McCRAW RULES DEAN LAW STILL IN EFFECT HERE

Local Option Territory May Continue Dry as Sahara Attorney General Says

Those who had visions of open saloons and joints here when it became known that the majority of Texas voted for a repeal of the noted Dean law, may rest at ease.

In compliance with a number of urgent requests, the attorney general gave out his opinion Monday. He ruled that the Dean law providing penalties for violation of the liquor law, will be just as effective in all counties as before until the official board makes a canvass of the votes.

"Counties which were dry before Saturday's vote, will be dry after the Board counts the votes," McCraw said Monday.

In view of the above ruling, Sheriff Pierce states that he will continue to rigidly enforce the prohibition law in Donley county as before.

DONLEY COUNTY SINGERS TO MEET AT MARTIN SUN.

Sessions to Which All Public Is Invited Will Begin At 2 p. m.

The Donley County Singing Convention will hold their next regular monthly meeting at the Martin school next Sunday. The program will begin at 2 p. m. according to an announcement brought to the Leader office Wednesday.

These gatherings are said to attract the best singing talent, not only in Donley county, but also from surrounding territory.

The entire public is welcome to enjoy the program of the afternoon. Singers are given a cordial invitation to be present.

Strawberries Continue With Production

Possibly the only strawberry patch producing right through the hot summer weather is that of Fiem Caraway here in Clarendon. Perhaps he is the only man trying to produce the luscious fruit.

Mr. Caraway had some stiff competition a few years ago, but always managed to produce berries just a bit larger than the largest grown by berry fanciers who at the time were bringing their choicest specimens to the Leader office.

The whirlwind spray system of irrigation is used in sprinkling the strawberry bed, and the variety is the Mastodon everbearing.

He also has choice grapes that bear profusely. The Golden Polkton is a choice all-round variety. Rather than the uneven ripening Concord, he grows the Diamond which has the Concord flavor, but does not have the defects found in the Concord variety.

Governor Allred Announces Special Session 16th

Governor James V. Allred will issue a proclamation today calling a special 30-day session of the lawmakers of Texas. The date is set at noon, September 16th.

The first bill for consideration will be liquor control legislation. This matter was left up to the lawmakers in the proposed amendment voted last Saturday.

Old age pensions will be considered. It is stated that rigid qualifications will be voted into the bill of control that will cut down the financial strain at least half.

A special sales tax of some kind is expected to be passed, most of the members favoring a tax that would protect the consumer and make the retailer pay the bill. This is but one of the enigmas or mysteries of the ages that is expected to be solved by the Legislature during the special session.

Gus Stephenson Will Play With Official Legion Band

This is the third year that Gus B. Stephenson, local band leader, will play with the official Legion band of Sweetwater. Many times long trips have been taken by this official band at both state and national gatherings.

Mr. Stephenson will leave Friday to play in this band at the state convention of the American Legion in Dallas.

Fires Sustains Injunction Brought by City

At a hearing conducted before Judge Fires here Friday, the injunction granted the city preventing I. B. Pierce from operating a wagon cafe near the Piggly Wiggly on the vacant Kerbow lot, was made permanent.

Pierce moved his wagon back to East First street and says his place is fixed up better and business is better than ever before.

Pastime Theatre to Observe "Paramount Week"

In keeping with the picture show world over the nation, the local Pastime Theatre will observe "Paramount Week" here with a full week of Paramount pictures beginning Sunday.

The pictures for the week will have a lot of comedy for those who laugh, romantic comedy for those who like thrills along with their picture menu, while some will have plenty of western mystery for those who enjoy "anxious anticipation."

Mr. Mulkey has selected an excellent run of pictures for the week. Turn to page two of this issue of the Leader and arrange your schedule from the Pastime advertisement.

SONS OF LEGION TO PARADE WITH REUNION CROWD

Drum and Bugle Corps Boys Will Strut Their Stuff At Confederate Reunion

Sons of Legion, twenty-five strong will invade Amarillo next Thursday, the 5th, wearing brand new uniforms of purple and gold. The boys compose the Drum & Bugle Corps and will be directed by Gus B. Stephenson who has had them in training for some time.

This is the only organization of the kind in the Panhandle. They will have no competition as they parade up and down the main streets of Amarillo with the reunion marchers Thursday. This Corps was given official recognition by the management in including them in the parade.

The boys will be guests of the Reunion officials during their stay of two days in Amarillo—Thursday and Friday.

Thousands of people will be in Amarillo both days. They will include the ex-Confederates, Daughters of the Confederacy, Sons of Confederates, veterans of all wars and any one who cares to be there.

From all indications, this will be by far the largest gathering of any kind in the Panhandle. Amarillo citizens in charge of arrangements are leaving nothing undone to make it a success from every standpoint.

Time, talent and money are being contributed freely. From every state in the union messages are being received praising their efforts. Special trains will be run from several points. When Amarillo shall have filled with visitors from afar, the natives of the southwest will take to the pastures.

Lions Treated to Program Of Varied Nature

Members of the Lions club Tuesday heard an excellent address by Rev. C. Y. Dossey on the subject of "Six ways to tell right from wrong." Rev. Dossey is conducting a revival here at this time for the First Baptist church.

Other interesting numbers were vocal solos by Rev. C. B. Stephenson of Houston and Burl King, evangelistic singer in the Dossey revival.

County Tax Rate Slightly Higher This Year

Taxpayers will be relieved to know that the county tax rate set Monday by the county commissioners is only one cent higher than last year.

The rate this year is 75c on the hundred, and last year it was 74c.

DONLEY'S DEBTS PER CAPITA ARE BELOW AVERAGE

Total Indebtedness Shows Each Citizen Owes $63.97 State Auditor Reports

Austin, August 26.—"Nearly ten million dollars worth of property is listed on the rolls of tax districts in Donley County," said Auditor Orville S. Carpenter today about a recent survey.

"This $9,874,691 worth of property is assessed at an average of 60 per cent of its true value. Other counties have assessment bases ranging from 20 to 100 per cent of their property value," Carpenter said concerning the recent "Report on Taxes and Indebtedness of Local Units of Government in Texas for 1934."

"Each person in Donley County would owe $63.97 if the $656,503 debt of all the taxing districts in the County were distributed evenly," Carpenter stated.

"Average per capita indebtedness of all local units of government in Texas is $115.10. Donley County's debt is considerably below this figure. Debts range from $20 average for each person in some counties to $400 or $500 in others," he explained.

"Taxing units considered in Donley County were school districts, road districts, cities, and the County itself. The largest item in the Donley County debt was City of Clarendon bonds $254,500," Carpenter added.

Pupils Of Boles Orphanage Visit Here Monday

An interesting song program was enjoyed at the Church of Christ Monday night upon the visit of a number of pupils of the Boles Orphanage, an institution maintained by the church at Quinlan, Texas.

Fourteen boys and ten girls were in the group in charge of Mr. Casey.

Upon the arrival of the guests, they were treated to ice cream and cake at the church. They were taken in charge by members of the church and entertained in their several homes for the night following the regular program.

The group appeared in a program at Lelia Lake Tuesday, and at Wellington the same night.

Elder Z. D. Barber, manager of the Home, made an excellent talk preceding the program presentation in which he outlined the methods and accomplishments at the Home.

The trip from Dallas to Galveston will be made by bus. Several days will be spent on board ship, fishing and banqueting in the Island City.

This is but one of the numerous ways in which his company has paid special compliments to the ability, energy and zeal of Mr. Bagby back through the years. In fact he is a national character in the insurance world, his photo and biography appearing in leading magazines at different times.

Rain Covers County Last Night

A fall of one inch was recorded in Clarendon according to records kept by weather observer Joe Goldston.

Reports from over the county indicate that the rain was more or less general but varied in quantity.

A rain driven by a high north wind is reported to have covered the territory from Texline to Wichita Falls. Two inches is reported to have fallen at Amarillo.

DEAN DRENNAN MAKES STATEMENT SCHOOL OPENING

Opening Exercises to be Held Tuesday Morning For Pupils High School and College

When asked for a statement this week relative to school opening, Dean R. E. Drennan of the Junior College said:

"As was announced in the papers last week, we will enroll the seniors Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, August 29th. Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock we will enroll the Juniors and Friday morning at 9 o'clock we will enroll the Sophomores. This is absolutely necessary because there will be nearly a hundred rural high school students who will come in on the buses Monday, September 2, and we are reserving that day for them. We are asking the high school students in town not to come Monday for registration as we will have all we can do to register the rural high school students.

There will be no registration of college students this week. The registration of college students will begin Monday morning, September 2, at 9 o'clock.

Students of the South Ward Junior High School will enroll Monday morning, September 2, at 9 o'clock.

The opening exercises for the Junior College and Senior High School will be held in the College Auditorium, September 3, at 10 o'clock. The program is as follows:

BRICE HIGHWAY WORK TO BEGIN WITHIN 20 DAYS

Project Sponsored by Reeves Has Approval of State Office

County commissioner G. G. Reeves has been informed that his project for highway improvement on the road from Clarendon to Brice was approved by the state office at San Antonio.

He was further informed by district administrator A. A. Meredith that work would begin by September 20th. Mr. Meredith spent Monday here inspecting proposed projects.

Meredith stated that Texas had until September 30th in which to file applications, and that it was feared Texas would not take sufficient interest to get her share of the money allotted for the purpose set out under the Works Progress Administration.

Projects were formerly limited to expenditures of $25,000.00, but this limit has been abandoned. No limit is now set.

Money under the WPA will be largely spent on lateral roads. This will include general construction, parking spaces, park sites, rock fencing, culverts and the like, according to information received by the Leader from the state office.

Wife Senator Connally Dies Monday in Washington

Mrs. Tom Connally of Marlin, 50, wife of Senator Connally of Texas, died of a heart attack in her husband's office Monday.

She had appeared in good health during the afternoon, shopping in anticipation of her return home by auto with her husband. She was stricken with a heart attack in the elevator, carried to her husband's office in the Senate Office Building and a doctor called. She expired within a few moments after the arrival of the doctor. Her husband was with her at the time of her death.

Cotton Growers From Drouth Belt Pool Certificates

A large number of farmers from the vicinity of Hedley, Giles and McKnight were here Saturday, Monday and Tuesday awaiting their turn at the office of the county agent.

They were pooling their cotton certificates since they have a shorter crop by far this season than last year. They will get five cents a pound for amount called for in the certificates.

CLOSING DATE BAPTIST REVIVAL IS SUNDAY NIGHT

Greater Interest is Shown With Many Additions To Church

Rev. C. Y. Dossey is attracting larger attendance daily in preaching sermons that have a far-reaching effect. Services were held Wednesday night in the church due to rain.

Sermon subjects announced by Rev. Dossey are:

Thursday Night—"Jehovah breaks up a night club."

Friday Night—"Cries that come too late."

Saturday Night—"Who will be responsible for every lost soul who goes to Hell from Clarendon."

Sunday morning—A self made fool.

Sunday night—The last call.

An effort is being made to have 400 in Sunday school Sunday, this will break all records at the Baptist Church. You are invited to be present. Wednesday night there had been 49 additions to the Baptist Church, with 29 of this number for baptism. A large choir under the direction of Mr. Burl King is rendering some fine music. Large crowds are in attendance at all the services. The meeting will close Sunday night.

MRS. RATHJEN TO OPEN LADIES SHOP HERE SOON

Latest Fashions in Dresses And Accessories Will Be Shown in New Stock

This issue of the Leader carries an announcement of the approaching opening of Clarendon's newest business—a shop for women, featuring the newest fall fashions in dresses and accessories.

The Ladies' Shop is located in Rathjen's shoe store, and is owned and operated by Mrs. Fred W. Rathjen. The shop is modernistically decorated in silver-gray and black making an attractive and comfortable place for the women of Clarendon and trade territory.

Mrs. Rathjen is a former teacher in Clarendon having taught mathematics in the high school for four years, and has for the past eight years been associated with Mr. Rathjen in conducting the Rathjen Shoe store. She has acquired a large circle of friends and acquaintances who will congratulate her on this undertaking.

The Leader especially congratulates Mrs. Rathjen upon the opening of The Ladies' Shop, and extends best wishes for her success.

Bridges Family Makes Tour Over Southwest

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bridges of Hedley returned home Sunday from a tour that took them down the Pecos valley, through Carlsbad Caverns, Pecos City and east to Big Springs. Clyde says crops are spotted all the way, but that the trip was worth it.

They were accompanied by their two children who enjoyed the trip immensely.

Mr. Bridges stated that 1,170 people went through the cavern the same day they did. Of that number, 670 were from Texas. In the lot were represented 31 states and territories.

Reneau Service Station Has Loss From Rascals

"I am at a loss to know why any one would have it in for me," Scotty Reneau said Tuesday. Scotty operates the Texaco station at the end of the pavement on East First street.

Monday night the water nozzle was removed and the gasoline tank under the pumps was filled with water. The loss is said to have amounted to about $25 in gasoline and other damage, besides draining out the tank.

Scotty Reneau is well liked by the general public and he nor any one else here can account for the dirty deal handed him.

CITY PROJECT NINETEEN BLOCKS IS SUBMITTED

Clarendon's Streets May Get Consideration Under WPA Plans Soon

A project of estimable value to the citizens of the city and those who trade here, was given a favorable consideration by the county's planning board the first of the week.

The proposed project includes street improvement on nineteen blocks not already paved. The specifications in the plan submitted calls for construction of concrete curbing and gutters, caliche base on street proper and oil topping.

Secretary J. M. Hill of the Chamber of Commerce submitted the plans and specifications to the district board at Amarillo Wednesday. He is of the opinion that the project will receive favorable consideration since similar projects have been approved in the state.

Texas is far behind in her requests for WPA funds, very few project plans being submitted as compared with other states. All plans must be submitted by September 14th, Mr. Hill states.

SALES TAX IS COMING NEXT.

Texas citizens might as well get ready to embrace the sales tax. The plan has proved profitable as a tax measure in other states, and will likely become a state law in Texas at the first opportunity. It is agreed now that it is the only method for a universal tax collection. Property owners have long carried the blunt of the load, and feel that every citizen enjoying the privileges of the state, should help pay for them.

TEXAS VOTERS WANT A CHANGE.

Not so long ago, Texas voters turned thumbs down on anything in the amendment line offered them. Saturday, there appeared to be a changed attitude when six of seven proposed amendments found favor within the minds of the voters. Most of the voters simply wanted a change.

Old party leaders will wonder if this same attitude will persist in the elections of national scope next year.

The old age pension idea led the field. This would indicate that people are becoming more social and humane. The day preceding our election, Canada voted a $25 a month pension to their indigents.

Whether we like it or not, it is now up to the people of Texas to abide by the decision, and profit from the mistakes, if any were made. Many of the voters never troubled themselves to ascertain the correct way to vote, and voted for the measures to which they were rigidly opposed.

SEPTEMBER IS MOVIE MONTH.

Of general interest is the fact that the motion picture industry is conducting an intensive, nation-wide drive to stimulate attendance to the theatres of the country, adopting for its slogan, "September Is Go-To-The-Movies Month."

Somehow most of us have come to accept screen entertainment as a matter of course. Despite the wide publicity given motion pictures by newspapers and "fan" magazines, it is doubtful if many of the millions of the lay public who regularly patronize the theatre have any conception of the monumental problems with which this so-called "infant industry" has been confronted since the first practical moving picture was projected on a tiny screen forty years ago.

As a matter of fact there is no theme, or story which could be recorded on film, half as dramatic and colorful as the history of the motion picture itself. In its earlier days at the beginning of the present century the "movie" was deemed the lowliest form of entertainment, and its principal virtue was that it could be used effectively as a means of "chasing" the lingers from the vaudeville theatres operating on a "continuous" policy.

Today the average attendance to the motion picture theatres of the country is approximately 75,000,000 each week. It has become the foremost form of paid entertainment, and hundreds of millions of dollars are invested in production studios and theatres.

Reliable advance announcements indicate that the picture producers of the world have concertedly created an ambitious schedule of screen fare which will exceed in entertainment qualities that of any previous year in the history of the film industry.

Because it is wholly obvious that the tremendous investment which has been made by these producers cannot be continued unless theatre attendance returns and revenue are commensurate with the cost of production, and presentation on the screen, picture devotees should lend their whole-hearted support to really make September "Go-To-The-Movies Month."

WHEN THE BULLS ARE GORED

We notice the editors of two of our exchange newspapers, are carrying a large cigarette advertisement, as all other weeklies over the state have been doing. But the amusing part about these two editors is that both of them are bitter against cigarette smoking, and have devoted columns of space warning the youth of the land against the habit and one of these newspaper eds will not allow anyone to light up a "fag" in his office. Now, we should think it would be rather out of line to continue lambasting those who have the habit and at the same time run these enticing ads inviting them to smoke a particular brand.

Lots of people are mighty moral until money begins to jingle. The rattle of money will attract the attention of our best "christian gentleman" editors.

—Brownfield Herald.

THE IRONY OF FATE

"Just when you get the town built, then you have to die," were the words of a college professor in advising young men to go to an old town, which was completely established, rather than be the builder of a new town. Those who have fought the battles of the new town will appreciate those words. Just when everything is going smoothly in this town building process, along comes something to dump the apple cart, and everything has to be started again. Yes, but it is a lot of fun.

"HOME BUILT FURNINERS"

The truck war between Texas and Oklahoma gives us an idea about the difficulties that beset the people of Europe when they want to do business with the folks of another country. A stupid bureaucracy will do all in its power to obstruct international traffic. And our states seem to be more than willing to follow such silly example, hence we see California quarantine against fruit shipments from Arizona and Arizona following suit. It's folly like this that helps along the demand for central authority.

A NATION LOSES

(By Austin Callan)
That Ambassador of Good Cheer to the hearts of America has been recalled. Millions mourn the loss of Will Rogers.

No other person ever so completely acquired the affection of a whole people. His life was written in the smiles of youth; his death was told in the tears of old age. King and pauper, industrial leader and newsboy, educated and unlettered alike were patrons of his rich humor and benefactors of his fine philosophy. With a single word he could send a ripple of laughter around the earth.

That clean, sympathetic, soothing spirit flashed a ray of morning sunlight that kisses the foliage on the loftiest tree and brightens the petals of the tenderest flower. No loss was ever felt by so many to be a personal one. The entire continent misses its inimitable wit and great composure of comedy as a panting fawn misses the cooling draught at the empty brook.

Will Rogers flew the flag of simplicity on a level with regal banners; he converted his homespun genius into a key that unlocked the doors of the mighty; he matched the pomp of power and the pride of princes with the homilies of the cattle range, proving that nothing beneath the starry dome transcends the glory of a great soul.

We must say good-bye to him but the dew is thick on our glasses and the words are choking our throats.

Wilbur C. Hawk Makes Plea For Native Stone

"There is only one way to sell native Texas building stone to Texas architects," said Wilbur C. Hawk, Chairman of the Texas Planning Board's Mineral Resources Committee, "and that is to get each architect to visit the native building stone exhibit on display at the Bureau of Economic Geology at the University of Texas."

"Once an architect sees this remarkable display," said Mr. Hawk, "no more salesmanship is necessary."

Mr. Hawk's Mineral Resources Committee is intent on getting Texas stone used in Texas buildings wherever stone is specified. This means new quarries and new finishing plants which also means employment for Texas citizens.

The Texas Planning Board is charged with the duty of ascertaining the amount of Federal money to be expended in Texas and then making a plan for the expenditure of such funds that will put unemployed citizens back to work.

"If each of our committees will urge Texans to use Texas products," said Mr. Hawk, "I believe the depression would be over for Texas."

"The Mineral Resources Committee's chief interest at present is to find out how neglected by the people these resources are," said Mr. Hawk. "To date we have discovered Indiana limestone being used in the construction of the new Main Building at the University of Texas and Arkansas asphalt being used for the construction of Texas highways."

"We also find that Texans prefer monuments made from Vermont and Georgia granites," said Mr. Hawk, "notwithstanding the fact that recent investigations by the Bureau of Economic Geology lead this department to predict that the central mineral district of Texas (Llano, Mason, Gillespie, Blanco, Burnet, and San Saba Counties) will ultimately become one of the largest centers of the stone industry on the continent."

Mrs. Mary Stegall returned home the first of the week. She has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Garten at Clovis.

It's not all in the water, folks. The baby who was baptized in Ft. Worth with water brought from the river Jordan in 1906, served seven years for 'hoss stealin' in Tom Green county.

Listening to Mrs. Bessie Morrison preach some years ago, she said: "You may think it is too hot to go to church in August. But when you wake up some day sitting on a red hot steel bench with nothing to drink but carboic acid, and listen to the devil lecture on the shortcomings of the Texas Legislature, you'll wish you had attended church while you had a chance."

At another time a man got up in her meeting and testified that "he could live right except that he often lost his temper and got so mad he could bite a ten penny nail in two." She looked at the old man a moment and commented, "yes and some day you will wake up in hell so mad that you can bite a crowbar in two as large as tent poles." She always won the argument, and was a powerful evangelist 25 years ago.

Fannie Failyur says that when a woman describes a man, she tells of his hair, eyes and height, but when a man describes a woman, he talks about her face and her 'figger' last an all the time.

A scientist says that 'all' blonds are not a mental hazard. That's some relief.

A local woman who received a photo of her daughter with a lighted cigarette pictured in her hand, mailed it back and said: "If this is the best you can send me, keep it. We don't need any Bonnie Parkers in our family."

You often hear folks speak of counterfeit preachers, lawyers, doctors, merchants, newspaper men and money. But nothing is done about any of the list except counterfeit money.

The woman who boasted that "her ship had come in" a few years ago, now discovers that it was just a "raft of kids."

The honeymoon is just about over when she begins to complain about the noise he makes getting breakfast.

A man was seen on the street Monday with handlebar mustache. It was quite a relief from these bobtail affairs that have been flooding the nation.

The best evidence of a cracked brain is one who "spills" all he knows.

An evangelist tells me that the three main things to get people out to church in the future will be shorter sermons, better singing and air conditioned churches, named in the order of their importance.

With eggs selling at two-bits a dozen, hens have gone highway commission. That is, they are doing a lot of cackling, but nothing constructive.

The best way to collect taxes, is to make 'em low.

The ruler of Ethiopia is said to be named "See Lassie." If that bunch of garlic eaters take in after that night-gowned bunch, he will not only see 'lasses, but he will also see asphalt, tar, pitch, sewage, blood, corruption and feathers and smell a variety of odors that could not be associated with perfumery.

After talking to a lot more Louisiana tourists of every walk of life the past week, Huey Long is the main Gong-Beater in the Pelican state, and no mistake. Some favor him because of his "share-the-panic" ideas, and others don't want to make him sore.

Who can remember when all we expected of congress was to supply a few Fourth of July orators?

The two-bit variety has replaced the million dollar rains we used to have.

Bachelor Bill says it has been so hot in the Panhandle this summer, that the grass widows wilted and gone limp.

"Fallen" cakes, like fallen women, are judged by outside appearances and fear of public criticism without testing the good qualities of a more intimate acquaintance.

An "ensemble" recital is where the folks wear something.

When the meaning of "wild life technician" was explained to him, the Sand Hill Sage said: "If we had a few of them government men out in the sandhills, it would save a lot of auto damage."

Trying to make a navigable river out of the Trinity, is said to be the only thing on which Dallas and Ft. Worth have ever agreed, and they knew that the public would not take either of them seriously in this idea.

The first thing on record of where a man went to sleep at church is recorded in Acts 2:6 to 2:10 inclusive. This old boy sat in the window listening to Paul preach, went to sleep and fell three stories.

The kindest thing that a cigarette-smoking mother can do is to put her babe "on the bottle." She can at least keep hot ashes out of its eyes.

Some folks never make up their minds to obey the traffic laws until it is too late to make 'em up.

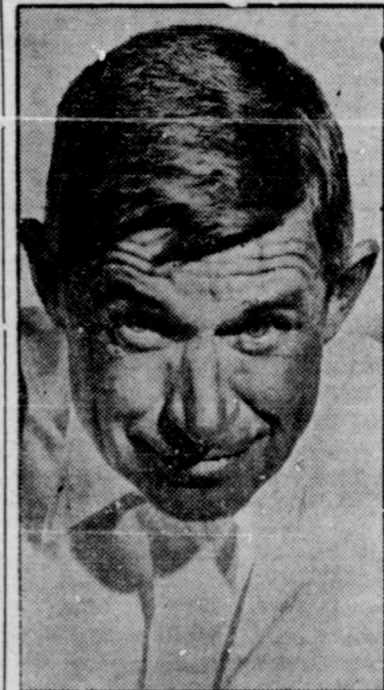

Those who think the affluent days have temporized the night clubs and other "hoopla" into the background to where the stable virtues will have a chance, are fooling themselves. There was never a time when that old "hoopla" was any more rampant than right now—breaking out at any and every opportunity when the price can be had.

On the other hand, men and women of today do not have hearts that dry and shrivel. The fickleness of fortune and the ravages of time are taken more into consideration than ever before. Formerly we took jobs away from the aged and left them to "root hog or die." Now we have voted to give them a pension. It might be called charity, but it is only common sense. Whatever it is, it is the unfailing prosperity of the soul, an inheritance that keeps a man rich amid poverty and nourished amid starvation in a world said to be destitute of affection.

Au revoir, folks, until this time next week. If you don't like that frog language, then "carboic acid." That's goodbye in any language.

In Memoriam

WILL ROGERS

It is when viewing a mountain from a distance that we see more of its beauties, wonderful size and grandeur. So it is with a great man. As years pass, we will appreciate the memory of Will Rogers all the more.

The entire civilized world was grief-stricken at his sudden death—a tribute paid no other mortal man in the history of the world. He was greatest in that he was strongly sympathetic—he helped those in distress. He made a flying trip over the nation in behalf of destitute Arkansaw during the big drouth finding pleasure in serving humanity just as he found joy in exploring Alaska on his last flying trip.

He gave thousands of dollars to charity. He educated poor boys and girls where poverty had closed the door of opportunity to them. From the stage and in pictures he chased gloom from the minds of fellow mortals. He ridiculed in a mild manner, mixed plenty of common sense with humor and left behind the greatest heritage of man—that of befriending the world.

Speaking to a great throng in Tremont Temple in 1930, Rogers said:

"When I die, my epitaph, or whatever you call those signs on gravestones, is going to read: "I joked about every prominent man of my time, but I never met a man I didn't like."

"I am proud of that. I can hardly wait to die, so it can be carved. And when you come around my grave, you'll find me sitting there, proudly reading it."

It was in June of 1930 that we had our last conversation. It was in a room of the Sherman hotel in Chicago. I was attending an International Convention of Rotary clubs, and Will was playing the Columbia theatre. We spent quite a bit of time together in the late afternoons talking over old times in the Texas Panhandle. Will kept up with our folks pretty well, but he liked the folks down here, and he loved the ranch country as few men ever did. On one occasion I asked Will what he liked best to do since he had grown older. We were mere boys when we first met back in 1898.

Cocking his eye to the ceiling, he chewed his gum a bit faster and said: "Estlack, when it comes to real pleasure, I would rather shovel grub to the 'hongry' than anything I ever did." Will was like that. He thought in terms of common humanity, and emphasized that we had "plenty of talkers, but mighty few doers." He played in more charity benefits than any other man.

He never let anything "go to his head." Popularity and wealth never affected this great man who neighbored with the world. He refused to become any form of hero. Coming down the elevator one evening, a crowd met us and asked Will to autograph baseballs, golfballs and such like. Will waved his hat at them and instantly went back up the elevator. He went out the back way to the theatre in order to miss the crowd. Will was timid in meeting a crowd except at all times possible. He was timid by nature and never overcame it. Perhaps he never tried very much. Millions today would like to sit with Will and read his epitaph, since that is now his privilege. He was never given to religious fervor, but there was something "in his mind and heart, linked to something still diviner than mere language can impart."

Panhandle Race Meet Begins Next Saturday

With more than 100 horses in the barns early this week, indications were that entries would set a record at the Southwest Race Meet, which will be held in Panhandle Aug. 31 to Sept. 7 inclusive.

A car of 12 horses arrived by freight Monday from Loveland, Colo.

C. E. Deahl, president, returned home Monday from a month's racing in the north. He entered horses in meets at Billings, Great Falls and Helena, Mont., Loveland, Trinidad and Pueblo, Colo. Previously he had been at Omaha, Neb., and other cities.

Deahl said that more than 100 horses would come here from the meets he had attended. Another 50 or 75 should come here from Oklahoma, according to advance reservations, for stalls.

HOMAGE PAID TO FAMOUS COMEDIAN WHO DIED IN ALASKA WITH WILEY POST

(By Wanda Mayfield)

When news of Will Rogers' tragic death was broadcast, all Clarendon was saddened.

For years Rogers entertained with his movies, newspaper columns, and radio speeches, and residents of Clarendon were among his most ardent fans. But his popularity in this region doubled, and his name gathered more significance when his Hollywood-bound airplane set down in Peebles' pasture, the local landing field. The comedian was met by several friends, and he drove downtown to wire his daily bit of philosophy to the nation's newspapers. Next morning many Panhandle fingers proudly pointed to the column headed "Clarendon", and numerous pairs of scissors clipped Will Rogers' comment on Texas "hot oil" and his opinion of the vast J. A. Ranch, where he headquartered.

Later in the year in replying to Sam Braswell, he praised the J. A., saying he would like to have a "calf-stealing interest" in it. He wrote in his typical good humor that he would like to visit the ranch during branding time because "I can miss a calf more ways than anybody."

Friends all over the world paid tribute to this great humorist in various ways. Clarendon showed her sorrowful interest by getting out an Extra with Rogers' picture in the center, and by honoring his crepe-hung photograph in the lobby of the Pastime theatre.

He was the world's most publicized actor; he was the moving picture industry's most natural comedian; his originality and wit is not surpassed; all classes of people rated him "regular"; he criticized politics and made politicians like it; his satirical truths will never be forgotten; we pay homage to the memory of Will Rogers.

"HERE IS MY HEART" FILM PRESENTS CROSBY IN BEST SONG AND COMEDY FORM

Bing Crosby's genuine talent for comedy, which has been receiving more and more pronounced attention in each of his recent pictures, finally is accorded its just due in his charming new Paramount picture "Here Is My Heart", which opens at the Pastime Theatre, Wednesday, September 4th.

Supported by an able cast that includes Kitty Carlisle, Alison Skipworth, Roland Young and Reginald Owen, Crosby not only warbles his way to triumph with his unique singing voice in the new picture, but contributes a comedy performance that panicked the audience and should remain as a standard for Hollywood's best comedy performers for some time to come.

Singing Walter
The story, adapted from the frivolous play by Alfred Savoir, is that of a millionaire crooner in search of fun. He falls seriously and incurably in love at the first sight of an expatriated Russian princess.

The princess, though she has lost money and position, still retains her attitude of frosty hauteur, and it is Crosby's problem to chip the ice off her surface and find the nice girl he is certain is concealed beneath. He goes about it with an ingenuousness and earnestness that is positively breath-taking.

As the first step he buys the hotel in which the Princess is living. And then he disguises himself as her waiter, and so, between bowls of soup and plates of caviar for which neither the princess nor her amusingly erratic entourage can pay, he plights his troth.

And the princess, just because she feels a tendency to fall for the handsome singing waiter, makes things more difficult for him. But true love, in its traditional fashion, eventually outs and the aristocrat and the crooner are united.

New Hit Tunes
Kitty Carlisle, who was first teamed with Crosby in "She Loves Me Not", exercises her charm and singing voice to even greater advantage in "Here Is My Heart". Roland Young and Reginald Owen are superbly cast as the two dukes whose inanities help to make the picture extraordinarily funny. And William Frawley, another paramount recruit from Broadway's ranks, contributes more than his bit to the general proceedings.

Ralph Rainger and Leo Robin, who have been having phenomenal success with their recent tunes, contribute a new series, including several which we think are destined to become hits. The best are "With Every Breath I Take" and "June In January".

An amusing, deftly written and paced story, good music and an excellent cast have been welded into an extremely effective whole in "Here Is My Heart" by Frank Tuttle, for whom no praise is too lavish. It's a swell show and you have nobody but yourself to blame if you miss it.

Dad Anderson's Hen Goes Into Eclipse

Following an eclipse of the sun recently, O. S. Anderson has a hen that continues to display the eclipse on the egg shell, the latest showing the sun in eclipse surrounded with an aurora of white mist.

The egg is a light brown shell coloring about half way round. The whitish color of the remainder of the shell gives the white mist color with the sun clearly defined in the center. Mr. Anderson brought the specimen to the Leader office Monday.

NEW HEAVY DUTY AIRWHEEL TIRES BOON TO TRUCKS

Provide Long Mileage And Give Increased Traction; Easier On Driver, Load And Truck

Operators of fleets of delivery trucks, will be interested in the new Goodyear heavy duty commercial Airwheel tire introduced to give longer wear and greater traction than the standard sizes of balloon tires normally used on light trucks.

The tire, made in 7.00-15 size, uses a regular passenger car tire tube when equipping half-ton trucks in light delivery work, according to Joe Holland, local Goodyear dealer.

Features which make this new tire desirable equipment include: greater cushioning because of increased size and lower air pressure; easier on driver, load and truck; longer wear because of greater tread thickness and tread design; better traction because of tread's larger ground contact.

Scientifically placed tread blocks on the shoulder of the tire provide added safety and traction on turns. The tires are a means toward more economical gasoline consumption because low air pressure eliminates road bounce and resultant loss of power.

An idea of the carrying and cushioning ability of the new tire can be gained from the following table of load capacity per tire, and the air pressure for each:

Loaded Capacity	Air Pressure
960 lbs.	15 lbs.
1000 lbs.	16 lbs.
1100 lbs.	18 lbs.
1200 lbs.	20 lbs.
1300 lbs.	23 lbs.
1350 lbs.	24 lbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wells arrived Wednesday night for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Stallings. They are on their vacation, and expect to return by the Carlsbad cavern. Mr. Wells, who formerly taught here, is head of the department of business administration in the Huntsville public schools.

WIND SONG

Wind from the valley
Led by the moon
Comes up the hillside
Into my room

Comes through the rock glen
Over cool ferns
Drifts through the sheepfold
Where the lane turns

Comes through the beechwood
Rustling the leaves
With sound as of rain
Quick on the trees

Comes through my window
High on the hill
Unto my bed
Where I lie still

Falling upon me
Frail as thin lace
Delicate coverlet
Woven of space

"(a) The open saloon shall be and is hereby prohibited. The Legislature shall have the power and it shall be its duty to define the term 'open saloon' and enact laws against such.

"Subject to the foregoing, the Legislature shall have the power to regulate the manufacture, sale, possession and transportation of intoxicating liquors, including the power to establish a State Monopoly on the sale of distilled liquors.

"(b) The Legislature shall enact a law or laws whereby the qualified voters of any county, justice's precinct or incorporated town or city, may, by a majority vote of those voting, determine from time to time whether the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes shall be prohibited or legalized within the prescribed limits; and such laws shall contain provisions for voting on the sale of intoxicating liquors of various types and various alcoholic content.

"(c) In all counties, justice's precincts or incorporated towns or cities wherein the sale of intoxicating liquors had been prohibited by local option elections held under the laws of the State of Texas and in force at the time of the taking effect of Section 20, Article XVI of the Constitution of Texas, it shall continue to be unlawful to manufacture, sell, barter or exchange in any such county, justice's precinct or incorporated town or city, any spirituous, vinous or malt liquors or medical bitters capable of producing intoxication or any other intoxicants whatsoever, for beverage purposes, unless and until a majority of the qualified voters in such county or political subdivision thereof voting in an election held for such purpose shall determine such to be lawful; provided that this subsection shall not prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverages containing not more than 3.2 percent alcohol by weight in cities, counties or political subdivisions thereof in which the qualified voters have voted to legalize such sale under the provisions of Chapter 116, Acts of the Regular Session of the Forty-third Legislature."

Former Citizen is Returned To New Mexico Prison

Captured at Memphis several days ago after escaping from the New Mexico state prison in May where he was serving a 99 year term on a bank robbery charge, Jack Walker was held in the Childress jail until Saturday. He was returned to New Mexico state prison.

His companion, Tatum Hall, is held at Childress. At the time of the capture, they had a car belonging to a Childress school teacher stolen in June. In the car were seven guns stolen from the Cooper ranch near Tatum, N. Mex. Other property was found in the car taken in towns where bank raids and burglary jobs have been pulled the past few months.

Walker is said to have resided near Sunnyview until a few years ago.

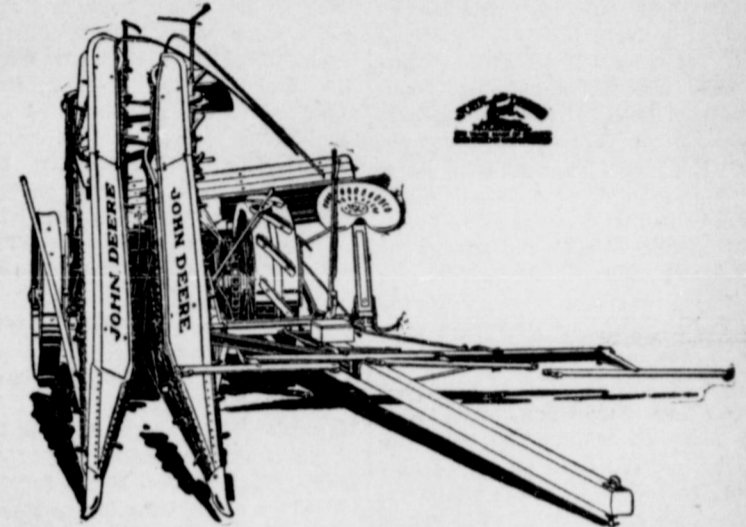

Mrs. J. C. Estlack returned home Sunday after spending ten days with relatives in Clay and Montague counties.

INTERESTING FACTS REGARDING TEXAS HISTORY IN AN EARLY EXCITING EPOCH

The stress of economic circumstances during the Civil War era encouraged many irregularities in the administration of army supplies, it is indicated by private letters, official documents and other records of that period. In his Memoirs, John Salmon Ford, a colonel in command of the Expeditionary Forces of the Rio Grande, in aid of the Confederate army, wrote revealingly of some of the problems that confronted the army officials in supplying their men. Colonel Ford's Memoirs, unpublished, are in the archives of the University of Texas library in manuscript form.

"The opening of the trade in cotton between Texas and Mexico caused a lively business to spring into existence," Ford wrote. "Matamoros was the chief mart. Thousands of bales of the Confederate Government cotton were carried into the place. Thousands of bales belonging to firms and individuals found their way to the same point. Cotton could be found stored at different points, on both sides the Rio Grande, from Piedras Negras to the mouth of the river—a distance over three hundred miles.

"In passing by way of Banquete, and above there were cotton roads in every direction. The aim appears to have been to find a new and better way. The chaparral would be almost white in places from the lint detached from passing bales. It was no uncommon thing to find part of a load deposited on the road side. The great distance would exhaust the energies of the draught animals, leaving a portion of the lading would be a matter of extreme necessity. Much of this abandoned cotton the person leaving would be unable to find. A great deal was stolen, no doubt. When the Federals took possession of the lower Rio Grande many persons in charge of loads of cotton went to an out of the way place and discharged it. Between the Nueces and the lower Rio Grande cotton could be found almost any where, just outside the road, and frequently in motts of timber.

"This cotton, whether abandoned for good or not, was considered by many legitimate matter to be appropriated by any one who could carry it across the Rio Grande, or to some other point. The desideratum was to get it away so the owner could not find it. In some cases it was difficult to determine the real owner. When the Expeditionary Forces first appeared in the neighborhood of the Nueces a great deal of cotton had been left in the country beyond the Nueces and even on this side. Col. Lovenskiold was paying his respects to secreted cotton. The troops on the Nueces and adjacent thereto were ordered to assist in discovering cotton. Capt. Merritt managed to find some, and to sell it. It seems that Col. Benavides complained of this to Maj. Gen. Magruder. He it seems inquired into the affair. The inquiry was thus answered by Col. Ford, July 7, 1864, in a communication to Headquarters:

"The failure of the Cotton Bureau to turn over cotton to Capt. Merritt, being in the field without supplies, able to obtain no money, no cotton, and but a very limited amount of supplies from Col. Benavides. It was necessary for my Quartermaster to use the cotton obtained by my men under the control of Colonel Lovenskiold, or I would have been compelled to abandon the country to the enemy. When I moved from the San Fernando a column of six hundred Yankees was marching against Laredo. The disposition of my command has protected the cotton, commerce, and a large extent of country, and I have been able to remain here only by means of the supplies for which the cotton was sold. Necessity dictated the course, and results have vindicated it."

"The fact of selling this cotton was open and public. Capt. Merritt was a gentleman who had no concealments in regard to such transactions. The complaint died of its own want of merit. I am acquainted with the very small sense of patriotism and duty which actuated the party who stirred up the matter by a letter to Col. Benavides, but let bygones be bygones. These comments on the affair are made to show how supposed great wrongs sometimes turn out small affairs."

"A WORKMAN UNASHAMED"

(A Labor day talk.)

"Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed." II. Tim. 2:15.

We like to work. When sickness or misfortune deprives us of work for a time, we long to begin again. When old age deprives us of the privilege we look back with longing to the days of accomplishment. When an accident deprives a person of one of his members and makes it impossible for him to work, he can collect large damages. We all work. Are we workmen unashamed?

I. What is a Workman Unashamed: A workman who has chosen a worthy task. A workman who has done his best work. A workman who has finished his task, who has held out on the job. Work is honorable. God commands that we work, that we render services for our daily bread. There is a great glory in work. "If a man will not work, neither shall he eat." "In the sweat of thy face, thou shalt eat bread. A workman who need not be ashamed is one who serves God and man to the best of his ability, while at his

II. How Can We Become A Workman Unashamed: First of all, we must be willing to do our share. We must take an interest in what we are doing. We must work joyfully, counting work a privilege. If our work is of such a nature that we cannot follow it to the glory of God, then we must seek out a new task or vocation. There are many opportunities of rendering services that will be well pleasing to God.

III. What Are the Rewards of Workmen Unashamed? The ability to look the world in the face, like the village blacksmith who, "does what'er he can, and looks the whole world in the face for he owes not any man." The feeling that one has wrought worthily. Knowing that one is rendering a worth-while, service is a great reward. A larger out-look is also another great reward. Increased usefulness, heads the list. "Thou hast been faithful in a little, I will make thee ruler over much." There cannot be a better epitaph for a tomb when all the work of life is done than this, "A Workman Unashamed."

CHEVROLET IS MOST ECONOMICAL

Twenty-one and three-fourths miles to a gallon of gasoline, and 3000 miles on 3-4 quarts of oil, were the records registered by a stock Chevrolet Master de lux sedan in a certified 3000-mile non-stop economy run staged in California, is reported by the Chevrolet manufacturers.

The run was undertaken to learn the actual economy performance of the motor car under routine driving conditions such as encountered by the average vacationing driver.

The car was sealed by the Los Angeles deputy state sealer of weights and measures. This operation included the crankcase and the ignition.

The route taken in putting the mileage on the car included a jaunt into Sequoia National Park, elevation 8000 feet. At the opposite extreme was Death Valley where the car passed through heat of 110 degrees. Having in mind the fact that no fair test of a car's routine economy could be achieved without speed runs, the driver cruised the floor of famous Muroc Dry Lake at a pace of 80 miles an hour.

The Chevrolet came through the hard test with no mechanical difficulties whatsoever, registering an average economy performance of 21.75 miles to the gallon. When the crankcase seal was officially broken, only three and three-fourths quarts of oil were required to replenish the supply.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express to our friends our sincere appreciation for the kindness shown us after the death of our loved one.

Official Text of Cotton Loan

"The following is the full official text of the cotton loan announcement just released: Quote the Secretary of Agriculture and the Commodity Credit Corporation announced today with the approval of the President that a cotton loan plan would be put into immediate operation on the 1935 crop which would assure cotton producers an average return of not less than 12 cents per pound on cotton grown in 1935. The Agricultural Adjustment Administration will make payments to cotton farmers to equal such difference, if any, as may exist between 12 cents and the average price of 7-8 inch middling cotton as reflected in the 10 spot markets during the period from September 1 to January 1, this period is chosen as covering the harvest months, such payments as may be made will be limited to the individual producer's actual production up to the amount of his Bankhead allotment. The Commodity Credit Corporation will offer a loan of 9 cents per pound at the farm, without recourse on the borrower, on 13-16 inch low middling cotton or better. This loan will enable any grower cooperating in the Adjustment Program to obtain a loan at once, and will permit him to market his cotton in an orderly fashion throughout the year. The rate of loan is obviously substantially below the present or prospective price levels. These offers will apply to those producers who are cooperating in the 1935 program and who agree to cooperate in the 1936 program. It was stated at the Agricultural Adjustment Administration that plans for the 1936 program are being developed and that the Administration would continue its efforts, in cooperation with cotton farmers, to adjust production to effective demand, and further reduce the end season carry-over down to normal size. It was pointed out at the Department of Agriculture that the plan that has been announced would permit the free movement of the crop into consumptive channels and at the same time protect the producer's income from the crop. With the 1935 crop currently estimated at 11,798,000 bales, it was emphasized that at present levels of world consumption, domestic and foreign mills should require at least 11,500,000 bales of the 1935 crop and that with less than 1,000,000 bales of free cotton in the hands of the trade, a strong buying movement should result which would permit the new crop to move readily into consumptive channels. Stocks of cotton held by producers under the 1934-35 12-cent cotton loan, it was emphasized, are not available at present price levels. Producers cannot close out those stocks until the price goes high enough to cover the loan plus carrying costs and they probably will not sell unless prices exceed 13 cents. Prospects for cotton consumption are much improved as compared with last season, it was stated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. Last month's domestic utilization was nine percent above July of last year and the general rising tide of industrial activity promises higher cotton consumption through the whole of the cotton season. The plan as developed, it was pointed out, is expected to assure cotton growers of an income of around $700,000,000 for their line cotton for 1935, exclusive of rental and benefit payments under existing contracts. This compares with an income of $613,000,000 for lint cotton in 1934; $634,000,000 in 1933; and $424,000,000 in 1932. The Agricultural Adjustment Administration emphasized that one important objective of this plan was to produce the orderly marketing of the crop and that with the free movement of the new crop into consumption, together with the certainty of a strong control program for 1936, the cotton situation

Doc Shoffitt Asks Leader To Carry Message to Homefolks

Below is a letter received from G. W. Shoffitt who is in state prison, being stationed at Camp No. 3, Sugarland, Texas. In keeping with the Leader's policy of fairness to all alike, the letter is printed in full.

"Greetings to the Donley County Leader, and to all my friends if I have any left:

I did not think that I would come, but I reached the walls July 26th, and there I went through all the preliminaries I think except sterilization. I was afraid over there that I would not be satisfied, but after one week, they brought me to the new unit and told me that I would not have to work, and I didn't work much, and I haven't had a chain on my neck yet.

After two weeks, August 22nd, the Captain brought me to this dairy camp and turned me over the entire turkey department. My little house is at pens some 2 or 3 hundred yards of the main quarters, and is out close to a bayou with some lakes and a boat.

The 12 to 18 men and boys are all trustees.

My work is interesting and not hard here and I think I will be satisfied here, and I guess it is permanent and I make 2 for one here. My card shows 2 years from May 17, 1935. I put up 19 months jail time after making $100,000 worth of bonds that I could not get approved, though I guess I will lose that time.

This is a most beautiful country with pecan and other groves scattered here and there. It's more level than the plains of Texas, 28 feet above sea level. It's 25 miles southwest of Houston, and 100 miles from Huntsville, and if our cow men had such grass, they would go wild.

I eat with the boys at the camp, and it's more like a cow camp here. The feed is good and we have sugar in our coffee—yes, cream, too. But the sun is seriously hot to a Panhandle man from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m.

If I can make it till October 25, I'll be o. k.

Mr. editor of the Leader, I would sure love to have the paper sent down here. You have always been kind and fair with me without pay, though I will see that you get paid some sweet day.

Yes, I have a dog and some cats and may get a horse and saddle. I will appreciate a letter from any one who cares to write me and I will answer same. I have some interests there yet and will be back bye and bye.

Yours very respectfully,
Dr. G. W. Shoffitt—vs"

Hedley Lady Wins First Place in Poetry Contest

Dalhart, Texas, August 26.—Two teachers share honors in the Panhandle poetry contest conducted by the Dalhart Publishing Company in connection with the anthology of Panhandle poetry to be issued this fall under the editorship of John L. McCarty who last year compiled Prairie Nights and Yucca, the first anthology of Panhandle poetry. The contest closed June 1, and was judged by a nationally known Texas poet.

C. May Cohea, Amarillo, won the general poetry contest with her "The Homecoming" while Peggy Caldwell of Hedley won the Panhandle Scenic and Historic contest with her Panhandle Panorama.

In the general contest Miss Cohea was first; O. Sewell, Tucumcari, was second with Dance of the Tumbleweeds; Mae Francis Hall of Guymon, Okla., was third with Dawn, and Hope Bussey, Panhandle, fourth with "Transplanted from 'The Persian'".

In the Panhandle scenic contest Miss Caldwell was first; Hope Bussey, Panhandle, second with The Plains; Idell Durrett, Amarillo, third with aSndstorm on the Prairie, and G. Wayne Griffiths, Happy, was fourth with The Rain Crow.

The work of these and some eighty other Panhandle poets will be used in "Wind in the Cottonwoods" which is title of the second anthology of Panhandle poetry to be published this fall. The book is sold only on advance order. It will sell for $2.50 per copy and reservations must be made soon with the Dalhart Texan, Dalhart, Texas. The volume Prairie Nights and Yucca, which was printed last year has sold for as high as $10.00 per copy since. The publishers print only the number of books sold in advance plus review copies.

Miss Ila Mae Hastings of Lefors, who attended school at Columbia University this summer, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Joe Hastings.

LEGAL STATUS IS IN MIDDLE WHEN STATE GOES WET

Textbook Proposals Only One Proposed Amendments Voted Down

After a reign of 16 years, a majority of the voters of Texas Saturday voted state-wide prohibition out of the picture. In the 1933 election, the dries had a majority of 115,000. Saturday they lost by approximately 55,349.

Quite a bit of confusion results from Saturday's edict of the voters relative to the legal status of dry territory prior to state-wide prohibition. The Attorney General's department is being flooded with requests for rulings of numerous kinds.

Some attorneys held that the penalty provisions of local option laws had been omitted from the 1925 statutes on the ground that they were no longer necessary with the Dean law for state-wide prohibition providing stiffer penalties. Although theoretically the Dean law will be in effect until the legislature meets and does something with it, convictions under it have been very difficult to obtain even under constitutional prohibition.

The vote on other constitutional amendments at latest reports were:

- Old Age Pensions—For 366,173; against 91,967.
- Commitment of Insane—For 252,645; against 165,604.
- Constitutional Amendment Submission at Special Sessions—For 185,292; against 197,052.
- Suspended Sentences to Be Imposed by Judges—For 210,302; against 177,669.
- Abolition of Fee Payments for Certain Officials—For 241,537; against 153,779.
- Free Textbooks for Private Schools—For 202,799; against 232,839.

Sale of 3.2 beer already was legal in 177 of the 254 counties on a local option basis, state-wide anti-beer laws having been repealed in the 1933 election by a majority of 133,025 considerably larger than the vote given national repeal.

The status of local option districts pending passage of new local option laws as provided for in the new constitutional amendment, was of immediate interest to practically all of the state. The best records available indicated that all but 62 counties were wholly dry subdivisions.

Former Teachers Visit Here Several Days

No more popular teachers and church workers ever gave more liberally of their time and talent than Miss Sarah Thompson and Miss Ruth Thompson. After teaching here a number of years, Miss Sarah Thompson was awarded a better position as instructor in music in the Ft. Worth public schools.

After the death of Mr. Thompson, the family decided that they should live in the same town and Mrs. E. A. Thompson and Miss Ruth moved to Ft. Worth. Miss Ruth made special preparation and became one of the best known teachers there. They returned home Monday for school opening the 9th.

Both ladies have made enviable records and have excellent positions in the public school system of Ft. Worth where they are happy in their work of doing for others. It will be recalled that Miss Sarah became a heroine of wide reputation for her presence of mind in rescuing children from a burning school building a few years ago.

CLAYTON POWELL MEETS DEATH AS TRUCK TOPPLES

Was on Way to CC Camp Near Santa Fe Where He Had Worked Past Year

While returning to the camp near Santa Fe Sunday morning, the truck turned over near Santa Fe resulting in the death of Homer Clayton Powell, 22, according to advices received here by relatives.

Young Powell had been in the employ of the CC Camp for more than a year. He was injured fatally when the truck in which he and two others were riding skidded on a mountain road.

He was a son of Mrs. Elizabeth Powell, teacher of music in the Clarendon public schools. He was also a nephew of Curry C. Powell. His father, Homer Powell, resided here years ago, and was cashier of the Amarillo Bank of Commerce at the time of his death October 24, 1931.

A reader from the First Church of Christ, Scientist conducted the service at Amarillo Tuesday morning. The body was brought to Clarendon where it was laid beside those of his father and other relatives.

Pallbearers in Clarendon were Alfred McMurtry, Hollis Leathers, Byron Halle, Alex Cooke, Kenneth Brown and Johnny Blocker.

LARGE NUMBERS HEAR GLEE CLUB IN FINE PROGRAM

Odd Fellows and Rebekahs Of State Most Proud of Fine Showing of Pupils

Pupils of the I. O. O. F. Home here Thursday evening were feted at the Presbyterian church prior to the presentation of their program before the congregation at the close of the services at the Baptist tabernacle.

The Glee Club was in charge of their teacher, Miss Ruth Thomas, who has instructed in music and speech arts at the school the past three years.

C. B. Couch, superintendent of the Home made an address explaining some of the accomplishments of the fraternity in caring for orphan members of the families of deceased Odd Fellows.

The group remained until afternoon Friday making headquarters at the home of Geo. E. Ragland, D. D. G. M., and Roy L. Clayton, and were entertained over night in the homes of members of both orders.

Much praise was given Mr. Couch for the excellent showing made, the skill and exemplary conduct of the pupils. This is the first time that a group from the Corsicana Home has visited in this section. They spent two days at Memphis where the South Panhandle Odd Fellow Association held a two-day session.

Flake Thomas Visits Donley After Four Years

Though he went to California to seek his fortune some seven years ago, Flake Thomas paid his home folks of the R. O. Thomas home a visit four years ago. This week he is back again.

He is in the cafe business at Long Beach, and says business is gradually getting better—much better.

He was accompanied to Ft. Worth Monday by his mother, Mrs. R. O. Thomas, and sister Bertha Mae. Mrs. Thomas was especially anxious to see her first and only grandchild, Dennis Mitchell Thomas, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Thomas. The little man is not old enough to say "grandmother", but the visit will be a great event for his grandmother just the same.

Beach Service Station Never Closes in New Location

The new Beach service station on Highway 5 in the west edge of town is open 24 hours of the day—and night, according to announcement of the owners.

Messrs Cecil Beach and Bill Gaiter are elated over the business outlook, and the volume that is coming to the station at this time. A request that "Pennzoil" be added to their advertisement in this issue was too late for publication. Every facility and product may be had at the Beach station that is of interest to the motoring public, Mr. Beach states.

Relief Canning Plant to Open Here Friday Morning

Announcement is made by local authority that the relief canning plant here will open Friday morning for canning vegetables.

Mrs. J. M. Acord will again be in charge of the plant.

The Leader is informed that it is not necessary to prepare the vegetables for canning before bringing them to the plant. Since peas are to be the main article, simply pull them and bring them in as local labor on the relief roll is said to need the job of shelling and snapping.

Dave Waldron, Head Science Department at Plemmons

Dave Waldron has been elected head teacher of the science department of the Plemmons public schools this term. He received his degree at the W. T. S. T. College at Canyon this summer, majoring in science.

He has taught several years successfully in this county, being a member of the faculty of the Lelia Lake school and for several years principal of the Sunnyview school. He will begin his work in the Hutchinson county school this week.
