DISTRICT PLANNING BOARD APPROVES CLARENDON SCHOOL PROJECT $9,600.00

Prospects for improvements to be made in school buildings and on athletic grounds of the Clarendon schools became a near reality Wednesday when the District Planning Board director approved the plans embodied in the Clarendon school project.

The matter next comes before the state board at San Antonio, and then to the national board at Washington.

Odos Caraway and O. W. Latson appeared before the District WPA office in Amarillo Wednesday representing the local school board, and Superintendent H. T. Burton and J. L. Kerby represented the schools proper.

Plans of this project estimated to cost $9,600, would remodel the dormitory building making a high school class room building of the structure. According to the plans, a study hall seating 350; a large library room, 10 class rooms; ample office room; a dressing room for athletic teams of both sexes. The present arrangement of home economics and vocational agriculture departments would remain the same, it is planned.

Athletics would be considered in the leveling and sodding of the football field. Construction of a permanent stand seating 1,000 spectators on the football field; a hedge around the entire athletic field.

Other forms of athletics would have recognition in six tennis courts; two basketball courts which could be converted into tennis courts. Two volleyball courts; six playground ball fields at both Senior and Junior high schools.

Plans for the improvements called for above were made by O. W. Latson, local contractor.

Buntin Mortuary Purchases Combination Ambulance

Ever keeping abreast of the times, the Buntin Mortuary is now in a position to serve their patrons with a LaSalle-Cadillac ambulance funeral coach, the last word in motor construction in this line.

The interior is trimmed in a rich purple. Heaters before and after assure comfortable temperatures for a patient when used as an ambulance. The mattress rests on a sponge rubber affair dispensing with springs, but far more elastic or resilient. Two seats are provided beside the cot and an electric fan assures comfort in warm weather.

One would have to personally inspect this vehicle to fully appreciate the dignity and detail of its fineness. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buntin and daughter Phoebe Ann made a trip to Piqua, Ohio after the ambulance, returning here at 1:15 Tuesday morning.

Highway Crew Lays Off Two Weeks to Close Year

The fiscal year closed two weeks ago, says Y. A. Rankin, foreman of this highway district. Since cash was low, the crews were laid off for a two week period to catch up with highway maintenance allotments.

Mr. Rankin's district extends from Potter to Hall county on No. 5, north on 88, and on 66 from Gray county to the end of the pavement west of McLean.

Hurricane Sweeps Florida

Yesterday and today one of the worst hurricanes in history is sweeping the southern end of Florida. Radio broadcasts at 6 a. m. today announce the death list at from 500 to 600.

Dixie, a large passenger vessel, has been stranded on a coral reef for several hours, a portion of the passengers being taken off by a government rescue vessel.

The Red Cross is most active in the Florida Key region where the brunt of the storm struck. Property damage will reach into millions, according to radio reports.

COUNTY AGENT ASKS FARMERS TO HEAR SOIL TALKS

Donley Farmers to Share In C-C Camp Labor Within Certain Radius

A portion of Donley county has been included within the radius of activities of the CC Camp near Memphis. The line of demarcation roughly outlined begins on the JA ranch, extends northeast almost to Clarendon and includes the Chamberlain school, barely takes in the Midway school, crosses the river and enters Collingsworth county five miles north of the river.

This boundary was set by soil erosion officials at Dalhart, work in four counties being included in the Memphis camp area.

Farmers of Donley county, not included in this area, will be given special soil conservation attention by county agent H. M. Breedlove.

The work of the CC Camp will be to construct check-dams to keep the land from washing, running terraces, contour lines, re-sodding pastures and building stock tanks on ranch lands.

A number of meetings are to be held to instruct citizens in the work, the county agent announces. "All farmers are urged to be at these meetings as it is of vital importance to those who need work done for soil erosion and water conservation," Mr. Breedlove announced Tuesday.

Mr. Breedlove will be accompanied by Messrs. Hull of the CC Camp, and Nelson of the engineering department, and make talks concerning the plans and operations of the Camp.

Every farmer is requested to attend the meeting nearest him. The meeting places at school houses and dates are as follows:

Lelia Lake—Wednesday morning 10 a. m. Sept. 4.
Hedley—Wednesday afternoon 2:30, Sept. 4th.
Giles—Wednesday night, 8:30, Sept. 4th.
Naylor—Thursday morning, 10 o'clock, Sept. 5th.
Bray—Thursday afternoon, 2:30, Sept. 5th.
McKnight—Thursday night at 8:30, Sept. 5th.
Chamberlain—Friday morning at 10, Sept. 6th.
Windy Valley—Friday afternoon at 2:30, Sept. 6th.
Tell your neighbors about the meeting nearest you. The results to be obtained in this area depends on the action of individual farmers.

Tourist Announces Arrival In Noisy Manner

A Waco doctor arrived at a local service station here Wednesday apparently a tourist who could see more scenery than he could highway. In driving into the driveway he failed to make allowance for what he had inside him, or that was on the outside of his fender. The fender struck a "pop" stand and shoved the stand through a window.

Taken in charge by the sheriff's department, he gave the name of Dr. Thomas Delaine, claimed to hail from Waco, and was escorted to the courthouse. He demurred at a drunk charge, but agreed to pay a fine for infraction of the highway law.

Taken before Judge Lowe, he is alleged to have paid a fine of $1.00. This added to the costs, ran the total to $20.40. Paying off, the doctor went his way Wacoward.

Relief Cannery Makes Good Headway This Week

More than a thousand cans of food was put in tins at the relief cannery the past week, according to Mrs. J. M. Acord, who has charge of the work.

Corn and peas were the principal items. Beans of three varieties, pinto, great northern and stringless greenpod, were added to the list.

IRA MERCHANT HIGH MAN GOLF MATCHES HERE

Red Ants Conspire to Help Local Man Defeat Holmes Of Shamrock

Ira Merchant, local sharpshooter, was awarded the distinction of being top hand in a field of 56 players entered in the Sixth Annual Invitation Golf Tournament held over the Hillcroft course Sunday and Monday. The award came in a most unusual manner, a default from B. F. Holmes of Shamrock, who was still suffering from the ill effects of several ant bites received on the course Sunday afternoon.

Thirty-five out of town players representing eight towns were entered to make the Sixth Annual event one of the most successful ever held. Shamrock, with thirteen players, furnished the largest out of town entry list and, incidentally, these players carried away most of the prizes.

Cabot Brannon, Shamrock, was winner of the first flight with a well earned victory over Jimmy Douglas, also of Shamrock.

Billie Cooke subdued Ed Griffin, Shamrock, to claim honors in the second flight and Commissioner Les Hawkins, Hedley, downed J. P. Rhode to become ruler of the third flight.

First Round

Championship Flight—B. F. Holmes, Shamrock, defeated Dick Cooke 3-2; M. P. Gentry won from C. M. Day, Childress, 3-2; Jim Smith, Shamrock, downed J. D. Webster, Memphis, 2-1; Cotton Dixon, Lefors, defeated Joe Jackson 1 up; P. E. Gentry won from Lyle Holmes, Shamrock, 4-3; A. N. Woods defeated R. D. Oswald, Crowell, 1 up; Ira Merchant downed O. B. Smith, Memphis, 2-1; W. H. Cooke defeated J. D. Michie, Childress 3-2.

Governor's Father Accident Victim Tuesday

Renne Allred Sr., father of Governor, aged 71, suffered a fracture of the right leg just below the hip while playing ball with a grandson at Austin Tuesday afternoon.

The Governor received a message at the close of his address to the Reunion crowd in the City Auditorium at Amarillo late Tuesday night. He flew down to Austin next morning. The injured man is said to be improving.

YOUNG COUPLES NARROWLY ESCAPE DEATH IN CRASH

Two Are Thrown From Auto In Crash Near Memphis Saturday Night

Cruising down the highway toward Memphis about 9 a. m. Saturday night, two young couples seated in the Ford coupe owned by W. M. Pickering were suddenly conformed by two parked cars, said to have been turned in opposite directions without lights burning.

Driving the Ford was Milton Mayo and seated beside him was Imogene Endsley. In the "mother-in-law" seat were Drucilla Mayo and Leslie Pickering.

With little time to think as the parked cars loomed up in front of him, young Mayo turned to the side only to discover another car in his path. The next instant he attempted to pass between the cars, all three of them being damaged.

The couple on the front seat were thrown out by the impact, the young lady being thrown under the car in front. The couple on the rear seat managed to remain in the car.

"Scratched and bruised but no bones broken" was the verdict of a physician who examined the young couples at a Memphis hospital where first aid treatment was given the girls.

The Pickering coupe was badly damaged on the top, radiator and a front wheel. The other cars were not badly damaged, one having a bent fender immediately left the scene, but the other driven by a Hedley man remained to render aid, it is said.

Rev. Andrew Reavis Becomes Pastor Kilgore Church

After graduating from the local high school, Andrew Reavis spent a year at McMurry college at Abilene. More opportunity was offered at Dallas, hence he became a student of Southern Methodist University the following year.

He spent five years in S. M. U. He worked his way, made good grades and received his Bachelor of Divinity degree August 21st. He has been assigned to the pastorate of a Methodist church at Kilgore, Texas conference.

At present he is engaged in a very successful revival at his new location. His friends in Clarendon and Donley county will be more than pleased to hear of his success.

He is a son of Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Reavis of Clarendon.

LEGIONISTS TO OPPOSE FOREIGN WAR MARKETEERS

Veterans at Dallas Condemn Idea of Mixing in Other Nation's Affairs

Among the many valuable ideas advanced by the American Legion members in the four day state convention at Dallas from Saturday to Tuesday, nothing brought forth more applause than an anti-foreign war policy.

"Stay at home this time and let those who want war do all the fighting," is the way one speaker expressed himself.

Miller Ainsworth, state commander, presided. An address by Governor Allred Tuesday, and an address by Cong. Wright Patman, were the high lights of the convention.

Gov. Allred ventured the assurance that, in his opinion, the deferred payments would be made following the next session of congress. "Pass a law compelling the employment of 98 percent American citizens on all kinds of jobs, factory or otherwise, in the United States," was another Allred suggestion.

Conscript property, including ammunition plants, the same as human flesh in the next war, is another demand that is being made, and one that has the backing of a majority of the citizens of the nation.

Delegates from the local Post to attend the State Convention were C. Huffman, Joe A. Holland and Dick Chunn. Mrs. Joe A. Holland attended as a delegate of the Ladies Auxiliary. More than 2,000 are said to have heard the deliberations.

Beaumont gets the next convention next year.

The Clarendon parties stopped over night Tuesday in Mineral Wells, arriving here late Wednesday.

A complete report of the State Convention will be made at Legion Hall tonight by the delegates. All members of the local Post are urged to be present.

Sheriff Locates Hogs Taken From Preston Farm

Notified that two hogs had been stolen from George Preston near Skillet late Saturday, Sheriff Pierce located the hogs in Shamrock Sunday where they had been sold to M. Lisle.

In tracking the parties, who are well known, Pierce stuck in the mud Sunday night spending the night on the highway, but expects to get his men during the week.

TAX EXEMPTION CERTIFICATE IS ELIGIBLE ON 4th

County Agent Explains More About Pooling of Cotton Certificates

This pool is not connected with the special pool which has just been in effect, but is the regular fall pool. This pool, in all probability, will be open all through the fall ginning season.

But when a closing date is set on this pool, all producers will be notified through this paper.

The following telegram was received by county agent H. M. Breedlove Wednesday morning:

"Effective September 4th, the regular national tax exemption certificate pool will be ready to receive nineteen thirty-five certificates eligible under the regulations for entry therein."

SECRETARY RESIGNS

GERALD C. MANN

Thousands of friends of Secretary of State Mann will regret to learn of his resignation. They will be just as proud to know that a federal position will pay him $6,000 whereas he has been receiving only $2,000 as Secretary of State.

"Jerry", as he is affectionately termed by his friends, has set a precedent for others to follow in the office of secretary of state. He got the job done better than any other secretary. He kept in close touch with his people. He supplied information with a willingness that was appreciated by readers of dailies and weeklies all over the state.

Jerry is non-partisan, unselfish and a hard worker. Luck to him in his new position—is the wish of the thousands of Texans whom he has served faithfully and well.

Mr. Mann will represent Texas on the State Planning Board at Washington. W. W. (Hick) Holcomb, Jerry's chief clerk while he was secretary of state, will be his personal secretary in the Washington office.

Over Half of Funds Pledged For Lighted Football

Committees securing pledges of funds for the lighted football field here reported more than half of the $1,500 requirement pledged up to last night.

The pledges last night totaled $819. Those in charge of this matter stated today that unless the balance is pledged by Saturday night of this week, it will be too late to get lights installed for the games scheduled for Clarendon this season. It is further stated that possibly only one or two games will be played here, if such games must be played in daytime.

Mrs. W. J. Parsons Observes 84th Anniversary

Relatives from near and far gathered at Amarillo Wednesday to do honor to Mrs. W. J. Parsons, for many years a leading citizen of Clarendon, who now makes her home with a daughter in Amarillo. The occasion was the 84th birthday of this venerable lady.

Relatives from here attending were Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Parsons, Mrs. S. B. Kutch, Mrs. Carl Bennett and Mrs. Fred Buntin.

DONLEY COUNTY TO EXHIBIT AT TRI-STATE FAIR

Visitors Will Astonish All Drought's Blasts

You simply can't keep a good country down any more than a good man. Old Donley will surprise the natives, newcomers and casual visitors with an agricultural exhibit this season that will astound them.

County agent H. M. Breedlove is exuberant with joy over the prospects before him in gathering the specimens. He has made arrangements for the booth.

All farmers who have any outstanding specimens are requested to get in touch with the county agent at once.

All exhibits must be in place by the 13th. Mr. Breedlove wants to get the exhibit together here the 12th. Positively not later than the 12th.

Since Donley has a soil advantage, and received showers that were and are most favorable, it is believed that the best showing of all years will be made this time. Of course the drought will be taken into consideration, too.

Each county to qualify will receive a premium. No grade premiums will be offered. This arrangement is made to induce more counties to enter the competition.

P. C. Bennett will have general supervision over the agricultural exhibit.

Cars Collide Sunday Near Crockett Taylor Home

Returning home from church Sunday, and just as he turned to enter his driveway, the Ford driven by Crockett W. Taylor and the U. J. Boston car driven by Bobbie Boston came together with such force as to badly damage both cars.

In the car with Mr. Taylor were Mrs. Taylor and Agatha, both of whom were bruised and shocked. Miss Agatha Taylor's condition was such as necessitated the services of a physician, Mr. Taylor stated.

Young Boston escaped injuries other than the shock, it is said.

Don't Pass a School Bus While It Is Stopped

The law provides a penalty of a fine of $10 to $500, or confinement of not more than 90 days in jail for those who pass by a school bus when it is stopped for pupils to get on or off.

The law reads: "When any such 'School Bus' vehicle stops, every operator of a motor vehicle or a motorcycle approaching the same from any direction shall bring such vehicle or motorcycle to a full stop before proceeding in any direction."

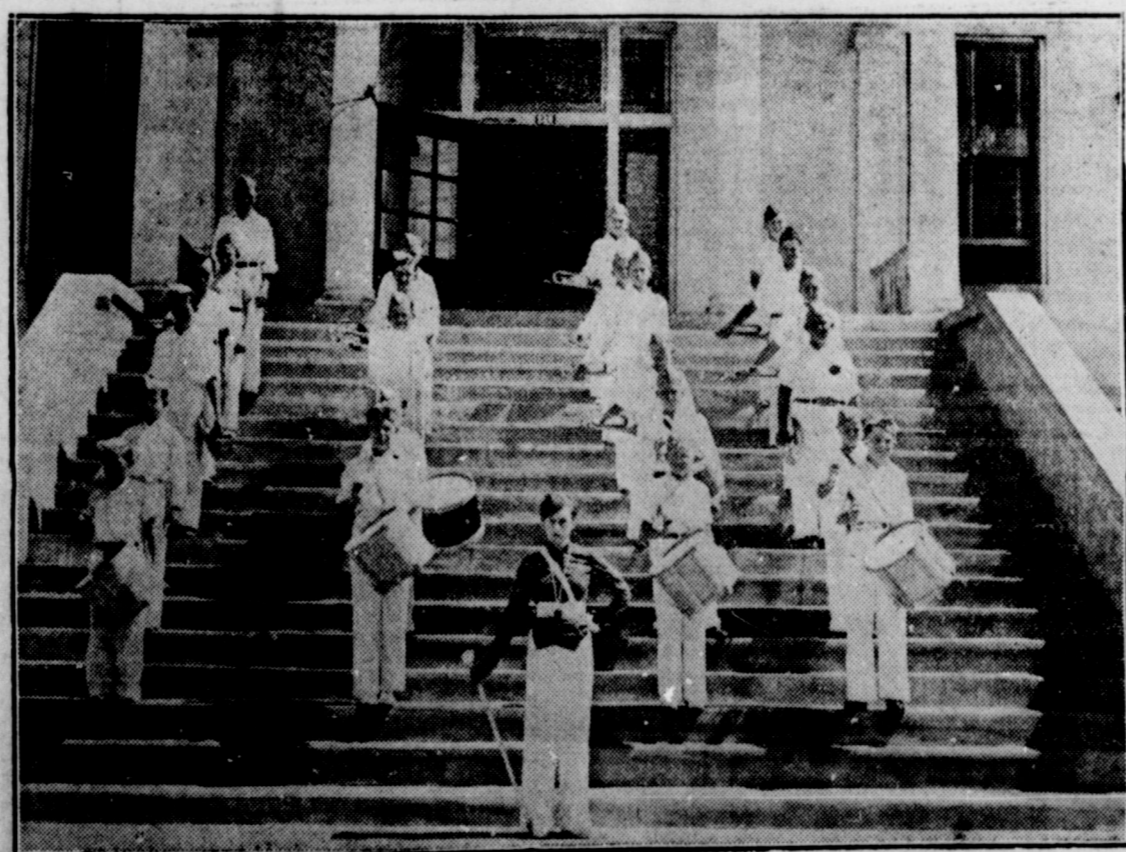

Money Flows Freely In Amarillo

As three Clarendon men sat in the lobby of the Amarillo hotel about 9:30 Tuesday night, a young man of this town 'nonchalantly' walked from the elevator and pulled from his coat pockets handfuls of silver which he displayed in the face of a beautiful young brunette lady apparently of Assyrian extraction.

After some conversation with the young lady and others apparently of the same tribe, he walked to the desk of the night clerk, surrounded by the flock of male and female dark brunettes, and again 'nonchalantly' deposited $1085 with the night clerk, taking his receipt for that amount.

There was apparently no secret about the matter. In fact those in the lobby were made acquainted with the facts by display and announcement. For that reason, the announcement is made here that "money flows freely" in the metropolis of the Panhandle.

THAT HUMAN EQUATION.

Avoid if at all possible the break in friendship, for when it comes, it cannot really be mended. The jarring note mars the harmony of the whole glorious symphony. It is not a question of forgiveness; that may be full and complete. It is the hurt in the heart that will not really heal, and the confidence that will never fully come back.

DIDN'T LIKE THE PANHANDLE.

It was a small body of Spaniards under Francisco de Coronado's leadership who, first among the white race known in history, visited our section. That was back in the somewhat "dim and shadowy past" in the year of 1540. Palo Duro canyon attracted these intrepid explorers just as it had attracted Indians for perhaps centuries. It was home to the Indians and they staid until about 1875, being chased out by McKenzie's men.

The Spanish were looking for any valuable worth while. In other words, they were international marauders, pillagers, murderers and highjackers. They had no idea of improving the country or making a friendly contact with the citizens here, but were looking for the "Seven Cities of Cebola", about which they had heard fabulous riches similar to that of the Inca's in South America. Pizarro murdered, plundered and stole from the Incas, destroyed their cities and took home to Spain gobs of gold in the name of the king. The Spanish were disgusted with the poverty stricken Panhandle, void of mineral wealth and scarcely no inland seas to speak of.

Artifacts picked up within recent months in Palo Duro canyon indicate visits of both Spanish and French, the latter coming along probably a half century after the Spanish. The Spaniards were looking for something that they could carry away with them. Other white races in the 19th century did not expect to carry anything away, so they gobbled up all the land possible by robbing the state school fund, all of which proves that human nature is no respecter of races. The last named, staid on the job and most of the second generation became respectable citizens. Palo Duro canyon is said to have been moved around quite a bit, but never transported outside the Panhandle proper. Lesser canyons were constantly on the go because of the stock shelter value. Any cowman who could steal a flock of canyons for winter use, could return them in the spring and be classed as a successful cow man. The old claim of an "honest mistake" applied to canyon thefts just the same as to stolen or misbranded cattle.

Palo Duro canyon is nailed down now and kept under guard of army officers. That's why it is called a park—she's parked to stay on location.

OLD SETTLERS TO HAVE THEIR INNING AT FAIR

Annual Reunion Will Be Held On Wednesday September 18

Old settlers of the Panhandle are preparing now for their annual reunion, which will be held one month from next Sunday.

This yearly gathering is one of the features of the Tri-State Fair. The exposition this year will be held September 14-21, and the reunion always is held on Wednesday of Fair Week.

While it is the thirteenth annual Tri-State Fair, it will be the fourteenth annual meeting of the old-timers association.

2,000 Attended Last Year

John Isaacs of Canadian is president of the association, which last year elected four vice-presidents—W. H. Fuqua of Amarillo, Milo W. O'Laughlin of Miami, Henry B. Lovett of Pampa, and Thomas Turner of Amarillo.

Lloyd Studer of Amarillo was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Last year, when Charles J. E. Lownds was president, more than 2,000 old settlers registered for the meeting, which was held in a circus tent on the exposition grounds.

Many New Members Enroll

The Tri-State Fair Association always provides a suitable place for the annual meeting and individual officials usually offer prizes for the oldest old-timers.

Anyone who has lived in the Panhandle for a quarter of a century is eligible to membership in the association.

Several hundred new members were enrolled last year and an equal number are expected to join this year.

Renew Old Friendships

Old Settlers Day at the Fair marks the renewing of many old friendships. Interesting stories of early-day experiences are told.

"The Tri-State Fair has grown to such proportions that more than one day is required to see all of the splendid exhibits and to visit the entertainment features," said Wilbur C. Hawk, president. "But if you are an old-timer and have only one day to spare at the Fair, be sure to be there on Wednesday, September 18, for the Old Settlers Association meeting. It is one of the most interesting features for those who have called the Panhandle home for the last 25 years."

Portales Steps Into Daily Paper Class Monday

Publisher J. G. Greaves of the Portales Valley News changed over to a tabloid weekly Monday. Seven people compose the new staff in getting out a daily of five columns to the page with as "many pages as business will justify," so states the publisher in his first issue.

Not to be outdone by any criticism, Mr. Greaves facetiously dubs his daily "The Diaper Kid" beating the knockers to it. The Portales Daily News is a sprightly sheet full of pep with contents nicely arranged and a news value that will appeal to the readers.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Palmmyer of Memphis were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Pyle.

Big Poultry Feed Research Advance

A startling announcement has been made to the poultry world and another is being made along with it in this community. Vitamin A, which scientists have recently found a way to isolate for human consumption, is now being put into poultry feeds. A new ingredient introduced to poultrymen the country over, is now available to farmers and poultry raisers in this locality, according to Frank White, Clarendon Hatchery. It is called Pur-a-tene and is found exclusively in Purina Feeds, he said.

Newspapers throughout the country have been talking of this amazing discovery. Through the facilities of the Purina Experimental Farm and Research Laboratories, a new process has been developed of extracting Carotene (Vitamin A in its primary form) from plants and converting it into Pur-a-tene.

"All poultry raisers know that hens need Vitamin A for body maintenance," White told a reporter of this paper yesterday, "and recent experiments have proven beyond a doubt that when hens receive sufficient Vitamin A, they remain in better health and lay more eggs."

"Puratene is concentrated green feed," he said. "It is rich in Vitamin A because it is made from nature's richest store-house of this vitamin—the yellow coloring matter in plants and vegetables. It contains 750 times as much Vitamin A as yellow cornmeal which has been considered one of the best sources of Vitamin A. Each bag of Purina Laying Chows contains enough Pur-a-tene to step up its Vitamin A activity to two and one half times its former strength. "With the poultry outlook brighter today than it has been in many years," commented Mr. White, "this outstanding development of Purina research is being introduced at a most beneficial time for poultry raisers. Pur-a-tene will mean a great deal to them in extra eggs, improved health of hens and greater poultry profits."

TEMPLE OF TRUTH By the Apostle

And John L. McCarty, he of "Cactus, Sage & Loco" fame on the Dalhart Texan, has a fine picture in the last issue of American Press.

It must be admitted that West Texas has produced some wonderful results in every field of science, but when the Bellevue News branches off into psychic phenomena, we have to call a halt.

"Mrs. R. -er was born November 4, 1934, was married to Allen R. - April 5, 1934, and died in a Plainview sanatorium August 12, 1935."

Along comes Jack Frost, grocery peddler, who would have been known in the "good old days as a "knight of the grip." Jack is agent deluxe for the Waples-Platter grocery company and sells the goods without taking into account weath-ther or financial condition or "previous condition of servitude." Jack is a glutton for avoidpoups but capitalizes on his flatulency by advertising the fact that he eats the brand of products which he sells his trade.

Again, Saturday was a great day. More people visited me, more paid their subscriptions, and more did me nice neighborly favors than since the beginning of the 'oppression' back in 1929.

Down near Red Top in Dickens county, women are making buttons out of mesquite roots. Mrs. Harrel, we are informed, dug the roots, sawed them out in chunks and did the carving herself.

A nostrum is now being offered the driving public addicted to sleepy habits while driving. It is labeled "Nodoz" and is said to be having a wide sale. I once knew a fellow to stick the wrong end of a lighted cigarette in his mouth.

Saturday was a "red letter" day in the Leader office for the old Apostle. He has in times past been ostracized by the envious; minimized by the fastidious; cauterized by the disreputable; sterilized by the hot words of the renegades; moralized by the fanatics and eulogized by his neighbors.

"Livid scars were found on the face of the dead outlaw," reports the staid old Dallas News. He must have been bitten by a hot dog.

Now that the "soak-the-rich" bill has been signed by the President, he might give old Sam Insull a job. That old boy knows how to sock 'em better than any one we have ever heard of, pension or no pension.

The New Deal does not burn 'heretics', they just don't get a job. Money is the greatest 'her' tonic that has ever been discovered. It soothes hysterics and dries tears before they get started.

After eating six ears of that roasting ear corn grown by my good friend J. M. Cornell, I feel a pome pain coming on. Hold tight folks - - -

Blistering winds And dusty skies; Sunburned arms, And watery eyes; Pavements melting; In the sun; I'm danged glad, This summer's done!

Sign on a shop in the Wichita Falls suburb: "Through this window passes every day the most tempting hot dogs backed by a pedigree."

Fashion Note—(Men only.) Ad in lady's magazine reads: "Sheer stockings; designed for dressy wear, but so serviceable that lots of women wear nothing but these."

People are never crosseyed. One eye simply ignores the other.

As said above, Saturday was a great day. Carl Barker from up near Ashtola brought in the biggest and finest watermelon I've had the pleasure of eating in many a year.

In some of the larger towns in some states, itinerant merchants are required to put up $500 for a year as an evidence of permanency. We ought to have such laws in every town.

Ima Fizzle in speaking of her boy friend says, "my Blue Heaven blew up last week and went to Amarillo." Blue of the night met the gold of the day perhaps, in the form of a blonde hairdresser.

There's one old-fashioned guy in this town. When he was seen to come out of a neighbor house at 10 p. m. last night, he was asked, "how's your bridge?"

As said above, Saturday was a great day. W. M. Pickering brot me a fine large muskmelon. One of the kind we used to have back in our kid days when folks grew things to eat and enjoy.

Anyway, the modern girl, attired as she is, is no hypocrite. She has all her cards on the table and is not hiding anything.

The old Sand Hill Sage says "better get these braintrusters out into the bull rushes looking for a new Moses."

Thuse Foss, not appreciating the attitude of the relief office crew here of late, says "I been givin' the relief bunch all my trade for two years, but unless they change up a lot, the Red Cross will get my business this winter."

As said above, Saturday was a great day. Mrs. Roy Robinson came in Saturday bringing along some cucumbers, one of which was ten and a half inches long which she said grew in three days.

There is nothing like a rain to "air condition" this Panhandle country.

Nearly all these women's magazines have at least one advertisement of a man in a kitchen with an apron on. Is this a fact that men have fallen to that point? Is there a dish-washing man in our town? If you know of one, let me have his name and I assure you that his name will be at the top of this column next week.

At the entrance to a quarry near Santa Rosa, New Mexico in large letters is displayed a sign which reads: "It's hell to be a cripple—be careful."

Sunday school met at the regular meeting time Sunday. There were over seventy present. The Sunday school voted to continue its meeting time on Sunday mornings instead of in the afternoons by a large majority.

phy Brock's, and when they left he was minus several. Maybe they have just heard about Huey P. Long's share the wealth program that he has been preaching. Anyway Mr. Brock doesn't want anything like that happening at his place. Maybe folks in general would be better off if they felt that way about Huey's program.

Miss Merle Harp of Ashtola has enrolled for the winter term at Canyon college.

The SINCLAIR DINOSAUR SYMBOLIZES OLDEST CRUDES, TOUGHER MOTOR OILS

The Sinclair dinosaur stands for the vast age of the crude oils used in refining Sinclair Opaline and Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oils. The oldest crudes make the tougher motor oils. Grueling tests on the Sinclair Film-Breaking Machines prove that Sinclair Opaline and Sinclair Pennsylvania each give a lubricating film that will withstand a pressure of more than 3 tons per square inch. Look for the dinosaur on the Tamper-Proof cans in which Sinclair Opaline and Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oils are sold.

Culinary Jingles by Marcia Camp

Ham and eggs can fill the bill When all the world is bleak and chill And scinty blasts assert their will. But when the days are warm and nice, A lighter breakfast will suffice. For instance, have you tried marsh ice?

A MARSH ICE FOR BREAKFAST

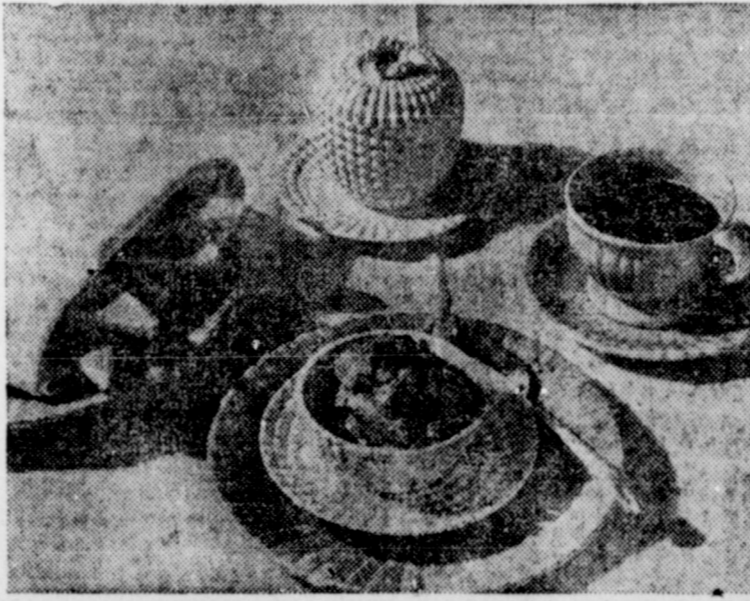

A FROZEN dessert for breakfast! That may sound a little odd to unaccustomed ears, but it is sure to taste very good indeed even to unaccustomed palates on a sweltering August morning. And when the frozen dessert is an orange marsh ice, which amounts to very little more than a cunning blend of slightly sweetened fruit juices, it is really a perfectly suitable breakfast dish. The chill gives just that extra flip to a heat-weary appetite which is needed to make the rest of the breakfast welcome, and all the invaluable vitamins of the plain orange juice remain intact.

The only extra work in addition to that of preparing the fruit juices is melting campfire marshmallows in top of a double boiler. The campfire marshmallows are what keep the ice fine-textured and smooth, adding a certain smoothness of flavor at the same time. Once they are added the mixture may be popped into a freezing tray of the mechanical refrigerator or placed in a tight container in a bucket of ice and salt, and forgotten, except for one stirring midway in the freezing process. It may be kept for two or three days if the family will permit.

ORANGE MARSH ICE

1 pint orange juice 1/2 cup lemon juice
24 campfire marshmallows 1/2 teaspoon orange rind
1/2 teaspoon salt
Pour 1/2 cup of orange juice over the marshmallows and steam in top of double boiler until melted. Remove from stove and add rest of orange juice and other ingredients. Freeze, stirring once. Serves 4 or 5. This recipe may be varied by using other fruit juices. The marsh less resulting are excellent accompaniments to any other meal as well as breakfast.

"Escapade" Tells Story of Philandering Artist Showing at Pastime Theatre, September 11-12

William Powell, Luise Rainer, Virginia Bruce and Others Delight in Captivating Romance of Viennese Painter Whose Flirtations Get Him into Trouble

Romance, drama, gayety and music mingle in a unique blend of entertainment in "Escapade," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's gay Continental drama which opens at the Pastime Theatre, Wednesday, September 11th. The unusual story, through original dramatic twists, maintains steady element of entertainment from grand opera to whimsical comedy is logically and naturally introduced.

With William Powell heading the cast as a whimsical artist whose past feats, as a Lothario land him in trouble, the picture introduces new personalities and new ideas. Luise Rainer, brilliant Viennese stage star, makes her debut on the American screen as his leading lady.

Caruso's Voice Recorded Through modern sound recording magic, the voice of Enrico Caruso, amplified from his records, lives again in a faithful reproduction in the operatic scenes. Lifting music by Walter Jurmann and Bronislaw Kaper, European composers of Jan Kiepura's hits, is used through the picture which, though not a musical, has interesting musical interludes.

William Powell

The story deals with an artist who, through a flirtation, paints a picture of a married woman which accidentally gets into print. Seeking a model for an alibi to distract the suspicious husband, he finds the companion of a countess who serves his purpose. But he falls in love and a jealous former sweetheart, together with the rest of the tangle, lands him in decidedly hot water. There are dramatic high spots, much comedy, romance and spectacle in the story.

Powell as the debonair artist, plays his role engagingly and with a Continental savoir-faire. Miss Rainer, a brilliant new personality, with unusual charm, enacts the demure sweetheart. She plays scenes ranging from gripping drama and high emotion to whimsical comedy. Frank Morgan handles the role of the suspicious doctor with deft skill and clever comedy, and Virginia Bruce is delightfully flirtatious as his playful wife.

As Jealous Sweetheart Drama is contributed by Mady Christians as the jealous sweetheart, who is grippingly realistic in the shooting sequence, and Reginald Owen and Henry Travers provide whimsical laughter as the absent-minded musician and the gardener with the toothache. Mathilde Comont is also laughable as Mathilde, the maid. Delightful music includes a new song hit, "You're All I Need," sung by a new lyric soprano, Lorraine Bridges. Laura Hope Crews plays the gay old Countess.

day and Tuesday, Mrs. Johnston's brother, his wife and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Shade and Charles, Jim and Jack who are from Fort Worth.

Miss Mary Tom Atteberry left this week for Shamrock where she will remain with her aunt, Mrs. Hallmark and attend school this term.

From time to time a group consisting of Mrs. J. F. Heath, Mr. R. E. Duncan, and Mr. E. G. Hayes sang appropriate songs. A trio of Mrs. Heath and Misses Wilma Dee Smith and Louise Smith presented a medley of popular tunes. An entertaining skit picturing the Standridge family fifteen years in the future featured Mrs. D. T. Heath, Miss Wanda Mayfield, and Mr. J. Frank Heath.

In the fourth chapter of James the brother of our Lord asks a serious question, "For what is your life?" Will you answer that question personally to-day? Won't you stop long enough to analyze yourself and see just what your life amounts to? How are you using the most precious gift that God ever bestowed upon the earth, your life? What are the returns from your investment? You are the trustee of your life. You are personally responsible to God for the dividends resulting there from. You are your brother's keeper, but not his bookkeeper, nor his life keeper. You are not responsible for what he does nor how he acts, nor for the way he invests his life, but you are responsible for yourself and for your life. Joshua said, "as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." I had rather be poor in this life and rich in the next, than to be rich in this life and a pauper in eternity. For what shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul? For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; but whosoever shall save it, are you saving your life or wasting it in riotous living? You know better than anybody else. Your account to God will be just and final.

Regular services Sunday at the Baptist Church. A cordial welcome awaits you there.

Oklahoma Editor Pays His Tribute to Will Rogers

The poem printed below was written by the editor of the Rusk Springs, Okla. Gazette. It was copied in the Congressional Record August 26th and has appeared in dozens of dailies and weeklies over the nation.

"AW, SHUCKS—"
Ambling along, his shrewd kindly eyes
Shyly viewing the beauties
Of a new land—
Seizing the hand of an old crony,
Or of a president, fellow-ambassador, senator,
Or prince—
Grinning wistfully—and humbly
before his Creator
Perhaps saying, whimsically:
"Y'know Lord, all I know is what I've read
In the papers
'N' picked up as I gaddered around
Hither 'n' yon;
But all this stuff that's in the papers
Just now,
Aw, shucks, Lord,
I wish I coulda earned
A little mite of it.
They mean well, Lord—don't hold it against 'em,
Let's just call it good-intentioned
Exaggeration;
They're just bein' kind
To an ignor'n't ol' cowhand
From Oologah.
Y'know, Lord, that's a great bunch
You've got down there,
Senators 'n' all;
I'm gonna miss 'em for a while,
But they'll be comin' along.
I had no idy
They felt—that way—about—aw, shucks, Lord—
After the way I've kidded 'em,
'N' all—
But I've never hurt 'em till now
An' I'm just wonderin', Lord,
If there ain't some way
You can ease it up for 'em?
Just tell 'em that—shucks—it ain't bad like that a-tall—
An' that this round-up's just fine an'
Prettier than the song.
Y, see Lord, that down there gets right next to me, an'
Shucks, there ain't nothin'
I c'n do about it;
So do what you can, won't you,
Lord?
I've got lots of confidence in Your ability
Along that line.
Well, there goes those bells—my time's up,
So I'll be moseyin' along.
Say, Lord! Ain't that ol' boy over there
From Claremore?"

CAR STOLEN AT MEMPHIS PICKED UP BY SHERIFF

Race to Capture Stolen Car Leads Through Clarendon On Highway 5

A '34 Ford coupe zipped through town Friday afternoon at a rate causing wonderment if not astonishment. About three blocks behind came Sheriff Guy Pierce and Clarence Peabody driving a bit faster.

It all came about by Pierce being notified by Memphis officers that a car had been stolen there and that it was headed this way. With information and description, Pierce and Peabody drove to the east edge of town and soon spied the car in question headed west, passing them at a rapid clip.

The race was on through town and ended this side of Ashtola. Two boys about grown were in the stolen car and when they saw the officers about to overtake them, the driver put out his hand and stopped.

The stolen car belonged to Henderson Smith of Memphis, Fred Greathouse, aged 18 of Terrell owned up that he had taken the car. With him was Pete Frizzell of Lubbock who stated that he was a hitchhiker picked up near Memphis by Greathouse.

The boys were brought back to Clarendon. Memphis officers came for them within a short time and the boys are being held pending action of the grand jury. It is said that the boys were jailed here within two hours after the car was missed at Memphis.

INTERESTING FACTS REGARDING TEXAS HISTORY IN AN EARLY EXCITING EPOCH

"The men who emigrated to Texas in the 1820s and 30s and laid the foundations of society and good government brought no wealth with them, but their industrious and frugal habits proved to be far more valuable equipment; outdoor life, simple fare and continuous labor hardened their muscles and braced their nerves, preparing them to encounter the hardships and perils of a severe conflict with the obstacles of nature on the frontier."

In this direct manner Frank Brown, county clerk of Travis County in the early days, describes the staunch settlers of Texas in his Annals of Travis County, one of the numerous collections of family archives in the University of Texas library.

"The way through the wilderness could at times be only formed by means of blazed trees," Frank Brown wrote. "No good wagon road was known in the country. At times, parties traveling in company, or even single ones, would be compelled to halt and go to work repairing the trace to ensure progress. At crossing places or streams, the banks would have to be worked in order to get over at all. If creeks were up, they would often be compelled to camp for days at a time, in order to cross. It was always the rule when travelling, to cross a stream when reached, if practicable, before camping, so as to be on the farther side when morning came. This was done to avoid freshets that might come during the night and thereby delay progress.

"The old-time dwelling was a one or two room log cabin, according to the size of the family. More frequently the home consisted of but one room, with a loft above, reached by a ladder. If there were two rooms, a gallery was usually between. Ordinarily these had only dirt floors. After awhile as opportunity offered, floors were laid with puncheons, split round logs with the round side down. Wooden doors were made with wood fastenings. The windows had no glass, and were closed with rough board shutters in stormy weather, held in place by wooden or leather hinges. The roof was made of clapboards about three feet long, usually split from the trunks of pin oak or post oak trees. The boards were laid with a lap of about two-thirds their length, so as to show about one foot. It was seldom that nails were at hand. In order to hold the boards in place a straight sapling, six or seven inches in diameter, was felled, the limbs cut off and the trunk laid across the lap of the boards so as to hold them in place by its weight. They were called weight poles. At each end rafter a hole was bored, a wooden pin inserted, the logs laid on the boards, above and against the pins, and were thus held in place. Sometimes cross pieces were laid at intervals between the weight poles, to prevent them from slipping up or down, thus holding them in place. A roof prepared in the mentioned shed rains effectually and lasted a long time.

"Mud and stick chimneys were almost exclusively used. The hearth was built of smooth rocks, if accessible; if not convenient, it was laid clay, which became hard from the heat. An opening was cut in the end of the room, sticks were laid close together and the structure thus carried a foot or more above the roof. After this was done the sticks were thickly plastered on both sides with moist clay. This soon dried. Chimneys prepared in this manner answered the purpose very well.

"The emigrants usually brought with them one or more milk cows. These gradually increased. In two or three years milk and butter and beef were plentiful. A pair of hogs and a few chickens were brought. If not, these were obtained as soon as possible, and added materially to the means of comfort and subsistence.

"Many were the difficulties and dangers that attended the early settlement of the valley. From necessity, it became a custom for one or two persons to stand as sentinels, whilst others labored in the small clearings. This was the only means of obtaining bread. And, at times, the danger was so great, that while one went to a spring to drink, or after a bucket of water, another stood watch, rifle in hand, ready to shoot a prowling Indian, or one that might arise from an adjacent thicket that covered him from view. And whenever a few men were assembled together for any purpose, when business or pleasure called them, they held their guns in hand, with their backs turned, facing different directions, on the look out for an enemy. When an alarm was raised, the women and children were usually assembled at a central point for protection. If inconvenient, or too distant, they were assembled at the cabin, and the men stood guard. The presence of Indians in a neighborhood could nearly always be told by the conduct of the family horses. Their sense of smell was very keen, and the settler could tell by this means if Indians were near. They would indicate the proximity of the Indian by snorts and other symptoms of anxiety. If off grazing some distance, they would gallop towards the cabin, snorting and looking wild. There was a peculiar smell about the Indian, occasioned by his filthy habits and the free use of paints. Their faces were painted in various ways, presenting often a ludicrous and hideous appearance. They were wily and crafty, usually cruel and vengeful. But there are instances on record of great kindness and friendship exhibited by some of the natives towards the whites. Occasionally they remembered acts of kindness towards them upon the part of the whites, and would return in kind, when opportunity offered. The Indian, however, never forgave an injury, and sought and inflicted revenge when able."

"TRUE EDUCATION"

"And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians and was mighty in words and deeds." Acts 7:22.

School days are here again. In thousands of cities, towns and villages, the great army of school children are marching to and from the great schools and institutions of learning. Leaders of the nation are being prepared to take hold the reins of state, nation and community.

Moses was one of the most learned men of his time. His education embraced the whole range of Greek-Chaldee, Assyrian and Egyptian literature. There is much in his experience to commend the subject of education to all classes. In his training we see several important things.

God's testimony is in favor of education. By God's providence Moses was placed where he could enjoy all the advantages of a good secular education. He was being trained for a great service and task. God's favor of education is shown in the program of the "school of the prophets" and in the teaching of the Bible, especially the book of Proverbs. The capacity and cravings of the human mind also show that God is interested in the education of the mind. True education of our children is a sacred duty.

II. The great value of education. Think of the cost of Moses' education. The suffering of the Israelites and the dangers of the heathen court. Think of the increased power that it gave him. By education, mental diamonds are cut and polished and nuggets of gold are converted into current coin.

III. Secular education is not enough, in itself it is not sufficient. We have a two-fold nature—mental and moral. We should educate both. Moses began his religious education at the hands of his mother in early childhood and late in life he was under the direct and personal touch of God in the desert.

IV. Eminence in secular education may be combined with eminence in religious education. Moses was distinguished for both. Also Paul, Milton, Ruskin and others have proven beyond all doubt that educated and intelligent piety is the best piety. The Church of today should use its influence and seek the education of the masses. All educated minds should be consecrated to Christ. All should work together to educate our children both for time and eternity.

Universal Airmail Sought to Speed Business Recovery

Pneumatic Tubes Urged to Get Airmail From Airports to Post Offices.

Not many of the people who walk along the sidewalks of New York, probably not one in ten thousand, realize that more than six million letters are shot daily beneath the streets of Manhattan at great speed through iron pipes.

The letters are contained in metal carriers, each holding between 500 and 600 letters. The carriers are forced through the pipes by compressed air and travel 180,000 miles daily, connecting the branch post offices and substations between the Battery and 125th Street with the main post office at 33rd Street and 7th Avenue.

This underground pneumatic mail tube system makes it possible to mail a letter in uptown Manhattan in the morning and have it delivered in Wall Street the same afternoon. It expedites tremendously the despatch of mail out of New York to every part of the world.

Several bills have been introduced into Congress to extend the underground pneumatic mail tube service to and from airports to the nearest post office in the city adjoining and thus expedite the delivery of air mail. Until this is done, it is pointed out, the use of the air mail can never become universal.

At the present time air mail reaching an airport outside of the city is often not delivered in the city until the next morning. With the pneumatic tube system in operation it would be delivered the same day that it reached the airport. If it were possible to get fast deliveries of airmail from the various airports it would be also possible to establish the air mail service as the universal means of transportation of all first-class mail except that consigned for local deliveries.

This would, it is pointed out, place at the disposal of the airmail service a fund for air mail transportation estimated as exceeding $100,000,000 per annum.

The result would be to build up a stupendous auxiliary air fleet devoted to peacetime uses but available for war, and Mr. Brisbane would not have to worry about what would happen if foreign airfleets attacked America.

PREPARING TO BUILD SUBWAY FROM 'APRON' OF FLOYD BENNETT FIELD TO ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

PWA WORKMEN BUILDING SIDEWALKS AND IMPROVING AIRPORT GROUNDS

CORNER OF PNEUMATIC MAIL TUBE ROOM IN NEW YORK POST OFFICE WHERE SIX MILLION LETTERS ARE HANDLED DAILY

Universal airmail would also be a tremendous stimulus to business. Congressman Stephan A. Rudd of Brooklyn has introduced a bill providing for a pneumatic mail tube service between Floyd Bennett Field, and the Brooklyn Post Office. Similar bills have been introduced into Congress favoring the airports at Boston, St. Paul and other cities.

The pneumatic tube system provided by Congressman Rudd's bill would reach five post office stations between Bennett Field and the Post Office, serving a population of more than one million persons.

All of Brooklyn's commercial organizations have endorsed Congressman Rudd's bill and are working hard to secure its enactment, as it would bring commercial activity to Floyd Bennett Field which though built by New York City at the government's request, has been a white elephant, making little or no return to the city.

Harris of Pampa, who were in charge of the musicians and callers during the Pre-Centennial square dances at the gym, will serve in those capacities again.

In fact, it was the tremendous popularity of the square dances during the Pre-Centennial celebrations that caused the Pampa music clubs to sponsor the September 17 event. Last June 6 and 7 a total of more than 2,000 attended the dances in the gym.

Dancers from all over the Panhandle are invited—particularly those who attended the Pre-Centennial square dances.

FUNERAL RITES MRS. TRENT HELD HERE TUESDAY

Bishop Seamon of Amarillo Conducts Service At Episcopal Church

The last tribute of respect and esteem of her wide circle of friends was paid Mrs. Mantie Drew Trent at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon in a service read by Bishop E. C. Seamon of this Diocese at the Episcopal church.

Flower bearers were close personal friends of the deceased. They were Mrs. Floyd Lumpkin, Mrs. Simmons Powell, Mrs. B. F. Kirtley, Mrs. Forest Sawyer, Mrs. Bill Carroll, Mrs. Forest Taylor, and Mrs. Jas. H. Morris.

Those attending the casket were Ira Merchant, Floyd Lumpkin, Selden Bagby, Sam Dyer, Clyde Price, Forest Taylor. The Buntin mortuary had charge of funeral arrangements.

Mrs. Mantie Drew Trent was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Drew of Seymour where she was born November 28, 1897. The family moved to Clarendon in 1905. Mrs. Trent attended school here and at Tyler, Texas in 1917 where she taught bookkeeping in the Byrne Commercial College for some two years. She was married to Charles B. Trent in Tyler in 1919, and had made her home with her husband in Clarendon since that date.

Besides her husband, she is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Drew of Seymour. Three sisters; Mrs. Lalar Wilkerson of Clarendon and Misses Beatrice and Florence Drew of Seymour. Her brothers are C. O. Drew of Pampa and V. J. Drew of Oklahoma City.

Two nephews and two nieces survive her. They are Drew Wilkerson of Clarendon and Jack Drew of Oklahoma City, and Lalar Belle and Margaret Wilkerson of Clarendon.

The lifeless body of Mrs. Trent was found in her home here Saturday night about 9:30 with a pistol wound in head and the weapon by her side.

We are poorer here in Clarendon by the withdrawal of a most loyal wife and dutiful daughter—a woman of faithful friendships, of delicate gentilities, and of eager kindnesses. Her enthusiasm for everything that was good in civic and social life; her creative, if impetuous belief in the possibilities of our divine human nature found expression best in doing good deeds for others.

In her Les Beaux Arts club and other associations with our people here, we learned to admire the sweet noble character, for her self-sacrifice, her anxiety for the peace and happiness of those of our little city. Then may we say in the language of the poet—

Shelter at last
From the storms of life
In the harbor of perfect love!
Haven of rest
From the toil and strife,
In the happy Home above!
Calm is the sea,
And the white ships go
With the sails furled and still;
And the Master speaks
And the winds obey!
Blessed be God's holy will!

Those near and dear to her sit with bowed heads struck dumb by one of life's greatest tragedies. All Clarendon is sad today because of the passing of one of God's noble women who will long live in the memory of those who appreciated her most because they knew her best.

Judge Link's Family Makes Tour of Southwest

"I never before knew that all of New Mexico outside the irrigated region was a desert," was the laconic remark of Judge Link Tuesday. He and Mrs. Link and Miss Joyce, daughter of Judge and Mrs. W. T. Link were accompanied by Mrs. Link's sister, Mrs. Smith of Throckmorton and her two children, Hollis and Addrienne.

They visited the famed Ruidoso west of Roswell, the garden spot of the southwest where fruit, vegetables and small plots of grain grow in abundance.

The Carlsbad Cavern occupied their attention for the most interesting object of the trip where 1145 passed through during their day there. Of that number, 545 were Texans. The Judge says that Texans keep up the Cavern and the tourist parks in New Mexico, many being seen in the majority at all points.

The trip to El Paso was made over the "cut-off" highway from the Caverns direct to El Paso via the salt mines, though most of the highway was traversed over night, the desert shown in all its beauty, if one can find beauty in a desert.

Town Boy Goes After Big Game in Country

Donald Townson, aged 13, visited on the farm with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Robinson north of Goldston last week. With very little else to employ his time, the lad went in for big game.

He killed the sixth rattlesnake by throwing rocks, dragged in and saved the rattles—seven and a button. When he returned here he had a black widow spider bottled up. Donald can't find big game perhaps, but he gets "bad" game instead.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan L. Cox left Wednesday for Dallas where Nathan will be examined in a clinic with hopes of health benefits.

Ashtola Citizens Take Long Delayed Honeymoon

Taking a honeymoon thirty years after the ceremony is something out of the ordinary, but circumstances were such that a trip could not be taken until recently.

It was back in 1906 when Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Poovey got married down in Rusk county. Their youngest now past thirteen, the old folks (?) felt as though they could get away a spell—and did.

They visited the old Rusk county relatives and friends of former days. They spent some time near Garland in Dallas county, where they lived before coming to Donley.

Onions were wasting by thousands of bushels in Dallas county, Mr. Poovey said Saturday. They have no market. Piles of them along the highway produce a rotting odor that is not akin to peaches, he says.

Then he saw worms eating the leaves off cotton and airplanes spreading poison on them. He saw some rain, the first there in some time, but came back to Donley better satisfied.

Bountiful Rain Creates New Atmosphere of Hope

Late Sunday a large cloud came up from the north bringing a rain that measured one and a quarter inches in Clarendon. The rain is the first of the general type in several months and covered a wide section from up on the plains to the cross timbers.

Rain continued to fall the greater part of the night, falling slowly and most all of it soaking into the parched earth. Farmers state that cotton in good shape will be benefited, and that the rain will be a great help to insure a bumper feed crop.

Says WM. BRADLEY, HEAD AMBULANCE ORDERLY "You can't be a 'softy' on a job like mine. You have to look at suffering and accidents and be hard-boiled about them. Somehow or other though, when I hear it's a blow-out accident my blood turns cold. Take my word for it, if you ever saw one had blow-out accident, you'd never gamble on tires."
