced than Oakland!

WHEELBASE Only one car as low priced as Oakland has a wheelbase as long as Oakland's, which is 117 inches. That car requires a turning circle of 42 feet as compared with Oakland's 36 feet. Six higher-priced cars have shorter wheelbases.

PISTON DISPLACEMENT Oakland's 228 cubic inch piston displacement is greater than 12 of the 20 cars in its price field. Of the 8 remaining 7 are higher priced than Oakland.

BRAKES Only Oakland and one other car in its field use the fine type of brakes which Oakland employs. And no car in the field equals Oakland's 290 square inches of brake band area. Oakland's separate emergency brake operates on the transmission. Seven cars in the field have nonseparate emergency brakes, although three of them exceed Oakland in piston displacement.

Prices, $1145 to $1375, f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Spring covers and Lovejoy Shock Absorbers included in list prices. Bumpers and rear fender guards extra. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

"Will you want the engineer on your train to use it?"

"No, I admit I don't want to ride on a drunkard's train."

"Ah, then, you want this liquor for the men whom you meet driving cars on the public highway?"

"No, of course not; that is a danger to everybody."

"Well then, who is to drink this liquor in American, pray tell me?"

"I am not so sure that anybody should drink it. I guess we're much better off without it,"—Shamrock Texan.

Littlefield postal receipts for the year ending June 30, 1928, totaled $9,939.16; for the year ending June 30, 1929, the total was $11,958.45, and increase in business mounting to $2,019.29 for the past 12 months.

Texas' population per square mile is 20.6 on the basis of the 1928 estimated total, the lowest of any of the Southern States and lower than all but twelve of the States of the Union. The highest density is in Rhode Island with 77.5 to the square mile, and the lowest in Nevada with 0.7 persons to each mile of area.

Remarkable growth in two Texas ports—Texas City and Corpus Christi—is shown in a report of the U. S. Shipping Board. From handling 263,280 tons in 1917, Texas City climbed in 1928 to 3,751,012 tons with a peak of 4,475,519 tons in 1927. Corpus Christi's jump was even more dazzling, its total in 1928 having been only 54,941 tons and two years later 3,554,873 tons.

PRIZE WINNER LETTER WRITTEN BY MRS. DILLI

Last week's issue of the News carried the announcement of the writing of a letter by Mrs. Lena Dilli, who lives north of this city in the Goldston community. This letter won first prize of ten dollars in a nation wide contest and is given herewith. The letter: Clarendon, Texas, July 17, 1929. On January 23, 1929, I purchased 600 white leghorn baby chicks at Bowie, Texas. I put them in a brooder house 12x14 feet, 8 feet high in front, 6 feet in back. It has a cement floor and cel-o-glass window. I used two Buckeye brooders. I fed my chickens by the Purina method, starting them with Startena, plenty of fresh water and all the milk they could drink, preferably sour or buttermilk. After they were 5 days old, I gave them kaffir corn and Indian corn made into chops. When they were 6 weeks old, they were separated. The roosters were fed Fattena and the pullets Growena. When the pullets were 12 weeks old, I gave them Purina Hen Chow. When the roosters were 8 weeks old, all those that weighed 1 1-2 pounds were sold at 40c a pound. The 600 baby chicks cost me $72.00 and I sold $110.00 worth of broilers, ate some, and have 240 pullets left. There were 20 weak chicks that never did eat. They died, I also lost 30 that got smothered by crowding too close at night. This condition was remedied by going to the brooder house late at night and scattering them. So far there is no disease or parasite among them.

My method of cleaning is an old broom, hoe, shovel and a tub of water and hose every morning. I got my first pullet eggs the 27th of May, 4 days after they were months old and up to now get from 50 to 80 eggs a day. The pullets weigh from 4 1-2 to 5 1-2 pounds apiece. They are housed in a 14x20 foot coop with cement floor and cel-o-glass windows. I have managed and taken care of this flock myself. I also raise turkeys. Have 5 turkey hens, and so far have 80 turkeys. —Mrs. Lena Dilli.

Mrs. Harry Dodge and little daughter, Kathryn, have returned to their home in New York, after a visit of several weeks in the home of Mrs. Dorge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McClelland.
