SIX YEAR PRISON TERM GIVEN DARBISON IN AUTO DEATH

BORGAN CONVICTED ON TWO COUNTS IN DISTRICT COURT HERE MONDAY

Both Charges Were Outgrowth of Fatal Automobile Collision In Which S. S. (Shake) Davis Was Killed In January

Verdicts totaling six consecutive years were returned in District Court here Monday against Roy T. Darbison of Borger, in two trials in connection with the death of S. S. (Shake) Davis, of Memphis, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident near here last Janu-

A four year sentence was fixed by a jury on the first charge, of murder without malice, after thirty minutes of deliberation.

Waiving a jury, Darbison pleaded guilty to the second indictment, driving while intoxicated, and asked for mercy of the court. Judge Moss passed the maximum sentence of two years.

The sentences are to run consecutively Judge Moss determined. Three Elections Set For Darbison was without counsel, and defended himself in the first trial. He declined to cross question the witnesses and addressed the jury only briefly in the closing

He said Davis' car was on the south side of the road with the automobile allegedly owned by Darbison, also on the south side about 200 yards farther down the pavement pointing southeast, and hough upright, was badly battered, he stated.

Pierce said marks on the pave ment where the accident occurred pointed to the fact that Davis had driven almost off the north side to avert a collision. He stated Davis was coming toward Clarendon and Darbison was going east. The marks were nearly six inches from the north side of the hard surface, he asserted.

Pierce further testified that a tire impression indicated where the Davis car had swerved toward the left after the impact. He also described his version of the hurtling automobile as indicated by cuts in the pavement.

The left front wheel of the Darbison car was bent egg-shape and only the hub of the right front wheel was left after the collision. The damaged wheels left deep impressions from the north side of the pavement to where the car halted at the south side of the road, the sheriff testified.

He also asserted that when he and his deputy, Guy Wright, reached the accident, Darbison was getting out of the driver's seat. He said upon questioning the occupants that Darbison told Wright that he was the owner and driver.

Darbison walked straight but appeared to be under the influence of intoxicating liquor, the sheriff

Hen Welds Easter Egg For Master

Having always been nice to his flock of chickens, a Rhode Island Red hen repaid W. J. Holland's kindness with an especially built Easter egg Sunday morning.

The egg, normal in shape, appears to be welded in the middle and measures 81/2 inches in length, and 7 inches in circumference.

The hen is the only one on record suspected of having acetylene welding ability.

REMORSE FOLLOWS GREED.

Aesop many years ago gave to the world a lesson on greed. It was labeled a fable, but it carried a punch. According to the story, the dog carrying a bone saw his reflection in the water. Mistaking the reflection for another dog carrying an additional bone, the hero of the fable dropped his own bone secure in his mouth that he might take the bone from the other dog. It is a kindergarten fable, but it aptly illustrates what is about to happen to the greedy race horse game or racket in Texas.

Among the objectionable features connected with horse races in Texas might be noted the bookmakers, faking winning horses, doping good horses to make them lose, and permitting an army of crooks to defraud the public through obtaining first-hand information from the inside before the race is run.

Investigations made relative to willingness to pay a proportionate share of taxes makes interesting reading. Epsom Downs at Houston valued at $3,000,000, is assessed at $108,800. Alamo Downs at San Antonio is valued at $3,000,000 and assessed at $9,000. Arlington Downs that cost around $5,000,000, goes on the tax assessor's rolls for Governor Allred is against the racing game in Texas. The big majority of our citizens are against the crooked racket. Horse racing is a noble sport, but it will have to be operated on a decent basis to get by very long in Texas.

THE GOVERNOR AND THE LEGISLATURE.

It has never been a habit of Texas legislatures to work in harmony with Texas governors. Sometimes the hostility to his views is selfish, rooted in politics. Quite often, of course, it is utterly sincere, based on honest differences of opinion. There is nothing at all new in the present legislature's unwillingness to accept the governor's views on the pardon board bill, tax remissions, pension liberalization, revenue problems, child labor and several other questions.

Where opposition to the governor is due to difference of opinion, there can be no criticism of it. Texas does not want a legislature with no mind of its own. But those who oppose the governor merely because they are at odds with him politically would do well to read up on Texas legislative history. They will find that, as a general rule, the more bitterly a legislature in the past has opposed a governor, the more the governor has profited, politically, by it in the end. Almost invariably, there has been a popular reaction against the legislators and for the governor.

In the matters now in controversy between the legislature and the governor, the weight of public opinion is heavily on the governor's side. In insisting on the race track betting repeal bill, he is in accord with the party platform and with overwhelming popular sentiment; in vetoing the pardon bill, he is calling on the legislature to comply with the amendment on which the bill must be based. In announcing his unwillingness to approve tax remission bills, he is taking proper cognizance of the state's financial condition and of the powerful forces that are quietly working for a sales tax, which he is pledged to oppose. In asking the legislature to hold appropriations down and to provide adequate revenue, he is merely applying common sense arithmetic to the state's balance sheet. If the legislature undertakes to override his position on pension liberalization, it will find that an enormous number of those who favor pensions in principle would be out of line with the federal requirements.

It will be far easier for the governor to justify his position on each of these questions than it will for the legislature, should it persist in its opposition, to do so. There has been little in the legislature's conduct so far to cause the people of Texas to be proud of it, or even satisfied with it. It must accomplish a great deal, in the remaining weeks of the session, if it is to measure up to the needs and the wishes of Texas. No one expects it to accept the governor's leadership blindly or unquestionably, but in those matters in which public sentiment is with him, the legislature should recognize as much.—Wichita Daily Times.

MUSEUM SIDELIGHTS

Many took advantage of the opportunity to visit the Donley County Museum in the College Building during the interscholastic meet Friday and Saturday. Mrs. L. Bagby reports that 215 registered during the two days.

Several teachers are planning on student body visits to the Museum before the end of the present school term Latest contributions include picture of prehistoric reptile found near Spur by Dr. E. C. Case, paleontologist of the University of Michigan in 1920.

Mrs. A. L. Journeay of Houston sends an ink stand brought from Germany in 1862. Mr. Journeay was county judge here many years

A. Pitman contributes a hound horn and branding iron. Mrs. R. L. Bigger has given a large mounted elk head.

A. C. Stults, member of the college faculty, contributes a book formerly owned by Warren Hastings, governor-general of Bengal; Indian musical instrument; spear point, and a mastodon tooth.

Mrs. Newton Smith, wife of the Episcopal minister, has given Chinese coins, German bible, Chinese stamps, and Hawaiian leis.

Among the recent oddities from the realm of beauty are the shell given by John Molesworth Jr., and an oriole nest mounted on a twig, gift from Mrs. W. W. Taylor. Forest Morton is the giver of a fine collection of arrow heads. Mrs. T. H. Peebles, an ardent supporter of the Museum, has given a star fish and a peculiar sea animal recently, as well as a tree

Governor Allred Issues New London Proclamation

Governor James V. Allred this week issued a proclamation for the observance of the New London School Memorial day, to be set on Wednesday, April 7th.

The proclamation in part:

"Out of the pall of grief which hangs heavily over Texas and the nation in the wake of the New London school disaster, there comes the request of many school children for the permission to participate in a memorial for the victims.

It has been proposed that each school child in Texas be allowed to contribute one penny on Wednesday, April 7, in a simple memorial exercise conducted by the teacher and that such contributions be forwarded the Governor of Texas for proper use by the New London School Memorial Committee.

Therefore, I. James V. Allred. Governor of the State of Texas, by virtue of the power invested in my office, do hereby proclaim in the public sch oolsof Texas the day of Wednesday, April 7, as and urge its observance by all the schools of Texas."

George W. Kavanaugh. Donley County school superintendent said yesterday that he urges all principals to assist in observance of the Memorial Day.

Local Vocational Agriculture Students To Compete In Texas Tech Contest

Four judging teams representing the Clarendon High School vocational agriculture department will participate in the twelfth annual poultry and dairy judging contests to be held at Lubbock, April 9, J. R. Gillham, instructor, announced this week.

Approximately 1,000 boys are expected to take part in the contests which are scheduled to start at 8 o'clock.

The Clarendon teams will inspect the Tirra Boanca Hog and Dairy farms at Canyon and will spend most of April 8 in practice judging, Gillham said.

Team members have not been selected but will be chosen from Rayburn Smith, Jelly McGowen, Ray Palmer, Homer Speed, Jack Reeves, Junior Swift, Watt Hardin, Jack Robinson, Donald Harlan, Max Wilson, Eugene Putman, Tick Barbee, Frank Mahaffey and Earl Shannon

DARBISON-

(Continued from Front Page) 400 yards to the Davis car. The lights were still burning on the automobile, he said and as he approached he saw the outline of his body on the ground. He said he asked what happened and a man. he thought to be Darbison or Means, said that a dead man was over there.

Brame said he tried to aid Davis but could do little. "No one would help until Ben Tom Prewitt came up and said to put him in his car.'

Jim Cannon, another farmer living near, said he was milking when he heard a "racket". He said he rushed to the door of the barn and saw a car almost hit his mail box. He said he called several times and no one answered so he went back to milking. Later some men came by and informed him that another car had turned over farther up the road.

C. C. Baley, filling station and garage proprietor of Goodnight testified that he heard of the collision and recalled that on the night before two men driving a car answering the description of the Darbison automobile, had been to his station. One of the men asked him if they could buy liquor and when he had answered in the negative, they had continued on toward Davis Burris, operating a filling station and garage east of Baley's said the described car had appeared to start into his station but did not. He said they drove in the bar pit for about 100 yards but got back on the pavement alright.

B. L. Jenkins was called next and testified that he was a physician and had examined the defendant on the night of the accident. He said he could not fix the time he attended Darbison but that he appeared to be drinking.

Sid Powell, Ashtola school bus driver, told of being employed in a filling station at Ashtola on the night the men stopped and ordered a chaser. He said he saw them drink from a pint bottle, which looked like whiskey.

Felix Jones, the last witness called who saw the men before the collision, said they drove into his filling station in Clarendon. He asked if they wanted anything and they said only water. They also asked where Vernon was, he stated. He said that Means was driving when they left the station.

W. T. Hayter, proprietor of a filling station and garage west of Clarendon, said the defendant had also been to his place. Darbison appeared to be drinking he said, and had signed a charge ticket, on a Wichita Falls firm, for 4 gallons signed voluntarily by Darbison in the grandjury room. The statement sweep of the field. in part was that he (Darbison) was 33-years old. Had lived in of the collision driving.

Stella Lloyd, nurse, testified that she was on duty at the Adair Hospital when Davis was brought in. He was still living, but died in about 30-minutes, she stated.

In the second trial, after Darbison had pleaded guilty and the indictment read, Sheriff Pierce was again called to the stand and testiceding trial. Deaver also introduced the statement made by Darbison before the grandjury.

Taking the stand, Darbison said that he had been in Borger for 7 or 8 years. He said that he and Means had started to Dallas and had purchased a pint of whiskey in Borger. He admitted that he had been drinking at the time of the accident, but said that he had never driven while drunk and was not in the habit of drinking. He swore that he had been taught a lesson and would not drink again. Asked if he intended to be a model prisoner, he answered yes.

Upon questioning by the state's attorney, he asserted that he had been a welder since last summer, day. and had also been employed as a welder's helper. He stated that he had a wife in Oklahoma and was the father of one child. He admitted, under cross questioning, that he was aware at the time of the making that a statement to the grandjury in which he said that he was not drinking, was untrue.

Robert Montgomery, William Powell, Joan Crawford in "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" Showing April 7-8-9th at Pastime

JOAN AND BOB ARE TEAMED TOGETHER FOR FOURTH TIME

For the fourth time in six years Joan Crawford and Robert Montgomery are teamed in the type of intriguing comedy that has placed both in the top ranks of stardom.

This time they are reunited in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production of Frederic Lonsdale's sensational stage play, "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney," which comes to the Pastime Theatre Wednesday, April 7, opening a three day engagement. Miss Crawford appears as the delightful adventuress Fay Cheyney, and Montgomery as the persistent, titled wooer, Lord Arthur Dilling. William Powell plays the role of the distinguished butler.

"The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" was directed by Richard Boleslawski with one of the year's strongest comedy supporting casts. There are lavish settings by Cedric Gibbons with a regal English background.

Six years ago Miss Crawford and Montgomery first were seen together in "Our Blushing Brides." Their subsequent co-starring successes were "No More Ladies" and "Forsaking All Others."

Miss Crawford's most recent hits were "Gorgeous Hussy" and "Love on the Run." Montgomery recently scored in "Piccadilly Jim."

"The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" relates the intriguing adventures of a shop girl who "crashes" Lendon society and becomes the toast of the town until she is discovered to be an accomplice to a thief.

Community Items We had 63 present for Sunday school. I ask you very confidently wasn't that nice? We hope each and everyone will be present with us again next Sunday.

We also had a nice crowd present for singing Sunday night. We invite each one to be with us again next singing night, which is the second Sunday in April.

Entertainment Despite the cold weather Thursday, Miss Lopez Whitt's pupils made 21/2 gallons of ice cream. Was it good? Well you just aught to have been present. We surely did enjoy the cream. We will try it again when the weather warms up

Don't forget there will be an all day singing at Sunnyview Sunday, April 4th. Everybody is invited to come and bring a basket of eats. We are expecting quite a few singers from other counties.

School News At last the county meet is over. Yes, we won three ribbons, which were as follows:

is proud of them.

We would like to tell you about the fourth and fifth grade spelling team, even though this team, which consisted of Lou Ella White and Joe Smith, didn't win a place. We feel that they should be mentioned as Lou Ella White missed 3 words and Joe Smith missed 8 words, making an average of 941/2.

The Easter egg hunts were well attended. Each room had an Easter egg hunt. Prizes were awarded students for finding the most eggs. In Miss Orene Riley's room, Era Etta Cannon, Billie Faye Tucker and Robert Cannon found the most eggs. In Miss Lopez Whitt's room Margaret White and Bobbie Harold Smith found the most eggs.

* Services 10:50 a.m. and 5 p.m. *

* * * * * * * * *

Last Sunday was a great day in our Church. Tremendous crowds attended each of the services and a large group of people were received into the membership of the Church. However there were some who were not able to be present because of illness and other obstacles, who were to have been received in the Church. Therefore, we shall receive them next Sunday morning together with others who may present themselves for membership. Our revival meeting was a distinct success and we expect to continue the fine spirit of progress with which we closed our revival Sunday. Sunday school will open at 9:45, and the morning worship at 10:50, the pastor preaching.

We are glad to cooperate in the tion with the observance of College Week. Let us make much of this Sunday evening service.

JOAN AND BOB ARE TEAMED TOGETHER FOR FOURTH TIME

For the fourth time in six years Joan Crawford and Robert Montgomery are teamed in the type of intriguing comedy that has placed both in the top ranks of stardom.

This time they are reunited in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production of Frederic Lonsdale's sensational stage play, "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney," which comes to the Pastime Theatre Wednesday, April 7, opening a three day engagement. Miss Crawford appears as the delightful adventuress Fay Cheyney, and Montgomery as the persistent, titled wooer, Lord Arthur Dilling. William Powell plays the role of the distinguished butler.

"The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" was directed by Richard Boleslawski with one of the year's strongest comedy supporting casts. There are lavish settings by Cedric Gibbons with a regal English back-

Six years ago Miss Crawford and Montgomery first were seen together in "Our Blushing Brides." Their subsequent co-starring successes were "No More Ladies" and 'Forsaking All Others."

Miss Crawford's most recent hits were "Gorgeous Hussy" and "Love on the Run." Montgomery recently scored in "Piccadilly Jim."

"The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" relates the intriguing adventures of a shop girl who "crashes" London society and becomes the toast of the town until she is discovered to be an accomplice to a thief.

SUNNYVIEW

Community Items

We had 63 present for Sunday school. I ask you very confidently wasn't that nice? We hope each and everyone will be present with us again next Sunday.

We also had a nice crowd present for singing Sunday night. We invite each one to be with us again next singing night, which is the second Sunday in April.

Entertainment Despite the cold weather Thursday, Miss Lopez Whitt's pupils made 21/2 gallons of ice cream. Was it good? Well you just aught to have been present. We surely did enjoy the cream. We will try it again when the weather warms up a little.

Don't forget there will be an all day singing at Sunnyview Sunday, April 4th. Everybody is invited to come and bring a basket of eats. We are expecting quite a few singers from other counties.

School News At last the county meet is over. Yes, we won three ribbons, which were as follows:

place-Jack Ballew. Eighth grade and above Spelling 1st place—Ivon Ellis and Frank

We are proud of these students and we know that the community

is proud of them.

We would like to tell you about the fourth and fifth grade spelling team, even though this team, which consisted of Lou Ella White and Joe Smith, didn't win a place. We feel that they should be mentioned as Lou Ella White missed 3 words and Joe Smith missed 8 words, making an average of 941/2.

The Easter egg hunts were well attended. Each room had an Easter egg hunt. Prizes were awarded students for finding the most eggs. In Miss Orene Riley's room, Era Etta Cannon, Billie Faye Tucker and Robert Cannon found the most eggs. In Miss Lopez Whitt's room Margaret White and Bobbie Harold Smith found the most eggs.

Golden Ply Blow-out Protection

ARNING! High-speed blow-outs are caused by the terrific heat generated inside of tires by today's fast driving. In a nutshell, that's the reason behind the Life-Saver Golden Ply that's found in every Goodrich Safety Silvertown! This layer of special rubber and full-floating cords, is scientifically treated to resist this terrific internal heat. It keeps rubber and fabric from separating.

It keeps heat blisters from getting started inside the tire. HEAT CAUSES BLOW-OUTS.

And when you prevent the blister, you prevent the highspeed blow-out. Yet think of it! No other tire has this amazing Goodrich invention.

Can you honestly afford to be without the protection of these safer, tougher, longerlasting Silvertowns? Especially when Golden Ply Silvertowns cost even less than other superquality tires? Keep off the accident list. Drive in now and let us equip your car with this life-saving tire.

WELLINGTON, March 24. -Thirty-five banded quail were released in Collingsworth County last week for the purpose of studying the migration habits of the species, Austin O'Neil, game warden announced.

During the hunting season all hunters who kill one of these birds will be asked to return the band to a burletta." Let us take God at his officials so the approximated distance of miles traveled, by the bird, may be had.

HERE AND THERE

By Dick Cooke-

HERE-A touching courtroom scene was enacted here Monday when Mrs. Stella Darbison met her son as he was returned to the hall from jail after the noon recess. Throwing her arms around the prisoner she wept audibly. His only available words of encouragement were "Don't worry mother, it will be alright." Soon afterwards she sat red eyed, nervously twisting her handkerchief and heard a jury and judge sentence her boy to six years in prison.

HERE-While in Jail here, Darbison sold his battered death car for $15 and forwarded the sum to his mother on the farm near Ardmore, Oklahoma. He also sent her part of a $75 check, supposedly received in final payment of a job.

HERE-Snow which blanketed the Panhandle Monday was measured here at 2 inches with moisture recorded at .35 Temperature throughout the cold snap ranged from a high of 48 to a low of 16.

HERE-Following the condemnation of the courthouse cupola by the grandjury, workmen yesterday began building framework for its removal.

HERE-City commissioner T. M. Pyle, said Tuesday a large sign, near the business district, on Highway 5, was being set back from the pavement to allow better visibility for motorists.

HERE-Out of 45 candidates reporting to coach C. C. Jones for spring football training, 35 received ragged equipment and the remaining ten were uncared for. The situation was very disheartening, not only to the prospective players, but to the coach who hardly expects to maintain interest under the conditions. Also injuries may be frequent and severe with no protection from equipment.

THERE-New York police were last week looking for a bite and run horse. As Andrew Graziano was sweeping the sidewalk, a horse, attached to a junk wagon, mounted to the pavement, bit Graziano on the left arm and then trotted off.

THERE-According to proposed legislation, persons may take public offices in Texas no matter how many duels they have fought. .. If passed, the amendment would oust the anti-dueling provision which has been in the oath since the Texas Constitution was adopted 61 years ago.

THERE-Robert Miller, 23, Arizona Boy Scout executive, who has been missing since last Wednesday, admitted yesterday to Elpaso officers that his story of his kidnapping was a hoax. Miller said that his money gave out after he had been roaming around and he decided on the story.

THERE—A questionaire submitted to 275 Denver students revealed that the boys don't care to take out girls that smoke. Manners, habits and morals took precedence over appearance in the answers.

THERE-In a freak auto accident in Dallas one car was knocked 275 feet, but no one was injured. A woman was slowing for an intersection when the car was struck in the rear.
