The pastor will make an earnest effort to outline some of the duties of a mother at the morning service, paying high tribute to her in the noble position she occupies in the world.

Several awards will be made at this service. The oldest mother present, the youngest mother, the mother of the largest family, and the mother who comes the greatest distance to attend these services will each receive special recognition.

Music and Dancing Offered on Friday Night Program

Pupils of the lower grades of the public schools are to present "My Spanish Sweetheart" at the College Auditorium Friday night. Between acts, the rhythm band composed of the children of the Primary Department will render several numbers. Miss Mary Cooke will direct the dancing numbers.

The play will be directed by Miss Altha Evers and Miss Lorena Stegall in which a group of English society girls make a tour of Europe escorted by American guides arriving in Holland in time for the Tulip Fetwe. The story is built around the prize given at the fetwe.

One hundred children of the lower grades will take part in these exercises for the purpose of raising funds for the purchase of instruments for the primary band.

Donley County Men Have Fine Wheat Prospects

A sample of wheat grown on the Murphy place southwest of town was brought to the Leader office Saturday by H. C. Brumley, measuring 34 inches in height with 21 well defined heads from the single grain planted.

The field contains 120 acres and is owned by H. C. Brumley and Lon Rundell who also have some 500 acres on the plains. The wheat on the Murphy place made 28 bushels last season, but with the present good season, will do much better this season.

Mrs. M. M. Nobles and daughter, Mrs. Walter Lewright, returned from a visit with relatives in Wichita Falls Saturday.

Congressman Will D. Upshaw
The above is a good likeness of America's most eloquent orator who will speak here Wednesday evening on the temperance question.

You may not agree with him in some respects, but you will admire his eloquence and earnestness.

Copious Rains Insures High Yield Small Grain Crop

Little Damage From Hail or Wind Reported Over Wide Area

Reports indicate that rains in varying quantity fell over the greater portion of west Texas the past week, and especially Thursday and Friday. No hail damage is noted, the greatest detriment being washed fields where poorly planned or no terracing had been done.

Donley county rain was evenly divided over the country with the exception of that section from Clarendon to and slightly beyond Leila east. Fields in this area suffered damage from excessive rainfall in that planted fields will again have to be replanted, and in some instances repairs made to terraced fields.

Fields with no terracing were badly washed. Lakes formed where they had not been known over a period of thirty years. Small grain fields in the western and north-western part of the county received rains without damage insuring a heavy yield as the grain had reached a stage requiring immediate moisture before the rain came.

Clarendon's ditch project stood the test and proved amply able to care for flood waters within the bounds of reason. Certainly the big rains of Friday did not tax the ditch to capacity.

Planting will begin in full blast this week just as soon as the ground dries out sufficiently. Hundreds of acres of corn and quite a bit of cotton already up escaped the heating rain belt and will be ready for the plow. W. A. Hughes of the Chamberlain community had already worked out his corn which was a promising stand insuring an early market crop.

Donley County To Hear Congressman Will D. Upshaw

Georgia's Famous Orator Will Speak on Liquor Question Wednesday

Congressman Will D. Upshaw, frequently referred to as the "Georgia Cyclone", will speak in this city on the subject "AMERICA'S GREATEST BATTLE", at the Methodist church of Clarendon at 8 p. m. Wednesday, May 7th.

Mr. Upshaw is vice-president of the Southern Baptist Convention, but is brought to our city under the direction of the Anti Saloon League of Texas.

His career has been a remarkable one. At that age when our youths generally are making their preparation for life's work, Mr. Upshaw was stricken down by an accident and lay for 8 years flat on his back in a plaster cast. When he had sufficiently recovered to leave his bed he entered earnestly upon his preparation for life. Though always a cripple, his accomplishments have been an inspiration to the youth of our land, for he arose from that bed of affliction and made his way to all places in the Congress of the United States, which position he held for 8 years.

As a prohibitionist Mr. Upshaw, consecrating himself to the Cause early in life, has never side-stepped the issue for political preferment. As an orator he is recognized as one of the most entertaining speakers on the platform. Some have accorded him a place along with William Jennings Bryan among the dry leaders of our nation. His command of the English language is wonderful and there is never a dull moment while he is on the platform. His message sparkles every minute. Though still required to use a crutch, his vitality is wonderful.

The citizens of Clarendon are invited to hear this speaker, who will bring great inspiration to every friend of Temperance. It is expected that an overflowing house will greet him.

Marine Test on River May Have Thorough Test

When operations stopped at a depth of 4,006 feet in the Sawyer or Marine test out on the river some time ago, there was general dissatisfaction because the formation was promising and those in authority claim that it is but a matter of depth to get oil or gas in paying quantities.

It is understood that the company backing the drilling operations is willing to stake five thousand dollars against a similar amount to put the hole down making a thorough test.

Local parties have raised a large amount of the required sum and efforts will be made to see that a final test is made of this location that is pronounced by eminent geologists to be the best in the county.

New Phillips 66 Station Will Open Saturday

The finishing touches are being put on the new Phillips 66 station this week preparatory to opening day which is to be Saturday. Henry D. Tomb, local distributor for Phillips products, is well pleased with the job in general and will give each purchaser of five gallons of gas on opening day, a coupon good for five gallons more.

The new station is located on West Second street on the corner occupied by the A. M. Beville residence on the pavement. The building is constructed along the lines in keeping with the custom of this company in using a design of the small house, double driveway, grease rack and about all that one would need to seek in service for an auto.

Art Club Will Sponsor Fall Flower Show

Plans for a fall flower show sponsored by the Les Beaux Art Club, are under way at this time. Coming this early in the season, this announcement will enable flower lovers to plant for exhibition purposes.

Dahlia, zinnias, cosmos, marigold and other fall blooming flowers are suggested by the club. Those interested in the prizes and general exhibits may secure further information from Mrs. T. H. Ellis, president of the club.

Mrs. Houston R. Miller of Canadian spent the week end visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Kerbow visited friends in Pampa Sunday.

"Tons of Money" Last Play of Season Little Theatre

Third Production is Staged For Tonight at College Auditorium

Handicapped by hindrance in variety, the date announced for "Tons of Money" presentation was changed to Tuesday night of this week. All of the cast is new with one exception. An extension of time has enabled the cast to have more time for rehearsals.

Kelly Chamberlain is the only "seasoned" actor in the cast, all others will be given their first opportunity to make a record in Little Theatre comedy tonight. Sprul, the butler, is taken by W. C. Stewart; Simpson, a Parlor Maid, is played by Mrs. Paul Smith; Mrs. W. C. Stewart plays the part of Miss Benita Mullett a slightly deaf and somewhat annoying member of the household; Louise Allington, the Wife of Aubrey, is taken by Mrs. Manley Ozier; Giles, the gardener is played by H. T. Burton; McHenry Lane plays the part of Jean Everard; Henry, the brother to Sprules is taken by George Garrison and George Maitland's part, the brother of Aubrey, is taken by Carl Parsons.

Rev. Allison Returns Home Saturday From Georgia

Rev. S. E. Allison, pastor of the Methodist church here, returned home Saturday after spending two weeks in Louisville, Kentucky attending a meeting of the Extension Board of the M. E. Church, South of which he is a member.

After concluding his labors in Louisville, he visited his old home in north Georgia and his only living brother at Americus, Georgia. Rev. Allison reports a very enjoyable trip though he found conditions very distressing in the east and labor conditions very acute.

Nine Districts In College Expansion Petition Drive

Junior College Will Likely Include Several Districts by Next Term

At a meeting of the School Board held Monday night of this week, petitions from nine school districts were presented asking for an election that they might become affiliated with the Municipal Junior College of Clarendon.

These petitions in some instances bore a hundred percent of the names of the taxpayers of the district, though only five percent was required to enable the County Board of Education to call an election.

The Ashton petition was circulated by R. S. Swinburne and Lu McClellan. Martin district was sponsored by C. J. Tally. Hackberry found a willing worker in the person of A. D. Arnold who got the names on their list.

Fairview folks readily recognized the advantages of free tuition in a junior college and signed up when W. M. Pickering presented their petition. E. O. Hutton passed around the petition in the Sunnyview district and found all his neighbors glad to help a good cause.

Chamberlain is keeping up with the front ranks of educational opportunities, and M. C. Rampey, school man and all-round community booster had no trouble getting names on his petition.

Hudgins found a real champion in the person of O. L. Jacobs and their petition was presented Monday night with the required signatures. The Goldston community has always been school-minded as we term it in 1930, and Leonard Goldston had the hearty cooperation of his neighbors getting the required signers in a short time.

Pleasant Valley was represented by John M. Potter. His community signed up a hundred percent on this petition just as they have on every other school petition circulated by him. Mr. Potter has been working for a county-wide junior college for a long time, and no man in Donley county has spent more time in the interest of education or his efforts more appreciated than that of John M. Potter.

Elections will be called at the earliest date possible that these communities may take advantage of the enlarged scope of educational opportunity the next term of school.

A number of good citizens, both men and women, in each community assisted in the work of circulating petitions and explaining the advantages to be gained by becoming affiliated with the Junior College. "This victory reflects the greatest credit upon the intelligence and cooperative spirit of the good citizens of Donley county," is the way one of our farmer friends expressed himself when informed of the progress of the work Monday.

Clarendon Pupils in Austin Interscholastic Meet

After having won their places in the district meet at Childress, Miss Lois Strawn and Miss Mildred Sparks entered the state meet at Austin. Miss Strawn was awarded 15th place and Miss Sparks ninth place in the state contest in typing.

They were accompanied to Austin by their teacher, Mr. J. R. Wells of the Commercial Department of the High School.

Rev. Allison Returns Home Saturday From Georgia

Rev. S. E. Allison, pastor of the Methodist church here, returned home Saturday after spending two weeks in Louisville, Kentucky attending a meeting of the Extension Board of the M. E. Church, South of which he is a member.

Art Exhibit is Best Ever Shown Here

The collection of pictures painted by Mrs. C. E. Palmer of Amarillo and exhibited in the Club Room under the direction of the Les Beaux Art Club proved to be the most interesting of all exhibits of this nature according to members of the Art Club.

Thirty-three beautiful pictures as a chief attraction and a wonderful display of flower decorations drew a large crowd each day. The reception held Saturday afternoon was attended by large numbers.

Many took advantage of the opportunity to see the pictures Sunday when the Club invited the public to the club room. Monday was largely devoted to the pupils of the public school when hundreds visited the exhibit.

Town Teams Stage Band Benefit Play Friday

The smoke of battle will break loose at the ball park Friday afternoon about four o'clock. There has got to be money raised and there has got to be found an outlet for a bunch of pent up energy.

Frank Whitlock claims to have the champion pill pounders of the Panhandle. Bunt Owen is also sure that he has a bunch of swatters that are unbeatable. The teams will clash as above stated.

It went cost much just twenty-five cents, to see some of the boys lose some of their egotism, and all the money goes to a good cause—helping the band boys. We can't do without the band.

The game will be umpired by Wesley Knorpp.

Donley County Farmers Buy Better Seed

Recent rains have created a wider demand for seed planting in this county. Over three thousand pounds of certified seed have been sold to Donley county farmers already this season, and two thousand pounds more have been ordered.

To date, the bins of this county have distributed twelve cars of cotton seed of the longer staple variety. This seed was imported and sold at a close margin as an inducement to get more of the improved varieties planted.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Watts has as guests Thursday, Mrs. J. T. Griswold of Childress and her daughter, Mrs. Hubert Seale of Floydada and Mrs. Culvert Griswold of Houston.

Merchants Hold Reorganization Meet Friday Night

Retail Merchants' Association Elects New Board—Curry C. Powell is Secretary

At a meeting of the retail merchants of the town held in the American Legion Hall Friday night, a reorganization of the Retail Merchants' Association was effected. This association has been in existence here for several years with varying degrees of success, and with the election of a new set of officers and a governing board, it is expected that much good may result.

This association is affiliated with the regional, state and national bodies permitting local members to reap a benefit national in scope.

With the exception of the secretary, all officers automatically become members of the governing board. Fred W. Rathjen was elected president; Eddie Teer second vice president; J. Frank Heath second vice president. Other members elected to the Board were E. P. Shelton and C. J. Douglas.

It is the purpose of this association to strengthen the credit of the honest man no matter how poor, and to protect the public against the rascal no matter how wealthy he might be. Meetings will be held monthly.

Mrs. Bob Lynch and daughter visited Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Liesberg.

Rotarians Will Continue Boy Work In Public Schools

President Jenkins Makes Members Come to Town With Nick Names

An unusual amount of merriement was produced at the Rotary luncheon Friday noon at the Antro when President B. L. Jenkins forced each member answering roll call to make his presence known by calling out his "nick" name.

Judge A. T. Cole rung the bell when he acknowledged the sobriquet of "Tecumseh" refusing to make public apology, but did promise private explanation of the appellation for the benefit of the club members.

Secretary C. C. Powell announced the receipt of an invitation from the Les Beaux Art Club asking the Rotarians to inspect the art exhibit which the Club was to exhibit Saturday and Sunday at the Municipal Building.

Gus E. Stevenson, guest of the Club, gave a saxophone solo and a cornet solo, accompanied on the piano by Rotary Ann Christine Stroder.

Dr. Oscar L. Jenkins was elected to membership in the Club at this meeting having complied with all the requirements incident to the selective restrictions of Rotary International.

During the past week Dr. B. L. Jenkins and Mr. C. W. Bennett spoke to pupils of the Martin school and J. Marvin Warren and J. C. Estlack spoke before the boys of the high school department at the College Auditorium. The Rotary club is making a special effort to reach all of the boys of the county, and speakers for the various schools may be had by request of D. R. Davis, chairman of the Boys' Work committee.

Senator Small Outlines Principles For State Race

Makes Plea for Political Aristic in His Opening Address at Amarillo

A crowd estimated at over two thousand cheered the Panhandle's candidate for the highest office within the gift of her people Friday night at Amarillo when State Senator Clinton C. Small made his opening address in what is believed to be the hottest political campaign in the history of the state.

Without mincing words, Senator Small stated the needs of the state and suggested how these problems may be met with as little confusion and expense as possible. He declared for a political aristice stopping the "hullabaloo" with which modern Texas has been burdened the past few years.

He declared for an administration of common sense and justice. He is opposed to state-wide bond issue because it isn't needed, the state now receiving forty million dollars gas tax annually for road building.

Senator Small went on record as favoring law enforcement including the prohibition amendment. He favors the modernizing of the present penal system without "giving away the present lands and buildings now owned by the state."

He favors laws that will equalize taxation and at the same time invite the investment of capital in Texas. He favors keeping Texas gas in Texas for the development of her natural resources.

Senator Small was introduced to his audience by John McKnight who gave a short history of his meritoric political career. Bands from Shamrock, Wellington and Clarendon participated in the rally while hundreds wore ribbons "All for Small" attesting the popularity of the Panhandle candidate.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Howe and mother of Claude attended the 40th anniversary program of the Sunday school at the Methodist church Sunday.

Hedley Parent- Teacher Association Meets Thursday

Patrons Are Urged to Visit School Exhibit On Same Day and Hear Program

The meeting announced for Thursday of this week at 3:30 p. m., will be the last of the season, and special efforts are being put forth to make it the most interesting.

Pupils of the school will have work on exhibit that will be an inspiration to patrons and friends of the schools of Hedley. This exhibit will afford the public an opportunity to learn something of the work being done and the wonderful progress being made.

As a special inducement, the Parent-Teacher association will award a prize to the grade having the largest number of parents present. Visitors day has always been a red letter day in school affairs of Hedley, and a large attendance is expected.

Following a short program, the new officials of the Association for the coming year, are to be installed. A complete report of the past year's work will be given followed by a round table discussion of plans for the coming year.

Strawberry Growers Dispute Championship of Boykin

Donley county famed as a strawberry producing section when any effort is put forth has come to the front the past week since G. L. Boykin, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce lent his name to the statement that he was the champion berry grower in the county.

Dr. H. L. Wilder has been growing strawberries for a number of years at his home on College Heights. Not only that, he claims the championship but has not seen fit to produce proof in quantity.

County Attorney R. Y. King brought a small—one single berry—to the Leader office Saturday that was on a par with anything produced in old Benton county, Arkansas, which is saying a whole lot. He claims a production of a quart of that size from thirteen vines set out in the fall. He has quite a patch of the everbearing Mastodon variety and will probably submit a larger sample during the week. Who's next?

HOW COME?

The same man who will give a beggar his last dime, will also shoot his best friend in a religious argument.

SOME CREED!

Omar D. Gray, in his Sturgeon, Missouri Leader says: As yesterday is history, and tomorrow may never come, we have decided that from this day on, we will do all the business we can honestly, have all the fun we can reasonably, do all the good we can willingly, and save our digestion by thinking pleasantly.

MOODY THE MIGHTY.

If one were to believe the statements contained in the prologues issued by Moody in defense of his administration, one might think that he had in some respects given the state a creditable administration.

His third installment will be inflicted upon the state soon, then we may expect his third term announcement.

BELATED APOLOGIES.

We read in ancient history where old Nebuchadnezzar was declared insane because he ate grass. It now develops that he knew his 'groceries' because scientists tell us that vitamins A and D are both found in grass in greatest quantities.

Now we want to know if sudan is a proper grass food, and when shall we turn our offspring loose on it?

SMALL'S CANDIDACY.

Even before his opening address some sections of the state is already crying "sectionalism" in connection with the candidacy of State Senator Clint C. Small. The entire Panhandle is termed the 'section-conscious' district of the state.

As a matter of fact the Panhandle people are the most liberal-minded people of the state. Were it not a fact, they would have long ago rebelled at the idea of paying taxes for East Texas.

THAT LONDON PARLEY.

Our representatives to the London Parley have returned home. Senator Robison of Arkansas, big squeeze from America suggests the expenditure of a hundred million each year on war vessels.

Italian representatives recommend construction of twenty-nine modern war vessels. The other representatives will be heard from just as soon as they reach home. This Parley was designed to put a stop to wasteful expenditures of war materials. In other words, we were told that wars would be found unnecessary following the signing of the agreement. Manufacturers supplying war materials should be given credit for employing lobbyists worth their salary.

PICTURE SHOWS.

Now comes the announcement that the picture show business is due to undergo a complete change during the next ten years. Television will be employed, the pictures and voices to be broadcast from a central station. Scientists tell us that we may get this picture show program over the radio.

THAT TAX PROBLEM.

Several of our citizens have received notices the past week acquainting them with the fact that their school tax valuations have been raised. In this connection it might be well to suggest that the records be examined and those holding notes be made to pay a tax on the notes as the law provides. Those who own an equity in property are asked to pay more than face value and the note holder collects interest on the notes which places a double burden on those who would invest.

High, unjust taxation kills all incentive for property accumulation and penalizes thrift. This being true, only an equalized system of taxation will provide a remedy.

COOKED CONVICTS.

Texas should profit from the lesson of Ohio when her state penal institution was almost instantly transformed into a charnal house, or veritable inferno. According to best information, Texas today presents the same possibility in more than one of her penal colonies.

No matter how heinous the crime, the convict is deserving of being kept in a fireproof structure until the demands of the law shall be met. The majority of those which might be classed as "cooked convicts" of the Ohio institution, were short term men, and men who fell victims of the mercenary motives of convicts bent on incendiarism as a means to escape.

Moving the Penitentiary.

Apparently there was no incentive to move our penitentiary from its present location until oil was found near the Ramsay farm. Could it be possible that a commission from the oil trust hatched out this moving enthusiasm?

THE DENVER ROAD.

In his issue of May 1st, editor L. E. Haskett of the Childress News takes this editor to task for making the editorial statement last week that "the Denver lost the opportunity to build from Childress to Pampa because it did not develop her territory".

In that same article Mr. Haskett lets the cat out of the bag when he stated that the Denver in early days of road building in the Panhandle "subscribed to all the newspapers." This editor does not accuse the Denver road of financial neglect for past acts of pioneer days, but when that road ceased to cooperate with her most valuable allies—the newspapers—in developing the Panhandle, she began at once to disintegrate until today she is practically helpless so far as public interest is concerned outside her payroll towns.

There is yet time for the Denver road to rebuild. If her officials learned a lesson, all is well. No public service corporation can hope to achieve any great amount of success without enjoying public confidence. There is no greater medium by which this can be built than through reputable newspapers of the country weekly type.

Frauds and Deadbeats.

The National Association of Credit Men reports the conviction of over 900 commercial crooks the past year. This number includes crooks operating on a national scope, many of them being mail frauds. Frauds have decreased by a third as a result of this relentless warfare on those who seek to get by on crooked methods.

The local association of retail merchants which was reorganized Friday, has the same object in view except that it operates more locally. It is often possible for a man to live in rented houses in Clarendon for more than a year without paying rent. He may move frequently, but he never pays. Each succeeding victim is ignorant of the past record of the renter, hence takes a chance. Such people should be listed and either made to pay in advance or weeded out of the town.

The same rule will apply to the payment of other bills. One merchant will get "stung" and refuse the crook further credit. The crook unabashed proceeds to another merchant and uses the credit of an honest man and in the end his bills are paid by the honest class patronizing the business man whom he swindles.

Clarendon has long been overrun with deadbeats just as is other towns. That class of folks hurt the credit of the honest man because the merchant adopts a more rigid plan of action. The bold deadbeat has a line of "bull" unbeatable in its persuasive powers. He hobs up at any moment in most any place.

Let's back the Retail Merchants' Association and weed out the crooks and make it possible for the deserving to obtain credit whenever it is needed.

Mrs. W. M. Patman is making rapid progress following an appendix operation at Adair hospital in this city.

HISTORY OF MOTHERS' DAY

The formal designation of a specific day as Mothers' Day was but recently made in this country, the custom of displaying filial veneration dates back to ancient times. Authorities state that the earliest record of formal mother-worship lies in the tales of the ceremonies by which Rhea, "the great mother of gods", was worshipped in Asia Minor. In this worship it was not so much the tender maternal aspect which claimed attention as the power and majesty of motherhood.

The worship of Rhea was introduced into Rome through Greece about 250 years before Christ. There it was held on the Ides of March, when the people made offerings in the temple, and was known as the festival of Hilaria. These offerings in the temple served to elevate motherhood into something of the dignity which rightfully characterizes it.

With the advent of the Christian era the festival still retained its old forms, but because infused with a new spirit. From the celebration with pagan rites in honor of Rhea there developed an observance in honor of Mother Church. In this celebration it became the custom on Mid-Lent Sunday for the faithful to visit the churches in which they were baptized, bearing gifts for the altar.

From this festival of worship in honor of the Mother Church there grew the observance of "Mothering Sunday," tho the successive steps in this development are not clear. It is certain, however, that long ago when young men and maidens were bound out as apprentices and as servants, Mid-Lent Sunday was set aside for them some little present such as a cake or trinket. The pleasing bonds of filial love were brightened by this pleasant annual visit marked, as custom dictated, by the excitement attendant upon some novel and perhaps surprising gift. There was also a cheering and peculiar festivity appropriate to the day, the chief dish being furmety, consisting of wheat grains boiled in sweet milk and sugared and spiced. There is no discoverable line of descent to the present observance from the holiday when English apprentices went a-mothering, tho the modern festival is perhaps the most conscious and deliberate effort a nation ever made to honor motherhood.

The observance of the second Sunday in May as Mothers' Day has now become firmly established in this country. The object of the setting aside of this day is to honor the memories of mothers who have gone, to brighten the lives of those who remain, and to foster among men, women, and children the love of their homes and their parents. The day is observed by showing some kindness to mother, by service in churches of every creed, and by celebrations of other organizations.

Mothers' Day received widespread recognition about 1910 when it was observed by a number of cities in the United States. On May 10, 1913, a resolution passed both houses of Congress commending the observance of the day by Congress and the executive departments of the government. In the same year Nebraska made it a state flag day in honor of the patriotism of Nebraska's homes. In 1914 Congress authorized the President of the United States to designate by annual proclamation the second Sunday in May as Mothers' Day and to display the American flag on government buildings and private homes. The first national proclamation setting aside this day was issued by President Wilson on May 9, 1914. —Newark Evening News.

Brice Farmer Likes Mebane Variety of Cotton

While in town this week, Mr. M. H. Salmon, one of the leading cotton growers of the Brice valley, called at the Leader office and said: "Tell the folks that old man Salmon can raise a seven-eighth staple from pure old Mebane that I have been growing for ten years."

A bale to the acre is not uncommon in the rich Valley and we believe that Mr. Salmon meant every word of what he said.

Indians to Unveil Monument To Quanah Parker Near Lawton

By Bert Thompson
LAWTON, Okla.—Members of the Comanche and Kiowa tribes of Indians, from all over southwestern Oklahoma, will gather at Post Oak mission, five miles west and four miles north of here Sunday afternoon, May 4, at 2:30 o'clock when a monument, made of Wichita mountain granite, will be unveiled and dedicated to the memory of Quanah Parker, last great chief of the Comanches.

Distinguished ranchers, delegations of business men and representatives of state and nation will mix and mingle with the Indians as final tributes to the memory of a great man are paid. The Lawton Chamber of Commerce at the request of the Parker children, is making arrangements.

As a guard of honor there will be drawn up a line of native Americans, members of the I-See-O American Legion Post on the one hand and a squad of soldiers from Fort Sill on the other. A salute will be fired by each to the memory of a man who figured prominently in the early day history of Texas and Oklahoma.

According to plans, the services will open with the singing of America. A song in Comanche language will follow, led by Fred Ticeah-kie, and another Kiowa led by Hunting-His-Horse, both leaders being old men and former friends and companions of the illustrious chief.

J. A. Buntin, superintendent of the Kiowa Indian agency at Anadarko, will represent the government in presenting the monument. He will be followed by Hon. Jim Nance, speaker of the house of the Oklahoma state legislature, who will pay Oklahoma's tribute. Rev. A. J. Becker, pioneer Indian missionary, will be the principal speaker, paying an eulogy to his former friend. Rev. Becker knew Quanah perhaps better than any white man knew him and this aged minister officiated at the chief's funeral in February, 1911. Quassyah, a well known member of the Comanche tribe, will pay the respects of the Comanches to their former leader while Lewis Ware will speak in behalf of the Kiowas. The veil will be removed from the monument by Alberta Clark and Rowena Aesnap, two granddaughters of the late chief. Baldwin Parker will represent the family in acknowledgement of gratitude for the honor conferred upon his father. Harry A. Stroud, manager of the chamber of commerce, will act as chairman of the meeting. Girl students from the Fort Sill Indian school will sing "Nearer My God to Thee," and will illustrate it in Indian sign language.

The cities of Quanah, Texas, and Nocona, Texas, have been asked to have representative business men and civic leaders present. The former town was named for Quanah Parker and the latter for Quanah's father. Outstanding cattlemen of pioneer days from over the Panhandle of Texas have been sent special invitations on behalf of the family.

Expect 3,000 Indians
Aloud speaking system will be installed in order that the large crowd expected may follow closely the services. The commandant of Fort Sill and his staff are expected to be in attendance.

According to those arranging the services some 3,000 Indians are expected to be in attendance and it will no doubt be one of the most colorful gatherings ever held in the southwestern part of the state. Indians clothed in the height of fashion will stand beside their kinsmen who will wear blankets, but all alike will honor the memory of their fallen leader.

Quanah Parker lived in another world than the one which now does him honor. He lived at a time when the Comanches came to a fork in the road. There was no sign posts to point the better route. One road was the Indian road and this was a continuation of the trail which had been followed by red men always. It was the way of the open prairie and led across dim trails of the war parties of generations. It led into the land of the vanishing legion of buffalo upon which Comanches had depended for their food since Niopol, the Indian god had made this land for his people. There were many familiar landmarks along this route. The other was into a strange surroundings, for it was the way of the white man. It carried the band into the land of a new God where the tepee of the medicine man was laid aside for brick hospitals, where the religious chants around the camp fires would be discarded for solemn worship; where every custom must be changed.

As the tribe stood undecided at the cross road of life, Quanah Parker, last great tribal leader, was the Moses who led his people from the wilderness of doubt into the new road and became the pioneer of Indian education. It was Quanah who urged his people to beat their spears into plow shares and to know war no more. It was Quanah who inspired his people to plant corn and till the soil. He was the defender of their rights, the champion of the weak, the friend of the oppressed.

Indian Man of Destiny
Quanah Parker might be well termed the Comanche man of destiny. Like the name of George Washington is reversed by the American people so is the name of Quanah dear to the Comanche Indians. It has been said of Washington that he was "first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

No better words could be written to describe the character and qualities of Quanah Parker. In the last dim hours of Indian freedom it became necessary for Quanah Parker to lead a great battle against the whites who had violated solemn treaty terms and invaded the land which had been set aside for his reservation. The greed of the advancing army of civilization, which had driven the buffalo from Canada into the plains of Texas and Oklahoma, was not satisfied with its ruthless carnage, which ended on the banks of the Arkansas river, but in violation of the Medicine Lodge treaty the vanguards pushed forward into the sacred realms of Comanche land and established themselves at Adobe Walls, an old fortress in the Panhandle of Texas. There, under the protection of arrow proof walls, expeditions were sent forth into the surrounding territory and slaughter of the buffalo by the thousands was begun. For several days the quiet of the plains was unbroken. Then as the dawn broke on the morning of June 25, 1884, a band of Comanche warriors, the Cossacks of the plains, led by a daring, dashing chieftain, descended upon the strong fortification and contested the invasion of the plains. All day long the battle raged and tremendous toll was wrecked upon the Indians by the sharp shooting buffalo hunters who were supplied with unlimited ammunition. Quanah had relied upon the element of surprise to win the battle, but incursions scouts, impatient to wreck vengeance, had sent a warning ahead by covert acts to outposts. Late in the afternoon the defeated warriors gathered their wounded and retreated back from whence they came and their last grim efforts to save the last frontier had failed.

Son of White Woman
The life of Quanah Parker was one filled with activity and mixed emotions. His father was a leader of men, a chief in the tribe of the Comanches. His mother was a white woman, coming from a hardy stock of Missouri pioneers. In his blood was the pride of Indian royalty, the patience of a race which for countless ages had been taught to notice the slightest misplaced twig along the trail. Patience, born of stalking the wild elk and the glorious lessons of nature ancestors. From his mother came the hardness of pioneers who knew not the end of the wilderness, nor feared its dangers. From her he learned steadfastness of purpose and loyalty and from her he developed the power of seasoning.

The story of Cynthia Ann Parker, mother of Quanah, is known to every school child. It was in May, 1836, in what is now Parker county, Texas, that the pioneer family of Parkers were attacked by a band of Comanche Indians. Among the prisoners was Cynthia Ann, who was then 9 years old. All efforts to retake her from the Indians failed for many years and the little girl grew up as an adopted daughter of the tribe. In 1860 a Texas ranger force succeeded in locating the band which had held her captive. It was ruled over by Chief Nocona, father of Quanah. At the time of the encounter Chief Nocona was absent, but his wife, Cynthia Ann, was captured. Quanah, then a lad of 12 years, escaped. Cynthia Ann was returned to her people, but she did not like the civilized life and longed for her wild home and dashing chieftain. Beside the fireplace of a comfortable home she grieved for her little boy and pictured him riding alone, uncared for on the plains, hounded by pale face invaders. Finally the last great tragedy in her life came when her little daughter, Prairie Flower, passed on to the hunting ground and soon after Cynthia went to join her lovermate of the plains, who to had died of a broken heart.

Becomes Chief
Quanah Parker, for he later took his mother's name, was riding the prairies, but not alone. Adopted into the tribe he showed great bravery in battles and at the age of about 19 years succeeded his father as chief of a daring band. His military career was culminated in the battle of Adobe Walls and soon following this struggle he made peace with the white men.

In March, 1909, congress passed an act authorizing the appropriation of $1,000 to be used in erecting a monument for Cynthia Ann Parker. Quanah obtained permission to use a portion of the money in exhuming the body from a Texas cemetery and moving it to Post Oak mission. Parker himself selected the burial spot for his mother and requested that he be buried at her side. She was reburied at Post Oak mission, Dec. 1, 1910, and to this event Quanah invited white people and Indians. On that occasion he gave the following address in English:

"Forty years ago my mother died. She was captured by Comanches, 9 years old. Love Indian and wild life so well no want to go back to white folks. All same people anyway. God say. I love my mother. I like white people. Got great heart. I want my people follow after white way, get educate, know work and make living when payments stop. I tell 'm they got to know pick cotton, plow corn. I want 'um know white man's God. Comanche may die tomorrow, or ten years. When end comes they will all be together again. I want to see my mother again. That's why when government United States give money for new grave, I have funeral and ask white folks to help bury. Glad to see so many of my people here at funeral. That's all."

Father of Ten
At the foot of the Wichita mountains, north of Cache, Quanah established his home and there surrounded by his friends and family he lived a useful and inspiring life as civilization spread itself about the plains upon which he once hunted buffalo. Almost in the shadow of these beautiful mountains he found his last repose when buried at Post Oak mission. He is survived by 10 children as follows: Mrs. Neda Birdsong of Cache; Baldwin Parker of Indianoma; White Parker of Phoenix, Ariz.; Tom Parker Apache; Lenn Parker, Apache; Mrs. Mary Clark, Lawton; Mrs. Alice Purdee, Lawton; Mrs. Cox, Lawton; Mrs. Tahmah-kera, of Cache, and Mrs. Wanda Page of Lawton.

Mrs. Neda Birdsong still resides in the old Parker homestead and together with Mrs. Bert Banks of Cache, has been instrumental in securing the $1,500 appropriation from congress which makes the monument possible. A beautiful stone was selected from a new quarry and work was completed on the slab several days ago. It stands beside the monument to Cynthia Parker, well concealed by covering and will not be displayed until the two little granddaughters of the illustrious chief pull aside the covering at the unveiling services.

By Douglas Malloch
I think God took a patch of blue
To make your baby eyes;
They are so much alike, the two—
God's babies and God's skies.
I think God took a robin's call
To make your baby words;
I cannot tell your song at all
From music of the birds.
I think God took a woodland rose
To make your baby lips;
They are pink petals like to those
The honey-merchant sips.
I think God took a bit of sun
To make your baby curls—
Of all His treasures, ev'ry one,
God makes His baby girls!

Texas Prison Population Reaches High Peak
During the past year the prison population increased by 429. During the same period, 302 escaped, 12 were pardoned, 22 paroled and 375 were furloughed by the Governor. 52 died during the year. Prisoners on hand now total 5,055 as compared with 4,561 a year ago. During the past 12 months 2,592 have been received and 1,873 discharged.

Jones Seeks U. S. Grading Cotton Seed

BILL INTRODUCED IN HOUSE WOULD PROVIDE FOR GOVERNMENT SUPERVISION

Government supervision of the grading of cottonseed similar to that now carried on with wheat, corn and other grains, is authorized by a bill introduced in the House of Representatives by Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo.

Under the terms of the measure, the department of agriculture would set up a grading system for use in price fixing of the cotton seed by dealers and gins, and be empowered to enforce the terms of the system.

Jones, before presenting his bill to congress, held several conferences with departmental officials and announced that it is his belief that the department of agriculture will approve the proposal.

In a statement accompanying the bill, the Texan pointed out that cottonseed is one of the principal products of the south, 400,000,000 bushels, valued at $230,000,000 having been produced in 1929.

The quality and value of corn, wheat and other grains, less important than cotton seed, are determined by adequate systems of grading, he said. As a consequence, cottonseed, regardless of the quality, is sold by the producer at the price of the lowest quality seed, and speculators have often taken advantage of this condition. The farmer suffers the loss.

Chester C. Manly, well known to Clarendon people, is now a reporter on the Chicago Tribune having severed his connection with a Milwaukee paper where he has been employed in the same capacity for several months.

MOTHER'S DAY POEM

The name I love and is so dear
The name of Our dear mother.
No other voice can fill our home
By father, sis or brother.
Her daily toils from day to day
With smiles she keeps 'em working.

And when father comes in for lunch
Can see she's not been shirking.
Lets honor her and help her fight
We'll win out at the end.

We want to make her feel
That she's the dearest friend.
Just put your arms around her
Pull her to your heart.

Tell her that you love her dear
And hope we never part.
Those golden tresses mother dear
Grow prettier every day.
The smiles on your face to me
They never fade away.

So if you have a mother start right away
Getting ready for the 11th which is Mother's Day.

Hand to her a flower, just a wild one will do
Show her your affection for her is really true.
She notices all the kindness, your good conduct too
We all will enjoy it if this we only do.

Carry her out riding or a moving picture show
As she deprives herself oft times to let others go.
While father gives her flowers
Or candy rare and sweet.

We kiddies be obedient
Her pleasures we won't cheat.
Save for her a rocker
A cozy arm chair.

She surely will enjoy it
With all the family there.
Play for old melodies
Sing with joy all the way.

Make her really the event
On dear Mother's Day.

Windy Valley Farmer Tries Modern Methods

Among the more progressive farmers of the Windy Valley section to take up modern methods and ideas in their farming is J. S. Harlin, who was the second man there to terrace his land.

Land that produced nine bales of cotton was made to produce fourteen after terracing on an experimental plot. Most of the field of 200 acres were terraced the past spring, R. E. Mann of Hedley assisting in getting the work started.

Mr. Harlin owns 317 acres with 200 under cultivation as stated above. He bought the land four years ago when the place was run down and badly washed. While he usually plants a large acreage to cotton, only 75 will be allotted the staple this season.

Poultry is more than a side line on this farm, the local hatchery taking the egg production from a fine bunch of Reds at a premium. Cows are found to be a good investment and the herd is headed by a registered Jersey bull. Mr. Harlin and one of the boys attended the Plainview dairy show and own some of the milk stock grown in that section.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Boswell and children spent the week end here guests of the lady's parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Murrell.

a letter from your car

YOU'VE BEEN TELLING THE WORLD YOUR CAR CAN DO MORE THAN ANY OTHER CAR SO DON'T SAY IT CAN'T WRITE A LETTER!

To My Owner:
What is this rumor I have been hearing about a vacation trip?
If I am the car that is going to take you there and back, I would like to make a suggestion:
What would add more pleasure to your vacation than Star De Luxe tires?
Of course, I am only your car, but I'd feel much better about myself if Stars, the heaviest and handsomest of all automobiles tires, were on my wheels.
Besides, I understand there is an especially attractive trade-in offer just now on the tires you have on me at the present time.
Just between you and me and the truck you just missed down the street I am getting tired of other cars equipped with Stars, giving me that look that seems to say, "get right, get right, you old tub; line up with us, so you can see you've got the finest tires that money can buy, that's us!"
Let's pip this up before we leave on that vacation trip.

Miss Thompson Writes Interesting Letter

Dear Club Girls at Ashtola, Martin, Goldston, Lelia Lake, Hedley, Bray, McKnight, Giles and Windy Valley.

When I left Clarendon I thought I would write to each one of you separately but I am always busy no matter where I am. So because Mr. Estlack was kind enough to ask me to use his paper for the sending a letter back to my friends in Donley County, I choose to send all of you the same letter at the same time. I hope by this time you are doing splendid work for Miss Smith. She is a fine C. H. D. A., who is willing and anxious to help you learn and earn all you can in club work, so be just as diligent as you were when I left and I am sure those orchards we set out, and that garden work we began and those chickens you had either hatching or hatched, when I left will turn out well enough that you can have some money of your very own. You know the Bankers and Chamber of Commerce at Clarendon are cooperating with you this year, so that you will have a market for all standard Home Demonstration products, canned or prepared for the market under the direction of the Home Demonstration Agent and properly labeled with 4-H standard labels. You should make the necessary efforts to attend all canning demonstrations and other demonstrations too, for that matter, so that you will be sure your products are standard.

I can just imagine you now in the midst of your 4-H appropriate Dress Contest work. I hope you have even more girls in the contest than we did last year, and that your dresses will be still better than the contest dresses were last year. We had some artistic dresses done by club girls last year so you will have to "make the best better" to beat them, but I'm expecting you to.

How many of you have built those little book shelves I gave you the patterns for? They are very nice things to have, and since I'm in school I am going to build one in my own room, because I don't want my school books and papers mixed up with anybody's and I can't find them if I put them with the books in the Library shelves by the fire place. You will be making your dresser scarfs too. How about those records and histories girls? You must enter your work in those, whether it turns out well or not because when you are a 3rd or 4th year club girl you want your records to be the most accurate and worthwhile you can make them, because girls who have kept record of all club work that long, may enter a scholarship contest and if by the evidence given in these records and histories the State Home Demonstration Association is convinced that you are one of the 3 most worthy H. D. Club girls in Texas, they give you $300.00 to pay your expenses in the college of your choice. Besides that, Records and Histories are necessary to win in this year's county contests, and fairs.

Oh, there's your yard beautification work you must be doing too! Do you know I have done some of everything I have mentioned that is in your club work, right here on Daddy's farm since I have been home this one month. By the way, I have been trying out some new vegetables: corn salad plant; roquette; fennel; chervil; parsnip; Chinese mustard Spinach; chicken Chinese lettuce; Oriental cabbage; brood leaved batavian endive; brussels sprouts; kolrabi; brocoli; long black spanish radish; rhubarb;—Ooh well, I need not name them all, because there are 50 and you are already familiar with some of them. But I aim to know gardens for Texas "from A to Z" if I can learn that much, between now and next September. In our landscape gardening class at C. I. A. we learn about beautifying home grounds. I am in a class of about 20 and Mr. Westcourt who is our instructor nearly walks us all over 20 acres at each class, telling us names of trees shrubs and vines, the climatic conditions necessary for their growth; soil requirements, liability to injury by insects pests or diseases, how to use these plants in border, in foundation, in specimen, in pergolo or trellis plantings. We also get leaves and flowers of each plant we study and press these for our note books, and in the notes we have extracts from various landscape gardening books we study about the way people have achieved beautiful landscape effects in the past.

Then a part of the day, I sit in a vocal music class, where the teacher gets after us if she can see us breathe, and she makes us sing "hung" and "hm" up and down the scales till she can hear it tickling our noses on the inside. Woe! be unto the person who doesn't use her "resonators", and makes a "throaty" sound; for she has to stand up before the class and sing "Lah", and "A" and "Oh" and "Nah" holding on to her diaphragm, to see that her breath is right, and holding under her chin to see that muscles there are relaxed, and all the while holding her mouth open wide, not moving the lower jaw, and just forming the words with her tongue. If your "tone quality" suits the teacher, well enough, she will let you sing a song or a part of one and then you have to use your imagination and get into the mood of the song so thoroughly that those who hear you will forget all about the singer, and think of the message in the song. The first time I tried a song, I was so confused I think the teacher thought me hopeless, but the next time she said "How did you do it?" When I told her I just forgot about all those things we had said about how to sing, and turned my throat loose and sang like there wasn't anybody in a hundred miles to hear me, she didn't know whether she liked what I said or not, but she said she liked the way I sang any way.

If you girls ever can imagine how it would look for all the people in Clarendon or Hedley on a busy Saturday to be girls, dressed in blue or white, maybe you can get a faint idea of what it looks like around C. I. A. when it is chapel time, or meal time, or time to change classes.

Soon after I got home the C. I. A. Annual picnic was held and 7200 Hot Dogs and 3600 buns eaten at Picnic.

Weiners, 7,200 of them, 60 pounds of bacon and 3,600 buns were purchased for the semi-annual all-college picnic which was held in Lowry woods—Thursday evening at 5:30 o'clock, according to Miss Florence Boyd, dietitian of Brack-enridge Hall. All students enrolled in the college, both local and dormitory students, and all faculty members were invited.

Two crates of sliced onions completed the hot dog sandwiches, and 500 pounds of potatoes were used to make salad as a side dish. Twenty quarts of cream and 8 pounds of sugar made the 45 gallons of coffee an important addition to the menu.

Fourteen crates of apples vied with 2,000 individual cups of ice cream and 1900 cookies for first place for "topping off" the meal. All this food was assembled on 1800 paper plates and eaten with 1800 paper forks and as many wooden spoons.

It is a great life, and I'm glad to be a school girl again even tho I hated awfully to leave you people in Donley county. I had my leave request in 3 months before I left, but I didn't want to say good bye, and I hope you girls will forgive me for not telling you when I was with you last that I was going. Another reason I didn't tell you was because I was afraid we might just waste a meeting talking about it, when we needed to be getting your club work done. Everytime I think of you I hope you are all living up to your 4-H pledge.

I honestly say that from the way the Chamber of Commerce, the Commissioners' Court, the business men of Clarendon and Hedley, Lelia Lake and other communities, individually and collectively in Donley County were pulling for successful club work, making possible a better, broader agriculture for Donley county, no club girls in Texas are being more strongly backed than you are. My work with you was pleasant, because of your cooperation and their cooperation. I would not have left you had it not been that I had the opportunity to do school work, for which I had worked and planned ever since before I came to Donley county. I expect to go back to C. H. D. A. work this fall and I hope the county I get will be one near enough to you so that I can visit you and see the splendid work you will be doing. Wherever we are let us all remember to mean our club prayer; "Help me oh Lord, to live so that the world will be a little better because Thou didst make me. Amen." and let us pray it often.

Yours very truly,

THE OLD HOME.

By A. F. Caldwell.

There's a mother, bent and wrinkled, in a home back 'mong the hills,
And a longing for a letter that mother's lone heart fills,
Just a line from son or daughter, who for years has been away;
But the letter's long in coming—none she gets day after day.
No one knows how still and lonesome is that house, where years ago
Mother rocked the old, red cradle, gently, gently, to and fro;
Soothed away child griefs with kisses, bound up cuts and fingers sore,
And a smiling watched the playing on the spotless kitchen floor,
Merry children round the table; quaint old dishes white and blue;
Now none come when dinner's ready, table's only set for two,
Often when the light is waning, from the little parlor-stand
Mother takes an old-time picture

John W. Swinney Making Race for Sheriff

The Leader is authorized to announce the candidacy of John W. Swinney of Hedley as a candidate for the office of sheriff of Donley county. Mr. Swinney has been a resident of Donley county for the past thirteen years. He states that he has been too busy working for the public in his place of business in his home town to get acquainted with many people, but will do his best to see every one and present his claims.

Never having asked for a county office before, Mr. Swinney has no political debts to pay, is making no promises except to say that he will do his utmost to show the public every courtesy, discharging the duties of the office without partiality.

Resident of Forty Years Gets Poultry Fever

Coming to old Donley county forty years ago Hayes B. Robbins was a cow puncher. In later years he became a carpenter for a number of years. Now he has changed his ideas, has taken a five year lease on the present location of the Park's dairy and gone into the poultry business.

The buildings have been fitted up for the business. Brooders have been provided and the chick population Monday stood at 2200 with a thousand more to be added within the week. All purchased of the local hatchery.

Good equipment, plenty of range and a man in charge in dead earnest giving it his attention day and night is likely to make some of our more experienced poultry folks sit up and take notice.

The mixed breeds will be sold for broilers as they become ripe for market and the better breeds will be kept for breeding purposes for which there is a good market in this section.

W. M. Jordan Gets Two Years On Forgery Charge

Answering to a forgery charge alleged to have been committed in Montague county, W. M. Jordan, a former resident here, received a sentence of two years at Montague Wednesday. An insanity plea is alleged to have been offered for defense.

Those attending the trial from here were Mrs. W. M. Jordan, Miss Mabel Curlee, J. T. Lane, J. J. Lane, J. J. Alexander, A. N. Wood and Dr. Wilder, the latter refusing to attend until accompanied by Montague's sheriff, and then under protest.

There yet remains a bigamy charge against the defendant, he having alleged to have married a young lady of Bowie in an Oklahoma town soon after leaving here.

Mr. Jordan received a pardon during Mrs. Ferguson's administration after serving six years of what is alleged to have been a one hundred and fifty-six year sentence on two charges from Childress county some years ago.

Sage of Salt Fork Pays Respect to Leader

The "Sage of Salt Fork" who claims to know less about more things than anyone, paid his respects to the Leader sanctum Monday. Ed Boliver knows more about Texas politics than any other man in the Panhandle. County politics do not interest him so much because he is a friend to all the boys in the race.

In discussing the state situation, Ed is of the opinion that we are in one hell of a mess—whatever that is—and he offers no remedy except Lynch Davidson. He knows the back political history of all the boys in the race and it would never do to print it.

Local Hatchery is Making Liberal Offers

Responsible people are being made an interesting offer by the local hatchery. Mr. Frank White, manager of the firm, is willing to sell a limited amount of chicks on fall time to those who wish them, according to the advertisement in this issue.

Last season, a number took advantage of a similar offer and found that they could sell enough roosters from their flock to pay the entire bill. We mention this fact here because it is well worth while for those wanting chicks to investigate the offer. You can make the chicks pay handsomely without a cash outlay.

FEDERAL FARM BOARD

1300 E. Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Telephone Mt. 3687 Br. 15

Friday, May 2, 1930

For release at 1 p. m.

In response to requests by newspaper correspondents, Chairman Legge of the Federal Farm Board made the following comment on the resolution relating to the Agricultural Marketing Act adopted by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at its annual meeting:

The Chamber of Commerce proposes to make the Farm Board impotent and would sponsor another national conference to adopt some more resolutions of sympathy for agriculture.

That action simply confirms what we told the membership of that organization Wednesday—They are for something to help the farmer only until they find out it works.

Naturally, we had hoped they would support our efforts to aid agriculture, but if they are going to oppose us we are glad they have come out in the open. It's much easier to deal with an enemy who is squarely against you than one who pretends to be friendly but fights you behind your back.

Our client is the farmer and we are going to continue to serve him just as the Agricultural Marketing Act intended we should—for his benefit, not the benefit of someone else.

ASA YATES WAS AWARDED FIRST PRIZE

Our report in last issue naming awards of the Les Beaux Art Club was slightly in error in that Asa Yates, aged 14, was first prize winner in the feeder contest instead of Asa Watters.

This youngster is personally responsible for his feeder, never having secured even a suggestion from anyone as to how it might be built. While helping his father, A. O. Yates, caretaker of the courthouse, he spent idle moments in the basement working on his project. Bit by bit he saw it develop into a full grown prize-winning feeder and is due no little credit for his achievement.

OUR WEEKLY CHURCH CHAT "A Mother's Care"

The motherhood of the world is the life of the world. This life is from God, it is sacred. An Old Jewish Rabbi has truthfully said, "Because God could not be every where he has given us mother's." Next to Christ Himself, God's greatest gift's to the world was woman. The great human race needs a savior. Each individual of the race needs a mother. Woman cannot accomplish the tasks of man. God never intended her to. He gave to man the strength to battle with the world, and to the woman the tenderness and gentleness to sustain and help man. And the true glory of motherhood is likened only to the glory of angels that circle the throne of God and sing praises unto Him the Most High.

Well may we pause at this season of the year to pay honor to them, our Mothers. Into the valley of shadow of death she walked, that we might have the light of life. In her arms was the barber of our food, and the soft couch of our repose. There we nestled in the hour of pain, there was the playground of our infant glee. These same arms later became our refuge and stronghold. It was she who taught our baby feet to go, and lifted us over the rough rough places. It was mother that put the books under our arm and started us off for school. But best of all she taught our baby lips to lip the name of Jesus and told us first the wondrous story of a Saviour's love. A father may turn his back on his child, brothers and sisters may become enemies, husbands may desert their wives and wives their husbands, but a mother's love endures through all.

The Christian Church may be likened to a loving mother. From the cradle to grave the ministrations of the Church follows us. Through her teachings we come to the knowledge of God and His guiding word. Her task is the building of character. Her influence constantly goes forth against evil and wrong doing. In weakness and sorrow she strengthens and comforts us. For the neglected and untaught she builds schools; for the sick, hospitals for the destitute and forsaken, orphanages and asylums. These are the footprints of the Church as she follows her Lord.

On Mother's Day, we hope to present some helpful lesson on the duties of mothers in the morning message, "A MOTHER'S FIDELITY". At this service several awards will be made. The oldest mother present, the youngest mother, the mother of the largest family, and the mother who comes the greatest distance, will receive special recognition. Sunday night in our sermon, "BORROWED RELIGION" we want to show the folly of trying to borrow religion. You cannot borrow religion from

The revival has started off in a great way. Sunday was a very busy day with us, services at eleven o'clock, Rev. H. B. Hilburn of the Hedley church bringing the message, which was an inspiration and blessing to all present. In the afternoon a number of people motored to Goldston, where we had a wonderful good time in connection with the Sunday school there.

Sunday night the service was one of deep meditation, and serious consideration. Subject was, "Three grim realities, facing the your relatives and friends, you will have to get right with God for yourself. Come learn more about these questions. Yours in the Master's name and service.

W. E. Ferrell, Minister, First Christian Church, Clarendon, Texas.

present generation". Message being delivered by our brother, Rev. A. L. Dennis, pastor of the church of the Nazarene at Olton.

Services continuing throughout the week. Interest and crowds are growing. The singing is good. We believe in the old-time Holy Ghost Gospel singing. The kind of singing you used to hear father and mother sing. Special music and singing every night. Come and get better acquainted with us, your hearty co-operation in putting over an old-time revival of heartfelt religion in the city of Clarendon, will be very much appreciated. Come early if you want a seat. Services begin at 8 p. m. sharp. Services are being held in the old drug store next to Dewell's.

ORGATONE PROVES TO BE THE RIGHT MEDICINE AFTER THREE YEARS OF ILLNESS.

"Nothing has ever helped me very much for my stomach disorders until I got Orgatone!" said W. W. Thompson of 1008 Baltimore Street, Plainview, Texas. Mr. Thompson has been a painter for the past twenty-two years and is very well known and has many friends here.

At first that was about three years ago I began losing my appetite and noticed gas forming on my stomach. From that time on I have suffered terribly from a chronic case of stomach trouble what little I did eat soured on my stomach and the gas that formed caused me to be in misery for several hours afterwards. I was very nervous and restless and couldn't sleep at night. I had headaches and my general condition kept getting worse and I need something to build me up.

"Orgatone (Argotane) was so highly advertised I decided to try it, it has helped me more than anything else I have ever taken. I have a splendid appetite and eat anything I want now and am no longer bothered with gas or indigestion troubles. Gas does not form on my stomach any longer and in fact, I just feel a lot better. I am glad to recommend Orgatone for it has saved me a lot of suffering and money."

Genuine Orgatone (Argotane) may be bought in Clarendon at the Stocking's Drug Store.

Many Visitors See Grade Pupil Art Exhibits Friday

Wonderful Display of Projects Best Ever Shown by Pupils of Clarendon Schools

The display of art projects at the Junior High and South Ward buildings Friday was truly a revelation to many who had no conception of the wonderful progress being made in this particular branch of school instruction.

The display of pupils receiving instruction from Miss Lorena Stegall covered some sixty projects and hundreds of separate pieces. Miss Stegall has about 150 pupils under her immediate instruction, all of which had several specimens on display in the art room of the first floor of the Junior High building Friday.

The display included basket and tray work, vase, soap models and hundreds of specimens of pencil and crayon pictures as chief attractions to the visitors filing through the room throughout the day.

All of the teachers are due credit for the display shown by pupils of the first to fifth grades according to Miss Elon Aiken. The exhibit carried no awards being more of a general nature. The craft work of the fourth and fifth grades is worthy of special mention.

Other work on exhibit included ornaments useful for home decoration and convenience. More than two thousand specimens were on exhibit in the basement room of the South Ward building and the public interest was so intense that one could with difficulty move about in the corridors and exhibit room.

One of the most pleasing attractions of the South Ward school was the 'rythem orchestra' which was doing its best to show off to advantage. This particular band, for they have a similar band in each room, was being directed by Master Ben Hill, Jr. who wielded the baton in truly professional fashion for the amusement of the large assembly.

The orchestra or band consists of cymbals, clogs, rythem sticks, tambourines, castanets, drum and bells and is directed by Miss Altha Evers. This orchestra on this particular occasion was made up of pupils from the first grade.

The rythem band with a cast of 85 pupils, will put on a show at the College Auditorium Friday evening of this week, the proceeds to be used for buying instruments and talking machine records.

The rythem band is well known in the larger city schools, but was introduced in the local schools the second month of the present term by Miss Evers.

A man who appeared recently in police court couldn't be persuaded to stop talking. Eventually, however, the judge managed to get in a short sentence.

Hilburn of Hedley preached at the morning hour Sunday. In the afternoon, services were conducted at Goldston near the Sunday school hour.

Fisher expressed himself Monday in issuing a general invitation to the public to attend these services that are to continue throughout the week. The evening service begins at eight.

Texas Doctors Discuss Butter As Cancer Cure

Cleveland Scientist Declares Vitamin D Preventive and Cure for Degenerative Diseases

Dallas, Texas, April 28, Preventing and sometimes curing cancer, heart disease, influenza and pneumonia with dairy butter was one of the discoveries of science discussed by prominent doctors who attended the Southern Clinical Society's annual convention here this week.

This discovery, announced recently by Dr. Weston A. Price, Cleveland scientist after 10 years research, brought out that Vitamin "D", one of the principal constituents of butter, was found to be a valuable aid in precluding and curing many of the so called "degenerative diseases."

In some instances, Dr. Price is reported in an Associated Press dispatch, he has cured cases of these diseases by the introduction of the vitamin in capsule form, or in less advanced stages by changing the patients diet to include quantities of spring butter containing a high percentage of the curative element.

With conclusions drawn from spectral analysis of the sun's ray, he presented the theory that light is composed of those elements which sustain the spring season and are absorbed by grass-feeding animals. Hence, he said, milk at this season of the year is abnormally rich in vitamins, particularly vitamin D.

"In our modern life," Dr. Price said, "we practice self-cannibalism we draw upon the calcium and vitamin content of our bodies to keep us going, and eventually we break down. By introduction of vitamin D, known as the 'sunlight vitamin', we build up the bone, prevent tooth decay, which is the most universal disease, and eventually remove the infections which

FATHER RATHER CLEVER: EH
The late Charlie Case used to tell this one on his mythical father, whom he was forever abusing: "Father came mighty near getting into some serious trouble here the other day. A lot of folks wanted to have him arrested for obtaining money under false pretenses; but he got out of it all right."

"Here's the way the think happened: A fellow up in the mountains made some moonshine whiskey and gave Father a quart of it. So Father took three drinks of it, and then he went down town and rented a vacant store and began charging people ten cents apiece to come in and see the animals and the snakes. Right way they raised a row. Father could see the snakes and animals all right, but they couldn't see anything but just an empty store.

"So some of them got mad and they went away and found the sheriff and swore out a warrant and told the sheriff that they wanted to have Father locked up in jail until he'd given them their money back. The sheriff put on his badge and came around to arrest Father.

"But Father gave the sheriff one drink out of the bottle and sold him a half interest in the show for three hundred dollars."

Agitated Wife: "I'm positive that was a human being we ran over."

Motorist (in thick fog): "Good. Then we're still on the road all right."
