cause there is no place for him. He fails to find any direct benefits and he cannot realize the indirect benefits. Half the members on every chamber of commerce board should be farmers in all west Texas. Since the chamber of commerce is made up largely of business men who believe in the consumer buying at home, should not the same man belive in the producer selling at home?

If the local merchant cannot buy the products produced locally because of cheaper products produced by Japanese in south Texas, how can he expect the local man to patronize his business? Some of our local merchants buy everything possible in their line right at home. The farmer should not ready to buy. The groceryman who ky bull, the clinking of the bells, cannot see his way clear to pay and the merry prattle and laugh a reasonable amount (market price) for your produce when he is not overstocked, is not deserving of your patronage at other times.

It is the "pull together" spirit that builds a community or town. It takes both merchant and producer to put it over just right. This article is written after discussing the subject with the common laborer and the farmer in number. That is the way he feels about it. The next big question is, what are we going to do about it?

A well meaning brother made the remark recenty that the "world was going to the bowwows" or something worse. His particular bone of contention and principal worry all summed up amounted to nothing more than e present age of young folks. There was no room for argu-ent when he stated that young girls were taking up cigarette moking. That's the limit and it is pretty generally agreed. There may come a time when it will be proper, but not now by a long

A NEW MEXICO JUDGE'S CHARGE IN SENTENCING A MAN CONVICTED OF MURDER

Jose Maniah stand up. You have been found guilty of a most heinous crime. It was brutal in its conception and most fiendish in its execution. However, it is not my purpose to dwell upon the enormity of your crime; it is now my very pleasant duty to enact a part that will forever put a quietus upon your most checkered and damnable career.

It will soon be springtime, Jose and down in the wild woods will be heard the bellowing of the frister of little children, as they come merrily home from school, making music for the weary ear, but you wont hear any of it Jose, you wont be here. My dear sir, the violets will soon be abloom on the hillside and the meadows will be covered with blue and red. Nature will have donned her fairest garments, presenting in her gorgeous apparel a picture of variegated and bewildering beauty. She will in deed present a scene that has ever been the dream of poets and the despair of the painters brush, but you wont see any of these, Jose, you wont be here.

After summer has it quietude, and rest comes winter, and the waifing winds and chilling blasts will no doubt make distress for many an unfortunate person, but don't let that worry you, or cause you any anxiety, Jose, for you wont be here.

Jose Maniah, for the heinous crime which you have been found guilty of committing, by a jury of your peers, it becomes my duty now, to sentence you to be hung by the neck, until you are dead, dead, dead. And may a forgiving God have mercy upon your soul.

The date we know, from the marker-but was it in the morning, when the long wagon train was stirring itself for another heart breaking march to the next water hole, with the morning sun leering mockingly over the rugged hilltops to the east; or was it at twilight, with sinister purpling shadows shrouding the rocky wilderness and greedy coyotes watching ghoul-like from clumps of sage brush in the foothills? Maybe she was buried as the evening star appeared, and perhaps those hardy pioneers who buildings were pillaged by the Saracens in 847 and immediately afterward Pope Leo IV inclosed the church and the Vatican property by a high, fortified wall. The Vatican then became the fortress citadel of the popes, and on several occasions it was necessary to resist sieges there.

"The Vatican buildings were added to, and by 1300 an extensive palace had arisen. Soon came the temporary removal of the papacy to Avignon, France. During the 70 years of the exile the Vatican palace fell into disrepair. Its restoration was begun when the popes again took up their residence and has remained such ever since "The territory of the new City of the Vatican is to be only a little larger than the present Vatican grounds. It is slightly more than a half mile across from east to west, and slightly less than a half mile across from north to south. The new state thus covers about a quarter of a square mile, or very roughly, in the neighborhood of 160 acres

Palace of 1,000 Rooms.

"The Vatican palace, which extends northward from St. Peter's, contains approximately 1,000 rooms. The outer walls of the buildings inclose more than 13 acres of ground; and the actual buildings, exclusive of interior courts, cover seven and a half acres. Much of the palace was not intended to be a residence and has never been so used. Hundreds of the rooms are given over to art objects and constitute the Vatican museum, housing one of the world's most remarkable collections. The Vatican library, filling numerous other rooms, is also one of the outstanding libraries of the world. Only about 200 of the rooms are used by the pope, his officials, guards, clerks and servants.

"One of the small additions to the territory of the Vatican will probably extend the grounds on the southwest a hundred feet or so to an existing railway. Then a sta-tion, established just outside a gateway, will make it possible for diplomats accredited to the Vatican city and distinguished visitors to step directly onto soil of the new state

We wish to take this opportunity to announce in advance that the person receiving this handsome gift on the part of the Donley County Leader, that person will receive our guarantee, the same had you paid us $1215 F. O. B. Clarendon.

Futhermore we want to go on record in saying that Dodge Brothers Model's of today, is the greatest in Dodge Brothers History.

This statement is easy for us to substaniate if you will give us the opportunity to demonstrate Dodge Brothers Automobiles. Signed Ballew and Noble Garage.

The Greatest Value in Dodge Brothers History

HERE is a new achievement in automobile design. A new car by Dodge Brothers—modeled to the last minute, and possessing such features of style, beauty, comfort and performance ability, as to make it the greatest value in Dodge Brothers history.

Dodge Brothers cars have always been known for their remarkable performance, their dependablity, and their true quality. Here is a new Dodge product that combines all these and more. Everything that you could want in a really fine motor car is here. Long, low, and graceful body lines; pleasing color combinations; dependable performance; power; stamina; and real quality—these are the result of careful study and planning by seasoned engineers experienced in the building of motor cars of value.

To view this car is to admire it. To drive it and to feel its abundant power, to see its flexibility, its unusual ease of operation, its remarkable pick-up, its comfort, and its luxury, is indeed a revelation. After you have examind this new car thoroughly, you will have a new standard by which to judge motor cars.

DEAUTY in lines and colors is represented in this popular model of the Dodge Brothers New Six. The Mono-piece body, an exclusive feature, provides rigidity and belance, and is so mounted to the chassis that the car's roadability is an outstanding feature. Exterior hurdware is chromium plated. Refinements in body construction afford maximumeroom and comfort for every passenger.

NEW DODGE BROTHERS SIX SEDAN $1215

·Dodge Brothers Six typifies that genius in engineering and craftmanship which characterizes all Chrysler-built cars.

In new beauty, in sparkling performance, in superior comfort, in safety, and in luxury of detail, the new Dodge Brothers Six is a supreme addition to the long-time prestige of Dodge Brothers.

Introducd in this new Dodge Brothers Six are more than a score of important betterments.

Of prime importance is the exclusive new Mono-piece Body. Built inflexibly onto the chassis, it has the invariable rigidity which only single-piece construction can give. The Mono-piece Body is literally one piece. Body sills, door openings, window openings are fashioned from a single piece of metal. There simply are no joints or squeak in Mono-piece Body construction.

Inside, the car is a haven of restful luxury. Seats are wide and lounge-deep. The interior fitments and ornaments are complete to the last small detail. The upholstery is of custom-built richness.

Notice, too the new-era smartness of the car's narrow-profile radiator—the effective foot-operated side ventilators —the fingr-thin steering wheel, with headlight switch on top of the steering column—the dash-button starter control the new style wheels with oversize tires—refinemnt upon refinement throughout the entire specifications.

In eight new-model body styles, the new Dodge Brothers Six awaits your judgment—a car that today reaches far into the future to bring to you fuller and broader measures of value. Just see it.

When Dawes quited down, it was hoped that they would all act with more prudence. One can imagine a fellow cussing a wild mule or a contrary car, but the dignified senate getting down to the level of a bunch of "bull-whackers" is almost unbelieveable.

And they are "cussing" down at Austin right now very likely as the general fiasco is in session. Texas needs a bunch of legislators.

mile winds. As you know, any mill will pump water in high winds, but the windmill that will provide water in the lighter breezes is the one you want.

The Star can do this because it has a scientifically designed wheel. The fans have just the right curvature and are properly spaced.

Bearings running in oil, with a flood of oil for crosshead, guides and pitmans, reduce friction to the minimum. The better features of the old Star, two gears, two pinions and two pitmans, are retained. This gives a direct center lift to pump rod and equalizes the load on working parts of the mill. Star is pivoted on ball-bearing turn table.

> Come in and see this new Star. You will be interested in seeing how effect-ively it is lubricated, and we know one erected on your place will prove a better water pumper than anything you have used in the windmill line. May be fitted on any tower.

WRIGHT'S Lower Cost and Sales System "A System That Is in Advance of Others"

A system inviting comparison-one that makes other systems obsolete. Our Just One Price-One Just Price eliminates all mystery and guess work to cash prices over credit prices and allows a customer to pay for only the actual amount of time needed to liquidate his account and not be paying for the delinquency of some other account.

A system proving we appreciate and protect your account as each customer is given our now famous insurance policy which pays the account in full should the supporting head of the family die, while owing our store.

Again we say WRIGHT'S LOWER COST AND SALES SYSTEM is the greatest system ever devised and is in advance of others.

May we not show YOU how your credit does a cash business at Wright Stores and in dollars and cents show you the saving our system has over others?

Tt's like this:" Harris explained. "Rustling is about the hardest thing in the world to prove. There's a dozen ways they can work it. I could catch some of them driv. ing a bunch of Three Bar cattle toward the Idaho line. They'd look up and see me and calmly ride on past the cows. They could say the bunch was just drifting ahead of their horses—that they weren't driving them at all. You can't a case of rustling even if you ee it, unless you actually catch one altering a brand. "You can't do that." Harris said. "Two more days for you. I've given orders not to let you off the place till after the dance at Brill's. This is Tuesday and the big frolie will be staged Thursday night. Then you're free to go. Deane shock his head and pre-

They followed the rims till they had cleared the Breaks, then angled down to the foothills and headed for the Three Bar. They held a steady gait until a half hour after sunset and camped in the open near a tiny spring. Again Deane was impressed with the impropriety of the girl's being out with two men who loved her, and the thought was an ache that remained with him.

As they sat round the little fire the girl handed Harris the paper Slade had given her. It was a scrawled bill of sale calling for three hundred odd head of Circle P cows. listed in the exact numbers of all ages and sexes. In return she would send him an exchange slip for the same number of Three Bar stock. This exchange system was one of Slade's own devising, intended to eliminate the time and expense of sending riders to scour adjacent ranges in search of drifted stock. Each outfit exchanged slips based on the round-up tally with every other brand and so could show bill of sale for off-brand stuff in their beef shipments or for any rebrands on the range.

Deane was regarding the penciled

There are Three Bar cows ranging a hundred miles from here, just as there's brands a hundred miles off whose stock turns up herewith a triangle on the hip. Who's going to check Slade up? It would take three crews to cover his-range and tally the fresh Three Bar rebrands of this one season-a few here and a few there. He ships trainloads of cows in a year. There's some old rebrands' in each lot, say; maybe more than last year's exchange. Well he simply has been holding them over. He can easy explain that. found one or more of the new whiteface bulls shot down in their territory. The evidence, as Harris pieced the scraps together, indicated that a lone rider had made a swift raid, riding for forty miles along the foot of the hills in a single day, shooting down every Three Bar bull that crossed his trail. A dozen dead animals marked his course. A few more such raids and the Three Bar calf crop would be extremely short the following spring. He rode

"Ne, I can't tell you," she said. Deane expected to hear the sheriff's curt demand that she divulge the name of the man he sought. It must be easily apparent te him, as it was to Deane, that she knew. But Alden only dropped a hand on her shoulder and stood looking down at her. "All right, girl," he said mildly "I reckon you can't tell. He can't be such a rotten sort if you refuse to turn him up." He pushed back his hat and smiled at Deane. "We have to humor the womenfolks out here," he explained, as he turned toward the bunk house. Deane, already at a loss to grasp the mental attitude of the range dwellers, was further mystified by a sheriff who spoke of humoring the adies in a matter pertaining to a double killing.

"Billie you know!" he accused; "why wouldn't you tell?"

"Because there's a good chance that he's a friend of mine," she stated simply. "These men had it stated simply. "These men had it coming to them and some way I can't feel any regret." "Billie, let me take you away from all this," Deane urged again.
