OLD SETTLERS TO MEET FRIDAY AT TATE GROVE

Record Crowd is Expected At Fourth Annual Meet This Week

Like every other thing worth while, the Pioneer Association had a small beginning. The original idea is said to be due to a conversation between Mrs. Willie Rains and Mrs. Josie Adamson back in 1913 when the two ladies began talking of "how nice it would be for the old settlers to get together once each year."

Once the idea was originated, others became interested. The two ladies began to plan a picnic. The phone was brought into use and as a result of their efforts the first meeting was held in August of 1931 on a creek south of Hedley known as the Spaulding grove.

At this first meeting, there was an estimated attendance of some three hundred. A number responded to requests for old-time talks of the long ago. Enthusiasm grew and it was there that the Pioneer Association had its inception and became an annual affair.

In the annual meeting during August of 1932, the crowd was estimated at more than a thousand. The meeting place was changed to Tate grove northeast of Hedley.

The gathering Friday the 24th of this week will be in Tate grove (continued to back page)

Holland Tour Becomes Very Interesting American

"Why folks will go to far distances to see something when they can see much more interesting things nearer home, is a mystery to me," was the statement of Joe Holland Jr. Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Holland left here some ten days ago on a belated honeymoon trip to the mountains of New Mexico. They visited Las Vegas, Raton, Taos, Santa Fe and passed up the famed Cimmaron canyon and Esogie Nest dam country.

Mr. Holland is enthusiastic in his description of the Scottish Rite Cathedral at Santa Fe. Then the museum required a part of the sightseeing for the three days. A visit to the oldest church in America was included in the list of sights new and interesting.

Pioneer Panhandle Doctor Dies at Ft. Worth

Dr. Joel S. Morris, aged 85, veteran physician who rode the plains of the Texas Panhandle in early days using saddle bags, passed away at his home in Ft. Worth at 1:35 a. m. Saturday. He had been ill four years.

During the World War, 42 boys at whose births he had officiated, were encamped at Camp Bowie. When 18 of them became ill, from Mrs. Morris he moved them from the camp and treated them until normal health was restored.

From 1894 to 1910 he was traveling surgeon for the Denver railway west of Clarendon.

Singing School to Close At Chamberlain Sunday

The singing class at Chamberlain will continue this week as additional time added to former plans. This is a compliment to the teacher, Mr. L. H. Earthman and denotes the enthusiasm of his pupils.

Next Sunday afternoon will be devoted to singing. Mr. Earthman plans with his class in extending an invitation to the general public to be present and enjoy the songs of fellowship and mix with neighbors in singing the good old hymns as well as the new ones learned during the class period.

Cotton Growers Are Issued Warning Option Sales

The government is sending out warnings to holders of 1933 cotton options informing them that speculators are attempting to secure options purely for speculation that they may reap the profit.

HIGHER GRADE PUPILS TO HAVE BUS PRIVILEGE

High School Education Will Be Made Possible For All Rural Students

Bus transportation of high school children from the rural communities to the high schools of the county has been given an impetus the last two weeks.

Hedley school trustees have purchased a bus with an all-steel body accommodating sixty pupils for the purpose of bringing to that school pupils from the McKnight and Ring districts.

There are routes being developed from Clarendon south to Huggins and Chamberlain districts, and north to Jericho and Goldston districts. These two routes will not only accommodate the high school pupils in the four districts cooperating, but will bring in a number of pupils to the Clarendon Junior College, according to county superintendent Sloan Baker.

Mr. Baker is representing the County Board of Education in a number of transportation conferences being held at Hedley, Clarendon, Lella Lake, Windy Valley, Chamberlain and Bray explaining the program of the state department to the trustees and patrons.

The County Board consisting of W. A. Poovey as president, and H. T. Buxton, Edwin Baley, W. M. Pickering and Claude Nash, would like to see every community cooperating with this newer method of transportation that every child may have equal opportunity with the city child in securing the advantages of a high school education without any increase in taxes.

REUNION HELD NEAR LEFORS IN ALL DAY RALLY

Twenty-Seven Young People Organize Young Pioneer Association

Meeting with Miss Miriam Wilson at Lefors Sunday the 19th, a "Young Pioneers Association" was formed to be patterned somewhat after the similar organizations of their elders.

The picnic spread at the noon hour was a proverbial custom according to Cecil W. Smith, one of the participators of the feast spread by childhood friends and former schoolmates.

Walter Hardin was the principal speaker after which a permanent organization was made which will meet at the same time and place annually.

Miss Miriam Wilson was elected president; Mrs. Noah Reed secretary.

Those attending from Clarendon were Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Hommel, Miss Vondel Hommel, Mrs. Vera Reeves McMurtry, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Smith, Miss Alice Marget Smith.

Lefors: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Short, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hardin, J. E. Anderson, Mrs. Lizzie A. Chatham, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wilson, Meele B. Richey, Alice Short, Joe Wilson, Doris P. Newsom, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Wilson, Miss Miriam Wilson.

Major Simpson Spoke Here For Allred Saturday

A large crowd gathered on the street near the M System grocery Saturday to hear an address by Major E. A. Simpson of Amarillo in behalf of the candidacy of James V. Allred's gubernatorial race.

The Major's oratorical powers stood him in good stead in informing the public of the issues in the campaign, his talk being well received throughout.

The speaker was introduced by Homer Mulkey, a Hunter supporter, much to the detriment of the crowd. Mr. Mulkey makes a specialty of introductions regardless of whom or where it may be, and impartially.

CATTLE BUYING MAY SLOW DOWN ACCOUNT OF RAIN

Those Signing Applications To Sell to Government May Decide to Hold

Since it is not compulsory that one sell cattle to the government even though application to do so has been signed, cattle sales may stop the moment owners are assured that rain sufficient has fallen to provide forage for winter.

Another thing, if the price offered upon appraisal does not meet with the approval of the owner, a sale may be refused since no one will be or can be forced to sell at any price.

Applications totaling 4,500 head have been received at local headquarters for sale to the government.

The prices offered vary according to age. Stock is divided into three classes. Those over 2 years old are priced at $14 to $20; from one to two years old, $10 to $15; under one year old, $5 to $8.

Applications for the sale of stock may be made at the City Hall in Clarendon. R. H. Mulr is appraiser and Dr. Cherry is inspector for Donley county the last three days of each week.

Judge Fischer Will Make Allred Address

Judge L. M. Fischer of Amarillo will speak over radio station WDAG Friday night from 8:30 to 9:30 in the interests of the candidacy of James V. Allred.

Judge Fischer has spoken here earlier in the campaign as well as a number of other Panhandle towns. His remarks will be most interesting tomorrow night to the adherents of either Hunter or Allred. Hear him.

Shamrock Minister Showered Friday Night

Rev. Billy Reeves, Minister of the First Christian Church of Shamrock, who conducted the singing for the Evangelistic meeting of the First Christian Church here, was given a pantry shower last Friday night. At the close of the meeting, the members of the church surprised the minister and gathered at the parsonage here, bringing with them many jars, glasses and cans of fruits, meats and sweets. About thirty took part in this affair and all enjoyed it very much.

$117,761.41 IS PAID TO DONLEY COUNTY GROWERS

Similar Sum Will Be Paid On Second Payment Soon As Papers Approved

Seven hundred and eighty-nine cotton contracts have been received by the committee up to Wednesday. A total of $58,539.81 has already been paid out to Donley county cotton growers. Some have not been paid due to a failure to sign contracts. Approximately $70,000.00 will have been paid out on the first payment when the work is completed. A second payment of a like sum will be paid later.

Due to the fact that only a small portion of the soil of the county is suitable for the growing of small grain, only forty-four wheat contracts were made in government rental reductions. The sum of $13,221.60 has already been received by our wheat growers, and a similar sum will be received later as the second payment.

The corn-hog contracts have been slow due to the failure of some to meet with the committee and sign up promptly. A total of 235 contracts have been signed. Our farmers will receive approximately $46,000 on these contracts just as soon as the papers are cleared by the government officials.

Norwood Pharmacy Ends Third Year's Service

By way of celebrating their anniversary, which is an annual affair, the well known Norwood Pharmacy at this period of the season makes special prices to their friends that the customers may have a share in the celebration.

This week being their anniversary week, and the third year of the history of the firm in Clarendon, a large advertisement appears on page four of this issue of the Leader in which may be found commodities with prices that are especially attractive.

In offering special prices, the firm knows of no better method by which the firm might express appreciation of the patronage given the firm. G. E. Norwood and Ted Williams own and operate the business, both being graduate pharmacists.

The firm is expecting a rush for these bargains over the week end.

RAINS FALL IN MANY PARTS OF THE PANHANDLE

Government Gauge Shows Fall of One and a Half Inches in Donley Co.

Soaking rains covering an area from points in New Mexico as far east as Gainesville fell Wednesday evening and Wednesday night. The fall in Donley County came during the night.

The fall here assures plenty of feed and an average cotton crop according to farmers interviewed this morning. Crops in this section had held up under the withering blast of the dry weather and hot winds to a remarkable degree.

Winter pastures will be sown at once. This with the row crops means that little or no money will go outside the county for feed this winter.

The rainfall varied from 2.25 at Wellington to a shower at Quanah during the night. Other sections to receive rain were Glen Rio, N. Mex., Hartley, Amarillo, Canyon, Pampa, Shamrock and 2 inches at Vega, Texas.

Southwest Oklahoma received a general rain. When the fall began at Altus, the people gathered in the street in a jollification of the event.

Minister to Celebrate His Eleventh Anniversary

Rev. W. E. Ferrell, of the First Christian Church will celebrate his eleventh anniversary of ministerial work next Sunday. He has served in three pastorates during these eleven years. His first was in Mississippi, the second in Maryland, and the third and present one here in Clarendon. Rev. Ferrell says he will celebrate the occasion, by preaching his ordination sermon, "What must I preach to be saved."

There will be no evening services at the First Christian Church Sunday as they have dismissed for the evangelistic service now going on at the Baptist church.

CARD OF THANKS

The Goldston community takes this method of expressing thanks to the Shamburger Lumber Co. for their generous loan of lumber used in erecting seats for the two revivals recently here.

Allred to Speak Over Radio

All those wishing to hear Attorney General James V. Allred discuss the campaign issues in its final analysis should tune in on any of the larger stations about 8:30 Friday evening.

This talk may be heard over WOAII of San Antonio and other stations. The landslide to Allred over the state has continued all of the week as more exposures of his opponent's stand have come to light and all of these issues will be included in the last talk to the voters at the closing hour of the campaign.

Local Teachers to Receive Degrees at Canyon

Among the teachers of Donley county to receive bachelor degrees at the Canyon school this week are McHenry Lane, who is the new principal of the junior high school department the coming term, and who has had a very successful experience as a teacher here for several years.

Sunnyview School Sessions Begin Next Monday

Announcement is made of the opening of the Sunnyview school next Monday, the 27th. This school has an 8th grade classification.

Because of the excellent record made last school session, the same teachers will again be in charge. Dave Waldron is principal and Mrs. John Naylor is assistant. Because of their thorough acquaintance with the school needs of the district, it is predicted that this coming session will be another successful and more beneficial year.

Each pupil and patron is expected to be present at the opening of the school to lend support to the beginning of the school spirit of that district that has made it foremost among the best rural schools of the county.

Attorney Ennis Favors will speak for Hunter here Friday night at 8 p. m. according to Mr. Odos aCraway, who is leading the Hunter forces in Donley county.

A WELCOME CALAMITY.

If some method could be devised to absolutely stop mud-slinging in a campaign, a lot of candidates would be dumb.

READY FOR THE BAND.

The National chamber of commerce has suggested that the management of the NRA be turned over to them. In case they succeed, we will ramble back to prosperity with flags waving and the band playing while the nation slowly bleeds to death on the installment plan.

SUGGESTION.

Since the two sons of Gov. Hogg object to the use of their father's picture in connection with the "Houston, Hogg and Hunter" advertising, and state that they are for Allred, why not suggest that the Hunter crowd use "Hitler, Hooley and Hunter" instead.

JIM FERGUSON GETS THE DOG!

The Ferguson Forum under date of August 16th is bristling with news about Jimmie Allred. Alleged facts that "Honest Jim" knew about all along but did not let it out until he "got mad" at Jimmie because Jimmie Allred says Ferguson "never does anything for nothing."

"Farmer Jim's" front page editorial is smeared over half of the sheet and contains nine paragraphs in which he tells nine lies. The language is typical being of the low brow type in which an obscene joke creeps in which is a characteristic of the old type of professional politician.

The second page contains an apology to the Saturday Evening Post for having swiped some of their thunder the week before. Swiping stuff from another paper and using copyrighted dope is termed "plagiarism" and carries a heavy penalty. After apologizing, old "Honest Jim" the editor winds up by recommending the Saturday Evening Post "most highly," something he never did before. The time will soon be here when he will be apologizing for a lot of lies printed in the same sheet about a certain candidate.

On page 3 of the same issue he has printed a picture of Jimmie Allred taken several years ago. Above the picture is the word "Jimmie", and beneath the picture old "Honest Jim" asks, "Why a Boy Governor?" Old Jim has been so busy with his pardon business that the years slipped by and he does not realize that Jimmie Allred has reached his 35th year and has become recognized as the greatest attorney general Texas has had since the days of Jim Hogg.

On page 4 of the same issue old Jim has printed photos of two houses. One appears on a paved street and he shows four views of it from as many angles. The other house is a little "squinted affair" down in the corner. "Honest Jim" tells the folks in his explanation of the pictures that Jimmie Allred lived on the paved street before he began to run for governor, and moved to the "squinted" house after he began his campaign.

As a matter of fact Allred lived in a four room house on a paved street until shortly before the birth of his second baby early last year. He moved into the five room house because the family needed more room. Neither home was extra fine, and we have a lot of better homes in Clarendon than either. Either home is good enough for any family, and it will be on the vine-clad porch of that modest little home where "confidence will smilingly welcome loyalty" when the next governor comes home for dinner at the "noon" hour.

If there ever was a time in the history of Texas when Fergusonism should be buried and every taint of it stamped out by defeating the members of his political ring, it is on August 25th.

OPEN FORUM

QUITS FERGUSON

In reading the last issue of Jim Ferguson's Forum, I see an editorial by "Jim, the Editor," saying the big issue between Allred and Hunter, is the question of taxation. That is an old promise that has been used by three-fourths of the candidates for Governor since I was a boy and fulfilled by none of them.

I would like to know where Mr. Hunter, if elected, would get his power and authority to change the tax system of this State one way or the other. Mr. Ferguson's big argument in this editorial is, that Mr. Hunter wants to abolish the ad valorem tax and the poll tax. Anyone knows it takes money to run any form of government and the only means of raising this money is through taxation. The homes of Texans valued under $3,000 are exempt from ad valorem taxes now. Mr. Hunter sees the little fellow getting by without paying it and it hurts him to realize that he, and a few hundred more millionaires are having to pay something that the farmer, carpenter, small merchants and all classes of laboring people don't have to pay.

The poll tax of Texas amounts to more than $1,000,000 a year to the schools of Texas. How are we going to operate our schools without taxes? The ad valorem tax on railroads, pipe lines, electric power lines, skyscrapers and refineries and other big business. Mr. Hunter is in a big oil company. This means a world of taxes to the State of Texas and we must have this tax to continue to run our State government. But he, Mr. Hunter, wants to abolish this tax for the benefit of finance and big business and put a sales tax on everything that is consumed by the poor people of this state and make them bear the burden of furnishing the money to run our State government and let the big fellows off with practically no tax at all, but, of course, we would expect this out of Tom Hunter. We would expect him to favor the big boys, of course, he is one of them.

Jim Ferguson stresses the fact that the tax program of Hunter is one of the finest things in the world for Texas. If it is so good, why hasn't he, Jim Ferguson, done something about it. He has been in office, out of office and trying to get in, all of his life, and if this is such a good thing, it seems to me, he would have thought of it long ago, as smart as he pretends to be.

There is a little sign that I have noticed in several restaurants in various parts of the country that reads as follows: "O—Lord, please help me keep my nose out of other people's business." It is very evident there are none of these signs in Austin, or Jim doesn't believe in signs, but he does seem to believe he is a shepherd of some kind and the people of Texas are a bunch of sheep that he can herd to the polls and vote the way he wants to, but I think he is going to be badly disappointed on August 25th.

Two years ago we finished with a millionaire Governor. What did he do for the working people of Texas? Nothing, exactly what Hunter will do, if he is elected, with one exception, and that is to use all of his influence to shift the burden of taxation from the shoulders of the "pot bellied millionaires" of this country to the shoulders of the hard working, honest people of this State, who are already burdened almost to the breaking point.

I am certainly glad Mr. Ferguson took the stand he did in behalf of Hunter, because I personally want to see Allred elected and firmly believe the "powerful influence" of Jim Ferguson will beat any candidate that he tries to put in office, as it beat C. C. McDonald. This county has always been a Ferguson county up to July 28. I have always supported Mr. Ferguson until now, but on July 28, Mr. McDonald received a grand total of forty-eight votes in this city box. If Jim can't control the Ferguson vote for his own candidate, how is he going to control this vote for Tom Hunter? In conclusion, I want to say I think we have had enough Fergusonism to last us for a long time, but if Hunter is elected, it looks like we are in for another two years of "ism." Let's don't have it. Let's elect a man that doesn't wear the Ferguson collar or the collar of any other bunch of politicians or financiers. That man is James V. Allred.

J. A. (Alex) BROWN, Jefferson, Texas. —Dallas News.

TOM FERGUSON

It is only a few days now until the people of Texas elect a new Governor and I think the people should think earnestly and carefully when they vote next Saturday, August 25th.

We have one of the most capable young men of our State, James V. Allred, running for Governor, and if elected we will have a first-class Governor and am sure all of Texas will be proud of him.

On the other hand, if we should make a mistake and elect Tom Hunter, without any experience, he would have Jim Ferguson as his dictator and we would be under the Ferguson rule another two years. Jim Ferguson and Hunter would sit side by side and when you addressed the Governor it would be "Tom Ferguson" with the accent on "Ferguson."

Vote for James V. Allred and he will make us a good Governor. E. C. BRUCE, 2612 West Twenty-Ninth Street, Fort Worth, Texas. —Dallas News.

IS FOR TOM HUNTER

Come now! Come now! Why so violently antagonistic to Jim Ferguson since two years ago. He is the same Farmer Jim of a couple years ago. He is reducing the big state debt inherited from Ross Sterling. Allred would have gladly accepted the eliminated candidates' influence in run-off battle now on, including Jim Ferguson—did make under-cover bid for their help. Hunter came out in the open at Hillsboro and invited their help. That's the difference. Here is to Tom Hunter.

A. W. GERNER.

(A. W., I quit "Farmer Jim" when I found out his promises amounted to nothing to the people except to place him in a position where he could rake in all the money within reach. Two years ago I chose the lesser of two evils as I saw it as between Ferguson and Sterling. I could not vote for Sterling—the oil millionaire. I can't vote for Hunter for the same reason now. Allred has put more money into the state treasury during his term as attorney general than any four men in the same office preceding him. He is clean, honest and has been found competent in every place he has filled. Editor)

VOTE FOR A MAN THAT DOES THINGS
JAMES V. ALLRED
CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

Below is Allred's Record of Savings for State of Texas
$1,020,000.00 The amount which accrued to the State's general revenue fund as a result of Allred's successful defense of the franchise tax law. This amount had been paid under protest by the corporations involved, and had the state failed, the money would have been lost to the Treasury and the taxpayers.

$129,115.20 Collected from the Freeport and Texas Gulf Sulphur Company as a result of investigations by Allred.

$161,935.08 Collected from the Railway Express Agency for delinquent gross receipts taxes.

$165,000.00 Saved for Texas taxpayers by the successful defense of the suit brought by the Red River Bridge Company for that sum.

$105,000.00 Collected by Allred from the United Gas Public Service Company for delinquent taxes in which the courts sustained Allred's contention that this utility should pay the tax on gas brought into Texas.

$150,000.00 Approximation of the amount saved taxpayers by Allred's insistence that the Legislature was too generous in authorizing claims against the State Treasury; a contention sustained by the Texas Supreme Court.

$314,040.88 Collected by Allred in 63 separate court trials for delinquent gross production taxes on crude oil production by oil companies and gasoline taxes (from oil refining companies). The amounts ranged from $40.70 to $93,000.00.

$30,000.00 From V. O. E. Wright for delinquent gasoline taxes.
$1,073,500.00 Collected from the Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas Company for its production from an oil and gas lease in the Yates oil field which the Attorney General contended, and the Supreme Court held, belonged to the Permanent School Fund. This was the second largest cash judgment in the state's history. The only larger was $1,718,009.14, the judgment in the Waters-Pierce oil anti-trust suit.

$530,000.00 Collected from oil companies as one-half the bonus and rentals on school lands. Most of this amount was collected as the results of the institution of suits; however, many companies, after the State won first test cases, paid voluntarily the amounts found to be due.

$45,000.00 Collected from Merchants National Bank of Brownsville for the State on Depository Bond.

$26,430.61 Collected from the Grayburg Oil Company for the State School fund, as the State's royalty on oil that had escaped into the Pecos river and there been recovered.

$393,452.53 The amount saved by the Attorney General's successful defense of an attempt to mandamus the payment of claims allowed by the Legislature.

$109,227.00 Court judgments in 20 gasoline tax evasion cases; cigarette tax evasion cases; gross production tax evasion cases.

$80,446.00 Saved for the state by the Attorney General's successful defense of one claim suit.

$66,000.00 Saved for the State by the Attorney General's successful defense of a claim suit.

$25,000.00 Saved for the State by the Attorney General's successful defense of a claim suit.

$51,000.00 Saved for the State in one claim suit by the Attorney General's defense of the action.

$800,000.00 Allred believed, and contended in the face of a Supreme Court opinion to the contrary, that sheriffs, court clerks and others who are paid by the "fee system," out of the tax-moneys in the State Treasury, should be paid only for actual services and no more. The Supreme Court had ruled that the Comptroller must pay any fee claim approved by a district judge, although that judge may have been in error, or negligent. The State's strong contention was upheld by the Supreme Court which in Rogers v. Lynn expressly overruled its former opinion. The amount saved is incalculable but fee claims upon the State Treasury have decreased by at least $800,000 annually since that opinion was rendered.

$166,214.53 Delinquent gross production taxes and franchise taxes collected in the last fiscal year by two assistants assigned to the Tax Commissioner's office.

$43,540.00 Collected as additional royalties on past production on University land in the Big Lake oil field, and deposited to the credit of the University permanent fund.

$15,157.00 Court judgments in penalty suits against convicted oil proration violators in East Texas.

$1,586,382.50 Saved for the State Highway building fund by the Attorney General's successful defense of the automobile license tax law. This amount, held in suspense accounts until the suit was settled, was turned over to the Treasury in these separate amounts: $666,629.97; $14,853.01; $33,024.28; and $374,875.24.

$24,947.80 Collected by one assistant attorney general in five suits brought on behalf of the State Highway Commission.

Worley Admits Lobbyists
Furnished Money For His Campaign Against Puryear

The following statement, signed by a notary public is self-explanatory. All other statements made by John Puryear concerning Worley are merely statements that Worley (himself) has made at different times.

STATE OF TEXAS
COUNTY OF COLLINGSWORTH
Before me the undersigned authority, a Notary Public in and for the County of Collingsworth, State of Texas, on this day personally appeared A. H. Reneau, who after being by me duly sworn, stated that on or about July 20, 1934, Eugene Worley, candidate for State Representative for the 122nd District of Texas, made the statement at public speaking in Dodsonville, Texas, that a lobbyist had offered to give him, Eugene Worley, the money to finance his campaign, and that he, Eugene Worley, refused to accept the money as a gift but agreed to accept the money as a loan, to be repaid later.
I, A. H. Reneau, do hereby swear that the above statement is correct.
Signed A. H. RENEAU
Sworn to and subscribed before me this 18th day of August, 1934.
J. G. NISBETT
Notary Public, Collingsworth County, Texas.

John Puryear, farmer openly defies anyone to show that he is a candidate for the LONE STAR GAS CO., or any other utility or special interest—

FURTHERMORE

The above statement in which Worley admits a lobbyist offered to give—and finally lent him money, shows that the Lobbyists, Special Interests and Utilities are afraid to have HONEST FARMERS and men like John Puryear in the Legislature.
--- BECAUSE John Puryear works for the interests of the people of the 122nd District and IS NOT a mere tool in the hands of big utilities and special interests.

TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

Glad tidings come out of Washington this week which is a great relief to dry weather sufferers. It is announced that some provision is to be made to take care of the men past fifty. It has been our idea that we would all be killed off something on the order that cull cattle are being handled now. Buy up the cull husbands, shoot them and use them for fertilizer. A lot of husbands have never been of any use otherwise.

The nation voted wet, and now look at her! There ain't anything drier right now unless it would be a picnic crowd in a gyp belt at 2 p. m.

Despite the dry weather, the crop of criminals is constantly increasing.

IT'S AS SOON BE WITHOUT TOOTH-BRUSH OR SOAP AS NOT TO HAVE OIL-OF-SALT

When quick action is necessary for burns, sunburn, cuts, scalds, and bruises, Oil-of-Salt is wonderful. And what relief for sore, tired, aching, itching feet—and torturing Athlete's Foot. Oil-of-Salt is a liquid. A liquid is always better. Soothes—promotes fast healing—checks blood flow—relieves pain. Used in 52,000 factories and fire departments. Get it at your druggist. The family's best friend when a friend is most needed. Comes in 50¢-75¢-$1.25 sizes.

A critic is a person with mental indigestion.

School days of 1934 soon to begin recalls a song sung to the tune of "School Days" that made the rounds last season. Here is the first stanza:

School days, school days—
Poker, crap and pool days—
Necking and petting and how to be fast;
Taught to the tune of a hip-pocket flask, etc.

There is an old saying that "a cleft in the chin of a man denotes that he loves the ladies." A black eye also denotes that he was not accurate in his judgment every time.

It's not the position that makes us happy or unhappy. It's our disposition. If we try to put things over rather than put them off, we've begun to win right from the start.

To save on your laundry bill, just hang your pajamas on the bed post in case of fire or storm.

Scientists tell us that the time is soon coming when we shall have to work no longer. Merely press a button and electricity will do the job. What has us worried, who will press the buttons?

One of the Boy Scouts visiting at Chicago read in a guide book where it said, "astonishment at a brilliant phantasmagoria" said he saw several big ones at the Sinclair exhibit just like the animals looked millions of years ago.

The republicans of Oklahoma are running a nigger by the name of Frank A. Anderson for the office of corporation commissioner.

Education is not so much in teaching people to know what they do not know as it is to teach them to behave so they do not behave.

It has been said that when a candidate throws his hat into the ring, his enemies take off the lid.

Next to politics, there is nothing

ing that will keep one guessing more than an influx of relatives in a bombardment of conversation. Nobody seems to listen. All those absent are discussed, and those present offer copious quantities of free advice that is never accepted.

This brings to mind the fact that the Old Apostle is this week besieged with relatives with the 'fats' in the majority. Five of them landed Tuesday. They are relatives of mine and had to drive like the dickens from that Jack county country to beat GW's nine brothers and sisters whom we have been dreading for some time.

It looks like a pleasant siege with corn on the cob and fried chicken every meal. When we stop to consider that GW will quit nagging and get up more to eat, we can endure relatives a lot better.

The only aunt of the writer heads the list. She lives at Ft. Worth and her name is Mrs. Mattie Jerusha Miller. I'm putting in that middle name because she never was very enthusiastic about it. Her daughter Lorena, son Harold and granddaughter Irene Burch all came from the cow town on the Trinity. Then another daughter, Mrs. Olive Althea Curley, hails from Bridgeport in the Jack county country. That is a section where they "live to eat" and treat folks in a neighborly fashion.

Most all of the women are fat and so is the son. The depression or drouth has had little effect. They are all strong for Jimmie Allred having lived neighbors to the Allred family at Bowie for years. They are telling me that Jimmie will sweep the lower country. This means that we are to have a real administration next year and get a share of the funds that have been going to other sections. We want our share of all that's coming to the Panhandle, and nothing more. By golly, we are going to get it too if the folks will vote for a friend of all the state Saturday rather than an oil millionaire who has never been tried in public office.

What are the inevitable results of such a situation? If Mr. Hunter were complainant in return for the votes Mr. Ferguson delivered, it would mean two more years of Fergusonism—a diluted and watered down variety, perhaps, but Fergusonism just the same. But we are not so sure Mr. Hunter would be complainant. He might decide that letting Mr.

Jimmie Allred put more money into the school treasury than any four attorneys general. It came from prosecution of illegal tactics of large oil companies. More than $8,000,000 was taken from the big companies and given to the school children, besides other suits in which the state has benefitted several million dollars.

Knowing Jimmie Allred and the other members of the family as I do, the idea that Jimmie is being backed by wealthy men is the biggest joke of the campaign. If Jimmie is not elected, the Allred family and a few friends of very small means will be broke for years to come. He's steered clear of any promises to any one and has carefully avoided placing himself under obligations to any individual. His campaign has been conducted on the same high plane as his record in public office. Never has the enemy accused Jimmie Allred of being dishonest. He's fair and square, open and above board and having come from the humblest home, he naturally has a sympathy for a square deal for all the folks of all walks of life. He never has promised me anything. I don't expect it and will not get it. Other backers are on the same plane. When you go to vote Saturday, please consider your interests as well as the interests of the big oil corporations. Vote for your own interests this time instead of helping Jim Ferguson or some one else who cares not whether you and your dependents live or perish.

TOM FERGUSON HUNTER?

Tom F. Hunter is now the acknowledged, avowed and receptive candidate of James E. Ferguson for governor of Texas.

All the implications of this situation should be thoroly understood by Texas voters before they go to the polls a week from Saturday.

The Press has, we hope, made it abundantly clear that we are not among the list of those to whom anything Mr. Ferguson does or tries to do is anathema. We readily grant him merits that those blinded by hate cannot see. It has been our earnest endeavor to treat the man and his ambitions solely as those ambitions affect the welfare of the people of Texas. And that is our sole purpose in this editorial.

If Tom F. Hunter were elected Governor of Texas, his support by former Governor Ferguson would mean that the latter would move into the statehouse and attempt to continue government by proxy, as he has governed during the administration of his wife.

That is inevitable from the makeup of Mr. Ferguson. His inordinate and incessant political ambitions make it constitutionally impossible for him to play second fiddle to any man, or any woman.

No sooner had one political horse foundered under him than the old relay-rider of Texas politics had mounted another, scarcely losing a stride. And the goal of the race is, for Mr. Ferguson, what has always been the goal of any race he has entered either in person or in proxy—power for Jim Ferguson.

What is true in a campaign would be true in administration. "Where the McGregor sits is the head of the table," and where Mr. Ferguson sits is the head of any council table at which he may be present. Or he doesn't sit.

George and Mildred Simmons visited relatives on the South plains last week.

Ferguson be the boss is too much to pay for the votes.

Mr. Ferguson is denied something Mr. Ferguson turns on the man he made politically—or at least upon whom he put the finishing touches.

Or perhaps the first move is made by Mr. Hunter. He turns Mr. Ferguson out of the statehouse insofar as Mr. Hunter can manage it.

But if the pair have previously "played ball," Mr. Ferguson leaves a large heritage of Ferguson followers at key points in the administrative structure of the state.

More bitter and senseless strife. Three factions instead of two in Texas politics. Two more years of turmoil. A house divided within itself inside the very doors of the capitol. A large and venomous faction outside using every means to discredit both Mr. Ferguson and the man he made—or finished.

So there you are. Two more years of Fergusonism, or two more years of war. That's what a vote for Hunter means, in our opinion.

If that's what the people of Texas want they can get it on August 25.

—Ft. Worth Press.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sore and numb and the world looks black, don't swallow a lot of pills, take our liver, oil, laxative candy or purgative gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and pleasant and full of energy.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just festers in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a bloated, bad taste and your breath is foul. Acid cities breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, acting when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. Get at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

"43% MORE NON-SKID MILEAGE"

"You're too modest!" Motorists who got the first G-3's put out—months before the public announcement—say, "You're too modest!" Many of them report 50% to 100% more non-skid mileage. Why, then, do we insist on only 43%? Well, 43% is a definite test-car-proved figure. Very likely it is low for normal use—because the tests which established the 43% average were gruelling: cars speeding up to 50, jamming on brakes, mile after mile, day and night. Very likely most motorists will get more than 43% more non-skid mileage. But we'll string along with 43%—because it's plenty to deliver at no extra cost. Come see the tire that's the talk of the nation.

The old maxim that "brakes will stop your wheels but the tires must stop your car" is becoming increasingly important, in the belief of Joe Holland, local dealer of The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

"CONDITIONS OF SALVATION"

"II. The Inspiration of the Bible."
In dealing with the general subject of salvation, we learn that it is a gift of God and that God requires us to obey His commands and instructions if we would receive this gift. Salvation depends on doing or obeying God's will, and His will is revealed in the Bible. (Matt. 7:21-23).

The Bible is God's inspired word, (Read II. Tim. 3:16,17; II. Pet. 1:20-21). Without the Bible nothing would be known of a Saviour. In the Old Testament the approach of Christ is gloriously predicted, but in the New Testament He appears as our living, loving Lord. Without the Bible, men would not know how to come to Him, or how to live acceptably in God's sight. "Belief cometh by hearing and hearing by the word of God. (Rom. 10:17).

The Bible, and not the creeds of churches or interpretations of commentators, should be our sole standard of appeal in religious matters. Error proceeds from man but never from God. His word is absolutely infallible. "To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because they have no light in them." (Isa. 8:20). The Bible should be our guide—a lamp unto our feet, a light to our path. There is a Bible because there is a God and there is only one Bible, because there is only one God.

We believe that God inspired the writers of old to write the things that He desired and to reveal His plan of salvation, and that no man or body of men have the right or authority to change by addition or subtraction any of His sayings, laws or commands. The religious confusion of today has been caused by people making changes to suit their way of thinking. We believe if the conditions as laid down in the New Testament were sufficient for the salvation of souls, church government and instructions for Christian living during the first century, that they are sufficient today. If the Scriptures revealed the plan of salvation then, why not abide by them now. We believe that the Bible is inspired of God and reveals His will and desire, and that we must go back to the Scriptures for the description of the church, the terms of salvation, and the divine plan of redemption. Let us be fair with God and study His way, using the Bible as our text book.

Next lesson: "The Revealed Way."

THE MILLING SANATORIUM

MINERAL WELLS, TEXAS

Abilene, Texas.

The rheumatism hit me during the 1929 Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth, Texas. I went to the Doctor and he said it was caused by my teeth. I had the teeth pulled that were bad. Went to Hot Springs, New Mexico, took a course of baths, went home and got worse. Then I went to Marlin, Texas, and went through the Clinic. They said it was my tonsils, so I had them removed for the second time; took a course of baths, went home and got worse than I ever was. I then heard of the Milling Sanatorium at Mineral Wells, Texas. I took treatment for eight weeks. Went from there to the Cheyenne Frontier Days Celebration, where I took part in the roping, bulldogging and bronco riding, and have been doing it ever since and still feeling fine.

BOB CROSSBY.

ALLRED'S LIFE STORY IN CONDENSED FORM

By Raymond Brooks
Austin, Aug. 18.—"Jimmie Allred, born in an humble Montague County farm home, early was fired with longing and ambition for an education and for life equipment to advance himself to a position comparable with those eminent "first citizens" of his community. As in his boyhood and early maturity, he began to feel the returns of ambition and hard work, he came to a sense of effectiveness and power. He knew he was on the right course, and he followed through with an intensity and singleness of purpose that has carried him now into the run-off, one of the two men between whom Texas will choose his next governor.

PUGNACIOUS COURAGE
Early struggles and ambition and plugging gave him an intensity and a colorfulness that have stood him to good effectiveness as a political campaigner. A pugnacious and aggressive type of courage has blended into the format of that intensity and concentration. Convictions grounded in youthful poverty, in the trials and the sweet victories of making his own way all the way up, have shaped his political philosophy, and are strongly reflected in much of what he offers as a campaign platform. This statement is equally true of his opponent, Tom F. Hunter; and the fact is important, in that the purposes and viewpoints that shaped themselves in the early struggles of two self-made young West Texas men, will leave an impress upon the public policy and life of Texas, as controlled by the outcome of this month's political contest.

Chance this year has made both of the final contestants men rather than the traditional size of the typical West Texan. Mr. Allred is slight, and his youthfulness reflects that he is in his 30's. Mr. Hunter, still shorter than Allred, is roly-poly. That neither is a big man physically probably strikes a sympathetic response in the minds of the average-sized citizens, of whom there are lots more than of the over-sized.

EARLY HARDSHIPS
Much of Allred's campaign platform is an epitome of that natural trend of thought, the products of his early life and environment. A glance at the main events of his life, and the thought of his humble, poverty-encircled boyhood life, do much to set the man of today, his campaign and his public policy declarations, in clear-cut perspective.

Allred's father was a farmer, later a rural mail carrier, later operating a modest business of buying and selling horses and mules. Allred's first dimes were earned shining shoes in a Bowie barber shop. Then he moved over to wash dishes, at 25 cents a day in a cafe. Then he peddled magazines, then got a job as stenographer in a law office, and studied law as he went. He served a turn in the navy, attended Rice Institute at Houston, and after studying law in Texas, completed his law work in Cumberland University.

$50 FIRST MONTH
Back in Texas, with his law license, he began law work in the office of Bernard Martin and Ben G. Oneal in Wichita Falls. His first month's compensation as a lawyer was $50. The second month his pay was doubled, and soon he was familiar in the courtrooms, trying a mass of general practice cases.

When he was 24, a vacancy occurred in the district attorney's office of the Wichita Falls district, and Gov. Pat Neff appointed the colorful young lawyer to the post. Incidentally, nine years later, Allred appointed Pat Neff, Jr., as an assistant attorney general.

The next year, 1924, Allred was elected district attorney. He retired from the office in 1926 to run for his first state office, attorney general, in which he fell a few thousand votes behind the veteran, Claude Pollard. He declined to run against Pollard in 1928, but in 1930, opposed Robert Lee Bobbitt, who had been appointed Pollard's successor, and won.

URGED FOR GOVERNOR
In 1932, when he was 34 years old, Allred was extensively urged to run for governor, when Ross Sterling was making a second-term race. Allred decided on a second term as attorney general, and won overwhelmingly after a particularly bitter campaign.

He believed the anti-trust laws meant what they said, and the anti-monopoly law. He declared in all his campaigns, his sympathy for the little fellow, the struggling independent merchant and business man and oil operator, against the big fellows. Early in office, he filed a renowned suit against the San Antonio Public Service Company, challenging the right of a public utility, having a monopoly in its field and a guaranteed return on its investment, to beat down the independent merchants selling gas and electrical devices. He won the case on trial, only to have the higher courts say there was not authority in law to afford this protection.

The most aggressive drive of this policy was the renowned anti-trust suit Allred filed against the American Petroleum Institute and 15 of the major oil companies. This attacked the marketing code, under which most of the filling stations were controlled by the major oil concerns. After every effort to secure delay, Allred forced some of the companies to produce their New York executives and records in court. The code claimed to have as its patron saint the Federal Trade Commission of a Republican administration.

CODES INTERRUPT
But as the case came on for trial, the government substituted a national code system for all industry; codes galore was the order of the day. Merits of the oil suit, as of the time specified in its pleadings, have not been determined, since the courts held that the universal application of codes had validated the procedure from their adoption. Allred appealed this.

Three other phases of activity have been outstanding in his conduct of the attorney general's office.

He found many piratical and insolvent companies, particularly insurance companies, operating to the detriment of the public, and he wiped these out in hundreds of court suits.

He found the state part to a suit, on behalf of the school fund, for a million dollars worth of oil and oil land in the troublesome vacancy-hunter litigation, and after long litigation, recovered $1,000,000 for the state.

CONTROLLING OIL BUSINESS
He found the railroad commission beset by constant appeals of oil operators to federal courts against conservation and proration orders; and the most extensive work of the department has been representing the state in finally bringing the oil business within regulation and control.

These are not all the things he had to do as attorney general. They are high-lights. It is natural that his platform should reflect his official experiences.

Some of his platform declarations, based on the idea of protecting the independent and the little fellow, and on administering the state government in the interest of the public, follow these things.

CHAIN STORE RULE
He, for instance, proposes regulation of the chain stores. He wants the state clothed with adequate powers to conserve resources.
