A Common Paper For Common People

Wild Days In Clarendon's Pioneer Period Is Pictured By Mr. Haskett

Editor and Publisher of Pioneer Publications of Panhandle Saw "Nature in the Raw." Was Among First Printers in Clarendon. Now Resides at Childress.

(By L. E. Haskett)
This is to be a little story of the early history of Clarendon, and possibly the beginning of religious history in the city, and denoting the downfall of many evil influences that beset the little frontier town of 1888. Clarendon, at that time, was similar to all settlements along the frontiers of the United States, among the first people to locate in the town were gamblers, saloon keepers and the "scarlet women" of that day.

This little story has to do with the underworld element of that day. Early in the year, that is 1888 carpenters began the erection of a large two-story house on the north side of the railway tracks, and a little west of the business section. Of course the news soon drifted over the little town that a "bowdy house" was being built and the town would soon have a habitation that every Christian would detest and condemn.

About the time of the completion of the building the small printing office where I worked was visited by the madam of the new institution, who wanted a piece of job printing at an early date. The woman did not know exactly what she wanted, but after a few minutes conversation I learned she wanted a large number of invitations printed, announcing the opening of the "red light" district. The form of the invitation was soon arranged and the work secured.

Several hundred of these invitations were printed, being mailed, so I was informed, to the elite of the "red light" districts of Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls and Trinidad, Col. In addition every ranch in the Panhandle was "favored" with one of the invitations, not taking into account the young men of Clarendon.

The date arrived and Clarendon was over run with the denizens of the underworld of Northwest Texas. There were great times that day and night, the music being furnished by a large orchestra from Fort Worth. The cowboys of Northwest Texas were out in full force, while the "scarlet women" crowded the streets of Clarendon for two or three days. Gamblers from many towns were present, reaping a rich harvest. But as with all events within a few days there was only a memory of the event, and among the citizens of Clarendon the open flaunting of vice in the face of the people left a dirty taste in the mouths of those who were seeking a home for themselves and their families.

At that time there were two Methodist preachers in Clarendon, one, the name forgotten, was a representative of the northern branch of the church, the other being Rev. Isaac Mills of the Methodist Episcopal church, South. There was considerable rivalry between the two branches, with the congregations of each endeavoring to erect houses of worship, and both were successful. Of course the action of the runners of the "red light" district came in for who was on the ground at the time that real religion awakening began with that event. The Christian people realized they could not afford to live in a community where all laws of decency were flaunted openly and brazenly.

About that time a minister of the Episcopal church was sent to Clarendon to look after the few members of that flock, thus was added another force toward cleaning out the town. In a short time other denominations had ministers in the city and Clarendon began to fight her way out of the blight which had been brought upon her. But it was a long earnest fight, considerable censure from these preachers, and in the erection of the church buildings there was some conflict.

But there was a reaction to the opening of the "red light" district, which was noticeable at once. The Christian people of Clarendon began to put on their fighting clothes and lambast the people of the underworld. The attacks were kept up, and as said in the beginning of this story, it seems to me The saloons were well protected, and being a railroad center the floating population was large enough to control the election and to keep the saloons open for several years, but the "red light" district did not remain very many years, as the people were too unfriendly and decent people refused to permit the open flaunting of the trade upon the streets.

Some ten years later Clarendon churches were practically in control of the town, and soon the saloons were voted out. With this came an awakening to the fact Clarendon was nicely situated for a school town. The public school was soon placed upon a plane which was possibly the highest in Northwest Texas, and as that position was secured the citizens, and especially the Methodist folks, decided a college was a real necessity, hence the founding of Clarendon College, which functioned until 1926.

Clarendon at the beginning of the present century became known as the leader of religious and educational work in Northwest Texas, and though the college has been closed, yet the town has one of the best of school systems and a junior college which would be a real credit to a community much larger.

It takes a real jolt, at times, to awaken the people of a community to the needs of their people. Also the awakening is often the beginning of a larger and better time. That day and night back in 1888 has done more for Clarendon than even the "Old timer" may have realized, or has been given the credit due it.

The writer hopes to be in Clarendon July 4, as the last celebration of that day he attended in Clarendon was July 4, 1889, when the picnic was held at the site of the old wooden school building. He is hoping to meet some of the men and women who were citizens in those two years.

YOUNG PLAYERS ARE DISMAYED AS GRANDPA WINS

Hillcroft Golfers Do Honor To New Champion Annual Tournament

Grizzled old A. N. Woods is the new champion of the Hillcroft Golf Club. He gained this honor Sunday when he defeated a worthy foe, Ira Merchant, 3-2 in a thrilling 36 hole match. Woods had been a consistent threat for the title for several years but was never able to brush aside his younger opponents until he accomplished the feat Sunday. Merchant has twice been winner of the crown and was regarded by many as sure to repeat this year but the veteran of veterans simply refused to give in.

Woods, grey haired and tooth less grandfather, lodged that chaw of Star Navy in the corner of his mouth and started out like an infuriated tiger and scored birdies on No 1 and 2 that gained a 2 hole advantage. This lead was increased and they rounded the turn with Woods 3up. Merchant, who had been wild with his drives, began to find the fairway and fared some better during the next round, however the half way mark found him 2 down. Woods loss of ground during this round was through failure of his putter to behave.

Merchant took an early command of the situation at the beginning of the afternoon play and promptly won holes 19 and 20 to square the match. This advantage was soon lost as Woods won 22 and

City's Board of Equalization To Meet in July

A board of equalization representing the interests of the City will meet in the City Hall on July 8-9th between the hours of 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. for the purpose of hearing suggestions from taxpayers relative to any changes in property valuations.

Members of this board are C. C. Powell, Henry Williams and Frank L. Bourland.

Baptist Workers Meet At Martin Tuesday

"We had one of the best meetings of the year at Martin," Rev. King stated Wednesday.

The principal sermon was preached by Rev. S. L. Tidwell. Others to make talks were Rev. J. Perry King of Clarendon; O. K. Webb of Memphis; F. N. Allen, Lelia Lake R. G. Bristler of Lakeview.

The theme of the talks was built around the subject of "How to build stronger country churches." The attendance was larger than usual and the interest taken was a decided encouragement to the congregation.

Clarendon Given Honorable Mention in Congress

The national House of Representatives passed the second deficiency bill Friday which included an appropriation of fifty-eight million dollars for public buildings outside the District of Columbia.

Among the provisions of the bill is a suggestion that the postoffice department select buildings from a list of approximately 1200 cities and towns.

Clarendon was set down for a $68,000.00 federal building. The bill now goes to the Senate. In the meantime, it is hardly worth while to expect a building boom here until the final decision is made, suggests a local man who wants to sell a location site.

Standridge to Preach Out Of Town Places

James L. Standridge, pastor of the local Church of Christ, will preach at the Central Church of Christ at Pampa at both hours Sunday. Curtis Camp of Quanah will preach at both services here Sunday.

Mr. Standridge preached at the north Amarillo Church of Christ Wednesday night, the Central church dismissing for the services.

Leader Day Earlier Next Week

Rural correspondents are kindly requested to mail their news items in one day earlier next week as the Leader will be mailed on Wednesday instead of Thursday. Thursday is the 4th and no mail will be sent out on that day. Besides that, the force wants to share in the big celebration in Clarendon on the 4th.

A compliance with this request will be greatly appreciated.

Clarendon Boy Scout Troop To Police Parade

Scoutmaster Cap B. Morris announces meetings of his Boy Scout every Monday night at the Club Hall except hiking dates which are second and fourth Mondays in each month.

The troop, thirty-two in number, will police the parade here on the 4th of July.

Laundry Uses Precaution Against Disease

In keeping with a state law, all colored clothing is disinfected by your laundry. This is not deemed necessary for white clothes because they pass through several boilings before being dried, and the dryer is above the boiling point.

Seven waters are used in rinsing Mr. Wilson states. Three boiling waters, three cold and the bluing water. There is no risk taken should it appear that an article is likely to fade, he says. These articles are passed through a "sour" water to "set" the colors.

From start to finish every sanitary method is employed here in our local laundry that could be had in any city. The prices are in keeping with the times as will be seen from a reading of the laundry advertisement in this issue of the Leader.

Beale Queen Becomes Acting Manager J A Ranch

Montgomery Ritchie, temporary administrator of the vast JA ranch properties near here, announce the appointment of Beale Queen as local manager. He succeeds Clinton Henry who was local manager for a number of years before the death of T. D. Hobart recently. Mr. Hobart had administered the affairs of the ranch since the death of the owner Mrs. Cornelia Adair in 1929.

Ritchie is a grandson of Mrs. Adair and one of the heirs formerly residing in England until some three years ago. Since that time he has spent much time on the ranch.

Beale Queen was formerly wagon boss on the ranch for the past several years and is said to be thoroughly conversant with the management of the properties over which he has been appointed manager.

Relic Of 1850 Owned By F. A. White Is Insurance Policy On Negro Slave

Document After 85 Years is Well Preserved. Pre-War Days In Old Virginia Gives Data on Precaution Taken Against Loss of Chattel Property Not Generally Known

George Allen, grandfather of Frank A. White of this city, was an owner of a large Virginia plantation back in the days prior to the Civil War. This is evidenced by an insurance policy brought to the Leader office Monday by Mr. White.

Although having the appearance of recent date, the policy was issued April 23, 1850 by the "American Life Insurance and Trust Company of Philadelphia. The policy covers the life risk on one "James Gibbs," a slave owned by George Allen. The policy calls for $1,000.00 and the premium was $18.30 annual premium for a period of five years.

Among the forfeitures set out in the policy are that Gibbs shall remain in slave territory. The policy was null if Gibbs became a suicide

IMPROVEMENTS OF GENERAL NATURE AT STATE PARK

Buildings of Several Styles And Designs Are Planned For Beauty-Utility

Canyon, Texas, June 24—Palo Duro state park probably will undergo a greater change in the next six months than in any period of its development, Louis J. Bryan, superintendent of the park service, says.

Plans have been approved for the construction of 26 additional rock cabins, an amphitheater, a country store, a cow camp, more picnic sites, temporary cabins on the canyon rim, low-water bridge crossings, shelters and comfort stations throughout the 15,000-acre reservation, a main entrance structure, water lines to picnic areas and an Indian campfire circle.

Work is expected to be resumed soon on El Coronado lodge, two sets of plans having been submitted to the national park service. Springs are being developed and built at high levels to insure abundant water at widely separated areas. One 11,000-gallon tank has been completed.

The bridge across Timber creek is being remodeled. It will be faced with natural stone quarried in the canyon.

"The Palo Duro canyon offers the greatest opportunity to build a truly great park in the state of Texas," Bryan said.

"National park service officials are thoroughly sold on the beautiful canyon and they expect to see here one of the finest parks in the nation."

The 14-mile paved road from Canyon to the park has been opened to traffic.

Four Local Men Appointed On Educational Drive

Austin, June 26--Eugene Worley Representative from this district, has been appointed by Secretary of State Gerald C. Mann, as chairman of an educational committee in this district to acquaint Texas citizens with the new Texas Securities Law.

Representative Worley has named the following members of the Committee in Clarendon: W. T. Link, J. C. Estlack, J. R. Porter, Sam Braswell.

The purpose of the Committee will be to acquaint the people of this district with the new law--its provisions and the condition that it seeks to correct. The various service clubs of the district will be asked to devote programs to the law and members of the committee will be asked to present brief talks on the subject.

The success of the law, according to Secretary Mann, who is chief enforcement officer under the terms of the Act, will be determined by how well acquainted the people become with its provisions.

Chuck Wagon And Cowboy Scenes With Indians Will Feature Parade July 4th

Scenes in the Parade and Various Exhibits in Clarendon Celebration Pre-Centennial July 4th Will Recall Frontier Days of the Old West

The various committees of the Pre-centennial and Fourth of July celebration are active in preparation for what they believe will be a memorable day in the history of Clarendon celebrations. Earnest effort is being made to entertain pioneers who will be special guests of honor for the day.

The committee for collecting old photographs and early day relics have made a good showing but need more old photographs and other material. A central art gallery which will be displayed from the windows of adjoining mercantile buildings is being planned. If you have an old picture of a cow camp or a trail herd or a photograph of the old Clarendon High school, loan it to the committee. Individual pictures of pioneer cowmen and cowboy pictures of present day ranchmen are wanted.

In the collection of materials, old guns, old saddles, old spurs, and any, and all relics of pioneer days are very desirable. The collections will be exhibited from the store windows and will be well cared for. Indian relics are also desirable.

Merchants are asked to cooperate by utilizing a part of their window space for these interesting exhibits.

Those having old photographs and relics are asked to turn them over to Jerome Stocking who is chairman of the committee on collections.

Pioneers who came to the Panhandle prior to 1896 will be special guests of honor. A dinner to be served by the ladies of the Christian church in the church basement has been arranged for in their honor. The idea of a barbecue was abandoned when it was found that a number would be too old to stand the terrors of outside heat and a scarcity of shade.

The dinner will be free for the pioneers of forty years and will include on the menu such appealing dainties as fried chicken, green beans, chicken and dumplings, potato salad, peach cobbler, coffee, tea and ice water.

Prizes will be offered for the outstanding exhibits in the parade. The prizes offered for the best three wagon exhibits in the parade will be based on the ones most accurately depicting the pioneer days. The prizes to be given are cash. First prize is $10, second $5 and the third $2.50.

The parade will be led by the Sons of the American Legion. The lads are practicing every night except Sunday from tonight until the 4th. They are meeting at the Junior High school building at 5 each evening.

The big show begins at 10:30 with a band concert on the courthouse lawn. Other features to follow are:

Speaking at 11 a. m.
Picnic dinners at 12. Bring your baskets, tubs or boxes unless you can qualify as a real old-timer of 40 years.

The parade will be at 1:30.
Singing at the Methodist church at 3 p. m. Old time songs of all kinds have been arranged for this feature.

Will Visit American Beauty Spots on Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. White expect to leave here about July 1st on an extended vacation trip that will take them to Grand Canyon where a short visit will be made.

From there they will visit the San Diego, California fair. Friends will be visited in Los Angeles, San Francisco and other points. The return trip will be made via Salt Lake City and Denver with a stop of several days sight-seeing in each place and side trips.

Cap Morris and son Carl, I. B. Pierce and R. Y. King spent the last of the week fishing in New Mexico.

Donley County Folks Favor Milling Sanatorium

Those Going away from here for health benefits are said to favor the renowned Milling Sanatorium at Mineral Wells in the big majority. At one time recently, sixteen Donley county citizens were at Milling Sanatorium.

At this time the number is on the increase, being ten in number. This includes ages from nine months to up in the sixties. Summer is the favorite month because of the beauty of the scenery, the fascinating scenic spots in general and the fishing and golfing.

Several other citizens from this section are making preparation to spend a part of the summer at Milling.

Mrs. Slint of Panhandle is visiting Mrs. J. R. Bartlett.

Beauticians in Conference At Childress Sunday

Beauty shop owners and operators of District 18 met in the Ladies' Club Room at Childress at 2:30 Sunday for the purpose of discussing the new law soon to go into effect. Other matters of importance to the profession came up for discussion.

Frank Whitlock appeared on the program and because of his long experience, was called upon to reply to numerous questions. Mr. Whitlock has been barbering for 38 years, and was among the first to take advantage of the new era of beauty culture.

Sam Page of Amarillo, assistant secretary of the national association, presided at the conference.

Mrs. E. D. Landreth and Mrs. Eula Cox visited in Hedley Tues.

ANGELIC MUSIC in a WEARY LAND.

Few are they who know the joy that gallops around in the bosom of the rural editor when he finds, among the numerous "bureau" letters and calls for free space, a letter from one of the national advertisers stating that "we have chosen your publication as the one to help promote our next campaign to advertise our products. Herewith find an order for empty-tieth inches of space at your foreign rate."

"FARMER JIM" OPPOSES OLD AGE PENSION.

In his last issue of the Ferguson Forum, James E. Ferguson warns his followers to beware of the old age pension idea. He says it will mean higher taxes.

"Farmer Jim" does not take into account the large number of old people who helped elect him to office twice, and his wife the same number of times. Those old voters have served their time, thinks Governor Jim, and will not again be needed. Or did he hear the call from the sawmill section in an article similar to that appearing in this column last week?

Other states are paying old age pensions, some of them more than $15 a month. Texas has granted tax immunity to more counties than any other state. Farmer Jim does not tell the old folks that Texas has plenty of money when it comes to favoring counties on the coast. He was after votes when he favored that political stunt.

Again quoting "Farmer Jim," he says:

"The whole proposition is ridiculous and yet I warn the people that if they do not rise up and proclaim their opposition to this proposed amendment it will pass just as sure as election day comes around."

In that he is right. These old folks have been given a faint ray of hope by the Legislature. It will be up to the voters on August 24th. It will be one time that grandma will be given a pension by voters who think she deserves it. Governor Jim might think it more expedient to knock grandma in the head with an axe and settle the matter, but grandma will have plenty of friends at the polls August 24th. Texas has "sluffed" off millions for causes not nearly so worthy as old age pensions.

The Moral Being—

A man in a neighboring state, on returning from a hunting trip, the other day, found his neighbor just leaving the house, and being of a jealous nature, drew his gun and filled the man's legs with fine shot. A lawsuit followed, and it was learned that the man was there to borrow the local paper. The lawsuit cost $75, and the doctor bill was $25; $1.50, the price of the local paper for a whole year, would have saved the trouble.—Hopkins (Mo.) Journal.

Eighty Year Old Code Short And To The Point

The following '80 Year Old Code' was published in the Hardware Men's Journal for the current month in which next to the last paragraph the concern places a premium on attending prayer meeting, by allowing their men employees to "go courtin'" twice a week.

Carson Price Scott and Company of Chicago, one of the outstanding retail and wholesale houses of the country, recently celebrated its 80th anniversary. Someone in that organization had preserved the rules for employees of their first store, which read as follows:

"Store must be opened from 6 a.m. to 9 p.m. the year around.

"Store must be swept; counters, base shelves and show cases dusted, lamps trimmed, filled and chimneys cleaned; pens made, doors and windows opened; a pail of water, also a bucket of coal brought in before breakfast (if there is time to do so) and attend to customers who call.

"Store must not be opened on the Sabbath unless necessary, and then only for a few minutes.

The employee who is in the habit of smoking Spanish cigars, being shaved at the barber's, going to dances and other places of amusement, will surely give his employer reason to be suspicious of his integrity and honesty.

"Each employee must pay not less than $5.00 per year to the Church and must attend Sunday School regularly.

Men employees are given one night a week for courting and two if they go to prayer meeting.

"After 14 hours of work in the store, the leisure hours should be spent mostly in reading."

TEMPLE OF TRUTH

By the Apostle

Way down in Clay county near Vashti lives a lad who reads the Leader every week, and has for some years. He must like it, or I hope he does because he sent me last week a bushel basket of fine peaches. The peach with the bluish, juice and flavor supreme. This boy's name is J. B. Wadsworth, Jr. He happens to be a second cousin of Douglas F. Wadsworth, station agent of the Denver here. J. B. is a fine fellow, full of life, and he and I played on the same side of a ball game down there about two years ago. We both lost. Thank you J. B., thanks a lot.

L. E. Haskett, venerable newspaper man of Childress, is contributing historical articles to the Leader anent the early settlement of our little city. Mr. Haskett was here along about the time it was "dangerous to be safe." We have another article in the Leader this week which will recall to old-timers incidents long forgotten. A lot of the Leader readers appreciate these articles by Mr. Haskett, and tell us about it.

The College Hill Widow says that laziness or mice either one will make a kitchen smell "funky."

Whether it is a dam good idea, or a good dam idea, makes no difference since the government announces that 400 large dams are to be built west of the Mississippi river the next two years.

The "Association to Get Amelia Earhart a Permanent Wave" will meet in the Sky Room at 3 p. m. Friday.

An Arkansas cow broke into the public library and ate up "Green Pastures," but was just as punctually suckled by "Red Heifer" that the library would suffer no loss over either book.

Here comes another lady (the first one this season) to suggest that something be said about people borrowing the Leader to read. If you do not take the Leader, dear borrower, you do not get the news while it is fresh. If you borrow the paper while it is fresh, you are unjust to the one who paid the $1.50 a year to read it. You can't afford to wart your neighbors just to save $1.50.

A complaint comes from Jack county which reads: "I ran for school director but did not get a single vote, although I voted for myself. Should I demand a recount or wait until next year and run again? The campaign cost me 10 gallons of gas, 3 gallons of moon and 17 bottles of snuff." Replying to this man it appears that he is another leading citizen of the community who happened to test the opinion of his people. It might be best to start a "Share-the-Vote" club and run opposition to Huey.

Ima Fizzle says that when the husband gets up and cooks the breakfast, there's more excitement about it in the average home than a Thanksgiving dinner. The occasion somewhat resembles the unveiling of a monument.

If the wets win in Texas this summer, the battle cry of the politician in 1936 will be "two refrigerators in every home with extra room for bottles."

I overheard a family this week engaging in an animated manner regarding arrangements for the young hopefuls. The family has only one flivver. After much persuasion, the boy said that "he would not mind taking his sister to the party if she would let him bring her home at midnight." To this the sister replied, "by golly you are traded with if you can find me at midnight!"

Every farm home of consequence ought to have a name. That would bring our section up to the effete east. As a first suggestion, why not name the home "Twenty Pay", that is if 20 payments will clear it, etc.

Many a family lawn has gone to seed waiting for the favorite son-in-law to go into action.

How some of these sandwich-and-bottle folks get any kick out of a picnic still is a mystery. Cooking on a campfire fighting mosquitoes and lolling in the dirt is far too much pleasure to forego out in the open.

After paying the "investigator" and conducting the "hearings" for the whitewash, there is very little money left for actual relief. And still some people think the government ought to "run" everything.

Ima Failure says "that if things were fitting, there would be several manure spreaders serving as monuments in most of the cemeteries."

Celebrating Fathers' Day, one fellow tells me that all he got was a Sears-Roebuck catalog.

The shorts that caused neighborhood scandal last season, are relegated to the scrapheap this season by a more abbreviated form.

It has gotten so in St. Louis that the zoo keeper sleeps in a cage with the lions to avoid being high-jacked.

Wonder what the filling station would look like if the Shell and Phillips should merge?

A lady who married a sow's ear spent her more prosperous years trying to make a silken purse out of him. Only to discover in lean years that there was a good deal of strength and endurance in "tooled" leather.

With the NRA blown up, we might as well take this country away from Throwing Bull, give it back to Sitting Bull, charter the Mayflower and go back to old "Hengland" and tell George, "Forgive us pappy, for we know not what to do next."

"I was sick all night!" "Bootleg?" "Nah, rabied hot dog."

"Mother may I go out to swim? Yes, my dearest daughter; But hang some clothes upon your limbs, Or else stay under water."

Fearing bodily harm from the constable of Hog Jaw last week, the local editor had the following to say: "Mr. Hawkshaw, our energetic constable, could throw little light on the murder mystery which is no reflection upon his brilliant investigation or the mail order house from which he secured his detective diploma." He ought to move to Amarillo.

Did you ever notice how often the great grate?

Here's wishing you many joys over the 4th. Don't forget that Clarendon will stage a show that day. If you came to the Panhandle 40 or more years ago, you will be entitled to eat a free lunch with the old timers.

AN ORDINANCE

Be it remembered by the City Commission of the City of Clarendon, Texas:

Upon and after the passage of this ordinance, it shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or Corporation to erect, maintain, equip or operate any kind or manner of pump or device through which motor fuel oil may or can be dispensed any where along or upon the length and breadth of Second Street any where within the corporate limits of the City of Clarendon.

This ordinance is amendatory to all ordinances heretofore passed dealing with the same subject, and all ordinances in conflict in whole or in part herewith, are hereby expressly repealed.

Any person, firm, or Corporation who violates this ordinance shall, upon conviction, be fined in a sum not to exceed One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars and not less than Ten ($10.00) Dollars.

The fact that Second Street through the City of Clarendon has been designated as State Highway No. 5 and that the same is a Federal Aid Project, and that the Federal Government will not advance Federal funds to complete such Highway work with such pumps aforementioned existing on such Street, creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity that the rule requiring ordinances read on three several occasions be suspended, and it is hereby suspended, and this ordinance shall be in force and effect from the date of its passage, and it is so enacted.

Passed and approved this 19 day of June, 1935.

Looking Better?

Yes, much better. Rains are coming just right in most places in our section. Good stands of crops where good seed was planted. The better grade of Jersey cows are coming back. Not a bad idea. The weekly cream check helps. It looks like we are going to get back to somewhere near normal this year. It's a fine time to pull together for the good of all our folks. We want to help because you have helped us.

Series of Dances Planned For July 4th Celebration

The July 4th celebration will be made complete for those who enjoy dancing and musical entertainment of that type, with a series of dances to be given at the Clarendon Opera House on the night of the 3rd and 4th of July.

The dance on the night of Wednesday, July 3rd beginning at 10 p.m. and continuing until 2 a.m., will be an orchestra dance featuring the music of "The Southerners" whom we have been fortunate enough in securing for this occasion. They come to us very highly recommended.

The night of July 4th will feature a "Cowboy" dance beginning at 9 p.m. with music being furnished by "Steve" and His Band, who are already well-known in this vicinity. This dance will feature any kind of dancing desired, from the older type to the new, depending entirely on the choice of the crowd itself.

Anyone attending either of these dances will be assured of an evening of nice, clean entertainment. Popular prices will prevail on both of these occasions.

Holman Says Rescued Body Drowned Man Wednesday

Rufus Holman, who has charge of the Johnson lake at Lelia for fishing purposes, states that the boat occupied by Ed Barnes and I. O. Noble did not break at all at the time Barnes was drowned last Wednesday.

He further says that he rescued the body of Barnes and brought it to shallow water where he was met by Kenneth Brown and Billie Johnson who made heroic attempts to resuscitate Barnes.

Holman further says that he has three good boats on the Lake that they are now and have been in good condition all the time.

INTERESTING FACTS REGARDING TEXAS HISTORY IN AN EARLY EXCITING EPOCH

Sam Houston had been in Texas only a short time when he began to consider quitting 'the Old South' for good, to make his home on the new frontier, it is evident from a letter he wrote in February, 1833, to General Stonewall Jackson. Written at Natchitoches, La., this letter praises the soil and climate of Texas, and throws illuminating reflections on the status of the Mexican government and of Texas' independence. His astute statesmanship warned him that Texas might gain independence, but that her autonomy would not be permanent, and in confidence he urged annexation to the United States a step that was ultimately taken some seventeen years later. As in much of his correspondence, there runs through the letter the strain of his insistence upon Indian rights

"General Jackson
"Dear Sir:
"Having been as far as Bexar in the Province of Texas, where I had an interview with the Comanche Indians; I am in possession of some information, that will doubtless be interesting to you; and may be calculated to forward your views if you should entertain any; touching the acquisition of Texas, by the Government of the United States. That such a measure is desirable by nineteen twentieths of the population of the Province, I cannot doubt. They are now with out laws to govern or protect them Mexico is involved in civil war. The Federal Constitution has never been in operation. The Government is essentially despotic and must be so far years to come. The Rulers have not honesty, and the people have not intelligence. The people of Texas are determined to form a State Government, and separate from Coahuila, and unless Mexico is soon restored to order, and the Constitution revived, and re-enacted, the Province of Texas will remain separate from the confederacy of Mexico. She has already beaten and expelled all the troops of Mexico from her soil, nor will she permit them to return. She can defend herself against the whole power of Mexico, for really Mexico is powerless and penniless to all intents and purposes. Her want of money taken in connection with the course which Texas must and will adopt, will render a transfer of Texas inevitable to some power, and if the United States does not press for it, England will most assuredly obtain it by some means. Now is a very important crisis for Texas as relates to her future prosperity, and safety; as well as the relations which it is to bear to the United States. You will no doubt do ample justice, to the motives which prompt this communication to you; and I should censure myself if I were to conceal from you the knowledge of any facts which could enable you, during your administration, to acquire Texas, if it is in accordance with the policy of the United States. To that end I am compelled to assure you that your present minister, Col. Butler, does not desire that acquisition of Texas by the United States. Nor is it desirable to him that Texas should change her relations from what they have always been! Col. B. has interests in this country (Texas) which will be better subserved by the absolute dependence, and attachment of Texas to Mexico; than by any transfer or change which it can hereafter sustain. Mexico is a country of monopolies and they must cease in Texas, whenever it changes its relations. Moreover, if he had no interests in Texas at war with its acquisition by the United States--the standing which I have been assured by gentlemen from Mexico, that he possesses, with the ministry and the people--would place it out of his power to manage a successful negotiation for Texas, or to counteract the British influence! He has no secrets, and I have been assured that the British Legation have a controlling influence over him. Be that as it may, I pledge myself to you that I do know his interest is at war with a transfer of Texas to the United States. This is only private, or to be so regarded by you until Col. B. returns to the United States. If Texas is desirable to the United States it is now in the most favourable attitude perhaps that it can be to obtain it on fair terms England is pressing her suit for it, but its citizens will resist, if any transfer should be made, of them to any power but the United States.

"I have travelled near five hundred miles across Texas, and am now enabled to judge pretty correctly of the soil, and the resources of the Country, and I have no hesitancy in pronouncing it the finest country to its extent upon the Globe. For the greater portion of it is richer and more healthy in my opinion than West Tennessee. There can be no doubt but the country East of the River Grand of the North would sustain a population of ten millions of souls. My opinion is that Texas will by her members in convention by the 1st of April declare all that country as Texas proper, and form a State Constitution. I expect to be present at the convention, and will apprise you of the course adopted, so soon as its members have taken a final action. It is probable I may make Texas my abiding place. In adopting this course, I will never forget the Country of my birth.

"I will notify from this point the Commissioners of the Indians at Fort Gibson of my success, which will reach you through the War Department.

"I have with much pride and inexpressible satisfaction seen your messages and proclamations touching the Nullifiers of the South and their 'peaceable remedies.' God grant that you may save the Union. It does seem to me that it is reserved for you, and you alone, to render millions so great a blessing. I hear all voices commend your course even in Texas, where is felt the liveliest interest for the preservation of the Republic.

"Permit me to tender you my sincere felicitations, and most earnest solicitude for your health and happiness--and your future glory, connected with the prosperity of the Union.
"Your friend and Obt. Servant
Sam Houston
"Be pleased to salute Mr. Earl and friends."

"Cut out the old dewberry and blackberry vines now," says J. F. Rosborough, Extension horticulturist. "Leave three or four of the new canes and when they get about three feet or a little better, top them," he says. "All this makes for increased production next year. Also, picking will be easier.

Tomatoes are suckering too much, due to recent rains, Rosborough states. The thing to do is to pinch back all except three or four suckers and when these have set a cluster of fruit pinch their tops off so all the strength of the plant will go into development of quality tomatoes.

Old railroad ties for posts with two strands of wire run between two and four feet above the ground double the yield of berry vines owned by Manco Morrow in Marion county. The berries were trained to grow on the wires. Morrow has been able to sell all that he grew and is increasing his patch to an acre.

If the rows in her garden were laid end to end and 334 more feet were planted, Hilda Thielman, second year club member for the Lamar Girls' Home Demonstration Club in Fort Bend county, would have to hoe one mile of garden. She has reported 366 feet of dewberries, 488 feet of tomatoes, 1026 feet of leafy vegetables, 2478 feet of other vegetables, and 488 feet of peanuts, making a total of 4846 feet. To date she has gathered 44 pounds of fresh vegetables and 21 gallons of berries for use at home.

LET 'EM HAVE IT-- BOTH BARRELS--

Whew!
It's hot at Doerun, Ga., and its not from the weather.

They had a straw ballot there last Friday for the purpose of letting the city council know how the voters stood on the fathers voting for or against beer.

Somebody, on one side or the other, opened both barrels of an old fashioned bolted pop gun and let 'em have it right between the eyes. And does he or she mince words or miss calling a spade a spade.

Read for yourself the copy of the best 50-inch political ad we've read since politics was sport:

STRAW BALLOT

And Especially

First Saturday Public Lotteries Somebody ought to have a heart to heart talk with the people who trade in Doerun and get 'em told about this Trade Coupon business and First Saturday Public Lotteries conducted by the Mayor who would put a negro at work on the streets quick for shooting crap.

Somebody ought to tell these good people that the merchants of Doerun never offer or advertise any Bargains to draw trade but are depending solely on trade tickets to bring customers.

Typhoid Becomes Menace In Summer Weather

Austin, Texas, June 24-- Recent floods may be responsible for an epidemic of typhoid fever, declares Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. Flood conditions have prevailed over most of the State and unless the utmost precautions are observed to prevent this disease the monetary loss from illness may equal the property loss.

Typhoid fever is often called a "filth-borne" disease. It can only grow into epidemic proportions under conditions which are insanitary. A typhoid epidemic means that water, milk, or food have been contaminated with germs from the body discharges of a patient or carrier. Contamination of milk or food by flies is favored by a lack of sanitation.

The prevention of typhoid fever is peculiarly a matter of community responsibility. In cities large and small most urgent control measures are providing for (1) proper disposal of human excreta through sewage disposal plants and toilets of sanitary type; (2) safe public and well water supplies; (3) extermination of flies; (4) healthy food handlers; (5) supervision of disease carriers and (6) public milk supplies of high quality with the added safeguard of careful pasteurization.

Inoculations with vaccine increase individual resistance to typhoid fever. Such treatments are advised for exposed persons and those who, through travel or change of residence are subject to varied water, food, and milk supplies. For the rank and file of our population, reduction of deaths and sickness from preventable disease like typhoid fever is largely dependent upon carrying out the six above mentioned measures.

J. M. Bass spent the week end visiting in Lubbock.

Beloved Romance of "Laddie" Comes To Pastime as Absorbing Photoplay

John Beal of "The Little Minister" in the Title Role of Gene Stratton-porter's Sympathetic Masterpiece

Out of the most appealing of fictional triangles, "Laddie," RKO-Radio picture based on the world-famous Gene Stratton Porter novel, builds what is said to be one of the finest of screen romances.

Mrs. Stratton-Porter wove so deftly the human sympathy and drama into "Laddie," that the novel is listed among the ten best sellers of the last sixty years. And it comes to screen with all the wizardry of her literary genius intact.

Laddie, a son of the soil, college-bred, but preferring to follow in his father's footsteps as a farmer, meets the "Princess," an English girl of noble family. Her father symbolizes the blue-blood social level. It is a tremendous battle of, for, and by love, that ensues; with dramatic situations interwoven in the subplot and the humor threads. It is tribute to the power of the story, that it has 40,000,000 readers all over the world today; and RKO-Radio, makers of "Little Women" and "Anne of Green Gables" spared naught to give similar distinction to the photoplay wrought out of the classic novel.

Some critics have called the "Laddie" love theme the sweetest of all fictional romances. But in truth, it is not altogether fictional, for "Laddie," as Mrs. Stratton-Porter later wrote, was in some respect a story of her own youthful environment. Its characters actually lived, and its thematic threads were actually spun by Fate to enmesh the lives of the Indiana folk, and the British family, about whom the tale centers.

John Beal has the title role, and Gloria Stuart is the "Princess." Other important roles are in the hands of Gloria Shea, Charlotte Henry, Donald Crisp, Willard Robertson, Dorothy Peterson, Greta Meyer, Grady Sutton, Virginia Weider and Jimmy Butler. George Stevens directed for RKO-Radio.

Shelterbelt Planting Making Progress

Although less than a year old, the Plains Shelterbelt Project is making real progress. A report just received by Acting Director Paul H. Roberts from the several State Directors, states that 125 miles of shelterbelt planting have been completed in the six States traversed by the zone. An additional 4,800 acres of special tree planting on 1,800 farms, has also been completed. This latter planting was made in cooperation with local farmers.

On the 552 acres of land now under lease for nursery purposes, seeding is being rapidly completed and a number of the species are already up. Barring extreme weather conditions or unforeseen insect infestations, it is expected that about 75 million seedlings will be produced.

The work already accomplished through direct employment has resulted in a total of 25,000 man days. The men for accomplishing this work have been secured in the localities where the plantings were made, and were employed through the local directors of the National Reemployment Service.

Furthermore, the producing and treating of fence posts for the strips planted this spring have resulted in 2,500 man days of work at the points where they were produced. Fence construction on these strips, to be completed before July 1, will provide about 2,300 man days in addition. This, with the amounts above noted, makes a grand total of 29,800 man days.

North Dakota with over 35 miles of strip plantings has the largest mileage. South Dakota with 28, and Kansas with 24, are close contenders. The mileage planted this year was very largely restricted by the amount of suitable nursery stock available, both as to age and variety of trees secured.

The wide climatic conditions encountered throughout the Shelterbelt Zone, make it necessary to grow a variety of trees to meet its own particular needs. Fortunately, due to the wide adaptability of several of the species used, such as the green ash, American elm, Chinese elm, bur and post oaks, cottonwoods, hackberry, willows, red cedar, and ponderosa pine, these may be planted throughout the entire area. With a wider variety of trees made available thru planned nursery production in the future it will be possible more nearly to meet the conditions of each particular locality in the com position of the tree strip plantings.

Our Weekly CHURCH CHAT

W. E. FERRELL
Minister First Christian Church

"The Task of The Church." Scripture lesson. Matt. 5:13-20 There are some tasks which has to perform. It was not brought in to existance for idleness or to act as a social club.

I. It is to proclaim the full message of Christ. The call of today is a call back through the ages to the pure message of Christ: a message devoid of human and accumulated theology. The message of Jesus calls to every avenue of life. It meets every human need. It changes the value of life. Read the Beatitudes. It is a message of man's needs and God's willingness. A message of God's love, power, justice and mercy. The assurance of immortality. The call to service.

II. The church should strive to purify the desires and lives of men. We are to bring men to the fountain of life from which flows the stream of purification. "Ye are the salt of the earth." Salt is a preservative. It keeps things pure. "Like the refiners fire" (Mal.3:2) we are to aid in destroying the dross of life, and in discovering the pure gold of character. The best method is that of counter attraction. Keep pure ideas and ideals before the people, be living examples of good and righteousness. By so doing we aid in creating personal character.

III. The church should claim the world for Christ. We have a world wide task. The great commission places the world before us as our field. It is a great task, but we have a great Christ and Leader. He is a teacher whose method and message is sufficient to meet the emergencies of life. "All Power is given unto me." These tasks cannot be done or completed alone. We can only accomplish as we depend on him for divine guidance and strength. He has expressed his will and desire in the New Testament, we should get acquainted with it and obtain full knowledge of our task as Church Members. If we will permit him to lead us we will be successful, and in the fullness of time be rewarded for our faithfulness to Him and to His word.

W. E. Ferrell, Minister, First Christian Church Clarendon, Texas

AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

J. Perry King, Pastor

There is Always Worship Fellowship :: Service

Are you seeking a church home? Find it next Lord's day and you will be happy in the doing of it. The people with whom you align yourself will be happy and the cause of Christ will be helped. Let us not forget our first and greatest responsibility as christians, which is to win the lost about us to a knowledge of Christ as their Savior. We can best do that when we identify ourselves with the people of God. A childless home is a misfortune, but a childless church is a tragedy. A fatherless or motherless child is a misfortune, but a churchless child of God is a tragedy. The church is Christ's bride, and he wants his church bride to have the mother spirit.

We greatly appreciate the large crowds in attendance at all the services last Sunday. Our visitors from in town and out of town greatly encourage us. Due to the absence of their pastor, Mr. Landreth, the Methodist worshipped with us Sunday evening, and were a source of great joy and inspiration.

Services as usual next Sunday.
