

IMPROVEMENTS AND ADDITIONS BEING MADE TO WATER SYSTEM WILL MAKE IT ONE OF FINEST

TWO NEW WELLS RECENTLY COMPLETED HAVE DOUBLED THE WATER SUPPLY OF THE CITY, AND CLARENDON WILL HAVE ALL NIGHT SERVICE AS SOON AS OTHER IMPROVEMENTS CAN BE MADE. LARGE STORAGE TANK TO BE BUILT.

Improvements of such an extent and nature that the Clarendon water system may be said virtually to have been made over is the goal that those in charge are now working for. Mayor McLean has been spending almost all of his time in work to improve the water system of this city. Mr. McLean is anxious that we have all night service, and has many other improvements on foot. Within the last thirty days two new wells have been completed, and they are now in operation, and it may be now said that the water supply of the city has been doubled. Other improvements that will be made as soon as possible will give the city a reservoir large enough that water may be stored in a large enough quantity to furnish the city for one week without the pumps working a minute of the time.

Everyone realizes the serious inconveniences of the present system, when the water is cut off fairly late in the evening, and the plan is to have all night water service. It is also the hope of those in charge that under the new system no such accident as the bursting of the water main on First street Saturday will be duplicated. By the arrangement of the present plant the water is forced into the large reservoir under sufficient pressure to force it out into the various parts of the city. From this it results that as soon as the pressure is cut off in the evening there is no longer any force to the water, thus within a few minutes the city is without water.

One thing that has thus far been a slight puzzle to those who were familiar with the situation was whether wells of sufficient capacity to furnish a large system could be found at the shallow depth; this question seems to have been answered, and that is that such wells as are needed are in operation today. The two new wells that have been recently completed, have been tried out thoroughly thus far, and their supply has been seemingly inexhaustible, and with their completion, the water supply of the city has been doubled.

It is the intention of the authorities to supply the college with water this year. A two inch pipe will be run to the college tank, and the distribution of the water at that institution will still take place from the tank that has thus far served that purpose. This will add materially to the supply of water that must be kept up, but the new wells make this possible.

One of the best plans of the authorities is to build a big reservoir capable of holding two hundred thousand gallons. When such a receptacle is kept continually full, in case of any accident the water supply would be sufficient to furnish the city for a week. This will also be a saving to the city, as it is hoped that with such system it will be unnecessary for the city ever to be without water.

But the authorities and the citizens will still be unsatisfied with such a system, and it is the hopes of those who understand the situation best that bonds may then be voted for the erection of an overhead tank and at the same time to enlarge the present system. That the present system is inadequate was shown last Saturday when the hose could scarcely reach the building being burned. But with the extension of the system, all parts of the city can be cared for and given fire protection. With the wonderful advantages that this would be to the city together with the savings this is a great goal to work forward to. And it is, indeed, to be hoped that the many improvements that are now on foot and those contemplated will be realized in the near future, and that Clarendon will lead the other cities of the Panhandle, as in other things, with her water system.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Adams, of Willow, Oklahoma, left yesterday morning for Lubbock after a short visit at this place with their son E. L. Adams and family.

FREE CAMP GROUNDS PRAISED BY TOURISTS

When J. T. Patman, manager of the Ford Motor Company, decided to utilize that company's building site by making it a free camp ground for the tourists, he had no idea that it would become as great an advertisement for our city as it has. But from a small beginning, it has become one of the best advertisements for our town, and through the generosity of Mr. Patman, our city is given credit that is due it as well as its citizenry.

With the road conditions allowing more tourists to travel than for a long time, the number of tourists camping on the Clarendon Free Camp Grounds is very perceptibly increasing. One day last week ten cars of tourists camped there for the night. Everyone expressed satisfaction with the handy arrangements in that the oven allows them to do cooking better by far than they otherwise could, and the lighting is a feature that is to be enjoyed on but few of the camp grounds. A tourist from one of the progressive Oklahoma cities says that the ground is the best that he has yet seen; in fact there are many cities along the trail that do not support a camp ground. Among other commendations everyone of the tourists always speak of the fine water. One tourist last week was so well pleased with the arrangements and conveniences of the grounds that he took the pains to go to the mayor's office and express his satisfaction of the grounds.

Clarendon has always been known as a city of hospitality, but in this convenience for the tourists which has been inaugurated only this year, a new way of advertising our city as well as meeting a need of the tourists has been brought about. Located as we are in the finest territory that lies in the Panhandle of Texas, our situation is always pleasing to the traveler but when we meet his needs in the way of supporting one of the finest camp grounds on the Ozark Trail, we not only have shown him that ours is the finest territory but we have shown him that ours is the finest people to be found.

Several attempts have been made to register the tourists that are passing through our city, but a complete register has by no means as yet been kept. But the number of tourists is very large running some days into the hundreds. The majority of the travelers are going to Colorado, but a part of them go to some of the scenic spots of New Mexico as well as to Colorado. One tourist who was recently bound for California, while camping on our camp ground, liked our city and country so well that he purchased a home here and abandoned the idea of going to California. It is to be hoped that with the returning prosperity which is ours, more travelers will see fit to make their home here.

AGED CITIZEN MEETS DEATH HERE SATURDAY

J. J. Greenwade, widely and favorably known here met death here at his home Saturday morning as the result of the discharge of a shotgun. Mr. Greenwade was more than seventy-six years old, and was one of the old residents of this city. The funeral services were conducted at the residence that afternoon by Rev. Sam J. White, interment taking place in the Citizens' Cemetery. Mr. Greenwade had been in ill health for months, and it had seemed that the end was inevitably near. He is survived by his wife and a daughter, Mrs. D. E. Hessey, and leaves a host of friends who will mourn his going. The News joins with friends in extending a message of sympathy to the bereaved members of the family.

Roy McAllister and wife of Memphis, visited here the first of the week with their friends E. L. Adams and family.

COURT TRYING IMPORTANT CASES THIS TERM

GRAND JURY RECESSES WITH EIGHT INDICTMENTS THUS FAR. APPEALS WILL BE MADE FROM SOME OF CONVICTIONS. JURY LIST LARGE

The District Court continues its work and several more cases have been disposed of. Notable among the cases is that of the State of Texas vs. Rich Hamlin. Tuesday afternoon late the defendant was found guilty of violation of the Dean Prohibition Act and his punishment assessed at two years in the penitentiary. The attorneys for the defense are having a transcript of the record made, as they intend to carry the case to the Court of Criminal Appeals. The case of Beaty V. Roland was decided for the defendant. This was a case of an injunction arising over riparian rights. Roscoe Land pleaded guilty to a charge of aggravated assault, and his punishment assessed at fifty dollars and costs.

The Grand Jury, of which J. W. Kent is foreman, adjourned Friday until August 3rd. Thus far they have found eight indictments. This has been a very busy term of court, and a great deal of work has been accomplished. The list of petit jurors for the next week is:

L. A. Dunn, A. M. Beville, Jr., C. L. Debord, R. L. Biggers, I. N. Bowers, W. I. Rains, J. A. Johnson, E. A. Garner, J. L. McMurtry, R. M. Webb, J. M. Newton, B. B. Webb, J. M. Newton, B. B. REVIVAL MEETING CONTINUES THROUGH NEXT WEEK

The revival meeting being held at the tabernacle will continue through next week. Dr. John W. Tyndall is doing the preaching and the pastor of the church leading the music. Dr. Tyndall is doing some able preaching. His sermons are masterful. He has shown himself to be a student of the Bible. He readily quotes from any passage he desires to quote from. He never uses a Bible in the Pulpit as he knows to memory every passage he desires to use. He seems to know the entire New Testament to memory. Those who have heard him are anxious to hear him again. There have been quite a number of people who have obeyed the Gospel since the meeting started. Next week will be the harvest week and a still greater number is expected to come into the church. Dr. Tyndall's scholarship is unsurpassed and yet his language is so simple that a child can understand him. Next week will be the closing week of the meeting. Services are being held at 10 a. m. and 8:15 p. m., every day.

A Reporter, BODY OF MEMPHIS HERO RETURNING

Word has been received by the Memphis chapter of The American Legion that the body of Glenn Gooch will arrive within the next ten days from France where the deceased met death on October 19th, 1918. The deceased hero was well known here having enlisted here under Captain E. A. Simpson doing all of his service with Company H of the 142nd Infantry. Gooch received wounds while storming at Mont Blanc on October 8th, 1918 from which he died eleven days later. The local chapter of the American Legion will send a representative to the funeral if it is possible to do so.

Mrs. Betty Shaw left Friday for a visit with her daughters, one at Seymour, the other at Ft. Worth. The daughter at Fort Worth is Mrs. D. C. Downs, formerly Miss Mary Shaw of this city.

VOLUME OF BUSINESS CONTINUES TO INCREASE

With more building being done now than for several months, the business in Clarendon is following pace and continues to grow better with the nearing of the harvesting of the crops. The merchants report a fine business last Saturday, some of them saying that they had the largest business that they have enjoyed any day this year. One prominent merchant remarked that we did not have to look forward to good times, but that we are having them right now. The merchants that have thus far gone to market have done so with confidence in the fall's business; and will lay in heavy stocks of goods.

Although the bank deposits are not as large now as they were at the last report, the loans are also smaller. The increased life that building is taking on is also a proof of the better times now. Those who are in position to know the status of the crops and other conditions in this county do not feel any uneasiness about the business this fall, but rather are optimistic over the wonderful prospects that it seems that we are soon to realize in fact.

Miss Perle Burkhead, of Dallas who visited here the past week with her friend Miss Alta Long, left Saturday for a short visit in Amarillo. Later she will tour the Northwest visiting Yellowstone National Park and other points of national interest. Miss Burkhead is well known here, being a graduate of S. M. U. and having taught the past year in one of the best high schools in West Texas.

LUNCHEONITES ENJOY PROGRAM

WHILE NO SPECIAL BUSINESS CLAIMED ATTENTION TUESDAY LUNCHEON HIGHLY ENJOYED BY SPLENDID ATTENDANCE

The Tuesday luncheon this week was one of those fraternal affairs at which nothing is discussed in the nature of a serious problem, and where free and easy good fellowship reigned.

The menu served by the parent-teachers' ladies was as follows:
Roast Beef
Creamed Potatoes
Cottage Gravy
Corn Cakes
Ice Tea

After due consideration had been given the appetizing offerings of the ladies, to the accompaniment of Victrola music furnished through the courtesy of Goldston Bros., and presided over by Mr. Price, Secretary McCardell called the orderly attendance to order and presented Mr. Forbes of Plainview, who is here representing the Poultry Journal of that city. Mr. Forbes responded in a complimentary manner, saying that Plainview people had a habit of "sticking-up" for Plainview, but that he found much to congratulate Clarendon on. He said that this city's attitude of friendliness was very evident and that he believed such an attitude would result in increased business for the city. He complimented the Chamber of Commerce at this place, saying that it was the best that he had ever seen in a city no larger than ours. Mr. Forbes also gave his personal endorsement to the proposed road from Clarendon to Silvertown to Plainview, explaining that such a road would bring about a better business relations between the two sections of country.

Rev. W. H. Foster, who has just returned from Crosbyton on the South Plains, was called on for a reason why he was glad to get back home. He, like all other Clarendon boosters, was ready to give that reason and commented at some length on the great advantages we have here in Donley County. He said he had visited Sec. Keen of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, formerly of this city and organization, and that he found him boosting that end of the country in his own original way.

The special feature of the hour was a reading by Miss DeLaurel Beville, a modern version of "Old Mother Hubbard," which was rendered in her finished manner and received with much pleasure by the near seventy attendants.

There is something special for the next Tuesday Luncheon—be on the job early. Something good to eat and something to make you think. Thinking always precedes action.

PRESENTATION OF FLAG MADE BY COL. BUGBEE

LOCAL POST OF THE AMERICAN LEGION IS RECIPIENT OF GIFT OF BEAUTIFUL REGULATION FLAG. DISARMAMENT IS THEME

Col. T. S. Bugbee on last Thursday evening at eight thirty honored the Aubyn E. Clark post of the American Legion with the gift of a beautiful regulation United States flag. Col. Bugbee made the presentation in fitting words, and the response in behalf of the legion was made by Capt. E. A. Simpson. Col. Bugbee was made an honorary member of the post, being the only civilian, besides the chaplain who was intimately connected with the military work, upon whom such honor is bestowed.

Col. Bugbee included in his speech a plea for disarmament; and his earnest manner of presentation together with the well chosen words of acceptance by Capt. Simpson, added to the impressiveness of the ceremony.

The flag was first used yesterday afternoon at Memphis at the funeral of Glenn Gooch, a hero of the battlefields of France whose remains have been returned to this country by the American Government. Captain Simpson, at the request of the father and mother of the deceased hero spoke at the grave.

Following is the speech of Col. Bugbee:

"Mr. Chairman and members of Aubyn Clark Post, American Legion: Believing as I do that the STARS and STRIPES is the greatest emblem of human liberty, equality and justice that exists today throughout the civilized world, it is with extreme pleasure that I am permitted to present this flag to you, the boys of Donley county, who, on the first call, volunteered one hundred fifty strong to rally to its colors.

"Sixty years ago this month on volunteering in the war between the states I swore my allegiance to this flag and did what I could to hold each star in its field of blue. From the time of Washington to this good hour it has never met defeat on land or sea, have we not a chance to feel proud of it?"

"There came a time in 1917 when Germany and the other central powers of Europe threatened the honor of this spotless emblem and civilization it self was tottering, it was then that remembering what this flag stood for, your voice joined with five million other good Americans in a shout that went up to the almost exhausted allies to 'hold the Hun, we are coming.'

"On that foreign field the flag was an inspiration for noble sacrifice; for loftier manhood; for purer patriotism and amid the grueling conditions of military service under foreign skies, each fold looked ever more beautiful as it reminded you of home and loved ones. What nobler heritage can you leave to your children than that you fought for its defense in your country's hour of need.

"In our country's infancy one of our greatest statesmen said the day would come to say 'I am an American' would be the proudest boast of man, that hour has struck.

"Some of you within this hall are descendants of those noble pioneers and patriots, who remembering the Alamo and Goliad, under the leadership of Sam Houston drove the tyrant from Texas and afterwards placed our state under the dear old flag.

"Today the United States is recognized by the countries of the world as the country of the greatest military resources of all the governments on Earth, the achievements of 1917-18 and 19 opened the eyes of the world and placed in our hands the responsibility of the peace of the world, this being so let us retain the strength of a lion but use it like a dove for peaceful purposes for 'peace hath her victories no less than war.'

BUILDING IN CLARENDON TAKES ON RENEWED LIFE WITH THE APPROACH OF BOUNTIFUL HARVEST

AMOUNT OF BUILDING IS GREATER THAN AT ANY TIME SINCE LAST FALL. TEMPORARY SCHOOL BUILDINGS WILL SOON BE UNDER CONSTRUCTION. BUSINESS HOUSES AND RESIDENCES ARE BEING FINISHED. MUCH OTHER BUILDING PROJECTED

NEW PRODUCE BUSINESS IS GETTING GOOD TRADE

The Dooley Produce Company, under the management of B. J. Dooley, is progressing and is getting a good share of that class of business although it has been in operation but a few days. Mr. Dooley has shown his progressive business and business intentions by contracting for a regular weekly advertisement in the News. He is located in the old Parsons stand, and it is to be hoped that he soon realizes the business that he merits.

WATER MAIN BURSTS

Saturday evening while the pressure was being applied for fire fighting during the burning of the Estlack home, one of the water mains burst just off of Kearney Street on Second Street. The pressure at the time, it is said, was about one hundred and sixty pounds. It was necessary to cut off the water after the fire. Piping was secured in Amarillo, and the repairs made as quickly as possible, with the result that the city was supplied in water on Tuesday morning.

MR. AND MRS. ROY HENDRIX LEAVE FOR VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hendrix left last Friday night on the Ft. Worth & Denver, Mr. Hendrix going to the Farmer's Short Course to be held at A. & M. College and Mrs. Hendrix en route to Collierville, Tennessee where she will be the guest of her grandfather for several weeks.

is carrying today is the enormous war debt, most of which has accumulated in the past seven years. Today in our own country, where taxes are lightest and resources the greatest, the burden of maintaining our army and navy is keenly felt when we realize that 93c out of every dollar collected in federal taxes is expended on past and future wars, is it not time to call a halt and exert every energy toward an effort to get the great powers of the world to agree to a disarmament plan that would be effective? If this could be done we could either reduce our federal taxes one half or pay our entire war debt in ten years.

"The citizenship and intelligence of the United States averages much higher than does that of any other country, this I attribute to our form of government and our public free school system, these conditions are what has made us a leader among the nations who look to us for leadership and we must not fail in this hour of peril.

"If the United States, Great Britain, France and Japan will mutually agree to disarm it means in fact that they agree to keep the peace themselves and are strong enough to see that the rest of the nations of the world do not plunge us into another world war, it would be in fact a league of nations more potent and powerful than that proposed at the treaty of Paris with none of the entangling obligations which made it impossible for the United States to join.

"In my judgment, the members of the American Legion, on account of their intelligence and experience, and knowing that above all others they have truly at heart the best interests of our country, can render a greater service and more potent influence than any other organization, I urge upon them to espouse the cause of universal disarmament through their thousands of losts throughout the country to the need that the world may be relieved of the burden of militarism; that taxes may be reduced that our just debts may be paid and human happiness increased.

"Like some of you I too carry some of the scars of battle received in the defense of this flag and when the time comes (as soon it must) for me to go, I want the stars and stripes to be my shroud."

With the prospects of fine crops and the promise of a new era of prosperity, building as well as business is taking on new life and interest in Clarendon and Donley. This week is seeing the completion of building that amounts into the thousands of dollars, and other structures that will amount into the same figures will soon be under way. Among the buildings that are to be started in the near future are the temporary buildings to hold the overflow of school children this winter, the improvements that H. Lott is to make on his building next to the T. M. Little Store, and many residences new and improved. The buildings that are now being completed are the Dixie Curing Plant, Dick Allen's Garage and residences.

The temporary buildings that are being built for school purposes are wooden structures, each being twenty-two by thirty feet. They will be built bungalow style, and after they have served their usefulness for the school they can be used as residences. Their location has not been definitely settled, but it will probably be on the campus of the high school. These buildings are being built for temporary purposes only; within the next few months the new buildings that are to be built on the order of the present high school will be started. H. Lott is soon to remodel the stone building next to T. M. Little's store, tearing down the present front and putting up a brick front as well as remodeling the building in general. The trustees of the Martin district also plan to make a two room addition to the school building at that place. A prominent resident of this city is preparing to commence the erection of four rent houses in the near future.

The list of buildings and improvements that are being made and completed is a long one, varying from the small additions to the buildings to the residences and business houses that will amount to thousands of dollars in value. The Dick Allen Garage that is being completed is a long one, varying from one hundred and fifteen feet by one hundred and fifteen feet. No expense has been spared in making it one of the finest buildings in the city; the front is solid glass, and is used as a display room. The Dixie Curing Plant in the east part of town, is having the finishing touches added this week.

The residence of Dr. Wilder that is being built in southwest Clarendon is almost completed, and will be ready for occupation on August the first. It is a seven room bungalow with all the modern features and conveniences. John Goldston is building a house on his farm five miles northeast of Clarendon. This is a modern farm home with basement. W. A. Land is adding a sleeping porch to his home. W. H. Cooke has completed a three room addition to his home in west Clarendon. Mrs. Callie Houk is adding a sleeping porch to her home, while W. L. Goldston and W. L. Glass are making general improvements about their place. The Episcopal rectory is being raised and placed on a new foundation, while a sleeping porch is being added. As soon as this work is completed, it is said that the church will be raised and placed on a new foundation.

Improvements that will add much to the comfort of the patrons are being made by the Denver Hotel. A steam heating system is being placed in the building, and other additions that will help materially are being made. Improvements of a general nature are also being made at the J. A. headquarters.

The larger part of the building has begun within the last thirty days, and with the building that is to be done here the passage of many weeks, it is proof that the effects of the slump last fall are fast passing away, and that with the harvesting of the bountiful crops that Donley has today, peace and prosperity will be ours once more.

Many far-reaching improvements are in store for Clarendon in the near future, if our people will unite in purpose and vision. Faith, hope and unity will do the trick.

From late reports it seems that only one amendment carried in last Saturday's election. The people of Texas are seemingly constitutionally opposed to any change in the organic law of the state, but the one rainbow in the heavens is the fact that the amendment which carried was the one relating to voting qualifications, whereby only American citizens may vote. Pure Americanism at the polls will insure the future of this nation.

The home merchants are the ones who put sugar in the coffee for the widows and orphans, help to bury the poor dead; pay taxes, build churches and school houses and foster, aid and assist all worthy public enterprises. Sears, Roebuck & Co., and other mail order houses do nothing but take the money out of our community, not even paying one penny for the support of any public enterprise. Every citizen who loves, admires and desires to see the home merchants succeed, should patronize the local merchant and encourage the patronizing of foreign houses. Buying away from home just takes a shingle off the roof and helps to make it leak just a little more. Don't send away from home for goods you can buy from home merchants.—McKinney Courier Gazette.

Greater water equipment and fire fighting facilities are now planned by the city administration. For many years Clarendon has grown without her water system keeping pace and now we find ourselves facing a situation which must be remedied if we expect to attain much more growth. Our city cannot afford to invite new citizenship and added residence property unless we offer them adequate domestic water and ample fire protection. With this situation in mind the administration has set themselves to the task of remedying the crying need and with their efforts should go the united support of our people. It may take more taxes, it may take a bond issue, but since everything worth while costs something, let us smile while we do our part to bring about a better civic condition which will invite more building and a larger population.

Clarendon's school board this week let the contract for the two temporary structures to care for the overflow of pupils which they have faced for the past year and which will be heavier when the fall term opens in September. Aside from the fact that it gives The News pleasure to chronicle improvements, especially in school facilities, there is another phase of the matter that is worth much to the public at this time, and that is the reasonable rate at which the contract was let. The two buildings, two rooms each, bungalow style; labor, material, a complete turn-key job under the terms of the contract will cost just a little over fifteen hundred dollars. This will be wonderfully welcome news to those who are considering any kind of building, as it is proof that building costs have fallen to a level where even the overly-cautious will feel free to project their plans. Low building costs will assist greatly in providing more residences for those hundreds of people who want to move to Clarendon for her school advantages.

There is little question but what the Ku Klux Klan has meted out just punishment in many instances where the law would not reach. The order has for its aims that which is commendable and time was when it saved the Southland from worse than defeat. But the News is forced to the conclusion that there are influences and ideas abroad in the land at this period which renders the whole plan of the Invisible Empire absolutely unsound and unavailable, without great danger to law and order. Before the serpent of bolshevism and communism reared its head openly in this nation and while the direction of this mighty, if invisible, force, was held by law abiding men, there was a place for the organization, and right well did it fulfill its mission. But in these latter days of reconstruction this former instrument of good is now liable to become the mighty instrument of evil. The frame of mind of some stratas of society is such that with the knights of the K. K. K. scattered over the Southland, there is never any dependence to be put in the leadership of the Klan in many districts, and in all districts there is the ever present danger that acts of personal vengeance will be wrecked under its banner. Such a state of affairs leads quickly to the point where no citizen is safe and no property above the torch. This being the case no good American can afford to don the mask and march under the banner of the K. K. K. Let us stand for law and order, unmasked and undaunted.

The Masonic lodge of Breckenridge has passed resolutions looking to the suppression of profanity on the streets and in the business district of that city. In the resolutions the lodge asked the co-operation of the churches, schools and newspaper of that city in gaining the united support of the best citizenship of the whole community. This is a splendid movement and is worthy of emulation in other sections of the state. Profanity is the most useless habit known among men. It does not elevate, it does not show refinement nor culture and is repulsive to the best and highest manhood. Very few men will use profanity in the presence of ladies or in their homes. This proves it is not necessary, for if profanity can be dispensed with in certain company it can be dispensed with in all company. The motives and aims of the Masonic lodge is to bring out the best that is in men and the fact that some Masons swear does not brand the order as being silent on the subject at all. Some churchmembers swear, yet nobody bell ves that the church is not opposed to swearing. Of late years there has been a decided drop in public morals on the question of profanity, much to our detriment and some are so careless and callous in their habit as to swear openly in the presence of children and ladies. It has even been hinted that young ladies and some older ones are using words never intended to punctuate the English language, which proves they have heard so much profanity from men that it no longer holds a repugnance for them. If profanity can be curbed on the streets and in the business district it will be a long step in the right direction, as there is where most of it occurs. The Masonic lodge has always stood against swearing and it is refreshing to see a lodge imbued with the spirit of the order so that it calls for a halt to this increasing evil. The English language is an able conveyer of thought. Profanity is superfluous and no gentleman can afford to let it become a habit of his life. If a gentleman can't, there is no need to mention a lady. Hats off to the Masons of Breckenridge, and may their aim be speedily realized.

When Abraham Lincoln was a young man he ran for legislature in Illinois and was badly swamped. He next entered business, failed and sent seventeen years of his life paying up the debts of a worthless partner. He was in love with a beautiful woman to whom he became engaged—then she died. Later he married a woman who was a constant burden to him. Entering politics again, he ran for congress, and again was badly defeated. He then tried to get an appointment to the United States land office, but failed. He became a candidate for the United States senate, and was badly defeated. In 1856 he became a candidate for the vice-presidence and was once more defeated. In 1858 he was defeated by Douglas. One failure after another—bad failures—great setbacks. In the face of all this he became one of the greatest men of America, whose memory is honored and loved throughout the world. When you contemplate the effect of a series of setbacks like these doesn't it make you feel kind of small to become discouraged, just because you think you are having a hard time in life?—Praetorian Guard.

FORWARD OR RETREAT?
An experiment tried years ago by one to demonstrate a theory, taking five infants from parents of five different nationalities and raising them to the age of ten entirely in the company of a mute woman, some one asks what language did they speak? Why, of course they did not speak any as they never heard one, environment general conditions are absorbed by the person or persons. According to one of our stories told of a man who for some terrible crime was compelled to sleep on a bed of iron staves, after a length of time the bed was removed and a soft one put in its place, the man could not sleep his body had become hardened and tough so they had to give him his iron bed.

We humans are almost able to adopt ourselves to conditions that arise and by the continued use they become part of us. Take the Eskimo of the far north, who does not know of electric light, auto, good roads, and the many advanced ideas of this age, he has lived on the blubber and fats, they have become a part of his life, bring him here and he dies in a short time, so it is with all of us, we can get used to most anything, we can start on the road backward and go to the extreme; eventually living like our forefathers used to live many, many years ago, and no doubt in another generation we would not know the difference, but for those who are to follow our paths already made, should we but keep up our advance in a forward direction and hold to progress and future achievement.

When the path that was made a principal street in one of our big cities started, I understand by a cow trail and then by people if they knew it was to become what it eventually did, we all know it would not now be the crooked street it is; what we do and what we don't will come to those who follow us, and we should do our part so theirs will be easier, let it be said of this County, one of the best in the state, and this city, that now or at any future time, everything it does will be for the future advancement of ourselves, and that will mean for those who come after us.

WHEN TO QUIT
Not long ago a questionnaire was sent to successful merchants and manufacturers in various lines of industry asking them to state their ideas as to the best time to stop advertisements. Numerous replies were received, some of which were as follows:
"When population ceases to multiply and the generations that crowd on after you and never heard of you stop coming on."
"When you have convinced everybody whose life will touch yours, that you have better goods and lower prices than they can get anywhere else."
"When you perceive it to be the rule that men who never advertise are outstripping their neighbors in the same line of business."
"When men stop making fortunes right in your sight solely through the use of legitimate advertising."
"When you can forget the words of the shrewdest and most successful business men concerning the main cause of their prosperity."
"When every man has become so thoroughly a creature of habit that he will certainly buy this year where he bought last year."
"When younger, fresher houses in your line cease starting up and using newspapers to tell to the people how they can give them better goods or better service than you can."
"When nobody else thinks it pays to advertise."

Mrs. H. E. Westmorland departed Thursday for Wichita Falls to meet her husband who was coming there from Dallas. Together they returned to this place Sunday by automobile. Mr. Westmorland left Monday evening for St. Louis where he is called by business.

ALL ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER METERS ARE TO BE TESTED

Nearly every one is willing to pay for what they get. But they want to know that they are getting what they pay for. With this in mind we have secured the services of a meter expert to test our meters in Clarendon. Our meter expert Mr. J. B. Gribble of New Orleans, La., will be here some time next week, and will commence testing meters. It will require several months time to test all the meters in Clarendon, but they will all be tested before he leaves Clarendon.

PUBLIC HEALTH PREPARATION FOR COMING SCHOOL YEAR
Special attention to follow-up work on school children and getting ready for the next school term by home work and conference with parents will form a large part of the summer program of Miss Ella Yeager, public health nurse for the Donley County chapter, according to an announcement by Publicity department.

Defects found in the children during the past school year and not as yet entirely or partially corrected will be followed up by the nurse and arrangements made, in consultation with parents, to have them removed whenever possible. Realizing the fact that the maternity death rate has mounted 15 percent in a comparatively short time, with 17,000 mothers dying in childbirth last year, and 300,000 infants dying before reaching the age of one year, the nursing program of the Southwestern Division of the Red Cross, including the states of Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Texas, will lay special emphasis upon corrective measures and education in maternity hygiene and care in an effort to reduce this wasteful life, according to a statement received from the division headquarters office.

At present the Southwestern Division is maintaining public health service in 206 counties or communities, with 223 nurses on full time duty, distributed as follows: Arkansas, 17 nurses; Colorado, 33; Kansas, 52; Missouri, 33; New Mexico, 6; Oklahoma, 17; and Texas, 65 nurses.

MRS. ADAMS TO STUDY MUSIC IN CHICAGO
Mrs. Mary B. Adams, well known and loved here as the former teacher of voice in the Clarendon College Conservatory of Music, visited here the latter part of last week with Mrs. James Trent and other friends. Mrs. Adams now lives at Wichita Falls where she has made many friends and a reputation in the musical circles. Mrs. Adams will study voice and pipe organ. Mrs. Adams was eminently successful as a teacher, and in her graduate study she will no doubt realize the same success that has been hers in her former studies.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Leonard of Shamrock, former residents of Clarendon, were here the first of the week visiting with W. J. Parsons and family and other friends.

LEST THEY FORGET
Over in the Blue Ridge Mountains there lives a very wealthy man. His palatial home is one of the show places of that country. His family is surrounded by every luxury known to modern civilization. In the yard of this magnificent estate there is a little plain, even crude, log cabin. Upon seeing this primitive structure, one wonders why it is there. It seems so much out of place, so unlike its surroundings. When you learn the story of this primitive structure you feel that here must be a very sensible and humble, if prosperous, citizen. You're right. He built that cabin for his children, and as a monument to his grandparents. It is an exact replica of the home his grandparents lived in when they settled in that country. Poor but determined, these pioneers found a vacant bit of soil on the frontier. They cut the logs, hewed them and built their little home. They cleared the land, planted crops and there found freedom and contentment. They worked hard, lived frugally, and suffered many hardships. In so doing they paved the way for the blessings now enjoyed by their descendants. Without pioneers there could be no achievement. Every blessing we enjoy has been paid for by the toil of pioneers; men and women risked their lives, and even gave their lives that we might live. Too many men try to forget their frugal ancestors, but the most successful try not to forget them. Snobby is a drug on the market and a mill-stone about the neck of progress. From log cabin to palace represents a definite step in progress. It is a ladder with a hovel at the bottom and a mansion at the top. Destroy the cabin and you leave the ladder dangling in mid-air. This man's children haven't a chance to be snobs. When they see that cabin they are reminded of their origin. But, what is more important, they see the progress that has been made by their ancestors, and are reminded that they must continue to progress and construct, initiate and develop. It is great to have ancestors, but isn't it better to be ancestors?—W. D. Trotter.

THE BEST TEST

Is the Test of Time

Years ago Mrs. L. Howe of W. 4th St., Clarendon, told of good results from using Doan's Kidney Pills. Now Mrs. Howe confirms the former statement—says there has been no return of the trouble. Can Clarendon people ask for more convincing testimony?

Mrs. Howe gave the following statement on November 27th, 1915: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills a few years ago and from the results I received I know they are good. I got Doan's at Stocking's Drug Store, and I advise everyone troubled with kidney complaint to try them."

On April 20th, 1919, Mrs. Howe added: "Since I recommended Doan's Kidney Pills some time ago I have not needed them. The cure Doan's made has lasted."

Price 60c, at all leaders. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Howe had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

COL. GOODNIGHT A LIVESTOCK WIZARD

Accompanied By His Wife He Is At A Missouri Resort—A Real Frontiersman

In the long line of distinguished people and national characters who have been attracted to Nevada by the Weltmer School and Sanitarium we have with us at the present time Col. Charles Goodnight and his wife of Goodnight, Texas. Col. Goodnight is eighty-four years of age and his wife is eighty-two. They first came to the Weltmer in stute in very bad health during their first visit in 1901 have enabled them to get along very well for early twenty years and now when they are in need of a gain in vitality and energy and some special help in overcoming a few minor troubles they are again in Nevada.

Col. Goodnight was in the West before the Santa Fe went through. He was there when the buffalo and antelope were so plentiful that men would go out and shoot buffalo for a period of time on a bet to see which one was the better shot. Col. Goodnight says that even he, who is considered one of the leading if not the leading protector of the buffalo in the United States, killed three buffaloes, because a man bantered him to see which one would prove to be the better marksman. He says that his opponent in the shooting match shot the first buffalo they encountered; he shot the second; his opponent the third, he the fourth; but after he had killed his third buffalo he became ashamed of his action and gave up the contest, and since then has done all he could to protect the buffalo from extinction.

Col. Goodnight is referred to by people, who know of his scientific research work in the cross breeding of stock, as the Burbank of the live stock world. Col. Goodnight has created a new species of cattle by crossing the native buffalo and Polled Angus cattle. He calls this new species the Cattalo. They are a large hardy species and their meat is an improvement over both the buffalo and domestic cattle meat. The cattalo is a proven valuable species.

Col. Goodnight has on the Goodnight ranch at Goodnight, Texas, now the property of W. J. McAllister, about forty miles east of Amarillo, a herd of some two hundred buffalo and fifty of these cattalo, besides many lower grades. He was one of the first men to successfully raise karakule sheep in the United States. It is the karakule sheep which produces the Persian Lamb coats, for which many a fond husband has more or less joyously paid two or three thousand dollars, after his wife had bought one and had it charged.

William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) was partially successful in creating a new species by a cross between the native antelope and the mountain sheep, and Col. Goodnight has taken upon himself the completion of this task of his departed friend. He is now carrying on some important work, which the American Genetic Association has asked the privilege to announce in their official publication, "The Journal of Heredity" published at Washington, D. C.

Col. Goodnight is one of the pioneers and "old timers" of the western frontier, and he is acknowledged as one of the most important outstanding figures in the development of the Panhandle of Texas.

It is not amiss at this time to consider that just as surely as the buffalo and antelope are decreasing so are these old timers and frontiersmen growing fewer in numbers. In order to qualify as an old time western frontiersman a man has to be more than seventy years old, so therefore it is easy to see why the number is becoming less. As few as there are remaining of these pioneers, two of them met at Nevada. When Col. Goodnight and Senator John Baldwin of Appleton City renewed their acquaintance after fifty-three years. Senator Baldwin and Col. Goodnight talked over the early days at Trinidad, Raton, Pueblo, Dodge City and parts of Texas where their trails crossed in the earlier days.

Since Col Goodnight has arrived here he has been requested by the Secretary of the American Bison Society, of which he is a life member, to send on to New York for their museum, a genuine "Bull Whip," made of hickory and rawhide. He is getting the hickory here at Nevada for these whips, which will in the years to come be one of the connecting links with the days of "49" on the Western frontier.—Nevada (Mo.) Daily Mail.

Miss Ruby Coker, of Quanah, who has been a guest here in the home of the Misses Long, departed for her home Saturday.

Hon. Otis Trask, of Amarillo was here the first of the week on legal business.

EPWORTHIAN HOLD CONFERENCE AT WELLINGTON

The Epworth Leagues of the Clarendon District got together in a district conference Saturday and Sunday at Wellington, with an attendance of some thirty-five visiting delegates. The conference was a success from the beginning both in the way of completing a more thorough organization of the Epworth Leagues for this district and in a social way. The meeting was presided over by Carl Parsons, the district secretary of the Epworth Leagues; and the list of visitors included Clifford B. Casey, of Amarillo, conference president of the Epworth Leagues. Clarendon had the largest number of delegates of any of the cities represented by visitors. Delegates were present from Clarendon, Memphis, Claude and Wellington as well as visitors from Amarillo.

The Clarendon delegation left this city late in the afternoon Saturday and arrived in Wellington early in the evening. They were then assigned to homes, the hospitable people of Wellington opening their homes for the entertainment of the visitors. As quickly as possible, the delegates got back to the parsonage where a very enjoyable time in the way of a get acquainted and social awaited them. Each one present was given a paper sack and a pencil and bidden to make himself acquainted to as many as possible. The Wellington Leaguers proved themselves royal entertainers, and the evening will long be remembered by those present as one of the most pleasant social evenings for a long time.

The next meeting was at the church Sunday morning when the Memphis League delivered their part of the program in an excellent manner in the rendition of an ideal program. This is one of the best leagues in the district and they certainly have some strong members. Long will the address by Miss Elsie Bass be remembered as well as the beautiful song by Miss Sannie Noel. Miss Bass spoke of efficiency in the social service. Her personality is a most pleasing one, and her message, from the heart, as it was, phrased in beautiful English, made a deep impression on everyone present and struck to the heart whence it sprung. Miss Sannie Noel sang in a most delightful manner and everyone heartily enjoyed her solo.

Following the program, the leaguers adjourned to the basement of the church, where a feast awaited them, composed of such delicacies as fried chicken, creamed potatoes, peas, fresh tomatoes, and ice cream and cake. Mr. Wells, president of the Wellington League acted as toast master for the occasion. Delightful readings and solos were given between the courses.

After luncheon the leaguers rode about the town until time for the afternoon assembly. In the afternoon, the committees made their various reports; among other things it was voted that the next assembly which will be in October will go to Memphis. One of the enjoyable numbers of the afternoon was the address by Charles Ferguson of this city, his theme being methods of accomplishing results with the league. His speech showed that he had given the matter much thought, and his presentation was up to his usual high standard. Miss Tillie Mahan, of Wellington, also made a splendid talk on the social features of the league. Following an address of inspiration by Clifford Casey conference president, the final work of organization was completed, and the meeting adjourned. Before departing for their homes, the delegates were treated to a delightful napkin luncheon.

Wellington is located in one of the finest parts of the Panhandle, and its citizens compose as fine people as ever a person met; and it was with great delight that the delegates made their stay there. The Epworth League at that place is doing excellent work, and the character of entertainment that they furnished will be a happy spot in the memory of the delegates for a long time to come. All of the leaguers will be much benefited by the meeting, and many good results are sure to come therefrom. The following delegates from Clarendon attended:

THE HOLY BIBLE

Contains directions to the City of God; it is given to man for inspiration, doctrine, correction, instruction in holiness, that the man of God may be perfect in all good works.

In Genesis 3-1, we find the Old Serpent making his first appearance to destroy man. All through the 1,189 chapters we find man fleeing, and God pursuing, until in Revelation 20-2, we find the Angel of God binding the Old Serpent, who has been called by fourteen different names, but who is finally chained and cast into the bottomless pit.

For this cause was the Son of God manifested that he might destroy the works of the devil, and to reconcile man to God.

We find that the Bible contains 66 books; 39 in the Old Testament and 27 in the New.

1,189 chapters.
31,173 verses.
773,692 words.
3,585,489 letters.

The longest chapter is Psalm 119.
The shortest chapter is Psalm 117.
The middle verse is Psalm 118, 8th verse.

The Ten Commandments are found in Exodus 20th chapter.

The Lord's Prayer is found in Matthew, 6th chapter.

Beatitudes, Matthew 5th chapter.

The longest verse in the Bible is Esther, 8-9. It contains ninety words. The shortest verse is St. John 11-35. Each verse of the 136 Psalms ends alike. It contains two words. We find that Moses lived to be 120 years old; Adam, 930; Methuselah, 969; Noah 950. We find in Proverbs 6th chapter the six things God hates; a proud look; a lying tongue; hands that shed innocent blood; a heart that deviseth wicked imaginations; feet that be swift in running to mischief; a false witness that speaketh lies and he that soweth discord among the brethren.

When in sorrow read John 14. When men fail you read Psalm 27. When you have sinned read Psalm 51. When you worry, read Matthew 6:19-34. Before church service read Psalm 84.

When you are in danger read Psalm 91.

When you are lonely, or in danger, read Psalm 23. The 7th chapter, 21st verse of Ezra contains all the letters of the alphabet except J.

When you forget your blessings, read Psalm 103. Holy Bible Book Divine. Precious treasure thou art mine, Mine to tell me when I come, Mine to tell me what I am, Mine to shield when I rove, Mine to show a Savior's love, Mine thou art to guide, to guard, Mine to punish, or reward, Mine to comfort in distress, Suffering in this wilderness, Mine to show by living faith, Man can triumph over death, Mine to all of joys to come, And the rebel sinner's doom, Oh thou Holy Book Divine, Precious Treasure thou art mine, So I will live by faith in God, trusting and believing, warning sinners to flee the wrath of God.—Selected.

ESTLACK RESIDENCE BURNS SATURDAY

The residence of J. C. Estlack in east Clarendon burned Saturday evening about eleven thirty o'clock. Nothing was saved, and the loss after the insurance is received will be large. Mr. Estlack and his family were on an outing at Troublesome Canyon at the time of the misfortune, and did not know of it until the word was borne to them the next afternoon. Residents of that part of Clarendon smelled the fumes of burning resin for some time preceding the fire; but the house being closed up as it was, no evidence of the fire was to be seen until the flames leaped out at the roof.

The fire hose was insufficient in length to reach the fire, which is another proof that the water mains and plugs do not extend far enough from the square.

Mr. Estlack has no idea as to the origin of the fire, unless it was caused by a defective wiring; for neither a stove nor an electric iron was burning. Mr. Estlack is undecided as to whether he will rebuild or not.

NEW GEOGETIC SURVEY OF PANHANDLE BEING MADE

Government surveyors are now in Clarendon while making a survey of the surrounding territory. This work is being done under the supervision of the department of commerce, and is being done in a very thorough manner. It is reported that other groups of engineers are encamped over the Panhandle, and that their field of survey will continue until they have gone on into New Mexico. Many rumors are afloat as to the exact purpose of this work; one report being that this part of the country is being surveyed with special reference to the geological features for oil purposes. At any rate the purpose of the survey is not being publicly proclaimed by any of the engineers, and this makes the purpose of such survey all the more interesting. Anyway the reports that are now being made will no doubt be far more reliable than any geological reports now accessible to the government.

CARLOCK BEGINNING TO PUSH CAMPAIGN FOR KHIVA DIAMOND

E. A. Carlock of Paducah, publisher and owner of the Paducah Post, has begun his campaign in behalf of the diamond ring to be offered for the most popular novice at the next Khiva Temple ceremonial. Support of the Amarillo Daily News in behalf of his candidacy is solicited in a letter received yesterday. Although Editor Carlock has not outlined his platform in full the following are some of the things he advocates and stands for in his letter to The News:

"I believe in Jazz, Jaserines and Jaseritas. I am for the Jazz saxophone and believe in making all male and female boys and girls learn saxophone jazz (all other kind of children to be exempt). I also believe that women's skirts should be made shorter in order to make men look longer—we have too many short men anyway. I believe that every Shriner should our State Health officer, and therefore recommend that all grass widows be exiled that hay fever may be brought to a minimum."—Amarillo News.

GREAT MERRIMENT ATTENDS OUTING AT DAVIS RANCH

With one of the most delightful outings of the summer, the Misses Davis assisted by their mother entertained a number of their friends with a swimming party last evening. The young folks left this city late in the afternoon; and arriving at the Davis ranch south of Clarendon early in the evening, proceeded to a fine swimming hole, and the fun that followed is beyond description. The merriment started when some of the young ladies started into the pool of water, and lost their footing on the slick bottom of the tank. Needless to say, they got into the pool very hurriedly when they had got that far along. A phonograph was carried along, and a part of the fairer sex who did not care to dampen their curls sat on the bank like so many sirens and made sweet music. When everyone had started in the water until the exercise had gotten a great desire to eat, all hurried out and made ready for the luncheon.

A car was driven to where its spotlight could furnish light for the lawn, on which a table burdened with such palatables as fried chicken, potato chips, fresh tomatoes, pickles, creme sandwiches, Angels' food cake, and sherbet was placed. Each one was given a plate and was sent around the table to help himself.

After this bountiful repast singing was the order of the evening, this part of the program being featured by the comic songs of Misses Victoria Warner and Lois Roberts. It was with great hesitancy that the guests could say good night when the hour for that had arrived. Everyone felt that their expressions to the hostesses of the wonderful time that they had had were inadequate. The party was chaperoned to the Davis ranch by Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Patman and Mr. John Martin. Those present besides the hostesses Misses Grace, Ruth, Willie and Mrs. W. E. Davis were: Misses Victoria Warner, Gladys Page, Kerriek Warner, and Marian Page of Claude; Miss Margie Coates of Waxahachie; Lois Roberts of Orlanda, Florida; Misses Mildred, Helen, and Leta Verne Martin and Lorene Thornton of Clarendon; Messrs. W. E. Davis, Collis Stocking, Charles Dean, Frank Stocking, George Clifford, Jack SoRelle, Emmet Richards, Forrest Sawyer, Carroll Baldwin, James Noble and Charles Bell.

MISS ANNA MOORES RETURNS FROM SCHOOL IN BOSTON

Miss Moores studied voice in the New England Conservatory of Music and oratory in the Emerson School of Oratory. She is also a post graduate of Baylor University, and her year's work in the East is a fitting finish to her education. Her many friends feel that whatever field of endeavor she engages in, the success that she deserves will be hers.

NEWS EDITOR RECEIVES VEGETABLES FROM PATRONS

The News editor has enjoyed fine eats this week as a result of the generosity of some of our subscribers. Saturday one whose name the News force recalled as the good old Scandinavian "Kelly" left a fine mess of home grown potatoes. To this unknown benefactor the editor wishes to express his thanks, and say that he is sorry if the right name was not given credit for the good deed. Also A. M. Lamm, one of the progressive Sunnyview farmers this week treated the editor with a fine lot of roasting ears. These deeds are especially appreciated and we wish so to express ourselves.

TWO AMENDMENTS CARRY IN LOCAL ELECTION SATURDAY

With the voting very light, the total number of ballots cast being seventy-six, only two of the proposed amendments to the Constitution of Texas carried in the local election Saturday; those being the amendments for a seven instead of five cents tax for the support of the Confederate veterans, and the Americanization of the ballot.

These were the strong amendments over the state, although only the Americanization amendments carried in the state wide election. J. L. Bain was the presiding judge of the local election and was assisted by G. J. Teel, Frank Bourland, Mrs. J. T. Sims and Mrs. Win Gray.

RYAN FAMILY VACATIONING IN WEST

George Ryan and family left Thursday in their car for a vacation of some six weeks which will be spent in the West and Northwest. They will visit at Salt Lake City, and from there they will go to Yellowstone National Park. After leaving Yellowstone, they will visit the Royal Gorge. Doubtless their hopes of the vacation of their lives will be realized.

BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL HOLDS PICNIC THURSDAY

About seventy-five members of the Baptist Sunday school went on a picnic outing to the river Thursday afternoon. An abundance of good eats was carried along, and it was hard to tell whether a part of those present enjoyed the eating or the wading the better. The class of boys taught by I. S. Mullins furnished a great deal of the pep for the occasion. After they had waded for a while; they became ashamed to appear unsocial, and went out to persuade others to join them in their sport. They ducked any and everyone, among whom were included the superintendent of the Sunday School, the pastor of the Baptist Church, C. C. Cope, H. D. Ramsey and many others. The outing was a most enjoyable occasion for everyone, and it is the hopes of the members of the Sunday school that in the near future many other such picnics may be had.

DENVER TRAINS DELAYED BY WASHOUTS

The Denver trains from the north were delayed about twelve hours on Friday and Saturday on account of the washout of the Canadian bridge Thursday afternoon. It is reported that about twelve tents of the bridge were washed out by the torrent. The trains detoured on the Rock Island, and for this reason were thrown so far behind schedule.

A number of Clarendon families spent a very pleasant evening on Kelly Creek Saturday evening. They took their suppers; and following a fine swim, set out their fish hooks while they ate supper. Following their supper, it was concluded that there was no use to hurry back to the city, and was voted to spend the night there. Those enjoying the outing were: Art Clark and wife, Homer Ellis and wife, Homer Mann and wife, Frank Decker and wife, Fenn Bourland, wife and son.

It Will Not Be a Matter of Money T-H-E-N!!

Just as surely as these are hot, sweltering days, there is going to be a terrible coal shortage in Clarendon during the coming winter. Not only the families of the poor, but the families of the well-to-do will suffer from cold—for it will not be a matter of money—then.

The only way in which the situation can be met is for the people who are able to buy their coal today to place their orders NOW, while there is plenty of time. Next winter, when every home will be crying for fuel will be too late.

This is fair warning. Buy your coal now, have it in your bins and save not only the difference between the present and future prices, but also save suffering. There is no intention here to "scare" anybody, but just to give an honest, straightforward statement of fact.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody can Tell when you
Darken Gray, Faded Hair
with Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. It's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

HON. JOHN WANAMAKER

John Wanamaker has completed sixty years of service as a merchant. Wanamaker was the first big merchant to discover the potentialities of regular systematic newspaper advertising. It would require police details in Philadelphia and New York to keep him out of newspaper offices. And the only reason under the sun why he likes advertising is that it increases business for his stores. Whether times are good or bad, Wanamaker's advertisements always appear in the New York and Philadelphia papers.—Hunt County Times.

Mr. Wanamaker became a merchant before he became an advertiser.

HOW MUCH DO WE STEAL FROM OUR EMPLOYER?

Inasmuch as the question is asked, how much we have stolen, the inference is that we have stolen some. This is a grave charge to make against an individual employee in general, and of course if you were charged with theft personally you would immediately demand proof. To steal anything implies dishonesty of a mean sort, and one proved guilty of theft is looked upon with contempt and disgust. There is, however, a certain kind of thievery that has been going on for a number of years, and having come in contact with many men in the business world—both employer and employee—the subject of being honest with my employer as well as with myself has been one for serious thought. I have seen so much of dishonesty on the part of employees, there has been so much stealing from employers, that I have sometimes wondered whether genuine honesty is not a thing of other days. I have something wondered whether my silence in regard to this everyday thievery does not make an accomplice.

Perhaps you would like to know what specific things have been stolen—as I seem to be on the inside track. There are persons who think that one must steal a certain amount to become a thief. There are others who think that one must steal goods of a certain character before he becomes a thief. "Thou shalt not steal a thousand dollars," it does not say "Thou shalt not steal a diamond ring;" it is broad enough to cover the whole realm of stealing, for it says "Thou shalt not steal."

Before you were employed by the company for which you work, I have no doubt that you agreed to work for a certain amount per month or per day. I have no doubt that you agreed to work for a certain number of hours per day. In other words, your employer agreed to pay you a certain amount of money for a certain number of hours served. Therefore, your employer purchased a stated amount of your time just as clearly as you would purchase a suit of clothes or a pair of shoes. Suppose you were employed in your present capacity; you had said to your employer, "I will agree to work on the eight-hour basis, but the company must allow me during that eight-hour commandment does not say "Thou shalt not steal a minute," or "Thou shalt not steal an hour for leisure, and if I so desire during that hour I can disturb my fellow employee in his work by engaging in social chat, or in whatever manner I may care to employ my time." Do you think you would have landed the job on any such agreement? The facts are quite different from this. You promised your employer, if not in so many words, through your general conversation, that you would give your best during the hours stipulated as the company's working hours. But if you belong to a certain class of employees, you have either forgot that promise, or else you never intended fulfilling this part of the contract, and you may have been stealing thirty minutes or an hour each day as the opportunity comes. Yes, I mean stealing—has been paid for your time, and you have been stealing a part of that, purchased time. Anything short of your full service is so much stolen from your employer.

Let us suppose you are working eight hours a day, and the company is paying you four dollars for your service on this basis. If, instead of working the full eight hours, you steal one hour of time by loafing on the job, you steal 50 cents worth of the time purchased from you. Now, if we count the working days in a year at 300, and you loaf on an average of one hour a day, at the end of the year you will have stolen $150. And if you succeed in getting by with that kind of service for a period of ten years, you will have stolen $1,500 worth of purchased time. Not only so, but perhaps you have caused other employees around you to lose a like amount of time, and thus in ten years the company has lost $3,000 through your dishonesty. Let us hope that conscience may not cease to be our guide in this matter of taking what does not belong to us, and that we may seek through our individual effort to advance the interest of the company for which we work.

Personally, I can see no difference in stealing $1,500 or $3,000 in a lump sum, or in stealing a like amount at the rate of fifty cents a day. Can you? Except that the fellow who steals fifty cents a day has to commit so many more dishonest acts in order to get the same amount.—Elmer McMillan, Sales Department, N. BENEFITS OF PAYING BILLS PROMPTLY

W. E. McKnight, Secretary of the local Retail Credit Association of McKinney in conceded to be a very efficient and capable man for that important place in our commercial life. He makes the following extremely sensible and forceful statement to the general public on the subject of "Some Benefits of Paying Bills Promptly."

Keep in the good credit class by paying your bills promptly. It is largely a question of habit and it can either be a good habit or a bad one.

Bad credit is a bad habit. It comes from a neglect to pay bills when they are due, or failure to give the merchant or whomsoever you owe, a satisfactory reason for non-payment, and neglecting to state to him when the account will be paid. The habit of neglecting to pay bills promptly, when once formed, is hard to break.

Good credit comes of a good habit. It is acquired by paying your bills when they fall due. It is really easier to acquire the habit of paying bills promptly and thus having good credit all over town, than it is to acquire the habit of not paying bills, because in the latter event you must fight against your better conscience which prompts you to pay them, until you have overcome this good impulse and become callous.

A person with bad credit is terribly handicapped all through life. It often causes embarrassment to self and family. Moreover, there comes a time when sickness, misfortune, or ill luck, cuts off the earning power, while the calls of life's necessities press hard upon him. Good credit at such a time will tide the family over. To him who has acquired a good credit record allowance will be made for the situation and credit extended until the family can get on its feet. Bad credit means that the family must suffer or else feel the embarrassment of appealing to charity. Why risk the dangers attendant upon bad credit, when the good credit habit is so easy to establish and maintain?

The good credit habit stands you well in hand when, by thrift, you have saved money and the opportunity comes enabling you to get in business for yourself. With the money you have saved, and with the good credit you have established, which more than doubles the value of your savings, you can get on the road to wealth and assurance of ease in your old age.

You can't do this with a bad credit record. No one will help you, not even your closest friends. They won't take the chances. Thrift goes with good credit. There are mighty few men with a bad credit habit who have saved money. The two do not go together, so it is the man with good credit and good thrift who succeeds.

But do not be discouraged, you with the bad credit habit. You can overcome that condition. Start today to acquire the habit of good credit. Begin at once to pay your bills. Let the merchants and the others to whom you owe money see that you are endeavoring to establish the good credit habit. You will be surprised how quickly their attitude toward you will change—how quickly and how willingly they will help you. You will be surprised at the change in yourself; at the better opinion you will have of yourself, at the satisfaction you will feel in knowing that you can look every man in the eye and know that you have done the right thing.

There is a personal, moral relation in the process of the formation of the good credit habit that is worth more to you and to your family than gold or silver. It is the very foundation of the structure of the ideal American home. Strive by every means in your power, therefore, to attain this ideal.—McKinney Courier Gazette.

BECK BROTHERS BUY AMARILLO SHOE SHOP

By force of a deal which took place last week, the Beck Brothers of Dalhart, who have been boot and shoe manufacturers at that place for several years, become the owners of the Tallaferrero shoe repairing business in Amarillo. E. C. Beck of the firm will be the manager of the new business, while his brother will remain in charge of the business at Dalhart. E. C. Beck is well known in this city, having married one of this city's most popular young ladies, Miss Lela Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Warren. Clarendon friends will be glad to hear of the extension of Mr. Beck's business.

SIX O'CLOCK DINNER

Miss Neva Bourland delightfully entertained a few friends at her home in south Clarendon with a beautifully appointed dinner Tuesday evening in honor of her friend Miss Ruth Massey of Kings Mill, Texas. Those enjoying this hospitality were Misses Massey, Mary and Annie Cagle and the hostess, Miss Bourland.

"IF GOD SO CLOTHES THE GRASS OF THE FIELDS"

Three men, sitting on the piazza of a Southern Hotel, were discussing religion. "Credulous and timid persons need religion," said one of the two younger men. "Without it they would find life unbearable. Religion has little or no hold upon them; religion keeps them in line."

"Religion is well enough in its place," said the other young man, "but that place grows smaller. Science tells us that the whole mystery of life can be explained in terms of matter."

"Gentlemen," said the older man, a well-known judge, "What you say leads me to believe that you may be able to answer one or two questions that I have thought over for a long time. What makes a blade of grass green?"

"It is merely a matter of vegetable salts," answered one of the young men. "The kind and the variety of color depends simply on the proportion in which salts are diffused."

"That is probably true," replied the judge. "Given a certain proportion of these coloring elements as provided by the soil and selected by the plant, we get a green blade of grass. But how account for it? We must remember that from all the varied properties of the soil the blade of grass must select precisely that which it requires for its own color. We must remember too, that what is true of the grass is true of the rose. The least mistake would bring about a like change in the plant. But no mistake is ever made. How does Science account for that?"

There was a long silence that was broken at last by one of the young men: "Why Judge that's just plain instinct."

"Does that answer really satisfy your own intelligence?" asked the Judge. "What do you say?" he inquired, turning to the other man.

"That question sounds simple enough sir," was the reply, "but it goes too deep. To tell the truth, I have never thought of it in that way."

"And yet, gentlemen," said the Judge, "though you have never thought deeply, as you say, of such simple everyday matters, you presume to belittle the province of religion in the world. My question about the blade of grass suggests that at the end of every path of human research God stands waiting. He is the only final answer to any question. The plant shares his life; its strange and wonderful intelligence is a part of his wisdom, as its use and its beauty are part of his loving purpose toward men."

EDITOR TELLS HOW TO MAKE ADVERTISEMENTS PAY

"There is no such thing as an advertising campaign; either you advertise or you don't advertise," said Harford Powell, Jr., editor of Collier's Weekly, in his message recently to America's owners and managers of electric light and power plants, complimenting them on breaking their silence of thirty years.

"Campaigns meant advertising by fits and starts. They do not produce a finished or final effect. You might as well speak of a breathing campaign. Start a breathing campaign now and then, let your lungs rest. There will soon be more of you at rest than your lungs. Begin at eating campaign and stop eating."

"Public utility men are doing more advertising than they have ever done before," continued Mr. Powell, "and they are trying to give the public the facts concerning their business thru news stories. They are making a serious and intelligent bid for public interest and public good will. They are making conversions by their publicity but you should not expect them to last."

"We have all been scraping our chins every morning for years. Would the effect last otherwise? Publicity is like that. It is a matter of repetition. Of converting a man once and convincing him again. Say it. Repeat it. Then repeat it again. The human mind wobbles. Keep it wobbling your way."

He said the average American is more interesting in the public utility business than other industries because he is directly concerned in the utilities as a consumer, tax payer, voter and investor, and that when he makes up his mind that a business is square and right he will stick with it through thick and thin.

Our dressmaking department is complete. We have in our store in Clarendon the very best experienced seamstress and all of our dressmaking is the very best at prices you can afford. All work guaranteed.

Method of Preparing Work

Customers desiring fancy designs worked on front, back, collar, etc., should run a basting thread outlining design.

Baste seams together as for ordinary stitching and then turn both seams one way and baste on right side of garment.

In preparing a blouse for hemstitching, baste all seams as if to sew by hand, using rather closer stitches. Do not press open the seams. This is done for all regular seams and yokes. For the armholes and cuffs leave the seams open or the work cannot be done. For the shoulder, however, this is not necessary. Hems are turned twice as if for ordinary stitching, but are basted rather closely. Hems for skirts and ruffles should be turned twice and basted.

For a ruffle, or any "gathered" material, the seam should always be turned away from the ruffle or gather.

Hems with raw edges should be turned twice as prepared for machine stitching, except on Chiffon and similar thin fabrics, when one turn is sufficient.

Picot Edge is hemstitching cut in two. It is always advisable for customers to press hemstitching before cutting it.

For Picot Edge Work leave 1-2 in. margin.
BEADING LINGERIE: This attractive work can be easily accomplished simply by making a line of hemstitching of the right length for the ribbon, then cut the hemstitching apart and you have beading with a picot edge.

GOOD HARNESS WITH SUIT-ABLE CARE WILL LAST
20 YEARS OR MORE

It is poor business to neglect the care of leather. Every pair of shoes, every machine belt, piece of harness, or other leather product on the farm that is allowed to go to waste or not made to yield its full service must be needlessly replaced thus adding unnecessary expense to the farm, say specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. On many farms a set of harness lasts less than 10 years. Where 8 or 10 horses are kept this means one new set of harness every year. The department has received many reports, especially from Southern States, showing that harness lasts only from 2 to 5 years. But good harness properly cared for, will last 20 years or more. In every neighborhood there are cases where farmers are cutting their harness bills in half by giving the leather a cleaning and oiling occasionally.

Fifty million pairs of shoes could be saved annually if the American people let their footwear in repair, the specialists say. As a nation we buy some 300,000,000 pairs of shoes a year but if each individual cared for his shoes properly the needs could be supplied by 250,000,000 pairs. The wasting of a single shoe a year by each person in the United States would cost the country at least $250,000,000 annually at present prices of shoes. Any leather improperly used and neglected will deteriorate rapidly. Belts for driving machinery, for example, often become impaired, if not useless, within a few years even on straight drives, but when they are kept clean and oiled they will last from 10 to 30 years.

Harness that is too light or of poor quality can not give many years of service. In selecting harness it is more economical to get a set that is too heavy than one which is too light for the work required. Make sure especially that the reins breeching, hold back straps, tugs or traces, bellybands, and yoke straps are strong. A runaway team can not be controlled with weak reins, nor will weak tugs and straps stand heavy work. No portion of the harness should show cracks on the grain side when the leather is sharply bent.

Harness should be washed and oiled when it becomes dirty or extremely dry. For washing, use tepid water, a neutral soap, such as castile or white toilet soap, and a sponge or fairly stiff brush. Hardened grease is very conveniently removed by scraping with a dull knife. Rinse in clean, tepid water, and allow the harness to stand in a warm place until it is no longer wet but still damp. Then oil it and leave it in a warm place for 24 hours before being used. Harness should be oiled or greased while still damp; otherwise it may take up so much grease that it will pull out of shape or take up sand and grit, which will injure it, as well as spoil its appearance. Harness should never look or feel greasy.

Neat's foot or castor oil or a mixture of these with wool grease is good for driving harness. For heavy harness use a mixture of any or all of these with wool grease to make a paste, having about the consistency of butter. Apply the grease lightly to driving harness and liberally to work harness. Rub the oil or grease, warm to the hand, thoroughly into the leather while it is still damp from washing. After the harness has hung in a warm room overnight, remove with a clean dry cloth the excess of oil which the leather is unable to take up.

In selecting a belt for driving machinery, make sure that it is wide and heavy enough for the load it is to carry. Ordinarily the competent belt maker's advice as to the proper belt for a given installation should be followed. If the belt is not suited to the work it gives trouble continually, causing shutdown of machinery that will soon cost more in loss of time and wages than many good belts. It should always be sufficiently flexible to cling closely to the smallest pulley over which it passes. A belt will not give satisfactory results if it slips, does not run true, is not properly laced, is run too loose or too tight, is subjected to rapid changes from light to heavy loads, is alternately wet and dry, is run on pulleys that are not true or are too small for the weight and thickness of the belt, or is neglected and allowed to deteriorate for lack of grease.

The belt should be wiped off every night to prevent dust, dirt or oil from working into it. When the belt needs oiling clean it well, especially on the pulley side, by washing with warm water and a good neutral soap. Wash rapidly and do not permit belt to become wet, as it will then stretch and slip. Apply the dressing lightly and evenly by rubbing it in with cotton waste or a piece of felt, and allow it to soak in the belt overnight. Among the best belt dressings are mixtures of cod and neat's-foot oils with tallow and wool grease, free from mineral acid.

PRINCIPLES PROVED BY EXPERIENCE

The reasons why you have something better to sell than the next man will not have a continuous effect unless your product is not only distinctive in quality but also has a trade-mark which stands for that distinction.

No matter how good the product or how good the reason, the public will not quickly recognize either. A solid business is slowly built. The business building is never finished; one has to keep his product constantly—even doggedly—before the public, especially during periods when the public is not buying. The memory of the buying public is short.

Trade-mark value is hard to establish and easy to lose. Once lost it will scarcely be re-established. Established, it is more valuable than any material asset. It is the biggest thing in business.

Seven Selling Principles

1. The business that merely offers its product for sale will never get anywhere. Everything has to be positively sold.
2. Energy devoted to fighting a competitor is apt to be a wasted energy. A more satisfactory return will be had by forcing one's own affairs forward.
3. One of the easiest ways to draw attention to the fact that one's product is best, is to charge a higher price than competitors charge.
4. It is not possible to let up on the advertising pressure. That must be continuous.
5. No one will buy from you simply because you want to sell. People will buy from you only because you have something that will do them good in proportion to the price you charge.
6. It is extremely difficult, as a business grows, to avoid a public expression of satisfaction in the growth—and to remember the public is interested only in superiority of service.
7. The value to my mind of the various trade-marks that we have established and the reputation of the company itself, which has been trade-marked by a distinctive signature, is greater in actual business value than all the material assets we carry on our books.—William Hamlin Childs in "System."

PLANS TO EXTEND ROUTE

Dalhart, Texas, July 21, 1921.—Plans for the extension of the Colorado to Gulf Highway from Brownsville, Texas to Tampico and Mexico City are now being formulated here at the headquarters of the Association. Assurances that the Government of Mexico will cooperate fully have been received by the President of the Association, and as soon as the financial campaign is over it is proposed that a Pathfinder car be sent from Brownsville into Mexico. It is said that this highway to Mexico City will be shorter by more than 100 miles than any other highway. The Government of Mexico is vitally interested in such communicating highways.

EAT LESS MEAT
IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation. The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

HELPING OUT SHORT PASTURES
Stock raisers, especially in the Southwest, often, at this season of the year, face much inconvenience and probable loss of cattle through the shortage of pasture. In other sections, where smaller herds and areas are involved, the summer pasture situation can be met in various ways, say specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Among the ways are the sowing of catch crops for summer forage or temporary pastures. But with ranges running into thousands of acres, with vast herds grazing, there is only one remedy and that is to put into practice a system of deferred and rotation grazing. Such a system will necessitate the division of the range into separate pastures, keeping the cattle off of one pasture each year until the seed of the native grasses are mature, at which time cattle may be turned into graze. In this manner the growth of grass is utilized and the grass seeds are tramped into the soil, which is necessary to germination. By systematic rotation each pasture may be allowed to reseed once in each three to five years as desired. Where ranges are heavily stocked in the beginning of such a system, it may be necessary to transfer a part of the herd to other range, but the ultimate result will be an increase in the carrying capacity of the range, as has been shown in various experiences in the Southwest. Overstocking should be avoided in every instance.

FACTS ABOUT ASBESTOS

The art of weaving the mineral fiber in asbestos, which is ordinarily indestructible, was rediscovered at a comparatively late period of civilization. Woven asbestos was used in the ancient pyre to preserve the royal ashes. Charlemagne is said to have had a tablecloth made of asbestos and to have cleaned it by throwing it into the fire, which consumed the dirt, thus illustrating in a spectacular manner one of the most valuable properties of this material.

The fiber of the best grade of asbestos is beautiful and silky and has great flexibility, elasticity, and tensile strength, according to the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior. It can be spun into thread so fine as to run 225 yards to the ounce, and as it is incombustible as well as a nonconductor of heat and electricity and resists the action of most ordinary acids, its fields of use is large. The possible applications of asbestos are far from fully appreciated not only by the general public but by manufacturers who are in search of material for special uses to which asbestos may well be applied. Perhaps it is most generally used to make fireproof cloth for theater curtains. It has been used also for making firemen's clothing. Everything in cold countries it is extensively employed for covering furnaces, boilers, and pipes to prevent loss of heat. Asbestos is a good insulator.

Misses Gertrude and Rhoda Wiedman returned last evening from a visit with friends at Dalhart and at Clayton, New Mexico. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Dreyer, of Pampa, arrived here Tuesday for a visit with S. A. Andrews and family.

"RED CROSS NUHEALTH"

Clean Homes

Clean homes often insure health of the members of the family living therein, and too much attention cannot be paid by homemakers and housekeepers to keeping the home spotless, from the standpoint of health as well as personal affairs.

With the opening of summer every home should be thoroughly gone over, all dark corners, all depositories for unused articles should be looked into. Get rid of the superfluous. There is a real trait in human nature to hoard and closets, attics and store places often contain heaps of things that should have gone into the trash pile long ago. They are prolific breeding places for dust and dirt.

Here are a few simple suggestions for every housewife:

If there is a vacant lot adjoining your home see that it is clear of rubbish and that no high weeds are allowed to grow thereon.

Be sure that plenty of light and air is brought into damp cellars.

Keep the windows clean and keep them open as much as possible. Fresh air and sunlight are allies of good health.

See that all rubbish is removed from your back yard, your cellar or other store rooms.

Clean all carpets and draperies for the summer season.

Scrub the floors and all unvarnished woodwork, using plenty of soap and water.

Co-operate with your neighbors to remove neighbor nuisances, such as stagnant pools, trash heaps and dumping grounds.

Keep the plumbing in good repair and have leaky roofs mended. Donley County Publicity.

MISS LITTLE LEAVES FOR MARKET TUESDAY

Miss Emma Mae Little, actively associated with her father in the management of the large T. M. Little store in this city, accompanied by her friend Miss Lorine Scott, left Tuesday evening for the Eastern markets. Miss Little will make the fall purchases for the store. Miss Scott will meet Miss Little in Longview and from there they will go to St. Louis, where they will spend some three days, later visiting at the National Capital, at Philadelphia, Niagara Falls and ending the journey in New York City where Miss Little will do the principal part of her purchasing for the fall business.

The Little Store in this city has grown from a small business to one of the very largest in this city, and today the building owned and occupied by Mr. Little is one of the finest store buildings in the Panhandle. A great part of the success is without doubt due to the fact that Mr. Little is a thorough believer in advertising. He has in this way kept his goods before the people, and having backed his advertising with the right kind of goods and prices, he has built up his large volume of business.

Mr. Little, when approached by a representative of the News as to what faith he had in the promise that we have of prosperity, immediately said: "We are having good times today." This one will readily understand when he stands in that store for a while and watches the amount of merchandise that is sold. Miss Little will make the purchase with her usual perception, and will lay in a heavy stock of merchandise as she and her father feel confident that the business will be better than ever this fall.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method of thanking those who helped us in our hour of trouble in the death of our dear husband and father. Deeds such as those made the burden lighter to bear, and can never be forgotten. May the Great Creator abundantly reward you is our prayer.

Mrs. J. J. Greenwade, wife
Mrs. D. E. Heasey, daughter.

Mrs. Charles Killough and little daughter Miss Jane returned Sunday evening to their home in this city after a visit of two weeks in Childress with Mrs. Killough's parents.

WEST BEATS EAST SIDE IN SECOND BENEFIT GAME

In the second game this season which the east and west sides have played for the benefit of the cemetery, the west beat the east side by a score of ten to eight. The game was won on the phenomenal hitting of Cox who covered himself with glory when the time for pinch hitting came. In the tenth inning after two men were down, Cox slapped out a hit in the center field that brought two men home. The game was tight from start to finish, and was one of the funniest games that the baseball fans here have seen in many a day.

The game started with all the pep that the players could muster, and although they had just stepped out of their various businesses, they showed no bad form; in fact, several pretty double plays were made. Fenn Bourland went straight from the bank to the ball diamond and pitched the ten inning game for the east side siders, and his pitching was excellent.

A fair crowd was in attendance, the gate receipts amounting to about thirty-five dollars. The spectators kept up the hurrah, and enjoyed the game from the funny plays as well as its being close.

It is the intention of the teams to play off the tie in the near future; and the benefits of that game will go to the cemetery fund. The batteries for the east side were Bourland and Kennedy; the batteries for the west side, Stewart and McKenzie.
