Glass Houses.

Probably the reason that Senator Glass objects to the Morgan investigation is that those who live in "glass" houses are easily damaged by stones.

Bury Dead Past.

The bankers are said to have requested the undertakers to follow them in state convention at Mineral Wells that they might bury the dead financial issues dug up by the bankers.

Different Tune.

Secretary Woodin is said to be a skilled musician as well as secretary of the U. S. Treasury. Perhaps he can compose a song "The Morgan Bank Ain't What She Used to be."

Help! Help!! Help!!!

With the Morgan investigation on its third day of experimenting, the government prosecutor breaks a hole into President Roosevelt's brain trust. A cabinet member is said to have received favorable handouts at the house of Morgan.

Senator Borah wisely suggests a housecleaning, in which he is joined by other senators, both democrats and republicans. It is possible that Roosevelt's credulity has been imposed upon similar to that of Harding when the oil scandal became nauseous. Be that as it may, ninety percent of the square deal American followers of Roosevelt will expect Roosevelt to clean house.

Lillian's Luck.

The Century of Progress is already productive of some good. In a beauty contest open to the world from which a queen was selected, the honors came to Miss Lillian Anderson, a tea room cashier of Racine, Wisconsin.

Lillian, because of poverty, was forced to leave high school a few years ago. Her age is twenty-three. Along with the honors of being Queen of the big show, she is to receive a grand prize of $5,000. Her decision to again enter school would indicate that she is blessed with common sense as well as rare beauty.

In awarding the honors purely on merit alone, the judges are to be congratulated.

Cleaning House.

Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania is demanding the resignation of two judges of his state's supreme court because of the fact they received favors at the hands of the "House of Morgan" as disclosed in the senatorial investigation.

Gov. Pinchot sums up his reason as "Judges who take favors from interests which are certain to have cases before them have utterly disqualified themselves."

The Governor is right. This government has already had too many traitors holding official positions to the great detriment of the well-being of the common people—that class forming the backbone of the nation.

Freezing the Buzzer.

If one were to judge them by the nature of schemes hoisted upon them, one would be justified in thinking the newspaper publisher the most gullible lot of the rankest fools that walk the earth. Not a week—nay not a day—goes by without some firm, individual or corporation attempting to use the publisher in a money making scheme wherein the publisher performs the service and the fellow with the brains on the other end of the line gets the cash out of the deal.

It has gotten to the point to where these smart boys "press the buzzer", as it were, and the foolish tribe of publishers rush in with the refreshments in the form of a service that is convertible into cash. The cash is invisible to the extent that the publisher is supposed never to know that such a commodity ever entered into the scheme.

The latest scheme of any magnitude to reach our desk is an "Industrial News Review" proposal hailing from the distant state of Oregon, and Portland to be more exact. This firm brings light to an erring profession in the form of an opportunity to print their "canned" editorials without charge. This is most liberal since the so-called editorials are nothing more than a private boost for individuals and companies having an ax to grind and no one to turn the grindstone except the publisher of weak mind and strong back.

Reading along through a mass of evidence submitted, we find a declaration that is of importance. We read: "The aim of the Industrial News is to advocate and encourage policies which it believes essential to the well-being of our country, the growth and development of our industries, etc."

Reading farther along we find a strong defense being made in behalf of loan companies, insurance and railroad companies, etc. All big fellows who really need help since they are necessary, and the thousands of home owners and others going broke every day are but members of that class of "Poor which we have with us always," and may be let go to the dickens since their number is large and easily replenished.

Summing this scheme all up, the boosters get the money for having the matter published in an effort to control public opinion. The publisher gets a space filler that costs him time and trouble. Strong efforts are being made to smother over the effects of an investigation into the financial transactions of big corporations. Confidence is slipping on the part of the common herd. The common herd bucks the stock market and in various and sundry ways furnishes the cash with which the big boys play. The cob house is falling down. The average poor devil playing the stock market is as much a financier as a rag doll is a real baby.

SIDELIGHTS By Marvin Jones

One of the most important phases of work in Congressional committees during recent years is the investigation now being conducted before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

Already a number of facts have been brought to light concerning the international banking establishment of J. P. Morgan & Co., which has come to be looked upon by the American people in an almost legendary light because of its great power in the financial world.

The outcome of this investigation, which will embrace not only the Morgan interests but other big banking institutions as well, will no doubt result in beneficial legislation which will enable the federal government to strengthen its control over the money and credit of the nation. It may also lead to further banking reform and to the strengthening of other laws as well. Work along this line has already been started.

An example of the inadequacy of present statutes can be found in the testimony that J. P. Morgan gave to the Senate investigating committee, in which he said that he paid no income taxes during 1931 and 1932 and very little in 1930. However, he did pay income taxes in England.

The American people may well be astonished by such a revelation. The fact that America's symbol of monied power paid no income tax is startling. Mr. Morgan explained this fact by saying that he had to partake of the losses of his company as well as the profits.

In this country capital losses are not taxable, while in Great Britain they cannot be deducted in making individual returns.

Another interesting revelation which has been made is the extensive control which the company has through its twenty partners. These partners hold eighteen directorships in banks and trust companies and 167 directorships in corporations.

These points are only a few examples of the many things which the Senate committee is learning, and as the hearings progress, more interesting developments are likely to result.

It is the intention of the investigators to bring into the open the practices of these private interests which have held such a grip on our economic structure.

If present laws have been violated, punishment should follow immediately. If the laws have been evaded by various methods, then they must be tightened and revised to insure justice to every American citizen.

No matter what the final outcome of the investigation may be, already the little individual has come to realize how insignificant he is in the midst of this enormous centralization of holdings and control.

The balance must be restored, and the irregularities must be corrected.

NAYLOR

Of all the interesting parties Naylor has had the best one. It was Friday night at the school house given by the Sunday school. Games were enjoyed after which ice cream and cake were served to a large crowd. At a late hour all left, feeling they had the biggest time ever.

Misses Mildred and Sarajo Tunnel of Pleasant Valley spent last week as guests of Miss Fanny Naylor. They have many friends here who are always glad to have them visit Naylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Dee Crites of Lelil Lake spent Sunday with the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Tidrow

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ashby and son of McLean spent Sunday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Silby, the ladies are sisters.

Floyd Naylor came in home Wednesday from Portales, N. Mex. at which place he has been in school. We are glad to say that Floyd made good.

Naylor sure had a good rain and everyone very busy. Mmes Hamilton and Miss Wrenn of Memphis were at Naylor Monday to buy cherries. They found all they wanted. Naylor has plenty.

Little Sidney Rhea Beach of Hedley is spending the week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Bowlin.

Our school closes Friday, a good year's work done. Everyone one delighted. Come out Friday night and enjoy the entertainment.

Our Weekly CHURCH CHAT

W. E. FERRELL Minister First Christian Church

"Man and His Work."

From the ages of mythology came the story of an Indian Paradise. "Great Gods made men, but found them disappointing. The world lacked touches of love and romance. The Gods then made women to fill this need. The men left their field to make love beneath the shady trees. Finally, the Gods decided to drive them to work. Accordingly they sent great mosquitoes into the forest to feed upon the lovers, who soon fled from the curse and went back to work in their fields. Then the earth blossomed with the harvest and men and gods were happy.

Idleness became the curse of the Garden of Eden. Had Adam and Eve been busy, the apple which led to disobedience would never have been eaten. God had created the world by Himself and had populated it with living things, but all was not yet perfect. To crown His work of creation, God made man in His own image. Man was to husband or till the Garden of Eden in which God had placed him. But Satan led man away from his work to eat an apple with Eve, and so man lost the sinless image of his Creator.

Like the Gods of the Indian mythology, God drove Adam from the Garden and said, "Cursed is the ground for thy sake, and in the sweat of thy face, shalt thou eat bread." This is the beginning of divine stewardship which has existed through the ages between God and man. God purposely left the world unfinished and imperfect so that man could know the blessing of working and building. God made the world, but He calls upon mankind to write its destiny.

"We are God's fellow workers; ye are God's husbandry." God created the earth, and He calls you and me into partnership with Him in tilling it. This is a great work and demands the best there is in us. But the greatest work that God has assigned to humanity is the task of building up the Church, the spiritual Kingdom. We are co-laborers with Him in the salvation of the souls of men. He has furnished the plan, means and equipment and we are to do our part in teaching and living the gospel story.

Sunday morning, our subject will be, "What God Forgets." Sunday night, the subject will be "The Reformation."

Mrs. Mack Spurgeon and family have been enjoying a visit this week of relatives from Longview. Her brother, Geo. Norris and cousin, Mrs. Catherine Norris and children, Ouida and Weldon were the visitors.

SOME TYPES SHOULD WEAR ONLY CURVES
Of far more importance than the mere selection of a hat, a collar or the proper neckline, is the selection of the model frame and shape of lenses to be worn when eye-glasses are necessary to good vision - - - We have long specified in the fitting of eye-glasses to different type faces - - - The curved line face should wear only curved line frame and lenses - - - the angular line face may well adopt the angle line frame of lenses.

LF ANNOUNCES LUBRICATED GAS

ouston, Texas, May 25, (Spec- Lubricated gasoline, a distinct vation in motor fuels, was announced today by the Gulf Refining Company through O. H. Carter, District Sales Manager. The product is the result of extensive experimentation in the Gulf Refining Company laboratories, and is the answer to the problems presented lubrication engineers by increased demand of the motoring public for high speed motors. The new product is being marketed under the slogan "That Good Gulf Gas—Now Lubricated" at no extra cost, Mr. Carlisle pointed out. Features of the new fuel, according to Mr. Carlisle, are:

correct lubrication of the valve seats and top of the valve stem, which tends to prevent drying and pitting of valves; plus lubrication to the upper part of the cylinder walls, thereby reducing wear on cylinders and pistons as well as piston rings. Through use of lubricated gasoline it is now possible to design motors with smaller clearance between piston and cylinder wall and also to use tighter-fitting oil rings. In some cases two oil rings are used, all of which reduces crank case motor oil consumption. Ease of starting with lubricated gasoline is believed assured by the fact that when combustion chambers are flooded with lubricated gasoline in choking the motor valves are less apt to stick, while use of "That Good Gulf Gasoline—Now Lubricated" assures longer life for certain parts of the motor such as valves, guides and piston assembly. With reference to the lubrication of gasoline, Mr. Carlisle quotes C. B. Veal, Research Manager, Society of Automotive Engineers, as follows: "We are now facing a rather new type of automobile engine—the tendency for the past few years has been to increase the speed of our engines." "At first we encountered excessive oil consumption above certain critical speeds, but blow-by and other features of ring and piston functioning have so improved as to prevent excessive oil consumption even at the high speeds now common—personal experiences and reports from others lead me to believe that some of these engines may come close to experiencing a deficiency in oil supply at moderate speeds."

"If the oil supply actually failed, I agree that lubricated fuels would not solve the problem, but if some of these new engines are coming close to the danger point in the meagerness of the oil supply at moderate speeds it seems reasonable that a lubricated fuel would offer a sufficient panacea to bring about satisfactory car operation." "In Germany and England lubricated gasoline has been used widely for as long as two years with notable success, Mr. Carlisle pointed out. Also, the lubrication of outboard motors is taken care of through mixing lubricating oil with the gasoline. Many large truck and bus operators have been using lubricated gasoline for some time even though it was necessary for them to purchase a proper oil to mix with their gasoline. Most car manufacturers recommend mixing lubricating oil with gasoline during at least the first 2000 miles of driving the new car."

Some Fundamental Principles Laws of Texas

Several years since, the Texas Tax Journal saw the necessity of the people of Texas knowing the actual amount of bonds and interest bearing warrants they owed. Also, we pointed out the value and necessity of a complete budget system in counties, cities and districts as well as in the State. We called attention to these matters several times, but had no visible evidence of any material efforts to put them into effect until in 1929 when a lawyer and banker from the broad open spaces of the West, Mr. Coke R. Stevenson, Speaker of the Present Legislature who was a member of the Forty-first and Forty-second Legislatures, wrote and passed through the First Called Session of the Forty-first Legislature House Bill 170, page 222 of the Session Acts, which was the law creating the office of state Auditor. The bill met such universal favor that it passed the House and Senate by an almost unanimous vote.

On May 21st, 1929, the new law went into effect and Mr. Moor Lynn was appointed State Auditor. He immediately proceeded in accordance with the provisions of the law, to make a study of the whole problem of expenditures and organization of State governmental machinery. Strange as it may seem there was not at that time any law on the Statute books of this State requiring reports from all units of government levying and collecting taxes at any central point either in the county or the State, but at the regular session of the Forty-second Legislature, introduced and secured the enactment of a bill known as House Bill 575, which has made available for the first time in the history of this State, accurate information as to how much the taxpayers of this State are actually being called upon to put up for the operation of all units of State and local government.

In addition to the public service rendered to taxpayers of this State by the two public officials mentioned above, one who secured the enactment of the law, and the other who has utilized the law to give to the citizens of this State this valuable information, credit should also be given to the Industrial, Commercial and Agricultural Conference of Texas for the constructive work which this organization has done along these same lines. This organization is composed of leading taxpayers throughout the State. It takes no part in discussion of sources of revenues, but devotes its efforts toward constructive governmental reorganization, and to the problem of control of state and local expenditures. Mr. C. A. Jay, the Executive Vice-President of this organization, one of the outstanding economists in Texas, presented to the last Legislature facts which resulted in the enactment of what is known as the Uniform Budget Law, and under the operation of this law the taxpayers of this State are being saved millions of dollars every year. The work of the men named, the value of which to the taxpayers of the State runs into millions of dollars, is comparatively unknown in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Dunn and daughter Elizabeth and Ruth and Wanda Mayfield left Monday for a visit in Ft. Worth and various other points.

Wilson of Southplains called on Mrs. Hal Riley Saturday morning. Miss Helen Goldston spent Thursday evening with Mrs. A. M. Lanham of Sunnyview and attended the play given at the college by the I. O. O. F. dramatic club. Mrs. Otis Taylor and Robert Henry visited Mrs. S. T. Clayton Monday afternoon.

Firestone

THE MASTERPIECE OF TIRE CONSTRUCTION

WINS 500 MILE INDIANAPOLIS RACE 14th Consecutive Year

THE most grueling tire test in the world. 200 times around the 2½ mile oval brick track at speeds as high as 140 miles per hour. The tremendous crowd are on their feet cheering the winner on Firestone High Speed Tires as he flashes across the finish line without tire trouble. That's performance—tire performance backed by the genius of Firestone—the world's master tire builder.

It takes the extra quality and extra construction features in Firestone tires to make these records. Famous drivers will not risk their lives and chance of victory on any other tire. They KNOW the added features of Gum-Dipping and Two Extra Gum-Dipped Cord Plies Under the Tread assure them of utmost safety and dependability.

Racing speeds of yesterday are the road speeds of today. You, too, need the extra quality, strength and safety of Firestone High Speed Tires, The Gold Standard of Tire Values, which hold all world records on road and track for safety, speed, mileage and endurance. Equip your car today!

Centennial to be Financed Through Coin Sale

If Congress approves the bill sponsored by Wright Patman, a million and a half dollars in 50-cent pieces will be coined to commemorate the 1936 centennial celebration.

The American Legion Centennial Committee of Austin will have charge of the sale of the coins if Patman's plans work out just right.

Talented Speakers to Cover State in Beer Fight

Among the more noted speakers to represent the prohibition side in the beer controversy that ends with a state-wide vote on August 26th are Senator Morris Sheppard, alleged author of the 18th Amendment.

Other speakers of national renown are Congressmen Wright Patman of east Texas, and Thomas L. Blanton of Abilene. Blanton has long been known for his fiery oratory, and when speaking for prohibition, he is seen and heard at his best. Rev. J. Frank Norris of Ft. Worth will get into the fray according to late announcements from pro headquarters.

Mayor Cagle Finds Lubbock Country Going Strong

Mayor W. P. Cagle visited relatives at Lubbock last week returning home Friday. He took down a big rain and left the folks jubilant with the lakes full and the frogs doing their midnight quartet acts.

He says the folks down that way are looking up, quite a bit of business going on and conditions in general on the up grade. One thing that especially pleased him was the fact that he never heard any one knocking anything or anybody.

He was accompanied by his two daughters, Mrs. John M. Bass and Mrs. Van Kennedy and their children.

G. L. Heatherly was a visitor on the plains Sunday visiting his son who lives at Panhandle. He reports wheat looking better and plenty of rain, all lakes being full.

Clarendon Motor Company's New Mechanic in Charge

In a further effort to meet the requirements and needs of the public, and the most exacting auto troubles that naturally arise at times, Mr. G. G. Kemp announces the employment of Mr. Grady Thompson of Ft. Worth as head mechanic of the mechanical department of the Clarendon Motor Company.

Mr. Thompson has had many years experience in the larger auto shops of Dallas and Ft. Worth, and for the past several months has been in the employ of the Airways company in their airplane motor repair department. Mr. Kemp states that his firm feels most fortunate in securing the services of a mechanic of the ability of Mr. Thompson which is a policy of his firm to give the public the best that can be had in the way of auto service of all kinds.

Mrs. G. L. Green and daughter, Helen Louise are visiting Miss Lodi and other relatives in Dallas. Miss Lodi is stenographer for a large law firm there.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Langford and children of Wellington visited Mrs. Fink here Sunday.

DEATH COMES—

Dragged Across Field

He was dragged the full length of the field, one-half mile in length, and then one-fourth mile width of the field, before the horse came to a stop.

Mrs. Humphrey was attracted from her duties at the house by the sight of the running horse and thought at first that it was dragging a log. When investigation disclosed the nature of the accident she hastily summoned Mrs. Jones and a physician was called.

Humphrey was rushed to the Brawley Community hospital where at 2 o'clock today he was still unconscious. He is reported to have a bad concussion of the brain, and that the skin has been scraped off his thigh, head and the right side of his face. No bones are believed to have been broken.

Investigation at the ranch this morning disclosed the path taken by the horse in its run through the field, and tracks plainly indicated where Humphrey had been thrown into the air for a few feet and then dragged on the ground, his path being traced by small coins, his watch, and other effects scattered through the field.

Many friends regret the accident to the popular employe on the Jones ranch. His fine riding in Brawley on Saturday night in connection with the Elks rodeo parade was remarked by many on that occasion.

He is survived by his wife and small daughter, Bonnie Jean aged two. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Humphrey Sr. of Clarendon.
