SIX STATES TO GET PRELIMINARY PLOTS IN WHICH 4 MILLION TREES WILL BE SET

First Experimental Tree Planting Will Follow Cap Rock in Donley County With Preference Being Given Lower Levels According to Character of Soil

One hundred and fifty miles of shelter belt planting in the drought area, the Forestry News Digest announces, will be made by the United States Forest Service in the early spring.

There will be thirty planting areas, one of which will be in the east Texas Panhandle. The area tentatively designated enters Texas north of Perryton, extends south along the Cap Rock in Donley to a point in north central Motley county. Thence north of east to a point about ten miles southeast of Altus, Oklahoma.

All the land included within Texas from that west line to the east state line is included in the first forest planting experiment. Approximately four million trees will be required, these to be purchased from nurserymen in the semi-arid belt.

The work will include nursery production, ground cultivation, fence construction, etc. It is estimated that 140 man days work will be required for each mile of planting.

Paul H. Roberts is acting director of the project, with headquarters in Lincoln, Nebraska.

As an independent relief work project, the SERA has had 300,000 seedlings planted the past year, these to be distributed according to areas best suited to their growth. Past experience and observation is said to show 26 varieties of growth suitable to this Texas area, with 11 different types of soil on which to plant. The varieties include ash, elm, oak, cottonwood, hackberry, chokecherry, plum, buckthorn, Buffalo berry, sumac, willows, cedar, pine, honey locust, walnut, mulberry, osage orange, chinaberry, seedling apricot, pecan, arbor vitae and Arizona cypress. Some of the above are known in several species, and the varieties found growing will be given first trial. Natural growth will also have a strong bearing in variety selection.

Syncopated Rally Is High Spot of "Crazy Politics"

Without question a big sensation and the most spectacular scene of the famous stage show, "Crazy Politics" will be the Syncopated Rally.

This is an unusual and interesting group number which uses 25 prominent local women who are well known singers in the community. Also included are a number of special characters who appear in costumes designed along the modernistic motif depicting what the future feminine politicians of the old home town would wear if women were in power. The plot of the show is based on the campaign for Mayor in a small town and it wouldn't be complete without a Rally. This all-women's scene of the show depicts a syncopated version of women in politics.

Two girls appear as the Women Walter Winchells, and these girls are Miss Dorothy Jo Ryan and Miss Eugenia Noland. They open this group number and the entire scene is done to music in Syncopated time and includes many songs and dances.

On the stage in this scene is the following group of women: Mesdames Glenn Truax, E. D. Landreth, Ralph Kerbow, Tom Goldston, Lalar Wilkerson, J. H. Howzy, Clifford Davis, W. H. Patrick, C. W. Bennett, Sr., C. G. Stricklin, L. S. Bagby, Seldon Bagby, Sella eGnry, George Ryan, W. G. Word, Allen Jeffries, J. L. McMurtry, R. L. Bigger, and Misses Mary Howren, Mantle Graves, Annie Bourland, Anna Moores, Ida Harned. These women represent Singing Politicians who are impersonating members of various clubs, such as the Mother's Club, the Sewing Circle, and the Bridge

Pioneer Cow Man Celebrates 80th Birthday Saturday

Through many years Mr. W. D. Jordan has been accustomed to spending his birthday with a daughter and her family at Arkansas City, Kansas. Being indisposed at this time, his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Long, came to celebrate his natal day on the Jordan ranch south of Ashtola.

Of his 80 years, more than half that time has been spent in the west where he has been engaged in the cattle industry in various capacities. Mr. Jordan is a fine old gentleman, a typical son of the west and admired for his sterling qualities by hundreds of friends who have come to know him through the many years of acquaintance.

Mr. Jordan has not been enjoying his usual good health this winter as much as his friends would like to see, but he is reported as improving.

Resigns Constable's Job For Other Lines

I. B. Pierce stated today that he had resigned the job of constable Monday. He gave as his reason that he had too many other lines to look after.

Pierce has been constable here for more than two years. He is also accredited with being one of the best finger print men in West Texas, several criminals being traced down through his skill.

WILL ROGERS IS HERE SHORT TIME ON RANCH VISIT

Gratifies Curiosity to See Famous JA Ranch if Only For Few Hours

Back in 1898 Will Rogers, internationally known comedian, worked as a cowhand on the Halsell ranch property near where Dimmitt is now located. Ewing Halsell, about the same age, hooked up with Will and they became fast friends that has lasted through the years.

Halsell wired Will that he was to visit the J A ranch Wednesday. Will was down state putting on shows in the interest of crippled children but could not pass up the opportunity to visit the famous ranch in company with an old cow-waddy of his younger days.

Will flew up from Austin landing here about 11 Wednesday forenoon. On the last lap he boarded a Braniff mail plane at Ft. Worth that made a landing here by special permission of the postal department as a special courtesy to Will Rogers.

The Braniff company wired Western Union agent T. W. Welch to have a "reliable taxi" meet the plane for an important visitor. Welch called Odos Caraway who agreed to 'cover' the situation.

In the meantime, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Hobart and son Fred and Ewing Halsell had arrived at the First National Bank by previous arrangements. Mr. Hobart is general manager of the JA ranch estate.

When the plane landed, Rogers was met by Odos Caraway with a "reliable taxi", and was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Hobart, Fred Hobart, Clinton Henry who is manager at the JA ranch, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bugbee, W. H. Patrick, Joe Goldston, Sam Braswell and J. T. Patman.

Upon the return of the party from the landing field east of town, Will broke loose, or almost loose, long enough to send his daily syndicated squib to New York. Thus Clarendon got a date line in practically all the daily papers, and for once got squarely on the map. The message was taken by Welch at Western Union, relayed to Amarillo and thence by wire to the offices of the McNaught Syndicate in New York City.

Rogers was taken in charge by Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Hobart, Clinton Henry and Ewing Halsell and escaped an increasing throng of curious people as they sped away to the JA ranch headquarters. Rogers remained out at the ranch until the night and then was taken to Amarillo where he is said to have taken a plane for Claremore, Oklahoma to visit his sister before returning to his home in California Saturday.

Will Rogers pictures at the Pastime Theatre have always drawn the largest crowds, "Judge Priest" being the last one. Mr. Mulkey is now in Dallas and expects to secure Roger's latest picture in his selection at this time.

Was Your Number Moved Forward?

Please look at the figures on your paper or the wrapper and see if your expiration date was moved up since you paid your renewal. Some times a mistake will occur, though not often or more than one or two during the year. If the figures are not correct, notify us at once.

At this time when a large number of names are being changed each week, mistakes are more likely to occur than at any other time. If your last figure is a "4", your subscription has expired. You don't want to miss a copy, and we don't want to drop your name from the list either. The better plan is to bring or send in the $1.50 right now before you forget it.

New Law Discards Penalties On Delinquent Taxes

Tuesday, Governor Allred signed a concurrent resolution authorizing tax collectors to receive delinquent tax payments without penalties and interest under a law enacted at the last special session but which otherwise would not become effective until Feb. 9, because of failure of the senate to give it a two-thirds vote. The scheme of making it effective at once was resorted to as a means of placing thousands of dollars of badly needed revenue in the bankrupt general revenue and Confederate pension funds, tax collectors reporting taxpayers were delaying payment of delinquencies until the law became operative.

Tax payments will be received by Joe Bownds without interest and penalties just as soon as he receives notice of the change in the old law.

CONSTRUCTION OF HIGHWAY IS JOB REQUIRING SKILL

Workmen Under Brown Near Giles Are Interviewed Tuesday Afternoon

Driving a truck or tractor on the T. M. Brown highway contract near Giles is one requiring highest degree of skill due to the deep fills and steeper hills. This is the conclusion arrived at Tuesday afternoon by both Homer Mulkey and the Editor of the Leader who made a personal inspection of the work being done by several gangs.

The main purpose of the visit was to ascertain, first hand, if Donley county men were being employed on the job following a number of varied reports from that section.

The Fresno gang north of the Frank Jackson home was looked over first. Some local men were seen there as well as strangers. Mr. Brown stated that Fresno men must understand grade percentage, and only skilled men could comply with the requirements.

Driving farther north, a visit was paid to the crew making a cut through a high hill with a machine that looked like a steam shovel used in cutting down banks along a railway. This machine loaded the dirt in trucks that were then driven down a winding steep hill, backed some distance and the load of dirt and rock dumped into a fill. The fill was being leveled out with a caterpillar tractor and grader affair. Every man worked with clock-like precision denoting a high degree of skill. Practically all of the men working at this point were local men of this county.

REPRESENTATIVE WORLEY TO SERVE ON COMMITTEES

Speaker Coke Stevenson Attempts to Satisfy All Members

As Speaker of the House, Coke Stevenson went a long way to bring about harmony in the Legislature when he made his committee appointments. While most of the best places naturally went to his supporters, supporters of Calvert were not ignored by any means, Bob Calvert himself being appointed chairman of the important committee of banks and banking.

In announcing his selections,

GENE WORLEY Representative 122nd District.

Speaker Stevenson stated that "he had purposely taken much extra time in order to pacify all factions so far as possible."

Representative Gene Worley from this district was appointed to three important committees, which is something unusual for a young man of no legislative experience. It is also a compliment to Gene Worley and a proper recognition of his ability and training. Mr. Worley is a law student in the State University, this being his fourth year.

The committees to which Representative Worley was appointed by Speaker Coke Stevenson are Insurance, Congressional and Legislative Districts, and Public Lands and Buildings, Oil, Gas and Mining.

It may be also noted that Mr. Worley led all the Panhandle representatives in receiving committee appointments, though this is his first year as a lawmaker, and some of the others have served several terms. This is no reflection whatever on the older members, but is a distinct compliment to representative Gene Worley of this district.

Chamber Commerce Speaker Not Yet Known

According to President Joe Goldston of the Chamber of Commerce, a speaker for the Chamber of Commerce banquet has not yet been secured. It still is thought that J. D. Hamlin, president of the West Texas Chamber will be the speaker if he can possibly fill the engagement.

The banquet will be held in the basement of the First Christian church.

The menu committee of which J. T. Patman is chairman, announce the following menu for that evening:

- Turkey with Dressing
- Gravy
- Cranberry Sauce
- Fruit Salad
- Creamed Potatoes
- Hot Rolls
- Apple Pie
- Whipped Cream
- Coffee

Glen A. Truax, Clarendon band master, will have charge of the musical arrangements.

WINTER'S BLAST SUDDENLY HITS PANHANDLE AREA

Water Pipes and Radiators Suffer Most Through Sunday Night

This section experienced its first winter weather Sunday as a "norther" long over due began to lower thermometers about 3 p. m. The alleged blizzard was reported to arrive not later than Saturday, and was to be accompanied by both rain and snow, according to the Dallas weather bureau in telegrams sent to the Panhandle.

The dry norther was a distinct failure so far as moisture was concerned, no snow falling south of Nebraska except in the mountainous areas. Wheat suffered most from dry freezing, and high winds.

Local thermometer reading registered one below zero according to the government weather bureau conducted by Joe Goldston. Some thermometers on the higher parts of the south side registered three below.

Numbers of auto radiators were frozen by owners neglecting to use an anti-freeze prevention. Water pipes in a number of homes were burst where the occupants failed to turn the water off, or relied on no colder weather than was experienced here the past two winters.

No loss of life, or stock losses have been reported from any source locally.

President's Birthday Ball Arrangements Made

The grand march will begin at 9 p. m. at the Opera House Wednesday evening, led by Mayor John W. Martin and a lady whose name is not available at this time.

Various civic clubs and other organizations of the town will have representatives in the receiving line at 8:45.

The Aaron Hale orchestra has been secured to furnish music for the dancing.

General chairman Clyde I. Price states that the ticket sales are coming along nicely under the direction and management of R. C. Land and Dr. A. W. Hicks.

Old Methodist Religious Library is Sold

The library books composing the religious library of the old Methodist college here was sold Monday through the local school board to James L. Standridge, minister of the local Church of Christ, and his brother-in-law, Robert C. Jones, minister of the Central Church of Christ of Amarillo.

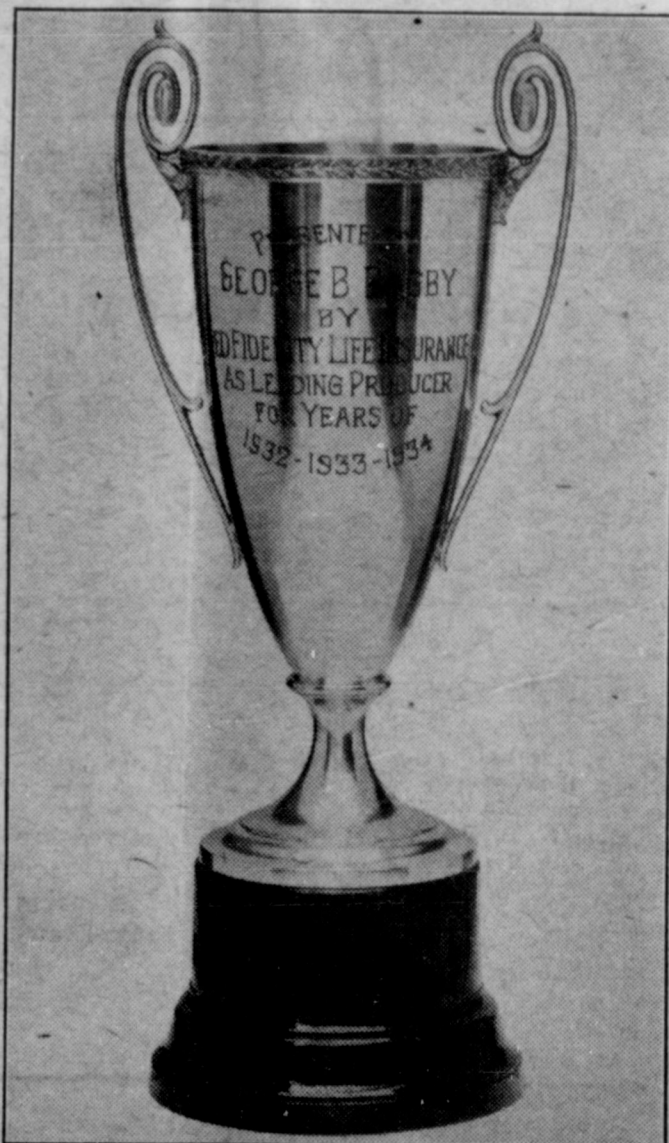

The purchase includes approximately about two thousand volumes of books and has been added to the private libraries of the purchasers. Many of the books now out of print, are considered of more than ordinary value above their first cost.

Returned Missionary to Speak At Presbyterian Church

Rev. Roy F. Cleveland, a former Texas boy, and now a missionary of the Presbyterian Church, stationed at Lubondai, Belgian Congo, in Africa, will speak at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning. Dr. John R. Kott, international authority, after a recent tour of the mission fields of the world, stated that the work on this field is the outstanding piece of work in the entire missionary undertaking of Christianity. Come and hear Reverend Cleveland tell about it.

Dallas, Texas, Jan. 15, 1935.—

George B. Bagby is again being saluted by the United Fidelity Life Insurance Company as their leading producer of 1934, in which he not only duplicated, but exceeded, his excellent records of 1932, 1933, and the years before. Ever since he has been with the United Fidelity Life Insurance Company, he has had the distinction of being the Company's leading producer every year. Also, he has won a prize in every production contest held by the Company during this year. Mr. Bagby's record proves him to be an unusually successful life insurance agent. During the year 1932, he had a production totalling $347,778.00 of delivered and paid-for business. During that year, he sent in a total of 192 applications, and 188 policies were completed and delivered to his clients.

In 1933, Mr. Bagby submitted 214 applications for a total of $302,351.00 of delivered and paid-for business. In 1934, Mr. Bagby exceeded the two previous years, both in number of applications written and total volume of business, when he sent in 310 applications for $361,363.00. Of this business, all but seven applications for $1,000.00 each, were completed and delivered to his applicants. This was an average of one application a day for every working day throughout the year.

Not only does Mr. Bagby have a fine production record, but his renewal record is far above the average.

THEORIES AND THEIR PENALTIES.

Most of us appreciate the attitude of the cultured theorists and their academic efforts toward bringing us out of the wilderness of doubt and despair. Most of this professional assistance appears to be in writing a book based on theory. If bulletins mean anything, (which they don't) we will soon be on the high road to recovery. Practical affairs cannot be worked out in book form. The book writer has good intentions and is no doubt sold on his method, but the whole thing falls flat when an attempt is made to put theories into practical use in relieving millions of our people under thousands of different conditions.

GETTING "GUMMED" UP.

Our national government is rapidly becoming infested with bureaus. At the same time, local matters, townships, cities, school districts and even counties are being placed in the hands of state authorities. We of Donley county must make a trip to Austin, the state capitol some five hundred miles distant in order to transact business that rightly belongs right at home.

Before doing away with local government altogether, legislators might serve their people better by ascertaining if the end justifies the means. At the rate we are traveling now, it costs more to look after our affairs at the state capitol than it does at home.

WANTED—MARKET FOR WAR SUPPLIES.

By a vote of 7 to 14, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee attempts to steer us into a World Court. Is it possible that Uncle Sam has so far recovered from his alphabetical bath as to feel so "cocky" as to crave the job of policing the world? Or is it simply a move on the part of manufacturers of war supplies craving a market? And all this in face of the fact that all foreign nations, with the exception of little Finland, repudiated obligations due Uncle Sam. The average citizen would think that we have all the trouble we need right at home without going over the globe trying to make trouble. A world court would be nothing but a failure because too many nations do not have any ethics, and are practically devoid of honor in dealing with international questions.

YOUTH AND ITS OPPORTUNITIES.

The youthful character of the Legislature is borne out by the fact that more than half of its membership are under 40 years of age, and of these eighty-three members, thirty are under 30 years of age. There are but fifteen members over 60, and only one has attained the patriarchal perspective of 70 years. Even the Senate, which is traditionally an elderly body, has its quota of comparatively younger men. Two-thirds of its membership are under 50, and the age-span of the entire group runs from 27 to 65 years. Nor is this condition confined to the Legislature. Not only is the Speaker of the House in his 40's, but the new Lieutenant-Governor, presiding officer of the Senate, is also under 50. The new Attorney-General is comparatively a young man, who piloted his own plane to Austin this week to take the oath of office. And the State's chief executive, at 35, is the youngest Governor in the country—yet his is the responsibility of guiding the destinies of the largest and one of the most populous States.

Pampa to Stage Another Pre-Centennial This Year

Pampa, Texas, Jan. 17.—Pampa, while looking forward to staging in 1936 an elaborate celebration in commemoration of the Centennial of Texas independence, is preparing in the spring to stage another Pre-Centennial celebration, in which the history of 1835 will be recalled and depicted and which is expected to surpass the success of the Pre-Centennial celebration held in Pampa in 1934.

In order to arouse interest of the Panhandle in the forthcoming Centennial, the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce, in co-operation with the Senior Chamber of Commerce and other organizations, staged a two-day celebration in 1934. On the first day, in a spectacular parade were depicted on various floats the historical events in Texas in the preceding one hundred years. This was followed on the second day by a pageant presented in a natural amphitheater in Central Park, in which several hundred participants depicted Texas' historical events on two stages. Other entertaining and educational features were presented on both days and thousands of people from the entire Panhandle and other sections of the State attended.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce also is sponsoring this second Pre-Centennial celebration for the present year, while the general plan of Pampa citizens is to make their big celebration in 1936 a climax of three years of effort. Plans for the 1936 event naturally are nebulous as yet, but that event is expected to be more outstanding than the two Pre-Centennial affairs.

Hubert Morse, owner of the Farmer's Club, who has been confined to his room with illness, is able to be at his business again.

Prehistorics Discovered In Palo Duro Park

Canyon, Dec. 21.—A fossil bed thought to be the largest yet discovered in the Panhandle of Texas has been found in Palo Duro Park. Professor C. S. Johnston of the Archaeology department of the West Texas State Teachers College and D. G. Dieaux of Eustis, Florida discovered the great bone bed while seeking geological specimens in the State park.

Fossilized bones of a horse, rhinos, camels, giant dogs, mastodons and several different kinds of turtles have been unearthed. According to Professor Johnston the bones are probably five million years old. Dieaux, a professional collector of biological specimens was visiting the part to collect specimens but became so interested in the fossil bed that he remained for ten days' work.

The fossil bed is to be the laboratory for a class of 19 college students who are studying paleontology.

Mrs. Chas. Speed and daughter, Mrs. Tom Heatherly were Amarillo shoppers Saturday.

WHERE DO YOU FIT?

Where do you fit in this world of ours,
With its hustle and bustle and work,
Are you one of the throng that helps it along—
Or are you one of those who shirk?

Do you hit the job with a smile or frown,
Do you carry a grouch all day,
Are you one of the flock who watches the clock,
Are you working for more than pay?

Are you one of the average just drifting along,
Are you listed as profit or loss,
Are you stalling for time or starting to climb,
How much are you putting across?

—Clayton Pep.

POLITICAL PSALM

The following is credited to Judge Pease of Junction City:
"The politician is my shepherd; I am in want. He maketh me to lie down on park benches, he leadeth me beside the still factories, he disturbeth my soul; he leadeth me in the paths of destruction, for parties sake; yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of depression, I anticipate no recovery; for he is with me. His policies and his diplomacies, they frighten me. He prepareth a reduction in my salary in the presence of mine enemies, he anointeth my small income with taxes, my expense runneth over. Surely, unemployment and poverty shall follow me all the days of my life; and I shall dwell in a mortgaged house forever."

SPACE GRAFTERS

A waste paper basket mounted high with "junk" from the morning mail convinces us again that no one receives the amount of propaganda, canned material, free readers and plain efforts to graft space, than a newspaper editor does.

No one would think of asking a clothing merchant for a $20 purchase gratis; or a grocer for $5 worth of produce; or a garage for $4 in free service. Yet individuals corporations, causes, churches, societies, manufacturers, inventors, and just plain nuts write in daily to ask for more space as "free matter" than the average newspaper is able to sell at advertising rates. If one out of every thousand gained one-thousandth of what they ask, every newspaper in the country would be in the hands of a receiver before the six months had ended.

And if all the effort and expense represented in this never-ceasing effort to graft free space was devoted to the purchase of legitimate advertising, the message that these varied agencies have, or think they have, might be conveyed to the public in a fair and business like manner.

BANK LOANS-----

Banks make money by making loans. Making sound loans implies periodic reductions according to promise, and complete repayment within a reasonably short period.

This is necessary because the bank has a three-fold obligation: to depositors he promises a safe return of funds; to borrowers accommodation in turn; to stockholders a reasonable return on their investment.

TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

Every Texan, irrespective of latitude, longitude or previous condition of servitude, out of a job or the possessor of one but who will appreciate the first master strokes of the new Governor. Gov. Jimmie Allred laid down a basis or plan upon which to work in making his inaugural address. He's coming right on down the line.

Since opening up an office of governor again where the pardon bureau formerly existed through two alleged administrations, Jimmie has caused some of the last conditional pardons to be revoked. One had a pardon and burglar tools in the same kit at Ft. Worth, where he was caught soon after pulling off a job a few days after being let out of the pen. Several others are breaking back in again.

It's great the way Gov. Jimmie Allred and Speaker Coke Stevenson are working together. It takes harmony to get hominy, and we of the common herd are blamed tired of the boys playing politics and doing nothing but draw pay. Both of these men are considering the interests of the people. Both are young men with a long number of years before them. Both will be heard from more and more in higher positions as time goes on.

While in Amarillo Saturday, the Apostle ate a big bait of spinach for dinner (at noon), scanned the horizon with his telescope to see if the thieves and assistant deputy constables were out of the way. He does not like to be arrested on petty law violations about which he is ignorant. It chastens his dignity. He rebels at the thought of being robbed in the old town of his youth. After talking with a number of merchants of Amarillo, the two biggest factors retarding the progress of that city, is the two things keeping folks from becoming customers—thieves and fee-grabbing officers.

And when that assistant constable arrested Chapman because he had only one license tag on his truck, all the folks took notice. This poor devil had to pay out $14 for a fine. That was bad, but the worst part of the whole affair was the family going home without making any purchases because the "law" took their money. The baby had no shoes, and that was one item they intended to purchase. T. E. Johnson everlastingly burned up the guilty parties in his able comment in the Amarillo News. He got a lot of compliments because the public is not so rock-ribbed for law enforcement as to make a baby go barefooted while real life-protecting laws are flagrantly violated.

Ed Wheeler continues to deny that he is going to leave the country even though it may be a disappointment to a lot of folks. He is located for the year on the Pete Engle farm near Ashtola. If Ed can't make a dandy good crop there, nobody can. This notice is at Ed's request because he is tired of questions.

Had you noticed that we have a fine bunch of preachers who agree on the more essential things? Clarendon is said to have the best, most obliging and the friendliest preachers in all her churches now that she has ever had before at one time. More power to 'em.

That gay young man who lit a firecracker Christmas thinking it was a cigarette must have gotten a surprise. Imagine him being non-chalant!

J. L. Talley of the Hudgins country is the champion subscription payer of the new year. He paid for three years at one time. We appreciate every amount that is said, but we merely mention this one fact here because it is out of the ordinary.

Relief administrators some time think they have a hard time, but Kentucky has been pulling some

"The Merry Widow" Musical To Show at Pastime Theatre Sunday and Monday, 27-28

The first million-dollar musical in some years fully justifies the time, effort and expense spent in its production. The exquisite Lehar melodies, particularly the famous Merry Widow waltz; the elaborate sets, gorgeous costumes and fascinating performances of Maurice Chevalier and Jeanette MacDonald, re-united in a perfect vehicle for their talents, are the high spots of this glittering operetta. The story familiar to everyone, of the dashing Captain of the Guards and his romance with the beautiful widow whose wealth makes her the object of many fortune-hunters, is cleverly directed by Ernst Lubitsch who supplies numerous brilliant comedy touches. Edward Everett Horton and Sterling Holloway furnish laughs, while the expertly-handled dance ensembles being brief do not bore.

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Heath of Crosbyton were up Sunday visiting their sons Dewey and Frank and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Patterson and Miss Lucile Patterson and Miss Jessie Aaron of Rotan visited in the Clarence Percy home near the JA's over the week end.

FLOORS NOW CAN BE LAID IN PLACE WITHOUT USE OF NAILS

Wood floors are now being laid in a plastic material without the use of nails. The method follows the century-old principle used in the famous chateaux of France, and other European countries in which the beautiful parquet floors were laid in a kind of plaster base.

The base formerly used contained moisture which assisted in causing deterioration of the floor. The new plastic materials commonly called mastic, assist in damp-proofing the floor and tightly bond the finish floor to the sub-floor or understructure. The mastic spreads out in a large, thick sheet, which prevents the infiltration of dust and dirt and to a certain extent absorbs sounds made when walking on the floor.

The mastic is applied either hot or cold over a sub-floor of wood, concrete or other materials and the finished wood flooring is imbedded in it.

The finished flooring usually consists of short pieces having the width and thickness of standard strip flooring. These short pieces are sometimes individually laid in various patterns, or they are pre-assembled in the form of squares or rectangular blocks.

The parquet strips are customarily made from oak, hard maple or other standard flooring woods, and tongue and grooved so that they make perfect, tight-fitting joints. In some cases the pieces or blocks are grooved on both edges and put together with little splines which fit snugly into the grooves, thereby bonding the individual pieces or blocks together.

BANKS A PARTNERSHIP

A bank properly serving a community is, strictly speaking, a co-partnership composed of borrowers, depositors and stockholders.

Borrowers are those who merit consideration because of an established credit standing in the community. Depositors are those who prefer a safe place to keep their funds, and a prompt return of their funds when needed. Stockholders have every reason to expect a reasonable return on their investment.

Southwest Offers Variety To Centennial Visitors

Alpine, Texas, January 22.—To tourists coming to Texas for the Centennial celebration, to be held throughout the State in 1936, the grandeur of the Chisos Mountains, in the vicinity of Castalon, a trading post and farming settlement, 120 miles south of Alpine on the Rio Grande doubtless will prove an attraction when they have tired of mere cities and seek to view the wonders of nature as afforded in Texas. A landing field for air-planes is being constructed on the Johnson ranch, 17 miles down the river from Castalon, and soon the Federal Government will provide hangars and radio, bringing that vicinity into closer touch with civilization.

For those interested in evidences of antiquity, the recently reported discovery by representatives of Harvard University of eggs of an ophiacodon, 225,000,000 years old, in the clay and sandstone redbeds of North Central Texas, afforded interest in ancient Texas. And interesting evidence of primitive human occupation of the Chisos Mountains region is to be found in caves in the rimrock, several thousand feet above the base of the mountains. It would appear that some prehistoric people dwelt in these caves and that some lived in open camps along the river and cultivated land.

Climatic conditions in this territory are very favorable for the preservation of relics and specimens of that departed race. The district is arid and the topography offers numerous shelters where fragile material has been kept covered and preserved in a dry state for thousands of years.

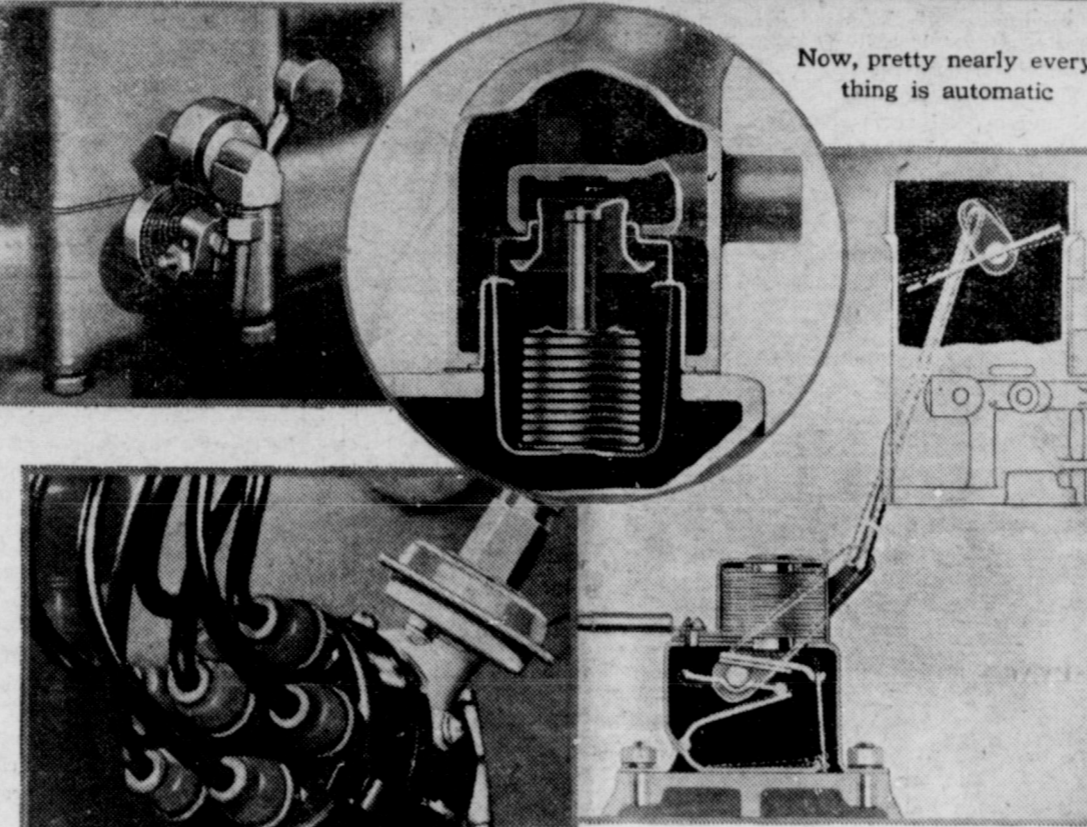

The mountains in the vicinity range from 4,800 to 6,700 feet above sea level with a rise of from 300 to 2,250 feet above the valleys of the surrounding plains. At the foot of many canyon bluffs, or at the rim-rock, are to be found a number of caves, or rock shelters, extending back into the cliffs. These are cluttered with loose rock, but usually are floored with a fine dry dust, animal refuse, etc., from six inches to six feet deep.

Dodge Engine Boasts "Synchronomatic" Controls

Now, pretty nearly everything is automatic

The Dodge automatic carburetor heat control is shown in the upper left. It does out the proper amount of heat to the fuel mixture—without help from the driver.

In the circle, the Dodge water control is seen; its automatic action causes the engine cooled water to flow faster or more slowly until the power plant reaches its best operating temperature; at that time the apparatus goes out of action until its aid is needed again.

In the lower left is the automatic vacuum spark control which advances and retards the ignition in strict accordance with every spark timing change that is needed.

The diagrammatic cut at the right pictures the automatic engine choke which makes starting easy, especially in winter driving, because it chokes the carburetor intake passage as much as is required by the engine at any particular moment.

Because Dodge engineers have provided this group of self-acting features, the driver's work now consists of little more than starting, stopping and steering the car.

EGG PRICES RECEIVED BY PRODUCERS—

GET EXTRA EGGS WHILE PRICES ARE HIGHEST

Every egg that comes out of the nest during winter is worth two eggs at any other time of the year, according to J. H. Burrell, Purina poultry specialist. As proof he submits the accompanying chart which graphically illustrates the average rise and fall of prices over a 12 year period from 1921 to 1933 and the comparative trend for 1933-34.

Burrell says that the period from September to January of each year is a hen's money making time—the time for every producer to get all the eggs he can from his flock. "One thing is certain," he admonishes, "hens need plenty of feed to do a money making job because eggs are made of feed. The surest way not to get eggs in fall and winter is to skimp on the feed."

"But it's not alone the quantity—it's the kind of feed used that determines the number of eggs which will be put in the nests during this season of high egg prices. For there's a vast difference in the egg producing ability of feed. For instance, grain alone, no matter how liberally fed, will give only limited production because it just hasn't the ingredients to make a lot of eggs. It needs the help of a laying mash.

"There are all kinds of laying mashes available which when fed with grain will give more eggs than grain alone. But here again there is a tremendous variation in the quantity of eggs produced by different mashes. This variation is best told by the results of a 3 year nationwide survey covering 6,000,000 hens. These birds, which were fed on a laying mash developed at our Experimental Farm, averaged three dozen eggs extra per bird from September to January.

"Poultrymen in every section of the country furnished these records," says Burrell. "Large flocks, small flocks—all were averaged together for 3 straight years. The figures showed that the average production of each of these hens was five dozen eggs during the five fall and winter months when egg prices are highest. The average hen, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture, lays only two dozen eggs during these same five months.

"It's time right now to do something about getting eggs from hens this season. Careful selection of a laying mash is the most important step toward producing lots of profitable eggs. This should be a mash of proven egg making ability—a feed that is known to have behind it sufficient research and experimental work as well as an established acceptance by practical poultrymen!"

CONSTIPATION Can be Helped!

(Use what Doctors do)

Why do the bowels usually move regularly and thoroughly, long after a physician has given you treatment for constipation?

Because the doctor gives a liquid laxative that can always be taken in the right amount. You can gradually reduce the dose. Reduced dosage is the secret of real and safe relief from constipation.

Ask your doctor about this. Ask your druggist for low popular liquid laxatives have become. The right liquid laxative gives the right kind of help, and the right amount of help. When the dose is repeated, instead of more each time, you take less. Until the bowels are moving regularly and thoroughly without any help at all.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara, and these are natural laxatives that form no habit—even in children. Your druggist has it; ask for—

The senior girls and boys played Midway in basketball Friday afternoon. The girls were victorious 11-6. Our boys were defeated 6-8.
We are starting to work for the last half term of school. The passing grade has been moved to 75 instead of 70. We intend to do better work than ever before.

The seventh graders have had their exams; the majority of the class was pleased with their grades. Having good teachers, it has been easier for us.

The Glee club is going to start to working on songs in costumes. We have memorized the three quotations on education by Sam Houston, La Mar, and Milton.

Mr. and Mrs. Sloan Baker and children visited in Amarillo this week.

Fred Hobart visiting here Wednesday was recently elected 2nd Vice President of the National Cattle Raisers Association at Rapid City, South Dakota.

Ruby Bernard of Groom underwent an operation for appendicitis Saturday at Adair hospital. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Bernard accompanied her.

Mrs. L. L. Taylor has returned home from Amarillo where she has been with her granddaughter, Mary Vee Taylor who has been quite ill. Mrs. Taylor reports that she is improving.

Jim Hopkins and mother were down from Pampa visiting his sister, Mrs. Karl H. Adams and family, the first of the week. Jim says the cold weather and wind has done a plenty to the wheat prospects.

TEXAS HISTORY RECENTLY FOUND AND TRANSLATED—NEVER BEFORE PRINTED

(Note: This is one of a series of articles taken from the special family collections of historical materials in the University of Texas library. The Austin papers, including documents and letters of both Stephen F. Austin, father of Texas, and his father, Moses Austin, comprise but one group of approximately three hundred such family archives in the University library. The collections cover all periods of Texas history, from the earliest days of the Spanish missionaries in the province of Tejas, through the colonial era, to the present. This series of articles presents interesting excerpts from a number of these family collections, some chosen for their intrinsic significance in the development of the empire of Texas, others for their purely human interest in portraying personalities, economic conditions and social intercourse.)

SERIES II, No. 1

Austin, Texas, Jan. 23.—The history of Texas during the decade and a half from 1821 to 1835, the years which immediately preceded the birth of the Republic of Texas, was the history of Austin's colonies. Small wonder, then, that romance and drama attach themselves to the figure of Texas' first empresario, Stephen Fuller Austin, and small wonder that generations which have followed and will follow him treasure even the smallest fragment of his personal effects, his papers and documents, minute relics which keep alive his memory and the recollection of his accomplishments in the creation of the commonwealth of Texas.

The Austin papers, comprised of materials accumulated by Moses and Stephen F. Austin in the progress of their busy enterprises from Virginia through Missouri and Arkansas to Texas, form the keystone of the invaluable Texas Collection in the University of Texas library. Hundreds of other pioneer Texas families have now added their family archives to the rich Texas history section of the library, and additional material is constantly being deposited or given outright.

Formerly a private collection, the Austin papers have been presented to the University library by the Austin heirs. As early as 1902, a description of the papers was made and published by Dr. E. C. Barker, professor of history at the University, and he later published the bulk of the papers themselves. Since then, additional items have come to the library from various sources and many of these have not been published in any form.

The original papers are almost entirely in manuscript, unbound. About one-third are in Spanish, the rest in English. The Spanish items, principally included in the Bexar Archives of the library, are being translated along with other documents in that collection covering the years 1803-1821. Each letter or document of the Austin papers is included separately in a heavy manila envelope, upon which is written its date and a summary of its contents.

Some of the subjects with which the papers deal are: Indian affairs, military affairs, internal improvements, customs duties, census reports, slavery, colonial disturbances, and insurrections. There is a great deal of material upon the beginning of the Texas revolution and upon the work of the Texas commissioners, of whom Austin was one, in the United States during the first half of 1836. There are several letters from Andrew Jackson and a good many from Anthony Butler and Joel R. Poinsett. There are approximately four thousand letters and documents in the collection.

The Austin papers consist of business memoranda, physiographical observations, petitions and memorials to local and superior governments, political addresses and proclamations, and much personal and official correspondence, according to Dr. Barker.

"Moses Austin illustrated in his own career the typical aspects of the business man in the Westward Movement," Dr. Barker said, "and Stephen F. Austin was, to a degree not approached by any other colonial proprietor in our history, the founder and the indispensable guardian and director during its early vicissitudes of a great American Commonwealth."

"Hundreds of letters in the collection are from inconspicuous persons, unknown to history, who exerted no ascertainable influence upon the larger events of their time—men who merely lived and strove for the betterment of themselves and of their families. Many pieces illustrate minutiae of local administration too small, no doubt, to interest a great number of students; and others have only a biographical value. Taken together, however, they give a composite picture which the most careful selection could not equal in clearness, accuracy, or authoritative-ness."

"Considering his many harassing duties, Stephen F. Austin left a voluminous and remarkably painstaking letter writer. Of most of his official papers he apparently preserved copies, and we frequently find several drafts of a document, interlined and deleted almost beyond decipherment before it reached the copy-book stage."

Moses Austin was born October 4, 1765, in Durham, Conn., the youngest son of Elias Austin, according to the genealogical record of the Austin family in the University collection of Austin papers. In 1783, he became a dry goods merchant in Philadelphia and a year later entered the import trade and shortly thereafter the wholesale business. In August, 1784, he extended his business to Richmond, Va., and a month later took charge of the establishment in that city. On September 29, 1785, he married Maria Brown, daughter of Abia Brown of New Jersey. Two daughters were born, but both died in infancy. Stephen Fuller Austin was the first son of the couple, born November 3, 1793, at Austin Ville, Va. Moses and Maria Austin had moved to the Lead Mines in Wythe County, Virginia, in 1791, where, together with Stephen Austin, Moses' brother, they purchased an estate and established the village of Austin Ville. In 1797 Moses Austin obtained a grant of land, three miles square, in Louisiana from the Spanish government, and removed his family to Mine a Burton, on this property. In 1816, Moses Austin gave up his Mine a Burton property to his son, Stephen, and moved his family to Missouri.

The family record shows that Stephen Fuller Austin and his younger sister, Emely Margaret Brown Austin, were well educated in the best Southern tradition. Stephen spent three years in Colchester Academy and two in the Academy at Lexington, Ky., while Emely, as her name was later spelled, attended Mrs. Beck's boarding school in Lexington for four years, and later spent more than a year at the Mermitage Academy in New York. James Elijah Brown Austin, a much younger brother, born in 1803, was educated under the tutelage of the Rev. Whittlesey of Washington, New York, and under other tutors. The following excerpt from the family record briefly tells the story of the share Moses Austin had in paving the way for the colonizing of Texas:

"April 20, 1816, Moses Austin and family removed from Mine a Burton and gave up Durham negroes and plantation together with lead mines and furnaces to his son Stephen F. Austin. In 1818 James Elijah Brown, son of Moses Austin, returned from Connecticut, remained at home until June, 1819, when he went to Kentucky near Nicholasville to finish his education under a Mr. Wilson.

"In 1819 Stephen F. Austin left the Territory of Missouri and went to reside in the Territory of Arkansas, Red River at Long Branch. Moses Austin left Missouri about the first of May, 1820, and went to the Little Rock in the Territory of Arkansas where he remained some months after which he proceeded on to San Antonio where he arrived (after a journey through a perfect wilderness and attended with much fatigue) about the tenth of December, same year, he there petitioned the supreme authorities of New Spain, through his Excellency Don Antonio Martinez (then governor and political chief of this province of Texas) for a grant of land and permission to settle 300 American families in that province. The petition was forwarded on to his Excellency Don Aredondo then governor general of the Internal Eastern Provinces of New Spain who confirmed the grant after a previous decree of the provincial deputation (then assembled at the City of Monterrey) to that effect, and the necessary papers were forwarded on to San Antonio immediately. Moses Austin left San Antonio on the 29th of December (previous to the confirmation of the grant) and after a tedious and distressing journey he reached the settlements on the Sabine River not having tasted any kind of nourishment for eight days. Their provisions having failed and the powder they supplied themselves with proved to be so damaged they could not kill any game, although the country abounded in game of all kinds. His hardships were so severe that he was taken with the fever and confined to his bed three weeks at the house of Mr. Hugh McGuffin, 20 miles west of Natchitoches, at this place he was met by his nephew Elias Bates who had left Herculam, Mo. Some time in December in pursuit of him. As soon as he could travel they started together, descended Red River to the Mississippi and arrived at Herculanium some time in March, 1821. The journey proved too great for his constitution which was much impaired, nevertheless he commenced settling his affairs in Missouri with the intention of returning to Texas in August following, but unfortunately he took a cold when at the Mine a Burton, but reached his daughter's, Mrs. Emily M. Bryans on Hazel Run; in a few days the cold terminated in an inflammation of the lungs and after lingering in much pain for ten days which he bore with Christian fortitude, he resigned his soul to his maker without a groan on the tenth of June, 1821, in the 57 year of his age."

The second article of this series will trace Stephen F. Austin's activities in Texas, and two additional articles will give excerpts from heretofore unpublished manuscripts and documents in the Austin collection.

Rabies More Prevalent As Cold Weather Progresses

Rabies is commonly supposed to prevail only during the hot months but is in fact more prevalent in cold weather, declared Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. More dog bites occur from April to September, than from October to March in this climate, because dogs run abroad more freely at this season of the year, and many dogs are killed needlessly. However, the heads examined at the State Laboratory during the cool months show a higher number as having rabies.

Rabies is primarily a disease of dogs and in this way is transmitted to man. It is kept alive in Nature mainly by the dog and the dog family. Rabies in cats and skunks is comparatively rare and is but occasionally transmitted to man.

The saliva of rabid animals contain the germ of rabies. Rabies may occur in persons with extremely small abrasions of the skin contaminated with infected saliva. The incubation period of rabies in man is usually from 40 to 70 days, but it may be longer up to a year. The average period in man is forty days, tho this period is usually shorter in children or following bites on the face. The closer the bite is to the brain the more dangerous it is.

The disease may be controlled by means of intelligent measures directed towards the dog. It is mainly the stray dog that keeps rabies alive. Stray dogs should be impounded and ownerless dogs killed. All dogs should be licensed and required to wear a tag. Owners of such animals should be held legally responsible for damage inflicted by them. All cases of suspected rabies should be promptly reported to health officials.

Care should be exercised in killing a suspected rabid dog, not to injure the brain, for if this is done it is impossible for the Laboratory to make a satisfactory examination.

Smallpox Prevention in Our Public Schools

Smallpox can be eliminated as a cause of illness and death if every person would be vaccinated against this disease at least every five years, declared Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. There were almost eight hundred cases reported to the State Department of Health in 1934.

Smallpox occurs most frequently among young children under 14 years of age. The incubation period averages from 8 to 14 days, and the disease begins suddenly with a severe headache and a high fever. The severe headache and the intense pain in the loins, back and extremities are more characteristic of smallpox than of any other disease occurring in temperate climates. At the end of 3 or 4 days of these preliminary symptoms, an eruption appears which, within a few hours becomes distinctly raised above the general level of the skin. With the appearance of the eruption the fever subsides and the patient becomes more comfortable. In contradistinction to chickenpox, the eruption does not occur in crop, but goes through its development in a characteristic fashion nearly simultaneously all over the body.

At present there is an increasing lack of vaccination among school-children, and they contribute a menace to our State. Is it right to sit complacently by and allow this disease to gain a foothold, when a very simple weapon is in a position which would make the occurrence impossible? Every community is in a position to determine the amount of smallpox it wishes to have. Vaccination is an economical measure easily within the reach of all and brings protection. The disease is within human control and our advice to the people of Texas is to get vaccinated if you have not been within the last five years.

"Analysis of Bible—Mark."

THE AUTHOR—Mark, the son of Mary of Jerusalem, (Acts 12:12). Often referred to as John Mark, Acts 12:25. A relative of Barnabas, Col. 4:10. Associated with Paul and Barnabas on their First Missionary Journey, Acts 12:25; 13:5. Temporarily alienated from Paul, Acts 13:13; 15:37-39. Afterwards restored to his friendship, II. Tim. 4:11. Ancient tradition certifies that Mark was a companion of Peter. The book is called Peter's Gospel, by some of the ancient writers. It is generally conceded that Peter may have furnished, or suggested much of the material found in the book. TO WHOM ADDRESSED. It is thought that the writer had in mind the Roman or Gentile Christians in his preparation of the books. It was not especially adapted to Jewish readers seems clear from the fact that it contains few references of Old Testament prophecies. Furthermore, the explanation of Jewish words and customs would indicate that the author had foreigners in mind when he wrote. See chapters, 3:17; 5:41; 7:1-4, 11, 34.

THE MAIN THEME. "Christ, The Tireless Servant of God and Man." The life of Jesus is portrayed as crowded with benevolent deeds. His devotions were often interrupted and He yielded to the perpetual calls for service to the extent that his friends said he was unbalanced, 3:21.

THE KEY WORD. "Straightway" Indicating immediate action. Repeated many times in the book.

THE DISTINCTIVE FEATURES. It is the shortest of the four gospels. The style is vivid and picturesque. Much of the subject matter is also found in Matthew's and Luke's gospel, but it is not merely a repetition, for it contains many details not found in either of the others. The gospel of Mark opens, like that of John's, with a declaration of the divinity of Jesus Christ, but unlike John, he does not enlarge upon the doctrines. However, a careful study of the book reveals the fact that the aim of the author is to let the wonderful works of Jesus testify to His deity. Many personal touches are found in this book that reveals the greatness of the every-day life of Christ.

A. L. Millsap recently succeeded in capturing old stub-toe a very noted wolf of the coyote family. Old Stuby has for many years been a thorn in the flesh to poultry raisers of this community, after having lost the major part of a foot some years ago, he naturally had become very shy of the clanking steel. But like most prowlers he became bold and met his Waterloo when he stepped square dab into a trap designed especially for his kind. Now of course the captor of old stub toe is all smiles, mainly because the ladies of this community have made a very solemn vow that they would each donate a pot of chicken and dumplings to the one who would bring in the scalp of the said stuby. Fellowship Meeting Monday Evening Masonic Hall

There was wholesome fellowship in the Masonic Hall Monday evening when Masons and their wives gathered for an informal affair that included a varied program and a real barbecued chicken feast.

Mrs. Carl Bennett Jr. gave a reading and select piano numbers by Mrs. Earl Alderson were much appreciated.

Mrs. Mollie E. Gray spoke from the standpoint of an Eastern Star member bringing an interesting talk coupled with facts.

Mr. Homer Mulkey chose to explain the many interesting facts in connection with the Masonic Home.

Messrs. R. E. Drennon and McHenry Lane led the singing.

Mr. Frank Whitlock presided as "toastmaster" in toasting the barbecued chicken to a golden brown. Salads and other delicacies were also served. "This was just a friendly get-together meeting in which each had a part and all felt a benefit from an evening spent together," is the way one Mason expressed himself.

NEW TALKING MOTION PICTURE TO BE SHOWN

Interesting New Sound Picture Will Show Latest Tractor Developments

A new talking motion picture entitled "Partners" will provide a full hour of entertainment and education to farmers who attend John Deere Tractor Day, to be conducted by Bennett & Sims, local farm equipment dealers, aided by representatives of the John Deere organization.

This picture which is being enthusiastically received by farmers in other localities, takes the audience into the huge John Deere Tractor plant at Waterloo, Iowa, and shows how tractors are built and tested.

From the factory, the camera takes the audience out into the field to see John Deere Tractors at work.

Woven into the picture is a story of how a father and his son became partners on the farm.

The meeting will be in session from 1 to 2 p. m., Feb. 2nd, in the building next door to Watson-Antrobus Hardware.

"We invite every farmer in this section to be our guest and we particularly want the boys to come too," says Mr. Bennett. "The program will be in charge of men who are thoroughly familiar with tractors. In plain, understandable language and illustrations they will demonstrate the latest developments in tractors and the best ways to keep the farm tractor tuned up for greatest efficiency. "We are planning to make this a sociable affair, but at the same time a very worthwhile affair to farmers and their families. We are counting on a big crowd coming in to enjoy the big day with us."

John Deere Tractor Day is proving exceptionally popular with farmers as evidenced by the picture above which shows an interested group at one of these meetings.

ty, some of them from Lelia and Clarendon as well as Hedley and surrounding country.

A bridge crew was looked over. Except for the foreman, and two firm building carpenters from Amarillo which Mr. Brown said were employed because of superior experience, the men were Donley county citizens.

Mr. Brown informed the Leader representative that 85 percent of the men employed were of this county. His statement was verified from what was seen on the job Tuesday afternoon. He appears to be an affable man keenly anxious to complete the work as soon as possible, and unwilling to employ only the highest skill he can get. At the same time, he stated most emphatically, that he wanted to employ local men and certainly "had no grudge against any one." He invited an inspection of his worksheet and such other records as one wished to look over to verify his statement.

Mr. Brown has been engaged in this line of work for more than 30 years, he said, much of that time in connection with the Santa Fe railway. The work is moving along at a rapid clip just south of Giles, this being the meanest stretch of any across the county.

Records of the local government employment office show that approximately fifty percent of the employees are Donley county men. This ratio had not changed up to Wednesday night.

W. J. Adams Was a Builder in Early Clarendon

W. J. Adams, who passed away at his home near Nashville, Tennessee last week was born in Illinois July 25, 1862. Coming to Texas as a mere lad, his family with a number of others settled in Montague county in that section known as Illinois Bend because of the number of immigrants from that state.

After reaching manhood, he moved his family to Donley in 1897 locating in Clarendon. Later he filed on land near where Alarred is now located, and before the Rock Island built through there.

Mr. Adams engaged in the realty business here for several years. During that time, in 1907, he constructed the well known Denver hotel which he continued to operate until 1918. Disposing of his interests here, he went to Tennessee where he invested in a large tobacco farm near Nashville which he continued as his home until his demise.

In failing health for some time, he passed away January 12 following a pneumonia attack. He is survived by four sons. Larry of El Paso, Earl of Pampa, Karl and Winks of Clarendon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hurn attended the funeral of Mr. Fred Gordon Friday at Miami.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clifford at Adair Hospital Tuesday.

Mrs. J. C. Estlack visited her niece, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Beebe Saturday at Amarillo, also had a nice visit with her sister, Mrs. Mattie Manning of Brownfield who is also visiting her daughter, Mrs. Beebe.
