ON WITH THE SHOW.

The big rich appointed to government positions should now turn in and investigate the other big boys, if any there be, while the snake continues to swallow its tail.

BRISBANE THROWS FIT.

Arthur Brisbane, he who plays the dailies for free advertising space while getting paid for a "kolm", comes out with a bold defence of Mellon's gang and their tactics the past few years. Arthur has never espoused the merits of any particular brand of patent medicine just yet, but we may expect it just as soon as they can raise the price.

The reading public has learned to discount the statements of Arthur at least fifty percent. The pecuniary gain is so flagrantly displayed in his screeds that hundreds no longer read his column.

KIDNAP INSURANCE NOW.

In addition to being adjudged wealthy enough to qualify as a kidnap victim, those who wish to "earn while they learn" may carry insurance that will, in many instances, repay them for the ransom expenditures.

Loyds of London is said to be selling policies to adults at three-quarters of 1 percent. The rate on children is somewhat higher at 1 1/2 percent. An extra policy may be taken out to protect the "kidnapee" against bodily injury while being entertained during the period spent with the abductors. This new arrangement will enable many to make the front page while drawing pay for it.

SENATORIAL VACATIONS.

Everything possible for the comfort of the investigating body has been provided at New Orleans. They are supposed to go down there for a salt breeze and incidentally look over the political fences of one Senator Huey Long. It has been intimated that he has a few rotten planks in a certain fence. One of the legislators of Texas wasted over $2,000 in time and money that one old boy could get up before that body and accuse Huey Long a liar. The general run of the middle or pro-bourgeois class is not interested in political scandal. They are vitally interested in seeing that these big financiers are choked off so that the nation can recover. If any money is to be spent, it would appear that it should be spent in helping the masses rather than the classes right now.

DISCOVERING THE GENIUS.

Following every financial depression, we come suddenly to discover that the inventive talent has been busy all through the dull period. Numbers of patents have been granted on a long list of valuable necessities that will bring more happiness to the human family.

The auto industry comes in for a goodly share of these improvements—naturally. A new brake lining substance in which carbon black forms the major element, is one of the lucky inventions. Moisture does not affect these linings. Another invention series that means much to the plains people applied to windmills. Mills in the future are to require far less wind because of the new turntable that keeps them steadily in line with the wind force, and the ball-bearing system that renders the bearings practically indestructible. The ball bearings take the place of the present "plate" bearings that forever call for grease. The new ball bearings are a decided improvement over the newer "bath in oil" bearings because they do not require oil—graphite is used thereby dispensing with dust catching surface. The mill parts are fewer and the price is much lower.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO BUT . . .

The Liberty Loan posters of recent memory, have their successor now. It is a blue eagle against a white background, with the letters NRA at top and the motto "We Do Our Part" below. One of the eagle's claws clutches a cog-wheel, the other holds to what might be a modernist's idea of a handful of wheat, or bolts of lightning. It is the emblem of the National Recovery Administration, and represents one of the cleverest attempts yet made to produce an end through force of public opinion.

Contrary to many persons' belief, the President has no legal means of forcing wage and work agreements on business. He and his advisors became impatient at the way the codes were going—it took several weeks to produce one, that of the textile industry. The blanket appeal was the result. In effect, the Government is saying: "Of course, you don't have to do this, but . . ." And that is a very important

"but" indeed. Recalcitrant businesses are apt to find themselves faced with a boycott. Mr. Roosevelt has the great mass of the public with him; he is making the most of it.

Agreements are being signed by the thousands, and the idea is genuinely popular. Every business is made to feel that it has the President, personally, as a director and advisor. The press, irrespective of party, is behind the move, as are chambers of commerce and other organizations. If the plan doesn't work as expected, it won't be because there was lack of aggressiveness and speed at the top.

REHEARSES ECONOMIC ERRORS.

Reformers for many years have been trying to tell the folks what not to drink. Very, very few have been paying much attention to the economic condition that drives men to drink liquor to excess. Still fewer have been trying to work any reform in a commercial system that compels the masses to support the classes.

Arthur Brisbane in his column recently emphasized what he considered a great crime. The basis for the Brisbane crime was found in the New York stock exchange. Some "criminal" had placed tear gas bombs in such a position that when the liquid gas was released, the operators of that gambling hell and the employees were forced to vacate the building. The tear gas was placed by a "criminal" but no mention was made of the gamblers being criminals. Gamblers in the stock markets make suicides, paupers, human wrecks. They deny children the advantages of education and commit a thousand other wrongs through the operation of a "legalized" gambling approved by the government. Other gamblers deal in cotton, wheat and corn futures. They do not own any of it, but they control the price of these and other farm products. The government permits these wrongs to the great detriment of the farming class. Would we not have more faith in the NRA if these gambling hells were dispensed with first? If our government is to equalize opportunity, we do not need the commercialized machinery of capitalism to handicap our progress.

"Workmen are exploited too much. Two hundred corporations which in turn are controlled by 2,000 men, are in charge of all the business of the United States. The financial structure of the nation amount to 300 billion of dollars is controlled by a few of the banking houses like Morgan, Kahn and Mellon. If opportunity were equally distributed, each family would have an income of about $2,000 each instead of $600 as they have now."

It is pretty generally agreed that the present economic system has fostered crime and racketeering. Many churches have been commercialized to their great detriment. Divorce courts have been speeded up. As a nation suffering from commercial wrongs, happiness has been sought in many ways that caused a laxity of morals. This excess materialism has brought unhappiness in general and created paupers and beggars by the million, the latter through the dole system the past few months. Knowing that great leaders in this effort to recover from economic distress are conversant with these conditions, we patiently look forward to many changes for the better before the new year.

An Editorial in the Rotarian Magazine

The United States' National Recovery Act is a bold stroke. Overnight, it brands as outlaws those parasitic interests which have long fringed legitimate business and numbed the hands of men who would play the game by rules based ed on fairness to employee, management, and consumer. It stamps with approval the policy of industries and concerns that operate on the principle that business was made to serve man.

Business and professional men who have convictions on the subject of commercial bribery, fair prices, honest products, and living wages for workers, now have their innings. Whether their cause is to be vindicated and a new deal permanently written into economics depends, in large measure, on their response to the challenge. Codes of practice and ethics are to be written by someone. By whom if not them?

ODE TO THE LITTLE FISHES

(Though more than a little foul)
By the Staff Poet

When the little fishes frolic
In the rippling little brooks;
Seem to long to start a-striking
At our feathered little hooks,

There's an urge wells up within us
To take up our rod and reel
And get out with just the fishes,
Who don't know of the "new deal."

Those happy little fishes
Who in blissful ignorance
Have no worries, such as men have
That they'll lose their shirts and pants;

For they know naught of inflation,
Where 'twill leave us some fine day;
But are filled with due contentment
When a fat fly comes their way.

Yes, their care-free lives we envy.
For they 'scape the woes of man,
Till at last e'en these they lighten
When they grace our frying pan.

Get Rid of Malaria!

Banish Chills and Fever!

To conquer Malaria, you must do two things. (1) Destroy the infection in the blood. (2) Build up the blood to overcome the effects and to fortify against further attack. There is one medicine that does these two things and that is Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic! The tasteless quinine in Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic destroys the malarial infection in the blood while the iron builds up the blood. Thousands of people have conquered Malaria with the aid of Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. In addition to being a noted remedy for Malaria, it is also an excellent tonic of general use. Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic is pleasant to take and contains nothing harmful. Even children like it and they can take it safely. For sale by all stores.

College Station, Texas, Aug. 8. Very few graduates in animal husbandry from Texas A&M College are out of work now, according to a recent survey made by Prof. D. W. Williams, head of the animal husbandry department at the college. The majority of these graduated, he says, go into the production field or active ranch work, although numbers become county agricultural agents or vocational agricultural teachers. "It is interesting to see," Mr. Williams says, "that the chief competition in steer classes at stock shows in which the college enters usually comes from our graduates who have done outstanding work in feeding and breeding in connection with their positions or with their leadership in club work."

TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

More information has been collected the past week regarding the habits and customs of the "hillbillies" of Palo Pinto county. A close inspection would lead one to discern a strong likeness to those of Jack county.

A man of strong physique and still stronger imagination, and a horse shoer by trade informs me that his patrons merely call him by phone, state the color of the animal, and he has the shoes ready when the animal arrives. The fit is perfect. This degree of skill has seldom been equaled.

Another party requested the government to return his cotton contract for the reason that his mule refused to follow the row in plowing up the cotton. Old Beck had been trained never to step on the plants. He could not plow the row if Beck walked down the middle. He had only one mule, therefore straddling the row with a team was out of the question.

spend the week end on Squegee creek near where Keechi enters the Brazos. It is estimated that 500 coons populate 40 acres in the creek bottom. This is said to be near that tree from which 42 squirrels were shot last week. This hunt is being considered with a great deal of earnest expectation. If the coons are located, a tannery will be established and the coon skins rigged up for ladies coats. Furs will be high later in the season. Next to the oil game, this rough country has no other greater natural resource than animal furs—unless it would be natural born liars.

The fishing experiences continue unabated. Fishermen drink plenty of home brew and then simply let nature take her course. It is a great life in northern Palo Pinto and Jack county where the height of the "mountains" rival the Switzerland Alps.

Many thanks for the many fine letters from Donley county with a flood of best wishes. Those that encourage the Apostle to remain down here are looked upon with more or less suspicion. Some go so far as to offer us a salary if we will agree to remain down here, or anywhere else if we will only stay out of Donley. By darn we haven't much intention of coming back to Donley anyhow—start the payroll.

The Apostle spent Saturday in the Keechi valley of old Jack county. The most of the afternoon was spent on the Johnson Bros. ranch where is found the largest herd of hornless Herefords in America. Louis and Bill Johnson are great fellows, sell lots of bulls of the finest grade that grows. Their cows are just as fine. All prices are low, a tip-top bull bringing about what a first-class Jersey milk cow does in Donley. After being shown over thousands of acres of mesquite grass pasture inhabited by Herefords, we were escorted back to the beautiful new brick bungalow home of Bill Johnson where refreshments were served in a manner known only to Jack county folks of Keechi valley. Due to the drouth, the cattle were being fed oats and barley from self feeders, and all of them were in prime condition. It was a great trip. Others making the trip from here in Mineral Wells were Senator Henry C. Briscoe of Frederick, Oklahoma, Major Wm. Burchard of Pecos and the Apostle. We picked up Mr. Brannon on the rim of Keechi to pilot us over the ranch.

Calling at a typical home in the blackjacks, we saw an Axminster rug on the bed. The unusual sight excited our curiosity and upon inquiry we learned that the rug had been sent back by an older member of the family who escaped to civilization soon after the war. The home folks thought it was a counterpane and had been using it on the bed for six years. Even at that, they refused to put it on the floor because they would not wash their feet until Saturday night.

On the rounds we found an old-fashioned preacher within a few miles of Jacksboro who still believes it to be his duty to visit his members and visit the sick of any denomination. We were told in Jacksboro that he was the only preacher of his kind in the Cross Timbers, and his ideas were somewhat of an embarrassment to the more up-to-date folks in town, and especially when they found out we belonged in the Panhandle. In order to let the natives down easy, we told them about Bro. Ingram doing the same thing out our way. So pleased were they when found out that the spiritual reputation of the county had not been endangered, that the lady gave us a generous supply of seed of the gourd dipper growing over the front porch. When this drouth ends, they will have no poke salad material left. It will be necessary to import seed from other sections. The ground is so hot that lizards hang on the phone polls. Chimneys on the claw dad holes in some places were 3 feet high near mud holes never known to be dry since 1887.

A number of new patients have come to the Milling Sanatorium this week. Mrs. Dickerson of Le-fors, who was brought down here stored in a baggage coach on a cot 3 weeks ago an invalid from rheumatism, is now walking any place and improving every day. She was accompanied here by a daughter and they took the train at Clarendon. Several are here from the Panhandle. Floydada is represented by Mr. Harmon the mortician and a fine fellow. T. P. Gipson of Lubbock and an old timer there is doing nicely. Pampa, Panhandle, Dalhart, each have patients here. All the folks are members of the one big contented family. Mrs. R. Z. Abell and Howard Brown are doing excellent work. Dr. Milling is off for a vacation and will likely be back this week. All three of them will be rushed with the big crowd of patients when the money crop begins to move.

Those here for treatment represent chronic cases of goitre, rheumatism, paralysis, prostate gland, gall liver and bladder trouble, blindness of 20 years standing and many other afflictions "too numerous to mention" as the auctioneer would say. While these new ones are coming in, some leave every day after being restored to health. The time required to effect a cure depends a great deal on circumstances but will average from 2 to 5 weeks. The costs of board, room and treatments is from $21 per week up to around $27.50. The only difference is in the room arrangement. The treatment is all the same as required by the patient regardless of the price charged.

All those applying for treatment are not accepted. If the doctors do not feel that they can effect a cure, the patient is courteously informed of the opinion formed and is not accepted. During the past few weeks, the writer has seen cures effected that are beyond his fondest imagination. A small girl afflicted with St. Vitus dance was cured in about 2 weeks after a long period of affliction. Nervous diseases is one of the specialty of Milling Sanatorium.

The writer has not been asked to mention these facts here. He will receive no reward except possibly the good will of those patients who may be induced to come here as a final resort when other sources of treatment have failed them. If these articles will point the way to the source of health and renewed hope to but one person, he will have received a just reward for his time and trouble. After you have tried everything else, write Milling Sanatorium, Mineral Wells, Texas. Those are about the only cases that enter here.

Baseball in Clarendon is still alive but due to the Tournament in Amarillo no game has been scheduled for the past two weeks.

The Tournament in Amarillo is attracting large crowds during these depression times. Quite a number of teams entered and they are having some real games.

The team entered by our neighbor, Claude has won one and lost one but still have a good chance to finish in the money. Teams from Texas, Okla. and New Mexico were entered.

Tipton Okla. today has won two and lost nothing. They will probably finish second best. The writer is picking the strong Red and White team from Wichita Falls to cop first place. We would be glad to see Claude win the tournament but our better judgment points to the Wichita entry.

The Major Leagues are still having a hot race. Washington leads the Yanks today in the American League by two games with one more game of their "crucial" series to play. The Giants continue to lead the Pirates by three games.

MRS. FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, wife of the President of the United States, motored unexpectedly and unheralded into Quebec and spent two days recently seeing the sights of the Ancient Capital. Lower Motor Costs Seen
After A. A. A. Test

Oil Consumption is Cut 28.5 Per Cent in Run at Indianapolis

DRASTIC reduction in the cost of auto operation is forecast as a result of motor oil tests conducted at the Indianapolis Speedway under auspices of the A.A.A. Contest Committee. During these tests a new oil, developed by the Gulf Refining Company, obtained 28.5 per cent more miles to the quart... and cost 28.5 per cent less to use, when tested against three popular, high-grade brands familiar to every motorist.

Fords, Chevrolets, Plymouths and Buicks, picked at random from the streets of Indianapolis, were used in the four-day run. Each car traveled 450 miles a day at a constantly maintained speed of 45 M.P.H., using a different brand of oil each day. Oil consumption was rigidly checked by A.A.A. officials, and results were corrected for variations in temperature. The new oil, which out-performed the other oils by a wide margin, is made from a 100 per cent paraffin base, and is refined three steps farther than ordinary motor oils. Introduction of this advanced process marks a definite step forward in the refining industry and, it is believed, will result in decreased operation costs for the average motorist.

BRAY SCHOOL NEWS

It seems only a few days since the 1932-33 school term at Bray came to end, but on Monday July 31, fifty-six pupils and the same three teachers that have taught at Bray for the past three years assembled themselves together in the beginning of the 1933-34 school term. Even though the vacation period has been short and the weather is extremely warm, everyone seems jubilant over the prospect for a more successful school year than either of the two preceding years.

The teachers are Mr. and Mrs. Colman Howard and Miss Florene Hollingsworth. Mr. and Mrs. Howard attended school in Canyon during the vacation period at Bray, while Miss Hollingsworth spent her vacation in her home in Turnesville, Texas, but they are all back with the Bray pupils now and we are really glad to have them, in order that we may be together here in the Bray school to try to make our community better and a more educated community.

On Friday night, July 28, the Baptist meeting opened. Bro. Wells of Hedley did the preaching and Mr. E. Z. Gordon led the singing.

We had a very good meeting and school together. Each morning at eleven o'clock the entire school assembled into the auditorium for the morning services where the preacher would talk very encouraging to the entire audience for some time and which we enjoyed very much. The meeting closed Sunday night, July 6th.

College Station, Texas, Aug. 8. Fifty students at Texas A&M College are candidates for degrees to be awarded Aug. 26 at the close of the second term of the annual summer session at the college. Of this number, fourteen are candidates for master of science degrees and thirty-six are candidates for bachelor degrees. No formal graduation exercises will be held.
