Grand Jury Returns Five Indictments The Past Week

Suspended Sentence Law Is Applied In Minor Cases; One Hung Jury

The Grand Jury was called back Wednesday to go over additional evidence for lack of which they had recessed a few days before. Five indictments have been returned since Wednesday. Papers have not been served and publication is withheld.

Due to the illness of Judge Fires, Judge R. H. Cooke of Wellington occupied the bench Thursday during the trial of Body Wells, colored, charged with bootlegging. A hung jury resulted in this case, that being the first hung jury this term. The jury is said to have been ten to two for conviction.

Roy Mangrum, charged with theft of a yearling from Flop Pyle during the summer and who is alleged to have been caught with the meat at Hedley, was given a two year suspended sentence.

Lon Prather, charged with chicken theft at the J. R. Bulls home north of town, was given a two year suspended sentence.

When the case of Ted Snyder, charged with giving a hot check, was called Monday it was found that the alleged facts in the case did not correspond with the wording of the indictment and the case was refilled on a new indictment.

Jim Brown, charged with implication in the Hedley murder and who is said to have been wounded the same night according to his own admission, is on trial as the Leader goes to press.

The case of Bud Rundell charged with being implicated in the Flop Pyle calf scrape, is scheduled to go to trial following the disposition of the Brown case.

Federal Crop Estimate Shows More Cotton Is Raised Than In 1928

Estimates Put Total Of Texas Production At 3,950,000 Bales

A cotton crop of 15,009,000 bales this year was forecast Friday by the Department of Agriculture.

A crop of 14,915,000 was forecast a month ago when the condition of the crop was reported as being 55 per cent of normal. The cotton drop of 1928 was 14,478,000 bales.

The indicated production by States follows:

- Virginia, 44,000.
- North Carolina, 760,000.
- South Carolina, 850,000.
- Georgia, 1,340,000.
- Florida, 30,000.
- Missouri, 210,000.
- Tennessee, 510,000.
- Alabama, 1,335,000.
- Mississippi, 1,950,000.
- Louisiana, 830,000.
- Texas, 3,950,000.
- Oklahoma, 1,225,000.
- Arkansas, 1,490,000.
- New Mexico, 86,000.
- Arizona, 157,000.
- California, 232,000.
- Others, 10,000.

Clarendon Couple Quit Claim Land Worth Millions

Holders Claim Alleged Grant Issue In 1832 When New Mexico Part Of Texas

A quit claim deed to 1,200,000 acres of valuable land located in Lea and Chaves counties was filed for record with the County Clerk of Lea county this week. The deed is from Charles Goodnight and Corinne Goodnight, his wife, and is given to the Interstate Land Company. It was executed in Tucson, state of Arizona, on the 16th day of October, 1929, and the sum of one dollar is given as the consideration.

The land involved in the transaction is described as "beginning at the Northeast corner of Township 15 S., Range 38 East, N. M. P. M., (formerly the southeast corner of Chaves county), thence north 25 miles, thence west to the center of the Pecos River, in Chaves county, thence in a southerly direction, following the center of said Pecos River to the south boundary of Chaves county, thence east to the point of beginning, containing approximately 1,200,000 acres of land, being a part of the grant of land made March 14, 1832, by the State of Coahuila, Texas, to John Charles Beales and Jose Manuel Royuela."

The southern boundary of the land described in this deed lies on the township line one mile north of Lovington. It includes all the land east of the Pecos river lying within twenty-five miles of this line on the north, and extends five miles north of Tatum.

There seems to be little uneasiness upon the part of the owners of the land included in this deed. While there is nothing to show the extent of the land claimed by the original grant, and the land included in the deed is "only a part" of this alleged grant, it seems evident that even if the grant had at one time been legal, the statute of limitation would already have run against any claims which the holders under it might have. The general opinion is that nothing more serious than the casting of a cloud upon the titles of the owners will result, which may necessitate some expense in the way of litigation to remove.

Cotton Production Dependent Largely On A Seed Selection

Former County Agent Raises Improved Cotton On His Farm Near Hedley

The famous sandy land belt of Donley county, long known for excellent cotton production, is again in the limelight. R. E. Mann, ex-county agent, has done quite a bit of experimental work with the cotton plant on his farm near Hedley and during the five year period, has developed what he believes to be an extra good variety for this section.

The new variety stands the drought well, it having a prolific growth and strong tap root. The large, thin-shelled bolls hang down at opening time making it a storm proof variety that is easily picked.

Cotton of this improved variety is producing at the rate of three fourths of a bale to the acre in that section this year despite the unfavorable season. During the past five years, this cotton has produced close to a bale to the acre.

In speaking of the cotton situation Mr. Mann said: "The time is at hand when farmers will need to raise a better staple in order to bring the market back to where it was a few years ago. The variety selected must give a good yield, and a good turn out at the gin as well as have a good staple." Mr. Mann will again carefully cull his seed this season and expects to have seed of the new variety to offer the public next fall. Realizing the many disappointments of the past, he wants to make sure of what he has before offering it to the public.

Hedley School Board Accepted New High School Building Fri.

Building Compares Favorably With Any In Panhandle Of Towns In This Class

The School Board of Hedley composed of W. I. Raines as President, J. B. Masterson as Secretary and O. R. Culwell, S. A. Burdine, Geo. Armstrong, W. T. Youree and Frank Simmons formally accepted the new High School building Monday of last week. The following complete description is taken from the Hedley Informer published by Mr. Ed Bolliver.

"The building is 163 feet long and 15 feet wide. The building is constructed of model brick with trimmings of white stone. The inscription 'Hedley High School' is engraved over the three front entrances. The building faces west, while the Junior High School building faces south, thus creating a square which the women of the town, with the assistance of the Parent-Teachers Association, intend to beautify by the addition of grass and flowers.

The Auditorium
The auditorium of the new building is 85 feet by 74 feet and has a seating capacity of 1200. One of the head carpenters of the building made the statement that the assembly hall would easily hold 1500 people. The stage measures 40 feet in length and is equipped with modern stage scenery. Footlights of red, blue and white are installed in addition to sixteen lights in the auditorium proper. The wood work of the auditorium is golden oak; the walls are painted ivory buff with a gray base.

The Study Hall
The study hall of the building has a seating capacity of 125 and 25 more seats could easily be added. A larger study hall has been one of the recommendations from the State Department for several years. Each pupil has his individual desk in the study hall, with a typewriter copy of his name and grade attached to the desk. The Library is also located in the study hall, and magazine racks are to be made by the manual training students.

Home Economics
The Home Economics room is located in the north corner of the building. Combination cooking and sewing tables are being installed. Four Singer sewing machines are being added to the clothing department, and three of the latest gas stoves will be installed. A large kitchen cabinet has been built in the south end of the room that is a credit to any home economics department.

Commercial Room
The Commercial room is one of the smallest rooms in the building. It is equipped with modern bookkeeping and typewriting tables. In addition to the typewriting machines, the school has a Dalton adding machine that was given the school by the ex-Seniors of the High School of 1928.

Science Hall
The Science Hall contains a built-in cabinet for the Physics and Biology equipment. The room is equipped with modern science tables and is one of the most beautiful of all the rooms. The other rooms of the building are provided with lockers for school supplies and cloak rooms for the student's wraps. The entire woodwork is golden oak, with walls of ivory buff and base of grey, which makes the building harmonize throughout. Indoor toilets and showers are installed.

Hedley High School Puts On Program Tonight

A play, "Mammy's Irish Rose", sponsored by Misses Inez Jarmon and Fay Maxwell, will be put on by the Juniors of the Hedley high school tonight.

The Juniors are putting forth every effort to outdo the Seniors who recently put on the play, "Step on it, Stan", which brought out a good crowd.

The play will be given at the new High School auditorium to which the public is cordially invited.

Father-Son Banquet Attendance Breaks Record Monday Nite

Eighth Annual Affair Again Makes History Using Home Talent Speakers

Starting eight years ago with Dr. E. L. Jenkins and Mr. Tom Connally sponsoring the movement, the Father-Son movement has grown to stupendous proportions. In fact it is the one big event in the lives of the folks of this section. It was noted that some came from a distance to accompany their fathers to the banquet, and messages of good cheer came from sons unable to be present.

With Sam Braswell acting as toastmaster, who kept the program moving at a lively clip with no dry moments in between numbers, H. T. Burton, superintendent of schools, was first called upon to speak on the subject of the physical development of the boy. Mr. Burton has been dealing with boys for many years both as instructor in the school room and as coach on the playground which accounts for the excellent ideas advanced in his talk Monday night.

Dr. H. L. Wilder proved himself to be a talented after dinner speaker. While it has been generally understood that the Doctor's avocation is that of "auto acrobat", his talk at this banquet added new laurels to his long list of achievements. Dr. Wilder discussed the social makeup of the boy in an interesting manner and is the recipient of many compliments for the sensible manner in which he handled his subject.

Dr. Clark Buckner, pastor of the First Christian church of Amarillo, was the speaker of the evening, he having kindly consented to remain over after performing a similar service at the Presbyterian church the previous night. Dr. Buckner's years of study, observation and natural love for humanity stood him in good stead in dealing with a subject concerning the welfare of the younger generation.

G. L. Boykin spoke on the religious (Continued To Back Page)

Municipal Hospital Keeps "Open House" All Day Monday

Constant Stream Of Visitors Compliment Management And Governing Board

The popularity of the idea of a county owned hospital was attested to Monday of this week acting upon the invitation of the management. No formal program was carried out due to the fact that patients might be disturbed.

Visitors were escorted thru the building by various members of the Building Board and others. The inspection proved to be a delightful surprise to many who had never visited the institution before.

Practically all of the equipment is new. Steel furniture to match the colors of the various rooms is especially pleasing. Adjustable cots of late pattern fitted with new linen, mattresses and blankets gives the rooms a cheerful aspect.

The X-Ray room is complete affording all the facilities to be found in most any hospital. The machine is a gift being contributed by the Drs. Jenkins of this city. Mrs. Schifferdecker, graduate nurse, x-ray operator and laboratory technician has charge of this room.

One room is devoted to a modern sterilizing equipment. This room is just off the operating room where most convenient to the surgeons and nurses. A wash room is located on the other side of the operating room located conveniently for those employed in surgical operations.

One large room fitted with six beds on the west end of the building is devoted to taking care of the patients, when absolute privacy is not deemed expedient. The interior has been newly finished in this room, beds and bedding is new and every facility has been provided for the convenience of the patients.

The kitchen and dining room in the rear is fitted with a modern system of refrigeration and other conveniences to save both labor (Continued To Back Page)

Visiting Irishmen Held To Tie Here By Bronchos Wed.

Both Teams Show Good Form Scoring In Lucky Breaks Throughout The Game

The Bronchos retained their unbeaten standing here last Wednesday when they battled the Shamrock Irishmen to a 13-13 tie. It was a thrilling battle which electrified the spectators during several crucial periods of the game, and brought them immediately to their feet screaming and cheering for their heroes of the gridiron. Both teams played the part of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde—first one side was the winner and then the other—mimicking back and forth from the underdog to glorious Trojans, until at last the breaks had been even and the spoils divided equally.

Both teams were evenly matched and only at crucial times when lucky breaks were at stake did either team threaten the opposing goal line. Shamrock's running and passing attack gained consistently throughout the game, but mishaps and blunders prevented their making gain. The Irish made the first score and touchdown of the game during the second quarter when her linesmen rushed Dillard and blocked a punt. Knoll recovered and dashed for a touchdown and the try for extra point was completed.

The Bronchos came back in the second half with revenge in their eyes and determined to even the score of a few minutes before. Dillard completed a long pass to Behrens for a touchdown and Knoll added the extra point. Quickly following the tie-up, Shipley of the Irish punted and one of his own men backed into the ball. Behrens of Clarendon instantly took advantage of the break, scooped up the blocked punt and ran for a touchdown. The try for point failed.

Undismayed and fighting hard the Irishmen came back in the last quarter, uncovering an aerial attack that seemed to paralyze the Bronchos in their tracks. Two well aimed passes and a line buck netted the Irish another touchdown. The try for extra point went wild and the game ended in a tie. Dillard, Behrens and Estlack were the outstanding players for Clarendon, while Blake, Knoll, Tarbet and Grogan starred for the Shamrock team.

Panhandle Chamber Of Commerce May Now Be Organized

Rapid Development Of This Section Demands Special Organized Body

Due to the rapid development and the needs peculiar to the Panhandle of Texas, it appears that an organization of the Chambers of Commerce of this section into a regional body will prove mutually beneficial to the Panhandle of Texas.

There has been an increased demand on the part of the leading business men, stockmen and agriculturists for a Panhandle Chamber of Commerce for some time. In response to this demand, a number of the secretaries of the various Chambers of Commerce met in Amarillo Saturday to devise plans for such a movement. Final action was deferred until after the meeting of the Directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Amarillo today (Tuesday).

Secretaries present at the meeting Saturday were: G. W. Briggs of Pampa; Guy Hill of Shamrock; A. T. Holcomb of Dalhart; Mrs. Granville of Borger; G. L. Boykin of Clarendon; Grady Watson of Wheeler; Goe. Sager of Memphis; Dr. O. H. Lloyd of Vega.

J. W. Johnson returned to his home at Clovis, N. Mex. Thursday.

Wilson Ballew of the Ballew-Satterfield motor company of Amarillo, and family, visited home-folks Monday.

Legion Service Drew Overflow Crowd At Presbyterian Church

Public Pays Worthy Tribute To World War Veterans In Excellent Program

A unit in paying highest tribute to World War Veterans and the honored dead of that great conflict, an overflow crowd gathered early Sunday evening at the Presbyterian church. Long before the hour of beginning the program, the house was packed and some two hundred waiting on the steps and in the street. More people reluctantly turned away unable to enter the building for lack of space than was seated inside.

Dr. Clark Buckner of Amarillo was the speaker of the evening paying high tribute to the glory of the American soldier and at the same time voicing an earnest prayer that wars be no longer necessary in this advanced age of civilization.

H. T. Burton was master of ceremonies, representing the Legion of which he is an honored member.

Mrs. Frank A. Stocking gave two appropriate readings and a quartette composed of Messrs. Irl Smith, Kolt. S. Cope, G. L. Boykin and T. D. Nored contributed to the program. Miss Fray Stallings accompanied on the organ.

Citizens of Donley county have always taken great pleasure in contributing their assistance to the local Post of the American Legion and in turn appreciate the efforts of the membership in behalf of good government, law enforcement and the general spirit of good will manifest in the organization.

Mrs. L. A. Reavis is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Pete Sitton, in Pampa.

Elpaso Man Accepts Managership Post Of West Texas Body

World War Veteran Manager Of Elpaso Chamber Of Commerce Ten Years

D. A. Bandeen of Elpaso was selected to become manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce by the Board of Directors Saturday. Mr. Bandeen has been managing the Elpaso Chamber of Commerce with success for the past ten years and is thoroughly conversant with the needs and possibilities of West Texas.

Those in authority to know, compliment the selection of a man already acquainted with conditions rather than import an eastern man who would have much to learn before any accomplishments might be expected.

W. B. Hamilton of Wichita Falls, who was elected to the presidency of the W. T. C. C. at the recent convention held in Elpaso, has announced an economic administration stating that he and the directors would pay their own expenses this year and further, no expense accounts would be provided for the regional directors. This will have a tendency to cut out the so-called "hurrah" bunch that has handicapped the body for several years, it is believed.

The regional directors elected are: Will O'Brien, Amarillo; C. B. Jones, Spur; F. W. Kennerly, Quanah; Arnon G. Carter, Ft. Worth; C. M. Caldwell, Abilene; B. Reagan, Big Spring; H. L. (Continued To Back Page)

Alleging that they had printed up an ample supply of furloughs, two convict printers walked away from the state printery when they heard that the governor was out of the state on a hunting expedition. It is reported that they stole an auto soon after leaving the pen, which they expected to use in hauling in the bear meat if the governor had any luck.

 Thanksgiving Day Proclaimed by President **

* The American people were asked to give thanks for blessings bestowed upon them during the past year in a Thanksgiving proclamation issued Wednesday by President Hoover. *
* In the first document of this kind he has issued the President said assurances of peace at home and abroad had been strengthened, that the harvest had been abundant and that both capital and labor enjoyed "an exceptional prosperity." *
* The proclamation set Nov. 28 as the day of thanksgiving. *
* Its text follows: *
* "By the President of the United States of America. *
* "A proclamation. *
* "At this season of the year, when the harvest has been gathered in, the thoughts of our forefathers turned toward God with thanksgiving for the blessings of plenty and provision against the needs of winter. They came by custom to look to the chief magistrate to set apart a day of prayer and praise wherein their thanks as a united people might be given with one voice in unison. God has greatly blessed us as a Nation in the year now drawing to a close. The earth has yielded an abundant harvest in most parts of our country. The fruits of industry have been of unexampled quantity and value. Both capital and labor have enjoyed an exceptional prosperity. *
* "Assurance of peace, at home and abroad, have been strengthened and enlarged. Progress has been made in provision against preventable disasters from flood and pestilence. Enlightenment has grown apace in new revelations of scientific truth and in diffusion of knowledge. Educational opportunities have steadily enlarged. Enduring advances have been gained in the protection of the public health. Childhood is measurably more secure. New experience and new knowledge in many fields have been recorded from which a deeper wisdom may grow. We should accept these blessings with resolution to devote them to service of Almighty God. *
* "Now, therefore, I, Herbert Hoover, President of the United States of America, do appoint and set aside Thursday, the 28th day of November, as a day of national thanksgiving and do recommend that all people on that day rest from their daily work, that they should extend to others less fortunately placed a share in their abundance and that they gather at their accustomed places of worship, there to render up thanks to Almighty God for His many blessings upon them, for His forbearances and goodness. *
* "In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the United States. *
* "Done at the city of Washington this 5th day of November in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and fifty-fourth. *

INGRATITUDE.

Lamesa reports four safes blown the past week with a loss of over four hundred dollars in actual cash. A female burglar was given a five year suspended sentence down there four weeks ago. Burglars should be pensioned when liberated making night work unnecessary.

UNLUCKY THIRTEEN!

After boasting of having killed his 13th man when he bumped off a Chinaman at Oklahoma City last May, John Northcutt, ex-Texas Ranger and peace officer in many different counties, was counted out at Wink, Texas Tuesday evening when he received five charges full in the face from an automatic pump shot gun, just six months to a day after the Chink episode.

Thirteen is just naturally an unlucky number, and mighty few gather any scalps beyond that number. Wink is also an unlucky town for bad men, or even gun men. It has a reputation equal to Amarillo or Shamrock and is second only to Borger.

HURRAH ORGANIZATION.

Editor L. E. Haskett of the Childress News editorializes in his last issue by making the statement that the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will cease to be a "hurrah organization" with the election of Hamilton to head the bunch.

Hurrah is right. It has also been dubbed "a rich man's plaything" and also a "one man proposition." At any rate, there is very little to show for their efforts up to the present except that they "hurrah-ed" a lot of men out of their money and gave them "hurrah" in return for it.

All West Texas is hoping that the "carcass" has been revived to the extent that great good may be accomplished. The next year tells the tale. If there is not some showing made, she's a gone goslin' sure as heck.

BUILDING A REPUTATION.

Shamrock has apparently stepped up into a class with Borger and Amarillo with fist fights, drunks and shooting scrapes almost daily. In order to more thoroughly qualify, it is alleged that the peace officers have lost interest in their jobs and are permitting violations of the laws before their eyes.

Many citizens there are protesting. If matters do not improve, the Rangers will be asked to take charge. Hundreds of citizens of Shamrock believe in law and order. The good people of that town do not merit the reputation of Borger. Visitors refrain from appearing on the streets of Shamrock at night lest they be molested by thugs. Conditions will not improve until the better element of citizenship takes charge of the situation and demands a strict law enforcement. It is squarely up to Shamrock to say whether their town shall be ruled by the scum of the country.

JURORS LIED.

After a jury composed of five women and seven men had returned a verdict of acquittal in Judge B. F. Cummings' court in Vinton, Tama county, Iowa last week, the judge remarked:

"You people represent the morals of the country." "When the members of this jury were interrogated as to their qualifications to sit on this case, they all answered that they favored the enforcement of the prohibition laws. Evidently, somebody lied. If ever a jury had a guilty man before it, you had one today."

Public sentiment sets the standard under which we are forced to live. The courts can do nothing, the peace officers can do nothing, unless the people at large back them up with honest jury service.

Donley county has a state wide reputation for a law-abiding citizenship. The present session of the District Court is doing effective work in maintaining that reputation. Judge A. J. Fires is fair, liberal and sympathetic but void of maudlin sympathy for a crook. James A. Mahan is a square shooter as a District Attorney and convicts the criminal upon the evidence that the criminal makes. The Sheriff and his deputies are kind but firm. If a fellow thinks he can trample the laws under his feet in this county, he needs but to look up the records of the disposition of the other crooks who have tried it. No foolin', folks, we of Donley county still believe in the rights of "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

ARMISTICE DAY

Armistice Day is also poppy day. The poppys sold are made by invalid veterans of the World War. They are the human derelicts of a process for making millionaires. War is not necessary. The least we can do for these unfortunates today, is to buy a poppy.

Do you suppose our enthusiasm would have run so high in 1917-18 could we have looked ahead to "Poppy Day?" Back in '17 and '18 we often heard the cry: "There is nothing too good for our boys." We sent them candy by the ton that never reached them and which they allege was sold by the "Y" at a high price.

That was no fault of ours. That matters not to us today. On the creek banks near the Legion Hospital near Kerville, exsoldiers are camped with their families. The exsoldier is helpless. His wife and babes are helpless. He gave his health—his most priceless possession—in defense of the rich man's interests.

Some few wealthy men are helping liberally. Wm. E. Easterwood, himself a World War buddy, has done much. He is still on the job. Thousands of others have forgotten their obligation to aid the stricken soldier. They want no maudlin sympathy. They are not asking for charity. They want a chance. They have every reason to believe that they are entitled to a chance.

We often hear of their wonderful exploits. Some delight in boasting of the bravery and fighting ability of the "Doughboy." The war is over. He cares nothing about past history. His one big question today is—what are you going to do about us now—NOW.

WEIRD POLITICS.

Tom Love of Dallas wants to be the next governor of Texas. The old guard threatens to keep him off the ticket because he voted with the Hoovercrats. Since the majority of the voters were Hoovercrats in the last election, if the old guard persists in attempting to keep Love off the ticket, he may muster enough support through sympathy to get over the dead line.

Mayfield also wants to be governor. He will likely get most of his support from ex-Klu Klux and also make a strong appeal to the prohibition element. The Klan in Texas is dead as Heck. Prohibitionists have not forgotten the stand of Mayfield in the last campaign. His case hangs in the balance.

Jim Ferguson also wants to be governor again. The old guard has threatened to keep his name off the ballot because of his impeachment while holding that office. Since it developed that Ferguson was kicked out of office for committing a crime, and yet did not merit prosecution because he had committed no crime, the people of Texas feel that he was a victim of high handed politics and that sympathy may again elect him should he see fit to make the race.

There is also some indication of a political reaction in Texas next year. Thousands would vote for Ferguson to show their contempt for Moody, since these two men are bitter political enemies. West Texas has no sympathy for Moodyism and may grab at an opportunity to get even with the Moodyites by electing Ferguson who has always shown a disposition to be fair to West Texas.

Then there is a possibility that a business man may be drafted to get into the race. There is quite a bit of dissatisfaction with the crop of candidates so far and there will be at least one business man in the race if one can be found who they think can muster a big vote among the common herd.

BUILDING GOOD WILL.

If there is the least inclination to be unfair, it will crop out at a football game. If the citizens of a town are inclined to be what is termed "dirty", that too, will come to the surface at a football game.

In the game played Wednesday between our Bronchos and the Shamrock team, there was no special effort made to put on an extra front of fairness. If our football boys, Pep Squad and citizens in general made a favorable impression, it was natural.

Clarendon enjoyed the game. The visitors were fair and were a fine bunch of neighbors making a neighborly visit. The boys played good ball and the girls of the pep squad did their level best. They are game losers and good sports.

Here is a letter received by our superintendent of schools, Mr. H. T. Burton, who handed the letter to a representative of the Leader for publication that our folks may join with him in a high sense of appreciation of the contents of the letter. Mr. Clark is a leading citizen of Shamrock and, despite his profession, bears a most honorable reputation and the writer knows him to have been aligned with the better interests and moral element of his town for many, many years.

Nov. 7th 1929.

Sup't Schools
Clarendon, Texas
Esteemed Sir:

You do not know me neither do I know your name, but I as a citizen of Shamrock, attended the Clarendon-Shamrock game yesterday, and never have I seen finer sportmanship displayed than was shown by the Clarendon team, Students and Citizenship of Clarendon. It spoke much for the splendid training which some one is giving the students of your city. Your coach should receive the congratulation of all. You have a great high school football team, and since we are out of the race, we all hope that conditions will so break that you will represent this district when time comes for elimination in the race for state championship.

When you come to Shamrock next year for the annual game, we at this time extend you a cordial welcome and shall do our best to display that brand of sportmanship and fair play that you showed to us yesterday.

Yours very truly,
J. B. Clark.

WADE-EASLEY

The marriage of Miss Sybil Wade and Mr. Arvil Easley of Ashtola was performed in Hollis, Okla. Wednesday. The young couple staid a march on their friends making the round trip to Hollis without any one knowing anything about it apparently.

District Clerk Receives Many Compliments

Among the many efficient clerks of the district courts of the Panhandle is A. H. Baker, clerk of the district court records in Donley county. Mr. Baker has resided in the Panhandle for more than a quarter of a century and is familiar with court proceedings.

His knowledge of court procedure stood him in good stead when he was elected to his present office at the last election. Court attaches frequently comment favorably on the accuracy of the work of Mr. Baker and the dispatch with which he gets out necessary papers preventing delays. Attorneys also compliment him for his willingness to oblige them, all of which materially reduces county expenses in many instances.

Mrs. W. M. Gray Dies At Hedley Friday

The death of Mrs. W. M. Gray occurred Friday at the family home at Hedley. The deceased had been a sufferer from a dropsical condition for many months. She leaves a husband and five children to mourn her passing.

The family is well known in Clarendon, Mr. Gray having been associated with H. M. Parker in the blacksmithing line here for some time.

Delicious refreshments were served during the social hour.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Kemp chaperoned a party of young folks for a picnic on Troublesome Canyon Monday afternoon. Misses Ruth Price, Elizabeth Kemp, Eunice Johnson, Roberta Lafon and Virginia Cluck were the young ladies to enjoy the outing. Phifer Estlack and Benton Smith went along as guides and to prepare the picnic meal.

Rural Residents Buying Many Radios

Watt Hardin, one of the leading farmers of the Chamberlain community, installed a radio the past week and is authority for the statement that he has no further use for the bed due to the excellent programs all through the night.

More farmers have invested in radios in this section the past two months than all the rest of the time put together. The rural residents had never investigated the possibilities of this form of entertainment until induced to do so by the constant advertising of the radio companies and their agents.

Eddie Frantz, one of the most popular young men of the town and formerly an employee of the Clarendon drug store, left Sunday for Oklahoma City where he has accepted a lucrative position with a marble quarrying company. Eddie has many friends here who will regret to learn of his leaving.

THE MAN BEHIND THE SMILE

Idon't know how he is on creeds, I never heard him say; But he's got a smile that fits his face

And he wears it every day. If things go wrong he won't complain—

Just tries to see the joke; He's always finding little ways Of helping other folk.

He sees the good in everyone, Their faults he never mentions; He has a lot of confidence

In people's good intentions. You soon forget what ails you

When you happen 'round this man;

He can cure a case of hypo Quicker than the doctor can. No matter if the sky is gray,

You get his point of view, And the clouds begin to scatter

And the sun comes breaking through. You'll know if you meet him,

And you'll find it worth your while To cultivate the friendship of

The man behind the smile. —M. E. Carle in Rock Island Magazine.

CUT OUT THE EXTRAS

Texas has provided free text books for its school children.

That was done to lower the expenses to poor parents of schooling their children.

But what does it avail if principals and teachers are permitted to tack on a lot of nick nacks that cost the average family more than text books used to cost?

There are 85 cents for lockers, there are all kinds of special form books to buy, there are subscriptions to school papers, there are athletic season tickets, usually a lot of paraphernalia for the six-week broadening and finding courses. Just plenty of places for dimes, quarters and dollars.

Oh, yes, all very nice for those who aren't perplexed with the problem of making ends meet. But they become a sort of burden—these interminable charges for all the multitude of things that come under the head of "activities."

Taxes are not the only cost of schools these days.—The Mirror.

SIGNBOARDS DOOMED

A storm of public opinion now brewing may sweep the unsightly billboard of advertising sign from the roadside of main thoroughfares in this country. Up to this time they have been multiplying in numbers, but there are indications that the public is soon to register a protest that will go far to abolition of these eyesores and vision breakers.

The roadside signboard has a certain advertising value and the public neither envies the advertiser for his profit from it nor does it desire to deprive the advertiser of any business advantage, but the highways are primarily for the benefit and pleasure of the people, and the advertising sign detracts from those benefits and pleasures.

Motorists find the posterboard obnoxious for the three reasons that it mars the landscape, obstructs the views of the scenery and creates a hazard of interference with the vision of the driver. All are sufficiently valid reasons why the advertising sign should be prohibited along main highways.

In the early days of the automobile the roadside poster board was limited to circus posters on barn broadsides and motorists never dreamed of them as a future problem of highway administration. Public opinion then could not have molded against the signboard. Today it is molding itself and may strike any time.

When the advertiser finds that his signboards are distasteful to the public he will not wait, if he is wise, until the passage of legislation before he removes them.—Paducah Post.

CONFIDENCE GAME

The merchants who advertise are at least telling you what they have for sale. It is said in open, and it is probably true. Our own idea is that buyers should beware of those who take them into their confidence and offer special bargains "just because it's you."—J. D. Sugg in Pampa Times.

SOUTHERN PATRONAGE

In a letter of the secretary of the Florida State Republican Committee, President Hoover said: "Your organization has overlooked my primary responsibility to appoint men to public office who will enforce the laws of the United States with integrity, and without fear, favor or political collusion. The success of the Republican party, and of any party, rests on good government, and not on patronage." The thing that called forth this letter was the effort of the Florida Republican machine to have an efficient and honest district attorney displaced and a man of its choosing appointed in his stead. The machine's plea was that the appointment of its favorite would be "for the best interest of the party." Fortunately for the public the president held the view that the best interest of the party was the appointment of the best man for the place, and he went ahead and appointed him. One great reason that the Republican party has never gained a respectable number of adherents in the South is that heretofore Southern Republicans have regarded Federal patronage as a private snap, and they have been able to secure the appointment to public office of political favorites regardless of their honesty or fitness. This has been true in every Southern State.

Many Good People Willing To Help Unfortunate Boy

Letters Continue To Pour In From Many Liberal Panhandle People

That the world is constantly getting better is again proven by the receipt of many letters received offering a good home to the orphan boy whose case was mentioned in the Leader some time ago.

Many personal replies have been made to letters and a copy of this paper will be mailed to several in explanation of the letter published by Col. Tack of the Amarillo News. Some letters were in reply to the article in the Leader. A great many responded to the letter printed in the Amarillo News, which reads as follows:

Sturdy Irish Boy Seeking Home Dear Tack:

A lad of fifteen, of good old Irish stock, strong and healthy and possessed of plenty of energy and an unusually bright mind, is stopping with G. G. Kemp, local Ford dealer. The boy's name is Tommy Shannon. Mr. Kemp is especially anxious that some deserving couple give this boy a home. He will vouch for the boy's honesty and industry. Just mention this in your column and give the boy a chance. He would be a credit to any home.

J. C. ESTLACK,
Editor Donley County Leader,
Clarendon.

Col. Erasmus Tack (Gene Howe), author of the column, "Tactless Texan", which has brought him national fame, is the only "blue-bellied" Kansan that ever came to Texas and overcome his boyhood environment. And what's more, Tack did the stunt in five short years which abundantly proves him to be a genius.

Now back to our original story. We all get fooled some time. The boy, known to us as "Tommy Shannon", mysteriously disappeared leaving a part of his clothing behind. There was no occasion for his sudden departure so far as Mr. Kemp knew. He measured up to every claim in the above letter.

Out of the great number of letters received offering a home to this boy, we have selected two representative letters which we are taking the liberty to publish just to prove that Panhandle people are liberal and want to help the unfortunate. There are other boys perhaps who will be glad to write these people. In doing so, give plenty of references and remember that to impose on the liberality of these good people is worse than criminal. Here is a chance for the boy of mechanical turn:

Main Street Garage
Skellytown, Texas

J. C. Estlack,
Editor Donley County Leader,
Clarendon, Texas.

Dear Sir:
I am writing you in regard to the boy that wants a home. My husband and I feel that we can offer him a home if he'd be willing to help us around the shop after school hours.

There's a school within three blocks of us, and he can have a room to himself with no one to bother him.

You may write Mr. Allen Black, George Allen, J. O. Jensenor the Betty Drug Co. for character references.

We would like to know something about him also.

Sincerely yours,
(Mrs.) Ira E. Krebs.

What more could a worth while boy ask for than this? A chance to learn during leisure hours and a convenient school within three blocks of us. A room for a den dear to the boy's heart. That lady knew that that means to a boy else he would have mentioned it. She knows boys and she's a dandy good mother who needs just the what Mr. M. more understanding thru L. Ah natural and adoptive. Krebs knows that a boy work, and she outlines the work. There is a opportunity there and I have been glad to have had such a chance many times in my boyhood days.

Is another sample of the received:

boy a home if he suits me. I live on a farm that joins the town of Hereford, Texas, and one-half mile to Central school building. If he has not got a place yet, let me know and I will send him money for transportation. I will enclose add.

I am 65 years old and my wife is the same and we could give some boy a good home if he will do the right thing.

Clarence Smith
Box 372
Hereford, Texas.

Now there is a good chance for some boy to breathe the free air of farm life and attend school. Of course he would have enough work to do to keep him in trim and repay these good people for their kindness. This letter is being printed because this good man does not limit the offer to any special boy. All he requires is that a boy "do the right thing."

No sensible person will stand for an imposition. No home is open to a loafer. If the boy is not worth while, why lose time trying to reform him? Here is an old couple acting in good faith even to the extent of offering to send money for traveling expenses.

That proves Mr. Smith is liberal. He will be just as liberal in other ways if a boy will prove his worth. Send them references or get at least two responsible people to vouch for your ability. Remember that you can't put anything by any man or woman. Come clean. Tell your story honestly. Make them proud of you. Make them glad that they gave you a chance. You have all to win and nothing to lose. If you fail to do the right thing, you have lost all.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ballew and children moved to Amarillo Friday. They will make their home at 1307 Washington street.

Chain Department Store Advertising $2,203,268

Advertising expenditures for 1928 of one of the department store chains totaled $2,203,268 in local publications alone.

"The advertising that stimulates and produces good will can never stop," said J. C. Penny, head of the chain, "for as has been rightly said, advertising is the breath of business. It is one of the major functions that keeps it growing and stimulates it to further growth."

Another recent advertising development interesting to newspaper folks is the anti-billboard campaign now being waged by the Standard Oil Co., which destroyed 1,200 of its own highway signs as a step toward beautifying the countryside and which recently used full-page advertisements in newspapers arguing for removal of existing billboards and against the erection of new ones.—Public Service News.

Texas quarries in 1928 sold stone mostly lime and granite, valued at $2,500,000, and a number of new projects are getting production this year.

Natural (casingshead) gasoline is becoming one of the big industries of Texas with 1928 production valued at $22,492,000. Sixty-nine per cent of all Texas manufacturers is found in six counties—Jefferson, Harris, Dallas, Tarrant, Bexar and El Paso. The 4,065 plants listed in the 1927 Census Bureau report, employed 116,783 persons and produced $1,206,579,962 worth of goods. The 3,850 cotton gins in Texas represent an investment of $77,000,000, according to the Texas Cotton Ginners Association.

It Takes Time to Grasp This
Mangum, Okla. — Luther Gilliam, Mangum, not only is the youngest grandfather in Oklahoma, but he also has the distinction of being the uncle of his grandsons.
Gilliam's daughter, Mrs. Olin Smith, is the wife of the twin brother of Gilliam's second wife.
Smith's two sons are grandsons of their father's brother-in-law, Mrs. Gilliam, Mrs. Smith's step-mother, is the aunt of Mrs. Smith's two sons. The twin brother of Mrs. Gilliam is her step-son, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Gilliam's stepdaughter, is also her sister-in-law.
Gilliam, now thirty-nine, was a grandfather at thirty-five. Being doubly related to the Smiths, the small Smith boys have plenty of affection bestowed on them—the love of a grandfather, grandmother, aunt and uncle concentrated in two persons.

Dog Is Perfect Caddy; It Never Has Lost Ball
Minneapolis.—The perfect caddy has been discovered!
Not once in her entire golfing career has Zan, a big Belgian police dog, failed to retrieve lost golf balls.
It is a trick she has learned all by herself, according to her master and mistress, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley W. Ferguson.
"I was forced to take up golf for my health," Mrs. Ferguson said, "I practiced it in a vacant lot at the side of the house. And when I'd hit the ball, Zan would run after it. Immediately she would bring it back again, and I'd continue to hit it."
Every night Mrs. Ferguson dons her golfing togs, takes her masher and midiron, and tees off, sending the ball far out in the pasture behind the house.
Then the fun starts for Zan.
Eagerly she waits for the shooting of the ball. And then quick as a flash she is after it. Barking with glee she searches for the ball, and brings it back to the feet of her mistress.
Zan is one year old. She was presented to Mrs. Ferguson by a friend in California when the dog was ten days old.

Bloodhounds Trail Stolen Ham and Eggs
Stanton, Va.—Bloodhounds were used in a chase to recover possession of four hams and twenty dozen eggs stolen from the smokehouse of J. W. Williams, near Greenville. The property was recovered recently in a local hotel by county police, who arrested two men on a charge of stealing it and selling it to the hotel.
Mr. Williams put the bloodhounds on a trail at his smokehouse and they led to a place where the thieves had entered an automobile. Williams suspected a man who had worked for him, and the dogs were taken in the vicinity of the man's home, where they picked up a trail ending with the investigators finding traces of hams in the man's car.
W. A. Agner and James Dunn were arrested on the street here later, and it was learned they had sold some produce to the hotel.
At the hotel the manager identified the suspects, according to police, as having sold him the four hams and twenty dozen eggs. Agner and Dunn are in jail. No date has been set for the hearing.

A Christian Pays Tax He Dodged on Used Car
Fresno, Calif.—Fresno county will be enriched by $1.08 because Ora O. Schott of Hutchinson, Kan., has a conscience. Schott wrote G. P. Cummings, county assessor, that when he lived here in 1928, he failed to report for assessment a 1921 model car, and "since I am a Christian man I want to do what is right." Cummings assessed the car at $30 and forwarded a tax bill for $1.08.

Canada May Isolate Doukhobors on Island
Nelson, B. C.—Faced with another group of 200 rebellious Doukhobors now encamped just outside the city limits, local authorities and provincial officials were considering the possibilities of removing the protesting religionists to an island off the British Columbia coast should the group persist in staging nude demonstrations in protest of school and tax laws.

Refrigerated Homes in Paris With Scented Air
Paris.—Refrigerated apartments with scented air are now being built in Paris. On a hot day madame and monsieur can order for their guests cooled air laden with the fragrance of a pine forest or, if preferred, ocean air with salty breezes. In winter, warm air smelling of the Riviera and jungle blooms can be produced just as easily.

Explains His Longevity
London.—Laze and live long, says a local doctor. But his method is novel. He copies the theory of a man who lived to be one hundred and nine whose recipe for longevity was the way he took a lying-down position. His head was always placed toward the North pole and his body pointed south. His theory was that the magnetic current running through the surface of the earth acted on his body and revitalized it.

Memphis-Cyclone Football Game Is Set For Thursday

Championship Game Of The District Will Be Called At 2 p. m. At Memphis

Arrangements for playing off the District Championship game were made today by phone when Supt. H. T. Burton made a treaty of peace with Memphis school authorities.
A large crowd will escort the fighting Bronchos and their Pep Squad and be there ready to cheer their victory.
C. L. Benson is making up money to pay the Bronchos for each "touchdown" which is expected to make them fight to the last ditch and win the game if nothing else would.
Every car owner who can make the trip, is asked to phone G. L. Boykin and get the schedule on a meeting place that the cars may go in a body motrocade style.

Hit and Run Driver Kills Boy Near Lamesa

Another crime was credited to a hit-and-run driver last Saturday night when little "Buddie" Williams, 11-year-old son of George W. Williams, former Taylor county farmer, was instantly killed on a highway near Lamesa.
The boy was killed while on his way from town where his father had bought him a new school outfit, including a new suit of clothes. The boy was going to start to school Monday. He was so proud of his new clothes that he asked his father to take him to his aunt's, who lived about a half mile from his home so he could show her his suit. The car had been stopped on the side of the road and the boy was out of the car to open a gate when the fatal accident occurred. The car which hit the boy swung over on the wrong side of the road knocking him against his father's car. His skull was crushed and he died instantly, only a second after his father had warned him to remain close to his car until the other car passed. The driver did not check up or make any effort to determine what had happened.

POULTRY

CULLING METHODS QUITE IMPORTANT

Much Money Lost Each Year by Unskilled Manner.

All the good methods in building a profitable poultry flock may be followed but if culling is not practiced, the results are disappointing.

"Culling is one of the most discussed phases of poultry work," says C. F. Parrish, poultry extension specialist at the North Carolina State college. "There is a great deal of money lost each year on unskilled and ill-timed culling. Most poultrymen are elastic in their culling practices, leaving weaklings, short and round backed birds, deformed or undersized chicks with the hope that these may develop into profitable birds. This is bad. Such birds are always costly. Culling must start with the baby chicks and space may be saved and disease eliminated if the baby chicks are rapidly culled."

This culling needs to be followed on through the growing stage and when the pullets are transferred to the laying house in the fall, the good poultryman will pull out the weaklings that may have been overlooked earlier. If egg production drops suddenly, it may be a case of poor feed or disease, but when birds have one eight months and have not laid, it means that they are from low-producing stock and should be disposed of.

The laying flock should be culled at least once each month, says Mr. Parrish. Then when egg prices drop in the spring, another rigid culling should take place, with only the best hens in the flock kept in the laying house. The virtue of this plan is that the hens are marketed as they become culls and no birds are kept that are not paying their way in egg production. In such cases, also, the hens are not all dumped on the market when prices may be low.

To cull properly, Mr. Parrish suggests giving attention to the comb, health, eyes, molt, pelvic bones, flexibility of the abdomen, shank and beak, vent color and weight.

Profitable to Market

Cockerels as Broilers

Those who have been advocating putting the cockerels off as broilers rather than keeping them will be interested in the findings of the New Hampshire Agricultural college. After numerous experiments, they have satisfied themselves that it takes but seven to eight pounds of feed to produce a broiler weighing two pounds, while it takes anywhere from 12 to 20 pounds of feed for each succeeding pound up to six pounds. It does not pay market men to hold their cockerels to get the six pounds in weight.

The poultry editor has always been advising you to get rid of your cockerels long before they eat their heads off, so to speak.

Highly Concentrated

Foods Hurt Turkeys

The turkey has a rather large digestive system and long intestines, accompanied by an ever-present appetite, so that if birds are compelled to satisfy this appetite on highly concentrated foods, indigestion is almost certain to result. If this is not immediately relieved death will follow, and usually salts or, better still, castor oil will effect a cure.

Plenty of green food is essential to young turkeys, such as alfalfa (if quite tender), clover, lettuce, chopped onion tops and dandelion leaves. All green food supplied to turkeys should be cut a little way up from the ground to avoid blackhead contamination that may chance to lurk in the soil.

Gains for Chicks

Chicks make the cheapest and most rapid gains when they are young. It is therefore essential that an ample amount of good wholesome food be kept constantly before the birds. Mash hoppers should be of sufficient size so that a large majority of the chicks can eat at the same time, thereby avoiding the constant fighting and crowding for room to eat. The outdoor mash hopper of adequate size is very desirable for developing the young stock. All feeding utensils should be kept clean.

Grasshopper Control

Turkeys are a great aid in keeping grasshoppers under control. They require little feed and little investment in the way of buildings. Their need of a wide, free range makes it somewhat difficult to grow them in thickly settled countries. Grown turkeys are extremely hardy, but young poult need considerable care. A little water on the feathers, cold feet, a bit of spoiled food, or even one louse, will kill them at this stage. Poults should be watched until well feathered.

Turkeys on Upgrade

Turkey raising is on the upgrade, now that the blackhead bugaboo has been done away with. And the turkey growers are getting the marketing systems down to a fine point, too. Six turkey marketing associations have just been formed in various parts of Colorado and the next thing will be a statewide pool. Profits received by members of turkey marketing pools in the West last year were very pleasing—that's why new pools are being formed to handle this year's crop.

Again the cotton farmer is the victim. This time because of his innocent trust in a governmental agency, or at least so Governor Moody charges.

Last week the Governor wired the Federal Farm Board, a demand that that body should make good a promise to make loans to Texas farmers on cotton up to a price of 16.35 cents f. o. b. Galveston. He told the Board that it must make good its offer or lose the confidence of Texas citizens.

"Some time ago the board made a statement that it would loan up to 16.35 cents per pound on cotton f. o. b. Galveston and later followed this with an announcement that the loans would be made through the Texas Farm Bureau. Many farmers thereupon stored their cotton and refused to sell at the then prevalent price. Since then cotton has gone down from $5 to $7.50 per bale and is not selling for as much as the Farm Board promised to lend on it. Believing in the Federal Farm Board's promise, the farmers undertook to borrow through the Farm Bureau and found that the machinery for such loans had not been set up."

State Seeks Refund

Texas State officials, Adj. Gen. R. L. Robertson, Comptroller Sam Houston Terrell, and Assistant Attorney General Rice Tilley, were scheduled to go to Washington this week to present claims upon the War Department for $200,000.

This sum was expended by the State in organizing the 36th Division before its change to federal control. A refund appropriation for this amount has been voted by Congress, but Texas has not heretofore been able to present satisfactory proof of its claim.

Prison Manager Quits

"My contacts with the political phase of this position during the current year have convinced me that my further service here would be under excessive handicap, and the pernicious attitude of some who should be helping, confirms this belief," declared Col. W. H. Mead in resigning as general manager of the Texas system. "I have had enough and I am quitting." The Prison Board accepted the resignation and adopted a resolution of regret at the loss of Col. Mead.

Mead departed from the good graces of the State Administration in the last session of the legislature, when he told the Senate that the occasional overflows of the Brazos River was beneficial rather than harmful to the prison farms, the rich silt deposited by the flood waters adding to the productivity of the land. The Administration wants the prisons concentrated near Austin and the farms sold, and had used as its chief argument the fact that the farms were subject to overflows.

The State Highway Commission has awarded contracts for 144 miles of new highways in Texas, 12 counties being effected. The contracts, totaling approximately $2,000,000, call for drainage and grading structures.

Non-alcoholic Flavoring Extracts are now purchased for the Prison system by the State Board of Control. The standard type of extract became too popular with convicts, who stole the flavorings from the pantries for "jake" drinking.

The University Land Leasing Board last week sold oil and gas rights on 2,100 acres for $191,864.

5,000 Unfortunates

R. B. Walthall, chairman of the State Board of Control, in a letter of women's and church organizations of Texas, made a strong appeal for several thousand unfortunates whom the State is unable to care for.

"I feel sure that there are at least 5,000 unfortunate suffering people in this State who should be in the eleemosynary institutions and cared for by the great State of Texas. Today there are fully 250 men and women in Texas who have been adjudged insane and are now either in jails or being cared for by relatives and friends, because of lack of accommodations in State hospitals. There are several hundred unfortunate people falling down on the streets of Texas with epileptic fits because there is no room for them at the Abilene State Hospital or Epileptic Colony.

"There are approximately 700 in the Austin State School, or feeble-minded colony, and we have a waiting list of about that number. A few days ago we had 150 good people with tuberculosis in its early stages on the waiting list. If the hospital could admit them before the disease progresses too far, 85 per cent of them could be completely cured and returned to their families. It would be interesting to know how many of our citizens have died because they could not be admitted to the Sanatorium."

Orphan children have been placed in training schools for delinquents because of lack of space in the orphan homes, according to Walthall. The Confederate homes are unable to take care of a large number of widows who face destitution. All eleemosynary institutions are overcrowded.

FEDERATED CLUBS TO MEET

The County Federation President, Mrs. J. A. Thompson of Lelia Lake, announces a meeting of all federated clubs at the Woman's Club Room of the City Hall, November 16th.

Each club, both study clubs and all Home Demonstration clubs, are asked to have delegates present at 2 p. m. Saturday, November 16th.

Former Clarendon Booster Broadcasted From WDAG Saturday Night

Many Clarendon radio fans appreciated the talk of A. T. Holcomb which was broadcasted over WDAG of Amarillo Saturday night. Mr. Holcomb gave a general summary of the exhibits made by the Wonder District in the central states last summer.

The agricultural exhibits made from the Panhandle has been the means of bringing a large number of land investors into the territory who will develop the land and make homes.

Corporations looking for locations where cheap fuel may be obtained are also inspecting the possibilities of establishing payroll projects in the Panhandle of Texas as a result of the publicity secured by the literature distributed by those in charge of exhibits the past summer.

Ashtola Girl Writes Of Trip To State Fair At Dallas

Donley County Girls See Interesting Sightings Of Much Educational Value

There were about three hundred of us 4-H Club girls at the Dallas fair. There were club girls there from all parts of Texas. I can truthfully say I had one of the best times I ever had in all my life and I am sure that everyone had a nice time.

I am sure that all the girls were treated just as nice as they are at their own homes and I believe a little better. We had a nurse at the encampment that doctored us when we were feeling bad or in case we got hurt.

We had good nourishing food to eat while we were there, and good beds to sleep on.

It is hard for me to tell what I enjoyed the most, because I enjoyed it all. I believe I enjoyed the last day I was there better than any other time.

Thursday morning we all marched out to the sidewalk, and rode the stage car around the fair ground, we were a very happy band of girls—we were singing 4-H club songs while we were riding around the fair ground.

We looked at all the electric farm machinery, of all the machinery the most interesting machine to me was the electric cotton picker—price four hundred and fifty dollars. So there is a good bargain for some one. I hope my father will be able to get the electric cotton picker.

We all went to the broadcasting station and broadcasted a yell, and we all enjoyed listening at Dick Rinehart singing many pretty songs from the W. R. R.

We all looked at the new cars and went to the nursery and looked at all the nice plants. We all took much interest in the Alamo building. They now use for the printing office. That is where they print the Dallas Morning News during the Fair, we also listened at the band play awhile.

Thursday afternoon we went to the fair grounds and rode the airplane, Dips a boat, through a dark place, and saw many beautiful scenes. We went through the "barrel-of-fun", we went to several side shows and we saw many other interesting things.

Tuesday morning we looked at fish, birds and Home Demonstration exhibits and farm machinery and products. We all had our pictures made. We saw the poultry, the stock etc.

Tuesday evening all the 4-H club girls marched to the fair ground and went to the big circus.

Tuesday night we went to a three act play. The name of it was "The Red Robe".

After we ate our breakfast we all marched down to the city gate, and rode the street car down to main street. We all looked at some of the large buildings. We went into the Kress, where we saw some of the French and Chinese sitting rooms. The most interesting of these large buildings was the Magnolia. We rode in an electric elevator up to the top of this building, we rode through twenty-nine stories, and then we rode the street cars back to encampment.

Wednesday evening we looked at hogs, cattle, horses etc. and went to the educational art building and club exhibit house and saw many interesting articles which were very educational to us.

Wednesday night we went to a good horse show and saw many interesting races.

Now girls you who have not been to the educational encampment at Dallas fair, cannot realize how much you are missing.

You can certainly store up knowledge by going there.

We wish to thank Mr. Frank White and the Chamber of Commerce for donating the money which enabled Margaret McElyea and I to go to the State Fair.

Ima Poovey.

SHERIFF CAPTURES AUTO THIEVES

On last Saturday morning, Sheriff Jernigan and deputies captured a Nash Special Six Sedan, which was stolen from the Louis Ifield company, of Albuquerque, at Vaughn, N. M., on Friday morning.

When found the car was parked on a side street in the east part of Portales, and was occupied by three men, who gave their names as Joe Wilson, Earnest Wilson and Joseph F. Skaboda.

In the car was found 4 shot guns, three high powered rifles, and an automatic revolver, all of which were loaded with the exception of a double barrel shot gun.

A quantity of auto casings, tools and accessories were also found in the car.

A large number of keys, suitable for the unlocking of almost any lock were also found on the persons of the defendants.

Defendants plead guilty in the Justice court on a charge of stealing the car, and were bound over to await action of the District court.

Indications are that this party were either burglars or hi-jackers, and their apprehension will probably save a number of burglaries from being pulled in this section.

From press reports, a number of burglaries have been committed in various parts of the state, and it is thought that perhaps these men will be identified with some of these cases.—Portales Valley News.

* Temple of Truth * By the Apostle

In speaking of muddy football fields, Jack B. Jones, Jr. is authority for the statement that he weighed his pants one time following a game on a muddy field and the blamed things weighed exactly 184 pounds. As the champion football liar, Jack gets the cut glass golf sticks or cast iron pajamas. Whydayyouwant?

Ed Carlson, known around home as "King Ed", returned from a three week's stay at Galveston Wednesday. Ed saw them load thirty five thousand bales of cotton on one freighter—he said it.

Ed also took his annual bath when he fell off a pier while watching some women folks coming under the classification of bathing beauties. Except for getting wet, Ed suffered no consequences except he lost his Sears & Roebuck teeth and paid a native a dollar to fish them out with a shrimp net.

Speaking of neighbors, the Apostle of the Temple of Truth has 'em. And what I mean they are real neighbors. Some of these neighbors are Mississippians, too. They are usually good folks. I say that from force of habit because my wife is a native of that state.

What I started out to say was that people from that section never get over their old habits of living. They eat possum down there and naturally eat them out here. Our good friend, D. E. Stevenson, who lives north of the river and a native of old Mississippi, brought in a young possum and gave it to the Apostle Eriday.

Now that is what I call a real neighbor. He has been saving it no doubt in case of sickness as a possum feast is supposed to cure anything where folks know their meat as well as onions and groceries.

Any way, another possum was added to the list. Folks of the possum belt use the grease on their hair. They never know any more about halitosis than a hog does a saddle. They just don't have it—whatever it is and I don't know either.

When a neighbor gets sick in the possum belt, they feed him possum instead of dopping him up on medicine. The best orators are the ones who eat the most possum. Senator Hefflin is said to have eaten six in one day just before making a speech denouncing Hoover and Al Smith in his own state of Alabama—also in the possum belt.

Well that's off my subject except for the possum end of it, and I sure thank D. E. for that possum. I don't want any more. I have a plenty and while I am a game guy, I know when I'm licked. I have enough possums promised to feed an army.

his original source—Jack county. He first claimed to have lived forty feet over the line in Wise county. He couldn't prove it. He now claims to have originated in old Kentucky.

Kentucky is divided into two districts—the Mint Julep Belt and the Pennyrial District. He knows nothing about either, cannot qualify as an expert on fast horses or pretty women. I still say it—he's from old Jack county and I don't mean maybe. Even at that, Donley county hasn't a better citizen than he.

J. R. Dale is a native of Tennessee and proud of it. He's heard "old Spot bay" many a time. Knows how it feels to charge under a chestnut tree as a barefoot boy. He has fished, hunted and had the time of his life in the moonshine district of old Tennessee. And yet he likely never drank anything stronger than sassafras tea.

Hedley Man Found Near Death In Orchard

The mere fact that his motor stopped running probably saved the life of W. C. Davidson of Hedley the past week. Being engaged in hauling apples from Roswell to plains towns, Mr. Davidson ran his truck in the orchard near Roswell and being tired, proceeded to nap.

The monoxide gas given off by the motor soon lulled him to deeper sleep as the night wore on. The motor stopped some time during the night which probably saved his life.

When found next morning, he was unconscious and remained so for about fourteen hours, during which time physicians worked with him constantly. Many drivers of closed cars become drowsy while driving which is caused from the poisonous gas fumes from the motor.

No one should drive a closed car without letting the windows down admitting a fresh air circulation. Small children are frequently suffocated on the rear seat when wrapped up and some have been known to have suffocated under a sheet on a truck.

47 Convicts Make Escape From Texas Prison October

Forty-seven prisoners escaped from the Texas penitentiary during October, according to a report received by Governor Moody today. During the month twenty-four men who had escaped, one of them as long ago as 1922, were recaptured. Two hundred and thirty-nine prisoners were received during the month and 184 discharged. Ten were pardoned and three died. The prison population on November 1 was 5,196.

POULTRY

CARE OF PULLETS DECIDES PROFITS

Mash, Grain and Clean Water Should Be Available.

The care of pullets makes a big difference in next year's profits or losses, says L. M. Hurd of the New York State College of Agriculture. After the pullets are twelve weeks of age both mash and grain should be constantly available in separate outdoor hoppers. Fresh clean water should be frequently provided if there is not a natural supply in the field. Unlimited grass, clover, or alfalfa range and shade, are essential to best growth.

The ability to lay is inherited, and thus depends more on breeding than on feeding; but pullets should be well developed in body before they start to lay. If the pullets seem to mature too rapidly, do not feed them wholly on grain to slow up their inclination to lay; anything that checks laying is also apt to stunt permanently the growth of the birds. Feed a mash along with scratch grain, as it is more complete in protein minerals and vitamins.

For proper fleshing at maturity it is sometimes advisable temporarily to reduce the amount of animal protein—meat scraps, milk, etc. in the mash, or to limit the amount of mash fed. The former plan is better, as it allows the birds a better chance to obtain more of the minerals and vitamins, which they need. To feed large amounts of scratch grain and mash low in protein for about a month before the pullets normally mature, tends to make them complete their development in better flesh. Experiments at the Cornell university experiment station show that pullets need a substantial reserve of fat when they begin to lay, for satisfactory production later.

Production of Quality Eggs During Summer

Summer is usually hard on the production of good quality eggs. However, there is no reason why good quality eggs cannot be produced and marketed in summer. Commercial poultrymen can do it; owners of farm flocks can, too, if attention is given to a few important points.

All male birds removed from the pens so the eggs that are laid are infertile is the first thing, since infertile eggs will not spoil so quickly as fertile eggs. Clean eggs is the next. It is always a temptation to wash eggs that are dirty so a good appearance will be given. Such eggs, however, are apt to age more rapidly than unwashed eggs, since there is a more rapid evaporation of the contents of the egg and the air cell becomes enlarged, giving the egg the appearance when candled of an old egg. Production of clean eggs in the first place will help greatly—have plenty of clean nesting material in the nests.

POULTRY NOTES

Gather the eggs twice a day.

Crowding at the feed hopper stunts the growth of chicks.

Watch for lice and mites. They multiply faster in hot weather.

Chicks need fresh air as well as heat. Leave windows open at the top.

Green feed in the poultry yard makes greenbacks in the pocketbook.

Keep poultry supplied with fresh clean water during hot months.

Of the total cost of producing poultry and eggs on most farms, 50 to 60 per cent is feed cost.

Fresh eggs contain more water than stale eggs. For this reason fresh eggs sink in water when immersed, while stale eggs float.

The requirements of incubation for turkey eggs are the same as for the incubation of chicken eggs.

Bare spots around the henhouse are incubators to breed parasites and disease. It pays to cultivate them up and sow to something green.

Lice and mites breed fast these hot days. And if you don't swat 'em and keep 'em swatted, they'll sap a lot of the growth and profit out of your flock.

A brooder house on clean ground is a profitable investment providing strong, healthy chicks are put into it. Otherwise it is as unprofitable as money in a "closed" bank.

Hens need water. It is an essential part of the ration, poultry specialists of the Pennsylvania State college say. A shortage of water causes a decrease in the number and size of eggs.

Use plenty of feed troughs. Start the chicks by nailing a two-inch strip around a nine-inch planed board and provide such a trough three feet long for every 100 chicks. More troughs are needed as chickens grow.

Do you remember that big capon you would like to have had last Christmas? It is time to caponize a few of the early hatched cockerels. The proper size for caponizing is at one and one-quarter pounds.

Barber Examiners

The State Board of Barber Examiners began its functions last week. The Board was created by the 41st Legislature for the purpose of licensing and examining barbers and regulating the barber trade of the state.

Three members compose the Board, J. E. Chessnut of Houston, C. J. Adams of Dallas and R. W. Johnston of Austin. At the first meeting Johnston was elected president of the Board, Morris C. Hankins of Robstown, Senate attaché, was appointed secretary.

The establishment of this and other boards was the reason for many observers pointing to the obvious socialistic trend of the state government. Bills proposing the regulating of "everything from hog-killing to permanent waves" were introduced in the last session of the Legislature. Several regulatory bills passed. Opponents of such legislation claimed that the the desired regulation had the effect of freezing out small independent operators and the forming of "professional trusts".

Anti-Mask Law Void

The Court of Criminal Appeals last week held invalid a part of the anti-mask law in reserving and remanding the case of Cain Anderson, Harrison County plantation owner, convicted of connection with a flogging by a masked band near Marshall in June, 1927. He was given an eight years prison sentence.

The anti-mask law passed by the 39th Legislature during the administration of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson. The legislation was directed at the Ku Klux Klan—attempts to make it an offense to disturb the inhabitants of a private house while disguised in such manner as to render the identity of the offender difficult to discern.

General vagueness and indefinite framing of the statute were the grounds given by the Court in holding a part of the law invalid. "We are of the opinion," said the Court, "that the terms in such manner as to render (the identity of the offender) difficult to determine refer to the term 'disguise' and do not relate to or in any manner modify the term 'masked'." Thus constructed the validity of a part of the section of the act under consideration can be sustained.

Texas Fire Loss

Texas suffered a fire loss of $9,614,357 during the first nine months of 1929, according to the State Fire Insurance Department. This figure is an increase of $1,627,342 over the previous corresponding period.

False Imprisonment

What may be the false imprisonment of a Spanish-American war veteran is being investigated by the State Board of Pardons and Paroles. The confession of his daughter, whose testimony sent him to the penitentiary, may give James L. Duke, 62 years old and one-armed, his freedom.

Five years ago Duke was convicted at Corsicana on a charge of criminal assault and assessed a 25 year sentence, which he is now serving. His daughter, now in school in Memphis, is purported to have confessed that her testimony was untrue and that her father is not guilty of the crime for which he was convicted.

The stern discipline of the parient engendered a hatred in the girl which caused her to testify falsely, she is reported to have confessed. A youth is named by the girl as being the person actually guilty of the crime.

Nine women were among the 105 applicants for a license to practice law, who were given examinations last week by the State Board of Legal Examiners.

Prospective prison sites near Austin are being inspected by A. H. Dunlap of the State Board of Water Engineers. The inspection was requested by the Texas Prison Centralization Commission for the purpose of determining water availability for irrigation and other uses.

The Attorney General has approved an amendment to the charter of the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway Co., authorizing it to build two extensions to its line in the Panhandle section. The extensions aggregate 148 miles, the theater of operations being in Potter, Moore, Sherman, Dallam, Hutchinson and Hansford Counties.

FOR TWO TRIPS, MAYBE

"Did you know, dear, that tunnel we just passed through was two miles long and cost $12,000,000?" said the young man to his sweetheart.

"Oh, really, did it?" she replied, as she started to re-arrange her disheveled hair. "Well, it was worth it, wasn't it?"—McLean News.

Jim Bourland of Pampa was in town the last of the week representing a savings and loan company which has its headquarters in his home town.

Memphis is steadily growing. The members of the Baptist church are adding an annex to their church for Sunday school purposes. The attendance has long since outgrown present housing facilities.

Lakeview is soon to have a band under the management of Mr. Paul James of Memphis who is now instructing five bands in that district.

D. E. Coombs of east Texas was caught here during the rains of the past week. He wanted to get out of the rain belt, but is having poor luck at present.

SCHOOL NOTES

Did You Know that—
The Alpha Delta Psi has elected new officers for the present school semester.

Neither the college Freshman nor Sophomores have elected class officers.

The Chemistry class was visited by Mr. Brown of Newark, N. J. last Wednesday.

The College Girl's basket ball team is making rapid headway.

This is one of the most studious college student bodies ever enrolled in Clarendon College.

The grades for the first college semester were mailed Thursday.

Mr. Stocking is the champion consumer of "Baby Ruth" bars in this section of the country.

November 11 will be observed as a holiday by the public schools.

Phifer Estlack needs a new pair of football socks.

When library books are kept too long, the borrower is charged ten cents per day, unless the book is on reserve in which case he is charged ten cents per period.

The faculty are a very deserving lot of individuals, after all.

It does not require a great deal of intelligence to throw chalk.

PALO DURO

The Palo Duro Literary Society met on Wednesday evening with sixteen members present. After a short business meeting, the first number on program was given. Mr. J. R. Wells gave a very interesting talk on the "Evolution of Ethics". He traced the development and read several codes of professional ethics. Every one enjoyed this immensely. Bill Wilder sang a negro song. Following this, the society enjoyed a very interesting debate upon the question: Resolved that college students should be required to attend church on Sunday. Miss Marvin Wood, speaker on the negative, won the debate. Miss Cecil Hukel and Bill Wilder sang a duet. After the critics report, it was decided that the society should learn some songs. After a short practice the society adjourned.

ALPHA DELTA PSI

The Alpha Delta Psi Literary Society had a regular meeting Wednesday evening November 6,

Memphis Plans Road Into Palo Duro Canyon

A delegation of Memphis citizens met with the recent motorcade at Amarillo to boost the idea of creating a state park embracing the Palo Duro canyon.

It is pointed out that the new highway for which paving bonds have been voted is within twelve miles of the canyon when it reaches Mulberry bridge.

Citizens of Clarendon also state that the most expensive part of the road will be from Mulberry bridge to the canyon. It is also noted that a good portion of the canyon is embraced in Donley county and that it would be cheaper to construct a road from this section into the canyon than from Mulberry bridge.

Attorney R. Harwood Beville was in town Friday looking after legal business. Mr. Beville reports Amarillo as gradually climbing up hill again and legal business for his firm as highly satisfactory.

With eighteen members Mrs. Clark, and one visitor present. The following program was rendered: Reading of constitution and By-laws—Joseph Brazil.

Violin Solo—Helent Slater.

Short Story—Eugene Estlack.

The society had decided to elect officers quarterly. November 6 being the end of the first quarter, the following officers were elected:

President, Joseph Brazil.
V-President, Eugene Estlack.
Secretary, Archie Pool.
Treasurer, Ruth Dunn.
Reporter, Jessie Swinburn.
Prosecuting Attorney, Phifer Estlack.

Seg. at Arms, Billy Dillard.

After discussing plans for encouraging debates, the society adjourned to meet next Wednesday evening November 13.

The Senior Class of Clarendon Junior College held a meeting November 8, 1929. The following officers were elected:

President, Gladys Noble; Vice president, Terry Smith; Secretary and Treasurer, Cecil Hukel; Reporter, Edna Gerlach.

The class discussed whether the college and high school should put out an annual. The following committee was selected to meet and discuss the annual with the other classes: Cecil Hukel, Maurine Wilson and Lois Alexander.

Pioneer Lawyer Dies At Memphis Wednesday

Judge J. F. Binkley, aged 69, well known to the profession of the Panhandle, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. W. Kuhn, Wednesday night.

The body was returned to the old home at Temple, Texas for burial beside that of his wife who preceded him in death many years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Went of Colorado are visiting his sister, Mrs. Archie Wood.

Six Men Mixed With Half Gallon Hootch—1 Dead

When six men took a half gallon of booze and started out on the highway from Wellington one day last week, a free for all fight occurred in which Foy Justice of Oklahoma was stabbed to death.

Haskell Joes, aged 23 and married, is in jail charged with murder. Both men were cotton pickers recently of Oklahoma.

Bobbie Lynch of Amarillo spent the week end with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Liesburg.

First Fireproof Construction in America

More Than 2,500 Years Old

In Arizona, the home of the cliff dwellers, an ancient civilization was discovered which built substantially against the elements of wind and fire.

Today, for proper protection and safety, we should likewise build substantially—but in addition insure adequately against losses from the same dangerous elements which beset man centuries ago.

Two Cows Complete a Long "Bunion Derby"

Two cows, Tomboy and Alice, have just completed a 1,275-mile walk from Brandon, Vt., to St. Louis, Mo., which began last June. Accompanied by three young men who rode in a "dairy on wheels" alongside the bovines, these Ayrshire cows demonstrated their hardiness by tramping over mountains and bad roads and finishing in excellent condition. The animals were milked daily in a portable pasture set up every night at the end of ten to twelve miles of hiking.

Zander-Gump Wedding Was Largely Attended

The Zander-Gump wedding play put on by local talent Tuesday evening at the Junior High School auditorium was a knockout. The taste was excellent and it went over big without a hitch. The crowd that packed the house enjoyed every minute of it. No special stars were discovered. R. Mulkey as "Jiggs" and G. G. Kemp as "Walt" on down to the "Kaxenjammer kids" left nothing undone to amuse the folks who had expected something humorous and found it in great gobs. The play was given under the auspices of the Bell Bennett Circle of the Methodist church who are profuse in their thanks for the assistance rendered them and the willingness on the part of our folks to help them in a time of need. Mr. and Mrs. "Rusty" Clark of Groom spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. C. M. Lane.

Hedley Mercantile House Moves To Better Stand

The Leader store of Hedley owned by Max Saied and operated by a nephew, was moved to the west side of the street into the building formerly occupied by the bank the past week. The stock is being largely increased with more lines added. This improvement in location and branching out process is due to an increased business which has been exceptionally good during the past month due to the excellent crops of the Hedley territory.

Gabe Garrett Parks Plane Here For Week

Gabe Garrett, only air-minded show man of our knowledge, has parked his plane at Clarendon for the week. His troupe put on their first show Monday night and will continue for the week. Gabe has thirty people in his aggregation this year and plenty of comedy.

D. P. Ross is slowly recovering from a paralytic stroke of Sunday morning. His condition for a time was so serious that his children were notified and both Mrs. Willis and Mrs. Eeville and their families arrived from Amarillo within a few hours.

The task of taking a census next year begins April 1st. It is proposed to complete the work by the first of May, thus consuming but one single month in the effort.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Clampitt are in Amarillo today looking after business interests.

Launa Earl, is the name given the little lady born to Mr. and Mrs. Tom C. Brown of Amarillo October 24th. Mrs. Brown was formerly Miss Pet Hedgpeh.

Mrs. Archie C. Hallmark and daughter, Nancy Beth, of Sharnock, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Kitch

Variety Of Weather Visits Plains Country Past Week

The heavy rains of the past week below the Cap Rock amounted to as much as two inches during Thursday and Friday. At the same time rains were falling below the Cap Rock, a twelve inch snow fell in Dalhart and over the section north of there. Snow, sleet and hail fell at many places including Canyon, Amarillo, Perryton and Borger.

Planing Mill Ships Order To South Plains

The planing mill of Watters & McCreary of this city received an order during the week to be shipped to Littlefield, down on the south plains. The article is a beautiful china closet which the owner will install in a new home. The order came to this firm through having done similar work of a high type.

County Hospital

(Continued From Front Page) and time. Like the other portions of the building, the rooms have been newly finished and newly furnished.

The patient attracting the most attention Monday was dubbed the "star boarder" in the person of a young man of twenty-one months who has been a patient almost since the hospital was opened under the new regime. His trouble is a fractured leg bone which necessitates swinging the injured member. John Oscar Row is his name and he is a model patient.

The hospital is under the direct supervision of Mrs. Ruth Teat, a graduate nurse of wide experience. Her work is meeting with popular approval as that of Mrs. Schiffer-decker.

The governing board is composed of Fred E. Chamberlain as president, Odos Caraway as secretary and treasurer and J. W. Martin, Dr. T. H. Ellis of Clarendon and T. E. Moreman and J. G. McDougale of Hedley. As a tribute to the founder, the name of Adair Hospital will be continued. Mrs. Cornelia Adair gave liberally of her means for suffering humanity during her life and the present building is indeed a fitting monument to this good woman.

Father-Son

Phifer Estlack was selected to represent the boy side of the question in paying tribute to the fathers. He outlined a boy's duty to his father, the reason why, and the necessity for co-operation between father and son. Closing his speech, Phifer illustrated with an anecdote the results of a lack of confidence as between father and son.

Short talks were made by Rev. W. H. Marler, Dr. B. L. Jenkins, J. H. Rutherford, Tom Connally, W. D. Van Eaton, H. Mulkey, Cal Merchant, Leon O. Lewis, L. Ballew and Wilson Ballew, G. G. Kemp, Rev. Robt. S. McKee, W. C. Stewart, and others.

Cal Merchant's father, aged 91, was the oldest father present. It was noted that L. Ballew, a resident of this section for a quarter of a century, was present with his five sons. J. C. Estlack, publisher of this paper, was also present with his five sons. The attendance of these "five soner" families, is an annual affair.

A quartett composed of Fred W. Rathjen, Robt. S. Cope, Jack E. Jones, Jr. and T. D. Nored enlivened the occasion with appropriate numbers while Miss Fray Stallings presided at the piano.

Benton Smith, as Vice President of the organization, presided over the election of officials for the ensuing year. Dr. H. L. Wilder was elected president, Phifer Estlack vice president, and G. L. Boykin was elected secretary for the year.

Wm. Wilder, T. E. Trostle and O. W. Latson were elected to succeed members of the board whose terms ended with the meeting Monday night.

The ladies of the Christian church served the bountiful lunch which was up to their standard of excellence.

NAZARINE CHURCH SERVICES

Rev. J. P. Fisher announces services of the Nazarine Church at the home of W. T. Fowler each Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. Also cottage prayer meeting each Friday night. Will meet in the home of W. T. Fowler this Friday night, 7:30 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended the public to attend these meetings.

Rev. J. P. Fisher, Pastor.

Peggy Jean is the pretty name given the handsome little lady who came Wednesday afternoon to make her home with Mr. and Mrs. James Grundy. Jim is a member of the Leader force operating the typesetting machine and a thousand other things. This is their first born and are therefore very jubilant.

Elpaso Man Accepts

Birney, Elpaso; John Perkins, Alpine; John Q. Adams, Winters; W. P. Hallmark, Dublin. A meeting of the directors is being held in Amarillo today.

It is believed that the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will devote more attention to bull circles, the cow, sow and hen programs and attempts to secure more payroll development for West Texas rather than so much "grand stand" show that means nothing except to the boys on the inside, who spend money for a good time rather than that for which it was intended.
