NOT APPRECIATED

The following is taken from an article written by William Feather, a Cleveland publisher, published in the Philadelphia Public Ledger:

"I go to work in a machine which some people call an automobile, and I travel a distance in three-quarters of an hour which would have been an all-day trip for my father a generation ago.

"I enjoy all these things and yet I am just an ordinary citizen with an ordinary income, living in an ordinary way. Tens of thousands have just as much as I—and more.

"And yet I kick and wonder what ails the world.

"Were the good things of life ever so easily at the command of the ordinary man as they are today? Don't we all do a lot of weeping that we haven't any right to do? And if we aren't careful, isn't the danger that we will upset the greatest civilization the world has ever known?"

Governor Browning was a member of Amarillo Royal Arch Chapter, Commandery of Knights Templar and Khiva Temple. He had served that order since he was district deputy for the grand master in 1872, and represented the grand master at the laying of the corner stone of the Hall county courthouse at Amarillo. He was also a member of the I. O. O. F., and of the Elks Club.

He was at the Elks Club Tuesday night, and left for Amarillo at 10 o'clock, according to his wife's brother. He had been in the habit of rising about 5 o'clock. When Mrs. Ellen Benson, at whose house he lived, failed to see him yesterday morning, she inquired about him, and he was found dead.

An inquest was held by C. G. Landis, justice of the peace, the conclusion being that death occurred during the latter part of the night, as this theory was supported when found.

The body was then moved to the parlors of Blackburn & Malone, where it will be in state until 10 a. m. Saturday, when it will be moved to his home on Taylor street, where it may be seen until 3 p. m. Sunday.

DO YOU TOTE A GUN?

If you were asked this question, most of you would say "No, that's a relic of antiquity." You have learned that the man that carries concealed or un concealed weapons is ready for a fight at most any cause. It is either because he wants to fight or because he is afraid of the other fellow, that he carries a gun on his hip. This is the most appropriate illustration of what I know of. One man puts his pistol on his hip because he's afraid. Another puts his under his arm because he's afraid of the bad 'un. This is applicable to nations. Do you believe in war? Do you believe in Big Armaments? You say you believe in Preparedness. Yes, but what is preparedness? The old time western gun-toter believes in preparedness; also. But there are few fellows who have lived many years that don't know the difference between the present day and the days of yore when you thought the number of bullets that occurred as a result of a war was small. It is not a liberal opinion, but it is a fact that the world is now a different place from what it was in 1870. Pushing the world forward, the world is now a different place from what it was in 1870. Pushing the world forward, the world is now a different place from what it was in 1870.

JUDGE BROWNING WAS AN OLD RESIDENT OF THE PANHANDLE TERRITORY

Amorillo, Sunday afternoon for Judge J. N. Browning, who had returned from a tour of inspection of the Panhandle territory, was the first to speak at the funeral of the late Governor Browning. He said that he had known the late Governor for many years, and that he was proud to have known him. VERNON'S WOMEN PROTEST AGAINST EVILS OF LINES

Resolution passed by the press meeting of Vernon women Wednesday afternoon are as follows:

"Resolved: That we protest against the manufacture and sale of home brew and the ingredients from which it is made, and especially do we most vigorously protest against the bootlegging which is being carried on in our community.

"We deplore the accident, that caused the death of one of the children of our town and, we beg to request for the elimination of such danger to the young life of our community, by establishing places of safety for the recreation and amusement of our children.

"Resolved: That we ask and insist of our officers the enforcement of the laws of our State, County and City, regardless of personal friendships, and

COURT BARS WOMEN FROM GRAND JURIES

Austin, Texas, Nov. 9.—Women can not legally serve on grand and petit juries in Texas, and an indictment by a grand jury composed of other than men is void, the Court of Criminal Appeals held today.

As a result of this decision, the court today reversed judgment of the lower court and dismissed from prosecution the case of Dick Harper, burglary, two years; Earnest Carter, editing theft, nine years, and R. H. Stormer, felony theft, nine years, all from McLennan county.

The principal opinion was rendered by Associate Judge Hawkins, concurred in by the other members of the court. Associate Judge Latimer wrote the opinions in the other cases.

The record shows that in the three cases, indictments were returned by a grand jury composed of ten men and two women, and it was held that the indictments are invalid because they were found by a grand jury drawn in violation of Article 5, Section 13, of the State Constitution, which provides that "grand and petit juries shall be composed of twelve men."

LIGHTS WOULD BE GREAT AS- SET TO TOWN

McCARDRELL PLEADS BY A RARE
COMBINATION OF POETRY AND PROSE FOR LIGHTS
THROUGHOUT OUR CITY.
ARGUMENT SELF EVIDENT.

I would build my barn larger, take care of my increase and erups, sit back, take my ease, and let the rest of the world go by. Some say I will add to my accumulated earnings, get all I can, pinch everyone for every cent whoever suffers, why should I care, it is mine, all mine. I will add and add each year and see my fortune piling up and soon, soon, so with our past former monarch who won and won and each success gave him a renewed inspiration to conquer some other; and we all know of his great downfall. "Live and let live" is a good doctrine, do our best and leave the rest.

A young man came into our office the other day, he was clad in blue overalls and jacket and carrying a bundle of clothes wrapped up in brown paper. He thought that was Y. M. C. A. and he wanted to give a piece of his folks' business. I asked him where he was going and he said he was on his way to El Paso, and came here from Northern Kansas, getting a ride by the passing autos. When asked why he was going to El Paso, he said he was going to write short stories and he had been here for a while and he knew he was fitted for this work and was determined to make a success of it. What is the conclusion we have come to in our committee, we determined to say to ourselves, "We have our money and store house full and will not be able to give anything about the future of the community?"

When a man can lie apart from works of trust, I know the best around his heart. Backward, turn backward, out time in its flight. What will we do this winter without any light? We do not care what the people say, it is only our wish and we have our own way. Here lies the body of Willie Day, who died in endeavor of his own way. He was dead right as his car rushed along. Yet he is dead! just the same as if he was wrong.

We may never have a serious accident, we may not have a fire for many, many years, but how many of our good thoughtful people would lie down at night without their home and contents insured? Would they wait for a fire and then say, "I will have it done?" All of us recall the old, old saying, "They lock the door after the horse is stolen." Oh, if I had only done this or that before. And now that Thanksgiving Day is about upon us, would not most all the people in Clarendon have done one thing more to be thankful for after these beautiful moonlight nights are over to be able to walk home from the Church or any other place? Those people who are not fortunate enough to have an automobile to show them their way and maybe cannot afford to buy flashlights every week, would find our residential section lighted up and they surely would feel thankful for the very much needed lights.

PANHANDLE OPEN SESSION MONDAY EVENING

Members of the Panhandle and Oklahoma Literary societies entered a program of literary entertainments with an open session program. The program consisted of vocal and instrumental solos and duets, readings, and a play. Everyone rendered his or her part well, and the societies are due hearty credit for the fine class of work that they are doing, of which Monday evening's program is representative. They are enjoying one of the highest number of members in the history of the school, and are taking prominent parts in the school's activities.

CLEAN-UP SQUADS VERY EFFECTIVE

Washington, Nov. 17.—Marked success has attended the "clean-up" campaign instituted by the Veterans Bureau, in which the American Red Cross and the American Legion are co-operating, a report from the Veterans' Bureau showing that more than 84,000 former soldiers have been interviewed by members of the various squads. As a result more than 46,000 claims for compensation have been filed. Of this number only 3,000 cases are pending, the remainder having been adjusted. The clean-up squads have visited more than 1,150 cities and their work is rapidly nearing completion. An appropriation of $310,000 was made by the American Red Cross to carry out its part of the "clean-up" program. Roll Call Nov. 11th-25th. Donley County Publicity.

HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN FLAG

The Clarendon News' Americanization series

Every country has one or more material change in the flag as symbols that represent the principles finally designed, its present form and ideals of its government. The most familiar symbol of a nation is its flag. The flag stands for the nation itself. When we uphold and honor our country's flag, therefore, we are supporting our country itself and all that it means to us. There is more assurance than we sometimes realize in the flag. "Rally round the flag," "Rally round the stripes and the stars," it was seen that if nothing and a star in colonial times, but the first American flag had its origin in the following resolution adopted by the American Congress, June 14, 1777: "Resolved, That the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

According to the story, a rough pencil drawing, made by Washington himself, was taken to Mrs. Betsy Ross, who kept an upholsterer's shop in Philadelphia. "Can you make a flag after this design?" she was asked. Her answer was, "I don't know, but I'll try." She did try, stitching the seams of every stripe and sewing the stars in a circle, and this was our first real national flag. No wonder that an association has been formed to keep and keep, for patriotic purposes, the one in which was made by the hands of Betsy Ross, the first American flag. Although there has been no

TEXANS' PART IN HERO BURIAL

ERNEST THOMPSON OF AMARILLO APPOINTED TO FIGURE IN PARADE.

Arrangements for Texas' part in the ceremonies for the unidentified American soldier on Friday, began at Washington on Tuesday when Paul Wakefield of Houston and Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo, two of the designers of Governor Neff to represent Texas, arrived. Wayne Davis of Goliad, one of the Texas representatives appointed by Governor Neff, arrived Monday. He was accompanied by Adjutant General Thomas D. Barton.

The three Texans, Wakefield, Thompson and Davis, marched in the column for state representatives in the procession to Arlington. This procession followed the caisson bearing the body. President Harding marched immediately behind the caisson, and then came a long list of sections, with the state representatives in the section next to the president.

The six Texas holders of the medal were invited to take a special part in the ceremonies. The only Texan to win this highest award in the World War was David E. Berkeley of San Antonio, who was in private in Company A, 25th Infantry, 89th division. Three of the other men in Texas hold the Congressional medal. They are: Lieutenant Colonel George W. Giegler, Camp Travis; Private James J. Nash, Camp Travis; and Brigadier General Robert L. Hawze, Fort Bliss.

Other Texas congressmen included in the congressional section of the procession. They are: Tom Connally, John C. Cannon, M. C. C. Clayton, Stone Bridges, John C. Box, Jas. B. Buchanan, Sam Rayburn, Eugene Black, Thomas L. Blanton, Fritz G. Lanham, Lucian W. Parrish, Morgan Wurbach, Hutton W. Summers and Claude B. Hudspeth. John and nationally are World War veterans. Congressman Daniel E. Garrett was called to Houston to hold the caisson at the time to participate in the procession. Joseph J. Mansfield was also called.

LITTLE LIFE LINES

From Dick's... "There is a proverb about being merry and wise. There are some people who can be merry and can't be wise, and some who can be wise, (or think they can) and can't be merry. I'm one of the first sort. If the proverb is a road map, I suppose it's better to keep to half of it than none; at all events, I'd rather be merry and not wise, than neither one nor t'other."

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

One of the most sacred observances in the worship of the Church is instituted by Christ is that of the Communion of the Lord's Supper. This faith inspiring ordinance was observed last Sunday in our worship. It proved to be an hour of worship that called us all closer into vital association with the Lord. When one misses an hour of worship, something is lost that, maybe, can be regained; but when one misses the observance of the Lord's Supper, he has lost an opportunity in which there is means of grace that can't be caught up again.

The program of special music Sunday evening was especially enjoyed by all the congregations. We are indebted to Miss "Mabel" for her assistance in the program. We hereby make announcement of the work in the Presbyterian Church. Our friends are cordially invited beginning Sunday morning and continue to attend any of these services: through the work of W. H. Foster, Pastor.

MRS. NELSON PASSES TO REWARD THURSDAY EVENING
Mrs. Mattie L. Nelson, passed away in the Adair Hospital Thursday evening after an illness of several weeks. Funeral services were held Friday at four thirty o'clock at the residence of her son-in-law, D. E. Head, conducted by Rev. W. H. Foster. The following morning the remains were taken to Abilene where interment took place Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.
Mrs. Nelson was born in Marshall county, Tennessee June 7, 1871. She spent more than thirty years of her life in that state, moving to Abilene when she first came to Texas after having lived there for several years. Her husband, who has lived for eleven years in Abilene, has not been in strong health since the epidemic of the flu three years ago.
She was a devout member of the Presbyterian church, and her Christian life will long be an inspiration to her many friends.
Her son, W. A. Bryant had been called from his home at Wichita Falls previous to her death, but after she had seemingly become of better health he had returned to his home, and was not here when the sad end came.
Mrs. Bryant was survived by a daughter, Mrs. D. R. Head, of this city; a son, W. A. Bryant, of Wichita Falls; a sister, Mrs. Josie Griffin, of Abilene; and another, Morgan, of Abilene. Her many friends will join with the News in extending a message of sympathy to the bereaved ones in their sad hours.

BALANCED RATIONS FOR DAIRY COWS
The students at the West Texas State Normal, who are studying agriculture have demonstrated the value of balanced rations for dairy cows. The cost of the rations has been reduced by the use of silage grown on the college farm. Total cost of growing and harvesting silage has been less than two dollars per ton. All the work has been done by improved machinery.
Prof. Ives has been feeding the following ration for the past month and has secured the following results:
Cane silage 25 pounds, cotton seed meal 2 pounds, kaffir chops 4 pounds alfalfa hay 5 pounds.
This is average feed, the cows which give the most milk get a greater proportion of feed than others. The cost of the ration is thirteen cents per day. The average milk per cow has been given ten and a half pounds. The price received has been five cents per pound. The average net profit per cow not counting labor, has been forty-two cents per day. Two of the cows are nearly dry, while only one of the eight has freshened within the last three months. The dairy cow and the underground silo will some day become very popular in West Texas, is Prof. Ives' opinion.—Randall County News.

COLLEGE LYCEUM FRIDAY PLEASURES
"Her Own Money" was the title of the delightful three act play given at the College Friday evening by the Percival Vivian players. The story was that of a young wife who by sheer economy saved two thousand dollars taking care of the nickles and dimes when her husband did not dream that she was saving. A time came when her husband needed money badly for a business deal. She loaned the money to a man friend who in turn loaned the money to her husband. Later the fact of her ownership of the money came to light, and her husband, declaring his distrust of her under such circumstances, left her. She in turn bought a country home. Needless to say, a happy reconciliation took place within a year. The part played by the young couple just engaged was a delightful one; and true to the theme of the story, before marriage, they had some agreement about the money matters. The parts of another married couple, who, on account of their lack of any agreement about money matters, were continually fighting were equally comical. The play was a thoroughly enjoyable one.
The college is endeavoring to put over a Lyceum of the finest class, and both numbers that have been thus far rendered, have been excellent.

WEST TEXAS MAKES FINE EXHIBIT
Including exhibits collected from the best of 20 counties in West Texas had to offer, the West Texas agricultural display in the agricultural building is one of the most comprehensive exhibits at the Cotton Palace. The exhibit has just been in place, and the embodiment of everything that goes to make West Texas famous in agricultural lines.
The counties represented in the display are: Brown, Baylor, Collingsworth, Comanche, Concho, Donley, Garza, Hale, Haskell, Howard, Knox, Lubbock, Lampasas, Lamb, Lynn, Mitchell, Motter, Randall, Seymour, and Texas. Over 300 varieties of agricultural products are included in the display, and some of the best of the season's crops are to be found. The exhibit was collected through the efforts of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.
Every known variety of agricultural products except tropical fruits are included in the display, according to Mr. Means. There are over 100 specimens of products arranged in peak measures, comprising grain, sorghum, field peas, all varieties of wheat, barley, orange, sugar cane, speltz, black combs, velvet bean, butter bean, and many other common varieties. The butter bean exhibited is a special variety that was developed by a woman in West Texas after seven years of culling and saving seed. It is pointed out that West Texas produced the best yields of wheat in Texas this year, and the varieties are on display. The highest yield was an orange sorghum that has been produced only lately. It is similar to barley, but characterized as much better. The sweet potatoes are the Porto Rican, and but a smoother variety than commonly seen has been shown. Much interest has been put on the larger sweet potatoes heretofore, but the West Texas exhibit, particularly stresses the smoother and more uniform sized potato. Irish potatoes also comprise an important crop off West Texas. Fruits, including apples and persimmons form an important part of the exhibit. Cabbage and other garden produce are exhibited, and some fine specimens are on display. The Mortgage Lifter and Mrs. John Cook of Goodnight J. A. McRoy and Mrs. Edwards visited in the J. D. Cook home the were quietly married Wednesday past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen, also, Mr.

and the yield from this particular bean is said to be enormous. The possibilities are unlimited. The common soy bean has been found to be more profitable and easier to grow than the regular table bean. Some fine beans are seen in the display. Twenty varieties of watermelons, pumpkins, and squashes are arranged very tastefully in the exhibit, and several varieties of onions are also on display. Cotton is also an important crop, the yield this year being better than in any other part of Texas.
H. M. Means, in talking of the exhibit declares he never saw a more comprehensive exhibit than the West Texas exhibit. B. M. Whiteker says it is the best exhibit that ever was collected in Texas. Mr. Whiteker won third prize at the Dallas fair this year with his Haskell exhibit. Mr. Means also declared that the West Texas counties are better off financially this year than they ever have been and the agricultural possibilities are becoming more and more recognized as among the best in the south. The farmers of West Texas are in good condition, he said, and are optimistic.—Waco Daily Times-Herald.
The West Texas agricultural exhibit won hands down the $1,000 prize that was offered by the Cotton Palace board of directors. This is the second consecutive time that the West Texas exhibit has won at the Palace.

YOUR HOME AND BUSINESS MAY BE INVOLVED represented by us. More than $600,000 paid out in losses in 32 years and never a policy contested.

Due to heavy losses and expenses and reduced premium income, insurance institutions are under considerable strain at this time. The strong ones are not seriously affected, but many lightweight concerns which have been unwisely managed have already succumbed, and the prevailing opinion is that others of that class have trouble ahead. Under these conditions it is wise for business men to go over their insurance policies, consider the standing of the institutions which issued them and if there is any doubt about them have the insurance replaced in thoroughly strong companies. Only strong reliable companies

DONLEY COUNTY GIRL LEADS IN PIG CLUB WORK

MISS MARIE BOWERS TAKES MANY PRIZES BESIDES HER TRIP TO THE DALLAS FAIR WITH THE PIG THAT SHE RAISED IN CLUB CONTEST.

What a girl or boy can do and the future possibilities of the hog in the Panhandle of Texas is brought out in Donley County by Miss Marie Bowers, a girl thirteen years of age. Last spring, Mr. Roy W. Hendrix, our county agent started a Boy's Pig Club and in a short time Miss Marie Bowers was added to the Club. She with her father went to the farm of Mr. W. L. Butler & Son near Lelia Lake to purchase a pig and picked out what to some people looked like a little stunted pig, but Marie saw the future possibilities of that pig and again her good judgment buying it on time and giving her note for $75.00 due this December. She brought the pig home, put it in the stock yard and fed her regularly as well as giving her exercise every morning. This pig was seven months old when Marie purchased her and fed her $8.50 worth of feed consisting of maize, corn meal (cooked), kaffir corn and plenty of milk.

As Marie was anxious to have her pig ready for the Donley County Fair at Clarendon, September 22nd to 24th, she started brushing and giving the pig her daily bath, and the night before the Fair she put the pig in a wagon and started to town. The next morning Marie took her pig to the pen and when the day came for judging, she was the only girl among a crowd of boys, each one driving their pig around for the judges to pass upon; and Marie's pig won over all in the Club as well as the champion and the grand champion, making three prizes in all.

Next, she went to Pampa, Texas and at this place she again won champion as well as grand champion. Marie has since sold her pig for $300.00, making a very handsome profit on same and says she will join the Pig Club in Donley County for another year.

AFTER EFFECTS OF GAS POISON

St. Louis, Nov. 15.—Red Cross nurses and Public Health nurses working under the Red Cross in the Southwestern Division are finding constantly increasing numbers of gas cases growing out of the effects of the world war. This statement was given out at the office of the Southwestern Division in St. Louis in answer to a question as to why there are so many more tuberculosis cases among ex-service men now than at the close of the war. The after effects of the poison by gas used in the war are growing more pronounced every day, Jas. L. Fieser, Manager of the Southwestern Division said.

Many of these men did not feel great inconvenience after recovering the first effects of the gas and were discharged with a small percentage of disability. In the months immediately following the close of the war, gas cases were rare, but as time passes the effects of the poison are becoming more alarming, and men who were supposed to be well are now developing gastric troubles, intestinal diseases, tuberculosis and other affections, all directly traceable to the poison gas which "got them" in the trenches.

In 1919 there were 3,300 ex-service men in the hospitals under government care. In 1920 this number had increased to 17,500, and in 1921 there are 26,300. At the same rate of progression there may be 40,000 in 1922. A very large percentage of these cases are gas cases primarily and are causing the medical profession and public health authorities of the country no little concern, Fieser said.
