Poppy Sales To Bring Needed Money

How the memorial poppies which will be worn to honor the war dead on Poppy Day, Saturday, May 29, will bring to War's living victims was explained by Mrs. Ralph Andis, Treasurer of Aubyn E. Clark Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Disabled veterans and children left fatherless by war are the special concern of the Legion and Auxiliary. It is for them the poppy dimes and dollars are given, not so much for their material needs as for their human needs.

This the Legion and Auxiliary are doing with the help of the money you give on Poppy Day. By wearing a poppy you aid the disabled as well as honor the dead.

Prepare Early For Tomato Fruit Worm

Now that tomatoes are, or soon will be setting fruit, growers should prepare to fight the tomato fruit worm, says H. M. Bredlove, County Agent, College Extension Service staff.

An early application of poison is extremely important to check damage of worms. If the worms get into the tomatoes, poison will not reach them. For best results, start control treatment soon after the fruit is set, or about the time the tomatoes are the size of a marble.

Unlike citrus, which also is a source of vitamin C, tomatoes do not lose the strength of the vitamin in heating or canning. Don't let the worms cut production.

Americans Buy More Than Eighteen Billion Dollars In War Bonds During Recent Second War Loan Drive

The persuasive power of a free press in influencing the ideas, attitudes and actions of free Americans has never been more clearly demonstrated than in the 2nd War Loan. In this single drive our government needed to raise $13 Billion of extra money to finance a part of our "survive or perish war." It hoped that at least 13 Billion could be raised in this drive; and that of this total at least 8 billion would be invested by non-bank investors.

When the last sale had been recorded it was found that Americans had purchased more than 18 Billion in 18 working days—more than one billion dollars per day—and that more than 13 Billion had been bought by individuals, corporations, trusteeships and other non-bank buyers. Non-bank investors had bought more War Bonds than our own government hoped all investors would buy.

In the 311 counties of the Eleventh Federal Reserve District—comprising all of Texas and parts of Louisiana, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona—War Bond sales totalled $577,228,090, exceeding the district's $400 Million goal by more than $177 Million or 44 percent; and, of this total, non-bank investors bought $349,025,000, exceeding the non-bank goal of $200 Million by more than $149 Million or 75 percent.

Characterizing the tremendous over-subscription to the drive as "the most successful money-raising Campaign ever conducted in the U. S. A. or anywhere else", Mr. R. R. Gilbert, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas and Chairman of the War Finance Committee of the district, said the unprecedented over-subscription by non-bank investors made the drive "a great victory on the financial front almost as vital as a great victory on the military front." He said, "it helps us to win at home as well as abroad and at the same time helps us to assure ourselves and our fighting sons that a firm financial foundation is preserved for the terrific reconstruction job in the days of peace to come.

"A large share of the credit for making Americans aware of the need for putting their money directly to work in War Bonds as a means of combating inflation, must go to our newspapers", Mr. Gilbert said. "In the 2nd War Loan drive they (the newspapers)

Secret Missions Sub

THREE HIGHLY IMPORTANT MISSIONS WHICH PAVED THE WAY for the Allied landings in North Africa were entrusted to the British submarine crew shown in this picture. The first was important reconnaissance of the Algerian coast in preparation for the Allied landings. The second job was to land, and later re-embark, the secret mission of American Army staff officers, headed by General Mark Clark, who made contact with pro-Allied French leaders. The other operation was to embark General Giraud secretly off the French coast, take him out to the open Mediterranean, then meet a flying boat which flew him to General Eisenhower's headquarters. No wonder they look pleased as they proudly display the Jolly Roger flag which attests to the success with which they carried out these difficult and dangerous tasks.

Adequate Supply Of Roughage Needed

College Station—An adequate supply of roughage is the foundation upon which sound and economical dairy farming is built, according to O. C. Copeland, chief of the Division of Dairy Husbandry, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station But, he adds, good producing cows need more feed nutrients than can be obtained from pastures, hay and silage alone.

SUGAR ALLOWED FOR CANNING

Sugar for home canning will be limited to one pound for each four quarts (or eight pounds) of the finished product and may be secured on written application to the housewife's local board. Each person is allowed not more than 25 pounds. Any family can apply for sugar to put up jams, jellies, and preserves at the rate of five pounds per person. Last year, sugar for preserves was limited to one person per pound.

David Johnson of Amarillo spent weekend with home folks.

grains mentioned but should be planted in areas where the yield per acre is satisfactory, or whenever the price is in line with the other grains.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN AMERICAN BUSINESS

By John Craddock

In the tax talk that has crowded conversations and discussions in print for the last several months, the concentration has been upon "pay-as-you-go" to such an extent that not much attention has been given to another new feature that seems about to be introduced into the Federal taxation system. Congressional committees have been gathering data as to the effect of taxes upon business—not so much on individual businesses as upon business as a whole, and therefore the degree of prosperity or depression. Thoughts put into circulation in the last week by committee members of both the House and Senate center in the notion that there should be allowances for post-war reconversion reserves and encouragement of "risk" capital. The belief is that the only way to keep jobs going after America's manpower gets through with the job of fighting a war and building war materials is to make certain that there is capital with which to finance production. Conversion to war was less of a problem than reconversion to peace will be, because government provided the orders with which to finance the conversion, whereas in only a few instances will it be possible for civilian customers to come forward with orders far enough in advance to assure financing of reconversion. This means that reserves must be set up.

Farmers Proceed For Maximum Production
Texas farmers and ranchmen had the War Food Administration behind them this week as they continued their plans for maximum production under the Food for Freedom program.
With their sights on production of more food and feed than were produced during 1942, when all previous production records were exceeded, Texas' 418,000 producers were faced with shortages of farm labor, and machinery and farm supplies, but recent reports from WFA indicate relief. B. F. Vance, chairman, Texas USDA War Board, explained.
Advised that the War Food Administration had asked the War Production Board for 9,530 additional combines, 4,460 corn pickers and 2,000 pick-up balers to relieve the fall harvest problem and that most farm supplies would be adequate for 1943, Vance called upon producers to plan to meet their food and feed goals which were pledged in the recent state-wide sign-up campaign.
Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Anderson and family who have been visiting her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Russell, left Sunday for their home at Seven Sisters, Texas.

Save Your Broiler Breeding Stock
Chicks which grow feathers fast is a good guide in selecting breeding stock to produce better broilers.
According to H. M. Breedlove, County Agent for the A&M College Extension Service, chicks which grow feathers fast are the ones which reach market as broilers free of pinfeathers. Fast feathering birds may be identified by a simple check of the number and size of the wing feather quills of day-old chicks. One with a wing showing seven well developed primary and seven well developed secondary sheaths will feather out with wing and tail feathers long before the chick with shorter quills and only a few short secondaries.
Flesh being a primary factor in broilers, the meatier birds should be selected when the fast feathering chicks are four to six weeks old. At that age they have made their best gains and it is easier to differentiate between the fast and slow growing ones than it is later.
Breeding stock may be selected from the meaty, fast-feathering chicks when they are six to 12 weeks of age. This is done by the simple rule of measuring the width of each chicken's breast between the producer's thumb and finger. Breast meat is the most valued part of a broiler, so it is important to choose breeders well provided with meat on that part of their bodies.
These steps in selection of breeding stock for broiler production applies to both male and female, although it is not necessary to choose the females as carefully.

Club Calves Exempt
Calves or cattle produced by members of 4-H Clubs and Future Farmers of America have been exempted from the custom slaughter provisions of maximum price regulation 169 by the Office of Price Administration.
The exemption was contained in a recent amendment to the regulation. It is conditioned upon certification by a sworn statement from the club agent, county agricultural agent, or vocational project leader that such animals are club animals, and written permission being given for such exemption from the local OPA district office.
County Agent H. M. Breedlove of the A&M College Extension Service, interprets the amendment to mean that buyers may obtain such animals at auction or private sale at whatever price they choose to pay. But when the meat enters the retail trade it must sell at or below the ceiling price for meat of that grade. Moreover, the slaughter of such animals may, if necessary, be charged against the civilian quota for the next quota period.
The amendment specifies that "club cattle or calves" means any cattle or calves which have been bred, raised and fed, or fed only, by a member of a 4-H or FFA club under the supervision of the Extension Service, or by an individual participating in a vocational agriculture project under the supervision of a vocational agricultural teacher in any recognized vocational agricultural department.
The exemption does not include club-produced swine. OPA explains, however, that it has received a request to expand it to include hogs.

Care of Woolens Is Important For Home Front Job
For each new service man there must be about 200 pounds of fleece wool for warm uniforms and blankets. Our country's wool supply is limited and imports are uncertain. So it's up to us at home to use wool clothing and household articles with care--make them serve us long and well.
Chief Axis-aiders in this war to preserve wool are the clothes moth and the carpet beetle. But their larvae don't eat into paper, can't stand bright sun, can't take some gases. You can kill them by washing wool in thick suds, sunning and airing your garments. You can give your wool further protection by using flake naphthalene, paradichlorobenzene, mothballs, or a spray.

"Skip Bombing" to Feature Olympic Of Childress Bombardier School

Childress, May 19.—"Skip bombing" at a silhouette ship target on water, and an aerial attack in force with tear gas, practice bombs and gliders on a cadet combat air base on the Texas Cap Rock, will supplement the Army Air Forces Precision Bombing Olympic at the Childress Bombardier School Sunday, May 23.

In "skip bombing" bombs are released at a low altitude and skim the water, striking the target in the vicinity of the water line. Skip bombing is not a part of regular cadet training which emphasizes precision bombing, an art in which America's "Hell from Heaven Men" have no equal on the war fronts.

Main event of the Bombing Olympic will be precision bombing from 10,000 feet by cadet teams from eight bombardier schools in Texas, New Mexico, and California. The teams of pilot, student bombardier and student photographer will drop five bombs each at a 30-foot bulls-eye target. Best scoring team will be awarded a trophy by Chambers of Commerce of towns where bombardier schools are located.

The aerial assault will be launched on the Childress school bombardier cadet combat camp where advance students live seven days under simulated combat conditions, executing demolition bombing missions. Cadets truck, fuse and load demolition bombs into their planes, and perform all duties ordinarily assigned to ground crews. It is part of a training program to better prepare future bombardiers for war front conditions.

Combat training camp, besides being harassed by offensive forces from the home field, frequently is on short rations to teach the students the importance of conserving food and water supplies. Surprise tear gas attacks by low flying planes are reminders gas masks are not issued to be put aside with little used equipment.

Precision bombing begins at 8 a. m. Sunday, with the "skip bombing" and aerial attack following on the afternoon program.

Women in Canadian Air Force Take Man-Size Jobs

Shown above are two members of the Women's Division of the RCAF preparing accurate meteorological reports. Below, a skilled woman worker installs delicate instruments in the cockpit of a plane.

WITH a greater weight of bombs being dropped on Germany by the Royal Canadian Air Force in combined operations with the R.A.F. and the U.S. Army Air Corps, the flow of air crews to the Allied fighting fronts must be stepped up in Canada. Already deep into her manpower pool, Canada has been faced with the problem of releasing men from necessary but non-combatant duties on the ground so that they can join the fighters of the R.C.A.F. overseas.

Quick to realize the value of woman-power in the solution to her problem she formed the Women's Motor maintenance, control tower work, handling ammunition—all are part of the ground work that has been taken over by the Women's Division of Canada's flying service. The splendid work of these women has released many men for training and combat service.

Division of the R.C.A.F. Girls who once worked in offices, hotels, theatres, beauty parlors and restaurants are now uniformed dental assistants, laboratory workers, clerks, drivers, mechanics, store clerks, instrument checkers, wireless operators, chart room assistants and bombing range checkers. Trained in these specialized duties, living and eating in barracks, the girls work side by side with the men they have released for combat duty.

Through the use of a great reservoir of woman-power Canada has increased the striking force that can be hurled across Germany and Italy.

war expansion of this industry. Elmer H. Johnson, industrial geographer for the University Bureau of Business Research, points out that three factors—(1) demand of other industries for alkalies, (2) plentiful raw materials, and (3) access to water transportation—will contribute to this expansion.

He said numerous industries which require caustic soda and chlorine in their manufacturing processes are growing up in Texas and the Southwest, thus providing a substantial market for continued and expanded production of alkali. He cited viscose rayon, petroleum refining, pulp and paper, glass and aluminum industries.

Fresh Pineapple Now On Market

Fresh pineapple now is making its appearance on Texas markets, and with a No. 2 can of the sliced fruit requiring 23 blue ration stamps, many homemakers will be canning this delicious and popular fruit. In some stores canned pineapple has disappeared from the shelves.

What's more, says Winifred Jones, specialist in food preservation for the A&M College Extension Service, as a rule pineapple can be bought and canned for one-half to one-third the retail price of a good grade of canned pineapple. For the past few years home demonstration clubs in the state have bargained cooperatively for pineapple by the truckload at a price that made canning of pineapple at home a real saving.

Miss Jones offers these tips to homemakers who are unaccustomed to buying fresh pineapple for canning. Fruit that has ripened before being gathered has the best flavor and contains more fruit sugar, a factor of prime importance in view of sugar rationing. Ripe fruit, she says, is orange in color and the spines may be readily pulled out. The specialist warns against the purchase of over-ripe fruit, since there is more waste. Under-ripe fruit should be wrapped in thick paper and kept to ripen a few days at an even temperature between 65 to 70 degrees Fahrenheit.

Other advantages of pineapple are its nutritional contributions. It is credited with being an aid to digestion and a better source of protective food values than many fruits.

Food And Feed Forecast

Given favorable seasons and extra labor for peak requirements, Texas farm families should be able to reach most of their war food goals. H. M. Breedlove, County Agent for the A&M College Extension Service, makes this observation on the basis of a forecast recently released by the state agricultural statistician for the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

According to the forecast, the inventory of beef animals now on Texas farms and ranches is above last year's record. Cattle and calves marketed in 1942 were 29 per cent above sales in 1941. Likewise, sheep and lambs went to market in record numbers in 1942, but on January 1, 1943, Texas still had more sheep and lambs than in any previous year.

Indications are that the 1943 spring pig crop is 30 per cent above last spring's record crop. The 1942 pig crop was 58 per cent above the 10 year average. Continued comparable increases cannot be expected, Mr. Breedlove believes. The labor shortage is one factor, and in addition, farmers are now being squeezed between skyrocketing feed prices and ceiling prices on meat.

A large number of chickens on Texas farms is 17 per cent above a year ago and 44 per cent above the 10 year average. Hens are laying more eggs than in February, 1943, and the baby chicks hatched that month were 21 per cent above the average for the past five years.

In spite of reduced labor and a shortage of machinery, Texas farmers are increasing their food and feed acreage by six per cent over 1942.

Texas Alkali Industry May Be Expanded

For more than a decade the heavy alkali industry—caustic soda and its by-product chlorine—has been shifting to the Southwest, and a University of Texas economist predicts extensive postwar expansion of this industry.

Elmer H. Johnson, industrial geographer for the University Bureau of Business Research, points out that three factors—(1) demand of other industries for alkalies, (2) plentiful raw materials, and (3) access to water transportation—will contribute to this expansion.

He said numerous industries which require caustic soda and chlorine in their manufacturing processes are growing up in Texas and the Southwest, thus providing a substantial market for continued and expanded production of alkali. He cited viscose rayon, petroleum refining, pulp and paper, glass and aluminum industries.

Blind Guadalcanal Hero Visits Texas And Gets Pair of Cowboy Boots

There'll be a touch of Texas in his walk when Sgt. Al Schmid, the hero of Guadalcanal, gets back to Philadelphia.

The 22-year-old Marine, whose appearance in the Lone Star State put Texans to storming the war bond counters, expressed a desire for only one souvenir of his trip outside of the bond record set up. He'd sure like to have a pair of cowboy boots.

Frank Scofield, State War Bond Administrator, understood Schmid's hankering. Himself an old ranch hand, Scofield didn't wear any other kind of footwear for a quarter of a century of his life.

And so Texas' No. 1 Bond Man mentioned the hero's request to Charles Page, Austin architect, and the fighting leatherneck found himself corralled in a boot shop. His regulation shoes were unceremoniously jerked off and a pair of ornately decorated boots were on his feet before Schmid could say "Guadalcanal."

"Just wait till the gang in Philly see 'em!" Schmid chuckled. The "gang" he travels with now are invalid servicemen in the Navy hospital where Schmid is under treatment for the wounds he received in the bloody Battle of Tenaru River. He got permission from medical officers to make the trip to Texas, and the message he brought was this:

"Those boys over there, they can really fight. If they give out of ammunition, they'll throw rocks. If they give out of rocks, they'll use their bare hands. So you just keep on buying war bonds and pretty soon we'll have 'em under control."

"Gee! it was great to be in Texas and meet all the fine folks", Schmid went on. "It was wonderful of Mrs. Clara Driscoll to go to all the expense of sponsoring my trip down here to help out in the big bond drive."

Mrs. Driscoll is Texas Director of women's activities in the War Bond campaign. She was hostess to the marine hero and his bride during his stay in Austin.

"She's a real hero, a great patriot," the sergeant said.

Released by U. S. War Department Bureau of Public Relations
MACHINE GUNNERS IN NEW GUINEA—The Japs finally have admitted the loss of Buna, New Guinea, where American and Australian task forces annihilated 15,000 of the enemy. In this victory the 32nd United States Division covered itself with glory. This task force was built up around a former American National Guard division drawn from Wisconsin and Michigan, but now comprising officers and enlisted men from 44 states. As a result of their heroism in action 55 citations for Distinguished Service Crosses were awarded. Manning this machine gun are, left to right: Pvt. Lawrence L. Leishman, Peoria, Ill.; Corp. Rodney C. Reiner, Manitowoc, Wis., and Pvt. Martin Denueli, Cumberland, Wis.

As he spoke, Texans were over-subscribing a $400,204,000 Second War Loan quota by upwards of $100,000,000. Scofield has predicted that not a county in Texas, in the final scoring, will be found short of its goal.

The young Marine and the red-headed War Bond Administrator struck up a warm-hearted partnership in Texas. Schmid—the boy who, blinded by shrapnel, kept on firing until he had accounted for 200 Japs—and the native Texan have in common a lot of steadfast purpose and a grand sense of humor.

Though he wears the Navy Cross and the Purple Heart on his blouse, Schmid is just a likeable, friendly kid with a great feeling for life. Around him, strangers instantly respond to his natural, lovable qualities and are soon calling him by his nickname—Smitty.

He hopes to regain his lost vision. Beyond a mention of that hope, he doesn't comment on the situation.

Schmid was placed aboard a destroyer and evacuated from the island after the Tenaru battle. As a matter of fact, he was more dead than alive when he was put on the destroyer, and he could dimly hear a voice saying, "No need to take this one below deck. He's dead."

Schmid couldn't see, he couldn't speak, he couldn't move anything but his right hand. But he got busy, wiggling that, and a surprised voice exclaimed, "Say! He's not dead—yet."

Scofield is serving as Collector of Internal Revenue for the First Texas District in addition to his work as war bond man. Indefatigable, he has traveled thousands of miles and has made thousands of speeches to interest more Texans more deeply in this home-front battle.

Special WAAC Enrolling Plan For Women

Announcement is made by the Recruiting and Induction Section of the Eighth Service Command that a limited number of women will be accepted into the WAAC for special service with Signal Corps of the Army.

The women will be enrolled in the WAAC but placed on an inactive duty status while in attendance at one of the Signal Corps training schools. While attending school, the trainee will be on a signal corps payroll as a civil service employee at $1020 per year for the first three months and $1440 per year for the succeeding months.

Upon completion of this course, approximately six months, the trainee will be sent to one of the WAAC training centers for basic training and then assigned to duty by the Chief Signal officer.

It is planned to use this personnel as radio operators, radio repairers, radio telephone operators and teletypewriter operators.

The successful applicants for this course will be known as WAAC Signal Corps Trainees. Only 1080 women in the country will be enrolled under this plan, and of this quota only 120 will be accepted in the Eighth Service Command which comprises the States of Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and New Mexico.

Age and physical requirements are the same as for the WAAC, 21 to 45 but educational requirements are that applicant must have at least a high school education. Full details of the plan can be obtained from any U. S. Army recruiting station or WAAC enrolling office.

Under a special plan worked out by several government agencies and the Red Cross, and probably taking effect tomorrow, relatives and friends can send cigarettes, cigars, smoking or chewing tobacco to identified U. S. war prisoners or civilian internees held by Germany and Italy.

Under the program the Prisoner of War Information Bureau of the Provost Marshal General's office

The person who gets the labels merely forwards them, with the necessary money order, to a tobacco manufacturer who will send the specified tobacco. No postage or Federal excise tax will have to be paid.

First labels are expected to be mailed tomorrow, or at least this week.

Questions And Answers On Home Canning Issued May 8th by OPA

The following questions and answers on Home Canning were issued May 8, 1943 by the Office of Price Administration to help housewives know how to get and use sugar allowed for this purpose. Coupons for buying sugar for home canning are available at the local ration board now on Thursdays and Fridays of each week.

Q. Does the sugar allowance of "one pound of sugar to each four quarts of finished fruit" mean that I must can all fruit with the same weight of syrup?

A. No, but you must make an average of four quarts of finished fruit for each pound of sugar you get. You may, if you wish, put up some fruit or fruit juices with no sugar at all, and make a heavier syrup for certain others.

Q. Must I declare the number of quarts of fruits and vegetables I have on hand when I apply for sugar for home canning?

A. No, however, the available supply of sugar for home canning is limited, and local boards may ask for information about your supplies and needs of home-canning fruit in deciding how much sugar you will receive for this season's canning.

Q. May I ask a friend who has a pressure cooker in her kitchen to do my home canning for me, if I supply all ingredients, and get back all of the finished fruit she puts up, without surrendering ration points?

A. Yes. If you contribute either the ingredients or the equipment or part of the labor required to can fruits and vegetables, you may acquire them without surrendering ration points.

Q. May I give away as many quarts of home-canned vegetables as I wish if they require no sugar in canning them?

A. No. But each person in your family may give away not more than 50 quarts of home-canned fruits and vegetables without collecting ration stamps. If you wish to give away more than that, you must collect ration points from the person to whom you give them although you need not ask for money payment for this food unless you wish.

Q. How many jars of jams and jellies may I give away?

A. Jams, jellies and preserves are not rationed, and you may give away as many jars as you can spare out of your allowance of five pounds of sugar.

Q. What is the point value of home-canned food?

A. Home-canned food has a point value of 8 points per quart and 4 points per pound or per pint.

Q. May I sell canned fruits which someone else puts up for me?

A. Yes. But you must collect ration stamps at the rate of eight points per quart for every sale you make, regardless of who does the canning.

Q. I usually can several hundred quarts of fruits and vegetables to sell through local farmer's market. May I continue to do so under rationing?

A. Yes. You may continue to sell home-canned fruits and vegetables, but you must collect 8 ration points for each quart sold.

Q. What do I do with the ration stamps I collect for sales I make of home-canned food?

A. You turn the ration stamps in to your local ration board any time during the first ten days of the month following the sale.

Q. Must I make any special report when I turn in the ration stamps I collect for food I sell?

A. No. But you must keep a record of your sales.

Q. How do I get sugar for canning fruit for sale?

A. You apply to your local ration board on OPA Form R-315 for the amount of sugar you will need, at the rate of one pound of sugar for every four quarts of finished fruit.

Q. May I also apply for sugar for making jams and jellies for sale?

A. No. You may have only enough sugar for preserving fruits for the use of your family—not more than five pounds per person.

HOME SERVICE
Mrs. C. A. Burton

We have had many inquiries about delay in delivery of War Bonds purchased by Servicemen. In answer to a letter the following information was given me: Men in the Army service are given the opportunity to purchase Bonds under a plan known as the Army Pay Reservation Plan. Specified portions of pay are voluntarily authorized by the Service man. When the last payment is made, the Treasury Department mails the bond to the man or other individual specified by him. If he so requests, the Treasury Department will hold bonds in safekeeping at no expense.

Inquiries concerning non-receipt of bonds should not be made earlier than ninety days after the date of the last pay deduction in payment for the bond.

The same procedure applies to men in the Navy, only inquiries are sent to a different address. Although there is delay in the issue of bonds due to the tremendous pressure under which the Treasury Department is working, there is no loss of interest as bonds are dated from date of the last payment.

Rather exhaustive directions are given for sending packages to prisoners of war in the various countries of Europe. It is stated that this still does not apply to prisoners in Japan because of lack of transportation facilities.

The Red Cross will accept contributions for Standard Food Packages for general distribution to designated nationalities of United Nations prisoners of war other than American. The reason for this is that these are provided for by the Army and Navy, a large number of articles for their comfort being furnished.

TO THE PRODUCERS OF DONLEY COUNTY.

Walter J. Flynt, Secretary Donley County ACA

Producers in the county except for the Skillet, Whitefish, Jericho, and Clarendon communities have been offered the service of pre-measurement. We feel that those who take advantage of pre-measurements offered will be helped quite a bit since if fields are planted as plotted on the map at that time will be the final acreage. Those who do not take advantage of this service will be expected to measure their own land and plant so that they will not be overplanted on cotton nor underplanted on war crops. When the compliance starts, producers will bring in measurements or give measurements to be plotted on their map and certify these measurements before they are planimetered out on the map.

If through measurements which they certify are correct, we find that producers are overplanted on cotton, this producer will not be allowed to destroy this cotton and this producer will be considered as overplanted. Therefore, we feel that the more pre-measurements that can be made and guaranteed acreage set up, the better off farmers will be in the 1943 compliance.

As instructed in the letter which is being sent out under the marketing quota program you are asked to certify to the amount of cotton we show was produced on your farm if it is correct. If it is not correct, please come in and show us how to correct it. We should like as many as possible of these returned within the next ten days as work needs to be started on entering the 1942 yield data for figuring normal yields per acre.

We still have in the county office several farm plan sheets that have not been signed up. We should like to complete these plan sheets at the earliest possible date. Most of the farm plan sheets that have been made out and tabulated in the county office have been mailed to producers. All producers may change their grain sorghum goals up until June 1. The final goals will be set on that date. As the county grain sorghum goal appears at this time, we will be several thousand acres short of the county goal of 60,000 acres. Therefore, if any producer wishes to change his goal upward we would appreciate it very much and there is nothing to lose if he intends to plant the grain sorghum anyway.

VISIT DOWN STATE
