Newspaper To Change Name Next Week

The Clarendon News will cease to be the name of Clarendon's newspaper with this issue.

"Since our town's origin in 1878, our local newspaper has gone under at least 12 different names," said News publisher Roger Estlack.

"With the change of ownership last October, I felt that we needed a bold change to signify that this is not the same newspaper it was one year ago or even six months ago. But I wanted to make the change in such a way that we build on our heritage."

The new nameplate will read "The Clarendon Enterprise" and the names of both The Clarendon News and The Donley County Leader will be contained in the new masthead.

"People have generally been very supportive of most of the changes we've made to the newspaper, and I hope they will support us as we continue to improve our paper in the months to come," Estlack said.

Thornberry Votes For Seven-Year Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, D.C. - U.S. Rep. Mac Thornberry (R-Clarendon) voted today for the Agriculture Market Transition Act, legislation that will give farmers more planting flexibility in the long term and, in the short term, bring the nation closer to something that is long overdue — enactment of a seven-year farm bill.

"This debate has reminded me of the old saying, 'Better late than never,'" Thornberry said. "This is not a perfect bill by any means, but it is something we can live with and something that will benefit the agricultural community in the future. In the long term, probably the most significant thing about this legislation is that it gives farmers more control in running their own farms. In the short term, however, the most important thing is that it takes us one step closer to signing a bill into law so farmers can once again know the rules of the game."

The legislation passed the House recently by a vote of 270-155 after over 17 hours of consideration. The bill reauthorizes and restructures existing farm programs over the next seven years, including price and income supports for crop, commodity and dairy farm products; food import/export programs; and farmland conservation programs. During the debate, 12 measures were introduced as amendments to the bill. These amendments

College To Host NSCAA Tournament Next Week

Clarendon opens up play Monday at 6 p.m. with Bunker Hill Community College in the opening round of the National Small College Athletic Association tournament at Amarillo Highland Park.

Clarendon - a final four member in 1995 - will compete with 11 others teams for the national title. Paul Quinn College of Dallas is the 1995 champion.

A slam dunk, 3-point and free throw contest kicks off the national tournament Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

This is the second consecutive year Clarendon College is hosting the NSCAA Tournament.

Clarendon College won the right to host the tournament after beating out schools from Dallas, Maine, Kentucky, Philadelphia and Massachusetts. Bulldogs head coach Joe Mondragon said.

Hosting the tournament will save the college money on traveling expenses and pump money into the Panhandle area, he said.

"We went to Michigan several years ago for the (small college) tournament, and it was costly," Mondragon said. "We felt if we could host it that would give us an opportunity to get into the tournament again and save on expense. We also felt we could put on a good tournament in a good facility."

"We chose (Amarillo Highland Park) because we thought it would be more accessible to motels and restaurants."

The NSCAA is made up of more than 50 colleges across the country who are unable to compete with the big money scholarships offered by larger institutions.

Clarendon College has been a member of the NSCAA after dropping out of the Western Junior College Athletic Conference four years ago. "A lot of it (dropping out) was cost," Mondragon said.

"We were priced out of it. A lot of schools can give 12 scholarships, and we just can't."

Since removing itself from the WJAC, the Bulldogs have qualified for the NSCAA tournament three out of last four years, Mondragon said.

The 12 teams invited to the tournament qualify through district finishes and power ratings. The national office prepares the rankings.

Clarendon Public Schools Receive $3,227 In Monetary Awards From TSSAS For Improved Student Performance On State Examinations

Monetary awards in the amount of $3,227.28 were made to the Clarendon Public Schools as part of the Texas Successful Schools Awards Program (TSSAS), Phil Barefield, superintendent of the district has announced.

Clarendon High School was awarded $1,000, Clarendon Junior High School received $1,000, and Clarendon Elementary School was awarded $1,227.28.

The schools are being recognized for gains in student performance in indicators that are part of the Academic Excellence Indicator System (AEIS), more commonly known as the state's school report card.

Clarendon CISD is among 1,236 cash-winning schools statewide receiving awards for exemplary or "recognized performance and 401 schools receiving awards for gains in their

Mondragon said he expects another strong performance from his Bulldogs. "We had more experience last year, but I think we'll do well if we play to our potential."

"They'll have to play consistent for four games."

Northwest Christian out of Oregon - a second place finisher in 1995 - is returning to the tournament and looks to be a strong contender for first place, Mondragon said. They are ranked fourth in the tournament.

"They would be the favorite. They have height. They have guards."

Other games scheduled for Monday are:

- No. 12 National Christian vs. No. 5 Paul Quinn, 2 p.m.; No. 11 Mount Scenario vs. No. 6 Louisiana Christian, 4 p.m.; No. 10 Clarendon College vs. No. 7 Bunker Hill Community College; No. 8 Kansas Wesleyan vs. No. 9 Michigan Christian.

Local Law Officers Join U.S. Marshall Fugitive Task Force

Five law enforcement agencies from the 100th Judicial District have joined forces with the US Marshals Service to better enforce state and federal warrants for serious and violent offenders.

According to the agreement signed by the several agencies, the Texas Panhandle Fugitive And Violent Crimes Task Force has as its primary mission to "seek out those persons who have unexecuted state or federal warrants lodged against them."

Donley County Sheriff Jimmy Thompson, Hall County Sheriff Garvin Speed, Carson County Sheriff Loren Brand, Collingsworth County Sheriff Dale Tarver, Childress County Sheriff Kevin Overstreet, and Childress Police Chief Bill Hinton signed the agreement for their respective agencies last Friday in the Donley County Courthouse.

The Task Force allows the officers of the local agencies to act as Special US Marshal Deputies when they are assisting the US Marshall Service. The sheriffs and the police chief of the agencies will serve on the steering committee which will oversee the Task Force.

Senior US Marshall Deputy Albert Arias of Amarillo said the local sheriff will continue to be the primary law enforcement agent at the county level, and the Marshall Service will not do anything in a county without first informing the sheriff.

"This agreement will not cost the local taxpayer anything," Arias said, "and any seizures will stay with the local agency."

The benefit to the local peace officers is that they can draw on the resources of the federal government and reach beyond their usual local jurisdiction to apprehend criminals by alerting the Marshal Service of the suspect's activity.

Additionally, federal charges can be pursued against these suspects, and dangerous offenders can be removed from local custody and placed in more secure federal holding facilities.

When appropriate, the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (ATF) and the Drug Enforcement Agency (DEA) can be called in for assistance through this agreement.

It is important to note that the Marshal Service is not the supreme member of this agreement. It is a partnership with local and federal officials, and local deputies can only be used in Task Force activities with the permission of the local sheriff.

Carson County Sheriff Loren Brand praised the Task Force concept and cited a recent arrest in his county.

Local officers stopped a fugitive on a traffic violation. The fugitive had $9,600 in cash with him and was wanted on narcotics and weapons charges. The Marshal Service was alerted, and within two hours had taken the fugitive into federal custody.

"This is the ideal situation for us because they get these bad guys out of our county," Brand said.

Arias said that similar task forces have been established effectively all over the nation and that the task forces in Texas are particularly effective.

Ultimately, Arias hopes to expand the Task Force to include all 26 counties in the Texas Panhandle.

Three Plan To Attend Economic Seminars

Terry Floyd, Phil Fletcher, and Pat Archuleta volunteered to attend a five-part series of economic development seminars sponsored by the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission and Southwestern Public Service Company.

Phil Fletcher is the chair of the Economic Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and Terry Floyd serves on the City of Clarendon Economic Development Board. Pat Archuleta is Executive Secretary of the Clarendon-Donley County Chamber of Commerce.

Title of the series is Rural Economic Development Initiatives (REDI). It is designed to give community volunteers "how to do it" information.

Communities all over the Panhandle are becoming increasingly involved in economic development at the local level. Those shouldering the responsibility for these efforts need information to devise strategies that fit the available resources of their own home area. Learning "how to play the game" in supporting existing businesses and recruiting new businesses is a vital piece of doing it well.

The REDI Program will give Floyd, Fletcher, and Archuleta a basic nuts-and-bolts understanding of the economic development process. "What to do next" is a key element in the sessions. They will bring the information back to be used wherever needed in Donley County.

Refocusing the training to the members of the City's Economic Development Board and other area volunteers makes the community eligible for further development resources through West Texas Utilities.

The first session will take place in Amarillo on March 15. Contact any of the volunteers with your special concerns or questions before that date.

the championship match-up is scheduled for Friday at 8 p.m.

Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for students, Mondragon said.

"We had good community support last year. I hope they come out again. I know our games were very entertaining."

Farewell Clarendon News

It's been more than five months since this newspaper was brought under new management. During all that time, you, our readers and advertisers, have complimented and encouraged us on the work we've done.

We've endeavored to bring you the best newspaper we possibly can by expanding our coverage of local events. We added new features to the paper with Mel Phillips' "Southwest Outdoors," Scott Elliott's "Off Campus," and the crossword puzzle. We've brought you a paper that is more readable in its layouts and also contains more information.

Cheryl Johnson and I continue to try to improve your paper every week, and we hope that you will come to consider our next change an improvement.

Beginning next week, our newspaper will be known as The Clarendon Enterprise.

This decision was not reached lightly. I have wanted to make this change all along, but I waited this amount of time to give the matter careful consideration.

I believe that we need a bold change to emphasize that this is not the same paper it was one year ago, but I also wanted to make that change in a way that would honor this newspaper's heritage. Accordingly, our new masthead will incorporate the names of The Clarendon News and The Donley County Leader.

As we move into the 21st Century, our community and, indeed, all of rural America faces new challenges and new opportunities. We need a newspaper that will recognize those challenges and help take advantage of those new opportunities. The Clarendon Enterprise will be that paper. We're excited about this change. We hope you will be too.

Citizens of the 100th Judicial District:

I have been employed by the District Attorney's Office for the past year. I have enjoyed serving the people in the five counties or district covers.

I believe the current District Attorney, Randall Sims has done an excellent job for you over the past year. He has worked long hours and even on weekends to get you the justice you deserve.

He has expressed to me numerous times that serving the people in his hometown area has always been a dream of his.

I believe Randall Sims cares about the people in this district.

"Strong Spokes And Good Folks"

When I was a kid, I pedaled an old Western Flyer back and forth to school. I rode the wheels off that old bike, literally.

One day a spoke busted on one of the wheels. Of course, that wasn't so bad. You could get by with one broken spoke.

But then another broke, then another, and the bike became so rickety it was unsafe. My dad finally replaced the wheel before it collapsed.

If you think about it, businesses are kind of like bicycle wheels. If all the spokes are strong, the business functions pretty well. And if one spoke is dysfunctional, the others are usually strong enough to keep things rolling along.

In that respect, a college is like any business. Our spokes carry such labels as faculty, administration, staff, and students.

Without question, the single most important thing that occurs at a college is learning. That begins with an able teacher and a willing student. However, more elements - or spokes, if you will - must be involved and working toward a common purpose for learning to occur at an optimum level.

That's why I have always been of the opinion that every employee in an organization is valuable. Everyone is an important contributor. Yet, it's been my experience at other colleges that some employees perform their duties, day-in and day-out, with little or no recognition.

Perhaps the consummate example of this is maintenance and custodial personnel. While they are not typically among any college's higher paid personnel, they are nonetheless vital to the health of the organization. If a maintenance employee fails to do his or her job, such has a negative impact on the student's ability to learn and the instructor's ability to teach.

If the climate control in a classroom, for instance, is dysfunctional, then students and teachers are not going to focus so much on the subject at hand as their personal discomfort. That's human nature.

At Clarendon College, we are truly blessed with dedicated maintenance and custodial employees - people like Earl Ford, Wayne Cole, Bobby Ellerbrook, Bobby Swearingen, Delores Little, Ramona Santos, Glenn Fisher, David Young, Kevin Ivy, Gene Johnson, and Kenneth Booth. They all work a lot of hard hours and don't receive near the recognition they should for their contributions to the college - at least, they don't from me.

Kearney St., Clarendon. In fact, all Precinct 301 voters are invited to come to the Library and vote for Republican candidates.

We are hoping the Presidential race in the Republican Party will be reduced to the top two or three candidates before next Tuesday. The March 12 election is referred to as Super Tuesday because so many delegates from southern states are selected on that day. We will probably know after next Tuesday who our candidate for president will be.

To cite Earl and Wayne as examples, we are indeed fortunate to have men, with their expertise in electricity, plumbing, heating and air-conditioning systems, and carpentry. Earl, Wayne, and Kevin did about 90 percent of all the renovations of our new Downtown Educational Center, converting a rundown, eyesore of a building into one of the finest instructional areas at the college.

Because those talented men did most of the labor, the college made a relatively small investment to create a major, long-term capital asset for the institution.

But that doesn't tell the whole story. Our guys start their working day about 7 each morning and are lucky to get home to their families by 5 or 5:30 p.m. And if they make it home by that time, they're lucky to get to stay there long enough to eat supper. It's commonplace for our skilled professionals to be called at their homes at night to come to campus and repair a pipe that's broken in a dormitory or a central unit that's stopped working.

I have seen Earl and Wayne atop dormitories making repairs in freezing cold temperatures in the middle of the night with the wind whipping strong enough to carry them away.

I truly wonder if either of them have ever watched a ballgame on TV from start to finish. I doubt it.

And here's a harsh reality about Clarendon College. Most of the buildings on our campus are approaching 30 years old. While the structures, to me, look relatively (and remarkably) new, they house wiring, pipes, and duct work that demands increased attention. Thus, the jobs of our skilled labor becomes more important and more difficult in almost geometric progression.

Saying a simple "thank you" for such dedication seems such a shallow thing. Yet, everyone is familiar with the budgetary limitations of our proud, but small, college. Those simple words are, therefore, all I have.

So, I do say "thank you" to our maintenance and custodial employees, and I wanted to do it publicly. You are a very important part of our team. You are one of the key spokes that cause the wheels of this college to keep turning.

This column will not keep you warm at night when you're on top of a building, but, I promise, it is written with a warm heart.

Dr. Scott Elliott is the president of Clarendon College.

ments included:

- A measure to terminate the marketing loan program for cotton farmers beginning in 1999. This amendment would have also required farmers who currently hold government marketing loans to repay their loans by the end of 1998. The amendment was defeated by a vote of 253-167. Thornberry voted "no."

- A measure to phase out the peanut program over seven years and provide diminishing loan rates each year for the program according to the following schedule: $610 per ton in 1996; $550 per ton in 1997; $490 per ton in 1998; $430 per ton in 1999; $370 per ton in 2000; and $310 per ton in 2001. The amendment was defeated by a vote of 217-208. Thornberry voted "no."

- A measure to authorize $200 million for the federal purchase of land near the Florida Everglades. This amendment was strongly supported by Speaker of the House Newt Gingrich and passed by a vote of 299-124. Thornberry voted "no."

"The biggest challenge we faced was passing this bill as cleanly as possible," Thornberry stated. "There were strong pushes to gut the cotton program and kill the peanut program. Fortunately, we were able to beat back both of these challenges."

Thornberry said the bill will now go to a Conference Committee between members of the House and the Senate, where differences are expected to be quickly resolved between the versions of the bills which passed each House of Congress.

Through their participation, the seniors maintain their independence as productive contributors to their communities and profit from job-skills training which allows for transition back into private sector employment.

According to Diane Cowan, program administrator, "During this important week, March 10 through March 16, let us focus upon the important contributions of our senior work force and strengthen our commitment to assure that this important resource continues in the mainstream of our state's economic and social development. Employers should invest in the skills and abilities of senior job seekers not only during Older Worker Week but year round. Hiring experience, dependability, reliability, and dedication is just good business!"

Dietary Guidelines

By Jeanene Sinclair

Some people live their lives without knowing the pleasure of eating. They cut what they perceive as "bad foods" from their diets, banishing themselves to dull, tasteless meals or a world of yo-yo dieting.

Fortunately, there's a free road map to good nutrition that shows how you can eat well without sacrificing taste. The Dietary Guidelines for Americans, first issued in 1980, reflect current nutrition knowledge and are revised every five years. The just-released 1995 edition includes some important changes.

For the first time since their creation, the guidelines recommend Americans maintain or improve their weight by balancing the diet with moderate physical activity. The revised guidelines also call for a greater emphasis on grain foods.

Why the emphasis on grains? The new guidelines recognize grain foods like bread, pasta, cereal and crackers for their contribution to the "total diet." Because grains are rich in complex carbohydrates (starches), they're generally low in fat - making them an excellent replacement for higher-fat foods.

A source of the three major B vitamins and iron, grain foods often provide folate, potassium, calcium, vitamin E and magnesium. Because they're usually good sources of fiber, whole grains fill you up without filling you out. According to the guidelines, we should get 6 to 11 servings of grains a day, but studies show most Americans fall short of the mark, averaging about three.

At a time when 70 percent of shoppers report they're trying to cut back on fat, these guidelines spell out how to make healthful food selections, achieve a balanced diet and maintain a healthy weight.

In general, the new dietary guidelines provide simple steps to better health. Good nutrition begins with the food choices we make each day, so keep these seven guidelines in mind:

The Dietary Guidelines:

- Eat a variety of foods.
- Balance the food you eat with physical activity. Maintain or improve your weight.

- Choose a diet with plenty of grain products, vegetables and fruits.
- Choose a diet low in fat, saturated fat and cholesterol.
- Choose a diet moderate in sugars.
- Choose a diet moderate in salt and sodium.
- If you drink alcoholic beverages, do so in moderation.

All it takes is seven numbers to get the latest news that affects you.

Please make every effort to sign your children up on these dates. The deadline for sign-up is April 1, 1996. Teams will be selected the first week in April, so please be timely.

Also there will be a coaches' meeting on Sunday, March 24, 1996, at 2:00 p.m. at the Fire Station. Anyone who is going to coach or is even slightly interested please plan to attend this meeting. They are always in need of coaches, umpires, and people to help them get the fields into shape for the season.

Keep an eye on The Clarendon News or Channel 11 for dates to clean up the fields and do necessary repairs. You do not have to have a child in Little League to participate.

If you want the kids in your town to have a nice, clean place to have some good summer fun, be ready to pitch in and help. If you have any questions, please call Bryan Leeper at 874-2406.

Girl Scout News

National Girl Scout Week - March 10-16

A little history of Girl Scouts:

In 1909, a Boy Scout rally was held in London at the Crystal Palace, a worldwide technological fair, where 6,000 girls turned up proclaiming themselves to be Girl Scouts. Recognizing that girls needed a program suited to their needs and interest, Lord Baden Powell's sister, Agnes formed the Girl Guides Association in the United Kingdom in 1910. Juliette Gordon Low, a friend of the Baden-Powells, was enthralled with the idea of a youth organization for girls, and in 1912 she founded Girl Scouting in the United States.

Today, Girl Scouts of the United States of America are a part of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts (WAGGGS), which now have a total membership of approximately eight million members.

Girl Scouting is a values-based organization. The mission of Girl Scouting is to inspire girls with the highest ideals of character, conduct, patriotism, and service that they may become happy and resourceful citizens. The motivational force in Girl Scouting is a spiritual one. Each girl pursues her own religious or spiritual beliefs and is expected to respect the beliefs and practices of others.

Girl Scout Sunday in March 10, and the Clarendon Girl Scouts of all troops will be attending church together at the First Baptist Church morning services. This is a time for all girl scouts past and present to gather under one roof to worship. They hope those who are unable to attend this service will be recognized in their home church.

Another activity of the week will be on Tuesday, March 12. Girls Scouts of Clarendon will be participating in "Be Your Best Day," a Girl Scouts of the United States of America national promotion. Each of the six troops are pledging to "do their best" for some other community organization in appreciation for all the do. Troops will be surprising organizations on Tuesday with what they have planned. Girls will also be doing something for the places that allow them to use their buildings for their troop meetings. They will print the outcome in next weeks paper.

Girl Scout Promise:
On my honor, I will try: to serve God and my country, to help people at all times, and to live by the Girl Scout Law.

Clarendon College will be headquarters for many of the activities. Microscopes will be available to study the artifacts found and the recording of the information and artifacts will be done at the college. The dorms will house some of the archeologists who will come from all parts of Texas. The college cafeteria will feed the visitors two meals a day.

Anyone, young or old, interested in this project is invited and urged to attend this meeting. THINGS RANDALL SIMS DID NOT TELL YOU

1. That the only two jury cases he has tried to date were after Earl Griffin announced his intent to run for District Attorney for the 100th District. In one case, the jury was hung, and in the other case the defendant plead guilty to possession of 76 pounds of marijuana and got 10 years probation.
2. That a co-defendant in the Carson County case, who was also charged with possession of 76 pounds of marijuana, was allowed to plead guilty with only a $500 fine as punishment even though the punishment range was 2 years to 20 years in prison and a fine of up to $10,000.
3. That in Childress County he has a 39% dismissal rate. In the other four counties, he has pleaded 95 cases and dismissed 90 cases.
4. That in his brochure he claims to have "disposed" of more cases than previous district attorneys. That is only true if all his dismissals are included in the figures.
5. That two defendants who were on deferred probation and who, together, had 24 separate deferred probations, violated their probations, but instead of having their probations revoked, he placed both of the defendants on 10 years straight probation instead of up to life in prison which was the maximum punishment possible. Those 24 cases greatly helped to add numbers to Mr. Sim's disposition numbers. Those cases were Carson County cases and were heard on the 14th day of September, 1995, under cause numbers 2314 through 2325 and 2326 through 2337 respectively.
6. That one day after indicting defendants in Childress County, Texas, Mr. Sims dismissed some of the indictments. Those numbers were then used as "dispositions" for the purpose of Mr. Sims' prosecution record.
7. That while Mr. Sims claims to be a resident of Childress County, Texas, his wife and family still live in Amarillo, Texas.
8. He moved a guilty plea for a sex offender from Collingsworth County to Donley County which allowed him to plea to probation and agreed not to put his name in the paper.
9. That he refused to debate on the Childress radio unless he was provided the questions ahead of time.
10. That he was appointed special prosecutor three times, lost one in Plainview and reduced the charges in the second on the Sheriff of Gray County and let him plead to a misdemeanor and let him keep his job. Mr. Sims has yet to tell anyone what happened on the third case
11. That there is not one single peace officer endorsing his candidacy. Four of the five sheriffs in the 100th District and one police chief are part of the 100th District Peace Officers Association which has endorsed his opponent.

Jr. High Teams Grab Medals

At Highland Park Track Meet

Junior High Girls

Clarendon's seventh and eighth grade Lady Colts grabbed several medals in the first track meet of the year Friday at Amarillo Highland Park that attracted 14 teams.

The team of Sarah Kidd, Tosha Carter, Jamie Sawyer, and Geraldine Butler placed second in the 400 meter relay.

Kidd, Carter, Lindsey Shelton, and Butler teamed for the 800 meter relay for another second place finish.

In the individual events, Sawyer placed third, and Courtney Newhouse got sixth in the 800 meters.

Danielle Holden turned in a third place finish, and Jacki Grady got fifth in the 1200 meter run. Butler placed second, and Sawyer jumped to a fourth place finish in the long jump.

Sawyer also placed in the triple jump.

"I thought they ran really well," junior high head girls coach Sheri Richardson said. "There were 14 teams and to come in second place like they did, they did really well. This was the first track meet they ever competed in and I was really proud of them."

Eighth grader Niki Carter grabbed four medals, and Tonya Wilson added two in the meet at Amarillo Highland Park.

Carter started racking up the medals when she placed second in the 100 meters. Wilson raced to a seventh place finish.

In the 200 meters, Carter finished first, as Wilson ran to a third place finish.

In the long jump, Carter got third and claimed fifth place in the triple jump. America Santos got fourth place in the 800 meter race.

"The eighth graders did really well also," Richardson said. "We had several injuries and that made them run in some events that they weren't used to. We didn't have enough to run the relays."

The Lady Colts travel to Wellington Friday and Saturday for a two-day track meet. The Friday meet begins at 3:45 and kicks off at 8 a.m. Saturday.

Junior High Boys

Clarendon's seventh grade Colts pulled in several second place finishes, and the eighth graders took home two medals during their Friday track meet at Amarillo Highland Park.

The 400 meter relay team of Josh Williams, Colt Floyd, Shannon Martin, and Dee Thompson ran a 52.85 - good enough for a second place medal.

Thompson placed second in the 100 meters with a time of 12.72 and took home his third second place medal in the long jump.

Dalton Whitaker was Clarendon's other second place finisher in the pole vault.

Floyd placed fifth in the triple jump, and Martin was fifth in the 200 meter race.

Other seventh graders participating were Nickless Devin, 800 meters; Matt Hamilton, 800 meters; Greg Leeper, 800 meters; Michael Lane, 400 meters; Tim McKinney and Tyler Lane, shot put and discus; Aaron Kidd, 1600 meter relay, and Shane Gayle, discus.

Families In Training Program For Its Contributions To Rural Texas

As a part of a joint national effort to highlight rural development programs, the National Association of Community Action Agencies (NACAA), the National Association of Development Organizations (NADO) Research Foundation, and the US Department of Agriculture (USDA) recently recognized the Families in Training program for its outstanding contributions to rural Texas.

The key to successful employment is education. However, for low-income families, and especially single parents, it is difficult to manage the roles of parent, caretaker, wage earner, and student. In addition, many of those such households must also struggle to overcome the burdens of broken homes, poverty, and abuse.

The Families in Training program focuses on providing rental assistance, case management, and other services to low-income persons who are pursuing post-secondary education. The program provides financial assistance, emotional support, and information to assist families in healing the scars of broken homes, poverty, and in many cases, abuse. Applicants for the FIT program must be eligible for rental assistance, be a parent of dependent child(ren) and be attending or preparing to attend college or post secondary vocational education. Ninety percent of the program participants are female, single, heads of households. Seventy percent of the participants are AFDC recipients.

Upon eligibility determination, each applicant must go through an intensive assessment process to be accepted into the program. This process includes completion of an extensive application before being interviewed by a "Community Task Force." This task force is comprised of community leaders and representatives from resource agencies and is responsible for determining admission to the Families in Training program.

Participants receive individual career counseling, personal development seminars, support from other Panhandle Community Services resources such as energy and transportation assistance, emergency food, information and referral, and rental assistance until their training is completed. In return, participants must maintain grade point averages of "B" or better and participate in the case management provided by FIT. Participants may remain in the program for two years, or until their education is completed if all program requirements are met.

Success is evident when graduates enter into employment averaging $9.00 an hour. The concept of this program has been in existence since 1989 with over 300 families participating. Occupational range is broad, including careers such as occupational and physical therapy, dental hygiene, court reporting, criminal justice, education, computer/information system management, nursing, and many others.

TO THE CITIZENS OF DONLEY COUNTY:

It has been my pleasure to serve you as your DISTRICT ATTORNEY this past year. Many good things have been accomplished (please see my ad) and there is more to be done.

I have worked long hours and many late nights as your full time District Attorney using all of my prosecution experience for the benefit of you and the district. That experience includes ten years of full time prosecution during which I have tried over seventy felony jury trials, have testified as an expert witness regarding prosecution, and have had other district attorney's request me to prosecute cases in their jurisdiction. Additionally, I was previously First Assistant District Attorney in the largest district attorney's office in the Panhandle.

I KNOW PROSECUTION!
 I KNOW HOW TO GET IT DONE CORRECTLY!
 I KNOW THAT IS WHAT I HAVE DONE FOR YOU!

My opponent has never prosecuted! In twenty years, he has only tried twenty to thirty felony jury trials - all as a defense attorney!

I offer the INTEGRITY, the DIGNITY, the HONESTY, the TRUST, the QUALIFICATION, the EXPERIENCE, the MORALS, the DESIRE, and the DEVOTION to do the job as YOUR DISTRICT ATTORNEY correctly and professionally.

It is YOU, the people, that elected me!
 It is YOU, the people, that can re-elect me!
 I ask YOU for your support and vote so I can continue the job YOU allowed me to begin.

WALLEYES ARE BITING

While local experts claim that they can catch walleye from their winter/summer haunts below 50 feet, the rest of us wait for the annual spring migration (now until the end of May) when schools of hungry walleye are located between 15 and 25 feet.

The most effective fishing technique for catching scores of walleye is slow-trolling the face of the dam or the main lake rocky points. Veteran walleye anglers slow-troll a Rat-L-Trap, Storm's Hot-N-Tot, or an in-line spinnerbait.

RIGGING A THREE-WAY My favorite walleye trolling rig starts off with an old fashioned six-foot fiberglass rod that offers plenty of flex because every walleye will make one desperate run when he sees the boat. The bigger the walleye, the more powerful this final effort at freedom.

For the past two years I have increased my hook-up ratio by using the new super braided fishing lines, and highly recommend trolling with either SpiderWire or Fireline. The increased sensitivity of these no-stretch lines allows anglers to detect even the lightest walleye nibble.

Attach a #6 three-way swivel to the braided line. To another eye of the three-way swivel, tie a 10 lb. drop-line (two or three feet long) connected to a lead sinker. This sinker should drag the bottom, and when the inevitable hang-ups occur, anglers will lose only the weight and not the whole rig.

My favorite terminal rig off the three-way is an 18-inch piece of 12 lb. Trilene XT rigged with a small red/white Colorado blade, string three red glass beads. Finish the rig with a gold wire crappie hook that will hold a small minnow or a piece of earthworm.

Casting a three-way rig is a challenge. Try using a side-arm fling or just let the boat strip off about sixty feet of line before engaging the reel handle.

Congratulations to CHUCK JOHNSON for catching a new Lake Meredith lake record largemouth bass. (Yes, there are largemouth bass in Meredith.) On Sunday afternoon, February 18, Chuck used a silver/black, six-inch ShadRap on 8 lb. Trilene XT to catch a nice 8 lb. 12 oz. bass. The water temperature was only 43 degrees, and Chuck speculates that his bass was checking out nesting sites when he caught her near a submerged bush in five feet of water.

CHS Does Well In Top 'O Texas Track Meet

Senior Chris Brown paced the Clarendon Bronchos with a second place finish in the shot put and Mandy Weatheron led the Lady Bronchos with third place in the 200 meter race in the Top 'O Texas Relays Saturday in Pampa.

The Lady Bronchos placed sixth in the meet, which attracted more than 12 teams - mostly from Class 4A and 5A schools.

Clarendon and Spearman were the only Class 2A schools competing.

Although Weatheron officially placed third in the 200 meters, Bronchos head coach Kent Allison believed she was clipped for first at the wire. "I think she was either first or second," he said.

Weatheron, Tangelia Smith, Kathy Bryley and Clarissa Smith placed fifth in the 400 meter relay. They ran a much better race in the preliminary heat, Allison said.

"If they had run in the finals like they ran in the prelims, they probably would have gotten third place," he said.

Clarissa Smith - a 1995 state competitor - injured her hamstring during the relay, Allison said.

Freshman Kim Alexander ran great anchor legs in the 800 meter relay and the 1600 meter relay, Allison said. Those competing in the 800 meter relay were Tangelia Smith, Stephanie Smith, Bryley, and Alexander.

Tangelia Smith, Stephanie Smith, Bryley, and Alexander also competed in the 1600 meter relay.

Laura Finch reached the finals in the 100 meter low hurdles and 300 meter low hurdles. The sophomore Finch placed fifth in the 100 meter and seventh in the 300 meter.

"They have a lot of potential," Allison said of the girl's squad.

Junior Phillip Hearn ran an 11.58 in the 100 meter, which would have earned him third place in a smaller track meet at Amarillo Highland Park, according to Allison.

James Hoggatt ran a :55 open quarter and barely missed getting into the finals. He also ran a 2:13 800 meter race.

Kareem Abdullah, Hoggatt, Scott Bivens and Evan Williams ran a 3:45 in the 1600 meter relay. "They competed as hard as they could run," Allison said.

In the junior varsity division, Jason Archuleta placed fifth in the high jump with a jump of 5 ft. He also ran a 19:04 in the 110 meter hurdles, which earned him a third place finish.

Freshman Blake Bass ran the 300 meter low hurdles in a time of 48.8, and Josh Allred barely missed placing with an 800 meter run with a time of 2:23.

"Considering the competition we were going against, I just wanted them to go out and compete hard," Allison said. "Now we've gotta starting point, and we've got to get better from there."

Several athletes did not compete because of injuries or conflicting schedules.

"We'll be better," Allison said. "Track's just one of those things that conditioning will help. You can't help but just get better because you're conditioning from week to week."

The girls and boys travel to Pampa Saturday at 9 a.m. for field events and the preliminary running competition. The finals will begin around 2 p.m.

Driver Safety Course Offered

A Driver Safety Course will be held at Clarendon College on Saturday, March 9, 1996.

It will meet from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. in Room 103 of the Administration Building. The fee is $25.00.

Please contact Clarendon College at 1-806-874-3571 for further information. Upon completion of this course, participants will be eligible for a 10% discount on their liability insurance for three years and dismissal of a traffic violation. All dismissals of traffic violations must be approved by the appropriate Justice of Peace. This course is offered by Clarendon College and USA Training Company, Inc.
