Gas Writ Hearing Put Off Till March

Injunction Decision To Be Rendered In Spring Term Of Court

Postponement Saturday of the hearing on the injunction restraining R. Y. King's test trials in the gas rate controversy leaves the issue in doubt until next March when district court again convenes. The postponement was agreeable to both parties, according to Walker Lane, district clerk. Judge Moss will render a decision on the injunction during the spring term of court.

King had filed suits for himself and G. F. Lane in justice court for over charge on gas bills, following the company's failure to recognize a 10-cent rate reduction, set out in the franchise, for June, 1937. The trial, set for Monday, was halted by the court order.

According to attorney King, the injunction petition said the Texas railroad commission had exclusive jurisdiction over gas rate disputes, and the case of 1933, wherein the city passed an ordinance reducing the rate to 50 cents per thousand cubic feet, was still pending before the commission.

The 5-year old case was appealed to the railroad commission by the gas company who posted a $5,000 bond.

YOUTHS INJURED WHEN TRUCK HITS COTTON TRAILER

Two local youths were badly injured early Tuesday when a heavy truck demolished a cotton trailer 3 1/4 miles west of Clarendon. The trucker, P. J. Lewis, Houston, was placed under a $500 bond pending the condition of the boys.

Physicians feared concussions from deep head injuries.

Both boys, James and Orval Scott, ages 13 and 16, were riding in the turtle back of their father's car which was pulling the cotton.

Lewis said he was traveling in the same direction as the trailer and upon meeting another car, applied the brakes which failed to hold.

The boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Scott of Clarendon.

Four other persons who were riding in the Scott car were uninjured. They were returning from the J. M. Stephens farm west of Clarendon where they had been picking cotton.

RAILROAD COMMISSION PROMISES TO MAKE APPRAISAL OF GAS COMPANY

State Railroad Commissioner engineers will appraise the City Gas Company's property here and the books will be audited as soon as possible, Colonel Ernest O. Thompson told City Commissioner T. M. Pyle in a letter recently.

Thompson, chairman of the railroad commission, promised local citizens this work at a meeting in the city hall last month. The meeting was prompted by the city council after the gas company had failed to recognize a rate reduction set out in the franchise.

The reduction according to the franchise issued in June 1927, called for a reduction from 70 to 60 cents per thousand cubic feet after a 10-year period.

In substance, Thompson said, the finding of the railroad commission would be forwarded to the City Commission and the body could pass an ordinance fixing the gas rate low enough to allow a 7 or 8 per cent return for the company's investment. "If," he said, "a 50 cent rate is fair, and was fair at the time of a passed city ordinance in 1933 reducing the rate to that amount, the company would be liable to a refund for overcharge."

Thompson's letter to Mr. Pyle is as follows:

Dear Mr. Pyle:
The request of the Clarendon City Council for engineers and auditors will be promptly complied with, and just as soon as it is possible to make the appraisal and audit, it will be done.
You understand it takes some little time to make up all the details going into a proper investigation of a rate case, but this will be completed without any delay as I have directed that it be the first order of the day.
Sincerely your friend,
Ernest O. Thompson,
Commissioner,
Railroad Commissioner of Texas.

Cannons Visit Relatives At Vernon This Week

"Hauling and stacking my bundles seemed to tire me out this past week," Mr. J. F. Cannon stated recently. He's just 83 and has been used to hard farm work since boyhood. He continues to raise staples for his own use. He stated that in all his experience until recent years, he raised plenty of corn, potatoes, meat and lard to run the family. The family for many years consisted of ten children, too.

Mrs. Cannon has always put up a lot of fruit and vegetables. The children were equally industrious, and those five boys and five girls are fine citizens today. Just such folks as these good parents are capable of training.

Down at Vernon they will spend a visit with Sam Cannon and his family. Mr. Cannon said they did not expect to come home until they "got good and ready."

MEMBER OF PANHANDLE PRESS ASSOCIATION

THE REST OF THE RECORD

BY JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

AUSTIN—In issuing the annual Thanksgiving Day proclamation, I did so this year with the feeling that a little white-haired old lady of some seventy years had really written it.

Out of the heavy mail on my desk, I found last week a penciled letter with the writing shaken by the palsied hand of age. Its message typified the real spirit of the Pilgrim Mother of 1621 when the first day of Thanksgiving in America was observed. I felt humble in the presence of that letter for in it I could see the reason why this State of Texas has become so great. Back of it, I could see the pioneer mothers whose love and faith gave the steel to the courage of their men that enabled them to overcome hardships and build the mighty empire of Texas.

The dear old lady wrote that she only wanted to express appreciation for her monthly pension check. She added "while some people might think my room too bare and poorly furnished for comfort still to me it is home and for the pension check which makes this possible, I am thankful. My children are all gone and I would be lonely except for the memories of a long life which God has blessed with many friends and much happiness. To Him I shall give thanks on this Thanksgiving Day."

What a lesson to those of us more fortunate! From that letter I gained a feeling of humility, grateful that she should write me at this time.

I don't know how other governors feel about the penciled, often poorly written letters which we receive, but to me these are just as important if not more so, than the neatly typed, embossed letters from lawyers and bankers. These letters are from poor people who travel on a three-cent postage stamp to ask the governor of their state for help or advice. The least a governor can do is to read them and help in every way possible.

In many instances the letters are written in Czech or Spanish, or German and often illegible. These I have translated and returned to me promptly.

Yes, we have much for which to be thankful on this Thanksgiving Day. In contrast to war-torn and war-fearing countries, America will observe its day of Thanksgiving in security and peace confident that our ideals of democracy, the industry of our people, and the vast resources of our nation will enable these United States to meet crises under which other nations might crumble.

As Governor I feel grateful to the kind Providence that has guided this state and nation out of the depths of depression into an era of comparative prosperity. True there are many families whose tables will be pitifully bare on this Thanksgiving Day unless charitable organizations and kindly neighbors help them. But the bread lines which have threaded the nation in past years will not be as long nor will the suffering be as great—thanks to the humanitarian program of the President.

In our state there are still too many unfortunates for whom aid has been denied or for whom the aid given has not been sufficient to relieve their pain and need. Many aged needy, destitute children, helpless blind, and unemployable on the relief rolls will face a cheerless Thanksgiving Day.

As we who are more fortunate share the bounties of Thanksgiving dinner, let us remember that the obligation to our unfortunate neighbors has not been filled by partial payment. Let us remember the happiness and comfort brought to the old lady by the pension check and whose brave attitude so typifies the real Thanksgiving Day spirit. Let us resolve that others like her but who are not being aided shall receive help.

There can be no turning back or any detour made from the humanitarian highway that we have traveled as an aftermath of the depression.

The Dri-Sheen process of cleaning, only to be had at Parsons Bros. cleaning plant, cleans and refreshes clothing and restores that "nap of newness" all at the same time. This applies to all fabrics, from silks to heavy woolsens.

The DRY-SHEEN PROCESS is especially valuable during winter months in giving your clothing that "freshness" so necessary because of heavy top coats confining odors to the wearing apparel that naturally escapes in summer.

Dri-Sheen cleaning by the Master Cleaners insures you complete satisfaction, and it doesn't cost you any more than an ordinary method will.

TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

Donley county's most interesting asset, available to all ages, is her museum located right here in Clarendon. At this time the enterprising ladies on the governing board are to begin a membership campaign. Your membership card will cost only one dollar. Every cent so collected will be spent in securing more equipment for making the Museum bigger and better. Since our women folks have built a museum, surely we men folks can spend a dollar since the venture is an assured, proven fact. You just have to hand it to the women folks, those who have collected, given or donated articles, as well as the Board who sponsored the idea. If you haven't seen the hundreds and hundreds of interesting historical facts in this exhibit, take a look at them. Admittance costs you nothing. The doors are open every Monday from 2 to 5 p. m.

Since pioneers did not know that they were heroes in blazing trails into the west, perhaps sometime we of today will be honored for having dared to travel our public highways.

Please don't forget that the subscription price to the Leader will advance to $2 a year after January 1st. Pay your subscription before that date. The price of print paper, makes the raise necessary. The price of the Leader now is less than 3 cents a week. After January it still will be less than 4 cents a week.

A lot of women are crazier over screen stars than those who married them.

Politics, crime and rackets are said to be the best paying professions left to the present generation.

Back in the days when people were old-fashioned enough to have plenty of home-cured hams, every bedroom had a washstand, bowl and pitcher.

There are just two sides to most everything except a family quarrel. In that case there is your side, your wife's side, and the actual facts.

Some men live to draw a pension at 65. Others just live to pay taxes.

The boss says cut it short. Meaning this column, of course. Anyway, here's wishing you a happy Thanksgiving. If at all possible, visit the home folks. If you can't get there, write a long letter. The day is coming when you will be glad that you helped cheer the old folks a bit. Then there is another day coming when you would go a thousand miles just to see that old Dad, and go around the world to see that Mother. If you can't get home for Thanksgiving, be sure to get there Christmas. The hundreds of aged friends of the Leader will thank me for saying here what they would like to say to you direct, but can't.

THANKSGIVING

We thank Thee, O Father, for all that is bright—
The gleam of the day and the stars of the night,
The flowers of our youth and the fruits of our prime,
And the blessings that march down the pathway of time.

We thank Thee, O Father, for all that is drear—
The sob of the tempest, the flow of the tear;
For never in blindness, and never in vain,
Thy mercy permitted a sorrow or pain.

We thank Thee, O Father of all, for the power
Of aiding each other in life's darkest hour;
The generous heart and the bountiful hand
And all the soul-help that sad souls understand.

We thank Thee, O Father, for days yet to be;
For hopes that our future will call us to Thee.
Let all our eternity form, through Thy love,
One Thanksgiving Day in the mansions above.

—Will Carleton.

Merchants Stock Heavily For Christmas Trade

Stores of Clarendon have begun to take on the aspect of Christmas this week when the first holiday goods were placed on the counters and in show windows.

Stores handling toy goods and personal gifts, have an excellent stock from which to make selections. Other stores handling the more practical gifts will give their customers a pleasant surprise this season.

The most pleasing feature of all is the price. Prices in general are lower than last season, and the selection covers a wider range.

TOYLAND OPENS NOV. 27th

Come on children -- and yes, grown-ups too -- Happy days truly are here again -- Toyland is open -- Santa is again enthroned in a fairland of bright new toys -- beautiful dolls -- whizzing trains -- swooping airplanes and a din of tinkling bells and the merry laugh of happy souls -- A new Christmas season brings its new and clever toys, dolls, games and books. -- They are all here. -- They are displayed so you may see all and enjoy all. A most cordial invitation is extended to all.

WRITE TO SANTA -- Most certainly good old Santa Claus heeds the wishes and the desires of his little friends when they write and tell him what they would like to have at Christmas. So write a letter to Santa -- and if you have been a good boy or a good little girl -- you no doubt will hear directly from Santa on Christmas eve.

COME SEE SANTA -- Bring your letter and come to see Santa. He will be mighty pleased to meet and see you again. There is a letter box in our toy department where Santa receives all letters and each night he opens his great book and in it writes the names, the toys and the wishes of each little boy and girl.

Prefers Seedling Peaches For Annual Bearing

Hundreds of seed from seedling peaches have been planted this fall by J. Nels Riley on his sandy land farm northeast of town. He has seedling trees of several ages at this time, though most of them are not yet in bearing.

Mr. Riley claims that observation has taught him that the seedling are the most reliable bearers in this section where trees are prone to blossom out at the first advent of warm weather.

He has a large mixed orchard and this year sold a large quantity of fruit to truckers from over the Panhandle.

More Native Twins Bob Up In Old Donley

It begins to look like old Donley leads in twins as well as most everything else. We have with us this week Sylvester and Sivina Cook of near Ashtola. They are the son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Cook.

"Where did you find that 'Sivina' name?" asked the inquisitive Leader man rounding up Donley's twins. Mr. Cook stated that the baby received that unique and beautiful name from Mrs. Hott, when they lived near the elder Hott family 16 years ago out Chamberlain way.

Thanksgiving Day

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN

National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

Again in 1937, as through many years of its history, our Nation celebrates from ocean to ocean, from Lakes to Gulf, the most typical of all American holidays.

It is the observance of Thanksgiving Day—a celebration first dedicated to reverent gratitude for bountiful harvests; then later to appreciation of other blessings and promises of the passing years.

Never has America been without cause for such gratitude. For despite frequent problems, America remains, in a turbulent world, a land of faith and of fulfillment. That is true today, as in the past.

While other nations follow the hideous chimera of war, America remains at peace with her neighbors.

While other nations sacrifice the happiness of their people to the strutting show of nationalistic ambitions, the American people still believe in personal opportunity and freedom.

While other nations bow and scrape to the pretensions of dictators and their cliques, America is still dedicated to the proposition that all men are equal, and entitled to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

While other peoples suffer and die in the clutch of desperate economic and political experiments, Americans still enjoy the highest standards of life of any nation.

There is the glow of promise, too—not only of plentiful harvests, but of changing attitudes by our national leaders which presage freer opportunity for production of the many requirements of the American people and wider reemployment for those on whose enterprise and labor all production depends, whether at the plow, the lathe or the desk.

For these things Americans are grateful. For these they offer thanks to a Providence which blessed their efforts to make the earth yield more generously and to create by their own unfettered energy, the greatest, the freest and most bountiful land on earth.

Clarendon Hi School Cagers Go To Work

With football uniforms tucked away for the winter, Clarendon High School athletes turned to basketball this week with a nice squad reporting for first practice sessions under the direction of R. E. Drennan.

Although four of last year's mainstays will be missing from the line-up, the prospects are bright for a winning club.

Last year squadmen reporting for duty include Lawrence Heckman, Ralph Grady, Billie Cooke, Jelly McGowen, Durwood Mears, Ray Palmer, Fisher Johnson and Boyd Allison.

With the district 3-B championship in the bag, the Wellington Skyrockets are now awaiting the outcome of the district 4-B chase, which will determine the Rocket opponent for bi-district honors.

Spur, Flomot In Deadlock In 4-B Chase

The district 4-B football race moves into the home stretch this week with the result still in doubt.

Spur won a decision on penetrations from Estelline, Flomot downed Turkey, and Paducah smashed Quitaque last week.

The Spur Bulldogs are tied for the top post with last year's titlists, the Flomot Longhorns, and a possible playoff looms. Spur will meet the Floydada Whirlwind Thanksgiving afternoon, and only a Floydada victory will keep the Bulldogs out of the runoff.

WANT CAGE GAMES

With the organization of an independent basketball club this week, Ashtola cagers are looking for games over the country to fill their schedule.

"Ashtola has organized an independent basketball team and would like games with any high school, college or independent team. For a game write Ralph Stewart, Ashtola, or phone Ben Seoggins, and ask for me."

Officers Make Third Arrest In Shamrock Roadside Death

SHAMROCK, Nov. 23.—Eugene (Stubby) Barrow of Shamrock was arrested about 4:30 Monday afternoon by Sheriff Raymond Waters of Wheeler and is being held in the county jail with two others for investigation in connection with the Saturday night violent death of Wilburn Nixon, 24, farm youth, whose battered body was discovered early Sunday morning on Highway 66 east of Shamrock.

Barrow quietly surrendered to Sheriff Watters. It was learned he had been in Oklahoma since Sunday morning. He voluntarily returned to Shamrock. He refused to make a statement.

It is thought the attack on Nixon occurred shortly after dark and the body was not discovered till daylight Sunday morning.

Pueblo Indians Display Skill In Canyon Museum

CANYON, Nov. 23.—Fifty reproductions of watercolor paintings by young Pueblo Indian artists are on display this month in the Mary E. Hudspeth room of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society museum.

The paintings are brilliant in coloring, intricate of line, and produced to express the Indians' philosophy of life and show the customs, symbolisms, and ceremonies of the people. Particularly outstanding are the decorative groupings of Awa Tsireh and the dancing costumes by Miguel Martinez. In one, Montezuma is shown summoning the animals from the caverns—according to traditions—that they may provide food for man. In another, ceremonial clowns are climbing a greased pole in the quest for gifts.

The painters, all men, are of the San Ildefonso and Sia pueblos. Their work is being examined with much interest by students, teachers, and patrons of art. Large groups visit the museum on Sunday afternoons. It is open from 2 to 6 p. m. daily, including Sundays.

Once Fierce Raiders of Plains, Apaches Are Now Cattlemen; White Man's Vision Credited

GLOBE, Ariz.—There are more ways than the traditional frontier method of making a "good Indian" out of the Apache. Another way is to make a cattleman out of him.

Today Apaches are breeders of Herefords, rangemen whose business never takes them farther off their reservation than is necessary to drive those roving grazers back where they belong. They co-operate in an annual spring roundup as enthusiastically as their grandfathers ever cooperated in a night attack on an emigrant train. They argue with cattle buyers as fiercely as their fore-bears ever argued over battle plans around a council fire.

Because their reservation is their range, and theirs exclusively, the Apaches are prosperous and too busy about their own affairs to be a menace to the peace or property of white neighbors.

The wealthy, powerful white men's "cow spreads" that once grazed 40,000 cattle on the Apache reservation of 1,614,240 acres have been banished. In their place 530 Indian stockmen graze 25,000 animals of their own, sell 5000 to 6000 steers a year for a gross of $160,000 to $200,000. When time and the CCC have repaired some of the damage wrought by the white men's over-stocking, the reservation will support an estimated 35,000 cattle.

One Man's Persistence

All this has come about largely through the foresight and persistence of one man, James B. Kitch.

In 1914 Mr. Kitch, then superintendent of the Fort Peck Indian Agency in Montana, arrived at San Carlos, headquarters for the Apache Agency. He came to buy bulls for his Montana Indians, for he had heard that the Apache agency had a small herd of pure-bred Herefords.

What Mr. Kitch observed and learned at San Carlos surprised him, set up in his mind a train of thought that was to have momentous results. He saw that the Apache reservation was natural cattle country—200,000 acres of rolling hills and mesa, 400,000 acres of mesa uplands, the rest mountains where forests and canyons produced abundant forage. It belonged to the Apaches but it was not being used by or for the Apaches.

In the early 90's, after the last Apache had laid down his arms and terminated 50 years of vicious frontier warfare, the reservation set aside for the tribe attracted attention of white cattlemen. The Chiricahua Cattle Company obtained from the Indian Bureau a permit to graze 2000 cows, but soon its herds numbered at least 12,000. Similar permits were obtained by the Double Circle, Bar F Bar, Cross S and Bryce-Mattice outfits. At first they paid nothing, then low fees were imposed. At the time of Kitch's visit those fees, covering grazing rentals on 1,080,000 acres amounted to $80,000 a year.

Not Farming Country

This meant about $40 for each Apache, dispensed as rations and clothing by the agency. Even an Apache needed more of an income than that. They did a little farming, but they are not farmers, and the reservation isn't farming country except for a few unimportant spots. The Indians sold baskets and other handwork to tourists, but were too far off the main routes for that trade to be important. A few of them worked as cowboys for the white "renters" and made "good hands" if not "top hands" after they learned the rudiments of handling cattle. Their intimate knowledge of the country made them especially valuable to employers in wild, rough districts.

It must also be admitted that some of them stole a good bit. The requirement that they remain on the reservation was impossible of enforcement. They butchered stock out in the hills, made night forays upon the fields of white settlers, looted cabins left unguarded. Probably they were blamed for many thefts they never committed, but the reputation of "them thievin' Apaches" was not very high.

Stories that the Apaches resented the use of their reservation by cattle men, planned how they could use it themselves if they had the chance, are exaggerated. If they perceived the opportunity they did little about it. But James B. Kitch did something about it, although it took him nine years to get started. Through all that time he pleaded with the Indian Bureau, badgered his superiors, to get the Apache started in the cattle business.

In 1923, Commissioner Charles Burke yielded to the persistent Kitch. "All right, you may be superintendent at San Carlos," he consented. "Make cattlemen out of them if you can."

Protest From Whites

The following year, Mr. Kitch refused to renew the Cross S lease on the Ash Flat range. There was a great to-do about the rights of white men being invaded. Protests were filed at Washington. Superintendent Kitch stood firm and he was sustained. The Cross S, cattle were moved away. Apaches moved in breeding stock supplied them from the agency herd.

As the years went on, the other big "spreads" were forced to vacate. Many a bitter controversy was fought through, and several law suits, before the Kitch objective was accomplished with the removal of the last white-owned outfit, the Double Circle. One of several Double Circle herds driven to Calva, a railroad station 40 miles west of Safford, numbered 2800 and was heralded as probably the last drive of that magnitude that will ever be seen in Arizona.

The year 1927 was a critical one in the Kitch program. By that time the Indians had 5500 cows old enough to be mothers and Mr. Kitch estimated that there would be a "calf crop" of over 3000. The situation demanded a co-operative roundup such as the white cattlemen had been holding every spring.

"Now will they prove that they are real cattlemen, or will they just piddle along and try to handle their herds individually and miss most of the calves?" the superintendent wondered.

He said not a word, waiting for the Indians to make the first move. One day a committee came to him and asked for supplies for a "chuck wagon."

Mr. Kitch smiled, issued the food and equipment. The first Apache roundup was on. The Indians worked together like veterans, branded 3,117 calves. They are still working together, at roundups and in between. By comparison with former standards they are wealthy. The Apaches are no longer "thievin' redskins," but hard-working, respected stockmen.

Clarendon F.F.A. and 4-H Club
Boys Carry on Extensive

Calf Feeding Program

The most extensive calf feeding program ever undertaken in Donley County is in full swing as F.F.A. and 4-H club members are striving to fit their 40 calves for the Annual Donley County and Amarillo Fat Stock Shows to be held in March. Fourteen F.F.A. members, three boys who are active members of both organizations, and six 4-H club members are feeding calves.

Three groups of five are being fed in the county by J. D. Swift, Jr., J. H. Gilbert, and Leland Lewis. Lewis' placed second and eleventh with his calves in the junior division at the 1937 Amarillo Fat Stock Show. Johnny Leathers, Darrel Bailey and James Welch are each feeding two calves. Earl Shannon, Earl Porter, Johnny Grady, Pete Morrow, Al Word, Jelly McGowen, Joe Williams, Durwood McCracken, Billy Cook, Jr.

Warren, Allen Hardin, Beryl Longan, Harley Longan, Wilson Beck, Clarence Davis, and T. Riley are each feeding one calf.

Advisors of the Donley County boys feel they have an excellent chance to win the county prize at the Amarillo Fat Stock Show next spring. The entire group of calves are showing splendid progress, and the one fed by Carl Morris, first year vocational agriculture student gained 115 pounds over a thirty day period.

F. F. A. Begins Work On

Judging Teams

Members of the vocational agriculture classes are starting their work on poultry and dairy judging teams. The livestock team will begin work at an early date. Prospects for a dairy and livestock team are dull as Jack Robinson, Warren Hardin, Donald Harlan, Jack Reeves, Jr. Swift, and Rayburn Smith regular members of last year's judging teams have graduated or finished their agriculture work.

Ray Palmer, Jelly McGowen, and Homer Speed are the only F.F.A. members who have had experience in judging before this year. Joe Williams, Gene Putman, and Beatty Hillman represented the chapter in the Amarillo Poultry contest ranking second. A large number of boys are working out for the teams in an effort to be the lucky ones who get to make the trips to the various fairs, contests, and possibly the state contest at A&M next spring.

Agriculture Students to Hold Intra-Mural Poultry Judging Contest

Each member of local vocational agriculture classes will compete in an intramural poultry judging contest to be held on December 10th. Members of the first and third year classes will not compete against each other, but will compete against class members.

A gold medal will be presented to the winner of high point honors in each class. The boys are training hard in an effort to win the medals.

F. F. A. Boys to Aid in Holding Poultry Show

Local F.F.A. members are making plans to help make this year's Green Belt Poultry Show the best by working with prospective exhibitors and aiding them in getting their birds to and from the show. Members have been assigned to the task of visiting prospective exhibitors and asking them to show their birds.

The F.F.A. boys in addition to seeing prospective members will also set up the coops and help in taking care of the birds.

Thanks to Electric Servants

Thanksgiving is now a Woman's Holiday too!

If our service to you during this last year has been instrumental in providing more leisure, more pleasure, and greater happiness, then this Thanksgiving Day is occasion for us to give sincere thanks. Like many of you, we have "grown up" right here in West Texas. This is our twenty-sixth Thanksgiving. So we can remember when the turkey season meant a holiday for every one except Mother. The Thanksgiving dinner was a long, tedious task for her... many hours in the kitchen before a hot, odorous stove. And there were scads of dishes to wash when it was over. This burden on her is no longer necessary, we're happy to recall. The trend toward the all-electric kitchen means complete emancipation for women. Out of this freedom is born the Neolectress—a modern home maker alert to this new electric age. The vista of a more glamorous future than pots and pans has become a reality, whether it be Thanksgiving or just another day. If you have not yet electrified your kitchen, we suggest that you investigate the economy of Electric Servants ere another holiday rolls around. They have made Thanksgiving a vastly happier day for many of your neighbors... and we are glad!

JOAN CRAWFORD DANCES TANGO IN NEW DRAMA

Star Also Sings in "The Bride Wore Red," Coming to The Pastime Theatre Screen

Joan Crawford dances in a motion picture for the first time since "Dancing Lady."

She learned the tango and several native dances of Trieste, for her role as Anni, a cabaret entertainer, in "The Bride Wore Red." Her new starring picture, in which Franchot Tone and Robert Young are featured, comes to The Pastime Theatre Wednesday and Thursday for a two day showing.

Miss Crawford placed herself on a rigorous schedule of lessons and exercises, working on the dances for two hours each morning and afternoon while learning the difficult routines.

Dancing is no novelty to the star, but in "The Bride Wore Red" she sings as well before the camera, culminating three years of voice study.

"The Bride Wore Red," directed by Dorothy Arzner and produced by Joseph Mankiewicz, is the story of a waterfront waif who becomes a society belle for a month by the chance of fate. It was adapted to the screen from Ferenc Molnar's stage success, "The Girl from Trieste."

Franchot Tone in the role of a humble postmaster wins the star for the first time in the many pictures in which he and Miss Crawford have appeared together.

Young, as the "other man," is given his greatest acting opportunity in the new film as a result of his outstanding work in the recent "I Met Him in Paris."

Bronchial Coughs Need Creomulsion

Just a common cough, a chest cold, or a bronchial irritation of today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. They may be relieved now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medicinal combination designed to aid nature in soothing and healing infected mucous membranes by allaying irritation and inflammation and by aiding in loosening and expelling the germ-laden phlegm.
The Medical Profession has for many years recognized the beneficial effect of Beechwood Creosote in the treatment of coughs, chest colds, and bronchial irritations. A special process was worked out by a chemist, for blending Creosote with other ingredients and now in Creomulsion you get a real dose of genuine Beechwood Creosote which is palatable and can even be taken frequently and continuously by both adults and children. Creomulsion is one preparation that goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. When coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles—due to common colds—hang on, get a bottle of Creomulsion from your druggist, use it as directed and if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained, the druggist is authorized to refund every cent of your money. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief that you want. Panhandle Masons Honor G. F. Morgan With Dinner Thurs.

Former County Judge Was First To Be Initiated In This Section

Despite a blue norther and occasional snow flurries, Masons within a radius of 200 miles gathered here last Thursday night to pay tribute to George F. Morgan of El Paso, the man who was the first to be initiated in the order in this section of the state.

Mayor W. H. Patrick, Clarendon Pioneer Banker, was toastmaster at the turkey dinner served in the Masonic hall. T. F. Connally gave the welcoming address and after a response by Mr. Morgan, masons of the Panhandle were called upon for impromptu speaking.

Twenty lodges were represented at the dinner. Wallace Weatherly, son of R. C. Weatherly, secretary of the local chapter, was credited with traveling the longest distance from his home lodge, Haskell. One Colorado lodgeman was present.

J. M. Browning, registering from the Lubbock Yellowhouse chapter, son of the first Worshipful Master of the local lodge, was one of the principal speakers. H. Earl Jones, brother of Congressman Marvin Jones and M. D. Goodpasture, Memphis, were also interesting speakers.

Mr. Morgan was accompanied to Clarendon by a delegation from Amarillo headed by J. O. Guleke, Deputy District Grand Master.

Morgan took the Masonic vows in the Clarendon Lodge, the mother lodge of the Panhandle, when the chapter was in infancy. The local charter was granted in December, 1890, and Morgan served as Worshipful Master from 1896 to 1899 inclusive. He was again chosen as Worshipful Master in 1906 serving until 1908.

From 1898 to 1908, he filled the
