A Common Paper for Common People

Canning Plants In Full Operation

The recent rains have proved very beneficial to the Victory Gardens in Donley County and the canning centers at Lelia Lake, Hedley, and Clarendon are doing their part along with the favorable gardens to set a record for food processed in Donley County in any one season. At the last check made on July 13, over five thousand pounds of foodstuffs had been processed by the three plants.

Each of the plants furnish the cookers, sealers, gas, lights, water, and the services of two supervisors free of charge to any parties desiring to can at these centers. Anyone inexperienced in canning can secure all necessary information on any type of canning from the supervisors in charge of the various plants. The cookers and sealers are handled altogether by the supervisors for safety, and to insure proper pressuring of the foodstuffs.

The Ashtola plant will open the latter part of July and the other three will continue operating on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays of each week from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

COTTON MARKETING QUOTAS SUSPENDED

The following telegram has just been received from the State Office at College Station:

"1943 Cotton Quotas Suspended. None indicated 1944. Continue collections on Penalty Cotton produced prior 1943 and sold before August 1, 1943. Cease issuing marketing cards. No change in ACP or Cotton Loan provisions therefore continue performance as instructed except no further Community Performance meetings should be scheduled. Continue execution of performance forms in county office."

There will be no Marketing cards issued and no penalties collected when the cotton is sold regardless of how much a producer is overplanted on his cotton.

This lifting of Quotas does not affect the Agricultural Conservation Program in regard to cotton allotments. If a producer has more than 110% of his cotton allotment planted, then he must pay a penalty amounting to ten times the rate of pay under the ACP program.

The rule for being eligible to put cotton in the Loan remains the same. This means that if a producer has planted above 110% of his cotton allotment more than three percent or three acres (whichever is the larger) then the only cotton that he can put into the Loan is the excess cotton, or that produced above his normal yield and that at only 60% of the Loan Value.

No more community meetings

There will be no more meetings in the communities for the purpose of signing the Performance Reports. These will be filled out and signed in the county office. Since no Marketing Cards will be issued, there is no particular hurry regarding the Performance Reports, however, as soon as a producer is ready to report, he should come to the county office and complete the Forms. We have asked the Producers who have Cotton Crop Insurance to report their Performance to the office as soon as it is convenient so that any loss can be accounted for, and all information sent to the State Office on time.

Mrs. Virgil Morris left Tuesday night for her home at Houston after a two weeks visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sowell and other relatives. Her nephew Bobbie Clifford accompanied her home for a summer visit.

GILLHAM TO LEAVE FOR LIONS INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE FRIDAY

J. R. Gillham, president of the local Lions Club, will leave this Friday night for Cleveland, Ohio to attend the Lions International Conference there from July 19th through the 22nd. He plans to return home the 25th. Chas. Lowry, 1st vice-president, will preside over the local club while Mr. Gillham is away.

Prospects Excellent For Fall Pig Show

Prospects for another record breaking fall pig show are excellent according to J. R. Gillham, local F.F.A. Adviser, who has just completed an inspection of the projects of the major portion of some eighty club boys feeding pigs for the fall show. Over two hundred top quality pigs of the six leading breeds are on feed by the local club boys.

Gillham stated the show would probably be held three weeks earlier this fall in order to enable the youths to market their swine at a lighter weight due to the unfavorable feed-price ratio.

Plans are being made at this time for an auction similar to the one held last fall for the prize winning animals.

"ATTENTION" MEMBERS OF AMERICAN LEGION

Next Tuesday, July 20, will be regular meeting night at Aubyn E. Clark Post No. 126. This is a very important meeting as we elect officers for the Post for the year of 1944.

Be sure and come out at 9 p. m. and make this Post as good or better than previous years. Don't forget the place, time and date.

Fraternally yours,
B. C. Antrobus, Adjutant.

Lieut. J. Johnson Relates Thrill of Daring Dive

EDITORS NOTE—The following article is taken from the St. Louis Globe Democrat relating a certain incident in the life of Lieut. Johnson somewhere in the South Pacific while fighting the Japs. Lieut. Johnson is a grandson of Mrs. R. W. Fowlkes of near Chamberlain and is also a nephew of H. A. Harrison.

Somewhere in the South Pacific, July 5.—How does it feel to have your motor cut out as you attempt to pull your fighter plane out of a dive 700 feet above a Jap destroyer?

"I thought I was a goner," is the way First Lieutenant James E. Johnson, U. S. M. C., of 205 Avery drive, Kirkwood, Mo., translated his feelings into a few words.

By manipulating his controls he got the motor running again just short of disaster. "I decided I had better head for home," he resumed. "On the way back I encountered a storm and was lucky to land at the base with only 5 gallons of gasoline in my tank."

This experience occurred while Lieut. Johnson was on a mission strafing Jap ships in the Rekata Bay. He has had many others in his 132 hours of combat flying. He played an important role in the blasting of a huge Jap task force bearing down on Guadalcanal last November and he has a Jap high-level bomber to his credit.

Lieut. Johnson is a former Missouri State high school and Big Six Conference high hurdle champion. He broke the conference high-hurdle record while a member of the University of Missouri track team. At Kirkwood High School he won letters in track, football, basketball and wrestling.

He was well known in Kansas City as well as in Texas and for a time he worked in Colorado but returned to the Panhandle.

He has been very active all his life and was still getting out and doing a mans work on the RO Ranch a short time before his death. He was 89 years old on his last birthday which was February 19th. He had been married for the past 49 years.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a brother living at San Antonio.

Funeral services were held at the Buntin Funeral Home Friday, July 9th with a Masonic Service throughout.

Pallbearers were Allen Jeffries, John Blocker, Nollie Simmons, Jake Chamberlain, Fred Patching Jr., M. K. Brown, Bill Word and Wesley Knorrpp.

Three Canning Demonstrations Held Past Week

The three demonstrations held in Donley County this past week were a big success according to county agent H. M. Breedlove. The demonstrations were on canning vegetables and fruits and the drying of vegetables. Demonstrations were held at Ashtola, Clarendon and Hedley.

Miss Doris Leggett, district Home Demonstration agent and Miss Omah Jackson, State Girls A-H Club agent conducted the demonstrations. The total attendance for the three demonstrations was 55 ladies. Miss Leggett and Miss Jackson explained the new methods of canning and drying of vegetables. These demonstrations were conducted in order to help the people of the county conserve all vegetables and fruits possible.

This is a war time measure and these ladies are working in counties all over the district to encourage the canning of the vegetables from the Victory gardens, and send more food to the armed forces.

Ladies present at the demonstrations were well pleased with the demonstrations and expressed their appreciation to Miss Leggett and Miss Jackson for bringing them this timely information on this important subject of conservation of fruits and vegetables. Miss Leggett explained it is the duty of every house wife to see that all fruits and vegetables are in cans or jars and to plan a live at home program for the coming year.

It will be hard to get all of the vegetables that the family will need from the stores, but if they are canned from the garden, then the family can be sure of the types of food that they will need that are essential to the health of the family. Let us all start now and can every bit of surplus vegetables and fruits.

AUGUST 1st IS DEADLINE FOR TRANSFERRING OF PUPILS

Miss Ruth Richerson, County School Supt. states that the transferring of pupils in school districts where grades are not taught must be done on or before August 1st.

It is very important that the proper authorities be notified and the transfer made or the district where the pupil is to attend school will fail to receive the money allotted by the state for each pupil.

If a pupil has been promoted to a grade not taught in the school district, then a transfer must be made to a district where the grade is taught. It is urgent that this step be made before August 1st.

Sheriff Wright Nabs Lelia Lake School Trophy Thieves

The youths were charged with theft of trophies, breaking and entering at night and gasoline theft. One of the youths will be tried in juvenile court and the other is being held for the grand jury.

Community Ceiling Prices Established

CARS TO BE INSPECTED FOR USE CAR STAMP

According to C. I. Powell, Deputy Collector Internal Revenue, all cars now being driven here in the county will be inspected by federal men sometime during July to see whether they have the Use Car Stamp displayed some where in a visible place. Those cars found to have no Use Car Stamp displayed, the owners will be liable to a fine of not less than $5.00 or more than $25.00.

"It is not our desire to embarrass or fine people," Mr. Powell stated. "We have a job to do and the law must be enforced. If everyone using a car will display the Use Car Stamp where it can be seen plainly, it will save a lot of trouble all around."

Sometime before July 27th, all cars will have been inspected, and after that date all Use Car Stamps now in postoffices will be recalled to the Dallas office of Internal Revenue. Applications will then have to be made to this office for those desiring the Stamp.

Hedley Lions Win Membership Contest

The Hedley Lions Club have won first place in the first division of the Lion International membership contest for the year. This division consists of Clubs located in towns under 1000 population and takes in all of the United States and the foreign countries in which Lions International operate. The award which was a plaque or $25.00 in cash will be presented at the next meeting of the club, Thursday, July 22nd at 8 p. m.

The Hedley Lions should be congratulated on winning this award, their feat of increasing their membership from 22 to 68 during the year is a record to be proud of. However the Hedley Lions say that the sponsoring Clarendon Club should receive some of the glory as they have helped them in every way during the year. The Hedley Club was also leading this district, in membership, which consists of all the cities of District T 2, regardless of size, but since a club can receive only one award, they will accept the larger international award.

The first district-wide order establishing ceiling prices for retail food stores in the Lubbock district was released today by the Price Division of the OPA, Howard Gholson, district director, announced. Previous orders which have been written for the Lubbock 12-county area and for the city of El Paso are now revoked. This is the first order to bring about a uniform ceiling price on basic commodities in 71 counties of the district extending from the top of the Panhandle to Brewster County on the Mexican border, Gholson pointed out.

The order on community ceiling prices covers approximately 800 basic commodities and became effective July 5, the OPA director said. This does not mean that maximum ceiling prices have not been in effect for various commodities previously, but rather that the maximum prices to be paid by consumers living in this district have been set according to our standard of living, he said. Stores may charge any price lower than the maximum price but they will be in violation of the law if they charge over the set price, he advised.

A copy of this district-wide order has been sent to each retail merchant in the Lubbock district. Price assistants working through the Local War Price and Rationing Board will contact their local merchants and assist in answering questions.

"Consumers will have no doubt as to the maximum ceiling prices which may be charged for various brands of basic commodities since stores will display a complete chart of prices," Gholson pointed out. However, maximum ceiling prices may vary according to the type of store at which the consumer is shopping due to the fact that there are four classes of stores.

"OPA believes that these community prices fairly reflect past business practices giving higher ceiling prices to the small store and credit store in recognition of the convenience, service and personal attention additionally supplied by these operators," the district director said. "Obviously one over-all community price would not be fair to all groups or classes of stores; therefore, OPA sets community prices according to the four-store classifications," he said.

YOUR 1943 INCOME TAX AND VICTORY TAX

Last week we gave you in the Leader a word about the time of filing and who would be required to file 1943 Estimated Returns. At the time of filing these reports, you will have two separate items of income and deductions with which to deal, your regular Income Tax figures and your Victory Tax figures. At this time we are taking up your Victory Tax.

The Victory Tax is a five percent war-measure tax, over and above your regular tax as heretofore paid, on all incomes from whatever source, to say, over and above certain Business Exemptions, and a special, personal exemption of $624.00, therefore, as your business and personal deductions are different from the other tax deductions, naturally, then your Victory Tax Income and Deductions will be different.

In other words, generally the amount earned by a Wage Earner on salaries and or commissions, is usually his Victory Tax Income, as he is not allowed any personal deductions as taxes, interest, donations, etc., but only possible deductions in some instances as Union Dues, Traveling expenses, etc., that are actually a part of his business, therefore, with the exception of the specific exemption of $624.00, he will be required to pay 5% on the amount of wages, generally.

For tax payers, other than wage earners, that is all classes of businesses, the Victory Tax Income is the amount of GROSS INCOME, less certain business deductions. This would mean that a merchant may deduct his usual operating expenses, such as heretofore, but only business expenses, and not personal, and so could deduct taxes, interest, and the like, that were paid on a business and for business purposes, but could not deduct personal taxes, or interest, as on his home, and on non-profit bearing properties, so in arriving at his Victory Tax Income, he would have to distinguish between strictly business expenses, and those of a personal nature. While all taxes, interest and such items, usually are deductible from your regular income tax, also donations, certain medical and dental expenses, but not from your Victory Tax Income.

Your Victory Tax will be estimated and must be paid for 1943 at the same time as your other returns and payments are made, that is, all may be paid Sept. 15th, or one half then and the balance Dec. 15th. You will receive credit at that time for all Victory and 20% withholding amounts deducted from your earnings for the year 1943.

CIVIL SERVICE NOTICE

To select men and women for scientific inspectors of war-valuable quartz crystals at the National Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C., a nation-wide examination has been announced, according to Elmer G. Hayes, local civil service secretary.

Specific education or experience is not required. Appointees will be trained in a definite scientific technique and will receive $1971 a year, including overtime pay, while they learn.

After a short training period, successful trainees are eligible for promotion to positions that pay $2190 a year, overtime included, Mr. Hayes said.

Since this personnel is urgently needed, applications should be filed immediately with the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., so that arrangements can be made to have applicants report for the first examination on July 23, 1943. Applications will be accepted as late as September 10, 1943.

The continuous demand for stenographers and typists for employment in the tenth region and in Washington, D. C. has resulted in another appeal for clerical workers.

Men and women who desire appointment to positions as stenographers and typists in the tenth region must be 16 years old at the time they enter on duty. Only females seventeen and one-half years old at the time of their appointment will be eligible for Washington positions. North Africa

EDITORS NOTE—The following letter was written by Lieut. John Ziegler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Ziegler of the Country Club, who is now located somewhere in North Africa or possibly Sicily. Due to the length of the letter, we are going to publish it in serial form beginning in this issue.

We left the good old United States sometime in (the censor won't let me tell when) and after a very interesting and comparatively uneventful ocean voyage arrived at our destination in North Africa, also sometime in (again that censor). I was very fortunate in crossing in that I did not get seasick and was able to get around and enjoy the trip much more than did some of the less fortunate. The boat we crossed in was a very comfortable one as a whole, but as is always the situation on a troop transport, our sleeping quarters were badly overcrowded, and the best I can say for the food is that it was DAMN POOR. Shortly after sundown the entire ship was blacked-out, with everybody ordered below to their quarters. The air of the ocean was much warmer, nicer as a rule, after dark than it was during the sunlight hours. The wind usually died down and the sea was calmer. It was certainly a mysterious feeling and an inspiring sight to see ships moving through the water in their ordered fashion without any light. Of course it was our luck to draw moonlight the last half of our voyage which added to the danger element. One morning especially gave us a thrill when the motors of our ship stalled and we were left behind the rest of the convoy with (the censor again), commonly known as a (blame the censor) for our (yep its the same guy) protection. Everyone was relieved when the engine began to work again and we caught up with the convoy. You really appreciate how large the ocean really is when you drop behind your protection and can see nothing but water on all sides, and realize that the water could have any number of enemy submarines lurking in its depths just waiting for the chance to blow you to pieces. Taken all in all, though, we did have a very pleasant voyage because the ocean remained comparatively smooth, there was no accidents, and we all arrived at our destination safely. Let me tell you, it surely is a thrill to see land appear dimly on the horizon. There is nothing like having something under your feet that does not continually sway and rock. The morale of the groups lifted one hundred per cent that sunny afternoon when we sighted land.

We arrived at what looked to be, at a distance, a very beautiful city. It was built on the hills arising comparatively steeply from the edge of the sea. Our actual landing in Africa was uneventful, and to say the least, tiring. By the time you have gathered together all your equipment amid the utter congestion and confusion of the "hole", struggled up several flights of narrow stairways burdened with a full uniform including overcoat, strapped and cinched with that diabolic invention called an army carrying harness, to which was attached a field bag filled with cans of rations, you would normally be tired at best. However, to add insult to injury you have to carry two barracks bags, a rifle, cartridge belt, gas mask, and any items of equipment discovered the last minute after your bags have been crammed to the limit. Fortunately we did not have to walk a long distance from the boat to where we were picked up by trucks, and transported to our bivouac area.

Our first camp site (bivouac area) was located on a hill overlooking a beautiful (until it rained) valley. The patchwork of fields below us dotted with splashes of brilliantly colored flowers, with a background of rolling hills covered with solid blankets of dark green foliage, altogether results in something very very pleasing to the eye. Our stay at this first area was comparatively short, for which we are thankful, because even though the general site was beautiful, the immediate location was on top of a small knoll that is being referred to as "Mud Hill." The last three days of our stay there resulted in the nick-name; it rained continuously for the whole period. I wonder if you can imagine being bedded down for several days in pup-tents, everything you own piled on the ground, mingled with that of your partner, and all partially covered with a meager amount of semi-water proof canvas that makes up a shelter tent. I have found out one thing for sure and that is that the army did not make their pup-tents for anyone six foot or taller. I continuously stuck out of both ends of the darn thing, rain or shine. To make matters worse we had to break camp in the middle of the rainy period. I cannot possibly describe the mess concerned or involved when you have to take down your meager shelter, roll your bed, pack your clothes, in a driving rain with mud all the way from one to six inches deep. We finally got so, during the loading of the trucks, that all we needed to do was to set our feet and start sliding toward the bottom of the hill, hoping that we would make the entire trip on our feet rather than on some other part of our anatomy of broader proportions. We finally spent the last night running between the trucks, to get some sleep, and the huge bonfire, to keep warm. By the time everything was ready to go every man was soaking wet and plastered with mud at least from the knees down. One really gets to look like a pig after wallowing around in mud for three days.

Having made one move since landing in Africa, we have had a chance of seeing a little of the so-called "Dark Continent". Riding overland with from 12 to 15 men with enough equipment to fill half of the truck cannot be considered the most desirable way to see any country, but even in spite of the lack of sleep, and the misery as a result of wet blankets and cold weather, we enjoyed the trip. We passed through parts of the country that reminded me of the Rockies in Colorado, and without a doubt just as beautiful. The mountains here are high and steep but not nearly so rugged as those around the mid-west. They are, however, just as pretty, especially so because of the local color added. The natives have built small villages all over them from the bottom almost to the top, and around each one is an area of cultivated ground. It is nothing out of the ordinary to see a fruit orchard perched clear to the top of a steep mountain capped by a large rocky top. One thing that I did notice, however, is that there is not nearly so many streams and lakes among the hills here and the water is not the clear spring type that we would have in the mountains in the States. Three of the peaks that we passed were really beautiful, being covered with snow and visible from quite a distance. While on this trip, we chanced to see a couple of small camel caravans. There really is a contrast between the two modes of transportation.

THE TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostles

HELLO, NEIGHBOR!
If you miss your wife when you get home today, you will likely find her hoeing in that Victory Garden that you started.

ADVICE.
A wise man never starts an argument with a woman when her shoes are 'killing her feet!'

MEMBER WHEN?
Forty-five years ago the saloon on the corner where the Amarillo building now stands, and occupied by a drug store, was a lively place. They often had a three piece orchestra in there to draw trade.

The orchestra consisted of the animals in Bill Fuqua's wagon yard surrounding the saloon, a bohunk, his accordion and a chair. Them wuz the days!!

TIME FLIES.
Ten years ago a lot of folks had nothing to look forward to except the big lot of money they expected to accrue from their chain letter scheme.

LONG TIME AGO.
Riding up to Amarillo on the Denver a "long time ago" with Bill Cross, I heard this conversation as the conductor sat on the front seat of the smoker and counted his tickets:
Bill: "What's your hurry?"
"Twenty minutes behind time in getting into Amarillo," said the conductor.
"I'd rather get to Amarillo twenty minutes late," said Bill, "than to get to hell on time."

Frequently the Denver passengers just got up and quit the earth, often making as high as 35 miles an hour when behind time in the 'good old days.'

MEDICAL ADVICE.
A local man went to a local doctor a short time ago and informed the doctor that he "talked in his sleep" and wanted to know what he could do about it. This doctor is somewhat given to joking anyhow, and he smiled and said, "don't do nothing that you shouldn't." Don't tell me these doctors are not getting wise!

Sample lies you have heard:
I'll pay you next week. The tires are as good as new. You'll double your money in a year. Why, that can will make 80 any old time. You don't look a day over 20. These eggs are strictly fresh. Every thread is pure wool. You'd better grab this one today because there will be no more for the duration. Try "Fritzzy-Kritzy" cereal to restore that gray hair to its natural color. And thousands of others via radio.

More Young Men Are Needed For Aviation Cadets

Young men between the ages of 18 and 26 are needed now to qualify as Aviation Cadets, according to Lieutenant Colonel Marvin B. Durette, Commander of the West Texas Recruiting and Induction District.

"Men of these ages interested in becoming pilots, navigators, or bombardiers, should contact their nearest Aviation Cadet Examining Board and apply for examination," Colonel Durette said.

All men passing the mental and physical examination will be given letters to the Armed Forces Induction Station, stating they are considered qualified mentally and physically for air crew training.

"Applicants must then go to their Selective Service Board and volunteer for induction. No applicant can volunteer for induction after he has been called in his regular order number for induction," Colonel Durette added.

Men of 17 years of age may be enlisted in the Air Corps Enlisted Reserve Corps by obtaining parents consent and passing the Aviation Cadet mental and physical examinations. Seventeen year olds will not be called for training until having reached the age of 18.

Colonel Durette said that Aviation Cadet Examining Boards are located at nearly all Army Air Fields in the district as well as the board at 1114 10th Street in Lubbock.

GARDEN GLANCES

"America beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners."

Many hues of petunias, purple phlox and bright red cannas spaced at proper distances are the beauty spots at the city park. It is indeed a place one would enjoy relaxing for a while.

Crepe myrtle with all its beauty of color adorns the gardens in many places. There are some especially pretty ones at the C. B. Morris, C. C. Gilbert homes and the High School.

Phlox of deep shade of orchid brighten the yard of the G. J. Teel home.

Gladiolus of many colors are of especial interest in the H. C. Brumley and J. L. McMurtry landscape.

Geraniums in bright pink produce a gay array of color on the porch of Dave Johnson.

Victory gardens are unusually good. Many are enjoying black-eyed peas, squash, okra, tomatoes, bell peppers as well as other summer vegetables.

If you have not seen the lovely orange colored tiger lilies in the garden of Mrs. May Prewitt, you have really missed a treat. This lily is rare in this section and Mrs. Prewitt is to be complimented for the excellent success of this lily.

Mr. and Mrs. Yarberry of Groom and Mr. and Mrs. Rody of Pampa visited Mrs. W. T. Lowe.

Mrs. Lena Antrobus returned home Saturday after visiting her daughter Edith Maher at Seymour the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Blocker Jr. and baby are visiting in Mineral Wells.

Progress On The Home Front

Rural women who are fighting the Axis with war bonds, pressure cookers, and sharp hoes will report their progress at a war-time convention of the Texas Home Demonstration Association scheduled in Dallas August 17-19. "The Battle on the Home Front" will be the theme of their meeting.

Plans for the convention were made at a recent session of the executive committee held in Dallas. Executive members predict that approximately 300 delegates of the Association's 48,000 will come to share their ideas, despite the pressure of work on the farm and in the farm home.

Mrs. W. G. Kennedy of Hamilton County, the Association president, has announced that the convention will be streamlined in accordance with war demands—no banquets or elaborate entertainments. Speakers will be drawn largely from the Association's membership, and one feature of the program will be a pageant portraying the Association's activities during the last year. Episodes will be presented by the 4-H, marketing, education and recreation committees under the direction of Mrs. Leon Sullivan of Ellis County, vice president at large.

An election to determine the Association's officers for the next two years also is scheduled, according to Helen H. Swift, sociologist for the A&M College Extension Service, who serves as an adviser to the organization.

Mrs. Rush and Mrs. A. H. Baker left for Panhandle today to visit her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Marjorie Cox and family.

Victory Gardens Prove Success

Three hundred dollars worth of turnips is a lot of turnips.

Members of the A. C. Curlee family of Pledger, Matagorda County, had a three-acre turnip patch from which they grossed $360. In addition, they ate lots of turnips at home and gave many away.

Another turnip story comes from Washington County where Doris Koester of the Wonder Hill 4-H Club has kept turnips stored in sand in her cellar for five months. Those which remain still are in good condition.

Stories like these reported by county home demonstration agents of the A&M College Extension Service indicate the patriotism and ingenuity of farm people. Mildred L. Chapman, Trinity County home demonstration agent says Lena Collins, garden demonstrator for the Pennington 4-H Club has a garden "any girl should be proud to call her own."

Lena has done all the work herself, since her father has been working away from home at a war plant. In May, the family left Trinity County to be near Mr. Collins, but before she left Lena had produced vegetables for her family to enjoy every day for two months. In addition, she had stored 22 quarts of beans, 12 quarts of beets, 10 quarts of peas, 8 quarts of shelled beans, four quarts of squash and three quarts of carrots.

Since Lena used barnyard fertilizer and saved much of her seed from the previous year, her highly productive garden cost only $4.85.

Mrs. S. E. Rowland of Weatherford, Okla. is here for an extended visit with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Johnson.

Farm Workers Are Placed

A total of 26,741 farm laborers were placed on Texas farms during the first two weeks of June by county agricultural agents with the assistance of the U. S. Employment Service and local farmer committees, according to reports compiled at the headquarters of the Texas A&M College Extension Service. Placement offices have been opened by the agents in 226 counties.

Also placed by the agents were 2,110 foreign workers. The reports show that in some instances women and town boys and girls have been enlisted in the gathering of crops. Three thousand women have aided and 2,500 youths. These become eligible for membership in the U. S. Crop Corps when they have worked on farms or in canning plants for one month.

U. S. Flyers Get "Sky Queens"

THE BRITISH SPITFIRE-FIGHTER PLANE has been described as "Queen of the Sky." It played a vital part in the defense of Britain in 1940. Many Spitfires were included among the 675 airplanes which, as has been recently announced, have been a gift to the United States from the British Royal Air Force. One hundred sixty-eight Spitfires received from the British were flown by American pilots in the invasion of North Africa alone. This picture shows pilots of an American Spitfire squadron running to their planes.

The Dorcus-Althean Class have made up to date four afagans and are working on their fifth one now. These ladies have taken a lot of time working out an attractive color design.

United War Chest Makes Plans For Drive

The United War Chest of Texas has completed plans for the first state-wide unified war appeals drive ever conducted in Texas, George A. Butler, Houston attorney heading the organization, announced this week.

Plans to raise approximately $5,000,000 as the share of Texas in the National War Fund are now being worked out following the perfecting of the state organization in Dallas, July 7. At the Dallas meeting Butler was named president and campaign chairman of the State War Chest. Gov. Coke Stevenson was named honorary chairman. Other officers include Roy Farrar, Houston banker, treasurer, and Wayland D. Tower, formerly of the San Antonio Community Chest, secretary and general manager. Twenty-one vice presidents representing every section of Texas are yet to be named by the board of directors.

"Each community and each Texas county will determine its own role in the National War Fund program," Butler announced. "In every instance, the campaign will be carried out by the local leadership," he said. "The program is one of aid to our own boys on all the fronts of war, to our allies in every corner of the globe, and to the home front."

President Roosevelt's War Relief Control Board has approved the following agencies for participation in the National War Fund which plans to raise $125,000,000 in its national campaign this fall: The USO (United Service Organization), United Seamen's Service, War Prisoners Aid, Belgian War Relief Society, British War Relief Society, French Relief Fund, Greek War Relief Association, Norwegian Relief, Polish War Relief, Queen Wilhelmina Fund, Russian War Relief, United China Relief, United Czechoslovak Relief Fund, United Yugoslav Relief Fund, Refugee Relief Trustees and the United States Committee for the Care of European Children.

Back the Attack With War Bonds

"Back the Attack with War Bonds!"

That, Secretary Morgenthau, Jr., of the U. S. Treasury notified Frank Scofield, Texas War Bond Administrator, will be the stirring slogan for the Third War Loan Drive in September.

Secretary Morgenthau, Jr., telegraphed Mr. Scofield that this trumpet call to Texans to invest more millions in War Bonds for our fighting forces was inspired by the march of United Nations forces against Fortress Europe and Japanese bastions in the Pacific.

"Thousands of Texas volunteers, men, women and children, who daily back our attacks on the enemy by constant sales of War Bonds and Stamps readily will rally to the Secretary's war cry for the Third War Loan Drive", Mr. Scofield declared.

"The United Nations are on the march," Secretary Morgenthau said. "The first rumblings of the big offensive are being heard in all the axis nations. Thousands of our men are storming Sicily. Tons upon tons of bombs are dropping on Germany. We are attacking Jap-held territory as never before. This is a great day for us."

Asserting this means the time has come for us to really tighten our belts on the home front, Secretary Morgenthau continued: "We have come to a most crucial period in the war. The success that we will have on the fighting fronts will depend to a considerable extent upon the degree to which we here at home are willing to work and sacrifice for ultimate victory."

He emphasized that victory is going to be costly. Billions of dollars more must be spent to keep the material of war going to our men at the fronts. Your government must call upon you, the American people, for that money. "The real war has now only begun. Everything is at stake."

They Nabbed Von Arnim

INDIA'S FOURTH DIVISION, shown here with Gen. Montgomery in Tunisia, crowned a battle record dating back to the Abyssinian campaign with the capture of Nazi Col. Gen. Von Arnim, former chief of Axis armies in Tunisia. Fighting with the Eighth Army, these men were part of the infantry vanguard at El Alamein, later broke the Mareth Line. They were chosen for transfer to the First Army for the final push to Tunis and Cape Bon. This Indian contingent, part of the largest volunteer army in the world—nearly 2,000,000—captured 100,000 Germans and Italians, seven times its own strength in the campaign before El Alamein.

Eighteen Billion For Individual Bond Buying

Free-working women of Texas already are actively engaged in a campaign to put their state's quota of War Bond sales to individuals over the top, Frank Scofield, Texas War Bond Administrator, emphasized today.

His announcement was made following conferences with Miss Harriet Elliott of Washington, the U. S. Treasury's War Bond Sales-woman-in-Chief, who has been in Texas mapping War Bond drive plans with women leaders.

A goal of 18 billion dollars has been set by the Treasury for bond sales to individuals during the remainder of this year, and both the men's and women's War Bond Divisions of the Nation have received a challenge from Secretary of the Treasury, Henry Morgenthau, Jr., to meet it. The Treasury Department is laying full stress on the importance of bond purchases by individuals.

Mr. Scofield pointed out to Miss Elliott that Texans led the Nation in sales to individuals in the recent Second War Loan Drive.

"And they'll do their share, and more, in this particular drive", he said.

To do it, Mr. Scofield and Miss Elliott agreed, the home front must sacrifice in dead earnest.

"The goal can be attained, but not by wishing", Miss Elliott said. "It can be attained only if each of us buckles down to a very serious job of doing without a lot of things to which we grew accustomed in days of ease and plenty."

"Wearing last year's clothes, shrinking household budgets, giving up pleasure trips, doing with less spending money—these are the sort of sacrifices we are going to have to make, and I'm sure every woman in Texas will be proud to make them."

Miss Elliott, well known educator, has served for more than a year at Washington in her present capacity. She is on leave from the post of Dean of Women and Professor of History and Political Science at Women's College of the University of North Carolina.

"Every bond purchase by an individual serves a double purpose", Miss Elliott asserted. "It helps provide our soldiers with the equipment they must have, and turning the money over to war purposes instead of spending it on supposed personal needs and luxuries helps stem the tide of inflation."

"I would like to see every woman in Texas draw up a chart of the things for which she is now spending money, or for which she is planning to spend money, and then see how many items she can blue pencil in favor of bond purchases. Call it a "sacrifice chart", and preserve it among your souvenirs of the war—for it surely will deserve preservation."

Women between the ages of 20 and 50 are also desired for the U. S. Marine Corps Women's Reserve to replace men who can be sent to duty elsewhere. Those accepted will be sent to one of the colleges for women or to a training center. Many opportunities are afforded women—more education, specialty work and travel.

MANY SHIPS LAUNCHED

The Nation's shipyards delivered 168 cargo vessels totaling 1,676,500 deadweight tons in June, the Maritime Commission has announced. This may be compared with the record total of 175 for May and 157 in April. The June figures brought production for the first half of 1943 to 879 ships totaling 8,818,622 deadweight tons. In the entire year 1942 the yards produced 746 vessels totaling 8,089,732 deadweight tons.

WHERE DOES THE NORTH BEGIN?

Where does the North begin? At the equator, of course.

That question is answered in a new government film which the University of Texas Visual Instruction Bureau has added to its stock, for circulation to Texas schools, civic and community groups.

Called "Down Where the North Begins," this film tells the story of Ecuador—its geography, history and customs.

Another new motion picture, "Venezuela Moves Ahead", also

COAL PRODUCTION LAGS

Coal production for the first half of 1934 was an estimated 1,729,000 tons less than for the same period in 1942. Solid Fuel Administrator Harold L. Ickes has reported. "The gravity of this loss of production is emphasized by the fact that the Nation will need an estimated 25,000,000 tons of coal more this year than last," he said.

Silage Helps Milk Production

Maintenance of milk production on Texas farms will be greatly influenced by the quantity of feed which goes into silos over the state in the next three months. H. M. Breedlove, County Agent for the A&M College Extension Service, says that the coming 90 days are the principal silage making period in Texas.

With the feed situation as it is he recommends that every dairyman should make his greatest effort to store at least three tons of silage for each cow in his herd. In most years it requires three tons to furnish a cow all of the silage she will eat.

In order to obtain the maximum milk production at the lowest cost, Breedlove points out, cows should have all of the roughage (silage, grass and hay) they can eat. Silage and hay will produce more milk than will hay alone when the cows are getting no green pasture. There are two reasons for this. One is that silage is two-thirds water by weight, and cows must have water as well as feed in order to produce milk. It is no secret that the more water cows get in their feed the less they will have to drink. In cold weather it is pretty difficult to persuade a cow which is producing as much as three gallons of milk a day to drink as much water as she should. But when a cow is getting silage or green pasture she gets a good deal of the water she needs with the feed. As a consequence she doesn't have to drink so much cold water.

The other reason why cows need silage when green pasture is not to be had is that silage, when made right, furnishes vitamin A. Cows cannot maintain production without an adequate supply of this vitamin. A shortage of vitamin A not only lowers production, but the milk will not keep properly. A few hours after milking the milk will taste old and rancid, Breedlove says.
