LOCATION OF ANOTHER FIFTY-ONE PLUGS ON LARGE MAINS ASSURES FIRE PROTECTION FOR CLARENDON

LAYING OF EXTENSION OF WATER SYSTEM AND LOCATION OF PLUGS IS BEING DONE UNDER DIRECTION OF THE FIRE INSURANCE COMMISSION. EVERY PART OF CITY AND OUTSKIRTS IS GIVEN PROTECTION.

With the completion of the extension of the Clarendon water and sewer system, the work on which will commence within the next few days, this city will be given fire protection and conveniences unsurpassed by any city in the Panhandle. A rough sketch of the system will give an idea of its extent; from Kearney Street the mains go west to the college and thence eight blocks southwest; they extend ten blocks east of Kearney along Third Street; to the south and southeast they reach to the hospital; to the south and southwest several blocks southwest of the high school; and the city north of the track is given equal protection. The business section of the city is belted with an eight inch main. In the residence district, the plugs are located every six hundred feet; thus the thousand feet of fire hose that will be maintained by the city assures protection to every bit of property.

The elevated tank that will be erected will be located on the corner at the intersection of Collinson and Fourth Streets. In assuring protection to the southwest part of the city, and the addition from that section that was recently taken in, the city purchased the water system of the Clarendon Development company, and that system will be connected with the mains of the new system.

From the elevated tank a six inch main will pass along Collinson street to that street's intersection with Sixth street; thence the main will follow sixth east to that street's intersection with Sully, and then along the latter street until it connects, at the intersection of Sully and Third, with the eight inch main. From this tank another six inch main passes along Fourth street to that street's intersection with Winne street, hence north along Winne to its intersection with Second street. As the six inch main branches at the intersection of Fourth and Winne streets, one branch also extends south along Winne and connects, at the intersection of Winne and Sixth, with the main traced above. Commencing at Taylor street a six inch main runs east along Second street until it connects with the eight inch main on Jefferson street.

The eight inch main surrounding the business district may be traced by beginning at the railroad on Jefferson street, which is the street passing between the power plant and Galbraith-Foxworth, and going south to the southwest corner of the courthouse; then the main turns east along Third street and runs to the southeast corner of Shamburger's yard; thence north along Gorst street to the railroad; thence west along South Front street to the starting place.

From the intersection of Kearney and South Front street a six inch main passes north to North Front Street and branches. The west branch goes west two blocks along North Front; while the east branch goes east two blocks, north one block, and again east two blocks and ends.

A six inch main lies on First street from Gorst street to Orpe street, the latter of which streets passes north and south just west of the Moreman gin. A six inch main passes south along Jackson street, which is two blocks west of Orpe, to Jackson's intersection with Myrtle street in the Grant addition, thence west along Myrtle street to Hawley street, and a block south along Hawley to Browning street, thence half a block west along Browning, and southwest then out of the city limits to the hospital. Another branch of the line also continues along Browning street and a block south along Hawley to Third street; and a block west on

B. Y. P. U. CONVENTION WILL BEGIN NEXT THURSDAY

FOUR HUNDRED DELEGATES
ARE EXPECTED FROM OVER
THE PANHANDLE AND WEST
TEXAS. PROGRAMS TO LAST TWO DAYS.

The second annual session of the B. Y. P. U. and Sunday School work of the Baptist church for the Panhandle district will convene in this city next Thursday morning at ten o'clock. The meeting will last two days and evenings, closing with an address Friday evening by Dr. John L. Hill, of Nashville, Tennessee. Joe Goldston, of this city, is president of the B. Y. P. U. work for this district, and he is to make the address of welcome when the assembly comes together. The work covers the various phases of B. Y. P. U. and Sunday school work, and is a program that will mean much, both to the local church and to the visiting delegates.

Probably the best known speaker who will appear is Dr. John L. Hill. He is editorial secretary of the Sunday school board of the Southern Baptist Convention, and is one of the most inspirational speakers in that church. Other speakers of repute are T. C. Gardner, of Dallas; W. P. Phillips, of Hillsboro; L. W. Wiley, of Abilene; T. H. Farmer, of Dallas; Miss Lucie Sprecker, of Dallas; W. H. Bussell, of Hillsboro; A. J. Carson, of San Angelo; and Rev. E. E. Dawson, of Tulsa.

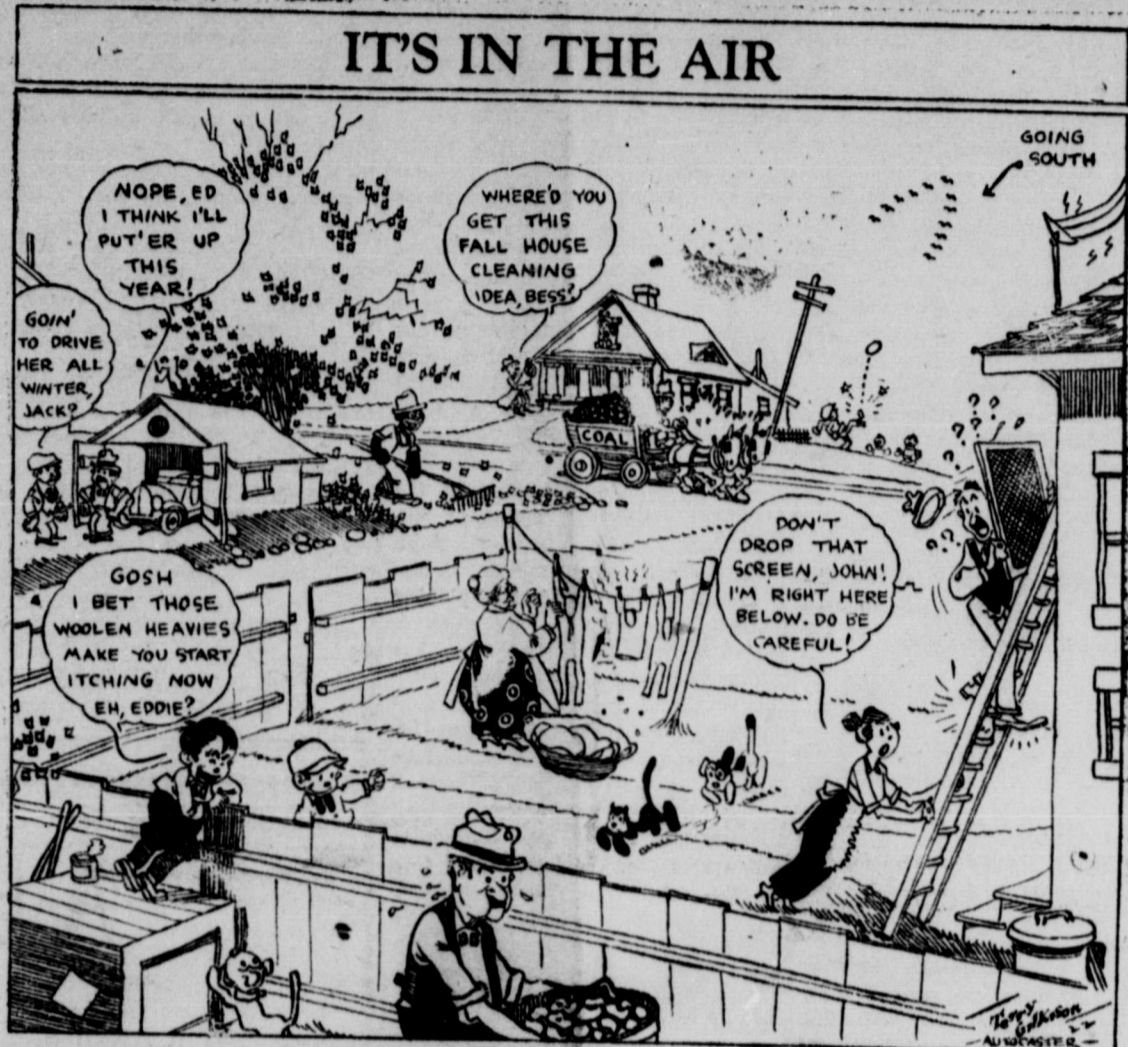

Reports from the fifty-two counties included in the association indicate that approximately four hundred delegates will be here; and preparations are being made for their entertainment in royal manner. Anyone who has a friend that he wishes to entertain is asked to phone Mrs. Joe Goldston, and when that delegate friend arrives, he will be sent to the party making such request.

This is the second annual convention of this work, and the success with which it is meeting is gratifying. At the Plainview meeting last year, there was a good attendance; but from that the value of the work was realized; and the interest that has grown in association foretells even greater successes in the future.

J. E. Russell returned the latter part of last week from New Mexico through which state he was accompanied by Tom Holliday, of Amarillo on a business trip.

Third street; to join the southeast corner of the belt of eight inch piping about the business district. Four inch lines on Cooper and Wood streets join the two lines of six inch pipe passing north and south along Jackson and Carhart streets. Four inch lines also run north and south along Parks and Ellerbe Streets, joining the six inch lines passing along Second and Sixth streets. A four inch line also passes along Third street from Jackson to Carhart streets, joining six inch lines that pass along those two places.

Thus it will be seen, from the way that the city is networked with mains, that complete protection is given to all buildings, as well as by the reduction in the insurance key rates, is so great that no comment is needed.

Y. M. C. A. OPENED HERE SUNDAY

REV. E. L. HUGHES TO ACT AS SECRETARY. MANY SPENDING TIME THERE.

The local Y. M. C. A. was thrown open to the public Sunday afternoon at two o'clock with an informal gathering. A large gathering was present for the occasion, and music was furnished by the Clarendon Band. There are many attractions for the young men and boys of the town; there being a swimming pool, gymnasium, places for games, and a library that is being built up fast. Rev. E. L. Hughes will be in charge. The building is opened at two o'clock each afternoon and kept open until six o'clock. It is also open from seven until eleven o'clock each evening, except on Sundays and Wednesdays; and is not opened in the evening on those days. Each Wednesday afternoon has been set apart for the young ladies.

Membership in the Y will be without charge, at least until the first of next year. The business men of the town have subscribed the money to meet the running expenses.

The interest that is being manifested in the Y. M. C. A. by the many young fellows who are spending idle time there proves the value of the institution; and every citizen interested in the young life of the city is delighted with the excellent recreation that is afforded.

SENIOR EPWORTH LEAGUE ELECTS OFFICERS SUNDAY

The annual election of officers took place at the meeting of the Epworth League Sunday evening, and preparations are being made to carry on the work of every department in a thorough manner. Each of the officers elected has qualifications that especially fit him for the office, and the election in each instance was unanimous. Miss Pansy Lane is president; Ralph Porter, vice-president; Loyd Stallings, secretary-treasurer; Miss Maude Shaw, superintendent of the first department; Clifford Casey, superintendent of the second department; D. M. Beights, superintendent of the third department; William Craig, superintendent of the fourth department; Miss Fray Stallings, pianist; Russell Pike, publicity agent; Miss Mattie Ruth Dean, town Era agent; Miss Betty Smalley, dormitory Era agent; and Albert Mason, song leader.

The roll, as made out from the applications for membership Sunday evening, is more than one hundred and thirty; while it is believed that the membership can, within a short

MUCH INTEREST IN DIXIE SERIES

LOCAL BASEBALL FANS ARE FOLLOWING THE SMALL
WORLD'S SERIES.

Much interest is being manifested by local baseball fans in the Dixie championship series which is being played at Mobile between the Mobile Bears and the Ft. Worth Panthers. A good sized crowd greets each report as it is received. A short extract from the account of the second game is taken from the Amarillo News.

The Mobile Bears were again pitched into helplessness today, Fort Worth winning their second straight game of the Dixie championship series 3 to 1.

Paul Wachtel, leading winning pitcher of the Texas League and master of the spit ball delivery, was as effective against the Bears as was his team mate, Joe Pate, in Sunday's game, while the Panthers batted the offerings of Dutch Henry, Mobile's Southpaw ace hard and in timely fashion.

Harry Moore, mammoth Panther catcher, was the batting hero, pounding out a double and a home run, the latter proving to be the winning run.

The Bears could get but seven scattered singles off Wachtel, two of these being bunched with the lone error of the game in the eighth inning for their only run.

Ten Bears struck out, failing to connect with Wachtel's spitter, every man of the team except Huhn and Mullen taking three strikes.

W. A. SoRelle left Monday on a business trip to Seagraves and other points on the south plains.

time, be made more than two hundred.

The program for next Sunday is a missionary one, and is being prepared by William Craig, who, as was stated above, is the superintendent of the department of missions.

BARTLETT'S NEW STUDIO OPENED

LATEST APPLIANCES USED IN PHOTOGRAPHIC ART ARE INSTALLED.

Bartlett's Art Studio is now operating in its fine new home on South Kearney street, which building was completed recently and is one of the most up-to-date photographic galleries in the Panhandle. New scenery, backgrounds and screens have been installed in the posing room; and the latest appliances make possible excellent photography whether by day or artificial light. Other rooms built especially for the various kinds of photographic work assure the best means of making pictures of high quality.

An up stairs room is designed for framing, and with this is carried a line of art pictures and goods. The finishing rooms have every convenience; light drops are placed in the dark room for every machine. And it is possible to do any part of the work at any hour of day or night.

A dressing room is arranged with every convenience for primping before stepping in front of the camera. With the arrival of furniture that has been ordered, the furnishings of the building will be completed.

The structure is twenty-five by sixty-eight feet, brick and tile; the floors are edge grain; the walls are plastered; and the ceiling is of a beautiful metal design. Big show windows serve to advertise the fine line of art and gift goods that Mr. Bartlett will carry.

NEWS PRINTS PROGRAMS FOR B. Y. P. U. MEETING

The News has this week finished the job of printing the programs for the B. Y. P. U. convention which will be held in this city Thursday and Friday of next week. The booklet has twenty pages and cover, and is a neat work both from the standpoint of material and workmanship. A sufficient number of cuts of the prominent speakers appear to remove the monotony of nothing but reading matter.

This is the second of such jobs that the News has printed this season, the other being the booklet of the Epworth League Conference which took place here earlier in the summer. And we believe that the fact that the different organizations are seeing fit to have printing that requires such careful workmanship done by us, in a small measure, bespeaks the satisfaction that our work gives.

BISHOP FILLS METHODIST PULPIT HERE SUNDAY

BISHOP J. E. DICKEY, NEW BISHOP IN CHARGE OF THIS EPISCOPAL DIOCESE, OCCUPIES
LOCAL PULPIT SUNDAY MORNING AND EVENING

Bishop James E. Dickey, formerly of Griffin, Georgia, preached at the First Methodist church in this city Sunday morning and evening. He is one of the bishops elected to the Episcopacy at the General Conference last May. As he will be in charge of the Episcopal diocese of which the Northwest Texas Conference is a part, he is moving to Texas to make his home, and the official board of the local church is making efforts to make this city his home if he will make this city his headquarters.

Bishop Dickey is a speaker of magnetic personality and inspirational address. At the morning hour he used as his text the well known verse, "For God so loved the World that He gave His only begotten son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life." From this well known passage of Scripture, the bishop brought forth new truths; and his sermon was a masterful one both from the standpoint of thought and delivery. Eloquent and persuasive, his words made a profound impression. He again occupied the pulpit Sunday evening, and his sermon was of the same wonderful type.

Bishop Dickey was formerly president of Emory College, and he as well met with great success in the pastorate. At the time of his election to the Episcopacy last May, he was pastor at Griffin, Georgia. His coming to Texas as the one who will be in charge of this and other conferences is a delight to those who have met him; and it is hoped that the local church will be honored by having him fill the pulpit many more times; and as well every effort will be made to get him to make this city his home.

FOUR PANHANDLE COMPANIES BACK FROM DENISON

Four National Guard companies passed through this city Tuesday enroute to their homes from Denison where they have been on duty guarding the railroad property that was endangered by strike violences. They were Headquarters company from Claude, Company E of Hereford, Company F of Canyon, and Company G of Amarillo. The boys were in fine shape and reported that they got plenty to eat and were feeling fine. Company H was expected by many local people, but it was among those retained at Denison after the force was cut in half. Some of the boys in the companies bound for home stated that they intend to return to Denison, as work is scarce in this part of the state, and relieve any boys in Company H who wish to return home.

The boys are profuse in their praise of Capt. Nat Perrine, who is in command of Camp Leeper, stating that he was received with much favor as an officer.

W. M. Farmer and wife, of Sapulpa Oklahoma, are here visiting with their daughter, Mrs. J. W. Schulte.

A county wide mass meeting has been called to take place in the district court room of the court house in this city next Tuesday evening commencing at eight o'clock. This meeting is in furtherance of a move that was started last spring when there was some discussion on this question, but little action taken at the time other than to appoint a committee. As other things occupied the attention of the people for a time, the committee did not report at any early date. The committee is composed of W. H. Patrick, chairman, and J. W. Noel, J. D. Swift, P. T. Boston, F. E. Chamberlain and A. L. Chass. Sentiment for public roads of the enduring type was never crystallized as it is today, and this meeting is called to get expressions regarding the construction of permanent roads.

Other states and other counties in this state have demonstrated the fact that the time to build permanent roads is when slack times are upon us. It is in recognition of this fact that many of the citizens of the county have begun to inquire into the merits of building permanent hard surfaced roads at this time. Even though money from the crops is not plentiful this fall, they are asking why could we not have good times by voting forty year bonds for the proposed construction; and it is in response to these inquiries that the meeting is called by the committee.

Of course, in matters of this kind everyone who is interested should speak at the outset, and it is for this reason that everyone is asked to be present at the meeting. If the bond issue is the proper thing, by all means it should be talked more than ever at that meeting; and if one considers that the issue is the improper thing, he should go and express himself there.

MANY LOCAL PEOPLE ATTEND P. P. C. CONVENTION

Many local people attended the convention of the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce in Amarillo Tuesday and yesterday. The counties in the territory represented by this organization are more solidly than ever behind the movement. Memphis was the town having the prize winning band in the contest for class A bands. Local men elected officers were Sam Braswell, president; and George Ryan is on the board of directors. The city where the next convention will be held will be decided upon at the spring meeting of the directors.

O. S. ANDERSON HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the residence of O. S. Anderson in the southeast part of this city Thursday evening. Mr. Anderson and his wife were in town at the time; Mrs. Anderson at the Rebekah lodge and Mr. Anderson talking with friends on Kearney Street. When the fire truck reached the house, the structure was ablaze all over; and nothing could be done to save it as the water mains do not reach to that place. Owing to the fact that the fire was not discovered until neighbors found the building ablaze, only a few things were saved. Although Mr. Anderson had some insurance, he is nevertheless at a heavy loss.

 THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

The members of the Texas Press Association will be pleased to learn that its Secretary, "Fat and Forty" Sam P. Harben, has returned from the fishing and lying banks of Colorado, and has arrived in the sacred confines of Texas and should, ere this, be seated in a revolving chair before his many desks, representing many lines of business at Richardson, home, sweet home. He comes back to Texas as well equipped in health and vigor for the skirmishes of life, and with more "fish stories" than even Sam Fore can bear to endure. Boy, page Lee Rountree. —Clarendon News.

Mr. Chairman, we rise to a point of personal privilege in this discussion. We have many things to tell about Colorado fishing this summer, but we want the "gang" to know that proof of every assertion has been sealed and ready for the action of your committee.—Sam P. Harben, Richardson Echo.

Sam Miller of the Mineral Wells Index once told Sam Fore, Jr., of the Floresville Chronicle that he believed the reason Sam Harben of the Richardson Echo was so corrupt that he made Sam Braswell do all the work at the Texas Press Association. Sam Braswell is assistant secretary of Secretary Harben and all members of the "Texas Sam Club."—Lee J. Rountree in Bryan Daily Eagle.

C. OF C. SECRETARIES

There never was a time when Clarendon needed the good office of a super-heated, twelve cylinder secretary of the chamber of commerce as this fall.—Clarendon News.

A chamber of commerce without a secretary is just like an automobile without a steering wheel. You just can't get anywhere. A city the size of Clarendon cannot do much civic work with a volunteer secretary or one of small caliber. The life of a chamber of commerce hinges around the secretary. He is the one that keeps members on their toes and pushes civic activities. A few towns in the Panhandle have secretaries who attempt to do the work along with their regular vocation. You don't hear much from those places in civic affairs. Business people and those who must contribute to the welfare of a chamber of commerce will give their money more gladly if there is a head to push things along. The need of a chamber of commerce secretary was never more demonstrated than with the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce. That organization drifted a few months without a secretary. Counties did not care to contribute because there was no visible secretary although the office details were handled satisfactorily. The people wanted and demanded a working head. Then, they gave their money freely to the organization. More accomplishments have been noted for the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce and it has far greater confidence of the people since it employed a secretary again. Clarendon will find in the future, as it has in the past, that a good chamber of commerce secretary is a valuable investment.—Amarillo Daily News.

EDITOR TEXAS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE FORMERLY PROFESSOR IN COLLEGE HERE

The recent election of Rev. P. E. Riley, of Ft. Worth, as editor of the Texas Christian Advocate is of more than ordinary interest to Clarendon people in view of the fact that he was formerly professor of Latin in Clarendon College. He succeeds Dr. A. J. Weeks, who has resigned to take up his duties as editor of the combined publications of the church at the central office. The following account is taken from the Dallas News.

The Rev. P. E. Riley of Fort Worth who was elected editor of the Texas Christian Advocate Thursday to succeed A. J. Weeks, who resigned several months ago, will take up his new duties after the close of the present conference year of the Methodist Church, Nov. 15. The Rev. P. E. Riley is pastor of the Polytechnic Methodist Church at Fort Worth, to which he was assigned about two years ago.

The Rev. Mr. Riley is a member of the class of 1907 of Vanderbilt University. Immediately following his graduation, he joined the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church, to which he was attached for seven years. Later he was professor of Latin in Clarendon College, from which he came to Fort Worth, a member of the Central Texas Conference as pastor of the Weatherford Street Methodist Church. When Mr. Riley arrived at his Fort Worth charge he found it badly in debt and operating as a mission church. During his pastorate the debt was removed and the church placed on a cash basis. Later he was sent to Itasca for three years, where, as pastor of the Itasca Methodist Church, he built a $30,000 church. Mr. Riley also was at Belton for two years before returning to Fort Worth as pastor of the Polytechnic Methodist Church.

Under his leadership the church has outlined a $125,000 building program and the first unit, a $55,000 building, has been completed and plans for a second unit, to cost $60,000, now are being completed. Four hundred members have been received into the church during his pastorate and the Sunday school has grown 33 per cent. The average Sunday school attendance, excluding the Texas Woman's College department and the Englewood Heights Mission, operated by the church, is about 800. With these two departments, the average attendance has been from 1,200 to 1,400.

TAXES

A wit once won a prize for the best article on the American-Mexican war of 1846. His essay was as follows:

"Cause—Texas.
 Effect—Taxes."

The following article came to us through the mails the other day and we pass it on to our readers for their consideration:

"In slavery days the strongest slaves were the most prized.
 "By your unwise surtax you have made your employers your slaves."

"William Lloyd Garrison and Wendell Phillips were not popular sixty years ago, and the men who talk against surtax in favor of the sales tax are unpopular today.

"Money is the only evidence of time given to labor, and if there was no money, then each able man would have to give the country a certain number of day's labor for his tax service. One man in a thousand would not be compelled to give up a fourth or a third or a half a year's labor, as the Surtax compels them to do now, while all the other able men gave up only a few day's labor, or no labor at all.

"The really few ambitious, chance-taking men, who make from one hundred thousand to three hundred thousand a year, are the men who, in the past, gave employment to others. No man works well when he knows he is being unjustly treated, and when these ambitious men are compelled to pay from forty to sixty percent of the earnings received from their labor, in taxes, they naturally refuse to take unequal chances, and until all men are made free and equal there can be no return to prosperity, because the employer class is tied hand and foot.

"There are no rich men. Most so-called rich men spend very little on themselves. A man can only eat three meals a day and sleep in one bed. Money is of no use until it is spent, and then someone else has it.

"Our exports are dropping. A man owning a shoe factory and wishing to establish a chain of shoe stores in England to keep his American factory going, would have to invest five hundred thousand, and if he made one hundred thousand profits he would have to pay England sixty thousand taxes on this hundred thousand, and under our present laws he would have to add the entire hundred thousand to his profits in the United States, a tax of forty or fifty thousand, and so, after investing half a million in order to spread United States products, he could not possibly make anything.

"The same unjust law applies to all Americans doing business in foreign countries.

"When the surplus is taken away from men, the inspiration to produce is destroyed.

"The only solution is to take on the surtax and if the normal tax will not give sufficient money to the government, then the normal tax should be increased or else let us have a sales tax.

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN INTERSCHOLASTIC RULES

Austin, Texas, Sept. 7.—Eligibility rules of the University of Texas Interscholastic League for the forthcoming year contain two important changes which apply exclusively to high school athletes. These are the transfer rule and the half year rule, which went into effect September 1. Under the transfer rule a student is eligible to represent only the school district in which his parents or guardian reside; provided (1) a student is not barred under this rule who transfers to the higher class school located nearest his home; (2) one year's regular attendance renders a student eligible to represent the school so attended in contests of the League.

It was to destroy the rapidly increasing custom of inducing prominent athletes to transfer to a certain school that the new transfer rule was put into effect. Bidding for athletes reaches such proportions during the year that nearly all of the Interscholastic League period at the State Teachers Association meeting held in Dallas in November was devoted to a discussion of this evil, and the present rule is the result. It is asserted that though the new rule may apply unfortunately in some isolated cases, no rule could be formulated with strength sufficient to reach the guilty without injuring a few innocent transfers.

Under the half-year rule on one shall take part in any athletic contest in the Interscholastic League who did not attend school at least one-half of the last year he was in school. This rule was made necessary, it is explained, because of the practice of keeping a certain undesirable class of young men in high school for only a few months in the fall for the primary object of playing football. As soon as the football season is over, or if the team has lost a few games, these boys drop out of school and remain out until the next football season. The Interscholastic League authorities take the position that high school football should be for bona fide high school students who attend long enough to feel a real sense of loyalty and love for the school and who participate in football for the honor of the school and not for personal publicity, reputation or other selfish reasons.

SHALL WE CONTINUE TO PERMIT STRIKES?

It seems as if we ought to have reached the stage where serious disorders on account of labor disputes should not threaten us. We are the nation which stands for liberty and justice. We ought to find means for preventing such occurrences as recently took place in Herrin, Illinois, and as are now taking place or are imminent in many localities on account of the railroad strike.

We are an intelligent nation—at least we believe we are—and we have enacted laws for the control of manufacturers and railroads. Why can't we also enact laws for the control of those who work for these concerns? We set the rates the railroads may charge for transporting freight and passengers; if this is right, then we must also equally control the price they are to pay for having their work done, so that it will be possible to operate the railroads.

We enact laws preventing manufacturers from agreeing on definite prices; we call that conspiring to restrain trade. Why then can't we enact laws that will prevent individuals from "conspiring to restrain trade" by agreeing that they will not sell their labor for less than a given amount and that in event of the employer refusing to pay their prescribed rate they will all refuse to work.

That is not all. These individuals not only refuse to work, but they also refuse to allow others to work, even though there may be plenty of unemployed persons who are willing and able to do the work.

There are, of course, many angles to these controversies and it will not do for any one to say that one side is wrong and the other is right, because that is just where we get into trouble. There are always points to consider on both sides of a case. We can, however, always say that where the general public welfare is at stake there shall be no strike and no group of private individuals shall have the right to stop the operation of such public utilities as railroads, coal mines, etc.

Then we can establish a court with power to settle the controversies which arise, and we can delegate this court power to enforce its decision. Then when a group of individuals such as the shop crafts of the railroads feel they have a grievance this court will hear the arguments for and against and render a decision in accord with their findings.

The present method of settling disputes, or rather unsettling our whole organization, by declaring a strike to enforce demands, is too expensive for all concerned, and a well organized, civilized nation, such as we claim to be, should not permit it.

Under strikes the man who loses his pay is a heavy loser, even if he wins, for if the strike lasts a month he has lost a month's pay, and if his wages are increased 10 percent it will take ten months for him to catch up. Often the increase asked, or the reduction which causes the strike, is much less than 10 percent, and so it takes correspondingly longer to even matters up again. The largest loss is generally imposed on the wholly innocent consumer and that is what we must try to avoid.

We ought to enact laws that will accomplish the following reforms:

1. Prevent strikes on railroads, in coal mines, and other institutions directly serving the public.
2. Establish a court where all differences between employee and employer of such public utilities can be settled.
3. Make the decisions binding and compel acceptance by both sides.—Slugs.

SECRETARY BLANTON GETS BOOK ON COOK TRIP THROUGH NORTH

"Has the North Pole Been Discovered" is the title of a book received by W. N. Blanton, secretary of the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce. The book is written by Thomas F. Hall, scientist and student of explorations, and is designed to prove the claims of Dr. Frederick A. Cook, arctic explorer, as to his right to the discovery of the pole.

Dr. Cook personally visited Amarillo during the annual convention of

Watch the little folks speed home for Kellogg's Corn Flakes

"Mudder, I always wins the race when I carry home Kellogg's Corn Flakes. I can't hardly wait till I have some quick, mudder!"

It's great to see child-enthusiasm for Kellogg's; great to see every one in the family enjoy their crisp crunchiness and wonderful flavor! To sit down before a heaping bowlful of these joyous oven-browned "sweet-hearts-of-the-corn" and some milk or cream—and fresh fruit, if it's handy—is just about the very last word in appetizing appeal! And, your good taste will prove that!

Kellogg's Corn Flakes ought to be superior—they are the original Corn Flakes! Kellogg's are never tough or leathery; never hard to eat; never a disappointment!

ARTHUR NASH DELIVERS HIS FAMOUS LECTURE "RIGHT HUMAN RELATIONSHIP"

Christianity is the greatest asset a business can have. No preacher said that. These are the words of one of the most successful clothing manufacturers in the United States. Those are the words of Arthur Nash, nationally known as the Golden Rule Merchant.

Mr. Nash made an address at the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce Convention Tuesday and yesterday. It is a piece of unusual good fortune that Panhandle people could have an opportunity to hear Mr. Nash who is in demand throughout America as a lecturer. It is believed that hundreds of Panhandle people were in Amarillo for no other reason than to hear this amazing lecture by Mr. Nash. The lecture was absolutely free to all who heard him.

Here is the story in brief of Arthur Nash as related in the New York World:

"Born in a log cabin, the son of a poor man, a Seventh Day Adventist, he was sent to Detroit to study for the ministry. Disagreeing with his teachers, he left school and took to the road as an atheist. Later he returned to the ministry in the Christian Church, from which he resigned following a disagreement with his parish. He became a clothing salesman and in 1909 started a business in Columbus, where he made clothing and sold direct to the public. Wiped out by the flood, he came to Cincinnati in 1913 and established himself in the same line. In 1916 he incorporated his present company. By 1918 it had done $132,000 worth of business with a loss of $4,000. It was farming out all of its work to various small contract shops and was operating no shop of its own at the time.

"An Austrian with whom the firm did business wanted to go back to his country to see his mother and sister, so Mr. Nash bought the factory and with it the payroll. It was the biggest illustration of not living the Golden Rule, Mr. Nash says, that he has ever seen. Women were paid from $4 to $7 a week; men up to $17—this in 1918, just after the armistice. Running at a loss at the time and believing he would go bankrupt if he increased the payroll, Mr. Nash determined to close out the business to pay decent wages so long as the shop was operated.

"I did not know what the work was worth," he said. "I did know that these wages were a disgrace and I was going to give these people a fair living wage. Pressers and skilled workers were raised to $28, an increase of 50 per cent; while others were raised 300 percent, from $4 to $12. To make a long story short the business did not go on the rocks. On the contrary it prospered beyond the company's wildest dreams. During the first two months of 1919 under the new wage scale they did three times as much business as had been done in the same length of time at the end of 1918. There had been no machines added and only one new worker hired."

"Mr. Nash then called his workers together and outlined his principle of the Golden Rule in business. He told them that they were all children of the same Father and entitled to the same justice.

From the day he held his first meeting with his thirty employees the plant has grown, the staff has grown to two thousand and the business for 1921 passed the $2,000,000 mark. The sales for the first two months of this year totaled $335,000,781.99.

"Often I am asked why I do not write a book about my system," said Mr. Nash. "My answer to that is that I have no system to write about. I merely have a principle. It is not a change of laws or system that is needed in the industrial world, but a change of heart. A just principle automatically destroys an unjust system. We have regular meetings at which the workers fix the selling price of our goods, and my vote doesn't count any more than the porter's."

EXPENSES DEDUCTED

John Henry was about as careful of a quarter as a man could be. He married a widow worth $20,000. Shortly after the ceremony an old friend met him.

"Allow me," he said "to congratulate you. I believe your wedding was worth a clear $20,000 to you."

"No," replied John Henry, "not quite so much."
"Indeed, I thought it was, every penny of it."
"Oh, no," said benedict, "I had to pay sixteen dollars for the ring."—The Christian Intelligencer and Mission Field (New York.)

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and brilliant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients in a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application of two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Making 20 Years of Racing Serve Car Owners Today

IN the early days of automobile contests, Barney Oldfield—out to win every race—studied tires. His consistent success led other drivers to ask for tires constructed to his specifications.

Twenty years of road and track victories—with a steady and increasing demand for tires as he built them—convinced Barney Oldfield that these speed tests pointed the way to a better tire for everyday use.

The enthusiastic reception of Oldfield Cords by the public proved he was right. Scores of the most prominent dealers in the country—and many thousands of car owners, experienced in the use of tires—bear witness by their decided preference that Oldfield is doing a bigger and better job of tire making.

This volume, handled in an effective way in every phase of manufacture and distribution, has resulted in price quotations far below what you'd expect on tires known to be better built and more enduring.

Practically every important race event for three years has been won on Oldfields. The Wichita Test Run in which an entire set of Oldfield Cords covered 34,525 miles on rough roads proves the mettle of the Most Trustworthy Tires Built in everyday driving.

The Master Driver and Tire Builder has given the public a new standard of tire wear and tire cost—a true economy that every car owner should know about.

Your Oldfield dealer has these facts—talk to him.

BULLDOGS TAKE INITIAL CLASH FROM AMARILLO

JACKSON'S SEVENTY-TWO YARD RUN MAKES DECIDING SCORE. BOYS NOT SEASONED YET. MANY LOCAL FANS SEE THE GAME.

The Bulldogs took the first game they have played this season, when they defeated the Amarillo Golden Sandstorm at Amarillo Tuesday afternoon by a score of thirteen to ten. Local fans who attended the game, say that Amarillo has an excellent bucking offensive but that it is not comparable to the local team on the running offense. It is stated in the Amarillo News that Jackson, quarterback for the locals, was the star of the game; and only his incomparable generalship carried the team, that had trained for only ten days to victory. The following are extracts from the account of the game carried in the Amarillo News.

Amarillo's new athletic stadium was dedicated yesterday afternoon before 2,000 rapid fans by the Golden Sandstorm and the first team of Clarendon College, the latter team coming out victorious 13 to 10, in a hotly contested game. The game was marred by an excessive number of penalties, although the second half was somewhat cleaner from that standpoint.

This was the first game of the season for both teams, and it was decided that 12 and one-half minute quarters would be sufficient for the lads as a tester. Scores of visitors to the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce Convention were in the stadium. The Clarendon rooters took the east side, and there was no small number, judging from the applause when the Bull Dogs scored. And the Clarendon rooters almost went wild when the second touchdown was made with a 72-yard dash by Jackson, who completely threw the Sandies off their feet. Jackson kicked low, but the six points were sufficient to win the game.

The Texhoma band was in the stadium and furnished music throughout the contest. Yell leaders for the high school were there, and encouraged Coach Douglass' eleven from the beginning until the final whistle blew.

Although Coach Burton's team was expected to romp away from the Sandies, it was all they could do to pull through with victory. In the third quarter, the Sandies took the lead with a drop-kick. The high school lads were playing steady ball, and it looked like they had a chance for victory. But there was Jackson, already one of the best known football players in the Panhandle, and he was the star that cast the Sandies the victory.

Dawson kicked off and the Bull Dogs brought the ball back to their own 28-yard line. Jackson then picked up the ball, wiggled through all the Sandies' defense, ran 72 yards for a touchdown at the goal posts, the whole act being done so quickly that the fans could scarcely realize its speed. Jackson kicked low for goal. Score: Amarillo 10, Clarendon 13.

The line-up:

Sandies	Position	Clarendon
J. Nicklaus	Center	Collingsworth
Whittington	Guard	Bulls
Bassett	Guard	Ratliff
Golding	Tackle	Peeples
Dyer	Tackle	Smith
W. Nicklaus	End	Martin
Sipes	End	Lane
Hayden	Quarter	Jackson
Anderson	Half	E. Goodwin
Kaufman	Half	M. Goodwin
Dawson	Full	O. Close

A CLARENDON CITIZEN ANSWERS KLAN ATTACK

Editor News: Some days ago an article appeared in the Daily Tribune of Amarillo, attaching the order of the Ku Klux Klan and Klansmen in general. Among the various things charged to the Klan they had stolen the machinery of the Democratic party and called on the paper of the paper. He intended to make the order. But even without the help of the paper. He intended to make it his fight to drive the Klan out of Texas. We wish to say right here the gentleman has certainly taken on to himself a man's job. If the Ku Klux Klan has captured the machinery of the party, they most certainly did not steal it. If the Klan is worthy to live, no fight the gentleman is able to put up will avail anything. If it is not worthy to live the quickest way to be rid of it is to let it alone. We love an abiding faith in the good protestant white people of Texas, and believe they will do the right thing. We are know what became of a man by the name of Saul, good many years ago, who thought it to be his duty to attack a new organization just beginning to spread over the country. We also not what happened to the present governor of Georgia, who attacked a sleeping dog in the late political race, there has never been as badly beaten man for his second term as was Governor Harwick. Harwick attacked the Klan from every stump in Georgia, while his opponent scarcely made a speech, yet he beat Harwick horse foot and dragon. Think the gentleman better sit down and do some figuring whether "he be able to meet 20,000 with 10,000." Reminds me of a man applied to the session for admittance into the church, who had not lived an altogether straight life himself. Began to make various kinds of promises rotten hard to fulfill. When an old Elder said, "Brother don't you think you have set your plow too digging?" We are inclined to think the gentleman has set his plow rather digging.

Sept. 20, 1922 Citizen.

KAREFUL KROSSING KAMPAIGN

It has just come to light that the Railways entering Texas are active in furthering an organization of the K. K. K.'s (Kross Krossings Kautiously). It is learned from reliable authority that meetings are in session "Konstantly" and will be until October first. Every inhabitant, regardless of age, sex, or color may become a member if they will pass a satisfactory examination. Those presenting themselves for membership must be able to "THINK." Those using their head exclusively for a "Hat Rack" cannot become members. The admittance fee is one thought, which must accompany application.

The membership dues are one thought every time you approach a railway crossing. The obligation is a very serious one and must be memorized before you can receive full benefits of the fraternity. It reads as follows: "(Your Name—do most solemnly and sincerely promise that I will not approach, attempt to cross nor enter upon the tracks at any railroad "Krossing" in this or any other vicinity until by stopping or slowing down I have fully satisfied myself that no trains are approaching from either direction and that I may proceed to "Kross" in perfect safety to myself and those who may accompany me. I further more promise that I will not permit any member of my family to "Kross" a railroad "Krossing" until they have taken like precaution if within my power to prevent their so doing. I furthermore promise that I will talk to my neighbor and endeavor to influence him to take membership in the organization, apprising him of the danger in not doing so, reminding him that approximately eighteen hundred people are killed each year because they did not hold membership in the "Kross Krossings Kautiously" fraternity, and five thousand others sustain painful and crippling injuries. I furthermore promise that I will faithfully perform each and every duty falling upon me, as a vigilant and active member, that I will attend each session of the fraternity, in the upper room of "Think" building, whether I shall be at or near or find it necessary to "Kross" a railroad "Krossing" on date of meeting or not.

To all the foregoing I must seriously and solemnly agree, binding myself under no less penalty than that of having the Carburetor of my Automobile refuse to feed gasoline to the engine, should I at any time or place become so reckless and inconsiderate of the safety of human life and limb as to Kross a railroad "Krossing" in any other manner than "Kautiously" or in any manner take chances on the safety of myself and those dear to me.

It is urged that everyone in Texas and adjoining territory get in as Charter members and before the admittance fee is raised from one thought to days, perhaps years of regrets. For information ask any railroad employe about the "Kareful Krossing Kampaign."

"The Four Horseman of the Apocalypse" will be shown at the Pastime Theatre in this city Wednesday and Thursday of next week. WHAT REV. H. D. KNICKERBOCKER, PASTOR of the First M. E. Church South, Wichita Falls, Texas, said about

"THE FOUR HORSEMEN OF THE APOCALYPSE"

"I went last night to see "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse". For two hours and a half the marvelous mingling of lights and shadows kept my emotions flying like swift winged birds from sunlit mountain tops to the velvety darkness of deepest valleys. I shuddered, I laughed, I wept and sometimes I nearly cursed. The fact is, I think I did let loose in my heart several imprecations on the heads of the Germans as the delineation of their heartless arrogance and maddening brutality passed on the screen.

A description of the picture is impossible, but in two words it is superlatively great. The most delicate touches of exquisite artistry are shown both in the acting and in the stage setting, and my unqualified advice to all the Wichita Falls public is "sell your shirt if need be, or mortgage your half interest in your mother-in-law or proceed to any other desperate measure to get the money and go see this show. It will add a vivifying inspiration to your present and an immortal treasure of memory to your future."

DEMOCRATIC SENATORIAL NOMINEE HAS HAD LONG, SUCCESSFUL PUBLIC CAREER

Earle B. Mayfield, whose democratic nomination makes him the probable successor of Senator Charles A. Culberson of Texas, says he plans being "a working member rather than a social or ornamental member of the upper branch of congress." "There is plenty of work to be done and it is my duty to do it," said the nominee in a conversation with newspaper men accompanying him a few days ago. "We are confronted with the transportation problem, on which I shall specialize, and with various other problems which will assume growing importance." "Furthermore I will not have enough money to play Washington society, and neither Mrs. Mayfield nor I have any desire to do so. I expect to ship a large part of my library to Washington, if elected, and when I am not working on some actual problem of government I expect to spend my time studying. A good book, a reading lamp and a fireplace, with my wife by my side, appeals to me much more than some social function that wears down the physique and fails to build up the mind."

Earle Mayfield has been a student all his life. His close application to his studies enabled him to obtain his university degree at the age of 19 and to pass the bar examination when 21 years old. And now, at the age of 41, he believes that there is still much to learn, and, he says, he proposes to assimilate as much of it as possible during his lifetime.

Mayfield has been something of a record holder during his life, due in a large measure to his habits of study. At Southwestern University he won the oratory medals in each of his four years—a thing no other student has done. He made a grade of 96 on his bar examination, which grade was exceeded in that examination only by Fritz Lanham, the present congressman, who made a grade of 97.

When 25 years old, Earle Mayfield was Senator Mayfield, being a member of the state senate and at the age of 29 he was re-elected to the office. At 31 he became the youngest railroad commissioner the state has ever had, and he still holds the office by re-election. He has never been defeated for any office he has sought from the people of Texas or any political subdivision of the state.

Earle Mayfield is one of the comparatively small number of men who have risen to political prominence from the typical middle class home, financially speaking. He can lay no claim to having been born in a leg cabin nor was he born with a silver spoon in his mouth. His father was a well-to-do country merchant when Earle was born, although the family has accumulated considerable money in the succeeding 41 years.

The democratic senatorial nominee was born April 12, 1881, at Overton, then a village of 250 persons, located in the timber belt of East Texas. He was the third of five sons. His elder brothers were twins. When he was five years old his mother died and from that time his grandmother reared him.

"She was a very devout Christian and a Methodist," said Mayfield, "and we had prayers in the home every night and had to attend church twice each Sunday when there was preaching. But we didn't have preaching but about every fourth Sunday, when Uncle Caleb Smith came to our town. But he always gave us enough to last four weeks. When he got started he was good for three hours."

"My grandmother never got tired of those long sermons. She always took me to church with her. With a turkey wing fan in one hand and holding my hand with her other, she would sit by the hour and revel in the words of the gospel as preached by Brother Smith."

"Notice that I said she held me by the hand. I meant just what I said, for if she had ever turned me loose for a second I was gone."

Earle took about all the education the village school could give him and then he went to Southwestern University at Georgetown, a Methodist school selected for him by his grandmother. At the end of four years there he was graduated with a science degree. From there he went to the University of Texas to study law.

About this time romance began to creep into the life of the young law student. He met Miss Ora Lumpkin, daughter of Judge S. H. Lumpkin, of Meridian. By day Earle studied law and at night he studied plans to keep the other fellows away from the attractive Miss Lumpkin. For nearly two years he worried over that problem.

"Finally I decided there was only one way to be sure of getting her," said Mr. Mayfield, "and that was to marry her. But I could not do that as a law student, so I quit the law school and took the bar examination and was admitted to practice. Then, when just 21 years old I married the young lady."

"But the future did not look very rosy when my only assets were a charming bride and a newly-painted shingle. I started rolling trucks in the basement and gradually worked up to be a city salesman, and if I do have to say it, I was a good one. I was making $150 a month at the end of two years, when I quit the grocery business to enter the law practice with my father-in-law at Meridian."

Two years after his removal to Meridian, Mayfield was elected to the state senate and re-elected four years later. Two years thereafter he was elected to membership in the state railroad commission, and he has held that office for the past 10 years.

During the ten years Mayfield and his wife have lived in Austin they have been active in church work, but have not been in the social limelight. They have three sons, the younger two being twins. The eldest is 18 years old and a sophomore in the University of Texas. The twins, nicknamed Bill and Ted in honor of W. J. Bryan and Theodore Roosevelt, are 15 years old and are high school students. At the time of their birth Roosevelt and Bryan were national figures and the elder Mayfield was an admirer of both.

His nomination in a year of political uncertainties proves his astuteness in politics. Supported by the Ku Klux Klan, he never mentioned that organization in one of his speeches. In the first, or elimination, campaign, he took up one issue—the transportation and high freight rate question, and stayed with it throughout the campaign. All of his five opponents were in accord with him on the question, but he kept hammering away as a member of the Ku Klux Klan. His position as a member of the state railroad commission gave him certain prestige in discussion of this question and he pressed this advantage to the limit.

In the run-off campaign he kept his freight rate issue, but he added the prohibition question, which was good politics, for past elections have shown a big preponderance of prohibitionists in Texas. He told the electors of the state that the election of James E. Ferguson, his opponent, meant endorsement of the open saloon, and through this powerful appeal to the women voters he got a big majority of their ballots. He relegated all other questions to the background in the discussion of these two issues in the run-off campaign.—Houston Chronicle.

IF PARTY LOYALTY IS DEAD, WHERE IS GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP

On the eve of the anti-klan convention called in Dallas by that prince of disgruntles, Barry Miller, the Dallas Times-Herald makes a few comments so pertinent and pointed that it would be a hard matter to say it better. Since the termination of that traitorous, rump convention, and the side-stepping of the wiser heads, leaving the van of the forlorn hope to George Peddie, a child in politics, it seems to The News that the comment is still more in point. The News contends that if persons posing as Democrats will not be bound by a solemn pledge, then ordinary good American sportsmanship ought to keep them in ranks. Falling in sportsmanship, there is only one place for them and that is outside the pales of the Democratic party. Read the Times-Herald's pronouncement:

"Barry Miller announces that there will be a convention in Dallas to nominate a candidate to oppose Earle B. Mayfield for the United States Senatorship. To what political faith that candidate will cleave is not clear, but like Joseph's coat, it looks as if his politics will be a thing of many colors."

If an independent candidate is put in the field, we prophesy his defeat by the most smashing vote ever recorded in a Democratic race in this state.

He ought to be so defeated. For the Democrats of Texas should stand by the oath solemnly delivered in the primaries.

That oath declares: I am a white Democrat and pledge myself to support the nominees of this primary. It is simple. It is short. It is unequivocal.

Earle B. Mayfield is the nominee of the runoff primary and every man who calls himself a Democrat is morally bound to support Earle B. Mayfield.

Earle B. Mayfield won fairly. He led the first primary. He defeated James E. Ferguson in the second primary.

His political opponents had two causes to defeat him. They failed twice. Now by what right do they feverishly seek a coalition of the political butchers, bakers and candlestick makers to have at him again?

As for us, we stand by the oath of the primaries and we expect an overwhelming majority of the Democrats of Texas to do the same thing.

Barry Miller was bowled over at San Antonio. Maury Hughes wielded no influence.

Henry D. Linsley was seen but not heard.

Barry Miller was defeated for the legislature. Maury Hughes was defeated for the District Attorneyship.

The last time he ran Henry D. Linsley was defeated for the mayoralty of Dallas.

All three should learn how to take defeat with smiling sportsmanship. If they can't then, joining hands all three should retire into the sylvan shades of politically innocuous desuetude.

In other words, all three should go way back and sit down in that remote rose garden of extinguished dreams known as Love's Labor Lost. The Democrats of Texas have spoken through the ballot box.

The Democrats of Texas have pledged themselves at the ballot box. The Democrats of Texas will stand by the pledge.

Earle B. Mayfield will take his seat in the United States Senate."

AMERICANISM—WHAT DOES IT MEAN

RABBI EMANUEL STERNHEIM

Patriotism is an immense natural force, a magical spell. It rests on the tie of blood which extends to the whole nation. It is based upon our home, the actual place to which we are bound by affection. Furthermore, it is based upon our reaction upon the world, language, ideas, modes of life, social habits.

Americanism must speak to us of the great events which have come to ruffle our calm but to ennoble our character; and to put the coping stone upon the handiwork of centuries, which is the perfection of our American system of democracy. In these terms we must spell patriotism as the first element in our ideal of Americanism.

An enlightened opinion, however, and a lofty conception are not either in themselves or together sufficient. We need a lofty conception of service added as a part of the three-fold ideal of what Americanism means to us as individuals.

If training for citizenship in our public schools is to be vital and enduring, it must express itself in some organized form of community service.

The army makes an appeal to the young and is composed largely of young men. Why should not recognized forms of public service be offered to our youth? They have more time than they know how to employ. The young prove efficient in industry; why should they not be efficient in the service of the community? They are eager for adventure and are more capable of devotion than they will ever be again. If they are given something to do in the service of the state and community, they will attain the art of social efficiency and will have a marked degree of public spirit for the rest of life. What form this service should take, I will not attempt to say, but I believe it will be one of the notable developments in the future training of our citizens. If the state calls youth to military service and must prescribe an age limit below which they shall be kept from the call of industry, is it not the part of wisdom to give them an honored and responsible place in the community and the state?

(Editor's Note—The articles appearing in the above space from week to week are taken from "Americanization" by Elewood Griscom, Jr. This excellent volume, which is a collection of articles upon the general theme of patriotism and good citizenship, is presented to the schools of Texas by the Bodies of Scottish Rite Masonry in Texas.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

KILL THE '23 WEEVIL IN '22

Mr. Reppert, Entomologist of the Extension Service of A. & M. College, advises that the conditions this fall are ideal for the destruction of the boll weevils that will otherwise go into winter quarters, and from which great numbers will develop next Spring to attack the 1923 cotton crop. If their food and breeding place is removed well before frost this fall, most of this year's crop of weevils will starve before they go into winter quarters. The cotton in many sections has already been picked, and in most other sections picking will soon be completed. It is advised then, that the cotton growth be destroyed, by October 1st, if possible, by plowing out with a plow set shallow, or by some other usually effective means. Do not burn the crop refuse. It is enough to kill the plant completely. Clipping or running a stalk cutter over the rows will not accomplish the purpose, as new growth will immediately spring from the roots that will make ideal food for the weevil and thus keep them alive till they can get into winter quarters. Kill the plant early and keep it killed. The best results will follow where co-operation is practiced, and where "everybody is doing it."

Mary Katherine Campbell, of Columbus, Ohio, was crowned National Beauty Queen for 1922 in the Annual Pageant at Atlantic City. She is 16 years old, 5 feet 5 inches in height, and weighs 133 pounds. She swims, rides, dances—and goes to school. She triumphed over 170 other American beauty winners from as many different towns and cities in the U. S.

AMERICAN QUEEN OF BEAUTY FOR 1922 KNOWS THE KITCHEN

Special to The Clarendon News By Robert Fuller

Atlantic City, N. J.—Being beautiful does not take all of one's time. One can be beautiful and still be quite intimate with kitchen utensils. Mary Katherine Campbell, of Columbus, Ohio, says so—and Mary ought to know.

Miss Campbell is a 16-year-old school girl and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman R. Campbell. She has just been crowned Queen of American Beauty for 1922. She prides herself that she can cook a well-seasoned dish of ham and cabbage. Miss Campbell was picked as America's most beautiful girl from a group of 170 prize winners representing as many different towns and cities in the United States.

The competition was the annual Beauty Pageant at Atlantic City. She was entered as Miss Columbus.

Her Ideal Man

Miss Campbell is a wholesome, mid-Western miss just out of high school. She swims, rides, dances and helps mother cook. She is 5 feet 5 inches in height and weighs 133 pounds.

Marriage she blushing admits, is at least 4 years away—although she confessed 7 proposals already.

The man of her dreams—well, he should be tall, slightly interested in athletics, good-humored, and not too handsome. He can be either rich or poor—if she loves him.

New American Type

Coles Phillips, famous American illustrator and artist, and one of the judges in the contest, said of Miss Campbell:

"Years ago the nation was thrilled by the so-called Gibson Girl. In the last few years two types of beauty have usurped her place. These are the type that Flo Ziegfeld has exploited, and the Mary Pickford type.

"Neither of these girls in my opinion really typifies the American girl. Instead, I should say she more nearly approximates Miss Campbell's appearance. The type I mean is rather tall, with straight lines, broad shoulders, a free swing to her body, and a clear intelligent face. She is rather athletic.

As a matter of fact measurements mean really nothing. Proportion is much more important. At any rate, the type I have described is seen to the highest degree in Miss Campbell. Artists, by the way, say that the type is produced most generally in the Middle West. The beauties were judged from three joints—in evening gown, bathing suit and general appearance.

The Senior Epworth League of the First Methodist Church of Clarendon, Texas meets each Sunday afternoon at 7:00 p. m.

Sunday, September 24 marks the beginning of a new term of officers. Miss Pansy Lane is now president, Mr. Ralph Porter, vice president and Mr. Loyd Stallings, secretary treasurer.

No more efficient officers could be secured throughout the North West Texas Conference. Yet with such an efficient group of officers the League cannot mean to this town and what it should do without the co-operation of the young people of the town.

Each and every young person of any town should have some young peoples society upon their minds for their Sunday evening devotional services and their just and due credit to their creator.

We believe that there is no branch of young peoples services anywhere within our land that can compete with this the Clarendon Senior Epworth League in their endeavors to have a christian fellowship reigning throughout its entire meetings, and that offers any better training to the seeking striving individual who has determined to DO OR DIE.

To those who have formerly lived in Clarendon and have dropped from the League on the account of lack of enthusiasm let us state that the League has been pepped up by some two hundred thriving young students that are eager to meet each and every young person that resides in Clarendon.

Come out to League next Sunday and lets get acquainted and start the new College year off 100 percent, for town, school, churches and above all the great omnipotent Creator of the Universe.

HOGS AND LAMBS HIGHER CATTLE TRADE ACTIVE

Kansas City Stock Yards, Sept. 18.—The upturn in hog prices which started last week continued today with an additional gain of 10 to 15 cents. The top price was $9.55 and bulk of sales $9.10 to $9.50. Cattle receipts though smaller than a week ago were about normal for the third Monday in September and trade remained active with no quotable change in prices. Sheep and lambs sold readily at last week's high price levels.

Today's Receipts
Receipts today were 31,000 cattle, 9,000 hogs, and 6,000 sheep, compared with 35,000 cattle, 8,000 hogs, and 9,000 sheep a week ago, and 30,925 cattle, 7,300 hogs, and 13,900 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle
Fed cattle were in light supply and prices were quoted strong to 15 cents higher. Some choice steers sold up to $11. Short fed, wintered summer grazed and best grass fat steers were in active demand at strong prices. Common to fair quality grass fat steers were steady. The general market was in a fairly good position.

tion. Improved labor conditions, more fuel in sight and the general view that the movement has reached maximum proportions were factors that inclined the buying side to a more active trade. Cows and heifers were quoted strong to 15 cents higher. Veal calves were generally steady.

Stockers and Feeders

An improved outlook in the cat situation together with a moderate decrease in receipts compared with a week ago stimulated demand for stockers and feeders at strong prices. Most of the thin cattle came from the Southwest. There was a good showing of quality.

Hog

Hog prices today were 10 to 15 cents higher than last week's close, and 75 to 65 cents higher than the low point of the season two weeks ago. The upturn in the market started a week ago and from the strength evident in demand today the rise in prices will continue. The top price today was $9.55 and bulk of sales $9.10 to $9.50. Pigs sold at $8.50 to $9.25.

Sheep and Lambs

Native lambs sold at $13 to $13.50 and Arizona lambs $1.25. No western lambs arrived, but choice kinds would have brought $13.50 to $14 or a new high price for the season. The general market was quoted strong to 25 cents higher. Sheep were steady.

Horses and Mules

About one hundred horses and three hundred mules were in sight for this week's auction. Inquiry was fairly large, and an active trade is anticipated.

GOOD INTEREST IN CHURCH OF CHRIST REVIVAL MEETING

The meeting which was begun at the church of Christ in this city Wednesday evening of last week is progressing very satisfactorily, with large audiences and much interest being manifested at each service. Rev. A. O. Colley, of Dallas, is doing the preaching, and his messages are being received with much favor by the congregation and visitors. His many excellent lessons have meant much to those who have been so fortunate as to hear them. Several have been converted and joined the church thus far.

As well as the interest in the sermon, the congregation is joining heartily in the singing; and this, under the leadership of Bob McGowan is one of the excellent features of the meeting.

Day services are being held at ten o'clock in the morning, and the evening services at eight o'clock each evening. Unless plans are changed, the meeting will close Sunday evening; and everyone is invited to come and hear Rev. Colley before his return to Dallas.

LONGHORN FOOTBALL BACKFIELD IS LIGHT

Austin, Texas, Sept. 20.—During the first week of Longhorn football practice which began Monday of last week, prospective Texas University football players of the 1922 eleven were drilled in the fundamentals of football. So many of the candidates for the Longhorn team are comparatively inexperienced, that the Varsity coaches found it necessary to devote the first week of training to elementary football training. Probably the greater part of this week will be given over to such practice drill as falling in the ball, passing, dummy tackling, forward pass receiving, and so on.

From present indications the Varsity coaches will place on the gridiron a rather light team. The average weight of the forty odd men now in camp is 173 pounds. There are a number of heavy line candidates, but few have the desired experience. Especially do the Longhorns have a scarcity of outstanding wing candidates. Jos Moore, regular of last year, although weighing only 150 pounds, seems to be a fixture at one end. There are a number of inexperienced men trying out for the other wing position.

There is a noticeable lack of beef among the backfield candidates. "Bully" Gilstrap, 185-pound substitute full back of last season, is the heaviest candidate trying for the backfield. The other candidates for position back of the line are light. If the Varsity team of 1922 is to be a scoring machine of merit, the coaches will have to discover a number of speedy backs, who by their speed will be able to counterbalance their lack of weight.
