

COMMUNITY SERVICES WHICH BEGAN HERE LAST TUESDAY EVENING GAIN ATTENDANCE AND INTEREST

CAPT. C. S. NUSBAUM AND COMPANY ARE CONDUCTING SERIES OF SERVICES UNDER AUSPICES OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE. PREPARATIONS ARE BEING MADE FOR THE BIG COMMUNITY DINNER TOMORROW. SERVICES TO CLOSE SUNDAY.

The community services being conducted here this week by Capt. Nusbaum are gaining in interest in a way that proves that great things must follow. A good sized crowd was present Tuesday evening to hear his lecture, and last evening the auditorium of the Methodist church was filled. Capt. Nusbaum's lectures are of the inspirational type, and his many witticisms add to the general good effect. Prof. W. W. Nusbaum is in charge of the music; but as his voice is in no condition to sing, due to cold, the captain is doing the solo singing. A big volunteer committee is making preparations for the big community dinner which will be held here tomorrow.

Tuesday evening Capt. Nusbaum's lecture was on "The Individual Life and the Community." In this he gave in an interesting and entertaining manner some of the many ways in which the individual life goes to make up that of the community; for the community is but the sum total of the individuals, and their life is determinative of the value of the community. The lecture was preceded by vocal and instrumental music. The Methodist Church orchestra rendered the Coronation March from Meyerbeer's opera "The Prophet." Then followed a song service in which many of the songs that are familiar today were sung. Following this Miss Anna Moores gave a vocal solo just preceding the lecture.

Last evening the captain's lecture was on the subject "Investment of Life's Forces in the Community." In this he gave in remarkable way the value of investing in human life, instead of making all investments in the material for material return. He took many incidents from the lives of men from the greatest to the least in this nation, and showed how these placed great value in the investments in human life; for such investments are necessary before material investments can be of value. The captain combines philosophy and poetry in a unique manner in building up his theme, and his humor serves to emphasize the bigger points.

Following the lecture last evening, volunteers were called for to help in the big community dinner tomorrow; some twenty people have offered their services, and plans were made to make the dinner one of the finest community affairs ever held here. Everybody in the county is invited to fill a basket with cats and come to the place set aside for the dinner. The committee will look after the arrangements, of the dinner and make other necessary preparations. At many of the places where Capt. Nusbaum has been, there have been four hundred people at the big community dinner, and such a number is expected here.

There is no charge for the lectures of Capt. Nusbaum, but a free will offering is taken following each lecture. The Chamber of Commerce is bearing the expense of heating and lighting the church. The course is brought here for its value to the community and community life, and with co-operation the services will bring the same wonderful results as they have elsewhere. The services commence at seven thirty o'clock each evening.

HOUSE BURNS AT JA HEADQUARTERS MONDAY

The large house at the JA headquarters which was known as the Kent house caught fire and burned with complete loss at seven o'clock Monday morning. The origin of the fire is unknown, though it is supposed that it was caused by a defective fuse. The occupants had prepared breakfast and were eating when it was discovered that the house was on fire. Roy Moore made his home there.

THE BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION OF THE BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

Troop Number One of Clarendon celebrated the birthday of the Scout Movement last Friday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Building at the regular meeting, which was made an open meeting to which all friends of Scouting Scouts had been invited. The room was appropriately decorated with National Flag, Troop and Patrol flags. The Scoutmaster conducted the meeting. The following is the program:

America—Troop and audience.
Invocation.
Roll Call—Scout Scribe, Warren Bray.
Birthday Greetings, "The Ideal of Scouting"—Scoutmaster W. H. Foster.
Male Quartette—Messrs. White, Story, Nelson and Foster.
Honorary Tenderfoot—Mayor McLean, and the three members of the Troop Committee Messrs. R. A. Long, W. E. Bray and J. T. Patton, take the Scout Oath.
"A Birthday Toast" to the Scout—R. A. Long, Chairman Troop Committee.
A Word About the Troop Library—Troop Librarian Oliver McElyea.
A Commendation of the Troop Work—Volunteered by W. E. Bray.
Scout Sign and Oath—The Troop.
After this program was concluded the Troop were guests of Mr. Homer Mulkey at the Pastime Theatre. This was very much appreciated by the boys and they extend to Mr. Mulkey their hearty thanks for this birthday treat.

The Clarendon Potato Curing Plant was laid to complete waste Sunday evening by flames of unknown origin that were discovered about eight o'clock. As the building was beyond the reach of the fire plug nothing could be done to check the flames. About four thousand bushels of potatoes were stored and lost. The total loss is estimated at about twenty-two thousand dollars.

At the time that the flames were discovered and the fire whistle sounded, the flames were so small that few of the citizens could see any sign of fire, and therefore thought nothing of the alarm. It was fully thirty minutes before the fire was well under way, and it lasted for more than an hour. The fact that the roof was painted with fire-retarding paint accounts for the slowness with which the fire developed.

Although there was nine thousand dollars of insurance on the structure and contents, although it cannot be definitely ascertained at this time how fully the potatoes were covered by insurance. The loss will be more keenly felt as part of those who had potatoes stored in the plant were depending on the returns from them for a good deal of money. The loss is also felt in that the destruction of the plant removes a great inducement for another big crop for Donley.

EX-TEXAS STUDENTS ARRANGE FOR BANQUET HERE

The ex-students of the University of Texas met Tuesday evening at six thirty o'clock at the Y building, and made preparations for holding a banquet here March the Second. Ex-Texas students from this and from Hall, Childress and Collingsworth counties will also be present, as the organization includes these four counties. Committees were appointed to look after the various phases of the banquet. Dr. H. L. Wilder, who is president of the organization for these counties, read communications from the University making suggestions along what lines other banquets of like nature were being held.

The following committees were appointed: Program, Mrs. J. E. Nelson, Hon. C. E. Thompson, and Chas. Dean; Place and Decorations, Supt. J. E. Nelson and Miss Emily Rice; Publicity, Dr. O. L. Jenkins and Miss Cleo Bowers; Music, Lloyd Stallings and Chas. Dean. It is the custom of the ex-students of the University of Texas to hold a banquet each year on Independence Day wherever there are even a few students. The memory of the old days and the love for the alma mater is thus kept alive. Being a member of the four county organization, the banquet is held in Clarendon only every fourth year; and it is the plan of the committee to make this a banquet that will long be remembered.

THOROUGHbred CHICKS ARE IN GREAT DEMAND

The county agents for this county report that every day they are receiving calls for thoroughbred chicks. They say that had Donley raised enough of such chickens, they could have placed orders amounting to five thousand chickens, and that within the past few weeks. The number of poultry raisers in this county is fast increasing, and they are replacing scrub stock with thoroughbreds. Mrs. J. M. Akard, of the Martin community, recently culled her chickens and sold sixty-two hens for sixty dollars. She used the money in making replacements with thoroughbreds. Other poultry raisers are doing likewise.

GROWTH OF PANHANDLE REVIEWED AT LUNCHEON

PROMINENT VISITORS PRESENT AT TUESDAY'S FEED COMPLIMENT DONLEY ON ITS MANY RESOURCES. ATTENDANCE IS GOOD.

Tuesday's Luncheon was one of the most largely attended and enthusiastic meetings in several weeks; and many facts that go to prove the prosperity of Donley were recited. Capt. Nusbaum and company, the great community specialists, and Miss Huff, of St. Louis, director of the Red Cross work for the Southwest, were among the prominent visitors.

Following the lunch, Secretary McCardell read some facts that have recently been given out by the traffic manager of the Ft. Worth and Denver which figures go to show the increase in wealth and prosperity of the Panhandle from 1901 until 1921. In the former years there was in deposit in all the banks along the line a little less than three million dollars, while in December 1921 there was on deposit more than fifty million dollars. The average wealth per capita along the Panhandle part of the road is 107, a much higher figure than is the average over the whole of the United States.

Miss Huff reviewed the progress of the Red Cross work in the Panhandle for the past year, and spoke of how that reflected the progress in other lines. In the 93 counties of the Panhandle, she said, there were five public health nurses last year; today there are fourteen of such nurses and seven other counties are waiting and asking for nurses. Last year there were four counties doing social welfare work, while today there are seven counties looking after such interests. Today there are seven counties maintaining nutrition specialists, the work of these is to co-operate with the mothers in the preparation of the best diet for school children.

REMAINS OF J. L. GRAY INTERRED TUESDAY

John L. Gray passed away at nine o'clock Monday morning following an illness of more than a year's duration and a confinement to his room since last November. Funeral services were held at the Methodist Church at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon following which interment took place in the Citizens' Cemetery.

Mr. Gray was born Oct. 31, 1855. He was married to Miss Malinda Fickas November 23, 1879. Seven children were born to this union, four girls and three boys, all of whom survive the father and were present at the funeral with the exception of one daughter. Mr. Gray was converted and joined the Methodist church in August 1891.

TERRACING DEMONSTRATION TO BE GIVEN BY ENGINEERING SPECIALIST

Saturday, Feb. 25th at 9:00 a. m. at the farm of R. O. Thomas, 2 miles north west of Clarendon a terracing demonstration will be conducted by J. N. Bentley of A. & M. College in co-operation with the Donley County agricultural agent. The terrace lines will be run by Mr. Bentley, then he will show how to build an ideal terrace with a V drag. The latter is the most important feature in successful terracing.

PLANNING MAKE PARK OF PALO DURO CANYON

MEETING TO BE HELD IN AMARILLO MARCH 2ND FOR PURPOSE OF MAKING OUTLINES AND PLANS FOR PROJECTED PARK.

A campaign that is assuming Panhandle wide dimensions is being started to have a part of the Palo Duro Canyon set aside as a state or national park. The Amarillo Board of City Development has recently sent out letters to the newspapers and organizations of the Panhandle asking them to send representatives to a meeting to be held in Amarillo March 2nd. At this time it is hoped that plans may be made for setting aside a portion of the canyon for such a park. The letter is:

"For the purpose of formulating and promoting definite outlines and plans to transform a considerable portion of Palo Duro canyon into a state or national park, the chairman of the park committee from the Board of City Development has deemed it advisable to call a meeting of representatives from every community in the Panhandle and Plains country to perfect a permanent organization and launch a campaign for a state or national park.

"You are urged to be present at the conference and to bring as many representatives as possible from your county. The conference will be held Thursday, March 2 (Independence Day), at 2 p. m. in the district court room, Amarillo, Texas.

PLANS BEING MADE FOR FINE NEW SCHOOL BUILDING FOR THIS CITY CALL FOR BIG MODERN STRUCTURE

AMARILLO ARCHITECT IS MAKING PLANS FOR $75,000 STRUCTURE WHICH WILL BE SITUATED EAST OF PRESENT HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING. WILL HAVE TWO STORIES AND BASEMENT WITH TEN ROOMS AND GYMNASIUM.

A Big Day with the Economic Clubs. Country women can cook something else besides bacon and beans. The good cakes do not all live in other counties. Donley county has her share. This was very evident last Friday when fifty-three women representing Economic Clubs of six communities met at the country home of Mrs. E. O. Hutton of the Sunnyview community to witness practical bread making. Each of these women brought a dish of some kind of food for the lunch. Instead of lunch it looked like a picnic dinner.

Fried chicken vied with beef and boiled ham. Half dozen kinds of pies and as many kinds of cakes and salads that would put a French chef to shame added to the many other varieties of food made a feast that would satisfy the most particular. But these women were not satisfied with their present attainments in cooking. They came together to learn a better way to make bread and to do other things that are so necessary in the daily round of woman's work.

Miss Kitty Washington of A. & M. College, also a graduate of Columbia University, assisted by Miss Trullie Richmond, Donley County Home Demonstration agent, gave a practical demonstration of bread making by the quick method. From the same piece of sponge many kinds of rolls were made. One of the most appetizing kinds of bread made was the Virginia or Southern corn bread. In this bread the meal was scalded first.

In the afternoon a demonstration was given of the way most modern women do their house work by the old method. Then Miss Washington gave the better way. In discussing conveniences for the kitchen she said "Men will pay hundreds of dollars for machinery to do their work with, but if a woman spend five dollars kitchen conveniences she feels that she has been extravagant. It is not laziness to sit while you peel potatoes. It is safe economy. Leave your beds unmade a few hours if you need to get out for a drive you will feel better and can do your work better if you have some other things to be interested in aside from the daily round of house keeping and home making.

In the further demonstrations fancy candies were made. Showing how to use colors that the candy may be made more attractive. Olive oils were recommended rather than paraffin in mixing chocolates for drops.

The women's clubs all over the county are making much progress due to Miss Richmonds faithful and efficient work. She is making each communities work count for real practical knowledge of the things that are vital to home making. Practical demonstrations were given in Jericho Saturday.

AMERICAN STORES ENJOYS GREAT SALE

D. T. Dewell, manager of the American Stores company in this city, says that the nineteen cent sale advertised by that firm to start last Saturday, was a great success. He says that many of the people mentioned to him the fact that they saw his ad in the News. He had planned to let the sale last for several days, but that the stock advertised was practically sold out the first day.

Mrs. Gardner, of Necona, is visiting here with Misses Herloise and Lelia Burrells and their mother.

The Advance editor "reassured" an old pipe from the window sill of a Sap passenger train Saturday night which had been left there by Attorney Paul H. Brown when the latter left the train at Karnes City on the return from a short trip to San Antonio. The pipe, in appearance a relic of better days, when in due season forwarded to Mr. Brown, and brought forth a letter, part of the contents of which we are going to make public. Among other things Mr. Brown made the following observations: "I smoked that pipe when I was a 'dude' at the University, and then I carried it to foreign lands and smoked it around campfires on cold nights when the American youth dreamed of the land he loved and never dreamed that men who were traitors to our country those times would be pardoned and made heroes of less than three years later." Of course, Mr. Brown had no idea of his remarks being made public, but the sentiment is so aptly expressed it is worthy to be passed along to others.—Kenedy Advance.

YES, WHERE ARE THEY

Commenting upon the prevalence of the present moral laxity among the young folks, especially boys and girls, as indicated by joy riding on lonely roads unchaperoned, the Braymer, (Mo.) Bee recently printed the following editorial under the caption, "Where in Hell's Her Folks?":

We are not using our own expression particularly, for that was what our driver said to us when we were coming home from the country the other night and the light of the car brightly illuminated the particulars of a scene at the roadside in which a young man and woman and a buggy were the central figures.

"Where in hell's her folks," might well be asked any pleasant evening as one drives about the vicinity and finds cars with the lights out at the roadside with the occupants in a more or less compromising position—mostly more.

We have no desire to be sensational at all, and we really spend mighty little time trying to regulate the other fellow's conduct, but it seems to us that for the benefit of the young people, for the good of common decency, that someone responsible should know where their girls are—if not their boys.

And the practice seems to be getting so popular that there is mighty little effort at secrecy about it—true the byroads are a little more popular but it is an ordinary occurrence to see a car, or a buggy as it was in the particular case to which we at first referred, pulled up at the roadside with the brazenness of the occupants caring nothing whatever for the passing vehicles.

Further detail is unnecessary, like the raiment of a good many of the female population, nothing is left to the imagination. The young people, heedless of consequences are playing with fate—their very lives are pawned on the spur of passion. All that a later life will under ordinary circumstances hold dear, is risked without thought or seeming regret.

The time was, not so many years ago, when men would die if need be to sustain the virtue of a woman. Now that most priceless things are so blamed cheap that it is exposed at the roadside and is made sport of on the streets.

This may be, or our readers may think it is, extreme language. It does not in any way exaggerate, even by inference. It may offend some, our hope is that it may offend or rouse, or in some way promote that action that breeds caution—that will force such degree of parental responsibility that this perilous thing for our young womanhood and manhood may be abated to its least degree.

These things are not nice to say—it may be a reflection on the community, yet other communities are being cursed the same way. But be that as it may, the whole miserable thing is lamentably true. If you don't think so take a ride some pleasant evening, and be out till 10 or 11 o'clock—you'll probably get your eyes full before that.

You may be "her folks"—if not you will wonder with our driver "where in hell they are."

SOMEBODY HAS MONEY

There is prosperity in the land, though it does not include everybody. It never does, for since man first inhabited the earth, according to history, some have been rich and others have been poor. There is much unemployment in the world today and there is much in the United States, but the employed have been for the most part getting higher wages than ever before. Living costs have been high, and high wages were necessary to meet them. Living costs now are declining and wages, too, have begun to go down, and it is natural this should cause general dissatisfaction, for property owners do not want to see the income from their property lowered, merchants do not wish to see the value of their stocks on hand decline and wage earners are not pleased, naturally, to be offered or paid less than they have been receiving. Nevertheless those who are working for wages should be better off than they were a few years ago, for they have learned lessons of thrift and their ambition have been aroused as never before.

Somewhat has money to invest, notwithstanding the recent cry of adverse financial conditions, for, according to reports from financial centers the American people are still absorbing great quantities of bonds and, while the total demand is not up to the high level of last autumn (when the cry of depression was much louder than it is today) the activity of the bond market is, under the circumstances, most extraordinary. The current financial letter of the National City bank of Chicago has this to say:

The amount of bonds listed on Jan. 3, 1922, was $16,296,302,000 as compared with $15,442,837,000 the year before, an increase of $853,000,000 over the previous year as compared with a gain in 1920 over the previous year of $327,000,000. These figures are very suggestive but they do not begin to tell the real story of the bond market which consists largely of "over the counter" operations, instead of those represented by day to day trading on the stock exchange. In some respects the present bond market is the most extraordinary that the country has ever seen, because of the enormous outstanding issues of foreign government securities in the hands of American investors which are now at record figures. The probability is that more foreign government loans will be marketed here in the near future and that the total transactions of all sorts will reach formidable figures. It is noteworthy that the average investor these days is not asking for short term loans, but is seeking to invest his savings in long term bonds, running long enough to secure for him the present income return during his normal life expectancy.

The outlook for the longer future is highly encouraging. Individuals as well as corporations are trying hard to make up for the errors of past years and there does not seem to be any inclination on the part of the public to speculate in securities, commodities, or essential merchandise. The effort seems to be to further reduce production costs and through heroic measures, if necessary, to lower the cost of living and the expense of doing business. What the net results of these movements will be no one can foretell. The indications are, however, that the country eventually will benefit enormously from such an attitude on the part of its citizens.

Retail trade is being generally well conducted in the effort to move goods as quickly as possible and avoid undue risks incident to the carrying over of winter merchandise. A building campaign of almost nation-wide proportions is under way in response to an urgent demand for more houses, apartments and business structures. Easier credit conditions and lower money rates have been important influences reducing large purchases of long term securities and other investments which has been previously neglected. It is evident that deflation in various industries has pretty well run its course although there are yet many adjustments to be made, especially by those business men who have resisted the strong tendency towards a lower price level. The situation calls for wise business leadership and it is evident that where common sense methods are adopted, there will be good results.—Ft. Worth Record.

INCOME TAX FACTS

The new requirement of the income tax law that returns shall be made of gross income of $5,000 or more regardless of the amount of net income upon which the tax is assessed, necessitates careful computation on the part of the taxpayer. "Gross income" includes practically every dollar received by the taxpayer during the year 1921 in salaries, wages, commissions, rents, royalties, interest on bank deposits, cash dividends on stock, "or income from any source whatsoever." "Net income" is gross income less certain deductions provided for by the act, including all business expenses incurred in the conduct of a business, trade, profession, or vocation.

Certain expenditures, however, are not deductible as a business expense when made for the purchase of articles more or less permanent in character or for permanent improvement of property. For example, a merchant would not be allowed to deduct the amount expended in the erection of a new store, or a farmer the cost of a new tractor or threshing machine, since such investments are held to be capital investments. The law expressly prohibits the deduction of family or living expenses, such as rent for a dwelling, repairs to a dwelling, cost of food and clothing for the family, education of children, servant's wages, and similar items. Amounts spent during the year 1921 for any of these items are not deductible.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time remedy, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation for, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking as small strands at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

An Implement Shed

THE LIFE OF YOUR MACHINERY MEANS MORE THAN DOUBLE

Say you have $1,000.00 tied up in machinery. If you leave them out in the weather in five years rust will make them practically useless. Depreciation costs you $200 a year. But it has been proved that protected from sun, rain and ice, when implements are not in use, increases their life two to three times. No matter what amount you have invested in farming tools, your best investment now is a SHED to protect them from destruction by weather. We can give you estimates and plans for several sizes of inexpensive implement sheds—and we believe we can save you money on the material. Ask us for prices and estimates on the well known CAMERON QUALITY.

REV. SAM J. WHITE
WRITES FROM FLORIDA

McIntosh, Florida, Feb. 6, 1922.
Editor Clarendon News:
This is my way of writing to everybody at once. I have so many friends here that I cannot write to all of them so I will let them hear through the paper if you will be kind enough to publish this article.

I landed in Florida on the 17th of January. I began my meeting on the 18 at Winter Haven, Florida. The meeting was short but resulted in thirty-four added to the church. Had two young men to promise themselves for the ministry and three girls to promise for the missionary field. It was a great meeting. The church called me for a meeting next year to run four weeks beginning the first day of January 1923.

The country has made wonderful improvement during the ten years I have been away from it, until I would scarcely have known the place. 217 miles of the finest of roads in the county. They connect every town and village in the county. The oranges are the finest in the world. The shade trees along the side walks in the little city are loaded with fine grape fruit or golden oranges. No one buys fruit there as you can have all you want by just taking it, not even supposed to ask for it. Only two frosts so far during the winter and one of them came while I was there.

I left Winter Haven at the close of the meeting and went direct to Tampa where I attended the South Florida fair. It was indeed great exhibit and worth the time and money to attend it. From Tampa I went to St. Petersburg where I staid for only one day with some old time friends. St. Petersburg is the dream of America. In going to St. Petersburg I crossed beautiful Tampa Bay. It is a two hours ride across it and one of the most beautiful bodies of water in the world. As I sat looking out upon the wide waste of waters I thought of Clarendon and wished that my friends might enjoy the trip with me. The porpoes would play along the boat sides. The seagulls would whirl through the air and the pelicans dive for fish near us. The great gulf lay in the distance and there we could see the far away ships as they would glide in and out on the bosom of the restless ocean. On arrival at St. Petersburg I found bathers on the beach and they seemed to be enjoying the water, even though it was the first of February.

Fifty thousand visitors are now in St. Petersburg and the city has a population of twenty-five thousand. There are more beautiful homes in America than you will find at St. Petersburg. It is a city of magic growth. When one sees it today he would hardly know it tomorrow.

I am now in a meeting at McIntosh in Marion county two hundred miles this side of Tampa. Meeting opens fine and prospect of great service. Crowded house last night and it was the first night of the meeting. Many old friends here at this place. But many of those whom I knew in the past have gone on to the great beyond. Will be in Florida until April first and then I go to Louisiana for three weeks and then to Texas for the summer months.

The nearest I will get to Clarendon will be Childress for a meeting beginning May 21st, when I shall hope to see many of my good friends of Clarendon. I take this manner of greeting my many friends at Clarendon and if this finds its way into the columns of the paper I may try it again some day. With best wishes to the editor and all the people. I am

Faithfully yours,
Sam J. White.

DOGS KILL DEER EAST OF CLARENDON SUNDAY

A bunch of dogs owned by Tine and Frank Mace showed unusual fight Sunday when they pursued a large deer for some two miles finally killing him. The chase started some ten miles east of this city and continued cross country through fields and pastures for the two miles. The owners of the dogs followed on as fast as they could, and by the time that the dogs ended the chase, half of the community was following in hot pursuit.

The meat was distributed among the onlookers; and the Mace brothers returned to this city longing to tell a big story of their hunting process, but afraid to do so. When questioned they declared that they never even yelled sic 'em at the dogs.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Brest Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

NEWSPAPER EDITING

The sort of newspaper that would be published if everybody edited it, would be something wonderful, but nothing that anybody would subscribe for. The newspaper business is perhaps the most competitive of any in existence. People who make up newspapers must have the mass of the people in mind every moment. No newspaper can live by catering to a chosen few. There is not in any community enough business to support a large newspaper designed especially for what are slargely called the highbrows. The high-brows are a vague class, but are commonly supposed to be the type of citizens who take no interest in any subject except one concerning things that would be discussed in a faculty or a fine arts convention or a symposium of the higher clergy. No daily newspaper made to fit a clientele of intellectuals or near-intellecuals could subsist itself on what the intellectuals would be willing to pay. A new author made himself unpopular some time ago by saying that as far as he had observed most of the criticisms of his book had come from that class of readers who never buy books, but are keen for borrowing them and picking them to pieces. It might be said of some of those who are severest in their condemnation of the daily press that they do not have to pay its bills nor do they contribute greatly to its support.—Dallas News.

Why quit using an electric iron because the service bill is above the minimum? It is true that it costs money to operate the electric iron. ### PANHANDLE-PLAINS C. OF C.

No other organization is so desirable to the Panhandle and Plains country as the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce administered as such an enterprise should and may be administered in the interest of the general welfare of all the people.

Every city that is making progress has long since been convinced that without a commercial organization it cannot make the advancement to which it is entitled. The commercial organization is a clearing house for the questions of development coming up to the community. The idea that without this organization, the community has the ability to take care of its interests, has subsided. The individuals of the community just as well as to say that no schools are needed, for the reason that each household will educate its own children, or that no physicians are needed in the neighborhood, for each and every household will carry a stock of the remedial drugs and appliances needful to the restoration of an impaired state of health, or that no ministers will be welcomed and no church houses built, as each and every family will have the ability, time and inclination to meet its own spiritual needs, or that a public library is a needless expense, for each and every home may install all of the reading matter needed, or that there is no necessity for the mercantile enterprise, for each and every family has the ability to care for its own requirements in these matters, as to declare that the problems of any population center may be adjusted without organization.

This line of reasoning is so inconsistent with the facts now becoming generally recognized with reference to the worth of commercial organizations, that to argue the necessity of them, is to appear too primary to be considered seriously. As the commercial organization is necessary to the best interests of the local community so is the regional commercial organization, for it has an office to perform, whose importance must in measure at least, be understood to be fully appreciated. There is the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, chambers of commerce of the world are but a step ahead. The automobile interests of the United States have a chamber of commerce and this is performing a service for good, generally recognized among its members. The income the various state organizations, and next in importance with reference to the entire movement, the regional, or district bodies.

Now, for an intimate close-up of the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce as the medium through which grew great good may be accomplished for all concerned.

It is an organization formulated by Panhandle and Plains country citizens responsive to an existing necessity.

It is in the interest of every community within the jurisdiction comprising its legitimate territory.

It furnishes a vehicle for the conveyance of the general good of these several communities acting co-operatively for the regional advancement.

It is attuned to the outstanding demands of the territory it assumes to serve, and may be called upon by even the remotest citizen, with assurance of service.

It is continuously on the job for whatever task that may be developed for the advancement of the prosperity of the areas served.

It may be called into service in putting over such enterprises as the Palo Duro State park, for the good of all this part of the southwest.

It will prove a force in bringing together the various elements and forces in this part of the country having a common interest, regardless of state lines.

It may be made a means through which to more closely cement the interests of all the people in the plains areas, and adjacent territory.

It has in the past, as it will with increased facility in the future, be used to thresh out and overcome vexatious difficulties in various lines.

It is an enterprise in which the investment of funds time and efforts will bring many rich and real, as well as multiplied earnings.

Amarillo, every other city and town as well as the centers of rural population have in this organization and element of real promise. It means far more than even the best informed of us realize, to have this organization through which to take the troublesome questions often times confronting us.

This organization will have the ability to render material assistance with many of the Panhandle-Plains wide enterprises. The sum needed to be invested in this enterprise is trifling as compared to the good easily possible through it. This section needs the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce as it needs no other regional enterprise, for through it may be opened doors of opportunity and development which have too long remained closed.

We need this organization whether or not we have realized the fact. It is of great importance and to overlook it is to injure our people throughout the entire Panhandle and Plains section and our neighbors across the two joint state lines. By all means, let us get behind this enterprise and fight for it, as we have done for no other institution of similar character.—Amarillo Daily News.

EXTRACTS FROM A SPEECH ON COUNTRY ADVERTISING

Cal Rollins, the man who owns a string of stores through the north, and one time a successful dry goods salesman, made some very interesting statements in regard to advertising, before the State Ad Club of Nebraska in a speech delivered a few days ago. He is a successful merchant, salesman and business man and attributes his success to the publicity he gives his business through newspaper advertisements.

Mr. Rollins makes these statements for the benefit of the small town merchants, and suggests that if they would follow along these lines they would find it to be of great advantage in building up the trade.

He makes much of the nationally advertised goods, men and women's ready to wear clothing, underwear, shoes, collars, ties, shirts and other articles advertised so extensively in the magazines. He makes it a point to carry things to wear and to eat that are advertised and illustrated all over the country in farm papers. These things, he says are already known throughout the country, as the manufacturers spend thousands of dollars each year in advertising such goods, and all he has to do is to let his customers know that he handles these goods in his store. Every farmer and housewife knows the goods by name, and when they know these can be found at his store they merely come in and call for them. They create in their minds a reputation for a certain thing and his ad in the local newspaper does the rest. He does not criticize the method of any other way of carrying on their business, but he that doesn't carry the national advertised goods is missing a great opportunity. He says the time is now that the farmer reads advertisements and are well posted when it comes to buying and they know what they want and generally know what it is worth.—Exchange.

A LARGE PART OF BUSINESS FAILURES ACCOUNTED FOR

During the year 1921, there were a total of 19,652 business failures, and the majority of them were among non-advertisers. There are going to be a lot more than that number during 1922 unless some business men accept business principles, rather than mere private hobbies.—Randall County News.

The non-advertiser, the man who doesn't believe in advertising, is a business failure in advertising, is a business failure to start with. He will be classed with the 1922 failures like he has always been classed. The business man that does not place his business before the public in an intelligent, honest manner, is neglecting a very important opportunity to make a very successful business man.—Lockney Beacon.

THOUSANDS EXPECTED TO VISIT AUTO SHOW

SECOND ANNUAL EVENT WILL GREATLY SURPASS EFFORT OF LAST YEAR. MANY INDUCEMENTS ADDED.

Fifteen thousand visitors, representing practically all sections of the Panhandle of Texas, and Oklahoma, are expected to attend the second annual automobile and style show, at Amarillo, March 9, 10 and 11, members of the Amarillo-Panhandle Automobile Association have estimated.

The second annual event promises to surpass the effort of last year, which gained such wide-spread popularity.

Arrangements have been made for adequate display facilities, and automobile displays, accessory showings, refreshment booths, stage amusements, style showings and dancing will all be staged under one roof. Arrangements are under way for the securing of high class entertainers from the eastern cities, and the thousands of visitors will be given an opportunity to see the very best of attractions.

The annual automobile show was established a year ago for the benefit of the automobile user as well as the dealer, and the first showing was truly an education treat. The user of an automobile is given the advantage of expert opinion and instruction in the advantages offered in the machines of the several makes, and with his own eyes he is given first hand information as to all makes of cars. The necessary dealer has many things of value for the car attachment, and those attending the annual event may see the attachments in actual operation.

HOW TO RID YOUR FARM OF JACK RABBITS

Many farmers have shown an interest in knowing the best method of killing jack rabbits in large numbers, so for the benefit of those who I have not told I am writing the following method which has proven satisfactory in many places.

As rabbits are very fond of alfalfa hay I would suggest its use. Put one ounce of Strychnine Sulphate in one gallon of boiling water, add one tablespoonful of salt, and stir thoroughly until the poison has dissolved. Pour this mixture slowly over 10 pounds of bright alfalfa hay so as to saturate the hay well. Place this poisoned hay out in the field where the rabbits are, about dusk each evening, as this is the time that the rabbits feed. Should there be livestock in the field, build a substantial pen around the poisoned hay, leaving a space of about 10 inches at the bottom for the rabbits to go under.

After a rabbit has eaten any of this poisoned alfalfa he will rarely ever get more than 50 yards from the place. Pick the dead ones up every day and bury them and repeat the operation every day for a week, using about a bale of alfalfa or peanut hay in that length of time. Should a dog consume one of these poisoned rabbits, it would of course poison him also. I would suggest that you notify your neighbors when you put this poison out and give them an opportunity to keep their dogs tied.

County Agent.

DEVELOPING THE AMERICAN COW

Bella Pontiac, a Holstein cow owned by Thomas A. Barron, of Ontario, Canada, has a record of 1,259 pounds of butterfat in one year. Enough butter can be made from the production of this cow to feed twenty-four families of four persons each for a period of twelve months, allowing 16-1-2 pounds of butter per person.

A dozen years ago there was not a single cow in the world that produced as much as 1,000 pounds of butterfat in one year's time. Today there are sixteen cows, all in America, fourteen of which are in the United States, producing more than 1,200 pounds of butterfat and breeders say that present records are only temporary.

It has been demonstrated beyond doubt in every section of the country that a good sire is the chief factor in the development of a herd to a profitable production standard. Of course the development is much more rapid if good cows are set as a foundation, but with only ordinary cows and a sire of good blood lines, a herd of producers can be developed within a period of comparatively few years.

The success of breeders in the development of producing animals which pay cost-plus should encourage all those who have thus far found dairying unprofitable, and those who are contemplating taking an active interest in the industry. Until herds are well established, neighbors should join capital in the purchase of a sire of well known

NOTICE TO FARMERS

Every farmer or business man in Donley County is urged to attend a meeting at the court house next Wednesday, Feb. 22nd at 2:00 p. m. for the purpose of completing the executive committees of the Donley County Farm Bureau.

Hon. Lee Satterwhite will address this meeting, and we would be glad to have you attend even though you have no intention of joining. We especially urge every farmer who is interested in growing watermelons for the commercial market to be present. This could be made an excellent money crop for this county. Our land is typical watermelon land, and this crop could be made to bring thousands of dollars in Donley County each year if we will market them in a systematic way. Our marketing territory is unlimited.

It is now time to begin your plans for a 1922 crop, so make your plans now to attend this meeting.

MASONIC SERVICE PROGRAM OUTLINED

At an all-day meeting held in Dallas Saturday, the Masonic service committee of the Grand Lodge, A. F. & A. M. of Texas, outlined a program of work for 1922 in line with that being promoted throughout the country by the Masonic Service Association of the United States with which the Texas Grand Lodge is affiliated.

The Texas committee is composed of Past Grand Master Andrew L. Randall of Dallas, chairman; John W. Howerth, Dallas; Judge James W. McLeod, Austin; Walter Smith, Galveston, and Wyatt Evans of El Paso. Saturday's meeting was the first to be held by the committee since its appointment.

The committee held its meeting at the Oriental Hotel. The program adopted includes the organization of Masonic study clubs throughout Texas in connection with the presentation of the several motion picture films which have been made by the national association. These films deal with education, patriotism, Americanization work, charity and the public school system, all of which are founded upon the principles of Freemasonry.

The first representation of the Masonic Service Association program in Texas was last year when, as grand master, Mr. Randall made a tour of Texas, during which he delivered addresses throughout the State, presenting in many lodges one of the moving pictures entitled, "A Citizen and His Government."

Under the plan adopted by the committee Saturday, Masonic lodges of Texas will be supplied with the motion pictures at a nominal cost. The State will probably be divided into service association districts with regard to the boundaries of Masonic districts. Where it is desired the motion picture equipment may be purchased through the committee by districts and the films and machines exchanged from time to time between the lodges, each making the date correspond with the program in that particular district.

The first program to be given under the committee's plan as adopted Saturday will be at Austin on Feb. 22, when one of the motion pictures made through the national association will be shown.

The Austin meeting will include the lodges represented in the district as suggested last year when Mr. Randall presented the service program in that city. It is probable that Lockhart will be added to the district, according to suggestions made at Saturday's meeting.

There are 111,000 Freemasons in Texas and the committee proposes to reach a great majority of them with the program before the next meeting of the grand lodge in December, which will mean the showing of the motion pictures, delivering of addresses, etc., before approximately two-thirds of the 998 lodges in Texas.

The executive board of the Masonic Service Association of the United States will meet in Washington Thursday of this week. Mr. Randall, who is a member of the board of representing the Southwestern district, will leave this afternoon to attend the meeting. He was called to Anamosa, Iowa, last week for a conference with George L. Schoonover in connection with the national program for 1922 and returned to Dallas last Friday.

On his way back to Dallas, Mr. Randall visited the Grand Lodge of Louisiana, in session at New Orleans, and delivered an address before that body in the interest of a Masonic home and school similar to the institution maintained at Fort Worth by Texas Masons. The Louisiana Grand Lodge adopted a resolution and made plans for financing the project and work will proceed on the school immediately.

The Louisiana Grand Lodge unanimously approved the Masonic service program and appointed a committee to put it into effect in that State.—Dallas News.

McEWEN RESIDENCE INJURED BY FIRE

The residence of W. J. McEwen, a block west of the light plant, was considerably damaged by a fire of unknown origin Saturday morning about ten o'clock. Due to the quick work of the fire department, the building was saved in fair condition. A great deal of the furniture had been removed by the time the fire truck arrived. After the fire had been extinguished in the rooms, smoke continued to pour out of the roof, and it was necessary to cut the roof open in several places to admit the pressure hose. But within a few minutes the danger was past.

What do we know of the man,

John Marshall? The statesman we know, the great lawyer, the profound jurist, the original thinker, the unrivalled reasoner. All this is to be found in his decisions and in his public life, carved deep in the history of the times. But of the man himself we know little; in proportion to his greatness and the part he played we know almost nothing. He was a silent man, doing his great work in the world and saying nothing of himself. Marshall seems to have destroyed all his own papers; certainly none of consequence are known to exist now. Brief Memories by some of his contemporaries, scattered letters, stray recollections and fugitive descriptions, are all that we have to help us to see and know the man. Yet his personality is so strong that from these fragments and from the study of his public life it stands forth to all who look with understanding and sympathy. A great intellect; a clear sight which was never dimmed, but which always recognized facts and scorned delusions; a powerful will; a courage, moral, mental and physical, which nothing could daunt—all these things lie upon the surface. Deeper down we discern a directness of mind, a purity and strength of character, a kind heart, and abundant humor, and a simplicity and modesty which move our admiration as beyond the bounds of eulogy.

He was a very great man. The proofs of his greatness lie all about us, in our history, our law, our constitutional development, our public thought. But there is one witness to his greatness of soul which seems to me to outweigh all the others. He had been a soldier and lawyer and statesman; he had been an envoy to France, a member of Congress, Secretary of State, and Chief Justice. He did a great work and no one knew better than he how great it had been. Then when he came to die he wrote his own epitaph, and all he asked to have recorded was his name, the date of his birth, the date of his marriage, and the date of his death. What a noble pride and what a fine simplicity are there! In the presence of such a spirit, at the close of such a life, almost anything that can be said would seem tawdry and unworthy. His devoted friend, Judge Story, wished to have inscribed upon Marshall's tomb the words, "Expounder of the Constitution." Even this is something too much and also far too much and also far too little. He is one of that small group of men who have founded states. He is a nation-maker, a state-builder. His monument is in the history of the United States, and his name is written upon the Constitution of his country.

JUST BETWEEN OURSELVES

Optimist and Pessimist
Optimist gets up early to see the sun rise and to behold the glory of the clouds; Pessimist stays in bed, "Why should I see the sun?"

Optimist sees good in hardships and difficulty; overcomes one and vanquishes the other. Pessimist prays for a place on which to rest, and fearing obstacles, hides in terror.

Optimist goes out with a face wreathed in smiles and wins laurels; Pessimist looks with hatred and distrust on all mankind, making enemies at every turn.

Optimist has given to the world every great invention, while Pessimist has broken every dream and shattered every hope.

Optimist is a worshipper; Pessimist is an iconoclast.

Optimist is a bird that can sing joyously at midnight; Pessimist despises music and hates laughter.

Optimist loves the good, the beautiful and true; Pessimist is the parent of that which doubts, a stranger to Truth.

Optimist is the index that points to health, wealth and happiness. Pessimist produces disease, poverty and sadness.

Optimist sits in the sun and enjoys its health-giving beams; Pessimist says, "I never had any use for the sun since I found spots on it."

Optimist is full of vim, vigor, vitality and victory; Pessimist is mentally diseased and on his way to failure.

Optimist finds the open sesame to secret chambers and life's mysteries; Pessimist locks every door, blocks every passage and dolefully whines, "I can't do it."

Optimist is a joy-faced minister who enters the pulpit of life, dispen-who enters the pulpit of life, dispensing gladness and delight; Pessimist stands at the street in daylight with a lighted candle, looking for a man who will help him block all avenues of progress, all exclamations of joy and all progressive ideals.

Optimist is the captain on the bridge of life, proudly guiding his ship to the desired haven, while Pessimist is the pirate who stealthily follows to scuttle the ship of hope.

Optimist has a keen Damascus blade cutting its way to victory; Pessimist carries a stiletto which stabs under cover of darkness. Every truly great man is named Optimist; failures are named Pessimist.

The Optimistic salesman is a magnet drawing trade; the Pessimistic seller is the one who assists his employers to seek the help of a receiver.

Optimistic uses the telescope and brings distant objects near; Pessimist, with a large lens to his eye declares, "I can't see a thing worth while."

The world may well be divided in twain; Optimist—Pessimist; but the greater class, the one in whom our hopes depend, is that under the lead of Optimist. Our captain, All hail!—Geo. E. Wray.

DENVER FINES TWO FOR SALE OF BAD MAGAZINES

Denver, Colo.—The Women's Co-operative League won its first legal victory in its fight against objectionable magazines, the sale of which was recently prohibited by District Attorney Van Cise, when Police Magistrate William A. Rice gave fines to two distributors of the objectionable publications on the 3rd. S. E. Wall and Harold Sanborn were given fines of $10 and costs each, on a technical charge of selling indecent literature, after members of the league had testified against them.

Magistrate Rice severely condemned the matter contained in the publications and stated that future offenders would be more drastically dealt with.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts to flush out your Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent, lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

VENERAL DISEASES MENACE TO NATION

WRITER REVIEWS CONDITIONS
AS FOUND ON VISIT TO HOS-PITAL.

We have considered in previous articles the county jail as a place of detention, a hospital for the insane and a hospital for drug addicts, now it is necessary that we consider the county jail as an institution for the care and treatment of the diseases most important in their relation to the future of our civilization—namely, venereal diseases.

It is impossible to exaggerate the horrors of syphilis. It manifests its ghastly presence in the child at birth, and sends the man, who should be in the prime of life, shuffling to his grave. It sits as the "Lares and Penates" in our institutions for the insane, feeble-minded and epileptic, and declares to those who understand the language that these unfortunate are especially indebted to its malign sway. It attacks the individual in a hundred insidious ways, and the laity and ignorant medicine practitioner are being constantly "fooled" by its manifestations. A baby is born "in a good family." A week it develops "hives" and a "bad cold" and dies. The death certificate reads, "Death due to pneumonia," the while that syphilis is thumping its deformed nose and chuckling with glee as it says, "Just look what I did."

The young man who has been "something of a rouler, to be sure, but is now settled down, married and a steward in the church," drops dead at a baseball game. The diagnosis is "apoplexy," and the memorial resolutions begin, "Whereas, it has seemed best in the providence of the Almighty God to remove from our midst in the very prime of his life our dear brother," etc., and Syphilis adds another testimonial to his handiwork, the while the mourners wonder at God's "mysterious ways." The neighbors are shocked, but Syphilis is not in the least surprised when fifteen years later the only son of the above young man has to be committed to a private institution for "the feeble-minded."

A group of club women, true to their veracity, were discussing the venereal disease a short time ago. One woman said, "Why, I thought that they just 'cropped out' during the war, like the influenza, and were all over now!" And it would appear that many people share this idea.

The facts, the real facts, should be broadened. Namely, that with the most conservative estimate, that there are in the United States today at least 1,500,000 men and women infected with venereal diseases in the civilian population alone, nearly one-half million of this number being women—wives and mothers!

In the army and navy there were last year 35,000 cases of venereal disease—costing the Government $69,000,000 in lost wages alone, to say nothing of the expense of treatment. And yet, in spite of this appalling loss in money, Congress has economized by so reducing the amount of appropriations for the Federal Social Hygiene Board, as to greatly hamper its work, which is the only constructive effort being made by our National Government to combat these diseases.

What is the State doing. During the war a bill was passed by the Legislature declaring venereal diseases to be "contagious, infectious, communicable and dangerous to public health," providing, also, that every case should be reported and also providing for quarantine when necessary.

The Commissioners' Courts of the various counties are "empowered and directed to provide suitable places for the detention of persons who may be subject to quarantine." The "suitable place" during the war was, in a number of cities, an ex-house of prostitution, which was "cleaned out" and converted into a "V. D. Hospital." A suitable place. I saw a group of patients in such a hospital in a city in Central Texas. In the very house where some of them had met their physical and moral downfall, a house filled with the vilest associations and memories, these women were being treated. Even these miserable makeshift hospitals have become too great expense, and now our "suitable" institution is that dump for so many of our community troubles, the "county jail."

I spent an hour in one of these "hospitals" the other day, and I wish I could repeat to you verbatim the conversation. The "linge" of these interned women and girls is monstrous, manifold and menacing. is no one vital problem in Texas being more neglected.

Some country doctors are apparently not giving sufficient treatment. "When will Texas wake up?"

At the great "All-America Conference on Venereal Disease," which was held in Washington in November, 1920, the slogan of the experts who lectured on syphilis was "Treat to a Maximum" and the county physician who gives "six shots," gets a negative "blood test," and dismisses a syphilitic as cured is obviously incapable.

Dr. John Stokes of the Mayo Clinic says unequivocally: "Give not less than eighteen or twenty doses of salvarsan."

If the various women's organizations of Texas really want to do a piece of constructive work for their State, let them have their committees on public health send a questionnaire to the county health officers and ask one question: "How do you treat your syphilitic cases?" Let this question become a definite issue in the election of your County Commissioners, for at present there

NOTES FROM THE CHURCH OF CHRIST

The preacher meeting at Quannah was well attended. It was a great meeting. Many profitable subjects were discussed. The lecture on the "Evolution of Man" by A. Leroy Elkins of Oklahoma City was especially fine.

I was with the Lelia Lake people last Sunday. In the evening we went to Windy Valley where we had a splendid audience. They are interested in building up their neighborhood. I am glad to see that. I promised to be with them the second Sunday in March at 11 and at night.

The writer will leave Monday morning for Abilene, being chosen as one of the speakers at the lectureship there.

Having inquired of all our religious neighbors concerning the date of their protracted work next summer, and finding no one definitely set, and trying even to grant the approximate time mentioned by some.

We have secured an evangelist for our meeting, to begin the third Lord's day in July. We have secured for that date also as song leader, Prof. Ira Y. Rice. A man of splendid ability. We are willing if perfectly agreeable, to join in building a tabernacle. Paying our prostrate part. Will begin when we say we will, and quit when we promise to quit. Our Bible drills will continue in our absence. The young men will conduct them. They will interest you. Come and help them.

LOSS RATIO FOR CITY

The excessive fire losses for 1921 has cut the credit of 15 per cent, the full amount allowed by law, down to 6 per cent from and after March 1st. Recently there was a credit of 12 cents by reason of the improvements of our water-works. To all risks under the protection of our water-works the rates will be about as they were in 1921, but for dwellings beyond 1,000 feet from fire hydrants the rates will be a little more than in 1921. If water had been available several of our fires in 1921 could have been stopped and likely we could have saved all of our credit. Our citizenship ought to provide the means to extend the large water mains to afford reasonable protection to most of the property, and especially extensions to reach the college property and the present High School and the splendid new High School building which is to be built this year.

The question is, Can we afford to extend? A. M. Beville & Sons, Agents, Insurance and Insures, Service that Satisfies." (7)

LOCAL MASONS ASSIST IN DEGREE WORK AT GROOM

A number of Clarendon Masons motored to Groom Tuesday evening and assisted the lodge at that place in conferring three master's degrees. The lodge at Groom received its charter about a month ago, following its work under a dispensation of several months. The local Masons there were Homer Mulkey, W. H. Patrick, Joe Horn, Bob Weatherly, M. T. Howard, Clint Perdue, Dick Wilkerson and Rudolph Wiedman.

NEITHER SMALLPOX NOR INFLUENZA HERE

Contrary to some reports that have been circulated, there is no case of smallpox around here according to the physicians. The fear that an epidemic might break out here, as other cities were being troubled considerably, has led many to be vaccinated. At the same time it is interesting to learn that there is no case of influenza here. Although there is no little bit of sickness, so far as is known there is no case of pneumonia, although several are threatened with it.

SHRINERS MAY STAGE OPEN AIR CEREMONIAL

KHIVA WILL MAKE EFFORT TO HOLD SPRING EVENT ON PALO DURO CANYON.

The Baby Grand Canyon of Palo Duro will be the scene of the Spring Ceremonial of Khiva, the youngest Shrine Temple in North America, and members of the Trans-Continental Motor Caravan, en route to the Imperial Council at San Francisco, will assist probably 3,000 Shriners in escorting the novices over the hot sands of the rugged Palo Duro desert.

Such is the hope expressed by members of the Temple, at the meeting held Wednesday evening at Shrine headquarters, when officials of the Temple were instructed to arrange details, and make an effort to secure the necessary permission and dispensations for the event, which is to be staged May 25.

Aside from the usual festive occasion, the novelty of an open-air ceremonial, and the attendance of the transcontinental visitors, the value of such a meeting was the paramount issue discussed by the Shriners.

The Trans-Continental Motor Caravan, which begins its pilgrimage at Washington, will include Senators and Congressmen, and officials of Khiva believe that an impression will be made in the minds of the visitors, which will have effect, should the question of establishing a state and national park be presented to the Government.

Plans for the spring ceremonial were launched, and the various bodies of the order will immediately begin work to stage the biggest Shrine event in Khiva's history.

Frank R. Jamison, chief rabban of Khiva Temple, presided at the meeting in the absence of Potentate O. T. Nicholson of Shamrock. Mr. Jamison in addressing the membership, stated that the organization of a Shrine Club is in contemplation at Panhandle, and he urged the membership to co-operate with the nobility of that section, and attend the organization meeting.

N. HUNTER, ARMSTRONG COUNTY PIONEER, IS DEAD

The friends of N. Hunter were shocked to learn by wire Thursday that he had died suddenly at Mercedes, Texas. Several days before the news of his having fallen on sleek, muddy ground had come, then a detailed account of his return from a hunting trip, of his fall, his intense suffering, of an X-ray examination being made of his hip to disprove their fears of dislocation, of lacerated muscles and ligaments being the only injury discovered, but no one felt that his recovery was not assured and his friends and relatives could not believe the news that he had passed away in almost an instant of pain, said to have been caused by a blood-clot on the brain. Monday noon saw the sad procession of friends leaving the station and taking to the home he left so happily a few weeks before, all that remained of the genial, happy-natured man. Mrs. Hunter's relatives had come to her aid. Her brothers, W. E. Schott of Silverton and S. A. Schott of Sherman, Mr. Hunter's sister and brother, Miss Agnes Hunter and John Hunter of Sherman, were all here to help the wife in her trouble. Friends filled the house with flowers and by their sympathy sought to aid. One small boy hung around the place eager to do what he might for his dear "uncle Niinic," who by his loving understanding of children had been more truly kin to the boy than if blood had united them. The town shared in the grief of the family for Mr. Hunter since his coming here in 1902 has made many friends. For several years he lived on a farm near town, then sold out and went into the cattle business with J. E. Hill, now of Hereford. Later he was deputy sheriff under J. D. Woodburn, holding this place for several years. Mr. Hunter was born in Wisconsin, January 27, 1864, but moved to Grayson county when a child. He lived there until his marriage to Miss Addie Schott of Sherman and removal to Claude. Besides those mentioned, Mr. Hunter leaves a brother, D. Hunter, of Tempe, Arizona, two sisters, Mrs. Robert Campbell of Fayette, Arkansas, and Mrs. George Vogel of Grayson County. The funeral service was held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist church, which was draped in white and banked with ferns. One special song, "Thy Will Be Done," was sung by Mrs. Viola Wilson of Amarillo, accompanied by Mrs. J. Landon Doak, pianist, and Miss Hazel Hawkins, violinist. Rev. M. E. Hawkins of the Methodist church was assisted by Rev. E. C. McCooly of the Christian church in conducting the service. The pall bearers were S. W. Callihan, B. C. Woodbridge, R. L. Bagwell, Robert Campbell and J. E. Hill. Interment took place at Claude Cemetery immediately after the service at the church.—Claude News.

DOG IN THE MANGER

If there is one thing more than another that the average business man is constitutionally opposed to is jury duty. Thousands of them claim exemption at every term of court on the flimsiest of pretexts and still feel that they are exemplary citizens and doing their part in making the community a good place in which to live.

But are they? Whenever a jury is to be impaneled it is necessary to make up a list of many times the number of men needed in order to allow for prejudices and conscientious scruples—and the vast army who seek exemption. Sometimes their places are taken by "good men and true" who feel it their duty to serve and sometimes their places are given to "professional" jurymen, idlers or worse.

In time, the men are going to get used to the notion, of course, and it is to be hoped that jury service will come to mean more to men than it seems to, now. It is not and never can be, a pleasant task for any conscientious man or woman but it is one that should be undertaken willingly for the common good. The protection of society is largely in the hands of jurymen of the country and the better men we have on the juries the better protection we shall have. Officers of the law may be diligent in ferreting out the perpetrators of evil deeds but if the jury be composed of persons in sympathy with or indifferent to the flouting of the law, the verdict will not be a just one. Under such conditions the officers become discouraged and the community suffers, either by increased crime and vice or by mob violence.

All citizens and more particularly, the good citizens, should accept jury service when called upon and thereby uphold the officers whose duty is to guard the community against the evil doer. Giving offenders the punishment due them would have a very salutary effect upon the "crime wave" that has engulfed the Nation since the war.—Southwest Plainsman.

BUILDING ACTIVITY

Increasing volume of buying is reported by large line-yard lumber operators and wholesale lumber dealers in various parts of the country. Purchases, according to the American Lumberman, are from all divisions of the trade-retailers, industrial consumers and factory users.

Building is opening up well in the South and the rest every indication that 1922 will be a year of great expansion for that section, furnishing the lumbermen of the South a large and ready market near home.

The eastern part of the country shows signs of the greatest building activity. For example, the greatest building boom in the history of New York state is expected in 1922. In the Middle West the building situation is "spotty." In one city, building will be found to be very active; in another, dull. On the Pacific coast conditions are likewise uneven.

In southern California the building boom holds up and large quantities of lumber are being consumed. On the Pacific Northwest the situation is checked, but on the whole a good deal of building is going forward or is in immediate prospect. Building is opening up well in the South and there is every indication that 1922 will be a year of great expansion for that section, furnishing the lumbermen of the South a large and ready market near home.—Ft. ### U. S. DEPARTMENT SHOWS CATTLE RECEIPTS SHORT IN 1921

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—Receipts of cattle at the sixty-nine public stock yards in the United States showed a decrease in 1921 of 2,409,871 head, as compared with 1920, the Department of Agriculture today reported. Cattle slaughtered at packing houses for the same period showed a decrease of 1,776,333 head.

At Fort Worth the principal live stock market for Texas, 1921 cattle receipts were 988,802 head as against 1,134,323 head in 1920. Packing house slaughter at Fort Worth, however, increased to 576,203 head from 567,575 in 1920.

Amarillo receipts in 1921 were 113,239 head as compared with 146,625 head in 1920. Local slaughter in Amarillo amounted to 634 head compared with 822 head in 1920.

Dallas receipts were 7,900 head compared with 7,643 head in 1920. The local slaughter at Dallas also was 7,900 head.

E Paso receipts were 170,412 head in 1921 compared with 161,693 head in 1920. Local slaughter at E Paso was 23,709 head in 1921 as compared with 21,044 head in 1920.

San Antonio receipts in 1921 were 151,050 head compared with 233,284 in 1920. Local slaughter at San Antonio was 85,846 head compared with 86,928 in 1920.

Chicago had receipts in 1921 of 5,539,538 head compared with 3,849,405 head in 1920. Local slaughter at Chicago amounted to 2,376,776 head, compared with 2,602,863 head in 1920.

Kansas City receipts in 1921 were 2,469,442 head compared with 2,500,166 in 1920. Local slaughter at Kansas City was 1,199,698 compared with 1,263,882 in 1920.

DOG IN THE MANGER

If there is one thing more than another that the average business man is constitutionally opposed to is jury duty. Thousands of them claim exemption at every term of court on the flimsiest of pretexts and still feel that they are exemplary citizens and doing their part in making the community a good place in which to live.

But are they? Whenever a jury is to be impaneled it is necessary to make up a list of many times the number of men needed in order to allow for prejudices and conscientious scruples—and the vast army who seek exemption. Sometimes their places are taken by "good men and true" who feel it their duty to serve and sometimes their places are given to "professional" jurymen, idlers or worse.

In time, the men are going to get used to the notion, of course, and it is to be hoped that jury service will come to mean more to men than it seems to, now. It is not and never can be, a pleasant task for any conscientious man or woman but it is one that should be undertaken willingly for the common good. The protection of society is largely in the hands of jurymen of the country and the better men we have on the juries the better protection we shall have. Officers of the law may be diligent in ferreting out the perpetrators of evil deeds but if the jury be composed of persons in sympathy with or indifferent to the flouting of the law, the verdict will not be a just one. Under such conditions the officers become discouraged and the community suffers, either by increased crime and vice or by mob violence.

All citizens and more particularly, the good citizens, should accept jury service when called upon and thereby uphold the officers whose duty is to guard the community against the evil doer. Giving offenders the punishment due them would have a very salutary effect upon the "crime wave" that has engulfed the Nation since the war.—Southwest Plainsman.

DIRE CONVULSION OF NATURE

Krakatoa, a volcanic island in the Strait of Sunda, between Java and Sumatra, was in 1883 the scene of one of the most tremendous volcanic disturbances on record. The crater walls fell in, together with part of the ocean bed, carrying with it two-thirds of the island, which had a total area before the eruption of 13 square miles and creating two small islands, which subsequently disappeared. At the same time a gigantic coat of Java and Sumatra, causing a loss of 36,500 lives and the destruction of 300 villages, and then careered around the entire globe. The news of the eruption was heard for a distance of 2,000 and even 3,000 miles. The occurrence likewise set up a series of concentric atmospheric waves, which traveled at least three times around the earth. The dust and other finely comminuted debris cast up by the explosion gave rise during three years or more to weird sun glows of wonderful beauty, those seen in Canada and other parts of North America in November, 1883, being especially grand.
