GOLDSTON COMMUNITY GOES OVER IN BIG BOND RALLY

In what is said to be one of the largest get togethers in many years, the people of the Goldston community got together last Friday night and really had a bond rally that produced the results.

The Goldston community bond committee was headed by Cleo Woods and he went to work and really got the stuff together for the auction sale, and had a show out there that none of the participants will ever forget.

The bond sales totaled over $7,000 for the night and over $100 was raised for the school fund.

Some items of the sale included hats donated by local merchants, and brought by $500 to $1,000. Leonis Yankee, a sailor who is home and from that community, put his little hat up for sale. It brought $1,000 the first time sold and was returned and sold again for $100.

The school house was packed and jammed and Cleo Woods added that he would like to thank each and everyone for their cooperation in the rally in helping to put the drive over in his district.

Pruning Fruit Trees Correctly

Charles Reed, Donley County Agent, recommends the following suggestions:

Trees well cared for grow good fruit. And, according to J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist for the A&M College Extension Service, pruning of young trees has much to do with their successful growth and development.

The framework of first and second-year trees should be developed from a selection of three to five branches. A space of at least six inches should be left between a chosen framework branch and the one above it. Otherwise crochets will form which may cause limbs to break in later years. Second and third-year trees are pruned by taking off some end growth and thinning some of the inside shoots which are closing in the top of the tree. At the same time all water sprouts on the trunk and framework branches should be removed.

In most cases the method of pruning varies with the species. Peach and plum trees are pruned in about the same manner—namely, removing about one-fourth of the current season's growth. Apples and pears require little pruning beyond thinning the branches on young trees which tend to become crossed up. This will minimize damage from breaking in after years.

Facing a large peach tree with pruning shears and saw, Rosborough says to do this: Begin the job from the inside of the tree. Do not remove the lateral, or side, branches which form the secondary growth. That would tend to make the fruit develop only on the ends of branches. Standing close to the tree, remove all sprouts except a few scattered ones which should be cut about half in two. These will send out side branches and provide some summer shade for the upper surface of branches. After going over the inside of the tree, walk to the outside and with hand shears remove about one third of the current season's long, excess growth. This may be done on plum as well as bearing peach trees.

The job done, the first step toward having a better fruit crop in 1944 has been taken. But gather up and burn the small branches sheared off. Left on the ground they make a good harbor for borers which would infest the trees later.

COTTON GINNING REPORT

According to W. M. Patman, Special Agent, the Census report shows that 8,409 bales of cotton were ginned in Donley County from the crop of 1943 prior to Jan. 16, 1944 as compared with 14,122 bales for the crop of 1942.

Lelia Lake and Windy Valley to Hold Rally Friday, Feb. 11

Quinn Aten and Dr. H. R. Beck, captains of the Lelia Lake and Windy Valley school districts, announced this week their plans for a Bond rally and box supper to be held in a joint gathering at the Lelia Lake High School building on the night of Friday, Feb. 11th, beginning at 8 p. m. The program will consist of auctioning off the boxes prepared by the ladies of these communities for bonds. A band concert by the Clarendon Band, a short talk by R. E. Drennan and a short program by the Lelia Lake school students.

It was announced also that if there was too many boxes than could be sold for bonds, that they would be auctioned off to cash buyers and aid the USO quota for that district. Everyone is invited to plan to attend.

M. W. Mosley was in town Tuesday attending to some unfinished business, getting ready to move to a warmer climate soon.

'Seed Loans' Now Available

Emergency Crop Loans, known generally as "the seed loans," are now available to farmers for the production of vitally important food crops and normal crops for 1944, according to announcement of W. E. Farwell, Manager of the Dallas Emergency Crop Loan Office of the Farm Credit Administration.

Applications for the loans in this county are being taken at the Donley County AAA Office in Clarendon, each Wednesday afternoon by Field Supervisor, W. E. Anderson.

Funds obtained under these loans may be used to cover the general expense of crop production including the cost of preparing the land, purchase of seed, feed, fuel oil, fertilizer and supplies. A first mortgage on the crops to be financed is the security required.

These loans have been made in this county for a number of years and have proven of great benefit to farmers of limited collateral whose cash requirements are small. The maximum loan to an individual is $400.00. Applicants who can secure loans from banks or other sources are not eligible for "the seed loans."

As in the past, borrowers will be required to plant a large garden for home use and a balanced crop program will be encouraged.

RATIONING AT A GLANCE

By PEPPY BLOCKER

After publication last month of suggested ceiling prices on liquor, the New Orleans District OPA office received two "orders" from newspaper readers who asked the office to send them certain quantities of whiskey "as per your advertisement of OPA prices."

Irene Cooper, Price Clerk of the Labette County War Price and Rationing Board of Parsons, Kansas, sends in the following ditty—with apologies to that currently popular gal, the "Pistol Packing Mama":

Listen to the story of
The housewives of the nation—
They're the gals who raise the howls
And help hold down inflation.

Hold them prices down, Babe!
Hold them prices down—
Stay right in there, Mama,
Hold them prices down.

Don't go shopping at a store
Where prices send you reeling,
Patronize the honest guys
Who don't exceed the ceiling.

Hold them prices down, Babe!
Hold them prices down—
Stay right in there, Mama—
Hold them prices down!

A woman recently visited the office of Luther Atkins, OPA Rent Control Manager for the Oklahoma City District, and declared: "You've just got to raise the rent on my property. I'm a poor widow and my only means of existence comes from the little I receive from my son's property."

And then, too, there's the expense of my poor sick husband who is in the hospital."

Atkins, tactful and courteous, leaned back but failed in an effort to stifle a chuckle.

"And I'll have you know something else, young man," the visitor retorted. "This is no laughing matter."

"Lady," Atkins replies, apologetically, "I'm not being unkind of your hardship. But, I'm just trying to correlate the fact that you are a widow, yet you have a poor sick husband in the hospital."

BROTHERS MEET UP IN ENGLAND

When two brothers meet here at home - - - well that isn't much to talk about; but when two brothers meet each other after months of separation and on foreign soil at that - - - well that is something to write home about—and that is exactly what they did.

Sometime during the first part of January of this year, Lieut. William D. Townson and Sgt. Donald C. Townson had the good fortune of meeting each other somewhere in England. Donald has been in England about a year, and William about two months.

The brothers are sons of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Towson of Turkey and grandsons of Mrs. Alice Townson of Clarendon. Both boys lived here at one time.

Donald states in his letter that he sure would like to see "good old Texas again." Yes they celebrated their reunion and topped it off by having their pictures taken together.

POLL TAX RECEIPTS HIT HIGH PEAK

According to final tabulations of the Tax Assessor-Collector office, a total of 1,808 receipts were issued up until midnight Jan. 31st. This number, compared with the total of last year which was 1,341, gave an increase of 467.

It seems as though most everyone is interested in politics this year and intend to exercise their privilege to vote. It being a main election year, also has had something to do with the big purchase.

Bob Hanks and a friend, Morice Thompson of Brownfield, visited his parents, Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Hanks the week end.

McMurry College In Campaign For $1,750,000.00

No campaign in the history of The Methodist Church in West Texas and New Mexico has ever met with such approval and general response as has the $1,750,000 Endowment and Building Fund Campaign for McMurry College, which is now under headway in this area. To ask of the Church an Endowment Fund of $1,000,000.00 for a college, and at the same time to build four great new buildings at a cost of $750,000.00 is unprecedented in both magnitude and vision for the possibilities of a Christian Educational Institution.

In response to a recommendation of President Harold G. Cooke, to the Board of Trustees of the College last Commencement, plans were laid, and a vigorous cultivation was begun for the conduct of such a campaign. Both the importance and magnitude of the program caught the imagination of the Methodist people of West Texas and New Mexico. The Annual Conferences and District Meetings endorsed the program, and Conference allotments, District Quotas, and Church goals were voluntarily set to cover the entire amount. To date, approximately one-half of the amount has been secured in cash, bonds, and subscriptions—and work on the campaign has just begun in most Churches.

DR. HAROLD G. COOKE
President McMurry College
Ablene, Texas

The Clarendon District Quota has been set at $60,000.00. From the beginning of the Campaign, the Committee has suggested that Series "F" or "G" Bonds be given to the Fund, in lieu of cash or subscriptions, thus enabling the donors to serve both their Country and their Church at one and the same time. Donors are helping to win the war by purchasing bonds, and helping to preserve the Peace, by building a Christian Education Institution to produce Christian leadership for the crucial years following the war.

While returning from a business trip to Oklahoma City the week end, Grover C. Heath had the misfortune to collide with a car at or near the highway intersection north of Jericho about 8:30 Sunday night.

Mr. Heath was accompanied by Dr. C. G. Stricklin who was in quest of a car on the trip. The doctor was injured about the neck compelling him to remain at home several days. Mr. Heath suffered only minor bruises. The entire side of the Heath car was "side-swiped," he stated.

The other party, was said to be driving a "one-eyed" car, and resided at Erick, Oklahoma. His car was slightly damaged.

RECEIVES GRAPEFRUIT

Imagine his delight when J. H. Hurn received a half bushel of nice grapefruit from Mrs. Phifer Estlack from Gainesville, Florida, last week. Mrs. Estlack is a niece of Mr. Hurn and is a daughter of Frank Hurn of Henrietta.

WORTH WHILE COMMENTS BY COUNTY AGENT Charles O. Reed

HYBRID CORN

One of the best means to obtain higher corn yields per acre is by the use of hybrid corn. The production of hybrid corn for seed purposes has been expanding rapidly for the past several years. In 1943 approximately 1,800 acres were certified by Texas growers. Approximately 30,000 bushels were produced which should enable Texas farmers to plant 250,000 acres to hybrid corn in 1944. This is only about 5% of Texas corn acreage. Hybrid corn seed are in demand and orders for seed should be placed now.

Results for past three years at Texas Experiment Station indicate that hybrid corn will produce about 20% more corn than regular corn. Hybrid corn must be adapted to area for best results.

For Donley County the only two varieties that are recommended at this time are:

1. Hybrid corn No. 12—a yellow double cross hybrid, rather uniform, medium size ear with small grain. It is probably the best of Texas hybrid corn produced and has produced more bushels per acre at majority of experiment stations except at Lubbock. The three year average at Lubbock was 29.3 bushels per acre.

2. Hybrid corn No. 8 is a yellow double cross hybrid, not as generally adapted over Texas as No. 12 but stands up better under summer droughts, and produced more at Lubbock than other varieties tested. The three year average at Lubbock was 31.2 bushels per acre, and is recommended for central and west Texas. This corn produces a larger ear and grain than No. 12 but does not produce as uniform ears.

The following recommendations are given for hybrid corn:

(A) Buy only first year seed from certified growers in this area.

(B) Varieties recommended are Hybrid No. 8 and Hybrid No. 12.

(C) Plant on good corn land well drained, fertile soil using same amount of seed as native corn, with stalk every three feet.

(D) Do not plant too early. Experiments prove that the best time to plant is about time of last frost. Corn planted early is usually lost by frost. Hybrid corn grows off faster than native corn and usually stands up under summer droughts better.

(E) Since only a limited amount of Hybrid seed corn is available, orders should be placed immediately.

The County Agent's Office has a list of 1943 Certified Seed growers in case you desire to order seed or to obtain price quotations on planting seed.

JIM RILEY NOW A GUNNER ABOARD S/S POELAU-LAUT

Jim Riley, who was home a few days ago on furlough, is now back on the West coast where he is a gunner aboard the S/S Poelau-laut, troop transport ship.

Jim Riley S/1c enlisted in the U. S. Navy Sept. 30, 1943. He took his boot training in the San Diego Training Station and spent four weeks in a gunnery mates school at Destroyer Base, San Diego, Calif. Before his enlistment Jim was a farmer of the Midway community. He is a son of Mrs. H. L. Riley of this city.

ROBT. WELDON WARREN MADE SERGEANT

Word from Weldon to his folks here states that he was promoted Feb. 1st from Corporal to Sergeant at the Army Air Base, Frederick, Okla., where he has been located since the opening of that field. Weldon's many friends here will share with him this deserved promotion. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Warren of this city.

Dr. B. L. Jenkins left Monday for a 2 weeks visit at Dallas.

Bond Quota Passes Half-Way Mark

War Bond buying still lags in Donley county quota although there is approximately half the drive left to raise the needed $134,020.20 to put us over the top.

Workers expressed concern over the slow progress being made in some districts, but added the hope that the series of bond rallies and other activities scheduled during the coming week would bring increased enthusiasm.

McKnight is having a rally Friday night of this week. Hedley is having its rally next week. Bray and Giles are seeing their citizens personally.

There have been two districts that have already gone over the

REV. GEO. M. RICKELS TO PREACH SUNDAY AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Geo. M. Rickels will preach here at the local Baptist Church Sunday morning and night in view of selecting a new pastor for the local church. Rev. Rickels comes highly recommended and local members are urged to be present and hear him.

Rev. E. L. Moody, local pastor, has been elected to the State Evangelistic Board, an honor which comes to but few men in a life time. Rev. and Mrs. Moody will make their home at Wichita Falls after March 1st. The local membership is reluctant to see the good pastor and his wife leave but rejoice in their good fortune and wish them success in their new field of endeavor.

POST OFFICE EMPLOYEES BOOST BOND SALE

The postmaster and the four clerks at the local postoffice purchased a total of $3,412.50 of bonds, and $377.20 in Savings Stamps the past week to boost Donley county's quota of bond purchases. Postmaster J. C. Estlack stated Tuesday at the Lions luncheon that further purchases are possible if necessary for this drive that closes the 15th.

BACK ON FURLOUGH

Leondis Yankee, who was sent to San Francisco, Calif., where he has been in a hospital, visited his wife and other relatives here last week. He has been in the Hawaiian Islands. Mrs. Yankee accompanied him to San Francisco Mon.

Friends of Mrs. W. T. Clifford will be glad to hear she was able to be moved home Monday from the St. Anthony Hospital in Amarillo where she has been for a month.

CANNING SUGAR NOW AVAILABLE

Housewives may now get five pounds of canning sugar by using stamp No. 40 in ration book four. OPA has announced, and additional canning sugar later will be available on application to local boards. Stamp No. 40 will be good 13 months, through Feb. 28, 1945.

so far and they are Goldston and Midway consolidated. These district captains are Cleo Woods and H. T. Burton. They are stirring up quite a bit of interest in the other districts, for they know they can do as well as the other communities.

Among the big bond buyers so far in this drive were the Denver R. R., $10,000; United Fidelity Life Insurance Co., $10,000; Southwestern Life Insurance Co., $5,000; Telephone Co., $2,000; Rock Island R. R., $25,000; Foxworth-Galbraith Lbr. Co., $1,000 and West Texas Utilities Co., $2,000.

The following is a tabulation showing how each team or community is standing at the close of business Tues. night of this week.

Charles Reed, Donley County Agent, has received the following information from College Station:

Beef calves, sheep and hogs which went to market from Texas 4-H Club boys' pastures and feeding lots in 1943 were sufficient to provide 14,167 fighting men with meat for one year.

Sales from these demonstrations last year put $1,687,925 into the pockets of 40,606 boys enrolled in 4-H work in the state, according to reports compiled by the Texas A&M College Extension Service.

This home front campaign was carried on by the members of 4,162 clubs under the supervision of their county agricultural agents and with the assistance of 3,726 adult local leaders. But it was completed under most difficult conditions. On account of the labor or shortage, boys took a larger share of the routine farm work on their shoulders than ever before, but the demonstration work went on notwithstanding. When they were finished, however, the boys put on the market 6,022 beef calves, 4,284 sheep and goats, and 26,269 hogs. In addition there were field crops and poultry demonstrations, along with livestock and and poultry products—wool, mohair, and eggs.

The year's production wasn't all hard work. The boys held a total of 162 club shows in different parts of the state. They exhibited 8,988 head of livestock and divided thousands of dollars in prize money and received hundreds of blue, red and white ribbons representing the classes in which their calves, hogs, sheep and goats placed.

The slogan of the 1943 Texas 4-H Club boys was "feed a fighter." Some had goals to produce the equivalent of the food budgets of all the men in the service from their counties. The 195 club boys in Swisher County put so much energy into the job that they overshot the goal. With 609 men in the armed services they produced enough to equal the food budget for 621 men for one year.

J. A. Warren visited his daughters in Amarillo Sunday.

LIBRARY NOTES

By Mrs. C. A. Burton

Our latest order of new books brought us two Pollyanna books: "Pollyanna's Door to Happiness" and "Pollyanna's Golden Horseshoe." These "Glad" books, begun long ago, have continued to bring courage and gladness to many readers. The first ones were written by Eleanor H. Porter. After her death Harriet Lummis Smith continued the stories and now these last ones are written by Elizabeth Barton.

Two other books with which we are delighted are of the Silver

Chief dog stories by Jack O'Brien: "Silver Chief to the Rescue," and "Silver Chief Returns," and another equally as good dog story, "Broken Fang" by R. G. Montgomery. Added to these are two of Terhune's splendid dog stories, "Lad of Sunnybank," and "Further Adventures of Lad."

Then for our smaller readers we have three of the perennial favorites, the Bobsey Twins by Laura Lee Hope—"The Bobsey Twins at the Ice Carnival," "The Bobsey Twins in the Land of Cotton," and "The Bobsey Twins in Echo Valley." Two other books which these younger readers will enjoy are "Ashkee of Sunshine Water: a Navajo Indian Boy," and "All Through the Night" by Rachel Field.

Then for the "grown-ups" there are a few new westerns: "Riders Across the Border," Jackson Gregory; "Rifled Gold," W. C. Tuttle; "Bucky Follows a Cold Trail," William McLeod Raine; "Parson of Panamint," Peter B. Kyne; "Chip of the Flying U," Bower—replacing a worn out copy; "Freckles Comes Home" by Gene Stratton Porter is also a replacement, and these which follow are by favorite authors: "China Sky," Pearl Buck; "The Lucky Lawrences," Kathleen Norris; "Nurses Are People," Louise Platt Hauck; "Workaday Lady," Maysie Greig; "War Wife," Renee Shann; "The Wagon and the Star," Lida Larrimore; "The Search," Grace Livingstone Hill; "The Crystal Tree," Hauck; "I Wanted Wings," Beirne Lay; "Cloudy Jewell," Grace L. Hill; "You Can't Take It With You," a drama by Hart and Kaufman.

Quite often our friends pass on a book to us. Recently Bob Clifford gave us an aviation story for boys and the Book Club gave us "Generation of Vipers." Another addition to our shelves is a slender volume called "Thoughts In Verse" by Mrs. Sarah Ellen Hall of Hedley, a former Clarendon resident who will be remembered by many of our people. These charming "Thoughts" will be enjoyed by her friends.

Walt Disney's film version of De Seversky's "Victory Through Air Power" has scored one of his greatest successes. The book led the best-sellers in non-fiction for quite a long time.

Deep regret was felt by his reading public at the news of the death of William Allen White at his home in Emporia, Kansas a few days ago. "The Sage of Emporia" had left his impress on the life of the nation in many ways during his life of 76 years. His books and short stories as well as his editorials have influenced public thinking and no book for months past has been more popular than "They Were Expendable," written by William Allen White's son, W. L. White. Another best seller by this same one who is following in his father's footsteps is "Queens Die Proudly," a story of air warfare.

The statement has been made that the first edition of the forthcoming "Letters of Alexander Woolcott" will run to 50,000 copies.

He might remind you that he couldn't "afford" to go to war! But he went, and now he's making more sacrifices... for you. No wonder he expects you to do something that will help him!

Especially when all you're asked to do is to buy an extra $100 War Bond this month. HOW TO SAVE SHIRT MONEY AND BUY MORE WAR BONDS

You can save shirt money by making your shirts last longer. Follow these 8 conservation tips, and you'll have more money to lend Uncle Sam!

- 1 Before laundering, turn shirt collars up. This reduces rubbing along top edge.
2 Soak badly soiled shirts overnight in light soap solution. This eliminates heavy scrubbing. Give shirts three hot rinses.
3 Use very little starch and bleaching. No starch for non-wilt collars; no bleaching for colored shirts.
4 If you're a needle expert, turn a collar when it frays.
5 Give extra-long sleeves a tuck. This saves cuffs from fraying.
6 Clip the edges off frayed cuffs and stitch edge again.
7 Look for the "Sanforized" label when buying a new shirt. "Sanforized"-labeled shirts won't shrink even 1%.
8 Save buttons and usable material on shirts you are about to discard.

Home Ec. Dept.

By Billie Jean Knox

The old Home Ec. Department has been buzzin' like a bee hive this semester, what with the freshman girls from Jr. High joining the Sophomore girls in their first year, and the Red Cross work and Home Nursing the second year girls have been taking.

In the first unit of the semester the first year girls took up "Good Grooming." And believe me, they learned how to be and look like real ladies. Well, anyway, they were supposed to.

The second unit provided the knowledge of making homes more livable. (Starting in young, aren't you girls?) They had gobs of fun. In all their home projects, they made 74 garments, 3 clothes closets, 184 coasters and hot pads, and about 20 holders for the coasters.

In their third unit, they took up clothing construction. That's where the headaches started. Of all the fitting and basting, sewing, then ripping, sewing again (yep, then ripping again,) you never saw the like. But they finally made it. And come spring, just watch those 50 new dresses blossom out. Although the second year girls hate to say it, these girls really beat them in selecting designs and in appearance of the finished dress.

The second year girls have done some good work too. Two weeks after school opened, they started a six-weeks Home Nursing course, and did they have fun! It was amazing to see how much knowledge they gained and to find out how little they really knew about caring for the sick. After the course was finished, twenty girls received their Red Cross certificates, and were they proud of them. They had reason to be. The course was no snap. It required much study and practice. After the Nursing course was finished, the girls took up Red Cross work: They made 53 Christmas trees and 135 nut cups for little favors to go on the hospital trays for the wounded in service. Also for the service men, they made 110 calendars for 1944, 70 address books, 40 tally cards, 10 score pads, all out of book binders trimmings, of different designs and colors.

They blockprinted a design on the corners of 1000 napkins for the service men. These were designs for different holidays as Christmas, New Year, Easter, St. Patrick, and two kinds of patriotic designs. These block prints are made by cutting a design into a piece of linoleum then inking around the design and pressing it on the napkins. It is very pretty on them.

The girls made 3 bridge table covers and 46 sewing kits. The kits contained 2 spools of thread (black and white), 2 needles, 6 buttons, and 6 safety pins. (The boys will probably use the safety pins first, then, if it is a case of have to, the needles, thread and buttons).

Before Christmas, the girls made a five pound apple sauce cake for the guards at the prison camp at McLean. It was whispered around that the guards forced the prisoners to eat it. No, really girls, it was a delicious looking cake.

The girls just gulped the work down about nutrition. They almost stuck on those things called vitamins, but they managed to wade through. And just watch those gals dish out the nutritious, hot meals. You'd better grab one of those little ladies, boys. They're a real catch.

The girls, taking all the burns, cuts, misfits, needlepricks, and basting in their stride, had lots of fun and accomplished an appreciable amount of work the first semester in Home Ec.

Clarence May was down from Pantex Monday.

An Inductee Speaks
I have been inducted into the army. No, I do not want to go to war. I am a young man just getting a start in life. I have a lovely wife and a wonderful baby. I don't want to go to war because I like to come home at night, put on soft shoes, light up my pipe, and sit peacefully by the fireside with my family.

I don't want to go to war because I'm living a good life, in a good American home. I like to have my evenings free to read the newspaper and listen to the radio. I like to have time to take a drink, if I like, and blow smoke rings. I'd rather get up at the sound of an alarm clock than a bugle.

I don't want to go to war because I like to stand on the corner and argue with my neighbors about whatever my fancy desires. I like to be able to go to church on Sunday or sleep late.

No, I don't want to go to war. But neither do 10,000,000 other men. And the reasons why I do not want to go to war are the very reasons why it is necessary that I go. This home, this wife, this baby—this quiet, peaceful life of freedom—must be saved!

COLONIAL LIFE AND LITERATURE

By Bob Bentley
(Pupil of Mrs. Cox)

Colonial America had a scarcity of literature because it was so tremendously occupied otherwise. When the settlers first arrived in America, they had to set to work and build houses, clear land, plant crops, and erect forts to fight hostile Indians. At the end of a day like this, they were not inclined to write, but to rest. Thus the literature that developed out of this turmoil was purely of a simple nature such as diaries and journals about every day happenings.

The first people to establish a colony in America were the Cavaliers, led by Captain John Smith, who landed at Jamestown, Virginia in the year 1607. These were the people that upheld the state church in England during the revolution over there. They lived the leisurely life of gentlemen, doing only the things that were necessary. Their main interest was politics, so they did very little writing.

The Pilgrims arrived at Plymouth, Massachusetts in the year

1620. They were led by Captain Miles Standish who was later immortalized by Longfellow. Among these pilgrims was William Bradford who wrote the first American literature regarding history. The Puritans were very different from the Cavaliers. They were the people who had tried to purify English religion in the revolution but had failed. Thus, they moved to America seeking free religion. Being very religious, they also believed in education, and it was not long before they had set up schools. By the year 1636 they had established Harvard University.

The Puritan ministers in that day ruled the people by repeating the will of the Lord to the people. Among other things, the people expected the minister to write literature also. Among these Puritan ministers came the Mathers, three brothers who gave their life to the ministry and writing literature. They wrote many things but their literature is not read any more. Probably the greatest Puritan minister was Jonathan Edwards. He was a wonderful orator. He had a forceful voice if need be, and also a very kind voice. He wrote some literature. The most famous is "On the Freedom of the Will", but he usually spent most of his time on sermons he was preparing.

Among the first literature were the diaries of Samuel Sewall and William Byrd. Sewall's diary gives a clear picture of the every day life in the New England colonies. Byrd's diary gives a view of the life of a southern gentleman. William Strachey's shipwreck was more than likely the first journal in America.

The histories were written by Captain John Smith, who wrote on the history of the Jamestown settlement in his "True Relation," and William Bradford who wrote an account of the landing of the Pilgrims. Another man, John Winthrop, wrote the history of the Massachusetts Bay Colony. Hawthorne got much information from Winthrop when he wrote "The Scarlet Letter."

The poetry among the colonial Americans was very limited. The Cavaliers had no use for poetry at all. The Puritans had a great use for literature, and this was illustrated by "The Bay Psalm Book." This book was a collection of the Psalms from the Bible put into metrical form for singing. Another poem book was the "New England Primer." This was for teaching school children the Pilgrim religion. "The Day of Doom" by Michael Wigglesworth, was very famous in the seventeenth century. It tells us how vividly real both Heaven and Hell seemed to the Puritans.

CHAPEL

The chapel program last Friday was very unusual; yet very interesting and entertaining, in that we were exposed to some new talent (to us anyway). Most of this program was given by the younger set.

Scharlene Pyeatt delighted us with a lovely piano solo, "Cotton Fluff."

Glen Wallace then gave two clever readings; one on fishing, the other on plans for the future, "Now that I'm a First Grader," that were enjoyed by everyone. "Cute as Cotton," a piano solo, was played by Sybil Head.

The next number was two very fetching readings by Mary Esther Hagler, a little girl who will be a real "orator" in the future.

This was followed by two vocal numbers given by Arvazene Smith, soprano, and Rubye Jo Kidd, alto; accompanied by Ochinita Heath.

Another speaker who is already well trained, Mary Ladell Cox, gave two witty readings; one on school, its virtues and faults; the other on marriage, its virtues and faults.

This was followed by a string trio, who have favored us before, Peggy Stewart, Violin; Claude Hearne, guitar; and Mr. Drennan, piano.

These interesting numbers can be attributed to the pupils of Mrs. Bryan and to the speech class of Mrs. Mears. We shall be looking forward to their favoring us again in the future.

CORRIDOR COMMENTS

Calvin Merchant was really up in the air about something that he thought Johnnie did last Sunday. We wonder—Could it be flirting with other boys??

Edith didn't seem to be very happy about something Friday. What was wrong, Edith?

Lotella Long, a former C.H.S. student, was seen on the Campus Thursday afternoon.

We are happy to have two new pupils in school, Dorothy Churchman from Sudan, and Edith Jo Becket from Memphis. Both are Juniors.

Barbara Bell seemed to be enjoying herself in the first period study hall Monday—looking at pictures in her biology book.

DANCE

Mary Ellen Pipes gave a dance at the Opera House last Thursday evening. About twenty couples enjoyed the good music, splendid floor, and delightful refreshments. Mrs. Goodner, Mr. and Mrs. Pipes and Mr. Drennan were the chaperones for the evening.

SCHOOL DANCE

The Sophomore class of C.H.S. gave a "Neutral" dance last Friday night. The boys "cut in" on the girls, and the girls returned the compliment by "cutting in" on them. The chaperones were Mrs. Stricklin, Miss Howren, Mrs. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Burton, and Mr. Drennan.

Farmer AAA Organization Praised

N. E. Dodd, chief of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency, transmitting the agency's report to Marvin Jones, War Food Administrator, today praised the farmer-elected committee organization of AAA as "the spearhead of agriculture's remarkable wartime accomplishments."

Dodd said that the committee organization provides "the framework that enables 6 million individual farmers in thousands of farm communities to work together as a team" to solve many of agriculture's problems both in peace and war.

"Without question, the post-war period will bring problems and a need for world-shaking adjustments of a different kind," the Chief said. "Whatever comes, farmers know that when individual action is not enough, the farmer committees have proved themselves an effective framework for joint action."

The report reviews the accomplishments of State, county and community committees during the 11 years of AAA programs. In peacetime, the committee organization helped farmers solve the problem of unmarketable surpluses through production adjustments and marketing quotas the report states. When war came, Triple-A devoted itself to mobilizing American farmers into "one huge, efficient production machine."

The expanded and different needs of wartime were determined, and then national production goals were translated into terms which informed each individual farmer how he could make his maximum contribution to victory.

Running through both the pre-war and war periods, Triple-A's soil conservation program has helped to maintain and increase soil productivity by encouraging farmers to adopt soil-building practices, the report stated. Since the AAA conservation program became fully effective in 1937, average crop yields for the 1937-42 period increased nearly 21 percent above the 1923-32 average. More than 84 percent of all the cropland in the U. S. was covered by the 1942 Agricultural Conservation Program.

Pointing out that the 100,000 farmer committeemen carry full responsibility for field administration of the conservation program, the report lists several other pre-war committee functions which have continued into the war years. These jobs include administration in the field of such programs as commodity loans, crop purchases, cover-crop seed production and crop insurance.

State and county AAA chairman also serve as chairman of USDA War Boards which have administered such programs as farm machinery and supplies, rationing, the issuance of construction permits and farmer applications for gasoline and tires. Responsibility for the functions detailed in the foregoing has recently been delegated directly to the Triple-A committee.

Commenting on plans for 1944, the report said that the farmer committee men soon will begin the 1944 production goals drive, telling their neighbors of national needs and helping them plan their individual operations in line with requirements for food, fiber and crop oils.

Expenditures of Triple-A for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1943 totaled $638,709,513, including $373,212,215 for agricultural conservation payments and $197,481,980 for parity payments.

SMALL TIRE DEALERS EXEMPTED FROM INVENTORY

Tire dealers who had in stock on December 31 less than six passenger car tires and no truck tires or tubes need not file the quarterly inventory report called for on that date, the Office of Price Administration said today. About 40 per cent of all dealers are affected, OPA estimated.

The smaller dealers are being exempted from the inventory requirement so as to simplify the reporting procedure both for OPA and the trade. The exemption covers all dealers having no truck or bus tires or tubes, and having less than six passenger tires on hand, in transit, or on consignment, on December 31. If a dealer has any truck tires or tubes, however, he must file a complete report.

12 Red Stamps In Ration Book IV Explained

Some misunderstanding has come about relative to the validation of the twelve red stamps in War Ration Book IV, for use in buying pork and other rationed meat from farmers.

"This is a loan, not a bonus, thus permitting purchase now and storage for use later." The advance use of stamps, it was explained, does not give the individual who buys from a farm slaughterer a larger meat ration than anyone else. It merely allows the individual, buying from a farmer, to follow the normal practice of buying fairly large amounts at one time.

At the same time, it encourages farmers to slaughter on their farm, thus cutting down the number of hogs coming into the congested markets.

The red stamps in Book IV which may now be used for buying meat from farm slaughterers are those numbered "8" and lettered from "A" through "M". These stamps are worth 10 points each, making a total of 120 points.

The families purchasing farm-slaughtered meat will need to use care that they do not run short on red points later and that they have enough valid red stamps for buying butter, cheese, and other fats when the red stamps become valid for use in retail stores.

Mrs. Collinson and Virginia Fritchie of Amarillo spent the week end in the R. M. Morris home.

Would Extend Social Insurance To Twenty Million More Persons

Early action to bring the benefits of social insurance to some 10,000,000 self-employed Americans—including farm operators and business and professional men and women—is urged in the Eight Annual Report of the Social Security Board, just issued for the fiscal year 1943.

The report points out that some 5,000,000 farmers and about the same number of "other self-employed" are now excluded from the old-age and survivors' insurance system. These groups form about half of the 20,000,000 American workers whom the board would bring under the Federal insurance system to make its benefits available to all who work for a living. The other 10,000,000 now excluded are some 4,000,000 farm workers, 2,000,000 household workers, and the employees of governmental and nonprofit organizations.

The unemployment insurance program would also be extended to give its protection to all wage and salary earners, if the board's proposals are adopted. Maritime workers and many employees of small firms, as well as most of those now excluded from old-age and survivors' insurance, are denied coverage under the present State unemployment insurance laws.

The board also recommends that insurance be provided against the costs of hospital and medical care, and against lack of income due to sickness and disability. While great progress has been made in extending the average length of life and raising standards of physical well-being, the report says, "there are groups whose chances of survival are no greater than those which existed in the United States 60 years ago. Some places, especially rural areas, are almost without access to modern facilities to prevent and cure sickness."

Insurance against the costs of hospital and medical care, the board insists, must "preserve free choice of doctor or hospital and personal relationship between physicians and their patients, to maintain professional leadership, to insure adequate remuneration."
