

TUESDAY LUNCHEON IS AGAIN INAUGURATED BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WITH SUCCESS

ALL PRESENT ARE OPTIMISTIC OVER OUTLOOK. PLANS WERE FORMULATED FOR THE MAKING OF MANY IMPROVEMENTS IN CITY AND SURROUNDING TERRITORY. A MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN WILL BE LAUNCHED.

Some fifty business men and other citizens interested in the upbuilding of Clarendon assembled in the Y building Tuesday afternoon for the first luncheon of the year conducted by the Chamber of Commerce this summer. After an excellent plate dinner served by Mrs. Roy Hendrix assisted by Mesdames Liesburg and Anderson, speeches were had on many problems of civic interest. Secretary McCordell presided, and the assembly was soon filled with his enthusiasm and optimism. J. B. McCarley, who has only recently moved to our town, suggested means for the improvement of the roads and his speech was heartily received. Miss Kuhn, of the State Board of Health complimented the county on its excellent health conditions and her remarks were gladly heard by everyone. President Long spoke of the benefits of the Chamber of Commerce, and gave methods for increasing the membership. Committees were appointed by the president to secure new members, and it was voted unanimously to continue to hold the luncheon each Tuesday at twelve o'clock.

Miss Kuhn of the State Board of Health, Austin, Texas spoke on her work, the nurses of the State and their work. They are considering a dental clinic in connection with this line to be held in the Y. M. C. A. Building some time soon, also child welfare work. More definite plans will be made and published.

J. B. McCarley formerly of the Chamber of Commerce of Mansano, Colo., has come to Clarendon to make his home. We are glad to have such men as Mr. McCarley with us. He spoke of his love for this county and the good people in it, he laid particular stress on the fact that many tourists, in fact, most of them are now turning north at Childress, Texas and when they do that, Donley County as well as the other counties north of us are losing in that way. As few people have any idea of the amount of money each car spends that passes thru their county. It has been estimated that at the very lowest, five dollars up as high as twenty-five dollars, you can figure that for yourself. This is of vital importance to us and something we should look into.

Pres. R. A. Long spoke of the general conditions of the Chamber of Commerce and proposed a committee of ten men, each to solicit five new members, and also spoke of the present prospects of the Chamber of Commerce which looks more promising than for some time.

Up to the present time Messrs. Geo. Ryan, Homer Mulkey, Wm. Patman and Dr. H. L. Wilder are on the Honor Roll, each having secured five new members.

Executive Secretary A. N. McCordell spoke at the luncheon, saying: "I cannot see they are doing anything" is a remark we hear now and then, may I not ask what are you doing in your line now? First place we are trying to keep this organization alive, not for the good it may do one month in the year but by having it twelve months in the year can we expect results, beneficial in saving from twenty-five to thirty dollars on about two hundred cars of cattle shipped from Donley County, it has spent about three thousand dollars on roads in different directions, it answers all letters and inquiries of every nature, corresponds with seven papers, and tries to keep our county and city before the people.

Now, may I ask some questions, if our jail is needed but one month in the year, should we tear it down? If our churches are only half filled most of the time, should we not have them? If our hospital is empty part of the time, do we need it all the time? If our stores could handle all the business in one day of the week, should they remain closed six? If our farmers did not make any money last year, should they not plant this year? If insurance companies all are making money and some people never receive any benefit, is it any reason why every one should not carry insurance? If we only have one fire a year, that one could destroy our city and don't we need our fire company every day in the year? Because all business at present is going along in a very uncertain way, should we stop? I say no, and so with the Chamber of Commerce, it is only by keeping it alive as it is now and not counting on what may seem the good of one day, but by years, can we judge results, are you with us? Do it now."

That you may know who the Chamber of Commerce is we are publishing the following who are the members that are representing the Chamber of Commerce; and if your name is not among them we will be very glad to have it there: T. J. Allen, Jas. W. Adams, Dick Allen, Clyde Atteberry, O. S. Anderson, J. B. Annis, Paul Atteberry, J. R. Bartlett, A. O. Bauer, John Beverly, A. M. Beville & Sons, R. L. Biggers, Fenn Bourland, C. H. MISS GREEN ENTERTAINS

Miss Velma Sue Green entertained the Five Hundred Club Tuesday evening of last week. Mrs. Sam Dyer served consolation; Miss Marjorie Turner won the guests prize. Following this a delicious salad course was served.

Edgar Burton who, it will be remembered, recently received a consular appointment to Tampico Mexico, in a letter to his father, C. A. Burton, says that he is very highly pleased and that he is enjoying his stay in Mexico immensely.

MRS. CHITWOOD INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Mrs. Ida Chitwood, Donley County's efficient Home Demonstrator was seriously injured Tuesday evening when she leaped from her automobile to avoid the car's turning over on her. She fell on a pile of rocks and was seriously bruised. Already she had been run over by the car shortly before and was then rendered almost insensible by pain. She is now in the Adair Hospital, and is resting easy.

Mrs. Chitwood was called to the Northern part of the Panhandle to do special demonstration work, and as the trains were running several hours behind time in the Denver, she decided to go to Jericho to take the Rock Island but she missed the train at that place and was returning home. Unfortunately with the bad condition of the roads, she killed her engine in a mud hole near the river. Thinking that the car was in neutral, she cranked it; but instead it was in high and ran over her, hurting her very badly, but she finally got in the car and was coming on to town when, in turning a corner, it seemed that the car was going to turn over; to avoid the wreck she jumped from the car, but fell on a pile of rocks. She still struggled to get in the car, and was found by parties in the street just north of the Denver Railway lying by her car in a semi-conscious condition. She was rushed to the Adair Hospital where she received treatment.

She was seriously bruised but is resting easy at this time, it is thought that she will be able ere long to be up and about her duties.

CAMPING GROUNDS IS HANDY FOR TOURISTS

A convenience that is particularly helpful to the tourists is the Clarendon Free Camping Grounds at the corner of Second and Sully Streets. It is provided with water, light and a cooking furnace. Since it was first put in shape by the Ford Motor company, the ground has been frequented by tourists from other states as well as Texas and an appealing feature of the grounds is its handy situation, being near town that traveling necessities may be easily procured.

Tourists have been frequent to remark that the ground is the best on the Ft. Worth and Denver Railway way, as it is so much handier to the city than most of the camping grounds, and the good lights that are furnished are especially convenient to the campers. Further arrangements are being made to furnish every possible need of the traveler, and with the perfection of the plans now on foot, the Clarendon Free Camping Grounds will be unsurpassed.

PAMPA DEFEATS HOME CLUB HERE TUESDAY

In a game featured by fast play and in which the visiting club was held on ice until the eighth inning, the Pampa baseball team defeated the Clarendon team by a score of 6-2 Tuesday afternoon. From the beginning the home boys were on their tip toes, and they were playing clearly out classed the visitors. Clarendon made two scores during the second inning, and the visitors were unable to score until the eighth when Clarendon made a few costly errors, and Pampa ran six men home. Batteries for Clarendon were Burleson and Edge.

MRS. STRICKLIN ENTERTAINS HONORING GUESTS

One of the most delightful social affairs of the season was given by Mrs. C. G. Stricklin yesterday afternoon when she entertained at tea for her house guests Miss Ruth Pittman of Quannah, and Misses Stella Jean Dugan and Vera Harrington of Greenville. The Stricklin home was beautifully decorated with Gladiolas and Sweet Peas. The houseguests for the afternoon consisted of Mrs. Stricklin, Mrs. George Ryan, Miss Pittman, Miss Dugan, Miss Harrington, Mrs. E. A. Simpson and Miss Mae Bennett. The guests were entertained in the dining room by Mrs. Tom Goldston; and delicious refreshments were served by Misses Muff Sims and Norma Rhodes. Music was furnished by Misses Helen Martin, Ruth Harrington and Vera Harrington. About seventy-five guests called during the afternoon.

From this date the fees charged for all teacher's examination will be $4.00 in stead of $2.00 as heretofore.

CELEBRATION ON 4TH AND 5TH TO BE BIGGEST YET

PROGRAM INCLUDES MANY ATTRACTIONS, THE AMERICAN LEGION IS IN CHARGE, LARGE ATTENDANCE EXPECTED

With the nearing of the Fourth of July, the plans are being completed for the biggest celebration in the history of Donley County. The American Legion, under the leadership of Joe Holland, local post commander, has charge of the celebration. The big rodeo will be a feature that has had nothing to compare with it in the past; good horses have been secured from all over the Panhandle, and a number of the best riders in this part of the state have been secured to put on the performance. Barbecue, all that will be needed for a veritable army will be there, served in K. P. fashion. Baseball, a game each day will give the fans of that sport the opportunity to give expression to their enthusiasm. Races, and there will be lots of them—everything from a ladies relay race to the swiftest horse races that this county has seen since Polkshontas was a papoose. Then there will be band music; the tootlingest bunch of leatherlips that ever got together in Clarendon will furnish pep for the occasion in this line. And last but far from least, there will be plenty of ice water.

The merchants and citizens of Clarendon have made large contributions, and it is possible to have a celebration on a scale that is as big as the Panhandle. Barbecue will be prepared to feed 10,000 people, and none of it is expected to be left uncaten; the barbecue will be on the second day of the celebration. The cats will be served on the court house lawn.

Two swift baseball games have been arranged for; the Clarendon fast nine will give an exhibition of their speed and skill in this the greatest of American sports. The baseball games will be in the morning of each day. The Clarendon Nine, under the management of Charlie Killough, is making a record for itself this season; and two real games from start to finish may be expected.

The rodeo is attracting attention not only of those who will be interested as sightseers, but of the best performers as well. This feature of the show is under the direction of "Big Boss" Blanton, and this is enough recommendation without itself; for as is well known he is always surrounded by as daring a bunch of crooks as ever engaged in a deadly game of little-de-wink. The horse races will also be of the same excellent quality.

Of course, a Fourth of July would not be complete without a band, and the celebration will be complete in this respect. The Clarendon Band will furnish the jazz music for the occasion. As well as the music during the day, a band concert will be perhaps given one night. Clarendon is the one town in the Panhandle that is known to be able to furnish a band for any occasion, and such will be the case on the Fourth.

It is planned to put on an athletic show one night; this will consist of boxing and wrestling. This will be up to the same quality of the rest of the entertainment, and the very best may be expected. Everything is being prepared to hold positively the biggest celebration that Donley county ever knew; already inquiries are being received from other part of the Panhandle; at least ten thousand people are expected, and preparations are being made to care for that many; everything will be free; a good time awaits you; and Clarendon and Donley county will welcome you.

JOHNSON-JOHNSON

Mr. Hubert Johnson and Miss Martha Johnson were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at two thirty o'clock. The bride is the winsome daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Johnson of Hedley, during her residence in that community she has formed a large circle of acquaintances and friends by her personality. The groom is the son of Fred Johnson of this city, and is an enterprising young farmer of the Lelia Lake community. The young couple will make their home on the farm which Mr. Johnson is cultivating near Lelia Lake. They have a host of friends who wish for them a long life of happiness and prosperity.

CREAMERY SEEKS DONLEY'S BUSINESS

J. P. Holland, of the Holland Creamery in Amarillo, was here the first of the week seeing about getting an agent to represent that business in this territory. Mr. Holland is well acquainted with the dairy conditions over the Panhandle and expressed himself as feeling that Clarendon's territory could furnish a large support to his business.

This is but another example of the recognized diversity of Donley. It is not known as the county where farming or stock raising, or any other phase of agriculture surpasses all other lines of endeavor, but Donley is known as the county where every line of agriculture stands at the forefront with any other part of the state.

SUMMER SCHOOL IS IN FULL BLAST

Students hurrying to classes at seven in the morning is an ordinary sight these days on College Hill. The enrollment for summer school is larger than ever before. Regular class work is offered in sixteen subjects. Full classes in these subjects are doing thorough work. This summer school has been worked up with out any attempt at advertising. The College plans to launch a great summer school movement for next year and it is believed beyond doubt that we will have in our midst as large if not larger enrollment during the summer months than during the regular school year. To do so would mean a great deal to regular school year. To do so would mean a great deal to Clarendon commercially and certainly the citizens would be delighted to have a buoyant student body in their churches and on College Hill throughout the summer.

Clarendon is an ideal place for a summer school. The climate may not be quite so cool as Colorado but it is a high and stimulating atmosphere that lends itself to the fullest vigor on the part of the student. Many more families would be living here if there was a good summer school advantages offered. By this is meant to offer the full curriculum of the College through the summer as is offered during the winter.

The College will make a departure next year from her usual course. There will be offered a full commercial course. This will consist of Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Typewriting, Commercial Law, Commercial Arithmetic, Commercial English and Economics. The party to head the commercial courses is in Tyler making a thorough study of the system and will be here before school opens in the fall to install equipment for this work. Here is an opportunity for Panhandle people and especially people near Clarendon to secure a thorough Commercial training without leaving home. What the commercial world wants is the person who can do the work. We know that the student who completes the above course will be qualified to take up work in any concern and make a success. A fuller statement concerning this work will appear at a later date.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING PROVING GREAT BENEFIT

Austin, Texas, June 14—No course of study at the University of Texas the material welfare of the people of the rural communities as well as the cities of the state than that of public health nursing, according to reports received after public health nurses are now working. According to Miss Jane Duffy, director of the course, thirty nurses have completed the work during the last eighteen months and most of them are successfully employed in public health nursing in Texas.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Hubert Johnson and Martha Johnson. Clarence Nipper and Dessie Nivens. Ed Kinslow and Ethel Whittington.

By a reporter's error, Monday's issue of the Amarillo Tribune stated that harvest hands were needed at Clarendon, the article being issued by the Chamber of Commerce of this city. But the Chamber of Commerce of this city received a telegram from the Tribune the following day stating that the error had been corrected. The article should have been signed by the Chamber of Commerce of Perryton.

TAX AND BOND ISSUE PASS BY A TWO TO ONE MAJORITY AT SATURDAY'S ELECTION

THE FUTURE OF THE CLARENDON PUBLIC SCHOOL IS GUARANTEED WITH AMPLE MEANS TO MEET EVERY NEED. NEW FACULTY MEMBERS WILL BE ADDED AND MANY IMPROVEMENTS WILL BE MADE IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

By a vote of almost two to one, the citizens of Clarendon on last Saturday assured the future of the schools of this city by voting for the issue of $75,000 bonds and for the increase of the school tax from fifty cents to one dollar. The total of the votes polled was 267. That the interest felt in the election was high is manifest from the size of the vote cast. The money derived from the large additional funds will be used in the adding thereto, thus increasing the efficiency of the school grounds will be purchased and that a new building will be built; which seems to be the only course available for relieving the crowded condition at present.

The School Board has on foot plans that will mean the putting of the schools at the forefront in the Panhandle. If the new building is built in the near future it will be near the site of the present high school building. The past year the work was hampered by the lack of room, as almost 750 pupils were in attendance, and the equipment was inadequate to meet the needs, but despite these facts, a high class of work was done. In the future many of the hindering conditions will be relieved and, with the extensive personal attention that it will now be possible to devote to the individual pupil together with the full equipment that will now be possible, everyone who is acquainted with the conditions is optimistic over the outlook.

The growth of the schools of this city had been a matter of marked interest to the patrons and citizens by wise guidance of the schools and by the united support of the school board and the citizens. Clarendon has come to be known as one of the leading school towns in this part of the state. The school board will now be able to pay as high salaries to the teachers as will any city in the Panhandle, and will be enabled to hire plenty of teachers to meet any demands that will be made.

The full plans as to a building program have not been matured at present, and the board is unwilling to make full statements as to what will be done in this way, suffice to say that they are optimistic over the finance question as ample means are now in hand for the extension of the schools to meet the needs of the enrollment as it continues to increase.

The necessity of better playground equipment has often been felt, but this could not be taken care of in the way that was thoroughly satisfactory to the board and the faculty, but with the improvement of the present playgrounds and the possible addition of grounds, it is felt that this question can easily be disposed of. It is felt that what have heretofore been dreams are to be realized, and that Clarendon will lead the West in education.

The total vote cast was 267; of this 176 were cast for the bonds, and 91 against; giving a majority of 85. A total of 268 votes were in favor of the increase of the tax to one dollar, and 91 against; giving a majority of 86.

CLUB BOYS AND GIRLS EX-CAMPMENT BEGINS TODAY

The annual encampment of the boys and girls of the Demonstration Clubs of Donley County began this morning, the site of the encampment being the Jim McMurtrey ranch north of this city, under the direction of Roy W. Hendrix, Donley County's demonstration agent, and Mrs. Ida Chitwood, in so far as she is able to assist and make suggestions since her hurt from being run over by her car the first of the week. The Encampment is educational and recreational also; a number of speakers from various parts of the state have been secured, and of special value is the assistance of Miss Maybelle Hays, of the A. & M. College. Most of the 150 members of the Boys clubs and the Girls clubs are in attendance. The various phases of diversified farming will be studied. But with the study, the recreation will not be forgotten; today the assembly is enjoying the feast of barbecue donated by J. W. Kent.

The various clubs have encamped together, being under the care of some man and his wife from the community of the club, such couple constituting the adult leaders of the club.

Various athletic sports will constitute a part of the program; and regular addresses will be given on the subjects that hold particular interest for the club members at this time. Among the speakers will be: J. R. Edmunds, of the A. & M. College, district agent for this district; S. C. Evans, Assistant State Club Agent; Miss Helen Higgins, Assistant State Agent, N. R. Tisdal, Wheeler County Agent; and Miss Maybelle Hays, of Ben Franklin, A. & M. College Representative.

All of the court officials have been invited to visit during today's session. George Ryan and Odos Caraway have done the barbecuing.

RIDDING THE HOUSE OF THE UNDESIRABLE ANT

The ant may be a model of thrift and industry, but no housekeeper desires this particular model around her home. The following methods for exterminating the pest are given by the Bureau of Entomology, United States Department of Agriculture: The most effective way of ridding the house of ants is to find and destroy the nest by treating it with carbon bisulphide, benzene, gasoline or kerosene. Or if the nest cannot be found, oftentimes the ants may be traced to an opening or crack through which they enter. Squirting kerosene into it or plugging it with cotton saturated with oil will in many cases drive them away.

A temporary expedient for controlling ants is to moisten small sponges with sweetened water and place them where the ants are most numerous. Attracted by the sugar, they will crawl into the sponges and may be killed by dropping into boiling water. The sponges should be baited again with sweetened water and, if necessary set in different places until the colony leaves the house.

Ants are attracted by various food substances, especially fats and sugars; therefore these foods should be kept in closed containers and crumbs or small amounts spilled on shelves or tables cleaned off at once.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION ENJOYS WONDERFUL ENTERTAINMENT AT M'ALLEN MEET

EDITORS OF TEXAS ARE PROVIDED FULSOME ENTERTAINMENT FEATURES AT NUMBER OF LOWER RIO GRANDE TOWNS—MAKE EXCURSIONS INTO MEXICO—DENTON 1922

It was with some misgivings that members of the Texas Press Association contemplated holding the 1922 convention at McAllen. Members from central and north Texas knew very little of that city and the Rio Grande Valley and wondered if a town of no more prominence than they considered McAllen would be able to entertain so large an attendance as usually answers to roll call at the Texas Press Association. Those who attended the 1921 convention in that city, June 9 to 11th, inclusive, know now that their fears were groundless, that they little knew the wonders of that city and the lower Rio Grande Valley, and that they had not calculated upon the wonderful team work and spirit of the people who were hosts to the convention.

Beginning at the beginning, the real estate companies of the Valley had provided a special train of pullman cars from Dallas to McAllen and return, which were free of charge to the press men and their families. Of course the ticket had to be bought, but no money could be spent for the sleeper accommodations which have become so expensive in these latter days. The special train consisted of five sleepers, a day coach and a baggage car, which had been converted into the "refreshment car," having been stocked with numberless cases of bottled coca cola, soda "pop," root beer, ginger ale, brick ice cream, etc., from the several Visitors in Childress are requested to use all possible precaution during the next few days while bathing, so as to prevent accidents. Those who use a bath tub are warned not to leave the tub until they supply themselves with a set of mud chains. After emerging from the tub stand in the sun for a few minutes and then use a stick to remove all surplus dirt and mud. Next year the city will have a good supply of pure water and these warnings will not be necessary.—Childress Index.

When it rains in Childress the people seem to go simply wild. Childress has always been up against the water shortage proposition for we can see that Fred Haskett, the Index editor, is always advocating a new water scheme for his readers. We understand that Fred wants a cheese factory in Childress. Things seem to be pretty tight down Childress way.

Mrs. G. H. Atter of Dallas, is visiting this week with her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McCarley of this city.

Enroute again about one-third, the next stop was made at Raymondville where another auto ride through the orchards and truck farms was offered and where a hundred watermelons were loaded on board the special with compliments of the citizenship of Raymondville. The next stop was made at Harlingen and at this place a very elaborate reception was staged. Headed by the band and the boy scouts of Harlingen the editorial party led by Pres. John E. Cooke and Gov. Neff, were paraded to a welcome arch in the center of the city where the mayor of Harlingen presented the tourists the keys of the city. At the request of Pres. Cooke, Gov. Neff responded in a most fitting manner. An auto ride was then had over the citrus and orange orchards, returning in due time for editors and their ladies to be the guests of the ladies of Harlingen at a street buffet luncheon of a quality an abundance that will remain long in the memory of the visitors.

Turning westward the remaining distance to McAllen was covered in record time and the press men arrived at the convention city to be welcomed by the greatest crowd of citizenship ever accorded the association anywhere. The whole county had seemingly turned out and the glad hand was extended on every side, cars were in waiting and in short order the guests were at their respective rooms, divesting themselves of the grime of the day's journey and ready for sleep.

The sessions of the convention were held in the auditorium of the new hundred thousand dollar high school building. It proved an excellent meeting place and Supt. Bentley of the McAllen schools as official host saw to it that no item of convenience or courtesy was lacking. Pres. Cooke proved himself to be a tactful and pleasing executive, the program was interesting as well as practical, and all who attended were amply repaid for their long ride and expense. The program was of special interest to the craft and therefore needs little mention to the laity.

As a host, McAllen proved that oftentimes the small city excels the great city. McAllen did excellent and there was not a dull moment in the three days spent in their midst. The first day at noon a luncheon was tendered the visitors at the McCall Club House, after the afternoon session the editors were driven to "Sharyland" where a watermelon feast was spread, where a reception was staged in the beautiful club house and home of the owner, Mr. Shary, and where ice and punch were freely served. Hurrying away from Sharyland, an excursion into Mexico had been planned and crossing the Rio Grande at Hidalgo about five o'clock the association was the guests of the city of Reynosa, where a welcome of great formality according to the customs of Latin peoples, was extended and suitably responded to. Some of the party with excellent memories of former applications to appetite, appeared to have a greater time before than during the barbecue served about dusk. Everything is wide open in Reynosa—saloons, gambling resorts and impressed with the hospitality and commercial importance of our greatest city to the south, it was "All Aboard" and to bed for the run into San Antonio, Austin, Waco and Home.

The Clarendon News editor enjoyed the distinction of having traveled the longest distance to the convention of any other attending member of the Association, the distance being around 900 miles.

The 1921 convention of the Texas Press Association was a success from every viewpoint, and the generous entertainment and wonderful agricultural and horticultural possibilities of the Rio Grande valley will not fade from the memories of the association, who were fortunate enough to attend.

On to Denton in 1922.

REVIVAL MEETING TO BEGIN SOON

The Christian Church is going to hold its revival meeting in July. It will begin somewhere between the 10 and 17 of the month. Evangelist John W. Tyndall of North Carolina will conduct the meeting. He is one of the foremost preachers in America. His knowledge of the Bible is unsurpassed by any and few are his equal. He has conducted three revivals for the pastor here and the pastor has held one revival for him, thus throwing the two men together for four meetings. He has power in the pulpit and is a fine mixer among men. Mr. Tyndall has held some of the most successful meetings during the last few years. He is a man of splendid personality and fluent in speech. His logic is convincing, his rhetoric beautiful while his language is simple enough for any one to understand him. The church is looking forward to one of its greatest meetings with such a man as this lead the revival. A tabernacle will be built at an early date for the meeting to be held under and everything will be in readiness when the hour arrives.

Besides a dinner up to the standards of any yet enjoyed on the trip, "flowers" made from squash, beets, carrots, etc., grown on their wonderful truck gardens were given as favors to the guests. DON'T FAIL TO HEAR H. S. MOBLEY, PRACTICAL FARMER AND LECTURER, TUESDAY 31ST, 2 P. M. PASTIME THEATRE

PROCLAMATION OF THE PRESIDENT

Overwhelming disaster has come upon the people of Pueblo and the surrounding district. Realization of their suffering now and in the days to come prompts me to issue an urgent request to all whose sympathies are awakened to assist the labors of the American Red Cross which has quickly organized to cope with the first great need and will soon be re-established there.

Contributions may be sent at once through the office of any Chapter or directly to Red Cross Headquarters at Washington for use in the stricken territory.

Warren G. Harding.

There will be two interesting services at The Christian Church next Lord's Day. The pastor will preach at both the services. Last Lord's Day found two good audience present at both services, notwithstanding the rainy night. Every one is always welcome at any and all the services of the church. If you are a stranger in town and attend this church you may rest assured that you will be a stranger only once. There is always some one to welcome those who attend the service. If you attend once you are sure to want to go again. Every lesson is an interesting one and those who want to hear something to make life easier living here will not miss a service. The meeting are short and yet pointed.

WEST TEXAS MAY BE DEPOSITORY OF POTASH ACCORDING TO GEOLOGIST

Washington, June 7.—Samples of salts from the "Red Bed" region of Texas indicates that the State potash deposits of at least the richness of potash deposits of Alsace and Germany. The United States Geological Survey Bureau announced today. The thickness of the Potash bearing beds, is yet to be determined.

Representatives of the Bureau are now in the "red bed" territory trying to determine whether the deposits is thick enough to furnish potash in as great amount and as high in grade as the potash obtainable in Europe.

"The 'red bed' district, was described as Western Texas, Eastern New Mexico and Western Oklahoma. Samples were taken from Midland County, Texas.

Washington, June 7.—Salt found in the Texas Panhandle is at least as rich as the potash deposits of Alsace and Germany, the Geological Survey announced today.

Experts, however, are as yet unable to say whether these deposits constitute a great potash reserve that will make the United States independent of foreign importations.

Samples of the potash salt on which today's report was made were sent here by D. D. Christner, Geological Survey representative at Amarillo and were tested out of the Survey laboratory. The samples were obtained from two borings about 80 miles apart, sunk by oil companies in the "Red Beds" region of Texas, where salt beds, red shale, gypsum, an other materials are associated in strata of nearly the same geologic age and general character as the potash-bearing beds of western Europe. The thickness of the potash-bearing beds in Texas represented by these samples is unknown, however, and the questions remain to be determined whether the deposit is thick enough to furnish potash in as great amount and of as high grade as those in Europe, or whether it is of scientific interest only and mainly important as showing that potash-rich salts were actually deposited in this region and that other borings in areas where similar beds occur may discover commercial deposits.

For several years the United States Geological Survey and the Texas Bureau of Economic Geology and Technology, working in co-operation, have maintained in the field an examiner to keep in touch with companies that are drilling for water or oil in the great "Red Beds" region of Western Texas, Eastern New Mexico and Western Oklahoma. So far as practicable the drilling has been followed by this co-operative representative, who has made rough field tests of drill cuttings and brines in search for evidence that the drill has struck beds of salts rich in potash and has sent samples that appeared to deserve thorough chemical analysis to the chemical laboratories of the co-operating bureaus. The problem of recognizing the presence of a thin bed of potash salt, of determining its thickness, and of identifying its precise position in the stratigraphic column is rather difficult, however, on account of the adverse conditions of observation, the methods of drilling, and sometimes the indifference of the driller, the statement said.

Among the samples recently examined by D. D. Christner, the present co-operative representative at Amarillo, the Survey said, was one from the Bryant well in Midland County, Texas, which is shown by a rough field test, is very rich in potash. Subsequent accurate determinations in the laboratories of the State University and of the Geological Survey in Washington showed that this sample, which was saved by the driller from cuttings taken at depths between 2,405 and 2,525 feet, contained about 9 per cent of potash. The sample consisted of red salt, including polyhalite, white salt, crushed red shale, an mud, so that the fragments of red salt ground up in the cuttings probably represent a layer that is richer in potash even than the sample as a whole.

A small piece of red salt brought out from a depth of about 1,864 feet in the Burns No. 1 well of the Laesa Oil Co., which is about 80 miles from the Bryant well, contains about ten per cent of potash. Adequate information as to even the probable thickness of the bed represented by the sample of potash salt is lacking for both these wells. The drill records of the La Mesa well indicate that the bed struck at a depth of 1,864 feet may not be more than a foot thick, yet it may be thicker. On the other hand, the potash in the Bryant well in Midland county probably fills no more than a part of an interval of 20 feet covered by a single entry in the driller's log and by a single sample of cuttings. Consequently, though a potash salt as good as that in Europe was laid down in Texas under similar conditions as at about the same time, in association with rock salt and other saline deposits the important points yet.

RED CROSS CLINIC DOES VALUABLE SERVICE

Under the direction of Miss E. Yeager, the Red Cross Health Center is performing a valuable service in giving free physical examinations to the children. Last Saturday afternoon from three until five such examinations were given to twenty-three children at Hedley.

This is the start in Donley county to assist the parents to take care of the health of their children, the importance of which movement is indicated to some extent by the fact that it is nation wide. The service is in the nature of determining physical defects, if such exist, and in giving a report of needed nourishment. This service is invaluable and our city is to be congratulated upon having at its disposal the expert services in this line.

RELIEF FOR CATTLEMEN

The announcement of the Governor of the Federal Reserve that plans have been formulated to extend financial relief to the stockmen of the Southwest will be welcome news to the people of the Panhandle especially, because the livestock industry is one of the most important in this section.

Two plans are under consideration. One calls for a loan from the government direct. The other calls for the formation of a pool by Eastern financial interests co-operating with Western banks.

The latter plan is for more desirable if it can be worked and authoritative sources of information in the East indicate that it is entirely feasible. Most people will agree that it is preferable that the financial needs of the cattlemen be cared for through private means. It would be dangerous precedent to begin appropriating public money to take care of private industry in distress, however meritorious the claims might be. The Government should as such as possible stay out of private business and if Congress should now appropriate money for the relief of the cattlemen similar claims would be continually arising. For this reason it is to be hoped that the relief can be provided through private channels.

However, if this plan cannot be worked Congress would be justified in taking steps to relieve the distress, because a great basic industry is threatened with ruin unless relief is soon provided by some means.—Amarillo Tribune.

SENATE IN SESSION

There is sure to be some interesting times as many new bills are to be introduced and some that were introduced at the last meeting will be brought up for discussion. Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning

Wash away all the stomach, liver, and bowel poisons before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside; to sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headaches, colds, rheumatism or rasy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do, says a well-known physician.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of those vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment and above all, keep it up! As soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water, before breakfast, act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

WHAT IS OUTLOOK FOR DAIRYING IN TEXAS DURING FALL AND WINTER?

By J. W. Ridgway
Chairman Live Stock Committee,
West Texas C. of C.

What is the outlook for dairying in Texas during the coming fall and winter is a question that is causing the producer no little concern following the sharp drop in butter which had its culmination about May 1st, when Extras were quoted on the Chicago market at 30c with Standards 21-2 cents below.

Butter is the principal "Dairy Crop" of Texas and largely governs the price of other dairy products. A review of the causes of this radical slump in the butter markets will throw some light on the present situation and future market.

In the first place, by way of comparison, it is of some interest to note that this important and indispensable human food has held up under the onward pressure brought on all farm commodities, better than any of the products of live stock or any staple farm crop.

April, 1921 prices paid the farmers in Texas for butterfat was approximately 34c net to them, as against approximately 56 cents for April one year ago, or a decline of slightly less than 40 per cent. Offsetting this reduction in butterfat prices we find a reduction in standard feeds of approximately 50 per cent. In comparison with other animal products, we find in the case of eggs and poultry a reduction of about 75 per cent, hogs and cattle varying from 40 to 60 per cent, while in the staple crops such as cotton and grain, we find in the case of the former the astounding reduction of more than 80 per cent, with the bulk of small grains carrying a decline of more than 50 per cent. With such conditions as these it was only a question of time before butter would be forced to the level of other farm commodities.

The direct and contributing causes of the sharp and radical drop in the price of butter may be briefly summarized as follows:

An open winter favorable for production, with a large feed crop on hand; the closing of a number of condenseries in the East and West, thus overcrowding the butter industry; and finally the rate of exchange encouraging butter importation, all contributed to over production. Coupled with the above mentioned conditions, we find a depleting purchasing power of consumers due to unemployment and wage reduction, and last but not least, a tight money market, discouraging the absorption of surplus through storage.

Briefly, the same combination of factors that cause the big break in the egg market in late February and early March contributed towards the decline in the butter market.

In periods of readjustment the burden usually falls on the products and the producer of dairy products will necessarily have to bear his portion of this readjustment. An analysis of the situation would indicate however that his outlook is brighter than appears on the surface.

In the first place there is no overproduction of farm dairy products, if we are to accept reports on holdings of butter in storage at central points, and indications are that these holdings will not be materially increased over normal holdings due to money stringency. The surplus will be forced on the market and absorbed at a low price, which surplus, insofar as Texas is concerned, will be produced largely on grass.

We have never had an overproduction of farm dairy products in Texas covering a period of twelve months. The surplus is usually confined to about three or four months in late spring and early summer, attributable to fresh cows and abundant pasturage.

Fast experience would therefore justify the conclusion that improvement in price will come with the fall and winter months. We cannot hope for the high prices of last year, but the producer of butterfat is concerned primarily in whether the price of butterfat will be such as to enable him to market his feed crop through his cows at a better price than he can sell such feed crops in the market.

Conditions would justify a prediction that fall and winter prices for butterfat will not fall below 25 cents, with good indications that the price will average above that figure. Using this figure as a basis, the farmer might ask himself what to expect from his feed when fed to dairy cows.

In the case of a cow producing three gallons of milk containing one pound of butterfat, he would have an income of 25 cents for butterfat and about 8 cents from the skim milk, valuing the skim milk at 3 cents per gallon, or a total of 33 cents daily income.

To produce this amount of product a cow must consume twenty pounds of good ordinary farm hay and about eight pounds of concentrates (of which one-third should be cotton seed and two-thirds farm grown grains, such as oats, barley, grain sorghum or corn.) It should be stated by way of diversion that if any pasturage at all is available this quantity of feed will not be necessary and it is feasible under average conditions in Texas to provide pasturage for nine or ten months out of the year.

We are assuming however in this instance that no pasture is available and that the cow is fed on a ration necessary to produce the above quantity of milk. If we deduct 41-2 cents, the price of three pounds of cotton seed meal at 11-2 cents per pound, there is left 28-1-2 cents returns on twenty pounds of home grown roughage and five pounds of home grown grain.

Charging the cow $16 per ton for the home grown roughage which from present indications will represent a profit of $6 per ton above market values, we will have a cost of 16 cents for the roughage to be deducted from the 28-1-2 cents, leaving 12-1-2 cents, the cash returns received for five pounds of home grown grain. This represents a price of 21-2 cents per pound for the grain produced on the farm, or $1.40 per bushel for the corn, 80 cents a bushel for oats and $1.25 a bushel for the grain sorghums.

The cow producing one and a half gallons of milk containing a half pound of butterfat will represent a daily income on the same basis as figured above of 16-1-2 cents. She will continue the same quantity of rough feed as the high producing cow, but only one-half of the quantity of grain will be necessary for her production. Deducting the value of the one and one-half pounds of cotton seed meal which should be fed this cow, we have left 14-1-4 cents to pay for twenty pounds of roughage and two and a half pounds of home grown concentrates. It can be readily seen that this cow will not return anything like the prices for feed as the good cow.

Valuing the hay at 10 per ton, the estimated market prices, we have left 41-4 cents to pay for two and a half pounds of concentrates or 13-4 cents per pound for the home grown grain. This means a price of 98 cents per bushel for corn, 56 cents for oats and 87-1-2 cents for grain sorghum.

Considering this from another angle, viz., that of charging the cow with the prospective market price for farm grains, which liberally estimated appears to be about 8 cents per pound for grain and 1-2 cent per pound for hay, the feed cost of production of one pound of butterfat in the case of the good cow would be, for hay 10 cents for home grown grain five pounds 4 cents, purchased cotton seed meal three pounds 41-2 cents, or a total of 181-2 cents. Deducting the value of two and a half gallons of skim milk at 3 cents per gallon or 8 cents, we have a feed cost, based on farm prices for grain of 101-2 cents per pound of butterfat.

The low producing cow will have a feed cost of 10 cents for hay, 2-1-4 cents for purchased cotton seed meal and 2 cents for home grown grain, making a total of 14-1-2 cents. Deducting the skim milk value of 11-4 gallons, a total of 4 cents, we have a feed cost of 10 cents for one half pound of butterfat or 20c for one pound.

Two striking conclusions may be drawn from the above figures: Good dairy cows will afford a means of marketing home grown feed at a price well above the expected market price of feeds on a basis of 25 cents butterfat. The cow capable of producing one pound of butterfat daily does so at one-half the feed cost for the cow producing only one-half pound fat daily.

EDUCATION

Advertising is education. It is the text book of buying. Wise expenditure is the basis of prosperity of the average family. Your banker will tell you that whatever your earnings may be, your individual problem is not solely the increasing of that earning power. Wise investment of what you have is fully as important.

Who pays for advertising? You pay—your neighbor pays—we all pay. Why not? Do we not pay millions as citizens of the United States for the primary, grammar and high school education which fits us to go out in the world and earn a living? Advertising is merely the textbook of wise spending. It teaches us to spend wisely what we earn.

Through all the ages, education has been the hard-won vantage of the masses. The right of the world's sum of information has been won by the average human being only at huge cost in time, in private and in actual money. And yet the millions which we, as a nation, spend for all our free (?) public schools, plus the millions privately spent for college and university education, accomplish no more for your good than the pennies you spend for newspaper which purchase the investment education offered you by modern advertising.

The man or woman who is a consistent, careful reader of newspaper advertising has access to the most valuable education ever offered at any price anywhere. It is the teaching of common sense; of better standards of living; of higher standards of health; of wiser expenditures of money. All the knowledge of the world is valuable without common sense. And if you learn the lesson taught by modern advertising, you will learn common sense in the investment of whatever sums of money you earn.

Read the advertisements! There is the finest school in the world and the cheapest. The subject taught is the most vital to your happiness. The vitality of their message is proven in the fact that advertising has made this the cleanest nation on earth as well as the best clad and the best fed. As teachers the advertisements play no favorites and indulge no personal prejudices. Each advertiser—national or retail—sets before you his commodity, his service, and his price. It is your privilege to compare carefully and without other means of persuasion than the action of your own judgment. No element of personality enters, as in the case of personal selling. Your mind and the clear cut statement of the advertiser teacher react against each other until judgment and action, either for or against the offer, result.

WEST TEXAS CONTINUES TO BE SOAKED BY RAINS

After a season of rain that has lasted for two weeks, all west Texas continues to be soaked by the heavy downpour of rains. All the way from Dallas and Wichita Falls to Abilene and from all over the Panhandle come reports of heavy rains, and washouts. During the last ten days in many portions of West Texas, the fall of rain has been anywhere from six to twelve inches. Stock water for many months has been provided and the feed prospects are everywhere bright; and despite the destruction of crops in portions of the Panhandle, crop conditions are generally improved. Trains are for the most part running behind schedule.

One mile of track was washed out on the Denver railway some three miles south of Estelline Monday by a rain that fell the night before. A cloudburst up Mulberry creek also added materially to the volume of water that Red River was carrying. The south-bound Denver on Monday was forced to turn back at Memphis, and it returned to Amarillo that afternoon. The north-bound Denver due that night finally came through some six hours late.

The dirt roads are somewhat improved, and there is considerable travel in cars although no tourists on their way to the upper climates are on the roads at present.

GENERAL CONDITION OF TEXAS CROPS IS BEST IN MANY YEARS

Dallas, June 11.—Crop conditions generally in Texas are the best at this season than in many years, according to reports of the Texas Industrial Congress.

Timely rains with intervals of good growing weather have benefited all crops in every section of the State.

The cotton crop has been reduced fully 30 per cent and with the exception of portions of East Texas, the crop is growing well. Boll weevils are appearing earlier than usual, giving time to combat them. Picking has begun in Southeast Texas, where there has been some complaint of labor shortage.

Too much rain in East Texas has hindered cultivation, while rains in West Texas have overcome the drought conditions.

Harvesting of small grains has begun in Central and North Texas and the movement is moving rapidly toward the Panhandle.

In Northwest Texas especially the grain crop condition is excellent. The Government estimates an average of small grains at 1,761,000 a probable yield of 21,428,000 bushels.

The oats crop in Central and South Texas has fallen below normal.

Corn, with a greatly increased acreage, shows good conditions, with a larger yield than normal promised. The condition of the hay crop is above that of last year.

A largely reduced acreage of Irish potatoes will equal the production of 220,000 barrels, according to present conditions. The rice acreage is 50 per cent less than that of 1920.

The Texas peach crop is estimated at 1,500,000 bushels and shipments have already begun. Scarcity of peaches in other states, promises good market conditions.

Pears will make only half a crop. Above normal yield of truck crops has been met with satisfactory prices, but high freight rates have hindered best market conditions. Tomatoes are moving in East Texas and the prospects are favorable.

The water melon crop will be larger than usual this year and with the high freight rates, making it almost prohibitive to out of state shipments, there should be a plentiful supply in all the markets of the State.

With a greatly increased production in forage crops, and excellent range conditions, live stock is showing good flesh.

PROGRAM FOR COMMERCIAL SECRETARIES MEETING ARRANGED BY LOCAL MEN

A tentative program for the meeting of the commercial secretaries and executives of the Panhandle section of Texas which is to be held at Amarillo June 20 has been announced. It will no doubt be revised, however, when answers have been received from all secretaries of commercial organizations sent out by E. N. Fielder, secretary of the Tullia Chamber of Commerce who is fostering the movement.

The reception and registration will be held at the City Hall in the rooms of the Board of City Development at 10 o'clock on the morning of June 20.

The program will be started at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. J. N. Hall, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Pahandie, will deliver the address of welcome. W. H. Fuqua, president of the First National Bank, will deliver the address of welcome, and E. K. Caperton, secretary of the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce, will respond. E. N. Fielder will state the object of the meeting, which has been announced as "Panhandle Unity."

"Problems of the Local Secretary" will be the subject of an address by Seth B. Holman, secretary of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce. Hamlin Palmer, traffic manager for the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce, will talk on "The Transportation Situation Localized."

A round table discussion will be conducted by A. N. McCordell, secretary of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce. The meeting will close with the organization of the Panhandle Commercial Secretaries' organization.

A banquet for the representatives of the various commercial bodies over the Panhandle who attend the meeting will be given in the evening. The place has not yet been decided upon.—Amarillo Tribune.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY

On last Sunday evening an unusually interesting service was held in the church auditorium. Mrs. C. A. Burton gave a report of her visit as council officer to the annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Southern Methodist Church, this time held at Richmond, Va. She described several things of interest in Richmond which is one of the most historical cities of the South. Then she told of the cordial welcome that the city extended to the many distinguished delegates that met here. Mrs. Burton had the pleasure of talking privately with Miss Katherine Wilson and other missionaries, who told her many pathetic stories of the people whom they have served in Africa and elsewhere.

These missionaries who have made untold sacrifices in order to serve their Master and accomplish His work are so enthusiastic and zealous that the work be continued and on a larger scale. Miss Wilson told Mrs. Burton that she met Ancil Lynn, who is now a missionary in Africa, just before she returned to the United States. Bishop Lambeth expressed his pleasure at the work done by Clarendon's Missionaries to China, Herbert L. Sone and wife, stated that they "wanted more like them." Mr. and Mrs. Sone have recently finished the work of helping distribute food sent over to the Chinese in the famine districts.

The Council Meeting took up about eight days of hard work, and during this time one important service after another was held. The visitors would have been quite exhausted but for their great interest in the cause. The next council meeting will be held in San Antonio, Texas.

Mrs. Burton outlined to the audience her visit in Washington, where she spent several days after leaving Richmond and where she was the guest of several former residents of Clarendon. Many of the audience last Sunday evening were pleased to hear the names of these prominent young people mentioned and to recognize them as having been leaders in our own community at one time. Rev. Leo Rippey, formerly of Clarendon, is now assistant pastor in the First Methodist Church in Washington, and is making a splendid success. Mrs. Burton explained the plan used to accommodate the immense crowds who attend this church.

Mrs. John A. Shawver gave a report of the Annual N. W. Texas Conference of Woman's Missionary Society held at Quanah. Mrs. Shawver reports that a marked improvement has been made since the preceding conference. There were more than 200 delegates present from all over the conference. Mrs. Shawver said she was very much pleased to see so many young women present and also with the interest taken in missions. Twelve young women came forward as volunteers for missionaries or special work in the church, four of whom will attend the Searrite Bible Training School at Kansas City, Mo., next year. Mrs. Shawver gave this report in a very interesting manner. Mrs. G. S. Slaver opened the service with a Bible lesson and prayer. The entire evening was very inspirational and instructive to those present.

PINK BOLLWORM CONFERENCE

The Paris Chamber of Commerce has invited other like bodies of Northeast Texas, as well as bankers, farmers and business men, to attend a conference in that city next Thursday to consider the problem presented by the presence of the pink bollworm in certain localities of South and West Texas. It is to be hoped the conference will be well attended, and it could be wished the people of other sections of North Texas would show a like concern in this matter.

That this highly destructive pest is now found in a few neighborhoods of South and West Texas does not make it a local matter. Our experience with the boll weevil ought sufficiently to admonish every one of that fact. But notwithstanding the cotton growers of every section are exposed to the menace, local influences have dominated all that has been done by way of combating it. The law enacted nearly two years ago was virtually written by a few members of the Legislature from counties in or near which the pink bollworm had been found. They were naturally more concerned to minimize the State's interference with the operations of their constituents than to safeguard the interest of people in sections yet free of this insect pest. The local interest was made superior to the general interest, and undoubtedly it is largely because of that fact that the law enacted has been so disappointing in its operations.

If that blunder is to be retrieved the general interest must be allowed to have precedence in the revision of the law that is to be undertaken during the forthcoming special session of the Legislature. Members from the sections of the State not yet infested must be given to understand that there is a point beyond which they can not go in deferring to the wishes of those localities that are infested without being recreant to their own constituents. To impress this fact on the members of the Legislature from Northeast Texas is doubtless the general purpose of the Paris conference. It could be wished that the members from other sections of the State would be subjected to the same influence.—Dallas News.
